Saturday—God Will Give You the Second Best Only If You Refuse the First Best. The speakers for the afternoon will tell of their profession. They are:

Monday—Dean William Savage —Educational Career.

Tuesday—Jane Browder—Educational Director, who will tell of religious work as a vocation.

Wednesday—Mrs. R. B. Bondurant—Stenographer.

Thursday—Porter Paisley Vinson, M.D.

Friday—Mrs. B. R. Bruner—Housewife.

There will be an opportunity for questions at the close of each speech. All students are invited to the Baptist Student Center to hear the speakers.

Don't Give Up! It's Leap Year Get a Man In Ten Easy Steps

In case you didn't already know—and I'll be willing to bet that you do know—this is Leap Year. And it has been for all of two weeks. This is your chance—your golden opportunity. You'd better take advantage of it while it's here, too, for it won't be here again for four more years. In fact right now there are only three hundred and fifty-two days left of THIS leap year so you'd better get to work and take advantage of them (the days, that is.)

In order to help your campaign along we have compiled the following set of ten easy rules. If these are followed we can almost guarantee results. The kind of results, of course, depends upon the individuals involved.

1. Single out the man upon whom you expect to center your campaign.

2. Buy tickets for some big occasion, preferably a baseball or football game since men prefer sports, and invite him to attend it with you. Be casual about your invitation but let him know that you are interested in him.

3. When you call for him don't sit in the car and honk. Go in and let him introduce you to his parents. They too will appreciate this.

4. Send him flowers to let him know that he is an important date.

5. Don't rush him at first. Let him think over how nice the first date was before you ask him for another. But then start your campaign in earnest.

6. Remember that men don't like to be rushed. It would be better to wait until the second or third date before trying to kiss him.

7. Telephone him on nights when you don't have a date just to let him know that you are thinking of him.

8. When you ask him for a date be sure to mention where you are going so he will know how to dress. If the occasion calls for formal dress, let him know. And above all, don't change your mind at the last minute and arrive in sweater and skirt after he has dressed formally.

9. After you are pretty sure of how he feels about you, you can start mentioning plans for your future together. If his response is favorable, you are all set for the last and final step.

10. On a moonlit night drive him in your Buick convertible to the side of some quiet, shimmering lake. Hold him in your arms and look deeply into in his eyes. Then you pop "the question" and show him the tickets you have bought for the honeymoon. He can't turn you down then! Or can he?

There are your rules. Be sure to follow them and—Best of Luck!

College Procures Four University Mission Speakers

Tindall Sets Dates; Names Committees

The University Christian Mission will send four speakers to the STC campus for a week of religious emphasis. These speakers will arrive on campus February 7, and will remain here the entire week.

The four speakers who will lead the discussions that week are Miss Helen B. Turnbull, N. Y., N. Y.; Dr. Leon Sanborne, Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. Mayes Behrman, Charlotte, N. C.; and the Reverend Maurice Trimmer, Huntington, W. Va. Of the four discussion leaders, only Miss Turnbull has appeared here before.

The theme for the week is "Christianity and Your Problems". Virginia Tindall, president of the College YWCA, is serving as chairman of the committee planning this week. Virginia has appointed committee chairmen and various organizations to assist her. Virginia stated that this undertaking was a student body project, and that almost every organization will participate in some capacity.

Committees named by her consist of the Hospitality committee with Laura Jean Comerford serving as chairman. Assisting Laura Jean will be representatives of the Baptist Student Union, Canterbury Club, Westminister Fellowship, and the Wesley Foundation. Charlotte Grizzard will be chairman of the Classroom Appointments committee with members of Kappa Delta Pi serving as her assistants. Organizations serving on Publicity under Mary Helmer will be Alpha Kappa Gamma, the Athletic Association, the Colonnade, and the student Young Peoples Groups. Melba Lee Booth, and members of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will prepare the book exhibit.

Also, Peepsie Brooks will serve as chairman of the Bull Sessions committee with the other three class presidents, Violet Ritchie, Annette Jones, and Jean Jones assisting her. Eleanor Overbey and members of the House Council will serve on the Arrangements committee. Nancy Chambers heads the Finance committee with members of the Panhellenic Council serving as her assistants. Tucker Winn and members of the Student Government Association will head the Seminar committee. Ellen McMullen and members of the Ministerial Association and the YWCA will serve on the Continuation committee.

Try-outs for Roles In Next Production Conducted Tonight

Try-outs for the Dramatic Club spring play will be held in the large auditorium tonight at 6:45. At this time anyone, regardless of whether or not she is a member of the Dramatic Club, may try out for a role in the production.

The play which is yet to be chosen by the Play Committee and Miss Wheeler, is annually presented on Founders Day. This year it will be given on two consecutive nights in order that both students and alumnae will have the opportunity of seeing it. The Play Committee which is in charge of choosing and producing the affair consists of: Jean Cake, Gwen Cress, Gris Boxley, Dolly Ann Freeman, and Betty House. Representing Hampden-Sydney's Jongleurs on the committee are Bill Smithers, Max Perrow, Tom Vail, Hugh Warren and Carter Coghill. The production is under the direction of Miss Wheeler.

Bradley Paintings On Display Here

Artists' Work Shown In Many U. S. Cities

Art exhibit now on display in the browsing room of the library is the work of Caroline Bradley, art teacher at the University of Ohio.

Miss Bradley has painted in the U. S., Canada, Europe and Latin America. Exhibitions of her work have been made in forty cities in the U. S. including Williamsburg and Richmond. She has won many painting award., the last of which was a prize for the best painting in 1947 exhibited in the Richmond Art Association exhibit in Richmond, Indiana. She has appeared in the "Who's Who in America", "Who's Who in Art", "Who's Who in American Women", and "Who's Who in American Education".

Most of the paintings on exhibit here were painted when she served as a Specialist in Art to Chile in the Inter-American Educational Foundation.

Miss Bradley is a realistic painter and although she uses both oil and water color, water color is her preference. In her water color work she employs an unusual color scheme preferring dark cool colors with only accents in bright colors.

Members of the S. T. C. Art Department are interested in knowing if this exhibit has created an interest among the students and if similar exhibits would be desired.

Required Averages In College Policy Clarified By Dean

No students will be requested to withdraw at the end of the current semester because of low academic averages or failing grades, according to Dean Savage. "There has been some misunderstanding regarding required averages among our new students," he said, "and we wish to clarify the College's policy regarding the matter. Beginning with the current session, all new students have been selected carefully. We are definitely of the opinion that at least the great majority of them have the capacity to be successful in their work here, although some will require a longer period of time to adjust than will others. Therefore, every new student will be given a full year in which to demonstrate his or her capacity and willingness to succeed in the study which we offer."

The records of all students will be examined carefully at the end of the session in June. In order to be academically eligible to return for the 1948-49 session, freshmen must have a minimum average of 0.50 for the year. Sophomores must have a minimum cumulative average of 0.78 on all work undertaken and juniors a minimum cumulative average of 0.90.

Classes Called Off For Matriculation

President Lancaster has announced that all new students beginning their study here during the second semester will matriculate and register for classes on Saturday, January 31. No class work or other activities will be conducted on that date. Students already enrolled will complete their examinations on Friday and may leave for the weekend, if they so desire, with proper permission from their parents. They must be certain, however, that their class schedules for the second semester are complete and correct before leaving.

Sophomores To Give 'The World's a Stage'

Library Displays MacArthur Items

Material is being collected about General MacArthur, whose birthday is January 26. The collected material has been placed on a table in the exhibit room of the library. Also in connection with General MacArthur and his work in Japan is the Japanese exhibit currently showing in the library. A Japanese flag, resembling a scarf for a woman's head, is tacked on a bulletin board. The writing on the flag in Japanese characters is translated into English. The two glass exhibit cases contain silk, glass, pottery, fans, money, cigarette holders, scarfs, a set of chop sticks, a man's kimona, a bridal kimona, and a woman's houri, which she wears over her kimona when she goes on the street.

Two colored wall pictures of unusual interest may be seen One showing a group of wealthy nobles on a pleasure craft being towed by slaves in row boats is reputed to be over 200 years old. The other, a long rolled up affair, has written on the top of it a lecture on the evils of frivolity which the woman in the picture is supposedly reading to her daughter.

The majority of the articles in this exhibit are the property of Reginald Carter, of Farmville, who collected them while he was with the Army of Occupation in Japan.

Reception Honors "South, Old-New" Simkins' New Book

"The South, Old and New", by Dr. Francis B. Simkins, 527 page volume with multiple illustrations, was a feature attraction at a luncheon and afternoon reception at Miller & Rhoads store in Richmond last Monday. Dr. Simkins whose highly readable regional history covering the 1820-1947 vista has just been published by Alfred A. Knopf of New York, was a guest of honor at the affair.

The book evidences far-reaching research and scholarship. The author is less dogmatic in conclusion-reaching than thought-provoking in his presentation. Avid lust of the American public to find a ready-made "final decision" on almost any issue will not be satisfied; but few who pick up the book to taste its flavor will be content to taste only; they will read most or all of it.

"The South, Old and New" has the rare quality of being history which the majority of readers will find not dry and stuffy.

Deadline Stated For Poetry Entries

February 10 is the deadline for all entries in the poetry contest, according to Anne Motley, editor of the Colonnade.

Three prizes will be offered and honorable mentions will be awarded. Judges for the contest are Mr. J. M. Grainger, Mr. M. Boyd Coyner, and Miss Lucille Jennings.

The prize winning poems will be published in the March issue of the Colonnade. Short stories that received honorable mention in the last contest will also be printed. The Colonnade is dedicated to Dr. Joseph Leonard Jarman.

Students are reminded to put their poems in the Colonnade box in the hall. Any student who would like to write art, movie, radio or book reviews is requested to see Anne Motley.

Curtain Will Rise Friday Night at 8

"The World's A Stage" will be presented Friday night January 16, at 8 o'clock in the S. T. C. auditorium as the sophomore class production.

According to Norma Roady, production chairman, one can expect to see everything from the harems in Arabia to the jungles in Africa with a glance into a Russian cabaret added in. There will be the sultan and his beauties, Frank Buck, and even "Olga from the Volga" will be on hand to entertain you. "You won't want to miss seeing the little black pygmies on thrilling to the sight of the handsome sultan of Arabia", says "Roady".

General chairmans for the sophomore production are Betty Ferguson, "Shortie" Long, and Ray Philips.

Hilda Edwards and Ray Phillips head the dance committee while Pat Paddison will manage scenery and properties group. Hope Duke and Ruth Hathaway will supervise costumes and Betty House will be in charge of make-up. In charge of the music are June Banks and Page Burnette. Margy Kaskie is in charge of tickets and Jean Turner will serve as publicity chairman.

Pauline Nasser, chairman of the food committee, has announced that refreshments will be sold at intermission.

Tickets are now on sale, and the price is 25c.

Professor Attends Meeting In Chicago During Holidays

Dr. A. Curtis Higginbotham of the Farmville faculty attended a six day meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Chicago during the Christmas holidays. Between 7,000 and 9,000 people attended this meeting which is one of the biggest of its kind in the world.

Among the most interesting of the nontechnical exhibits which he saw, Dr. Higginbotham said was the exhibit of old and new science textbooks.

The committee report which most vitally ties in with the interests of the S. T. C. faculty and students was that of the committee, set up upon the suggestion of President Truman for the study of school enrollment and teacher supply. According to this report the present crowded conditions of colleges will continue until about 1952 before they will anywhere neer normal again. Students taking technical and professional courses will cause this congestion but there will be very few enrolled in teacher training courses before 1960. By the early 1950's it is predicted that there will be a shortage of approximately 15,000 teachers in the United States.

Senior Installation Will Be Held Monday

The annual installation of seniors will be held next Wednesday night at seven o'clock in the large auditoriun.

Accompanied by their little sisters carrying the caps the seniors clad in robes will file onto the platform where Dr. Lancaster accepting the mortarboards from the underclassmen, will "cap" each member of the class, thereby formally installing her into the senior class of 1948.

One of the local ministers will be on hand to read scripture and offer a prayer at the ceremony.

This program usually takes place earlier in the fall but was delayed this year due to difficulty in securing caps and gowns.

New Year's Resolutions

New Year's Resolutions seem to have become a thing of the past—more's the pity. As the Editorial "we" take the covers off our typewriters and turn over a fresh new leaf we see new possibilities for our policy of drawing attention to points which need consideration, and of stimulating student interest.

The new year is just two weeks old and already most of us have forgotten any resolutions we might have made and have slipped back into the same old way of doing things. Just a few minutes of reflective thinking will show plenty of room for improvement in a lot of our old habits and attitudes. "Better late than never" is a sadly overworked maxim, but in the case of belated resolves to do better it can be applied with new vigor.

After the holiday it is difficult to resume responsibilities and put forth the effort so necessary to progress. It can be done, however, if we but realize that not only our grades for this semester depend largely upon what we do in these few weeks but also our whole year depends on the success of its beginning.

During January and February when bad weather often keeps us indoors it is easy to become bored with the routine and restless, and to wish that we could leave school for something offering more excitement or variety. Such a danger point should be recognized and combatted by a renewed interest that carries us through the difficult time.

The attitude toward classes and teachers, while not genuinely antagonistic gives the appearance of being so. Would it not be much easier to accept assignments and requirements, which seem unreasonable at the time, on the part of the teacher, cheerfully? Truly "griping" is an old American custom, unpleasant tho' to say the least.

Let's all stop and think a little then make at least one resolution—to be more tolerant, more broadminded, more considerate or more receptive of new ideas and ways of doing things; or to break at least one bad habit. New Year's Resolutions really are worthwhile—Let's revive them.

Let's Be Good Neighbors

We have read and heard a lot about the good neighbor policy in the last few years, but do we apply this policy in our school life? When we came off to college, people told us that we would have to adjust ourselves to living with a group of girls. They said we would have to practice the "give and take" rule. It's a good time now to take an inventory of ourselves to see if we have done just that.

The good neighbor policy involves a lot of little things that never cross our busy minds. It doesn't hurt us to check up here because a great number of people judge us on our daily courtesy and not our party manners. How many of us think to walk on the right side of the hall when we trudge from class to class? It is most inconsiderate of us when we see a friend in the hall to yell to her and then stop in the middle of a thoroughfare and chat for a few minutes. We should pick a more appropriate corner for our gossip sessions. You might argue that you have to see someone on important business and you don't have time to find a nice spot to carry on your business. If we would think to step to the side of the hall, if it is only for a minute, this would remedy a great deal of confusion.

This policy of politeness and thoughtfulness applies also to our dormitory life. Here again we must mention noise in the halls. We might not think that someone around us is studying or trying to catch 40 winks when we thoughtlessly go out leaving the door to our room open when the radio is blasting forth with all its power.

We might not have to study or we might not be tired but the girl next door might feel differently. It is thoughtless and childish of us when we stick our head out of the door and yell "bloody murder" for someone at the other end of the hall. If you happen to be near the phone when someone upstairs is so lucky that she gets a telephone call, walk quickly up to her room. It will only take a few seconds, and the energy that we would exert would certainly do us no harm.

Check up on your daily thoughtfulness. Do you practice the good neighbor policy every day?

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8 1934

STAFF

Mary Aleise Helmer ..... Editor-in-Chief
Betty Spindler ..... Managing Editor
Frances Treakle ..... Business Manager

Betty Nachman ..... News Editor
Jackie Eagle ..... Feature Editor
Betty Burchett ..... Sports Editor
Lela Bouldin ..... Social Editor
Anne Orgain ..... Advertising Manager
Virginia Bailey ..... Circulation Manager
Betty Minton ..... Photographer
Mary Davis ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Martha Frances Morrison, chief editorial assistant; Toni Allen, Helen Arrington, Winifred Beard, Melbale Booth, Griswold Boxley, Jean Cake, Adelaide Cobb, Addie Dodd, Jane Gray, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Joyce Hamlet, Nancy Jessee, Ann Lynch, Mary Lee Meredith, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Janice Slavin, Martha Smith, Gwen Smith Carol Stoops, Jean Tolley, Helen Williams, Bobbie Wall.

Business Assistants

Martha Ashby, Elsie Love Bentley, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Mildred Garnett, Connie Heather, Ginny Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancy Jensen, Nancye Litz, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Virginia Parris, Sparkie Poteet, Barbara Saunders, Ethel Shockley, Norma Soyers Mary Lou Wilson.

Puddin' 'n Sauce

Back in the grind and chewing the old blue pencil to a nub trying to think up a topic of conversation, the "we" who fills this space weekly decided to write about something interesting for a change. Now what is the topic of most interest currently at S. T. C.—books? Men? Exams? Boys? Term papers? H.-S. basketball games? Why beat around the bush? Plainly the guys have it. After all, this is leap year and leap year only comes once in four,, so naturally it's uppermost in our minds; we have to make the most of our opportunities.

First, let us all bear in mind that there are only 353 days left during which this bargain lasts, so let's make every moon count.

Perserverance is a very essential characteristic which every young hopeful will want to develop. In other words, pick out your man and stick to him. Playing the field may be fun, but you'll soon find yourself playing singles with another four years to wait for leap year again. Don't take no for an answer. If he says "no" three times, kiss him anyway—he's just being coy. Be generous, but don't waste your money on him, he'll think you're extravagant and not capable of munuging his salary when you get it.

Bed Check

Here we are, fellow in-mates, all full of vim, vigor, and vitality after the glorious holiday, 'n just a-counting the seconds 'till exams are here.

Claus sho did well to everyone this Christmas, I'd say, after taking a peek at all the diamonds he left. Among those popular lasses are Joyce Hill, Mildred Williams, "Dickie", Carol Cosby, Dot Tuck, Dorris Ballance!

Wedding bells rang out for Mary Log Bagley and Elizabeth Scott. While we are extending our best wishes to these two, we can't forget our favorite of couples—Mr. and Mrs. Landrum—Miss Kay—that was.

Everyone really had an enjoyable time at the dance Saturday night. Our thanks to Student Government for a swell dance.

One couple we were glad to see together again was Betty Jefferson 'n' "Boots".

Eleanor Withrow, we're so happy you 'n' Johnny have decided you were meant for each other again, cause we've known it all along.

June Walsh 'n' Smithers are just the most suited couple we've ever-ever seen 'n' they seem to realize it now.

Janie Fox, just how do you rate—having both brothers on the string? Please! Please tell us how 'tis done.

Ruth Radogna, you're the funniest one we know—'n' what was that said 'bout love?? I'll bet 'cha Emmett's still in the picture, somewhere, isn't he?!

Tucker, just who was this boy you wanted to dance with so badly Saturday night? Maybe someone else won't intervene next time.

Nancy Roberson, tell us more 'bout this big trip of yours to Covington. We hear she made a big hit with the cutest of 'em all!!

Check all these long-distance calls Tilson has been getting from Florida. It must be nice.

Another one spent 'most of her time on the phone, answering calls from Richmond, is Gwen Smith. We heard 'bout that invitation to mid-winters too. Mo power to ya, gal, tho, yo don't need it.

We hear that Tootsies been hearing quite a lot from Saint Helena. Could it have anything to do with a date? Huh?

Ella Stone Smith has a secret love. Clever girl, It has taken ye olde bed-checker nearly four years to uncover it. Come on girl, fess up.

Dalila Agostini came back from New York all smiles. Could that Johns-Hopkins pin have anything to do with it.

Mr. Meyers has been slipping. His "keep em happy" plan didn't work, so now he has to share a buddy with someone else.

We'll be seein' ya 'gain next week—so be good 'n' remember the Bed-Checker sees A-L-L!!!

Alumnae News

By Toni Allen

The Eastern Shore Club, composed of S. T. C. students from the great Eastern Shore of Virginia, sponsored jointly a Christmas musical with the Accomac Alumnae Chapter during the holiday. Quite a nice sum of money was realized for a scholarship fund. Joanne Sterling is President of the Eastern Shore Club and Mrs. Katherine Roberts Wescott of Onancock, Virginia, is president of the Accomac Alumnae Chapter.

* * *

The Alumnae of State Teachers College gave a luncheon at Miller and Rhoads, Richmond, Virginia, on Monday, January 5. In the honor of Dr. Francis Butler Simkins, associate professor of history and social sciences at Farmville to initiate the sale of his book, "The South, Old and New." Dr. Simkins autographed all copies sold. Among those present were Mrs. Charles Hunter McAnally, president of the Richmond Alumnae Chapter, Mrs. Thomas A. Starke, Jr., National President, and Mrs. Warren F. Curtis, former president.

* * *

Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke, National Alumnae President, and her husband, Mr. T. A. Starke, left by automobile January 9 for a two month vacation in Mexico.

Sophomore Production

Gallop Pole

What Do You Think of New Year's Resolutions?

Joyce Mattox: Heck!

Agnes Taylor: I don't!

Dot Braswell: I never made any.

Millie Williams: I never make them, because I can't keep them.

Mary Young: I see no sense in them.

Mary Ellen Moore: They're fine, but my motto is "make 'em, break 'em."

Mary Evelyn Miles: 'Most anyone can make them.

Hazel Lewis: They're o. k. if you live up to them.

Dot Daniel: People make them for me, but I don't keep them.

Dene Lewers: A grand time to start doing the things you wanted to do last year.

Chris Bunch: Well, I don't make resolutions myself.

Ruby Griffith: They are very nice.

Jackie Hancock: They are a bunch of bull.

Lucie Addleman: Make 'em one day, break 'em the next.

Ella Stone Smith: What are they?

Betty Renn: I just made one and Lucy isn't dead yet, so I guess they are all right.

Neva Brankly: Something that most people break.

Teenie Booth: I'm still trying to keep the ones made last year.

Letters To The Editor

To Some S. T. C. Girls:

Last Saturday night your Student Government Council assumed a serious financial risk and went to great trouble to provide a pleasant evening for the Student Body. As everybody knows who was present a very considerable number of college girls crashed the party; and, informally attired danced a greater or shorter length of time. And that despite the fact that every girl in the college could have attended at a reasonable price.

* * *

For more than a score of years I have known S. T. C. girls, beginning in the Rec back in the early twenties. That ought to give you reason to believe that I know you girls. You have always been spirited and mischievous, considerate of others and yet always ready for a thrill. Cheap I would never have attributed to you as a characteristic; occasionally thoughtless, yes, but never cheap. I fully expect to see all the guilty parties make full apology and recompense.

Sincerely yours,

C. G. GORDON MOSS.

Dear Editor,

Saturday night after the dance the behavior of some of the students and their dates in front of the Rotunda was ridiculous. This has been going on for quite a while, and we feel that it is time to do something about it. In the first place, girls are to go directly to the inside of the Rotunda after a dance. Secondly, their behavior makes a disgusting scene to people passing by. We are confident that if the situation is not remedied immediately, the privilege of allowing girls to walk to the Rotunda with their dates after a dance will be taken away.

While we are on the subject of conduct we would like to discuss several other unpleasant situations which should be corrected. The behavior of a great many students in chapel and assembly is irreverant, unnecessary and discourteous. At times last Thursday, it was almost impossible to hear the speaker, Dr. Lancaster, because of unnecessary noises in the auditorium. There is absolutely no excuse for young ladies to behave in this manner. We feel certain that if each student would take into consideration the noise she makes combined with that of seven hundred others she would realize that it makes it very difficult for the speaker and for those who are trying to listen.

This also applies to students traveling to and from school who insist upon singing unlady-like songs to the disgust of the other passengers and to the disgrace of STC.

We hope that each student will think seriously about what we have said. This is just a reminder—make it a New Year's resolution to be a lady at all times.

CHI

Editor's Note: Both letters printed in today's Rotunda deserve your serious consideration. We hope the guilty parties will make just recompense.

By adding a total of 14,977 men in September, the Navy came within two-tenths of one percent of reaching its quota for the month, according to a Navy announcement. The September figure represented 7,475 new enlistments and 7,502 men signing for another hitch.

Orchesis Announces Names of Apprentices

Orchesis, the Modern Dance organization, has announced the new apprentices for the semester. Seven girls have been asked to try for membership in the group. They are: Catherine Bondurant, Ester Carter, Robbie Cromar, Jane Fox, Mollie Hudson, Jean Jones, and Peggy West.

The new president of Orchesis, succeeding Julia Booher, is Corrinne Baker, a Senior from Richmond.

Plans have been formulated and rehearsals have been started for the Spring Dance Recital which will be held on February 20. Both members and apprentices will take part in the recital and the production is under the direction of Mrs. Merle Landrum.

Miss Maxine Keeling Replaces Mrs. Crute

Miss Maxine Keeling, R. N., is the new college nurse. She replaces Mrs. Crute.

Miss Keeling is a graduate of Johnston-Willis hospital, and has had 10 years experience in private duty.

The new nurse said that infirmary hours would remain the same.

Notice

Basketball rating try-outs for officiating will be given Saturday at two o'clock in the gym. There will be both a written and practice test. All persons interested are asked to see Miss Dabney or Miss Iler.

Class basketball and volleyball games will be started the week of February 23. A person must have eight practices before they are eligible to play.

STC-HSC To Give Play Over Radio

The STC radio program scheduled for tomorrow, Thursday, January 14th., at 4:15 features a new type of dramatization. Miss Wheeler's speech class with a supporting cast from Hampden-Sydney will present a play written by Nancye Moore, STC, and Arthur Stuart of H.-S. C.

This play, entitled "Love Me, Love My Dog" was presented last year in Newport News. Those taking part in the production are Nancye Moore as Susan Knight, Arthur Stuart as Larry Knight, and Ann Nock as Betsy. Betty House appears in the role of Mrs. Hawke, Annette Jones is Mrs. Norris, and Max Perrow plays the part of Mr. Norris. Tom Vail is cast as George while Martha Smith, Betty House and Yvonne Burch also appear as three college girls. Martha Smith will be the announcer.

THROUGH THE HOOP

By TONI ALLEN

Chalking up their second Southern Conference and "Big Six" basketball victory, William and Mary came from behind twice in Williamsburg Friday and beat Virginia Military Institute, 53-39.

After the Keydets took a 3-0 margin in the opening minutes, the Indians came back on baskets by Chet Giermak and Ed McMillan to grab the lead and hold until half-time, when they led, 23-21.

Eddie Lutes and Hugh Fain put V. M. I. ahead once again in the opening minutes of play after the intermission, but once more Giermak, aided this time by Harry Hilling, gave the Indian five an edge with accurate shooting from the floor.

Giermak's total scoring effort for the night was 19 points.

* * *

Virginia Military Institute's junior varsity basketball team defeated Woodberry Forest in Orange, Va., after two overtime periods, 51-49.

After Woodberry Forest had led at halftime, 25-19, the V. M. I. juniors caught fire late in the third period and tied up the count by the end of the third, 34-34.

The game was tied at 49-49 at the end of the regulation game and at the same tally at the close of the first extra period. In the second overtime, O'Neil pushed in a field basket that gave the Little Keydets the game.

* * *

The Roanoke College Maroons, playing from a slow, deliberate offense, and controlling the backboards throughout the game, spurted in the final ten minutes Monday night in Ashland to remain unbeaten as they defeated the Randolph-Macon Yellow Jackets, 41-31.

Both teams had difficulty finding the range, and after six minutes of play, the Maroons were ahead, 6-3.

At half-time, their accuracy on the foul line had given the Maroons a 20-16 advantage.

The Yellow Jackets moved into the lead at the start of the second half, but the rally was short lived. A field goal and four fouls in succession by Jim Doran, Roanoke forward, sent the Maroons ahead to stay midway in the second half.

* * *

The University of Virginia's basketball team forged ahead in the early stages to snatch an easy 64-44 victory over Maryland at Charlottesville Monday night. The Cavaliers took a lead after five minutes of cautious play and improved as they went along. Besides classy floor work, Chuck Noe topped the scoring with 16 points. Ronald Richard landed 11.

John Edwards was high point man for the Old Liners, tossing in 13 points.

Virginia first broke ahead on Joe Noeriker's basket, and then swept along on successive field shots by Bill Pandak, Lester Blankin, Richard and Noe. At the halftime, the Cavaliers had a 29-20 advantage.

Going into the second period, Noe's three quick goals boosted the Cavalier's point lead to 50-30. The reserves held the gap the rest of the way.

* * *

Making its fast break and zone defense work at peak efficiency, Virginia Tech scored a 59-41 victory over William and Mary at Blacksburg Monday night.

Chet Giermak, the Indian big

Continued on Page 4

28 Make Up Varsity Basketball Squad

Squad Meets Panzer, Hofstra In March

Twenty-eight students have been selected to play on the varsity basketball squad.

Those students selected are: Alice Ann Abernathy, Frances Allen, Marjorie Beane, Winifred Beard Jean Bentley, Nancy Biscoe, Betty Burchett, Jane Burchett, Carolyn Calhoun, and Nancy Cooke.

Also, Helen Egerton, Anna Famulatte, Rebecca Kelsey, Ann Langbein, Helen Londeree, Ann Lynch, Maude Noel, Mary Parham, and Jessie Pickett.

Also, Patsy Ritter, Norma Roady, Lee Robertson, Betty Romeo, Mary Young, Jean Webb, Elizabeth Winfree, and Margaret Winfree.

The varsity squad of STC will face Hofstra College of Garden City, Long Island, on March 4. They will also play Panzer College of East Orange, New Jersey on March 5.

Papers Now Received On Evening of Issue

Miss Ruffin, College Librarian, reports that the Richmond Newsleader is now being received in the afternoon of the day it is published instead of the next day as in the past. The morning newspapers are received in the early morning as they should be. Week-day papers are changed on the rack with each new issue. Sunday papers remain on the rack for the whole week. Bound copies of the New York Times, the Richmond Times Dispatch, and the Farmville Herald are on file. If you want copies of other back newspapers, ask at the Circulation Desk. Current issues of college newspapers are on the table in the Newspaper Room.

GIRLS—IT'S SWEATER TIME AT LEGGETT'S

100% All Wool Cardigans. Slip-over $3.95 up

First Floor

Others In Bargain Basement $1.00 up

Large Asst. to choose from.

Leggett's

there's a decidedly new look to the

AMERICAN TAILLEUR

by

BROOKEMEADE

A skirt, that's longer, fuller, softer. Big button-down pockets to round a hipline, belittle a waist. A newly narrow'd leather belt. A whole beautifully new effect marked by the same fine tailoring that's Brookemeade's signature. Of fine novelty rayon gabardine in the newest shades.

$16.95

DAVIDSON'S

The House of Quality

Tell that guy—
A place to buy his girl's cosage for the dance is at

Collins Florist
Phone 181 or 4

Get Your "Man" A

Boutonniere For Ball

Chas. E. Burg
Florist

Dorothy May

it may be a dress

it could be a suit

it can be both... and you wonderful in it

You saw it in Glamour.

A dress, done in dark and dots ... a bolero jacket done in dots. Together, something very special for you, for him, for Saturday night. Black sheer rayon crepe blouse; polka dot print skirt and jacket in gold and black or aqua and black rayon Canton Crepe. Sizes 9 to 15.

$22.50

EXCLUSIVELY YOURS

Berkley Juniors

Farmville Electric Appliance Co.

200 MAIN ST PHONE 201

Repair Service on Radios and

WE SELL THE BEST AND SERVICE THE REST

Small Appliances

See Us For The Newest Records Expert Repairs

Ennis Radio Shop

108 W. THIRD ST. PHONE 423

Its Newberry's For Stamped Art Goods

J.J. Newberry Co.

Kodak Film

Natural color kodak film in all sizes are now available at the

Southside Drug Store

Meet the Faculty

Miss Frances Waters, our assistant professor of Geography, is just a farm girl with a passion for Geography. We couldn't hide our envy when she talked about her home, a dairy and general farm, in the basin of middle Tennessee.

After she had taken a B. S. degree from Cumberland University, Miss Waters began to teach Latin at East Tennessee High School. About this time she literally discovered the field of geography in a graduate course at George Peabody College for Teachers, and she became so enthusiastic about it that she took it for her special field. Having found her forte, Miss Waters went on to take her Masters degree from George Peabody, coming to STC soon after in 1925. Concerning her advent here, Miss Waters tells us that she is just lately realizing that she's finally graduated to the school's "old timer's" ranks. She still remembers how "green" she felt during her first ten years at STC. In addition to her other studies, Miss Waters has done graduate work at the University of Colorado.

Miss Waters' interests include people, travel, mountains, and above all the desire for the furtherance of the study of geography in the lower schools. One reason, she tells us, for the public schools' apparent neglect of this vital subject has been the lack of proper equipment, such as wall maps and globes. Happily, this situation has been eliminated, thanks to the school improvement program launched by Dr Lancaster back in his State Superintendent days.

When the hobby question came up, Miss Waters said that since she has outgrown her old loves, tennis and horseback riding, she's been fascinated by rocks. She's also been on the study and teaching of climates and landscapes.

Miraculously, Miss Waters can't think of one pet peeve, though she says she has been subject to them. But this lack of peeve is in keeping with the modest, helpful character of one who has gained the love and respect of all her students and associates.

Loss of working time in industries due to sickness declined in 1946 to reverse a trend which had been evident since 1938, according to a Public Health Service report. Absences of eight or more consecutive days per 1,000 men, which rose from 82.3 in 1938 to 147.4 in 1945, dropped to 114.5. Among women the rate went up from 130.4 in 1938 to 257.9 in 1945, but fell off to 248.2 in 1946.

CARA NÔME and WHITMAN'S CANDIES

Gray's — Truly a Drug Store

Many Other Useful Gifts

Garland, Newman & Whitten

Visit Our Gift Dept.

For Your Gift Problems

Store With A Thousand Gifts

MARTIN'S

S. T. C. Bracelets, Lockets

Big Hits On Sale Make STC-ers Sigh

Well girls, how's the after Christmas shopping coming along? Yes, S. T. C. is really going to town, especially for the ballerina skirts and the Gibson girl blouse. The black full skirt with the new length really hits the spot with the long sleeve, white blouse, and this also makes a nice Sunday afternoon frock.

Another big hit which is on sale are the full back coats. The popular shades for these are green, grey and Raleigh red. They are very dressy, as the S. T. C. girls have found out, and since they are on sale more of you girls will be able to own one.

Oh, we mustn't forget the suits we all crave so much. The long tail coats and straight skirts are still very popular, and you can really make them beautiful by using one of the two-tone scarfs, and a piece of costume jewelry. Drape the scarf around your shoulder and you really have something fascinating.

Now, if you haven't looked around at the bargains, you'd better hurry down town before it is too late. You may find exactly the dress or suit you have wanted for so long.

It is amazing the way a tricky twist of a scarf can change the whole appearance of a suit or dress. With a variety of plain and multi-colored scarfs in silk and wool you can achieve almost any effect from casual sport to afternoon tea with the same basic dress. One need not have a large wardrobe anymore to have something appropriate to wear on any occassion. If you have a sheer sequin scarf for evening wear, several shaded sheers for afternoon and some bright wools for sport you are sure to have plenty to rely on to make your clothes attractive with lots of exciting changes. Be sure to stock up on pins to fasten them with, and if you have a large ring to pull the ends through you are all fixed up to be tres chic in 1948.

Juniors Will Give Dance February 14

The Junior Dance to be given on February 14, Valentines Day, will be a "Black and White Ball" according to Betty Jefferson, General Chairman of the dance. Roy Cole's Orchestra from the University of North Carolina will be featured at the Ball.

As the theme implys, only black or white dresses may be worn to the Ball.

Chairmen for the various committees of the dance are as follows: Music, Janie Fox and Jean Watts; Decoration, Gwen Cress and Jo Black; Tickets, Lee Robertson and Betty Romeo; Floor, Jane Taylor, Patti Page, and Ruth Radogna; Publicity, Patti Page, Frances DeBerry and Eula Ayres; Clean-up, Lois Stepp and Leanora Simons.

The price and date of sale of tickets will be announced at a later date.

Through The Hoop

Continued on Page 5

point man, was hounded by Bob Dickson most of the night and was held to four points, a field goal and a pair of foul tosses. Glermak's only field shot put the Tribe in front 2-0, at the start of the game, but Bert Wriston sank a field goal and foul shot for Tech, and the Gobblers were never headed after that.

It was Tech's first Big Six triumph of the year, and its first Southern Conference victory.

The Gobblers win was strictly a team affair, Wriston and Coy Chambers played the entire game, while Dickson, towering Tech pivot man, didn't leave the floor until he fouled out with five minutes to go. Dickson picked up 13 points, did a perfect job of stopping Glermak, and what was equally important, gave his side complete control of the back board.

Dick Sayre, a freshman out of Charleston, W. Va., picked up 16 points to pace the Gobbler point making.

Tech led, 26-13, at the half. Once Wriston had sent the Gobblers into the lead, they wasted little time consolidating their margin. Tech led 14-5 after nine minutes, then staged a 10-point rush to stretch their margin to 24-6 near the end of the half.

Clearance Sale is now on—Save from 20% to 60%

Its Smart To Be Thrifty Shop At

The Hub Dept. Store

NORCROSS

America's Best-loved Greeting Cards

LOOK FOR ME I'M SUSIE-Q

NEXT WEEK.. ROSEBUD

Patterson Drug Co.

Joan Miller's double winner . . . it's twins on the pockets, order ribbon trim, and gleaming buckles. Tailored to a "T" in Rib-Cord, an all-time fabric winner. Brown, Turquoise, Orchid or Red. Junior sizes 9-15 . . . . .

BALDWIN'S

"You can count on Chesterfield's ABC's to give you a grand smoke"

Loretta Young

LORETTA YOUNG COSTARS IN SAMUEL GOLDWYN'S NEW PICTURE "THE BISHOP'S WIFE"

It takes ABC TO SATISFY

When you change to Chesterfield THE FIRST THING YOU WILL NOTICE IS THEIR MILDNESS ...that's because of their Right Combination of World's Best Tobaccos

A ALWAYS MILDER
B BETTER TASTING
C COOLER SMOKING

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD

They Satisfy

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Good Luck
On Exams

The Rotunda

Congratulations
May Day Heads

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 21, 1948 | No. 14

Tindall Lists Speakers, Christian Mission Topics

Students Will Serve On Committees

With the date set for the University Christian Mission close at hand, Virginia Tindall has announced the individual topics which will be discussed by the four speakers for the week of February 7. She has also named the student who will assist the various committee chairmen.

Miss Helen Turnbull will have as her topic for the week "Your Religion". The Rev. Mr. Trimmer will discuss "Everyday Problems". "You and the Other Fellow" is the subject Dr. Sanborne will use as his theme, while Mrs. Mayes Behrman will discuss "Courtship, Marriage and the Home".

Assisting Nancy Chambers on the Finance committee are George Anne Lewis, Jean Babb, Betty Jane Brockway, Jean Tolley, Peggy Moore, Nancy Hughes, Ethel Harrison, and Nancy G. Taylor. Tucker Winn who heads the Seminar committee has as her assistants George Ann Lewis, Evelyn Patterson, Frankie Dodson, Nancy Watts, Marjorie Miller, Louise Taylor, Jackie Bobbitt, and Jane Taylor. Serving with Charlotte Grizzard on the Classroom Appointments committee are Jean Thomasson, Hilda Abernathy,Jacqueline Watson, and Lucy Addleman.

Also, Judy Hughes, Martha Frances Morrison, Bebe Geyer, Anne Motley, Jane Burchett, and Jeane Bentley who are working on the Publicity committee which Mary Helmer heads. Eleanor Overby who is heading arrangements has as her assistants Ann Simpson, Harriet Bowling, Dot Daniel, Mildred Davis, Betty Minton, Nancy Jenson, Ruth Hathaway, Jean Carter, and Ruby Jewell. Nancy Rushing and Jane Taylor are serving on the Continuations committee which is headed by Ellen McMullen..

Peepsie, Brooks, chairman of the Bull Sessions committee, has as her assistants Violet Ritchie, Annette Jones, Jean Jones, Martha Gillum, Nancy Lee Maddox, Anne Ford, Betsy Gravely, Carolyn Calhoun, Charlotte Hutter, and Katie Lawrence. Serving on the Book Exhibits committee which Melbale Booth heads are Agnes Taylor, Betty Ann Barker, Nancy Bruce, Connie Marston, Dot Dunford, and Alice Burgess. Laura Jean Comerford who is chairman of the Hospitality committee has as her assistants Barbara Grizzard, June Cregar, Billie Mullins, Alfreda Peterson, Betty House, Agnes Dingledine, Delores Duncan, Lizzie Bragg, Ann Verser, Ruby Griffith, Ruth Tillet, Dot Daniels, Cris Boxley, and Mary Frances Squire.

VIRGINIA TINDALL

Lancaster Tours Teachers Colleges

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of Farmville STC, last week made inspection of the State Teachers College at Bowie, Maryland; represented the college at the inauguration of Mr. Hawkins as president of State Teachers College at Towson, Maryland; was among special guests at a meeting of Virginians and Marylanders; attended a meeting of the sub-committee of the State Planning Board in Richmond.

Dr. Lancaster made a joint inspection of Bowie STC with the president of Jersey City State Teachers College of New Jersey. The Maryland college has made application to the accrediting committee of the American Association of State Teachers Colleges, of which the two men are members. Their report is soon to be submitted to the association.

Guest of honor at the Friday night meeting of Virginians and Marylanders in Baltimore was Admiral Richard E. Byrd. Moving pictures of his last trip to the South Pole were shown to the group. Admiral Byrd expressed hope that since we are about ten thousand years ahead of our times in scientific developments that the world will now concentrate its talents upon development of human relationship and the social sciences, in which he believes we

Continued on Page 4

Helmer Requests Students To Sign "Letters To Editor"

The Rotunda Staff wishes to remind all students desiring to have letters printed in The Rotunda that letters must be signed with the names of the writers. The name will be withheld if it is so desired, but it is essential that all letters be properly endorsed in order to protect both the writer and the paper. Mary Helmer, editor of the paper, said, "We welcome letters from the student body, but we reserve the right to refuse to print any letters not bearing proper signatures." She also asked that all letters be submitted on the Friday before the next edition. All letters become the property of The Rotunda, and they will not be returned to the writers.

Mary also said that it was impossible to give any organization on campus space in the paper for an individual column since the paper already carries as many columns of this type as is considered in good taste by journalists.

Spalding To Give Lyceum Program

Concert Violinist Appears in Feb.

Albert Spalding, "Radio's Favorite Violinist", will appear here in February under the auspices of the college. Mr. Spalding will be the second Lyceum artist to appear here during the present school session.

Spalding, who was born in Chicago, was graduated from Bologna Conservatory and studied in Florence, Paris, and New York. He made his New York debut in 1908 with the New York Symphony under Walter Damrosch. Since then he has risen to a top ranking position among concert violinists in America and has played with all the major symphony orchestras in the United States and Europe. He was master of ceremonies and violinist for Coca-Cola's "Pause That Refreshes" during 1941 and 1942, and has been on the air more times than any other violinist before the public. He is also a recording artist for Victor Red Seal records.

During World War II he served with the Psychological Warfare Division in Italy, broadcasting under the name of "Major Sheridan." His war activities gained him the Cross of the Legion of Honor (France) and the Medal of Freedom (U. S.)

Tickets for the lyceum program will be available in the Registrar's office some time after the beginning of the next semester, an announcement of their availability will be made in a later edition of the Rotunda.

Biology Department Adds Parasitory For Next Semester

A new course, not listed in the catalog, will be added in the biology department next semester, it has been announced by Dr. Jeffers, head of the department. The new course will be Parasitology and will consist of two lectures and a lab. The lectures will meet at 9:05 Monday and Wednesday; the Lab class is to be arranged. Both lab and lecture will be taught by Dr. Higginbotham. Three credits will be given for the course.

The Physiology class which was to be offered again this next semester will be offered only if enough students sign up for it. At present there are only five students on the roll.

Observant Reporter Discovers Little Known Library Facts

Is the clock in the tower of the Library lighted at night? Two cents says that you don't know definitely whether it is or not. If it isn't, don't you think that it should be? The tower clock is the nearest thing to a town clock in Farmville. If it were lighted at night (by the way, it isn't now, in case you are still wondering.) it would be a service to the community as well as the college. It has not been lighted since the war because of a shortage of the type of bulbs needed but they are again available.

Now for another question, or rather, two more. Do you know how many clocks there are in the library? And where are they located? Think fast—oh, well, I'll break down and tell you—there are four, not counting the tower clock. One is in the main part of the library, there is one in each of the reading rooms and there is one in the browsing room. They are well connected by an intricate wiring system and like all electrical devices need almost constant attention. This attention and the necessary repairs are made by Mr. L. A. Dixon of Martin's Jewelers. Mr. Dixon has taken quite an interest in the clocks and does, as always, good work on them.

Do you have any idea how many newspapers the library subscribes to, or how long they stay on the rack? Just to give you a clue, the library subscribes to sixteen papers. This number includes the "Rotunda", a Negro paper, a Spanish, and a French paper. The daily papers on the rack stay there only until a new addition is received. The Sunday papers remain on the racks for a week.

Approximately how many different magazines and periodicals may be found in the Reference Room—100? 200? 300? 400? Do you have any idea? While you are trying to guess, I'll just tell you—there are a few over 300. Count them and see if I'm right. If I'm not just rip the fender off any old 1947 Studebaker and send it in with your count. I will then make an official retraction.

Could you give the right answers to all these questions If not—you'd better open your eyes next time you go to the library. No telling what you are likely to discover.

STC Elects Geyer, Frank, Jones May Day Committee Chairmen At Student Body Meeting

Dramatic Club Sponsors Clinic

A Drama Clinic will be held in the Student Lounge January 31 from 10:30 a. m. until 3:30 p. m. This clinic is being held in order to bring those interested in the teaching of Drama together to discuss their problems and to hear lecture by professionals.

Last year a similar conference was held in Farmville. It is hoped to make this a yearly institution if the conferences prove successful. These clinics make it possible for teachers to discuss their problems with each other in addition to listening to experts in the dramatic field.

The first session of the clinic will be held from 10:30 to 12:30. Those attending will be the guests of the college for luncheon at 1 o'clock. The afternoon session from 2 until 3:30 will consist of a roundtable discussion. Miss Leola Wheeler, head of the speech department at S. T. C. will act as hostess, assisted by Miss Clara Black, Dean of Activities of Blackstone College.

During the morning session Raymond Hodges will speak on directing, Roger Sherman will discuss scenery and lighting, and Sue Sherman will speak on costuming and make-up.

Music Students Give Program Over WFLO

The weekly S. T. C. radio program broadcast every Thursday at 4:15 over WFLO features several music students this week. Taking part on Thursday's program are to be Jean Snead who plays Bircsak's "Cottage by the Sea", Betty Jordan playing Christiani's "The Ocean" and Nancy Kibler is to play the first movement of Jean Williams' concerto in C major. Featured also on the program is a trio composed of Margorie Featherston, Julia Rucker, and Joyce Adams. These girls will sing "Love Lives Over the Hills" and "The Shepherdess".

Last week's program was a dramatization given by the speech class which was written by two S. T. C.—H.-S. C. students, and the program for next week is to be a talk by Dean Savage on the subject of vocational guidance.

Juniors to Present Black 'n' White Ball

The Junior Black and White Ball will be given in the gym on Valentine Night, February 14. Tickets will go on sale in the near future and the price will be $2.50 for date tickets and $1.50 for stag tickets. Juniors will be given first choice in the sale of tickets.

Roy Cole and his orchestra from the University of North Carolina will furnish music for the affair which will feature a "no-break" dance for Juniors and their dates.

Everyone is requested to wear only black or white in order to carry out the theme of the dance.

Betty Jefferson is general chairman of the dance.

Savage Will Speak On Assembly Program

Dean William Savage will speak in chapel Thursday on the subject "State of the College".

Also on the program are Margorie Featherston, Joyce Adams, and Julia Rucker who, as a trio will sing "Love Lives Over the Hill", and "The Shepherdess".

There will be no chapel next week due to exams.

Library Features New Book Corner

A special desk and adjacent reading table has been set up in the Library for the convenience of the faculty and the administrative staff. Here may be found standard book reviewing literature such as The New York Times, Book Review, and The Publishers' Weekly. Checked lists, including the annual "Sixty Educational Books of 1946," will show the holdings at State Teachers College; and the S. T. C. Library Leaflets will give call numbers for the new books currently added to the Library collection.

Adjacent to this Faculty Reading Center is the newly established "New Books Corner", which is superseding the parallel reading for freshmen. Rental books and suggested titles from recent fiction will continue to be on the display shelves by Miss Seabury's desk.

In the Faculty Reading Center, the library staff will place selected titles of current interest. At present there are some fifteen volumes, selected by Dr. Wynne, to be used as reference material for the Conference on Teacher Education which will take place at the college on Thursday, January 20.

Department of Math Offers Statistics For Upperclassmen

A new course in statistics, Mathematics X 325, will be offered by the Department of Mathematics during the semester beginning January 31. It will deal with the interpretation of tests and measurements as applied to the fields of education, social science, and natural science. The class will meet either at 11:15 a. m. or 1:45 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. It is open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Because of the urgent need that persons engaged in the fields of education and the various sciences have for an understanding of statistics, the course is a higly valuable addition to the curricula of the College.

Students interested in obtaining more information regarding the course are requested to see Miss Sutherland on Friday, January 23.

Director States Theme of May Day

Bebe Geyer, senior from Chatham, and Hope Frank, senior from Roanoke, were elected co-chairmen of May Day by the student body last Thursday night. Margaret Jones, senior from North Wilkesboro, N. C., was elected business manager.

The theme for May Day this year is Greek, according to Mrs. Merle Landrum, director.

Bebe Geyer served last year on the May Day committee, and has been active in class productions. She is also a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, leadership fraternity. Hope Frank also served on the May Day committee last year, and has had experience in costuming class productions. Margaret Jones is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, and she is a Business Education major.

Corinne Baker, senior from Richmond, was elected chairman of dance while Helen Williams, senior from Midlothian, was elected costume chairman. Jean Watts, junior from Lynchburg, and Neva Brankley, senior from Skipwith, will head the staging committee. Kitty Hankins, senior from Farmville, has charge of transportation while Betty Jordan, junior from Portsmouth, will head the music committee.

Corinne Baker is president of Orchesis and figure leader of the Cotillion Club. Helen Williams is a home economics major and has had previous costuming experience. Jean Watts and Neva Brankley have had experience in staging Dramatic Club Plays and Choir concerts. Kitty Hankins assumes her duties as transportation chairman for the first time. Betty Pell Jordan served last year as music chairman.

Colonnade Will Run Prize Winning Poems

February Edition of the Colonnade, which will feature selected contributions from the poetry contest, will contain an illustration of the poem winning first place.

According to Anne Motley, editor, all poetry contributions must be in by February 10, and all other articles by February 15.

Virginia Tindall and Betty Spindler will write articles about Dr. J. L. Jarman. Also this edition will contain a full page of cartoons. The front cover will be done by Helen Arrington.

Weekend Celebrations Highlighted By Horse-Opera, Food, Bridge, Gab

Ah, Saturday has arrived at last! We asked ourselves how we ever lived through another week, but somehow we made it.

Practically all of Saturday is spent in peaceful (yeh, peaceful?) sleep until the afternoon arrives when we journey down town to make various purchases for our Saturday night "shindigs". They are really gay affairs!! Stumbling through crowds with loads of packages is quite the thing—the homey touch. Nearly "dead" broke, we make our way to the nearest eating place to blow the rest of our allowance. After killing another hour or so eating, we journey back to college. The time is approximately 5:30 p. m. This means the "shindig" starts at 7:00 p. m.

First on the program is the "horse opera." We must see a Roy Rogers picture or some "shoot 'em up" on Saturday night. Well supplied with popcorn to throw and a mind full of wise cracks to make about the movie, we enter with a dignified air. After "knocking ourselves out" laughing, making remarks, and throwing popcorn much to the horror of everyone in the theatre, we make our exit and head for Shannons. We then discuss each character in the movie mocking and criticizing everything that happened. After about a half-hour of this, we trudge back to school without one cent left, but spirits high.

Upon arriving, we get hold of a hot plate, start making cocoa, coffee, and sandwiches. The room is crowded with girls, We eat, play bridge, and play bridge and eat. The time is now about 3 a. m. A few have begun to get a lit-

Continued on Page 3

Let's Clean House

Have the students stopped and thought of how many supposedly active organizations on our campus really contribute little or nothing to college life? We believe that there are perhaps as many as ten.

It is a splendid idea to recognize scholarship and leadership, and to have active clubs in various fields. But there should be vital work to be done; and there should be interesting and challenging programs of activity which will contribute something to both the College and to the individual.

If all organizations on the campus were truly active, there would be too many making demands on the time of students. Perhaps many are now inactive for exactly this reason. A student cannot contribute to and benefit from membership in numerous groups. Work well done requires time—and if a student is to place proper emphasis on her scholarship she cannot participate in a satisfactory manner in more than a few other activities.

A third problem among organizations on the campus is the fact that membership in them is too limited. They do not reach the majority of the student body. Instead, in most cases, the membership of one group is essentially the membership of the others. The "joiners" among our students hold so many memberships they are unable to contribute in a satisfactory manner to any. At the same time, a large number of the student body do not have access to a vital program in any group.

It is time for an evaluation of our organizations. It is time to eliminate those that are "dead" and those which do not have a worthy contribution to make. It is time to emphasize less joining and more work. It is time to provide organizational activity for all students.

Something To Look Forward To

With the coming of the University Mission to our campus for a week of religious emphasis, every single student will be called upon for her utmost in co-operation. This is a small thing to ask in return for the benefit of listening to and talking with Miss Helen Turnbull, Dr. Leon Sanborne, Mrs. Mayes Behrman, and the Rev. Mr. Maurice Trimmer. These people are especially equiped in their particular fields to give us the very best information and to answer frankly any questions

The theme "You and Your God" is one which strikes home to each of us since the years we spend in college are ones of questioning, doubting and reformation of faiths and beliefs. This Mission is the biggest thing in the way of religious emphasis ever to be held at S. T. C., and it could not take place at a time when it is more pertinent. Realizing the needs of young people in a complex and changing society the program is designed to contain lectures and discussions on marriages, dating, children, race relations, and anti-semitism. "Bull sessions", seminars, and personal conferences are to be provided for individual problems.

Miss Turnbull has been here before and was so enthusiastically received that the planning committee are sure she will be again.

To the motto and theme of the Mission we would like to suggest that Dr. Jarman's watchword "Co-operation" and Dr. Lancaster's "First things first" be added. If we keep these in mind and prepare to go through the week with clear minds and open hearts, then the words which the speakers have for us will surely fall on fertile ground.

Miss Turnbull is bringing us a message on personal religion and its place in our life. The other speakers are planning addresses on human relations such as "You and the Other Fellow", which Dr. Sanborne is to talk about, "Everyday Problems", which the Reverend Mr. Trimmer will discuss; and the ever-popular topic, "Courtship, Marriage and the Home" is the subject of Mrs. Behrman's lecture. All of these topics have such a particular significance in the problems we face that we can all look forward to aid in solving those which cause us the most concern.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Mary Aleise Helmer ..... Editor-in-Chief
Betty Spindler ..... Managing Editor
Frances Treakle ..... Business Manager

Betty Nachman ..... News Editor
Jackie Eagle ..... Feature Editor
Betty Burchett ..... Sports Editor
Lela Bouldin ..... Social Editor
Anne Orgain ..... Advertising Manager
Virginia Bailey ..... Circulation Manager
Betty Minton ..... Photographer
Mary Davis ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Martha Frances Morrison, chief editorial assistant; Toni Allen, Helen Arrington, Winifred Beard, Meibale Booth, Griswold Boxley, Jean Cake, Adelaide Cole, Addie Dodd, Jane Gray, Jane Hunt Gliselin, Augusta Hargan, Joyce Hamlet, Nancy Jessee, Ann Lynch, Mary Lee Meredith, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Janice Siavin, Martha Smith, Gwen Smith Carol Stoops, Jean Tolley, Helen Williams, Bobbie Wall.

Business Assistants

Martha Ashby, Elsie Love Bentley, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Mildred Garnett, Connie Heather, Ginny Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancy Jensen, Nancye Litz, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Virginia Parris, Sparkie Poteat, Barbara Saunders, Ethel Shockley, Norma Soyers Mary Lou Wilson.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 21, 1948

Puddin' 'n Sauce

This is a week of burning the midnight oil and everywhere is to be heard a weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth over the lax study habit we used to have back in the good old days before exams were so painfully near. It just doesn't seem possible that we could have let some 999 Spanish vocabulary words go unlearned to have them suddenly appear on a final test, or that all those formulas, which would have been so simple if learned by themselves, could be so hard to keep straight from 50-odd others. All of which proves that "Honor lies in honest toil" and the life of the hare is pleasant until we wake up to find that the race is nearly over, with a long way yet to go.

Why be a pessimist over it tho', isn't it always nicer to look at the dough-nut than to contemplate the size of the hole? Just think about all the times you didn't go to sleep in class and all the wonderful notes the "brain" across the hall lent you to study by. With these cheering thoughts in mind turn the O.A.O.'s picture around so you can get your mind on your work for a while, then rack back with plenty of cookies and cokes and you're all set for a good hour's work. (Maybe longer if nothing interesting happens in the vicinity.)

While you're on the subject of formulas try this one.

To study hours add quiet cooperation. Mix well with concentration and honest endeavor. Combine comprehension of subject matter with this mixture and drain off all distracting elements.

Bed Check

STC spent a fairly quiet week end here, but only because most STC-ers were away. 'Tis the week before exams and all is still—thriving.

What we really want to know is —what makes Addie Dodd swoon every time she hears "Danny Boy?"

Nancy G. Taylor is looking forward to this weekend, and Irving. Here's hoping you make it, Nancy.

Winnie Beard and Neil Wyrick are quite the cute couple. Both of them have personality plus.

Johnny is monopolizing most of Puckett's time, but Max is still visible in the background

Betty Nachman's Buddy was up this weekend and everytime we saw her she was flying around town in that good-looking convertible and having a most wonderful time.

Jeanne Tolley and Vi Turner just drool everytime they hear Bob. In fact, we hear that Tolley has two critters named BOB.

Ruby and Dick have up a case, you know, when Dick can stare exams in the face and still see Ruby most every day.

Congratulations to Jean Snead and Berkley Adams on their recent engagement.

Isn't June Banks lucky to have Broaddus come all the way from Tech just to hear her play for Production, and that brings Production to mind—orchids to Roady and the entire cast for superb entertainment.

Sweets to the sweetest, but not all of us get candy with a lapel watch on the second layer. Isn't that right, Mary Lou Wilson?

Molly Hudson, was Bob Hutchinson and George Bales looking for a balcony to play "Romeo and Juliet" when they invaded Annex?

Bo "Casanova" Wall has some STC-ers swooning, but just what does he expect to gain?

Gin Bailey is just the cutest one to have both Tony and Jess on the string. Aren't you excited about mid-winters at U. Va. with Jess, Bailey?

Binkie has succeeded in knitting the cuff of Tom's sock, but that's all. Don't get discouraged Binkie, you can give them to him for graduation!!!

'Twas so good to see so many old girls back this weekend. We saw Bev Boone, Connie Young, and Stewart Buford—sure was nice.

What's this about Aber and Bentley getting theirselves mentioned in the high school gossip sheet? Ah, the life of the student teacher.

Joyce Hill wants to teach around ole Hampden-Sydney next year, but she wonders if the school superintendent will hire her after she's married. Did we hear you mention something about settling down, Hill?

This bedchecker has to go now and beat out her brains on that Philosophy exam. Happy studying, and good luck on those exams.

Alumnae News

By TONI ALLEN

The Norfolk Alumnae Chapter entertained the Norfolk students at a tea during the Christmas holiday in the home of Miss Ruby Berger, 616 Baldwin Place. It was well attended. Such meetings serve as a connecting link between the present students and the Alumnae. The Norfolk Chapter was enthusiastic about the college calendar and sold their quota without any trouble.

* * *

Dolores Waterfield, freshman at S. T. C., is the winner of the annual Alumnae Scholarship offered by the Alumnae Chapter of Norfolk. Other freshmen at S. T. C. who have won Alumnae Scholarships are: Margaret Dillon, Danville; Peggy Dee Hoover, Portsmouth; Alma Bedinger, Farmville, and Charlotte Williams, Richmond. These girls were chosen for scholarship, citizenship, and a definite interest in teaching.

* * *

The Roanoke Chapter, with Miss Leona Moomaw as President, is planning their annual luncheon, to be held some Saturday in February. The exact date has not as yet been set.

Contribute To March of Dimes

Gallop Pole

What kind of radio program do you want on the STC Hour?

Betty Nachman: I like varied programs.

Jackie Eagle: I like Biology seminars.

Winnie Beard: I like music programs.

Grisvold Boxley: Biology seminars are grand and do have more.

Betty Spindler: I like the idea of working up duets and trios for music programs.

Martha Frances Morrison: I like Quiz programs—if they end like the last one.

June Banks: I'd like to see them have a quiz program between the H.-S. C. boys and the S. T. C. girls.

Janice Slavin: A Commercial Club ditty with one of the business professors as emcee.

Peggy Harp: The technique of filing.

Harriet Bowling: I want to hear Cab, Louise, and Barbara sing "Blue Skies".

Lucy Thrift: Educational quiz programs.

Florence Gilliam: The more music we have, the better I like it.

Helen Arrington: A variety including all students who wish to take part.

Cab Overby: Programs displaying talent from the different classes.

Polly Nasser: Round table discussions.

Elaine Owens: Quiz programs.

Denise Love: Talent shows.

Jackie Robins: S. T. C. soloists singing popular songs.

Barbara Grizzard: Interesting discussions groups.

Delores Duncan: Quite a bit of singing.

Lilla Mae Ferratt: More H-S & S. T. C. talent.

Phyllis Usher: Various talent of our own girls.

Margaret Beasley: Discussions on vocational guidance.

Neighborly Savages, Arabs, Russians, People Soph Production

I was dressed and ready on time! It took several minutes for my date to recuperate from this happy blow, but by 8:00 last Friday night, we were in our seats in the auditorium ready to enjoy the Sophomore Production, The title, "The World's a Stage" was attractive but gave us little idea as to the actual nature of it. After seeing Annette Jones making her way slowly across the stage, we knew that truly "they had worked hard."

Dot Doutt started the production with a "Russian Lullaby", the first act representing a Russian Cabaret. Several well-known songs turned into very ones with R-r-russian sounding catchy words. A dance by a band of Cossacks and "Balalaika", sung by Dalilah Agostini, added spice to the act to be topped off with a one-man brawl by Beanie, "The Mad Russian".

Aided by crutches, Annette was again able to announce the second act, a Harem scene. Barbara Sours sang a fitting introduction, "Desert Song". Lizzy Bragg entered as the "Sultan of Araby" into an assemblage of scantly clothed harem girls. One of the funniest stunts of the evening came when a sad foursome wandered in to sing "We are four little Sheiks who have gone astray".

Two of thee Sultan's wives got in a blue mood, as they harmonized on "I Wonder Which One's Kissing Him Now?" At the climax of this act Joyce Frazier gave forth with "Golden Earrings" to lure away the Sultan from his other dames.

Before the curtain opened on the last act, we saw poor Annette Jones crawling out to tell us that the scene took place in a jungle.

The sound of tom-toms caught our ears and suddenly Anne Nock jumped out of a bamboo tree to sing, rather shout, "Bongo Bongo Bongo". Next we saw three—duh! —no!—four little pigmies (one being peculiarly little! Suddenly the stage became a riot as the "Too Fat Polka" was danced. Katie Bondurant turned into a sea-loving lad for a few minutes to sing "Sailor Bill McCoy".

And then a mixture of modern dance, leg lifts, and the hootchy cootchy was brought to us in the form of "Oh By Jungo." This was particularly savage—life with warcrys and tom-toms as accessories.

Neckbone connected to the . . . back bone connected to the . . . "Dry Bones" was very efectively dramatized, followed by another boney song—"Save the Bones for Henry Jones."

To cap off this gay production was the grand finale. The thought behind it was that "All the World's a Stage"—Why can't all the players act peacefully together? "You make it—we'll take it—A Great Big Neighborly World."

Girls Take Tests For Official Ratings

Official basketball rating tests were given here on Saturday, January 17, in the form of a practical and written test. The work was judged by Miss Martha Barksdale of William and Mary, Miss Mary Dabney, and Miss Elizabeth Burger of S. T. C.

Students who successfully passed the written tests were Jeane Bentley, Jean Babb, Betty Romeo, Jessie Pickett, Mary Miller, and Jane Burchett.

The United States which was $3,636,000,000 in debt to the world just before World War I is now a $10,400,000,000 creditor with a net income of over $400,000,000 a year from holdings overseas, according to the Treasury Department.

THROUGH THE HOOP

By TONI ALLEN

Thoughts of basketball championships were cast aside by almost every collegiate player in the Old Dominion as midyear examinations came to the forefront. There were a few exceptions to the continual thought of exams, however, at Blacksburg and Williamsburg.

In Blacksburg, the Virginia Tech Gobblers, already out front in the Big Six, had their eyes set on the State leadership with their hopes high for a victory over the unbeaten Roanoke College Maroons, whose winning skein has now reached nine straight as result of their last outing, a 48-41 victory over Washington and Lee. The Gobblers play the Maroons Tuesday night in Blacksburg.

There was a renewed hope at Williamsburg that the William and Mary Indians would have smoother sailing the remainder of the season. After they had whipped University of Richmond 50-47, Saturday night, the Braves were confident they were back on the right track and would sail home.

"We won't lose any more," was the chant of the victorious Braves who, by virtue of their victory over the Spiders brought their Big Six record to three wins, and two losses, thus trailing only Tech.

Buddy Lex, with 16 points, set the pace with long range firing in the Braves' victory. Eddie McMillan, the fuzzy-cheeked freshman, contributed 11 and so did Chet Giermak, the top center, despite a sliding zone defense which often had three Spiders guarding him. "Bootsie" Dolsey's last half firing helped the Spiders reduce a 14-point margin with 12 minutes to play. He garnered 13 points to pace Richmond.

* * *

Roanoke's victory over W&L stamped the Maroons very firmly as a leader. Earlier last week they gained recognition by turning back Hampden-Sydney at Death Valley, but that was on a defensive display. Against W&L, they won with a display of both offense and defense that W&L's Generals running.

Ed Harless paced the Maroons with 13 points and Bob Goldsmith, the State's high scorer, racked up 12 points for W&L. His scoring enabled him to pick up an additional point on Giermak in their race for the State honors. Goldsmith now has 181 to Giermak's' 170.

* * *

Randolph Macon's Jackets came from behind to whip Newport News Apprentice School, 66-57, and Maryland had little trouble walloping hapless VMI, 63-48, with the aid of Bill Wanish's 28 points.

No basketball games were scheduled for Monday night, and the VPI-Roanoke affair is the only one listed for Tuesday.

The production of FM-AM radio receivers during November totaled 153,114 sets, the highest figure recorded for any previous month and brought the eleven months total to almost 1,000,000 sets, according to the Radio Manufacturers Association. Television receivers also set a new record for the industry, with companies reporting a 77.9 per cent increase over the monthly average production so far this year.

Left Lead

When the evening sun is sinking,
And you want to be alone.
Just let go of your thinking
And ride 'neath trees that moan.

The joy you find while riding
Is what you'll ne'er forget.
The birds in the trees abiding
Will sing when they are met.

So saddle up and ride away
To see the great sun glow.
A perfect way to end the day,
A horseback ride you know.

Weekend Celebration

Continued from Page 1

tle sleepy, but the night is young so on goes the party. By this time everyone is on some deep serious discussion such as the theory of evolution (Now we are really getting in a rut!) The clock strikes 4 a. m. We decide to call it a day. Ho-hum! How does it get so late so early—etc.? What a gay day! Who said Saturday night was the loneliest night in the week? We don't think so.

On the Ball

Greetings to you from this corner of the dugout. How have you made out on those sports and general practices for the coming events? Remember you have to have eight general practices before you can play on the class team. Why don't you try to keep in practice so you will be an asset to your class team when the games really start, and you won't want to sit on the sideline when the excitement starts, 'cause you will want to be the one responsible for helping make the extra points.

Does basketball sound appealing to you? Your ability to handle the ole ball will come in handy during the fast games. Some afternoon take time out for some good exercise, and put in your appearance in the gym: you won't regret it if you do. It is a sure way to keep in form and lose some excess weight, plus improve your game a hundred per cent. Give basketball a try, won't you?

Many of you that don't care to play basketball may find an enjoyment in volleyball. You only need eight practices to be able to play on the class team and you know they need all the help they can get. There have been exciting times going on in the gym during class and you should come down and join in the fun. The hour of exercise will do you good.

Winter sports are exciting and you will want to be present for every game and cheer your team on to victory. But keep this in mind—benig a good loser is just as important as being a good player. The two factors are essential and both will be needed whether you are in the game or on the sideline looking on.

This seems to be all for now—be a good sport and get into the game.

Simkins Granted Leave of Absence

Dr. Frances B. Simkins, professor of history an author of The South, Old and New, has been granted a year's leave of absence from the S. T. C. faculty to go to the Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, as a visiting professor.

Dr. Simkins will leave in June, 1948 and return in September 1949. At the Louisiana State University he will teach a graduate course in southern history, a seminar in southern history, and a general undergraduate course in southern history.

FOR VALENTINE GIFTS SEE MARTIN THE JEWELER

MARTIN'S

S. T. C. Bracelets, Lockets

It's Newberry's For The Greatest Assortment Of Stationery

J.J. Newberry Co.

FOR A LARGE SELECTION OF RECORDS COME TO

WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

EXPERT WATCH & JEWELRY REPAIRING

Garland, Newman & Whitten

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCSSIONS

Chas. E. Burg
Florist

ITS A GOOD THING TO DO GIVE FLOWERS FROM

Collins Florist
Phone 181 or 4

THREE IN ONE

You buy one blouse and get the benefit of three — all for only

$2.98

- Button the bib on front.
- Wear it without the bib.
- Button the bib around the collar.

Fashioned of washable rayon crepe with simulated pearl buttons and black grosgrain ribbon. White only. Sizes 32-38.

STYLED BY DIKSTON

Leggett's Best Store

Suits of Crush Proof Krisp Kord

barbette

Styled

Krisp Kord is a sturdy fabric that tailors beautifully and resists the wrinkle and rumple of ordinary corded materials.

"Barbette" has styled it into an ever-so-smart Suit that will take you shopping or visiting with enviable good looks.

It is available in new Spring colors and sizes 10 to 18 and also in Junior Sizes 9 to 15. Calue extraordinary at

Dorothy May

$12.95

Farmville Electric Appliance Co.

200 MAIN ST PHONE 204

Repair Service on Radios and
WE SELL THE BEST AND SERVICE THE REST
Small Appliances

See Us For The Newest Records Expert Repairs

Ennis Radio Shop

108 W. THIRD ST.
PHONE 423

Kodak Film

Natural color kodak film in all sizes are now available at the

Southside Drug Store

Meet the Faculty

Since Dr. Francis B. Simkins, our Assistant Professor of History and Social Science, and his South—Old and New have broken into Rotunda print a record number of times this year, we thought it about time to give the public as much of the inside dope on our favorite historian as could be gleaned from an interview with same.

This "unreconstructed rebel", as he's been called by one of his critics, comes appropriately from South Carolina, of a family in which some preferred barbecue to sauerkraut and others vice-versa. Which is his way of saying that his ancestry is English and German.

To quote another critic, "Dr. Simkins was raised on Scott and Shakespeare." Dr. Simkins, himself, tells us that the most recent author he ever read in his Edgefield home was Tennyson, and that the only magazine he saw for years was "The Congressional Record." Perhaps this last accounts for his leaning toward history.

Dr. Simkins' father deposited him in the University of South Carolina at the ripe age of fifteen, since the Edgefield high school didn't amount to much then. After taking his B. A. degree at South Carolina, Dr. Simkins journeyed up into yankee land to Columbia for his M. A. and Ph. D. Incidentally, Dr. Simkins thinks that yankee schools have it all over those of the south.

Before he came to S. T. C. in 1928, Dr. Simkins taught at Greenbrier Military Academy, The Citadel, the U. of North Carolina, and Emory in Atlanta.

It's a well know fact that Dr. Simkins' historical specialty is the southern states. He claims that this is a section set apart from the rest of the United States and that contrary to yankee belief, it isn't nor has it changed essentially. The South and Southerners have monopolized the pages of all of Dr. Simkins' books, which include: Women of the Confederacy, South Carolina During the Reconstruction, "Pitchfork Ben" Tillman, and The South—Old and New.

Dr. Simkins holds membership in the Southern Historical Association and the American Historical Association. His ideas on the purpose of history study run thus—if we are to be good citizens, we must first of all be civilized; one who is civilized rationalizes rather than acts by instinct; the study of our civilization helps us to learn to rationalize; and therein lies one of the secrets of being a good citizen.

Under the head of hobbies Dr. Simkins lists loafing, history research, minding his four year old son, and vegetable gardening. Though he laments the fact the rows in his garden are crooked, Dr. Simkins points out that the vegetables come up just the same. He seems particularly proud of his spring onions of which we hear that Charlie Hop eats a good share.

Color Supplants Sensational Look

According to the best of fashion editors, you won't go wrong this spring with the ever popular slim, straight skirt, natural waistline as well as the belted skirt and rounded hipline. The slender waist line and hip accent are emphasized in all new apparel. Clothes have lost their seasonal look. They can go more places, more often! Fashion is breaking, as usual, with the accepted, the staple, and the prescribed. It's not only the new look—it's new fabrics, new colors, and designs. The creative mind is really restless when it comes to clothes.

Next to the long skirt itself, the most arresting news in fashion is the swing to color. This is evident here already with the outburst of colored scarfs among S. T. C.'ers and bright wool ballerina dresses or belted skirts. Note the color in shoes too!

Tatting is back and looks adorable on printed cottons. Tie points are being borrowed from the men's department making news in the best all-occasion dress you ever saw. (That's straight from Mademoiselle!!) So take note.

Delta Kappa Gamma Honors Patterson

Miss Jessie Patterson, a member of the STC faculty, was honored by membership in Delta Kappa Gamma, national honorary Educational fraternity, last Saturday in Richmond.

Only six others received membership bids. The exercises were held at the Hotel John Marshall, and the new members were honored at a banquet.

Dr. Lancaster

Continued from Page 1

are ten thousand years behind our times.

The State planning Board subcommittee met in the first of a series of meetings last Wednesday afternoon to work on plans for developing good citizenship on the part of our people. They hope to reach this goal not only through cooperative work within our schools, but also through clubs and and other agencies.

5 Students Take Part In Rotunda Try-Outs According to Editor

Try-outs for advancement on the Rotunda staff will begin with the issue of February 4, according to Mary Helmer, editor. These try-outs will continue through the first week in March, and the new publication heads will be announced sometime in March.

Girls trying-out are Betty Spindler, managing editor; Jackie Eagle, feature editor; Love Bentley, reporter; Mary Leigh Meredith, reporter; and Ann Orgain, advertising manager. These girls will have complete charge of the paper for one week.

The publications board who will announce the new editors is composed of the retiring editors, business managers, advisors, and one impartial person from the student body.

Overby Lists Rules For Exam Week

Any girl receiving a call down during exam week will receive one week of campus, according to Eleanor Overby, president of House Council. This will be enforced from Monday night at eight o'clock through the rest of the exam week.

Eleanor asks that every student remain quiet as possible so as not to disturb others who are trying to study. Students may keep their lights on as long as they are needed, however hall presidents are prepared to enforce the quiet study rule.

Home Ec. Club Sees Lamp Demonstration

Mr. Pine of the Home Furniture Company presented lamp demonstration at the January meeting of the Home Economics Club held in the Student lounge at 4 p. m., January 13. He had with him different kinds of lamps and gave pointers on direct and indirect lighting.

Mr. Pine extended to the Student Body of S. T. C., a cordial invitation to come to their store at any time and look around.

The club is composed of 66 members and has as its president, Gwen Cress.

Westminster Group Secures Speakers For Sunday Night

On Sunday, January 25, at the Presbyterian Church, four men from Union Theological Seminary and two girls from the Presbyterian Training School in Richmond will be present to participate in the services throughout the day and evening.

Sunday evening at six o'clock the Westminister Fellowship group which is made up of Hampden-Sydney boys and State Teachers College girls will hold a supper meeting at the church. At this time, the guests from Richmond will be the speakers. They are Caroline McSween, Greenville, S. C.; and Grace Lyons, Kingsport, Tenn., both of the Training School. Also, Bill Rogers, Eldorado, Ark.; Dick Powell, Dick Hardie, Dallas, Texas, and George Webb, Knoxville, Tenn., all of the Theological Seminary.

Consensus of Opinion

An informal poll concerning Communism was taken this week by Mr. Grainger's Journalism class. About 100 S. T. C. students, constituting a cross -section of the student body were asked: (1) to define Communism, (2) whether or not they preferred Communism to Democracy, and (3) if they thought that U. S. citizens should be forced to swear whether or not they are Communists.

The poll revealed that over 70% of the students questioned had a fairly clear idea of the meaning of Communism both in the idealistic sense of the word and in the way it is now practiced in Russia. However, most students seemed ignorant of the fact that Communism is atheistic and that its members are sworn to try to destroy, by force if necessary, any other type of government.

Only one student preferred Communism to Democracy, although about 8% might be said to have Communistic leanings, in the sense that they admire some aspects of Communism, such as the idealism of class equality and the high literacy percentage which Communism has effected in the Russian population. On the whole, students were quite emphatic in their preference for the Democratic privileges of free enterprise and speech.

To the third query, "Should U. S. citizens be forced to swear whether or not they are Communists?" 70% gave negative responses, 20% positive, and 10% were undecided. Most students thought this an infringement on freedom of speech and belief.

Students gave as the sources of their information the newspaper, radio, government classes, and hearsay.

CARA NOME and WHITMAN'S CANDIES

Gray's — Truly a Drug Store

Many Other Useful Gifts

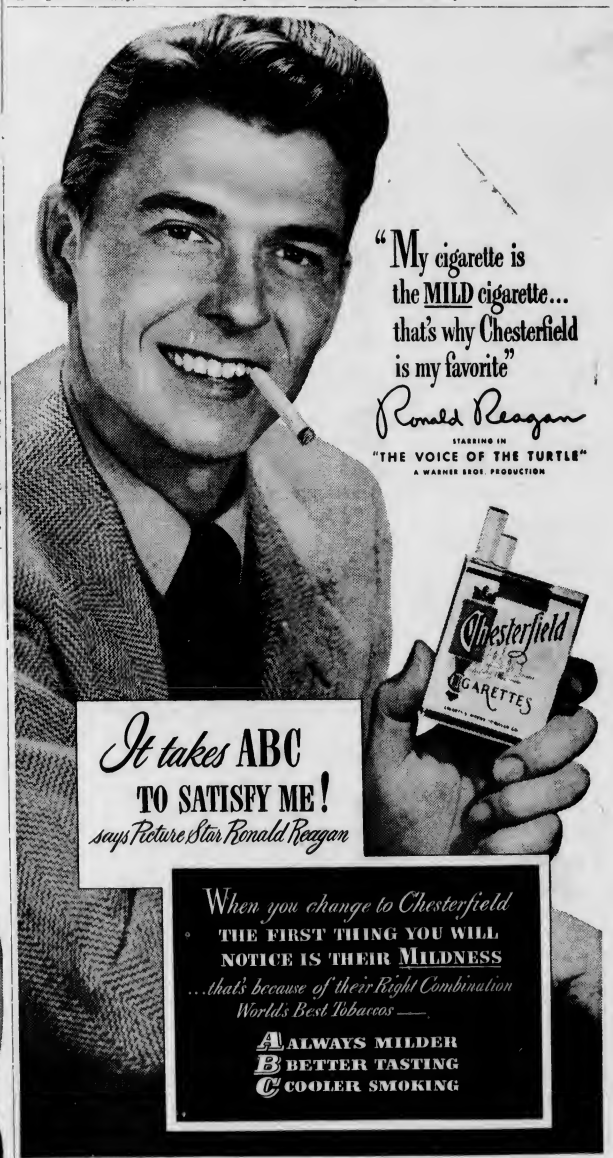
NORCROSS
America's Best-Loved Greeting Cards

LOOK FOR ME I'M ROSEBUD

WEEK ANGEL-ETTES

Patterson Drug Co.

THIRST KNOWS NO SEASON



5¢

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Coca-Cola
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
"Coke"
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
They Satisfy

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Library file

Attend
Lyceum Concert

The Rotunda

Cooperate
In Mission

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1948 | No. 15

STC To Open Christian Mission Week February 7

ALBERT SPALDING

Albert Spalding, Violinist, To Be Presented February 10

Albert Spalding, one of the world's foremost violinists, who is known as "Radio's Favorite Violinist", will appear in the State Teachers College auditorium on February 10. His performance is the second of the Lyceum concerts given at the College. Reserved tickets may be obtained without charge by all students from the office of the Registrar.

Spalding was born in Chicago of well-to-do parents. His father, the late J. W. Spalding, with his brother A. G. Spalding, the famous baseball pitcher, founded the well-known sporting goods firm that bears his name. He inherited much of his musical genius from his mother, who was for a long time a soloist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra under Theodore Thomas.

Mr. Spalding's musical career started at the age of seven when he received a $4.00 violin for Christmas. He, like many young musicians, did not like to practice. However, he loved the violin and loved to play: as soon as he found out that you could not play without practicing, he did some of that too.

Mr. Spalding graduated from the Bologna Conservatory, Italy, at the age of fourteen, the youngest graduate since Mozart. He has studied in Florence with Chiti, in New York with Buitrago and Paris with Lefortin. When he was sixteen he made his debut in Paris. Shortly afterwards, he was asked by Edouard Colonne to appear at a large benefit concert organized by Coquelin at the Chatelet for the Dramatic Artists' Fund. He appeared, without rehearsal, as assisting artist to Adelina Patti.

His New York debut was made in 1908, as soloist with the New York Symphony Orchestra under Walter Damrosch, and he appeared with all major symphony orchestras in the United States and Europe. Also notable of his success are command performances played for King Edward VII of England and Queen Margherita of Italy.

The violin used by Mr. Spalding was made by Joseph Guarnerius (del Jesu) in 1735. For over 100 years this violin has attracted the attention of connoisseurs. It was brought out of Italy to France by Tarisio, a well-known expert of a century or more ago. He took it to Vuillaume, one of the best violin makers of his time, who was greatly impressed by its beauty and used it as a model for his own work.

Since that time, it has been chiefly in the hands of collectors, having been owned successively by the Marquis de Sear, the Comte d'Armaille, and by Colonel Le Maistre. Albert Spalding acquired the violin in 1913, and since then has used it continuously in his concerts. He fights incessant warfare against injury to his violin, and polishes it after a performance with a piece of foulard silk to remove all particles of rosin, dust, and also perspiration. This polishing operation also follows his daily practice periods.

He insures his rare Guarnerius for $50,000 with never a penny for his hands, and is indifferent to the bogey of their possible injury. "There will always be violinists," he says, "but there's only one violin like this one. Years after I've left this stage for the next, there will I hope, be some violinist to draw music from the soul of this beautiful instrument."

After the long concert season ends, Mr. Spalding goes to his country place at Great Barrington, Mass., in the Berkshires. There, with twenty-four full hours a day to spend as he wills, he indulges in his favorite recreations of tennis and swimming, with an occasional rubber of bridge. Now and then he takes

Continued on Page 4

State Appropriates STC Building Fund In 1948-49 Budget

Capital outlay reappropriations of $458,000 for a science hall, green house and completion of the sprinkler system, and new appropriations of $502,000 were included for Farmville State Teachers College in Governor Tuck's budget submitted last week to the state legislature.

According to the budget, but subject to action by the legislature and the governor, the following amounts are included for the local institution for the 1948-50 biennium:

For operation and maintenance, from the General Fund, $235,000.00 the first year, $237,000.00 the second year. These amounts supplement the funds collected by the college as tuition, fees, etc., which are also used for operation and maintenance, and which it is estimated will be $430,000 the first year and $445,000 the second year. The last two figures are based on an estimate of the number of students.

For capital outlay expenditures, which are subject to the governor's control, and some of which have been withheld due to today's high building costs: 1, a reappropriation of $436,000.00 and a new appropriation of $52,000.00 for a science hall and green house, 2, a reappropriation of $22,000.00 to finish installation of the sprinkler system which is complete in most buildings and was installed in the elementary school during the recent extensive improvements, 3, a new appropriation of $450,000.00 for an auditorium and music building.

Plans for the proposed auditorium have already been sketched and call for a main auditorium to seat 1400. In addition, space is to be provided for class rooms and practice rooms for the music department, orchestra, and choral groups, and a radio studio.

Space now occupied by the present auditorium would be converted into dormitories.

Work on the Spring production of the Dramatic Club has begun to the extent of a partial casting and a primary reading of the play under consideration, according to Miss Wheeler.

MISS HELEN TURNBULL

DR. LEON SANBORNE

REV. MR. MAURICE TRIMMER

MRS. MAYES BEHRMAN

Tindall Announces Theme of Mission

Religious Emphasis Begins February 7

Four speakers will be on the campus to lead the University Christian Mission which will be held here the week beginning February 7. The speakers will be Miss Helen Turnbull, Mrs. Mayes Behrman, Rev. Mr. Maurice Trimmer, and Dr. Leon Sanborne.

Seminars, bull sessions, classroom appointments and an address in assembly will highlight the week, according to Virginia Tindall, general chairman. Virginia said students may expect frank discussions of any question asked. The theme for the Mission is "Christianity and Your Problems."

Dr. Sanborne, who has as his topic "You and the Other Fellow" is discussing "God and Atoms"; the American, the Japanese, the German; the Jew and the Gentile; the White and the Negro; and the Eagle and the Bear.

Miss Turnbull's general topic "Your Religion" is subdivided into the questions "What is the meaning of faith"? Is the Bible true? Is there a God? Is church membership necessary? and Are the churches dying?

The Reverend Mr. Trimmer is dividing his topic "Everyday Problems" into five parts, "Are any jobs non-Christian"?; "Why Work"; "What's wrong with a Social Drink?"; "Is a Little Gambling Wrong?", and "Can a Politician Be a Christian?".

Mrs. Behrman's popular topic "Courtship, Marriage and the Home" is discussing "The Do's and Don't of Dating"; "Who Should Marry?"; and "Are Children Necessary?"

The Rev. Mr. Trimmer, who will have as his theme "Everyday Problems", is a native of Roanoke, Virginia. He is an alumnus of the University of Richmond and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Kentucky. At Richmond, he played on the varsity football team and was a member of ODK. He served as pastor of the Baptist Church at Emporia and at Salem, Virginia. He then became pastor of the First Baptist Church of Macon, Georgia and while there, he received the Doctor of Divinity degree from Mercer University. Mr. Trimmer is now pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church in Huntington, West Virginia.

Miss Helen Brogden Turnbull is a native of Baltimore, Maryland, but she is now making her home in New York City. In 1929, she was graduated from Goucher College with an A. B. degree in Economics and Sociology. Miss Turnbull has worked in the Dispensary of John Hopkins Hospital, and has done family case work. She has sold insurance for four years, afterward serving as hostess on the Holland American boat to Europe.

In 1940, Miss Turnbull received her M. A. degree in Religious Education from Teachers College, Columbia University and Union

Continued on Page 4

Juniors Welcome Valentine's Day With Gala Black and White Ball

Beware your hearts girls because Cupid's coming to town! Yes—indeed, when February 14th rolls around it's time to lock your heart up and throw away the key. Perhaps you don't know but February 14th is Valentines Day and here at S. T. C. the Junior class is making wild preparations in order that Cupid may do his damage.

You'll dance to music of Roy Cole and his Carolina Tar Heels direct from the University of North Carolina. (Honey!!) By the way, Cole himself (the picture that is) looks real sharp and he plays the saxophone too!

As I said before the Juniors are slaving away, planning on decorations for the gym, getting the chaperones (necessary you know) and doing all the things that can make this Valentine Day a special one. To make it really unusual the only appropriate attire is black and white, 'most any color of flowers will look simply marvelous). So get to work on that black or white dress girls. You have my permission to beg, borrow or ——.

Some of the Juniors who are knocking themselves out are Betty Jefferson, who is General Manager of the dance and has gotten everything to moving beautifully. Others are Janie Fox and Jean Watts in charge of music. (our thanks to them for securing Roy Cole). Gwen Cress and Jo Black really are getting together some new ideas for decorations, while Lee Robertson and Betty Romeo are in charge of tickets. So have that $1.50 ready if you are going stag and $2.50 if you hope to go drag.

In charge of the floor are Patti Page, Jane Taylor, and Ruth Radogna. Frances DeBerry, Eula Ayers, and Patti Page are handing out the publicity, and Lois Stepp and Leanora Simons are takin care of the mess by acting as the clean-up committee.

The dance will last from 8:30 until 12:00, (So come early and stay late—big joke), I'm looking forward to a glorious week-end—aren't you??? See you there.

Orchesis Recital Set For February

Orchesis, the modern dance organization, will present its annual recital in the S. T. C. auditorium the night of February 20th. All members of the group and the apprentices will take part in the presentation.

The main theme of the program according to Mrs. Landrum, director of Orchesis, is to be called "Color Through Movement" and is being worked out in cooperation with the Art and Music Departments. The movements of this number range from the primitive to the highly socialized as seen through color. The group will portray its interpretations of brown, red, yellow, and purple emphasized by black; the blue symbolizes twilight and is a study in lyricism, and the purple is a study in impressionism.

Another feature on the program will be "A Woman Votes" in which a large group participates. It will be presented to a speech accompaniment.

Orchesis is the honorary dance group on the campus and chooses its members from those who have done outstanding work in at least two quarters of Modern Dance. Seven girls were given apprentice bids recently, and they will participate with the regular members in the recital.

Assembly

Mr. Orville Wake, State Supervisor of Elementary Education, will deliver a message to the student body at 11:15, February 5, in the auditorium at the regular Chapel. Mr. Wake was former dean of Lynchburg College.

Alpha Kappa Gamma will have a tapping service before Mr. Wake speaks.

The four classes will begin a competitive sing sponsored by the "Y" this week. The Sophomores will be first, presenting their sing this Saturday. Prize for the best sing will be $5.00.

Library Features "Marshall Plan"

European Recovery Program, better known as "The Marshall Plan" and referred to in the newspapers as ERP is featured in a special exhibit of reading materials in the library. Included in this exhibit are books by such well known authors as Sumner Wells and Leland Stone. Special magazine articles are on display also. This is a fine chance to get up to date on the subject.

Miss Ruffin, the college librarian, states that she regrets losing Marjorie Beane from her student staff. Freda Dansberger has been appointed to take Marjorie's place on the staff as a student assistant.

Lemen's Painting In Art Exhibition

Mrs. Janice Lemen, of the Art Department of State Teachers College, has entered a water color, "Abstraction: Salmon Fall", in the sixth annual Irene Leache Memorial Exhibition of Oil and Water Color Paintings by Virginia and North Carolina Artists, which opened in Norfolk, Virginia, on February 2 and will continue throughout the month.

The picture, painted in Maine this summer, was on exhibit in the library this fall. The sixty-nine canvases which are now hanging in the Irene Leache Memorial Museum were selected by competitive entrance. A $200 prize was awarded Greta Matson, formerly of Norfolk, now of New York, for her oil painting, "Short Order". For her water color "Cabbage Study", Florence Bishop, of Alexandria, Virginia, was awarded a $100 prize.

The water color painting, which has won a place in the Norfolk exhibition, was recently on exhibit in the S. T. C. Library when the work which Mrs. Lemen did in Maine was on display there.

WSSF Opens Drive At STC February 26

February 26 opens the annual drive on this campus of the World Student Service Fund. Mrs. Phyllis Forley of Atlanta, Georgia, will speak in assembly on that date. Also she will show a movie entitled "The Seeds of Destiny."

The goal for this college has been set at $1,000.

June Cregar, Chairman of the Public Affairs Committee of the Y. W. C. A., is general chairman of the drive.

A Time To Let Your Hair Down

It does us all good to be "ourselves" once in awhile. We need to see ourselves, not as others see us, nor as we think ourselves to be, but as we really are deep down in us. Even in our best moments it is hard for us to evade some sham and hypocracy, for we are ashamed of our weaknesses and failures. However unpleasant the picture of our real self is it must be faced if we ever expect to change it.

The "Y" and the College Administration should be congratulated for making it possible for us to participate in a University Christian Mission. Nationally known Christian leaders will be on our Campus for several days speaking to groups, holding conferences with students and doing all they can to help us see "ourselves". These leaders have been chosen because of their experience and success in dealing with student problems.

Sometimes we have problems and questions that we do not dare take to our closest friends for fear of being misunderstood. Now is the chance to "let our hair down". These Christian leaders are here to help us in any way. If there are some problems bothering us, if there are "unanswered questions" worrying us, now is the time to bring them out in the open. We will find that the leaders of the University Christian Mission will be sympathetic and helpful in guiding us to a rich and full faith.

Most of us realize by now that the "abundant life" does not come without a sincere effort on our part. A living faith, so necessary for us in the world of today, is not had for the mere asking. The best things in life are still free but they will always be missed by those who do not earnestly seek for them. A happy, satisfying life is possible for each of us. If we have not found it, perhaps it is because we have not taken advantage of the opportunities given us.

The University Christian Mission is an annual privilege granted to our Student Body. It deserves, and should receive the full support of every student. "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: for every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened."

Rev. Philip A. Roberts,
Guest Editorial Writer.

Culture At Your Door Step

Do you know what culture means? Webster says it is "The enlightenment and refinement of taste acquired by intellectual and aesthetic training", all of which is a long way of saying that it is training our tastes to know and appreciate the things considered fine, beautiful, and worth-while. By training we do not mean education, for it is possible to be highly educated without being cultured. Why? Because culture is the training of feeling. It is the enjoyment of the artistic; it contains within itself a resourcefulness that knows pleasure without "being amused."

Many people who desire to learn to like classical music begin by listening patiently and attentively and soon find themselves really appreciating it. They find that it is not dull, nor boring, nor impossible to understand. With this in mind we urge you to attend the next concert with the intent of deriving pleasure from it, rather than endure it and miss so much by wishing yourself elsewhere.

By this time every student should be aware of the coming appearance of a very famous violinist to our campus. We hope that every student is also aware of the significance of his concert here. We all know just how hard the administration of the college has worked to secure notable artists for our Lyceum programs, and the approval with which the first one was met speaks for the success of the endeavor. Those in charge realize just how important it is to provide a cultural background for us so that our education will be well rounded. Let's all take the advantage because of what it means, as well as for the sake of Dr. Lancaster and the school authorities who have made it possible, and expect every girl to take the opportunity offered to her.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Mary Aleise Helmer ..... Editor-in-Chief
Betty Spindler ..... Managing Editor
Frances Treakle ..... Business Manager

Betty Nachman ..... News Editor
Jackie Eagle ..... Feature Editor
Betty Burchett ..... Sports Editor
Lela Bouldin ..... Social Editor
Amie Ortgum ..... Advertising Manager
Virginia Bailey ..... Circulation Manager
Betty Minton ..... Photographer
Mary Davis ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Martha Frances Morrison, chief editorial assistant: Tom Allen, Helen Arrington, Winifred Beard, Melbale Booth, Griswold Boxley, Jean Cake, Adelaide Cobb, Addie Dodd, Jane Gray, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Joyce Hamlet, Nancy Jessee, Ann Lynch, Mary Lee Meredith, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Janice Slavin, Martha Smith, Gwen Smith Carol Stoops, Jean Tolley, Helen Williams, Bobbie Wall.

Business Assistants

Martha Ashby, Elsie Love Bentley, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Mildred Garnett, Connie Heather, Ginny Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancy Jensen, Nancye Litz, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Virginia Parris, Sparkie Poteat, Barbara Saunders, Ethel Shockley, Norma Soyers Mary Lou Wilson.

In Charge Of This Issue
BETTY SPINDLER

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1948

Puddin' 'n Sauce

Exams as well as the groundhog have came and went, and we're left with the happy prospect of six more wintry weeks in which to recuperate from the effects of our last exams and to perpare for our impending doom next spring.

The adventerous souls, who insisted on trying out the "no-dozers" to aid in acquiring a whole semester-full of book larnin' in one night, have sworn completely off the things with a complementary resolution to eliminate the need for cramming next semester.

Therein lies one advantage of the school calendar year—we have two times a year to turn over our new leaves where ordinary folks have only one. But we've heard that the best way is to make resolutions for one day at the time. Might be worth a try.

We're still marveling over how that bliz' put in its appearance at the exact, proper moment to give us an excuse for another day of sledding and snowballing and the inevitable resultant cold. Must have had something to do with that "Four-Leafed Clover". Which brings us up to the fact that the sophs are rumored to be preparing a sing for one Saturday night soon. They say that it'll have that "flapper" touch.

Bed Check

This was a big weekend for almost everyone. Exams were over and all but around a hundred of you cute kids took off to celebrate. Some of them still are because of the snow.

Pat Davis spent her weekend in North Carolina at Gat's house Must be real love 'cause they're going steady now.

Despite the big snow in Louisa, Gris Boxley and Ike had a swooonderful time. In fact, they didn't even notice the cold.

Troxie isn't Troxie anymore! Last week she informed that in May 1947 she became Mrs. Eli Harding. Best of luck to both o' you.

Frankie Dodson went to Marion Breedon's in Richmond this past weekend and did they have fun. You should hear what happened when the orchestra leader at Westwood played "Golden Earrings" for Frankie's birthday.

Helen Holbrook is very curious about whom Bill dated this past weekend. Do you know?

Ruth Radogna isn't back yet. I wonder if it is the snow or something else.

Westbrook mustn't have gotten just a little cold when she went home with Marty. Whom did you expect to see, walking eight blocks of the beach in this weather?

A hilarious time was had by nine seniors who spent the week end here at S. T. C. From what we hear, first floor Senior Annex really rocked. The climax came, 'tis said, when one Betty Minton hid under Gussie's bed and scared her at 2 a. m. What a scream! It even punctured Estelle's ear drums.

Gin Bailey's famous words "Don't demi-tasse-demi-toffee" startled the waitress as she handed her some coffee.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor:

Have you attended Tuesday chapel lately? From the size of the group that does attend, I'm afraid that the majority would be forced to answer this question negatively.

I realize that chapel is on a voluntary basis, but are the best things in life always compulsory?

When you stop to realize that the ministers in town are giving their valuable time to come to chapel each Tuesday, it seems a shame that they cannot be appreciated by a larger number. It must be terribly aggravating to spend this time talking to a seemingly vacant auditorium.

If you know of someone who does attend chapel just ask her how many usually attend. You, too, will be embarrassed and discouraged when you find that the maximum number attending has not exceeded fifty at any one time. Usually a fifth of this number are faculty members. Out of a student body of seven hundred and fifty it seems that we could do better than that.

Are we to let this situation continue and abuse the privilege which has been granted us?

Jeane Bentley

Alumnae News

By TONI ALLEN

The Roanoke Alumnae Chapter is having its annual luncheon at one of the Roanoke hotels on Saturday, February 7. Alumnae from Roanoke, Salem, Vinton, Blacksburg, Fincastle, and other towns in this vicinity are invited.

Miss Leona Moomaw is president of this chapter, and will preside at the meeting.

Dr. and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. William W. Savage, and Mrs. Ruth Harding Coyner, Alumnae Secretary, will attend. A number of the faculty of State Teachers College have been invited, and it is hoped that they can attend.

• • •

The Lynchburg Chapter, Mrs. Helen Costan, president, has announced that they have a loan fund for this year. This chapter has had a scholarship or a loan fund since it was organized in 1909.

Sit Down and Talk It Over

Gallop Pole

Did Exams Make You Make Any New Resolutions?

Jean Carter: The next ones I take, I'm going to study harder.

Kitty Sheffield: Made me wish I was going back to Madison.

Claudia Anderson: Play less, study more.

Page Heath: Heck, No. I got all A's.

Nell Coleman: Yes, to study more.

Joyce Furman: To study harder.

Ruby Bass: I'm going to study and snake a "B" average.

Frances Epps: Sometimes I wonder!

Mary Ann Boyd: I'm not going to study any more.

Margaret Lett: Heck, no!

Allie Jean Stembridge: Yes, considering.

Christine Daniel: To leave before the next ones.

Georgia Bailey: Yes, that I am going to study harder so that I won't have to cram.

Virginia Gardner: I'm scared to to say, the teacher may read this.

Helen Pomeroy: Heck, no!

Emma Mae Pittard: I never make any, not even after exams.

Faye White: They make me make more plans for semester study. Of course, they don't prove "nuttin".

Mary Crowder: Never to study again!

Jean Smith: Yes, never to go to college again.

Ann Lynch: I hadn't thought about it.

Patty Walker: No, I forget them from one time to another.

"Oot" Newell: Yes, to try to pass them.

Peg Perry: Go give up the ghost and quit fighting.

Ann Terry: Made me want to study harder.

Snow Presents Great Problem To STC's Modern Hamlet

To play, or not to play: that is the question,
Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer
The stings and pain of outrageous study,
Or to take arms against a sea of trouble
By playing in the snow? To sleigh, to play
In twenty inches of fallen snow, the heaviest
Our school is heir to; 'tis a gleeful joy
Devoutly to be wished—To sleigh, to yell,
To play; perchance to snowball: ah, there's the rub,
For in that play, what fears may come
When we have shuffled off and gone to class
Must give us thought. For class holds fear
For those who play instead of read.
But who will bear the whips and scorn of test
And teacher's tongue, of low and failing grades,
The pangs of unexpected quiz, of writing
Themes at one o'clock, and know that she
Is far behind in books and notes,
When she, herself, would like to play
In deepest snow? Who will forsake the grades
To play and sleigh under such a snow;
And when the gleeful sound of girls throwing
A snowball in a battle, or the crowd sleighing
Down deepest hill in such a joyous way,
And makes us know that never can the book we hold
Claim our mind when snow is on the ground?
Thus the snow does take away our books
And the native hue of resolution
Is sicklied o'er with the white cast of snow;
And the parallels and notes we study
With disregard are turned away
For the sake of playing in the snow

$50,000,000 given by children of late J. N. Pew for foundation.

Industry urged to cut $5,000,000,000 materials handling costs.

STC Plays Roanoke In First Home Game

On Saturday, February 7th, at eight o'clock the Farmville Basketball team will play the Roanoke College team in the S. T. C. gym. This is the first game of the season for the varsity squad. During the month of February there will be a game every week end played here at Farmville. To aid the March of Dimes a collection of silver will be taken during the half of the game.

Frosh Play Farmville

On Thursday, February 5th, the College Freshmen will play the Farmville High School Basketball team here in the gym at 3:30.

Only that traveling is good which reveals to me the value of home, and enables me to enjoy it better.—Thoreau.

Telegraphic Meets Begin In February

There will be two swimming meets February 15th and April 1st. These telegraphic meets are of the Southern region and are sponsored by the University of Miami. Times made are sent in to the sponsor and compared with those of other schools.

Anyone is eligible to take in these meets, not just H2O Club members; girls wanting to try out should see Miss Dabney. Those interested in partieipating in the meets may begin practicing during recreational swims which will be every Monday and Wednesday afternoon from 4:45 to 5:45. No definite practice time is made for the telegraphic meet.

Life-Saving Course Begins February 3

Senior Life Saving and Instructors courses will begin Tuesday, February 3rd. These classes will be held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 4:00. The field director for the Red Cross will be here on March 17th to give the examination for those taking the Instructors Course. Anyone wanting to take either the Senior Life Saving class or the Instructors will please see Miss Dabney immediately. This is imperative if you wish to join the class.

THROUGH THE HOOP

By TONI ALLEN

Flashing their best form in weeks, the West Virginia University basketballers trounced an outclassed Virginia Military Institute quintet at Mountaineer Field House, Morgantown, West Virginia, Saturday night 88-42.

It was the eighth victory in 11 starts for Coach Lee Patton's charges and the seventh setback in nine times out for the Keydets.

With big Fred Schaus back in action after a tough bout with an injured ankle, the Mountaineers were never in trouble. They piled up a commanding 50-16 lead in the first half and then coasted home with Eddie Sterling, who was making his debut before the local fans, topping the scoring.

* * *

Six points within the final two minutes of play after action had been touch-and-go until then, eased the way for the University of Virginia to score a 62-to-54 triumph over the University of Richmond in Charlottesville, on Saturday night.

Chock Noe, the shortest, and Joe Noerker, the longest of the Cavalier regulars, kept Virginia in stride all the way, but in the final two minutes it was Les Blankin who bagged two of the three Virginia goals.

The lead changed hands frequently during the game. Until Blankin's final field shot raised the Cavalier margin to eight points, no team had been more than six points in the van. Virginia had held a seven-point (52-45) advantage early in the second half.

The Cavaliers led all the way through the second half, although most of the time their margin was never more than two or three points. Richmond took a 31-30 lead at intermission, gaining the advantage when Doug Pitts sank a foul shot in the final 15 seconds.

That was the first time Richmond had held the lead since early in the game. A pivot shot by Pitts gave them a 6-3 lead. Set shots by Blankin and Noe took Virginia out front. After that the score was tied three times, at 7-7, 9-9, and 17-17.

The game was marked by poor shooting on both sides. Neither team looked effective under the backboards, and many times it was impossible to tell who was passing to whom and why.

Haines, who made 18 points the night before against The Citadel, and Doug Pitts each collected a dozen points in pacing the Spiders. Bootsie Dolsey connected on five long shots to run his point total to 10.

The triumph was the third in five games for the Cavaliers, defending Big Six champions. It was Richmond's second State loss against a victory.

* * *

North Carolina State's Wolfpack whipped Wake Forest's Deacons, 72-43, at Wake Forest, North Carolina, Saturday night for its sixth Southern Conference basketball victory in six starts.

The Wolfpack wasted no time in showing its superiority, running up a 21-4 margin in a little more than eight minutes. When intermission arrived, Coach Everett Case's outfit from Raleigh held a 46-42 advantage.

And that was as close as the Deacons got. Although State's pace eased off in the second half, the Deacons couldn't gain ground.

The game was a rough affair, with 24 fouls being on the Wolfpack and 26 on the Deacons. Eddie Bartels, State guard, and Red O'Quinn, Wake Forest guard, were banished late in the first half for taking swings at each other.

Deran Walters, co-captain and center for Wake Forest, captured the night's individual scoring honors, with 14 points. Guard Jack Gentry added nine points for Coach Murray Greason's quint.

* * *

George Washington University's fast moving Colonials, paced by Captain Billy Cantwell, who had himself a night by scoring 24 points, pulled away from the William and Mary Indians in the second half at the Blues Armory Saturday night to chalk up their tenth Southern Conference victory of the year against a pair of losses. The victory margin was 60-45.

George Washington won after being held to a 22-22 tie at the half. The defeat was the fifth for the Braves in conference competition against four wins.

. Smart Start For Spring . . .

Baby Doll Style

In Grey, Red and Black Suede

Excellent Value At

$5.95

Dorothy May Store

COLLINS FLOWERS MAKE HAPPY HOURS

FROM

Collins Florist

Phone 181 or 4

It's Newberry's

All Popular

Candy Bars

5c

J.J. Newberry Co.

Farmville Electric Appliance Co.

200 MAIN ST PHONE 201

Repair Service on Radios and

WE SELL THE BEST AND SERVICE THE REST

Small Appliances

See Our

Large Selection of Valentines

Southside Drug Store

See Us For The Newest Records Expert Repairs

Ennis Radio Shop

108 W. THIRD ST.

PHONE 423

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Chas. E. Burg

Florist

Mary Muffet LIMITEDS

see them in February MADEMOISELLE

Patowin's

Sprightly beauties, wardrobe mainstays for spring. all of Crown Soap 'n' Water gabardine, unconditionally washable. Exclusively Ours, of course. Left $22.95; center $25.00, right $17.95

CASUALS

Red and Brown and White

Black — Brown — Wine — White

SPECIAL

$4.00

Values to $7.95

Shoe Dept. — First Floor

DAVIDSON'S

The House of Quality

Meet the Faculty

One of Dr C. G. Gordon Moss's many charms is that he possesses, to date more names than any other man on the S. T. C. faculty. Unfortunately, we weren't able to muster up enough courage to ask him what the "C. G." stands for.

Though his drawl would belie it, Dr. Moss vows that he's a Lynchburg boy. Washington and Lee and Yale Universities are his alma maters, and from those schools respectively he took his B.A., M.A., and Ph.D degrees. At college Dr. Moss was a member of Beta Theta Phi fraternity and Omicron Delta Kappa leadership fraternity.

During his history teaching career, Dr. Moss has stopped at S. T. C. three different times, his first time in 1926 and this last stretch dating from 1944. We hope that this time it's for keeps. Dr. Moss has also taught at Episcopal High School, Wake Forest College, and Mary Washington College. His specialty in the history field is American colonial history.

In his teaching, Dr. Moss tries to get his students to like history and to have a clear understanding of it. At the same time he does what he can to cultivate the qualities of open-mindedness and broad-mindedness in students.

Dr. Moss asserts that he's not much of a hobbyist, but he reckons that you might call Tucker Wynn and sleuthin' his hobbies. Among the things he's not so fond of are grading papers and dark nail polish.

Next to his service to us as a teacher, Dr. Moss is most important to us in his capacity of student government adviser. He serves, too, on the Student Standards Committee, the Assembly Committee, and the Student Radio Committee.

Mission Week

Continued from Page 1

Theological Seminary. Since then, she has served as director of Windham House, National Graduate Training Center for Women of the Episcopal church, and she has taught Religious Education at the General Theological Seminary in New York City.

Dr. Leon Sanborne was born in Elmira, New York. He received his A. B. degree from Hamilton College in 1927, and was awarded his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Union Theological Seminary in 1930. Dr. Sanborne served as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Rumboldt, Kansas. He also served as pastor of the Stone Street Presbyterian Church in Watertown, New York. He was director of the Young People's Work, Presbyterian Board of National Missions from 1942-1945. He was president of the University Religious Counsel at Ohio State University in 1947. Dr. Sanborne has acted as recreational leader and as leader of informal singing.

Mrs. Mayes Behrman who will discuss "Love, Courtship, and Marriage", has her Bachelor's degree in Musisc and has done graduate work in Piano, Music Appreciation, and Pipe Organ. For a number of years, she was a member and active participant at the annual meetings of the Conference on Conservation of Marriage and the Family, a learned organization of national scope. Mrs. Behrman is active in Parent-Teacher Associations, Book Clubs, Music Clubs, and civic organizations.

Mr. James Lloyd Stoner, director of the University Christian Mission, was on campus recently to check the progress of the committees. He came to make certain that S. T. C. would enjoy a successful week, according to Virginia Tindall.

Serving as committee chairmen are: Nancy Chambers, finance; Tucker Winn, seminars; Mary Helmer, publicity; Charlotte Grizzard, classroom appointments; Eleanor Overby, arrangements; Ellen McMullen, continuations; Peepsie Brooks, bull sessions; Melbale Booth, book exhibits; and Laura Jean Comerford, hospitality.

Albert Spalding

Continued from Page 1

a collector's holiday, going on a jaunt for some rare find in Old English China and first editions to add to his collection.

Tall, dark of hair and eyes, Mr. Spalding has the clean-cut features that betoken the true Yankee. The dynamic energy and determination of the man is evident in his speech, which is quick and decisive, the impatient words tumbling over each other in their hurry to be said. His voice is a resonant baritone, spoken with a New York accent, and his enunciation has a slightly theatrical tinge, which, with his cultured manner and handsome appearance, stamp him as a thoroughbred.

COLONNADE CONTEST

Ann Motley, editor of the Colonnade, has announced that there have been no entries in the magazine's poetry contest which ends February 10.

The winning poem will be illustrated in the February issue of the Colonnade which will also feature other selected contest poems.

There are no stipulations concerning the entries; therefore, everyone is urged to participate by submitting her composition immediately.

Commercial Club Initiates

The Commercial Club will initiate 35 new members at 4 o'clock Monday, February 9, in the Rec. After the initiations will be a "coke and nab" party. All members are invited to come.

Left Lead

Snow? I said I thought I'd never seen so much snow in my life. Snow on the path, snow on the stable, snow in the watering trough, and snow on my "hawse". Hawse? That po' hawse looked more like a snowman than a hawse. First thing I had to do was to brush my po' hawse off. Then I had to brush my po' self off. By that time I had brushed all that snow all over my po' saddle and had to start brushing all over again. Time went on and I brushed on.

Finally after a monstrous amount of work, I had my hawse saddled. Saddled? I thought I'd never get that po' hawse saddled. She didn't like that snow A-I out. She knew that she would have to go out into it if I once got her saddled. But I did.

Then on I hopped and away we went down the path. Path? That path was so slick that I thought I'd never stop my hawse. But I did. Off I slid and, thereby I made a resolution. No mo' riding in the snow.

Thru The Hoop

Continued from Page 3

Hampden-Sydney's five "iron men" had what it took in the clutch Monday night and defeated the University of Richmond, 61 to 54, in an overtime period.

Nation's steel capacity up 3,000,000 tons in 1947 to 94,233,640.

PRE-SEASON SHOWING

of Beautiful Spring dresses, coats, suits, hats and shoes.

For Your Every Need Visit

THE HUB

FOR A LARGE SELECTION OF RECORDS COME TO

WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

EXPERT WATCH & JEWELRY REPAIRING

Garland, Newman & Whitten

FOR VALENTINE GIFTS SEE MARTIN THE JEWELER

MARTIN'S

S. T. C. Bracelets, Lockets

CARA NOME and WHITMAN'S CANDIES

Gray's — Truly a Drug Store

Many Other Useful Gifts

NORCROSS

America's Best-loved Greeting Cards

LOOK FOR U. JUST KITTENS

NEXT WEEK: GINGHAM GIRL

Patterson Drug Co.

WHERE THERE'S COKE THERE'S HOSPITALITY

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

"Chesterfield is my cigarette—it's Mild and pleasing"

Vallí

STARRING IN DAVID O. SELZNICK'S PRODUCTION "THE PARADINE CASE" DIRECTED BY ALFRED HITCHCOCK

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD

ALWAYS MILDER BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Attend
Junior Dance

The Rotunda

Congratulations
New AKG Members

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1948 | No. 16

UCM Leaders Are Conducting "Bull Sessions" and Seminars

Speakers Are Heard Each Day on WFLO

Tonight at seven o'clock, the four visiting leaders from the University Christian Mission will lead bull sessions. Miss Helen Turnbull will speak in the Dean's Parlor while Dr. J. M. Trimmer will lead the discussions in Junior Parlor. Dr. Leon Sanborne will speak in Senior Rec and Mrs. Mayes Behrman will speak in the Y. W. C. A. Lounge.

The formal opening of the University Christian Mission was held at the Episcopal Church last Sunday night when Miss Helen Turnbull made the opening address. Previous to Miss Turnbull's speech, the Rev. Mr. May and Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster spoke briefly. Following the services at the Church, a reception was held in Student Lounge.

Monday evening a banquet was given in the college Tea Room for the visiting leaders. Those attending were Mrs. Mayes Behrman, Miss Helen Turnbull, Dr. J. M. Trimmer, Dr. Leon Sanborne, Dr. and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. W. W. Savage, Dean Martha Smith, the Rev. Mr. Roberts, the Rev. Mr. May, the Rev. Mr. Bruner, the Rev. Mr. Reynolds, and members of the executive committee.

The program for the week will be as printed on the programs that were distributed to all students. One addition to the program is the radio programs planned for the week. These programs may be heard over WFLO every morning this week from 9:30 until 9:45 a. m. Monday morning a transcription of the speech made by Miss Turnbull on Sunday night was broadcast. Dr. J. M. Trimmer led the morning devotions Tuesday morning. Hilda Abernathy was the student announcer. This morning, Dr. Leon Sanborne spoke to the radio audience with Mary Helmer serving as student announcer. Mrs. Mayes Behrman will speak over WFLO Thursday morning. Marjorie Burns will introduce the speaker, Friday morning an evaluation of Religious Emphasis Week on this campus will be given by Virginia Tindall, Jean Bentley, and Mary Helmer.

The Reverend J. M. Trimmer, one of the four speakers, who are leading the University Christian Mission on our campus, will speak in assembly on Thursday at 11:15. Rev. Trimmer's topic for this week is "Everyday Problems". He has divided this topic into five parts.

Mr. Edwin Crawley will sing.

JEAN CAKE

Practice Starts On "The Rivals"

The S. T. C. Dramatic Club has announced "The Rivals" by Richard Sheridan as its selection for the spring production. The play is a regular Lyceum program and will be presented on both March 5th and 6th.

"The Rivals" is an eighteenth century comedy which, according to Jean Cake, president of the Dramatic Club, has "delightful wit, beautiful costumes, and unusual staging."

The casting of the play has been in progress for several weeks and with the exception of a few roles is nearly complete. The cast as it stands now consists of Martha Smith as Lydia Languish, Ann Mock as Lucy, Betty House as Mrs. Malaprop, and Dee Hoover as Julia. The male cast, which the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs are making up consists of Ed Parry playing Bob Akers, Arthur Stuart as Sir Anthony Absolute, Charlie Talley in the role of Captain Absolute, Hugh Warren as Sir Lucius O'Trigger, Mason Cole as David, and Carter Coghill plays Faukland. The remainder of the cast is to be announced later. Rehearsals are being held every night and the progress is reported to be favorable.

Campus WSSF Drive Opens February 26

Mrs. Phyllis Farley, regional secretary of the World Student Service Fund, will open the WSSF drive on the S. T. C. campus on February 26 with a speech on the assembly program and a movie entitled "Seeds of Destiny". The drive will last from February 26 through March 4, and it is being sponsored by the Public Affairs committee of the "Y". June Cregar, general chairman.

The goal has been set for $1,000 and the money will go to help students all over the world.

A contest between red 'n' white and green 'n' white will be sponsored to see which class will contribute most to the drive. Also the halls will be canvassed. Organizations will be asked to contribute as well as the faculty and the administration. It has been requested that everyone contribute liberally.

STAFF NOTICE

All members of the Rotunda editorial staff must be at the meeting tonight right after prayers. It will be short but important.

Classes Compete In February Sings

Competition Begins With Soph. Skit

The first in a series of competitive class sings was presented Saturday night, February 7, in the large auditorium, by the Sophomore class. The sophomore sing under the direction of Peggy White, and Shirley Young was titled, "Flapper Girls".

Each class has entered this contest which will be continued through each Saturday night in February. Anne Verser, Chairman of the Sing Committee, has announced the following schedule for the presentations: February 14—Senior Class, Gee-Gee Yonce, Chairman; February 21—Freshman Class, Romine Mahood and Nancy Gillie, co-chairmen; and February 28—Junior Class, Ruth Radogna, chairman.

A five-dollar award will be given to the winning class. Sings are judged on the basis of originality and good entertainment.

The judges are Mrs. Hamner, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Miss Sutherlin, and Miss Bralley, faculty adviser to the Sing Committee. In addition to these judges, there is a secret judge from each class who observes the reactions of the audience.

The prize will be awarded the winning class at the end of the sing on February 28.

Contributions Lag In March of Dimes

The March of Dimes campaign will be extended one more week on this campus, according to an announcement by Mr. Raymond H. French and Mr. Merle L. Landrum, co-chairmen of the drive.

The co-chairmen stated that although the faculty has responded well to the March of Dimes campaign, student response has been lagging. They attributed this to exams. No goal has been set this year, but it is expected that last year's three hundred dollar mark will not even be approximated this year. Mr. French and Mr. Landrum have requested that the student body rally in support of this worthy cause.

In charge of collecting student contributions to the drive are: Jean Jones, Annette Jones, Violet Ritchie, and Sue Davis, presidents of their respective classes. So far the campaign has been conducted by canvassing the dormitories.

Charm, Artistry of Spalding Attractive To STC Students

A personal interview with one of the world's great is a large assignment even for an experienced metropolitan reporter, not to mention a green horn, wobbly-kneed Rotunda reporter.

Having been forewarned that Albert Spalding would have very little time, if any at all to spare for an interview, we were at a loss as to what to ask him, considering the time factor and considering that just about everything one would normally ask in an interview had already been printed in last week's paper. Nevertheless, we resolved that such an opportunity shouldn't be allowed to slip by; so with the aid of some hurried consultations with friends, we jotted down a few questions (sadly, we found later that these were quite inadequate) to carry backstage with us after the performance.

Awed is the only word to describe our feeling after sitting, rapt, through a program of the sweetest, loveliest violin music we ever hope to hear. After the last encore, we bolstered our fast ebbing courage, hurried down the aisle, elbowed our way through the backstage mob straight up to Mr. Albert Spalding, who greeted us with just about the friendliest, most comforting hand shake we've ever known. (We say "comforting" because we fully expected to be promptly shooed off in the manner of the typically "temperamental" artist.) But Spalding's smile quickly banished out fears, though nervous excitement caused the program in our hands to rattle audibly, adding even more to our embarassed confusion.

After we had stuttered out the purpose of our visit, we were ready to begin the battery of questions. First we asked Mr. Spalding if ours were not the smallest auditorium he'd ever played in, to which he replied that he'd performed in many even smaller ones in Europe. Somehow he made us feel that our battered S. T. C. auditorium and Carnegie Hall were one and the same as far as he was concerned.

Had we known Albert Spalding beforehand, we'd have seen how absurd it was to ask him to what sort of audience he enjoys playing most, and how college audiences stack up against G. I. and other audiences. Spalding poohpohed the very idea of such a question, saying that all audiences are composed of people, and that these people no matter what their stations have like emotions

Continued on Page 3

Junior "Black and White Ball" Will Usher Out Valentine Day Saturday Night In STC Gym

Wynne Announces Student Teachers

Dr. John P. Wynne, Director of Teacher Education, has announced the names of the Farmville State Teachers College student teachers for the second semester. Teachers of Physical Education in the high school are Beatrice Geyer, Betty Minton, and Barbara Wiley. Physical Education teacher in the seventh grade is Betty Minton.

Academic subject teachers in the high school are Ruby Griffith, civics and English; Martha Anderson, Spanish and English; Mary Helmer, history; LaVerne Tuck, English; Lucy Addleman English and history; Ann Motley, English; Margaret Cabiness, general science; Virginia Yonce, chemistry and science; Neva Brankley, general science; Sara Squires, biology; Eleanor Putney, history and Doris Ballance.

Teachers of Business Education are Ann Fulgham, Dorothy Bradley, Azeale Hutt, June Clark, Evelyn Moore, Harriette Sutherlin, Dorothy Tuck, Wilda Hunt, and Addie Dodd.

Student teachers in the elementary school are June Poole and Mary Ann Morris, First Grade; Betty Renn, Nancy Squire, Frances S. Livesay, and Mildred McWilliams, Second Grade; Mrs Aroline Troxler Harding, Third Grade; Jackie Watson and Betty Jean Snapp, Fourth Grade; Martha Lee Scott and Elizabeth Motley, Sixth Grade; Agnes Taylor and Virginia Bailey, Seventh Grade. Seventh Grade Art will be taught by Beatrice Geyer.

Teachers of Home Enocomics in the high school are Katherine Rainey, Elizabeth Jeffreys, Thelma Southall, Connie Newman, Hope Frank, Iraida Rameriz and Katherine Whitmore.

Sixteen Matriculate For Second Semester

Sixteen new students matriculated for the second semester which began February 2. There are ten girls and six boys, of whom seven are former students here. Eight of the students will live in the dormitories, while eight will be town students.

The new students are:

Atkinson, Stuart Emory, Crewe, Virginia; Velazuez, Issac, Ponce, P. R.; Bray, Betty Ann, Hampton, Virginia; Glenn, John Porter, Prospect, Virginia; Harris, Mrs. Mildred Davis, Farmville, Virginia; Hinnant, Elijah William, Crewe, Virginia; Woods, Mrs. Dorothy McWilliams, Norfolk, Virginia; Woodburn, James Robert, Farmville, Virginia; Capp, Helena Jeanne, Benadet, France; Hancock, Lilla Wimbish, Richmond, Virginia; Hatch, Mrs. Mary Early, Wilmington, Delaware; McCraw, Richard, Farmville, Virginia; Travis, Mrs. Virginia Cox, Lynchburg, Virginia; Collier, Mrs. Elizabeth Richmond, Virginia; Paulson, Douglas, Farmville, Virginia; Horne, Mrs. Doris Funck, Farmville, Virginia.

Wheeler Reads Poetry On Air Thursday

The regular Thursday afternoon S. T. C. broadcast over WFLO features Miss Leola Wheeler, head of the Speech Department, this week. Miss Wheeler will give a program consisting of the reading of several poems; her selections have not yet been announced.

Attention is called to the change in time of the broadcast; the S. T. C. program now goes on the air at 4:15 p. m.

BETTY JEFFERSON

AKG Bids Two New Members

Jesse Lee Pickett, junior from Roundhill, and Martha Gillum, junior from Charlottesville, were tapped by Alpha Kappa Gamma in a chapel recognition program held last Thursday morning. Jeane Bentley, president, presided.

Jesse Lee is president of the H2O club and a member of the A. A. Council. She is a member of Orchesis and is active in both class and college activities. Martha Gillum is secretary of the House Council and a member of the A. A. Council. She is also active in class and school activities.

Alpha Kappa Gamma, an honorary fraternity standing for leadership in womanly service, was founded on the campus in 1928. It recognizes those girls who have contributed to the college in such ways that their influence has been felt among the other students.

Relics of Old South Featured In Library

The Library is featuring a display this week concerning Dr Simkins' new book "The South, Old and New". The glass cabinet on the right of the entrance to the reserve book nook contains a picture of a southern bride circa 1865, and her home, an old silver butter dish, and the fan and fan case of a long ago southern belle. There are also several pamphlets and magazines telling of the South today.

The new spring play to be given Founders Day, March 4 and 5 by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the H.-S. C. Jongleurs is "The Rivals" by Sheridan. There are several books containing the play on a special display table for anyone who might be interested in reading "The Rivals" before they see the production. There are also several books about the author and his other works.

Poetry Contest Ends Entries Are Judged

The annual poetry contest sponsored by the Colonnade closed today and the entries have been submitted to the judges. Winners will be announced in next week's Rotunda and the prize poems will be printed in the forthcoming issue of the Colonnade. Ann Motley, editor of the magazine, will release the preview of the next issue at that time.

Cole's Tar Heels Will Set The Tempo

Black-White Dress Requested By Class

The Black and White Ball sponsored by the Junior Class will be held in the gym Saturday night, February 14, from 8:30 till 12 p. m. Tickets are now on sale at the table in the hall. The Juniors have procured Roy Cole and his Carolina Tar Heels from the University of North Carolina to play for the dance.

The class requests that all dance be formally dressed and that all girls wear either black or white dresses, in-so-far as possible, to carry out the theme of the ball. They also request that the balcony be reserved for parents, administration and faculty who come as spectators. Betty Jefferson, General Chairman of the dance, also announced that no boys were to come to the dance stag—should any come without dates they will not be admitted.

In the receiving line Saturday night will be Dean and Mrs. William W. Savage; Mr. Raymond French, the Junior Class Sponsor; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Brumfield representing the Freshman Class, and Dean Martha Smith Smith. Also there will be Betty Jefferson, who is General Chairman; Violet Ritchie, Class President; Martha Gillum, Vice President; Frances DeBerry, Secretary; and Margaret Wall, Treasurer.

Those who have been asked to act as chaperones are Dr. James E. Walmsley, Dr. Ethel Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wakefield, Mr. and Mrs. Christy Snead, Miss Olive T. Iler, Dr. and Mrs. Edgar Johnson, Mrs. Caroline Eastham, Miss Evelyn Hamner, Mrs. Katherine Tabb, Mrs. Evelyn Warren, Mr. McCorkle, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Landrum, Miss Mary Dabney, Miss Elizabeth Burger, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Moss, Miss Rosemary Elam, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Myers, Dr. and Mrs. John P. Wynne, Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Jeffers, Mrs. Mabel McCoy, Dr. and Mrs. Curtis A. Higginbotham, Miss Pauline Camper, Miss Virginia Wall, Miss Lucile Jennings, Miss Leola Wheeler, Miss Florence Stubbs, and Miss Virginia Bedford.

The committees for the dance were announced last week, however, since then Gwen Cross has taken over full charge of the Decorations Committee. Plans are progressing according to schedule. Tickets went on sale Tuesday, but there are still some available. Lee Robinson and Betty Romeo are in charge of the sale of tickets.

Frosh Name Gravely As Production Head

Betsy Gravely, freshman from Martinsville, Virginia, was elected general chairman of the Freshman Production to be given on March 12, in the large auditorium.

The committees and their heads for the Production are as follows: Dancing—Jean Farmer, Oriana Robertson, and Mary Jane Shanksbury; Singing—Virginia Westbrook and Joanne Shomo; Props—Ann Kemp and Agnes Dingledine; Narrative—Nancy Gillie and Martha Smith. Publicity and Tickets—Helen Agnew and Mary Leigh Meredith. Costume—Betty McRee.

Committee members have been pitched up and work on the general plan is progressing. Several ideas have received much consideration but as yet the theme of the Production has not been selected.

Chronic Borrowing Shows Immaturity

In an institution like S. T. C. most of us find that we are in full sympathy with Polonius' caution, "Neither a borrower nor a lender be." Each of us can readily cite at least one pest in our acquaintance who is never able to provide herself with what she considers the necessities of life. Consequently, she's in our room as much as her own, allocating for her own use our lipstick, our comb, our cigarettes, our pencil, our dress, and worst of all, our money.

Granted that in "dorm" life there must be a certain amount of give and take, and that we're all forced to borrow once in a while, still it's impossible to have any sympathy for the girl who can't provide herself with basic everyday needs. Chronic borrowing is as sure a way as we know of to lose friends and alienate people.

In our observations, we've come upon two decided types of chronic borrower. The first and most shunned is the girl who is able to provide for herself, but is too stingy to do so as long as she can borrow from others. Her money goes for little luxuries which are never shared with anyone else. Incidentally, this is the unwanted guest who's always willing to sit in on a ten o'clock snack but who never bothers to contribute anything to it.

The second type of chronic borrower is the "cottonbrain" who hasn't yet "severed the apron strings". Even though Mother isn't here to look after her, she expects her friends to keep her supplied with anything and everything she may need. She waits until a half hour before the party to remember that her dress is at the cleaners, and then she wildly ransacks her friends' closets for something to wear. The same girl discovers that she's out of cigarettes after the last one's gone, and it's too late to go downtown for more. However, this type borrower isn't so despicable as the other because we can blame her bad habits on her immaturity, and poor management.

But what's to become of these people when they've left the shelter of friends and family? We fear that they are bound for a hard period of readjustment and "growing up". How much easier it would be to begin that readjustment now, to learn to be more self-sufficient, so that we can step into a world of adults with confidence in ourselves.

Did You Forget To Remember?

Have you made your contribution to the March of Dimes yet, or have you just postponed doing so in the rush of all your activities until it seems convenient to do so? According to the chairmen in charge of the drive on the S. T. C. campus, the students have not come anywhere near the usual amount. In fact, the drive may close with little more than twenty-five dollars from S.T.C. Just think—only twenty-five dollars from nearly eight hundred students! Of course, we aren't asked to contribute dollars so the amount won't run into the hundreds by any means; but a dime from each one of us would bring in eighty dollars, and most of us can easily afford more than one dime without even missing it. It can't be true that we are too selfish to give our money, so it must be that we are too complacent to give enough thought to such matters.

Many of us remember when polio struck on our campus. Can we forget so easily so soon? We gave that year with fear and hope for those among us who were stricken; heaven forbid that we need another such reminder of our duty to fight against "the great crippler"! The scientists are doing everything in their power to find a permanent cure and a means of abolishing the spread; but the cost of the present treatment and the research is great, so that only the contribution of every individual can make it totally successful.

Everywhere in the United States the plea is being made to give, and give generously. We wish to add our request to it. Won't you remember to contribute and do it right away? The sight of the tiny towhead in the national poster is enough to wring pity from our hearts; he is a reminder that a dread enemy is still at large in our civilization and it is going to take all the cooperation we are capable of to banish it forever from our midst. Don't put it off any longer—go right now and add your contribution to the March of Dimes. Let's send the S.T.C. amount 'way over twenty-five.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Mary Aleise Helmer ..... Editor-in-Chief
Betty Spindler ..... Managing Editor
Frances Treakle ..... Business Manager

Betty Nachman ..... News Editor
Jackie Eagle ..... Feature Editor
Betty Burch II ..... Sports Editor
Lela Bouldin ..... Social Editor
Anne Organ ..... Advertising Manager
Virginia Bailey ..... Circulation Manager
Betty Minton ..... Photographer
Mary Davis ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Martha Frances Morrison, chief editorial assistant; Toni Allen, Helen Arrington, Winifred Beard, Melbale Booth, Griswold Boxley, Jean Cake, Adelaide Cole, Addie Dodd, Jane Gray, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Joyce Hamlet, Nancy Jessee, Ann Lynch, Mary Lee Meredith, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Janice Slavin, Martha Smith, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Jean Tolley, Helen Williams, Bobbie Wall.

Business Assistants

Martha Ashby, Elsie Love Bentley, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Mildred Garnett, Connie Heather, Ginny Howard, Jean Hooge, Martha Hylton, Nancy Jensen, Nancye Litz, Ruth Radosna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Virginia Parris, Sparkie Poteat, Barbara Saunders, Ethel Shockley, Norma Soyers, Mary Lou Wilson.

In Charge Of This Issue
JACQUELINE EAGLE

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1948

Puddin' 'n Sauce

Snow, snow go away—Gwan, scram. We tole you we love you—now get out. Why don't you just go out and melt? Everyone here at S. T. C. is tired of slush and ice and eternally wet feet and runny noses and grey skies and even of each other. Why don't you beat it instead of hanging around, making a drip of yourself as though you're waiting for more. Go on back North where you belong—this is "the Sunny South" and you're driving our Chambers of Commerce crazy; people will soon be going to Alaska to warm up.

One might take an opposite view, however and sing "Never mind the weather if the wind don't blow", and turn all attention inward on the million and one interesting things going on this week. Last night there was Spalding who gave a perfectly marvelous concert, and the University Christian Mission is in full swing now. The Seminars, bull sessions, classroom appointments and private councils are working to our full advantage in clearing up our problems. Lastly there's Junior Dance coming up on Saturday which has us in a dither of preparation and the eagerest state of anticipation.

Bed Check

Here I am again! Bet you didn't know I was with you on that date the other day. Remember, you can't see me but I can see you.

Have you noticed a certain Lambda Chi pin that Margie Williams has acquired lately? We're really glad, Margie, 'cause we think you and Doug make a cute couple.

Freida D. had a mighty happy look on her face this past weekend. Who wouldn't, if your one and only came to see ya on your birthday?

Margaret D. and S. T. must really have it bad. S. T. was here to see her again this week-end.

From all we hear, the girls that attended the dances at V. P. I. must have really had a time.

Ann Verser seemed quite excited over a certain phone call. Kinda like St. Helena, don't you, Ann?

Joanne, they were beautiful flowers you got Saturday. Must be nice to know someone as thoughtful as Jack. Seems you were more excited over the card than the flowers. Can't blame you!

Oriana Robertson—we hear you had a fine time at the Hampden-Sydney dance. You ought to go out for Mack.

Nock—we congratulate you and Joe on your beautiful exhibition of jitterbugging. We hear it was quite the stuff.

It seems that Jackie B. was the last person in after the dance. Can't blame ya—we think Johnny is cute, too.

In case you wonder why Love B. is walking around with that blissful look on her face—just ask her about that invitation to the V.M.I. dances this coming week-end.

It must be love; Sara Green went home again this past weekend to see Sonny.

Who is this new person who has a crush on Ann Robinson? You certainly are getting the attention, Ann.

Mary Jane K. has been seen quite a bit lately with a certain Mac L. More power to ya, gal!

Mary F. Hundley is still getting specials from California—must be nice—We hear Bill's quite cute, too.

Girls, I leave you with this good news. We have a few new veterans. Now the ratio is only about fifty girls to every one veteran.

Alumnae News

By TONI ALLEN

The Alumnae Association will concentrate on the Jarman Organ Fund when they meet for Founders Day, March 6.

Founders Day will begin with a meeting in the auditorium at State Teachers College, with representatives of the various student organizations present. The program for the day includes reunions of the Classes of 1888 to 1948; a luncheon in the Recreation Hall for faculty, Alumnae, and friends; a general meeting of Alumnae after lunch; a tea from four to five o'clock in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster; dinner at six in the college dining hall; and a presentation by Miss Wheeler's Dramatic Club, "The Rivals."

The Alumnae Association is sponsoring for the first time the class agent system of giving in its efforts to raise the necessary amount for the Jarman Organ Fund. Each class agent is asked to write approximately ten letters to classmates, informing them of the needs of the Alumnae Association, the college, and the Jarman Organ Fund. Six hundred and thirty-nine letters went out from the Alumnae Office to prospective class agents, and a very small percentage have refused to serve as class agents. Many encouraging letters have been received.

A Student Body meeting will be called Monday night by Tucker Winn, president, to inform the students of the part they are expected to play in raising the amount needed. The four classes are expected to give on a competitive basis, and the progress will be posted on a graph, resembling an organ, in the hall. Individual donations are also expected, and everyone will be given a chance to contribute. The State is appropriating money for the new auditorium, but it will be necessary for the students to do their part.

Continued on Page 4

Swing Your Valentine!

Gallop Pole

"Why don't you behave in assembly?"

Frances Allen: I do.

Charlotte Jones: I guess I'm not grown up yet!

Dalila Agostini: Environment is contagious.

Kitty Hankins: I got "D" on Etiquette!

Peggy White: It's easier to misbehave.!

Cab Overby: How do you know I don't?

Elizabeth Winfree: I'm too busy sleeping!

Margaret Winfree: Well, I have to keep up my correspondence!

Betsy Carper: I've got to make my "C" average some way.

Ned Orange: I don't think the programs are interesting enough to warrant the attention of the male population up here.

Sara Green: Cause my roommate sits next to me.

Dee Hoover: The programs aren't interesting enough!

Helen Hardin: I thought I did occasionally!

Iris Coleman: Have you ever seen a town girl misbehave?

Virginia Watson: If you sit where I do, what else could you do?

Jean Jones: Didn't know I didn't!

Janie Fox: I do try, but it doesn't always work.

Anne Organ: Why, I do! All the time.

Nancy Rushing: Who said I didn't?

Millie Ann Spain: I've just gotta get those argyles finished!

June Divers: I do— usually.

Vonnie Burch: I do behave myself! Of course, sometimes I snooze off.

June Poole: I don't want to be odd!

Edith Duvall: I do. I read the morning's mail.

Carolyn Calhoun: Gee! I don't know what to say.

Marjorie Boswick: Why, I do behave myself. I'd be better though if I could hear the programs.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,

For forty-four years as President of State Teachers College, Dr. Jarman gave freely of his time, his ability and his talents to State Teachers College, to its students, to its faculty and staff, to its alumnae, and to the cause of education in the state and nation.

More than two years ago it was suggested that it would be most appropriate to show our appreciation for his life and works by raising a fund of $25,000.00 to purchase a splendid organ for the proposed college auditorium. He loved music and there could be no more appropriate tribute paid him.

It was hoped that this goal could be reached while Dr. Jarman was still with us. This hope was ended on November 15.

Now that Governor Tuck has recommended an appropriation for the new auditorium, we must make every effort to raise the necessary money at the earliest possible date. Let us do this while many students who were here with Dr. Jarman are still in college.

The Alumnae have raised already nearly $5,000.00. This year students, faculty and alumnae as individuals and as organized groups, should strive to reach the goal.

We will honor ourselves by honoring the memory of a great man and a great educator who loved each and every student at his college.

Dabney S. Lancaster

Dear Editor,

Lately a number of people, faculty and students alike, have commented upon the number of tardies in classes. I wonder if all these tardies are due to the carelessness of the students? Unfortunately, too often an instructor will keep her class a few minutes after the bell rings in order that she might finish a lecture. Then, a large number of the students in that class are late to the following class. Is it right for one instructor to cause several classes to be interrupted in this way and unexcused absenees to be handed to the students? Is there any reason why the instructors can't finish on time, so we can get to the next class?

Student.

Dear Editor:

Beginning February 26 we are having a drive for funds to be used for World Student Relief. We have set our goal at $1.000. This should be a challenge to us because most of us were only lightly touched by the war. Some of the foreign students may never recover from its horror. This is our opportunity to help them.

Continued on Page 4

Varsity Team Scheduled to Meet Madison College Here Friday

Girls Beat Roanoke With Score of 46-21

S.T.C.'s varsity basketball team will play Madison College here Friday afternoon at four o'clock. It is urged that the students support their team.

The varsity basketball team defeated the Roanoke College team by a score of 46 to 21 when they met in Farmville on Saturday, February 7.

The players for the Farmville team were:

Forwards: Ritter, P.; Londeree, P.; Beard, W., Allen, F.; Burchett, B.; Pamulette, A., Lynch, A.

Guards: Abernathy, AA., Captain; Bentley, J.; Young, M.; Romeo, B.; Beane, M.; Langbein, A.; Kelsey, R.

The players for the Roanoke team were:

Forwards: Pierce, Sylvander Peters, Sylvander, Bodnar.

Guards: Tiltz, Captain; Elles, Rudicelli; Garretson.

Scorer—Shayse and Pickett.
Timekeeper—Lee Robertson.
Referee—Miss Elizabeth Burger.
Umpire—Jane Burchett.

THROUGH THE HOOP

By TONI ALLEN

There was little to shout about in Old Dominion intercollegiate basketball over the week end, except the once-beaten Roanoke College Maroons.

The Maroons, beaten only by Virginia Tech in a January meeting, 44-43, get an early chance to avenge that loss when they take on Whitie Laird's Gobblers Tuesday night in the American Legion Auditorium in Roanoke.

A field goal during the last 10 seconds of play by Freshman Guard Jack Shockey gave Tech a thrilling win in the first tilt played in Blacksburg.

William and Mary's upset 46-4 triumph over Virginia Tech Saturday in Williamsburg was the first defeat pasted on the Gobblers by a Virginia school and the loss enabled the Maroons to take over first place in the race for the Old Dominion title.

Roanoke College had an 8-1 record in competition with "Big Six" and "Little Six" colleges, and Tech's mark was 6-1. Virginia's Cavaliers were in third with five wins and two losses.

Chet Giermak's 17 points against Virginia Tech spiked the Indians to their triumph and kept the lanky William and Mary center at the State college scoring race. Four points behind him in second was Charles (Chuck) Noe, Virginia's All-State guard.

In the other Saturday night games, Furman edged Virginia Military Institute, 55-54; Towson State Teachers trounced Bridgewater, 52-33; Maryland swamped Washington and Lee, 68-38; Beckley, (W. Va.) College thrashed Lynchburg College 72-34; Virginia topped the University of Richmond, 70-57. A scheduled game between Emory and Henry and Lincoln Memorial was postponed.

Londeree Elected Treasurer of A. A.

At the last meeting of the Athletic Association Council Helen Londeree, a Junior from Scottsville, was elected Treasurer of the Association. Helen succeeds Nancy Dickinson in that capacity Nancy did not return to school after the first semester. Helen is on the varsity basketball team and has been active in the A.A. several years.

Games Begin March 8

The Class Volleyball and Basketball games will begin the week of March 8. It is urged that the students go out and support their teams.

The intramural games will compose a Round Robin Tournament and the winning class will be awarded ten points for each color score toward the color cup.

Eight practices are required for eligibility on the team.

Tailor—About that little bill of yours, sir, when can I hope for payment?

Slowpay—Always.

Recent Snow Scenes Around Farmville

On the Ball

Last Saturday night the Varsity Basketball team of Farmville opened its annual basketball season. The opening game was a night game with Roanoke College here in the gym. The game started at 8:00 o'clock.

From the time that the whistle blew for the game to begin until the end of the quarter, the scores of both teams were within two points of each other.

Roanoke had the ball in the center and the game began. The ball whizzed from one player to another and in the first few seconds of the game, Roanoke scored a goal. As soon as one team made a goal, the other followed. In the second quarter, the tempo of the game quickened with each team working in perfect coordination and cooperation. With the beginning of the second quarter, Farmville took over the lead which it never relinquished until the final whistle was blown. At the end of the first half the score was 23 to 9 in favor of Farmville.

The second half got under way after a 10 minute rest. Roanoke again had the ball in the center to begin the third quarter. Roanoke passed the ball from center to other forwards and quickly made a goal. Then Farmville got the ball and kept it well on their side of the floor for the remainder of this quarter and the final one. Time after time Farmville scored as a result of team work between forwards and guards. When the final whistle blew, the score was 46-21.

Reason For Snow Discovered Now, Somebody Make Him Stop

Spalding Interview

Continued from Page 1

and reactions to music.

He was quite pleased with the S. T. C. audience and their reaction to his performance, and he told us, too, that he enjoys performing at colleges and that he takes the opportunity to do so whenever he can.

To the prosaic question of whether or not he liked the South and Farmville, Mr. Spalding answered that he liked the whole United States, all sections alike. This response typified, to us, Spalding's attitude: that each town, each audience, each college girl, and each green reporter was as important and as interesting to him as the king and queen at a command performance.

Although we didn't talk to Mr. Anthony Kooiker, the accompanist, we'd like to add that he was, in our humble opinion, a fine pianist in his own right, and that the rapport between artist and accompanist was perfect. Incidentally, too, he liked our new Steinway piano.

On behalf of the entire S. T. C. student body, we want to thank Mr. Spalding and Mr. Anthony Kooiker for an experience we won't soon forget. Our own sentiments were expressed perfectly by a student who swore she'd never again wash her right hand, after shaking hands with Albert Spalding.

Man: "What became of your secretary?"

Friend: "I married her and now she's my treasurer."

As if it hadn't already snowed enough last week it had to go and snow again Monday night. What does the weather man think this is—Alaska? Just to make bad matters worse he's promising us another sprinkling of "Mother Nature's feather bed" Thursday or Friday.

Down in Patterson's several days ago we overheard a conversation which takes us to the root of this frigid evil. The reason behind it all is that the powers-that-be up yonder turned a sympathetic ear to a little boy in town who has prayed every night for snow. Well, he got it. Now will someone please slip a powder into the dear innocent's Ovaltine one night so he'll lay off long enough for it to thaw.

Artist Will Perform For Music Students

Miss Helen MacGraw, Washington, D. C., pianist, will give a recital for college piano students in Miss Clark's class room Tuesday, February 17, at 7 P. M.

Miss MacGraw, who specializes in modern music, holds a diploma from Peabody Conservatory and is a national winner of the Naumberg Contest for pianists. She has also studied with Alfred Cortot.

Besides giving two Town Hall Recitals, the Washington pianist has done piano work with the Gordon String Quartet.

Modern French Art On Exhibit Here

An exhibit of paintings by the eminent French artists Picasso and Matisse is on display in the Browsing Room in the library. This showing is being made by the French Circle which obtained the Picasso-Matisse reproductions from the Franco-American Audio-Visual Distribution Center in New York for exhibit here. The paintings will be on display until February 20.

The monthly meeting of Le Cercle Francais will be held February 17 at 4:00 p. m. in the Audio-Visual room. The program will be centered about modern French art, with discussions of such artists as Picasso, Matisse, Degas, Renoir, Rousseau, Cezanne and Gauguin.

Swansdown

A Swansdown suit is a must in any wardrobe, especially this Navy blue all wool crepe gored skirt.

59.95

Charge Accounts Available

Use Our Convenient Lay-A-Way Plan

Dorothy May Store

Main Street Farmville, Va.

EXPERT WATCH & JEWELRY REPAIRING

Garland, Newman & Whitten

It's Newberry's All Popular Candy Bars 5c

J.J. Newberry Co.

See Us For The Newest Records Expert Repairs

Ennis Radio Shop

108 W. THIRD ST. PHONE 423

COLLINS FLOWERS MAKE HAPPY HOURS FROM

Collins Florist

Phone 181 or 4

The HUB — —

Spring is here early at the HUB—Buy now to get your choice of new toppers, suits, dresses, hats and shoes.

THE HUB

Farmville Electric Appliance Co.

200 MAIN ST PHONE 204

Repair Service on Radios and WE SELL THE BEST AND SERVICE THE REST Small Appliances

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Chas. E. Burg

Florist

Meet the Faculty

Dr. Robert T. Brumfield

Though Dr. Robert T. Brumfield, our Associate Professor of Biology, was born in Brookneal, he's lived at one time or another in and about all the settlements in this section of Virginia. Now, he calls Farmville his home.

After he had taken his B.S. from our neighboring institution, Hampden-Sydney College, Dr. Brumfield went on to secure an M.A. from the U. of Virginia and a Ph.D. from Yale University.

Dr. Brumfield has taught at Hampden-Sydney at Virginia, and at Yale where he was a National Research Council Fellow. After serving a short hitch in the army, Dr. Brumfield joined the S. T. C. crew in '45.

At Hampden-Sydney Dr. Brumfield's fraternity was Kappa Alpha. He's a member of Sigma Xi (honorary scientific fraternity), the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and the Virginia Academy of Science. At present Dr. Brumfield is chairman of the biology section of the American Society of Naturalists, a research organization.

As his special interests in the biology field, Dr. Brumfield gives centrosomes and plant growth. He has published papers dealing with these same topics and cytology.

Being an outdoor man, Dr. Brumfield enjoys "huntin' and fishin'." It's reported too, that as a minor hobby, he takes fiendish delight in setting off firecrackers in bacteriology lab. Also in the hobby line, Dr. Brumfield calls himself a "cracker-jack cabinet maker."

As evidence of his popularity with the student body, we might cite the fact that Dr. Brumfield was recently elected Frosh classman, but we won't because why cite evidence where none is needed?

French Department Adds New Assistant

Helene Capp of Benodet, France arrived at S. T. C. on February 4 to assist Miss Draper in the French Department. Twenty-two year old Helene graduated from Rennes University in 1944 and is gaining credit towards her M. A. degree by studying in an English speaking country. In addition to her work in the French department, she is taking courses in history and English.

A native of Brittany, the "Virginia of France", Helene likes to swim.

"She's Too Fat For Me" is her favorite American song. Besides her passion for ice cream, Helene is another S. T. C. bridge fiend. An avid reader, she considers Zarathusta by Friedrich Nietzsche the best book she has ever read. Of her many interests Helene is most engrossed in the field of philosophy.

Commenting on the new length of skirts, she definitely does not care for the "new look" and believes that if we all refused to wear long skirts they would soon become "passe".

Farmville has impressed Helene quite favorably because she says, "Everyone is nice."

Convention Elects Landrum State Head

According to an announcement that appeared in the January issue of the "Balance Sheet", one of the leading Business Education Magazines, Mr. Merle L. Landrum, head of the Business Department at State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, was elected State Director of Business Education for the Southern Business Education Association at a recent convention.

Get Your Valentine Cards and Candy at Southside Drug Store

Victor's New Albums Just In Perry Como's—A Sentimental Date
Ernesto Lecuona's—The First Piano Quartet and Italian Operatic Duets
WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

New Fashions Stem From By-Gone Day

In the spring a young lady's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of clothes. With spring just around the corner, the main topic of conversation is the new fashions. Reviewed from the days of long ago comes the petticoat to be worn under the full skirt. These petticoats are made of different kinds of material such as dotted swiss, silk, and taffeta in any color to serve as a contrast to the dress or skirt.

Suits have straight or flared skirts. Jackets are longer, with a notable exception in a navy with a jacket reaching to just above the waistline. A straight skirt is seen as partner to a double-breasted jacket with brass buttons. The bracelet-length sleeves are cuffed.

Daytime dresses are basic in character yet not lacking in the "new look" with double fishtail pepiums and softer shirtwaist bodices. Rayon prints are becoming very popular for spring.

Swirling skirt fullness plus the shirtwaist blouse with a quaint old-fashioned look have made the Gibson girl of today a figure that will go down in history just as did her grandmother. Blouses are tailored or fussy as the occasion demands. They come in white and lovely pastels in tissue faille, rayon, crepe, or sheer cotton.

The short, full coat with swing back is leading the fashion parade of coats in white, navy, black, and pastel shades.

Savage Will Speak For Day of Prayer

The annual worship service for the World Day of Prayer, which is sponsored here by the Farmville Council of Church Women, will be held on Friday, Feb. 13, in the Presbyterian Church at 4 P. M.

Dean W. W. Savage of Farmville State Teachers College will speak on the theme, "A World at Prayer", which is being used throughout the nation in this year's observance.

An offering will be received at the service, and will be distributed equally among four prominent mission projects of interdenominational import.

The church auditorium will be open from noon until the close of the 4 P. M. service, and the public is invited to participate in the program of prayer and service.

The World Day of Prayer is sponsored nationally by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, and represents a union of all churches in a world-wide day of prayer.

Alumni News

Continued from Page 2

torium with the understanding that money for the $25,000 pipe organ to be installed will be amassed by the Alumnae Association, the faculty, and the students of State Teachers College.

Mrs. Ruth Harding Coyner, Alumnae Secretary, is the Chairman of the Jarman Organ Fund for the Alumnae; Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss, Chairman for the faculty; and Miss Ruth Gleaves, Chairman for the student organizations. Miss Gleaves has Tucker Winn, Jeane Bentley, Violet Ritchie, and Peepsie Brooks as her student assistants. Miss Virginia Bedford is the General Chairman for the faculty and students.

The new officers and state directors were elected at the Southern Business Education Association Convention held in Knoxville, Tennessee, on November 27, 28, and 29.

HARVEY HARDING

Harding, Baritone Featured By H-S.

STC Girls Invited To Attend Songfest

On February 17th., Tuesday, at 8 P. M. Harvey Harding, well-known baritone of concert and radio, will present a concert in College Church, Hampden-Sydney, Va. Mr. Harding will be assisted by the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club which is sponsoring the concert. The concert, which is free, is open to all Hampden-Sydney and S. T. C. students, and the public is cordially invited.

The Hampden-Sydney Glee Club, a chorus of 75 men's voices, will present two groups of numbers. The first will include: Where 'Er You Walk, Handel; Passing By, Purcell; Listen To The Lambs, Dette. The second: Erie Canal, a Work Song; Sleep, Baby, Sleep, Norman Bell & Bob Shaw; Ole Man River, Porter; and The Whiffenpoof Song.

Mr. Harding's contribution to the program will include: Silent Worship, Handel; Dabbling in the Dew, arr. Sharp; Jenny Jones, Somervell; Liebe schwarmt auf allen Wegen, Schubert; Litanei, Schubert; Die Post, Schubert; Frühling, Verdi; The Last Song, Rogers; Trade Winds, Keel; Spring Plowing, Wolff.

The concert is under the direction of Ned Crawley, Director of the Glee Club. Preston Sawyer will accompany the Glee Club and Mr. Harding.

S. T. C. girls will be allowed to attend the concert.

Harvey Harding, baritone, having completed three years of service in the U. S. Navy, is once more available for engagements during the coming season. A graduate of The Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Harding, previous to his enlistment, was well known to audiences on both the east and west coasts where his unusual vocal gifts and vivid personality have made his concerts outstanding musical events. Among his radio presentations on major networks were regular appearances with the String Symphony over NBC and as television artist of WNBT where he conducted his own program of songs. During his service in the Navy he was soloist and narrator of "Anchors Aweigh" originating in San Diego, California, and presented by WOR Mutual. After being transferred to the East, Harding was creator and musical director of "The Navy Goes to Church" acclaimed by a nation-wide audience and heard each Sunday over WOR. During these years, with Navy permission, he fulfilled a limited number of concert appearances and was frequently the featured soloist on programs arranged for both active and disabled members of the armed forces. Harding has concertized in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Washington, D. C., California, Rhode Island, and Connecticut. At present he is baritone soloist and musical director of "Faith in Our Time" and heard over the Mutual network. In addition to an extensive operatic and classic repertoire, Harding is noted for his unique, colorful, and original presentation of Mountain Ballads, Negro Spirituals, and the Folk Songs of his native state of Kentucky.

Exports of American autos barred to Japan.

Letter To Editor

Continued from Page 2

The World Student Service Fund headquarters receives letters everyday from students all over the world thanking the organization for its many kindnesses. W. S. S. F. has made it possible for many students to finish their education by sending food, clothing, medicine, and books.

Put yourself in the place of one of these students who have to sit up all night trying to finish a book in order that someone else may read it.

World Student Relief is one of your own personal problems.

I want to see Farmville top its goal of $1,000. It's a big undertaking, so please open up your heart and your pocket books and give all you can to your fellow students abroad.

June Cregar.

For Valentines Give
Gorham Silver
MARTIN'S

CARA NOME and WHITMAN'S CANDIES
Gray's — Truly a Drug Store
Many Other Useful Gifts

NORCROSS
America's Best Greeting Cards

VALENTINES FOR EVERYONE
NEXT WEEK CUTE PARTY FAVORS
Patterson Drug Co.

A CIGARETTE CAN BE MILD

"The more I smoke Chesterfields the more I appreciate how good they are"
Jack Oakie
STARRING IN "NORTHWEST STAMPEDE"
AN EAGLE-LION PRODUCTION

WHY I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"When I bring my tobacco to market I'm always looking for the Liggett & Myers buyers because I know when I've got real good mild, ripe sweet tobacco they'll pay the top dollar for it.
"I've been smoking Chesterfields for about 25 years. I like their taste and I know the kind of tobacco that's in them."
Arthur Williams
TOBACCO FARMER
GREENVILLE, N. C.

YES • CHESTERFIELDS SMOKE SO MILD— SO MILD THEY SATISFY MILLIONS— SO MILD THEY'LL SATISFY YOU.

A B C ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
ALWAYS MILDER BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Give To Organ Fund

The Rotunda

Congratulations
May Court

VOLUME XXVII FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1948 No. 17

91 STC Students Make Dean's List For Next Semester

Registrar Gives Names of Students

Ninety-one girls made the Dean's List for the first semester, according to an announcement by Miss Virgilia Bugg, registrar.

Girls making the Dean's List are Helen Agnew, Burkeville; Ann Allen, Enonville; Filma Allen, Prospect; Martha Anderson, Andersonville; Barbara Andrews, Newport News; Puckett Asher, Newport News; Eula Ayres, Farmville; Jean Babb, Ivor; Virginia Bailey, Lawrenceville; Hilda Bausserman, Luray; Jean Bentley, Roanoke; Dorothy Bevard, Waverly; Jacqueline Bobbitt, South Hill; Betty Bondurant, Farmville; Melbale Booth, Danville; Margaret Briggs, Denbigh; Louise Brooks, Farmville; Page Burnette, Farmville; Mildred Carter, Sutherlin; Dorothy Chambers, Red House; Nancy Chambers, Tillman, S. C.; June Clark, Pamplin; Elizabeth Lloyd Collier, Richmond; Laura Jean Comerford, Meadowview; Karla Crews, Madison Heights; Carol Crosby, Jackson, Miss.; Mary Minta Crowder, Blackstone; Margaret Dillon, Danville; Elizabeth Drewer, Saxe; Gertrude Driver, Skippers; Edith Duma, Portsmouth; Katie Dunevant, Enonville; Jacqueline Eagle, Winchester; Anne East, South Boston; Jean Edgerton, Goldsboro, N. C.; Frances Everett, Bon Air; Margaret Farmer, Farmville; Hope Frank, Roanoke; Mary Virginia Goff, Kenbridge; Charlotte Grizzard, Dreweryville; Jacqueline Hancock, Courtland; Martha Hatcher, Richmond; Betsy Higginbotham, Appomattox; Frances H. Higginbotham, Farmville; Tharon Holmes, Norfolk; Anne Homes, Boydton; Margert Hoover, Portsmouth; Nancy Hughes, Mullens, W. Va.; Wilda Hunt, Nathalie; Charlotte Hutter, Lynchburg; Mildred Jones, Mt. Airy, N. C.; Nancy Kibler, Arlington; Anne Langbein, Berryville; Denise Love, Dundas; Nancy McAden, Brodnax; Elsie McAllister, Saltville; Ellen McMullen, Rapidan; Cornelia Marston, Shackelfords; Mary Leigh Meredith, Front Royal; Evelyn Miles, Saxis; Anne Motley, Danville; Betty Nachman, Newport News; Pauline Nasser, Richmond; Constance Newman, Chuckatuck; Anne Norman, Chatham; James Edward Orange, Farmville; Mary Parham, Wyllieburg; Dudley Payne, Richmond; Emma Mae Pittard, Buffalo Junction; June Poole, Virginia; Helen Hinton Poteat, Lynchburg; Harriet Purcell, Drakes Branch; Katherine Rainey, Andersonville; Julia Rucker, Briston, Tenn.; Edward Finley Ruff, Bedford; Janice Slavin, Suffolk; Barbara Smith, Cheriton; Ella Stone Smith, Gretna; Mary Rose Smith, Boykins; Regina Smith, Pearisburg; Anne Snead, Columbia; Betty Jane Spencer, Lynchburg; Elizabeth Spindler, Blackstone; Nancy Squire, Emporia; Lois Stevens, Salem; Harriette Sutherlin.

continued on Page 3

College Rivals Vie On Radio Program

The S. T. C. radio program is yours. Miss Leola Wheeler has asked that any students who have suggestions for programs or who wish to participate in the radio productions will please put their names in her box and she will contact them.

Every Thursday at 4:30 p. m. the program may be heard over station WFLO. This week it features a quiz program with Hampden-Sydney students matching wits with a team from S. T. C. Each team will consist of five persons.

Due to the length of the program, it will go on the air at 4:15 instead of the regular 4:30, and will continue until 4:45. Dr. Moss will serve as Quiz Master and Virginia Yonce is to be the student announcer.

9 Students Attain Straight A Average

Nine students hold a straight A record for the fall semester, according to a report by Virgilia I. Bugg, registrar.

The Nine students are Dorothy Bevard, Waverly; June Clark, Pamplin; Jacqueline Eagle, Winchester; Charlotte Grizzard, Dreweryville; Mrs. Frances Heffrin Higginbotham, Farmville; Ella Stone Smith, Gretna; Elizabeth Tolley, Natural Bridge; Dorothy Tuck, Stuart; Juanita Weeks, Victoria.

Detroit Symphony Will Come To STC

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Dr. Karl Krueger, will be presented in a concert on March 22 at 8:30 p. m. in the S. T. C. auditorium. Never before has an orchestra of this kind appeared here.

This appearance will follow a concert at the University of Virginia and preceed a program to be presented at the Mosque Theatre in Richmond on March 23.

It will be the first time that the Detroit Symphony Orchestra has performed before a student audience of our size in such a small auditorium. The orchestra members number 116.

The place and date of sale of the tickets, which are $2.00 plus tax, will be announced later. The concert is open to the general public.

Choir Will Present Concert on May 5, 6

According to an announcement made this week by Virginia Tindall, president of choir, the spring concert will be given May 6 and 7 by the combined S. T. C. choir and choral club and the Hampden-Sydney glee club.

"Oratorio of the Creation" has been chosen for the concert.

The concert will be presented in the S. T. C. Auditorium on Thursday May 6, and at Hampden-Sydney on Friday, May 7. The artists to appear will be announced later.

Mr. Ned Crawley is the director.

Last year the Choir and Choral Club and Hampden-Sydney Glee Club joined in presenting the oratorio "The Holy City" which was performed at both colleges, and this year it was presented twice. "The Creation" is a well known classical oratorio. Preston Sawyer of Hampden-Sydney and Puckett Asher will accompany the combined chorus.

Orchesis' Members To Give Recital On February 26

Program To Feature Varied Compositions

Orchesis members are hard at work on costumes for their annual recital, which is to be given Thursday, February 26, at 7:30 p. m. in the large auditorium, with all dance compositions underway, which range from the purely abstract to the humorous and satirical.

"Color in Dance", the largest work and the most ambitious attempt at dance in abstract form shows color in relation to movement, accompaniment, and costume. Although each section is punctuated by black or white figures in patterns of movement there are two large solo passages done by Jesse Lee Pickett and Virginia Marshall as the Red and Purple Figures, respectively.

"A Woman Votes" which centers around "The Bewildered One", who is Robbie Cromar shows each character moving as she speaks. This original composition builds to a delightful climax.

"Beauty at Rest" has three soloists June Walsh, Marjorie Boswick, and Peggy West whose parts are punctuated by a speaking trio.

"Fashion Dances", shows Nancy Chambers, Anne Langbein, and Jeanne Tolley in "The Tubular Look" while Corrine Baker, Robbie Cromar and Jean Jones are the trio in "The Ballerina Look".

A complete review of the entire program will appear as a feature in next week's Rotunda according to Corrine Baker, president.

Bebe Geyer will have charge of the staging for Fashion Dances, Dance on the Air, and Beauty at Rest, Jane Taylor and Helen Williams are in charge of costumes.

Pickett Announces New H2O Members

Jessie Lee Pickett, president of the H2O Club has announced that invitations for membership have been issued to the following girls: Kitty Carmichael, Martha Hylton, Anne Langbein, Mary Miller, Pat Paddison, Patti Page, Nancy Robertson, and Betty Tillson.

Initiation of the pledges is planned for February 25.

School-Girl Victim Pleads For More Polio Contributions

Hey, wait a minute. You, on your way to Shannon's, I'd like to talk with you a minute. What's on my mind? You seem to be having a pretty good time this year at STC—dating, bull sessions, going to Southside's cooking, and yes, even in classes. You are a typical STC girl. You see, this year I should be right with you; I should be in your class, talking in your bull-sessions and putting the fudge in that box you got yesterday to very good use. Only, about two years I had polio. The doctors don't know much about polio, just that it's no respecter of persons (It could have been you instead of me that had it) and it takes a long time to heal. The treatments are very expensive. I don't want to complain, but it kind of hurts to know that I should be right there with you. I don't know how much longer I'll be here in the hospital for cripples. The doctor says I'm much better now. You see polio treatments are expensive, so there is a national polio fund to help all patients. This fund is dependent on how much people like you give to the annual drive. How much longer will it be before I can be with you? That depends on how much YOU give to the drive.

As I said, I don't want to complain, and I don't want pity, but please, won't you see what you can do? You say that your dime and quarters don't amount to much? Maybe not, but combine them with the dimes and quarters of the nation, and I'll soon be out of here. But YOU have to do your share. Give all that you can and get others to do it too. I understand that the amount of STC gifts is very low so far. I'm sorry. Maybe it's just because I'm especially interested in college, but, I know college students, especially those at STC, and I know they give generously when they see the need. Will each girl see that the Polio fund is a needed one? Will they see how anxious I am to get out of this hospital and get into college?

Well, I won't keep you any longer. Thanks for listening so well. What did you say? Say, that's wonderful! If all the girls would give a little of the money they spend on milkshakes, cokes, movies, etc., this week, I'll soon be enrolled at STC!

Abernathy Elected May Queen; Brooks Chosen As Attendant For Annual May Day Festival

ALICE ANN ABERNATHY

LOUISE BROOKS

Frosh To Compete At Sing Saturday

Last week's sing, cast in true senior style and headed by Gee Gee Yonce, was a satire in the reception line of that night's Junior Dance, the Black and White Ball.

Heading the reception line was Nancy Squires as Violet Ritchie. Nan Chambers and George Anne Lewis played the parts of Dr. and Mrs. Lancaster. Completing the line of celebrities were Jean Babb as Martha Gillium, Virginia Bailey and Mary Helmer as Dean and Mrs. Savage. Peepsie Brooks as Dean Smith, Edith Duffy as Margaret Wall, Tucker Winn as Charlie Hop, Gee Gee Yonce and Pete Peterson as Dr. and Mrs. Brumfield, and Hilda Abernathy as Betty Jefferson.

Early arrivals at the ball were Elinor Overby and Addie Dodd as the "black and white" couple. Mrs Landrum was portrayed by Corinne Baker. Sarah Squires and Ann Holmes managed a few real blushes in best style of the ever-present bashful couple. June Cregar and Betty Minton were cast as Mr. Wakefield and Miss Patterson. Squiring Margie Burns to the big event was Martha Leavitt portraying the young gentleman who for some unknown reason found difficulty in maintaining his equilibrium.

The Freshman Sing, third in a series of competitive programs, will be presented this coming Saturday night in the large auditorium immediately after dinner.

STC Library Shows Exchange Newspapers

The library has, along with the regular newspapers they subscribe to, a series of college newspapers which are sent to S. T. C. each week. A few of the college papers that may be observed are those of Radford College, Lynchburg College, Roanoke College, Madison College, and Hampden-Sydney College.

For those of you who have friends at these various colleges, this is a means of keeping up to date on their campus activities.

Notice

Due to the need for additional space in the Junior Parlor on weekends, it has been decided at the house mothers meeting with Dr. Lancaster that Juniors be allowed to date in the Student Lounge with a Senior chaperone by signing up with Mrs. McCoy. Juniors may also entertain out-of-town guests during the week in the Dean's Parlor by first obtaining permission.

Barter Theatre Gives Play Here

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" will be presented by the Barter Theater players in the S. T. C. auditorium on Wednesday, March 10.

The production will be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Two hundred and eleven tickets have been allotted the college. The place and date of sale for the tickets which are $1.20 will be announced later.

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" is the third in a series of Barter Theatre plays which have been presented on the S. T. C. campus this year. Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" was presented on October 22 and "The Hasty Heart" on December 2.

The Barter Theater under the direction of Robert Porterfield was organized in Abingdon, Virginia during the depression years. The Theater toured Virginia until the end of 1946 and then journeyed out of the state playing in twelve other southern states.

Lichtenberg Speaks On Assembly Program

Rabbi Leo Lichtenberg, of Charlottesville, will speak in assembly Thursday, February 19. He will tell what Christianity and Judaism have in common. This is sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu.

There will be a monthly meeting at 4:30 in the Student Lounge which is open to all students. At this meeting Rabbi Lichtenberg will continue his discussion of the morning topic.

Organ Fund Campaign Lasts Only One Week

Jarman Organ Fund was the topic of discussion at the regular meeting of the student body on Monday night Feorurary 16 in the auditorium.

The drive will last only one week this year contrary to previous years two weeks' drive. Tucker Winn, president of student government, said that each student is asked to pledge a quarter. Furthermore, each class will be placed on a competitive basis to determine which one gives the largest contribution.

According to Tucker, only about one fifth of the necessary funds, with which to purchase the organ that will be placed in the new auditorium, have been contributed in the past drives. It seems fitting for us to surpass our goal for this year and give generously, said Tucker.

General Committee Names Theme

Eighteen Chosen To Serve On Court

Alice Ann Abernathy, senior from Stony Creek, was elected May Queen by the student body in the election on February 10 Peepsie Brooks, senior from Farmville, was elected maid of honor. Alice Ann is a member of the Student Council. She is active in athletics and in the activities of her class. Peepsie Brooks is president of the Senior class and a member of the Student Standards Committee.

Members of the court, who along with the queen and maid of honor will participate in S. T. C.'s annual May Day, are Carolyn Calhoun, Marion; Charlotte Jones, Salem; and Frances Minter, Axton; representing the freshman class.

Sophomores in the court will be June Banks, Sandston; Carolyn Page, North Garden; and June Walsh, Richmond.

Representing the junior class will be Dolly Ann Freeman, Lawrenceville; Ruthellen Mears, Cape Charles; Marjorie Miller, Christiansburg; Millie Ann Spain, Petersburg; and Margaret Wall, Norfolk.

Seniors will be Dot Bradley, Vernon Hill; Charlotte Grizzard, Dreweryville; Elizabeth Jeffreys, Goldsboro, N. C.; Katie Lawrence, Windsor; George Ann Lewis, Petersburg; Mitty Hahn, Richmond; and Virginia Tindall, Hatton.

A new system has been inaugurated this year whereby each class is assured of at least one girl in court. The student of each class receiving the largest number of votes is chosen automatically as a member of the court. The remaining girls are chosen according to the highest number of votes.

No girl was nominated whose record was not approved by Dr Dabney Lancaster and Dean William Savage. Next year no girl will be nominated for May Court whose average is below C.

The theme for May Day this year is Greek, according to Mrs Merle Landrum, director.

"Arrow" Will Make Regular Stop Here

According to a letter received by Dr. Lancaster from C. A. Overton, District Passenger Agent of Norfolk and Western Railway, "The Powhatan Arrow" will make a regular stop at Farmville. This change will be effective Sunday, February 15, 1948.

In notifying Dr. Lancaster that the stop will be regular instead of a conditional one, Mr. Overton said, "It is the desire of the Norfolk and Western Railway to afford good and excellent transportation for the Student Body and Faculty of your College in getting to and from Farmville.

The East bound "Arrow" stops in Farmville at 8:59 p. m., and the west bound train at 10:21 a. m.

Commercial Club

Thirty-five new members were initiated into the Commercial Club on Monday, February 16, at a "coke and nab" party in the Senior "rec".

Wilda Hunt is president, and Jane Fox is vice-president of the Commercial Club, which is a student organization for business education majors.

Needed Improvements Planned For Spring

You who have stumbled on the broken pavement section a few yards from the foot of the steps of the Main building leading toward Cunningham Hall will soon be able to walk in safety again. Mr. Graham, our Business Manager, has arranged for the removal of the defective sidewalk and the laying of a new concrete division from this area to the foot of the Main building steps. The construction will be a continuation of the pavement laid up to that point three years ago. It will cost approximately three hundred dollars.

Originally this project was to have been completed last fall, but because of the early arrival of freezing weather, which causes concrete to crack, the work was postponed. As soon as the temperature rises, the scheduled concrete work will begin. This undertaking will also include the top step leading into the Junior Building.

Another plan to be executed this spring is the installation of lights on the Main steps of Cunningham Hall. This work has been delayed because the necessary cables could not be laid in the frozen earth. By the end of the week, however; a light with a metal reflector will be suspended from the telephone pole across the street. Such an arrangement will afford adequate light until the proposed construction is completed.

Recently a light was placed in the portico of the Rotunda and the light on the steps of the Junior building was repaired. Arrangements are also being made for the installation of lights on the walk from the Main building to Cunningham Hall.

These are but a few of the many projects planned to improve the appearance of S. T. C. and most of all to afford us, her students, additional comfort, convenience, and safety.

A Vote of Thanks For U. C. M.

We have never before had anything so outstanding in the way of religious activity as the University Christian Mission which recently completed a week of religious emphasis on our campus. We want to take this opportunity to thank the administration and all others who were involved in securing the fine speakers for our "Religious Emphasis Week". A vote of thanks also goes to Virginia Tindall who served so effectively as general chairman.

The week meant many things to us. It gave us an opportunity to ask questions, and better still, it started constructive thought. It was a real joy to enter any number of rooms in the dormitories and find girls discussing the topics of the day. There was a very earnest desire on the part of most students to learn more. We didn't find all the answers to our questions, but we were fired with the desire to know more and to apply what we did know to better advantage.

Of course the speakers were the ones who made the week vital. It was amazing the way they so quickly adapted themselves to our way of life. Their friendliness and their sense of humor, along with their sincerity and frankness drew them to us. We believe firmly that we could have looked a long time and not have found more capable speakers within their fields. Miss Helen Turnbull, Mrs. Mayes Behrman, Dr. Leon Sanborne, and Dr. J. M. Trimmer contributed so much to the entire student body that we are certain that STC is a better place for their having been here.

It is hard to believe that Religious Emphasis Week has come to an end, and we certainly hope that the spirit so prevalent during those five days will stay with us throughout our college days and our entire lives.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168

Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Mary Aleise Helmer ..... Editor-in-Chief
Betty Spindler ..... Managing Editor
Frances Trakie ..... Business Manager

Betty Nachman ..... News Editor
Jackie Eagle ..... Feature Editor
Betty Burchett ..... Sports Editor
Lela Bouldin ..... Social Editor
Anne Orcutt ..... Advertising Manager
Virginia Bailey ..... Circulation Manager
Betty Minter ..... Photographer
Mary Davis ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Martha Frances Morrison, chief editorial assistant; Toni Allen, Helen Arrington, Winifred Beard, Melbale Booth, Griswold Boxley, Jean Cake, Adelaide Cole, Addie Dodd, Jane Gray, Jane Hunt Chilselin, Augusta Hargan, Joyce Hamlet, Nancy Jessee, Ann Lynch, Mary Lee Meredith, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Janice Slavin, Martha Smith, Gwen Smith Carol Stoops, Jean Tolley, Helen Williams, Bobbie Wall.

Business Assistants

Martha Ashby, Elsie Love Bentley, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Mildred Garnett, Connie Heather, Ginny Howard, Jean Hosge, Martha Hylton, Nancy Jensen, Nancye Litz, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Virginia Parris, Sparkie Poteat, Barbara Saunders, Ethel Shockley, Norma Soyers Mery Lou Wilson.

In Charge Of This Issue
ELSIE LOVE BENTLEY

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1948

Puddin' 'n Sauce

At last it can be told. Now that the May Day cat is out of the bag, we can give our idle curiosities a rest and settle down to some good, solid work. At least, we keep telling ourselves that.

What a week this has been! Never have we seen one week crammed full of so many good things—Spalding, May Court elections, University Christian Mission, the Madison game, and the Black and White Ball. And for the whipped cream topping the weatherman managed to get back in our good graces. We hate to seem pessimistic, but something ominous is bound to be in the offing. There never were but so many thrills without a spill or two thrown in somewhere.

Before we talk ourselves out of this Pollyanna mood, we want to throw about a dozen special orchids to the University Christian Mission, which in the midst of a hurly-burly of books, cigarettes, dates, and dances, gave us a chance to stop and do a little straight, objective thinking and discussing. Though one of our professors has been pleading with us all to "be objective", we never realized what a pleasant change it could be.

Here and now we want to put in our two cents worth (or as much as we can afford) for the Jarman Organ Fund campaign which is going into full swing this week. We're going to put forth a magnificent effort and stay uptown instead of going downtown a couple of days this week; then we'll take the money we saved thusly and give it to the fund. We'll really be doing ourselves a favor, for this organ, besides being a grand tribute to our late president, is going to give us, the students, a lot of pleasure someday when its music fills our new auditorium.

Bed Check

After such a grand week end it's hard for the "ole bedchecker" to gather her wits about her and settle down to speeling out the gossip about the poor souls who happen to fall victims to my observing eye.

Before going on, let's pause and give a word about Junior Dance. It was really swell and much praise is due Betty Jefferson and her various committees for making it such.

Everyone looked scrumptious, dressed either in black or white.

Betty Jordan, why have you been keeping that attractive man of yours a secret for so long? We think it great about that "invite to the spring dances at Tech, too."

What's this about Betty Jane Spencer and Tommy's "anniversary". Maybe that's the cause for that "simply out of the world" gaze or maybe too, the red roses she received had something to do with it.

Lillian Falconer is getting starry-eyed thinking about the dances at U. Va., this week end.

How many of you lasses knew that Nancy G. Taylor received a beautiful platinum solitaire this week end? Congratulations Mel, you lucky boy!

Along the line of exciting news we also hear that Nancy Jessee is pinned to Bubba—a PiKA.

It certainly was good to see Bill here again, Ann Joyner.

June Cregar was seen with two cute U. of Richmond boys Sunday afternoon. Don't forget David, Cregar!

Anne Lynch was all excited about Tiff's coming from W. & M.

Verser, have you gotten any more phone calls from that seminary student?

It was grand having Nancy Whitehead with her "new look" hair cut back on campus last Saturday.

No wonder Betty Ferguson leaves school every week end. Did you see that Gallalee man at Junior Dance?

Nock never looked more attractive than she did Saturday afternoon sporting her new "galvanized chapeau"!

Lizzie and Sours needed radar equipment Sunday afternoon. It seems they lost their dates for an hour in Richmond and wandered all over town for them.

Hope Frank, Millie McWilliams, Nancy Foscue and Love Bentley represented S. T. C. at V. M. I. Midwinters last week end.

Hark, the melodious sound of the eleven o'clock bell is drifting into my abode — so until next week, the "bedchecker" bids you "au revoir" and pleasant dreams.

We hear that the faculty members who act as "ticket takers" for four long hours at our dances, have at last received some token of appreciation. Seems as though Mr. Myers and Dr. Higginbotham really appreciated their gift from the Junior Class.

Voice of the People

Whereas the Y. W. C. A. initiated in the bringing here of a University Christian Mission for a Religious Emphasis Week;

And whereas that Mission performed a highly beneficial service to the College and Student Body;

And whereas various Student organizations and the Student Body cooperated so wholeheartedly in making the Mission the success it was;

Be it resolved that the Y. W. C. A., the various participating organizations, the members of the Mission and the Student Body be heartily thanked for their contribution to the life of our College.

Be it further resolved that copies of this resolution be sent to the Y. W. C. A., the individual members of the Mission and that a copy be published in the Rotunda.

Student Government Council

Dear Editor:

So often in the past, letters have been written condemning students; it is now time to commend them for their wonderful behavior at the Spalding concert. Of course, because of the skill of the artists it is understandable that they were held almost spellbound during the entire performance and were an inspiration to Mr. Spalding.

It seems to me that the interest shown at this program is evi-

Continued on Page 4

Swing Your Valentine!

Gallop Pole

Are you in favor of a year's compulsory military training?

Betty Ann Barkley: No, it makes a country seem too military and too ready for another war—which we'd like to avoid.

Sara Squires: Yes, so there won't be another Pearl Harbor.

Pauiett Pifer: Yes, to be better prepared for a national emergency.

Martha Berry: Yes, we would be prepared, and it is good training.

Jean White: Yes, I think another war is almost inevitable and we should be prepared for it.

Harriet Sutherlin: Yes, very definitely. Not only because war is inevitable but because it is beneficial to young men in a physical and disciplinary sense.

Jane Winfree: Yes, to be prepared.

"Cab" Overby: Yes, because I don't see any difference in that training and military schools: Also, I think there will be another war, and this time we should have trained men.

"Pete" Peterson: No, it is not in accord with my ideas of World Peace or my democratic beliefs.

Virginia Travis: Yes, the training gives him independence.

"Pat" Ritter: Yes, I believe in being prepared for any national emergency.

Ethel Harrison: Yes, because the training develops him physically and mentally, and helps him to "get along" with others.

Katherine Whitmore: No, it interferes with college training and induces low morals.

Mary Gin Goff: I'm not in favor of it as a war measure, but as a way in which to give all children disciplinary training and a feeling of self-reliance that they would not get at home.

Jean Stuart Babb: Yes, it would act as a screening agent to sort out mentally and physically unfit, and make possible their rehabilitation.

Mary Frances Squire: No, for a year they are petted and treated like mechanical infants, then are expected to withstand the pressures and hardships of war with only a minimum of inadequate training.

Sara Rawles: Yes, I think it excellent training and it provides for the masses rather than the classes.

Anonymous: No, it starts the race for armies and armaments; the United States, as the leading nation of the world, should lead the way to Peace, not war!

Joan's Departure Becomes Leading Mystery of College

"Joan" is gone! She has vanished, disappeared, in other words she isn't gracing the pedestal in the Rotunda anymore.

Did you see the amazed, bewildered, and shocked looks upon the faces of those who had just noticed her absence for the first time? Or were you too busy wondering yourself? Did you hear the wild and woolly rumors about her whereabouts and the whys and wherefores of it all? Or were you too busy adding your own version to the others?

Some said that poor Joan had been cremated and that her ashes were in the urn which had been placed on her pedestal—some claimed that she had been kidnapped and was being held for ransom—some rushed off to report a theft to the Student Government—some issued orders to "lock the doors, don't let anyone leave the building" and started their own systematic search—and others just wondered.

Upon asking someone if they knew that Joan was gone you were liable to receive the snappy come back, "Sure, I saw her when she walked out the door. She said to tell you, 'So Long'."

It seemed that none really knew, or if they did they kept it well hidden. But at long last, comes this article to give you the real lowdown, the honest to goodness truth of the whole matter. Joan, or to be more formal, the statue of Joan of Arc from the Rotunda has been sent to the Casproni Galleries of Amedeo, Boston, Massachusetts, to be reconditioned. It has been promised us that she will be returned in time for Founders Day, as good as new. So before long we will have a Joan with the "New Look" to grace the rotunda.

STC Keeps Winning Streak Intact By 1-Point Victory

Once again Farmville was victorious; this time Farmville beat Madison by a score of 25-24.

The game started at 4:00 p. m. here in our gymnasium. Farmville had the ball in the center which officially began the game. Farmville, by perfect precision and timing put in the opening goal of the game. Hardly had the ball left the referee's hands before Madison scored a goal. Then for a few minutes neither team was able to score because of the brilliant guarding done by both teams. However, Madison broke through the Farmville defense and scored a goal. Then a foul was called against Farmville, and the Madison forward clicked with her shot to make the score 5-2. In the last minute of the first quarter, Farmville scored a goal; also a free shot was awarded because of a personal foul made by a Madison player against a member of the Farmville team. The free shot was taken, and the ball fell silently through the basket, making the score 5-5. Just a second after that goal was made, the whistle blew to end the first quarter.

During the rest period between the quarters, the cheerleaders came out in the floor and lead the spectators in some cheers. During the time between the quarters, the A. A. collected money for the Jarman Organ Fund. This is going to be done at every game here at S. T. C. to help put the Fund over the top.

The whistle blew, and the last quarter of the first half got underway with Madison receiving the ball in the center. The Madison forwards passed the ball from one to another and quickly made a goal. Farmville quickly followed up. Hardly had the Farmville scored a goal when Madison quickly took the ball and tallied for another goal. in the following seconds, a personal foul was called on Madison, and the point was made. This made the score 10-9, Farmville leading. However, in the last five seconds of the first half, the Madison guards got control of the ball and passed it to their forwards and from there to the goal. At the end of the half, the score was 11-10 Madison leading.

When the two teams left the court, there was a great sound of applause, for both teams had played a brilliant, but close game the first half.

At the beginning of the second half, Farmville had the ball in the center. Determined to overtake the one point lead that Madison had, Farmville quickly passed the ball successfully through the Madison defense to score another goal. Madison followed but after some hard work breaking through the Farmville defense. Once again Madison had a one point edge on Farmville. This, however, did not last long for Farmville came through with another goal. Then Farmville took control of the ball and rapidly scored eight more points. Madison gained control of the ball just before the end of the third quarter and successfully made two baskets. Thus the score at the end of the third quarter was Madison 17—Farmville 22.

After a short rest period, the fourth and last quarter began with Madison receiving the ball. Although this quarter was the usual time length, there were very few goals made on either side. Because of the hard playing and determination in the first three quarters each team was tired. Madison finally scored a goal and then they quickly followed up with another. This made the score 22 to 21, with Farmville still leading. After a foul was made by a Madison player, Farmville was given a free shot which they converted at a point. Thus the score was tied once again 23 to 23. However, in the next few minutes, Madison scored three points which gave them a one point lead—24-23. In the last two remaining seconds of the game, Farmville, fighting desperately to gain the lead, sank a goal from the side just before the whistle blew ending the game. However, the final score was not known by the players, or even the spectators, as it had been a fast and furious game from the start. The whistle blew and the final score was given—25-24, with Farmville victorious once more.

In the 1946 game, Madison beat Farmville by exactly one point—20-19.

They are never alone who are accompanied with noble thoughts. —Sir Philip Sidney.

S. T. C. Meets William-Mary Team Saturday Night At 8 In Gymnasium

On the Ball

By WINIFRED BEARD

Greetings from this section of the dug out. This week proves most eventful in the athletic calendar for winter sports. The volleyball and basketball tournaments will begin soon; so go on with your interest and support your class teams by practicing on your spare afternoons.

Don't forget that you are a vital part of your class team and they will always need your support in the games. There will be great thrills in store for you at the games between the classes; try to be on hand either in the cheering section or a participator in the game.

Be sure you have eight practices in your favor or you will not be eligible to play, and you still have some time left to make up the practices you have missed. Points will be given to the winning team for the sought after color cup. That should bring you out as a supporter.

In all of these class games good sportsmanship is the greatest asset to your team, therefore, let's show our cooperation in every phase of the game. Here's wishing luck to the red and whites and green and whites. Don't forget the way to the gym and let's stay in the game.

How about those late after class hikes? You would feel more like studying if you would go for a hike some afternoon. Take a hike soon along with your friends—absolutely nothing like stretching out before you have to go back to your lessons.

This is all for this week, until the next issue be sports minded and get into the game.

Dean's List

Continued from Page 1

Nancy Mina Taylor, Keysville; Jean Thomasson, South Hill; Ruth Tillett, Hamilton; Virginia Tindall, Hatton; Eugenia Tolley, Natural Bridge; Dorothy Tuck, Stuart; Patricia Walker, Pearisburg; Ruth Walker, Farmville;

Voluntary Gifts To Aid Organ Fund

The Farmville basketball team will meet the William and Mary team this Saturday night at 8:00 in the S. T. C. gym. This game promises to be exciting so let's cheer our team onto another victory and help them to make it a victorious season without a single defeat. Again the A. A. will collect money for the Jarman Organ Fund so when you come to the game bring something to help put the fund over the top.

Also this Thursday evening, after supper in the rec. Captains for class Volleyball and Basketball teams will be chosen, all class squads please be present so that your class will come out on top.

Games scheduled this week—

Monday—George Washington at Wasington and Lee; University of Richmond at Virginia Tech; Virginia at Maryland, Roanoke College at Virginia Military Institute.

Tuesday—George Washington at Virginia Military Institute; William and Mary at Boston College.

Wednesday—Quantico Marines at Washington and Lee.

Thursday—University of Richmond at Maryland; William and Mary at American International; Virginia at Duke; Virginia Military Institute at Roanoke College.

Saturday—Washington and Lee at William and Mary; Virginia at Virginia Tech; Juanita Weeks, Victoria; Helen Williams, Amelia; Dorothy Winton, Bedford; Mary Elizabeth Young, Chester.

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

Chas. E. Burg
Florist

See Us For The Newest Records Expert Repairs
Ennis Radio Shop
108 W. THIRD ST.
PHONE 423

Farmville Electric Appliance Co.
200 MAIN ST PHONE 201
Repair Service on Radios and
WE SELL THE BEST AND SERVICE THE REST
Small Appliances

ALBUMS
The Minstrel Boy
By Christopher Lynch, Tenor
Irish Songs
By James Melton
Also
A Large Stock of old Favorites
WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

EXPERT WATCH & JEWELRY REPAIRING
Garland, Newman & Whitten

ENTIRE ROLL OF
Kodak Films for only 30c
DEVELOPED AT
Southside Drug Store

It's a Jantzen girdle — to keep that waist - line small — A Jantzen girdle is a must under the "new look" fashions. White & Nude and priced right, too!

Jantzen
Dorothy May Store
Main Street Farmville, Va.

Leggett's has just Received A Big Shipment of Gibson Girl Ties
59c to 98c
Also Head Scarfs in Varieties of colors. Beautiful Array to Choose from 98c to $2.98
Leggett's DEPT STORE

COLLINS FLOWERS MAKE HAPPY HOURS
FROM
Collins Florist
Phone 181 or 4

Whatever your Cleaning Needs Are Take them to
Kleanwell Cleaners

Corduroy Jackets
In Maroon, Brown Green and Tan
$16.50
VERSER'S
"We Serve To Please"

for dry skin...
"BOTANY" Brand
micro-filtered
LANOLIN CREAMS
for Lovely Satin Smoothness
Triple refined to remove harsh, irritating impurities and leave in complexion-enriching Lanolin, these creams are extra soothing to your skin. Triple-Action Cream, which lubricates as it cleanses, $1 and $1.75 plus tax. Formula 70, an excellent night cream, $1.35 and $2 plus tax.
"Botany" Brand Lanolin Cosmetics
Davidson's

Meet the Faculty

MISS OLIVE T. ILER

S. T. C. almost got cheated out of an A-1 Associate Professor of Physical Education when Miss Olive T. Iler entered Pratt Institute in Baltimore, Maryland, as a "home arts" major. However, New York City bred Miss Iler soon discovered that tennis rackets and basketballs were much more to her liking than kitchen utensils and sewing machines. Accordingly she transferred to Sargent School of Physical Education. Sometime after her graduation from Sargent Miss Iler took an M. A. degree from Teachers College of Columbia University.

Before she came here in 1925, Miss Iler taught at Chevy Chase School for Girls in Washington, D. C., and she both taught and supervised in the Baltimore Playground Athletic League. She has also done Girls Club Work at Chatauqua Institute and various summer camp work.

All phases of her field interest her equally. Miss Iler professes, though the Athletic Association is number one, of course. It seems that Miss Iler is one of our most-in-demand sponsors; not only has she been A. A. adviser these many years, but she's Pi Kappa Sigma Sorority adviser, and has sponsored five senior classes.

We were rather taken aback when Miss Iler told us that among her side interests are needle-point and knitting. This must be a throwback to her old home arts days. She says, too, that she gets "a big kick" out of her new cottage across the street. Another of Miss Iler's avocations is reading who-dun-its, which, she confided to us, have quite a large following among our faculty.

Careers Await Teachers of Retailing

Schools, Colleges Seek Trained men, women

The rapid expansion of retailing and distributive education courses in secondary schools and colleges demands trained teachers and coordinators with advanced college training and practical retailing experience. Attractive, responsible positions await the graduates of foremost School of Retailing. The unique one-year program offered by New York University for men and women college graduates, leading to a master's degree, combines practical instructions, planned market contacts, and invaluable "New York experience" (planned, supervised work experience—with pay) in well-known New York stores. Write for full details.

Request Bulletin T-22

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
School of Retailing
100 Washington Square,
New York 3, N. Y.

CARA NOME
and WHITMAN'S
CANDIES

Gray's — Truly a Drug Store

Many Other
Useful Gifts

HORCROSS
America's Best-Loved Greeting Cards

CUTEST BABY CARDS IN TOWN

NEXT WEEK AMERICAN ORCHIDS

Patterson Drug Co.

Voice of People

Continued from Page 2

dence enough that we can appreciate the better artists and it warrants more of the best.

An Enraptured Listener

Dear Editor,

The World Student Relief has received many letters from foreign students all over the world thanking them for the help they have received. Here are two letters that are examples of how grateful these young men and women are.

Geneva, November 26th. This letter was received in WSR office Warsaw acknowledging a parcel sent from Oslo, Norway, through the Norwegian WSR Committee.

"Poznan, 13XI. 1947

"Janina Grankowska
Poznan, Czerwonij Armii 7.m. 13c
Dom Bratniej Pomocy.
World Student Relief
Warszawa.

"I thank you very heartly for the packet with food, which I got on the 3 XI.47. I am really moved with the care of the World Student Relief, which takes in consideration the war-times experiences of the Polish people, and above all of the Polish youth, as well as the difficult conditions in which we attend the university at present, and strives to help us.

"Our father died, murdered in German concentration camps and we, as orphans, or as former political prisoners, have very often to struggle with material difficulties. But in spite of it we will learn and we shall hold to our resolution for we will become the worthy successors of those, who have died with Poland's name on their lips.

"I, myself, am the daughter of one who has been killed for Poland's sake in the concentration camp at Oranienburg-Sachsenhausen. At present I am a student in the second year of medicine. I live on a scholarship and I hope that I shall succeed in finishing my studies and then to help my mother, and my younger sister."

"Once more I thank you very much for the packet. I should like to send along my thanks to the unknown guardian but I do not know her address.

"If it would be possible, I beg you to forward me it. Sending my collegian salutation to World Student Relief. I remain, (signed) Janina Grzankowska."

Geneva, September 29th. A small shipment of food was sent last winter to the foreign students studying at the University of Munster, Germany. Occupation authorities have arranged with the German authorities for the admission of "displaced" students up to 10% of the total student body; but with the end of UNRRA help these students face the material problems common to all students in Germany still more acutely since they are isolated from the population in general and from their German fellow-students. The following letter of appreciation recently found its way to the WSR office.

"Mr. Yngve Frykholm
WSR and ISS, Geneva

Dear Sir,

In the name of all foreign students studying at the University of Munster, the Student's Committee wishes to express its most sincere thanks for the present of foodstuffs made to us by World Student Relief.

Surrounded by material and spiritual insufficiencies, we appreciate your kindness very much. Apart from being a very substantial help, your kind gift has shown that the democratic world has not forgotten the homeless students of many nations, and that we do not stand alone in our endeavors to uphold our intellectual standard of life.

For the Foreign Students Com.
The Chairman— J. Hramagin
The Secretary—Y. Valldaich"

In the YWCA drive for World Student Christian Relief, we have an opportunity and a real privilege of helping students in other countries. PLEASE GIVE.

June Cregar

"My girl friend is a twin."
"How do you tell them apart?"
"Her brother's taller."

For any Special Occasion

Give Cigarette Cases and Lighters

MARTIN'S

Specialty of the day

Cherry Tarts

Made of Delicious

Southern Dairies Ice Cream

Shannon's, Inc.

Our Hamburgers

Are Made of Real Fresh Ground Steak.

COME IN AND TRY ONE

Also Delicious Plate Lunches

COLLEGE SHOP

REMEMBER EASTER COMES EARLY THIS YEAR!

And you'll be first in the Easter Parade with a dress and accessories from

THE HUB

Farmville, Va.

AFTER EXERCISE
REFRESH YOURSELF

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.
© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

"I'VE TRIED THEM ALL, CHESTERFIELD IS MY FAVORITE CIGARETTE"

Claudette Colbert

STARRING IN A TRIANGLE PRODUCTION "SLEEP, MY LOVE" RELEASED THRU UNITED ARTISTS

WHY I smoke Chesterfield

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"I am at the auction sales practically every day and Liggett & Myers buy the best cigarette tobacco grown in this section. "I am a Chesterfield smoker. So put me down for that. It's a good cigarette and I like it."

D. T. McLawhorn
TOBACCO FARMER, WINTERVILLE, N. C.

ABC ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD

ALWAYS MILDER BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Library
State Teachers College
Farmville, Virginia.

Contribute
To The W.S.S.F.

The Rotunda

Attend
Orchesis Recital

VOLUME XXVII FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1948 No. 18

WSSF Drive Will Begin On Campus Tomorrow

Farley To Speak Assembly Program

Public Affairs Committee of the Y. W. C. A. will open the drive for World Student Service Fund in assembly tomorrow. Mrs. Phyllis Farley, speaker for the morning, will be introduced by June Cregar, general chairman of the drive. Also Mrs. Farley will show a movie, "Seeds of Destiny".

Mrs. Phyllis Farley, the World Student Service Fund Regional Secretary for the South, has recently come to the country from a year's work as World Student Relief representative in Poland. Intimately acquainted with all phases of the W. S. S. F. program in central Europe, Mrs. Farley brings authority and knowledge to her job.

A fluent linguist she speaks French, German, Polish, Italian, Russian, and Gaelic—Mrs. Farley is a graduate of the University of Edinburgh, and has studied at the Sorbonne, and the University of Berlin. She is, at present, enrolled for her Ph.D. at the University of London, and will complete her degree requirements there after finishing her work in this country.

Mrs. Farley, who is Scottish, first learned of World Student Relief work at the University of London. Her faculty adviser there was active in World Student Relief, and when they discussed her plans for taking a Ph.D. in Slavonic languages, he advised her that there was need for a worker in Warsaw. Mrs. Farley, interested in becoming familiar with Polish, took the job—and has been in student relief work ever since. She had honorary medals given her by student groups all over Poland when she left. Many of the medals had never before been presented to a woman.

The goal for S. T. C. has been set for $1,000.00. Two small barrels have been placed in the hall so that the red and white's and the green and white's can contribute to the drive and support their colors at the same time. The faculty, and administration, and the various organizations have been asked to contribute. Furthermore, the halls will be canvassed every night.

The money received will be sent to WSSF Headquarters and will be used for such things as sending books, clothing, money, and medicine to the struggling students in foreign countries.

ROBERT PORTERFIELD

Barter Players To Present Drama

Junior Chamber SponsorsProduction

The Barter Theater, under the direction of Robert Porterfield, will present Rudolf Besier's The Barretts of Wimpole Street on Wednesday, March 10, in the S. T. C. auditorium.

Without great deviation from the established facts of the love story of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning, Mr. Besier has achieved a story both sentimentally moving and dramatically stimulating to all imaginations."

The three act play takes place in Elizabeth's bed-sitting room of the Barrett home on Wimpole Street in London. Elizabeth, an invalid since a fall had cost her her health, hesitates to think how unbearable her life might be were it not for her studying of Greek and her writing for the papers.

Having corresponded frequently with Mr. Browning through a mutual friend, Mr. Kenyon, Miss Barrett is quite nervous in anticipation of the first visit of Robert Browning.

Because of the failure of Edward Moulton Barrett to establish in his family peace and respect by love, he has taken it upon himself to establish it by fear. He is to protect his five children from the utter desperation of love.

First presented in Cleveland in January of 1931 under the management of Katherine Cornell, the Besier drama has now played to "as many people as the Empire holds." It is being presented by the Barter Theater through

Continued on Page 4

Notice

Students are reminded that only members of the publication staffs may use the typewriters and supplies in the publications room.

Dr. Moss took his 8:05 Economics class to the local tobacco market Tuesday, February 24.

Training School Transformed Remodeling Gives "New Look"

The transformation of the century has occurred. The training school has taken a new lease on life, and so have the new group of student teachers. Yes indeed, now the building has the "new look." Her windows wink beguilingly to passers-by as she basks proudly in the sun. 'Tis rumored that "things just ain't as they use to be."

As I pattered hesitantly into the Training School, I was relieved to find that the boards no longer sagged and groaned under my weight (no reflection on my "figger"); that no longer did I have to grope blindly through dark, dreary halls, that the class rooms have been much improved by indirect lighting, cabinets and basins. I was quite impressed by the lovely new auditorium, rejuvenated kindergarten, and new bulletin boards. I felt much safer when I ascended the newly built steps and saw that a new fire escape was being added.

As a matter of fact, the remodeling seem to have enthused the supervisors with a rosy outlook, and instilled courage in those browbeaten, down trodden individuals known as student teachers. Yes, even they were proud to escort me around the Training School, pointing out this and that improvement. Somehow, they were even encouraging when they talked with me of my future days as a student teacher. This gladdened my wavering heart not just a little.

Everyone and everything is much brighter across the way. Why, even the children seem to be inspired—at least their aim is better and they throw harder when they pelt with snow balls! You know, I'm almost looking forward to teaching in the Training School.

Dramatic Clubs Present Preview On S. T. C. Hour

Library To Feature Spring Play Exhibit

The S. T. C. Dramatic Club has charge of the radio broadcast this week and will present a preview of "The Rivals" which is their annual Spring Production. The club will give several synoptic scenes from the play with both the S.T. C. and the H.-S.C. members of the cast participating.

Those who will take part on the broadcast are Betty House and Ann Nock with Hugh Warren, Arthur Stuart and Charles Talley in their respective parts in the drama. Yvonne Burch will serve as student announcer.

Also for those interested in knowing more about the play before its production here March 5, 6, the library is featuring an exhibit of the play, its history, author and literary merit.

New Education Group Formed Under NEA

Atlantic City, N. J., February 22—In what was acclaimed today as a milestone in the history of American education, the three leading national teacher organizations began functioning as a single, unified organization to be known as the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Among the 260 colleges and universities affected by the merger is State Teachers College, Farmville, which is represented in the new association by Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster.

Officials estimated that 75 per cent of all teachers entering the profession will be prepared by colleges in the new association which will expand services formerly carried on by the American Association of Teachers Colleges, the National Association of Colleges and Departments of Education, and the National Association of Teacher Education Institutions in Metropolitan Districts.

The new organization, which will operate as a department of the National Education Association, will be headed by Dr. Walter E. Hager, president of Wilson Teachers College, Washington, D. C. The newly-elected vice president of the united organization is Dr. William S. Taylor, dean of the College of Education, University of Kentucky.

"This merger of all the national organizations of all institutions whose primary interest is in teacher education profession," Dr. George W. Diemer, president of Central Missouri State College, at Warrensburg declared. "These institutions will now have an overall national organization through which they can work together."

New standards are to be initiated for preparation of teachers, Dr. Diemer, who was president during the past year of the American Association of Teachers Colleges, emphasized.

STC Students Attend Va.-N. C. Conference

A group of S. T. C. girls will leave Friday morning to attend a Virginia-North Carolina Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship Conference at camp Shawondasee, Richmond, Virginia.

The theme of the conference will be "The Adequate Christ." The speakers will include Mr. Donald B. Fullerton of Plainfield, New Jersey; Mr. Hong Sit, a former member of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship staff in China; and Miss Anne Childs, Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship staff worker for the Southeast.

Several students from S. T. C will take part on the program.

Savage Announces New Set of Rules For Absences

MemoWillBePosted At Various Points

Revised regulation of the College governing student absences from classes will become effective Monday morning, March 1. They are outlined in a memorandum issued this week by Dean Savage to all members of the faculty, Registrar's office, Home Department, and office of the College Physician.

In releasing the memorandum to The Rotunda, Dean Savage called attention to the fact that it was the responsibility of each student to become acquainted with the regulations and to abide by them. "Since they will be published in The Rotunda and posted at various points in the buildings," he said, "I hope that each student will become familiar with them and not find it necessary to ask for exceptions by claiming ignorance of the rules."

As of March 1, a student entitled to excuses for class absences may obtain them either before or after such absences. Students obtaining excuses before absences must take the following steps: (1) obtain the absence slip from the proper official; (2) have it initialed by all instructors whose classes are to be missed; and (3) submit it to the Registrar's office prior to the absence. This is the system that has been in force and is still recommended to students whenever it is possible to follow it. Students obtaining excuses after absences must take the following steps: (1) obtain the absence slip from the proper official; (2) have it initialed by all instructors whose classes were missed; and (3) submit it to the Registrar's office by 4:00 p. m. on the second day (exclusive of Sundays) following the date of the last absence shown on it. No excuses will be accepted after that date. Absence slips will be stamped with the date that they are received in the Registrar's Office in order that there will be no question as to when they were received. This system will apply to absences taken as "cuts" and absences due to illness and emergencies.

Excuses may be issued only by the Dean of Women, College Physician, and Dean of the College, or their duly authorized representatives. No official may sign an absence slip unless it is filled out in ink completely by either the

Continued on Page 4

Alpha Phi Sigma's "Get-Acquainted"

Alpha Phi Sigma held its regular meeting last night in the Honors Room at 7 o'clock, with the president, Eleanor Bass, presiding. After a brief business session, the program was turned over to Janice Slavin, vice-president. She led the group in a "Get-Acquainted" program in which each member introduced herself, told about her hobbies, talents, major in college, and other interesting facts.

The Alpha Phi Sigma is a national honorary fraternity to promote higher scholastic ability.

Magazine Publishes Article By Snead

An article entitled, "You Can't Sweep Back The Tide With A Broom", written by Mr. Christy Snead, Professor of Business Education at State Teachers College, appeared in the January issue of Modern Business Education, the official publication of the Southern Business Education Association.

The article is entirely historical in nature, and introduces itself in view of present American business education which had its roots well organized in Germany—in content appropriate for the day—about the middle of the Nineteenth Century.

Orchesis to Give Recital Thursday, February 26

DEAN W. W. SAVAGE

Savage Addresses WCHS Senior Class

Dean Selects Topic "Causes Of Failure"

Dean William Savage spoke to the senior class of Warren County High School in Front Royal, today, February 25. Attuned to the "College Day" theme, the subject of his address was "The Causes of Failure in College."

On Friday, February 20, Dean Savage, spoke to the seniors of the high schools of Henry County. This "Senior Day", as it was called, was held at Fieldale High School in Fieldale.

Dean Savage spoke to the Parent-Teacher Association of Patrick Henry School in Richmond on Tuesday, February 24. The topic of his talk was "The Growth of the Elementary Child in Respect to Emotional Development."

Library Exhibits Barter Play Reviews

The library has a special table displaying materials concerning the Barter Theater play which will be given in the S. T. C. auditorium on March 10. The play to be presented is "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" by Rudolf Besier.

There are several books on display about the play itself and various other books about the movie and stage versions of the play. Additional information is provided concerning the Barter Players who will make up the cast of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

This display provides an op-

Continued on Page 4

Program To Include All Group Members

Orchesis, the Modern Dance Club will present its annual recital Thursday, February 26 at 7:30 p. m. in the large auditorium. There is no charge for admission, but each year a silver offering is accepted at the door and turned over to the Red Cross. This year's offering will be turned over to the Jarman Organ Fund.

"Greeting", the club's opening number is a group study in leaps and runs with Corrine Baker, Robbie Cromar, Hilda Edwards, Jane Fox, Molly Hudson, Jean Jones, Anne Langbein, Jesse Lee Pickett and Peggy West.

"Color in Dance" shows experiments with color in relation to movements, accompaniment, costume and the design in space (Choreography). In some passages group figures and large splashes of color predominate. Black and White are used interchangeably with the colors Brown, Red, Yellow, Purple and Blue. Ray Phillips and Peggy West are the duet figures in the "Brown Study" with Corrine Baker as the lone Black Figure. The "Red Study" is a solo passage by Jesse Lee Pickett with Corrine Baker as the Black Figure again. The "Yellow Study" is the largest group composition which used all three colors, Yellow, White and Black in its costume. Catherine Bondurant, Jane Fox, Bebe Geyer, Molly Hudson, Anne Langbein, Ann Motley, Mary Ann Morris, June Walsh and Gee Gee Yonce make up this group. The "Purple Study" which used two dance forms in direct contrast to one another has Virginia Marshall as the Purple or Pavanne Figure while Marjorie Boswick and Hilda Edwards are the Black or Sarabande Figures. The "Blue Study" shows blue and black as the twilight of day meets the deepening black of night. The Blue Figures here are Griswold Boxley, Nancy Chambers, Bebe Geyer, Jean Jones, Ray Phillips and Jean Tolley with Corrine Baker, Robbie Cromar and Hilda Edwards as the recurring black color.

"A Woman Votes" is a whimsical, satirical study of women with Ann Nock and Nelwynn O'Brien as the speakers, Hilda Edward, Evelyn Patterson, Ray Phillips and Mary Waldrop as the curious crowd. Robbie Cromar is the Bewildered One who asks help of everyone, the onlywife — Jean Jones, the Card Shark—Peggy Moore and One Who Knows — Molly Hudson.

"Beauty at Rest" shows the sleeping Miss having a nightmare, sweet dreams and quaking with the cold. Each part is briefed

Continued on Page 4

February Adds Twenty-Ninth Extra Day to Grab Your Man

Did anyone notice that there is something unique about this particular February? Why, naturally it has twenty-nine days—one whole extra day, girls, in which to grab a man! Leap year is the most important year in a girl's life. Just think how many more old maids there would be if it weren't for leap year. Who knows but this year may find YOU proposing to some lonesome, beat-up, bedraggled man with high hopes.

February 29 may well be your lucky day. Just the addition of one day to the year will mean the marriage of hundreds of girls that otherwise would enjoy single bliss.

The men this year are running faster than ever because for some reason or other, the girls are running faster after them especially those girls about to enter their thirties. However, I can think of one person right now who is out of breath—she is entering her sixties (been running for years). It seems to be one of those fat Abner, Daisy Mae affairs. Just wait until Sadie Hawkin's Day!

Girls, before proposing remember to watch your technique. When you get down on your knees, be sure that you have a lasso in your hand. If he offers you any trouble, you can rope him to the chair until he gives the answer. If the answer is not favorable, you can then slip the rope up higher and make a nice noose for his neck, but do be gentle with him. After all—a man is a man! If we get rid of too many of them this way, the shortage will be even greater. When you decide you are tired of the one you have, release him in order that some one else may get the "yes" out of him by some carefully laid plan. By hook or by crook, get yourself a man this year. Don't let this February 29 go to waste! Remember it only happens once every four years!

"Food Situation" Begins To Show Improvement

Elsewhere on this page this week we have printed a program report from the dining hall committee. This committee was appointed by Dr. Lancaster to make a study of the dining hall in regards to food, service and general atmosphere.

The committee is working with the dieticians and with the staff to make the dining hall and the food served therein what we students desire. Already there have been many changes made in regard to the food. We are now receiving more raw vegetables and better prepared rolls and biscuits. And the addition of fruit juices to the breakfast menu has been very pleasing to the entire student body. These are but a few of the things that the committee has accomplished so far.

We are not saying, however, that everything in the dining hall is perfect, but rather that there has been an improvement. Many things still need improving. The noise is still very loud and evidently there are still many children among us for we see a great deal of horseplay. Such items as flipping water from spoons, raising the tables with our fingers, and loud yelling do not make the atmosphere what it should be. The dining room hostess is making her appeal to the students for their cooperation, and it is only we who can make the improvement that is needed.

We noted with a great deal of interest the amount of money spent for food per student per day, and 56½ cents is a very small amount. Surely the dining hall staff is to be commended in doing so well with so little.

The committee is doing their best in making the improvements that we want, and they are open to sugestions from the students. If we are as interested in the food as we say we are, then we will voice our suggestion to the committee and let them take what action they deem necessary.

Much of World Peace Depends On WSSF

Tomorrow the World Student Service Fund Drive opens on our campus. In order to be successful, it needs the support of every member of our student body and faculty.

The W. S. S. F. sends its proceeds to the war-torn countries abroad to provide the needed relief and rehabilitation of the students and professors there. This aid is given where it is most needed—on an international, interracial, non-sectarian, and non-political basis. Those whose needs are the most urgent will be those who receive this assistance first.

Already food and medical supplies have been sent to Yugoslavia, Belgium, Holland, and France. Tuberculosis students have received treatment at the University Sanitorium in Switzerland. Student rehabilitation centers have been established throughout the world to restore physically disabled students to health. Books and supplies have been sent to universities abroad.

This aid has helped and has been greatly appreciated but more is needed. Without aid, many of the students abroad will not only be unable to complete their education but may lose their lives as a result of our withheld assistance. With this bleak ultimatum facing us, the most we can do can not possibly be too much. We can only hope that it will be enough.

The W.S.S.F. looks toward the creation of a world and a civilization in which all men may live together peacefully. The job which it hopes to accomplish is one which calls for great sacrifice and cooperation. The responsibility of contributing money is our part in this necessary effort.

Our goal has been set at $1, 000. Won't you help to provide the simple necessities of life for your fellow-students throughout the world by contributing generously to this fund?

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168

Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Mary Aleise Helmer ..... Editor-in-Chief
Betty Spindler ..... Managing Editor
Frances Treakle ..... Business Manager

Betty Nachman ..... News Editor
Jackie Eagle ..... Feature Editor
Betty Burch tt ..... Sports Editor
Lela Boulkin ..... Social Editor
Anne Cream ..... Advertising Manager
Virginia Bailey ..... Circulation Manager
Betty Minton ..... Photographer
Mary Davis ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Martha Frances Morrison, chief editorial assistant, Tina Allen, Helen Arrington, Winifred Beard, Melbale Booth, Griswold Boxley, Jean Cake, Adelaide Cole, Addie Dodd, Jane Gray, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Joyce Hamlet, Nancy Jessee, Ann Lynch, Mary Lee Merredith, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Janice Slavin, Martha Smith, Gwen Smith Carol Stoops, Jean Tolley, Helen Williams Booble Wall.

Business Assistants

Martha Ashby, Elsie Love Bentley, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Mildred Garnett, Connie Heather, Ginny Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancy Jensen, Nancye Latz, Ruth Radcoma, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Virginia Parris, Sparkie Poteat, Barbara Saunders, Ethel Shockley, Norma Soyers Mary Lou Wilson.

In Charge Of This Issue

MARY LEIGH MEREDITH

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1948

Puddin' 'n Sauce

How's your constitution? Better fortify it with all the vitamins in the alphabet so you'll be in condition when March comes raging, or you'll never be able to keep up with all the things going on then. Plays, production, the symphony, dances, and all the other enticing things just seem to fill March to the brim.

In these bleak winter days it's comforting to think that in just four more weeks we can start thinking about Easter vacation, and sunbathing, (yes it gets so warm that some eager beavers actually begin getting that "toasted look") and a new straw hat. Then too, we can start looking forward to picnics and all the "grub" we'll be gettin'.

Speaking of "grub" be sure to read all the articles in this issue concerning the Dining Hall and the report of the food committee; they should shed considerable light on the situation. The lectures we had on "tolerance" could even be extended to cover this subject. Remember too that the "Rotunda" is the voice of the students and if you should wish to make your opinion known just write a letter to the Editor and we'll print it. Sign it properly, your name will not be published if you do not want it to be. Griping may get your opinions off your chest but they don't do any good, so if you have something worthwhile to say pro or con for the situation make it known. That's what we call "school spirit".

Did you contribute to the Jarman Organ Fund and the Polio Drive? Well, dig down deep into the nether reaches of your pockets and see if you can't find a few more shekles to give to the World Student Service Fund. Anyone who is familiar with the present European situation knows how important it is not to let the students fall under the influence of Russia. One of the surest ways to avoid this is to have them look to America—that means cooperation from us.

Bed Check

Hi gals-Everybody settled down after a big weekend. Honestly this place looked deserted with all of you gone.

Mid-winters at Virginia seemed to be the main attraction this past weekend—Unknown scores of S. T. C. gals descended on ole U. Va. To name only a few—Peggy Moore, Gin Bailey, Charlotte Flauger, Kitty Hankins, Katie Bondurant, Ann Ford, Betty Ferguson, Mary Miller.

Margie Boswick was so excited over Kent's coming up this weekend she didn't know what to do. Says she likes him a little bit?

The Rippons had two cute dates down from Tech—huminm —nice!

Nancy Cooke said she had a big time at the University of Richmond Mid-Winter Dances.

Beanie didn't just have one boy to come to see her this weekend, but she had three! She decided to let Cub and Winnie have two of them.

Liz Nuttall took off for Chapel Hill where she had a wonderful time.

Audrey Newman got a ring for that third-finger-left-hand from her man. Congrats!

Between history books with famous "Critenden's" and the song "Bill' it seems Peggy Smith is always at heart at dear ole R. M. C.

It looks like one says Gris, Ike, and U. Va. all in one breath now.

We can hardly wait for another dance so we can see Dr. Lancaster in his new tux.

Report of Food Committee

A committee apointed by Dr. Lancaster in November has made a study of the dining hall in regards to food, service and general atmosphere. The preliminary report of the committee has been presented to the president and the administration has been following up the suggestions for improvements.

The ideas of the committee concerning bringing about a better atmosphere in the dining hall have been explained to the student dining hall hostess who is already making her appeal to the students in this matter.

Improving service in the dining hall hinges chiefly on the possibility of providing time for student waitresses to eat either before or after the regular meal. Her task of serving twenty students while she is eating her meal is very difficult and certainly most undesirable on her part as well as that of the students. This problem will be handled through the Assistant Dietician in charge of student waitresses.

The above situation is responsible in a great part for the general complaint of the temperature of the food. The committee has strongly recommended a change in this procedure.

Changes in food served in the dining hall have been very gratifying to the committee. Because the tendency to complain about foods in colleges is very general and not just peculiar to our college and keeping in mind that institutional food prepared in large quantities cannot be compared with home cooking, certain improvements here at our college are being cited for you to appreciate as well as enjoy.

A study of the hot rolls in the college bakery has shown them to be of good consistency and excellent materials and to meet the requests of students the rolls have been reduced in size, making them more crusty. More of a variety of breads is being served and the delicious spoonbread has been a real treat for many. The biscuits are being prepared much thinner which also satisfies the students.

In general the appearance of the food has been improved and preparation of the eggs has been more satisfactory. The cooking of meats is more pleasing and the pastries are tastier. The use of the thick sauce on many of the vegetables has been reduced. There has been less use of cooked carrots and cabbage and a greater use of raw carrots and cole slaw.

The addition of fruit juices to the breakfast menu has been most

Continued on Page 3

"Color Through Movement"

Gallop Pole

Do You Appreciate Modern Dance?

Puckett Asher. I'm afraid I don't right now, but I want to learn, and soon. Maybe I'll know more after the dance recital.

Tharon Holmes. Yes, but definitely. Dancing is a hobby with me and I'm very fond of it.

Patsy Blair. It all depends!

Jean Otis Loving. It appeals to my musical instincts.

Harriette Wade. Not too long at the time—

Alma Dedinger. If I m in the right mood, I do.

Barbara Andrews. I think it's interesting, even if I don't understand it.

Rose Smith. I'm mighty dumb on the subject, but here's hoping I'll learn—to understand it I mean.

Jeanne Farmer. Now that I understand it, I like it very much.

Carol Stoops. I like my samples better.

Deanie Famulatte. It's wonderful if you don't have to knock yourself out trying to do something that is suppose to resemble it.

Jane Taylor. Yes, with Mrs. Landrum performing.

Caroline Page. Yes, being so athletically inclined, I do.

Anne Verser. Yes, "I think mood can be so expressive in dance."

Dorothy Brevard. Yes, very much.

Chic Ritchie. Yeh, it's graceful. "B" Hylton. Yeh!

Betty Jefferson. Definitely yes!!

Freshman Sing Caricatures Anxious Post Office Crowd

The stage of the large auditorium was turned into a scene representing the post office Saturday night, when the Freshman Class presented their Sing. It was under the direction of Nancye Gillie and Romine Mahood.

The sing opened with Joyce Hamlet crossing the stage singing "Waiting For A Letter." As the curtains were opened, the stage revealed a scene like that which occurs every day in the post office. A group of girls sat waiting for the mail to be put up, and "Mike" Malone as Mrs. Cox and Mary Leigh Meredith as Mrs. Dugger, were heard making remarks about the mail. They quietly replied to the girl's anxious questions concerning the mail.

Betsy Carper and Jean Sanford, with books in their arms, represented those girls who cram for tests in the post office. Studying might have been important to Carper, but the minute Nancye Gillie entered, and music from third floor gym was heard, she forgot her studying and kept time to the music in jitterbug fashion. Carolyn Calhoun and Jean Cardoza, on their way to the laundry interrupted this little jitterbug session.

Betty Hart was that gal who is always dashing in to see if the mail is all up.

Louise Temple's boy friend undoubtedly had given out of stationery, for her letter was on tissue paper. Jean Farmer and "Vonnie" Burch received the same line from that much beloved Tommie, "Andy" Adams' letter from her Bill was that typical love letter.

Jo Shomo represented Dean Smith when she caught girls smoking in the post office. Edna Rodriquez and Isaac Velazquez represented the Puerto Ricans in our college.

"Pat" Earle's box of food was soon devoured by her friends. Virginia Spencer represented Carol Stoops and her many samples she is always receiving. "Deanie" Famulatte represented the man from the hearing company who came to see Carol not long ago in answer to one of her sample writings.

Nothing could have been more real than Geraldine's dashing in to say that Virginia Westbrook had a telephone call. Westbrook dashed madly off to get the call, forgetting her mail.

"Charly" Allen, upon opening her package, found a much too short night gown. "Chick" Ritchie's package contained an article which brought a big laugh! Guess what it was!

As the curtains were drawn, Joyce again crossed the stage singing "No Letter Today" and crying because her box was empty.

The Junior class will present their sing next Saturday night.

STC Six Meets Bridgewater Friday For Last Home Game

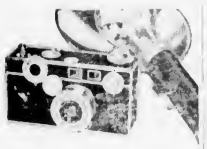
The Farmville Varsity Basketball Team is scheduled to meet the Bridgewater girls squad in the S. T. C. gymnasium Saturday, February 28, at 4:00 p. m. This game will complete the team's schedule of home games. Up to this point S. T. C.'s sextet remains undefeated on the court, and is expecting to complete the season with a high percentage of winning scores.

No admission is charged for the game, but a silver offering is being taken for the Jarman Organ Fund.

After completing its round of home games the S. T. C. Varsity team is to journey to Panzer College in New Jersey. This trip is scheduled for March 3. The names of the team members who will make the trip have not yet been announced by Miss Iler.

Never shift your tongue into high gear until you are sure your brain is turning over.—Threads.

Food Committee



Continued from Page 2

welcome by all. The continued use of fruits in the daily menu appeals to every appetite and need.

Since this committee began its study the funds allocated for food have been increased from 54 to 56½ cents per day per student. This accounts for some of the desirable changes in planning of meals and is the primary factor controlling the type of meals served. The committee realizes the inadequacy of funds for purchase of food and compliments the staff on serving three meals a day on 56½ cents.

This is a progress report. The committee and administration are working to promote all possible changes that will bring about better food, improved service and a more desirable atmosphere in our dining hall. Opinions and ideas of the students and faculty are welcomed by both the administration and the committee, and the committee hopes that the results achieved thus far and the efforts in the future will lend to the happiness and welfare of every student.

Elizabeth Burger, Chrm.
Ruth Gleaves
Ruth Coyner
Mary Helmer
Marjorie Miller

Argus C3

Complete with Flash Gun and case—7471.

Southside Drug Store

Garland, Newman & Whitten

Expert watch and jewelry repairing—Engraving.

George C. Brothers, Jr., Mgr.
Farmville, Va.

On the Ball

Greetings to you sports lovers! How have you made out on those sports and general practices for the coming events? Don't forget that you are a vital part of your class team and they will always need your strong support in the games.

There will be great thrills in store for you at the games between the classes; try to be on hand either in the cheering section or a participator in the games. Be sure you have eight practices in your favor, or you will not be eligible to play, and you still have some time left to make up the practices you have missed. Points will be given to the winning team for the sought after color cup.

Have you had your daily dip lately? The water is just right and you will definitely feel refreshed, if you go down to the ole' swimming hole and practice your strokes, or maybe you prefer to wade—some do.

Congratulations are in the making for our Farmville varsity basketball team on their recent games, they have shown the usual cooperative spirit in the games and we are proud of them. Farmville's last game to be held at S. T. C. will be played Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when they play Bridgewater. Why don't you come down and do some cheering?

Hiking is still a subject to be talked up here on campus, and this goes without saying, that there is no better way to spend time under the clear blue skies. How many of us literally neglect this healthful activity here at school and accomplish as little real hiking as possible other than a walk down to the corner or grunt when we carry our laundry an extra step. No real walking is done until we have left the hurried life on campus, except from one class to another. There is no excuse for going out into rainy wather just for the sake of a long walk, that will only give you a free ticket to the Infirmary with a rough cold and make you miss endless number of classes. Be healthy and walk away your troubles, but pick a clear day to do your walking.

Watch for announcements in the dining room and on the bulletin board concerning the class games that will be played here

Class Heads Named For Volleyball, Basketball Teams

2 From Each Class Elected Chaplains

At a meeting held last Thursday night in the rec' Class captains for basketball and volleyball were chosen by the respective teams. Chosen by the Freshmen to head their volleyball team was Anna Famulare, and captain of basketball, Ann Lynch. The Sophomores elected Ray Phillips captain of their volleyball squad and Norma Roady to head their basketball team. Joann Sterling was elected head of the Junior volleyball team and Jesse Lee Pickett captain for basketball. The Seniors chose Betty Burchett for volleyball captain and Betty Minton for the basketball captain.

Practices are being held now for the games and the tournament will begin soon.

Volleyball practices are scheduled as follows:

Monday and Wednesday	1:45
Tuesday and Thursday	2:45
	3:45

Basketball practices are scheduled for:

Monday and Wednesday	3:45
Tuesday and Thursday	1:45

Gammon Announces Endowment Fund Reaches $700,000

Hampden-Sydney College has received $700,000 in its campaign to raise an endowment building and renovating fund of $1,000,000.

Dr. Edgar G. Gammon, president of the college, announced the fund total to the board of trustees at its quarterly meeting.

The General Board of Education in New York has already contributed $100,000 of $200,000 which it promised to the fund providing the college raises a total of $800,000 by December 28, Dr. Gammon said.

The college's endowment fund now totals $350,000. Dr. Gammon also said $39,000 has been received this year for the alumni fund.

Two members present at the board meeting for the first time were Lewis G. Chewning and W. T. Reed, Jr., of Richmond. Dr. Frank S. Johns, Richmond, chairman of the board, announced that the next board meeting will be held May 31 at Hampden-Sydney.

Church Student Centers Provide Escape From Tension of Studies

Are you tired of studying? Do you want to relax? Do you enjoy reading, playing ping-pong, cooking, sewing, listening to records, banging on the piano? Could you drink a coke? Would you like to find a congenial group of friends, or a place where you can be by yourself? Well, you are just the person we are looking for. Let's go over to the Student Center—Baptist Student Center, in the Cactus Inn, just across the street from Student Building, or to the Methodist Student Center, in the Methodist Church. On Sunday night we'll go to the Rectory for an open house for the Episcopal students, and we always look forward to those monthly suppers given by the Westminister Fellowship.

When we go to the Baptist Student Center, we are greeted by Miss Chris Flint, the vivacious Student Secretary. Chris shows us the six room apartment which consists of two living rooms two bed-rooms, a kitchen, hall and a prayer-room. Here we sew, cook, play the piano, type a letter home or play almost any game. Then there is the prayer-room, a sanctuary from the rush and tension of campus life. At the Baptist Student Center, which is open to every student all the time, we have a real home. It is "a home away from home", and Chris is our adviser, big-sister, counsellor, and unfailing friend.

As we approach the Methodist Student Center we are greeted by Miss Ruth Ann Bailey's friendly "Hi there! How are ya?" With a ping-pong paddle in one hand, a coke in the other Ruth Anne shows us the Methodist Student Center. We play ping-pong in the recreation room, and then relax in the comfortable lounge while listening to records and reading a magazine from the Reading Room. Cokes, candy and all are plentiful. The most attractive part of the Methodist Student Center is Ruth Anne's office, probably because that's where we can talk things over with Ruth Anne. The Methodist Student Center is open all day, and there is a special program on Saturday night.

On Sunday night we are all welcomed to the Episcopal Rectory. We have good times playing, talking and eating.

But once a month, yeah, what fun, we have at the supper for the Westminister Fellowship! Fun, food, laughs and more laughs!

So, it's no use to get all worried about studying and classes. Let's go to the Student Center's and the Fellowship Hours and relax.

Looking through some old Rotunda files we dug up this picture of S. T. C. under a 1921 snow, which we thought we'd run just to show how a blanket of snow makes things look pretty much the same no matter what the year.

Fillers, Plague of Readers, Pride and Joy of Printers

Just in case you are interested in ways to remove glue from furniture joints or would like to know the distance from here to Kalamazoo or maybe the size of the largest freshwater fish ever caught or some other such useless piece of information you might try reading those little dabs of stuff scattered here and there in a newspaper. With a name to suit their function, they are known as "fillers" in the newspaperman's language. And that is exactly what they are used for—to fill up space.

You're liable to gather up all sorts of information by reading these little fillers. And who knows? Someday you might even find a use for one of them. Maybe you could throw a couple in in the middle of a discussion question on that test that you forgot to study for. For instance if you are discussing a Science question you might throw in the fact that—Young mallard ducks can swim a third of a mile as soon as they leave the nest—or maybe—Nebraska official bird

Continued on Page 4

Let COLLINS Florist serve you with flowers.

FROM

Collins Florist
Phone 181 or 4

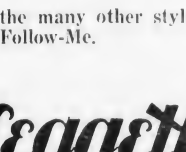
Cool as a...

Carole King

ORIGINAL

Open Date

As seen in CHARM



. . . in this wonderful print with its capricious daisy design! It's as cool as a waterfall, come warm weather . . . as pretty as a picture any weather. The fabric design, Carole King's alone. Palm Springs spun rayon. Junior sizes 9 to 15.

$10.95

Dorothy May Store

Main Street Farmville, Va.

Swing Into Spring In A Pair of Babydoll

4.95

Black Suede, also Green, Red and Black Kid. All sizes.

Also see the many other styles—Especially the Follow-Me.

Leggett's DEPT STORE INC

IT'S....

Newberry's

For Popular Sheet Music

Meet Me At...

Shannon's for the Finest Food In Town

Shannon's, Inc.

Whatever your Cleaning Needs Are Take them to

Kleanwell Cleaners

Corduroy Jackets

In Maroon, Brown Green and Tan

$16.50

VERSER'S

"We Serve To Please"

Meet the Faculty

Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro

Our faculty personality this week, Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro (pronounced "Tolliver"), Professor of Mathematics, has the distinction of being a Farmville alumna.

After beginning her education here Miss Taliaferro continued at first at Cornell U. and then at the Teachers College of Columbia University, taking her B. S. and M. A. degrees there. She's also done graduate work at Duke University and at the University of Maryland.

Evidently Miss Taliaferro was cut out for teaching, for at the age of fourteen she was acting as a sort of governess to her cousin's children. Farm produce constituted Miss Taliaferro's pay at this stage of her career. Since then Miss Taliaferro has taught at nearby Chatham Hall, at St. Agnes School in Albany, New York, and in 1913 she came home to teach at S. T. C.

Miss Taliaferro is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary teaching society; the Mathematical Association of America, the American Association of University Women, the Virginia Education Association, the National Education Association, the Farmville Alumnae Association, of which she has served as president and secretary, and she is the state representative to the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. Here at school Miss Taliaferro is a member of the Committee on Admissions and the Course of Study Committee.

The theory side of mathematics is Miss Taliaferro's favorite in her field. She says that she likes "to get hold of a problem and follow it through the theory involved."

When asked to compare our school as it is at present with the S. T. C. of her school days, Miss Taliaferro pointed out first that the student body then numbered only about 300, and second that those 300 worked harder on their studies. She qualified this statement, though, saying there were not as many diversions then.

Miss Taliaferro has no printed pet hates and no hobbies, her idea of heaven being to have all the time in the world for mathematics.

List of Fraternity Pledging Announced

Editor's Note—Last week when 90 boys accepted bids to fraternities it created interest on the STC campus as well. Herewith the Rotunda is publishing the list of pledges for the benefit of the students who do not have access to the "Tiger."

Last week a total of 90 boys accepted bids to fraternities at Hampden-Sydney. The pledging was fairly well split among the seven fraternities with Sigma Chi and Pi Kappa Alpha each bidding 18, Lambda Chi Alpha 13, Kappa Alpha 12, Chi Phi and Kappa Sigma 10 apiece and Theta Chi 9.

Following is a list of the new pledges and their fraternities:

Sigma Chi: Ramey, McClung, Campbell, Legge, Licht, East, O'Connell, William Moore, Jeffreys, MacDonald, Thompson, S. C. Wright, Wexler, Berry, Elcan, Hallenbeck, Chichester, and Galloway.

Pi Kappa Alpha: McLean, G. Brooks, Walter Moore, Lindsay, Kemper, Rilee, Funk, John Scott, Franklin, Moomaw, Frey, Locke, William Lee, Foreman, McClure, Nelson, Walter Bridges, Kinney, Edward Sharp, and Lucado.

Lambda Chi Alpha: Hagan, Churchill, John Robertson, Freeman, Peake, Stephenson, Tignor, James, Joyner, Ponton, Huff, Gore, Kumansky.

Kappa Alpha: Nebblett, Elam, Motley, Talley, William Robertson, Wrenn, Renick, Edwin Smith, Bland, Bottom, Ridgeway and Gravely.

Chi Phi: Larus, Livick, Shoemaker, Russell, Vail, Woodworth, Mesmer, Wood, Webb, and Archer Jones.

Kappa Sigma: Potts, Davenport, Cobbledick, Pug Adkins, Randy Harrison, DesPortes, Francis, John Brooks, Hatiher, and Meade Wright.

Theta Chi: C. E. Richard-on, Burnett, Reeves, McLaughlin, E. H. Moore, Ennis, Grecver, H. S. Smith, and Craig.

Savage Announces

Continued from Page 1

student or the person who signs it. No slip is considered filled out completely unless it shows the student's name; names, numbers, and hours of classes missed; date or dates on which the absence or absences occurred; date on which the slip was issued; the reason for the absences; and the total number of classes missed.

Beginning Wednesday, March 17, the Registrar's office will notify students on alternate Wednesdays as to unexcused absences which have recorded against them for the preceding two-week period ending on the previous Saturday. Students must correct any mistakes in these reports by 4:00 p. m. on Friday of that week. No correction will be permitted after that time. (The report issued on March 1 under the old system must be corrected by Wednesday, March 3, at 4:00 p. m.)

In the future all unexcused absences will be counted against the number of excused absences, if any, to which a student is entitled. A student cannot be absent from class without an excuse and expect also to "take his or her cuts" at a later date.

A student cannot deduct or "borrow" excused absences from those to which he or she expects to be entitled in a subsequent semester. Each unexcused absence from a class on the two days immediately preceding and the two days immediately following a holiday shall count as two absences on a student's record.

Day students, or members of their families, must telephone the infirmary and report their absences on the days they are away from classes because of illness at home. Excuses will not be issued to them unless this is done.

The memorandum emphasizes that a student whose absence is excused because of his or her average for the preceding semester is not excused from any responsibility placed upon the students by the instructors in the classes missed. For example, if an instructor announces a test for a specific date and the student chooses to "cut" the class at that time, the instructor may deal with the case as he sees fit. The fact that the absence is excused in no way imposes upon the instructor the responsibility to give the student another test unless he personally desires to do so. He may give the student a grade of "F" or otherwise penalize him or her for the absence.

Other sections of the memorandum deal with absences granted to students for various absences, and related subjects. Students are urged to read the memorandum in full. It is posted in front of the offices of Miss Bugg, Dean Smith, and Dean Savage.

NORCROSS
America's Best-loved Greeting Cards

LOOK FOR AMERICAN ORCHIDS

NEXT WEEK JUST KITTENS

Patterson Drug Co.

Buy your Easter Corsages and potted plants at

Chas. E. Burg
Florist

Be Fashion Wise In Boots, Scarfs

Wet Weather Attire Now Bright, Smart

When weather such as we are having now sets in, everyone begins to pull out her raincoat, boots, scarf, or maybe an umbrella. The S. T. C. girl has found that there are many styles of rain wear from which she may choose.

The full-cut water repellent coat with detachable hood comes in alluring shades of grey, fuschia, and black, to mention a few.

Another popular style this season is the coat of water proof plastic which also comes in all popular shades of the season. This coat may be had with either fitted or boxy lines.

Oh, don't forget your boots; as they are just what you need in the snow and rain. They can be bought in red, brown, black, or white. Some have a zipper up the side which makes it very easy to slip them on. The white boots also come with a fur trim around the top.

If you do not have a hood on your coat, don't forget your scarf. Of all the lovely ones on the market you certainly have your pick.

So, girls, when you venture out in this weather, be sure to have your raincoats on and all buttoned up. You will not only be sure of keeping dry, but you will also look very gay and attractive.

Barter Theatre

Continued from Page 1

special permission.

The play is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Farmville.

Tickets for the Barter Theater Production went on sale yesterday at the table in the hall.

Orchesis

Continued from Page 1

by a voice trio—Catherine Bondurant, Griswold Boxley and Ann Motley. The sleeping beauties are June Walsh, Marjorie Boswick and Peggy West in respective order.

"Dance on the Air" is the tale of Modern Dance on the air waves with Evelyn Patterson and June Walsh at the control tower, Corrine Baker, Hilda Edwards, Jane Fox, Jean Jones, Anne Langbein, Jesse Lee Pickett, Betsy Scott, Peggy West and Barbara Jean Wiley as the prancing, fancy dancers.

"Stampede" is a ride in rodeo style with Nancy Chambers, Bebe Geyer, Peggy Moore, Ann Motley, Evelyn Patterson, Violet Ritchie, Mary Waldrop, Barbara Jean Wiley and Gee Gee Yonce as the rope twirling gals.

"Gossip" is a woman's tale. Virginia Marshall, Betsy Scott, and June Walsh are the talkative trio.

"Fashion Dances" shows the Look Look with Nancy Chambers, Anne Langbein and Jeanne Tolley, the Ballerina Look with Corrine Baker, Robbie Cromar and Jean Jones. The narrator, or voice, Catherine Bondurant brings them on display for the girl, Betsy Scott.

"Put Your Little Foot . . . . . is a stylization of the Cheyenne Varsauvianna with Marjorie Boswick, Griswold Boxley, Nancy Chambers, Bebe Geyer, Molly Hudson, Ray Phillips, Betsy Scott, Jeanne Tolley, Peggy West and Barbara Jean Wiley as the dancers.

Bebe Geyer is in charge of staging and the making of all props. Jane Gray and Kitty Carmichael of lighting, and costuming is headed by Helen Williams and Jane Taylor with Betty Jefferson and Mary Virginia Walsh assisting. Betty Pell Jordan, the club's official accompanist is in charge of all music.

The Alumnae Association is sponsoring a Bridge Benefit Party in the Student Lounge Friday, February 27, at 8:00 p. m.

Miss Grace Moran of the S. T. C. Geography Department is in charge of the affair, which is being held for the benfit of the Jarman Organ Fund.

Fillers

Continued from Page 2

distributed 380,000 pairs of 1948 automobile license plates. Get the idea? I thought you'd catch on quick. See what you can do with such things as—Sweet potatoes, like carrots, are a good source of vitamin A—or—Marco Polo, famous world traveler who lived in the thirteenth century, reported that spectacles were worn by Chinese with poor sight. Now see it isn't hard to work those in with such related subjects as sociology or geography, is it?

Well, enough about such things—as a harried editor once remarked to her faithful reporter "This space is really devoted to Phillip." When asked "Phillip who?" she blandly replied, "Phillip Space, of course!" And it really is.

STC Concedes Ten To HSC In Quiz

Thursday afternoon on the S. T. C. hour over WFLO a mental battle between the sexes took place with the five representatives from H. S. outpointing the same number from S. T. C. 88 to 68. Hampden-Sydney missed perfection by only two points. Those representing H. S. were Findley Winston, John Irine, Doug Price, Mead Wright, and Tommy Gilmer.

Those representing STC were Anne Motley, Jean Thomasson, Eula Ayres, Nancy Taylor and Betty Spindler.

Despite the ten points difference in score the issue does not appear settled as yet.

Library Exhibits

Continued from Page 1

portunity for those who plan to attend the forthcoming production to get a preview of the play before they see the performance.

CARA NOME and WHITMAN'S CANDIES

Gray's — Truly a Drug Store

Many Other Useful Gifts

Our Hamburgers

Are Made of Real Fresh Ground Steak.

COME IN AND TRY ONE

Also Delicious Plate Lunches

COLLEGE SHOP

For any Special Occasion

Give Cigarette Cases and Lighters

MARTIN'S

Ballerina by Buddy Clark

The Best Things in Life are Free by Jo Stafford

I'm Looking over A Four Leaf Clover by Albina Ray

WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

AFTER THE GAME REFRESH WITH COKE

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

Way up in front are these campus favorites . . .

SPALDING

SADDLE OXFORDS AND LOAFERS

With smart co-eds everywhere, SPALDING'S rank high in good styling, and perfection in comfortable foot-wear. The ideal sport shoes for all occasions . . . combining classic beauty with the quality which you demand.

Choose yours from the large selection we have in stock.

Saddle Oxfords

In brown and white and black and white. Sizes from AAA to C

Plain and with buckle. Sizes from AAA to triple B

7.95 and 9.95

Shoe Dept.

Spaldings are exclusive with us in Farmville

Baldwin's

Farmville, Va.

See "The Rivals"

The Rotunda

Welcome Alumnae

VOLUME XXVII — FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3, 1948 — No. 19

Alumnae To Return For Founders Day Saturday

'The Rivals' Opens at STC March 5 For 2-Day Run

Drama Groups Join In Giving Comedy

On Friday and Saturday nights, March 5th and 6th, the Dramatic club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs will bring to the S. T. C. stage their presentation of "The Rivals." This production is the annual Founders Day Lyceum.

Appearing in the 18th century comedy are Betty House as the loquacious Mrs. Malaprop, Edward Parry as the popular bumpkin, Bob Acres; and Carter Coghill and Emily Hastings as the sentimental lovers, Faukland and Julia. Also there is Arthur Stuart as Sir Anthony Absolute, Martha Smith and Charles Talley as the intriguing Lydia and Jack, and Hugh Warren in the role of the Irish gentleman, O'-Trigger. Ann Nock plays the maid Lucy, while Mason Cole is David and Dan Wexler is Fag. Walter Woodson is playing Sir Anthony's coachman, Thomas, and Jean Smith is Boy.

"The Rivals" was first presented at Covent Garden in 1775, and was given its first performance in the United States in 1786. Since that time it has been constantly revived. "The Rivals", which is one of three outstanding English plays between Shakespeare and Ibsen, appeared recently on Broadway.

In the S. T. C. production the comedy has been divided into two parts rather than in acts and is being presented against a stylized setting which suggests the 18th century rather than reproduces it. According to Miss Wheeler this type of setting is more difficult to work with and marks another achievment of the Dramatic groups in employing it.

The costuming of the play is to be the authentic dress of the eighteenth century with costumes direct from the Dramatic Club's own wardrobe.

Tickets for the production went on reserve this morning in the Registrar's Office.

Library Features "The Virginian"

The library in line with Founders Day, Saturday, March 6, has set up an exhibition featuring editions of "The Virginian" with the dates ranging from 1900 to 1947. These annuals have been placed on a special table available to anyone interested in looking through them. They cannot be taken from the library.

There is also a table featuring Dr. Wynne's new book "Philosophers of Education." Also shown on display are some other pamphlets and books written by Dr. Wynne on education, including "Guide to the Principles of the New General Method," "Modern Theories in the Educative Process," and "Methods and Standards of Rating Prospective Teachers."

Pan Hellenic Dance Slated For April 17

Pan Hellenic annual dance will get underway on April 17 in the college gymnasium from 8:30 to 12.

The general chairman for this dance is Jane Taylor with Be Be Geyer serving as chairman of decoration and Gwen Cress as chairman of the social committee. Anne East and Winnie Beard will head the ticket committee while Virginia Walsh will act as music chairman and Jessie Pickett as

Continued on Page 4

75 Girls Receive Bids To Cotillion

Club Will Soon Plan Pledge Initiation

The Cotillion Club issued bids to 75 girls Tuesday, March 2. This dance organization is for the promotion of interest in social dancing and it sponsors two dances annually. The girls to whom invitations to membership were extended are Ann Norfleet, Martha Hatchet, Arnette Snead, Jean Farmer, Yvonne Burch, and Nancy Tennis.

Also Jeanne Gilman, Carolyn Calhoun, Joan Cunningham, Nancy Cooke, Jane Vaughan, Anne Barnes, Betty Atkinson, Agnes Dingledine, and Mike Malone. Bids were issued also to Louise Taylor, Jane Lyons, Nancy Shackleford, Frances Cregar, Rosemary Hamlet, Nancye Gillie, and Mildred Evans; to Marjorie Featherstone, Jackie Moody, Betty Ann Barker, Nance Bisco, Lee Robertson, Betty Romeo, Charlotte Jones, Margaret Ann Shelton, and Bobbie Wall.

Invitations also went to Harriet Butterworth, Judy Rucker, Jean Webb, Jean Jones, Romine Mahood, Betsy Gravely, Anne McMullen, and Martha Smith. They were extended to Love Bentley, Iris Sutphin, Jean Carter, Claudia Anderson, Betsy Carper, Peggy Crowder, Frances Minter and Sue Brewbaker; also to Jett Carter, Chick Ritchie, Nancy Camper, Charlotte Willis, Charlotte Williams, Virginia Westbrook, Oriana Robertson, and Mary Jane Stansberry. They went to Ann Kemp, Ann Lynch, Joanne Shomo, Minta Critzer, Jackie Carter, and to Bobbie Pollard; also to Betty McRee, Laura Lee Stickley, Kitty Sheffield, Betty Spenser, Paulette Pifer and Virginia Pifer.

Also among those receiving bids Emilee Doub, Helen Edgerton, Carolyn Ackess, Mary Lee Gardner, Mary Crowder, and Helen Agnew, Nancy Watts and Frances Allen.

Plans will soon be made for the Spring Cotillion dance and for the initiating of the goats.

WSSF Drive To End Thursday, March 4

World Student Service Fund Drive, sponsored by the Public Affairs committee of the "Y", opened on the S. T. C. campus last Thursday, February 26, and will end tomorrow, March 4. The goal for Farmville has been set for $1.000.

June Cregar, general chairman of the drive, has urged that each student give generously and that the girls don't forget their pledge of $1.00.

The money contributed here will be sent to the Headquarters and will be used for books, clothing, medicine and money to aid the struggling students in foreign countries in their efforts to re-educate and re-build their lands.

Notice

There are still some tickets for the Detroit Symphony left both in the S. T. C. section and that allotted to the general public. These tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Watkins' office.

Krueger Conducts Detroit Symphony In STC Auditorium

Concert To Be Given March 22, 8:30

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra, will be heard in the State Teachers College auditorium on Monday night, March 22, at 8:30. This is the first appearance of a Symphony Orchestra of this type on our campus.

The orchestra will be conducted by Dr. Karl Krueger, a native of Atchison, Kansas. Dr. Krueger received his education at Kansas State University, the University of Vienna, and the University of Heidelberg. He had served his apprenticeship as assistant to Frank Schalk, director of the Vienna Imperial Opera, and had created two major orchestras and audiences in this country before he accepted his position in 1942 as conductor and music director of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Henry Reichold, a leading industrialist of Detroit, is the president of the orchestra, and is a devotee of orchestral music. President Reichhold and Conductor Krueger have the same ideal of orchestral style, that of Vienna. They share the conviction that great music satisfies a human need. President Reichhold felt the Detroit Symphony Orchestra should have its Own home, so he bought Music Hall, which is now the acknowledged center of Detroit's music.

The orchestra will come to our College from Richmond where they are appearing on Sunday. The first hour of the concert will be broadcast as the regular Sunday night program of the Detroit Symphony.

The concert is open to the general public. Tickets are on sale now and as our auditorium is limited in space, we urge you to secure your tickets and reserve seats as soon as possible.

First Prize Goes To Junior Class In Sing Contest

Second Place Given To Sophomore Skit

Climaxing the February competitive sing contest and winning first prize of five dollars awarded by the Y. W. C. A., the Junior class presented its skit under the direction of Ruth Radogna, on Saturday night, February 28.

Depicting a Sadie Hawkins Day the sing was voted best by a group of judges chosen from the administration by Miss Bralley, faculty advisor to the sing committee, and members of each class elected by the class presidents. Among the judges were Mrs. Hamner, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, and Miss Sutherlin. Student representatives to the group were Jean Bentley of the Senior class, Margie Miller of the Junior class, Pat Davis of the Sophomore class, and Peggy Peery of the Freshman class.

The first in the series of sings was "The Flapper Age." Presented on February 7, under the direction of Shirley Young and Peggy White, the Sophomore class sing received second place in the contest.

On February 14, under the direction of Gee Gee Yonce, the Senior class presented its skit, a satirical observation of the receiving line at the Junior dance.

The Freshman class sing had its setting in the college post office. Romine Mahood and Nancye Gillie directed this scene depicting the everyday occurrences in and around Mrs. Cox's domain.

The sing contest which lasted for four weeks was a class competition activity that just started on the S. T. C. campus this year. In previous years, "sings" have been sponsored by classes and class groups who wished to provide some entertainment on Saturday nights and to provide a chance to display class talent. The "Y" is planning to continue this competitive contest and to make it an annual event.

Swords, Dueling Pistols Aid Rivals Defense of True Love

Hear ye! Hear ye! The greatest contest ever witnessed by man will be fought before your very eyes on the night of the 5th of March at eight o'clock in your own college auditorium! And not only that, there will be a repeat performance the following night for the benefit of our returning alumnae and the crowds that are turned away on Friday night. Various weapons will be used in the defense of true love — swords, dueling pistols, walking canes, and riding whips. "The Rivals", as Richard Sheridan calls his famous classic, is an 18th-century comedy spiced from beginning to end with broad wit and clever dialogue.

Bob Acres, "the country bumpkin", clowns earnestly in his attempt to gain "polish", his curls and cotillions being his most difficult social graces to master. To defend his honor as a gentleman, he is persuaded to challenge his rival, Jack Absolute to a duel, the cause as mis-stated by Acres being "due to their both undressing the same lady."

Mrs. Malaprop's "g u s h i n g" manner is made mirthful by her love of polysyllable words and her "malapropisme". Even at her age, she is a spry old schemer who delights in directing her niece's love life and in carrying on secret flirtations of her own through her impish little maid, Lucy.

Odds life! And who else have we here for your entertainment? Why none other than Sir Anthony Absolute, the creaking-jointed old gentleman who loves to indulge his temper at the slightest excuse. Pho. Pho! Here comes Sir Lucius O'Trigger with his merry Irish tune slipping a note (and a kiss) to his little ambassadress, Lucy again, to deliver to his lady of the day.

And zounds! Here's the fellow that's responsible for half the trouble—the lover and duo-personality, Captain Jack Absolute alias Ensign Beverley. This strange situation is most confusing to one Lydia Languish who loves Beverly, yet hates Absolute.

The duel at Kings Mead Field is spectacular to behold! Odds, swords and blades! But wouldn't you like to learn of the outcome?

Another treat to feast your eyes upon are the gorgeous costumes—velvet coats and dresses, satin breeches, gold buckles, and feather fans. All the finery of 18th-century wealth, found in our own costume department, will be displayed by the actors.

The stylized unit set is a contrast to the usual realistic stage setting. This type of scenery leaves much to the imagination, but yet is attractive and interesting in itself. Stylized stage design aims to suggest mood and period, rather than to portray.

The S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs have been hard at work for many weeks on the preparation of this

Continued on Page 3

MRS. T. J. STARKE

Virginia Theater Presents Romance

Robert Porterfield's Barter Theater will present "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" by Rudolf Besier, on Wednesday, March 10, in the State Teachers College auditorium.

The nineteenth century play in three acts tells the love story of Elizabeth Barrett, an invalid, and Robert Browning.

Under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Farmville, tickets for the play may be purchased at the table in the hall. The time tickets will be sold will be indicated by Ann Nock, who is in charge of publicity for the entertainment.

The play takes place in Elizabeth's bed-sitting room of the Barrett home on Wimpole Street in London. Without great deviation from the established facts of the story, Mr. Besier has achieved a story "both sentimentally moving and dramatically stimulating to all imaginations."

Gravely Announces Production Theme

The curtain will rise on the first act of the Freshman Production "The Season's Merry-Go-Round" at 8:00 p. m. on March 12 in the S. T. C. auditorium. A fantasy featuring the seasons of the year, the Production will consist of four acts, it has been stated by Betsy Gravely, Freshman from Martinsville in charge of the Production.

According to Betsy the Frosh are almost ready to present a spectacular review of the season that will make the alumnae hide its head in shame. Even the animals, from bears to rabbits, fireflies to skunks will be on hand to make sure their production is a gala affair added Betsy.

In charge of the Dancing Committee for the Production are Jean Farmer, Oriana Robertson and Mary June Stansbury. Singing is under the direction of Virginia Westbrook and Joanne Shomo. Heading the Props Committee are Ann Kemp and Agnes Dingledine. Narrative is headed by Nancy Gilley and Martha Smith. Chairman of the Costume Committee is Betty MacCree. Tickets and Publicity are under the direction of Helen Agnew and Mary Leigh Meredith.

Tickets for the Production will go on sale next week in the halls and will also be sold at the door. There will be no reserved seats, the price of all tickets will be 25c.

Tickets Available

Tickets for the Detroit Symphony, the Barter Theater presentation of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" and the Dramatic Club play "The Rivals" are all on sale or reserve in various places. Concert tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Watkins or downtown at Pattersons. Tickets to the Barter Theater are on sale at the table in the hall.

Varied Program To Begin At 10:30

Class of '23 Returns For 25 Celebration

Farmville Alumnae will be guests here Saturday, March 6, to attend the annual Founder's Day program which will celebrate the sixty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the college.

The exercises will also celebrate the reunion of the "eight" classes and the twenty-fifth reunion of the class of 1923.

Every alumnae chapter in the state will be represented and all contributions will be made to the Jarman Organ Fund which has as its goal, $25,000. The sum of the fund will be announced on Saturday night before the play.

Faculty members and students who have cooperated in the drive are: Dr. Moss, chairman of faculty contributions; Miss Ruth Cleaves, chairman of Student contributions, assisted by Tucker Winn, Jeanne Bentley, Violet Ritchie and Peepee Brooks; Mrs. Ruth Coyner, chairman of the alumnae drive, and Miss Virginia Bedford, Faculty chairman.

At 9:30 A. M. on Founder's Day the Farmville Alumnae Chapter will serve coffee in the Student Lounge to visiting alumnae and their friends. The Granddaughters Club will assist in the serving and they will also act as hostesses throughout the day. At 10:30 A. M. there will be an Alumnae-Student Program in the auditorium.

It will be as follows:

Hymn— America.

Invocation—The Reverend O. Worth May, Pastor of John's Episcopal Church.

Welcome—Mrs. T. J. Starke, President of Alumnae Association.

Reunion "Eight" Classes.

Solo— Joyce Broaddus Adams.

1. One Who Yearned Alone— Tschaikowsky.

2. Through The Years—Youmans.

Alumnae Chapter Reports— Mrs. M. B. Coyner, Alumnae Secretary.

Presentation of Student Gifts— Tucker Winn, President of Student Body.

Response—Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, President.

Solo—Mr. Ralph J. Wakefield, Instructor of Music.

1. Impatience—Schubert.

2. The Rain—Linden.

Announcements—Miss Virginia Bedford, Chairman of Founder's Day Committee.

Alma Mater.

Piano Accompanist—Miss Emily L. Clark, Assistant Professor of Music.

The Alumnae Luncheon and Business Meeting will be held in the Recreation Hall at 1 P. M. During the afternoon from 4 to 5, Dr. and Mrs. Lancaster will be hosts at an "open house". A formal dinner for Alumnae and all students who wish to attend will be at 6 P. M. in the dining hall. Members of the reunion classes will be seated according to their class.

On Friday and Saturday nights at 8 P. M. in the auditorium the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler, will present The Rivals by Robert Sheridan.

Among the many alumnae expected to attend the Founders Day exercises are the following members of the "eight" classes.

Class of 1888.

Mrs. E. E. Hundley, the former Susie Campbell, of Farmville.

Mrs. Kate Ferguson Morehead of Salem.

Class of 1898.

Mrs Odelle Warren Bonham of Bristol, class president.

Miss Ida Greever of Burke's Garden.

Class of 1908.

Mrs. Fred Hanbury, the former Virginia Blanton, of Farmville.

Mrs. John Monieure, the form-

Continued on Page 3

Let's All Work Together

On March 6, State Teachers College will observe Founders Day—an annual custom for more than 25 years.

Last year, bad weather was responsible for a disappointingly small attendance. This year, granted fair skies, there should be several hundred former students on hand and all of us will give them a hearty welcome.

No college has a finer nor more loyal group of alumnae than State Teachers College. They mean much to the college now, will mean more in the future, and the college means a great deal to them. We must make Founders Day a real home-coming in every sense of the word.

Founders Day is a time for the reunion of alumnae with all the joys that accompany seeing old friends and classmates and talking about former college experiences.

On Founders Day, there will be a program of entertainment including a luncheon, a dinner, and a special performance of the Dramatic Club's spring play.

Founders Day may be likened to the annual business meeting of the stockholders of a corporation. All the people of Virginia are stockholders in State Teachers College. Alumnae may be called Preferred Stockholders. They have a special interest in the success of the enterprise. Doing something for a cause that is bigger than oneself is always inspiring. No more important task faces Virginia today than the education of young women as teachers and home makers.

And so on Founders Day 1948, the alumnae and students of State Teachers College will assemble for a meeting of Preferred Stockholders with the directors of the corporation to hear reports on the accomplishments of the past year and to plan for the year ahead.

It is the hope of all of us that great progress will be made towards the goal of $25,000.00 for the Jarman Organ Fund, and that we may lay plans for strengthening the work of the college and extending its influence throughout the Commonwealth.

May we all work together to make March 6 a memorable date in the history of Farmville.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster

Guest Editorial Writer

Why Founders Day?

Founders Day is an annual celebration at State Teachers College, but do we know why it is observed? Why do the alumnae return each year to join with others in honoring our college? In other words, do we, the future alumnae, realize the significance of Founders Day?

State Teachers College represents the accumulation of educational efforts of more than a hundred years. The progress of the State and the school system has been reflected in its growth, and through the years the primary purpose of educating well-prepared teachers has been its theme.

On March 7, 1884, a bill was passed in the Virginia General Assembly which provided for a teacher-training institution at Farmville. Founders Day, recognizing this event, is always held on the Saturday nearest March 7. It is observed by the students, administration, faculty, and alumnae to honor the founding of the college and the members of that session of the Assembly.

Today, there are fifty alumnae chapters of the College. In addition, there are many alumnae who are not members of any chapter. The majority of the chapters are active, aiding the progress of our College in many ways. Through their organized efforts, they helped tremendously in erecting the Student Building, which is, in reality, a monument to Dr. J. L. Jarman's faith in his students, alumnae, and friends. It took great faith for this undertaking, but the building stands today as proof that the faith was justified.

The Granddaughters Club is another fitting example of our alumnae devotion and loyalty to Farmville. This year, there are ninety-nine members in the club who are upholding the ideals and standards of our College which their mothers and grandmothers helped to establish. As one walks about our College and campus, he sees more signs of this love and loyalty in statuary and other gifts, tokens of their affection through the years.

This weekend, on March 6, we at State Teachers College are welcoming our alumnae at a Founders Day which marks the sixty-fourth anniversary of the founding of our College. In recognizing the approach of this important event, we wish to extend a special welcome to the "Eight" classes whose reunion is this year. All graduates from Farmville carry in their minds a picture of the College as it was when they were students. The State Teachers College today may be different from the one they remember, but they will find the same Farmville spirit, that will never change. The true Farmville spirit is living in our alumnae everywhere. May we, the present students, further the ideal of Joan of Arc, "Forward with God", and unite with them in preserving the tradition by pressing forward to serve.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168

Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Mary Aleise Helmer ..... Editor-in-Chief
Betty Spindler ..... Managing Editor
Frances Treakle ..... Business Manager

Betty Nachman ..... News Editor
Jackie Eagle ..... Feature Editor
Betty Burchett ..... Sports Editor
Lela Bouldin ..... Social Editor
Anne Orgain ..... Advertising Manager
Virginia Bailey ..... Circulation Manager
Betty Minton ..... Photographer
Mary Davis ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Martha Frances Morrison, chief editorial assistant; Tom Allen, Helen Arrington, Winifred Beard, Melbaie Booth, Griswold Boxley, Jean Cake, Adelaide Cobb, Addie Dodd, Jane Gray, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Joyce Hamlet, Nancy Jessee, Ann Lynch, Mary Lee Meredith, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Janice Slavin, Martha Smith, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Jean Tolley, Helen Williams, Bobbie Wall.

Business Assistants

Martha Ashby, Elsie Love Bentley, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Mildred Garnett, Connie Heather, Ginny Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancy Jensen, Nancye Litz, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Virginia Parris, Sparkie Poteat, Barbara Saunders, Ethel Shockley, Norma Soyers Mary Lou Wilson.

In Charge Of This Issue
ANNE ORGAIN and BETTY NACHMAN

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3, 1948

Puddin' 'n Sauce

Tee, hee, we fooled ya! You thought there was going to be a column here, didn't you? There would have been but—now this is a deep dark secret which only those poor enlightened souls who can read may know—the writer of Puddin 'N Sauce was vitally stricken Monday with Spring Fever.

Bed Check

Congratulations to the Juniors for winning the "Sing" contest. You were really superb, girls! Incidentally, we've heard rumors that we might get the one and only "Thaude Clornhill" 'n his orchestra to play for Spring Cotillion. How 'bout that? Ugh!

Many thanks to Mrs. Landrum and Orchesis for a wonderful recital. They were really tops!!

Making a mighty cute twosome around the campus this week-end were B. J. Fortune and Fred Chapman.

It was really grand, 'n seemed quite natural, having so many of our ole S. T. C. gals back with us over the week-end! Hurry back again!

Best wishes are in store for Helen Loaderee and Bruce. She's another of our fair lasses who has that certain little thing for her third finger, left hand.

Having a wonderful time in Appomattox last week-end were Margaret Jones and Nancy Foscue.

Homeward bound was Helen Smith 'n we hear she had an "A-1" big time.

Stork congratulations are in order for Mr. Meyers for the little girl born to them last week-end, and to Dr. Lancaster too on his ninth grandchild, born last week. We don't smoke cigars but any cigarettes the proud papas want to hand out will greatly alleviate the bumming situation.

Tilson is still aglow cause "Ting" came from Florida 'n is to be in Richmond 'till school is out! Good 'nuff we'd say!

Anne Robinson must've had a great big time in Petersburg with her Billy, 'cause she's already counting the seconds 'till she goes again.

Jean Turner, Pat Paddison, Evelyn Davis really had a rare time at Nachman's house over the week-end. Turner, say ya wanta go back to the beach just once more?

Isn't Erna Earle Waters the happy one these days!? Joe's coming home from France soon.

If you don't think Military Academy Dances are the stuff.—Just ask Bickle and Mantiply. Hear

Continued on Page 2

Good Students Disclose Secrets of Successful Study

By Dr. D. M. Allan
of Hampden-Sydney College

First Honor Roll students do not chip off their 90's and 95's by sheer brain capacity or arduous toil. They have definite techniques of study. Such is the result of 25 questions put by the Psychology Department to more than 100 students just after exams. Fourteen who averaged close to 90 on all their courses report that they follow most of the rules given below religiously:

1. Underline key phrases and sentences in each paragraph.

2. In memorizing passages read and recite orally at the same time or read and write it out, i. e., impress on the mind through two senses.

3. Take orderly notes in classes whenever the instructor lectures or gives explanations of difficult material.

4. Associate abstract terms or principles with good illustrations.

5. Memorize by rhythm and grouping facts together.

6. Keep your class notes and reading notes for each subject together.

7. Make sure you understand textbook material before learning or memorizing it.

8. Have your eyes tested by a good oculist or optometrist every two years or so.

9. Work all the problems or do all the collateral readings assigned by the instructor.

10. Make it a rule to do thoroughly and well any task, theme or special assignment given you.

11. Get papers, notebooks and problems in on time.

12. Do not spend much time studying with other students. Rely on your own efforts.

Of these rules Nos. 3, 9, 10, 11 and 12 are practiced by at least three fourths of the top flight students. Those which failing students were found to neglect to a considerable extent were Nos. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, and 12.

"The Rivals"

Gallop Pole

What Improvements Can Be Made About the Food?

Lucy Thrift: To have more vegetables and less starchy foods.

Sarah Dickerson: The last time I commented on this, my bill was raised $5.

Carolyn Calhoun: More!

Page Heath: Not to have too much of the same things.

Kitty Sheffield: Better breakfasts.

Jean Carter: I haven't any appetite anyway. Ask the girls at table 38.

Claudia Anderson: Too many T-Bone steaks.

Janice Gallion: I'd like to have some bananas

Betty Jordan: The same kind of food, but more of it.

Betty Spencer: More milk.

Gladys Monk: The food is O.K., but we need more of it

Peg Perry: I think it could be seasoned a lot better.

Ann Lynch: They have improved on leafy vegetables, but I still don't think they have enough.

Max Acree: Not to have scrambled eggs on Monday morning. It's such a let-down after the week-end.

Margaret Beasley: To cook the food more thoroughly.

Cab Overbey: I suggest that we have more raw vegetables and have the cooked ones well done.

Margie Bean: More food for Sunday night supper

Helen Arington: Better preparation.

Jesse Overbey: Less starches.

Lorraine Sommardahl: No bananas, I'm allergic to them.

Judy Hughes: More of what is good and less of what isn't.

Kitty Carmichael: More cherry pie. Two for each table!

Connie Loving: That is a good question.

Evelyn Davis: Better food will foster less noise. No call downs.

Edna Earle Waters: More of the good food and less of the bad.

Ruth Radogna: I wish somebody would stop paying their tuition with cauliflower.

Pat Paddison: Fewer "starchy" foods and more food, but good food.

Jean Turner: More pork chops and less liver!

Mildred Jones: More cocoa and all bran muffins.

Emma Mae Pittard: For Goodness Sakes, give us raw carrots instead of cooked ones.

Understanding the Creation Adds Fans For Orchesis

JANICE SLAVIN

We had read, heard, and thought a great deal about the Orchesis recital. At last it arrived. Many of us went with the idea that we probably wouldn't enjoy anything to do with modern dance. In other words we went through curiosity, but we left wanting more of it — modern dance, that is.

The "Greeting" got us started. From then on in we were glued to our seats. Between each episode we would stop and try to read the program in spite of the dimly lighted auditorium.

"Color in Dance" was greatly enjoyed by all as was "Red Study" a solo passage as an air primitive dance form showing the predominance of red over black.

"Yellow Study", a large group passage which shows the dominance of yellow over black, but also reveals the closeness of yellow to white in the color spectrum, was in words of a college student just plain "cute". The costumes were appealing—and my, the expressions on some of our friends' faces as they danced through that number!

"Blue Study" held us in awe by the beauty of the music and the costumes. It was a group composition in which blue and black are almost inseparable as twilight when it meets the deepening blackness of night.

"A Woman Votes" is a whimsical, satirical study of women. This was a howl! Really, girls, we should feel insulted! Remember to brush up on politics before you are twenty-one. "Stampede" was another howl! This was a hilarious ride in rodeo style. "Gossip" reminded us of the little gag—What are the three means of communications? Answer—Telegraph, telephone, and tell a woman (laugh here).

"Fashion Dances" was enjoyed immensely. Whew, that green dress and that black number! The music and dancing were most impressive. In fact the entire program was delightful. Over night we have all become modern dance fans. Congratulations to Mrs. Landrum and to Orchesis for a grand bit of entertainment!

STC Suffers First Defeat From Bridgewater Saturday

The previously undefeated Farmville Varsity Basketball team suffered a 22-17 loss at the hands of Bridgewater College here Saturday afternoon.

The game started at 4:00 p. m. here in our gymnasium with Farmville in the center to receive the ball, officially opening the game. When a foul was called against Bridgewater, the Farmville center clicked with her shot to make the first point in the game.

At the end of the first quarter, Bridgewater led by a score of 10-5. During the second quarter Farmville made only one point, while Bridgewater gained an additional nine points, making the score at the half, 19-6.

At the end of the third quarter, Bridgewater still led, 20-9, and retaining their lead throughout the fourth quarter, came out victorious, 22-17.

A "Silver Offering" was collected by the A. A. for the Jarman Organ Fund.

Class Games To Begin March 9

The annual class volleyball and basketball games will begin Tuesday afternoon, March 9.

This marks the opening of the intramural competition games for the color cup. The winning class will be awarded ten points for each color score toward the color cup.

Only girls who have partielpated in eight practices are eligible to play.

So far only 15 points have been posted toward the color cup. These points are to the credit of Red and White for Hockey and Swimming. Besides Volleyball and Tennis the classes will compete for color points in Tennis, Archery, and Softball.

Bedcheck

Continued from Page 2

they treaked off to A. M. A. this weekend

Well, now that spring is here 'n the boys' thoughts have turned to what the girls have been thinking of all year, we leave you promising to be back with all the news next week!

THROUGH THE HOOP

By TONI ALLEN

This week brings to a close another chapter in basketball history, with William and Mary's Chester Giermack receiving honors as outstanding point man.

Southern Conference Standings:

Conference Games	W.	L.	Pct.	Pts.	O.P.	All Games W.	L.	Pct.
North Carolina State	12	0	1.000	887	530	26	2	.929
George Washington	13	3	.813	985	852	18	6	.750
North Carolina	11	4	.733	799	725	18	6	.760
Maryland	9	6	.600	843	826	11	12	.478
Davidson	10	7	.588	949	875	18	8	.692
Virginia Tech	7	5	.583	612	586	14	8	.636
Duke	8	6	571	722	684	14	11	.560
Wake Forest	8	7	.533	820	815	17	10	.630
William and Mary	8	7	.533	768	744	12	9	.571
South Carolina	8	7	.533	825	830	12	10	.545
Washington and Lee	5	9	.357	767	885	7	17	.292
The Citadel	4	8	.333	529	657	8	9	.471
University of Richmond	4	9	.308	706	720	7	14	.333
Furman	3	10	.231	644	827	11	15	.423
Clemson	3	14	.176	919	1076	6	17	.261
Virginia Military	1	12	.077	610	753	3	17	.150

Virginia College Standings:

	Against Each Other W.	L.	Pts.	O.P.	All Games W.	L.
Roanoke College	13	1	653	491	16	1
Virginia Tech	12	2	761	648	14	8
William and Mary	8	3	570	489	12	9
Virginia	7	3	586	499	16	10
Hampden-Sydney	7	6	692	601	12	10
Randolph-Macon	5	6	503	523	13	11
Richmond Uni	4	9	680	709	7	14
Emory and Henry	1	3	218	225	8	12
Va. Military	3	9	564	606	3	17
Washington and Lee	2	8	484	590	7	17
Lynchburg College	2	9	458	632	3	16
Bridgewater	1	6	287	443	3	15

True Love

Continued from Page 1

play. Midst all the toil of rehearsals, paintings, and sewing, there has been fun. Through teamwork and cooperation, they have learned many things and the hours in the auditorium have been well spent. It is with thrilling anticipation that we look forward to "opening night" when their talents are presented to all comers for their approval.

Pickett Will Attend SwimmingConference

Jessie Pickett, president of the H2O Club, will represent Farmville State Teachers College in the swimming meet at Madison College Saturday, March 6.

Madison College will play host to students and faculty from 16 women's colleges in the State of Virginia on Friday and Saturday, March 6, 7.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss organization of a Virginia athletic federation of college women. The events of the two day conference will include a basketball program and a swimming meet from all the colleges competing.

Other students who will also attend the conference to participate in the swimming event are Martha J. Leavitt, Peepsie Brooks, Pat Paddison, and Ann Langbein.

Basketball Team Journeys North To Challenge Panzer, Hofstra

The S. T. C. varsity basketball team left this morning on their trip to New York to play against Hofstra at Garden City, N. J. and Panzer at East Orange, N. J. The game against Panzer is a return engagement, since their team journeyed to Virginia last winter to play on our campus.

The ten girls who will make the trip accompanied by Miss Iler are Alice Ann Abernathy, Marjorie Beane, Winifred Beard, Jeanne Bently, Betty Burchett and Jane Burchett. Also Helen Landeree, Patsy Ritter, Betty Romeo and Mary Young.

The team will be gone for six days and plan to stay at the Governor Clinton Hotel in New York City.

The two northern games end the varsity team's season of six games with three wins and one loss so far. The scores of those games were STC 46-Roanoke 21, STC 25-Madison 24, STC 51-William and Mary 22, and STC 17-Bridgewater 22.

On the Ball

Spring is just around the corner! And then it's out into the sunshine for those much desired bronze tans and best of all to keep our school girl figures. What could be a better way to kill two birds with one stone, than to play tennis, softball, golf, or archery?

Just grab your tennis racket and beat a path to the courts to get into shape for the approaching play-offs in the class contests—points for the color cup, you know. Tennis is not only fun, out with a little experience in weilding the racket, and sure foot movement, you can easily be on your way to being a good player.

One! Two! Three strikes, you're out in the ole' ball game. Softball rules are simple, and once you learn to catch a ball and make the bat and ball connect, you're all set for an hour of good activity.

Bullseye! String up that bow and let the arows fly! If you can't find time to join classes, make archery an extra curricular activity. To be a good archer, it takes skill that can come only from practice.

Founders Day

Continued from Page 1

er Grace Beale, of Baltimore.

Class of 1918.

Mrs. S. C. Maddox, the former Katherine Anderson, of Lynchburg

Miss Kitty Watkins of Farmville.

Class of 1928.

Mrs. Roger Cushwa, the former Virginia Updike, of Louisa, class president

Class of 1938.

Mrs. O. B. Watson, Jr., the former Madelene McGlothlin, of Front Royal, class president.

Representing the class of 1923 which is celebrating its twenty fifth reunion will be Miss Mary Nichols, Mrs. George M Jeffers, the former Ann Meredith, and Mrs. W. E. Smith, the former Elizabeth Moring, all of Farmville.

National officers of the Alumnae Association are:

Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke—President.

Miss Helen Costan — First Vice President.

Mrs. Mildred Dickinson Davis—Second Vice President.

Miss Rachel Royal—Director.

Miss Henrietta Dunlop—Director.

Mrs. Ruth Harding Coyner—Secretary and Treasurer.

Miss Mary Clay Hiner—Chairman, Alumnae Fund Committee.

Dulles stresses training of youth in principles of freedom.

Dance Recital Poll Reveals Awareness Of Face, Figure

The dance recital audience of last Thursday, February 26th were asked to help decide for themselves what dances they liked best, and what could be sent to represent S. T. C. at the Greensboro Arts Forum, March 11, 12, 13th.

Of the 450 people attending, 316 voted on the questions of their first and second choice numbers, indicating on the form their school status by classes—Freshmen, Junior or Senior, by adult or faculty or community member. The largest number of votes cast were by the Freshman class which numbered 108 with Sophomores 92, Juniors 46, and Seniors 27. This grouping did not include any of the 35 participating members of the Dance Club, and the members of the staging and lighting committees of the Dramatic Club.

"Color in Dance" and "Fashion Dances" polled the highest number of votes. The "Blue Study" was the most popular choice of the whole color theme with the "Red Study" running second.

"Fashion Dances" as a choice, shows either a clothes consciousness or awareness of a "face and a figure" because only one section of it was danceable.

Using the figures or tolly as an indication of a trend toward types of programs liked by a student or S. T. C. audience, they indicate a preference toward modern dance, whether it be abstract as in color or light and beautiful as in fashion.

As a result "Color in Dance" will be reworked so that there will not be any pauses between studies while yellow, for instance will either be completely re-chorreographed or the color green inserted. The whole will be shown at the Greensboro Arts Conference without benefit of lighting but color in costumes such as dance leotards and skirts (short) will be allowed.

"Haven't you missed the folks that used to live next door?"

"No. The reason is that they never borrowed anything, so we hardly knew them."

All watches repaired here are tested on the

Watch Master

It tells us immediately what is wrong when you bring your watch in. It proves to you that it's right, when you take it out.

Garland, Newman & Whitten

George C. Brothers, Jr., Mgr.
Farmville, Va.

I T S . . . .

Newberry's

For Popular

Sheet Music

Whatever your C'eaning Needs Are Take them to K'eanwell Cleaners

Our Food Is The Best

We Aim To Please YOU

Come in and try a Plate Lunch or Sandwich

COLLEGE SHOP

Cole Porter Album
By Andre Kostelanetz
Mendelssohn's Reformation Symphony
Helen Traubel Sings
Excepts from Wagner's Tristan Und Isolde

WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

Let COLLINS Florist serve you with flowers.

FROM

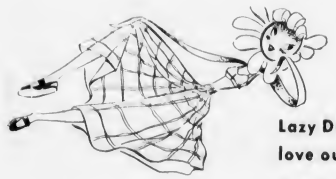
Collins Florist
Phone 181 or 4

Come In and Try Our

Delicious Hamburgers

Southside Drug Store

Meet Me At . . .



Shannon's for

the Finest Food In Town

Shannon's, Inc.

FOR THE REST FOR YOUR MONEY CALL

Chas. E. Burg
Florist

Lazy Daisies love our easy-going CASUALS

One-l-love, two-l-love . . . why not have o whole wardrobe of "informals" to match the goy clothes you wear when you're at ease? Young and flattering . . . on wedges or little heels.

Rhythm Step

MORE than just beautiful shoes

SMALL FRY

Davidson's

THE HOUSE OF QUALITY
Farmville, Va.

Select one of our Smart new Toppers. In soft Spring colors, gray, blue, aqua and green.

$19.95 to $39.95

THE HUB DEPT. STORE

Corduroy Jackets

In Maroon, Brown Green and Tan

$16.50

VERSER'S

"We Serve To Please"

Meet the Faculty

Miss Mary B. Dabney

S. T. C. needs no introduction to Miss Mary B. Dabney, our favorite and only swimming teacher, whose official capacity is Assistant Professor of Physical Education.

Miss Dabney is another native Virginian, her hometown being Lynchburg. Her alma mater is the college of William and Mary from which institution she received her B.S. degree. She has an M.A., too, from the Teachers College of Columbia University.

Before joining our S. T. C. faculty four years ago Miss Dabney supervised physical education in the Lynchburg elementary schools, and she taught at E. C. Glass High School in the same city.

Though Miss Dabney professes a general interest in sports, she refuses to be specific about it. We do know, however, that a good bit of her school time is spent in a bathing suit.

Miss Dabney tells us with just a touch of pride that she's "a wonderful gardner." She must be particularly gifted when spring comes, for her vegetables come up in Lynchburg. Another of Miss Dabney's hobbies is collecting United States stamps, which she says she's been about almost ever since she was born.

The organizations claiming Miss Dabney's membership are Chi Omega (a social fraternity), the American Association of University Profesors, the Virginia Education Association, the National Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, and the National Association for Physical Education of College Women.

Here at school Miss Dabney is advisor to this year's senior class, to Alpha Kappa Gamma, to the H2O Club; she's an honorary member of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority, and she's a faculty member of the Student Standards committee.

Pan-Hel Dance

Continued from Page 1

chairman of the clean-up committee.

Besides the members and pledges of each sorority, each sorority will be allowed to invite ten girls.

CARA NOME and WHITMAN'S CANDIES

Gray's — Truly a Drug Store

Many Other Useful Gifts

For any Special Occasion

Give Cigarette Cases and Lighters

MARTIN'S

NORCROSS

America's Best-loved Greeting Cards

LOOK FOR JUST KITTENS

NEXT WEEK AMERICAN ORCHIDS

Patterson Drug Co.

List of Sorority Pledges Announced

Seventy one students pledged sororities as a result of rushing held last week according to Nancy Chambers, president of Panhellenic Association.

Eight girls pledged Sigma Sigma Sigma. They were Carolyn Calhoun, Emilee Doub, Agnes Dingledine, Charlotte Jones, Betty McRee, Ann Cabel Overby, Bobbie Pollard, and Charlotte Williams.

Pledging Gamma Theta were eight girls. They are Helen Casey, Minta Critzer, Jean Hobbs, Barbara Medley, Paulette Pifer, Lee Robertson, Martha Smith, and Fleda Wilkinson.

Eleven girls pledged Alpha Sigma Alpha. They are Helen Agnew, Betty Ann Barker, Marian Breeden, Nancy Bruce, Mildred Evans, Nancy Gillie, Ann Kemp, Anne McMullen, Romine Mahood, Frances Minter, and June Ritchie.

The fifteen girls pledged Mu Omega are Margaret Beasley, Harriet Butterworth, Nancy Camper, Jean Cardoza, Kitty Carmichael, Frances Cregar, Anna Hall, Gaynelle Johnson, Jane Lyon, Nancy McCracken, Jane Mountjoy, Nancy Shackleford, Mary Brownink Smith, Annette Snead, and Charlotte Willis.

Nine girls joined Pi Kappa Sigma. They are Betty Atkinson, Mary Crowder, Helen Egerton, Mary Lee Gardner, Betsy Gravely, Rosemary Hamlet, Ann Lynch, LaVergne Tuck, and Virginia Westbrook.

Alpha Sigma Tau has eight new pledges. They are Elsie Love Bentley, Yvonne Burch, Jacqueline Carter, Nancy Cook, Joan Cunningham, Peggy German, Betty Jane Spencer and Dolores Waterfield.

Joining Theta Sigma Upsilon were six girls. They are Peggy Crowder, Dorothy Gann, Constance Heather, Helen Pomeroy, Anne Robertson, and Jean Sanford.

Six girls pledged Phi Zeta Sigma. They are Shirley Clark, Ann D. Joyner, Esther Slagle, Jane Smith, Bobbie Wall, and Jacqueline Yates.

New pledges were entertained by the sororities at informal parties in the chapter rooms Thursday night.

Gibson Girls Play Roles For Easter

Swirling skirt fullness plus the shirt waist blouse with the old-fashioned look have certainly made the Gibson girl of today. The blouses have a narrower shoulder line, and the skirts remain wide and flared. You can buy either the fussy or tailored blouse. They can be found in white and beautiful pastels, crepe, and cotton. The gay-colored scarf, or ribbon bows add much to the neckline of the blouse.

Skirts are very lovely when worn over a ruffled petticoat. To have a wide ruffle at the hemline is very attractive.

The S. T. C. girls are now planning for their Easter outfit, and here seems to be a lot of navy for this spring. A dark Gibson girl skirt together with a wool topper will make a lovely Easter suit. The topper may be in one of the new pastels, or may be kelly green. Any of the new shades will probably be suitable.

So girls, while the Gibson girl clothes are still such a big buy, you can't have any trouble in selecting your new spring wardrobe.

Sorority Entertains At Banquet Saturday

Members of Phi Zeta Sigma Sorority celebrated Founder's Day with a banquet in the Tea Room, Saturday, February 28, and a tea Sunday afternoon in their Chapter room.

Guests for the occasion were Dean and Mrs. W. W. Savage, Dean Martha Smith Smith, Miss Ruth Gleaves, and Dr. and Mrs. George W. Jeffers. Also Miss Grace Mix, Miss Rosemary Elam and Miss Winnie Hiner, advisor.

The alumnae present were, Gin Radogna, Virginia Treakle and Rachel Brugh. Also, Lucille Cheatham Mosley, and Mary E. Grizzard.

"Hey, what are you doing?" yelled the foreman.

"I'm just sharpening a pencil," called back the bricklayer.

"Well, don't let anybody see you. That's a carpenter's job, you know."

First Signs of Spring Appear With Squeak Of Beds as Energetic Girls Arrange Rooms

Spring is almost here! One can be sure now. How? Well I'll tell you. Not by the weather, nor even the blouses that are beginning to replace sweaters, not by the few brave pre-season sunbathers nor even the birds and the bursting buds. The way you can really tell is by the unusual amount of spring cleaning and furniture rearrangement that has been going on.

You'd think that in six months everyone would have just about exhausted the limited ways of arranging the furniture in their rooms. Bet you would be surprised! And you probably are, every day. If they can't find anything else different to do you are just as apt to stumble over a bed which has been placed in the middle of the floor as not.

The sudden desire to completely change everything around seems to hit you at almost any time of day. There are some energetic souls who can even summon up enough energy to push beds and so forth around before they have had their breakfast! Then there are always those who move things around very hastely between ten and eleven. And oh, what a noise a bed can make as it is pushed protestingly across the floor! Just ask anyone who happens to live underneath one of these "movers".

Of course this isn't the only type of "spring-cleaning" that has been going on. Notebooks, dresser drawers, closet shelves, book cases, desk drawers have all come in for their share too. And half of those who have gone in for this type of cleaning have discovered later, to their dismay, that they threw away the very things that they need the most. That is when the hair starts to fly.!

Ah yes, as sure as the flight of a robin, all this energetic cleaning and re-arranging means that Spring is truly on its way. So if you haven't done your spring-cleaning yet you'd better hurry and get it done or Spring will steal a march on you and get here before you are ready for it. And you wouldn't want that to happen, would you?

United States becoming a net importer of oil.

MAKE LUNCHTIME REFRESHMENT TIME

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

Attend
Barter Play

The Rotunda

Congratulations
New Editors

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10, 1948 | No. 20

SCA to Hold District Meet Wednesday, March 17

Members To Discuss Students' Problems

High school and elementary studenets of this area will gather in Farmville March 17 for the annual meeting of the Farmville district of the Student Cooperative Association. Martha Alice Wilson, of Farmville High school, is president of the district Association, and will preside at the sessions

The meeting will be held at the State Teachers College and will be under the supervision of Dr. Edgar M. Johnson, of the Education Dept. of S. T. C., program director and State advisor for the Association.

Panel discussions on "What is involved in choosing a career", "what is involved in going to college", "What is the future in various occupations", and for the elementary group, "what it takes to succeed in high school" will be features of the one-day conference.

Student leaders for the panel discussions will be James Harris, Blackstone, Jane Allen, Amelia, and students from Crewe and John Randolph high schools not yet named. Faculty supervisors thus far selected to assist with the discussions are Deucalion Gregory, Amelia, and Miss Martha Hammock, Blackstone.

Dean W. W. Savage, of S. T. C., R. H. Ballagh, principal of Farmville high school, Forrest E. Finney, regional supervisor of the Danville Consultation Service and Kenneth Lee, of the Rehabilitation Service, State Dept. of Education, will meet with the discussion groups as consultants.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of S. T. C. will welcome the students at a morning session preceding the discussions. At this session S. T. C. students will present special music and folk dances; Chris Alexander, of Farmville, will conduct a devotional period; and Miss Jesse Patterson, associate professor of music at S. T. C. will lead group singing.

Miss Frieda Koontz, of Richmond, state secretary of the SCA will summarize the days proceedings at a closing session.

The Student Cooperative Association is the student branch of the Cooperative Education Association. The latter group is the Virginia branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Through the activities of the student association as it operates in each high school, improvement is sought in citizenship, cooperation, health, recreation and self-improvement. In most Virginia schools, the association headed up student activities.

Other officers of the Farmville district association are Julia Stankey, Blackstone, vice-president and Leda Jane Jones, Amelia secretary

Spindler Takes Colonnade Prize

Anne Motley, editor of the Colonnade, has announced that the first prize in the poetry contest was awarded to the poem "Wonderin," written by Betty Spindler.

"Solitude" by Martha Smith captures the second prize while Barbara Andrews is the third place winner with "The Storm". Honorable mention goes to Iris Coleman for her "Morning and Evening."

The first 1948 issue of the Colonnade will be out the first of next week, featuring the first two prize poems.

Dedicated to the late Dr. Jarman be the Colonnade staff, the cover of the March copy will be a print of Student Building done in linoleum block by Helen Arrington. Dr. Jarman's picture is frontispeace; tributes to him have written by Virginia Tindall and Jackie Eagle.

Appearing in this issue are the honorable mention short stories, "Jalousie", by Ouida Poteat, illustrated by Eula Ayres; "Jamoke" by Harold Griffin, illustrated by Mary Rattray; and Jacqulin Burkholder's "They Didn't Know Her".

A new feature of this issue is a section of movie reviews. Mary Rattray has been chosen for this and she will review "The Treasure of Sierra Madres" and "Henry V". Mildred Davis and Jackie Eagle did the book reviews.

High Schools Meet For Play Tournament On March 18, 19, 20

The annual one-act play contest to promote interest in dramatics in Virginia high schools will be held on this campus March 18, 19, 20.

This year the contest will be held in co-operation with the Virginia High School League. The winners from this regional contest will go to Charlottesville where they will compete with the winners from the other regions.

The contest this year will be similar to those held here in the past in that a cup will be awarded each night to the winner.

Jane Hunt Ghiselin is the student chairman in charge of the contest here, and the affair is under the direction of the Dramatic Club and Miss Wheeler.

Program Released For Next Concert; 4 Works Featured

Kreuger to Conduct Detroit Orchestra

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra conducted by Karl Krueger will present a concert featuring the music of Bach, Beethoven, Smetana, and Wagner in the auditorium of State Teachers College at Farmville on Monday, March 22 at 8:30 p. m.

The orchestra which reached acclamation with Ossip Gabrilowitch conducting disbanded soon after the death of the famed conductor, but was reunited by the pioneering spirit of Karl Krueger, present conductor, and the financial aid of German born Henry H. Teichhold, founder of Riechhold Chemical Corporation.

Mr. Krueger studied music under Nikisch and was for some time with the Vienna Philharmonic and the Vienna Opera. The former conductor of the Kansas City Philharmonic was for a number of years the only native born American among the conductors of this country's sixteen principal symphonies.

The one hundred and ten piece orchestra, the nation's biggest and one of the world's greatest, has for many months played to a 5,000 seat capacity filled Masonic Temple in Detroit. In February 1945, they played a Carnegie Hall Concert.

The program to be presented here contains "Five Dances from Suite No. 2" by Bach, "Symphony No. 5 in C Minor, Op. 67" by Beethoven, "The Moldau" by Smetana, and "Prelude" and "Love Death" from "Tristan and Isolde" by Wagner.

The works which are to be presented are now being reviewed by the music classes, and some time before the program Miss Patterson will hold an open review session. Any students who desire to know more of the compositions to be played may attend this preview program. An announcement of the time will be made in the dining hall.

Student Body Elects Jones As Chairman

Margaret Jones, senior from North Wilkesboro, N. C., was elected chairman of nominations and elections at a student body meeting held last Wednesday, March 3.

Margaret is business manager of May Day, a member of the Commercial Club, and of the Philosophy Club.

East, Spindler, Rattray Will Head Publications As New Editors-In-Chief

PICTURED ABOVE Are Anne East, left and Betty Spindler, right. A picture of Mary Rattray, editor of the Colonnade, was not available at this time.

Committee Names Business Managers

3 Students Made Managing Editors

Anne East, junior from South Boston; Betty Spindler, junior from Blackstone; and Mary Rattray, junior from Long Island, New York have been appointed editors-in-chief of the three college publications, according to an announcement by Margaret Jones, chairman of nominations and elections.

Serving as business managers of the publications will be Edna Earle Waters, junior from Portsmouth; Ann Orgain, junior from Alberta; and Betty Jefferson, junior from Danville. The new managing editors will be Joyce Webb, sophomore from Norfolk, Love Bentley, junior from Hampton; and Anne Lansebein, sophomore from Berryville.

Anne East, who succeeds Nancy Chambers as editor of the Virginian, served this year as managing editor, and her sophomore year as a member of the Virginian staff. She was elected to the student council her freshman year.

Betty Spindler, who succeeds Mary Helmer as editor of the Rotunda, acted as managing editor of the paper this year, and also served as business manager for some time. She was a reporter her freshman year and feature editor her sophomore year. Betty was also active in the French Circle. She will begin her duties after the March 17 edition.

Mary Rattray, who succeeds Anne Motley as editor of the Colonnade, was a member of the magazine staff this year. She has had printed some of her short stories and poems, and has done illustra-

Continued on Page 4

Freshmen Present Production Friday

The curtain will rise on "The Seasons' Merry-go-round", the Freshman production, at 8 p. m. on Friday night, March 12. According to Betsy Gravely, general chairman, the production is sure to be acclaimed a success by all. With four seasons enacted in the four acts, there will be variety enough to suit every taste, she added.

Betsy also remarked that from the first snow-fall of winter to the fall of the last leaf of autumn almost anything can be expected.

The Costume committee of the production is under the direction of Betty McRee. Heading the Props committee are Ann Kemp and Agnes Dingedine. Narrative is under the management of Nancy Gilley and Martha Smith. Singing is being directed by Virginia Westbrook and Joanne Shomo. Jean Farmer, Oriana Robertson and Mary Jane Stansbury are directing the Dancing. Tickets and publicity are being handled by Helen Agnew and Mary Leigh Meredith.

Continued on Page 3

Orchesis Members To Attend Meeting

Twelve representatives from Orchesis will represent the college at the Arts Conference, at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina which begins Thursday, March 11th through Saturday the 13th. Outstanding leaders from all of the arts will lead discussions, lecture on, as in dance, teach master classes.

Walter Gropius, professor and chairman of the School of Architecture of Harvard University, Robert Gwathmey, painter and teacher of painting along with John Crowe Ransom, poet, critic and teacher of writing and Carnegie Professor of Poetry at Kenyon College will be featured on Thursday. They will lead discussions after their criticisms of students' work in each respective field of creative endeavor. The evening's program of that day will consist of three experimental one act plays written by student authors and performed by the Playlikers of the University of North Carolina. Lennox Robinson, director of the Abbey Theatre, Dublin will lead a discussion of the student written plays on Friday morning.

Martha Hill, a founder of the Benevington School of the Dance, holder of the American Academy of Physical Education Award, teacher of dance at both Bennington and New York University will teach a master class where students from 18 colleges will participate. In the afternoon of that same day there will be a student choreography program in which Farmville will be among the following participating: Appalachian State Teachers College, Coker Col-

Continued on Page 4

Orchesis To Sponsor Cunningham Recital At S T. C. March 31

Merce Cunningham, artist of modern dance will appear here in a concert sponsored by Orchesis, the Modern Dance Club on March 31st at 8 p. m., in the college auditorium. Mr. Cunningham, who is on his first nation-wide solo tour, has just participated as Lecturer on Dance for the Inter-Collegiate Arts Conference held at Vassar College, February 27-29. This conference is similar to the one held at Greensboro each year.

Mr. Cunningham, who was born in the northwest, was for several years a leading soloist with Martha Graham's Company. He has been associated with the Genevieve Jones Studio in Pittsburgh, St. Bernard's School in New York City, has taught at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, and at the McCune School in Salt Lake City, and at present conducts professional classes in New York City.

Mr. Cunningham has presented concerts in Richmond at St. Catherine's School, Pittsburgh, Pa., Bennett College, and New York where with a newly formed group the third heretofore appeared as a soloist he premiered "Dominoes", a group composition to the "Three Dances" for prepared pianos by John Cage. "The Seasons" a ballet with music by John Cage and decors by Isamu Noguchi, which Mr. Cunningham choreographed and in which he performed, was commissioned by Ballet Society, which is the outstanding ballet group headed by

Continued on Page 3

Methodist Students To Hold Conference In Farmville Soon

"Some Problems Facing College Students" is the theme of the Methodist Student Conference which begins March 13 and continues through the 14. This meeting will be held in Farmville this year.

Representatives from the University of Virginia, Washington and Lee, V. P. I., V. M. I., Randolph-Macon, and William and Mary will be present to discuss the theme. Miss Ruth Ann Bailey extends a cordial invitation to all students to attend the meetings and hear the various speakers. There will also be group discussions. Special entertainment will be provided by the local Methodist students.

For more information about the conference, a complete schedule of activities with time, place, and date has been posted on the bulletin board in the hall.

Emily Post Wouldn't Approve Of Usual STC Dinner Sports

JANICE SLAVIN

Tis 5:45 P. M. and all through the "dorms" everyone is starving. Will six o'clock ever come? "I hope we have cherry pie for dessert", echo a dozen voices. (Note to dietian—hint! hint!)

The gong finally sounds! The halls come alive! There is a mad stamping and tramping in the direction of the dining hall! Ah, suspense! What could we be having for supper? If it's floating biscuits, we always see huge stream of people coming out of the dining hall where upon we immediately join the gang and head downtown. The first thing a given waitress says downtown is, "You say you all didn't have a very good supper"? If, however, the meal is good in the dining hall, we save a great deal of money.

Upon arriving in the dining hall, we transact business that cannot be transacted at any other time until the bell rings. After the blessing, we play "pig" which results in some poor creature's scraping the plates. This usually involves turing milk over in someone's lap or some equally great mishap.

The next thing to do is to comment on the food. This is done thoroughly. "Who is paying their tuition in cauliflower and bananas"? Comes the comment from several nearby critics.

Supper is really our time to enjoy ourselves. At breadfast and lunch, we are too far asleep or have our minds too much on classes to relax. At supper we really cut loose. There is a great deal of singing while we are waiting for desert. Jokes and wisecracks really fly as does a little water now and then. This last matter is strictly "hush-hush". We gather that Emily Post wouldn't exactly approve—the dining hall authorities either.

Things are getting pretty rowdy by now. The bell sounds to quiet down before more violent steps are taken. Ah, saved by the dessert! Announcements come next and then the stampede again. At last we get back to the room—alive? Yes, but how, we'll never know!

Philosophy Club Initiates Members At Dinner March 8

The Philosophy Club iniated new members at a dinner given March 8 at the Farmville High School. The guest speaker for the evening was Dr. D. M. Allen of the Philosophy department at Hampden-Sydney College. Faculty guests and honorary members present were Miss Pauline Cumper, Dr. Floyd Swartfeger, and Mr Robert H. Ballagh.

Mary Gin Goff, president, pinned the club ribbons on Elizabeth Diewer, Mary Miles, Jean Thomasson, Nancy M. Taylor, Katherine Rainey, Margaret Jones, Azele Hutt, Wilda Hunt, Frances Fears, Dorothy Bevard, and Mrs. Helen Poteat.

Also, Harriette Sutherlin, Eleanor Putney, Lucie Addleman, Tharon Holmes, Nancy Rushing, Wilma Allen, Gertrude Walker, Elsie McAllister, Nancy Squire, and Sara Squires.

Also, Dorris Ballance, Jean Babb, Betty Bondurant, Estaline Anderson, Naomi Davey, Lois Callahan, Doris Lanier, Marion Peake, Frances DeBerry, Grace Kappes, June Clark, Dot Tuck and LaVerne Tuck

College Choir Names Watson Secretary

Jackie Watson, Junior from Hampton, was elected secretary of the College Choir at a meeting held March 3. Jackie succeeds Jane Fox as secretary

Jackie has been very active in choral work, and is a member of the Madrigals. She assumed her new duties immediately after election.

Other officers of the Choir are Virginia Tindall, president, June Cregar, vice-president, and Augusta Hargan treasurer

Congratulations!

Our heartiest congratulations go this week to the newly appointed publication heads. We believe that the girls appointed by the publications board are capable and will admirably perform the duties of editing our three publications.

We think that these girls will edit a newspaper, yearbook, and magazine of which you will be justly proud. However, no matter how well suited or well trained these students are, they cannot work alone. They will need the support of the entire student body, faculty, and administration.

These students have accepted their positions; they have willingly agreed to give of their time and energy to bring the three publications to you. Don't let them down. Don't be quick to criticize their every move. Their primary thoughts are to give you the publications you want. Give them your full support.

Congratulations, girls, and the best of luck.

School Politics

We always look forward to an election of any type, whether it be merely to vote on some minor issue or to elect our major officers. However, despite the fact that our system of elections is a good one, it is always weakened by "politics". Regardless of what we say publicly, we know this is true. "Politics" are so intangible we cannot point to any one group that employs underhand devices in order to secure a position for its candidate. Yet, we know such groups exist. As long as they exist we shall maintain that they are unfair to the best interests of both the students and the College.

"Politics" always play a large part in our national elections, but we are not justified in tolerating them on our campus for that reason. Each of us should be familiar with the ability of every candidate and vote for the person best qualified for the responsibility entailed in conducting the affairs of the office. The welfare of our college should guide us in our selection—not friendship or "organization support". In the past, too many officers have been elected because they were "cute" or had powerful sorority backing. This is demonstrated by the fact that very few of our officers are non-sorority girls. When a sorority and non-sorority girl are nominated for the same office, the sorority girl is generally the victor.

We should not be misunderstood in this matter. We are not directing our criticism solely at "sorority politics". Instead, it is directed at any group or clique that would, and does, promote election activities that disregard the rules of fair play, the best interests of the College, and honest evaluation of the ability of individual candidates.

In the near future, we shall elect both our major and minor officers. It is our earnest hope that these elections will be fair, impartial, and dedicated to the progress of our College. We owe it to the girls who are nominated and to the entire student body.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168

Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Mary Aleise Helmer ..... Editor-in-Chief
Betty Spindler ..... Managing Editor
Frances Treakle ..... Business Manager

Betty Nachman ..... News Editor
Jackie Eagle ..... Feature Editor
Betty Burchett ..... Sports Editor
Lela Bouldin ..... Social Editor
Anne Orgain ..... Advertising Manager
Virginia Bailey ..... Circulation Manager
Betty Minton ..... Photographer
Mary Davis ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Martha Frances Morrison, chief editorial assistant; Toni Allen, Helen Arrington, Winifred Beard, Melbide Booth, Griswold Boxley, Jean Cake, Adelaide Cobb, Addie Dodd, Jane Gray, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Joyce Hamlet, Nancy Jessee, Ann Lynch, Mary Lee Meredith, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Janice Slavin, Martha Smith, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Jean Tolley, Helen Williams, Bobbie Wall.

Business Assistants

Martha Ashby, Elsie Love Bentley, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Mildred Garnett, Connie Heather, Ginny Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancy Jensen, Nancye Litz, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Virginia Farris, Sparkie Poteat, Barbara Saunders, Ethel Shockley, Norma Soyers Mary Lou Wilson.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10, 1948

Founders Day A Success

The response shown by the student body in cooperating with Founders Day and to the drive for the Jarman Organ Fund was indeed indicative of the true "Farmville Spirit" and commendations have been voiced from many sources. The way we willingly and eagerly supported the drive showed the alumnae that we, the present students, have the welfare of the college at heart as much as they and that we need not wait till we have graduated to add to the building up of the school.

We have noted with pride the figures which were submitted by Dr. Lancaster, as of March 6, to the Alumnae assembly and we think that every one should know too the contributions made so far. The student body made an all-out drive which amounted at the last count to $1,977.55; the faculty and Administration $603.50; The Alumnae and friends of the colleges contributed $3404.26. The grand total coming to $5,984.75, and there are still some pledges yet to be paid. The drive will remain open until December 31, 1948.

All this goes to prove that Dr. Jarman's admonition to "cooperate" was followed by "his girls" this year and that the spirit of it extended beyond to the girls who came after his retirement. Truly this past Founders Day was a monument of proof that the spirit of Farmville is such a vital thing that everyone who enters here cannot help but feel and respond to it.

We deserve the congratulations we were given on the Organ Fund, now let us see to it that we do as much to merit commendation in anything else we are asked to do; always remembering that we are "the spirit of Farmville."

Puddin' 'n Sauce

Ho-hum-another day, another dollar. Another dollar rung into the till of Shannons, Southside, Pattersons or some other eatin' establishment downtown, that is; and life goes on here at S. T. C. in the same old vein of books, classes, eats, dates, and chatter. With March there came a yen to be out in the sun—when there is a sun—and the first symptoms of that lethargic state we call Spring fever have appeared.

In spite of the impulse to take it easy, however, 'most everyone is hard at work on such things as Freshman Production, "The Creation", and countless other affairs from planning an Easter outfit to scheming on ways and means of turning a young man's fancy lightly to thoughts of love.

There are two groups who do deserve to "rack back" on their laurels and let us congratulate them on jobs well done. Our praise and grateful appreciation go to the basketball team for the honors they brought to our Alma Mater and to the Dramatic Club for their hilarious production of "The Rivals"—it was superfluous! The orchids we throw go to the footlight stars and to the indispensable, unseen "backstage actors" who managed the costumes, setting, props, and lighting, equally.

Gallop Pole

If you were a returning alumna, what improvements would you like to see?

Jackie Burkholder: Some new sidewalks.

Esther Marsh: Some improvements in the walls of the rooms.

Trudy Walker: I would like to see the stairs repaired.

Betty Reun: The dining hall doors closed on time.

Jessie Overby: Escalators.

Dot Haynie: Town privileges for freshmen all week.

Margie Featherstone: I'd like to see "Joanie" back.

Edith DuVal: Livelier dining hall.

Arnette Snead: Better food.

Helen Pomeroy: A school full of men.

Emma Mae Pittard: It's hard to tell.

Helen Arrington: Suites of rooms for all four classes.

Jean Oliver: Less confusion and more food.

Dot Dodd: Better food, I guess, since you are asking me in the dining hall.

Bobby Pollard: Water fountains on all floors in the freshmen and sophomore dorms.

Helen Casey: Improvements in the pressing rooms.

"Gin" Tindall: I'd like to see the dome of the Rotunda lighted up again.

June Cregar: I'd like to see the Rotunda painted.

Elenor Bass: I'd like to see a light by the telephone on 2nd floor annex (Main Building) and lights on the stairways in Student and the Rotunda steps fixed.

Hank Hardin: The mergence of Hampden-Sydney and S. T. C.

Peggy Chapman: I'd like to see food that we had Founder's Day.

Joyce Hamlet: What's wrong with it now?

Jean Cunningham: More entertainment for visiting dates.

Jane Gray: More sophomore privileges and less lighting problems.

Jane H. Ghiselin: Classes three months a year with pay.

New Look, Modern Improvements Didn't Phase Returning "Girls"

Founder's Day has come and gone and with it came the return of a good many of S. T. C.'s former graduates and students. Back to their old Alma Mater they came not only to meet their former classmates again but to see, too, the S. T. C. and students of today. For many of them it was their first trip "home", and many more of them hadn't been back in years. We wonder what their first impressions were as they entered the Rotunda or roamed the halls. In spite of the "new look" and all that goes with it in this present-day world, we'll be willing to bet that they didn't consider us so very different from themselves at our age.

When they were freshmen they were probably just as green and awed as was this freshman class at the beginning of the year. When they were seniors they probably wondered just as much about what the years ahead held for them as does the senior class of today.

Doubtless there were times when they wondered if they had passed a certain test or if their lab experiments were going to work out right. They have probably read just as many, if not more, parallels at the last moment as have we. They, too, have sat up in the wee hours of the night studying, gabbing and eating.

Just because they graduated five ten, twenty or more years ago doesn't prove that they didn't have just as much fun in college as we are having.

But enough about opinions, ours or theirs. Didn't it make you wonder as you saw old classmates greet one another just how you are going to feel when you come back to a Founder's Day to see your old (they will be old if you wait long enough before coming back) classmates?

This time they were the "old girls", we the students, but it won't be so very long before we'll be the "old girls" and a new crop of gay young things will have taken our place.

Who knows what sights will greet us on some Founder's Day ten or twelve years from now. Will all of our professors be sporting gray hair or bald domes? Or will their places have been usurped by some of our present classmates maybe? How many inches deeper will the Rotunda steps have been worn? Will we sleep in Annex or in Cunningham — or will new dorms have been built complete with atomic power-heated water and separate dining halls? Who knows, S. T. C. may have grown into a university. Of course that

Continued on Page 3

See the Frosh Friday

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,

We think that a word of thanks to the authorities or board, who are in charge of obtaining lyceum artists, is in order. They have certainly done a splendid job in bringing the top-flight artists here and putting the Lyceum programs on a new level. It's really a pleasure to dress up in our "best bib and tucker," even to come from Junior and Senior building in bad weather, to hear them now.

The Spalding concert was above comparison with some of the programs which we remember in the past, and his remarks concerning our attention prove that we have come far from the days when we listened in bored, polite silence while some "lesser light" did his best though sensing that we weren't really listening.

Dr. Lancaster and his committee have done the most marvelous job. We congratulate them! It is almost needless to say how thrilled we are, too, to have the Detroit Symphony here. Three cheers for Miss Patterson.!

Thanks again and yet again to those who have done so much to bring the artists here, we really appreciate their effort to help us grow culturally; and we hope that by our attendance and enthusiastic approval we can show them that their consideration is well received.

Appreciative Students

Bed Check

Those of you who decided not to trek to unknown parts for the week-end, but to stay at your Alma Mater got quite a thrill seeing the alumnae return and having the chance to meet and talk to them about their expenences while attending STC.

The play, "The Rivals", was a huge success (as all of Miss Wheeler's are). The players really put themselves into their parts. Who can ever forget Mrs. Malaprop's perpendicular sayings or Rabbit Parry as the brave (?) Bob Acres and Talley as the dashing Capt. Jack. Our congratulations to every member of the cast for a superb performance.

There were a great number of new twosomes seen on campus this weekend, among them being Jean Babb and Ben Lake Critzer, and Rives Edwards and Doug Price.

Gin Bailey, brickbats to you for not writing to poor little lonesome Jess. Now instead of receiving 400 letters that day, he only got 399. Foi shame.

From all reports, the motor trip to Newport News taken by some STC-ers proved to be quite eventful, eh?

Our basketball team had a knocked-out time in New York as can be easily seen by the bags under their eyes. We wonder why Bentley blushes so about a certain incident. Congratulations, team. We are terribly proud of you for winning.

How was Claude this week-end, Molly? That man sho is cute.

Ask Nancye Litz about her week end in Charlottesville and watch her drool. It seems she made quite an impression on those U. Va. boys.

Dorris Ballance was amazed when she found out that those socks she had knitted for her special fellow didn't fit. Make them larger next time, Dorris.

Ruby, Dick certainly did look lonesome and forlorn while you were at home.

Seemed just like old times having Grace Loyd and Hilda Bennett back with us. Wish you all would come back more often.

It seems that spring fever is hitting all of us. Everyone is going around with a dreamy expression on their faces, and the Seniors are bemoaning the fact that graduation is so close at hand.

Betty Jordan got a letter from a certain mysterious someone. It couldn't be that the gentleman is cutting out Freddy, could it?

Guess this is about all the gab for this week so until the next, a fond farewell, goodnight, and remember the Bedchecker is watching you.

JUDITH JEFFREY

Barter Actors Will Present Play

The heart-warming story of the poet Robert Browning's release of the poetic genius of Elizabeth Barrett from the bonds of a possessive, arrogant family will be unfolded in the Barter Theater's presentation of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" Wednesday, March 10, in the State Teachers College auditorium.

The play, which enjoyed great success on Broadway with Katharine Cornell in the starring role, and later was made into a movie hit, is based on the courtship of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning. It depicts with imaginative fervor the struggle of Browning to overcome the austere reserve in which the Barrett's surrounded Elizabeth's sensitive nature.

The cast is largest of any Barter production, the costuming is authentic of the period, and the lines and situations in the play catch with remarkable success the drama and pathos in one of the great love stories of literature.

Judith Jeffrey is cast in the role of Elizabeth Barrett and Herbert Nelson enacts the role of the poet Browning. Both have enjoyed favorable receptions here in previous Barter performances.

New Look

Continued from Page 2

would necessitate buying out Farmville in order to have room to expand, but when we see how far Farmville has come since 1894, it seems that anything is possible.

Whatever we find on that future Founder's Day, it's going to be too good to miss. Long live Founder's Day a great old institution!

Collin's Flowers
Make Happy Hours
FROM
Collins Florist
Phone 181 or 4

Intramural Games For Color Points Begin At 7 In Gym

Schedule For Meets Announced Tonight

Class competitions in basketball and volleyball will begin on March 10 and continue through March 17. The schedule for these events was announced by Jane Burchett, president of the Athletic Association, with the teams competing with their sister classes and with classes of the opposite color.

In the basketball schedule the Sophomores and Seniors open the series in a game Wednesday night, March 10 at 7 p. m. The following Monday night, March 15, the Juniors will play the Freshmen in the gym. On Tuesday night, March 16, the Sophomores and Juniors will compete, and on Wednesday, March 17, the Freshmen and Seniors are scheduled to meet. All basketball games will be held in the gym at 7:00 p.m.

On the volleyball schedule, the Freshmen and Juniors are slated to begin the intramural competition in all-Green and White game in the gym Thursday, March 11, at 4:15. The Red and White, Sophomores and Seniors, play next on Monday, March 15 at 4:30. On Tuesday, the Green and White Freshmen, and the Red and White Seniors will occupy the court at 4:00 p.m., and at 5:00, the Sophomores meet the Juniors. The final game will be held Wednesday, March 17, when the Juniors play the Seniors at 4:00 p.m. and the Freshmen challenge the Sophomores immediately following at 5 p.m..

French Circle Gives Radio Show Tomorrow

This week's S. T. C. radio program, which is heard every Thursday over WFLO at 4:30 P. M. will be in charge of The French Circle.

Three members of The French Circle, Betty Spindler, past president of that organization, Dalila Agostini, a French major, and Jacqueline Eagle, this year's president, will interview Helene Capp, French exchange student from Benidet, France. Helene will describe her impressions of the United States and Farmville in particular. In addition, she will contrast American college life with French student life, and she will describe her native Brittany.

Helene Capp came to the United States this fall to complete work on her "license" degree, which requires that she spend some time in an English speaking country. The French degree, "license es lettres" is about equivalent to the masters degree. In Paris, Helene studied at the Sorbonne of the University of Paris.

STC Basketball Team Trounces Hofstra 29-8; Ties With Panzer

S. T. C.'s basketball team returned to the campus Monday from New York where they were victorious in one game and tied in the other.

Last Thursday afternoon at 4 p. m. S. T. C. played Hofstra at Hampstead, Long Island. The score was 29-8 with Farmville the victor. At the half of that game S. T. C. had only a narrow lead over the Hofstra team, but during the second half of the game the team pulled away to build up a large number of points over their opponents. After the game, the team was entertained at dinner at Hofstra, which is a co-ed college of around 2100 students.

Friday, at 4 p. m., S. T. C. played Panzer. Panzer led at the half, and in the last three minutes of the game S. T. C. came from behind, making the points to tie the game in the last twenty seconds of play. The final score was 38-28. Panzer is a physical education college of 300 students. After the game the team had dinner and movies were shown to them of the trip which Panzer made to S. T. C. last year.

Girls who went to New York for the games were: Alice Ann Abernathy, captain; Betty Burchett, Jane Burchett, Jeanne Bentley, Marjorie Beane, Helen Londeree, Patsy Ritter, Betty Romeo, Winnie Beard and Mary Young. Miss Iler, basketball coach, accompanied the team.

Initiation Held For Apprentices

Orchesis Holds Party For Members

Orchesis, the honorary dance organization, initiated fifteen apprentices as members Thursday, March 4. An apprentice, who is chosen from students having had modern dance, fulfills her apprenticeship when she has contributed toward two major productions of the organization. The new members participated in last year's "All Hall," and this year's recital.

Those initiated were Marjorie Boswick, Newport News; Gris Boxley, Louisa; Nancy Chambers, Tillman, S. C.; Hilda Edwards, Hampton; Betty Jefferson, Danville; and Anne Langbein, Berryville.

Also, Ray Philips, Williamsburg; Jesse Lee Pickett, Round Hill; Violet Ritchie, Alberta; Jane Taylor, Pungoteague; Jeanne Tolley, Natural Bridge; Mary Waldrop, South Boston; June Walsh, Richmond; Jennie Sue Webb, Kenbridge; and Barbara Jean Wiley, Lawrenceville.

Farmville's organization was begun almost fifteen years ago and has grown from a small group of "esthetes" of ten to twelve girls to a major organization comprising a membership of nearly forty which includes athletes as well as "esthetes."

After initiation, a supper party was held in Senior rec with the newest novitiates in charge.

Corrinne Baker is president of Orchesis, Mary Ann Morris, secretary, Bebe Geyer, treasurer, and Mrs. Emily K. Landrum is faculty advisor.

STC Represented By 5 At Madison

2-Day Conference Fosters Federation

Sports day was held at Madison College on March 5th, 6th, and 7th with eleven Virginia colleges represented. The five girls representing Farmville were Jesse Pickett, Martha Jean Leavette, Anne Langbein and Elizabeth Motely. Jesse Pickett was the official delegate from S. T. C. and represented the college at a meeting in which the delegates voted unanimously to form a state federation of Athletic Associations for College Women. Another meeting of delegates will be held at R. P. I. some time in April for the purpose of drawing up a constitution.

Swimming and basketball were the two sports emphasized at the conference. Opportunity was given to the girls to try for all official's rating in both of these sports. Basketball games were held Saturday morning and a swimming meet in the afternoon. Farmville entered a team in the swimming meet. Not more than four swimmers were allowed to enter from each college and each girl could enter not more than three events. All events were run off in heats with the best time for the heats declared the winner.

Anne Langbein placed first in the 20-yard crawl and Martha Leavette placed third in the 40-yard crawl. The medley relay was won by Farmville with Leavette Pickett, and Langbein swimming. Jesse Pickett won first place in the diving. In total number of points William and Mary placed first with 35, Hollins was second with 31, and Farmville third with 27.

Colleges participating in the sports day were Madison, Mary Washington, Hollins, Farmville, R. P. I., William and Mary, Mary Baldwin, R. M. W. C., Bridgewater, Radford, and Sweet Briar.

Student Teachers Meet In Library

Students doing their practice teaching this semester met with Dr. Edgar M. Johnson, Tuesday afternoon, March 9 in the college library.

A teacher guidance film was shown which was followed by a discussion.

Others present in addition to the student teachers were Miss Ruth Gleaves and Mr. Robert H Ballagh.

Frosh Production

Continued from Page 1

Tickets for the production went on sale at the table in the hall on Monday. They will be sold there every day this week after lunch and will also be sold at the door. Admission is 25c.

Spanish Students Present Program At March Meeting

The Spanish Club held its monthly meeting yesterday in the audio-visual room of the library at 4 o'clock.

The program began with group singing of "Habia Una Vez" and "Las Chiapanecas". The next feature of the program was a series of short talks in Spanish by members of the beginning class. Ann McMullan discussed "What I Did Yesterday", Gaynelle Johnson outlined "What I Do Everyday", and Lillian Faulconer told a Spanish legend. Following the talks Loida Lahoz sang "La Barca De Oro".

A skit, "The Clever Maid", was enacted by Isaac Velazquez, Martha Hatcher and Craig Cumby. Jean Oliver played a piano solo, "Castles In Spain".

Grace Kappes, assisted by Lila Easley and Catherine Cobb, directed the Spanish Club in a quiz program. The group completed the program singing "La Borrachita" and "Siboney".

Orchesis Recital

Continued from Page 1

Lincoln Kirsten. Presentations sponsored by this society are not open to the public except by subscription and only the finest of all dance forms are given, the idea being one of preserving the best of all dance works past and present. "The Seasons" will be presented again this year as part of the Society's permanent repertoire.

Tickets will be $1.20 for everyone, student, faculty, administration and community. They will go on sale before Easter and immediately following. Seats will be reserved the day before the concert, which is the first day of return after the Easter holidays. Tickets may be obtained from any member or apprentice of Orchesis.

I like exams.
I think they're fun.
I never cram.
And I don't flunk a one.
I'm the teacher.

The look of things this Spring by
Swansdown

Can you think of a place you CAN'T wear this coat? Can you imagine how slim & trim it makes you? Can you appreciate how subtly it flatters your face & figure? Can you resist so much value at such a price? Of course you can't, and why should you. We have it now, in Forstmann Duvana. Sizes 10 to 18.

See it advertised in CHARM

It's Ours Exclusively!

Dorothy May Store

Have Your Kodak Films Developed Here
Southside Drug Store

For satisfying results—Send your clothes to us
Kleanwell Cleaners

Our Food Is The Best
We Aim To Please YOU
Come in and try a Plate Lunch or Sandwich
COLLEGE SHOP

VERSER'S
The complete men's store
Gifts for all occasions
VERSER'S
"We Serve To Please"

Garland, Newman & Whitten
S. T. C. Jewelry
gold-filled
in sterling and
G. C. BROTHERS, JR., Mgr.
Farmville, Va.

IT'S....
Newberry's
for Fresh-Cooked Peanuts!

Flowers for Every Dance or Special Occasion
Chas. E. Burg
Florist

Ballerina by Vaughan Monroe
I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover by Rus Morgan
Beg Your Pardon by Rus Morgan
Manana by Peggy Lee
WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

Meet Me At...
Shannon's for the Finest Food In Town
Shannon's, Inc.

Congratulations!

Our heartiest congratulations go this week to the newly appointed publication heads. We believe that the girls appointed by the publications board are capable and will admirably perform the duties of editing our three publications.

We think that these girls will edit a newspaper, yearbook, and magazine of which you will be justly proud. However, no matter how well suited or well trained these students are, they cannot work alone. They will need the support of the entire student body, faculty, and administration.

These students have accepted their positions; they have willingly agreed to give of their time and energy to bring the three publications to you. Don't let them down. Don't be quick to criticize their every move. Their primary thoughts are to give you the publications you want. Give them your full support.

Congratulations, girls, and the best of luck.

School Politics

We always look forward to an election of any type, whether it be merely to vote on some minor issue or to elect our major officers. However, despite the fact that our system of elections is a good one, it is always weakened by "politics". Regardless of what we say publicily, we know this is true. "Politics" are so intangible we cannot point to any one group that employs underhand devices in order to secure a position for its candidate. Yet, we know such groups exist. As long as they exist we shall maintain that they are unfair to the best interests of both the students and the College.

"Politics" always play a large part in our national elections, but we are not justified in tolerating them on our campus for that reason. Each of us should be familiar with the ability of every candidate and vote for the person best qualified for the responsibility entailed in conducting the affairs of the office. The welfare of our college should guide us in our selection—not friendship or "organization support". In the past, too many officers have been elected because they were "cute" or had powerful sorority backing. This is demonstrated by the fact that very few of our officers are non-sorority girls. When a sorority and non-sorority girl are nominated for the same office, the sorority girl is generally the victor.

We should not be misunderstood in this matter. We are not directing our criticism solely at "sorority politics". Instead, it is directed at any group or clique that would, and does, promote election activities that disregard the rules of fair play, the best interests of the College, and honest evaluation of the ability of individual candidates.

In the near future, we shall elect both our major and minor officers. It is our earnest hope that these elections will be fair, impartial, and dedicated to the progress of our College. We owe it to the girls who are nominated and to the entire student body.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168

Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Mary Aleise Helmer ..... Editor-in-Chief
Betty Spindler ..... Managing Editor
Frances Treakle ..... Business Manager

Betty Nachman ..... News Editor
Jackie Eagle ..... Feature Editor
Betty Burchett ..... Sports Editor
Lelia Bouldin ..... Social Editor
Anne Orgain ..... Advertising Manager
Virginia Bailey ..... Circulation Manager
Betty Minton ..... Photographer
Mary Davis ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Martha Frances Morrison, chief editorial assistant; Toni Allen, Helen Arrington, Winifred Beard, Melbale Booth, Griswold Boxley, Jean Cake, Adelaide Coble, Addie Dodd, Jane Gray, June Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Joyce Hamlet, Nancy Jessee, Ann Lynch, Mary Lee Meredith, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Janice Slavin, Martha Smith, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Jean Tolley, Helen Williams, Bobbie Wall.

Business Assistants

Martha Ashby, Elsie Love Bentley, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Mildred Garnett, Connie Heather, Ginny Howard, Jean Hooge, Martha Hylton, Nancy Jensen, Nancye Lutz, Ruth Rudogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Virginia Parris, Sparkie Poteat, Barbara Saunders, Ethel Shockley, Norma Soyers, Mary Lou Wilson.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 10, 1948

Founders Day A Success

The response shown by the student body in cooperating with Founders Day and to the drive for the Jarman Organ Fund was indeed indicative of the true "Farmville Spirit" and commendations have been voiced from many sources. The way we willingly and eagerly supported the drive showed the alumnae that we, the present students, have the welfare of the college at heart as much as they and that we need not wait till we have graduated to add to the building up of the school.

We have noted with pride the figures which were submitted by Dr. Lancaster, as of March 6, to the Alumnae assembly and we think that every one should know too the contributions made so far. The student body made an all-out drive which amounted at the last count to $1,977.55; the faculty and Administration $603.50; The Alumnae and friends of the colleges contributed $3404.26. The grand total coming to $5,984.75, and there are still some pledges yet to be paid. The drive will remain open until December 31, 1948.

All this goes to prove that Dr. Jarman's admonition to "cooperate" was followed by "his girls" this year and that the spirit of it extended beyond to the girls who came after his retirement. Truly this past Founders Day was a monument of proof that the spirit of Farmville is such a vital thing that everyone who enters here cannot help but feel and respond to it.

We deserve the congratulations we were given on the Organ Fund, now let us see to it that we do as much to merit commendation in anything else we are asked to do; always remembering that we are "the spirit of Farmville."

Puddin' 'n Sauce

Ho-hum-another day, another dollar. Another dollar rung into the till of Shannons, Southside, Pattersons or some other eatin' establishment downtown, that is; and life goes on here at S. T. C. in the same old vein of books, classes, eats, dates, and chatter. With March there came a yen to be out in the sun—when there is a sun—and the first symptoms of that lethargic state we call Spring fever have appeared.

In spite of the impulse to take it easy, however, 'most everyone is hard at work on such things as Freshman Production, "The Creation", and countless other affairs from planning an Easter outfit to scheming on ways and means of turning a young man's fancy lightly to thoughts of love.

There are two groups who do deserve to "rack back" on their laurels and let us congratulate them on jobs well done. Our praise and grateful appreciation go to the basketball team for the honors they brought to our Alma Mater and to the Dramatic Club for their hilarious production of "The Rivals"—it was superfluous! The orchids we throw go to the footlight stars and to the indispensable, unseen "backstage actors" who managed the costumes, setting, props, and lighting, equally.

Gallop Pole

If you were a returning alumna, what improvements would you like to see?

Jackie Burkholder: Some new sidewalks.

Esther Marsh: Some improvements in the walls of the rooms.

Trudy Walker: I would like to see the stairs repaired.

Betty Renn: The dining hall doors closed on time.

Jessie Overby: Escalators.

Dot Haynie: Town privileges for freshmen all week.

Margie Featherstone: I'd like to see "Joanie" back.

Edith DuVal: Livelier dining hall.

Arnette Snead: Better food.

Helen Pomeroy: A school full of men.

Emma Mae Pittard: It's hard to tell.

Helen Arrington: Suites of rooms for all four classes.

Jean Oliver: Less confusion and more food.

Dot Dodd: Better food, I guess, since you are asking me in the dining hall.

Bobby Pollard: Water fountains on all floors in the freshmen and sophomore dorms.

Helen Casey: Improvements in the pressing rooms.

"Gin" Tindall: I'd like to see the dome of the Rotunda lighted up again.

June Cregar: I'd like to see the Rotunda painted.

Elenor Bass: I'd like to see a light by the telephone on 2nd floor annex (Main Building) and lights on the stairways in Student and the Rotunda steps fixed.

Hank Hardin: The inergence of Hampden-Sydney and S. T. C.

Peggy Chapman: I'd like to see food that we had Founder's Day.

Joyce Hamlet: What's wrong with it now?

Jean Cunningham: More entertainment for visiting dates.

Jane Gray: More sophomore privileges and less lighting problems.

Jane H. Ghiselin: Classes three months a year with pay.

New Look, Modern Improvements Didn't Phase Returning "Girls"

Founder's Day has come and gone and with it came the return of a good many of S. T. C.'s former graduates and students. Back to their old Alma Mater they came not only to meet their former classmates again but to see, too, the S. T. C. and students of today. For many of them it was their first trip "home", and many more of them hadn't been back in years. We wonder what their first impressions were as they entered the Rotunda or roamed the halls. In spite of the "new look" and all that goes with it in this present-day world, we'll be willing to bet that they didn't consider us so very different from themselves at our age.

When they were freshmen they were probably just as green and awed as was this freshman class at the beginning of the year. When they were seniors they probably wondered just as much about what the years ahead held for them as does the senior class of today.

Doubtless there were times when they wondered if they had passed a certain test or if their lab experiments were going to work out right. They have probably read just as many, if not more, parallels at the last moment as have we. They, too, have sat up in the wee hours of the night studying, gabbing and eating.

Just because they graduated five ten, twenty or more years ago doesn't prove that they didn't have just as much fun in college as we are having.

But enough about opinions, ours or theirs. Didn't it make you wonder as you saw old classmates greet one another just how you are going to feel when you come back to a Founder's Day to see your old (they will be old if you wait long enough before coming back) classmates?

This time they were the "old girls", we the students, but it won't be so very long before we'll be the "old girls" and a new crop of gay young things will have taken our place.

Who knows what sights will greet us on some Founder's Day ten or twelve years from now. Will all of our professors be sporting gray hair or bald domes? Or will their places have been usurped by some of our present classmates maybe? How many inches deeper will the Rotunda steps have been worn? Will we sleep in Annex or in Cunningham — or will new dorms have been built complete with atomic power-heated water and separate dining halls? Who knows, S. T. C. may have grown into a university. Of course that

Continued on Page 3

See the Frosh Friday

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,

We think that a word of thanks to the authorities or board, who are in charge of obtaining lyceum artists, is in order. They have certainly done a splendid job in bringing the top-flight artists here and putting the Lyceum programs on a new level. It's really a pleasure to dress up in our "best bib and tucker," even to come from Junior and Senior building in bad weather, to hear them now.

The Spalding concert was above comparison with some of the programs which we remember in the past, and his remarks concerning our attention prove that we have come far from the days when we listened in bored, polite silence while some "lesser light" did his best though sensing that we weren't really listening.

Dr. Lancaster and his committee have done the most marvelous job. We congratulate them! It is almost needless to say how thrilled we are, too, to have the Detroit Symphony here. Three cheers for Miss Patterson!

Thanks again and yet again to those who have done so much to bring the artists here, we really appreciate their effort to help us grow culturally; and we hope that by our attendance and enthusiastic approval we can show them that their consideration is well received.

Appreciative Students

Bed Check

Those of you who decided not to trek to unknown parts for the week-end, but to stay at your Alma Mater got quite a thrill seeing the alumnae return and having the chance to meet and talk to them about their experiences while attending STC.

The play, "The Rivals", was a huge success (as all of Miss Wheeler's are). The players really put themselves into their parts. Who can ever forget Mrs. Malaprop's perpendicular sayings or Rabbit Parry as the brave (?) Bob Acres and Talley as the dashing Capt. Jack. Our congratulations to every member of the cast for a superb performance.

There were a great number of new twosomes seen on campus this weekend, among them being Jean Babb and Ben Lake Crizer, and Rives Edwards and Doug Price.

Gin Bailey, brickbats to you for not writing to poor little lonesome Jess. Now instead of receiving 400 letters that day, he only got 399. For shame.

From all reports, the motor trip to Newport News taken by some STC-ers proved to be quite eventful, eh?

Our basketball team had a knocked-out time in New York as can be easily seen by the bags under their eyes. We wonder why Bentley blushes so about a certain incident. Congratulations, team. We are terribly proud of you for winning.

How was Claude this week-end, Molly? That man sho is cute.

Ask Nancye Litz about her week end in Charlottesville and watch her drool. It seems she made quite an impression on those U. Va. boys.

Dorris Ballance was amazed when she found out that those socks she had knitted for her special fellow didn't fit. Make them larger next time, Dorris.

Ruby, Dick certainly did look lonesome and forlorn while you were at home.

Seemed just like old times having Grace Loyd and Hilda Bennett back with us. Wish you all would come back more often.

It seems that spring fever is hitting all of us. Everyone is going around with a dreamy expression on their faces, and the Seniors are bemoaning the fact that graduation is so close at hand.

Betty Jordan got a letter from a certain mysterious someone. It couldn't be that the gentleman is cutting out Freddy, could it?

Guess this is about all the gab for this week so until the next, a fond farewell, goodnight, and remember the Bedchecker is watching you.

JUDITH JEFFREY

Barter Actors Will Present Play

The heart-warming story of the poet Robert Browning's release of the poetic genius of Elizabeth Barrett from the bonds of a possessive, arrogant family will be unfolded in the Barter Theater's presentation of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" Wednesday, March 10, in the State Teachers College auditorium.

The play, which enjoyed great success on Broadway with Katharine Cornell in the starring role, and later was made into a movie hit, is based on the courtship of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning. It depicts with imaginative fervor the struggle of Browning to overcome the austere reserve in which the Barrett's surrounded Elizabeth's sensitive nature.

The cast is largest of any Barter production, the costuming is authentic of the period, and the lines and situations in the play match with remarkable success the drama and pathos in one of the great love stories of literature.

Judith Jeffrey is cast in the role of Elizabeth Barrett and Herbert Nelson enacts the role of the poet Browning. Both have enjoyed favorable receptions here in previous Barter performances.

New Look

Continued from Page 2

would necessitate buying out Farmville in order to have room to expand, but when we see how far Farmville has come since 1894, it seems that anything is possible.

Whatever we find on that future Founder's Day, it's going to be too good to miss. Long live Founder's Day a great old institution!

Collin's Flowers
Make Happy Hours
FROM
Collins Florist
Phone 181 or 4

The look of things this Spring by—
Swansdown

Can you think of a place you CAN'T wear this coat? Can you imagine how slim & trim it makes you? Can you appreciate how subtly it flatters your face & figure? Can you resist so much value at such a price? Of course you can't, and why should you. We have it now, in Forstmann Duvana. Sizes 10 to 18.

See it advertised in CHARM

It's Ours Exclusively!

Dorothy May Store

Intramural Games For Color Points Begin At 7 In Gym

Schedule For Meets Announced Tonight

Class competitions in basketball and volleyball will begin on March 10 and continue through March 17. The schedule for these events was announced by Jane Burchett, president of the Athletic Association, with the teams competing with their sister classes and with classes of the opposite color.

In the basketball schedule the Sophomores and Seniors open the series in a game Wednesday night, March 10 at 7 p.m. The following Monday night, March 15, the Juniors will play the Freshmen in the gym. On Tuesday night, March 16, the Sophomores and Juniors will compete, and on Wednesday, March 17, the Freshmen and Seniors are scheduled to meet. All basketball games will be held in the gym at 7:00 p.m.

On the volleyball schedule, the Freshmen and Juniors are slated to begin the intramural competition in all-Green and White game in the gym Thursday, March 11, at 4:15. The Red and White, Sophomores and Seniors, play next on Monday, March 15 at 4:30. On Tuesday, the Green and White Freshmen, and the Red and White Seniors will occupy the court at 4:00 p.m., and at 5:00, the Sophomores meet the Juniors. The final game will be held Wednesday, March 17, when the Juniors play the Seniors at 4:00 p.m. and the Freshmen challenge the Sophomores immediately following at 5 p.m.

French Circle Gives Radio Show Tomorrow

This week's S. T. C. radio program, which is heard every Thursday over WFLO at 4:30 P. M. will be in charge of The French Circle.

Three members of The French Circle, Betty Spindler, past president of that organization, Dalila Agostini, a French major, and Jacqueline Eagle, this year's president, will interview Helene Capp, French exchange student from Benidet, France. Helene will describe her impressions of the United States and Farmville in particular. In addition, she will contrast American college life with French student life, and she will describe her native Brittany.

Helene Capp came to the United States this fall to complete work on her "license" degree, which requires that she spend some time in an English speaking country. The French degree, "license es lettres" is about equivalent to the masters degree. In Paris, Helene studied at the Sorbonne of the University of Paris.

Our Food Is The Best
We Aim To Please YOU
Come in and try a Plate Lunch or Sandwich
COLLEGE SHOP

Garland, Newman & Whitten
S. T. C. Jewelry
gold-filled
in sterling and
G. C. BROTHERS, JR., Mgr.
Farmville, Va.

STC Basketball Team Trounces Hofstra 29-8; Ties With Panzer

S. T. C's basketball team returned to the campus Monday from New York where they were victorious in one game and tied in the other.

Last Thursday afternoon at 4 p. m. S. T. C. played Hofstra at Hampstead, Long Island. The score was 29-8 with Farmville the victor. At the half of that game S. T. C. had only a narrow lead over the Hofstra team, but during the second half of the game the team pulled away to build up a large number of points over their opponents. After the game, the team was entertained at dinner at Hofstra, which is a co-ed college of around 2100 students.

Friday, at 4 p. m., S. T. C. played Panzer. Panzer led at the half, and in the last three minutes of the game S. T. C. came from behind, making the points to tie the game in the last twenty seconds of play. The final score was 28-28. Panzer is a physical education college of 300 students. After the game the team had dinner and movies were shown to them of the trip which Panzer made to S. T. C. last year.

Girls who went to New York for the games were: Alice Ann Abernathy, captain; Betty Burchett, Jane Burchett, Jeanne Beutley, Marjorie Beane, Helen Londeree, Patsy Ritter, Betty Romeo, Winnie Beard and Mary Young. Miss Iler, basketball coach, accompanied the team.

Initiation Held For Apprentices

Orchesis Holds Party For Members

Orchesis, the honorary dance organization, initiated fifteen apprentices as members Thursday, March 4. An apprentice, who is chosen from students having had modern dance, fulfills her apprenticeship when she has contributed toward two major productions of the organization. The new members participated in last year's "All Hail," and this year's recital.

Those initiated were Marjorie Boswick, Newport News; Gris Boxley, Louisa; Nancy Chambers, Tillman, S. C.; Hilda Edwards, Hampton; Betty Jefferson, Danville; and Anne Langbein, Berryville.

Also, Ray Phillips, Williamsburg; Jesse Lee Pickett, Round Hill; Violet Ritchie, Alberta; Jane Taylor, Pungoteague; Jeanne Tolley, Natural Bridge; Mary Waldrop, South Boston; June Walsh, Richmond; Jennie Sue Webb, Kenbridge; and Barbara Jean Wiley, Lawrenceville.

Farmville's organization was begun almost fifteen years ago and has grown from a small group of "esthetes" of ten to twelve girls to a major organization comprising a membership of nearly forty which includes athletes as well as "esthetes."

After initiation, a supper party was held in Senior rec with the newest novitiates in charge.

Corrinne Baker is president of Orchesis, Mary Ann Morris, secretary, Bebe Geyer, treasurer, and Mrs. Emily K. Landrum is faculty advisor.

Have Your Kodak Films Developed Here
Southside Drug Store

For satisfying results—Send your clothes to us
Kleanwell Cleaners

VERSER'S
The complete men's store
Gifts for all occasions
VERSER'S
"We Serve To Please"

IT'S....
Newberry's
for Fresh-Cooked Peanuts!

STC Represented By 5 At Madison

2-Day Conference Fosters Federation

Sports day was held at Madison College on March 5th, 6th, and 7th with eleven Virginia colleges represented. The five girls representing Farmville were Jesse Pickett, Martha Jean Leavette, Anne Langbein and Elizabeth Motely. Jesse Pickett was the official delegate from S. T. C. and represented the college at a meeting in which the delegate voted unanimously to form a state federation of Athletic Associations for College Women. Another meeting of delegates will be held at R. P. I. some time in April for the purpose of drawing up a constitution.

Swimming and basketball were the two sports emphasized at the conference. Opportunity was given to the girls to try for an official's rating in both of these sports. Basketball games were held Saturday morning and a swimming meet in the afternoon. Farmville entered a team in the swimming meet. Not more than four swimmers were allowed to enter from each college and each girl could enter not more than three events. All events were run off in heats with the best time for the heats declared the winner.

Annie Langbein placed first in the 20-yard crawl and Martha Leavette placed third in the 40-yard crawl. The mediey relay was won by Farmville with Leavette, Pickett, and Langbein swimming. Jesse Pickett won first place in the diving. In total number of points William and Mary placed first with 35, Hollins was second with 31, and Farmville third with 27.

Colleges participating in the sports day were Madison, Mary Washington, Hollins, Farmville, R. P. I., William and Mary, Mary Baldwin, R. M. W. C., Bridgewater, Radford, and Sweet Briar.

Student Teachers Meet In Library

Students doing their practice teaching this semester met with Dr. Edgar M. Johnson, Tuesday afternoon, March 9 in the college library.

A teacher guidance film was shown which was followed by a discussion.

Others present in addition to the student teachers were Miss Ruth Gleaves and Mr. Robert H Ballagh.

Frosh Production

Continued from Page 1

Tickets for the production went on sale at the table in the hall on Monday. They will be sold there every day this week after lunch and will also be sold at the door. Admission is 25c.

Flowers for Every Dance or Special Occasion
Chas. E. Burg
Florist

Ballerina by Vaughan Monroe
I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover by Rus Morgan
Beg Your Pardon by Rus Morgan
Manana by Peggy Lee
WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

Spanish Students Present Program At March Meeting

The Spanish Club held its monthly meeting yesterday in the audio-visual room of the library at 4 o'clock.

The program began with group singing of "Habia Una Vez" and "Las Chiapanecas". The next feature of the program was a series of short talks in Spanish by members of the beginning class. Ann McMullan discussed "What I Did Yesterday", Gaynelle Johnson outlined "What I Do Everyday", and Lillian Faulconer told a Spanish legend. Following the talks Loida Lahoz sang "La Barca De Oro".

A skit, "The Clever Maid", was enacted by Isaac Velazquez, Martha Hatcher and Craig Cumby. Jean Oliver played a piano solo, "Castles In Spain".

Grace Kappes, assisted by Lila Easley and Catherine Cobb, directed the Spanish Club in a quiz program. The group completed the program singing "La Borrachita" and "Siboney".

Orchesis Recital

Continued from Page 1

Lincoln Kirsten. Presentations sponsored by this society are not open to the public except by subscription and only the finest of all dance forms are given, the idea being one of preserving the best of all dance works, past and present. "The Seasons" will be presented again this year as part of the Society's permanent repertoire.

Tickets will be $1.20 for everyone, student, faculty, administration and community. They will go on sale before Easter and immediately following. Seats will be reserved the day before the concert, which is the first day of return after the Easter holidays. Tickets may be obtained from any member or apprentice of Orchesis.

I like exams,
I think they're fun,
I never cram,
And I don't flunk a one.
I'm the teacher.

Meet Me At...
Shannon's for
the Finest Food
In Town
Shannon's, Inc.

Meet the Faculty

MISS RUTH GLEAVES

We're proud to present as our faculty personality this week Miss Ruth Gleaves, gracious product of Wythe County. Miss Gleaves has the triple distinction of having served as the first hostess and manager of Longwood, of being the innovator of those far-famed Longwood buns and mints and of being a Farmville Alumna.

From Farmville Miss Gleaves went on to take her M.A. from Columbia University and to do graduate work at the University of Tennessee and at the University of Chicago.

In addition to having been clothing instructor for Radford College, Miss Gleaves has taught in the Richmond city schools, in the city schools of Jacksonville, Florida, and in the Franklin High School in Franklin, Virginia. In 1942 S. T. C. drew Miss Gleaves back as a home economics teacher trainer, and at present she's officially Associate Professor of Home Economics.

In line with her profession, Miss Gleaves' hobbies are collecting old cook-books and special patterns of glass. Incidentally, Miss Gleaves didn't take the recipes for the Longwood buns and mints from a cook book; she developed them herself! Miss Gleaves also takes delight in designing and sewing.

Miss Gleaves holds memberships in the American Vocational Association, the Va. Home Economics Association, and the Farmville Womans Club of which she's a member of the social committee. Her principal extra-curricular activity here at school is that of adviser to the Pan-Hellenic Association. Formerly she served as adviser to Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Of her travels, which have taken her to many parts of the United States and neighboring islands, Miss Gleaves found California the most interesting spot. Now she's planning her next jaunt which will be to Mexico.

Corrected

Grandson (beside radio)—I wonder who is at the mike.
Grandma—Prim—Don't say Mike. Robert—it's Michael.

Dean Lyman Speaks To Student Body In Next Assembly

Dean Mary Ely Lyman of Sweet Briar College will speak at assembly Thursday, March 11 at 11:15 in the auditorium.

A native of Vermont, Dean Lyman took her Bachelor of Arts degree at Holyoke College, her Bachelor of Divinity from Union Theological Seminary in New York, and her Ph.D. at the University of Chicago. She studied at Cambridge University in England for one year. Holyoke and Roanoke College, Virginia, conferred upon her the degree of Litt.D.

Dean Lyman's husband, Dr. Eugene W. Lyman, was professor at the Union Theological Seminary. Dean Lyman was a teacher in Connecticut high schools and was general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Holyoke for two years. For five years, she was a professor at Vassar College. Since 1941, Dean Lyman has been Dean of Sweet Briar College and also Professor of Religion there. She has written a number of books and articles.

Dr. Lancaster has known Dean Lyman for a number of years and said she is very charming and a good speaker.

Baptist Girls Hold "Youth Revival"

There will be a Youth Revival of the Farmville Baptist Church, March 19, 20, 21. Neal Ellis, a student at Roanoke College, and President of the State Baptist Student Union, will be the principal speaker. Dub Lane, a University of Richmond student, will lead in the singing and fellowship. Both of these young men have worked together in youth revivals previously.

The young people of the church, both college and local, will participate in the meetings. On some nights there will be young persons to give a testimony, read scripture, and render special music. The choir will consist of college students.

After the services, fellowship will be held in the homes of the townspeople, at which time games will be played. Dub Lane will be in charge of the groups and lead the singing.

Publications

Continued from Page 1

tive work for the Colonnade. Mary will edit the spring issue of the magazine.

Edna Earle Waters, who succeeds Hilda Abernathy as business manager of the yearbook, served this year as a member of the Virginian staff and has been active in the work. Anne Orgain, who replaces Frances Treakle as business manager of the Rotunda, served this year as advertising manager of the paper. Betty Jefferson, who succeeds Katie Lawrence as business manager of the Colonnade, was an active member of the business staff this past year.

Joyce Webb, who succeeds Anne East as managing editor of the Virginian, served this year on the yearbook staff, and is an active participant in college sports. Love Bentley, who succeeds Betty Spindler as managing editor of the Rotunda, was a reporter this year on the newspaper staff and has done news work on a city newspaper. Anne Langbein, who succeeds Jean Cake as managing editor of the Colonnade, has been an active participant in the work of the magazine.

The appointments were made by the publications board which is composed of the retiring editors; Nancy Chambers, Mary Helmer, Anne Motley and the advisors: Mr. T. A. McCorkle, Dean W. W. Savage, Mr. James Grainger, and Margaret Jones, chairman of nominations and elections.

College $60 Short Of W. S. S. F. Goal

S. T. C. is still some sixty dollars short of its goal in the World Student Service Fund drive, according to June Cregar, chairman of the drive. The total collected to date is $934.59. The goal was $1000.

The Senior class gave $64.39, the Juniors gave $75.00, the Sophomores donated $70.00, and the Freshman gave $20.00. The organizations contributed $243.00, and the faculty gave 77.95. Money placed in the barrels in the halls and canvassed in the halls netted $384.25.

Even though the drive has formally been closed, contributions are still coming in so that the total is still subject to change.

Orchesis Members

Continued from Page 1

lege, Converse College, Georgia State College for Women, Greensboro College, Hollins College, Limestone College, Madison College, Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia, University of North Carolina, Salem College, Sweet Briar College, Virginia Intermont College, Westhampton College of the University of Richmond, College of William and Mary, Woman's College of Duke University of North Carolina. Miss Hill will make a critical review and evaluation of each college's performance. Three colleges will be chosen to perform with the Woman's College group on Saturday night. Another master class, this time in composition will be taught on Saturday morning by Miss Hill.

Bernard Rogers, teacher of composition at the Eastman School of Music will lead a critical discussion of student compositions on Saturday morning. Isaac Rosenfield, short story writer, novelist, and critic from New York University will be a leader of the Writing Forum where original poems and prose works by students will be evaluated.

Another feature of the conference, attractive to STC students along with the dance and painting sections is that centered around contemporary American composers works. This year promises to have three interesting numbers directly applicable to dance—Douglas Moore's, "Village Music", Virgil Thomson's Suite from "The Plow that Broke the Plains" and two of Aaron Copland's dance episodes from "Rodeo".

Farmville will show Color in Dance, which has been re-choreographed with no curtains drawn between colors but the whole moving along revealingly with black re-entering as if to tie up the whole into one panorama, each color shifting to right or left stage as another color comes on. Yellow has been revised more than any other. Purple had to be left out because of the time limit. Other than this, the sequence is the same as shown for the recital recently.

The following members of Orchesis will attend with Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, Corrine Baker, June Banks, Catherine Bondurant, Marjorie Boswick, Gris Boxley, Bebe Geyer, Anne Langbein, Ray Phillips, Jesse Lee Pickett, Jeanne Tolley, Gee Gee Yonce.

Dr. Compton predicts practical use of atom within ten years.

President's economic advisers favor guaranteed wage plan.

CARA NOME
and WHITMAN'S
CANDIES
Gray's — Truly a Drug Store
Many Other
Useful Gifts

For any Special Occasion
Give Cigarette Cases and Lighters
MARTIN'S

NORCROSS
America's Best-Loved Greeting Cards

LOOK FOR AMERICAN ORCHIDS
NEXT WEEK TULIP TIME
Patterson Drug Co.

THE HIGH-SIGN OF REFRESHMENT

5¢
The pause that refreshes
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.
© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

Attend
Cotillion Dance

The Rotunda

Attend
Symphony Concert

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17, 1948 | No. 21

Satterfield Will Set Tempo For Spring Cotillion Dance

Yonce Names List OfCommitteeHeads

Johnny Satterfield's Orchestra will set the tempo for the Cotillion Club dance which will be held in the STC gymnasium Saturday night, March 20 at 8:30 o'clock. The president of the Cotillion Club is Ge.Gee Yonce.

Serving as figure leader will be Corinne Baker. Only senior members of Cotillion and their dates will take part in the figure. The chairman of decorations is Frances DeBerry while Sue Davis is chairman of the music and floor committees. Ellen McMullen is chairman of the program committee.

The receiving line will be composed of Dr and Mrs Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. William W. Savage, Dean Martha Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Coyner, Virginia Yonce, Co.inne Baker, Sue Davis, and Mary Lou Pickhart.

Chaperones for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Graham, Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Brumfield, Mr. Raymond French, Miss Mary Dabney, Miss Olive Iler, Miss Elizabeth Burger, Miss Pauline Camper, Miss Virginia Wall, Miss Rosemary Elam, Mrs. Katherine Tabb, Dr. and Mrs. C. Gordon Moss, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McCorkle, Dr. and Mrs. George Jeffers, and Dr. and Mrs. A. Curtis Higginbotham.

The price of tickets will be announced later and they will be sold at the table in the hall.

VIRGINIA YONCE

College Announces Summer Schedule

The 1948 summer sesion of State Teachers College will begin June 21 and end August 14, according to plans just announced by President Dabney S. Lancaster. More than one hundred courses will be offered during the eight-week period by a faculty of approximately forty-five. In addition, several outstanding workshops and clinics will be available to teachers and others engaged in special phases of educational work. Dean William W. Savage is Director of the Summer Session.

Courses will be available in art,

Continued on Page 4

Choirs Will Give Creation Oratorio

The S. T. C. Choir and the H-S Glee Club will hold its Spring Festival of Music on May 6, 7 this year at Farmville and Hampden-Sydney. The program will feature Joseph Haydn's famed oratorio, The Creation, sung by the combined voices of the Farmville State Teachers College Choir and Choral Club and the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club. They will be assisted by three New York artists: Miss Florence Manning, soprano; Mr. Arthur Bailey, tenor; and Mr. Russell Abbott, bass. Most students will remember Miss Manning from the Christmas concert. On the evening of May 7 Hampden-Sydney Glee Club will sponsor a dance after the presentation of the oratorio in the new gymnasium. This piece will also be sung the preceding night in the State Teachers College auditorium.

The Creation is one of the major classic choral works. Some of its choruses rival Handel's Messiah in both fame and popularity. The presentation of this work is expected to be even more successful than that of Gaul's The Holy City last year.

S.C.A. Delegates From This Area Meet Here Today

STC Girls Entertain Visitors, Others

High school and elementary students of this area met today on the College campus for the annual meeting of the Student Cooperative Association.

After the meeting was called to order by the chairman, Martha Wilson of Farmville High School, the Madrigal singers from the College under the direction of June Cregar sang four numbers. Following this, Chris Alexander, Farmville High School, led the devotions Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster welcomed the representatives, and a response was given by Julia Starkey of Blackstone High School. The STC Modern Dance Club offered four dances afterwhich Dr. Edgar M. Johnson, program director, presented the officers. Also included in the morning's program were group singing under the direction of Miss Jessie Patterson, and discussion groups which met in various places in the College from eleven to twelve o'clock.

The afternoon session met in the small auditorium. Puckett Asher and Betty Jordan played piano selections and Carolyn Calhoun sang two songs for the students. Reports were made concerning the discussion groups which were held in the morning. A report was made by the nominating commite afterwhich election of officers for next year took place. Final remarks and a summary of the meeting was made by Miss Frieda Koontz, state secretary of the Student Cooperative Association.

Dramatic Club Plans Southside Contest At S.T.C. March 19

Annual one-act play contest will be held Friday night, March 19 in the S.T.C. auditorium. This contest is conducted by the Dramatic Club in co-operation with the Virginia High School League District One-Act Play Tournament with the purpose of promoting interest in dramatics.

This year only four high schools are entering the contest, and they are the Victoria, Amelia, Farmville, and Blackstone schools. Victoria High School will present "Theme Song for the Married"; Amelia, "No Sleeps"; Farmville, "Joint Owners in Spain"; and Blackstone, "Sunday's Child".

The winner of this contest will receive a cup and will go to Charlottesville whre they will compete with the winners from the other regions.

Jane Hunt Ghesslin, student chairman of the contest, has announced that tickets will be on sale at the door. This event is under the direction of Dramatic Club and Miss Wheeler.

Savage To Address Visiting Teachers

Dean William W. Savage will address the Visiting Teachers Association Friday at eleven o'clock at the College. The subject of his speech will be "How do You Counsel?".

Tuesday afternoon, Dean Savage spoke to the faculty of the Blackstone High School on "Guidance". On March 24-25, he will be one of the consultants at the meeting of the Virginia Conference of Guidance and Personnel Workers at the Hotel John Marshall in Richmond. This meeting is being sponsored by The State Department of Education and The Virginia Guidance Association. Dean Savage will be a consultant in the Materials and Resources for Guidance meeting.

S.T.C. Students Attend Conference At Sweet Briar

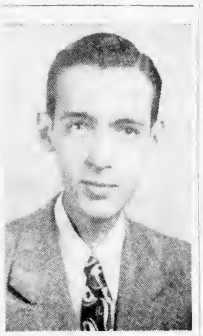
InternationalTheme Discussed By Group

Eight S.T.C. students, accompanied by Dr. C. G. G. Moss and Dr. F. B. Simkins, attended the Saturday session of the Sweet Briar College Conference on "The Role of the Colleges in Promoting Peace Through International Understanding" held Friday and Saturday, March 12 and 13.

The conference, which started Friday evening, at 8:00, featured speakers prominent in world affairs, and it included student group discussions of how to promote international understanding through different phases of college life. Speakers on the Friday evening program, entitled "Higher Education In Post-War Europe," were Dr. John W. Taylor, former chief of Education and Religious Affairs Branch of OMGUS in Germany, and President of the University of Louisville; and Mr. Fred M. Hechinger education columnist, of The Washington Post. A film, "The Rise and Fall of Nazi Germany," was presented by Dr. Taylor.

Saturday morning Dr. Chen Chih-mai, Counselor in charge of Cultural Affairs, of the Chinese Embassy, in Washington; M. Rene de Messieres, Counselor in charge of Cultural Services, of the French Embassy in New York; and Dr. Eddy Asirvatham, Professor of Christian International Relations, of Boston University spoke on "Experiments in Inter-

Continued on Page 4



Chambers Announces Payments Accepted

The remainder due of Virginian payment may be paid after the Easter holidays, according to Nancy Chambers, editor.

"We urge all students to pay the remainder of the sum due for their yearbook as soon as possible after the Easter holidays," Nancy said.

Nancy also asked that all students turn in to her snapshots which they would like to have printed in the annual.

Symphony Orchestra Plays Here On Monday

NEAL ELLIS

Ellis To Conduct Baptist Revival

The young people of the college and Farmville Baptist Church have been working to complete plans for the Week-end Youth Revival to be held in the Farmville Baptist Church Friday March 19, Saturday, March 20 and Sunday, March 21.

Neal Ellis Jr., who is the State Baptist Student Union President—Elect, will be the major speaker. Neal, who has just become a Senior at Roanoke College, is a premed student. He considers himself a Texan although quite a bit of his schooling has been in Virginia and his parents now reside in Virginia. Neal has had experience in conducting Youth Revivals previously. His last Youth Services Seal will be a guest over WFLO Devotional Time Saturday morning.

"Dub Lane, a senior at the University of Richmond, will lead the singing and be in charge of the Fellowship hour that will be held in the homes of local people after each night's service.

Continued on Page 4

Krueger Conducts Famous Musicians

The one hundred and ten piece Detroit Symphony Orchestra with Dr. Karl Krueger conducting will play to a Farmville audience in the auditorium of State Teacher College on Monday, March 22, at 8:30 p. m.

Organized under the direction of Ossip Gabrilowitch, the group was for some years conducted by him. After his death, however, the famed musicians disbanded; they reunited some months later under the leadership of the present conductor, Dr. Karl Krueger.

Dr. Krueger was with the Vienna Philharmonic and the Vienna Opera after having studied music for some time under Nikisch. Upon his return to America; he became conductor of the Kansas City Philharmonic and was known over a period of years as the only native born American conductor of this country's sixteen principal symphonies.

Under the musical leadership of Dr. Krueger, and financial backing of Henry H. Reichbold of Reichbold Chemical Corporation, the orchestra has reached such heights as claiming the title of the nation's biggest and one of the world's greatest symphony orchestra. All Manhattan acclaimed the greatness of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra after a concert played at Carnegie Hall in February, 1945.

The program for the Farmville concert contains "Five Dances from Suite No. 2" by Bach, "Symphony No. 5 in C minor, Opus 67" by Beethoven, "The Moldau" by Smetana, and "Prelude" and "Love Death" from "Tristan and Isolde" by Wagner.

Moore Establishes New Bulletin Board For Health Service

A new panel to the Health Bulletin board has been initated by Dr. Ray A. Moore, director of student service and college physician. This bulletin board calls attendion to the Students Health Service.

Dr. Moore says "Health is the objective number one in all secondary education" according to a familiar slogan. He continues by saying "The student Health Service is the school's effort to realize this slogan, and today this is as much apart of the college curriculum as any other activity While this is primarily the responsibility of the Medical Department and the Physical Education Department, its successful operation depends on the work and cooperation of every department of the college as well as that of each individual student".

Dr. Moore hopes that this panel may keep him in closer touch with the students. It will be used for notices that have to do with the Infirmary work as well as to call attention to the more important health rules and practices. He hopes that every student will watch the bulletin board.

Teachers To Submit Grade Estimates

Instructors will submit estimates to the Registars office by 4 p. m. on March 31 Report forms will be released as soon as possible thereafter to both the parents and students. An announcement will be made as to how and when the student may obtain them.

The printed forms have arrived from the printer, and they will be used. Last semester the forms did not arrive from the printer in time for their usage. The wording is the same as that of the mimeographed forms used last semester.

Knowledge, Know-how, Nerve Needed By Student Teachers

By ADELAIDE COBLE

For the past two weeks I have been observing in the Training School—and believe me—it is quite a hair-raising experience! My first day over I observed a Music Class. Being rather musically inclined myself, I knew I'd enjoy the period. When the cute, little freckled-faced boy with pink ears gave me my Music book I sat back and prepared to enjoy myself. Finally, after trillions of uncute exercises, the children were allowed to sing one of the little songs. I happily sang along with them. Suddenly, the Music Teacher stopped us with the announcement, "Someone is flat!" We tried the song again. And again a monotone ruined the song. After careful inspection, it was discovered that the unfortunate sound was coming from the back of the room. Uncomfortably, I cleared my throat and gazed as innocently as possibly out the window. I happened to be the only person sitting in the very back of the room. For a week and a half now, I have been a "listener" in Miss Patterson's Music Class. Oh, the injustice of it all!

Next, hoping for more success I tried an arithmetic period fifth grade. Under the guise of taking notes, I tried my hand at problem-solving. Really, those children were regular little Einsteins. Although the problems didn't exactly trump me, I have decided not to teach fifth grade after all. I think I'd really be happier in the third grade.

Upon leaving that class, I charged the Schools of Virginia with false conceptions and propaganda. Whoever heard of butter selling for 30c a pound? Or a supposedly sane farmer giving, giving, I say, eggs away for 20c a dozen. Imagine telling those innocent little babes such "falsehoods"! Freud and I do not believe in instilling false security in children.

Undaunted, I returned to the Training School again. This time to check on the fourth grade History period. I was looking forward to this class particularly because my suite-mate was teaching. Eve.ynight, she goes over her lesson for the next day, and I portray all 24 of her pupils. You'd be surprised how much more educated I have become—and also, how many child-like tones of voice I have acquired. But that morning, she looked so unapproachable, firm and scholarly that even I felt a little awe-stricken. That day, they were studying the American Revolution. Having heard all of the lesson about three and a half times the night before, I sat and nodded in acquiescence in a smug, selfsatisfied manner. Yes, I knew that Washington and his army spent the winter of '77 at Valley Forge—and that it was located about twenty miles from Philidelphia. I knew, too, that the Americans were poorly clothed and fed, and the British warm

Continued on Page 4

Seasons GoRound and Round As Frosh Present Production

In spite of the wrong lights that did go on and the right one that didn't the Freshman Production began with a bang. As the leaves fell on the ground, a certain smell pervaded the scene and presto we were in that delightful season known as Fall. Complete with a setto, promenade and ladies chain a square dance was in full progress. With a song about "Your Red Wagon" and another about "The Little Red School House" and a dance by the guy who was his own Grandpa, a gay time was being had by all until that certain smell again entered the scene. Yes, you guessed it (you must have seen it, too that "certain smell" was that of Ichan Phew, the skunk. Her sad little song, "All By Myself" became all too true as one by one the others began to slip away and poor Phew was left all alone as the curtains closed.

Next in line was that blustery season, Winter. A rotund snowman graced the scene as a trio sang about "Walking in a Winter Wonderland". With a chorus line of tap dancers, the occupants of the stage decided to "Let it Snow". The skaters who couldn't skate ended up by paging Dr. Moore who treated them with pink pills no matter where they ached. As winter drew to a close the snowman suddenly came to life complain that he was "Melting Away".

Spring, as the next season portrayed, hit a lilting note with its gay array of Easter bonnets. Because "Spring was Coming" a sweet young thing decided to purchase one of the displayed bits of feminine headgear. But as a few "April Showers" began to threaten she ran for her umbrella and protecting her new hat departed. A hurdy-gurdy man and his monkey pet were the next to appear. It was easy to tell who he was imitating until he started delving into a startled girl's purse. But pacified by peanuts he settled down while a couple re-enacted their courtship during "The Merry Month of May". A butterfly flitted merrily across the stage persued by a net and as if it were his cue the monkey took off up the aisle. With a sweet song by a sweet miss Spring went on its merry way.

Fourth on the last was that grand old season, Summer. Down to the deep South, the land of the singing darkies we went to the tune of that sweet lullaby, "Summertime". Topsy in a gay mood danced about the stage to the same sweet strains and the addition of a bit of tambourine music "Three Little Boys" decided to go a fishing but since the fish were too wise to be caught they didn't stay very long. It was then that a small black gal complained of being called "Snowball" when Snowball wasn't her name.

As Winter's bear, Spring's rabbit, Summer's firefly and Fall's skunk circled in the middle, the entire Production gathered for the grad finale. Truly it was "The Seasons' Merry-go-round".

From The Editor

As I sit here at the typewriter for the last time as editor of this paper, I am wondering just how to put into words my "swansong". After thirty issues, the Rotunda is indeed an old friend and one not to be cast aside lightly. My staff and I have grown to love our work, and it has been a real pleasure to bring the news of the College to you each week. We must have gotten printers ink under our finger nails a long time ago, because our liking for journalistic work is ever present.

Certainly our task has not been an easy one but we wouldn't have missed it for anything. We have had our "ups and downs" and made mistakes, but we hope they were not too numerous or serious. If we have succeeded in faithfully recording the news of the College each week, then we shall feel that we have accomplished our purpose.

I want to thank my superb staff for their marvelous cooperation. Without such staunch backing, the task of editing the paper would have been impossible to accomplish. To you, the staff, goes my grateful thanks and deep appreciation for a job well done.

The staff and I felt most fortunate this fall when Dean William W. Savage consented to become our advisor, and as the days of the year passed and we were confronted with problem after problem, we felt even more fortunate in having Dean Savage as our advisor. His wise advice and constant interest and encouragement have meant a great deal to us. We must also thank him for his time which he so willingly gave so that we could have a better paper. We shall ever be grateeful to you, Dean Savage.

Then too, we want to thank Mr. Harry Lancaster and the staff of the Farmville Herald for their cooperation and patience. Harry and his staff did many more things for us besides just printing the paper, and we appreciate it from the bottom of our hearts.

We have loved every minute of our work and we hope you have derived as much pleasure from reading the Rotunda as we have had in planning it for you. The time has come to bid you adieu and we do so with genuine sorrow, but we are confident that the new staff wil blring you a bigger and better newspaper.

MARY HELMER

Thanks For The Light

The long-desired light on the post in front of the Senior Building steps has been installed, much to the satisfaction of all those who have suffered scraped shins and a multitude of bruises in their past groping in the dark. We believe that we speak for everyone in thanking Mr. Graham for having it installed.

When improvements such as this are made we feel that our editorial policy of calling attention to the things which need to be done and urging their correction is a valuable one. The retiring staff, which instituted the policy, can now feel that their efforts are meeting with success for the proper lighting is being installed, the committee on food is making slow but sure progress in improving conditions existing there, and plans are ready to be consumated in regard to the dangerous walks as soon as weather conditions will permit the pouring of concrete. The fact that these things are being done, however, does not mean that the staff considers their job finished. Far from it—we intend to do our utmost to serve the student body by remaining alert to all such matters needing change or repair and advocating the attention of the college to these things. Needless to say, we must have your cooperation. We know we will have it. If anyone feels that we are overlooking some important feature which needs attention she has only to make it known to the editor of to the advisor of the paper and we will do our best to call attention to it.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168

Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8 1934

STAFF

Mary Aleise Helmer ..... Editor-in-Chief
Betty Spindler ..... Managing Editor
Frances Treakle ..... Business Manager

Betty Nachman ..... News Editor
Jackie Eagle ..... Feature Editor
Betty Burch tt ..... Sports Editor
Lela Bouldin ..... Social Editor
Anne Orgain ..... Advertising Manager
Virginia Bailey ..... Circulation Manager
Betty Minton ..... Photographer
Mary Davis ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Martha Frances Morrison, chief editorial assistant: Toni Allen, Helen Arrington, Winifred Beard, Melbale Booth, Griswold Boxley, Jean Cake, Adelaide Cob'e, Addie Dodd, Jane Gray, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Joyce Hamlet, Nancy Jessee, Ann Lynch, Mary Lee Meredith, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Janice Shavin, Martha Smith, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Jean Tolley, Helen Williams, Bobbie Wall.

Business Assistants

Martha Ashby, Elsie Love Bentley, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Mildred Garnett, Connie Heather, Ginny Howard, Jean Houge, Martha Hylton, Nancy Jensen, Nancye Litz, Ruth Rudogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Virginia Parris, Sparkie Poteat, Barbara Saunders, Ethel Shockley, Norma Soyers Mary Lou Wilson.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17, 1948

Puddin' 'n Sauce

You probably never have thought that this column is like a bride, but it is. 'Tis made up of "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue"; only we should say something old and hackneyed, very little new, mostly borrowed and sometimes blue—to make it fit the case better. 'Twould be oh so nice to have it fresh and new every week—like a June bride—but you just try writing it weekly and if you don't feel like a beat-up old divorcee taking on a sixth spouse at the end of a few months we'll be glad to give the job to you.

What this ol' tipsy puddin' needs is a good dose of a patent medicine. Some of the kind that's good for warts and lethargy, and writers cramp and dementia praecox. That would kill or cure the columnist, and what a happy place this "best of all possible worlds" would be were she brought to realize the folly of her weekly endeavors or completely removed from her task. Heavens, what a morbid thought!

Before closing this bit on stuff and nonsense we want to prove that we can write a few words on an even keel. We want to thank Mary and the rest of the retiring staff for their wonderful leadership. It has been really a pleasure and a privilege to work with them, and we won't soon forget what they have taught us. We'll do our best to live up to the standards of excellence you've set.

Bed Check

Ye ole Bedcheceker is really exhausted trying to track down all the gals that are back from their big week ends. And where do you find most of them? Why asleep, of course, that is if you can find them under all the unpacked clothes that have been thrown on the bed and all the souvenirs that are hanging from the wall.

Mary Jane Stansberry seems to be in love with one of the H.-S. boys. Which brings up the question where is she going Easter?

Ask "Sudie" Smith why she doesn't have any bedroom slippers? How about that, Mama?

All the girls are stil raving about the wonderful Sigma Chi dance at H.-S. last week end.

We hear a certain train is going to conduct a certain boy up to see Betsy Carper this week end.

Ruth Rodogna went to Ashland with Jean Turner and Betty Nachman went with Evelyn Davis. All you hear is Horses—and there they go. What a week end!

Wonder why Frankie is floating around in the clouds? Could it be because her ole flame, Bill, is coming up from N. C.?

Who is the main attraction at ye ole library that interests Ann Ford?

Hank and Ann must really love H.-S. since they found a week end there tres-gai.

Nock, what happened to that cute "Pootsy"?

S. T. C. was well represented at W. & L. this week end with Kitty, Millie, Nock, Ratchford, Betty Mc, Bebe, and Nancy Camper and 'Sudie".

Aber, that sparkler really is gorgous and we all extend congratulations.

Roady, that "cute" Eddie certainly has a crush on you. You sure do attract the cutest ones.

Some people have it, some don't. It must be nice to have a date at 9 a. m. Don't you think so Martha H.?

Pete got a letter. Need we say more.

Charlotte Jones, Please give us the formulae for your success. We wish we had Bud, and Tommy and Bill, and George on our date books too.

Hope Duke is really excited about Roady's coming up for the dance, but then there's Wally, too.

Good-bye for now and I ll expect all of you gals to turn out in your "very" best for Cotillion.

Things We Never Expect To See—

Charlie Hop without his "Hi Ev-Body".

Tucker Winn without Dr. Simkins.

Hoot Chambers without the "good book".

Mr. Mac without a cigar.

Mrs. Landrum not interested in Modern Dance.

Betty S. and Mary H. not burning the midnight oil over the Rotunda.

Bentley and Burchetts not interested in sports.

Mr. Myers without a cute saying.

Mrs. McCoy not keeping the Home Office.

Mr. Grainger's not being able to quote from a poem.

Anne Motley not struggling over the Colonnade.

Dean Savage with nothing to do AND NOT going anywhere.

Violet Ritchie praising Red 'n White.

Martha Gilliam without her peroxide.

Annette Jones without a man.

This isue go to press.

Le Circle Francais Plays French Games

The French Circle held its monthly meeting yesterday, March 16, at 4 o'clock in the audio-visual room of the library

After the disposal of business at hand, the members joine din playing several French games. The games played were Bridge, Bon Appetit, a games concerning the French cuisine, Jeu des Sept Familles (Game of Seven Families,) and Jeu des Metiers (Game of Professions;) all these were card games, and only French was spoken while they were played. Game leaders were Jean Anderson, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Dalila Agostini, Craig Cumby, and Jacqueline Eagle.

Junior Would Hang Clothes On Limb, But Hates Water

"Mother dear, may I go out to swim?
Yes, my darling daughter;
Hang your clothes on a hickory limb,
And don't go near the water".

But alas! The advice of the above mother is not given to the S. T. C. daughter; for 'tis written in the S. T. C. catalogue that "unless excused by the college physician all students are required to pass a beginner's swimming test or Physicial Education X100 before the end of the year". So, sometime during her college career, each student either tries to pass a Beginners Swimming Test, or enrolls in Physicial Education, X100, Beginning Swimming.

Thus I adorned myself with one of those ultra-modern green or gray "tank" suits, summoned all my courage, closed my eyes and jumpd into the pool. The first ten minutes weren't too bad—the water so "frozed" me that I couldn't tell whether I liked it or not. After a few weeks I could float. Yes, I could stay on top of the water for 5.39 seconds.

Then one day I practiced my breast stroke. Combining my arms, legs and breathing, I started on one side of the pool, and swam as far as I could. Then tired and exhausted, I "came up for air". Miracles of Miracles! I was on the other side of the pool! I had swum all the way across the pool! No longer was I a beginner. What thrill can equa l that thrill?

Of course, there was the day when I dived into water that was too deep for me, and the instructor had to come in and get me back to the side of the pool. But such is the rocky road of learning!

Dear students, fear not of Physicial Education X100. Come on in, the water's fine.

And we will go near the water.

Gallop Pole

Which of the three Barter plays did you like best and why?

Betty Bondurant: "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" because of the romantic story.

Martha Hall: "The Barretts of Wimpole Street". I thought that the whole cast was superb.

"Pete" Peterson: "The Hasty Heart". It was so lively; never a dull moment.

Miss Thompson: "The Barretts of Wimpole Street", because the acting was really grand.

Mrs. Lemon: "The Hasty Heart". I was tired of 19th century English plays. I had read the play before I saw it, and I wanted to see how they would handle it. I thought it worked out wonderfully.

Dr. Sutherlin: "The Twelfth Night". It was so capricious.

Carolyn Calhoun: "The Barretts of Wimpole Street". The little dog was so cute and added so much to the play.

Page Heath: The Barretts of Wimpole Street", because of its excellent climax.

George Bailey: "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" because it was more romantic than the others.

"Chick" Ritchie: "The Hasty Heart". I just loved Yank.

Betty Welsh: "The Twelfth Night" because it was so good.

Ann Daniel: "The Importance of Being Earnest". The acting was grand.

Yvonne Burch: "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" because it's my favorite play.

Eleanor Bass: "The Hasty Heart" The acting was superb, and it was so realistically and well portrayed.

Charlotte Williams: "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" because I knew more about the story.

Gwen Cress: "The Barretts of Wimpole Street". I knew the story before seeing the play, and I liked the acting very much.

Iris Coleman: "The Twelfth Night" because I studied it in Shakespeare.

Eula Ayres: "The Barretts of Wimpole Street". I thought the acting was grand.

Rebecca Ralsey: "The Twelfth Night". I liked the beautiful costumes.

Margaret Farmer: "The Twelfth Night" because I liked the comedy portrayed in it.

Cotillion Dance

On the Ball

There is much excitement this week in the line of sports. Volleyball and basketball games are being played off! Have you been going down to the games? If you haven't been playing your help is needed in the cheering section. Watch the bulletin board to see when the games are being played.

Swimming is one of the best all around sports you can participate in, for it is definitely good for the muscular system and builds strong bodies. You don't have to be an expert in the sport, but that is no reason why you can't enjoy swimming. There is a capable guard on duty, so there is no worrying about going under for the third time, and if you aren't too good at the art of swimming you can always go down and paddle around in the baby section, or the shallow end. Will we see you there?

Hiking has proven to be a very enjoyable pastime and now that spring is on its way you should plan to go on a hike some afternoon to a place you haven't hiked before. The next that certain fellow comes to see you, why don't you suggest going for a walk? You will get some needed exercise and enjoy the walk too.

This is excellent weather for roller-skating. If you brought them to school with you, why don't you get them out, get an old pan, check the straps, and roll down the avenue. There are excellent hills around school to provide thrills. Take a group of girls and take to the side walk. You'll love it!

It will soon be time to think about those out-of-door sports. Have you decided which ones you are going to try your skill in? The courts aren't ready for tennis at this date, but you could use the gym wall for practice. Don't forget to wear tennis shoes there also, and be careful of windows and lights. Spring tourney is an annual event, so start looking for a partner and sign up when the date for signing up is announced. Color cup points are awarded to the winning class, and there will be fun and competition.

Softball will be one of the main sports this season, so fall in line, and get on the ball. Come on down at once when the practices get under way. Some of you may think that is no sport for you. "Oh, but it is", and you will find out that you can have a jolly time.

S. T. C. GIRLS

6 more Shopping Day before Easter Holidays. We still have a big selection to choose from. Coats, hats, shoes, dresses. Let your Easter Outfit be from

DAVIDSON'S

The House of Quality

AS SEEN IN MARCH HARPER'S

Judy'n Jill penline print dresses edged with lace—of angel skin rayon crepe by Mallinson in pale pink, blue or green. In sizes 7-15./

$25 to $32.98

BALDWIN'S

Modern Art "Floors" Group at Greensboro

We came, we saw, and we came back; we saw too much to put into words, but if you should ask if we had a good time we could answer you that.

It all began with pithy remarks on painting where we heard that Grandma Moses was a slick artist, Tsh, and she's such a sweet little old lady. Now if you don't know her, maybe you'll register when we say Dali. Look for a limpid looking watch in a Vogue ad and you'll know just what is meant by an artist who has gone commercial.

Gropius explained why windows should be placed to catch the early morning sun, so we won't have to set the alarm for that too early eight o'clock class.

We fall of us looked and waited for one piano note to sound on Village Music" but only the weak strains of a violin sounded. We wished for Spalding and kept our interest up by watching one lock of red hair on the lady violinist. It must have been wired, 'cause it never did fall.

Dance came last but mostly it was over our heads. We didn't understand what some terms meant in'il we tried moving to our own spoken voices' rhythm. We were so obsessed by the metronome that if we find one around here we're going to plunk it in the middle of the floor. Gather 'round if you want to see the results

We didn't place but made a creditable showing. Martha Hill's criticisms, which were made after all 24 colleges had performed made us feel that our's was truly a group creative work. Next year we're goin' to be folksy and show "Put your little foot", which we are sure will be pointed by then.

DELIVERY SERVICE
Phone Us For Your Sandwiches and Drinks Up To 10 P. M.

Southside Drug

Our Food Is The Best

We Aim To Please YOU

Come in and try a Plate Lunch or Sandwich

COLLEGE SHOP

COME IN AND LET ME TEST YOUR WATCH, FREE!

All watches repaired here are tested on the

Watch Master

It tells us immediately what is wrong when you bring your watch in. It proves to you that it's right, when you take it out.

Garland, Newman & Whitten

Goat Rules

Rules have been set up and approved for the two days of Goat Week. These rules are:

1. You must address all Cotilion members as Miss and you must know the last names of all members.

2. You must convene in front of the Colonnade before and after lunch.

3. You must attend all meals in the dining hall.

4. You may get your mail after lunch.

5. Whenever you pass Joan of Arc on the Colonnade, you must do a May Day curtsy.

6. You must carry matches and chewing gum for Cotillion members. Also pencil and paper to take notes for appointments.

7. You must not wear make-up and you must wear a sign stating your name with Goat in front of it.

8. On the second day, you must present a gift to the school before luncheon.

9. First Day—All goats must dress as 3-year-olds, wearing a green and yellow crepe paper bonnet, carry a baby doll or toy, and dress accordingly. All conversations must be sung to the tune of "Shanty Town"' in "baby talk."

10. Second Day—You must impersonate in dress and manner, your favorite campus character and make up a four-line jingle explaining who you are. You must wear one green stocking and one yellow stocking.

11. All books must be carried in a green towel or a yellow towel.

Cotillion Goats are all new members which have been taken into the club this year. New members are bid in the fall from old students and in the winter from freshmen and new students. The membership of the club is limited to 250 girls.

Goats will be expected to decorate for the spring formal dance which will be held in the gym Saturday night, March 20. They may attend this dance stag or ask dates if they can get date tickets from old members.

Eleanor Overby is chairman of

Continued on Page 4

For satisfying results—Send your clothes to us

Kleanwell Cleaners

VERSER'S

The complete men's store
Gifts for all occasions

VERSER'S

"We Serve To Please"

NORCROSS

America's Best-Loved Greeting Cards

LOOK FOR TULIP TIME EASTER CARDS

NEXT WEEK . . SQUEAK

Patterson Drug Co.

Sophs Triumph Over Seniors 21-14; Frosh Beat Juniors

Girls To Perform Square Dancing

Majors and minors in Physical Education began practice on Western Square Dance forms to be shown at the State Physical Education Association's spring meeting, to be held in Richmond Saturday April 3.

Farmville will present these dance forms because they have been heretofore unknown to most teachers in Virginia. The State Department of Education has requested a demonstration which will show Western dances' characteristics and distinct forms.

An exhibit of materials on American Dances from the college library will be on display at that time.

Practices began Tuesday and will continue on each successive Tuesday and Thursday until after Easter.

26 Dance Students Attend R-M Concert

Twenty-six dance students attended Randolph Macon Women's College dance recital, Monday night, March 15.

The Randolph-Macon concerts are of interest to S. T. C. students each year because something new and different is done. This year's highlight was "Old History's Walking", which made use of the spoken and singing voice as the center or lead for all movement. This composition was timely for it showed the questions raised on the subject of the possibility of a third world war.

May Day Rehearsals Begin, Gowns Chosen

Dresses for the May Court were chosen yesterday by members of of the court, according to an announcement by Mrs. Landrum.

Dance classes have begun rehearsals on the compositions which follow the Greek theme chosen for this year's pageant. June Walsh has been proposed for the role of Persephone, but the part of Demeter, which requires both acting and dancing ability has not been filled.

Class and Color Teams composed of Green and White and Red and White players will compete in the "Olympics" as a part of the program. Try-outs for these Olympic games will be held soon; as yet the announcement of the time for them has not been made.

Varied Selection of Easter Cards at NEWBERRY'S

Flowers for Every Dance or Special Occasion

Chas. E. Burg
Florist

Ballerina by Vaughan Monroe
I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover by Rus Morgan
Beg Your Pardon by Rus Morgan
Manana by Peggy Lee

WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

Seniors, Juniors Win Ball Games

The Sophomores triumphed over the Seniors in basketball with a final score of 21-14 while the Juniors were defeated by the Frosh 20-5. Those playing for the Sophs were Norma Roady, Dot Carter, Mary Woodward, Lou Shelor, Frances Allen, Sue Walker, Yvonne Burch, Anne Langbien, Rachel Kelsey, Phyllis Asher, Mary Miller, and Ray Phillips. The Senior team was composed of Peepsie Brooks, Mary Ann Morris, Jane Burchett, Frances Fears, Jean Babb, Joyce Hill, Kitty Hankins, Bonnie Dudley, and George Ann Lewis. Those Playing for the Frosh were Carper, Brewbaker, Famulatte, Lyneh, E. Winifree, M. Winifree, Cook, Noell, Anderson, Webb, Gillum, Biscoe, and Egerton. Supporting the Juniors were Ayres, Romeo, Sterling, Hanks, Robertson, Pickett, Burkholder, and Miles.

In the class volleyball games, the Juniors won two out of three games with the Freshmen and the Seniors beat the Sophomores two out of three games. The lineup for the Junior-Freshman game was as follows:

Juniors	Freshmen
Young	Famulatte
Londeree	Veliques
Romeo	E. Robertson
Miles	Pollard
Robertson	Cobb
Sterling	Carper
Coleman	Williams
Ellis

The lineup for the Senior-Sophomore game was as follows:

Seniors	Sophomores
Babb	Edwards
Bentley	Ritter
Dudley	E. Rippon
Addleman	C. Rippon
Minton	Asher
Driver	Ferguson
Morris	Traynham
Poole	Phillips

BET Members Discuss Irish Renaissance

The monthly meeting of Beoreeh Thorn was held at 5 o'clock last Thursday afternoon, March 11, in the Honors Room.

The program, in accord with the study of Irish literature which Beoreeh Thorn has adopted for the year, included talks and discussion of the works of three authors connected with the Irish Renaissance—Yeats, Synge, and Joyce. Jacqueline Eagle reviewed the play, "On Baile's Strand" by William Butler Yeats, poet-dramatist; a talk on the life and works of John M. Synge, dramatist, was given by Ruby Griffith, and Hilda Abernathy spoke on the life and works of James Joyce, novelist.

Plans were made for inviting new members into the society next month.

Beoreeh Thorn is a local honor society in English, founded in 1935. The organization supports the Colonnade by members' literary contributions and sponsors visits of distinguished writers to the college.

FOR COTILLION CLUP DANCE SELECT YOUR CORSAGE FROM

Collins Florist
Phone 181 or 4

Meet Me At . . .

Shannon's for the Finest Food In Town

Shannon's, Inc.

Meet the Faculty

This week we are introducing the newest bride-groom on our campus. It is none other than Mr. M. L. Landrum who insists that he is gaining a tremendous amount of weight from "Miss Kay's" luscious cooking. Mr. Landrum is head of our Business Education Department here at S. T. C.

According to his biographical sketches in "Who's Who in American Education," and in "Leaders in Education", Mr. Landrum was born in Chillicothe, Ohio. His undergraduate work was done at Bliss College, Columbus, Ohio; State College, Pennsylvania; and Office Training School, Columbus, Ohio with his B. S. degree in Business Education from the latter institution. Twenty-three years ago colleges in Ohio did not offer courses in business teacher training; therefore, it was necessary for Mr. Landrum to take his degree from a private business school which was certified by the Ohio State Department of Education for the purpose of training business teachers for the state. His M. A. degree was obtained from New York University. Mr. Landrum has done graduate work at New York University, University of Cincinnati, and Indiana University.

We find that Mr. Landrum has led and still is leading a very busy life. He has organized four Business Education Departments in high schools and colleges in the United States including the Business Department here at S. T. C. in the fall of 1939. He holds membership in six Education and Business Education Associations. This year he is State Director of Business Education for the Southern Business Education Association and State Director and Membership Chairman for the United Business Education Association of the N. E. A., Department of Business Education, Washington, D. C.

At present he is conducting a State-wide Survey in Business Education for the State of Virginia in cooperation with the State Board of Education. This Survey, when finished, will be of great value to the business teachers of the State.

In 1939 he served as a member of the Syllabus Committee for the Course of Study in Typewriting for the New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction. He holds a service key of Rho Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, honorary Education Fraternity. He is a charter and now, life member of Alpha Chapter (New York University) of Delta Pi Epsilon, honorary Business Education Fraternity. Mr. Landrum is also an active member of Farmville's Masonic Lodge and the Rotary Club.

Mr. Landrum's hobby is camping every summer at Je-Me-Bo, his retreat from the world. Ask him sometime about the origin of the old "Indian" name, Je-Me-Bo.

Mr. Landrum tells us that he once thought Business Education the most important thing in the world, but now he thinks Modern Dance might be. Now, Mr. Landrum, we know better that that!

Summer Schedule

Continued from Page 1

biology, business education, chemistry, general science, education, psychology, philosophy, English, French, history, geography, sociology, home economics, library science, mathematics, music, and physical and health education. The Virginia Workshop for Teachers of Spanish, held for the first time in 1947, will be continued again this summer under the direction of Salvatore C. Mangiafico. Designed as a substitute for foreign study, this will operate themselves to see Spanish as their language for all purposes.

A special guidance clinic, conducted by members of the Consultation Services in Virginia and members of the college faculty, will offer actual experience in counseling to carefully-selected teachers, principals, and guidance workers in the public schools. It will run for the five-week period from June 21 to July 24. Lucien D. Adams, Coordinator of Consultation Services and Guidance of the State Department of Education, will direct the work.

An elementary workshop, conducted by the Department of Education of the college, will run throughout the session. Students will be permitted to enroll for three, six, or eight weeks. Dr. J. P. Wynne, Director of Teacher Training of the College, will direct the Work. A three-week workshop in remedial reading, conducted by Dr. Sybil Henry Vincent, will run from June 21 through July 10. Its work will emphasize methods of diagnosing and correcting defects in reading and language.

Williams To Speak At Inter-Varsity

Dr. W. Twyman Williams, pastor of the Hampden-Sydney Presbyterian church, will be the guest speaker at the Easter service of Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship next Tuesday night, March 23, at 7 o'clock in the Student Lounge.

The program will include group singing, music, and an Easter message by Dr. Williams from the twentieth chapter of John.

The faculty, administration, and student body are cordially invited to attend the service.

YWCA Clothing Drive Will Last Two Weeks

Service Committee of the YWCA will sponsor a clothing drive, starting this week and lasting for two weeks. The clothes collected will be sent to Europe to aid people in war-torn countries.

Nancy Rushing is serving as chairman of this drive. Boxes will be placed on each hall and also students will canvass the halls for the articles. It has been requested that each student try to give something to this drive and that all students look carefully for anything that they can spare.

Klemer To Speak

Miss Betty Klemer, Associate Executive Secretary of the Association for Childhood Education, will speak in the auditorium on Thursday, March 18, for Assembly.

Miss Carter is sponsor of the association on our campus.

Sweet Briar

Continued from Page 1

national Education: China France, India."

"International Understanding and the American College" was the topic for Saturday afternoon Speakers on this topic were Sir Alfred Zimmern, Professor Emeritus of International Relations, Oxford University, and former Director of the Geneva School of International Studies; Mr. Laurence Duggan, Director of the Institute of International Education in New York; and Dr. Luther Evans, Librarian of Congress, and member of the National Commission on UNESCO. These men defined international understanding and suggested college curricula and other means to achieve this end.

Various student groups met late Saturday afternoon to discuss ways of promoting international understanding through different phases of college life. Following the buffet supper which was served to visiting students, there was a general meeting where the outcomes of the discussions were presented and discussed.

Those S. T. C. students attending the conference at Sweet Briar Briar were Anne Motley, representing Pi Gamma Mu; Nancy Rushing and Anne Verser, representing the Y. W. C. A., Tucker Wynn and Frankie Dodson, representing Student Government; Gin Bailey, representing the Rotunda; Martha Anderson, representing the Spanish Club; and Jacqueline Eagle, representing the French Circle.

Student Teachers

Continued from Page 1

and simply stuffed with food. But when the children were asked why the British didn't defeat the ragged and starving Americans that winter, I quite forgot myself and shrieked out in childish tones, "They were too busy with their gay parties to bother!" The look I received from suitemate would have the sphinx or Ozymandias as it did me!

Thus ended my visits with the lower grades. Now I quietly read "How to Control One's Impulses and Live with People". My own suitemate, the dog, refuses to speak to me' I am partically an exile! However, don't let "my" experiences over yonder upset you. Perhaps that sort of thing may appeal to you. As for me, I am looking for someone with a gold band for my third finger, left hand—and a mint of money to make me happy!

Baptist Revival

Continued from Page 1

Special music for the services will be rendered by STC girls and Hampden-Sydney boys. The young people will be used in other ways during the services.

Goat Rules

Continued from Page 3

Goat Court. Serving with her are: Betty and Jane Burchett, George Anne Lewis, Kitty Hankins, Pete Peterson, Tucker Winn, Carol Jenkins, Alice Ann Abernathy, Peepsie Brooks, and Joyce Hill.

STC Radio Program Features Monologue

STC's weekly radio program will feature this week a variety show, according to Virginia Yonce, student chairman.

Betty House will do a monologue and Charlotte Jones will sing. A trio composed of Cabell Overbey, Barbara Sours, and Louise Redd will sing two numbers.

Last week, the French Circle had charge of the radio program and Jackie Eagle, Dalila Agostini, and Betty Spindler interviewed Helene Capp, a French exchange student.

A LITTLE MINUTE FOR A BIG REST

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.
© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

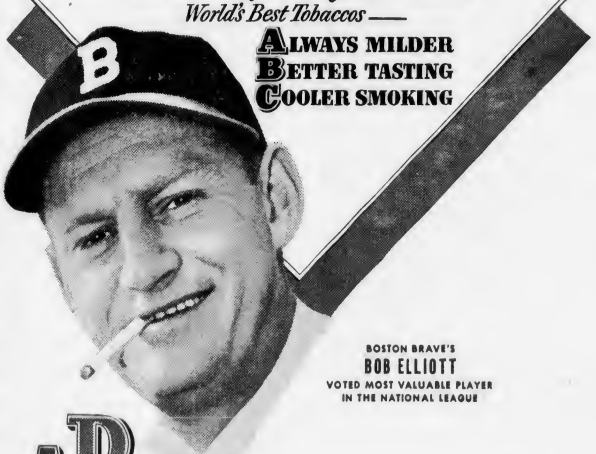
CARA NOME and WHITMAN'S CANDIES

Gray's — Truly a Drug Store

Many Other Useful Gifts

For any Special Occasion

Give Cigarette Cases and Lighters



MARTIN'S

CHAMPION N. Y. YANKEE'S
JOE DiMAGGIO
VOTED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

THE BASEBALL MAN'S CIGARETTE

When you change to Chesterfield
THE FIRST THING YOU WILL NOTICE IS THEIR MILDNESS
that's because of their Right Combination World's Best Tobaccos —
ALWAYS MILDER
BETTER TASTING
COOLER SMOKING

BOSTON BRAVE'S
BOB ELLIOTT
VOTED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

ABC ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
ALWAYS MILDER BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Happy
Easter Vacation

The Rotunda

Congratulations
Major Officers

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24, 1948 | No. 22

S. T. C. Representative

MARIAN HAHN

Hahn Elected To Represent STC In Apple Blossom Court

Annual Festival Will Be Held Soon

Marian Virginia Hahn, senior from Richmond, has been selected as the representative of S. T. C. to serve on the court of honor at the annual Apple Blossom Festival to be held in Winchester on April 29 and 30.

"Mitty" has been prominent in college affairs. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary society, the Cotillion Club, Pi Kappa Sigma, social sorority, the Dramatic Club, in which she is chairman of the Make-up Committee and is a senior member of the 1948 May Court.

Each year the faculty and administration choose the school's representative to the festival. Martha Russell East was the S. T. C. princess last year.

Craft Works, Books Exhibited In Library

Art 202—Advanced crafts has on display in the Library sterling silver jewelry, including various kinds of rings, aluminum trays, and aluminum coasters that the are students made in class.

There is also an exhibition from the Home Economics Department. There are two chairs on display that have been reconditioned by the students showing a special phase of their work.

A table of display has been set up showing the "Distinguished American Books for Children" which have been awarded The Newberry Medal. Some of these books are, "The Cat Who Went to Heaven" by Elizabeth Coatsworth, "Strawberry Girl" by Lois Lenski, and "Smoky" by Will James.

There is another table displaying "Distinguished American Picture Books for Children" which have been awarded The Caldecott Medal. They include "Many Moons" by James Thurber, "The Little House" by Virginia Lee Burton, and "Make Way for Ducklings", by Robert McClosky.

STC Hour To Feature Recordings By Choir

Recordings by the S. T. C. College Choir and Madrigal Singers will be heard this week on the S. T. C. radio program, according to an announcement by Gee Gee Yonce, student chairman of the radio committee. This program is heard each Thursday afternoon at four o'clock over station WFLO.

Gee Gee stated that recordings were being used this week because students will be leaving Thursday for the Easter holiday.

Editor Announces New Rotunda Staff

Jacqueline Eagle, sophomore from Winchester; Mary Leigh Meredith, freshman from Front Royal; Adelaide Coble, junior from Winchester; Winifred Beard, sophomore from Staunton; and Toni Allen freshman from Prospect have been chosen as Chief Editorial Assistant, news, feature, sports, and social editors respectively, it was announced by Betty Spindler, editor-in-chief.

Mildred Garnett, sophomore form Chase City was chose to serve as advertising manager. Jean Craig, junior from Norfolk, will serve as head of the circulation staff, and Mary Lou Wilson, sophomore from Warsaw, heads the typing staff.

The Managing Editor and Business Manager who were chosen by the publications committee recently are Elsie Love Bentley and Anne Organ.

This issue is the first to be published by the new staff.

There are vacancies in several staffs, especially in circulation and typing. Betty urges that any students interested in trying out for a position see her as soon as possible before the next issue.

Merce Cunningham Will Appear Here In Dance Concert

Orchesis Sponsors Recital March 31

Orchesis, the Modern Dance Club, will sponsor the appearance here on March 31 of Merce Cunningham, Modern Dance artist. The recital will take place in the college auditorium at 8 P.M.

The Merce Cunningham concert will feature "The Open Road" with music by Lou Harrison, "Rout of an Unfocus" and "Tossed as It Is Untroubled" with music by John Cage. After a brief intermission two other compositions with music by Cage, "The Unfavorable Memory Of" and "Experiences" will be danced by Mr. Cunningham. "Invocation to Vahakn" with music by Alen Hovhaness will be the third number of this group.

"Mysterious Adventure" and "Totem Ancestri" with music by Cage who is as different a person musically in the dance field as Cunninham is a dancer who has been groomed by Martha Graham make up the last and third portion of the evening's program.

Orchesis, the Modern Dance Club who are the sponsors for the big dance event of the year will honor Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Cage at a reception in the Student Lounge for all dance students and club members immediately following the concert.

Amelia Wins Cup In Play Contest

"Nobody Sleeps", the play presented by Amelia High School at the Play Tournament held in the S. T. C. auditorium last Friday night, won the cup and the opportunity to go to the state contest in Charlottesville.

The cast included four girls and one boy, the boy receiving honorable mention from the judges for his outstanding performance. The story revolved around a timid burglar who made the mistake of trying to rob the house of a detective story writer who had three daughters.

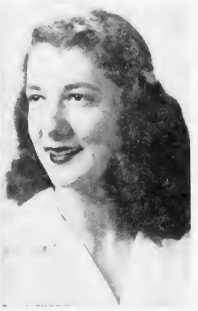
The other schools participating in the contest were: Victoria who presented "Theme Song for the Married", and Farmville, who presented "Joint Owners in Spain". These two entries also received a superior rating.

The judges for the contest were Mr. Arthur E. Earley from the University of Virginia, Mr. Ralph J. Wakefield, of S. T. C., and Miss Rosemary Elam, also from S. T. C.

Symphonic Orchestra Program Fascinates, Inspires Students

By PUCKETT ASHER

Playing to a comfortably-filled house Monday night in the S. T. C. auditorium, the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, with the splendid directing of Dr. Karl Krueger, brought music of the highest possible degree to the college and community citizens.



A Suite of Dances by J. S. Bach opened the symphonic program. Features as soloist was the first flutist of the group and the audience seemed to enjoy but not fully understand this number written for only the string and woodwind sections of the orchestra. The major work of the evening was the Symphony No. 5 in C minor by Beethoven. This familiar "Victory" symphony, perhaps the most loved and certainly the most well-known symphony in any orchestra's repertoire, was well-accepted by the audience and the orchestra's presentation of the symphony was stimulating and moving. The great variety of tonal moods in this work were appealing alike to the trained and untrained music-listener.

After the intermission of the evening Smetana's "The Moldau" and the Prelude and Love Death from "Tristan and Isolde" by Wagner completed the brilliant program. Descriptive music can find no better example of itself than in "The Moldau", picture of the great river of Bohemia, its composer's native land, and the Detroit Symphony members played it as though each were a direct descendant of Bohemians. From the first notes, depicting the rise of tributaries of the river, to the final stately passages, suggesting the majestic flow, ever constant, of the river, the orchestra worked as a single unit in painting a picture of life along the river bank as seen by a traveler in a boat.

Surely no more emotionally-stirring yet pleasing music could have been chosen to conclude the program as the "Tristan and Isolde" Love Death. From the quiet opening passages through

Continued on Page 4

Major Campus Officers Chosen For Coming Year

MARJORIE MILLER

LAURA JEAN COMERFORD

MARTHA GILLUM

JESSE LEE HICKETT

Presidents Begin Duties In April

Results Announced From Student Votes

Marjorie Miller, junior from Christiansburg; Laura Jean Comerford, junior from Meadowview, Martha Gillum, junior from Charlottesville; and Jesse Lee Pickett, junior from Round Hill, are the newly elected presidents of Student Government Association, the Y. W. C. A., House Council and the Athlete Association respectively. The election for major officers was held last Friday, March 19.

These girls were nominated on Thursday afternoon and voting took place in the various halls from 1 to 5 P.M. Friday.

Marjorie, who is a Home Economics major, served this year as representative of the Junior Class on Student Government. She was a member of Freshman Commission, Secretary of her class in Freshman and Sophomore years, and a May Court attendant last year and this year. She will assume her duties this spring, succeeding Tucker Winn as president of the Student Government.

Laura Jean will succeed Virginia Tindall as president of the Y. W. C. A. She is also a major in Home Ec. This year Laura Jean was secretary of the "Y" and she has been active in the organization ever since her Freshman year. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi and Alpha Sigma Gamma.

Martha, a Physical Education major, has been on the House Council all three years as hall president and as Secretary and Treasurer her sophomore and Junior years. "Gillie" is at present vice-president of the Junior class; she is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma. She succeeds Elinor Overby as head of the House Council.

Jesse Lee is also a Phys. Ed. major. She transferred to S. T. C. from the University of Illinois, and has been active in the A. A. since she came here. She is a member of A. K. G. Jesse Lee succeeds Jane Burchett as president of the A. A.

The elections for minor officers were held yesterday and today but results were tallied too late for publication in this issue of The Rotunda.

Thomasson Chosen President of KDP

Jean Thomasson was elected president of Kappa Delta Pi for the coming year at the regular meeting of that organization held March 18. Other officers elected were vice-president, Laura Jean Comerford; secretary, Jacquelyne Watson; treasurer, Dorothy Daniel; and reporter, Sara Rowles.

Bids were also issued to twelve girls to become members of Kappa Delta Pi. Girls who received bids are Martha Anderson, Naomi Davey, Margaret Dillon, Rives Edwards, Mary Virginia Goff, Mildred Jones, Elsie McAllister, Mary Ellen Moore, Constance Newman, Katherine Rainey, Julia Rucker, and Virginia Gertrude Walker.

Kappa Delta Pi is an honor society in education and recognizes those students who rank high in scholarship.

KDPi Makes Plans For Anniversary Soon

Plans are well underway for the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the founding of Beta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Pi. Beta Epsilon chapter is planning a chapel program and reception for the occasion, April 8.

In 1928, Beta Epsilon chapter was organized here as an outgrowth of Pi Kappa Omega, the first honor society on this campus. Kappa Delta Pi recognizes those students in their junior and senior years who have attained at least a "B" average on their college work.

ROTUNDA STAFF NOTICE

The Rotunda staff will not meet tonight. There will be a meeting the week we return from Easter holiday. All staff members must be present then.

Walmsley To Teach Parliamentary Law

According to an announcement made by Student Standards all presidents and vice-presidents of all organizations must take a course in Parliamentary law. Said Peggy Cabaniss, "It is in Student Standards' By-law that the heads and vice-heads of all organizations are required to take a course in Parliamentary Law before they hold office."

This course is being offered in the spring after all new heads have been elected. At the meeting of the committee last Monday night, April 12 was set as the final date for elections; all organizations must have their new officers by then.

Both presidents and vice-presidents must attend the course which is to be taught by Dr. Walmsley, and every meeting is compulsory. Failure to attend one class carries the penalty of forfeiting the office to which the student has been chosen.

The time and number of meetings will be set at the first meeting of Student Standards after all elections have been held.

Commercial Club Elects New Officers

The Commercial Club held its regular meeting March 18 in the small auditorium with the Juniors in charge of the program.

Janice Slavin was elected to head the program for the sophomore class.

The following officers for next year were elected: Billie Mullins, President; Ruth Walker, vice-president; Trudy Walker secretary, and Arnette Snead, treasurer.

Choir To Broadcast Special Easter Music

The State Teachers College Choir and Madrigals with present a program of special Easter music on the S. T. C hour tomorrow afternoon, Thursday, March 26.

Opening the program the madrigal singers will sing Pavanne and At Eventide It Shall Be Light from Gaul's oratorio The Holy City. Then the choir will sing a group of three selections; We Worship Thee by Mozart, Alleluja, also by Mozart and The Artisan which is a poem by Edwin Markham set to music by Harriet Ware.

The Madrigals are under the direction of June Cregar and the Choir is directed by Mr. T. E. Crawley.

NOTICE

According to Mrs. Mary Watkins, Executive Secretary, the registration fee of $10.00 for next year will be accepted as soon as students return after the holidays. Receipts for this registration fee must be presented to Dean Smith with applications for rooms for next year. Rooms will be assigned to major and minor officers soon.

Let's Cooperate On The Handbook

With the election of officers now taking place it's time to begin thinking about the changes which a new administration will make. One matter which affects the students is the Student Handbook containing the rules of the Student Government Association, the constitutions of the major college organizations,, the Pan Hellenic Code of Ethics, and descriptions of phases of college life with which the new students are acquainted in their orientation program.

It will soon be time for the Vice-President of the Student Government Association and the other members of the Student Council to begin to compile and edit the handbook for next year. In the past it was the custom for the handbook to be copied from year to year with only the most evident mistakes and out-of-date information corrected. Last summer, recognizing that the school with its new policies needed a better, more up-to-date handbook, the council members met and compiled a very commendable edition.

This year they will do the editing before the college semester ends and it will be our privilege to help them. There may be changes which they could make, regulations which could be revised or abolished. Many questions should concern us. What about those organizations which are non-existant but are still listed, such as the Debate Club and Pegasus? Shall we ask them to abolish some of the rules which are no more than a nuisance to both students and the Home Department There has been a great deal of discussion concerning the approved dating list for example, which we cannot term effective by any manner of means.

All of us should feel free to express an opinion and a criticism of items which we believe need attention. The Vice-President of the Student Government Association is the editor of the handbook; make your suggestions to her. By aiding in the formulating of the new guide book we are contributing to the progress of the College. The administrative authorities are granting us the privilege of democratic participation in the making of the rules which govern us. This is a privilege enjoyed by very few students of other colleges. Let us use it to the best advantage by offering our help to the Council when it makes up the new 1948-49 handbook.

Our Congratulations To New Officers

The Rotunda congratulates the winners of the recent election of major officers and also extends to them sincere assurance of its support. Likewise, it congratulates the defeated candidates for the honor which the student body conferred upon them for nominating them for these high offices.

The four officers elected, the President of the Student Government Association, the Y. W. C. A., the House Council, and the Athletic Association, will serve on the Student Council. Each of us is a member of the Association. It's purpose is to preserve student honor, to unite the students of the College for more efficient service, to train in personal responsibility, control, and loyalty in the student body.

We are responsible for the election of these officers; therefore, we are obligated to support them in the fulfillment of their duties, and to cooperate with them in the attainment of the aims of the Association.

Election day should have made all of us realize how fortunate we are to be living in a democracy as communism endeavors to encircle the world. The system of student government at S. T. C. is based on our national system of government and strives to be truely one "of the people, by the people, and for the people". By participating in the recent elections we have had a voice in the student affairs for the coming year. We have chosen these officers, we think wisely, and on the basis of character and capability. May we who are privileged to vote in the national, state, and local elections show the same interest and discretion in them as we have displayed in choosing our student officials. We, who are future voters of this great nation, are learning at first hand how a community's success can depend on the competence of its officers and we are developing a true conception and appreciation of a democratic government.

In the years to come let us not forget that our interest in exercising our voting privilege is as essential in state and national elections as it is in our student elections today. We are a vital part of our college community. We are equally as important in the larger national and world community.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168

Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor in Chief
Elsie Love Bentley ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Jacqueline Eagle ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Mary Leigh Meridith ..... News Editor
Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Mary Lou Wilson ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Mary Helmer, Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Martha Smith, Lee Robinson, Bobbie Wall, Joyce Hamlet, Connie Heather, Patsy Graveley, Martha Frances Morrison, Helen Arrington, Addie Dodd, Jane Grey, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Nancy Jesse, Ann Lynch, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Betty Nachman, Lela Bouldin, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Sparkie Poteat Barbara Saunders, Virginia Bailey.

Business Assistants

Peggy Harp, Virginia Howard, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancye Litz, Anne Verser.

Puddin' 'n Sauce

This is the time of year when we count the signs of spring, wish it were June, complain of vernal inertia, dream of Virginia Beach, rejoice that soon we'll have no more socks to wash until September, lament that we don't know the first thing about ironing cotton dresses, and worry for fear that we'll smother in our new Easter suits.

Judging from the way we're all tugging at our sweater necks and mopping our brows, the March lamb must have become a full-fledged ewe by now. And speaking of signs of spring—there's one infallible one, namely the "keep off the grass" signs which have sprung up around the campus. Of course, we learned long ago that these words don't mean a thing when no-one's looking; but, come to think of it, it would be rather nice at that to see just once an all green campus instead of the half bald, brown-spotted one we're used to treading on.

Happy Easter!

Gallop Pole

What did you think of the Detroit Symphony?

Sara Squires: I thought the entire program was lovely, but enjoyed the Moldau most. The Moldau was the most beautiful piece I have ever heard.

Jacquelyn Watson: Wonderful! Marvelous. But I was disappointed because there were no encores.

Betty Burchett: Anything free is good. No, seriously, it was the best entertainment ever brought to this campus. There should be more like it!!!

Kitty Hankins: I agree with Betty B.—as in everything.

Caroline Page: It was the best entertainment we have ever had here. I enjoyed it thoroughly.

Marian Breeden: I thought it was wonderful. It was everything I expected it to be.

Patsy Ritter: I really enjoyed the program. It was just wonderful!

Lizzy Bragg: It was a real thrill for me to hear it, and I enjoyed it thoroughly.

Highlights Reporter's Life Interview With Dr. Kruegar

Oh, the wonderful life of a reporter! Even Jane Arden doesn't have a more exciting time than we when it comes to finagling an interview with the truly great or the nearly so. If you had been in the shined-up-for-the-occasion shoes of a certain reporter Monday, you might have had the thrill of a lifetime somewhat like this.

Imagine yourself being informed that you are to interview Dr. Karl Kreuger sometime Monday afternoon, so promptly at the ordered hour you rush to the auditorium trembling with anticipation and excitement. Secretly you hope to find him talking to Dr Lancaster or Dean Savage so you can use them for moral support. You breath a sign of relief when you see them standing together at the foot of the stairs, but you soon find that it is Mr. Gump the Business Manager to whom you'll talk. An hour with this loquacious gentleman and your head and notebook are overflowing with such delightful little bits of information such as "J. H. Thurman, impessario of Cincinnati, said that the brass section's work in Till Eulenspiegle is the finest he ever heard," or the concert master "is as sweet as he looks, and one of the tympanists "has been with us 30 years".

Finally it was arranged with all the finess and subterfuge we could muster to see Dr. Kreuger during intermission. Taking a coke to him was to be our "open sesame" for he wasn't seeing anyone.

Now slip back into our shoes, equip yourself with a coke in one slightly shakey hand and the beat-up, ever-ready little brown notebook clutched damply in the other and knock as bravely as you dare on No. 3 Annex.

The warm greeting and friendly handshake immediatly abolish all qualms you might have had about being able to talk to him. As you perch on a convenient table corner and say your little "don't-want-to-keep-you-but-would-like-to-ask-a-few-question—please" speech Dr. Kreuger settles comfortably in a chair with his coke and seems disposed to answer any number of questions.

To our query "Do you find it difficult to adapt the orchestra to an auditorium as small as ours" he replied that he didn't, his only difficulty was getting the effect he wanted from only two-thirds of his orchestra. Ours was the smallest auditorium in which he has ever played but he said he could "use it well" because all the sound didn't go out the roof.

"Do you and your orchestra like to play before college audiences?" we asked, to which he replied that they certainly did. On this tour they have played at Duke, Bob Jones, and Davidson and he thinks that college students are ideal audiences in their attention and appreciation.

From this point on prepared questions are discarded and Dr. Kreuger explained why the Detroit prefers to play the music of Beethoven and how he goes about his work as a recreative artist in performing it. As you listen in bright eyed, rapt attention he tells of his tour last year from Italy up to Helsinki, about a recent convertion with Richard Strauss, and about the development of the orchestra from Handel through Beethoven up to the modern symphonic orchestra.

Now you must tear yourself away form this delightful interview, thoroughly convinced that you have had an experience to remember always.

Alumnae News

The Executive Board of the S. T. C. Alumnae Association will have a very important meeting here Saturday, April 3. Members of this board are Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster; Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke, Richmond; Mrs. Ann Smith Green, Chevy Chase, Maryland; Mrs. Frances Sale Lyle, Danville; Mrs. Louise Ford Waller, Richmond; Miss Lillian Wahad, Norfolk; Miss Rachel Royall, Tazewell; Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, Miss Mary Clay Hiner, and Mrs. Ruth Harding Coyner, Farmville.

As this is a most important meeting the members who retired in March were asked to attend, not as voting members, but for the benefit of their experience. Miss Helen Costan, of Lynchburg, and Mrs. Mildred Dickinson Davis, of Hampden-Sydney, have accepted this invitation.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,

We would like to take this opportunity of thanking the administration for bringing the Detroit Symphony Orchestra to our campus. It is probably the only chance that the majority of us have had or ever will to hear such a concert.

We were all spellbound upon hearing the beautiful strains of music arise from our very own stage. This indeed will be an experience for us to cherish and to tell our children. We will, in fact possibly be telling the tale to our grandchildren. We were able to talk to most of the men before and after their program, and we can truly say that they enjoyed being here almost as much as we enjoyed having them. One of them said that an appreciative audience was always the best one, and that we were "most appreciative".

This would be much easier to say in poetry, but as there is no poet among us, we are forced to put it simply. We do want you to know that this concert was appreciated and enjoyed more than anything we have had on our campus to date. We repeat—thank you for a most enchanting evening.

Sincerely,
First Floor Annex

Bed Check

Cotillion Dance was a big success last week end and we saw some mighty happy couples there. Kappes and Curtis looked dreamy—eyed and Ann Joyner's Bill was back.

Jean Turner had fun with that cute man of hers here for the dance.

Millie Spain, just what do you think of collect phone calls? It must be love when the gal spends half the night running around Junior Building collecting change.

Those thirty-five smart lasses who went to U. Va., last Friday had the gayest time and now that they have spread the "Good Word" around about their fun, all S. T. C. is eager for another trip soon.

Joyce Webb, Jane Brimmer, Maude Savage, and Nancy Rushing went back to Va. Sunday to the Theta Chi party, and now get a look at the stars in Joyce's eyes.

Mary Ellen, Timmy and the inseparables, Betty and Johnny, took off for a concert in Richmond Sunday night and oh, the nice time they had!

Ask Clem Allen about her week end in Lynchburg. It seems she momentarily misplaced a very necessary piece of apparel.

Gris was quite thrilled when a violin player in the Symphony Orchestra played "Clair de Lune" for her Monday night.

Toni and "that man from New York" were the center of attraction in the Rotunda what with bows and curtsies and all that. Who bit who we don't know, but she confessed in a moment of weakness that she fell—for a man at U. Va., that is.

Ann Nichols and Charlie are getting to be a familiar twosome around campus.

Joanne Sterling was floating on little pink clouds last Friday when Jack stopped by on his way from Tech. to pay a "social visit".

Speaking of Easter, here's wishing you the happiest one yet. See you next week!

Red 'n' White, Green 'n' White Add Even Points To Tally As Volleyball Season Ends

Each Wins 5 Points As Scores Are Tied

Class Volleyball games, which contributed points toward the color cup were played off in the gym last week. The competition began when the Juniors defeated the Frosh 14-11, 11-12, 13-8, winning two out of the three games. The Seniors met their sister class next and won the first two games, both with a score of 13-9. The Juniors defeated the Sophs by scoring 12-8, 14-3. Both Freshmen and Seniors played three fast and hard games before the Seniors came out the winners. The scores were 14-13 Freshmen, 11-8 Seniors, and 12-10 12-10 Seniors. Excitement mounted high among the spectators in the Junior-Senior game for three games had to be played before the Juniors finally came out victorious with the scores 12-8, 8-12 and 18-8. The Volleyball season ended with the Sophomores defeating the Freshmen 13 to 9, 15 to 8. The Green 'n White and Red and White each won three games which split the 10 points given for volleyball. This added five points to both their color tally.

The class squads were as follows:

Freshmen—Carper, Cobb, DuVall, Famulatte, Hamlet, Pollard, Robinson, Rodriquez, Veliquez, Williams and Cunningham.

Sophomores—Asher, Edwards, Ferguson, Phillips, Rippon, Rippon, Ritter, Trayham, Carter, Richardson, and Webb.

Juniors—Barksdale, Cobb, Coleman, Ellis, Londeree, Miles, Moore, Robertson, Romeo, Simons, Sterling, Young, and Walsh.

Seniors—Addleman, Babb, Bentley, Burns, Driver, Litz, Minton, Morris, Poole, Putney, Squires, and Squires.

The support of the teams by their classmates showed that spirit and rivalry ran high for the competition, and the A. A. urges that the same backing and enthusiasm be shown for the rest of the color games.

Class Basketball games were played off in the gym last week with much excitement for all. These games gave points to the color cup, too. The competition began with the Freshmen playing the Juniors and the Sophomores playing the Seniors. The scores for these games were: Freshmen-20, Juniors-5; Sophomores-21 and Seniors-14. On the second day of games the Freshmen played the Seniors with the Seniors winning 23-21, and the Sophomores played the Juniors, winning 30-6. The final day of competition brought good luck to the red and whites with the Seniors winning over the Juniors with the Freshmen 22-22. The final points given for the color cup in basketball are: Red and Whites, 9 points and Green and Whites, 3 points.

Those playing for the Freshmen were Famulatte, Carper, Brewbaker, Lynch, E. Winfree, Cook, Soell, Anderson, Webb, Gillum, Biscoe, and Egerton. The Sophomore team was composed of Roady, D. Carter, Woodward, Shelor, F. Allen, S. Walker, Burch, Langbein, Kelsey, P. Asher, M. Miller, and Phillips. Those playing for Juniors were Ayers, Romeo, Sterling, Hanks, Robertson, Pickett, Burkholder, and Miles. Supporting the Seniors were Fears, Brooks, Morris, J. Burchett, Babb, Hill, Hankins, Dudley, and Lewis.

School spirit and support was shown at all the games and it is hoped that everyone will take an interest in the rest of the games

For satisfying results—Send your clothes to us

Kleanwell Cleaners

DELIVERY SERVICE
Phone Us For Your Sandwiches and Drinks
Up To 10 P. M.
Southside Drug

S. T. C. Pins and Rings
A lovely gift for Easter
Garland, Newman & Whitten

Our Food Is The Best
We Aim To Please YOU
Come in and try a Plate Lunch or Sandwich
COLLEGE SHOP

SALE OF SUITS AND TOPPERS
Girls, you can save from $10 to $20. It's smart to be Thrifty.
Over 1000 new Spring Shoes received this week. They're honeys!
Hub Depart. Store
Appreciates Your Patronage

S. T. C. Girls To Dance In Meet

Three Acts Enter Richmond Concert

Twenty-four girls, who are majoring in physical education, will perform at the Spring meeting of the State Physical Education Association in Richmond Saturday, April 3.

When the first call for participants from S. T. C. was made, over sixty students responded. Elimination on the basis of having taken the course in Western Square Dance forms excluded all freshmen and many sophomores.

The girls who will dance in set Jean Bentley, Bebe Geyer, Peggy one are Betty and Jane Bruchett, Mor, Edith Duffy, Marjorie Burns, and Jean Farmer.

Mary Miller, Jesse Lee Pickett Mary Virginia Walsh, Mary Lo Woodward, Betty Etheridge, Ann Barksdale, Betty Tilson and Winifred Beard will make up the second set.

Joanne Sterling, Marjorie Boswick, June Walsh, Ray Phillips Hilda Edwards, Frances Allen, Norma Roady, and Betty Barker compose the third set.

"Star by the Right" which shows the first characteristics of Western Dance, the doceydo, will be followed by "Two Gents Swing with the Elbow Swing" which shows the swinging style of the Westerners and their use of the circle two step.

Other dances are "The Girl I left Behind Me," "Don't You Touch Her," "Buffaloes and Indians'," "Right and Left," "Four in a Center Line," "Divide the Ring and Waltz the Corners," and the "Four Leaf Clover."

Each dance is to be taught as a progression or variation of the various types of western dance. Distinctions will be made between those suited for elementary school children and high school recreation groups.

Heretofore, English Country Dance has been stressed at the state meetings of physical educators. Farmville, which has had a western square dance class for seven years, has the unique opportunity of being the first exponent of Western Square Dance in Virginia.

Instructors Course

Mr. Frank Null, field representative of the Red Cross, was on campus last week teaching the water safety Instructors Course. The following girls successfully completed the course which qualifies them to teach swimming and life saving; Martha Jean Yeavitt, Dorothy Caldwell, Frances Cregar, Edna Earle Waters, Marjorie Burns, Virgilia Pifer, Betty Tilson, Mary Miller, Marjorie Beane, Anne Langbein, and Peggy Cabaniss.

Meet Me At . . .
Shannon's for the Finest Food In Town
Shannon's, Inc.

NORCROSS
America's Best-loved Greeting Cards
LOOK FOR TULIP TIME EASTER CARDS
NEXT WEEK... SQUEAK
Patterson Drug Co.

PICTURED ABOVE is Merce Cunningham, Modern Dance Artist, who will appear in concert here March 31.

Irish-Slavic Descendant Shows Typical Traits In Dance Interpretations, Variations

As the musician and famous dance composition teacher, Louis Horst has said, very few people can really know Merce Cunningham. Just as the sequences of an especially fantastic nightmare elude our understanding in retrospect, so it is difficult to fasten on specific qualities in the personality of this young dancer that might enable us to present him in the usual "profile" syntax. To use another analogy, in contemporary philosophical terms, Merce Cunningham is always in process. The volatile, fluid nature of the artist can never be defined by collecting static fragments of movement from his dances or instances from his own life, connecting them with transpect, so it is difficult to fasten on specific qualities in the personality of this young dancer that might enable us to present him in the usual "profile" syntax. To use another analogy, in contemporary philosophical terms, Merce Cunningham is always in process. The volatile, fluid nature of the artist can never be defined by collecting static fragments of movement from his dances or instances from his own life, connecting them with transition sentences, thus assembling a composite portrait of the artist. If he escapes our complete understanding, however, he does not defy our appreciation of what he gives. His nature being such as it is, Merce Cunningham is the most effectively equipped of his contemporaries to reach out and touch the sides of our nature that seldom find verbalization or physical articulation.

An awareness of his Irish-Slavic descent offers much insight into his work. His heritage offers explanation below and beyond the superficial level of appreciation. When we witness a finished dance of Cunningham's we are not particularly struck by its intensity. The music and the movement seem to evolve with a simultaneous facility. The groundwork for such an effect is, however, intense, slow and precise. In his tireless choreographic revisions and patient trial upon discard and trial to find the precisely correct movement, we find perhaps the Slav. While this might be overly fine-drawn, the Irish temperament is more obvious to one who is familiar with his dancing.

Mysterious Adventure (1945) is an example of the influence of both traditions. Where the simple action of, in everyday activity coming upon an extraordinary and inexplicable occurrence could have been translated into ponderously complex dance vocabular, Cunningham plays with the idea, tries to probe the adventure, concludes, not in broken desperation, but in almost humorous resignation that it is all beyond him.

The Open Road (1947) is a very delightful example of this. The external experience being exactly indicated by the title, Cunningham lavished upon it all the whimsical imagination of the most confirmed vagabond. Consequently we are carried off the stage of reality with him into a realm of day dreams and fantasies which could (and do) totally take possession of an ordinary man walking down an ordinary road.

In Root of an Unfocus (1944) Cunningham has applied a similar technique to a more serious theme. The dance most nearly approaches a psychological study. With nightly-woven choreographic sequences, he dances the unsequential, disassociated flow of ideas in an unbalanced mind. The change of level and direction, the shifting movement of his head emphasize the constantly changing focus characteristic of unstable mentality.

Cunningham's universality, then, would be in his sense contact with human emotions and mentality. This appeal is not intellectualized. Whether the subject the artist wishes to embody in his movement is simple or complex, it is characteristic human experience.

From Vassar Brew
February 1948

Flowers for Every Dance or Special Occasion
Chas. E. Burg
Florist

VERSER'S
The complete men's store
Gifts for all occasions
VERSER'S
"We Serve To Please"

Spring Is Here
And So Are Showers
COME TO
Collins Florist
For Easter Flowers

THE CONVENIENT STORE FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS
G. F. Butcher Co.

Meet the Faculty

Miss E. Lucile Jennings

Though Miss E. Lucile Jennings, Associate Professor of English, readily concedes that she was raised in Charlotte County, Virginia, near Lynchburg, she gives a rather strange reply to the question of the whereabouts of her present home. She quotes her five-year-old niece who, once asked the same question, facetiously commented that "she just teaches", which was her childish way of saying that her aunt lives in Farmville.

Miss Jennings has been "just teaching" for a good while now, in fact, ever since she graduated from high school in Lynchburg; there is practically no level of teaching that is foreign to Miss Jennings, who has taught from the first grade on down the line. She has taught in public schools in Lynchburg and elsewhere in Virginia and in North Carolina. Just before she came here in 1928, Miss Jennings was Dean of Women and head of the English department of Broaddus College in Philippi, West Virginia. Concerning the first part of this dual task, that of Dean of Women, Miss Jennings says that it isn't worth highest salary the profession has to offer.

Besides having taken her B.S. and M. A. degrees from the University of Virginia, Miss Jennings has done graduate work at Columbia University, the University of Virginia, the University of North Carolina, Duke University, and George Washington University.

Poetry is Miss Jennings' first love in the English field, though she's fond of literature in general. One of her proudest accomplishments along this line is a book of college verse, which she together with the entire Broaddus faculty and student body, published. A cherished hope of Miss Jennings is that we at S. T. C. will do something of this sort someday. Again, in the English department, Miss Jennings expressed the opinion that the most important function of the S. T. C. English department is the teaching of Freshman English, since many freshmen are sadly in need of this course when they come here.

Another of Miss Jennings' interests is in medicine, which she comes by naturally, having several doctors in her family. As for a hobby, Miss Jennings wishes that someone would suggest a good one for her. She has a yearning to become a florist upon retiring from teaching.

Miss Jennings belongs to the National Council of English Teachers and "a good many other English organizations", besides the American Association of University Professors, the American Association of University Women, and the Farmville Woman's Club.

Here at school Miss Jennings serves as adviser to three organizations: Theta Sigma Upsilon sorority, the Colonnade, and Beorc eh Thorn.

READ ROTUNDA ADS

CARA NOME
and WHITMAN'S
CANDIES

Gray's — Truly a Drug Store
Many Other
Useful Gifts

For any Special Occasion

Give Cigarette Cases and Lighters

MARTIN'S

Latest Editions of Pocket Size Books by well Known Authors

NEWBERRY'S

Loyal Music Lovers, Members Of Orchestra Entertain Annex

A few of the S. T. C. girls received one of the greatest thrills when the Detroit Symphony Orchestra played to the college. Not only did they fully enjoy the performance itself, but also these few who lived on Sophomore Annex had an opportunity not often afforded college girls.

About forty-five minutes before the performance began practically the entire group of players chatted with the girls and played tunes for them on their instruments. During this time, Annex learned much concerning the views of the men toward music and their conductor.

All of the players commented on how fine a person Dr. Krueger was. They all seemed to like him personally as well as professionaly and raised their eyebrows in alarm when they were asked if Dr. Krueger were temperamental. One of the players told the girls, "He is the finest, most thoughtful man I have ever known and not at all temperamental. He is only slightly irritated when the orchestra fails to produce the effect that he is striving for and then only after he has told us how numerous times."

At one time during this all too brief forty-five minutes, Dr. Krueger came out of his room and talked amiably with a few of the players. Later a French horn man told the girls that Dr. Krueger had apologized to one of the other players for not recognizing his well-played solo in a performance of the night before by asking the player to rise and bow to the audience. Many conductors will not do this and the group seem to love the maestro for his sincere and agreeable ways.

When asked what they really thought and felt about playing in one of the worlds three greatest symphony orchestras, most replied that it was a good way to earn money. Probing deeper, however, the girls learned that a majority of the men love music from the depths of their hearts and find extreme pleasure in playing the music of the great composers. They also showed that they could play the hottest jazz, and hillbilly music of the time.

Mr. Gump, booker for the orchestra, thoroughly entertained the girls with his winning ways and witty sayings. By the end of April he will have traveled around 30,000 miles—all connected with great artists and their performances. Mr. Gump promised that he would see to it that the orchestra would return to dedicate the new auditorium.

The players are from all parts of the country and one of the violin players was born in Vienna, Austria.

Too soon the time for the concert arrived and the men with their instruments left for the stage.

An evening never to be forgotten.

Cotillion Goats Survive Initiation

My first day of goating and was I petrified! I looked like a three year old, all right, or a nut—I couldn't decide which. Everyone else had on neatly stitched ruffled bonnets, but I came out in my three safety pins a la green strip.

My short dress had the "new look' in length and the "old look" in stability. My towel, having a dangerous tint of orange in the yellow, was slightly molded from use; and in general—fate was against me.

But I got off with a minimum deeree of strain, having only to play a few rounds of tackle football using my poor helpless teddy bear as the pig skin. There I was—no helmet, no pads, charging through the brigade, past the bright lights and on down the field across the goal for a touch down; the babes of the divider department winning six to nothing.

Then there were a few quick trips to the laundry, a few rooms to be cleaned and clothes to be washed. But all in all the first day passed very successfully.

The campus characters were drubled Tuesday when the 'goats" came forth with their imitations. The verses were very fitting in some cases and of course the yellow and green stocking added to the color of the situation.

All in all, goating was very successful and a lot of spirit was displayed by everyone. But as the curtain closes on this touching scene we hear: "I'm just a little goat who's trying to stray away. Woe! Woe! Woe!

Officers Named

Anne Owen, junior from Green Bay, was elected president of Theta Sigma Upsilon at its last meeting.

Other officers serving with her are Winnie Beard, vice-president; Dorothy Dodd, secretary; Mary Jane Hite, corresponding secretary; Harriet Bowling, treasurer; Ann Langbein, editor; Peggy Crowder, Pan-hellenic representative; and Jean Samford, Pan-hellenic alternate.

Orchestra Inspires

Continued from Page 1

the familiar "love" theme, the audience was captured by the beauty of the music.

The audience, sparing with its applause until the closing moments of the musical evening, recalled the conductor four times, but failed to win even one encore. In his final return to the podium, however, Dr. Krueger generously acknowledged the college as his largest audience of such "young girls".

"Easter Bonnets" Occupy Thoughts Of All Ladies

Flowers Veiling Make Old Hats New

The old saying, "In Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love," should be revised slightly for women. "In Spring a woman's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of hats."

Easter hats are designed this year to make you look as pretty as possible. Everything from coy little bonnets to trim sailors is in fashion. A- it's a suit season, the junior takes extra importance, and is seen in many versions, with many types of trimmings. There are sailors to accent the Gibson Girl look of a shirtwaist-and-skirt costume, and there are sailors to emphasize the outlines of your suit. Ribbon, a wisp of veiling, a quill of flowers trim them.

You do not have to pay a king's ransom for a pretty hat this Spring, for while there are plenty with fancy pricetags, there are enough to go around at budget prices. The designers of these low-cost hats have used the same silhouetts colors and trimming as flattering as any you can find.

Sorority Holds Informal Banquet

Theta Sigma Upsilon entertained informally last Saturday evening at a banquet for members, invited guests, and several alumnae.

The affair was held at Longwood at 6:30. Invited guests included Dr and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. William W. Savage, Dean Martha Smith, Miss Lucille Jennings, Mrs. Mabel McCoy, Miss Alice Carter, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Wakefield. Charlotte West and Lorene Claiborne were the alumnae back for the banquet.

Jean Tolley, senior of Natural Bridge, is president of Theta Sigma Upsilon.

STUDY REFRESHED
HAVE A COCA-COLA

5¢

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.
© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

S. T. C. Girls Invade Virginia For Evening Of Music, Dancing

Flash! S. T. C. Invades U. Va.! Or haven't you heard about it? If you don't have even a speaking acquaintance with at least one of the thirty-some girls involved then maybe you haven't heard about it, yet. If not, just settle down and read on, you will never be able to make that statement again.

With high hopes the zero hour was approached and the invading force departed via special bus. When Mad Hall (Madison Hall to those of you who are not familiar with U. Va. lingo) was finally reached the horde of females disembarked and looked anxiously about them. The only male in sight was the bus driver and since they had been gazing at the back of his head for some eighty-odd miles they weren't particularly thrilled at seeing him. Upon being informed that there was a half hour before dance-time they rushed off for those purely feminine gestures of just a bit more powder on this nose, a stray lock to be pinned back here and so forth.

One by one the girls began to drift in toward the dance floor but since they still had the boys outnumbered at least two to one they were yet a little wary about the success of their venture. Then the deluge began! There wasn't a S. T. C. girl to be seen without a partner and at least one other guy in the process of "breaking". In fact, as one girl was heard to remark "If you even had time to find out the guy's name before someone else broke you could practically consider yourself a social flop.!"

All too soon the orchestra broke into the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" and it was time to say good-bye and head back to Farmville. Tired but happy, all were ready to report that the invasion had been a super-successful one and any and all are ready to try it again, any time!

ATTENTION!
Records On Sale
3 for $1.00
See also the New Album
Rusian Easter Overture
—AT—
WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

Here's that tantalizing new tight-bodiced . . . tiny-waisted . . . full-skirted silhouette . . . that's so typically Trudy in wonderful woven seersucker at just

$14.95

Grey, Aqua, Red or Brown and Sizes 7 to 15

BALDWIN'S

Congratulations
New Class Officers

The Rotunda

Congratulations
Minor Officers

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7, 1948 | No. 23

Ritchie, Eagle, Gravely Elected As Class Presidents

Other Girls Named As Minor Officers

Violet Ritchie, junior from Richmond, and Jacky Eagle, sophomore from Winchester, were elected to head the incoming senior classes at class meetings held this week.

Violet is entering her second term as president of her class, having served in that office this year. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national leadership society, and Pi Gamma Mu. Also Violet held the office of Freshman Counselor this year.

Jacky is retiring secretary of the sophomore class. This year she has been president of L Cercle Francaise, and she's chief editorial assistant on the new Rotunda staff. She also works with the Colonnade staff.

Betty Jefferson of Danville was elected vice-president of the incoming senior class. Ann Robinson, Petersburg, and Margaret Wall, Norfolk, will serve as secretary and treasurer, respectively. Student Government representatives are Gwen Cress, Lynchburg, and Jacky Bobbitt, South Hill. Joanne Sterling, Melfa, and Pete Patterson, Kenbridge, will act as Student Standards representatives.

Other officers of the incoming junior class are Norma Roady, Newport News, vice-president; Denise Love, Dundas, secretary; Page Burnett of Farmville, treasurer; Frankie Dodson, Norfolk, and Martha Hilton, Danville, Student Government representatives. Election of the junior representatives to Student Standards Committee will be held this week.

Betsy Gravely from Martinsville was elected president of next year's sophomore class at the class meeting on April 5.

Romine Mahood will serve as vice-president, Helen Agnew as secretary, and Sue Brubaker as treasurer.

Louise Taylor and Nancy Watts were re-elected as the Student Government representatives for the class. Jane Lyons and Betty McCree were elected to serve on Student Standards for the class.

Betsy Gravely, who will succeed Jean Jones, served as vice-president of the freshman class. She was the chairman of Freshman Production and played on the class hockey and basketball teams. Recently Betsy was elected Freshman Counselor for 1948-49.

Delegates Attend Press Conference

Publications Heads To Meet With VIPA

Representatives from the three campus publications will attend the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association's convention held at Lynchburg College April 10. Mary Helmer, vice-president of the Association will represent S. T. C. accompanied by Anne East from "The Virginian", Jackie Eagle from "The Colonnade", and Betsy Spindler from "The Rotunda."

The V. I. P. A. originally founded at S. T. C., was deactivated during the war and was revived last fall at a meeting held at the University of Richmond. Twenty-two of the state's colleges sent representatives to the first convention and basic organizational activities were carried out. Mary Helmer was elected vice-president of the convention and was charged with the drafting of a new constitution. Pat Striplin from Hampden-Sydney College was elected president.

At the Spring Convention in Lynchburg there will be a group of judges for each publication group and comparative standings will be set again as they were in Richmond last fall. Cups will be awarded to the three first place winners and certificates will go to the second, third and honorable mention publications. Copies of "The Virginian," "The Colonnade," and "The Rotunda" will be submitted for judging and criticism.

Rotunda Columns Announced by Editor

Three new columns have been added to The Rotunda, Betty Spindler, editor-in-chief, announced this week. They are "Our World," a commentary on the outstanding world news of the week written by Jacky Eagle; "The New Look," a fashion column by Toni Allen; and "Senior Spotlight" written by senior members of the staff. "Our World" replaces "Puddin' 'n' Sauce," and "Senior Spotlight is a variation of the former "Senior Personalities."

"Suggestions will be welcomed by the staff," said Betty, "for a new and lively sports column to replace both "On The Ball" and "Left Lead" which have been discontinued."

Audience Captivated By Cunningham; Pianist John Cage, Shares Acclaim

By PUCKETT ASHER

Before a small, but extremely appreciative audience last Wednesday nigh tMerce Cunningham presented a modern dance program in the S. T. C. auditorium.

Eight separate dances composed the program, six of which had their musical accompaniment written by Cunningham's accompanist, John Cage. Brilliant costuming was used effectively throughout the program, with costumes having been created by leading authorities in the dance world of today. Cunningham, himself, created seven of the dances on the program, dancing only one interpretative dance on a composer's set music. This was the Invocation To Vahakn, written by Alan Hovhaness, an Armenian. The dance is an invocation to Vahakn, an ancient Armenian god-king, and Hovhaness, a personal friend of Cunningham's presented him with the authentic costume worn for the dance.

Just prior to the second intermission, Cunningham danced "Experiences" which probably received more applause than any other number. A maroon costume worn in "Mysterious Adventure" captured the audience. Merce confided to this interviewer that Martha Graham, internationally-known dancer, said it was suggestive of a "baby bunny from Mars."

Both Cunningham and Cage liked the school and their "warm and pleasant" audience.

Merce Cunningham began his study of dance in a choir school in Seattle after his graduation from high school. From there he went to New York City to study with Martha Graham and has toured with her troupe several times in the states. However, this is his first individual tour and is to take him to California and then back to the east coast late in the summer.

Asked if he enjoyed ballroom dancing, he immediately answered "Yes" and admitted a love of watching jitterbugging. He has jitterbugged, but now has no time, so he said.

John Cage is a prominent member of that school of musicians now trying to explore the field of dissonance, with the ultimate hope

Continued on Page 2

K. D. P. Head

CHARLOTTE GRIZZARD

Dabney Is Guest At KDP Reception

Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in the field of education, will celebrate its thirtieth anniversary tomorrow. In honor of the occasion, Mr. Virginius Dabney, editor of the "Richmond Times Dispatch," will address the student body at the regular assembly. He will also be the guest of honor at a reception to be held tomorrow from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. in the Student Lounge. At this time Kappa Delta Pi will be hostess to members of the faculty, administration, out-of-town guests, and all freshmen and sophomores who have attained an average of "B" or higher in their studies. In the receiving line will be Dr. and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. William Savage, Miss Pauline Camper, sponsor of Kappa Delta Pi, Dean Martha Smith, Charlotte Grizzard, former president of Kappa Delta Pi, Jean Tomasson, newly elected president of the Kappa Delta Pi, Laura Jean Comerford, vice-president of the organization, Jackie Watson, secretary, Dorothy Daniels, treasurer, and Sarah Rawles, historian.

Kappa Delta Pi, the oldest honorary organization on our campus, was founded in 1909 at the University of Illinois and was chartered in 1911. It now has 153 institutional chapters, three alumni chapters and the Laureate chapter of thirty-nine members, who are among the great educators of America.

In 1918, in response to a need felt by faculty and students in our college, Pi Kappa Omega, a local honor society was founded through which scholarship, character, and service might be given recognition. Ten years later, this local chapter became the Beta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an organization in teachers colleges which corresponds to the Phi Beta Kappa chapters found in liberal arts colleges.

The purpose of Kappa Delta Pi is to encourage high intellectual and scholastic standards and to recognize outstanding contributions to education. To this end, the society invites to membership such persons as exhibit commendable personal qualities, worthy educational ideals and sound scholarship.

Student membership is confined to the junior and senior classes in colleges and the upper quartile in scholarship, the entire record of the student being considered.

There are forty-five members of the Beta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Pi.

Notice

Monday, April 12 is the deadline for all elections of officers for the coming year. It is imperative that all organizations have completed elections by that time in order that the course in parliamentary law which is required of all presidents be begun as soon as possible.

Old, New Heads Of Student Body To Represent STC

Miller, Winn To Go To Florida Meeting

Marjorie Miller, newly-elected president of the Student Government Association, and Tucker Winn, retiring president will leave S. T. C. on April 14 to attend the annual convention of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Governments. The convention will be held at Florida State University, Tallahassee, Fla. from April 15 to 17.

The theme of the assembly this year is "Student Government as a training-ground for democracy". According to a letter received by Tucker Winn concerning the convention, the topics for discussion include "students' participation in national organizations," "the extent of rights and responsibilities or faculty-student government," and "student interest and participation in extracurricular activities."

Also at the meeting a short training course in the value and use of parliamentary law will be given. Concluding the three-day activities will be a banquet at which the Chief Justice of the Florida Supreme Court will address the student heads.

Students of Spanish Give Radio Program

A selected group of students of Spanish will present a program of Spanish music on the regular weekly S. T. C. Hour, broadcast over WFLO.

Martha Anderson, president of the Spanish Club, will briefly explain the meaning of Pan American Day, which will be celebrated on April 15; she will also announce the remainder of the program.

"Siboney", "La Borrachita," "Chapinitas", "Habia Una Vez", "La Tarara" and "La Paloma" are among the musical selections in the Latin rhythm to be sung.

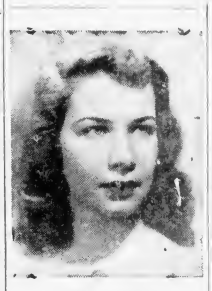
The program being under the direction of Dalilah Agostini, other participants are Grace Kappes, Loida Lahoz, Isa Velasquez, Edna Rodriquez, Jackie Moody, Denise Love, Helen Agnew, Dot Dodd, Hattie Swiehart, Doris Balance, Pat Davis, Naomi Davey, Delores Waterfield and Ann McMullen.

June Banks is accompanist for the group.

Dramatic Club Holds Election of Officers

Betty House was elected president of the Dramatic Club for the coming year at the April 6 meeting of that organization. Betty, a sophomore from Norfolk, succeeds Jean Cake as president, and she is retiring Vice-President in Charge of Production.

At this meeting Jean Cake was elected Vice-President in Charge of Production; Jane Ghiselin, Vice-President in Charge of Program; Gwen Cress, Secretary; and Ann Nock, Treasurer and Business Manager.



Other incoming officers are Gris Bodley, Head of Acting; Nancy Lee Maddox, Head of Make-up; Helen Hardin, Head of Staging; Jane Grey, Head of Lighting; Charlotte Newell, Head of Properties; June Banks, Head of Costuming.

Also Elsie Love Bentley, Publicity Chairman; Pat Earle, Poster Chairman; Mary Brownly Smith, Social Chairman; Peggy "Dee" Hoover, Music Chairman; Joan Hahn, Scrapbook Chairman; and Frances Farley.

Miss Leola Wheeler, Professor of Speech and Advisor to the Dramatic Club, gave a talk on Chinese Drama at this meeting. Miss Wheeler has spent some time in China as a Red Cross Worker and has been able to observe Chinese drama firsthand. She dis

Continued on Page 3

Students Elect To Minor Offices Fox, Verser, Watts, And Londeree

ADELAIDE COBLE

Coble Selected Maid Of Honor

Adelaide Coble, junior from Winchester, will be one of the two maids-of-honor to the 21st Queen of Winchester's Apple Blossom Festival, which will be held on Thursday and Friday, April 29th and 30th.

Adelaide is a member of Pi Gamma Mu, Gamma Theta, Feature Editor on the Rotunda, and a member of the Cotillion Club and the Dramatic Club.

Marian Hahn, senior from Richmond, is the S. T. C. princess on the Festival court. Announcement of the senior attendants to the queen was made by Mrs. Edward W. Barr, director of the department of Queen and Her Court.

Watercolor Exhibit Featured In Library

The art department has secured for exhibit at S. T. C. two loan exhibits from the Richmond Museum of Fine Arts. The exhibits will be here for a period of two weeks.

In the browsing room of the library is an exhibit compiled of works of the leading water color artists of Ameri . Both transparent and quac water colors are represented. Among the most outstanding are the works of George Croze, P. ol Sample and Joseph Jones.

The exhibit of children's art in the art lab should be of interest to all elementary majors. Accompanying each of the pictures is an explanation of the conditions under which it was painted and what it shows of the child's personality.

Other Officials Also Announced

Girls To Take Office During This Month

Jane Fox, junior from Alexandria, Anne Verser, junior from Hampton; Jean Watts, junior from Lynchburg, and Helen Londeree, junior from Scottsville are the newly elected vice-presidents of Student Government Association, the Y. W. C. A., House Council, and the Athletic Association, respectively.

The new secretary of Student Government is Patsy Ritter, a sophomore from Winchester, and the treasurer is Elizabeth Bragg, a sophomore from Norfolk.

Helen Armiston, sophomore from Lynchburg, will serve as secretary of the Y. W. C. A., and Jackie Wright, sophomore from Morrison, is treasurer for the coming year. Betsy Gravely was elected Freshman Counselor.

The secretary of the Athletic Association is Ray Phillips, sophomore from Williamsburg, and Margy Beane, sophomore from Manassas, was elected treasurer.

The Dining Room Hostess for the coming year is Jackie Watson, junior from Hampton.

These elections were held on March 23 and the new officers will assume their duties this month.

Library Exhibits Barter Play Review

The library has a special display of material reviewing the Barter Theatre play "Candida" to be presented in the S. T. C. auditorium on April 21.

For those people who are planning to attend the performance and who would like to preview the play before they see it, there are several books containing the original play which may be used for references. There are several critics' reviews also, and a review from 'Life' magazine when "Candida" was a popular hit on Broadway.

Pan Hellenic Dance Slated For April 17

Pan Hellenic dance will be held Saturday night, April 17, according to an announcement made by Jane Taylor, general charman.

The committee chairmen who have been appointed by the Pan Hellenic Council are Jane Fox, in charge of the floor committee; BeBe Geyer, head of the decoration committee; Jesse Lee Pickett in charge of the clean-up

Continued on Page 3

Blade of Grass Bemoans Fate As Extermination Approaches

"I'm a lonely blade of grass in a dandelion patch. All my family was exterminated by the heavy hoofs of Spot's play-ed majors who have murdered the conventional path and sidewalk on the back campus around the field house and informality entrance.

Am I being hard on them? Well maybe True in the front lawn (which, incidentally, looks good) there are signs telling one not to walk on the grass. But just because there are no such signs in back doesn't mean to walk on the grass.

And let me tell you the unbelievable of all. The Weed Board with General Dandelion Bedlia in his glittering golden helmet and planned a march on Grass Blade to take place during the month of April.

They've discovered a new secret weapon called the "exploding pod" which after years of scientific experimenting has become quite successful. Their underground supply amazing, in fact, the Weeds are said to have the largest underground in the A A first. Nothing can stop these legions! Not even the new lawn mower imported from Charlie's office.

But one ray of hope shines through these dark and fearful days. If we were given an opportunity to grow strong and healthy they could outnumber and thereby conquer their enemy.

Time is now short, some time fall afternoon (some station (athletics field and vicinity) for the enemy which only you can see.

Remodel The Rotunda

The Rotunda, in it's campaign for improvements to the physical plant of the college has had a number of plans suggested by students whose interest has been aroused. Among the suggestions is one of excellent merit. It calls for painting the interior of the rotunda, reviving the use of lights around the murals, and retouching the painting. At present, the statue of Jeanne D'Arc which usually graces the center of the rotunda is being renovated. It would be appropriate and constructive if improvements in the rotunda coincided with the return of the statue.

Improvement in appearance of the interior of the rotunda is of prime importance to the students. It is the main entrance to our college and the most public part of it. It is the "living room" of our home away from home. We should have the same pride and interest in the way that it impresses our guests here as we would show in our own homes.

With the installation of lights in the dome of the rotunda a more cheerful atmosphere will be attained. The addition of new draperies would also add to this effect. We would then look forward with pleasure to receiving our vistors there.

In the March 18 issue of The Rotunda plans were outlined on this page for the repair of the sidewalk at the rear of the Main Building and of the top step leading into Junior Building. During our Easter vacation these repairs were made. On behalf of the student body, we wish to thank Mr. Graham, the business manager of the college, and other members of the administration for their promptness in taking action regarding this matter. We hope that they will consider seriously the above suggestions for bringing out the inherent beauty of the rotunda.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor In Chief
Elsie Love Bentley ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Jacqueline Eagle ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Mary Leigh Meridith ..... News Editor
Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Mary Lou Wilson ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Mary Helmer, Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Martha Smith, Lee Robinson, Bobbie Wall, Joyce Hamlet, Connie Heather, Patsy Graveley, Martha Frances Morrison, Helen Arrington, Addie Dodd, Jane Grey, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Nancy Jesse, Ann Lynch, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Betty Nachman, Lela Bouldin, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Sparkie Poteat Barbara Saunders, Virginia Bailey.

Business Assistants

Peggy Harp, Virginia Howard, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancye Litz, Anne Verser.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 7, 1948

Campus Consciousness

Are you campus conscious? We hope you are for The Rotunda this week is joining forces with the Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Campaign which the town of Farmville is sponsoring.

All of us should be fully aware that the college is one of the most outstanding features of the town and is having constantly to stand inspection of visitors and townspeople. For this reason we should be doubly careful to see that the campus is kept free of papers and that we pay strict heed to the "keep off the grass" signs. The location of S. T. C. keeps our front yard under scrutiny of local people and of the travelers who stop at the hotel across the street. We have a lovely little campus; we should all do our best to keep it that way.

We wish to call your attention to the articles elsewhere in this issue which suggest clean-up camaigns, Please, let us all work together to be model housekeepers on the front lawn and inside the buildings. And don't forget the rear of the buildings. Slovenly housekeeping is more evident there than we realize.

New Location

As members of the student body, we have been asked to consider the location of the two new buildings planned for the college. Dr. Lancaster announced in assembly last Thursday that the funds for the building of an auditorium and a new science building have been appropriated by the General Assembly, and that land has been purchased to expand the campus. He requested that all students think over the arrangement of the college plant and make their individual suggestions to him as to where the two new buildings should be placed. Don't forget to think it over and let him have your suggestions.

Our World

Someone the other day in a facetious attempt at conversation asked us what we thought of the international situation. We didn't attempt to answer such a globe-encircling question then and there, but we did decide to drop a few comments along that line from week to week in this space. We'd like to say our piece about national affairs too This sheet being "state-sponsored" as it is, it's not our policy to dabble in politics; and as surely as we get into national doings, we'll be getting ourselves mixed up in politics as well.

So much for the why's and wherefore's. Now we can go into more important matter—in fact, some of the most important matter in the world today.

Nowadays when we think of Russia, we not only think of the world "bloc" but the word, "block," comes to mind, too. We're referring to the traffic block in Berlin, the Russian's latest and to date, most obvious move to squeeze her co-occupants ont of the German picture. Perhaps they didn't count on our retaliating as we have. Not only has some of the transportation difficulty been overcome through the use of airplans, but Russians in the United States section of Berlin, are now being inspected, questioned, and made just as uncomfortable as they have made the British, French, and Americans. Too long the Russians have remained impervious to our "brotherly love" tactics; finally we're forced to dose them with some of their own medicine.

Letter To Editor

Editor:

When I signed the honor code of our college as a freshman in '45, I did not know all that it would entail; but last night (Saturday) the meaning was made clearer. I approve of our honor code and admire the way it works and the way it is enforced by the Student Government. It is a thing we can be proud of, and it is not against it that I write.

The situation was this — a friend called from the University in the afternoon saying that he and his friend would like to come down. They arrived at 8:30 p. m. It was too late to go to the show and be able to return to the campus by 10 p. m. Dean Smith told my roommate and me that she was not able to give us permission to go to the movie and then to the drugstore if it would be after 10 o'clock before we could get back to campus. She said that Student Government had made the ruling and she could not go above it. I saw her point; she was right, and I accepted it. As member of the student body, I would like to appeal to our newly elected student government officers to reconsider the ruling and to realize the authority they have in their hands to change it.

The Methodist Student Center provided amusement for us until 10 p. m. when we returned to the campus, finding the Junior Parlor filled (of course); the Dean's Parlor crowded, and the Rec noisy because of so many dates. What were we to do?

The boys had said earlier in the evening that there was a carnival about three miles outside of Farmville and suggested that we go there, but knowing that this was against the regulations we abandoned the idea, which was an excellent one, and would have afforded us a good evening of wholesome fun, much better than sitting in the Junior Parlor and being crowded at that.

I feel that being a junior in college qualifies one to know how to conduct herself in the presence of young men on or off the campus. I am well aware of the fact that there are some who will abuse any privilege offered them, but why should the whole student body suffer for the misdemeanors of a few? I strongly believe that only a small minority of juniors and seniors would abuse the privilege of dating off campus until 11 p. m. Saturday and Sunday nights. Those who do are the ones that we do not want at S. T. C. I am proud of my college and do not want criticism brought against it, but after the boys left Saturday night I was never so humiliated in my life. I do not like to think about the opinion they gained of S. T. C. because of the rules and regulations that are so juvenile when pertaining to young ladies.

Respectfully yours,
Nadine Lewers

Bed Check

Well, the Easter bunny has once more come and gone, and as usual left with quite a few of our lassies beautiful diamonds to adorn their third finger left hands. Of these Mildred Davis and Anne Booker. The sparkling of their rings almost matches that of their eyes.

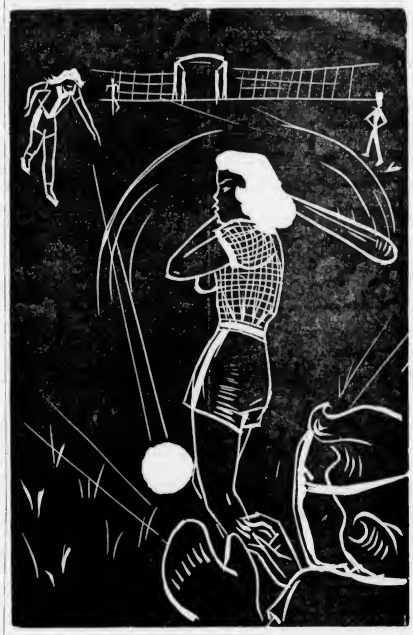
The past week-end was uneventful for a change with no dances or what have you so there is really not much news.

So glad you patched things up between you and David, Cregar.

Hope Frank had a swell time at the V. M. I. dances this week end. Your "pic" in the paper was swell, Hope.

Hilda, how's Cal these days? The rumor has it that he's very cute.

It seemed just like ole times seeing Dick again, Jeanie. So glad he is well again.



Romine, what's this we hear about you and a certain V. P. I. keydet?

The "Duke and the Duchess" were seen flitting about this past week-end.

Love Bentley is still sporting a lovely orchid from Easters at V. M. I.

How does Bobbie Wall rate a ride back every time she goes home? Must be nice!

As they say in France, au revior until the next time.

You're Out!

"The Ideal Professor" Described According To 1948 Standards

By JANICE SLAVIN

Hear ye! Hear ye! Dedication to all professors.

Howard Wilson of the Departmesnt of Economics of Loyola University, Chicago, has just completed a nation wide essay survey among the students in the American Colleges and Universities on "What is the good college professor acording to 1948 standards?" We, the students of S. T. C. agree with the report one hundred per cent.

The survey in which all 48 states were represented has had over a thousand essays and from the results the theoretical ideal professor has been constructed.

Disregarding the statement by a S. T. C. students that the ideal professor was one that never came to class, we would like to enumerate some of the results of this survey.

The professor would be a young man and should have a thorough knowledge of his subject and should be adequately prepared to teach it. He must come to his class fully prepared knowing what he is going to say. He should say it in an interesting manner without extensive reference to notes, and should clarfiy and illustrate the important material from the readings. He must express enthusiasm and must like his subject so that his enthusiasm is transferred to his students. It is a good professosr that can "sell" the students on a subject that they don't even like. The good professor tries to correlate his course with the world of reality. He uses simple, clear language rather than language that attempts to impress the student with his large vocabulary. His class is friendly and is conducted in an informal democratic manner. He does not indulge in temperamental outbursts in the presence of the students as this denotes lack of mental and emotional maturity. He knows other subjects rather than just his own specialty. He is well versed in sports, music, literature, popular fictior and the comics. He does not dodge the students' questions. He answers them when they are asked admits it if does not know the answer. He places his students first and not lecturing, writing or research.

The curve system of marking in which a certain perrentage of the class must get A's, B's, etc., and 8 or 10 per cent of the class must fail is NOT used. The good college professor rates each student individually on effort as well as growth. He realizes that some classes are better than others and the curve system does not work fairly.

He recognizes that the students are taking four or five other courses and makes assignments and demands with this in mind. He gives frequent ANNOUNCED tests rather than merely a final, or a mid-term and final.

He dresses in an up-to-date fashion which sets an example for his class. He must be the type of person who could be a leader of men if he should leave his cloistered existence. He must be a type of person who can get along with anyone and can laugh it off when something goes wrong. He does not make uncomplimentary remarks about his students or fellow professors. He should possess a sense of humor about his students or fellow professors. He should possess a sense of humor and should laugh with the class; he should laugh with the class when they laugh at him. One must must learn to "Take" as well as "Give". He is not moody — smile at you one day and bit your head off the next. He uses impersonal fairness in his treatment and grading of students. He should greet all students with a cheery "Hello". He expresses a like and interest for his students and a hope of their mastery of the subject and of life. He realizes that he should always keep the feelings of the students in mind and not upset them by unkind remarks. This causes the student to lose faith in a person who should be looked up to with admiration.

His office door is open to students for help in their subject, or for help in personal problems. He should be sympathetic and understanding to the physically handicapped students as their life holds many disappointments although they may make a good attempt to conceal it from everyone by putting up a carefree front.

He treats the student as his equal and should recognize that occasionally the student too can be right and can express ideas that are sound but different than those of the professor, without offense being taken. He is only human, too, and may often be wrong. If their apologies are amends to be made, he should realize that it is his place as well as the students to make them. No one has ever been criticized for saying "I'm sorry." On the contrary, they should be admired.

Continued on Page 4

S. T. C. Physical Education Majors Perform At Richmond Meeting

Twenty-five majors in physical education demonstrated Western Square Dance before two hundred physical educators at the State Association spring meeting in Richmond, April 3.

Two members of the staff were on the program for the day. Miss Mary Dabney made a report on the Sports Clinics held at Madison, William and Mary and Farmville during the past year. Mrs. M. L. Landrum led the dance section's program which included a demonstration and suggestions for the following year.

It was agreed upon to have some social recreational form of dance (social or folk) at all college sponsored play days for high school students.

A new venture of having a modern dance for nearby high school students at each of the colleges in the state will be inaugurated first at S. T. C. next fall.

Senior Lifesaving

The following girls have successfully completed the Senior Life Saving Course: Helen Agnew, Elizabeth Gravely, Jeanine Powell, Betty Barker, Marian Higgs, June Ritchie, Marjorie Burns, Dee Hoover, Martha Smith, Dorothy Caldwell, Mary Jane Kelly, Mildred Spain, Frances Cregar, Anne Langbein, Bobbie Wall, Minnie Dunnervant, Mary Morgan, Ruth Eggleston, Virginia Pifer, Bobbie Wall, Mary Noble Morgan.

Tilson Elected H2O Club Head

Election of officers was held at the last H2O Club meeting. Betty Tilson will succed Jesse Lee Pickett as president and Margy Beane takes the place of Betty Burchett as secretary-treasurer.

Both girls are active in athletics and have shown their interest in swimming through helpful participation in the various activities. Margy was recently elected treasurer for the Athletic Association, and Betty will serve on the Athletic Association Council as archery manager.

Dramatic Club

Continued from Page 1

cussed her topic from the standpoints of the audience, of the story of the play, of the actors, and of staging.

Keep On.

The following letter was received recently by a concern that manufactures corn syrup:

"Dear Sirs: Tho I have taken six cans of your corn syrup, my feet are no better now than they were before I started."

Participation Urged For Olympic Games

Names of the leading dancers in the approaching May Day pageant have been announced by Hope Frank and Bebe Geyer, co-chairmen of May Day.

June Walsh will appear as the goddess, Persephone; Violet Turner will portray Persephone's mother Demeter. The part of the father of the gods, Zeus, will be taken by Helen Hardin; and Marjorie Burns will have the role of the magistrate who administers oaths for the Olympic Games.

Co-chairmen, Bebe and Hope, expressed the need of fifteen to twenty slaves to participate in the pageant as spectators of the Olympics. No dramatic ability nor dance ability is required for the part of a slave. Freshman are expected to answer this need, since the traditional dances in which they appeared were eliminated this year. Anyone who wished to participate in May Day in the role of a slave may see either of the May Day co-chairmen for information.

Practices for May Day have been confined to the regular dance classes. A general meeting of all May Day participants will be called next week for the purpose of giving out costumes.

Merce Cunningham

Continued from Page 1

of doing away with noise and having any sound employed in a musical composition worthy of the word music. Prior to the time he joined Cunningham, in 1942, he worked with an all-percussion band. Now he is trying to produce the same effects on one piano with one performer that group did. A brief-case full of nuts, bolts screws, etc. forms his instruments-case and these he inserts among the strings of the piano to create an almost unlimited scope of sounds.

He has just completed work on twenty Sonatas and Interludes which will be played for the public first in Wisconsin on this tour.

These two artists brought a new artistic touch and train-of-thought to the college and the concert was most pleasing in every way.

May Day Features Old Classic Myth As Festival Theme

The myth of Demeter and Persophone will be the main features of the May Day Festival at Farmville State Teachers College May 1. Dance stylized on archaic Greek forms and staged as a Greek tragedy with the actors on a raised stage and a chorus of 45 moving with their own voices as accompaniment, as well as the flute, cymbal and drum will be the dance project of the modern dance and composition classes at the college.

Over 200 students, not counting the various student committees will take active part. A court of 18 girls will enact a religious processional with invocations to the goddess Athena, A. A. Abernathy who was elected this year's May Queen. Peepsie Brooks, who was elected Maid of Honor, will be the living personification of the goddess as she presents the famed pepioes to the protectress of state —Athena.

All classes from the Freshmen through the Seniors will participate in the Olympic games section with competition between classes and the traditional color groups on the Campus. This section will be handled or treated similarly to the famed Barnard College Greek games. The speaking and dancing chorus will augment this section too.

The student committee headed by Beatrice Geyer of Chatham, and Hope Frank of Roanoke as co-chairmen work in close cooperation with the physical education, art, home economic and music departments. Farmville's pageants attempt more than the time-honored patterns of May Day festivals. The traditional May Court is used as it fits the theme chosen for the year. This year's festival will feature the court at the beginning with the whole group of everyone in May Day as the anti-climax at the end. The stress is put on group cooperative enterprise rather than featuring a chosen few. Any girls may elect May Day.

Pan Hellenic Dance

Continued from Page 1

committee; Betty Spindler of publicity; Gwen Cress, of the social committee; Anne East and Winnie Beard head the ticket committee; Ginnie Walsh is in charge of music; Frances DeBerry of invitations; and Nancy Chambers is head of the committe for favors.

Athletic Association Names Sport Managers For '48--'49

Softball

Watch her! she's stealing second base! Hey throw it home; are now the cries that one hears coming from the Hockey field now that it is Spring and everyone has the Softball fever. Already girls have been practicing for the class teams, and it looks like every class is really going to have a great team but it takes more than a few to make up a softball team so how about coming down and knocking a few over the fence to help out your team. Softball will take the place of Hockey as the Spring sport.

If you can't play come on down anyway and try cause every little effort helps you in becoming a good Softball player. Lets really get behind our class and really have a crowd out for softball.

The following have been appointed as managers for the various sports for the year 1948-'49:

Hockey, varsity—Lee Robertson of Danville; class—Joyce Webb of Norfolk.

Basketball, varsity Patsy Ritter of Winchester; class— Ann Lynch of Tazewell.

Volleyball — Anna Fannulatte from New York.

Tennis Martha Berry from Charlottesville.

Swimming Martha Hylton of Danville.

Softball Frances Allen of Richmond.

Archery Betty Tilson from Marion.

Golf—Nancy Biscoe of Spottsylvania.

Social Committee: Margaret Wall, Chairman from Norfolk; Norma Roady from Newport News; Hilda Edwards of Hampton; Sue Brewbaker of Roanoke.

The Athletic Association is expecting a big year with every girl coming out to suport her team.

Charles Sans Contrasts American-French Women, Morals and Art

(Charles Sans, edilor of the Toulouse daily "La Victoire," spent four months in the United States last year, three of these being in Virginia as the guest of the Virginia Press Association This is the third in a series of articles reporting Mr. Sans' impressions of America as they appeared in his Toulouse paper and in newspapers of six other French cities.)

"What do you think of American women?" This was a question often asked Charles Sans. He found this question came quickly because he is French and because France to many Americans means nothing more than such feminin wares as perfume and gowns with Paris labels. Then too, the French have the reputation of having a lively interest in the subject of women.

Sans notes the position of importance which woman enjoys in America and the action and interest she takes in civic affairs, there is, for example, that remarkable institution, the Woman's Club. Although authoritative to an extent that would be considered unseemly in a French woman, she nevertheless still desires to be highly attractive to the male and gives much attention to her appearance which is enhanced by a nourishing balanced diet permitting a good complexion, strong white teeth and a well developed body. In addition, the American economy affords fine cosmetics and a wide selection of attractive clothing at all levels of society.

What do Americans think of France and Frenchmen? During his four months in the United States, Charles Sans didn't encounter a single instance in which the fact that he is a Frenchman brought anything but a favorable reaction. Everyone expressed consideration and sympathy for France if not love.

Generally, Americans think of the French as being agreeable people to gestures, poetic and artistic, gourmands, imaginative, good soldiers (because of Foch and Napoleon), understanding wives and abominable husband.

The last item in the list of impressions is due to the caricatured version of the Frenchman, a bedroom athlete and a little moustach who keeps his wife in bondage and is ready to deceive her at the drop of a skirt. A small sensitive segment of American appreciates the charm of the French countryside, the beauty of Paris, the individualism and the critical taste of the French people themselves. They know Picasso and are aware of the existentialism but don't understand it any more than the French do.

"Are the French more immoral than Americans or less?" It is the belief of Charles Sans that the French are superior to Americans in the matter of morals. Sex in America is still a delicate subject which some brave souls are beginning to approach warily in the classroom. The Frenchman, accepting the human being as such, is much more at ease with himself; art wears no figleaf in Paris. The French found American soldiers untrained in distinguishing one type of woman from another and consequently taking a rather ungentlemanly attitude toward all.

The writer has noted with much interest that when dances are held by various student groups of the University of Paris there is no line of chaperones and there is always a bar for the sale of alcoholic drinks. The drinks are considered refreshments and even cases of slight intoxication are extremely rare. In American schools, where the sight of a bottle on the dance floor would bring on an emotional crisis among the chaperones, a sizeable percentage of the dancers manage to wind up the evening plastered.

One cannot expect an American divorce rate shocking to many Americans to be less so to a French Catholic. What is even harder for Sans to understand is that in many cases it is the woman who takes the initiative in the rupture of a marriage. American women, he believes, are reared in a dream that combines romantic love with sex and are so unacquainted with reality that they permit broken homes which is the real tragedy. The Frenchman marries a woman who will be a good mother for his children. The American, accustomed to and intimidated by the "I'll-go-home-to-Mother" attitude of American women, gives too much attention to sex attraction in picking a wife.

For satisfying results—Send your clothes to us
Kleanwell Cleaners

FRESH SALTED PEANUTS Daily
NEWBERRY'S

Headquarters for
COTTON DRESSES
New in Style - Lower in Quality
SECOND FLOOR
DAVIDSON'S
THE HOUSE OF QUALITY

Our Food Is The Best
We Aim To Please YOU
Come in and try a Plate Lunch or Sandwich
COLLEGE SHOP

Meet Me At . . .
Shannon's for the Finest Food In Town
Shannon's, Inc.

NORCROSS
America's Best-loved Greeting Cards

LOOK FOR ME... I'M SQUEAK
NEXT WEEK... DOGWOOD
Patterson Drug Co.

CARA NOME COSMETICS and WHITMAN'S CANDIES
Gray's — Truly a Drug Store
Many Other Useful Gifts

Flowers for Every Dance or Special Occasion
Chas. E. Burg
Florist

VERSER'S
The complete men's store
Gifts for all occasions
VERSER'S
"We Serve To Please"

DELIVERY SERVICE
Phone Us For Your Sandwiches and Drinks Up To 10 P. M.
Southside Drug

When you think of flowers Think of ours COME TO
Collins Florist
For Easter Flowers

THE CONVENIENT STORE FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS
G. F. Butcher Co.

Meet the Faculty

MISS MARY E. PECK

Miss Mary E. Peck, our associate professor of history and social science, has been a vital cog in the S. T. C. machine for quite a good while now.

The fact that her best teacher had been a Farmville graduate was largely responsible for Miss Peck's decision, at fourteen, to come to State Normal School for Women. In addition to the work she did here, for her certificate and degree, Miss Peck has studied at Columbia University, at the University of Chicago, at Duke University, and at the University of Virginia, where she took her M. S. degree.

Miss Peck says of her career: "Teaching has been a great adventure for me, and I still love it." This adventure has included for her, teaching in elementary school, high school and college. Her schoolroom experience covers teaching in her native county, Botetourt, serving as principal of the Ginter Park School in Richmond, teaching in the Grace Church Boys Choir School in New York, supervising the teaching of the seventh grade in the Farmville training school, and later supervising the teaching of history in the college high school.

The story of how Miss Peck came to specialize in history is rather a singular one. First majoring in English, then in elementary education, Miss Peck was none too fond of history, and she couldn't quite see why the state required so many credits of it. However, after delving into this study, she became more and more enthusiastic about it until she ended by centering all of her graduate work about history. The fascination which history, medieval history, in particular, holds for Miss Peck led her to spend one summer in Europe where she was especially intrigued by castles and cathedrals.

In 1923 Miss Peck published the first of two monographs which she has written, Teaching History in Elementary School and Teaching History in High School, the latter being published in 1933.

Miss Peck is a member of the American Association of University Women, the American Association of University Professors, Pi Gamma Mu, and she is a charter member of Pi Kappa Omega (now Kappa Delta Pi.) For many years Miss Peck served as adviser to Alpha Phi Sigma, and she is a former president and member of the executive board of the Farmville Alumnae Association.

Miss Peck's hobby for several years has been her cottage in her native Pinecastle, Virginia. In June of 1949 when Miss Peck will retire from teaching, she hopes for "plenty of time to enjoy retirement—not in a rocking chair—but doing some things I've always longed to do."

"Ideal Prof"

Continued from Page 2

Many people let their false pride keep them from apologizing.

The good professor is not sarcastic, as this is the tool of a weak teacher. He doesn't go around with the "I have it in for you" attitude toward certain students if they do something that displeases him. These things should be ironed out immediately in "heart to heart" talks.

He should be broadminded enough to dismiss from his mind immediately any personal disagreements with students on any matter and continue on the usual friendly basis with them instead of going around with a "chip on his shoulder."

How do you as a professor "stack up"? How many ideal professors do we have at S. T. C.?

For any Special Occasion

Give Cigarette Cases and Lighters

MARTIN'S

★ SENIOR ★★ SPOTLIGHT ★

MARY HELMER — ANNE MOTLEY

You see her every day, plodding her way to the printer's office. Some might have wondered what the attraction was, but to us who know her, the answer was simple. WORK! You have her as a driving, but well-loved editor, to thank for your many Rotundas this year. Yes—we're talking of our own Mary Helmer.

Talents such as hers could not long remain secret. The student body realized her ability and the result was membership in Alpha Kappa Gamma, choir, Cotillion Club, and Stunent Standards. Her hard work has not only received the attention of her classmates, because hers was one—of the few names added to the roll of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The Rotunda has not claimed her entire attention for student teaching has been forced upon her also. With her usual good-nature and cheerfulness, she has taught the high school students a good deal of her knowledge of journalism.

Her favorite pastimes areeating, dancing, reading, going to the movies, and twisting one lock of her blonde hair. Oops! I almost forget to mention studying, and I know she'd never forgive me.

Speaking for all the students of S. T. C., this short article only attempts to say thanks for all the work she's done. We admire her frankness in editorials, her wit in features, and her brains in general.

It has often been said of her, wonder if there is anything she can't do—and actually it would be easier to name those few activities. An A student throughout her four years at S. T. C. with several scatering B's on her record, Anne Motley has always gone about each task with earnestness, anxiety, and determination plus self-confidence which are the main keys to her scholastic success.

A hard worker, Anne nas not by any means confined her interests to classwork alone. Besides holding membership in four honorary societies on the campus, she is active in Choir, the Spanish Club, and is also a member of Student Standards. Most important of all, as master-mind of the Colonnade, she and a cooperative staff produced four excellent issues of the college magazine—Sweat and tears and maybe a little hair-pulling was all that it took—eh, Editor?

Listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, Anne's favorite subjects besides her love for Shakespear are Dr. Walmsley's history and Chi Mills —Rah—V. M. I.

Her love for dance explains her membership in Orchesis all four years. May Day would hardly be complete without Anne as an ever faithful performer. Anne is not only fascinated by Modern Dance but is a hot jitterbugger and seems happiest when on a dance floor.

The New Look

By TONI ALLEN

Cotton clothing is the answer for most who seek a comfortable solution for the hot months to come. Styles for this season promise comfort, beauty, and faithful adherence to hte trends of the "Look of 48."

The cinched waist, sloping shoulder and full skirt are the predominate lines in the silhouettes for play clothes, housedresses, or streetwear. The tiny waist is achieved by boning, elasticized insets, a waist minimizer, or by cutting a full skirt that minimizes the waist line.

A good example of this style is the light yellow chambray dress Barbara Andrews made during Easter holiday. With the scarf, shading from yellow to green, she expects to wear as a sash, this should be a sunny summer frock.

Sloping shoulders are often achieved by leaving them entirely bare. Clothes designed to go inrough the day cover up the bare look with fitted jackets or boleros which make them inconspicuous enough for street wear. Come nightfall, the acket may be doffed to reveal a narrow strapped gown or baretop frock for dancing.

Full skirts are popularly belled out with several starched or rustly taffeta petticoats underneath. A word of warning to the girl who is assembling a complete wardrobe of petticoats—they may be uncomfortably worn in the Summer and your laundry will be big enough without a petticoat for each dress.

* * * * * * *

In a conversation recently between your columnist and Helen Holbrook, the latter revealed an allergy to gardenias. Fashion, which sooner or later finds a solution to most problems, has a solution to this already. Ilyana, Beverly Hills dress designer, predicts that the newest style will be bouquets or plotted plants in milady's bustle. She said bustles are even now being manufactured with receptaeles for fresh flowers, or even greenery.

"Flowers and ferns worn in the bustle will call attention to skirt detail," she said, approaching the situation conservatively. "Women can now achieve new sophistication or innocence, depending on flowers chosen."

For the sophisticated effect, she recommends orchids, gardenias, or tiger lilies. Wide-eyed naivete, she asserted, can be achieved with daisies or corn flowers.

She envisioned the new fad as a blessing to florists, as the new strapless evening gowns leave insufficient cloth to which to attach a corsage. The bouquets, she said, can be accommodated through use of plastic tubes cunningly concealed in the bustle. For ferns, ivy, and other produce of the greenhouse, aluminum flower pots will be provided. Apparently she anticipates no radical fashion change which will prevent milady from finding a mooring place for her bumpergay.

No Linguist

"Do you know any foreign languages?"

"No," answered Senator Sorghum, "and I'm glad of it. I can at least postpone the shock by waiting to have the bad news translated to me."

ATTENTION!
Records On Sale
3 for $1.00
See also the New Album Ruslan Easter Overture
—AT—
WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

STUDY REFRESHED
HAVE A COCA-COLA

5¢

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.
© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Library
Teachers College
Farmville, Virginia

All Columbian

The Rotunda

First Class Excellent

VOLUME XXVII — FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14, 1948 — No. 23

ROYCE STOENNER

SKEETS MORRIS

'Young Man From the West' Will Play For Pan Hel Dance

Royce Stoenner, "the young man from the west," his trumpet, and sax, and his Orchestra, will set the tempo at the Pan-Hellenic Dance Saturday night in the S. T. C. Gym. Dancing will be from 8:30 to 12 with intermission held jointly by all sororities in the Student and "Y" Lounges. The individual chapter rooms will also be open during intermission.

Among the featured members of the Stoenner band is Skeets Morris, co-owner, manager, trumpet player and vocalist. The Richmond Times Dispatch in covering one of his recent appearance said, "He blows a horn both torrid and sweet; he boubles on drums for a rhythmic downbeat; vocally, he swings from scat songs to the sentimental side and fills in with success in both duo and quartet vocal teams—in a manner that marks him for a place in the musical world." "Downbeat," the music commentary has said of Stoenner that, "He is getting the cream of the university and college dates" on this tour.

Stoenner does his own arranging and personally prefers a medley he has compiled consisting of "Deep Purple," You Go to My Head," "All of Me," and "Time on My Hands." The band will also play for the no-break dances "Deep Purple" for Sigma Sigma Sigma, "He's Just My Bill" for Alpha Sigma Tau, "You Were Meant for Me" for Alpha Sigma Alpha, and "My Wonderful One" for Gamma Theta. Stoenner will also play " All the Things You Ate" for Pi Kappa Sigma, "Night and Day" for Mu Omega, and "Always" for Phi Zeta Sigma. "You Came Along" will be played for Theta Sigma Upsilon and "More Than You Know" will be dedicated to Miss Gleaves.

In the receiving line for the Saturday night affair will be Dr. and Mrs. Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. Savage, Dean Smith, Miss Gleaves, and the Pan-Hellenic Council. The chaperones have also been listed as Miss Carrie Sutherlin, Mr. Raymond French, Dr. and Mrs. Brumfield, Dr. and Mrs. Jeffers, Miss Burger Mrs. Eastham, Mrs. Laing, Mrs. Higgenbotham, Mrs. Wakefield, Dean Smith, Dean and Mrs. Savage, Dr. and Mrs. Lancaster, and Mr. and Mrs. Graham.

Geographic Society Plans Meeting Here

State Teachers College will be hosts to the first spring meeting of the Virginia Geographic Society on Saturday, April 24. This organization is less than a year old, having been organized last May.

Dr. Lancaster will extend a welcome to their visitors. There will be a short business meeting after which the regular program will begin at 10:00.

The climax of the program will be a field trip starting at Longwood and ending at a tea in the College Lounge.

Campus Groups Choose Leaders

New Club Officers Assume Duties Soon

In accordance with a new campus rule established this year by Student Standards requiring all presidents and vice-presidents of college groups to study a course in Parliamentary Law and pass a written examination on the subject, elections in the majority of extra-curricula organizations have been held to select officers for the coming year.

College Choir

Jean Watts, from Lynchburg, was chosen president of the Choir. Puckett Asher, Newport News, vice president; Jackie Watson, Hampton, secretary; and Winifred Beard, Rapluine, treasurer, were the other officers elected by the members of choir.

Orchesis

Orchesis members elected Jane Taylor, from Pungoteague, president; Anne Langbien, Berryville, vice president; Mary Virginia Walsh Petersburg, secretary-treasurer; Marjorie Boswick, Newport News, head of costumes; and Molly Hudson, Lynchburg, historian.

Alpha Phi Sigma

Alpha Phi Sigma members chose Virginia Spencer, Scottsville, president; Max Acree, Farnham, vice president; Mary Crowder Blackstone, recording secretary; Hattie Swihart, Lexington, corresponding secretary; and Nancy McAden, Broadnax, Rotunda reporter.

French Circle

Dalilah Agostini, Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, was elected president of the French Circle. Jean Anderson, Portsmouth, will be vice president of that group; Helen Hardin, Richmond, secretary; Nellie Hart, Emporia, treasurer; Helen Kakins Winchester, Rotunda representative; and Virginia Spencer, Scottsville, pianist.

Beore Eh Thorn

Beore Eh Thorn members selected Edna Earle Waters, Portsmouth, as president; Dalilah Agostini, Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, vice president; June Banks, Richmond, recording secretary; Mary Young, Ree, corresponding secretary; and Dot Dodd, Dry Fork, treasurer.

Eastern Shore Club

Joanne Sterling from Melfa, has been elected president of the Eastern Shore Club of S.T.C. for next year. Jane Taylor, Pungoteague, will be vice president; Ann Nock, Harboaton, recording secretary; Emilee Doub, Onancock, treasurer; and Nancy Watts, Onancock, corresponding secretary.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club re-elected Gwen Cress, from Lynchburg, president for the coming year. Laura Lee Stickley, from Lynchburg, will be vice president for the coming year; Margaret Forrester, Northern Neck, secretary; Nancy Short,

Continued on Page 3

Virginia College Press Association Holds Convention

Spindler of STC Among New Officers

The second annual convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association was held at Lynchburg College Friday and Saturday. Highlighted by a well attended business meeting Saturday afternoon when cups and other trophies were awarded outstanding publications, the sixty-three delegates representing 14 schools discussed and took action on such recommendations as recommending student publication boards to replace faculty and administrative censorship panels which exist at several schools.

After registration and dinner Friday the delegates heard Mr. Carter Glass, Jr., publisher of the Lynchburg News and Advance, speak on the time honored requisite for news reporting. The publisher cited his own experience as a member of the Baltimore Sun's two-man Washington bureau in 1916 as evidence of the change in the scope of reporting and journalistic practice. After the address, the delegates met informally on various floors of the Virginian Hotel where "workshops" and seminars on improved intercollegiate relations were held.

Saturday morning representatives of each of the three phases of college publications, yearbooks, magazines and newspapers met and discussed problems peculiar to their respective phase and heard constructive criticism of recent issues by judges.

At 2 P. M., the delegates convened for the final business session, where reports of the various groups were heard and appropriate action taken. Minutes of the session are unavailable. The convention elected W. L. Dudley, editor of the Virginia Tech as president for the '48-'49 year succeeding Pat Striplin of Hampden-Sydney, Betsy Elliot of Lynchburg College as vice president, succeeding Mary Helmer of Farmville S. T. C. and Betty Spindler of S. T. C. as secretary-treasurer succeeding Martha Carter of Lynchburg College. The convention also accepted an invitation by Virginia Tech to hold its fall convention there.

The Flat Hat, of William and Mary, won first place award for the newspapers, the Tattler of RMWC first honors in the magazine division. The Garnet of Hampden-Sydney won honorable mention in the magazine division.

Rotunda Rates All-Columbian ACP Evaluates Entire Paper As 'First Class--Excellent'

Submit Comments On Various Parts

The Associated Collegiate Press scorebook, which was received this week, rated first semester issues of Rotunda "First Class-Excellent," with a total score of 865.

The paper lacked 135 points of being rated "All-American" which is the highest rating that A.C.P. gives any college or university newspaper. Although the Rotunda which is judged yearly by A.C.P. received the "First Class-Excellent" rating last year, there was an improvement of 115 points over last year's numerical score.

Departments in which the Rotunda was rated "excellent" are coverage, balance, vitality, creativeness, content of news stories schedule of headlines, typography, front page make-up, printing, and coverage, treatment, writing, and display of sports. The critics commented, "—it looks as though Rotunda reporters are doing a good job of covering campus news."

Papers judged were published in the fall semester under the staff headed by Mary Helmer, recently retired editor of the Rotunda.

The purpose of the Associated Collegiate Press is not to create interschool rivalry, but to provide an agency whereby the staffs of newspapers, magazines, and annuals may be aided in giving their schools and communities a significant publication and to help staffs in the solution of their problems through constructive criticism and advice.

Associate Editors Named For Magazine

Names of four associate editors of the new Colonnade staff were announced yesterday by Ting Rattray, recently selected editor of the Colonnade.

Margaret Dillon will assume the duties of Essay Editor and Barbara Andrews will serve as Poetry Editor. Eulas Ayres and Jacqueline Earle will be Art Editor and Short Story Editor, respectively.

Humor Editor, Book Review

Continued on Page 4

MR. R. M. SEUME

Fellowship Plans Bible Study Week

New Jersey Pastor To Lead Discussion

The Farmville Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship is making plans for a Christian Emphasis Week, to be held April 19-23. Mr. Richard M. Seume, pastor of Madison Avenue Baptist Church, in Paterson, New Jersey, will lead in the Bible study of the Book of Ruth each evening at 7 o'clock in the Student Lounge. In addition to leading the Bible study, Mr. Seume will speak in chapel on Tuesday and Thursday mornings; and he will lead prayers each evening.

Mr. Seume is a graduate of Dallas Theological Seminary, and has had several pastorates in Texas and New Jersey. He has, for several years, been a leader of young people's conference groups in New York and New Jersey.

Preceding the Bible study on Friday, April 23, the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will have its annual picnic at Longwood. Students will assemble at Longwood at 4:30 and will return to campus in time for the Bible study that night.

All students, faculty, and administration are invited to attend all the services of the Christian Emphasis Week.

Staff of 'Virginian' For 1948-49 Released

The 1948-49 staff of the Virginian, S. T. C.'s yearbook, has been released by Anne East, recently appointed editor-in-chief.

Dolly Ann Freeman, senior from Lawrenceville has been appointed literary editor and Helen Kakinis, junior from Winchester, assistant business manager. Art editor will be Dot Wood, junior from Roanoke.

In addition to these, other appointees to the staff are Ruth Radogna, Elsie McAllister, and Frances Farley, all seniors; juniors Juanita Beamon, Nancy Bruce, Bobby Jean Robertson, and Winifred Beard; also Martha Smith, Jane Lyon, Romine Mahood, Helen Agnew, Betty Johnson, and Rosemary Hamlet, sophomores.

Previously announced in the Rotunda were the appointments of Joyce Webb, junior from Norfolk, as managing editor and Edna Earle Waters, senior from Portsmouth, as business manager.

875 Points Place STC Weekly Tops

The Rotunda has been awarded a First Place rating in the twenty fourth annual contest of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association with "All-Columbian" honors for stories and essays.

The First Place group is elected for its outstanding qualities, but it is intended that such recognition shall be accorded to not more than ten per cent of the class entries. Out of a possible one thousand points The Rotunda scored eight hundred seventy-five, placing itself in this top group.

In this contest each paper is compared with the others in its own particular classification and is rated according to its relative standing with such. The rating points have been established after a study of what constitutes the average newspaper. Of The Rotunda the judges said, "A good-looking newspaper which indicates a live, hardworking staff and leadership. General newspaper practices capably executed."

This is the first year that The Rotunda has been submitted to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. All issues published during the first semester of this year were submitted. These were under the direction of Mary Helmer, retired Editor-in-Chief.

Students Of Spanish Observe Pan-America Union Anniversary

April 14 will be Pan-American Day on the campus with the Spanish Club presenting a program honoring the organization of the Pan-American Union at the regular assembly program at 11:00.

The Pan-American Union was in session until the Bogota uprising last week.

The program for Thursday will include a brief history of the Union and its importance to the Americas by Martha Anderson. "The Mexican Hat Dance" will be danced by Grace Kappes and Doris Lloyd. Alben g's "Tango In D" will be played on a piano solo by Puckett Asher. Betty Spindler will read her translations of poems by two great classical writers.

A group of songs typical of the Latin countries will be presented by the members of the club. The group will present "Un Barco Chiquitita;" the beginners, "Las Chiquanecas," and "La Borracha;" the sophomores, "Siboney," "La Paloma," and "Adios Muchachos"; the advance Spanish students, "La Tarara," "Panameno," and "Ya Se Van Los Pastores"; the 4-year students, "Arroz Con Leche," and Mambru Se Fue a La Guerra"; and the group from Puerto Rico, "La Perla" and "Nive, Viento y Sol." June Banks will play the piano accompaniment and Grace Kappes the castanets.

Dalila Agostini heads the music committee. Dennice Love, the staging, and Ruth Hathaway, the

Continued on page 4

Correction

The Rotunda regrets the omission of the newly elected officers of the House Council for the coming year in last week's Rotunda. Martha Gillam, Junior from Charlottesville, is the new president of the House Council. Serving with her will be Jean Watts, Junior from Lynchburg, Vice President; Betty House, Sophomore from Norfolk, Secretary, and Puckett Asher Sophomore from Newport News, Treasurer.

Virginius Dabney Recounts Recent Trip To Germany At S.T.C. Exercises

MR. Virginius Dabney, editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, who spoke at chapel exercises at Farmville State Teachers College this morning on his recent trip through devastated Europe, said that "I have returned with the conviction we must be absolutely firm with Russia in the present crises, that we must seek constantly to strengthen the United Nations Organization, and that we must provide for Europe through the Marshall Plan."

The Richmond editor, speaking at chapel exercises commemorating the 30th anniversary of the local chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society, said that he feels it is "unlikely that war is imminent," and added that he felt civilization could not survive another war fought with atomic weapons.

The speaker enlarged on his visit to four points in Germany "that typify the beginning and the end" of Nazism: the horror chambers of Dachau, Hitler's retreat at Berchtesgarden, and the cities of Nuremberg and Berlin.

Of Dachau he said "you need have no doubts about the atrocities of the Nazis, the evidence is still preserved there by the Occupation forces for all to see." He said that the horrible record of Dachau is still preserved even to the names of the 237,000 people murdered there.

The cities he described as nothing but incredible piles of rubble for miles and miles. "Such undescribable destruction can't be imagined, even in the wildest dreams, he said. Somehow 9,000,000 more people who weren't in Germany before the war have joined the native Germans in a life of burrowing beneath the rubble in "dark, damp, lightless cellars."

Rehabilitation Efforts

Mr. Dabney also spoke on the efforts being made by Occupation forces to re-educate the German youth. Educators believe that those Germans in their 20's and 30's are hopelessly imbued with Nazi doctrine, but that the country's salvation lies in the youngsters who are now in school under teachers who were anti-Nazi.

Schools are using new, demo-

Continued on Page 2

Tribute to Corinne Baker

It is impossible to put into mere words the loss we all feel at the untimely and unexpected death of our friend, our playmate, our beloved classmate, Corinne Baker.

Corinne was certainly one of the most well known members of her class. She came to S. T. C. as a freshman and immediately danced her way into the hearts of everyone. Corinne, full of energy and enthusiasm, was not content to be a spectator in any college activity. She was very active in all groups in which she belonged and particularly we shall remember her dancing. We can recall with clarity Corinne's parts in every May Day, her antics as Raggedy Ann, and her excellent presentation of a lively Cracker-Jack or lovely Moonlight.

Full of grace, Corinne was and will be remembered as an individual. Her sunny disposition, her irresistible quirks of temperament, her infectious giggle, and her cheery words have touched everyone who knew her and for those things she will be remembered.

We, here at S. T. C. have been enriched by knowing Corinne and knowing her love for us. We shall miss her but we shall not be sad. Yes, we shall remember—and smile, for Corinne will dance in our hearts.

Rotunda Rating

The Rotunda ratings have come back and we blushingly point with pride to the work we did under Mary's most able leadership. We worked hard to make The Rotunda a newspaper of which the students could be proud. Now that we have succeeded we shall not rest on these laurels, but will strive to continue the good work and to push on even higher if we possibly can.

This is not the editor's paper, nor the staff's paper alone, it belongs to every student on the campus.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor in Chief
Elsie Love Bertley ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Jacqueline Eagle ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Mary Leigh Meridith ..... News Editor
Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Mary Lou Wilson ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Mary Helmer, Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Martha Smith, Lee Robinson, Bobbie Wall, Joyce Hamlet, Connie Heatherr, Patsy Graveley, Martha Frances Morrison, Helen Arrington, Addie Dodd, Jane Grey, Jane Hunt Gluselin, Augusta Hargan, Nancy Jesse, Ann Lynch, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Betty Nachman, Lela Bouldin, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Sparkie Poteat Barbara Saunders, Virginia Bailey.

Business Assistants

Peggy Harp, Virginia Howard, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancye Litz, Anne Verser.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14, 1948

Smoking Call Downs

Will it be necessary for the Student Government Association to give call downs to those students who persist in throwing lighted cigarettes on the floors of the halls and of their rooms? The matter has become a problem of the utmost importance since the safety of every student depends on the immediate stopping of this practice. Thoughtless smokers who persist in throwing their lighted cigarettes on the floors are endangering the lives and property of each one of us here at S.T.C. There are no fire proof buildings on our campus. They are protected by sprinkler systems which lessen the danger of fire. However, we cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that death and destruction result from fires in the most modern fireproof buildings. As it now stands, just one smoldering "butt" cast down by one careless smoker could initiate an undreamed-of halocaust.

Receptacles for burned cigarettes are provided at the head and foot of each stairway in the College except in Cunningham where they should be installed, and there are ash trays in the second and third floor lounges in the main building. It is also an offense to smoke in the Rotunda and on the first floor. Smoking in the gym and in both the small and large auditoriums is forbidden but each day cigarette "butts", some of them still burning, are found in these places. If we will consider for a moment the inflammability of our building we will realize the imminent danger that surrounds us so long as careless smokers are S. T. C. students.

In the interest of all of S. T. C. the Student Government is considering the enforcement of a call down penalty on all guilty smokers. Must we admit our carelessness by making this necessary?

OUR WORLD

By Jacqueline Eagle

Pan-American Week is being celebrated in a most ironic fashion this year. The ninth Inter-American Conference has been broken up by the rioting in Bogota which was touched off by the shooting of Jorge Gaitan, Colombian Liberal party leader.

Only several days ago many of us still felt that if there were one conference between nations from which there might come some measure of success, that would be the Inter-American Conference. Yet this hope fades in the light of the bloody confusion in Bogota.

Still we find a glimmer of hope in the situation. We're heartened that Conservative president Mariano Ospina Perez has remained in power and that his government has retained as much control as is possible under the circumstances. In addition he has reorganized his cabinet dividing it between Conservatives and Liberals who apparently are working together forcefully and harmoniously. However, we limit the "working harmoniously" to members of the cabinet only.

The trend of feeling among Conservatives, many Liberals, and foreign diplomats, outstandingly Secretary of State Marshall, is that international communists are responsible for the outbreak in Bogota. Indeed the whole affair literally reeks with the stench of communists, who seem to have been employing more and more the old "divide and rule" policy.

At press time, it hasn't been yet decided where or even whether to resume the Inter-American Conference. It must be resumed quickly at all costs; The Americas must strengthen and reunite themselves in a common effort to check the menace of communism. It is left for a young and healthy North and South America to mend the nearly rotten pieces of the rest of the world.

Whoopee!

Gallop Pole

What do you like best about the Rotunda?

Paulette Pifer: I enjoy the features most of all, but I think the titles are inappropriate.

Billy Mullins: I always enjoy the question of the week most, then letters to the editor. They are usually quite interesting. And, of course, I read Bed-Check.

Jackie Watson: I suppose I like the gossip column (Bed-Check) most.

Margaret Wall: The printing and the texture of the paper.

Jennie Sue Webb: I like sports because I'm so athletic. Next best, I like Bed-Check, because Margaret Wall's name always appears in it.

Ann Ford: The letters to the editor. They give the students a chance to express their ideas.

Marjorie Miller: I like Bed-Check best. There's nothing like printed gossip. Also ditto to Ann's statement.

Jean Stuart Babb: Personally, I prefer the sports. After all, I'm a phys. ed. major.

Dorothy Woods: I like Bed-Check. I think we all like to hear what's going on, gossip, etc.

Ruthellen Mears: I like Bed-Check. I like to read about my 'lil' friends.

Mary Towles Waldrop: I like the pictures.

Kitty Hankins: Bed-Check. My name is mentioned so much

Gum-Chewers, Dating Couples Send Ambitious Students To Closets

Not long ago, fired with ambition and deluged with threats of term papers, I marched purposefully to the library. I stalked to the reference room, surrounded myself with books and plunged into my work. Suddenly, there was a loud explosion! I jumped halfway to the middle of the room before I realized I had removed my shoes for complete comfort during my labors. As I hopped daintily back to my chair, I looked around for the gun that had just been fired. Instead, I saw a wee little creature cracking her gum with the force of a deisel engine. She was chewing with such velocity that I knew her plates would be worn down before the appearance of her first grey hair—and frankly, I was hoping it would happen even sooner. That night, for instance.

After scowling ferociously over my glasses (and to no avail) I went back to work in the silence that was punctured by snap, crackle, pop every fifteen seconds. I won't say I became immune to it, but I was hoping it would happen even sooner. That night, for instance.

After scowling ferociously over my glasses (and to no avail) I went back to work in the silence that was punctured by snap, crackle, pop every fifteen seconds. I won't say I became immune to it, but I was tolerating it, without jumping out of my chair. Imagine my boundless pleasure when two campus critics tripped in with their dates. They sat at the table in front of me and whispered, snickered, giggled, and mumbled over a reference book. Now, I want to state here and now that I have absolutely nothing against dates. As a matter of fact, I think they are a fine idea—only wish I had more myself. But with only an hour and a half in which to try to do two hours' work, and being the type that requires comparative silence for concentration, I could have committed wholesale slaughter.

Realizing, from former experiences that threatening glances would make no impression, and pleas would bring only "choice" (?) remarks, I gathered up my books and retreated to a table on the far side of the room. I would probably have been perfectly happy here, except three girls, (who must have been literary critics) each armed with a book, were reading aloud certain phrases and passages and commenting on them. Some of the comments were priceless, some of the criticisms really worthwhile, but at that point I wouldn't have appreciated a song and dance act by Lillian Russll, Bing Crosby and Rudolph Valintino—so—o-o-. I closed my books with an earthshaking bang and stomped out of the library—never to darken its doors again (and that's a prayer.)

With typical American ingenuity, I hit upon a solution. I moved my clothes, boxes, and shoes out of my closet, and installed in it books I rented begged, and borrowed. There, I spend many an hour by flashlight working in solitude. If my respiretory system holds out, I think I'll graduate, yet!!

Alumnae News

On Saturday, April 24, the Staunton alumnae chapter will have their annual luncheon.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster will be the guest speaker and alumnae from Augusta, and adjoining counties are invited.

Officers of this chapter are: Mrs. Helen Cover Lineweaver, president; Mrs. Elizabeth Sawyer Walker, vice president; Miss Elizabeth Barlow, secretary; Miss Margaret Stratton, treasurer; and Mrs. Margaret Mish Timberlake, historian.

Report of VIPA

The business meeting of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, held in Lynchburg last Saturday, took up such matters of importance to college publications as the awarding of keys and certificates to qualified members, the issuing of a newsletter to all Virginia colleges covering the activities of the VIPA conferences, and the awarding of trophies to the publications judged in the contest.

Reports from three publication groups were submitted with resolutions by the group. The annual group proposed that each publication have one vote in the convention, that every member with attendance at two conventions be eligible for a key and certificate (which will be ordered through the secretary with the approval of the president.), and that the secretary contact all schools for exchange of yearbooks, newspapers, and magazines.

The newspaper group drew up and presented four resolutions which were adopted as recommendations.

1. That boards of publications be set up by students in schools where undue faculty censorship hampers free student expression.

2. That a newsletter be sent out, containing a complete report of the Convention, to all schools in the state.

3. That the secretary compile a list of all publications for use in exchange.

4. That an exchange of pictures of mutual interest be set up.

The magazine group proposed that each school, rather than each

Continued from Page 2

Bed Check

The week-end really proved to be quite a gala occasion for everyone!

Representing our school at Chapel Hill were Polly Calwell, "Boo," Atkinson, and Gwen Smith, 'n if you don't think they had a fine time, just ask 'em.

Having a super plus time in Richmond over the week-end, was Joan Hahn. We think dating one "Duke man" would be w-o-n-d-e-r-f-u-l, but we can't imagine dating two at the same time!!

Our new Mrs. Baker, formerly Freida Dansburger, is simply out of the world with happiness. Our best wishes to them both!!

We hear Carolyn Calhoun, Page Heath, Millie Spain, Anne Robinson, and Ginny Walsh all had a mighty fine time in Petersburg.

Another of our fair belles who has added that certain lil' thing to her third finger left hand is June Nichols, and it is really a beauty.

Finding much entertainment in South Hill were Janie, Corky, Johnnie 'n Jackie.

Still having that certain lil'l twinkle in her eyes since she returned from V. M. I. dances, is Nancy Shackleford.

We see the Duke and Duchess are still playing court!

Must leave you for this week, but I'm promising to be back next week with all the latest. See ya'll at Pan-Hels—Or, are you going to the dances at Virginia?

Ed. Note—It seems ironical that in a poll conducted to find out what the students like or want to criticize in the paper, for the purpose of guiding the staff in making the "Rotunda" what it should be, that almost without exception you have chosen Bed Check as the favorite It is without doubt our worst feature. ACP says, "Gossip column often tends to be in bad taste." Columbia says it's "high-school" journalism. We'd cut it out but we value our lives.

Langbein To Succeed Baker As Chairman

Anne Langbein will replace, Corinne Baker who was recently injured in an automobile accident, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Merle Landrum Monday, April 12.

Mrs. Landrum also announced that May Day practice at Longwood started today with practice at 3: 45 p. m. at Longwood.

Reporter Finds Story Of Rotunda Murals

The four necessary activities for a well rounded life at S. T. C. have been illustrated for us by beautiful paintings found in the dome of the Rotunda. These activities are Teaching, Study, Meditation, Recreation and Rest.

Portraits of the four men having the most influence in the founding of this school are also found in the now faded work of an Italian American artist from Pittsburgh. Thomas Jefferson is the father of public education. The origin of the Normal School idea is Horace Mann who is portrayed with W. H. Ruffner, the first president and founder of the State Female Normal School. Also found here is a picture of J. L. M. Curry, chairman of the first board of directors of the new institution.

Have you noticed these paintings? Few of us have. Such a work of art should hold a conspicious place in the rotunda.

Mr. Graham informs us that during the next biennial the paintings will be retouched. The war interrupted work on an indirect lighting system which will also be completed.

Phone union to demand wage rise of 30 cents an hour.

Government Heads Leave For Florida

Tucker Winn and Marjorie Miller left here this afternoon to attend a convention of heads Student Government Associations at the University of Florida, Tallehassee.

This convention is being held for the purpose of training the heads in fostering student participation in national organizations, cooperation in faculty-student government and interest and participation in extra-curricular activities. The girls will also attend a short training course in parliamentary law.

Report of VIPA

Continued from Page 2

publication, have one vote to be cast by the senior member. It was decided at the Richmond last fall that one vote per school should stand until the constitution is approved, so this procedure was followed at Lynchburg.

A recommendation was also submitted that the speaker next year be familiar with all three types of publications if such a speaker can be procured.

Since the old constitution was not in the available files it was moved and carried that Pat Striplin appoint himself a committee from an old one being sent to him by Mr. Alexander Hudgins from Baltimore in the near future.

The secretary reminded the delegates that only five publications have paid the dollar fee charged to cover mailing and other incidental expenses incurred in her duties.

A resolution of thanks to Pat Striplin for his fine job as President of VIPA was passed and thanks also went to Dick Combs and Betsy Elliot of Lynchburg College for their management of the convention on their campus.

Association Meets To Plan Tournament

The Virginia Hockey Association met on Saturday, April 3, at the Hotel Jefferson in Richmond to decide where the Virginia State Hockey Tournament is to be held next fall. They also decided to try, for one year, the plan of pre-tournament games according to sections. To be an active member, a school must have played four games with other schools the preceding year and have two Hockey fields. Since Farmville does not have two fields and did not play four games it is a member of the Allied A's. The Allied A group is being divided into two geographical sections, thus cutting down traveling time.

A committee, made up of a representative of each group, will meet in the next few weeks to decide where the pre-tournaments will be held, when, and the the time-length of the halves. It is hoped that the committee will consider the invitation issued by Farmville, at the last meeting, to be hostess for a section of the Allied A group.

Virginius Dabney

Continued from Page 1

cratic texts, and youth groups, supervised by American and British forces, have been established. These are reaching about 25 per cent of the youth, a number that educators feel is adequate to bring about a democratic change.

Most German educators, all of whom have been selected for their opposition to the old regime, feel that the process of changing the viewpoint of the country will take a generation.

Very little progress is being made by the Germans in rebuilding, the speaker said. There is no machinery; the natives are weak from lack of food; and 25 per cent of the country's agricultural lands have been absorbed by Poland and Russia.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster introduced the speaker, and Robert Wakefield, of the music department sang two numbers at the exercises.

Mary Hardwick, International Tennis Star To Conduct Clinic at STC on April 15

Miss Mary Hardwick, internationally known tennis star, will conduct a tennis clinic at Farmville State Teachers College, Thursday, April 15 for the benefit of interested students.

Miss Ruth Mary Harwick, now Mrs. Charles E. Hare, was born in Wimbledon, England. She began playing tennis in 1930. When she went to Wimbleton and saw Tilden and Helen Wills Moody win the Championship, she decided that she wanted to follow in their footsteps.

In 1931 she reached the semi-finals of Junior Championship at Wimbledon. This was her second tournament. She began receiving special tuition from Dan Maskell at the All England Club.

In 1933 she was selected to represent Great Britain in First International Match vs. Germany and France. In 1935 she played Helen Wills Moody and held match points—first time Helen has lost a set since 1927. During 1935-36 she toured South Africa with the British team.

In 1936 Miss Hardwick represented Great Britain vs. United States in the Wightman Cup Match. In 1937 she won doubles and mixed doubles in Scandinavian Championship at Copenhagen. She also won South of France Singles Championship at Nice, British Covered Court Championship and Scottish Championship, and represented Great Britain vs. United States in Wightman Cup Matches.

In 1938 she won the Scandinavian Championship—Singles and Doubles—at Helsinki; beat Helen Wills Moody at the tournament in Weybridge, England (first time she had been beaten since 1927); and also beat respective vieing champions of Australia, France, and the United States (Dodo Bundy, Simone Mathiou and Anita Lizana).

1939 found Miss Hardwick touring Jamaica with British Team, beating Sarah Palfrey twice; winning every tournament in which she competed in England; and representing Great Britain in Wightman Cup Match.

In 1940 she won tournaments in Los Angeles, Palm Beach, Miami, Hot Springs St. Louis etc. Since 1937 she has never been beaten by a British player and since 1935 has been what he calls, "My Favorite Partner" by King Gustav of Sweden.

MARY HARDWICK

Miss Hardwick made her professional debut at Madison Square Garden on January 6, 1941, playing against Alice Marble. This same year she toured the United States in company with Donald Budge, Bill Tilden, and Alice Marble While in the United States she played in over sixty cities and the tour lasted five and one-half months. During this time she played so well that she won many victories over the present world champion. After this tour was over she devoted her time to playing matches for the British War Relief and the Bundles for Britain organization, and also for the aid of her own fund, which was called "The Mary Hardwick Wimbledon Fund" to provide mobile canteens for the sorely stressed citizens of her own home town in England.

In 1943 she made tours of Army, Navy, and Air Force camps at bases for the entertainment of the officers and men in the forces in the Southwest, the Middlewest and the East on the U. S. A. Also, she gave tennis clinics and exhibitions in high schools and colleges throughout the country. On January 30, 1943, she married Charles E. Hare, U.S. Army, former no. 1 British Davis Cup Tennis Player.

In 1944 she was officially requested by the War Department to make tours with Alice Marble for the entertainment and Moral Building Division of the Army and Navy. These tours included entertaining the WACS and living as a Wac in the enlisted girls barracks throughout the country, entertaining at WAVE installation and with Alice Marble went on the first overseas entertainment tour ever made in war time by civilian athletes to Central American, Canal Zone and Panama. During this time she also played exhibitions to raise funds for the American Red Cross, and contributed to War Bond drives. She continued lectures, tennis clinics, and exhibitions in schools and colleges; made tours of Army and Navy camps in continental United States and overseas.

She returned to England in 1945 to continue exhibitions and clinics for Allied Forces in Europe (the continent and liberated countries and England), took part in exhibitions for British Charities and gave lectures and talks to War Workers, etc. She entertained Allied servicemen and women in Berlin, Frankfurt, and other sections of occupied Germany.

In 1946 she made literary debut as Tennis Feature Writer and Critic of "The London Evening News" and wrote numerous articles on tennis and its value for magazines. In August 1946, she returned to the United States and continued "clinics" in colleges and high schools and exhibition matches with Charles Hare, Donald Budge, Alice Marble and others.

Another outstanding person who will be on the campus the same day is Mr. Frank Gernsey. He is very outstanding in tennis and he and Miss Hardwick will give an exhibition match in tennis at 3:00.

Schedule Announced For Tennis Clinic

9:30 A. M.—Lecture and group discussions—Health Education room and Courts. Majors and advanced players

10 A. M.—Group instruction for above group—tennis courts

11 A. M.—Group instruction for beginners—tennis courts

1:45 P. M.—Group insturction for visitors and the S. T. C. boys—tennis courts

3 P. M.—Exhibition match by Miss Hardwick and Mr. Gernsey—tennis courts

The schedule for the Tennis Clinic which will be held on the S. T. C. campus Thursday, April 15, was announced by Miss Iler on Monday.

George Ann Lewis and Martha Berry will be in charge of the program during the day.

Beore Eh Thorn Bids

New members were elected to Beore Eh Thorn local honor society in English at the meeting held Thursday evening, April 8.

Girls who received bids are Margaret Dillon, Gertrude Driver, Helen Hardin, Julia Rucker, and Lois Stevens.

Campus Groups

Continued from Page 1

Midlothian, treasurer; Mildred Garnett, Chase City, Rotunda reporter; Frances Farley, Lynchburg, and Rebecca Seward, Richmond, social chairmen; and Harriet Steel, Portsmouth, program chairman.

Westminster Fellowship

Westminster Fellowship, the young people's group of the Presbyterian church, chose Betty House, Norfolk, as president, Sam Hart, a student at Hampden-Sydney as vice president; Agnes Dingledine, Harrisonburg, secretary; and Anne Simpson, Ansted, West Virginia, treasurer.

Pi Gamma Mu

Adelaide Coble, Winchester was elected president of Pi Gamma Mu; Mary Evelyn Miles, Saxis, is new vice president, Elizabeth Drewer, Saxis, secretary, and Jackie Watson, Hampton, treasurer.

Northern Neck Club

Officers of the Northern Neck Club for the coming year are Mary Lou Wilson, Warsaw president; Louise Taylor of Hague, vice president; Margaret Forrester, Lively, secretary-treasurer; and Max Acree, Farnham, reporter.

Council Installs 11 New Members

New Student Council members were installed last night at a meeting of the Student Body in the auditorium.

Tucker Winn, retiring president of the Student Government Association, installed Marjorie Miller as president. The new president then administered the oath of office to Jane Fox, who succeeds Jean Bentley as vice-president; Patsy Ritter, who succeeds Jane Fox as secretary; and Elizabeth Bragg, who succeeds Jackie Bobbitt as treasurer.

Other newly installed members are: Martha Gillum, president of the House Council; Jessie Lee Pickett, president of the Athletic Association; Laura Jean Comerford, president of the Y. W. C. A. and Jackie Bobbitt, Gwen Cress, Frankie Dodson, and Martha Hylton, Louise Taylor, and Nancy Watts class representatives.

In an address to the new council members and to the Student Body, Dr. Dabney Lancaster complimented the council on its work during the past year and expressed his appreciation especially to Tucker Winn, Dr. Moss and Charlie Hop" for their untiring endeavor in behalf of the Student Council and the Student Body.

In closing he offered services at any time to each and every S. T. C. student.

Color Cup Standing To Date

Red & White		Green & White
	Hockey
10	Class
	Tennis
	Singles
	Doubles
	Basketball
10	Class
10	Varsity
	Volleyball
5	Class	5
	Archery
	Swimming
5	Class
	Softball
	Class

DELIVERY SERVICE
Phone Us For Your Sandwiches and Drinks Up To 10 P. M.
Southside Drug

When you think of flowers Think of ours COME TO
Collins Florist
For Easter Flowers

For satisfying results—Send your clothes to us
Kleanwell Cleaners

FRESH SALTED PEANUTS Daily
NEWBERRY'S

Our Food Is The Best
We Aim To Please YOU
Come in and try a Plate Lunch or Sandwich
COLLEGE SHOP

Meet Me At . . .
Shannon's for the Finest Food In Town
Shannon's, Inc.

VISIT—
THE HUB
And see the most adorable wash frocks ever—"Pat Perkins"—"Betty Barclay"—"Doris Dodson"
$5.95 to $14.95

CLEARANCE SALE!
BOWEN
JEWELERS
Sucessors To
GARLAND, NEWMAN & WHITTEN
Prices Slashed On Almost Everything In Stock In Order to Reduce Inventory.
Bargains From 19c Up!

Do you like DOGWOOD?
See the newest NORCROSS Signature Notes

America's Best-loved Greeting Cards
NORCROSS INC. 244 MADISON AVE. N. Y.
Patterson Drug Co.

CARA NOME COSMETICS and WHITMAN'S CANDIES
Gray's — Truly a Drug Store
Many Other Useful Gifts

Flowers for Every Dance or Special Occasion
Chas. E. Burg
Florist

THE CONVENIENT STORE FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS
G. F. Butcher Co.

Meet the Faculty

Miss Mary Pomeroy Nichols

Miss Mary Pomeroy Nichols, Associate Professor in the S. T. C. English department, also a Petersburger, is another member of our faculty who, in her own words, was "bred in the Farmville briar patch."

Oddly enough, for one who has devoted as much time to a school as Miss Nichols has here, S. T. C. was for Miss Nichols a second choice. When she graduated from high school at mid-term, she found that Randolph-Macon Woman's College, her first choice, would not admit her until the following fall. Deciding to abide the interim at Farmville, Miss Nichols liked it well enough to stay, and the interim stretched out into four years. Since then, she hasn't been able to tear herself away from her alma mater for more than a few years in all.

Besides taking her Master's degree from the University of Virginia, Miss Nichols has studied at Columbia University, Ohio State University, Pennsylvania State University, and Duke University. Currently she is quite enthusiastic about this coming summer's stay at the Bredlauf School of English at Middlebury Language School in Connecticut, where her curriculum will include a critical study of the European novel.

After graduation from Farmville Miss Nichols taught English at Jefferson High School in Roanoke for a time. Returning home to her alma mater in 1929, she was juggled between various departments, teaching successively Spanish and History, and finally settling down to English.

A member of Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Kappa Delta (national debate society,) and Beorc eh Thorn, Miss Nichols is also associate member of Alpha Kappa Gamma and an honorary member of Pi Gamma Mu.

American literature, in Miss Nichols' chosen field of English, begins to intrigue her more and more. One of her greatest thrills of teaching English comes when the light breaks for a student who has hitherto been unresponsive to her efforts to drive home the fine points of grammar and rhetoric. Miss Nichols glories, too, in teaching a course of comparative literature.

French, Spanish, and language in general constitute another the major interests of Miss Nichols, who under the influence of her French mother, was babbling the French language before she could speak English.

That everyone should have several good hobbies is one of Miss Nichols' firm beliefs. Her hobby is combined travel and study, which she packs into her summer vacations. She enjoys, too, "a good novel or a good game of bridge."

Miss Nichols, sticking to her policy of poking fun at herself, says that her ambition is "to stop talking and be a quiet old lady."

College Purchases Corner Property On High Street

The purchase of the Gilliam property on the southwest corner of Race and High streets by the Farmville State Teachers College has been anounced by Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of the college. This property, now occupied by Charles E. Burg, Florist, and the adioining home, has a sixty-foot frontage on High street and extends back along Race street, joining the other college-owned property. The acquisition of this property gives the college possession of both side of Race street for two blocks.

Dean Savage Speaks

Dean William Savage of S. T. C. spoke at the annual banquet of the Nottoway County Teachers Association on April 13 in Blacktone, Virginia. The subject of his talk was "Guidance."

On April 7 Dean Savage spoke to the students of Cumberland high school on "Who Should Go to College?"

Missouri Valley states Join Federal agencies for flood control

'Fashion Road' Style Review Set For Wednesday

Miss Olive Berry, Educational Stylist of the Simplicity Pattern Company, will present a fashion show titled "Fashion Road to Spring" in the small auditorium at State Teachers College on Wednesday, April 21, at four o'clock.

The fashions, all shown in size fourteen, will include a green polka dot silk shantung dress; a brown permanent crease blouse with a terra-cotta print cotton skirt; an aqua chambray blouse with a grey rayon skirt and white wool coat; and a yellow suede wool suit with a toast rayon blouse. Also a lavender print muslin dress; a green printed sheer wool dress with a white satin petticoat; a green faille taffeta evening dress with a green faille taffeta bag; and a mauve sharkskin jersey bathing suit shown with a white terry cloth poncho.

MISS OLIVE BERRY

The fashion show will offer a review of the new spring styles, and admission is without charge. Patterns of the dresses shown may be purchased at several of the local department stores. Girls are advised to write down the numbers of the styles in which they are interested, if they desire to purchase patterns.

Models for the "Fashion Road to Spring" will be selected by Miss Katherine Tupper, of the Home Economics Department. The names of the girls modeling are not at available at present.

Joint Rehearsals Begin on Oratorio

The first joint rehearsal between the S. T. C. choir and the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club is being held in preparation for The Creation tonight at Hampden-Sydney.

The S. T. C. chior will be the dinner guests of the H.-S. Glee Club tonight.

The artists who have been engaged for the presentation to be given in the S. T. C. auditorium May 6 and at Hampden-Sydney on May 7 are Florence Manning, soprano, Russell Abbott, bass and Arthur Bailey, tenor.

Tickets which will soon go on sale for both concerts are priced at 60c each.

Pan American

Continued from Page 1

decorating.

The Spanish Club on this campus is composed of 70 members with Martha Anderson serving as president.

For any Special Occasion

Give Cigarette Cases and Lighters

MARTIN'S

Dancing Heart Is Stilled As Corinne Baker Dies

A gay young heart ceased beating last night when Corinne Hines Baker, Jr., of 1810 Maple Shade Lane, Ginter Park, Richmond, succumbed to injuries sustained in an automobile accident Saturday night. With Corinne in the fatal wreck was Ernest William Baker of 7626 Sweetbriar Road, Richmond, who was killed instantly.

Just yesterday the halls rang with her girlish laughter. It seem incongruous that she is no longer with us. She danced her way into many hearts now made sad by her absence.

Her talents were as numerous as her friends, yet she never pushed herself forward. She was a pillar of strength in many organizations—Cotillion Club, Sigma Sigma Sigma, and Orchesis. Without her support May Day, Circus and Production would have been incomplete.

As figure leader of the Cotillion Club, she led Spring Cotillion with her father, Garland Wingfield Baker. When Julia Booher deserted studies for matrimony, Corinne took over as president of Orchesis to infuse all the members with her own enthusiasm.

Every inch a lady, Corinne was dependable and sympathetic. Her leadership was the quiet kind that takes hold and spreads.

Before coming to S. T. C. Corinne attended grammar school in Sandston, Chandler Junior High and Thomas Jefferson High School, where she was a cheerleader.

On March 20, Corinne celebrated her twenty-first birthday. Her face caught the glitter of the rings her parents gave her. There was a diamond for each of her sparkling years.

The flowers of spring which she loved so well will bank her last resting place.

With Tennyson we say—

"Forgive my grief for one removed
Thy creature, whom I found so fair.
I hold it true, what'er befall,
I feel it, when I sorrow most,
'Tis better to have loved and lost
Than never to have loved at all."

Scholarships Planned By Virginia Board

The State Board of Education has anounced its regulations for administering the scholarships authorized at the Special Session of the Virginia General Assembly, 1947, and continued and liberalized by the 1948 Session. Scholarships now available will be for summer school students, who are college graduates, or are holders of a Normal Professional Certificate, or to those who are holders of an Emergency Teacher's License based on two or more years of college training, or teachers who will take training in physical and health education, music, and art, or high school teachers who will take training in any of the following subject matter fields: natural sciences, mathematics, foreign languages, industrial arts, commercial education, agriculture, home economics, trade and industrial education, library science and distributive education.

Though the State Board has not actually authorized such scholarships for the winter session, it is expected that full authorization will be granted at the April meeting of the Board.

Scholarships for the winter session would provide a sum not to exceed $300.00. They will be open to elementary prospective teachers, as during the current winter session. It is expected that prospective secondary teachers who will take training in physical or health education, music and art, or prospective secondary teachers in these subject matter fields: natural sciences, mathematics, foreign languages, industrial arts, commercial education agriculture, home economics, trade and industrial education, library science, and distributive education will also be awarded the scholarships.

Instructions for applying for summer school scholarships may be obtained in Dr. Lancaster's office. Applications for summer school scholarships must be submitted to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction not later than June 1 1948.

Associate Editors

Continued from Page 1

Editor, and Business Assistants remain to be chosen. These names will be announced in next week's Rotunda.

VERSER'S

Just Received A Lot Of Samsonite Luggage

VERSER'S

"We Serve To Please"

'New Look' Replace Weather In Gab-Fest

The "New Look" has been the most talked about thing this past year exclusive of the Russian situation. So far it has been like the weather — everybody talks about it, but no one does anything about it.

There is little doubt, though, that the women like it much better than the men. This has been proven by the polls taken on the subject. In a recent write-up in Woman's Day magazine, one prominent man stated that a thin woman looked as if she were a bean pole in a ballerina skirt and a heavy woman looked as if she were a walking rain barrel. He went on to state that unless a woman was a perfect 5 feet 5 inches tall and weighed 120, she looked perfectly revolting in the latest styles.

Poll after poll was taken last summer in the cities by the local newspapers getting the men's opinion on the subject. Their opinions were definitely not in favor of it.

Even the women griped at first. They remarked that they absolutely would not wear the latest styles, and this would cause the clothing manufacturers to change back. The argument was "women versus manufacturers." The manufacturers won. The women have softened and are actually crazy about the "New Look" in most of its phases.

The "New Look" has disadvantages, however. The greatest one is the strain on the pocketbook in order to secure a completely new wardrobe. If one was fortunate enough to have a hem in some old clothes, it helped matters a good deal. The difficulty in having to take smaller steps and the difficulty of having to step on trains and etc., is an important factor to be considered also.

Well, "New Look" or otherwise, one has to admit that it has given people a lot to talk about, and say, what would the radio comedians have done for jokes without it?

TEACHERS WANTED

NEW GRADS—public, private schools. Without experience begin at $2,500 up. Annual increases to $3,500—$4,500. More for Masters, Pacific coast, Florida, Michigan, others.
DOCTORS and MASTERS for leading Colleges and Universities all fields and locations. Highest salaries.

FREE ENROLLMENT
Give phone, photo and qualifications.

CLINE TEACHERS AGENCY
East Lansing, Michigan

FLORENCE RICHARDSON ROBERTSON

Noted Pianist Plays Before Woman's Club

Florence Richardson Robertson, widely known pianist, will be heard in a recital at the meeting of the Farmville Woman's Club for members and guests April 14 at 8 p.m. in the Student Lounge at State Teachers College.

Mrs. Robertson is a graduate of Converse College where she received a bachelor of music degree and won highest honors in piano. She continued her study under John Powell, and has taught in the music department of St Catherine's School for Girls.

She has played with Hans Kindler and the National Symphony, and has appeared regularly in radio symphonic work in New York. She is well known in the South through solo recitals in Virginia, North and South Carolina and Alabama.

Mrs. Roosevelt says women must keep peace aims alive.

Biology Professor Attends Conference

Dr. A. Curtis Higginbothaan of the STC Biology Department will attend a conference of the South Eastern Association of Biologists on April 16 and 17. The conference to be held in Gainesville, Florida, will discuss the work of the biologists in this area during the past year.

ATTENTION!
Records On Sale
3 for $1.00
See also the New Album Russian Easter Overture
—AT—
WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

KEEP FUN GOING
PAUSE FOR COKE

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.
© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

Attend
May Day Dance

The Rotunda

Happy
Anniversary

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21, 1948 | No. 28

Orchesis Engages Richmond Band For May Day Dance

Student Tickets Go On Sale Mon.

"The Townsmen," a Richmond orchestra led by Bill Woods will provide the music for the annual Orchesis sponsored May Day Dance to be held in the gym Saturday night May 1, from 8:30 to 12 midnight, according to a recent announcement by Mary Ann Morris, chairman for the dance and secretary of Orchesis.

Bill Woods' Townsmen, an eleven piece orchestra, include three vocalists, Nita Kirby, Billy Bethel, and Luddie Munnich, character vocalist. Pictures of Bill Woods, the Townsmen, and the three vocalists have been posted on the College bulletin board across from Dean Savage's office.

A feature of the May Day Dance will be short figure for the May Queen and her court. This figure will take place just before intermission. In addition, there will be song dedications which will not be announced until that night.

Committee chairmen for the May Day Dance are: Gris Boxley, Decorations Committee; Robbie Cromar, Floor Committee; Virginia Marshall, Ticket Committee, Hilda Edwards, Clean Up Committee and Peggy West, Flower Committee;

Virginia Marshall, ticket chairman, has announced that tickets for those students participating in the May Day pageant will be sold Thursday night in the gym at the mass May Day rehearsal. Tickets will go on sale to the rest of the student body next Monday, April 26, on third floor Rotunda. Stag tickets will be $1.44, including tax, and date tickets will be $2.64, including tax.

JUDITH JEFFREY

HERBERT NELSON

Barter Production Tonight Has Jeffrey In Title Role

Judith Jeffrey will play the title role in George Bernard Shaw's "Candida" to be given here tonight at 8:00 p. m. in the College Auditorium by the Barter Theatre Players.

"Candida", a comedy in three acts, was written by Shaw in 1895. It is the story of the vivacious and intelligent wife of a Christian Socialist clergyman of the Church of England who finds herself torn between the strange loves of her husband and an eighteen year old poet. The comedy is overflowing with Shaw humor and wit.

Miss Jeffrey commented on her role in "Candida" saying, "Candida is a girl any woman would like to be and a role coveted by all actresses. She is beautiful (for me, make-up accomplishes a lot), intelligent, vivacious, and flighty in a charmingly feminine way—I love Candida."

This is to be the last performance of the Barter Theater directed by Robert Porterfield before the group returns to Abingdon, Virginia for the summer months. The productions here thus far have been under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerece of Farmville.

Proceeds from this last performance are to be given to the Jarman Organ Fund, which has been set up to raise money for an organ to be installed in the new College Auditorium, now in the blueprint stages. The organ will be dedicated to the memory of the late Dr. J. L. Jarman, former president of State Teachers College.

Richard Seume Leads Emphasis Week Study On 'Book of Ruth'

The Christian Emphasis Week on our campus started Monday night when Mr. Richard Seume, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist Church in Patterson, New Jersey, spoke at Prayers. Immediately after Prayers Mr. Seume led in the Bible Study which is being held in the Student Lounge every night this week at 7 o'clock. He is leading in the study of the Book of Ruth. Mr. Seume spoke in Chapel Tuesday morning, and he will speak again Thursday morning.

Preceding the Bible study on Friday night, the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will have their annual picnic at Longwood. The students will assemble at Longwood at 5 o'clock and will return in time for the Study that night. There will be a special Vespers Service at Longwood, with a guest speaker.

Every member of the faculty, administration, and student body is invited to attend prayers this week, to attend the Bible Study each night in the Student Lounge and to attend Chapel Thursday morning. Those wishing to go on the picnic may sign up on the bulletin board in the hall.

Home Ec. Style Show

The clothing classes of the Home Economics Department will sponsor an exhibit in chapel on Thursday, April 29, of work they have done. Spring suits and spring and summer dresses will be shown, and each student will model the garment she made. Each class is represented in the exhibit.

Notice

The Athletic Association announced Monday night that Winifred Beard has been asked to join the 1948-49 Council as publicity manager.

V.C.S. Conference Meets On Campus

The first spring meeting of the Virginia Geographical Society will be held in the College auditorium, Saturday, April 24. Mr. Raus M. Hanson, president of V. G. S., will preside at the business meeting. Dr. Dabney Lancaster will welcome the visitors.

The main program will begin at 10:00 and will be composed of short talks by persons working in the geographical field. Mr. Denux LeBlanc, of the Virginia Geographical Institute of the University of Virginia, will speak about "The Mississippi Delta" and Dr. Sinman P. Poole, also, of the University, will speak on "Greenland—A Geographical Reconnaissance." "Geography in the Schools of Central Europe" will be the topic of Dr. Eric Fisher, of the Virginia Geographical Institute of the University and "How Maps Are Made" will be told by Miss Adelaide Z. Phillips of the same place. Miss Lucy G. Adams, of Farmville Teachers College, will tell of "Pre Geography Learning in the Primary Grades." From Madison College will be Mrs. Lydia Meeks, who will tell of "Science in Geography for Grammar Grades." "High School Geography in Virginia" will be the topic of Miss Roselind Carlis, of John Marshall High School, Richmond. Dr. Charles V. Crittenden, Virginia Geographical Institue, will tell of "Population Patterns of the Blue Ridge Plateau," and Dr. M. Odgen Phillips, of Washington and Lee University, will speak on "Realism in the Teaching of Economic Geography."

Dinner will be served in the college dining hall at 12:30.

Dr. Louis O. Quam, of Virginia Geographical Institue of the University of Virginia, will conduct a field trip at 2:00. This will begin at Longwood and continue to Willis Mountain. Betty Spindler will give a brief history of the county and Longwood before the trip.

Continued on Page 3

Comerford Selects New 'Y' Chairmen

Committee chairmen for the Y. W. C. A. have been announced by Laura Jean Comerford, newly installed president for next year. All officers and chairmen assumed the duties of their office after the installation service held last night.

Chairmen are: Sing, Agnes Dingledine, feshman from Harrisonburg; Prayers, Carolyn Calhoun, freshman from Marion; Service, Barbara Grizzard, sophomore from Dewryville; Membership, Dolores Duncan, sophomore from Norfolk; Library, Lelia Mae Ferrell, sophomore from Norfolk; Social, Laura Lee Stickley, sophomore from Lynchburg; Public Affairs, Ann Owen, junior groom Green Bay; Church Cooperative, Ruth Tillet, junior from Hamilton; Publicity, Dot Wood, freshman from Roanoke; Music, Betty Jordan, junior from Portsmouth.

BSU Officers Hold Retreat April 24

The old and new officers of the Baptist Student Union will have their annual Local Spring Retreat at Longwood, April 24. At 11 o'clock all members of the Executive and Greater Councils are urged to meet at the Student Center for a Study Course. After lunch they will hike out to Longwood for the Retreat.

The speakers and conference leaders will be Mr. Ralph Winders, State Student Secretary, Mrs. Armstrong Smith, director of the Young People's Sunday School in the Baptist Church, Mr. Benjamin Bruner, pastor of the Baptist Church, and Miss Chris Flint, local Student Secretary. Those going on the Retreat will return to the Student Center Saturday night for a party, and will return to campus at 10 o'clock.

Installation for the new Council members will be held during the regular Sunday evening service at 8 o'clock Sunday night.

STC Choral Group Presents Oratorio With H-S Glee Club

Three Artists Star In Concert May 6, 7

On Thursday, May 6th, and Friday, May 7th, the College Choir and Choral Club and the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club will present the oratorio, "The Creation," by Haydn. The first performance will be in the college auditorium and the second in the new gym at Hampden-Sydney.

Assisting the three choral groups of approximately 175 voices will be three New York artists. These artists have been carefully selected for their particular talent for oratorio work and have appeared in that field as soloists at Carnegie Hall, New York City Music Center, the Philadelphia Bach Festival, and throughout the eastern states. The Rotunda will carry a series of articles about each of these artists.

"The Creation" is a major choral work and one of the most ambitious works attempted by the choral groups in recent years. According to Mr. Crawley it was selected because of the great appeal of the music and its appropriateness for the spring season. Joint rehearsals on the work were begun last week at Hampden-Sydney. Between rehearsals the girls were entertained at dinner by the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club.

Tickets for the concerts will go on sale this week and may be obtained from the officers of the Choir or Choral Club. Admission will be 60 cents, exactly one-half the cost of last year's concert. This reduction has been made possible because of financial aid received from the administrations of the two colleges.

Local AKG Delegates Will Attend Meeting Of Regional Board

Two members of the Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Nancy Chambers, and Martha Gillum, accompanied by the Miss Elizabeth Burger will attend the Regional Executive Board meeting in Raleigh, N.C.

The conference to be held April 24 and 25 is for the purpose of formulating plans for the convention which will be held next fall. AKG elected Violet Ritchie, a junior from Alberta, as president for 1948-49. Other officers will be elected at a subsequent meeting.

Jefferson Exhibit Displays His Letters to Pierre Derieux

Janice Slavin

While strolling through the library a couple of days ago, we all stopped enchanted by the sight that caught our eyes. There, enclosed in a glass case, was the portrait of a handsome young man, the great grandfather of our own Dr. Lancaster! That isn't all. The gentleman, Pierre Derieux, was a personal friend of Thomas Jefferson's.

The display in the library was honoring Thomas Jefferson's birthday. There were two friendly letters in the glass case. These letters were written by Thomas Jefferson to Pierre Derieux who was a captain of the bodyguard of Louis XVI of France. He became a friend of Jefferson's when Jefferson was a minister to France. At the time of the French Revolution, Jefferson persuaded him to come to Virginia and settle in Albermarle county.

One letter was written by Jefferson on January 3, 1796 to Pierre Derieux. This letter concerned the sale of a tenement. We noted with interest that Thomas Jefferson referred to one of his acquaintances as a rascal.

The other letter was torn. However, we could make out that Thomas Jefferson was probably a lover of egg plant, and that Pierre Derieux knew a good deal about the growing of them. Jefferson mentioned the fact to Pierre that he needed some advice on cultivating them.

There were other letters also, but they were burned by mistake. It was interesting to note the difference in the spelling of some of the words of yesteryear in comparison with the spelling of the same words today.

We could close our eyes and visualize the dashing young Pierre on a horse riding side by side with Thomas Jefferson around the beautiful grounds of Monticello. Then we could visualize him in the twentieth century. Oh, that he went to Hampden-Sidney! Orchids to you, Dr. Lancaster for having such a handsome great grandfather.

Tri Sigma Celebrates Golden Jubilee Here

FLORENCE MANNING

Florence Manning Returns To S.T.C.

Star Participates In 'The Creation'

Miss Florence Manning will be soprano soloist for the oratorio "The Creation" to be presented as the feature of the Spring Music Festival at S. T. C.

Most music lovers of the two colleges will remember her as soprano soloist for the Christmas Concert this winter.

Miss Manning has been selected because of her particular talent for oratorio singing. Among her oratorio appearances have been engagements as soloist for performances in Carnegie Hall with Bob Shaw, at the New York City Center with Bob Shaw and Leonard Bernstein, at the Philadelphia Bach Festival, at St. Thomas' with T. Tertius Noble, and at Constitution Hall, Washington, D. C.

One of Miss Manning's greatest triumphs was as female lead in the American Premiere of Britten's opera "Peter Grimes". Miss Manning was selected for this honor by Dr. Serge Koussevitzky and saw many successful performances at the Tanglewood Music Festival and in New York City. This is an extremely difficult opera and her success prompted Leonard Bernstein's significant criticism when he spoke of her possessing "one of the finest vocal techniques among today's young singers."

Founders Will Return To STC

April 23-25 here at State Teachers College, Alpha Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma will celebrate the golden anniversary of the founding of the sorority.

Tri Sigma was founded by eight Virginia girls April 20, 1898, in imitation of the fraternities at Hampden-Sydney College. Since then, the sorority has grown in size and increased in service, having now more than 12,000 members.

The eight girls, who in the spring of 1898 completed the founding of Sigma Sigma Sigma were: Margaret Batten, now Mrs. M. L. Randle, of Reliobeth, Delaware; Louise Davis, now Mrs. Roland Hall, of West Orange, N. J.; Martha Featherstone of Appomattox, Isabel Merrick, now Mrs. Edwin Earle, Jr., of Salisbury, N. C.; Sally Michie, now Mrs. Warfield B. Bayley, of Charlottesville; Lelia Agnes Scott, deceased; Elizabeth Watkins, now Mrs. Harry Houston of Hampton and Lucy Wright, now Mrs. G. B. James, of Newport News.

The seven founders still living plan to return to Farmville to help celebrate the fiftieth anniversary.

George Anne Lewis, outgoing president of the chapter, and Frances DeBerry, incoming president are in charge of the plans for the celebration which marks 50 years of active and continous service of Sigma Sigma Sigma on the campus.

Mary Anne Jarrett, chairman of the Alpha Alumnae, is working with the chapter in planning a homecoming of the sorority alumnae for the occasion.

Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock members of the sorority will visit John Randolph Elementary School to celebrate the fifteenth anniversary of the library which it endowed. At this time a new phase of the library will be inaugurated when a museum of the various products of the United States will be presented.

The program for the celebration includes a reception Friday evening in Student Lounge in honor of the national president of the sorority, Mrs. Robertson Page, of Concord, N. H. and two of the past national presidents, Miss Rhea Scott, of Charlottesville, and Miss Mabel Lee Walton, of Clermont, Florida.

Saturday afternoon, the alumnae of Alpha chapter will give a tea in the dean's parlor for visiting alumnae and other guests. Mrs. Robert Brumfield, Mrs. B. T. Taylor, Jr., Mrs. Walter Putney, Mrs. William Dunnington, Mrs. John Harwood, Miss Agnes Watkins, Miss Kate Trent, Mrs. Edwin P. Lancaster, all of Farmville constitute the committees in charge of the tea.

French Circle Hikes To Longwood Meeting

Members of the French Circle hiked yesterday to Longwood at four o'clock for their regular monthly meeting.

The circle was split up into several groups led by Helene Capp, Dalila Agostini, Jean Anderson, Helen Hardin, Jacqueline Eagle, and Craig Cumby. During the walk the groups conversed in French, and when they had arrived at Longwood, Dalila Agostini led them in singing several French songs and rounds.

Notice

Will anyone who knows where the screen, which was used for the Orchesis recital, has been taken, please get in touch with Mrs. Langum right away. The screen belongs to Mrs. Davis who is very anxious for its return.

Outside Looking In

During the last two concerts in our auditorium, a group of our students on the outside of the building have made a childish spectacle of themselves. Rather than purchase tickets as a large number of their fellow-students did, they have stood on the outside and peered shamelessly into the windows. And many of them were not dressed properly.

The sponsors of these concerts were too polite to comment on our unsightly behavior but this does not alter the situation. We owe our apologies to our president, Dr. Lancaster, who depended on us to behave as persons of intelligence and refinement.

Tonight the Barter Theatre presents its last performance of the year on our campus. We trust that the behavior of these students will be such that it will renew in those who know us their faith in our capacity to conduct ourselves in a mature manner.

B. S.

Brick Bats On Attitude

We wish we could throw orchids to the student body on all occasions, but at times when we stand on the platform to present an assembly program we sincerely wish for brick bats and over-ripe tomatoes to throw at the audience we have to face.

Behavior in assembly last Thursday was much better, probably because of the nature of the program. This leads us to believe that the students are perhaps more interested in programs in which they and their friends participate or help organize. Should we make a suggestion to the Assembly Committee that more such presentations be given? It welcomes our suggestions; we, therefore, have no grounds to complain about the types of programs if our complaint is due to our own negligence in giving aid to the Committee by letting them know what we want.

Too many students have the idea that chapel, because it is compulsory, is something to be endured in a bored and none-too- polite attitude. The freshmen in the back excuse their letter writing and newspaper reading by saying that they "can't hear a thing that's going on". We can't deny that, but neither can we lay all the blame on the delivery of the speaker. If the juniors and sophomores who are sitting in easy hearing distance would be more quiet and considerate, those in the back could hear. Even the seniors are in a measure guilty of the fidgeting which makes the audience look like a colony of ants to the person on the platform.

Please, fellow students, if you don't like assembly say so and why. Don't keep on with the inattentive attitude and the downright disrespect at times which are disconcerting to the speakers, a source of keen embarrassment to the sponsor, and a blot on our reputation as intelligent and reasonably mature students.

World Awareness Urged

The world has become too small for us to isolate ourselves here at State Teachers College and go our separate ways oblivious of world affairs. Keeping up with current affairs should be a "must", since a thorough understanding of world conditions is essential to our existence as live, human beings on this planet we call the earth.

Readily available to each of us is a wealth of information about this world in which we live. Daily newspapers can be purchased for a few cents or read without charge in the library. A current events column "Our World", has been added recently to the features of the Rotunda. Here is an opportunity for students to obtain a speaking knowledge of the chief topics of world news as seen by a fellow-student.

Other opportunities to learn abound on our campus. In the departments of history and geography are courses in current events. Among our student body are students from other countries who welcome the opportunity of acquainting us with their lands and customs. During the past two weeks our assembly programs have centered around subjects of world interest. Of particular value was the address by Mr. Virginius Dabney regarding his tour of Germany.

An intelligent person is a well-informed person. Let us be informed about the world, not just that tiny particle of it called State Teachers College.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168

Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor in Chief
Elsie Love Bentley ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Jacqueline Eagle ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Mary Leech Meredith ..... News Editor
Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Tom Allen ..... Social Editor
Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Mary Lou Wilson ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Mary Helmer, Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Martha Smith, Lee Robinson, Bobbie Wall, Joyce Hamlet, Connie Heather, Patsy Graveley, Martha Frances Morrison, Helen Arrington, Addie Dodd, Jane Grey, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Nancy Jesse, Ann Lynch, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Betty Nachman, Lela Bouldin, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Sparkie Poteat, Barbara Saunders, Virginia Bailey.

Business Assistants

Peggy Harp, Virginia Howard, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancye Litz, Anne Verser.

OUR WORLD
By
Jacqueline Eagle

It seems next to impossible to write this column without lambasting Communism. But the nasty stuff is so prevalent that you run into it everywhere, and it is so contrary to everything we of the really democratic school believe in, that we have to take a perpetual stand against it.

Speaking of its being contrary to democratic belief, take the instance of freedom of the press and the Communist "Plan K" in Italy. Through this plan, which was to be put into effect in case of a Communist defeat in the elections, extreme leftist newspapers were to publish sensational victory claims the Communists would seize control of communications, and armed workers would be sent into factories. Although the Communists denied having planned any such "coup", it's obvious that it was planned. In spite of fact that De Gasperi's Christian Democrats were the reael victors in the elecetion, leftist papers went right on and printed their accounts of smashing victories for the Popular Front or Communist part.

This instance of the Communists' "using" the press for their own rotten purposes is typical of their suppression of truth. With the Communist press, truth is supplanted by "party line", and citizens must remain forever hopelessly in the dark, about national and international affairs, for it's virtually impossible for them to get any straight news.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,

For many years students have been rightfully complaining about the great cost of text books; and this year the cost has been higher than ever before. I wonder if something couldn't be done to reduce the cost? Couldn't something be done to help students get rid of books they no longer need, and to help students buy second-hand books? At some the unreasonably high cost of colleges, the Book Store sells second hand books as well as new ones; and at the end of the year it buys the books, which are no longer needed, from students. This greatly reduced the cost. This system worked very well in the college which I attended before I came to S. T. C., and I don't see why it, or some other helpful system, wouldn't work here at S. T. C.

A Junior

Dear Editor

In a previous issue, someone said that the poor grass didn't stand a chance against the heavy tramping steps of the eager Phys. Ed. Majors. This is not so, for we Phys. Ed. Majors are just as anxious as the rest of the school to improve the campus and especially the back campus. Whenever we go out to the Hockey Field or the tennis courts we are constantly reminded not to trod on the flowers or the grass, but to use the walks.

So you see it is not the Phys. Ed. Majors, but the eager spectators who trod on the flowers and jump over the wires placed there.

Yours truly

An offended Phys. Ed. Major

Bed Check

The dance Saturday night was wonderful. Orchids to Pan Hel for such a success.

Farmville sent a bunch of prom trotters to Virginia and W & L last weekend. Although they missed a good dance here we know they must have had a good time.

Margie and Tucker are back from Tallahassee and we know they had fun cause they're still nuttering something about a flood. Now just what does that mean? They seemed to have enjoyed the fresh orange juice too.

Top honors go to Boots Dameron for being the best dancer at Pan Hels. Who sez so? we do.

It sho' was nice to have Joyce Townsend, Betty Bibb Ware, Doris Rose Ramsey, and Lanie Gill Mathews back "home" at S. T. C.

University of Richmond was well represented at the dance, wasn't it, Betsy?

Speaking of tossing orchids around that Burton boy doesn't throw his to the winds; he throws them to the "East."

Two frat pins betoken the conquest of two male hearts this weekend. Muchas congratulations go to Sudie and Jean.

On the " big weekend" Grace Kappes topped us all by coming back Monday with a beautiful diamond. Our very best wishes, Kappes.

Alumnae News

Dean Savage will speak before the Norfolk Alumnae Chapter at a luncheon given at the Essex House, Virginia Beach, on Saturday, May 1.

Newly elected officers of the Chapter are Catheine Riddle, president; Eva Renn, first vice-president; Virginia Bledsoe Goffigon, second vice-president Lucille Patterson, treasurer; Sally Pate, scholarship treasurer; Pauline Bradshaw, corresponding secretary; and Ellen Watt, recording secretary.

The Norfolk Chapter has chosen Frances Franklin as their scholarship winner for the coming year. This scholarship will be awarded at the Maury High School commencement in June.

Retiring president of the chapter is Grace Chambers Plenthel. The Essex House belong to an alumna, Margaret Cobb Harrel.

May Day Practice

Gallop Pole

Whose date was the best dancer at Pan-Hellenic Dance?

Pete Peterson: Hoot Chamber's date.

Ann Galloway: Betty Jefferson's.

Betty McRee: Mary Jane Stansbury's date.

Helen Holbrook: My own date, Doug, of course.

Jean Cunningham: Dot Carter's date, Jimmy. He's cute.

Virginia Bailey: Hilda Abernathy's date—but I didn't dance with all of them.

Millie Evans: I think all of them were good dancers but three fourths of them had improved tremendously since the last dance.

Betty Johnson: Joanne Shomo's "Bone". Because "Snipe" wasn't there.

Joanne Shomo: Don't be silly, "Bone" of course.

Agnes Dingledine: I guess Polly's Gordon, since Sonny wasn't there.

Charlotte Jones: Well I liked to dance with Johnny, Tommy, Bobby, Jim, Bill, Jack, Joe, Harry, David, etc.—I didn't have a date.

Jill Pifer: Jean Babb's date. He sure could jitterbug.

Jean Babb: It would be a close race between Hoot's date and mine.

Jackie Watson: Pauletie's date. She left me with him long enough to get to know him well.

Betty House: Elinor Overby's date.

Kitty Carmichael: Mine, naturally.

Katherine Snell: I think Doug, Helen Holbrook's date.

Phyllis Asher: Betty House's date, by far.

Margaret Beasley: Nellie O'Brien's date.

Nellie O'Brien: Mary Lou Woodward's date. Ben.

Noted Negro Teacher Speaks On 'What The Negro Thinks'

"What Do Negroes Think?" Have you ever wondered about the other side of the question? you've discussed it from your angle when a gab fest happens to take on a serious aspect. You've read about it in the newspapers, in magazines, and books, But have you ever tried to put yourself in the other fellow's shoes? Do you have any idea what the Negroes think about relations between the white and colored races?

Sunday night, in the Episcopal rectory, Reverend Joseph W. Nicholson, Ph. D., noted Negro author and teacher, spoke to the young peopies, group on this subject. Dr. Nicholson is the Professor of Pastoral Theology at Bishop Payne's Divinity School in Petersburg. He holds a B. S. from Howard College, a B. D. from Garnett Bible Institute, and a Ph. D. from Northwestern.

As Dr. Nicholson talked it was hard to remember that this cultured, educated man, a gentleman in every sense of the word, was a member of the race so often thought of as America's "untouchables." He didn't speak bitterly of the treatment accorded Negroes at the hands of the whites. He didn't dwell on race riots, lynchings, or the Klu Klux Kian. He mentioned the fact that "people are people, like pigs is pigs" and that people enjoy or suffer the development of the same capacities, emotions, and have indivdual personalities in spite of their obvious skin colorings and environmental experiences. He pointed out that problems such as housing, employment, citizen-participation in government, health, and public education are shared by both races.

Dr. Nicholson repudiated the statement that there is none or very little Negro prejudice in the North compared to that in the South. When asked about the possibilities of intermarriage and social "mixing" should social restrictions and prejudges be removed, he reminded us that people rarely choose as friends those with whom they have nothing in common.

Speaking of better relations between the races in the future, Dr. Nicholson maintained that the young people of college age are the ones to bring about such a change. He said that the young people of both races seem to see the problems and search for the solutions with a greater lack of prejudice than their elders.

Questioned about the South's code of racial etiquette, he spoke of the feeling of inferiority and indignity that this code imposes on the average Negro.

Answering many of our questions, Dr. Nicholson raised many more in our minds. While making many things clearer, he made us wonder and think about so many more things. He made us see that in a real democracy, the kind of democracy that America claims

(Continued on page 4)

STC Will Send Two To Athletic Meet

Jesse Lee Pickett and Ray Phillips will represent Farmville at a meeting in Richmond, April 23, and 24. The purpose of this meeting is to organize a State Athletic Federation for college women. Through this organization, they plan to promote a greater interest in athletics and a closer contact among the colleges of the state.

VGS Conference Meet

Continued from Page 1

After the field trip a tea will be held in the Student Lounge. Miss Gleaves assisted by Miss Sutherlin and Miss Wall will be in charge of the tea.

Miss Moran reports that between 75 and 100 people are expected to attend the conference.

May Day Practice Schedule

Thursday—8 p. m.—Mass rehearsal in Gymnasium.

Friday—2:45 p. m.—Mass rehearsal at Longwood.

Saturday—2 p. m.—Mass rehearsal at Longwood.

LOYALTY PROBE

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has cleared 1, 005,944 Federal workers through its loyalty inquiries, according to Director J. Edgar Hoover. The FBI has opened 777 full investigations under the loyalty program. These are made only in cases where there is some question of an employe's loyalty.

Tennis Enthusiasts Assist Miss Hardwick In Exhibition

Thursday, April 15 found many girls dressed in white shorts and shirts with tennis balls and a racquets, heading for the gym to receive instructions in tennis. Miss Mary Hardwick and Mr. Frank Gernsey conducted the clinic and they talked to us about the importance and the pleasures in playing tennis. After talking to us, they gave us instructions in strengthening the wrist, hitting the ball, spinning the ball and serving. We must admit that we felt pretty dumb!

Miss Hardwick and Mr. Gernsey told us that the essentials which each must have are ease of movement, which includes rhythm and balance, strength of stroke, and the ability to put the ball where it should go at the proper time, which requires footwork. The feet should never rest flat on the ground. The weight should always be forward whether standing or moving. The knees should be relaxed or slightly bent. Even while waiting for the ball, the body should be constantly in motion. The object of the movement, that you see good tennis players doing, is to keep the body in motion so that when the ball comes, it can be driven to the desired place with the impact of the whole body.

In demonstrating the different strokes such as the forehand drive, the backhand drive, the serve, and the volley, Miss Hardwick and Mr. Gernsey displayed accuracy and talent. Everyone was impressed with them during that short period of instructions and returned for the exhibition match at 3 o'clock which was held at the tennis courts.

"Did you see that?", "Did you see her hit that ball?", "Did you see how he hit that ball?". These were some of the remarks one could hear during the exhibition between Miss Hardwick and Mr. Gernsey. Mr. Gernsey won the singles match in the exhibition.

One of our own S. T. C. girls displayed her abilities in tennis during the doubles match. Martha Berry, who won the singles last fall, was Mr. Gernsey's partner during the doubles. Their opponents were Miss Hardwick and "Woody" Woodson from Hampden-Sydney. Mr. Gernsey presented Martha with a tennis racquet to show his appreciation and also for her fine playing. We're so proud of you, Martha!

Miss Mary Hardwick an international known tennis star, and Mr. Gernsey have conducted tennis clinics at several colleges throughout the United States.

The Athletic Association wants to thank the Student Body for helping to make the Tennis Clinic a success.

EDUCATION

In the sixth and final volume of its report, the President's Commission on Higher Education made the following proposals: (1) Doubling of college enrollments by 1960; (2) free tuition through the sophomore year; (3) an end to social segregation; (4) creation of a network of junior or "community" colleges; and (5) a multi-million dollar program of Federal scholarships and building assistance.

The NEW LOOK

By TONI ALLEN

Speaking of brides, here are some of our girls who are getting married in June. The attendants listed are only those from S. T. C., although in some cases there are several others.

• • • •

Marion Hahn, whose marriage to Hunter Sledd, Jr. will take place on June 12, has chosen a dress of ivory satin fashioned with a neckline of illusion and Bretonne lace bertha which gives an off-shoulder effect. The dress has long, tight sleeves ending in points over the hands, and a full skirt which forms a wide circular train. "Mitty" plans to carry a cascade bouquet of gardenias and stepanotis centered with a white orchid. Virginia Sledd and Joan Hahn will wear light blue chiffon dresses with shoulder drapes, shirred bodices, and full skirts. Virginia, a bridesmaid, will carry Talisman roses, and Joan, the maid of honor, will carry red roses. Each girl will wear a matching bandeau of roses.

• • • •

Mary Lee Gardner, whose marriage to Edward T. McGath will be solemnized in June, has chosen a French lace gown over satin with a low sweetheart neck, and long, tight sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her fingertip tulle veil falls from a lace crown trimmed with orange blossoms. The attendants will be dressed in four shades of orchid, fashioned with offshoulder necklines, apron effect ruffles ending in a bustle, and will carry violets and gardenias. Maude Savage will be Mary Lee's maid of honor, and Emilee Doub, Nancy Watts, and Nancy Rushing will be bridesmaids.

• • • •

The marriage of Mary Frances Squire and Harold Deal will take place in the Episcopal Church of Emporia, Virginia, on June 16. Mary Frances has chosen a candlelight satin gown with insets of imported lace around the pointed neck which end in a peak at the back waist. The sleeves, cut diagonally across the hands, are of lace. The full skirt, shirred up front with insets of imported lace, ends in a long circular train, fordered with lace. Her full length veil of illusion falls from a lace cap, and her slippers are of the same lace. Mary Frances is carrying a white orchid on a prayer book. Her maid of honor, Nancy Squire, will wear dark green, and Betty Jane Brockway, Jennie Lee Cross, Ann Joyner, Rosemary Hamlet, Sara Rawles, and Ethel Harrison, bridesmaids, will wear a lighter shade of green. All of the attendants will carry mixed flowers.

• • • •

Betty Scroggins, whose marriage to Frank Nichols will take place in the Chapel of the First Baptist Church in Richmond on June 19, has selected a gown of gardenia satin with a sheer yoke, lace bertha, and long, tight sleeves ending in points over the hands. The gown has a fitted bodice, bustle, and a full skirt ending in a circular train. Her fingertip veil of illusion falls from a flat lace headband, and she will carry a shower bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis centered with a white orchid. Page Cook, the bride's only attendant and an alumna of S. T. C., will wear white taffeta and carry violets.

Margaret Jones, who will become the bride of Frank Dresser on June 16, has selected an ivory satin with an exaggerated sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, and a full skirt ending in a circular train. Her fingertip veil of illusion falls a tiara of seed pearls. Complete wedding plans have not yet been made.

The bride of this spring and summer has her choice of appearing as a replica of the Gibson Girl, an antebellum belle, a Gainsborough model, a Victorian lady, or as a modern '48 miss.

There is a greater variety in sheer fabrics for wedding gowns this year. Imported embroideries, laces, dotted swiss, organdies, marquisettes, domestic lawns, and dimities will compete with the ever-popular satin in the bride's choice for a summer wedding.

Though bustles and ruffles may be borrowed from the past, new bridal fashions have the '48 look. Waists are hand-span with tiny satin cinches or boning beneath sheer materials. Skirts are billowed out with crinoline or layers of stiffened petticoats.

One of the newest necklines is a tiny band collar edged in narrow lace and tied with a lace bow in front. The bertha collar below a yoke with a round low neck is popular. The sweetheart neck goes on forever.

The shoulder line is sometimes widened with tiers or ruffles, butterfly frills, sleeves with puffs at the top and long tight undersleeves. Bishop sleeves with long cuffs or the Martha Washington sleeve, tight to the elbow, then a deep frill look good in sheers.

A trend toward the use of color in wedding gowns has been noted. Pale blues and pinks are the most popular with misty yellows running next.

Variations in the costume have been worked out for that "something blue" the bride traditionally wears. Layers of blue net may be inserted under a white veil or dress to give a cloud-like effect. Blue satin shoes or blue tinted hose offer an interesting contrast for the bride who wants a touch of color.

Trains, rather than disappearing, are increasing in length this season, several measuring three and one-half yards from the waist.

Accessories for the bridal costume include Empire scarves 18 to 22 in hes wide and two yards long. The scarf may be draped around the shoulders when a veil is not worn as in a garden wedding and may be matched to the dress. Scarves with matching mitts are available in colors for bridesmaids' costumes.

The cost of getting married, like everything else, has gone up. Wedding dresses cost an average of $25 during the war, with a veil for $14.95 in addition. Now the median price is $70 for the dress and $29.95 for the veil.

DELIVERY SERVICE
Phone Us For Your Sandwiches and Drinks
Up To 10 P. M.
Southside Drug

When you think of flowers
Think of ours
COME TO
Collins Florist

For satisfying results—Send your clothes to us
Kleanwell Cleaners

It's Newberry's
For Popular Sheet Music
NEWBERRY'S

THE CONVENIENT STORE FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS
G. F. Butcher Co.

Meet Me At . . .
Shannon's for the Finest Food In Town
Shannon's, Inc.

Want to see some FUN?
There's a HOLE lot in NORCROSS Humorous cards

America's Best-loved Greeting Cards
NORCROSS INC. 244 MADISON AVE. N. Y.
Patterson Drug Co.

CARA NOME COSMETICS and WHITMAN'S CANDIES
Gray's — Truly a Drug Store
Many Other Useful Gifts

Flowers for Every Dance or Special Occasion
Chas. E. Burg
Florist

Our Food Is The Best
We Aim To Please YOU
Come in and try a Plate Lunch or Sandwich
COLLEGE SHOP

If you want to be cool and in style at the same time—buy your summer outfit at
THE HUB
Farmville, Va.

R&K Originals

what's prettier than Roses?
Big ones, blushing all over a dark rayon crepe with a great air of festivity. Finishing up with a carnival glimpse of color . . . bright rayon taffeta rippled round a wide, whirling hem. Rayon Crepe printed by Weldrich.
AS ADVERTISED IN MADEMOISELLE
Baldwin's

Meet the Faculty

Miss Leola Wheeler

One of the most cosmopolitan members of the S. T. C. faculty is Miss Wheeler, Professor of Speech, whose travels have taken her over several continents.

You might say that Miss Wheeler comes by her wanderlust naturally. Since her father was a mountain missionary, her childhood wasn't spent in any one place long enough to call it home.

A graduate of Smith College, Miss Wheeler studied drama at Emerson College in Boston, and later she received her M. A. from the Teachers College of Columbia University. Miss Wheeler has been a member of the Farmville faculty since 1911, this being the only teaching position she's ever held. Teaching, however, hasn't been Miss Wheeler's only livelihood. Some of her summers have been spent in the journalism field, doing publicity work for the New York Herald Tribune in connection with their "fresh air" program for New York's underprivileged children. Also she has directed a "fresh air" camp for girls at Bear Mountain, New York.

Miss Wheeler's stay at S. T. C. has been interrupted several times to do recreational work abroad, which she quite a seasoned veteran. During the first World War, she was with the Red Cross in France and later in Gatun, Panama, she worked with the United States Army. Miss Wheeler spent 1921 through 1924 in China as a Y. W. C. A. worker. The Second World War found Miss Wheeler busy again, at home this time, providing recreation for soldiers in camps, in hospitals, in the town of Farmville, and here at the College.

Organizing and molding the Dramatic Club into the vital part of the College that it now is has been one of Miss Wheeler's main jobs since she came here. Under her guidance the Dramatic Club has provided both auditoriums with curtains and the large auditorium with lights and draperies, in addition to the club's many other contibutions to the College.

Others of Miss Wheeler's school activities include membership in Beore Eh Thorn, and she holds the chair of two committees, the Radio Committee, and the Committee for Scheduling Student Activities. She collaborates too, in the production of May Day and in any other activity where she can lend a helping hand and a stamping foot. The latter, one of Miss Wheeler's trademarks, seems to typify the forceful ability which enables her to accomplish so much of service to the College and community. Miss Wheeler is a member of the Virginia Drama League, the Virginia Association of Teachers of Speech, and the Farmville Woman's Club for which she is chairman of the Literature Department. In addition she is a former chairman of several committees of the Virginia Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Kibler Will Head Methodist Group

Officers for the Wesley Foundation were recently announced by Laura Jean Comerford, president of the Y. W. C. A. New officers are: president, Nancy Kibler; first vice-president, Earle Agee; second vice-president, Ann Kelley; secretary, Gladys Monk; treasurer, Billie C. Mullins.

Committee chairmen will be announced later.

Noted Negro

Continued from Page 1

to have, there must be equality of all men regardless of race, creed, or color.

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

GIN BAILEY

The Senior Spotlight shines with pride this week on Gin Bailey. Those who know her best will always remember Gin as a good natured girl with a crooked grin, a husky voice, and a personality that just can't be beat.

Being a good leader as well as a good follower has made Gin an outstanding Senior. She is class Historian, vice-president of Alpha Sigma Tau, a member of Choir, Cotillion Club, Pi Gamma Mu, and has worked on both the Rotunda and Colonnade staffs.

Her chief ambition in life is to acquire enough money from the teaching profession to have plastic surgery done on her nose, and to buy an upper plate.

Among the list headed "My Favorites", we find "These Foolish Things", "Dr. Jimmy" Walmsley, Irish songs, and last, but by no means least, Duffy!

Gin has been an active participant in all class productions and circus stunts—and has made enough props to be a first-rate carpenter now. We shall always remember her in the roles of Santa Claus and the Captain of "The Good Ship Lollipop" . . . and so . . . with "These Foolish Things" that remind us of Gin Bailey, we say—smooth sailing, and—thanks for the memories!

PEGGY MOORE

"Peggy Moore! Special in the Home Office." A familiar sounding line, which we hear no more than twenty times a week, and which is intended for a person familiar to everyone.

Her bubbling personality, her dancing feet, and her singing voice would make her an asset to any class. She has proven her talent and her worth to the Seniors. Without Peg's dancing and singing, no production or circus could have been complete.

Her collection of poetry books proves that poetry rates tops on her list of likes. Along the musical lines she prefers "I Love You, Yes, I Do," and "My Buddy." It is needless to say that her favorite expression is: "You do understand, don't you, Dear?"

As president of Alpha Sigma Tau, she has proven her leadership ability. As a member of Orchesis and Cotillion Club, she has also shown ability to take orders. Her greatest ambition, being a Physical Ed major, is to learn to fall as gracefully as Bentley, and to be as athletic as "Clem."

Her Irish smile and her usual blarney have truly made her "Peg of Our Hearts."

SORORITIES ANNOUNCE NAMES OF OFFICERS AS RESULT OF ELECTIONS FOR NEXT YEAR

Sororities have now completed their elections of officers for 1948 and 1949.

Phi Zeta Sigma

Phi Zeta Sigma has elected Connie Loving, junior from Lynchburg, president. Other incoming officers of Phi Zeta Sigma are Mary Davis, Mathews, as new Vice President, Ruth Radogna, Purdy, recording secretary; Edna Earle Waters, Portsmouth, Pan-Hellenic representative, Ruth Hathaway portsmouth and Patsey Kimbrough, Richmond are social chairmen.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Frances DeBerry of Blackstone has been elected president of Sigma Sigma Sigma. Anne Snead, Columbia, is new vice-president; Peggy White, Norfolk, corresponding secretary; Robbie Cromar, Richmond, treasurer; and Ann Nock, Harborton, Pan-Hellenic representative.

Alpha Sigma Tau

Incoming president of Alpha Sigma Tau is Janie Fox, junior from Alexandria. Other new officers are June Banks, Richmond, treasurer; Helen Arlington, Lynchburg, recording secretary; Betty Pairet, Farmville, corresponding secretary, Jean Watts, Lynchburg, corresponding secretary; and Jackie Bobbitt, South Hill, Pan-Hellenic representative.

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Alpha Sigma Alpha has elected Cornelia Hamilton, junior from West Point, president, Ray Phillips of Williamsburg is vice-president; Martha Hylton, Danville, secretary; Jackie Wright, Morrison, treasurer; Ann Kemp, Richmond, chaplain; and Helen Agnew, Burkville, registrar.

Pi Kappa Sigma

Ruthellen Mears, junior from Cape Charles, will serve as president of Pi Kappa Sigma. Other officers are Joyce Webb, of Norfolk, vice-president; Mary Ellen Temple, McKenny, recording secretary; Dee Dee Sledd, Richmond, corresponding secretary; Nancy Rushing, Onley, treasurer; Betty Atkinson, Dinwiddie, sergeant-at-arms; and Pat Davis, Newport News, Pan-Hellenic representative.

Mu Omega

New president of Mu Omega is Jean Cake junior of Hilton Village. Vice-president is Helen Holbrook, Petersburg; chaplain, Gwen Cress, Lynchburg; and Pan-Hellenic representative, Betty Ferguson, Prospect.

Officers for Theta Sigma Upsilon were announced in the March 24 issue.

ATTENTION:
Records On Sale
3 for $1.00
See also the New Album
Russian Easter Overture
—AT—
WILSON'S
FIRESTONE
STORE

VERSER'S
Just Received
A Lot Of Samsonite
Luggage
VERSER'S
"We Serve To Please"

For any Special Occasion
Give Cigarette Cases and Lighters
MARTIN'S

SHOES
For the College Girls
Farmville's
Finest
Shoe Department
Davidson's
Farmville, Va.
"The House of Quality"

"CHESTERFIELD AND I ARE OLD FRIENDS. IT'S MY SMOKE." Marguerite Chapman
IN
"CORONER CREEK"
COLUMBIA'S FORTHCOMING CINECOLOR PRODUCTION

WHY... I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)
"Chesterfield is my brand. I've been smoking them for about 16 years. I like them because they're mild and really satisfy. I know the kind of tobacco that's in them . . . it's the best.
"Chesterfield buys the best grades of tobacco. It's mild, light, ripe, sweet-smoking tobacco. They pay the highest prices for their tobacco. It's top quality leaf."
A. J. Caswell
TOBACCO FARMER, PARIS, KY.

A B C ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
ALWAYS MILDER BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING
Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Farmville, Virginia.
Attend
May Day Dance

The Rotunda

See
May Day

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY,, APRIL 28, 1948 | No. 25

Abernathy Will Reign Over May Day Festival At Longwood Saturday, May 1, At 4:30 o'Clock

Orchesis Sponsors May Day Dance In Gym

The annual May Day dance sponsored this year by Orchesis, will take place this Saturday night, May 1, at 8:30 p. m. in the gym, with Bill Woods' Townsmen providing the music. The Townsmen, who have played this year a W. & L., Mary Washington, and other Virginia colleges, specialize in smooth dance music; but rhumbas, sambas, and hot jazz are also prominent in their repertoire, according to Mary Ann Morris, chairman of the dance. Bill Woods' eleven piece retinue includes three vocalists, Nita Kirby, Billy Bethel, and Luddie Minnigh character singer.

The receiving line for the dance will be composed of Dr. and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. William W. Savage, Dean Martha S. Smith, Mrs. Merle L. Landrum, adviser to Orchesis, Jane Taylor, president of Orchesis, and Mary Ann Morris, secretary of Orchesis, chairman of the May Day Dance, and Virginia Marshall costume chairman of May Day. The ladies in the receiving line will not wear flowers.

Members of the faculty who will chaperone the May Day dance are Miss Olive T. Iler, Miss Mary B. Dabney, Miss Mary B. Barlow, Mr. Reynold H. French, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Graham, Mrs. Hallie Q. Laine, Mr. and Mrs. Norman O. Myers, Mr. Merle Landrum, Mrs. Caroline Eastham, Mrs. Eva H. Warren, Miss Evelyn R. Hamner, Mrs. Katherine W. Tabb, Mrs. Carrie Fitzpatrick, Miss Rosemary Elam, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Gordon Moss, Dr. and Mrs. George W. Jeffers, Dr. and Mrs. Robert T. Brumfield, Dr. and Mrs. A. Curtis Higginbotham, Miss Elizabeth Burger, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. McCorkle, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wakefield Miss Emily Clark, and Dr. James E. Walmsley.

Minor chairmen for the dance are Jean Tolley and Bebe Geyer, co-chairmen of decorations; Virginia Marshall, tickets; Robbie Cromar, floor committee; Hilda Edwards, clean-up; and Peggy West, flowers. These girls are being assisted by Orchesis members.

There are only a few May Day dance tickets left, according to

(Continued on page 4)

Music Festival Committee Named

Members To Sell Tickets Tomorrow

Florence Manning, soprano; Arthur Bailey, tenor; and Russell Abbott, bass, are the three New York artists to be featured in the Spring Music Festival sponsored by the S. T. C. Choir and Choral Club and the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club.

"The Creation," one of the most well-known oratorios, by Franz Haydn, is the choral work to be presented in the festival. This is one of the most ambitious works attempted by the choral groups in recent years. It was selected because of the great appeal of its music and it appropriateness for the spring season.

The oratorio will be presented in the State Teachers College auditorium on Thursday, May 6, and in the new gym at Hampden-Sydney on Friday, May 7. Tickets for the concert will go on sale tomorrow and may be purchased from any member of the Choir or Choral Club. Admission price is 60 cents, only half of last year's cost.

Letters have been mailed to the parents of all students participating in the festival, alumnae of both colleges, and people outstanding in the field of music throughout the state, telling them of the festival and extending an invitation to them to be present at the concert. Record crowds from all over the state attended the Music Festival last year, and even larger numbers are expected for the "The Creation."

Jean Watts, president of the Choir, has appointed committees to make all plans for the presentation here on May 6. Puckett Asher is in charge of publicity; Augusta Hargan has charge of the tickets; Virginia Tindall is chairman of the reception committee; and Andrea Adams is chairman of the staging group.

ALICE ANNE ABERNATHY

LOUISE BROOKS

Brooks Will Serve As Maid Of Honor

Program Replete With Greeks, Gods

Alice Ann Abernathy, senior from Stony Creek, will reign as queen over the annual S. T. C. May Day fete to be given at Longwood, Saturday, May 1. The originally scheduled time of the pageant has been changed to 4:30 p.m. This year's May Day, entitled "This Is Legend," is centered about Greek tradition with the queen portraying the supreme goddess, Athena.

The queen's Maid of Honor will be Peepsie Brooks, senior from Farmville. Other senior members of the royal court will be Dot Bradley, Vernon Hill; Charlotte Grizzard, Drewryville; Elizabeth Jeffreys, Goldsboro, N. C.; Katie Lawrence, Windsor; George Ann Lewis, Petersburg; Milly Hahn, Richmond; and Virginia Tindall, Hatton.

Representing the junior class on the May Day court will be Dolly Ann Freeman, Lawrenceville; Ruthellen Mears, Cape Charles; Marjorie Miller, Christiansburg; Millie Ann Spain, Petersburg; and Margaret Wall, Norfolk.

Sophomore members of the court will be June Banks, Sandston; Carolyn Page, North Garden; and June Walsh, Richmond. Freshman participants in the May Day court are Carolyn Calhoun, Marion; Charlotte Jones, Salem; and Frances Minter, Axton.

"This Is Legend" will be dedicated to the late Corinne Baker, member of the senior class and president of Orchesis. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garland W. Baker of Richmond will be special guests of Orchesis for May Day.

The May Day pageant this year is divided into three parts, each dealing with a different phase of Greek tradition, presented through the media of modern dance and the speaking chorus. The first scene of the pageant is a processional in which the goddess, Athena, is honored. In keeping with the Greek theme, the queen is presented with a sacred robe, the "peplos," which represents a departure from the customary crowning ceremony used in past May Days. In the scene of the processional, the queen's Maid of Honor, Peepsie Brooks, portrays the priestess of the temple on Acropolis, and the queen's court represent noble bearers.

The second scene is a presentation of the Greek myth of Demeter, Goddess of Earth, and her daughter, Persephone, Goddess of Spring. This story is the Greek mythical explanation of the seasons.

The Olympic games is the set-

Continued on Page 3

Summer Session Plans Revealed

Summer session at S. T. C. will open on June 21 and close August 14. The dormitories will be open on Sunday, June 20 and registration will take place on Monday. Anyone matriculating after June 21 will be charged a late registration fee of $5.00.

Dean Savage reported that, "applications have been coming in very rapidly, and there may be an enrollment of 500 for the session."

Continued on Page 3

Cress, Miller, Taylor Tapped By Alpha Kappa Gamma

Alpha Kappa Gamma, national leadership fraternity, tapped Gwen Cress, junior from Lynchburg; Marjorie Miller, junior from Christianburg; and Jane Taylor, junior from Pungoteague at Chapel services last Thursday.

Gwen Cress is now serving her second term as president of the Home Economics Club. She is Senior representative on Student government and is active in the Dramatic Club.

Marjorie Miller is president of the Student Government Association. She was secretary of her class her Freshman and Sophomore years and was a Student Government representative of the junior class this year.

Jane Taylor is the new president of Orchesis. She was treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. this year and is incoming Chairman of Student Standards Committee.

Alpha Kappa Gamma was organized in 1928. It represents the merging of local societies which had been founded in order to bring together groups of representative students and faculty members, whose purpose was to foster high ideals and standards of leadership. Alpha Delta Rho, organized in 1925, became the Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma and was one of the charter members of the organization.

Jeanne Bentley is president of the circle. Other officers are Nancy Chambers, Peepsie Brooks, and Tucker Winn.

Violet Ritchie has been elected president for next year, but other officers have not yet been elected.

STC Dramatic Club Issues Bids To 39 Former Apprentices

Bids have been issued to 39 apprentices in the Dramatic Club for this year.

These apprentices have served the required time and have passed their examinations.

There will be two initiations, an informal and a formal one. The informal initiation will be held tonight in the small auditorium. The formal initiation and the installation of officers will be held Tuesday, May 4 in the small auditorium.

The apprentices to be initiated are: Shirley Bloxton, Peggy Bryant, Sarah Dickerson, Anna Famulatte, Peggy Dee Hoover, Charlotte Jones, Bobby Pollard, Charlene Saunders, Virginia Spencer, Thelma Pine, Ann Norfleet, Yvonne Burch, Emily Hastings, Martha Smith, Betty Welsh, and Jean Smith, all acting apprentices.

Those in costuming are: Frances Cregar, Mary Brownly Smith, and Charlotte Williams; lighting, Pat Earle, Elaine Owens, and Jackie Wright; make-up, Jean Cardoza, Agnes Dingledine, Anna Hall, Larry Lawrence, Jane Mountjoy, Laura Lee Stickley, Nancy Lee Maddox, and Betsy Wilson; properties, Dot Lester, Nancy McCracken, Faye White, Frances Minter, and Emma Mae Pittard; and staging, Nancy Camper, Joan Cunningham, Lillian Faulkner, and Minter Critzer.

The next issue of the Colonnade is slated to appear around May 20, acording to an announcement made last night by Ting Rattray, new editor of the College magazine.

An art exhibit will be open to the faculty Friday and to parents and friends who are May Day guests, Saturday. This exhibit of student work will be put up Thursday.

Student Standards New Officers Named

Peggy Cabiness, retiring chairman of the Student Standards Committee, has announced the names of the recently elected officers of the Student Standards Committee for the coming year.

Jane Taylor, junior from Pungoteague, is incoming chairman of the Student Standards Committee. Lizzie Bragg, sophomore from Norfolk, is new secretary, and Margaret Beasley, sophomore from Big Stone Gap, will serve as point system chairman. Evelyn Patterson, junior from Kenbridge, was elected chairman of the College calendar.

New Student Standards officers will take office at the regular committee meeting this month.

'This Is Legend' May Day Festival Promises Unique, Beautiful, Hilarious Spectacle

JANICE SLAVIN

May Day this year promises to be a beautiful if not somewhat hilarious spectacle. It is unusual too in that the beginning will be more elaborate than the finale.

The first section or Prologue tells us that every fourth year a long procession wends its way to the Acropolis to bear to the shrine of Athena the sacred "peplos," a robe specially woven by the noble women of Athens to adorn the image of the guardian goddess, Athena (Alice Ann.)

Outward reverence and ceremony prevail as the priestess of the temple and the nobles bearers offer sacrifices.

In this section the slaves have had quite a time during rehearsals getting located where they belong. Indispensible in their part are the twin heralds (Rippons.)

The second section or Dialogue tells us that Persephone (June Walsh,) goddess of Spring, is ordained by her father, Zeus, to disappear with Hades unknown to her mother, Demeter, goddess of Earth. While gathering flowers with the Oceanic Nymphs Persephone disappears. Demeter, inconsolable at the loss of her daughter vainly wanders for nine days and nights in search of the missing maiden. Smitten with depair the mother goddess grieves and fasts until her form is no longer known. In this condition she comes to Eleusis, then governed by Prince Keleos. Sitting down by a well at the wayside in the guise of an old woman, she is found by the daughters of Keleos who take her to their mother, Mateneira, and beg that she be taken into the household of Keleos. The disguised, distraught goddess become a nurse for the youngest of the household, the boy Demophon.

The child, Demophon, nursed by Demeter thrives and grows up like a god. She would have rendered him immortal had not the mother, Mateneira, aroused by curiosity, looked on at night as her child is plunged into fire. At her shriek the indignant goddess reveals her true character. No longer wan and aged in appearance she appears resplendent in majestic glory. In vain does Keleos convoke the people of Eleusis to erect a temple on the spot that the goddess points out. Nothing can appease the mother goddess but the return of her daughter, Persephone. Zeus finally intervenes to conciliate her. Persephone is to return to her for a part of each year . . . in the spring when the seed are sown.

It seems as though everything the Greek did was tied up with religion. They gave us the oldest threatre and oldest games.

The third section or Epilogue tells us that the Greek, an artist by nature, lifts his sports into an air of fine sentiment, touches them with the poetry of legend and the grace of art and song. The oldest of these games, the Olympics, which were celebrated in honor of Zeus follow much the same pattern today. Truce is declared for even the fiercest of enemies to participate. To be a victor in the Olympics is the

Continued on Page 4

Wise Expenditure Of Time

"Lost, yesterday somewhere between sunrise and sunset, two golden hours, each set with sixty diamond minutes. No reward is offered, for they are gone forever."

There are only 5 weeks consisting of 33 days and of 792 hours until S. T. C. closes its doors at the end of the 1947-48 session. What will we do with that time? According to calculations we'll spend about 156 hours of it studying, 264 hours sleeping and the other 372 hours will go by heedlessly into picnics, sports, gab-fests, meals, movies and all the other things we find to do when we are too busy to study.

It is appalling when we think of all the time we waste entirely or spend unwisely. If we'd strive to follow Dr. Lancaster's admonition to keep "first things first" how much more we'd find that we are able to accomplish. For example, in the nine months we are here we waste approximately 2 minutes in getting quiet before the blessing can be asked. That totals up to 1620 minutes or 27 hours which are completely lost. More than a whole day gone entirely. If we lose only 2 minutes at the beginning of meals and it mounts up to such a total, it is staggering to think of the time lost when announcements are made, and of the inestimable hours we lose during study periods.

When the next person asks you to do something to which you reply "I haven't got time", stop and think of what you could do if your time were wisely planned. Twenty-four hours is a long time or it is very short, according to the way we plan them. Tempus fugit, so use it wisely.

School Spirit Appears In Rehearsals

As May Day approaches, we cannot help but notice the excitement and planning which accompanies it. The many practices in the "gym" and at Longwood testify to the time and energy that the participants and Mrs. Landrum have spent in preparing for the presentation.

The pageant, which has a Greek theme, was composed by Mrs. Landrum for this occasion.

The students in May Day, and those who have assisted with the properties and related work are to be congratulated on the fine spirit of co-operation and unselfishness which mean the success of a group undertaking. May Day, an annual social event, is also an annual opportunity for displaying that much talked about "school spirit" and for strengthening bonds of friendship. The most lasting friendships in an institution are developed through working together.

The Choir and Choral Club are also to be commended for their work on "The Creation" which will be presented in the auditorium on May 6. A fine concert will result from the many rehearsals which both groups have diligenetly attended.

By observing the enthusiasm and sparkle with which the students prepare for these two events of the month, one understands that May Day and concerts are two more evidences of the S. T. C. spirit of co-operation.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

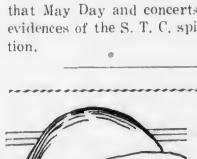
Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8 1934

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor in Chief
Elsie Love Bentley ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Jacqueline Eagle ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Mary Lelch Meridith ..... News Editor
Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Mary Lou Wilson ..... Typing Manager



Editorial Assistants

Mary Helmer, Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Martha Smith, Lee Robinson, Bobbie Wall, Joyce Hamlet, Connie Heather, Patsy Graveley, Martha Frances Morrison, Helen Arrington, Addie Dodd, Jane Grey, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Nancy Jesse, Ann Lynch, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Betty Nachman, Lela Bouldin, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Sparkie Poteat, Barbara Saunders, Virginia Bailey.

Business Assistants

Peggy Harp, Virginia Howard, June Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancye Lutz, Anne Verser.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1948

OUR WORLD
By
Jacqueline Eagle

The U. N. O. sometimes reminds us of ourselves. This body spends weeks and months discussing, investigating, arguing, vacillating, never deciding upon a course of action until a deadline looms before them. Then they feverishly pass an emergency measure and hope to accomplish something more durable before the emergency action peters out.

And so the pattern continues in the case of the Palestine situation. With the British hightailing it out of Palestine and the Arab-Jewish war there becoming more intense every day, members of the U. N. O. still haven't even decided whether or not the U. N. O. will be the responsible authority in Palestine after May 15 when the British will have cleared out. This shouldn't be an issue in the first place. Why should there be any question of the United Nations' right to intercede when their well-being is threatened by one small country which is unable to maintain its own equilibrium? After this basic issue of Palestine authority is settled, the U. N. O. can go about setting up the long talked of trusteeship, no mean task to dispatch in less than three weeks.

Of course we can't expect the U. N. O., composed as it is of so many diverse factions, to solve a multitude of dilemmas with a snap of the fingers. Deliberation is fine; but what we need is some p.d.q. action—some good action to counteract the bad action of individual countries. Already European nations are ganging up against each other as they did in the years preceding both World Wars.

The organization, which the world's hopes are pinned on, has been called "a stillborn U. N. O." This seems too sadly true.

Agostini Announces For WFLO On Latin-American Program

By Dalila Agostini

Undoubtedly it was for the sake of experience, or maybe because I am particularly fond of trying new things everyday, that I felt very much pleased at the unexpected request from the local radio station manager to announce a program based on Latin-American music. It was rather unexpected, as I said before; and that gave the incident more charm, since I had rather meet situations unexpectedly, than after a long period of anticipation.

At first, I thought that after testing my voice, the staff would give up the idea of having a foreigner announcing through their station. Nevertheless, I was told that a slight accent would give the program a touch of Latin-American atmosphere. I was somewhat relieved, though a little shy at the time of the first test which consisted of my recording a script program for further criticism. The final word, much to my pleasure, was that I would have the program Monday, Wednesday, and Friday of every week for fifteen minutes.

Sitting down in a radio studio all by myself, waiting for the sign "on air" to turn red, is one of the most thrilling experiences I have gone through. The exactness needed in making the precise signal to the control man is none the less thrilling.

More than its personal meaning, the radio program has a big meaning back of it. In these moments of absolute misunderstading, there must be many ways of getting to a man's heart. Music is certainly one of the most powerful ways of accomplishing this, since music as a universal language can penetrate into every heart.

It is my purpose to bring a musical message from every Latin-American country, and sometimes from Spain, the mother country, since I am very grateful to those who made possible the realization of the program; and may it be a contribution to the ideals of good neighborhood, and peace for which we actually strive.

Gallop Pole

What do you like most a bout May Day?

Puckett Asher: The queen and the court.

Lois Stevens: It is so near the end of school.

Peggy Lloyd: I like what it signifies.

Lou Shelor: The Olympic section to please Mary Lou.

Mary Lou Woodward: May Day as a whole.

Ann Nichols: Charlie will be here—purrr!!

Barbara Smith: Long walks out there every afternoon.

Lelia Mae Ferratt: The slaves, of course.

Dolores Duncan: Same here.

Betty Bray Russell: Mrs. Landrum's direction.

Jane Brimmer: He's coming.

Janice Slavin: The dance that night.

Wilda Hunt: Getting a ride to Richmond.

Barbara Andrews: The fact that I'm not in it.

Frances Fears: The time we'll have afterwards at Westwood.

Eva Cobb: Creeper!!

Denise Love: The rain.

"Cassie" Rippon: The Heralds, to be sure!!!

Lynda Black: The court and queen. I like the ones where they have kings too.

Dot Dodd: You ask me right when I'm going to practice?

Mary Miller: Riding in what used to be the truck.

Evelyn Davis: The dance because Collin is coming.

Betty Nachman: Buddy!

Nancy Bruce: The truck ride to Longwood.

Ginny Walsh: It'll be over Saturday and I'll see Frank.

Betty Jefferson: The May Court Dresses.

Joyce Adams: Janie Fox acting like a horse.

Rena Hayes: Clem Allen.

Joyce Hill: I like the Queen.

Polly Richardson: The dance that night.

Mary Ellen Temple: The rain that comes with it.

Bobby Jean Robertson: The girls who run out and point several times.

Violet Ritchie: Everything's good.

Edna Earle Waters: Having Joe here.

Gladys Monk: The dance.

Ruth Radogna: My date if he comes.

Dot Woods: Going to Richmond afterwards.

Nancye Fosque: Rain.

May Day!

Betty Spindler: Mrs. Landrum.
Gwen Smith: I won't answer that. I might get a letter.
Troxie Harding: The part after the finale.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor:

I have been up here for three years now and from the beginning I have heard of one thing, Chi. Yes, the secret, yet not so secret organization of Farmville State Teachers College.

Over the course of time I have heard many pro's and con's concerning Chi, and I have formed my own opinion which may or may not be of interest to others, be that as it may.

Chi's psychological effect on some people is its main working point, for in a group this size, you unfortunately, are bound to have those who are going to sneak by with all they can and never have any regard for the reputations of their school, those who go there, or themselves.

Chi as you know, can do no physical harm, only mentally can they straighten people out.

Yes, Chi must continue for the sake of those who go to S. T. C. and for the reputation of all concerned.

Sincerely,

Anita Muriel McBride.

Bed Check

Sparkie returned from Lynchburg tired, but happy, on Sunday night. Could "The Hat" have anything to do with it?

Jean Sanford seemed to have the dates while in Clarksville. Ask her about her cabin party.

We think it's fine that Jan and Edwin are again on the go.

Gwen Smith entertained six girls in her home over the week-end, and provided men for all. She really must have connections!

Flash! Grace Mallory has finally ventured out on the roof. Is the suntan to please Willie, Grace?

We hear Joe was up to see Peggy this week-end. Now how about that!

Play safe and keep away from the Manassas airport, Beanie!

It's useless to dodge married men, Mary.

June Banks seems to think Dick Haskins is very cute. When are you going to let us meet him, June?

Holbrook, that Doug sure is the cutest one!

"Bo" and Peggy seem to be the couple around campus these days. Peg, what about Norfolk?

B. Burchett has been smiling with stars in her eyes for the past two days. Could it have been that call from "Beauty" at Tech?

"Gee Gee" and the Beast were seen together last week-end. Guess that's why Kitty was humming "Somebody Else is Taking My Place."

Rumors are flying that "Dog-food" will appear on campus this week-end. What about it, Marge?

Infirmary Regulations

The few simple instructions concerning the rules and regulations of the infirmary should be followed by all students and persons wishing medical attention. These rules are necessary in order to keep things running smoothly and to avoid confusion.

1. The daily sick call is in the infirmary immediately after lunch except on Sunday. All students needing medical attention should report at this time.

2. Dr. Moore also visits the infirmary about 10 a. m. and 9 p. m. and is on call at all times for emergencies.

3. A graduate nurse is on duty at all times. It is requested that only emergency cases report between 2 p. m. and 5 p. m. and between 10 p. m. and 7:30 a. m.

This information was posted by Dr. Moore last week and students are requested to observe and follow it closely.

RUSSELL ABBOTT

Noted Bass Soloist Guest In 'Creation'

Russell Abbott will be bass soloist for the oratorio "The Creation" to be presented as the feature of the Spring Festival of Music at S. T. C. on the evening of May 6th, and at H.-S.C. on the evening of May 7th. Mr. Abbott has been se-

Continued on Page 4

Summer Session

Continued from Page 1

Arrangements are being made for men students to obtain their meals in the college dining hall. The cost of meals for the eight weeks will be $60.00 for the men. They will be given special tables or be permitted to mingle with the other students if they desire. Plans are also being made to give rooms to men students if they so desire.

There will be over 100 courses offered this summer, and among the many additional activities are the Virginia Workshop for Teachers of Spanish, the Guidance Clinic, the Remedial Reading Workshop, and an Elementary Workshop. This year there will be a Committee on Entertainment to arrange a program of recreational activities for the students. Miss Olive Iler is acting as chairman with Miss Rosemary Elam and Mr. Raymond French assisting her.

The catalog for the summer session shows all changes made in the curricula for next fall's session. Any questions concerning summer session should be sent to Dean Savage. Students enrolled in college now may obtain catalogs from Miss Bugg's office.

The NEW LOOK

By TONI ALLEN

The marriage of Tharon Holmes and Charles Nimmo, Jr., will take place on June 6, in the Trinity Baptist Church, Norfolk, Virginia, with Rev. Tyler Terrell officiating at the double ring ceremony. The bride will be attired in a light blue suit with a blue and white hat and white accessories. She will wear a white orchid.

Juanita Basnight, cousin of the bride, is the only attendant, and will wear a dusty rose suit, a rose and white hat, white accessories, and a purple orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Nimmo will leave immediately for a honeymoon in Washington, D. C.

* * * *

Alice Ann Abernathy will become the bride of Calvin Bynum Phillips, Jr., on July 3, at the Methodist Church of Jarratt, Virginia.

The bride will wear a white satin gown with lace bodice and sleeves which end in points over the hands. She will carry a white prayerbook showered with a white orchid.

Carol Jenkins will be Alice Ann's maid of honor, and Jane and Betty Burchett, Elizabeth H. Vaughn, George Anne Lewis, Kitty Hankins, and Julia Booher Nelson will be bridemaids. The attendants will be dressed in light lavender and pale yellow, and will carry mixed flowers.

* * * *

Mary Ann Morris, whose marriage to John L. Slaughter, Jr. will be solemnized in the First Baptist Church of Richmond, Virginia, on June 5, has chosen a gown of Skinner satin fashioned with a low neck and a bertha effect. The dress has satin covered buttons to the waist, a tight bodice, and full skirt ending in a circular train. The full length lace heirloom veil falls from a bonnet shaped frame, caught on each side with orange blossoms.

Mary Ann will carry a bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Peggy Cabaniss and "Peepsie" Brooks, bridesmaids, will wear dresses of aqua taffeta, fashioned with a soft folding bertha, and with a bustle effect. The attendants will carry mixed flowers and wear matching clusters in their hair.

Dr. John L. Slaughter, Sr., father of the groom, will officiate at the ceremony.

* * * *

Did you know the origin of these bridal customs?

The bridal veil dates back to ancient times when a bridegroom was forbidden to view his bride's face until after the ceremony.

* * * *

The bride's bouquet is tossed as a substitute for a Fourteenth Century custom of scuffling for the bride's garters.

* * * *

The best-man role originated when a faithful friend was needed as a lookout while the suitor was kidnapping his bride-to-be.

* * * *

The wedding cake: At Anglo-Saxton weddings, each guest brought a richly-spiced bun. The buns were heaped in a mound on a table.

* * * *

Bridegrooms were so named because they once were expected to wait on their brides at wedding feasts, hence the term "groom."

* * * *

Bridesmaids originated with the Romans, who customarily had ten friends of the bride as witnesses at wedding ceremonies.

* * * *

Throwing old shoes: In England, the bride's father used to give one of her shoes to the groom to indicate his new authority.

* * * *

Bridal gowns are white because for centuries, in many lands, white has been worn on festive occasions to symbolize happiness.

* * * *

Throwing rice at the bride and groom once symbolized friends' good wishes for the couple's fertility and productiveness.

* * * *

Flower girls: Originally, little girls headed bridal processions carrying handfuls of wheat to represent joy in abundance.

* * * *

Wedding rings reflect an old custom of adorning brides with symbolic fetters or bracelets as a mark of a woman's subjection.

* * * *

The honeymoon custom carries over from the days when marriage was by capture, and couples had to remain in hiding for a time.

May Day Greek Olympic Section Features Chariot, Torch Races

Softball Practices Needed To Support Teams For Color Cup

Have you been coming out to softball practices? If you haven't, you don't know what you have been missing. We have been having so much fun trying to hit the ball and even trying to make a home run. Remember you have to have eight practices before you can play for your class team and they need your support in playing. Don't forget too, to come out and cheer your team. Points will be given toward the color cup, and your class color needs your help.

Practices are being held every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons at 4:30. There will be extra practices after May Day each Monday and Friday at 4:30. This is a chance for you in May Day to get your eight required practices.

May Day

Continued from Page 1

ting of the third scene of the May Day pageant. This scene will feature actual discuss throws, hoop races, hurdles, torch races, and chariot races.

Co-chairmen of the May Day program are Bebe Geyer and Hope Frank. Margaret Jones is business manager and Anne Langbein is dance chairman. Helen Williams is costume chairman, and she is assisted by Frances Blanton, Dot Carter, Juanita Davis, Frances Farley, Nell Foster, Faye Humphries, Connie Newman, Harriet Steele, Katherine Whitmore, and Sarah Wilkinson.

Neva Brankley and Jean Watts are staging co-chairmen. June Banks, Page Burnette, Betty Jordan, and Virginia Spencer are in charge of music; and Kitty Hankins is chairman of transportation.

Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, assistant professor of physical education, is director of May Day. Miss Virginia Bedford, associate professor of fine and applied arts, and Miss Leola Wheeler, professor of speech, are faculty advisers.

Colanthia Rippon and Evelyne Rippon will appear in the May Day processional as heralds. Slaves in this scene are Claudia Anderson, Helen Arrington, Lizzie Bragg, Virginia Bailey, Love Bentley, Nancy Bruce, Edith Brooks, Jett Carter, Mary Crowgey, Jean Cunningham, Peggy Connelly, Frances Dodson, Emily Doub, Dolores Duncan, and Mary Elder.

Also Lelia Mae Ferratt, Jane Gray, Barbara Grizzard, Nellie Hart, Ruth Hathaway, Jean Hobbs, Martha Hylton, Annette Jones, Betty McRee, Nancy Meeteer, Peg Peery, Oriana Robertson, Jackie Robbins, Jean Smith, Barbara Smith, Mary Jane Stansbury, Carol Stoops, Pattie Walker, and Jackie Wright.

Featured in the second scene of May Day are Judy Hughes as Hades; June Walsh as Persephone; Viola Turner as Demeter; Griswold Boxley as Matcneira, and Jean Smith as Demophoon. Appearing as nymphs are Marjorie Boswick, Griswold Boxley, Robbie Cromar, Peggy Moore, Jesse Lee Pickett, Jeanne Tolley, Mary Virginia Walsh, Isaac Velazquez, and Barbara Jean Wiley.

Members of the chorus are Phyllis Asher, Nancy Biscoe, Katie Bondurant, Sue Brewbaker, Jean Cake, Carolyn Calhoun, Kitty Calhoun, Kitty Carmichael, Betsy Carper, Jean Cunningham, Virginia Diggs, Dorothy Dodd, Helen Egerton Anna Famulatte, Jean Farmer, Jane Fox, Virginia Gardner, Joyce Hamlet, Arolein Harding, and Helen Hardin.

Also Marian Higgs, Betty House, Molly Hudson, Margaret Johnson, Jean Jones, Ann Lynch, Nancy Lee Maddox, Charlotte Newell, Ann Nock, Nowyn 'Ohrien, Peggy West, Mary Lou Wilson, Margaret Wilson, Elizabeth Winfrec, and Margaret Winfree.

Those participating in the Olympics as bearers of the torch are Jean Jones, Anne Landbein, and Jesse Lee Pickett. Judges will be Mary Miller, DeDe Siedd, Marjoric Burns, Charlene Allen, and Martha Gillum.

Discus throwers will be Frances Allen, Betty Barker, Ann Barksdale, Winifred Beard, Jean Bentley, Edith Duffy, Anna Famulatte, Ray Phillips, Norma Roady, Betty Romeo, Joanne Sterling, and Betty Tilson.

Those in the hoop race will be Jean Bentley, Nancy Chambers, Edith Duffy, Frances Fears, Grace Kappes Peggy Moore, Betsy Scott, and Betty Jane Snapp.

Hurdlers will be Frances Allen, Betsy Carper, Marjorie Boswick, Hilda Edwards, Betty Etheridge, Anna Famulatte, Molly Hudson, Anne Langbein, Ray Phillips, Jesse Lee Pickett, Isaac Velazquez, and Mary Lou Woodward.

Running in the torch race will be Frances Allen, Betty Ann Barker, Winifred Beard, Margie Caskie, Betsy Carper, Edith Duma, Betty Etheridge, Anna Famulatte, Rena Hayes, and Molly Hudson. Also Margaret Jervis, Ann Kemp, Romine Mahood, Polly Nasser, Jesse Lee Pickett, Patsy Ritter, Edna Rodriguez, Norma Roady, Betty Romeo, and Mary Lou Woodward.

Gee Gee Yonce and Mary Virginia Walsh will be charioteers. Horses in this race will be Robbie Cromar, Jane Fox, Katie Bondurant, Sue Walker, Marjorie Boswick, Hilda Edwards, Ray Phillips and Jean Jones.

Water carriers will be Bebe Geyer, Hilda Edwards, Jean Tolley, Anne Langbein, Jane Taylor, and Barbara Jean Riley.

Schedule Includes Many Ancient Sports

The Olympic section of May Day should be interesting to you sports lovers because you will see how the Greeks participated in the different contests, and you will see some of the games they used in their Olympics. Some of the contests that they had were discus throwing, hoop racing, hurdling, torch racing and chariot racing. The chariot races were one of the most outstanding of all their contests and I am sure you will enjoy the chariot race in our May Day.

The participants in the discus throwing will be Frances Allen, Betty Barker, Anne Barksdale, Winifred Beard, Edith Duffy, Anna Famulatte, Ray Phillips, Norma Roady, Betty Romeo, Joanne Sterling, and Betty Tilson.

Those taking part in the hoop race are Jean Bentley, Nancy Chambers, Grace Kappes, Edith Duffy, Frances Fears, Betty Snapp, Peggy Moore and Betsy Scott.

Taking part in the hurdles will be Frances Allen, Betsy Carper, Anna Famulatte, Molly Hudson, Anne Langbein, Ray Phillips, Jesse Pickett, Mary Lou Woodward, and Isaac Velasquez.

The contestants for the torch race will be Frances Allen, Betty Barker, Winifred Beard, Peggy Bryant, Marjorie Cuskie, Edith Duma, Betty Etheridge, Anna

(Continued on page 4)

DELIVERY SERVICE
Phone Us For Your Sandwiches and Drinks
Up To 10 P. M.
Southside Drug

When you think of flowers
Think of ours
COME TO
Collins Florist

For satisfying results—Send your clothes to us
Kleanwell Cleaners

It's Newberry's
For Popular Sheet Music
NEWBERRY'S

DAVIDSON'S
Cotton Blouses, Skirts and Play Suits. Just the thing for a College Miss
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality

Meet Me At . . .
Shannon's for the Finest Food In Town
Shannon's, Inc.

Our Food Is The Best
We Aim To Please YOU
Come in and try a Plate Lunch or Sandwich
COLLEGE SHOP

Want to make mother happy?
Send her a lovely
NORCROSS
Mother's Day card!

America's Best-loved Greeting Cards
NORCROSS INC. 244 MADISON AVE. N. Y.
Patterson Drug Co.

Select Your Mother's Day Gift From
MARTIN'S

BOWENS
Watch for the re-opening
Bowens Inc.
Jewelry

THE CONVENIENT STORE FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS
G. F. Butcher Co.

Flowers for Every Dance or Special Occasion
Chas. E. Burg
Florist

Opening May 15th.
"The Wigwam Cottage"
210, 26th Street, Virginia Beach, Virginia
RICHARD R. WOOLLING, Proprietor
Dormitory — Rooms — Apartments
Nice for Houseparties
Newly Decorated
Convenient to everything
Write for Reservations

Meet the Faculty

MR. NORMAN O. MYERS

This week we are presenting an A-1 professor who needs no introduction, Mr. Norman O. Myers, Professor of Business Education at S. T. C.

Mr. Myers hails from Attica, New York, famous for its—well, you ask him sometime what's located there.

He is a graduate of Grove City College, Grove City, Pennsylvania, where he received his B. S. Mr. Myers received his M. Ed. at the University of Pittsburgh where he is continuing graduate work. He took Audit courses at Stanford University.

Before coming to S. T. C. in 1941, Mr. Myers was a commercial teacher and supervisor of practice teaching at Grove City High School, Grove City, Pennsylvania.

Besides teaching, Mr. Myers has pursued several other lines of work in the business field. He was with the Accounting Maintenance Division of Westinghouse Electric for awhile. At one time, he was secretary to the General Superintendent of the Stainless Steel Division, Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation. In addition to these, Mr. Myers has also been a salesman for the Ford Motor Company.

When the bombs of World War II began to fall, Mr. Myers answered the call for servicemen. He spent two and one-half years of enlisted service in the United States Navy.

Mr. Myers' favorite phase of work in his field is that of teacher training and visual education. His chief interest at present is "selling the freshman in the Business Education Department on the four year teaching program."

He is a lover of many sports, his favorite perhaps being fishing. In regard to his hobby, Mr. Myers states, "I'm not successful at my hobby which is trying to save enough money through the school year to go up to Ontario and do some fishing during the summer." Another one of his pet loves is the steak and smoke" suppers that he and Charlie Hop prepare.

Mr. Myers is a member of the Farmville American Legion and Masonic Lodge. He also holds membership in Phi Delta Kappa and Delta Pi Epsilon, national honorary fraternities in education.

With his grand sense of humor and good nature, Mr. Myers has become an all time favorite of his students.

★ SENIOR ★★ SPOTLIGHT ★

"PETE" PETERSON

We change the direction of our spotlight this week to shine on Pete Peterson, the "pin up girl of cell 16." Pete, proud of her Swedish ancestry, has lived over a good part of the U. S. and still prefers New York to Farmville. Can you imagine why? Her reputation as a hard worker brought her the presidency of Mu Omega and the Westminister Fellowship, as well as membership in the Choir, Cotillion Club, and House Council. She does not hesitate to claim music, hot fudge sundaes at Patterson's, cinnamon toast, and Stewart as her favorites. It may be marked that she is one girl who has never voiced her opinions as to pet peeves.

Pete is one of the lucky few who does not intend to pursue the teaching profession. She has no plans for the immediate future, but being a Math major hopes to take up where Einstein left off. With her personality, happy nature and a score of other complimentary qualities, we just don't see how she can miss. Already her publicity excels that of her classmates. No other Senior can boast of a picture on a prison wall. We're just kidding Pete, for to us you will always be "one of the best."

MARION HAHN

Tall, pretty, quiet, and sincere—this senior personality is one we will remember.

Chosen to represent S. T. C. at the Winchester Apple Blossom Festival this week, Marion Hahn, better known as Mitty, is truly deserving of the honor. She will return from Winchester Saturday to take her place in the May Court—and that's not all! In June, Mitty will become Mrs. and is looking forward to learning to cook and keep house.

Next to Hunter, she loves clothes and can do a good job of making her own. Before meeting the one, her pet peeve was short men. She is noted for that long, lucious black hair, and likes to spend her spare time writing letters, sending greeting cards and serving as make-up chairman of the Dramatic Club.

A major in Mathematics, Mitty's membership in Kappa Delta Pi proves her scholastic ability is not to be doubted. She served as Treasurer of this organization this year, and is also a member of Pi Kappa Sigma sorority. Our hats go off to a perfect combination of brains plus beauty—our own Mitty!

'This Is Legend'

Continued from Page 1

highest public honor any Greek can attain.

As the gods view the whole from atop the Acropolis, everyone rushes to get the best seats as soon as the heralds proclaim the start of the festival when a lone torchbearer streaks across the plain to light anew the ever-burning torch.

Getting the voices and motions of the chorus together has been a riot. The chorus foretells what is to happen. The actors are silent.

In the third section during rehearsal the chariots were continually colliding while going around the bend. Peals of laughter pierced the air everytime this happened. These things will all be ironed out, however.

Judy Hughes' flute, Duffy's humor, Helen Williams' costumes, Be Be Geyer beating the drum, Virginia Spencer and her cymbols, have all made the work of May Day seem lighter. The cooperation and fine spirit that the students have shown Mrs. Landrum, Miss Wheeler, and the various committees is commendable.

"This Is Legend" is the name of this year's May Day—or is it legend? Do we not do some of the same things today?

READ ROTUNDA ADS

Bass Soloist

Continued from Page 2

lected because of his particular talent for oratorio singing.

One New York critic has described him as "one of the few young singers with an arresting bass voice—a brilliant artist." Mr. Abbott is well known as a choral director as well as soloist. He has been particularly popular with Cleveland audiences where he has been soloist for the Cleveland Philharmonic Orchestra, the Orpheus Male Chorus, and other leading musical organizations in that area. He has taken leading parts in operas presented by the Cleveland Opera Guild, and has been outstandingly successful in operettas presented by the famous Cain Park Theatre.

In spite of these many activities of merit, Mr. Abbott finds his chief interest and greatest achievement in the field of oratorio singing. He is especially well known for his performances of the "Messiah" and the "Elijah" throughout the eastern states.

Cooperation Urged For X-Ray Clinic

A Tuberculosis Clinic will be held May 3, 4, 5, and 6, sponsored by the Farmville Health Department at the Health Department center. There will be no charge for an X-ray and a report will be sent of the X-ray. The time is to be announced later for S. T. C. girls to go down to the Health Department for the X-ray.

Girls are canvassing the halls to get people to sign up, and all students are urged to take advantage of this opportunity.

May Day Dance

Continued on Page 2

Virginia Marshall, chairman of tickets. These remaining tickets are being sold on third floor Rotunda today.

Library Features Exhibit Of Booklets On Virginia Gardens

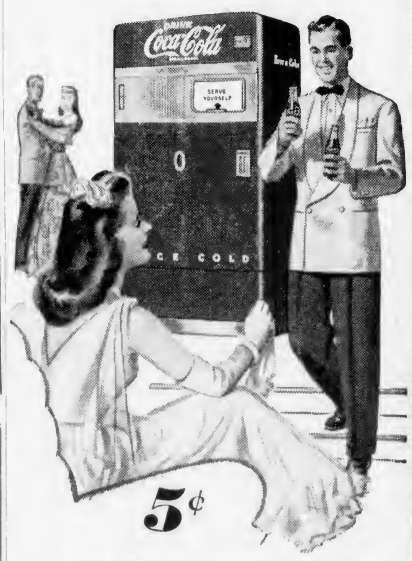
Garden Week in Virginia will be observed from April 24 to May 1. In lines with this, the library staff has prepared an exhibit concerning gardens of Virginia—past and present.

In the glass cabinet to the left of the entrance of the Reserve Book Room, there are several books and magazines concerning gardens of Virginia.

A special booklet "Garden Week in Virginia," published by the Garden Club of Virginia shows many of the famous old homes of Virginia with comments and pictures about their grounds and gardens.

There is also a booklet with an article describing Thomas Jefferson's flower garden at Monticello with a list of all the different types of flowers growing there.

An article in The Spinning Wheel Magazine entitled, "Virginia—Today and Yesterday" describes the beauties of the "Old Dominion" in the spring of the year.



Olympic Section

(Continued from page 3)

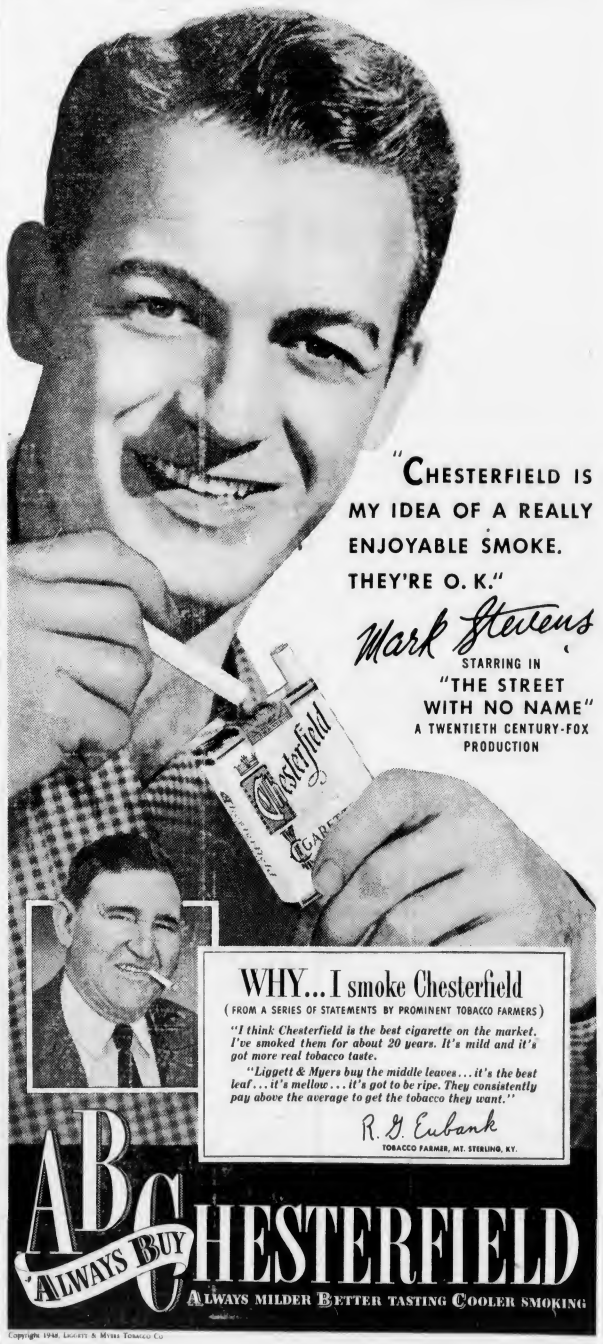
Famulatte, Rita Haves, M. Jerves, Ann Kemp, Romine Mahood, Polly Nasser, Maude Nowell, Jessie Pickett Edna Rodriquez, Norma Roady, Patsy Ritter, and Mary Lou Woodward.

The charioteers for the chariot races will be Gee Gee Yonce and Mary Virginia Walsh. The girls who will be the horses for the chariots are Marjorie Boswick, Hilda Edwards, Ray Phillips, and Jean Jones for one chariot, and Robbie Cromar, Katherine Bondurant, Janie Fox and Sue Walker for the other chariot.



WHERE THERE'S COKE THERE'S HOSPITALITY

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.
© 1948, The Coco-Cola Company

Because, by Dick Haymes
Also Nelson Eddie
Salute Dance
Slap 'Er Down Agin, Paw Shine
—AT—
WILSON'S
FIRESTONE
STORE

VERSER'S
Just Received
A Lot Of Samsonite
Luggage
VERSER'S
"We Serve To Please"

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Library
State ... College
Farmville, Virginia.

Thanks
For Snack Bar

The Rotunda

Hear
'The Creation'

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 5, 1948 | No. 26

Spring Music Festival Begins Here Tomorrow

Alumnae Association Sponsors Installation of Snack Bar

Fountain In 'Rec' Will Open June 14

The Alumnae Association has completed all arrangements for the buying and installing of equipment for a "Snack Bar" in the recreation hall of the main building. Installation will begin as soon as the equipment arrives, and the Association plans to open the 'Snack Bar" by June 14, the beginning of the summer school session.

The equipment for the bar includes a modern soda fountain, five blonde mahogany booths, and a number of tables and chairs. It will be located on the platform in the main recreation hall. All sorts of soft drinks and ice cream dishes, sandwiches, candy, and cigarettes will be sold there.

Installed for the convenience and benefit of the students, the bar will be under the supervision of the Alumnae Association and the college administration. According to the plans not yet complete the bar is to be open on weekdays from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., from 12 30 p.m. until 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. On Saturdays and Sundays it is expected to be open almost all day and certainly through all dating hours. This schedule is only a tentative one and is subject to approval and trial.

In addition to the "Snack Bar" plans are being made to equip the recreation hall more fully with games, card tables, etc.

Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, Secretary of the Alumnae Association stated, "The Association has long felt that a project of this sort was one of the great needs on this campus. We are proud and happy to be able to sponsor it for the girls, and we solicit their coopcration to insure its success."

Farmville Hi Band Plays In Assembly

The Farmville High School Band under the direction of Mr Elmer Gish, will present a program of music at assembly Thursday at 11:00. The band has made three other appearances since it was organized in September, 1947. This organization is composed of 25 pieces and only high school students are members.

College seniors will enter as the band plays the S. T. C. Alma Mater.

Brumfield Presides At V. P. I. Meeting Of State Biologists

Dr. Robert T. Brumfield of the S. T. C. Biology Department will preside over the Section of Biology of the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Virginia Academy of Science. The Academy meeting will be held at Virginia Polytechnic Institute on May 7 and 8.

Dr. A. Curtis Higginbotham also of our faculty will present a paper on the Analysis of the Distribution of Species and Subspecies in the Major River Systems of Virginia East of the Mountains before the biology section.

Virginia G. Younce, S. T. C. student, and Dr. Brumfield will present An Improved Laboratory Exercise Showing the Relationship between Chlorophyll and Starch Formation. Dr. Brumfield will also present a paper on Induced Chromosomal Aberration As a Means of Tracing Cell-Lineage in Plants.

Dr. George W. Jeffers, head of the S. T. C. Biology Department, will speak before the meeting of the Junior Academy of Science on Life in the Chesapeake.

Parliamentary Law Books Have Arrived

According to Peggy Cabaniss, who is in charge of the Parliamentary Law course sponsored by Student Standards, the text books have arrived and are on sale now in the Book Room. The books are priced at $2.00.

Those organizations who have ordered books must get them at once, stated Peggy. The first meeting will be held Monday, May 10, in Dr. Walmsley's class room from 5 to 6 p. m. Peggy also requested that "the first 3 chapters of the text be read by the class before Monday so that discussions can start right away."

Heads and vice-heads of all organizations must be present for all meetings and failure to attend any meeting automatically forfeits the office to which the officer was elected.

FORTHCOMING COLONNADE

The forthcoming issue of the Colonnade will be dedicated to the late Corinne Baker, Mary Rattray, editor-in-chief, announced this week. The issue will include farewells to the Senior class.

Notice To Students

A three day campus will be given to those students who fail to sign in before bedcheck of that day, upon returning to school after a day or weekend. Students who sign out for the day must be back on campus before 10 p. m. and those who sign out for the weekend are required to be on campus before 11 p.m.

Alpha Phi Sigma Installs Officers

Alpha Phi Sigma held its meeting Tuesday, April 27 at seven o'clock in the Honors Room. Officers for the coming year were installed at this meeting.

Eleanor Bass, retiring president, installed Virginia Spencer as president. The other officers are: Mary Acree, who succeeds Janice Slavin as vice-president; Mary Crowder, who succeeds Denise Love as recording secretary; Charlotte Jones who succeeds Polly Nassar as corresponding secretary; Hattie Swihart, who succeeds Barbara Grizzard as treasurer; and Nancy McAden, who succeeds Juanita Weeks as Rotunda reporter.

Alpha Phi Sigma will have charge of the chapel program on May 6. The scholastic key will then be awarded to the sophomore with the highest average for her two years' work. Those students attaining Masters will also be announced. To be a Master, one has to make an average of 2.25 for two successive semesters.

Crawford Conducts Typewriting Clinic

A typewriting clinic conducted by Professor T. James Crawford, School of Business, Indiana University, and co-author of the book 20th Century Typewriting, will be arranged and held May 7 at S. T. C. under the auspices of the Commercial Education Service, State Department of Education, Richmond, Virginia, in co-operation with the Department of Business Education at State Teachers College, Farmville.

A. L. Walker, state supervisor, Commercial Education Service and Marguerite Crumbley, Assistant state supervisor for Commercial Education, State Department of Education, will assist Mr. Crawford with the clinic.

This clinic is being conducted in an effort to help the high school business education teachers in this locality with their problems in the teaching of typewri-

Continued on Page 4

Student Recital Ends Music Week

13 Will Participate In Annual Program

Concluding the Music Festival on the campus and also National Music Week the Piano students of the Music Department will present their annual recital. The recital will be held in the college auditorium Saturday evening, May 8 at 8 o'clock.

The program includes compositions from the classic, romantic and modern schools. The thirteen students who will take part in the concert are Dorthoy Lester playing Solvei's Song by Greig, Jean Jones playing By A Woodland Pool by Senfeleber, Rena Mae Hayes playing The Stars by Schubert-Maier, and Jean Oliver playing Rubenstein's Romance and Solfeggietto by C. P. E. Bach.

Also there will be Jean Loving playing To A Wild Rose by MacDowell, Jean Hogge playing Barcarolle for Left Hand by Turner and Lasson's Crescendo, Betty Spindler will play Romance by Sibelius, Peggy Dee Hoover will give two numbers; Poem by Fibich and Polish Dance by Scharwenka; Mary Maxwell Acree will play Debussy's Clair de lune, and Martha Berry will play May Night by Palmgren.

Nancy Kibler will be featured as soloist in the first movement of "Concerto in C major" by Williams. She will also play "Invention in A minor "by Bach., "Sonata (opus 79) First movement," by Beethoven and "Gypsy Dance" by Mowry.

Betty Jordan appears on the program playing "Invention in F major" by J .S. Bach, "Grillen" by Schumann, "Nocturne" by Grieg and "The Ocean" by Christian;

Appearing as soloist in "Concerto in A Minor" by Williams, is Puckett Asher Puckett will also play "La Fille aux cheveux de lin by Debussy, "Hungarian" by MacDowell, and "Tango" by Albeniz. Miss Emily Clark will accompany both Nancy Kibler and Puckett Asher.

To be eligible to appear on the recital a piano student must be on the college level in piano work. All advanced students beyond the fifth grade are taking part this year which deviates from the previous recital in which all students took part.

ARTHUR BAILEY

New York Artist Stars In Oratorio

Arthur Bailey will be tenor soloist for the oratorio "The Creation" to be presented as the feature of the Spring Festival of Music at S. T. C.

There are few successful young artists in the country who have made a more excellent record in this particular field than he, and none have followed it more constantly. In a recent review the New York Sun spoke of him as "one of the nation's leading oratorio singers and superb."

Mr. Bailey's career began in Toronto, Canada, and he made a name for himself in that country before coming to New York. He rapidly established himself as concert and oratorio singer in New York City and is particularly well known for his contributions to the sacred music of that city. In addition to solo appearances in some outstanding oratorio performances, he has become a favorite of New York music lovers as soloist for Dr. T Tertius Noble at St. Thomas', and as soloist with the famous Schola Cantorum directed by Hugh Ross and the New York Oratorio Society under the direction of the late Albert Stoessel.

TICKETS TO THE CREATION

Tickets to the two performances of "The Creation" may be bought from any member of the Choir, Choral Club or Madrigals. The price of a ticket is 60 cents. The Rotunda urges you to attend the performance.

Concert By Choirs Will Start At 8:00

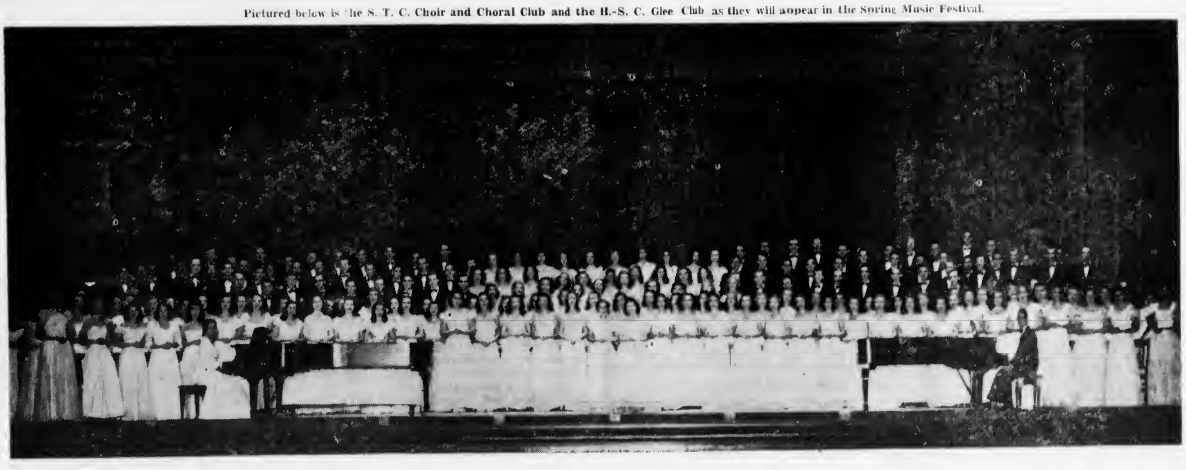
175 Voices Combine To Present Creation

To begin their Spring Music Festival of 1948, the Choir and Choral Club of S. T. C. and the Glee Club of Hampden-Sydney, with three New York soloists, will present the oratorio, "The Creation," by Franz Joseph Haydn, in the auditorium of State Teachers College on May 6th, and in the new gymnasium at Hampden-Sydney College on May 7th. Each concert will begin at 8 P. M.

Florence Manning, soprano; Arthur Bailey, tenor; and Russell Abbott, bass, are the three artists to be featured in the Music Festival. These artists have been selected carefully for their particular talent in the field of oratorio work, and they have appeared at Carnegie Hall, New York City Music Center, the Philadelphia Bach Festivals, and throughout the eastern states. Both the bass and tenor soloists will be making their initial appearances in this area, but most music lovers of the two colleges will remember Miss Manning as soprano soloist for the Christmas concert this past winter.

Joint rehearsals of the 175 voices in the Choral groups have been held each night this week and the artists are joining the group at practice tonight for the final rehearsal.

In an interview following the final rehearsal at S. T. C., Mr. T. E. Crawley, director of the group, told reporters that he is more than pleased with the work that the group has been doing and that he believes "The Creation" will surpass anything they have done to date even The Holy City.



Tickets for the concert are on sale now from any member of the Choir or Choral Club. Admission will be 60 cents, one half the cost of last year's concerts. This reduction has been made possible by the financial backing given by the administrations of the two colleges.

Miss Wheeler Reads Poetry On Program

Miss Leola Wheeler, Professor of Speech, will read several selections of poetry on the S.T.C. radio program tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 over station WFLO. Elsie Love Bendley will announce.

Miss Wheeler urges all who are interested in getting radio experience to contact her.

Pictured below is the S. T. C. Choir and Choral Club and the H.-S. C. Glee Club as they will appear in the Spring Music Festival.

Sincere Appreciation to Mr. Crawley

Tomorrow night in our auditorium, we will have the opportunity to enjoy one of the most well-known and loved oratorios, "The Creation" by Franz Hadyn. This performance by the S. T. C. Choir and Choral Club and the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club will mark the second annual Spring Music Festival sponsored by the groups.

The concert is under the direction of Mr. Ned Crawley, professor of English at Hampden-Sydney, who has successfully directed the groups throughout the past year. Especially commendable were the lyceum performance at V. P. I. of "The Holy City", and the Christmas programs at S. T. C. and at Hampden-Sydney.

This will be Mr. Crawley's last performance here for a year as he is taking a leave of absence. By our attendance at this concert, either tomorrow night at S. T. C. or Friday at Hampden-Sydney, we can show our sincere appreciation for all that Mr. Crawley has done for the two choral groups and subsequently to provide good entertainment for all music lovers in this area.

Because of the diligent and enthusiastic rehearsals of the chorus and the perfection of the artists, the Spring Music Festival is certain to be a success musically; however, as it is necessary that the financial expenditures of both schools and groups be relieved as much as possible, admission must be charged. Make this an evening of success for the performers and more than that, an enjoyable evening for yourself by attending "The Creation".

Thanks For The Snack Bar

The Rotunda takes great pleasure this week in announcing to the student body the plans of the Alumnae Association to install a Snack Bar in the main recreation room. This Snack Bar, complete with a soda fountain, boothes, tables and chairs, is one of the nicest things that has been done for the benefit of the general student body for a long time.

The Alumnae Association and the college administration have been working on the project ever since last summer and even though we've been "in on it" all along, the announcement was withheld until everything became definite.

By installing these facilities in the "Rec" the alumnae are doing a great deal toward solving the problem of what-to-do-on-a-date here, especially on the days when freshmen can't go downtown, and at night. The "Rec" has here-to-fore been so dull and unattractive that no matter how often it was painted the girls took so little interest in it that constant reminders to keep it clean were necessary. Now with food, and perhaps a "juke box" and ping-pong tables, the entertainment facilities are being increased one-hundred per-cent. When the Snack Bar is installed we should be able to arrange Saturday night informal dances down there as well as take dates in the afternoon to play ping-pong, bridge or just to sit and talk. It opens a whole new series of possibilities for entertainment which we have never had before.

We should and can thank the Alumnae Association and the Administration for making the "Rec" into an attractive place to which we shall be proud to take our friends and dates. Our best way of expressing our appreciation is by doing everything we can to make it a success. Let's patronize the Snack Bar, keep the place clean and attractive, refrain from thoughtlessly carving initials in the boothes, and show our gratitude by being helpful in every way we can.

The fountain will be managed as cheaply as possible, but any profit that can be made will go for further improvements here at S. T. C. The alumnae do not wish to make the profit for their own use, but for ours, so let us all do what we can to make the Snack Bar "go over big".

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor in Chief
Elsie Love Bentley ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Organ ..... Business Manager

Jacqueline Eagle ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Mary Leech Meredith ..... News Editor
Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Tom Allen ..... Social Editor
Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Mary Lou Wilson ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Mary Helmer, Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Martha Smith, Lee Robinson, Bobbie Wall, Joyce Hamlet, Connie Heather, Patsy Graveley, Martha Frances Morrison, Helen Arrington, Addie Dodd, Jane Grey, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Nancy Jesse, Ann Lynch, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Betty Nachman, Lela Bouldin, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waiers, Spurkie Poteat Barbara Saunders, Virginia Bailey.

Business Assistants

Peggy Harp, Virginia Howard, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Jean Hooge, Martha Hylton, Nancye Litz, Anne Verser.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 5, 1948

OUR WORLD

By Jacqueline Eagle

We find our world this week in much the same enigmatic situation that we found it last week. That is to say that neither Arab nor Jew, capitalist nor communist can yet tolerate the presence of his brother on the globe.

Three more nations, Egypt, Syria, and Lebanon have been pulled into the Palestine war on the Arabian side, and the British are taking sterner steps to protect the city of Jerusalem. It's going to take some plenty potent UN action to keep the flames of this Near Eastern tinderbox from spreading further.

Of course we've known all along that Europe is at the mobilizing game again, but now it seems that they are really going at it in earnest. Not only has France started fixing up the Maginot Line, but the five nation alliance of western Europe (France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Britain, and Holland) is presenting the United States with a "must" list of lend-lease military needs. It looks as though we won't be waiting much longer for the big fireworks to start. If nations would only realize that they could act much more wisely as units of the U. N. O. than as selfish individual countries, there would be no need for them to be constantly on guard against possible aggression from their neighbors.

"A New Created World"

Gallop Pole

What do you think of the new Joan?

Jean Turner: She's beautiful. If anyone puts her initials on her she ought to be shot.

Betty House: She looks grand. That suntan just does things for her.

Judy Hughes: She must have had a good time in Florida to get that good tan.

Jean Smith: She looks like a lady again.

Anne Verser: She really has a New Look.

Peggy West: She's really in style to say the least. Glad to see her foot in shape again.

Jean Jones: I think she's wonderful!

Betty Jane Brockway: It's good to see her back.

Bobbie Wall: I think the old Joan meant more to the school, sentimentally.

Frances DeBerry: She looks like she been to Florida.

Agnes Dingledine: I'd like to know what roof she has been on.

Ann Nock: "Chic Joan" looks better than I've seen her in ages. People would do well to put their initials in other places.

Betsy Gravely: A month's campus should be the penalty for anyone using their carving ability on her.

Alumnae News

The annual Spring meeting of the Farmville Alumnae in Richmond and vicinity will be held Saturday, May 8. A garden tour will begin at "Agecroft Manor" and continue to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Page Mauck at Westmoreland Place. "Alandale" the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopper, will also be visited by the alumnae. Here a picnic lunch will be served.

Dean and Mrs. William W. Savage will be among the special guests at the outing.

The Gloucester Alumnae Chapter Farmville State Teachers College has invited S. T. C. alumnae from Matthews, King and Queen and other counties in that vicinity to attend its annual spring meeting in Gloucester on Saturday, May 8.

Administration and faculty members attending the meeting are Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dr. Francis B. Simpkins, Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, Miss Ruth Gleaves, and Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dutton Lewis will entertain the five Farmville guests at a luncheon.

Later in the afternoon a reception and tea will be given at the Woman's Club in Gloucester.

The building which houses the Woman's Club was erected nearly two hundred and twenty years ago and was for a long period of time used as an Ordinary.

Bed Check

Congratulation are in order for Orchesis and the wonderful job they did on May Day and the dance. The decorations were very original. Also orchids to Mrs. Landrum for the splendid performance Saturday. And while we are congratulating, we might throw some in the direction of our two representatives to Apple Blossom Festival, Mitty Hahn and Adelaide Coble.

The Presbyterian picnic ended up with quite a bang for several third floor annex girls, eh Roady?

Margy Boswick and Nickie White made a flying trip to Richmond Friday night and seemed to have had a wonderful time.

It seems that we'll be seeing quite a bit of Waverly since he changed jobs. Ask Peggy Crowder for further particulars regarding his next proposed visits.

Jane B., it certainly looks like you and "Hobe" are hitting it off nicely.

"Viv," why don't you just ship your trunk to W. and M.? It might save you a lot of packing since you spend most every week-end there.

Ann, why don't you and Charlie agree to quit disagreeing?

Letter To Editor

Open Letter To Students

Dear Editor:

In past years students in chapel have respected the school and the senior class by keeping quiet and by not tapping their feet while the Seniors marched in and out to the Alma Mater.

No one is supposed to move while the Alma Mater is being played except the Seniors. Those who are late should stand outside the doors until the last chord of the Alma Mater has been played. This also applies to the faculty and especially to those sitting in the rear of the auditorium.

We are sure that when you become Seniors you will want the same respect that you should show for our present Senior class.

It is perfectly obvious that programs in which students participate are those liked best by the audience, but anyone with any common sense would know that we have to have speakers for our own good. If you don't like the programs we are sure that the chapel committee would appreciate any suggestions that you may have to offer. Put yourself in the speakers places and try to imagine how you would feel when you are giving your time and talent to seven hundred heads that are bent over knitting, reading, writing letters, and even filing nails.

Nothing can be done about the behavior in chapel without the cooperation of each and every person in attendance. We suggest that in tomorrow's chapel you pause in the midst of that good oook or in the middle of a row of knitting and glance around. Just watch the people catching up on the latest gossip or reading a letter, and ask yourself truly if you are proud that you are a part of the audience to whom the speaker is trying to convey an idea, which may help you in days to come.

Sincerely,
Two Embarrassed Sophomores.

Dear Editor,

The Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship would like to express its appreciation and thanks to the faculty, administration, and student body for helping to make the Christian Emphasis Week a success. Especially do we wish to thank the Prayers Committee of the Y. W. C. A. for letting Mr. Seume lead prayers each night, Mr. May and the chapel committee for allowing him to speak in chapel, and Miss Wheeler for letting him speak on the radio.

We feel that much of the success of Christian Emphasis Week was due to the help of all of the faculty, administration, and the student body, and we hope that such a week will be possible next year.

Sincerely,
Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship.
(Teenie Booth, pres.)

Dear Editor,

We feel that an explanation is due the student body as to the disappearance and return of the statue of Joan of Arc.

Joan of Arc, our patron saint, is held in high regard by all of the students, and we felt as if her statue should be as her character, unmarred and free from blemishes. Our intention was to have the statue renovated, but the sculptor informed us that it was impossible since it was covered with more than 500 signatures. With Dr. Lancaster's approval, we authorized the sculptor to proceed making a bronze replica of the old statue. The present members of Chi, like many other students, felt the need of this improvement. With the generous contributions made by many members of Chi as far back as 1930, we were able to procure the new statue.

We sincerely hope that the statue of the patron saint of our college will always remain in its present condition.

CHI.

Dear Editor,

If anything in the various organizations of the school is to be accomplished, the members have to come to meetings and at least be there even if they don't offer any suggestions.

A meeting of one of our clubs was called one night this week at 7:30 and by 7:45, two of the twelve members were there. It was before study hour, and as we all know, none of these girls were doing any studying at this time.

If we are going to sign up or be elected for any office or job, we must take and active part or either just drop out entirely. To be in a club is to show some interest, offer any assistance, come to the meetings, and at least be proud to be a member. So if a meeting is called, either come or give the chairman a reason why you can't be there.

Yours Truly,
A Student

JUST HERSELF

She—Do you love me for myself alone?

He—Yes, and when we're married, I don't want any of the family thrown in.

Orchesis Issues Apprentice Bids

Bids to Orchesis, the local honorary dance group, were issued to nine girls at supper last night.

Those who received bids were Frances Allen, Kitty Carmichael, Jean Farmer, Marian Higgs, Betty House, Ann Nock, Nellwyn O'Brien, Cabel Overbey, and Sue Walker.

These girls will serve as apprentices until they have taken part in two performances, after which they will be initiated as members of Orchesis.

Next Monday, May 10, at 5:30 p. m., old apprentices, who received bids to Orchesis during the winter, will be initiated. A supper party in the Senior "Rec" will follow the initiation ceremony.

A. A. Notes

Archery Tournament

This spring the Athletic Association is undertaking an archery tournament. There will be points given toward that hard earned color cup. Everyone should be out practicing and trying to hit the bull's eye or at least the target.

This tournament will be played the week of May 10. Everyone watch for notices on the A. A. Bulletin board and sign up right away. If you are not participating in the game, you can come on out and help support your color. They need you!

Softball Practices

Have you been coming out to softball practices? Now that May Day is over and there will be practices every afternoon, you will be able to get in your eight practices. Your class and color need your support.

These games will begin May 17 and winning team will add points for the color cup. If you can't play softball you can offer support in the cheering sections. Will we see you at the ball game?

Martha Berry

Martha Berry, a freshman from Charlottesville, has been very outstanding in tennis this year. The Athletic Association would like to announce that Martha won the tennis singles tournament this spring when she defeated Betty Burchett. Many of the girls thought that Martha had won the tournament last fall, but the final game was not played until this spring.

Recently Martha participated in the exhibition doubles tournament when Miss Mary Hardwick and Mr. Frank Guernsey conducted a tennis clinic on our campus. These two champions remarked that Martha showed more possibilities than any of the players they had seen at the various colleges they visited. They proudly presented her a new tennis racquet for her excellent playing. Congratulations to you, Martha.

DOUBLES TOURNAMENT

Now that ole man weather has decided to let the sun shine, we can really begin our spring sports in earnest. For the past week, the tennis courts have been crowded. Seems like everybody is practicing for the Doubles Tennis tournament. This tennis tournament counts toward the color cup. Why not sign up and start the ball racing over the net? Now that the singles matches have been played off, the doubles take their place in the color contest.

"Majestic and terrible progress" has been made in kind and in quantity, in fashioning atomic arms and much research for civilian good has been accomplished at the same time according to a report of the Atomic Energy Commission of the first year of its administration of "a project in which the American people have

Novices Swing At Innocent Ball As Golf At Longwood Progresses

Longwood is now the scene of many active girls swinging golf clubs; this happens every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. It resounds with the cries of "Mr. Graham, why did my ball go over to the right or did you see where it went? I'm sure it must be on the green with the terrible whack I gave it."

Yes, we all try, but somehow we just weren't cut out to be Patty Berg's or Babe Zaharias' but you will still find us trying. Mr. Graham says you can try the first two holes. You're excited. You get your stance, take a couple of practice swings and then you are ready to hit the ball. You take your backswing and come through with a terrible whallop; then you look across the fairway for the ball; you can't find it for somehow in that terrific swing you just didn't connect with the ball, and there it sits still on the tee, leering up at you.

Next time you are more determined to hit it, but still the results are the same; finally you manage to top the ball and it rolls off the tee and goes for a few yards, possibly in the rough or down in the marsh, mud ankle deep. After six or seven strokes you manage to land on the green, that is if you haven't gone over on your last shot. It takes you about three or four putts to sink that little ball. This happens all over again as you start for the second green.

So if you enjoy hunting for golf balls, or digging up the turf, why not come out and join us for its really not as bad as it sounds; in fact it's loads of fun and more satisfaction when you really hit that ball.

'The Incurable' Strikes Again Spring Fever Invades Campus

Have you a fever? A headache? A toothache? Chills? Any other serious symptoms? You don't? Yet, you say you are ill. But I don't understand. Your roommate has it too. Well, that symptoms do you have? Always sleepy, lifeless, and no desire to study. That sounds natural but it is even more dominant that usual.

Just quickly diagnosing your case, I'd say you were a victim of that incurable malady, Spring Fever.

Upon further examination, I find this disease has struck S. T. C. with a bang. Its toll increases day by day.

I entered a class at my usual late hour today, only to find the professor speaking to a completely unconscious class. My friends on the last row were staring blankly at the front of the room and my noisy entrance did not even arouse them enough to signal the location of the seat they had saved me. Pushing my way down the crowded row, I was stopped in my tracks by the agonized groan of the girl on whose toes I had just trod. On turning to repeat my profuse "excuse me's," I realized my victim had been asleep and was again far away in the Land of Nod. After sitting myself in my seat, I began to wonder why the professor, who usually kept the class enraptured, did not seem to notice any of the drowsy students. My question was answered after being in the class a minute. His eyes began to droop as did his voice, only to be brought up again the next second. What happened after this, I have no idea, for I was awakened by the bell forty-five minutes later.

This all goes to prove that this contagious, crippling, disease is no respecter of persons. Students, teachers, and even I am suffering. Take my advice, be careful, the next victim may be you!

Wear White Sweaters For Annual Pictures

Picture taking for the Virginian which started last Monday will continue through tomorrow, Thursday, according to the announcement of Anne East, editor of the Virginian.

These individual pictures are being taken in the Town Girls' Room on second floor rotunda every day from 8 a. m. until 6 p. m., and the fee is $1.25 per student. Those who have not yet made their appointments may sign up at the table in the hall across from Dean Savage's office.

Freshmen and sophomores are requested to wear white sweater with white dickey when they go to have their pictures taken. Juniors will be draped for their senior pictures.

Sunbathers Suffer On Roof For Bronze Look

By Janice Starin

Time for "cooking" one's self to the core has arrived again. Yep, that old custom of basking in the sun until it become quite painful has again arrived on the S. T. C. campus.

About a couple of months ago, a certain sophomore started the season off by appearing around the halls with red face. "Blushing?" someone asked.

"Nope," just spent a couple of hours on "the roof," she replied.

With sunbathing comes its best friend, spring fever. This is quite prevalent around here. No one feels like opening a book. Spring is the time when a young man's woman's (not fancy) turns to thoughts of love. Ah Myrtle—she had two cheeks like a rose and a nose like a rose, too, which all adds up to "Four Roses," or does it?

Everything is sacrificed in the spring in order to obtain that much coveted sun tan—classes are cut, skipped, unexcused absences are handed out, and assignments go undone.

There is a great shortage of baby oil in the stores for the very young babies, as the twenty-year-old babies are consuming it all in huge quantities.

Bridge flourishes. With every terrific puff of wind cards fly in all directions. The coke companies find a great decrease in the bottles returned. We are sure that the painters will be quite busy around here, too, for the next few months. It seems as if the window sills of the third floor main building are always in need of a couple coats of carefully applied paint.

Hour after hour is passed in this manner. When the heat can be tolerated no longer, a dash is made to the room. "Ah, I didn't get a bit," wails a poor sunbather. Oh no! By bed time you are as red as a beet—and sore! Never again! Surgery, calling Dr. Moore!

The time has come for some attention to be paid to the printed message, "Your Skin and Sunshine" that Dr. Moore took the trouble to send out to each of you for your benefit.

The coveted sun tan is nature's reaction to protect you against the poisonous ultra-violet ray to which you are exposing yourself and this sun tan nullifies the most beneficial function of sunlight—it prevents the sun light being a source of the antirachitic Vitamin D.

Over indulgence in sunshine results in the most painful burns imaginable accompanied by swelling and lacrimation and blisters and discomforts and make the victim repent in lotions and powders and salves for the violation of so important a Health Law. But this is not the end of the story. Other effects are nausea, vomiting, cramps, nervousness, apprehensiveness, insomnia, and exhaustion. Over exposure to sun light is the commonest cause of skin cancer.

Reread Dr. Moore's message and remember, take it easy!

Frenchman Compares America With France

(NOTE: This article was written by the editor of a Toulouse paper who visited here last year. We thought the students of French, and others would be interested in his impressions of the U. S.)

Bread or poetry? It is difficult to choose between these symbols representing respectively the American and French civilizations. Charles Sans agreed with the young woman, encountered during his stay in Virginia, who thought it would be wonderful if some happy combination of the two could be found.

If you had to decide between the soul-filling loveliness of France's Cote d'Azur or the stomach-filling monotony that is Iowa's sea of wheat, which would you take? Which contributes more to the full life, the graceful poplars of Brittany or the army of combines Sans saw in Concordia, Kansas?

"I love your country, so beautiful and so harmonious," an American told Sans during his trip through the Mid-West, "but don't you see, it's better sometimes to have less poetry and more to eat." I couldn't contradict him, the French visitor says.

After leaving Virginia last summer, Sans went to Detroit where he saw the marvel that revolutionized American industry, the Ford assembly line. His readers also receive a full description of Upton Sinclair's Jungle, the Chicago stockyards, now drained and fumigated but still featuring death by metronome. In Kansas he sought out a farmer in the fields and had supper with the family.

Nowhere did he find the poetry that is France. "It is because each Frenchman is somewhat of a poet that our roads are not rectilinear and our cities are not all the same." But America is open to a man young and strong who wants to work. There is a sense of democracy, a lack of feeling for class distinction. "There exists less social difference between the president of the United States and a Ford worker than between a French laborer and a member of the bourgeoisie."

It is not speciously that Charles Sans calls his series of 19 long articles "L'Amerique en bras de chemise" (America in Shirt Sleeves). At Newport News he met a shipyard worker of 45 years, a Frenchman who left his native Lyon 22 years ago. Do you regret having left France, Sans asked him. "Not at all. In France I could not have a home like mine, nor a car. In France there is too much politicking, here one works."

What do you think of Communism, was Sans' next question. "The hell with it. It is not against the financier that I struggle, I struggle against life. Here one strikes when times are good and a man knows that his company can pay more. Strikes are matter of money and better working conditions, not of politics."

And thus Charles Sans reached his conclusion: "Live in

(Continued on page 4)

Fellowship Elects Lewers President

The Farmville Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship has elected Nadine Lewers, junior from Asaw woman, president for the 1948-1949 session. Nadine has been a member of Inter-Varsity since her freshman year, serving as treasurer during her sophomore year and as Vice President during her junior year.

Other new officers are Alice

Continued on Page 4

For satisfying results—Send your clothes to us

Kleanwell Cleaners

DELIVERY SERVICE
Phone Us For Your Sandwiches and Drinks
Up To 10 P. M.
Southside Drug

8-WEEK COURSE
Intensive summer school training in shorthand and typewriting. A day course recommended for high school graduates and college students.
Summer classes begin June 21 and July 6.
Attainable objectives are: (1) The ability to take notes on lectures and typewrite manuscripts; (2) Basic training in essential business skills; (3) Credit toward graduation from a complete Secretorial course.
REQUEST SUMMER SCHOOL BULLETIN
STRAYER COLLEGE
13th and F Sts., Washington 5, D. C
Telephone, NAtional 1748

VERSER'S
Just Received
A Lot Of Samsonite
Luggage
VERSER'S
"We Serve To Please"

Because, by Dick Haymes
Also Nelson Eddie
Sabre Dance
Slap 'Er Down Agin, Paw Shine
—AT—
WILSON'S
FIRESTONE
STORE

Meet Me At . . .
Shannon's for
the Finest Food
In Town
Shannon's, Inc.

Our Food Is The Best
We Aim To Please
YOU
Come in and try a
Plate Lunch or Sandwich
COLLEGE SHOP

ORCHIDS for Mother?
See the newest
NORCROSS
Signature Notes

Patterson Drug Co.

Select Your Mother's Day Gift
From
MARTIN'S

THE CONVENIENT
STORE FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS
G. F. Butcher Co.

Flowers for Every Dance or Special Occasion
Chas. E. Burg
Florist

When you think of flowers
Think of ours
COME TO
Collins Florist

TOPS ON ANY CAMPUS ARE OUR BALLERINA SKIRTS
GIBSON GIRL BLOUSES
AND BALLET SHOES
THE HUB
Farmville, Va.

Opening May 15th.
"The Wigwam Cottage"
210, 26th Street, Virginia Beach, Virginia
RICHARD R. WOOLLING, Proprietor
Dormitory — Rooms — Apartments
Nice for Houseparties
Newly Decorated
Convenient to everything
Write for Reservations

Meet the Faculty

MISS VIRGINIA BEDFORD

Miss Virginia Bedford, Associate Professor of Fine and Applied Arts, also one of our best dressed and b st humored S. T. C. faculty members, comes to us from that western land where they have to be shown, Missouri, that is.

Since Columbia was her home town, it was natural that Miss Bedford should decide to get her schooling at the University of Missouri, where she took her B. S. Miss Bedford's M. A. came from the Teachers College of Columbia University, an institution which seems to have been a favorite with our faculty. Miss Bedford has also studied at Harvard University and Ohio State University.

Ceramics and water color painting are Miss Bedford's first loves in the art field. Though she insists that she is "no artist," those who are acquainted with her work in crafts which includes jewelry making and ceramics, and in water colors, would have it otherwise. Golf, cooking, and sewing are numbered among Miss Bedford's side interests.

Before coming to us in 1927, Miss Bedford had been a jr. high school teacher in Port Arthur, Texas, and in Akron, Ohio, and a member of the summer school staff at another State Teachers College, this one in Cape Girardeau, Missouri.

Miss Bedford has been classman for three S. T .C. classes, she is the sponsor of the local chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau sorority, and has been chairman of Founder's Day for the last two years. In addition, she serves as adviser for the art work on our annual, the Virginian, and she is a former member of the Student Standards Committee.

Also Miss Bedford holds memberships in Phi Mu, social sorority, Delta Phi Delta, national honorary art fraternity, the Southeastern Arts Association, the Art Section of N. E. A. the American Association of University Professors, and the Farmville Woman's Club. She is incoming president of the Farmville Chapter of the American Association of University Women, and she is past president of the Art Section of the Virginia Education Association.

The NEW LOOK

By TONI ALLEN

Spring is now in full swing, and heavy winter greatcoats are being replaced by the fitted silhouette, which will be welcomed by many women.

Since modification is the keynote of most good spring clothes, fitted coats have the new narrower shoulder and smooth fitting bodice lines that continue down to round out the hipline into wide flaring skirts.

Rounded hiplines are achieved by the clever use of a skirt yoke, pocket flaps placed near the waist line, stiffening, or slight padding. For the most part, long fitted coats actully follow the lines of dresses. Dolman or straight sleeves with cuffs are important, and trimmings show in the use of wing and sailor collars and in the new ripplane capelets.

Smooth fabrics such as gabardine and doeskin type woolens are favored for they are less bulky and they are more appropriate for dressmaker type coats.

The greatest number of name designers have indorsed the full-length coat with soft dressmaker details for spring, hence it is almost certain to remain a fashion for some time

"VOICE OF AMERICA"

The Voice of America," which now speaks in 23 languages and tongues is going to start speaking in eight more languages soon, mostly those of the Middle East and northern European "critical areas" bordering Russia. They are Arabic, Turkish, Iranian, Finnish, Swedish, Norwegian, Danish and Dutch. In addition to the stepped-up radio broadcasts, the new program calls for a greater number of books and documentary movies to be sent abroad.

★ SENIOR SPOTLIGHT ★

Jeanne Tolley — "Bebe Geyer"

A more charming gal is not to be found, nor a more popular one—not only here at S.T.C. but on other campuses like U. Va., Tech, Randolph-Macon, and Carolina—to mention a few. We'd like to know your secret, Jeanne Tolley—that is, how you can leave school every week-end, take an active part in organizations and still make all A's.

Jeanne, who dislikes being called Elizabeth Eugenia, is first in a family of eight and hails from Natural Bridge. Since her Freshman year, she has been a willing participant in all class productions and circus stunts. A member of Orchesis, she headed the Decoration Committee for May Day dance and took part in May Day (naturally!) Swinging the gavel as president of Theta Sigma Upsilon this year, Jeanne was never too busy to take on an added task. She is on the Rotunda staff and a member of Pi Gamma Mu. The chem lab is her second home, and incidentally, Mr. Mac is one of her favorite profs.

One of her ambitions is to complete a crossword puzzle without the aid of Webster, but her chief one is to become a successful lab technician. Her interview next week in Wilmington may be the first step in that direction.

Quiet leadership, a winning way, and sunny disposition—these are the characteristics which make Jeanne's success and popularity no secret.

Typing Clinic

Continued from Page 1

ing.

Registration will be held from 9:15 a. m. to 9:30 a. m.

The First Session from 9:30 a. m. to 11:00 will be concerned with demonstrations and discussions of methods of teaching elementary typewriting.

The Second Session from 11:00 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. will include demonstration and instruction in methods of teaching intermediate and advanced typewriting.

In the afternoon from 1:30 to 3:30 an open forum of individual problems in the teaching of typewriting will be conducted.

Gama Theta Holds Banquet at Longwood

On Saturday, April 24th Gamma Theta Sorority celebrated its 37th anniversary with a banquet and over-night party at Longwood. A number of the alumnae returned to attend the banquet and to renew old acquaintances and make new ones.

At this time the newly installed officers for the coming year were introduced. They are as follows: Jackie Watson, Hampton, president; Frankie Dodson, Norfolk, vice-president; Adelaide Coble, Winchester, secretary; Paulette Pifer, Winchester, treasurer; Hilda Edwards, Hampton; and Lee Robertson, Danville, alumnae secretary.

Commercial Club Picnic

The Commercial Club held its annual picnic for approximately 100 Business Education students and professors, May 5, at Longwood.

Billie Mullins is president of this organization.

Frenchman Compares

(Continued from page 3)

America and die in France." In America, where youth and strength, imagination and hard work count, a man can shape his own life and provide his family with a comfortable existence while doing so. But when the late years come, then a man will find himself happier with the poetry that is a shady lane in Normandy, in the music that is the Mediterranean coast under a gentle sun.

Intervarsity

(Continued from page 3)

Burgess, freshman from Village, vice president; Max Acree, freshman from Farnham, secretary; and Dot Daniel, junior from Danville, treasurer. Dorothy Dunford, freshman from Richmond, and Joyce Mattox, freshman from Waverly ,were elected pianists and Peggy Dee Hoover, freshman from Portsmouth, and Dot Wood, sophomore from Roanoke were elected as choristers.

Elected to serve as committee chairman were: Juanita Weeks, junior from Victoria, Devotional Chairman; Anne Lucy, sophomore from Dolphin, Social Chairman, Annie Swann, sophomore from Roancke, Missionary Chairman; Dot Doutt, sophomore from Hopewell, Chairman of Special Programs and Teenie Booth, junior from Danville, Publicity Chairman.

HOME COSTS

The selling price of the "average new house" reached $9,060 in November—more than double the price of $4,440 in 1939, according to the Commerce Department.

Mr. Myers Attends Commercial Clinic

Mr. Norman O. Myers, Professor of Business Education, attended the second of four meetings which are being currently held in Virginia and sponsored by the Commercial Education Service, State Department of Education. It was held last Friday at Madison College, Harrisonburg, Va.

This was a typing clinic for the In-Service Teacher Training Program for about 40 teachers from that era. It was conducted by Dr. D. D. Lessenberry, Director of Business Education at University of Pittsburgh, who is author of Southwestern Publishing Company's text, College Typewriting, and the outstanding authority in the field of typewriting and transcription today.

READ ROTUNDA ADS

COKE AND MUSIC FOR HAPPY MOMENTS

5¢

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Library
State Teachers College
Farmville, Virginia

See French Movie

The Rotunda

Congratulations Key Winner

VOLUME XXVII FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 12, 1948 No. 27

Circle Presents Movie In French, English Captions

'Les Miserables' Show Here Tonight

"Jean Valjean," a French movie based on Victor Hugo's novel, Les Miserables will be shown in the large auditorium Wednesday evening at 6:45 p.m. under the auspices of the French Circle.

The all-French cast of "Jean Valjean" stars Harry Baur who is described by Variety, theatrical magazine, as "powerful in the leading role." Variety calls "Jean Valjean," "a memorable film achievement, with superb acting, a gigantic production." Although the dialogue is French, there are English sub-titles, so that the movie may be easily understood by all.

Members of the supporting cast are Charles Vanel, Henry Krauss, Charles Dullin, Jean Servais, Robert Vidalin, Emile Genevois, Catilloux, Mme. Florelle, Gaby Triquet, Josseline Gael, and M. Max Dearly. According to The Film Daily, this cast is "skillfully chosen, with each individual performer contributing to the dynamic quality of the episodes."

The filming of Hugo's classic, which has been translated into the leading languages of the world was directed by Maurice Jaubert, with the screen play by Andre Land and Raymond Bernard.

In reviewing "Jean Valjean" the Modern Language Journal says, "The picture is the most inspired interpretation of a classic this writer has yet seen, and is undoubtedly a high point in the history of motion pictures. Ugly as the reality Hugo pictured, entirely free from sentimentality and meretricious facility of the movies, infused with living immediacy by Harry Baur's superb re-creation of Valjean."

Tickets for "Jean Valjean" are priced at 28c, including tax, and they may be bought beforehand from French students or at the door Wednesday evening. The movie, 90 minutes long, will be over at 8:15.

Notice

The last Tuesday chapel service of the year (May 18) will be held in the Episcopal Church instead of the Auditorium. Mr. Roberts will be the minister in charge.

Committee Inquires 'Can You Name It?'

The students of S. T. C. have been asked to name the new snack bar being sponsored by the Alumnae Association. The Association feels that just Snack-Bar is explanatory enough but not very original .Since it is for the student body they feel that the students should name it.

Names should be short, expressive and suitable Turn all suggestions in to Betty Spindler by Monday, May 17, at noon. Entries will be judged by a committee from the Alumnae Association and their first choice will be published in the next Rotunda.

Penmanship Exhibit Displays Materials, Childrens' Examples

The library is featuring this week an exhibit on penmanship.

Materials pertaining to this exhibit have been collected and placed on a table to the right of the main door entering the reserve book room. Among these materials, there are several books and pamphlets for guidance in handwriting. There are also several pamphlets in regard to teaching penmanship to children. Included in this material is a "Circus Alphabet" booklet by G. G. Craig where each capital letter is represented by some circus animal whose name begins with that capital. Also for those who are interested in telling fortunes by handwriting, there are several booklets entitled "How to Read Character from Handwriting." Also to be seen are samples of handwriting from the Farmville and Richmond elementary schools.

There are also on display this week some of the works of the S. T. C. ceramics class of Art No. 222. In this exhibit, there may be seen ash trays, pitchers, dishes, figures, teapots, sugar bowls, and cream pitchers, all of which were made by the art students under the direction of Miss Bedford.

Correction

Several weeks ago the "Rotunda" printed a set of Infirmary Regulations. Since then it has been called to the atention of the staff that those regulations which were published were not correct.

Miss Keeling, the college nurse, asks that students consult the handbook for the proper regulations. The rules and hours as printed in the handbook are the ones to follow.

STC Dramatic Club Installs Officers For '48-'49 Session

Initiation Held For Apprentices

Dramatic Club officers were installed last night in the small auditorium at 7 o'clock.

Those installed were: president, Betty House who succeeds Jean Cake; vice president in charge of productions, Jean Cake who succeeds Betty House; vice president in charge of programs, Jane Hunt Ghiselin who succeeds Gwen Cress. Ann Nock will succeed Dolly Ann Freeman as treasurer, and Gwen Cress succeeds Frances Livesey as secretary.

Committee heads who were installed were: acting, Griswold Boxley; costuming, June Banks; properties, Charlotte Newell; staging, Helen Hardin; lighting, Jane Gray; make-up, Nancy Lee Maddox; music, Dee Hoover; play contest, Frances Farley; social, Mary Brownley Smith; scrap book, Joan Hahn; posters, Pat Earle. Those whom they succeed in the same order as above are Ann Nock, Betty Brockway, Betty Renn, Helen Hardin, Jane Gray, Mitty Hahn, June Banks, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Frances Farley, Jane Brimmer, and Helen Arrington.

The formal initiation of apprentices was held after the installation. There were thirty-nine new members admitted.

After the installation and initiation of new members, an informal party was held. There was a program of singing and refreshments were served.

BET Plans Picnic Drama Talk, Degrees For Final Meeting

Beorc Eh Thorn, the local English honorary society, will hold its annual picnic Thursday afternoon, May 13, at 5 p.m., at the country home of Mr. J. M. Grainger, head of the English department.

Members of Beorc Eh Thorn will leave from the Honors Room at five Thursday afternoon, and will return from the picnic in time for study hour at 8 p.m.

At this meeting Mr. Grainger will give a talk on contemporary Irish drama. Another feature of this last program of the year will be the awarding of Beorc Eh Thorn degrees. These degrees are awarded on the basis of original writings, and a special committee of judges decides who will be entitled to receive the degrees.

Success Of Oratorio Described By Critic

"The Creation," Franz Haydn's most famous oratorio, was presented on our campus last Thursday night by the Choir and Choral Club of S. T. C. and the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club. Three New York soloists joined the combined chorus to do the recitatives and arias included in the choral work.

The concert was under the direction of Mr. T. E. Crawley, and piano accompaniments were brilliantly played by Harold Brown, a young professional pianist, and Preston Sawyer, Hampden-Sydney Glee Club accompanist.

A fair-sized crowd gave only a minimum of applause to the deserving students and artists. Florence Manning, Russell Abbott, and Arthur Bailey, the guest soloists, displayed great oratorical abilities with their voices. Mr. Abbott's entire personality seemed to reveal itself in his interpretations of some of the bass lines. Perhaps the loveliest of the numbers in the oratorio was the duet by Miss Manning and Mr. Bailey in the roles of Adam and Eve, each expressing their love for the other.

(Continued on page 4)

Hughes Installs Parham FTA Head

New officers were elected and the new members initiated at the meeting of the Future Teachers of America, which was held in the Honors Room Tuesday, May 10, Dr. J. P. Wynne, sponsor of the F. T. A., gave a short address on the ideals of the organization.

Elected to offices in the association at the meeting were Mary Parham as president; Anne Owens, vice president; Jackie Bobbitt, secretary; Mary Young, treasurer; and Rives Edwards, librarian.

Twenty-two new members were also initiated. Wilma Allen, Prospect; Jackie Bobbitt, South Hill; Meibale Boothe, Danville; Iris Coleman, Prospect; Laura Jean Comerford, Meadowview; were taken in. Also Craig Cumbey, Farmville; Dorothy Daniel, Danville; Margaret Dillon, Danville; Elizabeth Drewers, Saxis; and Rives Edwards, Danville.

They also received Hazel Lewis, Saxis; Grace Mallory, Lawrenceville; Marcella Mandel, Norfolk; Mary Evelyn Miles, Saxis; and Billie Mullins, Coeburn; also Betty Ree Pairet, Farmville; Nancy Rushing, Onley; Jean Thomasson, South Hill; Ruth Tillet, Hamilton; Gertrude Walker, Penhook; Dorothy Winton, Bedford; and Mary Young, Covington.

Dr. Turner To Speak To Seniors at IVCF

Dr .Joseph Turner of South Hill has been invited to speak at Intervarsity Christian Fellowship next Tuesday, May, 18, in the Student Lounge at 7 p. m. He will lead the study on the 17th chapter of St. John.

After the regular discussion, Dr. Turner will deliver a challenge to the seniors for whom a special meeting has been arranged. All

(Continued on page 4)

Alpha Phi Sigma Awards Nasser Scholarship Key

PAULINE NASSER
Winner of the Scholarship Key

Alpha Phi Sigma Issues 13 Bids

Seventeen S. T. C. boys and girls received bids from Alpha Phi Sigma on May 5. They were chosen for membership on the basis of their college records.

Those receiving bids were: Georgia Bailey, Hilda Bausenman; James Craig Cumbey, June Divers, Edith Duma, Edith Duvall and Frances Everett. Also, Margaret Farmer, Emily Hastings, Frances H. Higginbotham, Margaret Dee Hoover, James Stuart McGhee, Mary Leigh Meredith Regina Smith, Alger R. Southall Jr., Betty Jane Spencer, and Patricia Walker.

Dr. Lancaster Awarded DistinguishedServicePlaque

by Janice Slavin

Stinkweeds are in order for the Rotunda Staff for delaying announcement of another of Dr. Lancaster's awards.

The Alpha Beta Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, honorary professional educational fraternity, awarded the Distinguished Service Plaque to Dr. Lancaster for rendering more service to education this year than anyone else in the state of Virginia. The Chapter is composed of 300 members. Three of these members with certain qualifications are chosen to compete for the award. Ballots are sent out to all members. The person receiving the largest number of votes receives the Plaque. It was presented at the annual banquet in the Monticello hotel, Charlottesville, Virginia. The following faculty members were also present: Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Wynne, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Coyner, Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Landrum, and Dr. Swertfeger.

The purpose of Phi Delta Kappa is to promote quality work. It admits to membership men who are recognized for scholarship and leadership in the field of education.

We, of the Rotunda Staff, feel that the student body should be better acquainted with the other grand work and recognition that our president has received in his many years of service in the field of education. We shall attempt to acquaint you with some of these activities.

Dr. Lancaster was born in Richmond, Virginia and attended the Richmond schools for awhile. Later he became a student at Episcopal high school, Alexandria, Virginia. He received his B.A. from the University of Virginia. In 1912 Dr. Lancaster took his first teaching position at what is now known as St. Christopher's School for boys in Richmond. In 1915 he received his M.S. from V.P.I., and he later became Head of Department of Vocational Agriculture there.

Some of the other positions that he has held are Secretary of the State Board of Education President of the State Association of Y. M. C. A.'s of Alabama, President of Association of Virginia Colleges, President of National Association of Deans and Advisors of Men, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Dean of Men at University of Alabama. When Dr. Lancaster decided to come back to Virginia, several thousand students signed a petition urging him to stay there as Dean of Men.

He is a member of the Raven Society at University of Virginia which is a distinguished organization indicating outstanding service to the University. Dr. Lancaster was former Executive Secretary of the Board of Overseers for Sweet Briar College now a member. He is on the Board of Trustees of Episcopal high school. He is also a Lay Reader of the Episcopal Church.

Dr. Lancaster is a member of many other organizations. The following are a few: Phi Beta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, Phi Eta Sigma (similar to our Alpha Kappa Gamma), Phi Kappa Phi, and Delta Tau Delta.

If you have often wondered how to get a much coveted write-up in Who's Who in America, you might consult Dr. Lancaster on this matter, too. Yep, out of the two people in Farmville in Who's Who in America, Dr. Lancaster is one. The other—our own Dr. Walmsley.

Congratulations, Dr. Lancaster, for the fine service that you have always rendered education.

APS Also Confers Master's Degrees

Pauline Nasser, sophomore from Richmond, was presented with the Alpha Phi Sigma scholarship key in chapel Thursday.

This key is awarded each spring by the National Council to the member of Alpha Phi Sigma in each college who holds the highest general average for her college work. Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, who presented the key, announced that Pauline's average was 2.8. This is .2 of a point less than a straight A average.

Eleanor Bass, president of the Delta Chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma on our campus announced that the girls who have met their Master's requirement are Phyllis Asher, Puckett Asher, Jackie Eagle, Betty House, Julia Hughes, Nancy Kibler, Helen Kaknis, Evelyne Rippon, Barbara Smith, Mary Rose Smith, and Ruth Walker. The Masters' requirements consist of at least a 2.25 general average in college work for a year.

Alpha Phi Sigma is a national honorary scholastic society limited to teacher's colleges maintaining Class A or Class B in the American Association of Teachers Colleges. The Delta Chapter was issued a charter and became an active organization on this campus in 1930. High school salutatorians, valedictorians and honor students coming to college become associate members with restricted privileges for the first college year. This is the only honor society on the campus open solely to freshmen and sophomores.

FTA-'Philosophers' Hold Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Philosophy Club and the Future Teachers of America was held May 11 from 7 to 8:30 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A. Lounge. Mary Parham president of F. T. A., presided over the session.

A forum to discuss professional standards was conducted at the meeting. The panel on "Foundation and Applications of Professional Standards" was composed of Dr. Lancaster and Dr. Johnson from the College; Mr. McIlwaine, Superintendent of Prince Edward and Cumberland County Schools; Dr. Vincent, Principal of the Elementary School; and six S. T. C. students: Dorothy Bevard, Betty Bondurant, June Clark, June Poole, Harriet Sutherlin and Dorothy Tuck.

The panel started a discussion of the ethics of the teaching profession which the members of both groups joined. According to Mary Parham "the panel was very successful and the participation of the club was enthusiastic."

Beside the members of the Philosophy Club and the Future Teachers of America there were the presidents of the various student organizations. The invited guests were Dr. Ruffin, president of the College Chapter of the VEA; Dr. Ethel Sutherland, Advisor to Kappa Delta Pi, Miss Alice Carter Advisor to ACE; Dr. Sibyl Henry Vincent, Principal of Elementary School and president of Prince Edward and Cumberland County Chapter of VEA; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Savage, Dean of State Teachers College, Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner, Assistant Principal of Farmville High School, and from the State Teachers College faculty, Dr. and Mrs. Wynne, Dr. Swertfeger, Mr. Coyner, and Mr. and Mrs. Grainger.

Mary Parham began the discussions followed by Dorothy Tuck and Harriet Sutherlin. They presented the arguments for the adoption and enforcement of a code of fixed ethical standards, and some for an educational program on professional standards,

continued on Page 3

Victor Hugo's Hero to Thrill All Attending 'Jean Valjean'

For years most of us have been hearing and reading the story in both English and French of the misbegotten Jean Valjean.

Tonight the French Circle is bringing to the College a powerful movie dramatization of the first episodes of Victor Hugos immortal "Les Miserables", which filmed in its entirety requires 165 minutes to show. "Jean Valjean" though it only takes 90 minutes to show, is nevertheless a complete and gripping story.

People the world over have read and visualized the touching melodrama of Jean Valjean, but there is a certain intangible component of realism and drama which a story lacks on the printed page. For this reasons, the Pathe-Natan filming of Hugo's classic has been welcomed by French and American audiences alike, the flash-in English titles enabling Americans to easily follow the story.

Many will remember the screen production of Les Miserables with a convincing portrayal of Jean, One can easily imagine how superior the French production is to the English one, since in "Jean Valjean" the lines are spoken in the same expressive language in which Hugo originally wrote them. Harry Baur, the French star, gives a convincing depiction of Jean, "rising to true histrionic greatness" according the The Film Daily.

Jean Valjean's story begins with his release from the nightmarish prison at Toulon. His yellow passport from prison brands him unmistakably as a criminal, and his civilian life begins to be even more of a nightmare than was the Toulon prison where he spent 19 years. Though the odds are against him, Jean "goes straight" with the help of a kindly priest and eventually he rises to the point of being mayor of a small French town. But inevitably, his past must catch up with him, and from there the story progresses to a startling end.

All who have seen any of the foreign films which have been showing recently in the United States have noted the faithfulness with which they depict reality, beautiful or grotesque as it may be. This is a quality sadly lacking in many Hollywood pictures, but happily not in "Jean Valjean". Reviewers say, "Authentic atmosphere pervades all the sequences —intense emotional quality. American audiences appreciating top-flight screen fare, will revel in the production.

"Jean Valjean" promises to be a definitely out-of-the-ordinary treat for the student body.

Was Chi Wrong Again?

Last week when "Joan" was returned we welcomed her back; even later when we learned that she was not the same as the one which had sat in the Rotunda since 1915[we were still glad to see her. We remarked that she certainly did have a good tan, and that we hoped no vandal would deface her new sides; and let it go at that. The revelation that Chi was responsible for having the old statue replaced drew surprise from most of us, but certainly no violent protest. The Rotunda had it in mind to briefly thank Chi for their undertaking and then let the issue pass. However, a letter from a faculty member (which is printed elsewhere on this page) has forced us to trace the "facts" in order to answer his questions. We are striving to point out to all who share his opinion how the majority of the students feel about the new statue.

It appears to the editors of the Rotunda that the letter is directed at Chi, and the main purpose is not to protest the replacement of the old eyesore as to rail against that organization for taking the responsibility of having it repaired. We resented the implication it voiced that a lack of "common courtesy" was shown in not consulting the alumnae, faculty and students. We know that it was not possible to consult everyone, and Dr. Lancaster considered the matter carefully before giving his consent. He based his decision on the advice of the art gallery; the same advice which would have been put before us to consider had we been given the choice of the matter. Would we have done otherwise? Indeed not.

In answer to the questions raised by the protesting letter we will endeavor to combine what the editor, the members of Chi and Dr. Lancaster think with the general concensus of student opinion in order to "state the whole truth" and "keep our pages open to all sides of the question."

First: Mrs. Starke was not consulted; neither were the members of the Class of 1914. They gave the statue to the college with no strings attached, and we are sure that had they been consulted and given the report of the artist who was commissioned to renovate the old Joan—that they would have given Chi the "go ahead".

Second: Chi was taking advantage of an offer to send it to the Caproni Galleries in Boston to be "reconditioned" and displayed briefly there. They might have had to forfeit the offer if they had taken time to consult all the people mentioned.

Third: Why shouldn't we have been willing to let Chi do the job? We would have permitted a sorority to do it and Chi does not represent a more select group than any of them.

Fourth: We miss the white statue of course, but mostly because we were used to its being that way. Perhaps unfortunately we, the present student body, entertain no sentimentality over the symbolism of the white. Most of us have the utilitarian attitude that good bronze is to be preferred above chipped white plaster. She may indeed have been far more beautiful when new than the present replica, but we didn't know her then. We venture to say that the majority of the students would rather have the new one since the old one was beyond repair.

Fifth: Concerning vandals, we dare say that the greater part of the signatures were carved by outsiders. Joan stood in the middle of the Rotunda during the war when S. T. C. was almost overrun with servicemen, who with all due respect were nevertheless notorious "name-leavers". The mention of a "color line" seems totally irrelevant to us.

Sixth: We heartily disagree with any proposal that the statue be removed. If she is there as a symbol for the ideals we cherish, what difference does it make if she's cast in bronze or moulded in plaster? It doesn't affect our reverence for Joan of Arc whether or not the statue in our possession is a replica; therefore, it doesn't really make any difference what material she's made of.

This editorial has had to be in defense of Chi; whether or not we sanction the organization in its activities is another matter. What we have striven to do here is make it clear that what Chi did was, in our opinion, not an underhanded robbery, but a definite contribution to the improvement of the college. We are, therefore, sincere in extending thanks to them for their generous gift and for standing the criticism aimed at them for making a step forward.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor in Chief
Elsie Love Bertley ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Jacqueline Eagle ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Mary Lewis Meridith ..... News Editor
Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Crair ..... Circulation Manager
Mary Lou Wilson ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Mary Helmer, Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Martha Smith, Lee Robinson, Bobbie Wall, Joyce Hamlet, Connie Heather, Patsy Graveley, Martha Frances Morrison, Helen Armington, Addie Dodd, Jane Grey, Jane Hunt Gilliselin, Augusta Hargan, Nancy Jesse, Ann Lynch, Gladys Monk, Lou Shelor, Gwen Smith, Carol Stoops, Betty Nachman, Lela Bouldin, Ruth Hadgens, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters, Sparkie Poteat Barbara Saunders, Virginia Bailey.

Business Assistants

Peggy Harp, Virginia Howard, Jane Brimmer, Marlorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Jean Hodge, Martha Hylton, Nancye Lutz, Anne Verser.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 12, 1948

Letter To Editor

Editor Rotunda—
Dear Editor:

Our students are due more information about Joan of Arc and about Chi than was divulged in the letter from Chi last week. As one of those persons longest associated with the traditions of our college, I am asking for space to pass along some facts and to ask a few pertinent questions. Being more responsible than any one else for the founding of the Rotunda, I feel myself under obligation to try to see that the Rotunda always states the whole truth and keeps its pages open to all sides of questions that concern us.

The statue of Joan of Arc was the gift of the Class of 1914. The person most responsible for the selection of the gift was the class president, Maria Bristow, of Farmville, Now Mrs. Thomas J. Starke, of Richmond, a past president of our alumnae association and one of our most active devoted, and valued graduates. As salutatorian of her class she started the Joan of Arc tradition here at commencement, 1914. She pointed out that the spirit of the students here then was that of Joan of Arc listening to her voices calling her to the service of her people. Later that year her class gave substance to this beautiful thought by presenting the college with the replica of Capu's statue of Joan of Arc in its true and original color.

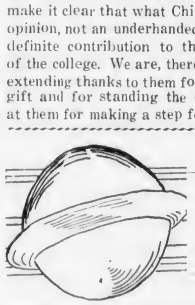
In the original statue centered the affections of the Class of 1914 as in their own child, their own distinctive contribution to the physical beauty and the spiritual ideals of the college. Ever since then this statue has stood in the hearts of our thousands of students, faculty, and alumnae, as a symbol of their love for kindly service, truthfulness, courtesy, and open dealing for which Joan of Arc herself and this college both stood. The original statue was, in a very special way, the property of the whole college—and not of Chi.

What is Chi? Chi is a small secret organization of ten anonymous students, less than two percent of the present student body. They take it upon themselves to spy upon, to intimidate, and anonymously to discipline the morals of their fellow students and otherwise to run the affairs of the college according to their decisions. At times Chi has defied the properly constituted authorities. Operating secretly and anonymously by intimidation, it has opened the way for underhand dealings and has conditioned the minds of some of our students to believe that the methods of the hated Gestapo should be tolerated in a democracy. Ever since Chi came into being it has been the cause of resentment and bitterness among students and faculty. The majority of the faculty and students have always condemned Chi. The low, secretive, anonymous methods of Chi opened the way toward the low, secretive, anonymous defacement of Joan which necessitated having her done over.

Those are the facts. These are the questions which I wish to ask:

1. Were Mrs. Starke and the members of the Class of 1914 consulted when Chi undertook to do over Joan?

2. Would not common courtesy have demanded that Chi consult their wishes and those of the alumnae, students, and faculty at large?



3. Is it conceivable that, had they been consulted, the majority would have been willing to have Chi do the job?

4. As to color, since Joan herself was white, the original of Capu's marble was white, the replica presented by the Class of 1914 was white, the key color of S. T. C. and the Rotunda is white, and the students of S. T. C. are white, would the majority have wanted Joan done over in anything but her original white?

5. As to vandals, will the vandals of the kind who defaced the original Joan respect her any more because she has been done over in brown by Chi? Do vandals draw the color line?

6. Would it not be better for all concerned if Joan were retired into a closet somewhere until she can come out without having to blush for what Chi has done to

(Continued on page 3)

OUR WORLD
By Jacqueline Eagle

We find ourselves at the waiting game again (at press time), biting our nails over the Korean elections as we did over the Italian elections several weeks ago. But we don't hope for anywhere nearly as happy an outcome from South Korea as the Christian Democratic victory in Italy. Russian trained Communist bands have been doing as thorough a job as possible of intimidating voters by means of street fighting and every kind of violence that enters their fiendish minds. They've done everything in their power even to killing two election officials to stop the election of the Korean National Assembly, the first free elections in Korea's history, ordered by the U.N. at that. Naturally the Russians won't permit the elections in their sector of North Korea. However, 75% of the Southern Korean population turned out to vote in spite of the Communist terrorism, which is somewhat consoling.

Let's Go To Longwood!

Longwood Hikes Diverting From Studies; Slimming Also

BY JEAN OTIS LOVING

Now is the time for all girls to grab those jeans, Joe's old shirt, a pair of worn out saddles and the best pal to go for a hike.

Farmville has many interesting places to hike. My favorite place is Longwood. Have you been to the whirlpool? We had oodles of fun last week searching for a haunted house. This trip took us to many varied, but interesting spots that I could never find again.

If you are one of those who get polson ivy by just walking outside the city limits, you could try one of my favorite pastimes. After supper, I like to walk around the blocks and look at the lovely homes. I notice the different houses and their lawns and plan one from all the different designs I like this especially because the whole world is beautiful at that time of day and everything is at its peak of beauty at this time of year.

After sitting in the classroom all day and looking at four walls, being out in the limitless spaces with the fresh air all around is quite a refreshing change from the smoky stale air which usually prevails in my room. And, incidentally, even though I love my room dearly, nine months of living with it have become rather boring and a nice vacation is always a welcome.

At Farmville we are more fortunate than at some schools with which I am acquainted We can get to classes with a minimum amount of walking, while some students walk a great distance to go to each class. Walking should be a pleasure for us.

Have you gotten that Farmville spread? Most of us freshmen haven't lost one bit of it either. Dieting is a good, but unhealthy way to lose it, but why not try walking? Walking is an exercise that will really help those fat, flabby muscles. It also helps you lucky skinny people to get well-proportioned. Doesn't that sound to good to be true? It has truly been proven by reliable people.

You must try taking a hike some time in these next three busy weeks. It is the perfect way to relax and lose some of the tension we all get from thinking about exams.

Alumnae News

All members of the student body, faculty, and administration are invited to attend the Frances Hudgins' Day at the Farmville Baptist Church, Sunday, May 16, at 11 o'clock. It is hoped that many will take advantage of the opportunity to hear one of our outstanding alumnae speak.

Miss Hudgins of Nutbush, Virginia, was graduated from this college in June 1941 with a Bachelor of Arts Degree. She taught for two years in the Virginia schools and then resumed her studies at the Baptist Training School, Louisville, Kentucky. She received her Masters Degree in Religious Education from there in 1945, and then became the Baptist Student Secretary for Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, Virginia, where she is still serving.

Recently Miss Hudgins has been appointed as a missionary under the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board. She is to leave for Canton, China, in August 1948, where she will study the language for two years. She then plans to do work among the college students in that city.

(Continued on page 4)

Bed Check

Bobbie Jean was in her glory this week end when she saw that cute red head, David.

Dingle and Polly seem to take off for Dinwiddie every week end. Seems that Sonny and Gordon are the drawing attractions.

Peggy Hughes has been sporting two lovely orchids for the past few days.—some have it and some don't.

Gris must have spent a real gay week-end at W. & L.-W. & L. is quite the place

Happy anniversary to Troxie. It's been a year today since you ran away.

Mary Jane, how were the R. P. I. dances? From all I hear they must have been "on the bull."

George Ann, Floyd is really the cutest one. Say you get that gleam in your eye everytime he hits the town of Farmville!

Libba, that Kappa Alpha pin is really one beaut. We can't figure out which is luckier, you or William.

The Sigma Chi picnic in Lynchburg must have been "out of this world". Everyone returned with a weary but happy look on their faces.

Continued on Page 4

The Plaque inside the door at Longwood

Letter to Editor

Continued from Page 2

her and to the spirit of S. T. C.?

James M. Grainger

Farmville, May 10.

Dear Editor:

The piano recital given by the college students of Miss Emily Leigh Clark, Saturday night, May 8th, in the College Auditorium, rates, in my opinion, a letter to the Editor of The Rotunda. The performing ability of these students was very capably evidenced by renditions of fine music from J. S. Bach to modern composers. They played not only with technical adequacy but with intelligent understanding of the expressive content of their selections.

But in commenting upon this performance one cannot omit mention of the poise and assurance which each of the student artists displayed during her appearance. Both teachers and students are to be highly complimented for their contribution to the musical life of the College.

An enthusiastic listener.

RESCUE ATTEMPT FATAL

New York—while working in a coal yard, Jack Apollo, 33, saw Timothy Schempp, 13, perched atop a load of coal about to be dumped from a railroad car into the month of a hopper. Apollo scrambled up on the car to warn the boy and, at that instant, the load was released. It disappeared into the pit, carrying the boy and Apollo to their death.

39 Sterling Silver Patterns To Select From. Come in today and select yours

MARTIN'S

All Aluminum Record Carring Case $5.95
Table Record Rack $3.75
Assortment of Empty Album Holders

WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

For satisfying results—Send your clothes to us

Kleanwell Cleaners

VERSER'S

Just Received A Lot Of Samsonite Luggage

VERSER'S

"We Serve To Please"

You've seen these dresses in "Glamour" and "Vogue" Magazines—Now They're Here

"Doris Dobson Juniors"

Exclusive At

THE HUB

Farmville, Va.

Longwood Offers Many Recreations

Many of the S. T. C. students are unaware of the vast source of recreation that they have access to at Longwood. The grounds are not being used to the utmost advantage by most of us. The dell may be used for croquet, softball, and other similar sports. The picnic grounds are spacious with a fireplace for cooking. Our pride and joy is the cabin which may be used at any time that it is asked for. Students may also use the beautiful home for spending week-ends at Longwood. The 18-hole golf course offers an enjoyable evening of recreation for the afternoon.

It was through the efforts of Mrs. J. L. Jarman that Longwood was purchased for S. T. C. in 1928. It was originally a part of "Cherry Grove" tract which belonged to Peter Johnston. One hundred acres of the estate was given by Peter Johnston, Sr., to the Hanover Presbytery in 1774 on which to build Hampden-Sydney College.

Come on, students, let's show our appreciation for Longwood by making more use of it.

FTA

Continued from Page 1

rather than the adoption and enforcement of a code of fixed standards.

Presidents of other student organizations also attended: Billie Mullins Jean Thomasson, and Ruth Tillet were among those present.

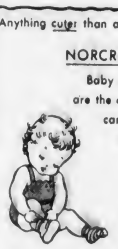
The surface waters of the Atlantic Ocean are saltier than those in corresponding regions of the Pacific, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. Although the reason for this is not yet known, evaporation is probably less in the Pacific because of lower wind velocity, and rainfall is greater than in the Atlantic.

Meet Me At . . . Shannon's for the Finest Food In Town

Shannon's, Inc.

Our Food Is The Best

We Aim To Please YOU



Come in and try a Plate Lunch or Sandwich

COLLEGE SHOP

Anything cuter than a Baby?

NORCROSS

Baby cards are the cutest cards in town

Patterson Drug Co.

Pictured above is the house at Longwood

Solution to Dull Date Found--A Picnic Our Longwood Presents Perfect Site

But of course—everyone likes to go on picnics!—even your week end date—no matter how wonderful and different he may seem. Let's say he's coming next Saturday and Sunday and you've no place to take him—except to the movies, and you're quite sure he isn't the movie lover. So you're worried. One dull date with him and it may be your last! But after careful thought the solution is found.

Saturday afternoon at about four, he arrives. We'll say this character is Bill.

You'll find there are dozens of girls in your same predicament and after a detailed survey of them, you decide upon the ones to approach. Your suggestion of a weiner roast at Longwood is investigated and approved of. It isn't hard to decide upon a menu and to gather enthusiasm when the time rolls around.

But, as I said, Bill arrives, and you take him to his room, let him change into sport clothes and you're off to Longwood.

With jeans on and a fire crackling, conversation is a natural. In fact, if the spirit of the thing is injected properly, you might find yourself involved in a game of London Bridge or Drop the Handkerchief—just for laughs, as some of the local yokels have already discovered).

The evening slips away easily and when the last marshmallow is burnt to perfection, the party breaks up, and you come back happy, having safely avoided a case of poison ivy.

Sunday afternoon is closing in and the same problem is looming before you. What to do?

As an athlete, Bill's quite the golfer and since you had Mr. Graham's course last semester you've developed a little interest in it too. So it's out with the clubs and away to Longwood—ye old faithful play grounds. Naturally, he wins, but a boost in his ego never hurt any man. And you'd be surprised how well the lads that have never indulged in the sport can play the very first time. Being a man's game he loves it—and being a man—you love him. So all are happy, and so art we, because Longwood is being enjoyed to the utmost.

Commendable Recital Reviewed By Critic

Last Saturday night the piano students of the S. T. C. music department gave a very commendable recital before a small but appreciative audience composed mostly of parents and friends of the girls who performed. The recital went off without breaks, affording an unbroken hour of listening pleasure.

The program seemed well chosen and the numbers which were familiar to everyone were interspersed with some which, although less widely known, were easily understandable and enjoyable. The opening number of the program was especially well chosen; its simplicity and gracefulness created just the right atmosphere for the rest of the evening.

Without exception each girl played her numbers with comprehension and competence. Perhaps the only major fault, which all but a few seem to have, was poor pedal-work.

The two concertos, which were played with Miss Clark accompanying at a second piano, were the highlights of the concert. Both afforded good examples for the performers to display no mean amount of virtuosity; however, the average parent probably enjoyed most the simple, well-known numbers of the program.

READ ROTUNDA ADS

DELIVERY SERVICE
Phone Us For Your Sandwiches and Drinks
Up To 10 P. M.

Southside Drug

THE CONVENIENT STORE FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS

G. F. Butcher Co.

Flowers for Every Dance or Special Occasion

Chas. E. Burg
Florist

When you think of flowers
Think of ours
COME TO

Collins Florist

French Editor Comments On U. S. Standardization

Land of milk and fruit juice, of butter and white bread, the United States nevertheless forced upon Charles Sans the constant sensation of hunger during the first four or five weeks of his stay. A highly nutritious diet of such edibles as eggs, bacon and butter gave him an upset stomach and did not replace the heavy volume of brown bread, potatoes and cabbage with which a Frenchman must fill his stomach these days.

Sans describes in detail the menu for a dinner given in Richmond by the Democratic Party. He notes that Americans drink milk and coffee and occasionally tea; wine practically never. The American wine industry produces "some rather good white wines, all of which are called 'sauternes', some acceptable red wine, and some abominable champagne at $5 a bottle."

The EAT shops give him the impression of alimentary service stations. American food, he finds, is all of a good quality and healthful but standardized. Everywhere there are the same restaurants with the same steaks served by the same waitresses wearing the same uniforms and having the same pretty legs. This sameness is true of the movies, drug stores, streets, homes, magazines, editorials and people who read Walter Winchell. But the impression is not without its attraction for a Frenchman whose daily life is torn by discord and disunity.

Sans reports also life in the United States as found by French girls who married Americans. All like the ease of American existence but conversation with a husband who speaks of nothing but baseball and the movies is apt to become monotonous. A young bride in Detroit longed to take a bicycle ride to a little old village where a church with steeple and ducks in a pond could be found. A French wife in Lexington, Virginia, liked the American women who had become her friends but complained that they would never let her be by herself to read and to think; they reproached her for taking a long walk by herself.

Segregation is only an aspect of the Negro problem, the French visitor discovered. Most Americans, including Southerners, sincerely deplore the Ku Klux Klan, the lynchings, the political demagogues who promote racial enmity. In the South where segregation is practiced Sans found more affection for the Negro than in the North. In cities such as Chicago and Detroit, even though there is no segregation, there is more actual conflict. He talked with an old Negro doctor who believed that there was no solution to the problem, "They just don't like us." What is one to do?"

Publicity will sell anything a young Franco-American told Sans. Sans believes it, feeling also that at times it is carried to regrettable extremes. While in Virginia he was taken to visit Natural Bridge and found, after paying twenty cents, that the natural curiosity was located in a maelstrom of records, projectors, commentaries and songs "which transformed the vast forest where the bridge is located into a large and noisy music-hall scene." When leaving he asked his American companion if it wouldn't be possible to do away with all of the seemingly unnecessary accessories. "Perhaps then," came the answer, "there would be nothing more to see."

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS

Deaths of workers rose from 16,500 in 1946 to 17,000 in 1947, according to the Department of Labor, which also reported that 2,059,000 workers were disabled by injuries. The economic time-loss charged to accidents and deaths was estimated at 233,700,000 man-days—the equivalent of full-time annual employment form 780,000 workers. At a $1 an hour wage rate, this loss would be $1,869,600,000.

The first paper mill in colonial America was built in 1690 at Germantown, Pennsylvania, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, resulting from the combination of the needs of a Philadelphia printer, William Bradford and the arrival of an ambitious German papermaker, William Rittenhouse.

Meet the Faculty

Miss Helen Draper

Miss Helen Draper, S. T. C.,'s go-getting Professor of Modern Languages, comes, logically enough, from the vicinity of "Draper's Valley" in southwest Virginia, near Wytheville.

Though Miss Draper spent most of her childhood in southwest Virginia, she was a resident of Charlottesville when she first matriculated at S. T. C. At present Farmville is the place she calls home.

After taking her B.S. from this school, Miss Draper attended Middlebury College where she received her M.A. Columbia University, the Sorbonne in Paris, and the University of Mexico City are other schools which have attracted Miss Draper as a graduate student.

Only twice has Miss Draper forsaken her alma mater to teach elsewhere. Once she accepted a position as principal of a junior high school in Berlin, Connecticut, with an eye to squeezing in some courses at a nearby university. But to her dismay, she found that her duties as principal and teacher forced her to spend all her spare time recuperating, not to even give a thought to doing grad study. She has also done summer teaching at Roanoke College in Salem, Virginia, and here at S.T.C., and in the summer of '47 she was on the faculty of an American school in Caracas, Venezuela.

Though Miss Draper's B.A. was in English, she found herself more and more fascinated by the French language with Spanish running second. One definitely should not miss any available opportunity to corner Miss Draper and make her describe her European and South American visits. Her stories of the picturesque countryside and architecture of France and Mexico and the "eternal spring" of Caracas are entraneing.

Asked to compare her study in France with study in United States Miss Draper emphasized that like anyone who studies in France, she had to work much harder than do students in the United States. French written and oral exams are considerably stiffer than ours, she said.

Some of Miss Draper's subsidiary interests are reading biography, philosophy, history, or mysteries. she also likes to indulge in sewing, and like any good Farmville graduate, she loves a game of bridge. It's common knowledge that Miss Draper has an abiding passion for travel, and is ever ready to take off for some distant port whenever she gets the chance.

Here at school Miss Draper is adviser to Alpha Phi Sigma and, of course, The French Circle. She's also president of the Virginia Association of Teachers of French, and a member of Kappa Delta Pi honorary education fraternity, the Modern Language Association of Virginia, the A. A. U. P. and the A. A. U. W.

Reprinted from the June, 1948 issue of ESQUIRE Copyright 1948 by Esquire, Inc.

Pictured above is a suggestion offered to all who wish a mate in June, '48.

The NEW LOOK

By TONI ALLEN

Phyllis Asher, who will become the bride of Hugh Guthrie on November 20, has chosen a gardenia satin gown with an off shoulder effect and long tight sleeves ending in points over the hands. The dress has a tight bodice and a wide full skirt ending in a circular train. Phyllis will wear a fingertip veil of illusion and carry a white orchid on a prayer book.

The bridesmaids, Catherine Snell, Margaret Beasley, and Judy Hughes, will wear pale pink and pale blue taffeta dresses, and will carry mixed fall flowers.

The marriage will take place in the Falling River Baptist Church, Brookneal, Virginia.

* * * *

Ann Nock has chosen a white organdy made with a fitted bodice, Chinese neckline, and leg-of-mutton sleeves. Her full ruffled skirt ends in a ruffled bustle and train. Her full length veil of imported illusion falls from a rose petal cap with petals stitched to the tulle to fashion a flowery crown. She will carry a white orchid on a white satin prayer book, showered with lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids will wear dresses of pale lavendar, lime green, and shocking pink, fashioned with leg of mutton sleeves and full skirts with tiers of ruffles. The bridesmaids are Margaret Wall, Jane Taylor, Jennie Sue Webb, Nancy Lee Maddox, Peggy White, Shirley Young, Betty Ferguson, Molly Hudson, Helen Haidin, Harriet Ratchford, Elizabeth Ann Bragg, and Barbara Sours. The matron of honor, Mrs. Clara Ann Ashby Gibb, will wear jonquil yellow, and Annette Jones, the maid of honor, will wear robin's egg blue. The attendants are carrying ruffled organdy parasols which match their dresses, and old fashioned nosegays of spring flowers.

The wedding will take place in June in the garden of the St. Georges Episcopal Parrish, Pungoteague, Virginia.

(Ed. Note. Your columnist has failed to mention that she is still looking for news of prospective brides, and that Ann Nock is still looking for a prospective groom!)

* * * *

The wedding of Estaline Hope Anderson and Emmett Lawrence McCraw will take place this summer in the home of the bride in Andersonville, Virginia. She has chosen a gown of gardenia satin with a sweetheart neckline trimmed with seed pearls, a tight bodice and a full skirt ending in a wide circular train. The long tight sleeves end in points over the hands. Her fingertip veil of illusion falls from a crown of seed pearls.

Claudia Anderson, sister of the bride and only attendant, will wear an orchid taffeta dress, fashioned similar to that of the bride. She will carry mixed summer flowers, and will wear a matching bandeau of flowers in her hair.

Estaline will carry a white orchid on a satin prayerbook.

* * * *

Peggy Cabaniss, whose marriage to Earl Andrews will take place on July 24 in the Farmville Methodist Church, has chosen a gardenia satin gown. A bertha, trimmed with seed pearls, gives the gown an off shoulder effect. The long tight sleeves end in points over the hands, and the full length veil of heirloom lace falls from a lace cap. Peggy will carry a white orchid on a white bible.

Sally Ann Dunnington, bridesmaid, and "Peepsie" Brooks, maid of honor, well wear Jonquil yellow marquiste, and will carry nosegays of mixed flowers.

Oratorio

Continued from Page 1

The mixed chorus attired in black and white, presented a suitable background for the artists, and the singing of the group displayed both native talent in the individual members and fine training of the group as a whole. For an inexperienced group to have worked such a short time on so difficult a composition and to have achieved such success is quite a remarkable feat.

An identical presentation was made at Hampden-Sydney on last Friday night, where a larger and more gracious audience heard an even greater rendition of the famous oratorio.

Bed Check

Continued from Page 3

"Temp", we hear that Woody went to see his brother in the fair city last week end. What do you know about that?

Kenbridge welcomed Margaret P. Bagley, "Ginty" and Nock this weekend. "Ginty" and Phil tell us about "Lonely".

Robbie and "Gat" are voted as the cutest couple around campus these days.

June, make up your mind. Is it Chuck or Bill?

Rumors are flying that wedding bells will soon ring for David and "Hank".

Veterans with high school education can pick an Air Force school before enlisting and be sure of attending it.

★ SENIOR SPOTLIGHT ★

HILDA ABERNATHY

CHARLOTTE GRIZZARD

It seems that The Virginian is the whole life of this industrious senior but when we observe the part he takes in other school activities, we find the same enthusiasm and zest that she exerts as business manager of the college yearbook. For example, she has headed Pi Gamma Mu through a successful year, is a member of the Choir, Beorc Eh Thorn Cotillion Club and Kappa Delta Pi.

As a result of her earnest participation and leadership in the activities of all these organizations and her excellent school spirit, Hilda was tapped for membership in Alpha Kappa Gamma this year.

Hilda loves excitement, but not the kind her roommate and suitemates dream up—eh, Hilda? We envy you for those weekly and sometime semi-weekly visits home —and the way Cunningham 128 looks like a florist shop after you have returned.

A member of Theta Sigma Upsilon sorority and continuously busy and on the go, we shall remember Hilda for the many things she has done, her conscientious effort in all undertakings and her true Farmville spirit.

Small, with an amazing amount of ability is our own Charlotte Grizzard. With her combination of beauty, brains and quiet leadership, Charlotte was destined to become one of the outstanding members of the senior class. Her two years on May Court is proof of her beauty. One has but to glance over past Dean's lists to verify the statement about the brains. As proof of her leadership we can take time out to list her membership in Alpha Kappa Gamma, her presidency of Kappa Delta Pi, her vice presidency of the YWCA, Cotillion Club, Home Ec Club, and Phi Zeta Sigma.

Being a Home Economics major, her chief interests are centered around the domestic things of life. They tell me she is a grand cook Could there be a method in her madness?

Dividing her time between the high school and the practice house has kept her busy this year. She adults it was worth it when she thinks about that job in Petersburg next year. We're not worried Charlotte, nor need you be, for we know you can do it.

Gallop Pole

What do you think of the snack-bar to be installed in the "Rec"?

Patsy Blair: I think it's a grand idea.

Eleanor Winthrop: It's just wonderful!

Mary Jane Kelley: Henry will love it!

Millie McWilliams: I'm just sorry it wasn't here before.

Max Acree: I think it's a fine thing.

Carolyn Calhoun: Competition for the Freshmen Commission.

Charlotte Newell: I think it's swell—especially for the Freshmen.

Millie O. Spain: I think it's a good idea but I wonder how it will fit in with the family budget.

Grls Boxley: Just what we needed. Now maybe "they" will stay longer.

Betsy Higginbotham: Exactly what we've always needed.

Jill Pifer: It is just marvelous!

Frances Minter: A really splendid idea and a good start for the many things needed in the "Rec".

Link Stink

Would-be Golfer to Caddie. If you laugh at me again, I'll knock your head off.

Caddie: Haw! Haw! You wouldn't know what club to use.

—Exchange.

Alumnae News

Continued from Page 2

Rev. Benjamin Bruner, pastor of the local Baptist Church, extends a cordial welcome to all to share in making the Frances Hudgins' Day one of great significance.

* * *

Miss Flora Belle Williams, Assistant Principal of Appomattox High School, and a former graduate of S. T. C., has recently been elected as Trustee of the Art Alliance of Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, Richmond, Virginia.

Dr. Turner

Continued from Page 1

seniors are invited and urged to attend.

Dr. Walmsley led the discussion of Intervarsity last night on the 15th chapter of St. John.

Library
State Teachers College
Farmville, Virginia

Name The
Snack Bar

The Rotunda

Good Luck
On Exams

VOLUME XXVII FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MAY 19, 1948 No. 28

Brooks, Ritchie Will Speak At Assembly Tomorrow

A. A. Will Present Blazers, Color Cup

Senior Chapel will be Thursday, May 20, at the regular assembly time. Mr. Roberts will lead the devotions.

The Athletic Association will present their various awards for the year. Jane Burchett, a senior and former president of the A. A., will award the blazer awards. Jessie Lee Pickett, a junior and president of the A. A. for next year, will award the color cup to either "Red and White" or "Green and White."

Louise Brooks, president of the 1948 senior class, will deliver a farewell speech and Violet Ritchie, president of the 1949 senior class, will give a response.

The seniors will stand and sing their farewell songs to the college. They will then march out to the music of "Red and White" and form an arch with their caps. The junior class lead by their class officers and dressed in white will then march under the arch to the music of the Alma Mater. The juniors will at this time become full fledged seniors.

This will be the last assembly program of the year.

LOUISE BROOKS

Mr. McCorkle Posts Notice To Seniors

Urges Cooperation On Time Schedule

A bulletin containing graduation week instructions for seniors has been posted at various points in the college by Mr. T. A. McCorkle, faculty member in charge of commencement.

On Tuesday, May 26, from 2 to 4 p.m. seniors are instructed to report to the Physics Lab in the Science Hall for hoods, guest tickets for graduation, etc. On Friday, May 28 at 2 p.m. they are to go to the auditorium for graduation rehearsal, bringing their caps and gowns. The Saturday schedule is thus: 9:45 a.m.—report to the hall of Student Building with caps and gowns for the official rehearsal; 3:40 p.m.—report to the colonnade in caps and gowns for Senior Class Day exercise; 10:15 p.m.—Report to the hall of Student Building wearing caps and gowns and accompanied by little sisters.

At 7:45 p.m., Sunday, May 30, seniors in caps and gowns will form on the colonnade prior to the Baccalaureate service which starts at 8 p.m. On Monday, commencement day, at 10:10 a.m., seniors dressed in caps, gowns, and hoods will report to the hall of Student Building. The line will move at 10:25.

At the bottom of the bulletin appears the following note: "If you read this far, please read this note. I am at your service to make your commencement attractive, to you and to your guests and also to uphold the college standard. Let me have your cooperation. Be prompt at every appointment. Have pride in how you look. Wash that collar if it needs it.

Sincerely, T. A. McCorkle."

Cotillion Members Elect New Officers

Evelyn Patterson, junior from Kenbridge, was elected president of the Cotillion Club at the May meeting of the organization. She will succeed Virginia Yonce, Shipman.

Anne Ford, junior from Lynchburg, was elected secretary-treasurer to succeed Mary Lou Bagley Pickhardt, Virginia Beach. Betty Jefferson, junior from Danville, was elected business manager succeeding Sue Davis. The new figure leader will be Ruth-ellen Mears, junior from Cape Charles.

The Cotillion Club is an organization with a membership of 250 students whose primary aim is the promotion of good dancing. The club sponsors two major dances a year, one in the fall and one in the spring.

The club re-elected Mr. Boyd Coyner, professor of education, as advisor for the coming year.

Imminent Vacation Affords Opportunity To Expand Interests

Eight more days, seven more days, six more . . . The calendar is taking a hard beating these last few days and excitement is stirred in with worry over exams as summer vacation approaches. There'll be late hours and worn-out pencils, but with the expectations of the week following, there'll be only good feeling for all. And when that last "pledge" is signed and the suitcase has been re-opened and closed for the last forgotten article, all the worry and sleepless nights will catch up on you and tiredness will be the only remaining sensation.

Summer time! The mere words send chills through the average college student. Dates, swimming, the beach, iced tea—for many they are the important things. And does it sound like waste? No—that is doubtful. After nine months of study and regular hours, perhaps a summer of fun and rest is necessary to do better work in the fall.

For many, vacation means work, or summer school, or camp. But going out on one's own is important. Earning your own money improves the business-like attitudes and prepares you for your future life.

But no matter how you spend your time, there is one thing to be remembered. Try to learn one new thing well. There's a lot of time to be wasted but wedged in there somewhere, you can find

Continued on page 2

Rattray Announces Preview, Editors Of May Colonnade

Magazine Features Senior Dedication

Ting Rattray, new editor of the Colonnade, the college magazine, has released a preview of the forthcoming issue of the magazine which is slated to appear around the last of May.

Featured in this last issue which is traditionally dedicated to the seniors is a parting message to the senior class from Miss Dabney, senior classman. This takes the form of an interview by Anne Langbein. There will be, in addition, a goodbye message to the seniors entitled "Now Is The Hour" by Margaret Dillon. Also in the essay department is an article on S. T. C. May Days by Jacqueline Eagle.

Short stories appearing in this issue are Lou Shelor's "The Honeymoon Is Over," "Joe" by Mary Leigh Meredith, and "Fateful Obsession" by Janice Slavin.

Barbara Andrews' poem which took third prize in this year's poetry contest will be printed, together with two poems by Betty Spindler.

Under the head of reviews will appear two book reviews by Dalila Agostini and two movie reviews by Janice Slavin.

Caricatures of outstanding personalities in the senior class are being done by Euia Ayres and her art staff. The humor page, "Just For Laughs" is under the supervision of Love Bentley.

Ting Rattray, editor of the Colonnade, has as her managing editor, Anne Langbein, and business manager, Betty Jefferson.

New poetry editor, essay editor, and short story editor, are respectively, Barbara Andrews, Margaret Dillon, and Jacky Eagle. Book review editor and movie review editor are Dalila Agostini and Janice Slavin.

Eula Ayres, art editor, will be assisted by Helen Arrington, Pat Paddison, and Jean Turner. Humor editor is Love Bentley. Members of the new board of contributors are Betty Spindler, Lila Easley, Lois K. Callahan Martha Smith, Mary Leigh Meredith, and Lou Alyce Shelor.

Martha Hatcher, Jett Carter, Mildred Evans, and Helen Estes will all serve as business assistants.

Faculty advisers to the Colonnade are Mr. J. M. Grainger, Miss Lucile Jennings, Mr. M. B. Coyner, Dr. Francis B. Simkins, Mrs. Janice Lemen, Miss Ottie Craddock, and Miss Carrie Talliafero.

Notice

The last issue of the Rotunda will come out May 31. If you are planning to leave school before then and wish your copy mailed to you, leave a self addressed stamped envelope with Jean Craig, circulation manager of the Rotunda. Your copy will then be mailed to you.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

May 25, 26, 27 and 28

Day and Hour of Examination	Class Hour
1st Day— 8:05-10:05	Classes meeting 10:15 MWF
1st Day—10:15-12:15	Classes meeting 11:15 MWF
2nd Day— 8:05-10:05	Classes meeting 8.05 TTS
2nd Day—10:15-12:15	Classes meeting 9:05 TTS
2nd Day— 1:45- 3:45	Classes meeting 2:45 TT or MWF
3rd Day— 8:05-10:05	Classes meeting 10:15 TTS
3rd Day—10:15-12:15	Classes meeting 1:45 MWF
3rd Day— 1:45- 3:45	Classes meeting 1:45 TT
4th Day— 8:05-10:05	Classes meeting 8:05 MWF
4th Day—10:15-12:15	Classes meeting 9:05 MWF

Madrigals Present Final S.T.C. Hour Tomorrow At 4:30

Program Concludes First Year On Air

Tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 the Madrigal singers will sing over station WFLO. This will be the last S.T.C. radio program of the year.

The group, under the direction of June Cregar, will sing: In These Delightful Pleasant Groves by Purcell; Pavane by Delibes; Though Philomela Lost Her Love by Thomas Morley, and Crystal Night by Gibbs. Jean Watts will be featured in two solos.

The announcer will be Virginia Tindall, former choir president.

Members of the Madrigal group are Jean Hogge (incoming president), June Cregar, Jean Watts, Jackie Watson, Virginia Tindall, Joanne Sterling, Barbara Sours, Mary Frances Hundley, Janie Fox, Eleanor Bass, Hilda Abernathy, and Nancy Rushing.

With this, its thirtieth program, S.T.C. concludes its first year of broadcasting, begun last October, and presented every week of the school year except during the Christmas holidays. The weekly half-hour program has scheduled what Miss Wheeler, professor of speech and faculty chairman of the Radio Committee, describes as a "well rounded series of programs." Various college organizations and departments of the college have had charge of the program from week to week. The series has included quiz battles between S.T.C. and Hampden-Sydney, and between S.T.C. girls and ex-G.I.'s; student variety programs; talks by Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of S.T.C., Dean William W. Savage, and speakers visiting the college; an unrehearsed biology seminar, composed of both students and faculty, previews of the play productions of S.T.C. and H.-S.C., and an "art tour" of an exhibit in the college library conducted by Mrs. Janice S. Lemen of the college art department and Dr. M. Beverley Ruffin, college librarian.

Among the programs given by the college music department, were several programs by the college choral groups, recitals by voice and piano students, and by Mr. Raiph Wakefield, assistant

Continued on Page 3

Scholarships Available To Future Va. Teachers

DR. LANCASTER

Aid Will Be Given To Upperclassmen

State scholarships in the amount of three hundred dollars per academic year are now available to qualified sophomores, juniors, and seniors who are preparing to teach in the public elementary schools and in certain fields in the public high schools of Virginia. The scholarship plan is a continuation and expansion of the one already in force in the state. It was liberalized by the General Assembly this year.

Under the new regulations, students preparing to teach in elementary schools and those preparing to teach in the fields of natural science, physical and health education, mathematics, foreign languages, industrial arts, music, art, business education, agriculture, home economics, trade and industrial education, library science, and distributive education in high schools are eligible to apply for the scholarships. Each student to whom one is awarded will receive three hundred dollars for each year that it is granted. This means that a student who receives one during his sophomore, junior, and senior years will be awarded a total of nine hundred dollars. For each year that he receives the scholarship, the student must agree to teach in the public schools of Virginia for a period of two years. By teaching, the student cancels the award at the rate of one hundred and fifty dollars, plus interest, per year. Any amount not canceled by teaching must be repaid, with interest, within two years after the teaching experience unless the State Board of Education agrees to extend the period of repayment because of extenuating circumstances.

The specific regulations of the State Board of Education regarding these scholarships as they apply to students now in college include the following:

1. Candidates for the scholarships must be residents of Virginia who "possess scholastic ability and personal characteristics desirable for effective teaching."

2. Candidates must be classified as sophomores, juniors, or seniors in state or private colleges in Virginia approved under the scholarship plan. (State Teachers College is fully approved.)

3. Candidates must "agree to prepare for teaching in the elementary schools of Virginia, or to prepare for teaching in the high schools of the state in any of the subject matter fields in which the State Board of Education has indicated that a shortage of qualified teachers exists." (These fields, for the next session, are enumerated above.)

4. Candidates must "agree to sign and execute note to the Commonwealth of Virginia, endorsed by responsible adults, for the amount of scholarship aid received which obligations shall be canceled at the rate of one

Continued on Page 3

Lancaster Attends Meeting Of Board

President To Speak At 5 Graduations

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster attended a meeting of the Board of Directors of Sweet Briar College, at Sweet Briar on May 17 and 18. Formerly Dr. Lancaster was the executive secretary of this group.

Dr. Lancaster will deliver the graduating address before the graduating classes of five of the high schools in this vicinity. Included on his schedule of graduating addresses are Dinwiddie high school in Dinwiddie, June 7 Gretna high school in Gretna June 8, Halifax high school in Halifax, June 9, Appomattox high school in Appomattox, June 10, and Woodrow Wilson high school in Portsmouth, June 15.

The 1948 VIRGINIAN is expected to arrive tomorrow, said Nancy Chambers, editor-in-chief. All who have not completed payments for their yearbook must do so before obtaining their copies.

Students Enjoy Horror Week As Theme Deadlines Near

by Janice Slavin

This is THE week—term papers, last minute attempts to finish a textbook, tests and more tests! Procrastination on everyone's part is the key word around here. Yep, we have all put off that much dreaded studying until the last moment again. Next week we go home, but think what we have to go through during the next two weeks—nothing like going home, beat! No wonder our parents think college is working us too hard. We look like walking death by the time we arrive on the home threshold! Ah, summer, the time to rest! (laugh here!) . . . dates, picnics, hayrides, beach parties, wiener roasts, etc.

Let's look in a typical S.T.C.er on Monday morning of this week. The night before she came back to school at the "eleventh hour" (coined from one of the professors) after a big week-end. She spent that night selling dear sleepy roomate all the details. Finally at 2 or 3 a.m., she dozed off to sleep only to be awakened with a jolt at 7 a.m. by the dreaded ("I'm going to throw that thing out the window") alarm clock. She dragged to breakfast looking like the last rose of last summer and feeling worse. The aroma of scrambled eggs (definitely not her favorite dish) met her as she entered the door. This put our S.T.C.er in a vile humor. Biting her associates heads' off during the meal made things very pleasant.

Her 8:05 class was the next thing to be tackled. She managed to arrive at 8:20 without her assignment. Sleeping in class is very nice if the S.T.C.er becomes furious because he has the audacity to awake her at that time of day.

Our crawling wonder creeped to her next class which was none the better. Finally a free period arrived. Thinking of all the test and papers our typical S.T.C.er had to write, she dashed madly to the ten room for a long chat with some friends over a coke. "Ah, if only I had my assignment done for my 11:15 class!" she groaned.

At 11:15 our S.T.C.er is full of life and awake for the first time that morning.

At last the A.M. has passed. It is quite dubious as yet whether or not our S.T.C.er will get anything accomplished at all. In the afternoon she dashed down town to a movie. After supper extra curricular activities were pursued until 10:30. Ah, one-half hour to do six weeks work in—isn't life gay, tra la!

"Lights out," screamed the hall president. Our S.T.C.er fell exhausted on the bed—nothing done.

"Oh well, they tell me life is too short to be bothered with the more complicated things," he mumbled sleepily to herself

All Library Books Due Back On May 20

All Library books are due back in the Library on or before May 20, it has been announced by Dr. Ruffin college librarian. Special permission will be given to those who wish to check out books overnight for study during exams. For such permission enquire at the desk.

An exhibit pertaining to current affairs and problems has been set up in the newspaper room of the library. Highlights of the news of the week are illustrated on a large map, and such periodicals as Newsweek and Current Affairs are there for student use. Among the world problems featured this week are Communism and the Palestine issue.

An Opportunity Knocks

The Commonwealth of Virginia through an act of the General Assembly has made another step forward in popularizing the teaching profession in the state. By making 500 generous scholarships available to worthy students it hopes to aid all those who "possess scholastic ability and personal characteristics desirable for effective teaching" in fitting themselves for the profession.

The range of fields in which a student may be preparing under the scholarship plan covers all the elementary courses and almost all phases of high school work. It makes it possible for anyone now in college to continue study here, and after graduation to cancel the financial obligation by teaching in the public school system for two years for every year the scholarship was granted. Such an opportunity should not be overlooked.

There are at present two forms of student aid on the campus: the student work program and loan funds. There are at present 23 loan funds listed in the College catalogue, but none of them are for the full amount of the college session and many are limited to such people as a "lineal descendant of a Confederate soldier", "deserving seniors" a "Prince Edward county girl", and "Juniors and Seniors who are daughters of Masons." These may be obtained from the college or trusties of the fund, still the State scholarship is a great addition to the aid available.

It was stated in the article that some freshmen will be qualified for the scholarship, and that it is open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors on the recommendation of Dr. Lancaster and subject to the approval of Governor Tuck.

This new scholarship is something which we should look into and take advantage of. These are "hard times" in the field of education for want of good teachers. The state has taken careful consideration of one of the most important professions open to young men and women and has seen fit to make it available to more people. It is a knock of opportunity at our door, let us not overlook it.

New System – New Manners

The improved dining room procedure of asking the blessing and making announcements was suggested my the junior class through Violet Ritchie, its president. The new system of first being seated and then asking the blessing not only saves the time usually wasted in waiting for everyone to stand and then be seated, but it also eliminates the noise of eight hundred chairs being slipped into place following the blessing.

Announcements are now made during lunch instead of after the meal; thus they can be understood more clearly as there are no impatient undertones to compete with the loud-speaker.

At dinner the announcements are made after the serving of the main course and before dessert. Besides saving time, this routine creates a more relaxed atmosphere in the dining room and lends it an air of graciousness.

Now that the system as a whole has been improved, let's make a survey of our individual eating procedures and improve our table manners. It is easy to become lax and thoughtless concerning our manners at the table when we are eating in the midst of so many people, but now that we have attained a degree of refinement in our dining room system, let's practice the good manners that go with it.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

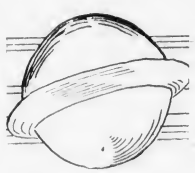
Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler — Editor in Chief
Elsie Love Bentley — Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain — Business Manager

Jacqueline Eagle — Chief Editorial Assistant
Mary Leigh Meredith — News Editor
Adelaide Coble — Feature Editor
Winifred Beard — Sports Editor
Toni Allen — Social Editor
Mildred Garnett — Advertising Manager
Jean Craig — Circulation Manager
Mary Lou Wilson — Typing Manager



Editorial Assistants

Mary Helmer, Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Martha Smith, Lee Robinson, Bobbie Wall, Joyce Hamlet, Connie Heather, Patsy Graveley, Martha Frances Morrison, Helen Arrington, Addie Dodd, Jane Grey, Jane Hunt Glusehn, Augusta Hargan, Nancy Jesse, Ann Lynch, Gladys Monk, Lou Sitelor, Gwen Smith Carol Stoops, Betty Nachman, Lela Bouldin, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters Sparkie Poteat Barbara Saunders, Virginia Bailey.

Business Assistants

Peggy Harp, Virginia Howard, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burris, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancye Lay, Anne Verser.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 19, 1948

OUR WORLD

By Jacqueline Eagle

For this, our last issue before exams, we're going to dispense with the news prattle and get down to some brass tacks about really getting to know "our world."

We all know that things are to the point now where we must know and understand our every last neighbor around the globe or we'll all be bumped off in the way that is sure to result from ignorance and misunderstanding.

Granted then that we must choose between becoming citizens of the world or citizens of the past. The time is now here when we must emerge from our complacent, self-centered little shells and start about shaping that "great big neighborly world" that the sophomores sang about in their production. This summer is made to order for forming the habit of reading the papers and finding out what's happening to people like us in the other six continents.

To know our world we should be able to speak its language. If we can't take courses in foreign languages, we can at least read the great literature of other countries in translation. Not only can we get an insight on why other nations act as they do by studying their histories and cultural backgrounds, but we have a golden opportunity to get the foreign point of view by making friends of foreign students who are studying in the U. S. Listed here are a few of the bypaths of the road to becoming a true citizen of the world. Let's start down these paths and disprove the dire predictions of those who believe that war is inevitable.

Letter To Editor

May 17, 1948

Editor ROTUNDA
S. T. C.

Dear Editor:

Thank you for publishing my long letter last week in regard to the statue of Joan of Arc and other matters. The answering editorial was so obviously "inspired" that it requires no reply. And I have had my say.

Permit me to add, however, that if you can get more people to write frankly and fearlessly for the ROTUNDA what they really think and feel about some things around here, the paper will be read with greater interest and will do a really important and needed service for the College.

Sincerely,
James M. Grainger

Dear Editor:

I hope that it will be possible for you to publish the following words of appreciation for me:

I trust that these lines may express my gratitude to those of you who through kind words, flowers, cards, and many other expressions of sympathy were with me in my moments of deep sorrow for the passing away of my dear father.

Thank you for publishing this.
Dalila Agostini.

May 15, 1948

Editor Rotunda,

Dear Editor:

In retrospect to Mr. Grainger's letter to editor in last week's Rotunda, it seems to me as if he took unfair advantage of the fact that he was responsible for the founding of the Rotunda, etc., to express his dislike for Chi. It has been a known fact that he and a few others have been opposed to the organization for some time. I believe I am correct in stating that his is a personal prejudice and not one that would justify publication and certainly not such a publication of untrue statements.

First of all, he referred to the statue as the original. I don't know just how he meant original, but I do know that a replica of this statue also stands in one of the corridors of the Martha Washington Inn in Abingdon, Virginia. He said that this statue stood in the hearts of many as a symbol of love, etc. I believe that the spirit of Joan of Arc herself has served and will serve as this symbol more than any statue, particularly this one which, in its present state, was an eyesore in the Main Building of Farmville. Certainly, if the Class of 1914 thought as much of Farmville as he says, then they would not begrudge anyone's efforts, even Chi's, to beautify the school.

Since it was impossible to refinish the old statue I think it would be better for all concerned if it were retired into a closet rather than the new statue which is an improvement in the Rotunda. This would eliminate blushing on the part of the entire student body with the exception of Chi, making 2 per cent instead of 100 per cent.

He said that the majority of the faculty and students have always condemned Chi. I believe he and a few other members of the faculty (I say few because had it been more than a few Chi would have been ousted long ago Surely Farmville is that democratic even with the presence of Chi.) were quite surprised last year when Dr. Lancaster, our new president at the time, offered his approval and cooperation to Chi and its purpose which has been publicized many times. As for defying the authorities of the school, Chi has never done anything at Farmville without first securing permission from the proper authorities. Perhaps he misused or misunderstood the words "properly constituted authorities."

He said its methods were low, secretive, and anonymous. Could it be that this opposition arises because Chi does not make a public display of its every move or because they don't have public meetings, installations, etc., in the auditorium as other organizations do? He also said that these low, secretive methods opened the way toward the low defacement of Joan. This, to me, is an insult and perhaps one of the lowest and untrue things which could have been said. To me, it seems he is indirectly accusing the

Continued on Page 4

The Night Before!

Gallop Pole

What are you most looking forward to during the summer?

Sarah Squires: I'm not quite sure.

Jill Pifer: Loafing.

Harriette Sutherlin: Seeing Dick when I go to the beach.

Sue Davis: Anything but abiding by school rules.

Jeanne White: You'd be surprised!

Martha Berry: Losing weight and having a good time.

Mrs. McCoy: Going home and just resting—camping some.

Paulett Pifer: Nothing. I'm going to summer school.

Frankie Dodson: Va. Beach, of course!

Mary Miller: Keith's visits to D. C.

Virginia Spencer: Just plain sleepin'!

Laura Lane: Scotty!! No doubt.

Barbara Sours: Working in the Dan River Cotton Mill.

Louise Redd: Going to Hollywood.

Norma Roady: Freedom and Food!!

Patsy Ritter: Night Riding!

Mary Lou Woodward: Just what I want to do.

Jane Brimmer: The week ends between Tech's Summer School.

Lou Shelor: Not having to punch the clock when you come home at night.

May Elder: Food, fun, and "fellowship" at Craig.

Dot Winton: I'm not! As I will be in Farmville.

Becky Yonan: Just being home and going to Va. Beach.

Nancy Bruce: Seeing Bob.

Nancy Lee Maddox: Stay at Va. Beach some and have a big time!!

Peggy White: The beach 'ill do.

Shirley Young: Hit the beach first.!!

Editor's Note

Last week, the Rotunda, on behalf of the Alumnae Association, requested that the students give a name to the canteen which is to be installed in the "Rec". No response was given. Once more we make our request—this time in form of contest. The rules are as follows:

1) You may submit as many entries as you wish.

2) Submit all entries to Mrs. Coyner in the Alumnae Office.

3) Be sure your name and address is on all suggestions for the snack bar name.

The committee reserves the right to keep the name "Snack Bar" if no entry is judged better.

The winner will be awarded the first chocolate nut sundae made at the fountain by the Rotunda.

Do you save your Rotundas for your scrapbook? Do you lack any issue? There are a few extra issues in the files. If you want one which you do not have, see the editor right away before the files are cleared. You may obtain any you need for a nominal cost.

Alumnae News

The Farmville branch of the Alumnae Association will hold a Garden Party in honor of the Senior Class. The party will be held on the lawn of Cunningham Hall from 4:30 to 5:30 on Thursday, May 20. All members of the faculty and administration have been invited as well as the members of the graduation class.

Bed Check

Peggy White, which finals is it gonna' be? Carolina or Hampden-Sydney?

Nock, Barbara Sours, "B," and Nancy Lee seemed to be pretty excited about their dates Tuesday night? None of them could decide which one was the cutest.

June Banks and Dick have been seen together right much lately? June tell us about tall, dark, and handsome!

Eleanor Withrow and Marjorie Boswick really had a big time on a picnic Sunday! How about it, you two!

Cab Overby really beams when anyone mentions the name "Puddin'." Is he as cute as all that?

Peggy West, tell us more about that cute Bryon. Have you been keeping something from us?

Jane Burchett seems to spend a good deal of her time with "Puggi" Adkins—Now Jane, tell us how you do it?

Kitty, all we want to know is! How is "Bug eyes"?

Sounds nice about this Annapolis deal, Nancy Lee!

Martha Hatchett had quite a big time at the Chi Phi Dance Saturday night. Guess her date accounted for that!

Shirley Young, what made you turn down that date for Chapel Hill Finals? Have you been asked to Hampden-Sydney finals yet?

Carolyn, Red is really the cutest one! You should get him up here more often.

Ritter To Preside Over Monograms

Patsy Ritter, sophomore from Winchester, was elected president of the Monogram Club at a recent meeting. Patsy succeeds Alice Ann Abernathy. Stony Creek. Martha Hylton will serve as secretary-treasurer.

The new membership of the club were initiated at the same meeting. They are Patsy Ritter, Martha Hylton, Betty Tilson, Ray Phillips, Margy Beane, and Winifred Beard.

Brumfield To Teach At Mountain Lake

Dr. Robert Brumfield of the S. T. C. Biology department has accepted a position in the University of Virginia's Summer School Session for this summer. Dr. Brumfield will teach plant anatomy at the Mountain Lake Biological Section of the University of Virginia in Giles county, Virginia.

Madrigals

Continued from Page 1

professor of music, accompanied alternately by Mrs. Wakefield and Miss Emily Clark, assistant professor of music. Children of the Training School gave a program of songs, and Miss Caroline R. Eason, supervisor of Training School, was featured on a story-telling program. There has been a dramatization of an original play by Nancy Moore and Arthur Stuart, freshmen at S.T.C. and H.-S.C., and Miss Wheeler has given poetry recitations. Also featured have been programs by the French Circle and Spanish Club. The recording of the S.T.C. Alma Mater which introduces the program each week was made by the college Madrigal Singers. About 25 different volunteer S.T.C. students have served as student announcers.

Student chairman of the S.T.C. Radio Committee for this year has been Gee Gee Yonce, assisted by Ann Galloway. Miss Leola Wheeler, faculty chairman of the committee, was assisted by Dean William W. Savage; Mrs. Mary W. Watkins, executive secretary of the college; Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss, associate professor of history; Dr. M. Beverley Ruffin, librarian, and Mr. Ralph Wakefield.

Seniors Make Triumphant March As Thoughts Review Past Years

Tomorrow is the day! We've been practicing our songs, planning our speeches, practicing our "triumphant march" down the aisle, and racking our brains trying to guess who among us the Juniors will pick to be their honorary classman. Yes, tomorrow is the day we've been looking forward to—and the day we almost wish we could forestall.

When we think of how little time is left to us here we immediately begin to think back over the time that is past. Back go our thoughts to the day we arrived here in the pouring rain to begin our four-year climb to the place we hold now; back to our second year when we had a cock-sure air of knowing the ropes and being "in" on things. On next to our junior year when we buckled down to our tasks knowing that we couldn't play like we did the year, before, for we were soon to be seniors and hold the responsible positions on the campus. Then at last the glorious day arrived! A year ago tomorrow we marched under the arch the seniors made with their caps, a little damp-eyed over their approaching departure but exulting in our newly attained rank of Senior.

Then this year came with Senior Privileges and a "rec" all our own, caps and gowns for chapel, and the admiration of the freshmen who didn't know that in our hearts we weren't really dignified seniors, and that we feel just as young and full of pranks as they.

There have been times when we were tickled to death over being here, times when we wanted to go home to mama, but all in all it has been wonderful.

So tomorrow "as seniors we sing with a catch in our voices for days that are almost complete."

Imminent Vacation

Continued from Page 1

time to learn to play tennis, 'wridge, or swim, or anything that might be of particular interest to you.

Exams! They Lurk Around Corner Term Papers, Themes Join Forces

Exams! The very mention of the word starts shivers in my toes which sliver on up to the uppermost hairs on my head.

These menaces begin Tuesday, May 25, at 8:05 a.m. They will end Friday at 12. How many sane people will still be sane at that glad hour is a wild guess.

One cheery feature we have about these exams is they're finals. For the lucky seniors, I do mean finals!!

The dreams of the summer vacation give us strength to exert the extra work exams necessitate.

This last mad search for knowledge is now in progress. Cramming has been classed as a very bad way to study for exams, but we all try it in one form or another. The library is full of eager students, the halls are quieter during study hour, the tension is in the atmosphere.

To add to the misery of students just before exams we are plagued with nothing less than the term papers and themes. It is so easy to get in an interesting conversation and say a thousand words, but to write them in good English is an entirely different story. The research on these papers takes hours of good play time too. Teachers just don't seem to realize we must play, especially before exams.

Trying to keep all the knowledge we have gained during the past semester in our wee heads during exams is a tres difficult job. If you have not yet begun to study, I would make the gentle hint—There's no better time than the present!

Scholarship

Continued from Page 1

hundred and fifty dollars, including interest on the canceled portion of the obligation, for each year that the recipient teaches in the public schools after graduation from college, and any amount uncancelled by such service shall be repaid within a period of two years after termination of teaching service with interest from date of three per cent per year; provided, however, that for extenuating circumstances the State Board of Education may, in its discretion, extend the time of repayment."

Students who wish to apply for these scholarships here should make application to President Lancaster before July 1, the deadline for applying this year for the 1948-49 session. President Lancaster must recommend all candidates to the State Board of Education which, in turn, will make recommendations to Governor Tuck. All applications must have the approval of the Governor before scholarships may be awarded. The regulations state that "when the Governor has approved a scholarship grant and the candidate is reported by the college as enrolled with a full program of work, he will be asked to sign the prescribed note in the amount of one hundred and fifty dollars bearing interest from date at three per cent, which must be endorsed by a responsible adult. When this note is cleared a check for one hundred and fifty dollars will be sent to the recipient through the college. Upon execution of a second note payment of one hundred and fifty dollars will be made at the beginning of the second semester provided the college authorities advise that the student's work is satisfactory."

A limited number of the scholarships will be available this year to freshmen also. A candidate for a freshman scholarship must "possess superior scholarship as indicated by above average rank in his or her graduation class, and, by outstanding score achieved on a scholastic aptitude test." Likewise, he or she must "possess an established record of good citizenship and personal characteristics regarded as desirable for effective teaching as determined by interview, and recommendations of the high school principal and others who are qualified to report on the applicant." Students interested in obtaining more information regarding these scholarships for prospective freshmen should communicate with Dean Savage.

Five hundred scholarships will be available to students in approved colleges and to other qualified persons for the 1948-49 session. If the demand for them exceeds the number available, those applicants with the most outstanding qualifications will be selected to receive them.

A. A. Coke Machine Open This Week-End

The Athletic Association has announced that the coke machine in the field house, will be open this week-end for all who get thirsty when making up third periods and for those who are playing for the recreational enjoyment.

The Athletic Association has to return the bottles before they can receive more cokes; therefore, be sure to leave the bottles in the field house.

There also will be a chance to obtain a "T" shirt with red and white and green and white written on it. Those who desire one may obtain it from a member of the A. A. Council.

Home Ec. Club Holds Last Party-Meeting

Gwen Cress called the final party meeting of the Home Economics Club to order May 18 in the "Y" Lounge. Fruit punch and cookies were served. According to Gwen "many promising plans were made for the next year."

39 Sterling Silver Patterns To Select From.
MARTIN'S

Flowers for Every Dance or Special Occasion
Chas. E. Burg
Florist

For satisfying results—Send your clothes to us
Kleanwell Cleaners

VERSER'S
Just Received A Lot Of Samsonite Luggage
VERSER'S
"We Serve To Please"

All Aluminum Record Carrying Case
$5.95
Table Record Rack
$3.75
Assortment of Empty Album Holders
WILSON'S FIRESTONE STORE

Graduation Gifts
A Shipment Just Received of Fine Gifts for Graduation
SEE US!
Southside Drug

THE CONVENIENT STORE FOR FACULTY AND STUDENTS
G. F. Butcher Co.

When you think of flowers
Think of ours
COME TO
Collins Florist

Meet Me At . . .
Shannon's for the Finest Food In Town
Shannon's, Inc.

Our Food Is The Best
We Aim To Please
YOU
Come in and try a Plate Lunch or Sandwich
COLLEGE SHOP

Ever See a Million?

A million is a lot of stars. On a clear night only 2,000 stars are visible at one time, according to astronomers. So you'll have to stay up every night for two whole years to get to see a MILLION stars.

For the official opening of their new store in Farmville, Bowen's will have a MILLION to show you . . . but not stars!

Friday, May 28 is the Date.

BOWEN INC.
Jewelers
111N. Main Street Farmville, Va.

Attention Everyone

GRADUATES!

Let the Rotunda help you keep up with what goes on at S. T. C.

UNDERCLASSMEN!

Let your parents, friends and schools at home know what is happening here at S. T. C. through The Rotunda.

Drop the attached coupon in the mail today or give it to the Business Manager.

Only $1.50 for 30 issues of The Rotunda from Sept. 29, 1948 to June 6, 1949

The Rotunda
Box 168, S. T. C.

Please send a years subscription of The Rotunda to the following. I enclose $1.50 in check, money order or cash.

Name

Address

City & State

Meet the Faculty

MR. M. BOYD COYNER

Perhaps the best repertoire of class illustration jokes and imitations to be found in our S.T.C. faculty belongs to Mr. M. Boyd Coyner, professor of education.

Waynesboro-born Mr. Coyner and the other member of his team, Mrs. Ruth Harding Coyner, Farmville alumnae secretary who formerly taught here as a supervisor, make their home in Farmville.

After doing prep work at Concordia College in Conover, N. C., Mr. Coyner took his M.A. at U. Va., and later he did grad work at Columbia University where he worked two years with Drs. E. L. Thorndike and R. S. Woodworth, who have been guiding lights in the psychology field ever since.

Since first coming to S.T.C. in 1911, Mr. Coyner's stay has been interrupted three times, but happily, like Lassie, he has always come home. Other teaching positions which he has held have been at a boys school in Richmond, at Madison College (traitorous act!), and at Washington and Lee University. During the first World War, the army claimed Mr. Coyner for their psychological service where his job consisted mainly of giving intelligence tests to recruits.

Intelligence and memory are Mr. Coyner's favorite topics under the psychology head. Hesitatingly he reveals that reading poetry, especially that of Swinburne, is one of his favorite extra-curricular pastimes. Mr. Coyner loves no sport better than ice-skating in winter, but come summer, he likes tennis, golf, and baseball. Vegetable and flower gardening also come in for their share of Mr. Coyner's time in spring and summer.

At College, Mr. Coyner is advisor to the Cotillion Club and to the Colonnade and he serves on the Chapel Committee and the Committee on Schedules.

Letter To Editor

Continued from Page 2

members of Chi of defacing Joan. I believe as the brilliant editorial stated, that the greater part of the signatures were carved by outsiders, but if he would like to scrutinize the old statue and make a list of S.T.C. girls' names carved thereon, I daresay he would find by further research that these students, if they were members of Chi, were more than likely members of his beloved Beore Eh Thorn, Kappa Delta Pi, Alpha Kappa Gamma, Alpha Phi Sigma, F. T. A. or many other "worthy" organizations. I believe his accusation was aimed at the wrong places. Also, I resent it, as I am sure many of the "less than 2 per cent of the student body" as far back as 1930 do. Personally I believe Chi is due a public apology—not for Mr. Grainger but by him.

It is true that some of the members of Chi in the past did not live up to its purpose and that Chi and its members have had a hard time living down the reputation established by a few girls. This is true, at times, of almost any organization. All of us can't be perfect, not even Chi members unfortunately. But do you think it fair to condemn one organization because of the mistakes of a few?

With reference to my statement of Mr. Grainger's taking unfair advantage in publishing the letter, I daresay, if someone on equal basis with him had accused Beore Eh Thorn falsely of such a misdemeanor he would have thought twice before publishing it. To me, it would have been the same principle!

Sue Hundley,
Chi, '47

P.S.—I almost forgot to say that although I haven't seen the new Joan, I hope the students don't vote to store her in a closet. I'm glad I helped to make her appearance possible and being a member of Chi, I promise not to carve my initials on her on my next visit!

Editor's Note: The planned activities of Chi, with modifications, have been approved by President Lancaster but this does not necessarily mean that all acts of the organization have had his full approval.

It is hoped that this statement will mark the end of this discussion for the time being, at least.

Senior Spotlight

BETTY BURCHETT

"Has anybody seen Jane?" The questioner can be none other than Betty Burchett, whose waking hours are spent looking for her twin sister. Small, but with as much energy as several radium rays, she has divided her time at STC between the physical ed. department and the Tea Room. To prove her ability along athletic lines, she has but to bring forth those official looking books that belong to the Secretary of the AA and the Secretary and Treasurer of the H20. Her membership in the Monogram Clubs places her on the list of those who have participated in class and school sports. Her ability is not limited to the field of physical education entirely for she is a member of the Rotunda Staff, Cotillon Club, and Orchesis. She is a member of Gamma Theta Sorority.

Betty plans to teach in Bristol, Virginia next year. Though the separation will be bad, the twins still have the consolation of being in the same state.

When the time for reminiscing comes we shall "ALWAYS" remember the tapping and the jitterbugging that made our "Bull Sessions" a production complete, the laughter of success, and the voice (ugh!) that sang "My Reverie."

JUNE CREGAR

If there's a song in the air—you can bet that June is not far away. A music major, naturally that subject is of first importance to her—(excluding David, of course!). She has shown her talent as director of the Madrigals this year and as an enthusiastic member of choir, holding the office of vice president this year. June is a member of Theta Sigma Upsilon sorority.

Ask her what she'll miss most after graduation and her answer probably will be Dr. Walmsley, the food (?) and Betty Minton's beating her around.

June has been a member of the Y" Cabinet for the past two years and served as Public Affairs chairman this year. She also headed the World Student Service Fund Campaign which was a decided success. Her membership in Kappa Delta Pi and Pi Gamma Mu gives evidence that her time is not wasted. A member of F. T. A., her chief desire before graduation is to convince Dr. Wynne that she does know her philosophy. Next year will find June "in a little red school house" teaching music.

With her ambition, interest and good all-round spirit, we know she will be a credit to her chosen field just as she has been a credit to S.T.C.

The NEW LOOK

By TONI ALLEN

The Baptist Student Union held a picnic at Holiday Lake on Saturday, and the Episcopal young people sponsored a picnic at Goodwin's Lake on Sunday evening. Many private picnics have been held at the various grounds in and around Farmville, but the attire of the picnic-goers has been about the same.

Max Acree, Dot Doutt, Dee Hoover, and others were at the picnic Saturday in blue jeans and white shirts, which seemed to be the most popular attire. Ann Terry looked very smart in light blue peddle-pushers and a yellow sweatshirt. The yellow was an excellent contrast to her flaming tresses. Joanne Shomo looked like a lumberjack (a very feminine one) in a plaid shirt and blue jeans. The picnic on Sunday found girls attired in many gay colors, durable jeans, and having a wonderful time.

Now that vacation time is here I am sure most of you will take advantage of your holiday to enjoy picnics, swimming, and all of the joys of summer. Have a good time, and come back next year prepared to work hard!

Veterans who served overseas can enlist direct for 3 years, service in any of eight combat units stationed in the U. S.

Gleaves Announces Sorority Averages

Sorority averages for the fall semester, which determine the sororities scholarship standing, were announced last week by Miss Ruth Gleaves, Pan Hellenic sponsor.

Theta Sigma Upsilon places first with an average of 1.81, Alpha Sigma Alpha, second with 1.72, and Gamma Theta, third with an average of 1.69. The other sororities follow in given order: Phi Zeta Sigma had 1.64, Pi Kappa Sigma had 1.63, Alpha Sigma Tau had 1.59, Sigma Sigma Sigma has 1.33, and Mu Omega has 1.31.

Last semester Theta Sigma Upsilon placed first and won the scholarship plaque for having maintained the highest average for preceding quarters.

LAUNDRY LESSON

Chemistry Professor — Name three articles containing starch. Student—Two cuffs and a collar.

Pan-Hel Council Appoints Officers

Members of the Pan-Hellenic Council for next year have been appointed according to their sorority succession, Jane Taylor, incoming president, announced yesterday.

Jane represents Alpha Sigma Alpha. Betty Ferguson, vice president, is from Mu Omega; Pat Davis, secretary represents Pi Kappa Sigma; Jackie Bobbitt, treasurer, is representing Alpha Sigma Tau. The committee chairmen of the council are Peggy Crowder from Theta Sigma Upsilon, program chairman; Edna Earle Waters from Phi Zeta Sigma, publicity chairman; Ann Nock from Sigma Sigma Sigma, keeper of records; and Frances Dodson from Gamma Theta chairman of rushing.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS!

Hatcher Will Head El Club Espanol

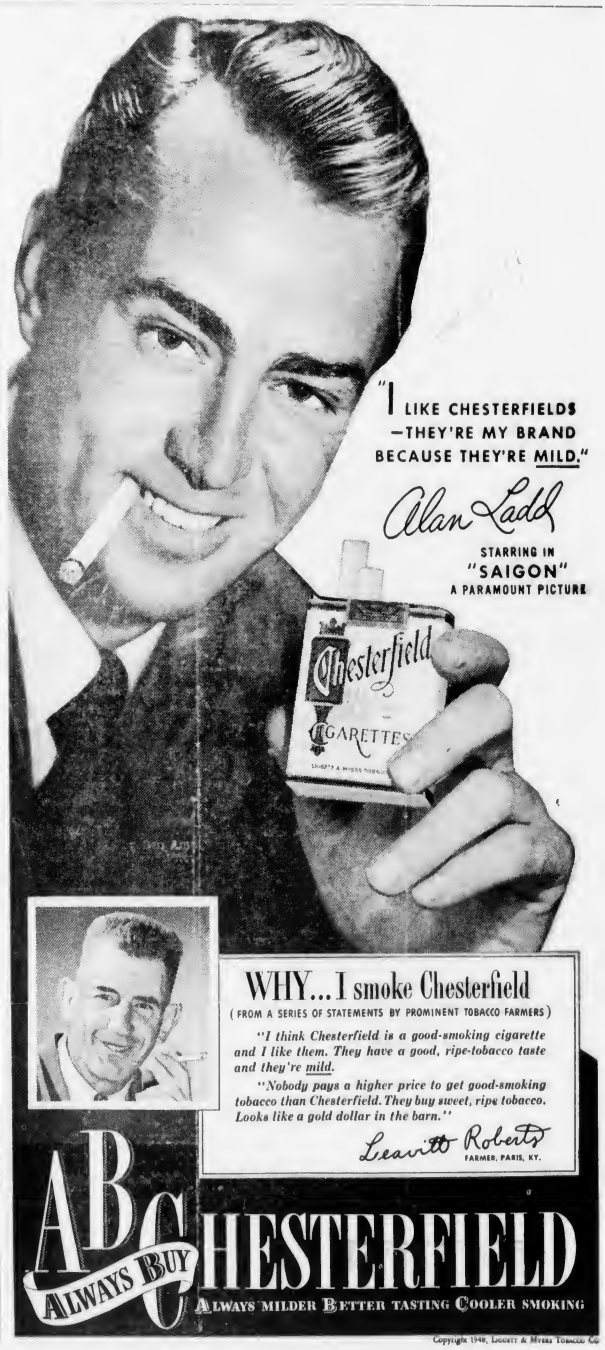
At a recent meeting of El Club Espanol, officers for the coming year were elected. They are as follows: Martha Hatcher, junior, of Richmond, president; Craig Cumby, junior from Farmville, vice president; Helen Kaknis, sophomore from Winchester, secretary; Ann Nock, sophomore from Harborton, treasurer; Dot Dodd, sophomore, from Dry Fork, reporter.

Martha Anderson, senior from Andersonville, is the retiring president.

NOT SURPRISING

"My press agent is getting me the wrong kind of publicity."

"Have you tried withholding his salary?"



WHERE THERE'S COKE
THERE'S REFRESHMENT

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

WHY... I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"I think Chesterfield is a good-smoking cigarette and I like them. They have a good, ripe-tobacco taste and they're mild.

"Nobody pays a higher price to get good-smoking tobacco than Chesterfield. They buy sweet, ripe tobacco. Looks like a gold dollar in the barn."

Leavitt Roberts
FARMER, PARIS, KY.

ABC ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
ALWAYS MILDER BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Happy
Summer Vacation

The Rotunda

Congratulations
Graduates of '48

VOLUME XXVII FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, MONDAY, MAY 31, 1948 No. 29

President Lancaster Confers 121 Degrees To Class of '48 At Commencement Exercises

Dr. Lancaster Announces Changes in Faculty, Staff

An announcement by Dr. Lancaster on the changes in the faculty and administrative staff for 1948-49 was made today at the commencement exercises.

According to Dr. Lancaster, Dr. James E. Waimsley, profesosr of History and Social Sciences, is retiring from his position as Head of the History Department; Miss Pauline Camper, Associate Professor of Education, is retiring from her position in the Department of Education and Philosophy; and Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, Professor of Mathematics, is retiring from her position as Head of the Mathematics Department. Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss has been promoted from the position of Associate Professor of History and Social Science and he will isuceed Dr. Waimsley as Head of that department.

There have been a number of resignations from the faculty also. Dean Martha Smith Smith is resigning her position as Dean of Women. She will be suceeded by Miss Ruth Gleaves, who is at present Associate Professor of Home Economics. Miss Rosemary Elam is also resigning as Arisstant to the Dean of Women. Miss Caroline R. Eason, supervising teacher in the Kindergarten of the Training School, will become her succesor.

Miss Lucy Bralley is resigning from her position in the Bureau of Teaching Materials and Miss Anna Stuart Headlee will fill the position. Dr. Graves .H hompson, Professor of Latin, has tendered his resignation and the resulting vacancy has not been filled. Mr. Edward Crawley has resigned as Director of the Choir and Choral Club and his duties will be taken over by Mr. Ralph Wakefield.

Dr. A. Curtis Higginbotham has resigned his position as Associate Professor of Biology and the vacancy is yet to be filled.

Mrs. Harriet C. Graham, Longwood Hostess, has also resigned and Mrs. Ralph J. Wakefield will serve as hostess there netx year.

There have also been a number of resignations from the Training School. Miss Caroline R. Eason, Miss Margaret Finch, Miss Olive Bradshaw, Miss Annie

Continued on Page 3

DR. DABNEY S. LANCASTER

Dean Martha Smith Smith, who is resigning her post as Dean of Women.

Juniors Name Yonce Honorary Classman

Virginia Yonce, senior from Arrington, was named honorary member of the junior class at the Senior Chapel program Thursday, May 20. This announcement was made by Violet Ritchie, president of the junior class.

Gee-Gee was elected by a secret ballot of the junior class. Active in all class and college activities, Gee-Gee served this year as student chairman of the Radio Committee. Also she was one of the "Senior Personalities" featured in the college annual, the Virginian.

As honorary classman of the incoming senior class, Gee-Gee will return to S. T. C. next fall to h elp Violet Ritchie lead the figure for the senior dance.

Another feature of the Senior Chapel program was the awarding of the Athletic Association Color Cup and blazer jackets. Jesse Pickett, incoming A. A. president, awarded the Color Cup to Red and white who chalked up defeating Green and White in the greatest number of points for intramural athletic events.

Spanish Workshop To Convene Here

The third annual Virginia Workshop for Teachers of Spanish will be held at S. T. C. from June 21 to July 17.

Thestaff, headed by Salvatore C. Magniafico from Georgia State College for Women, includes Maria Elena Aleman, Escuela Normal Superior, Mexico City; Eva Guillon, Mexico City; Gloria Goicochea, Lima, Peru; Ricardo Garcia, Cuba; Dalila Agostina, Puerto Rico; Emily Barksdale of S. T. C. as Registrar and Eunice Coe of Stuart Hall as Secretary.

The courses offered by the workshop will include Intermediate Conversation, Advanced Conversation, Spanish Syntax, Latin American Folklore, History of Latin America, and a Seminar on Methods and Materials. The seminar is the only activity in which the use of English is permitted.

Every evening there will be an hour program of singing folk dances and games. Thus every participant will have the opportunity to learn songs, games, and dances which can be taught to students of elementary and high school ages.

The Workshop will be housed in Senior Building, and the classes and activities will be held in the Training School.

The total cost of the workshop

Continued on Page 4

77 STC Seniors Sign Contracts To Teach In '48

Large Group Secures Virginia Positions

Seventy-seven members of the Senior Class have signed teacher contracts for 1948-49. Of these sixty-nine will teach in Virginia schools.

The seniors and where they will teach are as follows: Hilida Abernathy, Blackstone; Lucie Addleman, Lakeside school, Henrico county; Rebecca Lois Anderson, Fieldale; Jean Babb, Waynesboro; Virginia Bailey, Suffolk; Jeane Bentley, Winchester; Dorothy Bevard, Newport News, Catherine Bickle, Lee high school, Staunton; Anna Ruth Blair, Charlotte, North Carolina; Frances Blanton, Southampton county; Lela Evelyn Bouldin, Westmoreland county; Dorothy Irene Bradley, Martinsville, Neva Mae Brankley, Axton; Louise Brooks, Richmond; Betty Burchett, Bristol; Jane Burchett, Marion Junior College; Dorothy Leigh Chambers, Lynchburg; June Clark, Winchester; June Cregar, Stewartsville, Bedford county; Mildred Davis, Martinsville; Sue Davis, Virginia Beach; Thelma Viola Davis, Franklin; Virginia Adeline Dodd, Schoolfield; Gertrude Driver, Franklin; Edith Lee Duffy, Norfolk; Frances Fears, Hanover county; Nancy Foscue, Richmond; Dorothy Ann Fulgham, Warwick high school; Mary Virginia Goff, Arlington; Charlotte Grizzard, Petersburg; Muriel Jacqueline Hancock, Courtland; Augusta Hargan, Roanoke; Ethel Squire Harrison, Bel Air, Maryland; Mrs.

Continued on Page 4

DR. EDW. W. GREGORY, JR. REV. EDGAR A. POTTS

Pictured above are the speakers for the 64th annual college commencement.

Potts, Gregory Give Principal Address To Graduating Class

The Rev. Mr. Edgar A. Potts delivered the Baccalaureate sermon Sunday, May 30, and Dr. Edward W. Gregory, Jr., gave the principal address at the Commencement exercise today.

Rev. Pott, who gave the sermon yesterday was a student of Lynchburg College and received his A. B. Degree from Randolph-Macon College. He was, at one time, pastor of Farmville Methodist Church.

After three years at Princeton Theological Seminary he received the Bachelor of Theology degree. Randolph-Macon College is conferring the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree on him May 31.

Mr. Potts has served pastorates as follows: Lawrence Road Presbyterian Church of Trenton, N. J. mission charges in Alberta,Canada, under the United Church of Canada; Craddock, Portsmouth; Oxford, Suffolk; The Methodist Church of Farmville; Central Methodist in Staunton and now is pastor of Centenary Methodist in Lynchburg. Mr. Potts is a member of the Board of Education, Board of Missions, and Board of Evangelism of the Virginia Conference.

Mr. Potts will also give the alumni address at Lynchburg College.

Dr. Edward Woodsworth Gregory, Jr., is Professor and Chairman of the Department of Sociology in the University of Rich-

Continued on Page 4

Farmville Memories Promise To Linger With Seniors

Today, dear sister class, we bid you adieu. The sadness that you have in your hearts at the departure is shared by each of us; the uncertainty of facing the world for the first time will soon be felt by us, too.

"We've worked and we've played." Yes, you've griped a good deal about all the work you have had to do. You have compained about the "darndest assignments" some of the faculty have made—probably some of them that you now hold dear made those assignments.

You realize now that these four years have been the happiest of your life. You think back over your freshman year. My, how "green" you felt as you marched up the walk to the Rotunda for the first time. Your freshman year was fun though. You joined several organizations; you shortsheeted beds; dodged Mrs. McCoy at 2:00 in the morning trying to look SO innocent when she caught you; you had fusses with your roommate, but you always came through loving each other more than ever; you saw your first circus, production and May Day. Each day brought some thing new and thrilling. (We'll leave exams out of this!) During this period the bags under each one's eyes were dragging the ground. It was during this period too, that you often wished that 1948 would hurry and arrive.

Your sophomore year you marched up the Rotunda walk with a different step—one of certainty. You were eager to see old friends again and throw a "shindig" the first night. You learned that sophomore meant "wise fool." Didn't it? You felt proud that you could show your "little sister" the ropes this year as your "big sister" had shown you your freshman year.

Your junior year soon arrived. You were really getting up there. You gave the seniors farewell parties, etc. Soon it would be you!

Your senior year passed swiftly—too swiftly for most. Now you are graduating. You realize a lot of things now that you hadn't thought of before. You'll never "Get away with" plaid shirts and blue jeans again. Girls in pig tails and overalls just don't look like school teachers. Going downtown barefoot in the rain would never do anywhere else. You now realize that through the efforts and ideals of Dr. Lancaster, the faculty, and the Home Department that Farmville is indeed as "homelike" a place as could be found with "800-some" in one big family.

With the joy in your hearts that you made the grade and the tears in your eyes because you are leaving, we bid you a fond farewell. You have been a marvelous class.

Your college friendships you soon may sever ,but the Farmville Spirit will never be broken.

Sophomores Named As Table Hostesses By Dining Hall Head

The following sophomores have signed up as dining room hostesses for next year: Juanita Beaman, Judy Hughes, Gladys Monk, Lucy Vaughn, Harriet Bowling, Billie Mullins, Barbara Grizzard, Ellie Jane Felton, Katherine Johnson and Janice Shavin. Also, Sara Wilkerson, Sue Walker, Jackie Wright, Mildred Garnett, and Marian Avedikian.

Also, Jane Gray, Ann Nock, Dot Doutt, Peggy Lloyd, Barbara Andrews, Mary Lou Wilson, Anne Langbein, Lynda Balch, Marian Breeden, Ray Phillips, Frankie Dodson, Liz Bragg, Mary Miller, Hilda Edwards, Polly Nasser, Betty House, Doris Conner, Joyce Webb, Ruth Hathaway, Pat Davis, Mary Lou Woodward, Lou Shelor, Harriet Rathford, Jane Murphy, Jean Hogge, Winifred Beard, Nancy Short, Nancy Lee Mattox, Robbie Cromar, Lelia Mae Ferratt, and Helen Holbrook.

Also, Pat Paddison, Jean Turner, Jane Williams, Louise Redd, Marjorie Boswick, Dorothy Dodd, Anne Kelly, Jean Hobbs, Carol Stoops, Polly Richardson, Bobby Robertson, Carrie Anne OLoughlin, Laura Lee Stickley, Annette Jones, Dot Carter, Peggy Hughes, Elizabeth McAden, Elizabeth Chambers, and Sallie Land.

ORIENTATION LEADERS

Janie Fox, vice president of the Student Government Association, has announced that she will not appoint leaders for the freshman Orientation classes until this summer.

Gregory Speaks To STC Graduates

Honor Students Announced Today

Dr. Edward W. Gregory, Jr., gave the principal address at the commencement exercises held in the S. T. C. auditorium today. The Rev. Mr. Benjamin R. Bruner, pastor of the Farmville Baptist Church, gave the invocation.

Dr. Lancaster conferred 121 degrees to the graduating class and announced the honor graduates. Those who were graduated with high honors were: Hilda Mae Abernathy, Cochran; Nancy Holroyd Chambers, Tillman, S. C.; Gertrude Elizabeth Driver, Lynchburg; Myra Anne Motley, Danville; Ella Stone Smith, Gretna; Virginia Lewis Tindall, Hatton; and Elizabeth Eugenia Tolley, Natural Bridge.

Those graduating with honors were Lucie Meade Addleman, Cumberland; Martha Ella Anderson, Andersonville; Jean Stuart Babb, Ivor; Virginia Norfleet Bailey, Lawrenceville; Dorris Jones Ballance, Norfolk; and Dorothy Lillian Bevard, Waverly. Also Betty Clark Bondurant, Farmville; Lela Evelyn Bouldin, Remo; Louise Overton Brooks, Farmville; June Clark, Pamplin; June Maria Cregar, Tazewell; and Mildred Courtland Davis, Paces.

Other honor students were Virginia Adeline Dodd, Dry Fork; Evelyn Hope Frank, Roanoke; Mary Virginia Goff, Kenbridge; Ruby Ann Griffith, Danville; Charlotte Thomas Grizzard, Drewryville; and Marian Virginia Hahn, Richmond. Also Muriel Jacqueline Hancock, Courtland; Catherine Hogge, Farmville; Margaret Louise Jones, Wilkesboro, N. C.; Kathryn Grace Kappes, Danville; Jane Palmer Mantiply, Fishersville; and Mary Constance Newman, Chuckatuck.

Also graduating with honors were Anne Dudley Payne, Columbia; Ethel Alfreda Peterson, Staunton; Carolyn June Poole, Virgilina; Katherine Tredway Rainey, Andersonville; and Martha Warren Stringfield, Elberton. Also Harriette Elizabeth Sutherlin, Sutherlin; Dorothy Rhodes Tuck, Stuart; and Rebecca Tucker Winn, Wilson.

The Reverend Edgar A Potts delivered the Baccalaureate sermon last night. The Lantern Parade and Class Day exercises were held on Saturday. At Class Day, Virginia Bailey, class historian, read the History of the Class of 1948.

Officers of the graduating class were Louise Brooks, president; Mary Lou Bagley Pickhardt, secretary; and Dorris Ballance, treasurer.

Alpha Kappa Gamma Gives Marker to STC

Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma is presenting S. T. C. with a bronze marker to be placed in the sidewalk in front of the Rotunda.

There is no sign or marker at present to distinguish the College, so the plaque, which will arrive this week, will be installed as soon as possible. This announcement was made by Jeane Bentley, past president of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

The Rotunda Extends Congratulations and Best Wishes to Class of '48

Meet the Faculty

MR. M. BOYD COYNER

Perhaps the best repertoire of class illustration jokes and imitations to be found in our S.T.C. faculty belongs to Mr. M. Boyd Coyner professor of education.

Waynesboro-born Mr. Coyner and the other member of his team, Mrs. Ruth Harding Coyner, Farmville alumnae secretary who formerly taught here as a supervisor, make their home in Farmville.

After doing prep work at Concordia College in Conover, N. C., Mr Coyner took his M.A. at U. Va., and later he did grad work at Columbia University where he worked two years with Drs. E. L. Thorndike and R. S. Woodworth, who have been guiding lights in the psychology field ever since.

Since first coming to S.T.C. in 1911, Mr. Coyner's stay has been interrupted three times, but happily, like Lassie, he has always come home. Other teaching positions which he has held have been at a boys school in Richmond, at Madison College (traitorous act!), and at Washington and Lee University. During the first World War, the army claimed Mr. Coyner for their psychological service, where his job consisted mainly of giving intelligence tests to recruits.

Intelligence and memory are Mr. Coyner's favorite topics under the psychology head. Hesitatingly he reveals that reading poetry, especially that of Swinburne, is one of his favorite extra-curricular pastimes. Mr. Coyner loves no sport better than ice-skating in winter, but come summer, he likes tennis, golf, and baseball. Vegetable and flower gardening also come in for their share of Mr. Coyner's time in spring and summer.

At College, Mr Coyner is advisor to the Cotillion Club and to the Colonnade and he serves on the Chapel Committee and the Committee on Schedules.

Letter To Editor

Continued from Page 2

members of Chi of defacing Joan I believe, as the brilliant editorial stated, that the greater part of the signatures were carved by outsiders, but if he would like to scrutinize the old statue and make a list of S.T.C. girls' names carved thereon, I daresay he would find by further research that these students, if they were members of Chi, were more than likely members of his beloved Beore Eh Thorn, Kappa Delta Pi, Alpha Kappa Gamma, Alpha Phi Sigma, F. T. A. or many other "worthy" organizations. I believe his accusation was aimed at the wrong places. Also, I resent it, as I am sure many of the "less than 2 per cent of the student body" as far back as 1930 do. Personally I believe Chi is due a public apology—not for Mr. Grainger but by him.

It is true that some of the members of Chi in the past did not live up to its purpose and that Chi and its members have had a hard time living down the reputation established by a few girls. This is true, at times, of almost any organization. All of us can't be perfect, not even Chi members unfortunately. But do you think it's fair to condemn one organization because of the mistakes of a few?

With reference to my statement of Mr. Grainger's taking unfair advantage in publishing his letter, I daresay, if someone on equal basis with him had accused Beore Eh Thorn falsely of such a misdemeanor, he would have thought twice before publishing it. To me, it would have been the same principle!

Sue Hundley,
Chi, '47.

P.S.—I almost forgot to say that although I haven't seen the new Joan I hope the students don't vote to store her in a closet. I'm glad I helped to make her appearance possible and being a member of Chi, I promise not to carve my initials on her on my next visit!

Editor's Note. The planned activities of Chi, with modifications, have been approved by President Lancaster but this does not necessarily mean that all acts of the organization have had his full approval.

It is hoped that this statement will mark the end of this discussion for the time being, at least.

Senior Spotlight

BETTY BURCHETT

"Has anybody seen Jane?" The questioner can be none other than Betty Burchett, whose waking hours are spent looking for her twin sister. Small, but with as much energy as several radium rays, she has divided her time at STC between the physical ed. department and the Tea Room. To prove her ability along athletic lines, she has but to bring forth those official looking books that belong to the Secretary of the AA and the Secretary and Treasurer of the H20. Her membership in the Monogram Clubs places her on the list of those who have participated in class and school sports. Her ability is not limited to the field of physical education entirely for she is a member of the Rotunda Staff, Cotillion Club, and Orchesis. She is a member of Gamma Theta Sorority.

Betty plans to teach in Bristol, Virginia next year. Though the separation will be bad, the twins still have the consolation of being in the same state.

When the time for reminiscing comes we shall "ALWAYS" remember the tapping and the jitterbugging that made our "Bull Sessions" a production complete, the laughter of success, and the voice (ugh!) that sang "My Reverie."

JUNE CREGAR

If there's a song in the air—you can bet that June is not far away. A music major, naturally that subject is of first importance to her—(excluding David, of course!). She has shown her talent as director of the Madrigals this year and as an enthusiastic member of choir, holding the office of vice president this year. June is a member of Theta Sigma Upsilon sorority.

Ask her what she'll miss most after graduation and her answer probably will be Dr. Wilmsley, the food (?) and Betty Minton's beating her around.

June has been a member of the "Y" Cabinet for the past two years and served as Public Affairs chairman this year. She also headed the World Student Service Fund Campaign which was a decided success. Her membership in Kappa Delta Pi and Pi Gamma Mu gives evidence that her time is not wasted. A member of F. T. A., her chief desire before graduation is to convince Dr. Wynne that she does know her philosophy. Next year will find June "in a little red school house" teaching music.

With her ambition, interest and good all-round spirit, we know she will be a credit to her chosen field just as she has been a credit to S.T.C.

The NEW LOOK

By TONI ALLEN

The Baptist Student Union held a picnic at Holiday Lake on Saturday, and the Episcopal young people sponsored a picnic at Goodwin's Lake on Sunday evening. Many private picnics have been held at the various grounds in and around Farmville, but the attire of the picnic-goers has been about the same.

Max Acree, Dot Doutt, Dee Hoover, and others were at the picnic Saturday in blue jeans and white shirts, which seemed to be the most popular attire. Ann Terry looked very smart in light blue peddle-pushers and a yellow sweatshirt. The yellow was an excellent contrast to her flaming tresses. Joanne Shomo looked like a lumberjack (a very feminine one) in a plaid shirt and blue jeans. The picnic on Sunday found girls attired in many gay colors, durable jeans, and having a wonderful time.

Now that vacation time is here I am sure most of you will take advantage of your holiday to enjoy picnics, swimming, and all of the joys of summer. Have a good time, and come back next year prepared to work hard!

Veterans who served overseas for only of eight combat units stationed in the U. S. can enlist direct for 3 years' service in any of eight combat units stationed in the U. S.

Gleaves Announces Sorority Averages

Sorority averages for the fall semester, which determine the sororities scholarship standing, were announced last week by Miss Ruth Gleaves, Pan Hellenic sponsor.

Theta Sigma Upsilon places first with an average of 1.81, Alpha Sigma Alpha, second with 1.72, and Gamma Theta, third with an average of 1.69. The other sororities follow in given order: Phi Zeta Sigma had 1.64, Pi Kappa Sigma had 1.63, Alpha Sigma Tau had 1.59, Sigma Sigma Sigma has 1.33, and Mu Omega has 1.31.

Last semester Theta Sigma Upsilon placed first and won the scholarship plaque for having maintained the highest average for preceding quarters.

LAUNDRY LESSON

Chemistry Professor — Name three articles containing starch.
Student—Two cuffs and a collar.

Pan-Hel Council Appoints Officers

Members of the Pan-Hellenic Council for next year have been appointed according to their sorority succession, Jane Taylor, incoming president, announced yesterday.

Jane represents Alpha Sigma Alpha. Betty Ferguson, vice president, is from Mu Omega; Pat Davis, secretary represents Pi Kappa Sigma; Jackie Bobbitt, treasurer, is representing Alpha Sigma Tau. The committee chairmen of the council are Peggy Crowder from Theta Sigma Upsilon, program chairman; Edna Earle Waters from Phi Zeta Sigma, publicity chairman; Ann Nock from Sigma Sigma Sigma, keeper of records; and France Dodson from Gamma Theta chairman of rushing.

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS!

Hatcher Will Head El Club Espanol

At a recent meeting of El Club Espanol, officers for the coming year were elected. They are as follows: Martha Hatcher, junior, of Richmond, president; Craig Cumby, junior from Farmville, vice president; Helen Kaknis, sophomore from Winchester, secretary; Ann Nock, sophomore from Harborton, treasurer; Dot Dodd, sophomore, from Dry Fork, reporter.

Martha Anderson, senior from Andersonville, is the retiring president.

NOT SURPRISING

"My press agent is getting me the wrong kind of publicity."

"Have you tried withholding his salary?"

WHERE THERE'S COKE
THERE'S REFRESHMENT

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Co.

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

WHY... I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"I think Chesterfield is a good-smoking cigarette and I like them. They have a good, ripe-tobacco taste and they're mild.

"Nobody pays a higher price to get good-smoking tobacco than Chesterfield. They buy sweet, ripe tobacco. Looks like a gold dollar in the barn."

Leavitt Roberts
FARMER, PARIS, KY.

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
ALWAYS MILDER BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Happy
Summer Vacation

The Rotunda

Congratulations
Graduates of '48

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, MONDAY, MAY 31, 1948 | No. 29

President Lancaster Confers 121 Degrees To Class of '48 At Commencement Exercises

Dr. Lancaster Announces Changes in Faculty, Staff

An announcement by Dr. Lancaster on the changes in the faculty and administrative staff for 1948-49 was made today at the commencement exercises.

According to Dr. Lancaster, Dr. James E. Walmsley, professor of History and Social Sciences, is retiring from his position as Head of the History Department; Miss Pauline Camper, Associate Professor of Education, is retiring from her position in the Department of Education and Philosophy; and Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, Professor of Mathematics, is retiring from her position as Head of the Mathematics Department. Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss has been promoted from the position of Associate Professor of History and Social Science and he will isuceed Dr. Walmsley as Head of that department.

There have been a number of resignations from the faculty also. Dean Martha Smith Smith is resigning her position as Dean of Women. She will be suceeded by Miss Ruth Gleaves, who is at present Associate Professor of Home Economics. Miss Rosemary Elam is also resigning as Asisstant to the Dean of Women. Miss Caroline R. Eason, supervising teacher in the Kindergarten of the Training School, will become her successor.

Miss Lucy Bralley is resigning from her position in the Bureau of Teaching Materials and Miss Anna Stuart Headlee will fill the position. Dr. Graves .H hompson, Professor of Latin, has tendered his resignation and the resulting vacancy has not been filled. Mr. Edward Crawley has resigned as Director of the Choir and Choral Club and his duties will be taken over by Mr. Ralph Wakefield.

Dr. A. Curtis Higginbotham has resigned his position as Associate Professor of Biology and the vacancy is yet to be filled.

Mrs. Harriet C. Graham, Longwood Hostess, has also resigned and Mrs. Ralph J. Wakefield will serve as hostess there netx year.

There have also been a number of resignations from the Training School. Miss Caroline R. Eason, Miss Margaret Finch, Miss Olive Bradshaw, Miss Annie

Continued on Page 3

DR. DABNEY S. LANCASTER

Dean Martha Smith Smith, who is resigning her post as Dean of Women.

Juniors Name Yonce Honorary Classman

Virginia Yonce, senior from Arrington, was named honorary member of the junior class at the Senior Chapel program Thursday, May 20. This announcement was made by Violet Ritchie, president of the junior class.

Gee-Gee was elected by a secret ballot of the junior class. Active in all class and college activities, Gee-Gee served this year as student chairman of the Radio Committee. Also she was one of the "Senior Personalities" featured in the college annual, the Virginian.

As honorary classman of the incoming senior class, Gee-Gee will return to S. T. C. next fall to h elp Violet Ritchie lead the figure for the senior dance.

Another feature of the Senior Chapel program was the awarding of the Athletic Association Color Cup and blazer jackets. Jesse Pickett, incoming A. A. president, awarded the Color Cup to Red and white who chalked up defeating Green and White in the greatest number of points for intramural athletic events.

Spanish Workshop To Convene Here

The third annual Virginia Workshop for Teachers of Spanish will be held at S. T. C. from June 21 to July 17.

Thestaff, headed by Salvatore C. Magniafico from Georgia State College for Women, includes Maria Elena Aleman, Escuela Normal Superior, Mexico City; Eva Guillon, Mexico City; Gloria Goicochea, Lima, Peru; Ricardo Garcia, Cuba; Dalila Agostina, Puerto Rico; Emily Barksdale of S. T. C. as Registrar and Eunice Coe of Stuart Hall as Secrtary.

The courses offered by the workshop will include Intermediate Conversation, Advanced Conversaelon, Spanish Syntax, Latin American Folklore, History of Latin America, and a Seminar on Methods and Materials. The seminar is the only activity in which the use of English is permitted.

Every evening there will be an hour program of singing folk dances and games. Thus every participant will have the opportunity to learn songs, games, and dances which can be taught to students of elementary and high school ages.

The Workshop will be housed in Senior Building, and the classes and activities will be held in the Training School.

The total cost of the workshop

Continued on Page 4

77 STC Seniors Sign Contracts To Teach In '48

Large Group Secures Virginia Positions

Seventy-seven members of the Senior Class have signed teacher contracts for 1948-49. Of these sixty-nine will teach in Virginia schools.

The seniors and where they will teach are as follows: Hilida Abernathy, Blackstone; Lucie Addleman, Lakeside school, Henrico county; Rebecca Lois Anderson, Fieldale; Jean Babb, Waynesboro; Virginia Bailey, Suffolk; Jeane Bentley, Winchester; Dorothy Bevard, Newport News, Catherine Bickle, Lee high school, Staunton; Anna Ruth Blair, Charlotte, North Carolina; Frances Blanton, Southampton county; Lela Evelyn Bouldin, Westmoreland county; Dorothy Irene Bradley, Martinsville, Neva Mae Brankley, Axton; Louise Brooks, Richmond; Betty Burchett, Bristol; Jane Burchett, Marion Junior College; Dorothy Leigh Chambers, Lynchburg; June Clark, Winchester; June Cregar, Stewartsville, Bedford county; Mildred Davis, Martinsville; Sue Davis, Virginia Beach; Thelma Viola Davis, Franklin; Virginia Adeline Dodd, Schoolfield; Gertrude Driver, Franklin; Edith Lee Duffy, Norfolk; Frances Fears, Hanover county; Nancy Foscue, Richmond; Dorothy Ann Fulgham, Warwick high school; Mary Virginia Goff, Arlington; Charlotte Grizzard, Petersburg; Muriel Jacqueline Hancock, Courtland; Augusta Hargan, Roanoke; Ethel Squire Harrison, Bel Air, Maryland; Mrs.

Continued on Page 4

DR. EDW. W. GREGORY, JR. REV. EDGAR A. POTTS

Pictured above are the speakers for the 64th annual college commencement.

Potts, Gregory Give Principal Address To Graduating Class

The Rev. Mr. Edgar A. Potts delivered the Baccalaureate sermon Sunday, May 30, and Dr. Edward W. Gregory, Jr., gave the principal address at the Commencement exe ise today.

Rev. Pott, who gave the sermon yesterday was a student of Lynchburg College and received his A. B. Degree from Randolph-Macon College. He was, at one time, pastor of Farmville Methodist Church.

After three years at Princeton Theological Seminary he received the Bachelor of Theology degree. Randolph-Macon College is conferring the honorary Doctor of Divinity degree on him May 31.

Mr. Potts has served pastorates as follows: Lawrence Road Presbyterian Church of Trenton, N. J. mission charges in Alberta,Canada, under the United Church of Canada; Craddock, Portsmouth; Oxford, Suffolk; The Methodist Church of Farmville; Central Methodist in Staunton and now is pastor of Centenary Methodist in Lynchburg. Mr. Potts is a member of the Board of Education, Board of Missions, and Board of Evangelism of the Virginia Conference.

Mr. Potts will also give the alumni address at Lynchburg College.

Dr. Edward Woodsworth Gregory, Jr., is Professor and Chairman of the Department of Sociology in the University of Rich-

Continued on Page 4

Gregory Speaks To STC Graduates

Honor Students Announced Today

Dr. Edward W. Gregory, Jr., gave the principal address at the commencement exercises held in the S. T. C. auditorium today. The Rev. Mr. Benjamin R. Bruner, pastor of the Farmville Baptist Church, gave the invocation.

Dr. Lancaster conferred 121 degrees to the graduating class and announced the honor graduates. Those who were graduated with high honors were: Hilida Mae Abernathy, Cochran; Nancy Holroyd Chambers, Tillman, S. C.; Gertrude Elizabeth Driver, Lynchburg; Myra Anne Motley, Danville; Ella Stone Smith, Gretna; Virginia Lewis Tindall, Hatton; and Elizabeth Eugenia Tolley, Natural Bridge.

Those graduating with honors were Lucie Meade Addleman, Cumberland, Martha Ella Anderson, Andersonville; Jean Stuart Babb, Ivor; Virginia Norfleet Bailey, Lawrenceville; Dorris Jones Ballance, Norfolk; and Dorothy Lillian Bevard, Waverly. Also Betty Clark Bondurant, Farmville; Lela Evelyn Bouldin, Remo; Louise Overton Brooks, Farmville; June Clark, Pamplin; June Maria Cregar, Tazewell; and Mildred Courtland Davis, Paces.

Other honor students were Virginia Adeline Dodd, Dry Fork; Evelyn Hope Frank, Roanoke; Mary Virginia Goff, Kenbridge; Ruby Ann Griffith, Danville; Charlotte Thomas Grizzard, Drewryville; and Marian Virginia Hahn, Richmond. Also Muriel Jacqueline Hancock, Courtland; Catherine Hoggc, Farmville; Margaret Louise Jones, Wilkebboro, N. C.; Kathryn Grace Kappes, Danville; Jane Paimer Mantlpiy, Fishersville; and Mary Constance Newman, Chuckatuck.

Also graduating with honors were Anne Dudley Payne, Columbia; Ethel Alfreda Peterson, Staunton; Carolyin June Poole, Virgilina; Katherine Tredway Rainey, Andersonville; and Martha Warren Stringfield, Elberton. Also Harriette Elizabeth Sutherlin, Sutherlin; Dorothy Rhodes Tuck, Stuart; and Rebecca Tucker Winn, Wilson.

The Reverend Edgar A. Potts delivered the Baccalaureate sermon last night. The Lantern Parade and Class Day exercises were held on Saturday. At Class Day, Virginia Bailey, class historian, read the History of the Class of 1948.

Officers of the graduating class were Louise Brooks, president; Mary Lou Bagley Pickhardt, secretary; and Dorris Ballance, treasurer.

Farmville Memories Promise To Linger With Seniors

Today, dear sister class, we bid you adieu. The sadness that you have in your hearts at the departure is shared by each of us; the uncertainty of facing the world for the first time will soon be felt by us, too.

"We've worked and we've played." Yes, you've griped a good deal about all the work you have had to do. You have complained about the "darndest assignments" some of the faculty have made—probably some of them that you now hold dear made those assignments.

You realize now that these four years have been the happiest of your life. You think back over your freshman year. My, how "green" you felt as you marched up the walk to the Rotunda for the first time. Your freshman year was fun though. You joined several organizations; you shortsheeted beds; dodged Mrs. McCoy at 2:00 in the morning trying to look SO innocent when she caught you; you had fusses with your roommate, but you always came through loving each other more than ever; you saw your first circus, production ,and May Day. Each day brought some thing new and thrilling. (We'll leave exams out of this!) During this period the bags under each one's eyes were dragging the ground. It was during this period too, that you often wished that 1948 would hurry and arrive.

Your sophomore year you marched up the Rotunda walk with a different step—one of certainty. You were eager to see old friends again and throw a "shindig" the first night. You icarned that sophomore meant "wise fool." Didn't it? You felt proud that you could show your "little sister" the ropes this year as your "big sister" had shown you your freshman year.

Your junior year soon arrived. You were really getting up there. You gave the seniors farewell parties, ctte. Soon it would be you!

Your senior year passed swiftly—too swiftly for most. Now you are graduating. You realize a lot of things now that you hadn't thought of before. You'll never "Get away with" plaid shirts and blue jeans again. Girls in pig tails and overalls just don't look like school teachers. Going downtown barefoot in the rain would never do anywhere else. You now realize that through the efforts and ideals of Dr. Lancaster, the faculty, and the Home Department that Farmville is indeed as "homelike" a place as could be found with "800-some" in one big family.

With the joy in your hearts that you made the grade and the tears in your eyes because you are leaving, we bid you a fond farewell. You have been a marvelous class.

Your college friendships you soon may sever ,but the Farmville Spirit will never be broken.

Sophomores Named As Table Hostesses By Dining Hall Head

The following sophomores have signed up as dining room hostesses for next year: Juanita Beaman, Judy Hughes, Gladys Monk, Lucy Vaughn, Harriet Bowling, Billie Mullins, Barbara Grizzard, Ellie Jane Felton, Katherine Johnson and Janice Slavin. Also, Sara Wilkerson, Sue Walker, Jackie Wright, Mildred Garnett, and Marian Avedikian.

Also, Jane Gray, Ann Nork, Dot Doutt, Peggy Lloyd, Barbara Andrews, Mary Lou Wilson, Anne Langbein, Lynda Balch, Marian Breeden, Ray Phillips, Frankie Dodson, Liz Bragg, Mary Miller, Hilda Edwards, Polly Nasser, Betty House, Doris Conner, Joyce Webb, Ruth Hathaway, Pat Davis, Mary Lou Woodward, Lou Shelor, Harriet Rathford, Jane Murphy, Jean Hogge, Winifred Beard, Nancy Short, Nancy Ive Mattox, Robbie Cromar, Leila Mae Ferratt, and Helen Holbrook.

Also, Pat Paddison, Jean Turner, Jane Williams, Louise Redd, Marjorie Boswick, Dorothy Dodd, Anne Kelly, Jean Hobbs, Carol Stoops, Polly Richardson, Bobby Robertson, Carrie Anne O'Loughlin, Laura Lee Stickley, Annette Jones, Dot Carter, Peggy Hughes, Elizabeth McAden, Elizabeth Chambers, and Sallie Land.

ORIENTATION LEADERS

Janie Fox, vice president of the Student Government Association, has announced that she will not appoint leaders for the freshman Orientation classes until this summer.

Alpha Kappa Gamma Gives Marker to STC

Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma is presenting S. T. C. with a bronze marker to be placed in the sidewalk in front of the Rotunda.

There is no sign or marker at present to distinguish the College, so the plaque, which will arrive this week, will be installed as soon as possible. This announcement was made by Jeane Bentley, past president of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

The Rotunda Extends Congratulations and Best Wishes to Class of '48

To The Seniors

Today you, the class 1948, step out of the auditorium straight into the wide world. Your only visible weapon that you take with you is the small roll of paper in your hand. But this small roll is more than just a piece of paper; it represents the thing towards which you have worked so hard during four long full years. Behind the work, in its turn, is the companionship, the atmosphere of college bull-sessions, picnics, dances, the extra-curricular activities which you have supported so well. That little piece of paper is the sum total of everything that went into your four years of college, the four years which you will always remember with a pang in your heart as you realize that they are gone for good, slipped by into a gay and carefree past. They are the last four years of your life in which the world will treat you so kindly. For many of you, the coming years will bring many hard knoocks, heartaches and disappointments. But life wouldn't be much fun if it were always as easy as college days, would it?

You have been fortunate, you'll have to admit. Not everyone gets the chance you've had. Not everyone who had the chance has made the success of it that you have. The world has been good to you, and you owe a debt in return. Never forget your responsibility (and for most of you the responsibility is as great a one as anybody is ever granted) to make the world a better place in which to live. The future of our nation and the world depends on you to a larger degree than you realize. If you live up to your responsibility, you will have served your state and nation well, and you will have repaid your alma mater many times over, in the best possible way, for all that she has given you.

This responsibility is your heritage. It is inherent in your diploma. It will be hard, of course, to live up to it; but S. T. C. has done her best to prepare you for that task.

We who remain watch you leave with tears in our eyes. You have been our friends and helpers. The memories of the happy hours spent in your company, and your smiling faces, have burned their way into our hearts. Farewell, and may God be with you!

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

Member
Associated Collegiate Press
Distributor of Collegiate Digest

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor in Chief
Elsie Love Bentley ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Jacqueline Eagle ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Mary Lou Wilson ..... Typing Manager

Editorial Assistants

Mary Heimer, Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin Griswold Boxley, Melbaie Boothe, Martha Smith, Lee Robinson, Bobbie Wall, Joyce Hamlet, Connie Heather, Patsy Graveley, Martha Frances Morrison, Helen Arrington, Addie Dodd, Jane Grey, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Augusta Hargan, Nancy Jesse, Ann Lynch, Gladys Monk, Lou Sheior, Gwen Smith Carol Stoops, Betty Nachman, Lela Bouldin, Ruth Radogna, Connie Loving, Edna Earle Waters Sparkie Poteat Barbara Saunders, Virginia Bailey.

Business Assistants

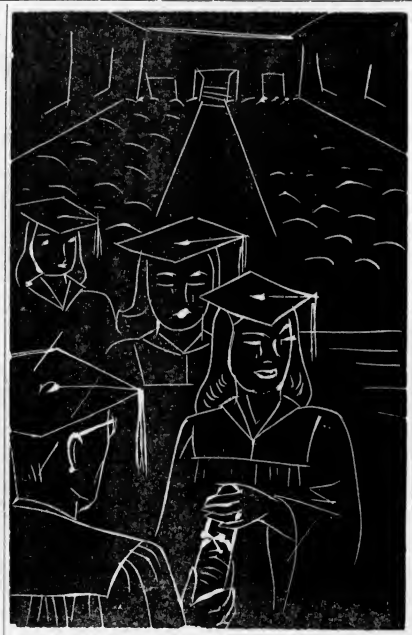
Peggy Harp, Virginia Howard, Jane Brimmer, Marjorie Burns, Helen Casey, Mary Crowder, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton, Nancye Litz, Anne Verser.

MONDAY, MAY 31, 1948

"We Have Had A Good Year"

Let's look back for a passing moment over the year we have just spent.

"We have had a good year," Dr. Lancaster said in his final address to the student body. "We have done those things which we ought not to have done, and we have left undone those things which we ought to have done," as he quoted, but we have, one the whole, made great steps forward this session.



The attitude of the student body has been admirable; through cooperation with the faculty, the administration and each other we have reached a new basis of undrestanding and a mutual basis for working towards the improvement of S. T. C. We have accomplished such little things as having the walks repaired, getting new lights, and establishing a new dining hall system. Perhaps the greatest events in our "good year" were the appropriations the state legislature made for new buildings and equipment, and the Snack Bar which the Alumnae Association is having installed in the Rec. The legislature increased our operating funds $230,000 per year; granted $15,000 for equipment the first year and $10,000 the second; appropriated $488,860 for a new Science Hall and greenhouse, and $450,000 for a new auditorium. They have added materially to S. T. C. and we have added to it morally and spiritually, hoping that by our efforts S. T. C. would reach the aspiratitons and ideals of iits leaders. We are now looking forward to next year with the hopes of making of it an even greater success than this year has been.

In Appreciation

Since this is the final issue of the Rotunda of the 1947-48 school year, we of the staff take this opportunity to sincerely thank Dean William W. Savage for his wise advice, help, and interest which he has displayed as our adviser.

Though this was Dean Savage's first year at S. T. C. he has given unselfishly of his time and ability to everyone who sought it.

We, of the Rotunda staff, are fortunate in having secured him as our advisor, but the student body is even more fortunate in having him for an understanding, helpful friend.

Goodbye and Good Luck!

Gallop Pole

What do you plan to do this summer?

Estalline Anderson: Keep house.

Wilda Hunt: Kick up my heels and have a big time!

Harriette Sutherlin: Play.

Dot Bevard: Sit on my front porch and rock.

Betty Scroggins: Marry Nick and live in Fredericksburg.

Mitty Hahn: Get married, live in Richmond, keep house, and learn to cook.

Anne Homes: Going to all the weddings except my own.

Kitty Rainey: Same as Anne. I'm going to hers too, if she changes her mind.

Nancy Foscue: Spend my summer in bliss!

Mary Heimer: I'm going to rest, and spend the summer doing the things I haven't had time to do.

Betty Minton: Loaf, go to camp as a counselor, come back and loaf some more.

Nancy Litz: Go camping.

Dot Bradley: Work in Richmond.

Helen Williams: Stay at home between my trips to Lynchburg.

Martha Anderson: Have a good time.

Agnes Taylor: Stop telling children what to do and what not to do.

Sara Squires: I'm going to Virginia Beach to teach.

Jean Edgerton: I'm going to Columbia University to further my education and obtain my master's in June '49.

Libba Jeffries: Teach Home Economics in the Bel Air, Maryland high school.

Nancy Squires: I'm going to Havre de Grace, Maryland, to teach the second grade.

Gussie Hargan: I'm planning to teach summer school.

Pete Peterson: Work at Langley Field.

Jean Babb: Work in Waynesboro instructing Physical Education.

Gee Gee Yonce: I'm going to teach in Martinsville and find a millionaire husband.

George Ann Lewis: I'm going to write a book on "How to Write a Book."

Hoot Chambers I shall write a sequel, entitled "How to Publish George Anne's book on How to Wriate a oBok."

Elinor Overbey: I am going to write a "'Criticism on How to Publish George Anne's Book on "How to Write a Book."

R. Tucker Winn: I want to collaborate with Elinor on "A Criticism, etc."

Mary Gin Goff: Teach in Arlington, play in Washington.

B. J. Snapp: Teach (big laugh) at Handley School, Winchester, Va.

Grace Kappes: Teach in the Schoolfield High.

LaVergne Tuck: Teach—but I don't know where.

Dot Tuck: I'm going to be married.

Margaret Jones: I be married.

Mitty aHhn: I be married ,too.

Betty Scroggins: Getting married.

Millie McWilliams: Teach in Richmond and probably marry.

Ann Holmes: I'll be looking for a husband while teaching in Richmond.

Tharon Holmes: I'll get married June 6 and live in Williamsburg. Hope to either teach or get a secretarial position.

June Cregar: I'm going to teach music at Stewartsville High and elementary school

Hilda Abernathy: Teach school in Blackstone.

Nancy Litz: I don't know for sure.

Betty Minton: Teach Physical Education in Roanoke.

Dorris Balance: I'll be married and teaching in Richmond.

Sue Davis: I'm going to teach at Virginia Beach, and get myself a tan.

Jean Bentley: I plan to take up the professional carrer of teaching—Handley High School, Winchester.

"Sis" Parris: Teach the third grade in Danville.

Marjorie Burns: I haven't the remotest idea.

Viola Turner: I don't know either; I'd like to work in a lab somewhere.

B. J. Wiley: Teach in Emporia.

Bebe Geyer: Waiting for my picture to come out in the faculty section of a Maryland annual next year.

Peggy Cabaness: I'm getting married—and teaching, maybe.

Mary Ann Morris: I'm getting married Saturday. Maybe I'll teach next tyear.

Jane Burchett: I'm teaching in Marion.

Betty Burchett: I'm teaching in Bristol 'cause it's just 35 miles from Marion.

Ann Fulgham: Teach in Warwick High School, Morrison, Va.

Nancy Hughes: I'm going to teach high school at Baileysville, W. Va.

Kitty Rainey: I'm going to teach in Bedford county.

Virginia Bailey: I plan to teach the seventh grade in Suffolk.

Peepsie Brooks: Teach in Richmond at Westhampton Elementary School.

Virginia Tindall: I'm going to teach in Arlington.

121 Seniors Given Bachelors Degrees By Dr. Lancaster

One hundred twenty-one seniors were awarded bachelor's degrees this morning by President Dabney S. Lancaster at the sixty-fourth commencement exercises of State Teachers College.

The students who received degrees are Alice Ann Abernathy, Hilida Abernathy, Lucie Addleman, Estaline Anderson, Martha Elia Anderson, Rebecca Lois Anderson, Felicidad Avellanet, Jean Babb, Virginia Bailey, Doris Ballance, Jean Bently, Dorothy Bevard, Catherine Bickle, Anna Ruth Blair, Patsy Ruth Blair, Frances Blanton, Betty Bondurant, Lela Evelyn Bouldin, Dorothy Irene Bradley, and Neva Mae Brankley.

Also Mrs. Ruth Stephenson Brown, Louise Overton Brooks, Gladys Christine Bunch, Betty Burchett, Jane Burchett, Marjorie Ann Burns, Margaret Lee Cabiniss, Dorothy Leigh Chambers, Nancy Holroyd Chambers, June Clark, Mrs. Helen Warriner Coleman, June Marie Cregar, Mildred Courtland Davis, Sue Duvall Davis, Thelma Viola Davis, Virginia Adeline Dodd, Gertrude Elizabeth Driver, Edith Lee Duffy, and Jean Dawson Edgerton.

Also Frances Jewell Fears, Nancy Carlisle Foscue, Evelyn Hope Frank, Dorothy Ann Fulgham, Mary Virginia Goff, Ruby Ann Griffith, Charlotte Ann Grizzard, Lila Wimbish Hancock, Muriel Jacqueline Hancock, Catherine Lindsay Hankins, Augusta Leftwick Hargan, Ethel Squire Harrison, Mrs. Mary Early Hatch, Mary Aleise elmHer, Joyce Ellene Hill, Catherine Hogge, Tharon Virginia Holmes, Anne Randolph Holmes, and Nancy Willis Hughes.

Also Ruth Wilda Hunt, Azeele Caruthers Hutt, Charlotte S. Hutter, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Scott Jacobs, Elizabeth Grey Jeffreys, Carol Belle Jenkins, Margaret Louise Jones, Kathryn Grace Kappes, Novella Katie Lawrence, Martha Jean Leavitt, George Anne Lewis, Nancye Jane Litz, Frances Eulalie Livesay, Ellen Russell McMullan, Mildred Paige McWilliams, Jane Palmer Mantiply, Virginia Laura Marshall, Betty Minton, and Evelyn Maude Moore.

Also Peggy Anne Moore, Mary Anne Morris, Martha Frances Morrison, Elizabeth Claiborne Motley, Myra Anne Motley, Mary Constance Newman, Elizabeth S. Ogburn, Marjorie Eleanor Overby, Virginia Estelle Parris, Anne Dudley Payne, Ethel Alfreda Peterson, Mrs. Mary Lou Bagley Pickhardt, Carolyn June Poole, Mrs. Helen Hinton Poteat, Mrs. Frances Bell Pritchett, Harriet Marshall Purcell, and Mary Eleanor Putney.

Also Katherine T. Rainey, Betty Lee Renn, Phyllis Virginia Scherberger, Elizabeth Howison Scott, Betty Bernice Scroggins, Ethel Jacqueline Seymour, Ella Stone Smith, Betty Jean Snapp, Thelma Southall, Norma Louise Soyars, Nancy Walton Squire, Sarah Elizabeth Squires, Martha W. Stringfield, Harriette Elizabeth Sutherlin, Edna Agnes Taylor, Nancy Graham Taylor, Nancy Mina Taylor, and Virginia Lewis Tindall.

Also Elizabeth Eugenia Tolley, Frances C. Treakle, Dorothy Rhodes Tuck, H. LaVergne Tuck, Viola B. H. Turner, Katherine H. Whitmore, Barbara Jean Wiley, Helen Reeves Williams, Rebecca Tucker Winn, Margaret Elizabeth Wright, and Virginia Guy Yonce.

Alumnae News

The Accomac and North Hampton Chapters of the Farmville Alumnae will hold a luncheon Saturday, June 12, at "Lo Ponda" in Exmore. Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean William S. Savage, and Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner of the State Teachers College administration have been invited to attend the luncheon.

VIRGINIA GUY YONCE
See story page 1

Tennis Doubles

Last Sunday afternoon, the finals of the Doubles Tennis Tournament were played. Bennie Dudley and Betty Burchett, from Farmville and Suffolk, representing the Red and Whites, played Martha Berry, Charlottesville, and Lee Robertson, Danville, representing the Green and Whites. Berry and Robertson won 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

VERSER'S
Best wishes to the Seniors
"We Serve To Please"
VERSER'S
"We Serve To Please"

8-WEEK COURSE
Intensive summer school training in shorthand and typewriting. A day course recommended for high school graduates and college students.
Summer classes begin June 21 and July 6.
Attainable objectives are: (1) The ability to take notes on lectures and typewrite manuscripts; (2) Basic training in essential business skills; (3) Credit toward graduation from a complete Secretarial course.
REQUEST SUMMER SCHOOL BULLETIN
STRAYER COLLEGE
13th and F Sts., Washington 5, D. C.
Telephone, NAtional 1748

Faculty Changes

Continued from Page 1

Arthur Strickler and Mrs. Lillian Turner Hall have all tendered their resignations.

Dr. Lancaster has also announced the faculty promotions. Dr. Francis B. Simkins has been promoted from Associate Professor of History and Social Science to Professor of History and Social Sciences. Mr. Norman O. Meyer has been promoted from Assistant Professor to Associate Professor of Business Education. Mr Ralph J. Wakefield has received his promotion from Instructor in Music to Assistant Professor of Music. Dr. Beverly Ruffin, College Librarian is now Professor of Library Science. Mr. Raymond H. French has received a promotion from Assistant Professor to Associate Professor of Chemistry and Miss Margaret Sprunt Hall has been promoted from Instructor in Home Economics to Assistant Professor.

Another addition to the faculty will be Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel who will be Associate Professor of Historys. Dr. Schlegel graduated from Susquehanna and took his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees at Columbia. He has been associated with the University of Virginia and the Pennsylvania Historical Commission.

A leave of abence has been granted to Dr. Francis B. Simkins, and to Miss Mary B. Dabney. Dr. Simkins will go to Louisiana State University where he will teach Southern History. Miss Dabney will do graduate work at Columbia.

TO MEMBERS of Faculty and Student Body—We appreciate business given us this year.
G. F. Butcher Co.

Congratulations
To The Graduates
Kleanwell
Cleaners

Congratulations
Seniors
Gifts for all occassions
Southside Drug

Abernathy, Bently Win White Blazers

This year two white blazers which are the highest award, were awarded to Alice Anne Abernathy, Stoney Creek, and Jeane Bently, Roanoke. Alice Anne Abernathy was president of the monogram club, captain of the Varsity Hockey and Basketball teams, Jeane Bently was vice president of Student Government and Secretary and treasurer of the Monogram Club.

At this time four blue blazers were awarded, to the following girls: Jane Burchett, Suffolk, Betty Burchett, Suffolk, Betty Minton and Mary Ann Morris. This year Jane Burchett was president of A. A. Council and a member of the Monogram Club. Betty Burchett was secretary of A. A. Council and also a member of Monogram Club. Betty Minton was a member of Monogram Club, Betty Minton was a member of Monogram Club and on the Varsity Hockey team. Mary Anne Morris was vice president of A. A. Council and Secretary of Orchesis.

M. L. LANDRUM TO TEACH BUSINESS EDUCATION AT VPI

Mr. M. L. Landrum, head of the business education department at S. T. C., has accepted a position at Virginia Polytechnic Institute for the summer school session.

Mr. Landrum will teach a course in "Organization and Administration of Business Education" for high school business education administrators.

Miss Mary B. Dabney, senior Sponsor, who has been granted a leave of absence. See story on page 1.

Farewell Class of 1948
When In Need of Flowers
Wherever You May Be
Think of
Collins Florist

We Congratulate You
Class of '48
Flowers For All
Occassions
Chas. E. Burg
Florist

Shannon's Inc.
Extends Best Wishes To The
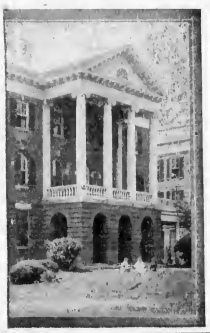
Class of 1948
Shannon's, Inc.



LEST WE FORGET

Pictured above is the Library where we spent many hours studying or just reading; to the right is White Gulfse where we went so often to chapel in the auditorium; and to the left is the T Building, well known to all Business Ed. majors. Below is what the future holds in store—the new auditorium and music building.

New Auditorium

Attention Everyone

GRADUATES!

Let the Rotunda help you keep up with what goes on at S. T. C.

UNDERCLASSMEN!

Let your parents, friends and schools at home know what is happening here at S. T. C. through The Rotunda.

Drop the attached coupon in the mail today or give it to the Business Manager.

Only $1.50 for 30 issues of The Rotunda from Sept. 29, 1948 to June 6, 1949

The Rotunda
Box 168, S. T. C.

Please send a years subscription of The Rotunda to the following. I enclose $1.50 in check, money order or cash.

Name _____

Address _____

City & State _____

CONGRATULATIONS
TO
CLASS OF 1948
Leggett's

Bowen's wishes each and every Senior
good luck
and much success
BOWEN
INC.
Jewelers

Meet the Faculty

DR. FLOYD F. SWERTFEGER

What would ever have thought that under the placid, perhaps scolarly exterior of Dr. Floyd F. Swertfeger ,our associatae professor of education, lies a colorful background of wild and wooly Western vintage? Yes, our own Dr. Swertfeger was raised, alone with many head of cattle, on a ranch in Sterling, Colorado.

But Dr. Swertfeger didn't have much time to practice the art toi rcowpunching, since he left home to go to schol at ttwelve years of age. After attending school in many parts of the United States and even in Canada, Dr. Swertfeger was drawn to the University of Virginia where he took his B. S., M. S., and Phy. Dr.

Dr. Swertfeger's first teaching position was at the University of Illinois which attracted him because there was an authority on Spinoza there. Imagine your interviewer's embarrassment when she asked 'what' Spinoza was. She found that he was a great philosopher. Subsequently he taught at the Black Hills Teachers College in South Dakota, at Huron College and at Parsons College in Iowa.

The psychology of perceptiion is Dr. Swertfeger's specialty, and this he tells us ,is the reason that he likes to have children tell him stories. He calls fishing his hobby, although he hasn't had time to indulge in it for several years. Students doubtless have noticed too that Dr. Swertfeger has a flair for loud ties ,particularly polka-dotted ones.

Dr. Swertfeger is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education society, and the Philosophy of Education Society

---

Mr. Norman O. Myers, Professor of business education at S. T. C., has been requested by A. L. Walker, State Supervisor of Commercial Education Service, State Board of Education, to work as a consultant to a proposed course of study committee during the week of June 21 to July 1 at Woodrow Wilson Vocational School.

A

Happy Summer Vacation

Junior With Good Intentions Make Plans for Big Summer

Exams are over! Pass or fail, they're over and I can breathe a great big sigh of relief. Now for the summer vacation. Somehow or other, after seeing Class Exercise sI'm not looking forward too much to leaving. It isn't that I couldn't stand a rest; its' just that I know when I leave this year all the things I have loved so much about this year are gone forever. Next tyear, of course, will be just as wonderful, but it just won't be the smae year. This year's Seniors will be gone. There is not much that I can do about the year that has passed, but I can keep in touch with the girls.

First, I am going to jot down in mydiary all my friends' addresses. I now solemnly swear to write each and every one of them during the summer. Perhaps I won't carry out my good intentions, but they are after all, very good intentions an dit is a brave gesture.

Next, I promise not to refuse any invitations to a visit a party wit hany of my friends. I wil lrun to the local train station, oversized overnight bag in hand, as soon as I can trick 'em into an invitation. However, there is one sit ohnsieation there. By finances probably won't stand it.

Even now, as I write this, I can foresee how this will all end. Here's a preview. First, I eevnr write—except home, for money; so I'll not change my long-standing habit this summer. I'll be doing good if I send a postcard. And a dsfor visiting—well, once I get home I'll not be ready to pack up to leave again. It takes me to September to unpack from school, anyway. Even so, last year I brought back one box I had never untied some day I('m going to open it). And if I could arouse enough energy to pack and make the effort to travel, I couldn't. I have made very important plans this summer to make scade of money. I'm going to work in the local button factory.

So there you are. I would like to follow through with these five resolutions and vows, but everything is against me. Anyway, I do plan to ae a vhgrand summer—and same to you.

The Spotlight

BETTY MINTON

Betty, who is affectionately called "Humphrey" by her closest friends, has surely won the title of Best All-Around girl in her four years at STC. She can usually be spotted by that laugh that makes everyone around her happy. For one so active—she has served as manager of volleyball, manager of softball, and participated in varsity hockey—she leans a great deal towards the intellectual side of life. In just a few more years she will own as many volumes as the school library. Added to the other list of activities of which Betty claims a part, we might add vice-presidency of House Council, Monogram Club, Rotunda Staff, and Alpha Sigma Tau sorority. Though to many she is thought of as a Physical Ed major, her interests have taken other directions. Ask her who discovered America sometimes and see if you can guess what she majors in.

Among her likes are, need we say, food, especially that she prepares herself. Anyone who does not believe she can cook, has only to taste her delicious butter creams or smell that delightful popcorn.

Next year will find Betty teaching in Roanoke. Well, we think you are one of the best, Betty, and know that Farmville's loss will be Roanoke's gain.

Speakers

Continued from Page 1

mond. He attended the University of Virginia where he received the B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees.

He began his teaching in the University of Virginia and has since been Professor of Sociology in the University of Alabama and in the University of Maryland; he took his present position in 1946.

In 1947 he was appointed by Governor Tuck to membership on the commission on Reorganization of the State Government. He is at present a member of the Mayor's committee on Public Welfare in the city of Richmond and Chairman of the Research Council of the Richmond Council of the Richmond University Center.

Spanish Workship

Continued from Page 1

will be $85.00 for the four weeks. There are a number of scholarships available to participants who will be teaching in the State of Virginia during the year 1948-49. The college grants six semester hours of credit for the Workshop Program.

The Workshop is open to teachers of Spanish at any level, college graduates planning to teach Spanish, and teachers of other subjects who would like to increase their knowledge of Spanish.

Among the S. T. C. students attending the Workshop will be Martha Anderson, Grace Kappes, Catherine Bickle, Noami Davey, and Craig Cumby.

Teaching Contract

Continued from Page 1

Mary Early Hatch, Delaware; Mary Helmer, Warwick county high school, Morrison; Anne Randolph Homes, Richmond; Nancy Hughes, Wyoming county, West Virginia.

Also Charlotte Hutter, Smithfield; Elizabeth Grey Jeffreys, Bel Air, Maryland; Carol Jenkins, Highland Springs; Kathryn Grace Kappes, Schoolfield; Katie Lawrence, Smithfield; Martha Jean Leavitt, Florida; Frances Livesay, Henrico county; Ellen McMullen, Culpeper; Mildred Paige McWilliams, Richmond; Betty Minton, Roanoke; Peggy Anne Moore, Norfolk; Anne Motley, Schoolfield, Constance Newman, Suffolk; Elizabeth Ogburn, Newburg, Maryland; Virginia Parris, Schoolfield; Anne Dudley Payne, Richmond; Carolyn June Poole, Franklin; Mrs. Helen Hinton Poteat, Campbell county; Mrs. Frances Bell Pritchett, Petersburg.

Harriet Purcell, Charlotte Court House; Katherine Rainey, Montvale; Betty Lee Renn, Lakeside school, Henrico county; Ella Stone Smith, Climax; Betty Jean Snapp, Winchester; Norma Soyars, Dinwiddie; Nancy Squires, Bel Air, Maryland; Sarah Squires, Virginia Beach; Martha Stringfield, Drewryville; Harriette Sutherlin, Halifax county; Edna Agnes Taylor, Altavista; Nancy Graham Taylor, Central high school, Accomac; Virginia Tindall, Arlington; Frances Treakle, Lawrenceville; Katherine Whitmore, Boykins; Barbara Jean Wiley, Emporia; Helen Reeves Williams, Bedford county; Tucker Winn, Martinsville; Virginia Yonce, Martinsville, Audrey Newman, Suffolk; and BeBe Geyer, Bel Air, Md.

Corinne Baker, to whom the final issue of "The Colonnade" was dedicated.

Careers Await Teachers of Retailing

Schools, colleges, seek trained men ,women

The rapid expansion of retailing and distributive education courses in secondary schools and colleges demands trained teachers and coordinators with advanced college training and practical retailing experience. Attractive, responsible positions await the graduates of foremost School of Retailing. The unique one-year program offered by New York University for men and women college graduates, leading to a master's degree, combines practical instructions, planned market contacts, and invaluable "New York experience" (planned, supervised work experience—with pay) in well-known New York stores Write for full details.

Request Bulletin T-22

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
School of Retailing

100 Washington Square,
New York 3, N. Y.

Our Food Is The Best

We Aim To Please
YOU

Come in and try a
Plate Lunch or Sandwich

COLLEGE SHOP

Ever See a Million?

A million is a lot of stars. On a clear night only 2,000 stars are visible at one time, acording to astronomers. So you'll have to stay in every night for two whole years to get to see a MILLION STARS.

For the official opening of their new store in Farmville, Bowen's will have a MILLION to show you (but nott stars!

BOWEN
INC.
Jewelers
111 N. Main Street Farmville, Va.

Graduates of '48
We Congratulate
You
Chappell's

Best of Luck
To the Seniors
of 1948
Rose's 5c, 10c, 25c
Stores

Appointments to staff of Institute of Living now open to college graduates for classes beginning September through November. Desire to be of service to others important attribute for success in this field of human relations. Valuable clinical psychiatric experience obtained. Living arrangements provided. Write to Institute of Living, 200 Retreat Avenue, Hartford 2, Connecticut.

Congratulations to the Graduating Class of 1948

BEST OF LUCK AND REMEMBER BALDWIN'S
FOR CLOTHES OF DISTINCTION

BALDWIN'S

Greetings
Old Girls

The Rotunda

Welcome
Freshmen

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1948 | No. 1

Dean Savage Calls Attention To Class Absence Regulations

Students Reminded Of Smoking Rules

Dean Savage has called to the attention of all students in College Section 18 of the Class Absence Regulations in the Handbook.

This section states that when a student has a total of two unexcused absences from class in a session, he or she must report to the Dean of the College and ex-

Parisian Student To Assist At STC In Latin, French

Mlle Yvette Ancey To Arrive This Week

From the S.T .C. Modern Language Department comes the announcement that Mlle. Yvette Ancey of Vanves (near Paris), France will assist in the French depart-

STC Adds Eight New Members To Faculty, Staff For '48-'49

Eleven To Assist College Librarian

Dr. Ruffin Announces New Staff Additions

Miss Gleaves Moves To Dean's Office

Eight new members have been added to the faculty and staff at S. T. C. for the winter session of 1947-48. In addition to these there have been several interdepartmental changes.

Miss Ruth Gleaves, who replaced Dean Martha Smith Smith as Dean of Women, was formerly Associate Professor of Home Economics. Miss Gleaves has the distinction of being the first hostess and manager of Longwood and also a Farmville Alumna. She received her M. A. from Columbia University and has done graduate work at the University of Tennessee and the University of Chicago. She is a member of the American Vocational Association, the Virginia Home Economics Association and the Farmville Woman's Club. She is advisor to the Pan-Hellenic Association and was formely advisor to Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Miss Caroline R. Eason, formerly supervising teacher in the Kindergarten of the Training School, succeeded Miss Rosemary Elam as Assistant to the Dean of Women. Miss Eason is a graduate of S. T. C. and her father was for many years head of the Biology Department here.

Mrs. Ralph J. Wakefield has been made Longwood Hostess. This position was held last year by Mrs. Harriet C. Gramam.

Mrs. Josephine McKeeby Phillips is replacing Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro in the Mathematics Department. Mrs. Phillips received her A. B. and M. A. from Montclair, New Jersey, State Teachers College. She formerly taught in the Franklin, N. J., High School, and also served as a Lieutenant (J. G.) in the United States Coast Guard.

Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss has been promoted from the position of Associate Professor of History and Social Science to Head of the History Department, succeeding Dr. James E. Walmsley. Replacing Dr. Moss in the History Department is Dr. Marvin Wilson Schlegel. Dr. Schlegel received his B. A. from Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, and his M. A. and Ph. D. from Columbia University in New York City. He formerly taught in the St. Helena Extension of the College of William and Mary in Norfolk, Virginia.

Miss Vera Frances Baron has accepted the position of assistant in the Biology Department. Miss Baron received her B. S. from Farmville State Teachers College and has done graduate work at William and Mary, Roanoke College, and the University of Virginia. She was formerly head of the

Continued on Page 3

AVES
Women

assmen
ntation

President of
t, reports this
re forty eight
and assistants
men and new
r first week at
led groups in e college were
ned. They led tours of the acquaint them

ho were either
ere Jean Cake,
n East, Jackie
Jefferson.
t, Frances Far-
r, Grace Mal-
lajorie Miller,
a Gillum, Gwen
ig, Frances De-
Freeman, Anne
tts, and Janie

re also juniors
were; Betty
lips, Barbara
Banks, Louise
Maddox, Helen
s, Bee Hilton,
Barbara Sours,

oar, Patsy Rit-
on, Helen Ar-
Ferrel, Hope
, Jackie Eagle,
Helen Holbrook,
d Laura Jean

Subscribe To
Your Rotunda

The Rotunda

Subscribe To
Your Rotunda

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, JULY 14, 1948 | No. 1

Summer Sports Program Planned

Common Glory Trip Seen For Future

The Entertainment Committee headed by Misses Olive T. Iler, Rosamearv Elam, and Mr. French has planned some recreation for the summer school students at STC. Two popular sports have already been in progress. Tennis instruction is being given from 5 p.m to 6 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Lee Robertson is assisting Miss Iler. The courts are available for playing at any other time. Recreational swimming is conducted on Monday through Friday at 4 p.m. by Miss Louise Brooks for the girls and at 5:00 p.m. by Stuart McGhee for the boys. The pool will be open on certain Saturdays and Sundays when announced by a notice posted in the Home Office.

Another possible chance of enjoyment in the near future may be a trip to Williamsburg to see the "Common Glory." These plans are in the making and as soon as things are definite an announcement will be made. Two of Broadway's younger leading men Walter Brooke, as Thomas Jefferson, and John Morley as narrator, head of a cast of 150 players. Among them are several from Richmond and many from other parts of the state. This play runs for two hours beginning at 8:15 p.m. It has a fifteen minute intermission. Each act include nine scenes.

31 Register In Elementary Workshop

Miss Alice Carter has announced that registration of thirty-one students has established the workshop for elementary teachers. The workshop is open to those who wish to enroll for a three, six, or eight weeks course.

Miss Carter also said that the workshop is being conducted by the Education Department. It is planned carefully and must have the approval of the State Board. Its primary function is to help teachers to understand the techniques of guiding pupils in their studies and in their behavior.

Dr. Edgar Jornson said that the workshop is conducted in such a way that part of the class period is spent in a general session, and for the remainder of the period the students may work on their individual problems according to the interest each has.

"Some of the various interests on which the students work," said Dr. Johnson, "are the fol-

(Continued on page 3)

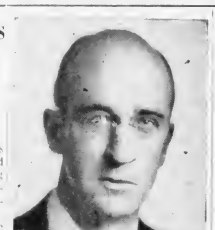
Miss Gray Directs Counseling Clinic

Seven Counselors Aid Students

A new counseling service has been set up this summer on third floor, west wing, main building with Miss Dorothy Gray, psychologist with the Danville Regional Consultation Service, as acting director. The Guidance Clinic began work here at the State Teachers College on June 21, 1948, and will continue for five weeks.

The purpose is to help train teachers in using the tools and techniques of guidance in the schools throughout Virginia.



The clinic is composed of seven counselors who will be directed and supervised in their method of guilding the local students who have volunteered to enter this course of training. Each student makes four visits to the clinic. On his first visit he finds out what it is all about, fills out specified forms, and takes an interest-questionnaire. On his second visit he has a complete interview in which is disclosed his entire background, such as health, recreation, main interests, and hobbies, and his home life. On his third visit he takes standard tests to reveal his general abilities, personality, aptitudes, etc. His fourth visit consists of a final interview in which he is presented with the information about himself that has been gathered from the previous tests and interviews. He is given further information about the fields of work in which he has expressed an interest in order that he may see the reasons for and against his entering such fields of work.

The function of the clinic is a two-fold one. First, it is to help the secondary school develop and improve their guidance programs. Second, it is to provide vocational guidance for out-of-school youth throughout the state.

This is the second year that such clinics have been conducted. One was held at Radford College last year and its success is the reason for two being held there this year.

The function of the clinic is a two-fold one. First, it is to help the secondary school develop and improve their guidance programs. Second, it is to provide vocational guidance for out-of-school youth throughout the state.

This is the second year that such clinics have been conducted. One was held at Rudford College last year and its success is the reason for two being held there this year.

DR. DABNEY S. LANCASTER

Summer School Opens With 362 Students

The State State Teachers College opened its doors to more than 360 students on June 21, 1948, for its summer session. At the first chapel exercises on Friday, June 25, President Lancaster said, "That a truly successful, educational, and enjoyable summer is anticipated."

Of the 362 students, 320 are living in the dormitories, and the remainder at various homes in town. Many reasons have brought the group together. Some wish to accelerate their college course in order to finish in three years. Some who have been teaching with a Normal Professional Certificate now wish to get a degree, or to work toward one. Some are here to attend the Workshops; others are getting credits for the renewal of their certificates.

Among the student body are one new-comer from Jayuya, Puerto Rico, Ada Robles; 39 freshmen from all parts of Virginia; and 16 out-of-state students.

For the first time the dormitories are open for boys, making the school a truly co-educational one. Of the fifty-nine men in school, nine occupy the Home Management House, and eat "en masse" with the rest of the student body.

Rotunda Notice

For a bigger and better Rotunda we must have more subscribers and contributers. For after all, its the "men behind the lines that win the battle." The subscription price is forty cents for three copies of the Rotunda. So why not see Martha Kitchen immediately and sign up for your copies? You will also find that working with the

continued on Page 3

Summer Student Council Convenes

Mosely Re-Elected Council President

The election of the student council for the summer session of '48 was held June 24. Already the new council has organized with nine members. Five are students enrolled in the regular college session and four are summer school students who have had previous teaching experience.

Miss Elizabeth Mosely, the capable former president of the council for the session of '47, was re-elected president. Miss Mosely will receive her B.S. degree this summer and will resume her position in the elementary school in Rustburg, Virginia, where she has taught for several years.

Mrs. Ringold F. Miller, a resident teacher of Norfolk, Virginia, was chosen vice president. She was also on the council last summer. Mrs. Miller teaches history in the Granby high school and is working for her B.S. degree.

Sarah Lee Robertson, former student of Fairfax Hall and at present a member of the Senior class, was chosen secretary of the council. Lee is a history major and is working toward a B.S. degree.

Other members of the council are Miss Mary Mason who is principal of John Wyatt school in Lynchburg; Mrs. Phyllis Byrd who teaches math and physical education in the Woodrow Wilson Junior high school in Roanoke; and Miss Betsy Scott, a recent

(Continued on page 4)

Longwood Picnic Scheduled Friday

A picnic at Longwood for the entire student body and faculty has been announced by the Student Council to be held on Friday, July 16, at 6:00 p.m.

Miss Elizabeth Mosley, president of the council, suggested at a recent meeting that the students and faculty members be asked to sign up in advance any guests they expect to have so that all may be provided for.

Mr. S. L. Graham, Business Manager, who has charge of the transportation has requested that all people desiring transportation to Longwood, be on the campus in front of the main building between five and five-thirty o'clock of the day of the picnic.

Faculty members and students will supply the informal entertainment, and the staff of the Rotunda the summer newspaper will sell coca-colas after the supper. Benefit the Rotunda!

en Welcomed to STC ties and Receptions

of parties and lass of '52 was
ole S. T. C.
arrived before
informed them
nab" party to honor on Mon-
ngs and fun and
and nabs, for me was had by

ight these new ere entertained
ass (those high
s) in the main
re singing, and ying made the
o really feel at

Freshmen had

yet to be formally introduced to Dean and Mrs. Savage, President and Mrs. Lancaster, Miss Gleaves, and those "big wheels on campus" known as the Heads of the Organizations. But all this was soon and properly taken care of at the annual Big Sister-Little Sister Reception. From the Junior's version of May Day to the last number everyone was highly entertained. In fact the Freshmen even had a couple of tricks in the form of entertainers up their sleeves.

With all these good times behind them and the promise of more in the near future we doubt if any of our "little" Freshmen can say that their first week at S. T. C. was a dull one.

Meet the Faculty

DR. FLOYD F. SWERTFEGER

What would ever have thought that under the placid, perhaps scolarly exterior of Dr. Floyd F. Swertfeger ,our associatae professor of education, lies a colorful background of wild and wooly Western vintage? Yes our own Dr. Swertfeger was raised, along with many head of cattle, on a ranch in Sterling Colorado.

But Dr. Swertfeger didn't have much time to practice the art tof cowpunching, since he left home to go to schul at ttwelve years of age. After attending school in many parts of the United States and even in Canada, Dr. Swertfeger was drawn to the University of Virginia where he took his B. S. M. S. and Phy. Dr.

Dr. Swertfeger's first teaching poeition was at the University of Illinois which attracted him because there was an authority on Spinoza there. (Imagine your interviewer's embarrassment when she asked 'what' Spinoza was. She found that he was a great philosopher.) Subsequently he taught at the Black Hills Teachers College in South Dakota, at Huron College and at Parsons College in Iowa.

The psychology of perceptiion is Dr. Swertfeger's specialty, and this he tells us ,is the reason that he likes to have children tell him stories. He calls fishing his hobby, although he hasn't had time to indulge in it for several years. Students doubtless have noticed too that Dr. Swertfeger has a flair for loud ties ,particularly polka-dotted ones.

Dr. Swertfeger is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, honorary edcation society, and the Philosophy of Education Society.

Mr. Norman O. Myers, Professor of business education at S. T. C., has been requested by A. L. Walker, State Supervisor of Commercial Education Service, State Board of Education, to work as a consultant to a proposed course of study committee during the week of June 21 to July 1 at Woodrow Wilson Vocational School.

The Spotlight

BETTY MINTON

Betty, who is affectionately called "Humphrey" by her closest friends, has surely won the title of Best All-Around girl in her four years at STC. She can usually be spotted by that laugh that makes everyone around her happy. For one so active—she has served as manager of volleyball, manager of softball, and participated in varsity hockey—she leans a great deal towards the intellectual side of life. In just a few more years she will own as many volumes as the school library. Added to the other list of activities of which Betty claims a part, we might add vice-presidency of House Council, Monogram Club, Rotunda Staff, and Alpha Sigma Tau sorority. Though to many she is thought of as a Physical Ed major, her interests have taken other directions. Ask her who discovered America sometimes and see if you can guess what she majors in.

Teaching Contract

Continued from Page 1

Mary Early Hatch, Dejaware; Mary Helmer, Warwick county high school, Morrison; Anne Randolph Homes, Richmond; Nancy Hughes, Wyoming county, West Virginia.

Also Charlotte Hutter, Smithfield; Elizabeth Grey Jeffreys, Bel Air, Maryland; Carol Jenkins, Highland Springs; Kathryn Grace Kappes, Schoolfield; Katie Lawrence, Smithfield; Martha Jean Leavitt, Florida; Frances Livesay, Henrico county; Ellen McMullen, Culpeper; Mildred Paige McWilliams, Richmond; Betty Minton, Roanoke; Peggy Anne Moore, Norfolk; Anne Motley, Schoolfield, Constance Newman, Suffolk; Elizabeth Ogburn, Newburg, Maryland; Virginia Parris, Schoolfield; Anne Dudley Payne, Richmond; Carolyn June Poole, Franklin; Mrs. Helen Hinton Poteat, Campbell county; Mrs. Frances Bell Pritchett, Petersburg.

Harriet Purcell, Charlotte Court House; Katherine Rainey, Montville; Virginia Yonce, Martinsville, Audrey Newman, Suffolk; and BeBe Geyer, Bel Air, Md.

Corinne Baker, to whom the final issue of "The Colonnade" was dedicated.

Happy

Junior W. Make Pla.

Exams are over! Pa they're over and I can great big sigh of relief the summer vacation. or other, after seeing C cise sI'm not looking fo much to leaving. It is couldn't stand a rest. that I know when I year all the things I l so much about this yea forever. Next tyear, will be just as wonder just won't be the smae year's Seniors will be g is not much that I car the year that has pas can keep in touch with

Ever See a Millio

A million is a lot of stars. On a clear night only 2,0 are visible at one time, acordine to astronomers. So you to stay up every night for two whole years to get to see LION STARS.

For the official opening of their new store in Fa Bowen's will have a MILLION to show you but not

BOWEN

INC.

Jewelers

111 N. Main Street Farmvi

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published bi-weekly during the Summer session of State Teachers College by students of the college.

Office: Student Building Phone 246

Printers: The Farmville Herald

Staff

Mildred Garnett ..... Editor-in-Chief
Annette Jones ..... Managing Editor
Martha Kitchen ..... Business Manager
Ann Tucker ..... News Editor
Louise Bereman ..... Feature Editor
Molly Hudson ..... Typist

WEDNESDAY, JULY 14, 1948

Rotunda Makes Its Bow

Again the Rotunda will be published during the summer session. With the help of each student here in school, the paper will be a success. Why not come on out and support your school by subscribing? Every article you write, and the time you contribute towards the Rotunda, will be highly appreciated by the staff. They are doing their utmost to publish a creditable newspaper for the summer students.

The staff is composed of members from the journalism class, under the direction of Mr. J. M. Grainger, head of our English Department.

The purpose of the Rotunda is to draw the students closer together and let the school news be known to all.

During the winter session everyone looks forward to each Wednesday night, when she can rush into the dining hall and read the Rotunda. It is impossible for a paper to be published every week in the summer session, but three issues will be brought out. The editors hope that all will join hands and help make this objective of the journalism class a big success.

Support Your Government

Have you paused to think of the significant part Student Government plays maintaining the reputation of S. T. C. and of each member of the student body? Without any regulations the morale of S. T. C. would be lowered—not intentionally, of course, but merely by the students, failing to think before they act.

Put yourself in the position of a member of the Student Council. She has no desire to go about the campus as a detective, but it is her duty under the honor code to see that the regulations are carried out. Each student likewise should feel her responsibility to live up to the standards that have been set up. If he and she did so there would be no necessity for the enforcement of the rules.

Almost all of the students at S. T. C. are preparing to be, or are already, teachers of America. And they want Farmville State Teachers College to be recognized as "tops" in teacher education. This can be brought about only by every student holding her own standards high.

In order for our summer home to remain a happy place in which to live together, we must support our student government one hundred per cent.

The Master's Minority In Chapel On Tuesday's

If you have not attended voluntary chapel programs on Tuesdays at 12:15, then you should acquaint yourself with them.

The attendance on Tuesday is voluntary and the program is more spiritual than that held on Thursdays. Tuesday chapel provides a special time in the school week for group assembly when there can be quiet meditation. It is a special time for prayer when you can pray for yourself, for others, and for the school.

Usually the local ministers lead the devotionals. You will be inspired by their messages and you will want to meet them personally and know them better. Of the two assemblies which have been held, however, Dr. Lancaster led the first on June 29th, Mr. Grainger the second on July 6th. Mr. Grainger spoke on "The Education of Jesus", and brought out that it was Jesus's education that prepared him to do what he did.

Although the Baptist Student Union is now functioning on the campus as a vital part of the Baptist Students' life, the assemblies on Tuesdays are for all denominations.

The deeper spirit of the State Teachers College is found among those who are sensitive to the secret of maximum Christianity. Those who receive the greatest blessings at college are those who keep themselves in the center of things, who share their spiritual experiences, who show consideration for others, and who learn unselfish cooperation.

To be a maximum Christian and to make your contribution, attend the religious chapel services on Tuesday.

Student Council Adopts Rules

On Wednesday afternoon, June 30, the student body assembled in the auditorium for its first meeting of the summer session. The purpose of the "get together" was to set before the students the new regulations which had been adopted by the Student Council.

The following rules were issued and carefully explained to the students by Miss Elizabeth Mosely, the newly elected president of Student Council:

1. Study hours must be observed, and there must be quiet in all buildings from 8:00 to 10:00 p.m. except Saturdays and Sundays.

2. The halls must be quiet by 11:00 p.m. radios and phonographs must not be heard outside the rooms in which they are being used.

3. All students must be in their rooms for bed-check by 11:00 p.m. except on Saturday nights. Then they must be in their rooms by 11:45. Students returning from week-ends off the campus must be back in their rooms for bed-check. If anyone is unable to return on the date specified on her "going away slip," the Dean of Women must be notified of a change of plans by telephone or telegram. Students must return from day trips by 10:30 p.m. If a student can not be found at bed-check, the hall president will notify Mrs. Dugger, who will advise Dean Smith. If the student is still reported absent the following morning, her parents or family will be called.

4. No drinking of alcoholic beverages by S. T. C. students is permitted in the college or in the vicinity of Farmville, and no evidence of drinking will be permitted, after returning from trips.

5. Students under 21 are not permitted to ride in cars or to go swimming off the campus without permission from the office of the Dean of Women.

6. All students leaving town must sign out in the Dean of Women's office on "going away slips."

7. All students going to the movies must sign out" in the home office.

8. Students may go to the train station until 7:30 p.m. without signing out.

9. No student should leave the campus because of illness without notifying the school physician or nurse.

10. Graduates and former students are always welcomed on week-ends and are not charged for meals or for accommodations for a period not exceeding two days.

11. Students may go down town at any time during the day.

12. Any student may eat away from the campus with or without dates without signing out (during the week or week-end) as long as she remains in Farmville and is back on the campus by 8:00 p.m.

Continued on Page 3

Greetings
Old Girls

The Rotunda

Welcome
Freshmen

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1948 | No. 1

Dean Savage Calls Attention To Class Absence Regulations

Students Reminded Of Smoking Rules

Dean Savage has called to the attention of all students in College Section 18 of the Class Absence Regulations in the Handbook.

This section states that when a student has a total of two unexcused absences from class in a session, he or she must report to the Dean of the College and ex-

Parisian Student To Assist At STC In Latin, French

Mlle Yvette Ancey To Arrive This Week

From the S. T .C. Modern Language Department comes the announcement that Mlle. Yvette Ancey of Vanves (near Paris), France will assist in the French depart-

STC Adds Eight New Members To Faculty, Staff For '48-'49

Eleven To Assist College Librarian

Dr. Ruffin Announces New Staff Additions

Miss Gleaves Moves To Dean's Office

Eight new members have been added to the faculty and staff at S. T. C. for the winter session of 1947-48. In addition to these there have been several interdepartmental changes.

Miss Ruth Gleaves, who replaced Dean Martha Smith Smith as Dean of Women, was formerly Associate Professor of Home Economics. Miss Gleaves has the distinction of being the first hostess and manager of Longwood and also a Farmville Alumna. She received her M. A. from Columbia University and has done graduate work at the University of Tennessee and the University of Chicago. She is a member of the American Vocational Association, the Virginia Home Economics Association and the Farmville Woman's Club. She is advisor to the Pan-Hellenic Association and was formely advisor to Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Miss Caroline R. Eason, formerly supervising teacher in the Kindergarten of the Training School, succeeded Miss Rosemary Elam as Assistant to the Dean of Women. Miss Eason is a graduate of S. T. C. and her father was for many years head of the Biology Department here.

Mrs. Ralph J. Wakefield has been made Longwood Hostess. This position was held last year by Mrs. Harriet C. Gramam.

Mrs. Josephine McKeeby Phillips is replacing Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro in the Mathematics Department. Mrs. Phillips received her A. B. and M. A. from Montclair, New Jersey, State Teachers College. She formerly taught in the Franklin, N. J., High School, and also served as a Lieutenant (J. G.) in the United States Coast Guard.

Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss has been promoted from the position of Associate Professor of History and Social Science to Head of the History Department, succeeding Dr. James E. Walmsley. Replacing Dr. Moss in the History Department is Dr. Marvin Wilson Schlegel. Dr. Schlegel received his B. A. from Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, and his M. A. and Ph. D. from Columbia University in New York City. He formely taught in the St. Helena Extension of the College of William and Mary in Norfolk, Virginia.

Miss Vera Frances Baron has accepted the position of assistant in the Biology Department. Miss Baron received her B. S. from Farmville State Teachers College and has done graduate work at William and Mary, Roanoke College, and the University of Virginia. She was formerly head of the

Continued on Page 3

AVES
Women

assmen ntation

President of
t, reports this
re forty eight
and assistants
men and new
r first week at
led groups in college were
ned. They led tours of the acquaint them

ho were either
ere Jean Cake,
n East, Jackie
Jefferson.
t, Frances Far-
r, Grace Mal-
lajorie Miller,
a Gillum, Gwen
ig, Frances De-
Freeman, Anne
tts, and Janie

re also juniors
were; Betty
lips, Barbara
Banks, Louise
Maddox, Helen
t, Bee Hilton,
Barbara Sours,

naar, Patsy Rit-
on, Helen Ar-
Ferret, Hope
, Jackie Eagle,
lelen Holbrook,
d Laura Jean

en Welcomed to STC ties and Receptions

of parties and lass of '52 was
ole S. T. C.
arrived before
informed them
nab" party to honor on Mon-
ngs and fun and
and nabs, for me was had by night these new ere entertained

ss (those high
s) in the main
re singing, and ying made the
o really feel at

Freshmen had

yet to be formally introduced to Dean and Mrs. Savage, President and Mrs. Lancaster, Miss Gleaves, and those "big wheels on campus" known as the Heads of the Organizations. But all this was soon and properly taken care of at the annual Big Sister-Little Sister Reception. From the Junior's version of May Day to the last number everyone was highly entertained. In fact the Freshmen even had a couple of tricks in the form of entertainers up their sleeves.

With all these good times behind them and the promise of more in the near future we doubt if any of our "little" Freshmen can say that their first week at S. T. C. was a dull one.

A Colyumette

For LITTLE WALTER

STUFF LIKE THAT THERE

Love letters straight from Bebe Geyer's heart—quote "I'd walk a million miles—" "—tain't' a song either."

Margie Forrester's been crooning, "Can't' Help Loving That MANN of Mine."

Would someone please tell us where Chuckatuck is? Bet Kitchen could but she won't.

And now we'll have that pause that refreshes—
I wonder if I'll ever see him—
It seems we're never dating!
He is either left an hour ago
Or else I'm sitting waiting.

I well remember all he did
When we were out together
I well remember what he wore
And just the type of weather

But when 'tis he I want to see
Of course he's not around!
I'd look the whole world over twice
If he could just be found.

I wonder if there's such a man
(I'd like to know him better)
The only thing that makes him real
Is once he wrote a letter.

And this poor little sheet of paper
I'll keep right close at hand—
So I can pull it out and touch it
And know there's such a man.

FLASH! Latest reports state that one lorn preacher here in town is still unmarried—and all the single women are furiously trying to learn to play tennis . . . They say he's quite good at it.

Tips To Teachers

Equation:
From HOW you teach,
Take WHAT you preach,
And multiply by WHO
Add WHY and WHEN,
Divide, and then,
The quotient WHICH—is you.
—Samuel A. Broate.

THE SUCCESSFUL TEACHER NEEDS

The education of a college president,
The executive ability of a financier,
The humility of a deacon,
The adaptation of a chameleon,
The hope of an optimist,
The courage of a hero,
The wisdom of a serpent,
The gentleness of a dove,
The patience of Job,
The Grace of God, and
The persistence of the devil.
Syracuse Bulletin,
(Journal of N.E.A.) Dec., 1945

Elementary Workshop

Continued from Page 1

lowing: reading, spelling, elementary science, elementary social studies, elementary supervision, eighth grade work, art and physical education.

THE NEW LOOK

By TONI ALLEN

Your columnist, while on the outlook for new fashion trends, "discovered" a fashion which has caused some men to become quite perturbed.

It seems the male population does not approve of the new uses women are making of their neckties. Have you seen the new bathing suits made from old ties? Depending on the size, this very smart suit takes from twenty to thirty ties, and can be as gay as you like! The suit, originally styled by Henry Rosenfield, is two-pieced with the broad ends of the ties forming the skirt and the smaller ends forming the top.

Bow ties, which Frank Sinatra made so poular, are also gaining popularity among the weaker sex, but women have a slightly different use for them. Have you seen how ties used as perky hair brows? They are attractive and go especially well with summer cottons. Perhaps George Elliott will contribute one of his smart "swoopers" to the cause!

When you go on picnics this summer you may add a note of color by utilizing a bright tie as a belt with your slacks or shorts. The yellow knit tie Leonard Shaw wears would look very chic as the belt on black or navy blue slacks.

If you to will observe the neckties of our co-eds, girls, I am sure you will get a number of colorful ideas!

Adopts Rules

(Continued from page 2)

If she has signed out for the movies after dinner, she need not return to the campus until after the first movie but never later than 10:30 p.m.

13. No absences from classes except for illness.

14. Any student may sit on campus or date until 10:30 p.m.

15. Any student may go down town from 7:00 to 10:30 p.m. if she signs out.

16. Any student wishing to go down from 7:00 to 10:30 p.m. must sign out.

17. All girls with their dates must be on campus by 10:30 p.m. each night. Boys must leave each night at 10:45 except on Saturday nights, then 11:45.

18. Any student may go to Cedar Brook, to Burkeville or to White Way, subject to change at any time, with permission from a member of the Home Department, if she is back by 8:00 p.m. Only students over 21 may go after 6:30 p.m. They may stay until 10:30 p.m.

19. General riding is never permitted after 8:00 p.m. Permission must be secured from home for car riding and then only with approved dates.

Secrets to life growth called key to cancer.

Luckman urges more goods produced at lower prices.

23 Entered In Spanish Workshop Taught By Native Spaniard

Miss Edwards Heads Kappa Delta Pi

Miss Rives Edwards was elected president of Kappa Delta Pi for the summer at the meeting held July 7. Other officers elected were vice president, Miss Emma Moss; secretary-treasurer, Miss Mildred Jones.

Kappa Delta Pi is an honor society in education and recognizes those students who rank high in scholarship and leadership in education. Beta Epsilon chapter was organized here in 1928 as an outgrowth of Pi Kappa Omega, the first honor society on the campus.

News From The Library

PRIZE WINNING BOOKS FOR CHILDREN ON DISPLAY

Two colorful exhibits of Newberry and Coldecott Prize books for children in the College Library are attracting the attention of the many teachers here for the summer session. "All of the students are cordially invited to examine and make use of these and many other provisions for their convenience and pleasure," stated Dr. Beverley Ruffin, the librarian.

A copy of the Richmond phone directory on the main desk has created much interest. Everyone is welcome to use it.

At present there is also an exhibit of mathematical instruments and publications put on by Miss C. B. Taliaferro, of the Faculty. Later on there will be exhabits of the publications of the Virginia State Board of Education and other interesting collections.

Many changes have been planned for the Library. A new map room is being developed. Reorganization of the materials in the Reserve Room will take place. New shelves have arrived, and it is hoped that the installation will not disturb the students too much.

"Everyone" says Dr. Ruffin "is cordially welcome to use any materials in the Library." Access to all parts of the Library is free, especially the stacks.

Other members of the staff of the Library for the summer session besides Dr. Ruffin are: the assistant librarians, Miss Marion C. Terry; Miss Lillian Seaberg; and clerk librarian, Mrs. Celest R. Blanton. Full-time student assistants are Eula Ayers, Jacqueline Burkholder, Nell Foster, Katherine Johnston, and Ruth Walker.

Rotunda Notice

Continued from Page One

staff on the paper can be fun. So, if you would like to help publish the paper come around to see us. We'd like to have you.

English Taboo In Month's Classes

Under the direction of Dr. Salvatore C. Mangiafico, the Virginia Workshop for Teachers of Spanish is being held again at State Teachers College this summer. The workshop is organized to help teachers to gain greater oral proficiency in Spanish and to better their teaching of Spanish by Dr. Mangiafico and Miss Margaret Rudd, professor of Spanish at Westhampton College, University of Richmond in 1946, who moved to S. T. C. in 1947.

The 23 participants this year range from three young women just entering the teaching profession to older professors with many years of teaching experience. Each is pledged to speak only Spanish, and only members of the staff may speak English with visitors. Spanish it is, exclusively, from the 6:45 a.m. breakfast—that's desayuno," through morning class session, through "almuergo" —eaten, as are all meals, in a reserved, isolated section of the college dining hall, through the two-hour "siesta," afternoon classes, seminars, "cena"—that's dinner, and then the "hora de musicar" and recreation.

Dr. Mangiafico, the Director, grew up in Spain, but came to this country some years ago, and is now an American citizen. He was on the faculty of Sweet Briar College for 16 years before going to Georgia State College for Women it Milledgeville two years ago. On his workshop staff is Senorita Maria de Unamuno, daughter of Miquel de Unamuno, who Dr. Mangiafico identifies as "the great Spanish philosopher and author." Also here are Senorita Gloria Goicohea from Jima, Peru, whose mother is director of a Peruvian normal school, and whose father is a University professor.

Miss Coe, the secretary, who is a faculty member at Stuart Hall, Staunton, and Miss Emily Barksdale, of STC, the registrar of the workshop, are the only staff members, who so unfortunate as to

(Continued on page 4)

Miss Moran Holds Geography Workshop

Under the direction of Miss Moran, head of the department of geography, a summer workshop is being conducted here at Farmville. The purpose of the workshop is to enable those teaching in the grades to improve their knowledge of teaching methods in the classroom.

The Geography Workshop will last throughout the entire eight weeks term. Regular discussion classes are held every morning, private classes in the afternoon. There are two sections of the workshop the primary and the grammar divisions.

Meet the Faculty

DR. FLOYD F. SWERTFEGER

What would ever have thought that under the placid, perhaps scholarly exterior of Dr. Floyd F. Swertfeger ,our associatae professor of education, lies a colorful background of wild and wooly Western vintage? Yes, our own Dr. Swertfeger was raised, along with many head of cattle, on a ranch in Sterling Colorado.

But Dr. Swertfeger didn't have much time to practice the art tof ecowpunching, since he left home to go to schol at ttwelve years of age. After attending school in many parts of the United States and even in Canada, Dr Swertfeger was drawn to the University of Virginia where he took his B S° M. S. and Phy. Dr.

Dr. Swertfeger's first teaching pcation wa: at the University of Illinois which attracted him because there was an authority on Spinoza there. Imagine your interviewer's embarrassment when she asked 'what' Spinoza was. She found that he was a great philosopher.) Subsequently he taught at the Black Hills Teachers College in South Dakota, at Huron College and at Parsons College in Iowa.

The psychology of perceptiion is Dr. Swertfeger's specialty, and thi, he tells us ,is the reason that he likes to have children tell him stories. He calls fishing his hobby, although he hasn't had time to indulge in it for several years. Students doubtless have noticed too that Dr. Swertfeger has a flair for loud ties ,particularly polka-dotted ones.

Dr. Swertfeger is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education society, and the Philosophy of Education Society.

Mr. Norman O. Myers, Professor of business education at S. T. C., has been requested by A. L. Walker, State Supervisor of Commercial Education Service, State Board of Education, to work as a consultant to a proposed course of study committee during the week of June 21 to July 1 at Woodrow Wilson Vocational School.

The Spotlight

BETTY MINTON

Betty, who is affectionately called "Humphrey" by her closest friends, has surely won the title of Best All-Around girl in her four years at STC. She can usually be spotted by that laugh that makes everyone around her happy. For one so active—she has served as manager of volleyball, manager of softball, and participated in varsity hockey—she leans a great deal towards the intellectual side of life. In just a few more years she will own as many volumes as the school library. Added to the other list of activities of which Betty claims a part, we might add vice-presidency of House Council, Monogram Club, Rotunda Staff, and Alpha Sigma Tau sorority. Though to many she is thought of as a Physical Ed major, her interests have taken other directions. Ask her who discovered America sometimes and see if you can guess what she majors in.

Among her likes are read ma-

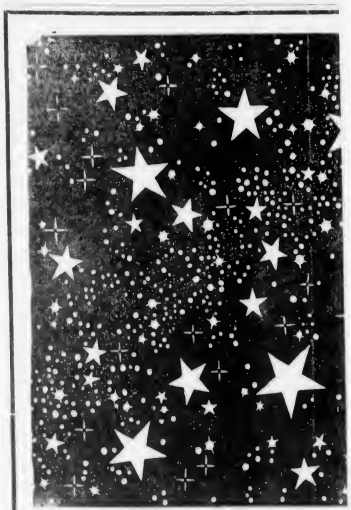
Teaching Contract

Continued from Page 1

Mary Early Hatch, Delaware; Mary Helmer, Warwick county high school, Morrison; Anne Randolph Homes, Richmond; Nancy Hughes, Wyoming county, West Virginia.

Also Charlotte Hutter, Smithfield; Elizabeth Grey Jeffreys, Bel Air, Maryland; Carol Jenkins, Highland Springs; Kathryn Grace Kappes, Schoolfield; Katie Lawrence, Smithfield; Martha Jean Leavitt, Florida; Frances Livesay, Henrico county; Ellen McMullen, Culpeper; Mildred Paige McWilliams, Richmond; Betty Minton, Roanoke; Peggy Anne Moore, Norfolk; Anne Motley, Schoolfield, Constance Newman, Suffolk; Elizabeth Ogburn, Newburg, Maryland; Virginia Parris, Schoolfield; Anne Dudley Payne, Richmond; Carolyn June Poole, Franklin; Mrs. Helen Hinton Poteat, Campbell county; Mrs. Frances Bell Pritchett, Petersburg.

Harriet Purcell, Charlotte Court House; Katherine Rainey, Montville; Virginia Yonce, Martinsville, Audrey Newman, Suffolk; and BeBe Geyer, Bel Air, Md.



Corinne Baker, to whom the final issue of "The Colonnade" was dedicated.

Happy

Junior W Make Pla

Exams are over! Pr they're over and I can great big sigh of relie the summer vacation. or other, after seeing (cise sl'm not looking f much to leaving. It i couldn't stand a rest that I know when I year all the things I so much about this yea forever. Next tyear, will be just as wonde just won't be the smae year's Seniors will be g is not much that I ca the year that has pa can keep in touch witl

Ever See a Millio

A million is a lot of Stars. On a clear night only 2,0 are visible at one time, acordine to astronomers. So you to stay in every night for two whole years to get to see LION STARS.

For the official opening of their new store in Fa Bowen" will have a MILLION to show you but not

BOWEN

INC.

Jewelers

111 N. Main Street Farmv

Crosley Traveling Can Be Harrowing

Have you ever tried to fold four feet of legs into a space meant for one foot? Well, I have! It was in a Crosley convertible. I couldnot decide whether to open the door and fall in or better still, politely step over the top of the car. One was just about as easy as the other!

After I finally struggled in with one broken toe I sat down this was natural because when I sat down I fell an extra three feet to the seat which was on the floor. After that, I expected almost anything to happen, and, believe me, the night was eventful. As we took off in high gear, I opened the door to the glove compartment, only to be greeted by a miniature "Fibber McGee" closet—containing the spare tire. The only thing of normal size in the car was the radio, which blared forth loudly. We changed stations in order to hear "The Old Revival Hour." The organ was sweetly playing "Nearer My God To Thee," and for a while there, it was quite appropriate. I glanced at the speedometer and it read 50 m.p.h. That little car could really travel. At this point, I suddenly decided to change my position, only to be confronted with the command, "Keep still. You'll wreck the car."

I looked ahead and saw that we were rapidly approaching a huge moving van. Would we stop or would be go under it? That was my immediate thought. My mind was quickly put at ease as we turned left at the next corner.

After making the turn, we found ourselves almost at the rear of a long stream of traffic. Between the two rows of cars was a small space through which only we could pass. We made it. It's a certain fact that a Crosley really has its advantages.

When the light changed, we were the first to start off. This was possible because of the long, tedious journey from the rear of the line of cars up to the front.

Amazed and a little bewildered, we arrived back home. I still marvel at the fact that we were there all in one piece. I was in rather good condition — better than I expected, but I still have a weak heart as a result of "Traveling in a Crosley."

Baptist Center Holds "Open House"

The Baptist students of STC experienced a real treat at "Open House" at the Baptist Center last Thursday night. A large number attended and many new acquaintances were made. Delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Chris Flint, Baptist Student Secretary, showed slide films of people and places of interest to all.

European needs for U. S. coal drop.

SOPHIA B. PACKER

After missing Mrs. Sophia B. Packer for a year from the Infirmary staff of our college, we are delighted to have her back with us again as resident nurse. No more do we dread going to the infirmary with our numerous "aches and pains" because we know that Mrs. Packer is there to help us. Her vitality alone is a good remedy for many illnesses.

Mrs. Packer's home is at Hampden-Sydney, and she was educated right here at State Teachers College. She is still a firm supportr of the "Red and Whites."

Her father, Dr. Booker, was a Presbyterian missionary to China, and Mrs. Packer lived there also. And, it was to China that she went as a Red Cross nurse after World War I, and the completion of her nurses' training.

It was during the crisis of World War I that Mrs. Packer decided to become a nurse in order to "do her bit" toward winning the war, and we all know that she certainly chose the right profession.

In her immaculate uniform, she certainly looks the part, and every little detail of the infirmary reflects her proficiency as a homemaker for sick girls, Mrs. Packer is both a nurse and a mother to us, and we all join in saying, "We have missed you Mrs. Packer, and we are glad that you are back."

Council Convenes

Continued from Page 1

graduate.

Student members from the regular college session are Delila Agostini, Junior, Calvin Hatcher, former G.I. and present member of the junior class, and Annette Jones, junior.

Immediately on being elected, the council convened and revised the rules of last summer session and submitted them to President Lancaster and Dean Savage for approval. Then they were presented to the student body by Miss Mosely at a called meeting June 30.

Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss, professor of history and adviser to the student government for several years, has consented to serve as adviser to the council for this session.

Spanish Workshop

Continued from Page 3

have English as their native tongue.

On July 17 comes the "fiesta," to which the public is invited. Dances, skits, scenes from films, songs and recitations will be presented, and once again English may be spoken by all.

Much has been said and written about the Spanish Workshop on our campus. Its general objectives are familiar to most of us as they are carried out by the efficient staff, and its twenty-three participants. Perhaps more may well be said about the workshop from a less technical and more informal point of view.

"What is a day in the Workshop like?" From the teachers point of view it means hard work, and from the students' point of view also it means work, work, and more work. The fact that everyone of the participants has been carefully chosen, and has come inspired by an ardent desire to learn to speak good Spanish makes the process of teaching and learning a very pleasant one.

The studies of customs and folklore and of the economic geography of Latin America, given in the form of lectures by the active director, Senior Mangiafico, give the students a chance to test themselves in comprehension of the language and at the same time to learn more about their neighbor countries. Through these lectures, students come to feel that if they were ready to make a trip to all these countries, they would know what they were going to find, and what they were going to see and hear.

Th conversational classes offer a variety of interesting experiences. Here, some try to overcome the timidity which characterizes the first efforts to converse in a foreign language. Others who are more sure of themselves speak so confidently that on passing their rooms, one must stop and listen, pleased and proud of the excellent progress being made in a difficult task.

In the speech clinics, the students test their pronunciation by recording their own inflexion always with the help of one of the teachers. Later on, they check both and try to correct the mistakes by constant repetition. Through this practice one of the main objectives in the workshop is being accomplished: the acquisition of a good pronunciation which will give self-confidence in the speaking of the language to all those who teach or plan to teach.

The seminar, the only meeting-which is conducted in English, is the time to bring the problems and major difficulties in teaching to the group. The discussions have proved most helpful to everyone of the participants.

The hour of singing, very much enjoyed by many, is also an hour of work. The words of the songs must be well pronounced, and sung with a true Latin American and Spanish spirit.

"Un clavel corte—un-cla-vel-cor-te. Oh, no, you are not saying it right. Someone did not open his mouth as he should." "Un-cla-vel-cor-te." That is perfect! (Srta Aleman speaking). Scenes like this are very familiar, and they illustrate two things: a very marked interest on the part of the teachers in trying to make the students do their best, and also an unequalled seriousness of purpose on the part of the students in trying to work effectively even in their singing hour.

To tell about the wonderful spirit that prevails in the workshop would take several articles. Many incidents that could be told to show that everyone is really interested and that even among so many tasks to be accomplished, three is time to laugh and relax.

The spirit prevailing in the Spanish Workshop in Farmville State Teachers College shows that there is receptivity for the learning of foreign languages among many Americans. It also shows that more workshops like this would help to make us more conscious of what other people have to offer us. A limitless treasure of literary masterpieces, the beauties of their language, the dignity of their art and music, the appreciation of all these things would make use realize that the people the world around us should be our friends.

No Cause For Alarm

"Look out girls, there's a man on the hall"! At this startling announcement all girls naturally rush out to catch a fleeting glance of somebody's big, handsome brother—they hope. This time, however, they suffered an immense disappointment when their eyes beheld the passing of a tiny boy. They had been warned, though, that summer school would be something different, and that they have found to be true.

The dormitory has acquired a homey atmosphere with children playing down at one end of the hall and a group of teachers at the other end discussing those ever present problems of school life.

No gripes and grunbles, though! It's all just fine. And here's hoping that some day "our little boy" will become one of our outstanding co-eds.

For A Bite To Eat That Can't Be Beat

Visit

The Bar That Pleases

The Snack Bar

"The Best Shakes and Sodas In Town"

Greetings Old Girls

The Rotunda

Welcome Freshmen

VOLUME XXVIII FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1948 No. 1

Dean Savage Calls Attention To Class Absence Regulations

Students Reminded Of Smoking Rules

Dean Savage has called to the attention of all students in College Section 18 of the Class Absence Regulations in the Handbook.

This section states that when a student has a total of two unexcused absences from class in a session, he or she must report to the Dean of the College and ex-

Parisian Student To Assist At STC In Latin, French

Mlle Yvette Ancey To Arrive This Week

From the S. T .C. Modern Language Department comes the announcement that Mlle. Yvette Ancey of Vanves (near Paris), France will assist in the French department this year.

STC Adds Eight New Members To Faculty, Staff For '48-'49

Eleven To Assist College Librarian

Dr. Ruffin Announces New Staff Additions

Miss Gleaves Moves To Dean's Office

Eight new members have been added to the faculty and staff at S. T. C. for the winter session of 1947-48. In addition to these there have been several interdepartmental changes.

Miss Ruth Gleaves, who replaced Dean Martha Smith Smith as Dean of Women, was formerly Associate Professor of Home Economics. Miss Gleaves has the distinction of being the first hostess and manager of Longwood and also a Farmville Alumna. She received her M. A. from Columbia University and has done graduate work at the University of Tennessee and the University of Chicago. She is a member of the American Vocational Association, the Virginia Home Economics Association and the Farmville Woman's Club. She is advisor to the Pan-Hellenic Association and was formely advisor to Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Miss Caroline R. Eason, formerly supervising teacher in the Kindergarten of the Training School, succeeded Miss Rosemary Elam as Assistant to the Dean of Women. Miss Eason is a graduate of S. T. C. and her father was for many years head of the Biology Department here.

Mrs. Ralph J. Wakefield has been made Longwood Hostess. This position was held last year by Mrs. Harriet C. Gramam.

Mrs. Josephine McKeeby Phillips is replacing Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro in the Mathematics Department. Mrs. Phillips received her A. B. and M. A. from Montclair, New Jersey, State Teachers College. She formerly taught in the Franklin, N. J., High School, and also served as a Lieutenant (J. G.) in the United States Coast Guard.

Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss has been promoted from the position of Associate Professor of History and Social Science to Head of the History Department, succeeding Dr. James E. Walmsley. Replacing Dr. Moss in the History Department is Dr. Marvin Wilson Schlegel. Dr. Schlegel received his B. A. from Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, and his M. A. and Ph. D. from Columbia University in New York City. He formerly taught in the St. Helena Extension of the College of William and Mary in Norfolk, Virginia.

Miss Vera Frances Baron has accepted the position of assistant in the Biology Department. Miss Baron received her B. S. from Farmville State Teachers College and has done graduate work at William and Mary, Roanoke College, and the University of Virginia. She was formerly head of the

Continued on Page 3

Bridge Tonight

The Rotunda

Dance Sat. Night

VOLUME XXVII FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, FRIDAY, JULY 30, 1948 No. 2

Moss Heads History Dept.

French Made Asst. Chemistry Professor

At commencement on May 31, President D. S. Lancaster announced the promotion of two members of the faculty, in which all persons connected with the college were much interested. Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss was advanced to the head of the history department on the retirement of Dr. J. E. Walmsley, and Mr. Raymond H. French became associate professor of chemistry.

Dr. Moss comes from Lynchburg. He took his B.A. degree from Washington and Lee University and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees at Yale University. At college he was a member of Beta Theta Phi fraternity and Omicron Delta Kappa leadership fraternity. Dr. Moss came to Farmville first in 1926. He left, but returned in 1944, and has been here ever since. Dr. Moss has taught at Episcopal High School, Wake Forest College, and Mary Washington College. His specialty in the field of history is American colonial history. Dr. Moss is adviser to the student government this summer.

Mr. Raymond H. French, one of the best known persons at STC, needs little introduction. Everyone knows "Charlie Hop," a name given him by his room-mate at college.

Mr. French received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from VPI, and

(Continued on page 4)

Episcopal Youth Conference Here

An Episcopal Youth Conference composed of the young people from the diocese of the southern division of Virginia was held here at S. T. C. from July 18, to 24, with the Rt. Rev. George Purrell Gunn, Bishop CO-Adgutor in charge. Approximately two hundred people attended including faculty, counselors, and students.

The purpose of the conference was expressed in the motto: "God works through me." A day for the group consisted of hour classes each morning; hobbies and athletics in the afternoon; and stunts, games dancing, and movies at night.

All who attended declared that the congenial atmosphere of the campus and the hospitality displayed by the members of the administration and student body was enjoyed and greatly appreciated.

MISS RUTH GLEAVES

Gleaves Succeeds Smith As Dean

Eason Named To Assistant Post

President Dabney S. Lancaster announced at the commencement exercises May 31, 1948 that Dean Martha Smith had resigned her position as Dean of Women and that she will be succeeded by Miss Ruth Gleaves, who was Associate Professor of Home Economics. Miss Rosemary Elam also resigned as Assistant to the Dean of Women. Miss Caroline R. Eason, supervising teacher in the Kindergarten of the Training School, will become her successor.

Miss Gleaves is from Ivanhoe, Virginia. She received her B.S. degree at Farmville STC and her Master's degree from Columbia University. She has taught in Franklin, Richmond, Wytheville, Virginia, in Florida and also at Radford College. She has served as Secretary to the Y. W. C. A. in Richmond, and at one time acted as hostess and manager of Longwood.

Miss Eason is from Richmond. She is the daughter of the late Thomas B. Eason, former professor of Biology at STC and afterwards secretary to the State Board of Education. She is a graduate of John Marshall High School and of Farmville STC. She taught in Richmond prior to coming to Farmville as supervisor in the Kindergarten of the Training School.

DEAN MARTHA S. SMITH

Dean MarthaSmith Resigns From STC

Expresses Regret At Leaving

The many students and members of the faculty regret to see Dean Martha Smith Smith leave Farmville at the close of the summer session. In 1945, she came from Wayne Teachers College, in Nebraska, where she was Dean of Women. Dean Smith has attended several colleges. Her freshman and sophomore years were spent at Western. She took her A. B. from Butler, her M.A. from Birmingham-Southern, and her Ph.D. in Educational Psychology and Measurements from the University of Nebraska. She holds two certificates from French universities and two from schools of French in America.

Her outstanding contribution to education has been her untiring effort to establish Etiquette as a course of instruction at college level. She has been a pioneer in her field and after some eight or ten years of writing, lecturing, and forming Etiquette Clubs, she succeeded two years ago in establishing a course in Etiquette, offering full college credit. This course attempts to orient young women in the basic principles of gracious living.

For eight or nine years the Extension Division of the University of Nebraska has published Dr. Smith's correspondence course in Etiquette.

Dr. Smith has put out the first, and still the only extensive objective standardized test in Correct Social Usage. These tests were

(Continued on page 4)

Bids Issued To Twelve By K.D.P.

Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi has issued bids to twelve persons to become members.

Those who received bids are: Barbara Lee Andrews, Miss Gertrude Bain, Mrs. Lois T. Berry, Mrs. Thelma Ruth Burley, Miss Annie Bland Hood, Mrs. Rose M. Inge, Mrs. Eva Powers Madrin, Mary Rose Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth Rush Stumps, Mrs. Betty Webb Wiley and Craig Cumby.

Kappa Delta Pi is an honor society in education and recognizes those students who rank high in scholarship and leadership in education.

Beorc Eh Thorn Installs Officers

Beorc Eh Thorn, English honorary society, held installation and initiation ceremonies Wednesday, July 28. The officers for next summer were installed and the new members were initiated.

The new members are Mrs. Ethel Allen, Misses Gertrude Bain, Louise Berman, Rives Edwards, Mrs. Gilberta Hubbard, Misses Annie Bland Hord, Mildred Jones, Elizabeth Moseley, Emma Moss, Locie Moss, Mrs. Lily Rice Price, Mrs. Pattie Smith Simmonds Misses Coralie Wooldridge, Anne Tucker.

Officers elected were Mrs. Margaret Dillon Waddell, president; Mrs. Gilberta Hubbard, vice-president; Miss Gertrude Bain, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Grainger entertained the group at a picnic supper at their home at five in the afternoon. After the supper, Mrs. Grainger played the harp and sang old English ballads for the group. Mr. Grainger accompanied her on the flute.

STC "Rec" Scene Of Lion's Party

The STC "Rec" was the scene of the celebration on Friday, July 16, by the Farmville Lions Club of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the local club. Several members of the faculty participated along with 200 local members, many state and district officers, and their womenfolk. For it was also Ladies Night.

A history of the club since the founding by the late President J. L. Jarman who was to the time of his death a guiding spirit, was given by ex-Senator R. K. Brock. Dr. J. E. Walmsley, past presi-

Continued on Page 4

AVES Women

assmen ıtation

President of t, reports this re forty eight and assistants men and new r first week at led groups in college were ned. They led tours of the acquaint them ho were either ere Jean Cake, East, Jackie Jefferson.

t, Frances Farr, Grace Majorie Miller, a Gillum, Gwen ıg, Frances Freeman, Anne tts, and Janie re also juniors were; Betty lips, Barbara Banks, Louise Maddox, Helen s, Bee Hilton, Barbara Sours, nar, Patsy Ritton, Helen Ferret, Hope Jackie Eagle, felen Holbrook, d Laura Jean en Welcomed to STC ties and Receptions of parties and lass of '52 was ole S. T. C. arrived before informed them nab" party to honor on Monıgs and fun and acted as hostess and manager of Longwood. nabs, for me was had by night these new ere entertained as (those high s) in the main re singing, and ying made the o really feel at

Freshmen had yet to be formally introduced to Dean and Mrs. Savage, President and Mrs. Lancaster, Miss Gleaves, and those "big wheels on campus" known as the Heads of the Organizations. But all this was soon and properly taken care of at the annual Big Sister-Little Sister Reception. From the Junior's version of May Day to the last number everyone was highly entertained. In fact the Freshmen even had a couple of tricks in the form of entertainers up their sleeves.

With all these good times behind them and the promise of more in the near future we doubt if any of our "little" Freshmen can say that their first week at S. T. C. was a dull one.

Meet the Faculty

DR. FLOYD F. SWERTFEGER

What would ever have thought that under the placid, perhaps scolarly exterior of Dr. Floyd F. Swertfeger, our associatae professor of education, lies a colorful background of wild and wooly Western vintage? Yes our own Dr. Swertffeger was raised, along with many head of cattle, on a ranch in Sterling, Colorado.

But Dr. Swertffeger didn't have much time to practice the art tof ecowpunching, since he left home to go to schol at ttwelve years of age. After attending school in many parts of the United States and even in Canada, Dr. Swertfeger was drawn to the University of Virginia where he took his B. S., M. S., and Phy. Dr.

Dr. Swertffeger's first teaching position was at the University of Illinois which attracted him because there was an authority on Spinoza there. Imagine your interviewer's embarrassment when she asked 'what' Spinoza was. She found that he was a great philosopher. Subsequently he taught at the Black Hills Teachers College in South Dakota, at Huron College and at Parsons College in Iowa.

The psychology of perceptition is Dr. Swertfeger's specialty, and this he tells us is the reason that he likes to have children tell him stories. He calls fishing his hobby, although he hasn't had time to indulge in it for several years. Students doubtless have noticed too that Dr. Swertffeger has a flair for loud ties ,particularly polka-dotted ones.

Dr. Swertffeger is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education society, and the Philosophy of Education Society.

Mr. Norman O. Myers, Professor of business education at S. T. C., has been requested by A. L. Walker, State Supervisor of Commercial Education Service, State Board of Education, to work as a consultant to a proposed course of study committee during the week of June 21 to July 1 at Woodrow Wilson Vocational School.

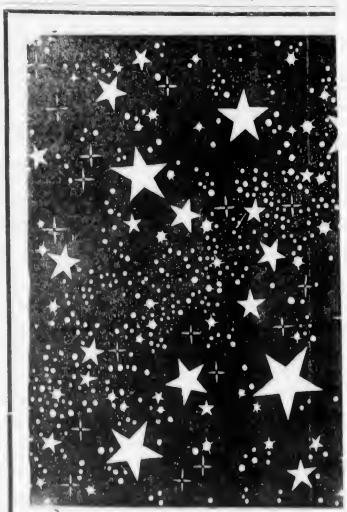
The Spotlight

BETTY MINTON

Betty, who is affectionately called "Humphrey" by her closest friends, has surely won the title of Best All-Around girl in her four years at STC. She can usually be spotted by that laugh that makes everyone around her happy. For one so active—she has served as manager of volleyball, manager of softball, and participated in varsity hockey—she leans a great deal towards the intellectual side of life. In just a few more years she will own as many volumes as the school library. Added to the other list of activities of which Betty claims a part, we might add vice-presidency of House Council, Monogram Club, Rotunda Staff, and Alpha Sigma Tau sorority. Though to many she is thought of as a Physical Ed major, her interests have taken other directions. Ask her who discovered America sometimes and see if you can guess what she majors in.

Teaching Contract

Continued from Page 1



Mary Early Hatch, Dejaware; Mary Helmer, Warwick county high school, Morrison; Anne Randolph Homes, Richmond; Nancy Hughes, Wyoming county, West Virginia.

Also Charlotte Hutter, Smithfield; Elizabeth Grey Jeffreys, Bel Air, Maryland; Carol Jenkins, Highland Springs; Kathryn Grace Kappes, Schoolfield; Katie Lawrence, Smithfield; Martha Jean Leavitt, Florida; Frances Livesay, Henrico county; Ellen McMullen, Culpeper; Mildred Paige McWilliams, Richmond; Betty Minton, Roanoke; Peggy Anne Moore, Norfolk; Anne Motley, Schoolfield, Constance Newman, Suffolk; Elizabeth Ogburn, Newburg, Maryland; Virginia Parris, Schoolfield; Anne Dudley Payne, Richmond; Carolyn June Poole, Franklin; Mrs. Helen Hinton Poteat, Campbell county; Mrs. Frances Bell Pritchett, Petersburg.

Harriet Purcell, Charlotte Court ville; Virginia Yonce, Martinsville, Audrey Newman, Suffolk;

Corinne Baker, to whom the final issue of "The Colonnade" was dedicated.

Ever See a Millio

A million is a lot of stars. On a clear night only 2,0 are visible at one time, acording to astronomers. So you to stay up every night for two whole years to get to see LION STARS.

For the official opening of their new store in Fa Bowen' will have a MILLION to show you but not

BOWEN

INC

Jewelers

111 N. Main Street Farmvi

Happy

Junior W Make Pla

Exams are over! F they're over and I ca great big sigh of rel the summer vacatior or other, after seeing cise sI'm not looking much to leaving. It couldn't stand a res that I know when I year all the things I so much about this ye forever. Next tyear, will be just as wonde just won't be the sma year's Seniors will be is not much that I ca the year that has pa can keep in touch wit

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published bi-weekly during the Summer session of State Teachers College by students of the college.

Office: Student Building Phone 246

Printers: The Farmville Herald

Staff

Mildred Garnett ..... Editor-in-Chief
Annette Jones ..... Managing Editor
Martha Kitchen ..... Business Manager
Ann Tucker ..... News Editor
Iris Coleman ..... Feature Editor
Molly Hudson ..... Typist

FRIDAY, JULY 30, 1948

Summer Practice Teaching

Students in the Summer Session at Farmville often raise the question, "Why can we not get practice teaching in the summer?" for eight summers S. T. C. has been operating without a course in student teaching. This has brought disappointment to many of the teachers.

Practice teaching given during the regular fall and winter session includes three different techniques: observation, demonstrations, and student teaching.

Conditions are somewhat difficult during the summer. The facilities and the faculty are available. They are not the problems. The real problem pertains to the pupils without whom no school can function.

There are always a few children of summer school students here every summer who might well be in school. It is true they do not represent a proper cross section of American life. They are children of the more privileged, educated people and of those striving for an education.

To them the months of June, July and are vacation periods. From Christmas until June they talk about the summer, when school will be closed. After that they can kick up their heels, go swimming and enjoy life. Consequently they come to Farmville to play, not to attend school. But why cannot some other arrangement be made?

Practice teaching is required for graduation and it would seem that since the college does not give credit for successful "in service" experience, teachers who can attend the college only during their vacation should be able to get practice teaching during the summer session. For this reason Madison College runs a practice school for during the summer. Why shouldn't Farmville?

The General Assembly has also made available isx hundred summer school scholarships for Virginia teachers beginning with the summer of 1948.

These scholarships should help to relieve the distressing situation of permitting unqualified teachers to serve in the field of education.

Demand For Teachers

"At the outbreak of the war a shortage of competent adequately educated teachers threatened the State. Practically all fit young men teachers were drafted, and many of the more alert and patriotic women went into other kinds of service. Now that the war is over, it is estimated that only fifteen per cent plan to return to the classrooms. Moreover, alarmingly small numbers of talented students are preparing themselves for teaching careers." The seriousness of this situation now may be attributed to the fact that other professions have appeared to be more attractive and better paid than teaching.

The problem can only be solved by the people's realization of the necessity for a higher quality of education for their boys and girls. "It would also help to give the public an enlightened view of the teacher's importance. The world tomorrow needs capable, young people educated for leadership in science, but it needs capable teachers more. There is no doubt that hundreds of earnest, talented boys and girls in Virginia admire their teachers and want to be like them. Others have played teacher as their favorite game. They love children and want to work with them. Others are on the alert for opportunities to serve. With encouragement and helpful guidance many more might enter proudly upon the pursuit of an education that would enable them to become teachers. If the most talented and capable of these young people could be sought out at the right time and enabled to see their way clear to preparing themselves for careers as teachers, their abilities would be conserved and mobilized for the benefit of the State".

Exam. Schedule

		Exam Hr.	Class Hr.
August	11	1:45	1:45
August	12	7:30	7:30
August	12	10:00	8.40
August	13	7:30	9:50
August	13	10:00	11:00

More Enrollment Now Than Before

"This is not a time to slacken up, but a time to double up," so the motto goes. What then is the position of education in America today? Are our colleges increasing in enrollment or are they falling behind in this respect?

From the United States Office of Education comes this bit of enlightening information. There are 1,753 colleges with a record enrollment of 2,328,326; the number of veterans attending is 1,122,648.

Our largest universities are New York University, 46,000, University of California, 43,000, Columbia University 31,000, University of Minnesota, 28,000, and University of Illinois 26,000. The total enrollment is nearly 11 per cent higher than last year's figures and is millions higher than the pre-war period.

State Approves New Buildings

Work Scheduled To Begin This Year

President Dabney S. Lancaster stated recently that he hoped work would begin on the two new buildings at STC in 1948. He stated that the State Art Commission has approved the plans for the Science Hall, and has also approved the sites for both the Science Hall and the Auditorium and Music Building. The Science Building will be located back of Cunningham Hall, west of Race street. The auditorium will be located on High street, west of the Library.

The architects are almost ready to call for bids on the Science building. Meanwhile, plans for the Auditorium are under consideration.

The college plant as it stands today represents the working out of far-sighted plans made by the late President J. L. Jarman early in his administration and carried out during his service to the college. The following is a sketch of the developments of the building program with dates for some of the major steps.

1884—State Female Normal School, the first normal school in Virginia, was established at Farmville in a square brick building near the site of the present Rotunda.

....1903—West wing was complet"ed, housing Training School, Library, Infirmary, wood working shops, and geography department.

1905—The Main Auditorium was added with dormitories above, and the Rotunda completed.

1912—The new Training School and the new Infirmary built.

1914—The name was changed to the State Normal School for

Continued on Page 4

Greetings
Old Girls

The Rotunda

Welcome
Freshmen

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1948 | No. 1

Dean Savage Calls Attention To Class Absence Regulations

Students Reminded Of Smoking Rules

Dean Savage has called to the attention of all students in College Section 18 of the Class Absence Regulations in the Handbook.

This section states that when a student has a total of two unexcused absences from class in a session, he or she must report to the Dean of the College and ex-

Parisian Student To Assist At STC In Latin, French

Mlle Yvette Ancey To Arrive This Week

From the S. T .C. Modern Language Department comes the announcement that Mlle. Yvette Ancey of Vanves (near Paris), France will assist in the French department this year.

STC Adds Eight New Members To Faculty, Staff For '48-'49

Eleven To Assist College Librarian

Dr. Ruffin Announces New Staff Additions

Miss Gleaves Moves To Dean's Office

Eight new members have been added to the faculty and staff at S. T. C. for the winter session of 1947-48. In addition to these there have been several interdepartmental changes.

Miss Ruth Gleaves, who replaced Dean Martha Smith Smith as Dean of Women, was formerly Associate Professor of Home Economics. Miss Gleaves has the distinction of being the first hostess and manager of Longwood and also a Farmville Alumna. She received her M. A. from Columbia University and has done graduate work at the University of Tennessee and the University of Chicago. She is a member of the American Vocational Association, the Virginia Home Economics Association and the Farmville Woman's Club. She is advisor to the Pan-Helienic Association and was formely advisor to Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Miss Caroline R. Eason, formerly supervising teacher in the Kindergarten of the Training School, succeeded Miss Rosemary Elam as Assistant to the Dean of Women. Miss Eason is a graduate of S. T. C. and her father was for many years head of the Biology Department here.

Mrs. Ralph J. Wakefield has been made Longwood Hostess. This position was held last year by Mrs. Harriet C. Gramam.

Mrs. Josephine McKeeby Phillips is replacing Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro in the Mathematics Department. Mrs. Phillips received her A. B. and M. A. from Montclair, New Jersey, State Teachers College. She formerly taught in the Franklin, N. J., High School, and also served as a Lieutenant (J. G.) in the United States Coast Guard.

Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss has been promoted from the position of Associate Professor of History and Social Science to Head of the History Department, succeeding Dr. James E. Walmsley. Replacing Dr. Moss in the History Department is Dr. Marvin Wilson Schlegel. Dr. Schlegel received his B. A. from Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, and his M. A. and Ph. D. from Columbia University in New York City. He formely taught in the St. Helena Extension of the College of William and Mary in Norfolk, Virginia.

Miss Vera Frances Baron has accepted the position of assistant in the Biology Department. Miss Baron received her B. S. from Farmville State Teachers College and has done graduate work at William and Mary, Roanoke College, and the University of Virginia. She was formerly head of the

Continued on Page 3

Gossip, Stuff Like That There

Who was the girl that typed her boy friend a letter so he would know how business-like she was? Everything would have gone along fine except the letters on the typewriter were worn and she couldn't tell where th period and comma were—so she used the question mark!

FLASH—Can't someone please find Liz Collier a man? Although she confesses she's nearing thirty, anything over eighteen will be considered eligible. Look out Liz I saw your flash before Martha wrote this.—Junior Smith.

Darlene simply has Charlie Skinner guessing, she informed her hall. What we want to know is what he has her doing?—Falling in love maybe?

This Acres, Woodburn, and Newby triangle gets more involved daily. Which will it be Carolyn? —Oh well, they are both brunettes, they are both brunettes.

Jenny Powell and Jacky Woodward love their Bills. The former has been seen investigating those conference boys—You can't be true, dear—(?)

Babe Moss stepped up to bat at Longwood after the government picnic but Woodburn struck him out. Bob is glad Mr. Coyner doesn't play ball—hoping to pass psychology, anyway.

"Live-wire" Shelton has a date—but 'tain't' so peculiar—she's one of those "Miss Glamoor" gals.

Congrats to Miss Elam for that rock which weights down her third finger, left hand. What one wants to know is what excitement gave her that headache Saturday?

Our old buddy Nancy Biscoe got engaged on us, too, and then left school—was it really because of her eyes that she stopped? Missing her, we are.

One of the boys can't understand why he has to see the same ones in the Rotunda every evening?

FLASH—Who is it that Mrs. 'D' is looking for after ten o'clock? Of course, it's the man in the moon.

It's just about time the boys around here have a say so—so here goes!

67-68-69-70, said Lover Goode as he stood outside the shoot 'em up Thursday night! It sho was worth the trouble of breaking into the piggy bank El—Lover. I hear also he had a great time meeting Mr. Rickey and Mr. Collins at Woodberry!

They tell me that Raw Oyster has a crush on a certain oysterette, namely, Acres. What a stew!

Ask Harry James (hands) why he shaved his mustache and where he hid his trumpet.

Bruce Morton fooled 'em all—What a picnic! Eh—Margaret?

It must be pretty expensive, Byran, to make all those trips to Richmond!

Well, guess it's time to pack up the gossip, but to just put you

Continued from Page 3

Attention, Veterans!

World War II veterans who have lapsed their National Service Life Insurance have only until July 31 to reinstate under the present easy plan, the Veterans Administration pointed out today.

In most cases, a veteran now may reinstate a lapsed policy without a physical examination by paying two monthly premiums and signing a statement that his health is as good as when he dropped his insurance. On and after August 1, a physical examination will be required where a policy has been lapsed more than 90 days.

Veterans wishing help in reinstating should visit their nearest VA office, or they may write to the Insurance Director, Veterans Administration, 900 N. Lombardy Street, Richmond 20, Virginia.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The NEW LOOK

by Toni Allen

While strolling through the downtown shops today I noticed that some new fall clothes had arrived.

A trend toward the renascence of navy in the fall wardrobe is noticeable, but black dresses are, of course, still in vogue. Glimpsed on the fashion horizon are tanager red, hemlock green, and tar brown as the most important new colors, with some old fall favorites running a close second.

The popular bertha of last season is being rapidly replaced by a wide shawl collar. The collar, sometimes pointed in the back, is occasionally cut of contrasting material.

There are a number of things to look for in the new fall trends such as rounded shoulders, narrower than when the "new look" first came in, corset middles, and wider hip lines, accomplished by pockets at the waist or by stiffening in the fabric of suit jackets.

Furs are being used lavishly. When fur is not on milady's costume, beads or embroidered work will, in all probability, replace it.

Furs! On a day like this, when all of us would rather be ice skating at the North Pole or skiing in Switzerland! It would be smart to plan your fall wardrobe now,, though, even if you do shirk from the ordeal. So good shopping!

Entire Stock of
Spring and Summer Dresses Greatly Reduced
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Air Conditioned For Your Comfort

Question of the Week

How much recreational entertainment would you like here for the remainder of this summer and what kind do you suggest?

Mildred Garnette: Moderate amount. More dances.

Carol Akers: Moderate amount. Rides to the lake.

Lover Goode: Much. Bridge tournaments.

Bill Harrison: Much. Softball games between boys and girls.

Lou Bergman: None. I can furnish my own.

Dot Dickson: Little. Dance on just one week night.

Virginia Travis: Much. Sports.

Jane Simpson: Much. Dances, picnics.

Mary Boyd: Much. More dances.

Jimmy Thompson: Much. Swimming meets.

Molly Hudson: Much. Same here.

Liz Mosely: Much. Community singing in the rec.

Lee Robertson: Much. More sport activities.

Dean Smith: Normal. Tea dances in the afternoons.

What Do You Think?

By Stuart Atkinson

I have been asked to write an unbiased discussion of the draft issue today. I shall try to give both sides of the argument as I have gathered it from talking with fellow service men.

Most veterans are all for the draft. I'm against it, although I am a veteran with combat service. And most of the potential draftees, with the veterans' stories of the service still ringing in their ears, are against induction.

It must be realized that the draft is an aspect of the rearmament of our country for what appears to be an emergency. Supposedly, we must forego the freedom to stay out of the service because the emergency has not been met by voluntary enlistment. Those who oppose the draft as a loss of one of our democratic freedoms, are reminded that if we meet the emergency with a draft now and thereby insure peace, there will be more freedom later on, both for those who are drafted now, and for the rest of the nation besides.

Will this so-called necessary regimentation lead to peace, or to war? It is interesting to speculate what might have been the course of European history had the Allies rearmed in the 1930's against Germany. Would it have brought earlier war, later war, or an indefinite period of peace in our time?

It is claimed that Russia will bow only to force, or to a strong U. S. military, and there are those who claim that Russia has retained her armed condition only because she fears an atomic war from us. It is true, however, that Russia will be more apt to consider arbitration of the present disputes if we have stronger military forces in Europe and Asia and at home.

In a sense, the draft and rearmaments will be a sign to Russia that we still expect to fight a war in the old way, without atom bombs and bacteriological warfare. Neither of these is pleasant to think about, and killing by guns and bullets would seem much fairer certainly to a nation that does not have them.

Another advantage of having the draft is that the occupation forces in Germany will have among them more disinterested average Americans, who have no idea of making a killing on the black market, or lording it over the "German subjects." There probably will be more of a tendency among the young draftees to consider the Nazis as people who have been misjudged.

There is one other big point for the draft which I have been amazed that none of the advocates have used. The great difficulty in getting prepared for the last war was not so much in the actual training as in the organization of the men into different branches according to their abilities. This process consumed a lot of time and thought although the training which the draftees would get now would be no good in case of war five years from now, enforcing the draft now will have the important advantage that the army could evaluate the men according to their fitness and interests and know how they would fit into a new organization in case of a future war.

Continued on Page 4

Bridge Party Friday Night

Bridge will be played on July 30 from 7:30 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. in the "Rec." Both the faculty and the students are invited. Please sign up for this party in the Home Office.

Common Glory Trip Conducted Friday

The previously announced bus trip to Williamsburg to see Paul Green"s "Common Glory" will take place Friday, July 30.

A special bus which will accommodate thirty-nine people has been chartered and will return after the performance on the same night.

The approximate cost for the ticket, meal, and fare is eight dollars per person. Those who are interested will please see Miss Rosemary Elam for further details

AVES
Women

assmen ntation

President of
t, reports this
re forty eight
and assistants
men and new
r first week at
led groups in college were
ned. They led tours of the acquaint them

ho were either
ere Jean Cake,
East, Jackie
Jefferson.
t, Frances Far-
r, Grace Mal-
Marjorie Miller,
a Gillum, Gwen
ig, Frances De-
Freeman, Anne
itts, and Janie

re also juniors
were; Betty
lips, Barbara
Banks, Louise
Maddox, Helen
c, Bee Hilton,
Barbara Sours,

nar, Patsy Rit-
on, Helen Ar-
Ferret, Hope
, Jackie Eagle,
Helen Holbrook,
d Laura Jean

en Welcomed to STC ties and Receptions

of parties and lass of '52 was
ole S. T. C.
arrived before
informed them
nab" party to honor on Mon-
ngs and fun and
and nabs, for me was had by

ight these new
ere entertained
ss (those high
s) in the main
re singing, and ying made the
o really feel at

Freshmen had

yet to be formally introduced to Dean and Mrs. Savage, President and Mrs. Lancaster, Miss Gleaves, and those "big wheels on campus" known as the Heads of the Organizations. But all this was soon and properly taken care of at the annual Big Sister-Little Sister Reception. From the Junior's version of May Day to the last number everyone was highly entertained. In fact the Freshmen even had a couple of tricks in the form of entertainers up their sleeves.

With all these good times behind them and the promise of more in the near future we doubt if any of our "little" Freshmen can say that their first week at S. T. C. was a dull one.

Meet the Faculty

DR. FLOYD F. SWERTFEGER

What would ever have thought that under the placid, perhaps scolarly exterior of Dr. Floyd F Swertfeger ,our associatae professor of education, lies a colorful background of wild and wooly Western vintage? Yes our own Dr. Swertfeeer was raised, along with many head of cattle, on a ranch in Sterling Colorado.

But Dr. Swertfeeer didn't have much time to practice the art of cowpunchine, since he left home to go to schol at ttwelve years of age. After attending school in many parts of the United States and even in Canada, Dr Swertfeger was drawn to the University of Virginia where he took his B. S .M. S., and Phy. Dr.

Dr Swertfeger's first teaching position was at the University of Illinois which attracted him because there was an authority on Spinoza there. Imagine your interviewer's embarrassment when she asked 'what' Spinoza was. She found that he was a great philosopher. Subsequently he taught at the Black Hills Teachers College in South Dakota, at Huron College and at Parsons College in Iowa.

The psychology of perceptiion is Dr. Swertfeger's specialty, and this he tells us ,is the reason that he likes to have children tell him stories. He calls fishing his hobby, although he hasn't had time to indulge in it for several years. Students doubtless have noticed too that Dr. Swertfeger has a flair for loud ties ,particularly polka-dotted ones.

Dr. Swertfeer is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education society, and the Philosophy of Education Society.

Mr. Norman O. Myers, Professor of business education at S. T. C., has been requested by A. L. Walker, State Supervisor of Commercial Education Service, State Board of Education, to work as a consultant to a proposed course of study committee during the week of June 21 to July 1 at Woodrow Wilson Vocational School.

The Spotlight

BETTY MINTON

Betty, who is affectionately called "Humphrey" by her closest friends, has surely won the title of Best All-Around girl in her four years at STC. She can usually be spotted by that laugh that makes everyone around her happy. For one so active—she has served as manager of volleyball, manager of softball, and participated in varsity hockey—she leans a great deal towards the intellectual side of life. In just a few more years she will own as many volumes as the school library. Added to the other list of activities of which Betty claims a part, we might add vice-presidency of House Council, Monogram Club, Rotunda Staff, and Alpha Sigma Tau sorority. Though to many she is thought of as a Physical Ed major, her interests have taken other directions. Ask her who discovered America sometimes and see if you can guess.

Teaching Contract

Continued from Page 1

Mary Early Hatch, Dejaware; Mary Helmer, Warwick county high school, Morrison; Anne Randolph Homes, Richmond; Nancy Hughes, Wyoming county, West Virginia.

Also Charlotte Hutter, Smithfield; Elizabeth Grey Jeffreys, Bel Air, Maryland; Carol Jenkins, Highland Springs; Kathryn Grace Kappes, Schoolfield; Katie Lawrence, Smithfield; Martha Jean Leavitt, Florida; Frances Livesay, Henrico county; Ellen McMullen, Culpeper; Mildred Paige McWilliams, Richmond; Betty Minton, Roanoke; Peggy Anne Moore, Norfolk; Anne Motley, Schoolfield, Constance Newman, Suffolk; Elizabeth Ogburn, Newburg, Maryland; Virginia Parris, Schoolfield; Anne Dudley Payne, Richmond; Carolyn June Poole, Franklin; Mrs. Helen Hinton Poteat, Campbell county; Mrs. Frances Bell Pritchett, Petersburg.

Corinne Baker, to whom the final issue of "The Colonnade" was dedicated.

ville; Virginia Yonce, Martins-

Happy

Junior W Make Pla

Exams are over! F they're over and I ca great big sigh of reli the summer vacatior or other, after seeing else sI'm not looking much to leaving. It couldn't stand a res that I know when I year all the things I so much about this ye forever. Next tyear, will be just as wonde just won't be the sma year's Seniors will be is not much that I ca the year that has pa can keep in touch wit

Ever See a Millio

A million is a lot of stars. On a clear night only 2,0 are visible at one time, according to astronomers. So you to stay up every night for two whole years to get to see LION STARS.

For the official opening of their new store in Fa Bowen will have a MILLION to show you . . . but not

BOWEN

INC.

Jewelers

111 N. Main Street Farmv

Dean Smith Resigns

Continued from Page 1

published and used by the University of Nebraska.

Besides the above-mentioned publications, Dr. Smith has written articles for educational journals.

She is a member of Psi Chi, a national honorary psychological fraternity; Kappa Delta Pi, a national honor society in education; American Association of University Women; American Association of University Professors, Pi Gamma Mu, the National Social Science Honor Society; Delta Kappa Gamma, national honor society in education; Virginia Council of Administrative Women; Farmville Women's Club; National Association of Deans of Women, Eastern Star; and Daughters of the American Revolution.

Her name appears in: Who's Who in American Education, Who's Who Among Women, American Women; International Blue Book, Womans' Who's Who in Nebraska, Biographical Directory of Leaders in Education, Third Edition.

Dean Smith says, "I will always love Farmville and my Farmville friends, and the latch string will always be out in the little house into which I am moving on Royal Street in Alexandria, Va."

For the past four years the students and members of the faculty have found Dean Smith to be a truly helpful and generous person. Her quiet approach to all matters and her patience have proved of immense value to the students. They can truthfully say, "We shall never forget her."

Dr. Moss

Continued from Page 1

he did graduate work at Columbia University. He worked in a commercial chemistry lab for one year, and then decided to teach. Mr. French has been a member of our faculty for eighteen years.

This summer Mr. French is serving on the Recreation Committee. He is a good example of our "Farmville spirit," and the girls say, "We'd rather have 'Charlie Hop' than anyone else we know."

"If we can afford war, we can afford education. If we can spend billions on war, we can spend millions that will give American children their birthright—good health and useful education. To those who say we cannot do both, I say we cannot do one without the other!

Whatever else we do, let us not stint our children. Education is not a luxury—it is our great necessity."—Henry Ford.

Churchill says Europe must choose between union and ruin.

State Approves

Continued from Page 2

Women. The statue of Joan of Arc was placed in the Rotunda.

1922—Ground was broken in September for the Student building.

1922—Old dining hall burned.

1923—New dining hall built.

1924—Student Building was completed and the name changed to State Teachers College.

1925—Colonnade was built to connect Student Building with main auditorium, and the Annex added.

1927—Longwood was acquired and Junior and Senior dormitories added.

Rotunda Accepts Letters of Suggestion

The Rotunda invites members of the summer school to write the Editors constructive suggestions for the improvements of student life next summer. The most acceptable letter will be published in the last issue. They should be in the hands of the Editor on or before Thursday, August 5. Each letter should be signed by the writer but the signature will not be published unless requested. Remember that you are the main factor in getting what you consider needed changes. Let someone know what you like or dislike-it may help more than you know.

Lions Club

Continued from Page 1

dent, M. B. Coyner, active for many years, Dr. E. M. Johnson, and Dr. D. S. Lancaster, all members of our faculty, were present. Many wives of the members are alumnae of STC.

Club president, W. E. Smith, who presided, introduced W. Lawson Driskill, of Lynchburg, district governor, whose address commemorated the accomplishments of the Farmville Club. The Weyanoke Hotel and the Southside Hospital, both sponsored by the club, and completed through the cooperation of the community are outstanding memorials to the club's efforts. Aid to blind people and those with impaired sight; help for students desiring to attend college; leadership in war work—especially bond drives; contributions to many community organizations and encouragement to all agencies for community betterment are other less known services of this club.

A dance with music furnished by Russ Carlton and his orchestra followed the banquet and program.

Gossip

Continued on Page 4

wise—Boys have got the gab for gossip also, and don't let anyone tell you otherwise!

Mr Coyner is going to miss his questions unless . . . can't you gals ask questions, too?

Letters to Editor

A PLACE FOR SMOKING

Dear Editor:

Where has our pride in our dear Alma Mater gone? There was once a time when smoking was prohibited even in the dormitories of the college; but our habits and ideas have been changing along with the rest of the world. This is not to argue that smoking is disgraceful or immortal, but I think we will all agree there is a time and place for everything.

This college has done much in the past year to protect the buildings from fire and it was needed. There seem to be some of us, however, who have failed to realize what the opinion of passers-by will be when the see some of us smoking on the front lawn and in the Rotunda.

This school has always tried to maintain a truly democratic point of view on all issues, but it is the belief of many of the student body that smoking on the lawn and in the Rotunda is totally uncalled for. It gives outsides a bad impression of this college. Let us all take heed and let each of us accept our responsibility for the good name of our College.

—A student.

Children Need Expert Advice

The most important thing in the world today is the bringing up of children. It is not a job for economic or emotional misfits, for frightened, inferiority-ridden men and women seeking a safe respectful and quickly attainable social and emotional status, nor for girls filling their time before marriage. Fortunately there are recent signs of intellectual stirrings amongst teachers which give some hope. To be allowed to teach children should be the sign of the final approval of society. The present scale of values is clearly illustrated by the disparity between teachers' salaries and those of movie actresses or football coaches. I am reminded of a group whose responsibility was the reclamation, training and rehabilitation of all the unmarried mothers in a certain community. The procedure was to have an "I.Q." done and then to train the girl according to a simple chart. The upper levels rated various types of useful training. Those at the bottom, not fit for anything else, were trained as nursemaids, to bring up children. Thus hundreds of defenseless children in that large community have been brought up by moronic unmarried mothers. Because these are psycho-pathological matters, psychiatrists simply have to take the responsibility of interpretation and initiative.

—G. B. Chisholm, from "The Psychiatry of Enduring Peace Peace and Social Progress."

What Do You Think?

Continued from Page 3

At present, there is a big economic objection to the draft and to the huge expenditure that the military plans. The people of America, of Europe, and of Asia are crying not for guns and bullets, but rather for food, and commodities such as clothes, autos, etc. A rearmament would divert the already sparse production into products that people cannot consume. Without price control and rationing the draft and rearmament is sure to contribute to more inflation because of the lesser supply of consumers' goods, and the greater circulation of money.

There is also belief that the next war will be a complex, push-button affair. This conception is a bit too Martian but it is reasonable to believe that any future war will not avoid use of atomic power, disease bacteria, and various electronci devices for mass destruction. What we need for this type of warfare will be a larger number of specially trained men in these scientific fields. Would it not be more sensible to appropriate moncy for military research projects in these special fields, and to give scholarships to potential, but voluntary, draft age boys to specialize in these fields? In this way they would not only be trained for later probable military function but also for immediate peacetime work in these fields.

Americans have never been people who blindly acted without achieving something. For that reason they have been notoriously poor professional soldiers, but the best fighters and combat men Drafting Americans to be soldiers now, could have a detrimental effect in the future of the psychology of American thinking about war and on our social standards.

Another serious charge against the draft, is that peacetime induction will give the military another big slice of power and influence in American life in addition to what is already too much. Albert Einstein has spoken out against the draft on this count, pointing to a parallel development in German history under Hitler. We already have a soldier as Secretary of State. And then there is also squabble between the government and the military for control of atomic production in which the military very nearly won.

If you meet a stone wall and peace is on an apple tree immediately behind it, some would say that the best course is to beat down the wall, even though that would destroy the apple tree. Why not walk a little way to the left or to the right and go around the wall?

The important fact to remember is that we are the greatest world force today and that all of middle Europe and Asia is looking to us for leadership — without war, if possible.

Greetings
Old Girls

The Rotunda

Welcome
Freshmen

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1948 | No. 1

Dean Savage Calls Attention To Class Absence Regulations

Students Reminded Of Smoking Rules

Dean Savage has called to the attention of all students in College Section 18 of the Class Absence Regulations in the Handbook.

This section states that when a student has a total of two unexcused absences from class in a session, he or she must report to the Dean of the College and ex-

Parisian Student To Assist At STC In Latin, French

Mlle Yvette Ancey To Arrive This Week

From the S. T .C. Modern Language Department comes the announcement that Mlle. Yvette Ancey of Vanves (near Paris), France will assist in the French department this year.

STC Adds Eight New Members To Faculty, Staff For '48-'49

Eleven To Assist College Librarian

Dr. Ruffin Announces New Staff Additions

AVES
Women

Miss Gleaves Moves To Dean's Office

Eight new members have been added to the faculty and staff at S. T. C. for the winter session of 1947-48. In addition to these there have been several interdepartmental changes.

Miss Ruth Gleaves, who replaced Dean Martha Smith Smith as Dean of Women, was formerly Associate Professor of Home Economics. Miss Gleaves has the distinction of being the first hostess and manager of Longwood and also a Farmville Alumna. She received her M. A. from Columbia University and has done graduate work at the University of Tennessee and the University of Chicago. She is a member of the American Vocational Association, the Virginia Home Economics Association and the Farmville Woman's Club. She is advisor to the Pan-Hellenic Association and was formely advisor to Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Miss Caroline R. Eason, formerly supervising teacher in the Kindergarten of the Training School, succeeded Miss Rosemary Elam as Assistant to the Dean of Women. Miss Eason is a graduate of S. T. C. and her father was for many years head of the Biology Department here.

Mrs. Ralph J. Wakefield has been made Longwood Hostess. This position was held last year by Mrs. Harriet C. Gramam.

Mrs. Josephine McKeeby Phillips is replacing Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro in the Mathematics Department. Mrs. Phillips received her A. B. and M. A. from Montclair, New Jersey, State Teachers College. She formerly taught in the Franklin, N. J., High School, and also served as a Lieutenant (J. G.) in the United States Coast Guard.

Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss has been promoted from the position of Associate Professor of History and Social Science to Head of the History Department, succeeding Dr. James E. Walmsley. Replacing Dr. Moss in the History Department is Dr. Marvin Wilson Schlegel. Dr. Schlegel received his B. A. from Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, and his M. A. and Ph. D. from Columbia University in New York City. He formely taught in the St. Helena Extension of the College of William and Mary in Norfolk, Virginia.

Miss Vera Frances Baron has accepted the position of assistant in the Biology Department. Miss Baron received her B. S. from Farmville State Teachers College and has done graduate work at William and Mary, Roanoke College, and the University of Virginia. She was formerly head of the

Continued on Page 3

Commencement Issue

The Rotunda

Commencement Issue

VOLUME XXVII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, AUG. 11, 1948 | No. 3

Summer Session Graduates 23

Of the twenty three candidates for degrees at the commencement exercises Friday evening, August 13, one expects to receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts, one, Bachelor of Science, one, Bachelor of Science in Business Education; the other twenty are candidates for the Bachelor of Science in Education.

The candidates for B. S. in Education are India Irene Allen, Newport News, Elizabeth Lloyd Collier, Richmond; Jaunita Winston Davis, Buckingham; Mary Squire Deal, Emporia; Anna Derr Freed, Norfolk; Beatrice Joyce Geyer, Chatham; Hazel Vaughan Holland, Windsor; Annie Bland Hord, Richmond; Mildred Frances Jones, Mt. Airy, N. C.; Eura Virginia King, Lynchburg; Sue Elizabeth Moseley, Rustburg; Audrey Maxine Newman, Eclipse; Emily Cobb Parks, Norfolk; Lity R. Price, Richmond; Iraida G. Ramierez, Mayaguez, P. R. Hessie Agnes Sharp, Amelia; Pattie Smith Simmonds, South Norfolk; Frances Goodwin Smith, Louisa; Charlotte Mae Winstead, Callao; and Corelle McElroy Woolridge, Norfolk.

Mable Perkins Dudley, Farmville, is the candidate for the Bachelor of Science, Edward F. Ruff, Bedford, for the B.A. Ann Finley Searson, Steele's Tavern.

Continued on Page 4

Dr. Walmsley, Miss Taliaferro Retire

At the close of the summer session two members of the Faculty of the State Teachers College will retire from teaching after a long and useful service here in the cause of education. They are Dr. James Elliott Walmsley, Professor of History and Social Science, and Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, Professor of Mathematics. During their many years at Farmville they have both won the admiration and affection of their students and colleagues. All connected with the institution deeply regret to have them withdraw from active participation, though not from their continued influence in the life of the college.

Dr. Walmsey has seen many four-year generations of girls go through S. T. C. in his 23 years here, and that's not all. As he explains, "a teacher is not much good unless he becomes a part of the community in which he teaches," and he has shown what he means,

Continued on Page 4

Left to Right: Back Row: Collier, Smith, Simmonds, Moseley, King, Newman. Front Row: Jones, Price, Woolridge, Holland, Freed, Parks and Horde.

Congratulations For Summer Graduates

The Rotunda dedicates this, its last issue to the summer graduates with best congratulations and wishes. Other personal as well as departmental congratulations have been issued and it is the Rotunda's purpose to publish them for the future reference and pleasure of the Seniors.

From President Lancaster

To the members of the graduating class, summer, 1948:

May I congratulate you upon reaching the goal toward which you have worked with devotion and zeal.

I feel sure that you will be a worthy representative of the ideals of public service to which State Teachers College has subscribed for more than sixty-four years.

My personal good wishes are yours.

Sincerely,
Dabney S. Lancaster

From Dean Smith

It is a good thing to be an alumnus! It is a good feeling—that. Of belonging on the one hand yet possessing on the other! You belong to S. T. C. now, and yet, more than ever b efore, S. T. C. belongs to you. We cannot say to you who are summer graduates that you are marching out "to meet the great World", for most of you have already persistently, if possibly slowly, put one foot above the other on the ladder of educational success. And yet, with the assurance of belonging to, yet peossessing, your Alma Mater, the road should be easier. Then here's to you—to your wealth and your wisdom—from one who would like both but has neither. Adieu!

Martha Smith Smith

From Dr. Walmsley

Dear Seniors,

You have lived here with us through it all. We loved you and some of you loved us. We gave our life to you and each of you carries away a piece of it. You gave us part of yourselves, your youth, your enthusiasm your flair for truth and even if it be raw and bloody, your hatred of sham and "front". You have now a chance to use it for a world that needs you. Be true to those who loved working with you.

James Elliott Walmsley

From Miss Taliaferro

To the Seniors: "Beyond the Alps lies Italy!" You have reached the summit, the fair land is in sight. May you find there many opportunities for further growth and service, much happiness, real sucess.

Carrie Brown Tallaferro
Department of Mathematics

Continued on Page 4

Dr. Thomas Pullen Named Speaker

Exercises To Be Held For 23 Graduates

Dr. Thomas Granville Pullen, superintendent of puplic education for will address the 23 senior graduates at commencement to be held Friday night, August 13, Dr. Pullen is a native of Madison County. He received the B. A. degree from the College of William and Mary and the M. A. and the Ph.D. from Columbia University. In 1922 he married the former Miss Margaret Louise Rowe, of Hampton, and alumna of the State Teachers College.

He taught and served as principal in several high schools and in 1932 he became superintendent of schools in Talbot County Maryland. In 1934 he was appointed state supervisor of high schools, in 1936, assistant state superintendent of education and in 1942, became state superintendent.

The commencemcnt exercises will begin with the processional, and the Reverend M. Worth May will give the invocation. Dr. Pullen's address, will be followed by a solo by Mr. A. E. Cralle, Jr. of Farmville. Then will come the awarding of degrees by Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, announcements of honors, the national anthem, and the recessional.

An informal reception for the graduates, their families, the faculty and members of the administration will be give after the exercises at the home of President Lancaster.

Announce Changes In Faculty and Staff

Dr. A. Curtis Higginbotham, will leave Farmville at the close of the summer session to teach as associate Professor of Biology, in the Department of Physiology at Florida State University at Tallahassee, Fla. He came to Farmville 2 years ago after having taught at Michigan State College, Pembroke College, Pembroke, N. C, and Ely Junior College, in Minnesota. He also worked some time in Texas with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service as an aquatic physiologist. Since getting his Ph. D. at Northwestern he has seen a lot of the country for a young man. He recalls that the fishing "sure was good up around Ely Junior College," and predicts it will probably be good in Florida.

As recorded in the last Rotunda,

Continued on Page 4

assmen itation

President of
t, reports this
re forty eight
and assistants
men and new
r first week at
led groups in college were
ned. They led tours of the acquaint them

ho were either
ere Jean Cake,
East, Jackie
Jefferson.
t, Frances Far-
, Grace Mal-
lajorie Miller,
a Gillum, Gwen
g, Frances De-
Freeman, Anne
itts, and Janie

re also juniors
were; Betty
lips, Barbara
Banks, Louise
Maddox, Helen
t, Bee Hilton,
Barbara Sours,

nar, Patsy Rit-
on, Helen Ar-
Ferret, Hope
, Jackie Eagle,
felen Holbrook,
d Laura Jean

en Welcomed to STC ties and Receptions

of parties and lass of '52 was
ole S. T. C.
arrived before
informed them
nab" party to nonor on Mon-
gs and fun and
and nabs, for me was had by

night these new ere entertained
ss (those high
s) in the main
re singing, and ying made the
o really feel at

Freshmen had

yet to be formally introduced to Dean and Mrs. Savage, President and Mrs. Lancaster, Miss Gleaves, and those "big wheels on campus" known as the Heads of the Organizations. But all this was soon and properly taken care of at the annual Big Sister-Little Sister Reception. From the Junior's version of May Day to the last number everyone was highly entertained. In fact the Freshmen even had a couple of tricks in the form of entertainers up their sleeves.

With all these good times behind them and the promise of more in the near future we doubt if any of our "little" Freshmen can say that their first week at S. T. C. was a dull one.

Meet the Faculty

DR. FLOYD F. SWERTFEGER

What would ever have thought that under the placid, perhaps scolarly exterior of Dr. Floyd F Swerttfeger' ,our associatae professor of education, lies a colorful background of wild and wooly Western vintage? Yes, our own Dr. Swerttfeger was raised, alone with many head of cattle, on a ranch in Sterling Colorado.

But Dr. Swertfeger didn't have much time to practice the art tof cowpunching, since he left home to go to schol at ttwelve years of age. After attending school in many parts of the United States, and even in Canada, Dr. Swertfeger was drawn to the University of Virginia where he took his B. S., M. S. and Phy. Dr.

Dr. Swertffeger's first teaching position was at the University of Illinois which attracted him because there was an authority on Spinoza there. Imagine your interviewer's embarrassment when she asked 'what' Spinoza was. She found that he was a great philosopher.' Subsequently he taught at the Black Hills Teachers College in South Dakota, at Huron College and at Parsons College in Iowa.

The psychology of perceptiion is Dr. Swertfeger's specialty, and this he tells us ,is the reason that he likes to have children tell him stories. He calls fishing his hobby, although he hasn't had time to indulge in it for several years. Students doubtless have noticed too that Dr. Swerttfeger has a flair for loud ties ,particularly polka-dotted ones.

Dr. Swerttfeger is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education society, and the Philosophy of Education Society.

Mr. Norman O. Myers, Professor of business education at S. T. C., has been requested by A. L. Walker, State Supervisor of Commercial Education Service, State Board of Education, to work as a consultant to a proposed course of study committee during the week of June 21 to July 1 at Woodrow Wilson Vocational School.

The Spotlight

BETTY MINTON

Betty, who is affectionately called "Humphrey" by her closest friends, has surely won the title of Best All-Around girl in her four years at STC. She can usually be spotted by that laugh that makes everyone around her happy. For one so active—she has served as manager of volleyball, manager of softball, and participated in varsity hockey—she leans a great deal towards the intellectual side of life. In just a few more years she will own as many volumes as the school library. Added to the other list of activities of which Betty claims a part, we might add vice-presidency of House Council, Monogram Club, Rotunda Staff, and Alpha Sigma Tau sorority. Though to many she is thought of as a Physical Ed major, her interests have taken other directions. Ask her who discovered America sometimes and see if you can guess

Teaching Contract

Continued from Page 1

Mary Early Hatch, Delaware; Mary Helmer, Warwick county high school, Morrison; Anne Randolph Homes, Richmond; Nancy Hughes, Wyoming county, West Virginia.

Also Charlotte Hutter, Smithfield; Elizabeth Grey Jeffreys, Bel Air, Maryland; Carol Jenkins, Highland Springs; Kathryn Grace Kappes, Schoolfield; Katie Lawrence, Smithfield; Martha Jean Leavitt, Florida; Frances Livesay, Henrico county; Ellen McMullen, Culpeper; Mildred Paige McWilliams, Richmond; Betty Minton, Roanoke; Peggy Anne Moore, Norfolk; Anne Motley, Schoolfield, Constance Newman, Suffolk; Elizabeth Ogburn, Newburg, Maryland; Virginia Parris, Schoolfield; Anne Dudley Payne, Richmond; Carolyn June Poole, Franklin; Mrs. Helen Hinton Poteat, Campbell county; Mrs. Frances Bell Pritchett, Petersburg

Corinne Baker, to whom the final issue of "The Colonnade" was dedicated.

Happy

Junior W Make Pla

Exams are over! P they're over and I ca great big sigh of reli the summer vacation or other, after seeing cise sI'm not looking much to leaving. It i couldn't stand a res that I know when I year all the things I so much about this ye forever. Next tyear, will be just as wonde just won't be the smae year's Seniors will be i is not much that I ca the year that has pa can keep in touch wit

Ever See a Millio

A million is a lot of stars. On a clear night only 2,0 are visible at one time, acording to astronomers. So you to stay up every night for two whole years to get to see LION STARS.

For the official opening of their new store in Fa Bowen's will have a MILLION to show you but not

BOWEN

INC

Jewelers

111 N. Main Street Farmvi

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published bi-weekly during the Summer session of State Teachers College by students of the college.

Office: Student Building Phone 246

Printers: The Farinville Herald

Staff

Mildred Garnett ..... Editor-in-Chief
Annette Jones ..... Managing Editor
Martha Kitchen ..... Business Manager
Ann Tucker ..... News Editor
Iris Coleman ..... Feature Editor
Molly Hudson ..... Typist

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 11, 1948

Graduation

Graduation will be here before we realize it. Of course the seniors have already started making plans. They are dreaming of that not far off moment when that scroll, which they have been working toward for several years, will be placed in their hands.

You know you would like to see the auditorium filled when you graduate—so would the seniors graduating August 13, 1948. Only twenty-three will graduate and the graduates are expecting only a few guests. The least each of us could do would be to stay for the graduation exercises. You might wish some day that the students would do the same for you.

From The Senior Class

We may have the distinction of being the smallest and ugliest graduating class, but our story is no different from the story of all seniors back through the years. Our hearts have the same feeling of loyalty and devotion to our Alma Mater, be we five hundred or twenty-three in number.

The triumph of our achievement is dimmed because we do not want to leave S. T. C. The long years of counting credits and months some how seem wonderful years and sometimes we wish we had not pushed them so.

The friends we have made, faculty and students, have all added their part to our education.

The patience of the faculty when our learning processes seemed slow, the helping hand of a friend when the problem was difficult, a friendly hello in the hall when our spirits needed boosting, are things we will not forget.

We see clearly before us the road S. T. C.'s instruction, guidance, and help has paved for us. To be better teachers and citizens is our duty. We will do our best to live up to the honor that has been bestowed upon us. It is our aim to take the best from Farmville into the fields of life and education.

Farewell S. T. C., and thank you for everything.

Jarman Organ Fund

The senior class is sponsoring a drive to raise money for the Jarman Organ Fund. Jars have been conveniently placed in the "Rec" and also on the table in the hall. Please contribute to this worthy cause.

S.T.C. calendars, originally sold for $1 are now selling for 25 cents. They have been reduced, but the pictures are worth more than 25 cents. These calendars can be obtained from members of the senior class and also at the Snack Bar. The money from the calendars will also go to the Jarman Organ Fund. Make sure that you get yours now!

ALMA MATER By Jennie Masters Tabb.

All hail, Alma Mater, dear mother to thee,
Thy daughters true faithful and loyal will be,
Thy gentle instructions, thy influence so sweet,
Will go with them always a guide to their feet.
Thy loving protection, thy nurturing care,
Will lead them to cherish things lovely and fair,
All Hail, Alma Mater, dear mother to thee,
Thy daughters true, faithful and loyal will be.

Snack Bar

As the summer session comes to a close, we wish to express our appreciation to the Alumnae Association which provided the Snack Bar in the "Rec."

Off to the Snack Bar we ambled between classes for that coke, that cup of coffee, or that chocolate shake to give us the strength to struggle through another class. When the day's classes were over, here we have sat chatting with our old friends and making new ones.

Down to the Snack Bar we went on those terrifically hot afternoons for a refreshing drink or a snack when we would not have had the energy to walk downtown. At night back again after completing homework for the next day.

Yes, we dare to say that the Snack Bar in the "Rec", has been and will remain in future, one of the most satisfying feature the future one of the most satitsfying features of the institution.

Odd Things Will Happen

Odd things happen at S. T. C., when two ladies with the same surname occupy the same room. On the afternoon of June 21, Mrs. Nellie A. Bowles was assigned to Room 28, second floor Annex also she was planning to room alone. However, on June 21, Mrs. Nettie O. Bowles had already moved into it that same room. In fact, her clothes hung proudly on their hooks in the closet.

That could Miss Bowles No. 1 do? Soon Miss Elam appeared on the scene, acknowledging her mistake. But no harm was done. For now after living seven weeks together, both ladies enjoy their room and their friendship. "Bowles No. 1" kept her $10, her temper, and every strand of her red hair.

Welcome Alumnae

Congratulations to our summer graduates. We are delighted to welcome you into our organization with all of its privileges and responsibilities. The top job of the Alumnae Association is to keep in touch with the former students of State Teachers College so that we may serve you and that you may serve the college.

The Alumnae Association carries on its work mainly through two working units, namely, the chapter is a geographic group of chapters and the classes. The Alumnae of all ages and represents a cross-section of community life, whereas class reunions, the Alumnae Fund and getting the class agent system of raising class news for the Alumnae Bulletin, are the way through which the class organization functions.

If there is a chapter in your community, join it and help to promote your college in your community. If you are asked to act as a class agent, accept this privilege and responsibility. You will enjoy fellowship with girls who have had the Farmville experience and don't want to forget it!

Please notify the Alumnae Secretary when you change your name or address, send all news for publication in the Bulletin.

(Continued on page 4)

Enter In

Welcome, all ye seniors!
Library doors are open wide.
Enter ye; then choose.
Read ye no book, but what would seem a likely friend.
Else cast aside, and quick forget.
When flavors please, judge ye the taste which drew ye hence.
Test ye the aftermath; whether 'twill nourish or destroy
The fledging plants which ye have brought to life.
New times begin.
Library doors are open wide.
Enter in.

—Beverley Ruffin

Greetings
Old Girls

The Rotunda

Welcome
Freshmen

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1948 | No. 1

Dean Savage Calls Attention To Class Absence Regulations

Students Reminded Of Smoking Rules

Dean Savage has called to the attention of all students in College Section 18 of the Class Absence Regulations in the Handbook.

This section states that when a student has a total of two unexcused absences from class in a session, he or she must report to the Dean of the College and explain the reason for them. His

Parisian Student To Assist At STC In Latin, French

Mlle Yvette Ancey To Arrive This Week

From the S. T .C. Modern Language Department comes the announcement that Mlle. Yvette Ancey of Vanves (near Paris), France will assist in the French department this year.

STC Adds Eight New Members To Faculty, Staff For '48-'49

Eleven To Assist College Librarian

Dr. Ruffin Announces New Staff Additions

Miss Gleaves Moves To Dean's Office

Eight new members have been added to the faculty and staff at S. T. C. for the winter session of 1947-48. In addition to these there have been several interdepartmental changes.

Miss Ruth Gleaves, who replaced Dean Martha Smith Smith as Dean of Women, was formerly Associate Professor of Home Economics. Miss Gleaves has the distinction of being the first hostess and manager of Longwood and also a Farmville Alumna. She received her M. A. from Columbia University and has done graduate work at the University of Tennessee and the University of Chicago. She is a member of the American Vocational Association, the Virginia Home Economics Association and the Farmville Woman's Club. She is advisor to the Pan-Hellenic Association and was formely advisor to Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Miss Caroline R. Eason, formerly supervising teacher in the Kindergarten of the Training School, succeeded Miss Rosemary Elam as Assistant to the Dean of Women. Miss Eason is a graduate of S. T. C. and her father was for many years head of the Biology Department here.

Mrs. Ralph J. Wakefield has been made Longwood Hostess. This position was held last year by Mrs. Harriet C. Gramam.

Mrs. Josephine McKeeby Phillips is replacing Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro in the Mathematics Department. Mrs. Phillips received her A. B. and M. A. from Montclair, New Jersey, State Teachers College. She formerly taught in the Franklin, N. J., High School, and also served as a Lieutenant (J. G.) in the United States Coast Guard.

Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss has been promoted from the position of Associate Professor of History and Social Science to Head of the History Department, succeeding Dr. James E. Walmsley. Replacing Dr. Moss in the History Department is Dr. Marvin Wilson Schlegel. Dr. Schlegel received his B. A. from Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, and his M. A. and Ph. D. from Columbia University in New York City. He formely taught in the St. Helena Extension of the College of William and Mary in Norfolk, Virginia.

Miss Vera Frances Baron has accepted the position of assistant in the Biology Department. Miss Baron received her B. S. from Farmville State Teachers College and has done graduate work at William and Mary, Roanoke College, and the University of Virginia. She was formerly head of the

Continued on Page 3

SENIOR PERSONALITIES

IRENE INDIA ALLEN

Irene, an elementary major, hails from Newport News and is getting her B. S. degree in elementary education.

ELIZABETH LLOYD COLLIER

Liz just loves to travel, especially in her little red Ford. She also likes crafts and music and loves to join in with a group and harmonize. She will receive her B. S. in elementary education and in September she will resume her teaching in the William Fox High School in Richmond. She spent one summer at Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio where she took a special course in "sight saving." She lives at 2610 The Plaza, Richmond, Virginia.

JUANITA WINSTON DAVIS

Nita's home is at Buckingham Court House, and she plans to teach at South Hill this fall. Home economics is her major. She is a member of the Glee Club and of the Home Economics Club. Her favorite pastimes are dancing and attending the movies. When one thinks of Nita, one also calls to mind her favorite expression, "Yeah."

MABEL PERKINS DUDLEY

"Beanie," as you and I know her, is a resident of Farmville, Va. and has been a college student for three years. She taught a year, and came last year to get a B. S. as a major in Chemistry. Her pet peeve is ash-trays in the bed but she still perfers Chesterfields, two to one. A very athletic girl is Beanie, playing a good game of tennis and hockey for the Red and Whites. Bridge is her favorite recreation and she is plenty good at that, too!

ANNA DERR FREED

Anna Deer Freed, who is hall president of first floor annex, is the only red head in the class. She lives in Apartment 5421 Westover Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia. Her major is Education and she has been working on her B. S. in the field. She teaches mathematics in the Blair Jr. High School, Norfolk. She received her normal prefessional certificate at S. T. C. and has done extension work from William and Mary and correspondence work from Peabody College and the University of Alabama. She has attended Columbia University one summer.

BEATRICE JOYCE GEYER

Bebe hails from Chatham. She will teach art and physical education in Jarrettsville, Maryland, this year. While in school here, Bebe has belonged to the Student Government, Y. W. C. A., Athletic Association, Alpha Kappa Gamma, Cotillion Club, Monogram Club, Orchesis, of which she was treasurer in her senior year, and varsity hockey. She served on the May Day Committee for two years and as art editor of the Colonnade. Bebe belongs to Alpha Sigma Tau, social sorority.

HAZEL VAUGHAN HOLLAND

The president of the senior class lives in Windsor, Virginia. Miss Vaughan taught in Isle of Wright County for a number of years, but she expects to teach in Lafayette Elementary School, Norfolk, this fall. She is a candidate for the B.S. degree, her major is elementary education. Hazel declares, "I can make a grand slam in bridge easier than in physiology."

ANNA BLAND HORD

Miss Hord lives on 1708 Hanover Avenue, Richmond. Her major is Education, She teaches the third grade in George Thorpe Elementary School. Her first two years of college were spent at Richmond Normal School. She also attended William and Mary summer school and did some extension work there. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi and Beore Eh Thorn. Miss Hord"s keen sense of humor has given pleasure to all of her friends.

MILDRED FRANCES JONES

Mildred transferred from Emory and Henry College to receive her B. S. in Elementary Education here at S. T. C. She is a Carolinian hailing from Mt. Airy. Music and reading are her favorite pastimes and she enjoys taking part in civic activities. She is a member of Beorc Eh Thorn and secretary of Kappa Delta Pi. She has taught in Carroll County, Virginia, but this fall she will be in Westmoreland.

EURA V. KING

Miss King, who lives at 235 Vernon Street, Lynchburg, Virginia, is an elementary education major. She teaches in the Brookville High School in Campbell County, and will continue teaching there after she takes her B. S. from S. T. C. Miss King says the next degree that she will work toward will be a "Mrs." When she isn't working on "something pertaining to school,"" Miss King likes to sew and read. She has attended Lynchburg College as well as S. T. C., and has obtained some of her credits through correspondence courses.

SUE ELIZABETH MOSLEY

Miss Elizabeth Moseley, known to all of us as "Liz", is from Rustburg, Virginia. She will receive her B. S. degree in elementary education and will continue teaching in Rustburg. Liz was the president of the Student Council both last summer and this summer. She has done extension work from Lynchburg College and the University of Virginia. Liz likes reading, dancing, bridge and camping. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi and of Beorc Eh Thorn.

AUDREY MAXINE NEWMAN

Miss Audrey Newman is from Eclipse, Virginia. She will receive her B. S. degree in elementary education and will teach at Thomas Jefferson Elementary School in Suffolk, next year. Audrey likes dancing, reading, basketball, softball, and boating. She is another one of our gals who has a rock on her third finger, left hand. Audrey is also a member of F. T. A., A. C. E. and Phi Zeta Sigma social sorority.

EMILY C. PARKS

Emily lives at 105 Ingleside Rd., Norfolk, Va. She has studied at Mary Baldwin College and at S. T. C. and came back this summer to complete the requirements for her B. S. degree in elementary education. Emily has been the principal of Pineridge Elementary School in Norfolk County, but this year she has accepted the position of Assistant Principal of the high school in Kempsville, Virginia.

She says that her favorite pastime is cooking, but we have noticed that she seems to enjoy doing almost anything, even studying philosophy.

MRS. LILY RICE PRICE

What a mouthful is the well know "little" Mrs. Price's name. She hails from 3004 Patterson Avenue, Richmond, Va. and was a resident student of S. T. C. during 1947-48. She is a major in elementary education, and a member of Beorc Eh Thorn. Mrs. Price's hobbies are bowling and fishing, but as she says, "My main hobby has been teaching along with rearing three children. Then I came back to enjoy college life."

IRAIDA RAMIREZ

Iraida Ramirez is from Mayaguez, Puerto Rico. He major is Home Economics. She is a member of the Spanish and Home Economics Clubs. She is now attending the College of Agriculture and Technical Arts where she is finishing her work in chemistry. "A lovelier flower on earth was never sown."

EDWARD F. RUFF

Edward F. Ruff, the only man in the graduating class is from Bedford, Virginia. He is a history major, and will obtain his B. A. degree. Prior to coming to S. T. C., Mr. Ruff attended Butler University, Lynchburg College, and Madison College. He is planning to teach, and has accepted a position as principal of the Sawville Elementary School in Henry County. During his leisure time Mr. Ruff likes to play bridge, read, and travel—if the time permits. While in the service he was with Fifth Air Force as a staff sergeant in the Pacific Theatre of operations.

ANN FINNLEY SEARSON

Ann lives at Steel's Tavern and has been teaching at Linville-Edom, Virginia, for the past two years. She is a major in business education and has been active in the Commercial Club and the Y. W. C. A. She likes journalism and is advisor to the students who have formed a staff to edit a paper in her high school. She especially enjoys classes taught by Mr. Myers.

HESSIE AGNES SHARP

Miss Sharp, who is from Amelia, returned to S. T. C. this summer to complete the requirements for the B. S. in Elementary Education. She taught the fourth grade in King George Elementary School last year and will return to the same position next fall.

PATTIE SMITH SIMMONDS

Mrs. Simmonds lives in Norfolk and teaches in Norfolk County. Her major is mathematics, but she thoroughly enjoys chemistry. While in college, she was a member of Beorc Eh Thorn, the Math club, and the Glee Club. She was also photographic editor of the Virginian. She says she has already reached her goal, a happy marriage and two young children.

FRANCES J. SMITH

Frances Smith is from Louisa, Virginia, where she has taught for fourteen years. She is majoring in education. She has also attended Mary Washington College, the University of Virginia and the University of Alabama. She also took correspondence work from Alabama.

CORALIE WOOLRIDGE

Miss Woolridge of 605 Boletaunt Apartments, Norfolk, Va., has been teaching grades 5-7 in the John Marshall Elementary School in Norfolk. She will receive her B. S. in elementary education and plans to resume her teaching this fall.

She has previously studied at William and Mary College, University of Virginia, and Columbia University. Her favorite kind of recreation is traveling. Also, she likes counseling young people in church work, but most of all she likes teaching.

As a member of Beorc Eh Thorn and Kappa Delta Pi, Miss Woolridge has shown her ability as a teacher and leader.

AVES
Women

assmen itation

President of , reports this e forty eight nd assistants
men and new first week at led groups in college were
ed. They led tours of the acquaint them

ho were either
re Jean Cake,
East, Jackie
Jefferson.
, Frances Far-
, Grace Mal-
ajorie Miller,
Gillum, Gwen
g, Frances De-
reeman, Anne
tts, and Janie

e also juniors
were; Betty ips, Barbara anks, Louise addox, Helen
, Bee Hilton,
arbara Sours,

ar, Patsy Rit-
n, Helen Ar-
Ferret, Hope
Jackie Eagle,
elen Holbrook,
Laura Jean

en Welcomed to STC ies and Receptions

of parties and lass of '52 was
ole S. T. C.
arrived before
informed them
nab" party to onor on Mon-
gs and fun and
and nabs, for ne was had by

ight these new re entertained
ss (those high
) in the main e singing, and ing made the really feel at

Freshmen had yet to be formally introduced to Dean and Mrs. Savage, President and Mrs. Lancaster, Miss Gleaves, and those "big wheels on campus" known as the Heads of the Organizations. But all this was soon and properly taken care of at the annual Big Sister-Little Sister Reception. From the Junior's version of May Day to the last number everyone was highly entertained. In fact the Freshmen even had a couple of tricks in the form of entertainers up their sleeves.

With all these good times behind them and the promise of more in the near future we doubt if any of our "little" Freshmen can say that their first week at S. T. C. was a dull one.

Meet the Faculty

DR. FLOYD F. SWERTFEGER

What would ever have thought that under the placid, perhaps scolarly exterior of Dr. Floyd F. Swertfeger ,our associate professor of education, lies a colorful background of wild and wooly Western vintage? Yes, our own Dr. Swertfeger was raised, alone with many head of cattle, on a ranch in Sterling Colorado.

But Dr. Swertfeger didn't have much time to practice the art of cowpunching, since he left home to go to schol at ttwelve years of age. After attending school in many parts of the United States, and even in Canada, Dr. Swertfeger was drawn to the University of Virginia where he took his B. S., M. S. and Phy. Dr.

Dr. Swertfeger's first teaching position was at the University of Illinois which attracted him because there was an authority on Spinoza there. (Imagine your interviewer's embarrassment when she asked 'what' Spinoza was. She found that he was a great philosopher.) Subsequently he taught at the Black Hills Teachers College in South Dakota, at Huron College and at Parsons College in Iowa.

The psychology of perception is Dr. Swertfeger's specialty, and this he tells us ,is the reason that he likes to have children tell him stories. He calls fishing his hobby, although he hasn't had time to indulge in it for several years. Students doubtless have noticed too that Dr. Swertfeger has a flair for loud ties ,particularly polka-dotted ones.

Dr. Swertfeger is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education society, and the Philosophy of Education Society.

Mr. Norman O. Myers, Professor of business education at S. T. C., has been requested by A. L. Walker, State Supervisor of Commercial Education Service, State Board of Education, to work as a consultant to a proposed course of study committee during the week of June 21 to July 1 at Woodrow Wilson Vocational School.

The Spotlight

BETTY MINTON

Betty, who is affectionately called "Humphrey" by her closest friends, has surely won the title of Best All-Around girl in her four years at STC. She can usually be spotted by that laugh that makes everyone around her happy. For one so active—she has served as manager of volleyball, manager of softball, and participated in varsity hockey—she leans a great deal towards the intellectual side of life. In just a few more years she will own as many volumes as the school library. Added to the other list of activities of which Betty claims a part, we might add vice-presidency of House Council, Monogram Club, Rotunda Staff, and Alpha Sigma Tau sorority. Though to many she is thought of as a Physical Ed major, her interests have taken other directions. Ask her who discovered America sometimes and see if you can guess

Teaching Contract

Continued from Page 1

Mary Early Hatch, Dejaware; Mary Helmer, Warwick county high school, Morrison; Anne Randolph Homes, Richmond; Nancy Hughes, Wyoming county, West Virginia.

Also Charlotte Hutter, Smithfield; Elizabeth Grey Jeffreys, Bel Air, Maryland; Carol Jenkins, Highland Springs; Kathryn Grace Kappes, Schoolfield; Katie Lawrence, Smithfield; Martha Jean Leavitt, Florida; Frances Livesay, Henrico county; Ellen McMullen, Culpeper; Mildred Paige McWilliams, Richmond; Betty Minton, Roanoke; Peggy Anne Moore, Norfolk; Anne Motley, Schoolfield, Constance Newman, Suffolk; Elizabeth Ogburn, Newburg, Maryland; Virginia Parris, Schoolfield; Anne Dudley Payne, Richmond; Carolyn June Poole, Franklin; Mrs. Helen Hinton Poteat, Campbell county; Mrs. Frances Bell Pritchett, Petersburg

Corinne Baker, to whom the final issue of "The Colonnade" was dedicated.

Happy

Junior W Make Pla

Exams are over! P they're over and I ca great big sigh of reli the summer vacation or other, after seeing cise sTm not looking much to leaving. It i couldn't stand a res that I know when I year all the things I so much about this ye forever. Next tyear, will be just as wonde just won't be the smae year's Seniors will be i is not much that I ca the year that has pa can keep in touch wit

Two Faculty Members Retire

Continued from Page 1

After taking his B. A. at Randolph-Macon, he acquired his Ph. D. from Illinois Wesleyan, for which he did much of the extra work at University of Chicago. He became a community member while teaching, consecutively, at Kentucky Wesleyan in Winchester, Ky., at Millsaps College in Jackson, Miss., at Winthrop College in Winthrop, S. C., and finally here at the Farmville State Teachers' College. His extra-mural attainments include those of retired President of the Farmville Lions Club, President of the Virginia Council of Social Studies for 6 years, National Chairman of Pi Gamma Mu for a year, Eminent Commander of the Knights Templar of Crewe, a member of the Masonic Order, and an active member of the Methodist Church. On several occasions he has been a delegate to the State Democratic Convention, and in 1912 he was a member of the National Committee of the Democratic Party. His job was to make up a good campaign based on the records of candidates nominated in that convention.

"But after all," he says, "my job has been that of a teacher. I've loved young people and still do."

Just as we suspected, Dr. Walmsley intends to continue being a teacher and a historian. He plans to remain here in Farmville and to continue teaching extension courses for the University of Virginia—an activity in which he has been engaged since 1927. He will also do a lot of historical writing that has been simmering for a long while, and he'll add to his list of three monographs mostly on Southern history, that he has presented at national meetings of the American Historical Association.

Miss Tallaferro was graduated from the old Normal School at Farmville and then went on to study at Cornell. She transferred to Columbia University to get the B. S. and M. A. degrees. She taught for a while at Chatham Episcopal Institution, now Chatham Hall. She recalls that Chatham was then a school "for the poor girls of the church." Miss Tallaferro taught also at St. Annes School in Albany, N. Y. for a short time. Then Farmville beckoned and she returned here to teach in the Department of Mathematics. She has been ever since.

"Well, is Farmville your home?" She was asked. "No," she said, "I call Orange my home. I plan to stay on here in Farmville for a while and travel a little also. I have brothers and sisters spread nicely about the eastern part of the U. S. A."

"Other Plans?"

"Well, only to read all the math books that I've been planning to read for many years and have never had the time to read."

Dr. Finklestein calls power lust a threat to survival.

Congratulations

Continued from Page 1

From Department of Education

The Department of Education wishes for every member of the graduating class in the summer of 1948 many experiences whose qualities are desirable. What qualities each individual considers desirable depends upon his underlying philosophy of life. In choosing his philosophy we shall expect him to exercise intelligent discrimination.

John P. Wynne

From the Home Economics Department

Congratulations and three wishes to our graduates who are teachers or will be teachers—

That they may love and be loved

That they may be able to discipline themselves

That they may gain true and lasting happiness.

From the Art Department

To each graduate we offer congratulations and sincere best wishes. We hope the spirit of creative work and thinking will go with you into school and home and bring you back to Farmville often.

The Department of Art

From the Music Department

The Music Education Department congratulates the Seniors and hopes that all of their campus experiences have been happy, educational and inspirational. Our good wishes go with you. We especially want you to continue to grow musically.

J. A. Patterson

Welcome Alumnae

(Continued from page 2)

and keep yourself informed on the policies of your college so that you may be known as "A devoted daughter of a worthy Alma Mater."

RUTH H. COYNER

Change In Faculty

Continued from Page 1

Dean Martha Smith Smith leaves the college at the close of the summer session. Miss Rosemary Elam, Assistant to the Dean of Women also leaves in September to marry Mr. L. D. Pritchard who was graduated from V. M. I. this June. They will live in Birmingham, Ala. where he will work for the Tenn. Coal and Iron Co. Miss Elam came here from Virginia Southern College. Before that after being graduated from S. T. C. she had taught at Hopewell. She will keep apartment in Birmingham, but if things work out she'll go back to teaching if she can. "Farmville has a big place in my heart," she says, "and, quoting MacArthur, "I shall return?"

Four other members of the staff are leaving after this summer. Mrs. Jean Winfield, Secretary to the President, is going with her husband to the University of Syracuse in N. Y., where she will "just keep the home fires burning" while he takes his M. A. in Journalism, that is, if they can find a home in which to keep the fires burning. Mrs. Margaret Netherland has already left to work as a secretary in the office of the Dunnington Company in Farmville. Mrs. Carrie Fitzpatrick, who had a bad fall,recently is is leaving for her home at Arrington, near Lynchburg. She is one of the college hostesses. Mrs. Graham, manager of Longwood, is leaving to be with her husband and teach at Middletown, near Winchester. Her husband has been transferred to the State Auditing Office in Winchester.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,

One purpose of the Y. W. C. A. on our campus in the winter school is to have prayers after dinner. Would it be possible to organize a group to be in charge of prayers during the summer session?

Although during the summer many of the students like to go for a walk or rest a few minutes after dinner, I am sure others would also enjoy and be enriched by a prayer service. Several students have expressed the desire for such a service.

With all the capable and willing people on our campus this could be carried on with little effort on the part of each of us. The blessings received from such services would prove to be valuable to everyone.

—A Student

Summer Graduates

Continued from page 1

for the Bachelor of Science in Business Education.

The officers of the class are; Hazel Vaughan Holland, president, Coralie McElroy Woolridge, vice-president and Elizabeth Collier, secretary treasurer.

Ever See a Millio

A million is a lot of stars. On a clear night only 2,0 are visible at one time, acording to astronomers. So you to stay no every night for two whole years to get to see LION STARS.

For the official opening of their new store in Fa Bowen's will have a MILLION to show you but not

BOWEN

INC.

Jewelers

111 N. Main Street Farmvi

Entire Stock of

Spring and Summer Dresses Greatly Reduced

DOROTHY MAY STORE

Air Conditioned For Your Comfort

Patronize

CHAS. E. BURG

FLORIST

Under WFLO

Compliments of

MARTIN

THE JEWELER

WHEN IN FARMVILLE

Shop at

NEWBERRY'S

Congratulations and best wishes to the Seniors!

BOWEN'S

Compliments of

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

For A Bite To Eat That Can't Be Beat

Visit

The Bar That Pleases

The Snack Bar

"The Best Shakes and Sodas In Town"

Greetings
Old Girls

The Rotunda

Welcome
Freshmen

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1948 | No. 1

Dean Savage Calls Attention To Class Absence Regulations

Students Reminded Of Smoking Rules

Dean Savage has called to the attention of all students in College Section 18 of the Class Absence Regulations in the Handbook.

This section states that when a student has a total of two unexcused absences from class in a session, he or she must report to the Dean of the College and explain the reason for them. His or her parents or guardian will be notified when a third unexcused absence is reported by the Registrar. Further action in the student's case will be decided upon by the President and Dean of the College if a fourth unexcused absence is reported.

Dean Savage also called attention to the Section on Smoking in the Student Government Regulations. He pointed out that it is clearly stated that the dropping of cigarettes on the floors is prohibited on all floors of every building and that this is a punishable offense.

ANNE EAST
Editor of "The Virginian"

East Announces "Virginian" Rates

"The Virginian", S. T. C.'s yearbook, began its annual canvas for student subscriptions this week, it was announced Tuesday by Anne East, Editor - in - Chief. Staff members are soliciting subscriptions on each hall of the dormitories and the table in the hall will also be open for a short time.

According to Anne, the plain cover annual will sell for $6.00 if paid at the time of subscribing, and $6.50 if paid in installments. The padded cover annual without a name stamped on it sells for $6.50, while the padded cover with a name is $7.25. A plain covered annual with a name imprinted on it is available for $6.75. All annuals must be paid for at the time of subscription, with the exception of the plain cover without the stamped name.

The staff of "The Virginian," held its first meeting Monday night at which time dormitory canvas areas were assigned and a discussion of theme and cover design took place.

The staff of the Virginian this year is under the editorship of Anne East with Joyce Webb serving under her as Managing Editor, and Edna Earle Waters as Business Manager.

Dramatic Club Holds Try-outs Tomorrow For Fall Production

Yesterday the Dramatic Club launched its 1948-49 program by signing up freshmen for apprenticeships in the various departments of the club.

These departments are acting, staging, costuming, lighting, make-up, and properties; and to become a member of the Dramatic Club, a student must serve an apprenticeship in one of these departments for a certain period.

According to Betty House, president of the Dramatic Club, plans are now underway for the fall production which is to be given November 19. Try-outs for this play will be held tomorrow, Thursday Sept. 30, in the large auditorium from five to six o'clock in the evening. Betty urges all apprentices and Dramatic Club members to come to try-outs. Upperclassmen, to be eligible to try out for the play must have at least a "C" average in their studies.

Six Home Ec. Majors Run Practice House

Six senior Home Economics majors have begun their nine weeks stay in the Home Management House across the street from the Main Building of the College according to a statement by Gwen Cress, president of the Home Ec. Club.

These girls are Jean Kollmeyer, Mary Ellen Moore, Nell Foster, Virginia Watson Price, Eva Cobb, and Doris Godsey. Students staying at the Home Management House are under the supervision of Miss Margaret Sprunt Hall, Instructor in Home Economics.

Living at the Home Management House gives Home Economics majors an opportunity to gain experience in the planning, budgeting and actual work that go into housekeeping. Each student living there serves alternately as cook, hostess, waitress, and housekeeper.

The Home Ec. Club will open its activities for this year with an afternoon tea to be given next week in honor of the nineteen S. T. C. freshmen who will major in Home Economics. The date of the tea has not yet been set.

Swimming Notice

All Juniors and Seniors who have not fulfilled their swimming requirements must see Frances Allen immediately.

Parisian Student To Assist At STC In Latin, French

Mlle Yvette Ancey To Arrive This Week

From the S. T .C. Modern Language Department comes the announcement that Mlle. Yvette Ancey of Vanves (near Paris), France will assist in the French department this year.

Mlle. Ancey, who will instruct Latin as well as French, holds a Licence Es Lettres degree from the Sorbonne, in Paris where she majored in English. The French Licence is equivalent to the English Master of Arts degree. In addition to her Licence, Mlle Ancey received from the Sorbonne a special diploma given for extra work in English.

The S. S. Marine Jumper on which Mlle. Ancey sailed from France on September 21, landed in New York the first of this week, and Mlle. Ancey is expected to arrive in Farmville within the next several days. This will be her first visit to the United States. Besides teaching here, Mlle. Ancey will continue her study of English at S. T. C.

The College was able to secure Mlle. Ancey's services through the International Institute of Education in New York City which works in conjunction with the United States French Embassy and the University Center in Paris.

Dr. Lancaster Says Bids Will Be Opened On Science Building

Plans and specifications for the new science building on the College campus have been completed, according to a report made by Dr. Lancaster. Bids from construction companies will be called for on October 14.

The science building will be located on the lot back of Cunningham Hall. This will make it necessary for Race Street to be closed, and the land will be graded.

Dr. Lancaster also said the College plans that the rotunda will be given a new coat of paint in December during the Christmas holidays.

No More Dining Hall Din; Digestion Now Possible

By Janice Slavin

What's new at S. T. C. besides the rotunda floor? Why the sound proof dining hall, of course. Why did they sound proof it? The only answer I got when I asked a bright little creature was, quote, "Because they heard YOU were coming back", unquote. Now I ask you, was that kind?

Anyway, it is soundproof, and it's surprising how quiet it is around meal time now. In fact the sophomores, juniors, and seniors tell me that they are on the verge of nervous breakdowns because of the lack of noise. The freshmen have no idea what it means to have the noise pounding on the hamner, anvil, and stirrup (let's not get technical) of your ear and then suddenly bouncing to your brain--you kinda get used to it. It is like getting used to walking from Cunningham Hall to the infirmary when you are "dead"--always have to go and report the fact!

Besides sound-proofing the dining hall, it also received a nice new coating of paint. It is really quite attractive--cost a "pretty" penny too. The price of fixing the ceiling was approximately $2,800, and the paint job was around $1500. The ceiling is made of fiber glass bricks, a material so light that if one of the bricks should suddenly crack and fall, it wouldn't leave a knot on your head as one would suspect.

Speaking of knots on one's head, a gal over here has a huge one. She claims it all happened when the wall ran into her the other night--ha! Beware of running walls. They seem to be rather dangerous.

From the complaint department comes the fact that everyone is too beat up to stand up and say grace after a round with the day's classes, a gay day's classes, that is! From the complaint department also we hear that yelling from one table to another is quite difficult as all the sounds seem to be absorbed in mid-air. Oh well! Happy eating!

STC Adds Eight New Members To Faculty, Staff For '48-'49

Eleven To Assist College Librarian

Dr. Ruffin Announces New Staff Additions

Eleven College students have been engaged to work as part-time assistants in the S. T. C. library for the coming year, according to Dr. M. Beverly Ruffin, College librarian.

Assistants from the senior class are Ruth Radogna, Nadine Lewers, Jacqueline Burkholder, Nell Foster, Eula Ayres, Gertrude Walker, English, and Freda Dansburger Baker. Ruth Walker, Louise Redd, and Polly Nasser, represent the junior class, and Georgia Bailey is the only sophomore assistant.

All of these girls worked last year as library assistants, some having worked there since their freshman year. One of this year's assistants, Eula Ayres, does art work for the library, and her posters can be seen in the library and College halls.

Mrs. George Jeffers, wife of Dr. Jeffers, head of the College Biology Department, has joined the library staff on a half time basis, and Mrs. Martha Hoim Jenkins, wife of S. T. C. "G. I." student, Carl Jenkins, will work on the staff on a full time basis. Mrs. Jenkins was graduated from S. T. C. in the class of '46, and she worked as teacher-librarian at Worsham High School.

Dr. M. Beverly Ruffin, College Librarian, Miss Lillian Seaburg, and Miss Marion C. Terry remain on the staff from last year. Dr. Ruffin told a reporter, "We are looking forward to a year in which the staff can render good service to S. T. C. students and other patrons."

Senior Class Elects Circus Co-Chairmen; Historian Yesterday

At a meeting of the senior class held last night in the Senior Rec the Class Historian and Circus chairman were elected. Chosen to be the Historian of her class was Betty Spindler, senior from Hampden Sydney, and elected as Co-chairmen of the stunt for the annual Circus were Betty Romeo, of Arsdsley, N. Y., and Phyllis Bagley, of Cleveland, Ohio. The class also named Ann Owen, from Green Bay, as senior in charge of caps and gowns which they will begin wearing to assembly.

Rotunda Will Hold Try-Outs For Staff

All students who are interested in working this year on the staff of The Rotunda will have an opportunity to sign up for try-outs tonight. Betty Spindler, Editor-in-Chief, has announced that there are vacancies in practically every department. No previous experience is required, though all who have worked on school publications are urged to come out for the staff. A training class for staff members will be conducted by the editorial board, in which all the principles and practices used by The Rotunda will be taught to the apprentices.

"This is a splendid opportunity" said Betty, "for anyone who is interested in journalism to obtain first hand experience in newspaper publication". Besides the writing there are a large number of posi-

Continued From Page 4

MISS GLEAVES
New Dean of Women

48 Upperclassmen Lead Orientation

Jane Fox, Vice President of Student Government, reports this week that there were forty eight orientation leaders and assistants who aided the freshmen and new students during their first week at S. T. C. These girls led groups in which rules of the college were discussed and learned. They led various groups on tours of the campus in order to acquaint them with the college.

The leaders, all who were either juniors or seniors, were Jean Cake, Violet Ritchie, Ann East, Jackie Bobbitt, Elizabeth Jefferson.

Also Jessie Pickett, Frances Farley, Betty Spindler, Grace Mallory, Pat Page, Majorie Miller, Betty Pairet, Martha Gillum, Gwen Cress, Nancy Rushing, Frances DeBerry, Dolly Ann Freeman, Anne Robinson, Jean Watts, and Janie Fox.

The assistants were also juniors and seniors. They were; Betty House, Ray Phillips, Barbara Grizzard, June Banks, Louise Redd, Nancy Lee Maddox, Helen Hardin, Ann Nock, Bee Hilton, Elizabeth Bragg, Barbara Sours, and Puckett Asher.

Also Robbie Cromar, Patsy Ritter, Frances Dodson, Helen Arington, Lelia Mae Ferret, Hope Duke, Joyce Webb, Jackie Eagle, Delores Duncan, Helen Holbrook, Pat Paddison, and Laura Jean Comerford.

Miss Gleaves Moves To Dean's Office

Eight new members have been added to the faculty and staff at S. T. C. for the winter session of 1947-48. In addition to these there have been several interdepartmental changes.

Miss Ruth Gleaves, who replaced Dean Martha Smith Smith as Dean of Women, was formerly Associate Professor of Home Economics. Miss Gleaves has the distinction of being the first hostess and manager of Longwood and also a Farmville Alumna. She received her M. A. from Columbia University and has done graduate work at the University of Tennessee and the University of Chicago. She is a member of the American Vocational Association, the Virginia Home Economics Association and the Farmville Woman's Club. She is advisor to the Pan-Hellenic Association and was formely advisor to Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Miss Caroline R. Eason, formerly supervising teacher in the Kindergarten of the Training School, succeeded Miss Rosemary Elam as Assistant to the Dean of Women. Miss Eason is a graduate of S. T. C. and her father was for many years head of the Biology Department here.

Mrs. Ralph J. Wakefield has been made Longwood Hostess. This positon was held last year by Mrs. Harriet C. Gramam.

Mrs. Josephine McKeeby Phillips is replacing Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro in the Mathematics Department. Mrs. Phillips received her A. B. and M. A. from Montclair, New Jersey, State Teachers College. She formerly taught in the Franklin, N. J., High School, and also served as a Lieutenant (J. G.) in the United States Coast Guard.

Dr. C. G. Gordon Moss has been promoted from the position of Associate Professor of History and Social Science to Head of the History Department, succeeding Dr. James E. Walmsley. Replacing Dr. Moss in the History Department is Dr. Marvin Wilson Schlegel. Dr. Schlegel received his B. A. from Susquehanna University in Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, and his M. A. and Ph. D. from Columbia University in New York City. He formerly taught in the St. Helena Extension of the College of William and Mary in Norfolk, Virginia.

Miss Vera Frances Baron has accepted the position of assistant in the Biology Department. Miss Baron received her B. S. from Farmville State Teachers College and has done graduate work at William and Mary, Roanoke College, and the University of Virginia. She was formerly head of the

Continued on Page 3

Freshmen Welcomed to STC By Parties and Receptions

With lots 'n lots of parties and get-togethers the Class of '52 was welcomed to dear ole S. T. C. Hardly had they arrived before the Y. W. C. A. had informed them of the "coke and nab" party to be given in their honor on Monday night. With songs and fun and of course cokes and nabs, for everyone, a gay time was had by all.

On Wednesday night these new red and whites' were entertained by their sister class (those high and mighty juniors) in the main rec. More food, more singing, and lots of piano playing made the Freshmen begin to really feel at home.

Of course, the Freshmen had yet to be formally introduced to Dean and Mrs. Savage, President and Mrs. Lancaster, Miss Gleaves, and those "big wheels on campus" known as the Heads of the Organizations. But all this was soon and properly taken care of at the annual Big Sister-Little Sister Reception. From the Junior's version of May Day to the last number everyone was highly entertained. In fact the Freshmen even had a couple of tricks in the form of entertainers up their sleeves.

With all these good times behind them and the promise of more in the near future we doubt if any of our "little" Freshmen can say that their first week at S. T. C. was a dull one.

Greetings, "Uppercrust!"

Welcome to S. T. C.! That well-nigh worn-out phrase rang in freshman and transfer ears for a week after their descent on the College.

Now that the tumult and shouting have been replaced by a sometimes dull routine, freshmen may be wondering if upperclassmen weren't just doing lip service to some sort of tradition when the welcomes were bandied about.

We of the Rotunda staff want to assure anyone who harbors the shadow of a doubt about the sincerity of the recent greetings, that upperclassmen are truly happy to welcome freshmen to their numbers. This is a gladness comparable to a family's joy at the birth of a child; for the arrival of each new student at S. T. C. means to our school a sort of rebirth—a renewing and possible enrichment of all its fine traditions.

The minute a new student enters the rotunda, they become an integral part of an institution composed of thousands of ex-freshmen such as he, each of whom has left a part of himself here to build the State Teachers College we now know. Upperclassmen and faculty members are happy to have a group of freshmen, not only because this infusion of new blood represents a wealth of new friendship and fellowship, but because it represents new potential greatness for our College. Moreover, the 1948 crop of freshmen is doubly welcome because it's a known fact that they are the "uppercrust" of Virginia's high schools. Only in recent years have students been required to meet the requirements of an impartial committee on admissions in order to be admitted to S. T. C. Now we feel assured that this year's smaller, handpicked freshman class represents the top college material available.

Class of '52 and transfers, you are "well come" and truly welcome. Just as you are already "growing on" S. T. C., so we are sure that S. T. C. will "grow on" you.

Our Finest Tradition

If asked to name the one thing in the whole tradition of State Teachers College that does the most toward making the College what it is today we would unerringly answer "the Honor Code". This code is the intangible and almost indefinable basis of the loyalty which each S. T. C. student bears for her Alma Mater. It was as a pact among the students to keep all their relationships honorable, without strict supervision of the faculty, and it has been preserved by each successive class. Like the rest of our traditions it has been handed down from year to year, carefully cherished as one of the strongest basis of the liberties we enjoy here. We are indeed fortunate to have such an agreement between students and faculty.

Dr. Moss made an address to the freshman class during their orientation period on the Code which we, of the Rotunda, feel bears repeating to remind both freshmen and upperclassmen of their responsibility. He said, "The Honor Code has been maintained in the past by all classes at S. T. C.; it is up to you in your four years here to preserve or destroy it."

Now what does the Honor Code mean to you? What does it mean to you to know you're expected to be a student of absolute honor? Turn an introspective eye on yourself and see just how honorable you are. Can you look yourself in the face and say, "I have a sensitive regard for my college to live by the Honor Code at all times and to see that others do likewise"? If you can do that, if you can be sure that when temptation presents itself you can turn away from it easily, then indeed you know the meaning of the Honor Code and can add greatly toward maintaining its high standards.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wedneseday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Schoiastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Lou Shelor, Elsie Love Bentley

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin,
Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Betty Ferguson

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Ann Lynch

Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Patsy Graveley

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager

Business Assistants
Virginia Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton,
Anne Verser, Connie Heather

Gladys Monk ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Carol Stoops, Edna Earle Waters, Ruth Radogna
Anne Simpson

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1948

jots & tittles

Greetings everyone, it's good to be back and chatting with you over the editor's desk again. When we got here we found an overflowing mailbox, loads of new things to write about from the floor in the rotunda to change-making coke machines, and three broken typewriters in the Rotunda office. Still, undaunted by the latter mentioned factor, which is only one of many setbacks we have to grin and bear, we set to work getting the first issue out to you.

Old students will find that there've been some changes made and you new ones need to be introduced to the Rotunda from the start, so forthwith we present with pleasure the new columns. "The Chatterbox" will be found henceforth in the place of poor, old, tired "Bedcheck", which died a natural death May 31; "Jots and Tittles" (which is open for suggestions for a better name since it hasn't been christened yet) will appear in the place of "Our World" and "Puddin' 'n Sauce", and "The Bulletin Board" is our brand-new "public service feature" that is to bring to your attention the sports and other important notices of the week.

Well, now that you've met us, we're anxious to meet you. Don't forget that the pages of the Rotunda are always open to print your letters, features, and anything you have to contribute. We'll be looking for you, and hope you'll be pleased with the paper that strives to be the true chronical and voice of the student body at S. T. C. Be seeing you!

"Y" Lines

Dear New Students,

As you enter this, your first year at S. T. C., I would like to welcome you to the years of happiness and service you will find here. Through contacts with fellow students and under the influence of the YWCA, each of you should grow spiritually as well as mentally, thereby making college life a more abundant, creative, and a happy one.

Even in these days of peace, all of us need to build our faith on such a stable foundation that it could never shake or crumble. Though our part may seem very small indeed to us, each of us has her own important role to play. Strengthen your faith and fulfill your needs by active participation in YWCA activities. On page 59 of your student handbook, you will find a list of the YWCA committees, one of which you may join at a later date. Read these over and decide which committee you feel you are best suited for . There is an opportunity for every talent to be used in the organization.

Every woman student at Farmville is a member of the YWCA. Don't be content with just being a member--be an active member!

The aim of the Young Women's Christian Association in college is the development of Christian character in its members, the promotion of a spirit of friendliness among all the students of the College, and the training for service through the various activities of the Association, that it may equip and send forth leaders to extend the Kingdom of God throughout the earth. The "Y" sincerely hopes that you will recognize the aims of the YWCA and make them yours while you're here at Farmville.

It was with eager anticipation the YWCA looked forward to greeting each of you in September. We know that you will learn to love everything about Farmville--its lovely traditions and spirit--as much as we do. Our sincerest welcome to S. T. C.

Sincerely,
Laura Jean Comerford
Pres. YWCA

The Chatterbox presents . . . but wait, and we'll let you in on the big new feature by just listening in on a casual conversation we overheard in the Rotunda a couple'a days ago when Liz ran up to Ann and after a fond and somewhat noisy saluation got down to serious conversation:

Liz: . . . and it's wonderful! Something new has been added!

Ann: Of course that could mean anything, but could you be a little more specific?

Liz: But don't you know? It's the "Chatterbox." Let's the students in on all that's new, (and with a wink), if you know what I mean. I think the freedom of the press has something to do with it and they say that neither wind nor hail nor snow nor sleet can stop it!

Ann: I think you're slightly confused with the mailman, but please continue.

Liz: It's one of those "know all" jobs. Bits of infor' picked from here and there, catch?

Ann: You mean stuff like sophs, who, carried away by their newly acquired prestige, were wandering around at wee hours in the morning and set the perfect example for the new Freshmen by getting call downs the first night?

Liz: That's right and speaking of freshmen aren't they honeys! I'll bet the Juniors are proud to call them "Li'l sis."

Ann: Yeah, and speaking of Juniors, did you see all the gals

Continued on Page 3

HAPPY DAZE ARE HERE AGAIN

Gallop Pole

What are you looking forward to as Seniors?

Paulette Pifer: Senior privileges, (Joke)
Billie Mullins: That B. S. degree.
Jean Cake: A good time.
June Adams: Graduation.
Doris Lanier: Christmas; I'll be through with teaching.
Alfreda Lewis: Next June; I'll be through with school.
Katy Ellis: Charlie.
Pete Patterson: Graduation.
Virginia Hanks: Graduation definitely.
Doi Daniel: My first graders.
Tillie Tillet: The day I get my degree.
Deeb DeBerry: Being a Hall President.
Pat Page: Changing that tassle from the left of the cap to the right.
Tootsie Hamilton: Getting out!
Violet Ritchie: "Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.
Ruthelien Mears: Finishing my practice teaching.
Mary Towles Waidrop: The month of June.
Betty: Senior Dance.
Majorie Miller: Looking forward to everything I've been waiting for these years.

Bewildered Freshmen Learn STC Customs, Conventions

By Joan Prichett

Milling throngs of unfamiliar faces. . . . . registering for rooms . . . . . trudging up long flights of stairs. . . . .carrying luggage. . . . friendly hellos. . . losing the way in strange winding halls. These new sights and intriguing experiences greeted us incoming freshman when the school bell once again beckoned another group into the higher realms of learning. No more high school life for us but a life of living and learning together in college.

We befuddled but determined freshmen noted at once the friendly atmosphere that prevailed over the whole student body as well as the faculty. We saw that each girl was keenly eager to become our friend. It made little difference whether she was properly introduced. There's nothing like that at Farmville. Everyone just smiled warmly and proceeded to tell her name and "where she's from". How wonderful to hear a girl say, "Why do you know Fred Smith who used to live there, I know his cousin!" From that point, a beautiful friendship was born.

But not just one friendship was made on the first day. Many old acquaintances were renewed and a multitude of others acquired. By evening of the first day, every girl had two or three good friends. If she didn't, it must have been her fault for there were dozens who were willing.

One of the favorite S. T. C. pastime as any freshman quickly realized is eating. Perhaps the reason why everyone looks forward to mealtime with such zest is not so much the good food but the good time that is had at the various tables. Chatting about the new room mate. . . . .talking about the hometown. . . . .camparing notes on how to make the room as attractive as possible; these are but a few of the topics that the freshman soon found to discuss at mealtime.

Never, no never, will we forget that the first thing a student at Farmville learns to look fowrard to is mail time. At least six or seven trips a day are made to the post office, if only to blow the accumulated dust from the box. It's never difficult to tell from the expression on a girl's face if the letter in her box is from her favorite fellow back home. Sometimes a shriek of unleashed joy will let it be known that a money order from home has arrived.

In the memory of every S. T. C. student, the pleasant recollections of all the parties and charming entertainments that were presented during our first days will live forever. An added delight were the cokes and cookies that someone always seemed to remember.

Still, on the opposite side of this bright picture, there was a dark one. This slightly gloomy side, homesickness, was not to get the better of any of us freshmen, however. No matter how homesick a freshman might have been the first day or two, she soon found that her congenial roommate or the girl across the hall had the same problem and that together they could solve them easily. She quickly realized that no problem of homesickness or loneliness was too great to overcome. It took only a moment to see that eager determination and sound resolution were her weapons against these dreaded enemies. She saw that with them, she, along with her fellow class mates, could make the 1948-49 session one of the most successful freshman years S. T. C. has ever had.

Continued on Page 3

Customs

Continued from Page 2

Chatterbox

Continued from Page 2

from that great class up for a visit this week-end?

Liz: Oh, Peggy West, "Reicker," and the Shirleys (Young and Trout, to you) who just couldn't leave.

Ann: And alumnae too!

Liz: How could I forget! We sat up 'til 4 by the clock Saturday night waiting for the arrival of those prominent alumnae Kitty Hankins and Betty Burchett! Ask Ann Ford if it was a surprise visit!

And on and on they went—way past "Bedcheck." So be careful what you say and more careful what you do, because little gals, the "Chatterbox" is you!

WELCOME TO - - - -
Farmville
ROSES

Visit The
WESTERN AUTO
For Your Latest Records

Welcome to Farmville
We are ready to serve you
Phone 181 Night 4
COLLINS

Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors of S. T. C.—Welcome to Farmville
ENNIS

Flowers For All Occasions
BURG

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Editor's Note:

For some time various organizations have been asking for space to print their notices, meeting times etc. so finally here it is! All notices must be turned in to Lee Robertson by Friday night in order to be printed the following week. In exceptional cases some notices may be given the editor-in-chief as late as Tuesday night, but previous intention of doing so must be stated.

• • •

The Snack Bar, which the Alumnae Association had installed in the Rec for the benefit of the students is open on the following schedule:

Weekdays—10:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m. 10:00 p. m. to 11:00 p.m.

Saturday—10:00 a. m. to 10:30 p. m.

Sunday—4:00 p. m. to 10:30 p. m.

• • •

Longwood, under the management of Mrs. Ralph Wakefield, is now open every afternoon to students and to their dates. A car goes out at 3 and 4 p. m. from in front of the Rotunda. All students may walk to Longwood in the afternoon by signing out in the Home Office. The house is open Tuesday through Sunday from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

• • •

Frances Allen, new instructor in swimming has listed the following hours for recreational swimming: Saturday night 8 to 9 p. m., and Sunday 3 to 4 p. m.

• • •

Faculty members and heads of all organizations will meet in the small auditorium tonight; Wednesday, September 29, with the committee on scheduling events in order to have meetings for the year scheduled and placed on the calendar.

• • •

Dramatic Club Executive Board will meet October 4 from 5 to 6 p. m. in Miss Wheeler's classroom.

• • •

Permanent chapel seats will be assigned Thursday morning at assembly. Also at that time Dr. Lancaster will introduce the ministers of the Farmville churches to the new students.

• • •

All students are urged by the A. A. to come out for hockey practices, which will begin next week. The practices will be held Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 3:45 p. m.

Athletic Council Elects Officers

The Athletic Association Council met Monday, September 27 in Miss Iler's office.

At the first meeting of the year, officers were elected to replace Helen Londree, Margy Beane, and Martha Berry, A. A. vice president, treasurer, and tennis manager, respectively, who did not return to S. T. C. this fall. Winifred Beard was elected new vice-president; Margaret Wall is now treasurer; and Hilda Edwards will be tennis manager.

Other officers of the A. A. Council are Jesse Pickett, president; Ray Phillips, secretary; Lee Robertson, varsity hockey manager; Joyce Webb, class hockey manager; Patsy Ritter, varsity basketball manager; Anna Famulatte, volleyball manager; Martha Hylton, swimming manager; Frances Allen, softball manager; and Betty Tilson, archery manager.

A. A. Issues Call For Cheer Leaders

Anyone interested in trying out for the College cheerleading squad, please get in touch with Jesse Pickett, president of A. A. Members of any class, freshman, sophomore, junior, or senior, are eligible for the cheer leading squad.

Faculty

Continued From Page 1

science department at Martinsville, High School.

Miss Anna Stuart Headlee is replacing Miss Lucy Bralley as Assistant in the Bureau of Teaching Materials. Miss Headlee received her B. S. from Farmville State Teachers College and came here from the Bedford County School where she taught sixth and seventh grade classes.

Mrs. Anne Meredith Jeffers who has been made a clerk in the S. T. C. library, also received her B. S. from Farmville.

Mrs. Jessie S. Grigg, the new teacher trainer in Home Economics, received her B. S. and M. A. from West Virginia University and has done graduate work at the University of North Carolina and Duke University. She was formely Supervisor of the High School Vocational Home Economics in the Prince Edward County School.

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

YOU ARE WELCOMED STUDENTS AND FACULTY AT ALL TIMES
LEGGETT'S DEPT. STORE
Farmville, Va.

Welcome To The
COLLEGE SHOP

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Welcome College Girls
We have missed you this summer
DAVIDSON'S
House of Quality

S. T. C. GIRLS . . . .
Welcome to DOROTHY MAY
Farmville's Only Exclusive Ladies' Store
Phone 300
A Complete Line of Nationally Adevrtised Ready-to-Wear

Best Wishes For A New College Year
VERSER'S

Make Newberry's Your Shopping Headquarters
NEWBERRY'S

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

GIRLS!
Why Not Make
Baldwin's
FARMVILLE
Your Shopping Headquarters
We feature the latest in style right . . . quality fashions, and the best in nationally advertised merchandise.
● Spalding'sSaddleOxfords
● Wool Jersey Blouses
● Mary Muffet Dresses
A SMALL DEPOSIT WILL HOLD ANY ITEM ON OUR EASY LAY-AWAY PLAN

Other BALDWIN Stores in Lynchburg, Durham, Rocky Mount

GOOD NEWS! --- FREE TO S. T. C.
PENCILS, FUTURISTIC PENCIL SHARPENERS -- FREE
THE HUB DEPT. STORE--S. T. C. HEADQUARTERS

UTILITY CABINETS
For Real Storage Space
$3.97
HAND SEWN LOAFERS & OXFORDS
KNITTING WOOL
25c up

DRESS YOUR ROOM UP AT THE HUB
BATES
$6.98 & $7.98
SPREADS
BED ROOM SLIPPERS $.98 up
DRESS WOOLENS 1.98 yd.
Lovely Jacquard Spreads All Colors 3.98
Gym Shoes, Lace to Toe, Best Grade 1.98
CURTAIN MATERIALS 19c yd. up
ALL WOOL CARDIGAN SWEATERS 3.98
Curtain Rods Best Grade 10c
Towel Bars—Folding Laundry Dryers
Dresser and Vanity Scarfs 69c to $1
Wash Cloths 5c
CRETONNES & CHINTZ 39c yd. up
PRETTY METAL TRASH CANS 59c

THE HUB DEPT. STORE--S. T. C. HEADQUARTERS

Toni kens

by Toni Allen

Last year the fashion ship was in a rough sea, but this fall we find it more or less on an even keel. Good cloth coats trimmed with touches of fur are among the best of the Fall costumes, and are more practical to buy now because they can be worn for several seasons. A winter coat, the basic item in a fall wardrobe, should be simple enough for casual campus wear, but with good lines. One of the most popular styles is the "man-tailored" coat.

Its versatile lining, which can be worn as a housecoat or Pullman robe, may be zipped out in a few seconds.

* * *

Feather hats are more important this year than they have been for many years previously, and are being made in lovely subtle colors which do wonders for winter costumes. Millinery is being created in new pastels which give black a definite lift.

Also popular for the millinery silhouette is the beret. These berets, many versions of which are created by Otto Lucas of London, range in shape from the profile, straight-on-the-head, and forward-tilted, to the layer type beret. Feathers this season accentuate hat lines, rather than form an additional decoration. .

Tea At Longwood Welcomes Students

Open house was held at Longwood on Saturday, September 25 from three to five p. m.

Mrs. Ralph Wakefield assisted by student hostessess showed the prominent old Prince Edward home to students, faculty, and administration, and served refreshments in the spacious dining room. Miss Ruth Gleaves, new Dean of Women, presided at the punch-bowl.

A combination radio-phonograph is an added attraction at Longwood now, and Mrs. Wakefield, official hostess, hopes that all students will feel welcome to use it and she said that any records contributed will be appreciated.

Freshmen Parties

The freshmen have had several entertainments given for them since their arival at S. T. C.

The first of these was a coke and nab party given by the Y. W. C. A. in the "rec" on Monday night, September 20, the day of their arrival.

Anna Headlee, who is on the faculty now. (See story page 1.

Rotunda Try-Outs

Continued From Page 1

tions open on the typing, proof-reading, copyreading and advertising. There is also a great need for girls who have free time Wednesday afternoon to help the Circulation Manager distribute the copies throughout the Dining hall.

The Rotunda office, next door to the small auditorium on Student, will be open immediately after prayers tonight for all those interested in getting information on the kinds of positions open and to sign up for a trial.

S. T. C. girl needed to handle cleaning for Kleanwell Cleaners.

—For Fine Service—

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

MARTIN THE JEWELER

S. T. C. Jewelry Gifts

Welcome Students

You have tried the rest—
Now eat at the BEST.

THE SNACK SPOT

Next To The State Theatre
Open From 10 a.m. 'Til Midnite

GRAYS DRUG STORE

The Rexall Store

START THE MORNING RIGHT

SPECIAL TO College Girls only, every morning Aunt Jemima delicious hot cakes with Maple syrup, butter and coffee

15c plus this coupon entitles bearer to the above breakfast

Served From 7:00 A. M. to 10:00 A. M. Only

SOUTHSIDE DRUG & GRILL

The State
YOUR COMMUNITY CENTER
IN FARMVILLE, VA.

Fri.-Sat.
Betty Grable
—In—
That Lady In Ermine

Sun.-Mon.-Tue.
A Foreign Affair

Wed.-Thur.
The Time of Your Life

The Lee
YOUR FAMILY THEATRE
IN FARMVILLE, VA.

Fri.-Sat.
Code of Scotland Yard
—And—
Randy Rides Alone

Sunday
Michael O'Halloran

Mon.-Tue
Thunderhoof

Wed.-Thur.
I Became A Criminal
—And—
Pioneers of the West

NOTICE!
Monday Through Saturday Doors Open 3:00 P. M.
Show Starts 3:15 P. M. Evening Shows at 7:00 and 9:00
Sunday Shows at 2:00, 4:00 and 9:00 P. M.

Have you seen INKY?
He's the irresistible black kitten on
NORCROSS
greeting cards

America's Best-loved Greeting Cards

Patterson Drug Store

Welcome S. T. C. Students and Faculty

Our hours to serve you are
Week Days:
10:00 A. M. to 8:00 P. M.
10:00 P. M. to 11:00 P. M.
Sat. 10:00 A. M. to 10:30 P. M.
Sun. 4:00 P. M. to 10:30 P. M.

THE SNACK BAR

WFLO
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
870 on your dial

Ice-Cold Coca-Cola Adds Zest to Lunch

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

"Naturally, I smoked CHESTERFIELDS while working on my new picture, BEYOND GLORY. They're always MILDER . . . It's MY cigarette."

Alan Ladd

STARRING IN
BEYOND GLORY
A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

Beth Ann Wilson ABC GIRL of Texas University says—
"I smoke Chesterfields because I have always found them definitely MILDER and besides I like their better taste."

MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELDS than any other Cigarette . . . BY LATEST NATIONAL SURVEY

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE . . . They Satisfy

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Enter
Colonnade Contest

The Rotunda

Join
"Pixies"

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1948 | No. 2

Short Story Contest Opens Langbein Announces Dates

Nov. 6 Deadline For All Entries

The annual short story contest sponsored by the Colonnade, the literary magazine published by S. T. C. students four times a year, begins today and ends Nov. 6, according to the announcement of Anne Langbein, managing editor of the college magazine.

Winning stories will be published in the Colonnade, and three prizes are to be given in addition. Any S. T. C. student is eligible to enter any number of original stories in the contest. Manuscripts submitted to the contest may be placed in the Colonnade box under the main bulentin board or they may be given to Anne Langbein or to Jacky Eagle, short story editor. Around 5000 is the word limit for short stories entered.

Anne Langbein will assume the duties of editor of the Colonnade until the College Board of Publications has chosen a new editor-in-chief to succeed Ting Rattray who did not return to College this fall.

SS Appoints Redd Head of Calendar

At a meeting of the heads of college organizations last week Miss Leola Wheeler, chairman of the Committee on Scheduling Student Activities, announced that Louise Redd, a junior, had been appointed by the Student Standards Committee to the office of Calendar Chairman. Louise replaces senior, Evelyn Patterson, who resigned from the office.

Final dates for all group meetings were set by organization heads when they met again Monday afternoon, October 4.

The following bulletin stating regulations governing student activities has been issued by the Committee on Scheduling Student Activities whose aim it is, "to encourage fewer and better entertainments and to facilitate quiet during study hour and after bed-check."

I. General Rules

1. All programs and rehearsals must be scheduled by Miss Wheeler, the chairman of this committee.

2. There shall be no postponements of any allotted dates except by permission of this committee.

3. There is to be nothing scheduled within ten days prior to examinations.

4. After permission has been obtained for rehearsals, meetings or initiations lasting beyond 7:50 P. M., the faculty advisor or person in charge will inform the Office of the Dean of Women. It, in turn, will give the information to the House Mothers and Hall Presidents.

5. Faculty are requested to inform themselves of and abide by these regulations. This includes special night classes, meetings other than at scheduled times, group conferences, and tests as they interfere with other scheduled meetings.

6. The calendar for scheduling rehearsals shall be kept in Miss Wheeler's classroom No.12. A copy will be in Mrs. Watkins' office.

A. Meetings (7:00-7:50, 10:00-10:50 on week nights).

1. All meetings must be held only at scheduled times. If a called meeting is necessary, permission must be obtained from the chairman of this committee or from the Calendar Chairman; unless it is held at an hour not used for regular meetings.

2. Organizations are requested to have not more than one meeting a month.

3. Initiations should be held at an hour that will not interfere with study hour. If sororities find this impossible, a date must be

Continued on page 4

Notice To Students

Permanent chapel seats will be assigned immediately before and after Assembly tomorrow to all those who did not get seats last week. Anyone who does not sign up tomorrow morning will be given an unexcused absence from chapel. See Miss Headlee for your seat assignment.

Miss Iler, head of chapel seating, also announced that there is to be positively no singing of color or class songs at Thursday Assembly.

Registrar Gives Total Enrollment

State Teachers College's total enrollment for the first semester of the 1948-49 year is now 679. Freshman enrollment is 223. Of this number 212 are new Freshmen and 11 are Freshman who entered during the summer school session. There are 174 Sophomores, 147 Juniors, 130 Seniors, and 5 Special Students. Of the 679 students there are 24 men.

These statistics show a decrease in the college enrollment from the previous year. During the winter session of 1947-48 there were 776 students registered. Divided into classes, there were 279 Freshmen; 210 Sophomores; 143 Juniors; 133 Seniors; and 11 Special Students.

The total number of transfer students and the schools from which they transferred is not available at this time. Announcement of this will come at a later date.

Choir Bids 65 Girls On Basis of Recent STC Choral Try-Outs

Sixty-five girls have been chosen from those who attended try-outs last week to be in the S. T. C Choir for the coming year. Try-outs were held by Mr. Ralph J. Wakefield, conductor of the Choir, and Jean Watts, president of the group. The year's first rehearsal was held on Monday night, and the choir will hold regular rehearsals each Monday and Thursday from 6:50 till 7:50.

Girls selected include, Andrea Adams, Joyce Adams, Dalila Agostini, Majoree Agee, Mary Louise Alphin, Barbara Andrews, Puckett Asher, Hetty Rae Barnes, and Winnie Beard.

Also Love Bentley, Lynda Black, Jean Boylston, Peggy Bryant, Doris Conner, Peggy Covington, Jean Cunningham, Dot Dodd, Dorothy Lee Doutt, and Rives Edwards.

Also, Branchy Fristoe, Jane Fox, Lauralie Fritts, Janice Gallion, Peggy German, Jane Gray, Connie Heather, Rosemary Hamlet, Marion Higgs, and Dolores Hoback.

Also Jean Hogge, Nancy Hounshell, Mary Frances Hundley, Marjorie Ann Jones, Ann W. Joyner, Charlotte Jones, Maria Jackson, Ann D. Kelly, Nancy Kibler, and Dot Lester.

Also, Jean Otis Loving, Esther Marsh, Barbara Medley, Joan Messemer, Elsie Ray Page, Bobby Pollard, Jane Richards, Nancy Rushing, May Henry Sadler, and Maude Savage.

Also, Mary Jane Stansbury, Ann L. Moody, Betty Lewis Shanks, Virginia Spencer, Lou Alyce Shelor, Norma Jean Saunders, Joanne Sterling, Mary Chase Sykes, Mary Curtis Thomas, and Jean Thomasson.

Also Pat Tuggle, Phyllis Tyree, Jean Watkins, Jackie Watson.

Continued on page 4

Juvenile Literature On Library Display

The library is featuring on display this week, a group of juvenile books which have been awarded the "Newberry Award," and the "Caldecott Medal."

The Newberry medal, the gift of Frederic Melcher, editor of "Publishers Weekly", is awarded by the American Library association for the most distinguished book for children published in the U. S. during the year. It was originated to encourage the maintenance of a high standard of writing for children, and named in honor of John Newberry, an eighteenth century bookseller and publisher, who is often referred to as "The Father of Children's Literature." This medal has been awarded annually since 1922.

The Caldecott medal, a gift of Mr. Mucher, editor of Publishers' Weekly, is awarded by the American Association for the most distinguished picture book for children published in the U. S. during the year. The medal was named in honor of Randolph Caldecott, who ranked with Walter Crane and Kate Greenaway as illustrator of children's book. The first award was given in 1938.

According to Dr. M. Beverly Ruffin, Librarian, these books should prove to be helpful to the elementary student teachers in recommending the best in literature to their pupils.

For the benefit of the Freshmen and new students, who are not yet familiar with the library, Dr. Ruffin points out that there is a movie display at all times reviewing the current motion pictures at the State and Lee

Continued on Page 3

59 S T C Students Make Dean's List Registrar States

Students Granted Extra Class Cuts

A list from the Registrar's Office revealing those who are on the Dean's List for the fall semester has just been released. The Dean's List is composed of those sophomores, juniors, and seniors who made a 2.25 average on the preceding semester's work. The Dean's List carries with it honor privileges permitting a student unlimited cuts. Those students who are on the Dean's List for the fall semester are:

Helen Agnew, Wilma Allen, Barbara Andrews, Puckett Asher, Eula Ayres, Georgia Bailey, and Hilda Bauserman.

Also, Betty Brockway, Jacqueline Burkholder, Page Burnette, Jean Cake, Lois Callahan, Mildred Carter, and Ann Scruggs Critzer.

Also, Robbie Cromar, Mary Minta Crowder, Sylvia Damsky, Dorothy Daniel, Elizabeth Drewer, and Edith Duma.

Also, Edith Duvall, Anne East, Rives Edwards, Gertrude Walker English, and Frances Everett.

Also, Allie Jane Felton, Elizabeth Ferguson, Martha Hatcher, Margaret Hoover, Elizabeth House, Julia Hughes, Nancy Kibler, and Anne Langbein.

Also, Denise Love, Nancy McAden, Elsie McAllister, Stuart McGhee, Mary Leigh Meredith, Mary Evelyn Miles, and Pauline Nasser.

Also, Anne Norman, Elizabeth Nuttall, Beatrice Pariet, Mary Parham, Emma Mae Pittard, and Regina Mary Smith.

Also, Virginia Mildred Spencer, Elizabeth Spindler, Lois Stevens, Jean Thomasson, Helen Traynham, Patricia Walker, Ruth Walker, Sue Walker, and Jacquelyn Watson.

Also, Juanita Weeks, Mary Cooper Whiteside, Dorothy Winton, and Mary Young.

New Group Forms To Go To Dances At Camp Pickett

Dodson Will Head "Pixies" Committee

There is being formed on campus a group of girls calling themselves the "Pixies," which has been organized to answer the need for girls to attend Saturday night dances at Camp Pickett. Frankie Dodson is chairman of the group, and Miss Leola Wheeler is faculty sponsor.

October 30 is the date of the first Camp Pickett dance which S. T. C. girls will attend. The dances will continue every other Saturday night through the current college year. Frankie urges that all girls who wish to attend these dances sign up on the main bulletin board by Friday noon before the Saturday night of the dance.

Informal Sunday attire will be worn to the Camp Pickett dances. Students attending the dances will meet in the rec immediately after supper on dance nights, and busses carrying them to Camp Pickett will leave from in front of the Rotunda at 7 p. m. Seventy girls may go each time.

Members of Frankie's "Pixies" committee are Louise Redd (co-chairman,) Marjorie Boswick, Frances Farley, Pat Page, Janet Peebles, Charlotte Jones, Virginia Westbrook, and Nancy Watts.

Dramatic Club Gains 81 New Apprentices For Fall Play Work

Last week 81 freshmen and upperclassmen signed up for apprenticeships in the different departments of the Dramatic Club. Old members also signed up to work in the various departments.

Those who signed up for the acting group headed by club member, Gris Boxley, are Shirley Fahrback, Mary Chase Sykes, Ellene Russell, Marty Miller, Alice Linkins Ruth Lacy, Eugenia Garst, Jackie Roberts, Betty Park, and Margaret Henderson.

Also Ann Rosson, Mary Quinn, Mary Moore Karr, Donna Staples, Frances Franklin, Jerline Korbach, Mary Helen Cook, Gay Power, and Shirley Elmquist.

Nancy Lee Maddox's make-up department will include Frances Cregar, Sara Cregar, Charlotte Williams, Charlotte Jones, Bobbie Pollard, Lillian Faulconer, Mary

Continued on page 4

Comerford Announces YWCA Chairmen

Laura Jean Comerford, president of the Y. W. C. A., has announced the committee chairmen for the coming year.

The chairmen are Ruth Tillet, Church Co-operative; Lelia Mae Perrett, Library; Dolores Duncan, Membership; Betty Jordan, Music; Carolyn Calhoun, Prayers; Ann Owen, Public Affairs; Dot Wood, Publicity; Barbara Grizzard, Service; Laura Lee Stickley, Social; and Agnes Dinglecine, Sing.

Other officers of the Y. W. C. A. are Ann Verser, vice-president; Helen Arrington, secretary; Jackie Wright, treasurer; and Betsy Gravley, freshman counselor.

The faculty advisory board is headed by Miss Winnie Hiner, Her assistants are Miss Grace Moran, Miss Mary Nichols, Miss Evelyn Hamner, Miss Bessie Jeter, and Miss Ruth Ann Bailey.

The freshmen are to sign up for the various Y. W. C. A. committees at a later date. A formal installation service will soon be held to install freshmen as official Y. W. C. A. members.

AKG Names Pickett Chairman of Circus

PAULINE NASSER
A P S Representative

Nasser Represents STC At Convention

At the national convention of Alpha Phi Sigma, held this past summer in St. Louis, Miss Polly Nasser represented S. T. C.

The Alpha Phi Sigma constitution was changed considerably at the convention, the most important change being the high school honor graduates will no longer be taken into Alpha Phi Sigma during their freshman year. Instead the freshman who were honor graduates from high school will receive a certificate of recognition but not membership.

After her freshman year, any girl with a 2.25 average will be taken into the society as a regular member.

The officers for the year 1948-1949 are Virginia Spencer, president; Max Acree, vice president; Charlotte Jones, corresponding secretary; Mary Crowder, recording secretary; and Hattie Swihart treasurer.

Sixty-One To Serve As Table Hostesses

Jackie Watson, chairman of the Dining Room committee, has announced sixty-one upper classmen who are serving as table hostesses.

They are Cab Overbey, Jackie Watson, Judy Hughes, Gladys Monk, Lucy Vaughan, Harriet Bowling, Billie Mullins, Barbara Grizzard.

Also Allie Jane Felton, Dalila Agostini, Janice Slavin, Sara Wilkerson, Doris Conner, Ruth Walker, Jackie Wright, Mickey Garnett, Marian Avedikian, Jane Gray.

Also Anne Nock, Dorothy Doutt, Peggy Lloyd, Barbara Andrews, Sue Walker, Anne Langbein, Lynda Black, Marian Breeden, Ray Phillips, Frankie Dodson.

Also Lizzie Bragg, Mary Miller, Hilda Edwards, Polly Nasser, Betty House, Annette Jones, Joyce Webb, Ruth Hathaway, Pat Davis, Mary Lou Woodward, Lou Alyce Shelor.

Also Harriet Ratchford, Jennie Lee Cross, Jean Hogge, Winifred Beard, Nancy Short, Nancy Lee Maddox, Robbie Cromar, Lelia Mae Ferrat, Helen Holbrook.

Also Pat Paddison, Jean Mercdith Turner, Jane Williams, Carie Ann O'Laughlin, Catherine Johnston, Jackie Eagle, Joyce Hamlet, Ann Dalby Kelly, Jean Hobbs, Carol Stoops, Frances Allen, Mary Evelyn Miles, Emma Crute.

Circle Chooses Holiday Theme

Jessie Lee Pickett has been named General Chairman by Alpha Kappa Gamma for the annual college circus to be held October 23 in the S. T. C. gymnasium. Today Jesse Lee named the various chairmen who will assist her in putting on the circus. They are Gwen Cress, in charge of Animals and Costumes; Martha Gillum in charge of the parade; Laura Jean Comerford supervising the decorations; Marjorie Miller in charge of the Queen and Court; and Jane Taylor who is in charge of the class stunts.

Jessie Lee also announced the class stunt chairmen. Betty Romeo and Phyllis Bagley are co-chairmen of the senior stunt, and Norma Roady is chairman of the junior's stunt. Betsy Wilson is chairman of the stunt for the sophomore class and Maria Jackson is chairman for the freshman class.

The circus theme, which was also revealed today, is to be Holiday Escapades which will be enacted by the court and queen. The name of the annual queen of circus is kept secret. Balloting for this sovereign will be held in the near future.

Student Government Will Sponsor First Open Dance Oct. 16

The Student Government Association will sponsor the first formal dance of the College year on Saturday night, October 16, in the gym. Tickets will be available next week to the whole student body.

Marjorie Miller, president of the Student Body, and Chairman of the dance, has announced the following committees and their heads. Janie Fox is in charge of music; Gwen Cress, Patsy Ritter, and Frankie Dodson, decorations; Jackie Bobbitt, Laura Jean Comerford, Lizzie Bragg, and Nancy Watts, tickets; Martha Gillum, Louise Taylor, and "B" Hylton, publicity; and Jesse Pickett, Nancy Watts, "B" Hylton, Martha Gillum, and Louise Taylor make up the floor committee.

New Madrigal Group Includes 15 Girls

Fifteen girls from the College Choir have been chosen by Mr. Ralph J. Wakefield, director of the choir, and Jean Hogge, student director of the College Madrigal group, to form this year's Madrigal Singers. This group has been enlarged this year, having numbered twelve in the past.

Girls returning to the group from last year include, Jackie Watson, Jean Hogge, and Joan Watts, first sopranos; Mary Frances Hundley, Joanne Sterling, and Barbara Sours, second sopranos; and Nancy Rushing and Jane Fox, altos. New members of the group include, Anne W. Joyner and Connie Heather, first sopranos; Puckett Asher and Ann Moody, second sopranos; and Bobby Pollard, Winifred Beard, and Charlotte Jones, altos.

The initial public appearance of the Madrigal Singers will be on the S. T. C. radio program Thursday afternoon. At that time they will sing, "Crystal Night" and "Pavanne".

What Are You Doing Here

For what did you come to college? Did you come because in a few more years you want to teach, or did you come with the intention of having a good time for four years? We hope you came for both reasons. It is possible to study and make good scholastically and, at the same time, participate in a number of extra curricular activities for fun and diversion—but it isn't easy.

This editorial is primarily addressed to the freshmen who have a choice to make. Suppose a freshman asks himself—"Shall I study and get the utmost out of my classes even if I don't do anything else? Shall I have a good time while I'm here because after college I'll never again know such companionship and so many activities, even if I just manage to scrape by in my classes? Or shall I strive to get a well rounded schedule of study and social life?" The answer would probably be the last of the list.

If you should choose as your aim in college a schedule of scholarship and recreation you will encounter difficulty. How can you study enough to be a good student and still have time for working on circus, in the Dramatic Club, on the Rotunda, on a "Y" committee, or get out for an athletic team? It ean be done. You can do it—but only with thought and intelligent planning.

It is very easy too, for students, in the days when many organizations are seeking their membership, to join several. After doing so they soon find that each organization makes demands on their time which completely take up all their leisure hours and soon begin to infringe on study hours. A student who holds membership in many clubs cannot be a good student or even a good club member because his time is too divided. We therefore urge each of you to choose one, or perhaps two organizations to which you can devote your best energies and still be free to work well in your classes.

The committee on scheduling activities and the Point System is doing much to aid students in spending their time wisely. Dr. Lancaster also has set forth a formula for taking advantage of all the opportunities college offers, and of making an investment of your time, your parents' money and the state's funds which will pay rich dividends. He says "Put first things first"!

You And School Spirit

For lo these many years we S. T. C. students, alumnae, and even outsiders have sung the praises of that "Farmville Spirit."

But who can define the "Farmville Spirit"? No one, we venture, for this spirit is another of those intangibles like the Honor Code which form the S. T. C. atmosphere which all students who have "caught the spirit" love to breathe.

Catching the Farmville spirit isn't an overnight process. One doesn't go to bed one night and awake next morning shouting "Hallelujah!" One begins to feel the spirit in the freshman year, but its full significance can hardly be realized until the senior year.

Class rivalry has its place as a component of the Farmville spirit, but there's much more to it than living and dying for green n' white or red n' white or cheering a team on to victory. It is the combined love and loyalty of some 800 students for their school, its traditions and ideals.

The Farmville spirit presents a great challenge to us all. It is upheld by the cooperation, loyalty, and zeal of a large group; yet it can be deeply wounded by thoughtless action on the part of one individual.

Those who have caught the spirit have been handed "a torch to carry on." Let's do all we can to keep the flame alive forever.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wedneseday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination perlods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Lou Shelor, Elsie Love Bentley

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin,
Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Betty Ferguson

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Ann Lynch

Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Patsy Graveley

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager

Business Assistants
Virginia Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton,
Anne Verser, Connie Heather

Gladys Monk ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Carol Stoops, Edna Earle Waters, Ruth Radogna
Anne Simpson

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1948

jots & tittles

This week we've been hangin' around the Snack Bar like bar flies guzzling milk shakes and getting the low down on what goes on beneath the upper crust. The Alumnae Association didn't plan it this way, but their little dispenser of tempting delicacies below stairs, the Snack Bar, is heavensent to the Rotunda in the way of concentrating the know-alls who give out the news. The Chatterbox, in fact, just camps out down there, and by keeping his eyes open and his trap shut picks up all the juicy morcels—and we don't mean orange sections!

Over our morning coffee we found out that the Dramatic Club has some new officers; Ruth Eggleston is now Business Manager and Treasurer replacing Anne Nock, and Mickey Garnett is the new Publicity Manager. Congratulations you two!

On our way up from our hang-out we stopped by for a chat with Mr. Graham and found out just what's new that is to be added. Number one is the teachers' lounge which is being established in the former Dean of Women's quarters on the first floor. He also told us that several state engineers have been here looking over the possibilities of lighting the murals in the rotunda. We'll tell you more about that 'nother time.

We were practically minding our own business, which a reporter never does, when one of our co-eds came back from the meeting of the men and told us all about it. Just think, S. T. C. is finally really a co-ed school with no joking about it! Of course we have only 25 men, but they aren't "just visiting"; they're here to stay and a very real part of our student body. Pretty soon they'll have their own locker room so they can use the pool too, plus extra recreational facilities in the "Rec." Tis said that there will be a men's dorm on campus.

"Have you joined yet?" Myrt asked Peggy. "It's a wonderful institution so I hear!"

Joined what?"

"The Lonely Hearts Club, of course! Nancy Lee, B. S., Lizzie and Hank says all you need is a telephone, and a nickel. They call for dates and the boys drop in around 7:00 to go to the movie. Nice, huh?"

"Yeah, nice, but where to call? That would be nice to know", Peggy interrogated slyly.

"Just look under Sigma Chi for the number."

"I wonder who had whose number, but it was all in fun you know."

"What fun! Well, I know one gal who won't have to join. Jessie Pickett has really been rating this week with two calls from Miami, candy and a dozen red roses. It's worth getting a year older for all that!"

"And why does Dolly Anne look so happy when someone mentions Christmas?"

Myrt looked puzzled. "I don't know, but I hear Sam has Pattie Page running around in circles, so maybe she can find the answer in her travels!"

Peggy interrupted, "Don't like to change the subject when the conversation is in such a whirl (pardon the pun), and speaking of whirls, Roanoke must have been quite the place this week-end with so many S. T. C .representatives. Betty Mac seemed to have been the Belle of the Brawl and Galloway still wants to know if she's gotten things "straightened out" yet."

Myrt yelped, "And did you hear about Galloway's week-end? Of course, the details can't be printed, but you get the straight dope (no offense intended) from her".

As they stood talking, a vet walked by. "Which way did he go, George?" they shouted, but he had his head in the clouds. "Guess he must have been thinking about that date Monday night with Toni Allen," Peggy murmured.

"Well, gotta go to class now, See you around."

"Bye now".

"Y" Lines

By ANNE VERSER

Vice Pres. Y. W. C. A.

We are glad so many of you are enjoying prayers. Carolyn Calhoun and her committee are doing a grand job.

It looked as though last Sunday most of the freshmen and upperclassmen found their way to their respective churches. After Thursday Chapel I'm sure there will be even more of you at church.

The cabinet will have it's fall retreat this week end at Longwood to make plans for the year.

New students and old alike, let this be your thought for the week - -

Finding A Friend

The field of friendly fellowship- - - Is a potential friend- - - So often all we have to do - - - Is simply say hello - - - And we have found a fellow-man - - - Who we are glad to know - - - Another creature like ourselves - - - Who only wants to be - - - Accepted as a humble part - - - Of life's society - - - We all enjoy companionship - - - And we are quite aware - - - That happiness depends upon - - - How other people care - - - And so if we help other folks - - - To see their struggles through - - - We may be fairly certain that - - - They will be friendly too.

From Portraits
by James J. Metcalfe

Gallop Pole

How does it feel to be a S. T. C. Freshman?

Mary Chase Sykes: I like the friendly atmosphere.

Jean Elliott: It's wonderful--nobody could help liking it.

Janice Blake: It's a little bewildering, but I think I like it.

Flora Ballowe: I'm still in a daze, but I think I am going to like it.

Barbara Bradshaw and Ida Buppert: We're too homesick to enjoy it, but we are going to give it a try. We like the girls, they've been so swell.

Frances Allen Thomas: S. T. C. is a grand place—nothing like it.

Cathy Bunch: Frankly, I'd like to be a Sophomore.

Midge Woods: It wouldn't be anything without a Bunch (Cathy).

Bobby Page and Joyce Nichols: It's wonderful, we love it and most especially the friendly spirit.

Pat Donnally: Oh, it's wonderful!

Gane Garst: Since I'm an only child from a small town I think S. T. C. is really wonderful.

Lauralie Fritts: I just like it, that's all.

Joyce Etheridge: I think the friendly spirit of the girls up here is very unusual.

Clara Cullip: Everything is different, but I like it just fine.

Norma Saunders: I consider it a wonderful opportunity to be here.

Ginger Boylston: It's a wonderful feeling, but it's different from home-life.

Margaret Turner: I like it here very much.

Kakie McCready: Loads of fun and loads of work.

Marty Miller: It's more fun.

Dolores Hoback: It feels wonderful, and we couldn't have a better sister class!

Jane Allen: It's almost like home 'cept the food.

Frances Davenport: It's a pretty good old place (S. T. C.), I'd say.

Reason For Rush Discovered Alert Reporter Gets In Push

By BARBARA MEDLEY

So you noticed the mad scramble for the dining hall the other night too? Never before in the history of S. T. C. have I been shoved into such eager girls with such looks of anticipation on their faces.

Eager girls—looks of anticipation—dining hall? I added them all together but the answer didn't come out "food." Then and there ole' man curiosity appeared on the scene and countless "would be" explanations of this unusual enthusiasm for the dining hall ran through my befuddled mind. What could the attraction be?

Well, I thought, whatever it is, it must really be terrific. Vaughn Monroe to play dinner music and croon while we swoon maybe? I peeped in, but no Vaughn, so that was definitely out. Or could it be the dining hall procedure had been revised and we could walk in, take a seat, pick up a menu, and order anything we wanted? (Free, too!)

At this thought I began shoving as hard as the rest—but it didn't take long to discover that this was too fantastic. This realization cancelled my enthusiasm but not my curiosity. When the noise had quieted down I gathered force so my voice might be heard above the constant hub-bub, and inquired just what the attraction was. The answer was—in words of one syllable—men! Yes, co-eds in the dining hall—S. T. C.'s dining hall, no less!

Of course, this new wonder of all wonders could have been dangerous, too. The glimmer in the girls' eyes was so bright that anyone could have easily been blinded, and many collisions would have ensued—in fact, they did, but luckily no one was hurt. (Well, not seriously.) One good point about this fascinating phenomenon is the food that will no doubt be saved while the girls just sit and convince themselves it's really true—amen! (Or should I say "ah men"?) Anyway, what a nice way to lose that weight we gained this summer!

Of course, the damage to the chairs in the dining hall during the mad rush for those precious seats (by the co-eds naturally) would probably have been drastic if we hadn't already been assigned tables. Men in the dining hall do add a little "local color," hm, girls?

Hockey Invades S T C Domain

The clashing of sticks, the sound of the ball whizzing down the field, and the groans of the poor souls with aching muscles are the familiar noises that you hear coming from the hockey field. Yes, hockey has once again invaded the domains of S. T. C.

New girls and old girls all don their gym suits and shin guards (the latter protect your shins from those dreaded black and blue marks) to try out for the varsity hockey team.

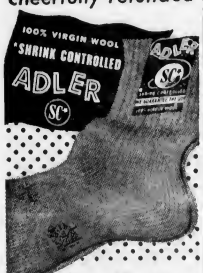
It's true that not every one can make varsity, but those who don't make it will be there to cheer our varsity team on. So come on out each afternoon, Monday through Thursday at 3:45 P. M., and get in your hockey practices in order that your class may have a full team.

Juvenile Library

Continued From Page 1

theatres. There are also reviews of the coming pictures, and of the ones that are most highly recommended for good entertainment.

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers



Have you seen SQUEAK?
Look for him on
NORCROSS
greeting cards

America's Best-loved Greeting Cards

Patterson
Drug Store

Wash 'em any way you like . . .
We Guarantee the Size or your money cheerfully refunded

Snowy White . . . and easy to keep that way!
Campus comfortable . . and co-educational . . . guys and gals alike really go for 'em . . . the official socks of the 1948 Olympics! Snowy white and SIZE SAFE no matter how you wash 'em. Heel and toe nylon reinforced for extra wear. Sizes 9 through 13.

95¢ the pair.

DAVIDSON'S
House of Quality

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Circus Practice Schedule Clip this out and Keep posted:

WEDNESDAY—OCTOBER 6
Freshman—Big Auditorium
Sophomores—Gym
Juniors—Senior Rec
Seniors—Little Auditorium
THURSDAY—OCTOBER 7
Freshman—Little Auditorium
Sophmores—Senior Rec
Juniors—Gym
Seniors—Big Auditorium.
TUESDAY—OCTOBER 12
Freshman—Senior Rec
Sophmores—Little Auditorium
Juniors—Big Auditorium
Seniors—Gym
WEDNESDAY—OCTOBER 13
Freshman—Gym
Sophomores—Big Auditorium
Juniors—Little Auditorium
Seniors—Senior Rec
THURSDAY—OCTOBER 14
Freshman—Big Auditorium
Sophomores—Gym
Juniors—Senior Rec
Seniors—Little Auditorium
MONDAY—OCTOBER 18
Freshman—Little Auditorium
Sophmores—Senior Rec
Juniors—Gym
Seniors—Big Auditorium
WEDNESDAY—OCTOBER 20
Freshman—Senior Rec
Sophomores—Little auditorium
Juniors—Big Auditorium
Seniors—Gym
THURSDAY—OCTOBER 21
7:00—Grand Rehearsal — Gym
FRIDAY—OCTOBER 22
7:00—Grand Dress Rehearsal —Gym

* * *

Mixed Doubles Tennis Tournament on Sunday, October 10th, at 3:00, on the S. T. C. Courts. S. T. C. girls and boys playing. All those who are interested please sign up on the A. A. Bulletin Board before Saturday noon. Also please watch the Bullentin for further announcements concerning these matches.

* * *

Classes—send your girls out for their hockey practices so each class will be assured of a complete team.

Checks For Vets Not 'Til November

Most veterans attending school under the G. I. Bill in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina will receive their first subsistence checks for the fall erm early in November, the Veterans Administration has announced.

In some instances, veterans will receive checks during October to cover their September subsistence.

I.-V. Field Worker Will Arrive Oct. 15 For Visit On Campus

Nadine Lewers, president of the Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship, announced this week that the Inter-Varsity field representative Ann Childs, will visit our campus October 15 to 17.

A Southwide leadership conference will be held at Ben Lippen's conference ground outside of Asheville, N. C. from October 22 until October 24. Nadine stated that anyone interested in attending this should get in touch with her.

The group met last night to discuss and study the 53rd chapter of Isaiah, a book of prophecy.

We have all of the school supplies you need.

SOUTHSIDE

Fresh Roasted
Peanuts Everyday

NEWBERRY'S

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

MARTIN THE JEWELER

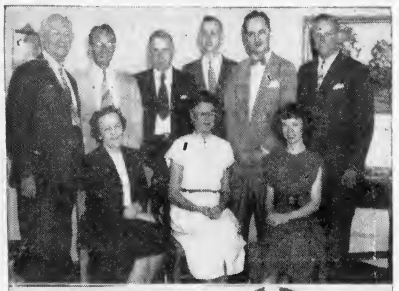
Select your silver at Martins

Just received slip-over long sleeve cotton shirts in all colors. Just $1.98. Sizes in small, medium and large.

Welcome to DOROTHY MAY

Farmville's Only Exclusive Ladies' Store

Phone 300



A Complete Line of Nationally Adevrtised Ready-to-Wear

Have You Seen

The beautiful new shipment of swing back raincoats in gabardine and satin. at

THE HUB

●—Red Heart Knitting Wool
●—Ready packed packages of assorted color wool for Argyle socks

The Rev. A. McK. Reynolds, pastor of the Farmville Methodist Church, speaks during the dedication service of the new Methodist Student Center, at the Sunday afternoon program in the new location next door to the Weyanoke Hotel. Below are shown the members of the Campus—Church Relations Committee, composed of representatives of the college, church and students. Included in the group are Dean W. W. Savage, committee chairman, Miss Virginia Wall, Dr. J. E. Walmsley, Rev. Reynolds, Miss Ruth Ann Bailey, Wesley Foundation Director, Miss Nancy Kibler, president of the Foundation, Prof. Raymond French, Mr. Gerry Speidel, State Director of Methodist Student Movement, and Earl Agee, vice president of the Foundation of Hampden-Sydney College.

The new Methodist Student Center for the service and use of Farmville State Teachers College and Hampden-Sydney College students as a church home was dedicated during a brief program there Sunday afternoon attended by representatives of the colleges, the churches and the community.

The Center, headquarters for the activities of the Wesley Foundation, student church organization, is the first such Methodist center located outside of a church in the State.

The Rev. A. McKay Reynolds, pastor of the Farmville Methodist Church conducted the brief dedication service, Prior to the dedication service short talks were made by Dr. D. S. Lancaster, S. T. C. president, Dean W. W. Savage, chairman of the Campus-Church Relations Committee that sponsored the movement for the Center, and Dr. J. E. Walmsley, chairman of the dedication committee.

Dr. Lancaster expressed the gratification of the college for the efforts that provided the Center, adding that it would provide a religious element to student life without which "there can be no full, useful life."

The center, located next door to the Weyanoke Hotel, contains an office and meeting room for the Student Director, Miss Ruth Ann Bailey, a lounge room and a kitchenette. It will serve as the quarters for the director as well.

Flowers For All Occasions

BURG

Farmville's Finest Restaurant

We have the best meals in town.

Come in and try one

COLLEGE SHOP

Support Your Colors With Participation In Tennis Tourney

Do you want your colors on the color cup? It's now or never! Before long you will see girls dressed in white on the tennis courts, perfecting their backhand, serve or whatever stroke they may be weak in. These girls are doing their part, but are you?

Even though you can't swing a tennis racket effectively, give the girls who can a reason for putting forth their efforts, oy backing them with those good red n' white and green n' white cheers.

Freshmen, don't say you haven't had experience—this is the time to get it!

GRAYS DRUG STORE

Select your Eaton's Stationery from Gray's

Come in and select your flowers

Phone 181 Night 4

COLLINS

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to

ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Many '48 Alumnae Teach In Virginia

S. T. C. is well represented all over Virginia by our newest alumnae, the 1948 graduates. Students from 6 through 16 are being taught their p's and q's with that S. T. C. touch from Bristol to Virginia Beach.

Lucie Addleman is teaching at Lakeside School, Henrico County. Martha Anderson is at Culpeper, Hilda Abernathy, Blackstone; Rebcca Lois Anderson, Fieldale; Jean Babb, Waynesboro; Virginia Bailey, Suffolk; Jean Bently, Winchester; Dorothy Bevard, Newport News; Catherine Bickle, Lee High School, Staunton; Frances Blanton, Southampton County; Lela Evelyn Boulden, Westmoreland County; and Dorothy Bradley, Martinsville.

Neva Mae Brankley is at Axton; Louise "Peepsie" Brooks, Richmond; Mrs. Ruth Brown, Petersburg; Gladys Christine Bunch Gretna; Betty Burchett, Bristol; Jane Burchett, Marion Junior College; Dorothy Chambers, Lynchburg; Mrs. Helen Coleman, Arlington County; June Cregar, Stewartsville; and Mildred Davis, Martinsville.

Sue Davis teaches at Virginia Beach; Thelma Davis, Franklin; Virginia Dodd, Schoolfield; Gertrude Elizabeth Driver, Franklin; Edith Duffy, Norfolk; Frances Fears, Hanover County; Nancy Foscue, Richmond; Dorothy Ann Fulgham, Warwick High School; Mary Virginia Goff, Arlington; Ruby Ann Griffith, Schoolfield High School; Charlotte Grizzard, Petersburg; Lila Hancock, Richmond.

Muriel Jacqueline Hancock is on the Courtland faculty; Kitty Hankins, Bristol; Augusta Hargan, Roanoke; Mary Holmer, Warwick High School, Morrison; Catherine Hogge, Bristol; Ann Homes, Richmond; Azele Carthers Hutt, Washington & Lee High School, Montross; Charlotte Hutter, Smith-Springs; Grace Kappes, Schoolfield; Katie Lawrence, Smithfield.

George Ann Lewis is teaching at Martinsville; Nancy Jane Lutz, Natural Bridge Station; Frances Livesay, Henrico County; Ellen McMullen, Culpeper; Mildred McWilliams, Richmond; Jane Mantiply, Morrison; Betty Minton, Roanoke; Peggy Moore, Norfolk; Martha Morrison, Natural Bridge; Anne Motley, Schoolfield; Mary Constance Newman, Suffolk; and Virginia Parris, Schoolfield.

Ann Dudley Payne, is at Richmond; Ethel Peterson, Langley Field; Carolyn June Poole, Franklin; Mrs. Poteat, Campbell County; Mrs. Frances Pritchett; Petersburg; Harriet Purcell, Charlotte Court House; Katherine Rainey, Montvale; Betty Renn, Lakeside School, Henrico County; Ella Stone Smith, Climax; and Betty Jean Snapp, Winchester.

Norma Soyars teaches at Dinwiddie; Sarah Elizabeth Squires, Virginia Beach; Martha Stringfield, Drewryville; Harriet Sutherlin, Halifax County; Edna Taylor, Altavista; Nancy Taylor, Central High School, Accomac; Nancy Mina Taylor, Gladys; Virginia Tindall, Arlington; Frances Treakle, Lawrenceville; LaVergne Tuck, Stuart; Katherine Whitmore, Boykins; Barbara Jean Wiley, Emporia; Helen Williams, Bedford County; Virginia Yonce, Martinsville.

A few of last year's Senior Class are teaching out of State. These are Ethel Harrison, Bel Air, Md.; Elizabeth Ogbuin, Newburg, Md.; Anna Ruth Blair, Charlotte N. C.; Elizabeth Jeffrey, Bel Air Md.; Martha Leavitt, Florida; Elizabeth Motley, Aberdeen, Md.; Nancy Squire, Bel Air, Md.

Not all of our alumnae are teaching, however. June Clark is doing stenographic work in Farmville, Patsy Blair in Chatam, and Ruth Wilda Hunt in Richmond. Hope Frank is Home Economist for the Appalachian Electric & Power Co., Roanoke, Va. Tharon Holmes is married and working at William and Mary College. Eleanor Overby, Nancy Chambers and Tucker Winn are working for the Merch Co. Inc., Elkton, Va. And right here with us Evelyn Moore

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Dramatic Club

Continued From Page 1

Lee Nowell, Betty Grey Whitten, and Mary Brownley Smith.

Also Katharine McCready, Sally Brickman, Catherine Alexander, Winnie Murdock, Marian Avedikian, Jackie Wright, Helen Arrington, Frances Minter, and Carrie Ann O'Laughlin.

Staging apprentices who will work under Hank Hardin are Helen Connelly, Virginia Spencer, Suzie Bowie, Charlotte Flaugher, Carol Stoops, Deanie Famulatte, Betty Sekeras, Mary Crowgey Jean Cunningham, Mary Brame, Joan Prichett, Frances Ferguson, Audrey Pettit, and Lucy Ann Edmonds.

In "Oot" Newell's properties group are Clara Ruth Cullip, "Hop" Critzer, Dot Lester, Josephine Johnson, Phyllis Tyree, Pat Earle, Charlene Saunders, Jane Mountjoy, Anna Hall, Larry Lawrence, Jean Smith, Judy Hughes, and Nancy McCracken.

Those who will work on costuming under June Banks are Dorothy Dodd, Mary Jane Hite, Betsy Wilson, Laura Lee Stickley, Betty Scott Borkey, Emma Mae Pittard, Patsy Kimbrough, Janice Slavin, Billie Wood, Eva Jo White, Mary Crawford, Bille Jane Barber, Nancy Garber, Lucy Jane Morton, and Betty Welsh.

Jane Gray heads the lighting assisted by Kitty Carmichael and Elaine Owens.Signing up for this group were Betty Johnson, Ruth Eggleston, George Elliot, Ann Terry, and Katherine Perry, Nancy Meeteer, Betty Grace, Emily Hastings, and Peggy Bryant.

Departmental leaders are holding classes beginning this week to familiarize apprentices with all aspects of their chosen departments. Apprentices will gain practical dramatic experience by working on the Dramatic Club's fall play which will be given November 19.

Sophomores Choose Circus Committees

The Sophomore Class has elected as their Circus Chairman, Betsy Wilson from Hopewell. Other Committee heads elected were Charlotte Jones from Salem, Music; Jeanne Farmer from Newport News, Dancing; Dolores Waterfield from Norfolk, Art; Peg Peery from Tazewell, Properties and Staging; Vonnie Burch from Hampton, Costumes. Virginia Westbrook from Richmond was appointed Chariman of the Planning Committee. Other members of the Planning Committee who were appointed at the same meeting are Mary Leigh Meredith and Romine Mahood.

Choir

Continued From Page 1

Eleanor Weddle, Virginia Westbrooke, Dolores Waterfield, Anne Wood, Jackie Woodward and Jean Watts.

Also, Betty Jane Brockway, Lucy Thrift, Betty Johnson, Jean Rydner, and Barbara Sours.

Give the man in your life a gift from

VERSER'S

We strive to please

Welcome S. T. C. Students and Faculty

Our hours to serve you are
Week Days:
10:00 A. M. to 8:00 P. M.
10:00 P. M. to 11:00 P. M.
Sat. 10:00 A. M. to 10:30 P. M.
Sun. 4:00 P. M. to 10:30 P. M.

THE SNACK BAR

Appoints Redd

Continued From Page 1

agreed upon in Pan-Hellenic Council and scheduled with this committee. All sororities must use the same night.

4. Rat court and Cotillion Club initiation must be scheduled with this committee.

II. Programs

1. Classes are limited to one entertainment a year, either a production or a dance. No class may give more than two productions in four years.

2. Student programs are to be given on Friday and Saturday nights only.

3. Dances, receptions, and large parties are to be given only on Saturday nights. Small parties on week nights must end by 7:50 or be held from 10:00 to 10:50.

4. Basketball games should be scheduled preferable on Saturday nights. If scheduled on week nights they should begin by 7:00 P.M.

5. There shall be no more than one dramatic club play, one dance recital, and one program from each division of the music department each semester.

6. The college circus should be given by the middle of October.

III. Rehearsals

1. College sponsored programs representing the work of a department(i. e., Athletic Association, Dramatic Club, Dance Recitals, Music Programs, and May Day) must secure from the president of the college permission for rehearsals not conforming to these rules.

2. Definite Rules.

Class Productions

a. There is no limit placed upon rehearsals ending by 7:50 P. M.

b. There may be only three mass rehearsals for a production. These must end by 10:50 P. M.

c. Quiet must be observed upon leaving rehearsals.

d. These rules will be strictly enforced by the class advisors, House Council, Home Department and Student Council, as study hours from 8:00 P. M. to 10:00 are to be rigidly observed.

IV. Out of Town Trips.

1. Only students with an average of "C" or above are permitted to attend or participate in college sponsored out of town trips.

2. College sponsored groups must schedule trips with this committee.

3. Out of town choir concerts are limited to one per semester; with a possible Sunday concert extra.

A faculty committee composed of Miss Wheeler, chairman, Dr. Brumfield, Miss Burger, Mrs. Landrum, Mr. French, and Mr. Wakefield drew up the above rules which were presented to the heads and advisors of all organizations at a meeting last Thursday.

COSMOS

4.95

Green
Brown
Black
Red

Also Have Same With Bow Decoration
Sizes 4 to 9

Leggett's
BETTY LYNN STORE

Please Note Following Rules Frosh, Tuesday Is Rat Day

Rat Day will be held Tuesday, October 12, from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m.: Betsy Wilson, head of Ratting, said today. The Sophomore Class has compiled the following list of rules which will be imposed on the Freshmen on the day of initiation. Big Rat Court will be held from 10 to 11 p. m. Wednesday.

Rat Rules

1. No P.O. until after 6:00 p. m.
2. Bow and kneel to Joan of Arc, saying, "Hail to thee, noble Joan, thou seemest stately as a Sophomore."
3. Report to Library steps at 12:05 and immediately after lunch.
4. Report to Gym at 6:00 a. m. fully dressed as stated below.
5. No cigarettes until after 6:00 p. m.
6. Make up song in honor of sophomores.
7. No jewelry or make-up.
8. One half of nose painted with green ink.
9. Learn sign-off and be able to repeat it whenever requested by a sophomore.
10. Wear sign with "Praise '51" on front, and name, home and college address and rat picture on back in Green and White ink.
11. Know all sophomores by name and call them Miss.
12. Carry books, bubble gum, candy, matches and cigarettes in suitcase for sophomores.
13. Carry washrag, towel and toothbrush.
14. Report to Little Rat Court or Big Rat Court if notified.
15. Tie hair in 51 pieces with green and white string bows. These will be counted.
16. Tie green band printed with "Praise '51" in white ink around forehead covering eyebrows.
17. Paint ears with green ink.
18. Rats must wear dungarees rolled to the ankles with a skirt pinned on upside down. Leave side zipper open, wear green sweater with short sleeved white blouse or T-shirt over it. Wear one white sock and one green sock and pumps
19. Tie green ribbons around thumbs.
20. Positively no red may be worn on Tuesday.
21. Wear earrings on ears. No red earrings permitted.
22. Come to all meals in Dining Hall.
23. No freshman may go to the snack bar until after 6:00 p. m.
24. Obey all Sophomores.

Betsy Wilson, Head

Sign Off:

I (name of rat) from (Home Town) am a seditious, sciolistic freshman, and seem to sense that the sensationally sagacious sophomores surpass us scholastically and socially, for standard statistics state sophomores stand stable, steadfast, and staunch since stratosphere started. Such singular stamina surely speaks splendid success secured, showing sufficient, even superfluous signs of success. Sophomores should really sever all connections with the silly, shallow freshmen, since they are scrapping in a sciamachy. PRAISE '51.

Toni kens

by Toni Allen

The best foot has been put forward in shoe fashions this season. Green, grey, blue, and brown in the new "black" tones enliven a fall wardrobe, and give the finishing touch to smart ensembles.

Copper and bronze—definitely news on the fashionable toe—give milady just the touch she has been seeking. Palter DeLiso has two "new looks" in shoes of a very old pattern now on the market. One has the graceful flattery of delicate straps, and the other has the covered "spat" look of the bootee. The shoes, which both come in suede, have smoke pearl buttons, plus a Victorian primness—very ladylike.

* * *

Handbags are again fashion news, this time it is patterned leather, accomplished by a photographic process that makes them attention getters. One of the most striking of the "photographic" bags is the checked. Can't you just see the lift a brown and beige checked bag will give to that new brown dress you've been dying to wear, but couldn't find quite the right bag?

Home Ec Tea Honors New Girls

The home Economics Club entertained the freshmen and all of the new girls who are Home Economic majors at a tea given in the "Y" Lounge today at 4:45 p. m.

Gwen Cress, president of the Home Ec Club headed a receiving line composed of Nancy Short,, Margaret Forrester, Laura Lee Stickley, and Mildred Garnett.

Esther Goffigon, assisted by Patsy Kimbrough, presided at the punch bowl.

S. T. C. girl needed to handle cleaning for Kleanwell Cleaners.

—For Fine Service—

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

WFLO

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

870 on your dial

Go To
S. G. Dance

The Rotunda

Attend
Lyceum Friday

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1948 | No. 3

Student Government Holds First Dance Saturday 8-12

Chap Boyd of W. & L. To Furnish Music

The S. T. C. Student Government Association will sponsor the first formal open dance of the college year this Saturday night, October 16, from 8 p. m. until 12 p. m. in the College gym. Tickets may be bought at the table in the hall at $2.40 drag and $1.40 stag.

The orchestra for the Student Body Dance will be that of Chap Boyd and His Southern Collegiates from Washington and Lee University. S. T. C. school colors, "Blue and White", will be the theme for gym decorations.

The receiving line will be composed of Dr. and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. William W. Savage, Miss Ruth Gleaves, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. G. Moss, Marjorie Miller, Janie Fox, Patsy Ritter, Lizzie Bragg, and Martha Gillum.

Dance chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Graham, Dr. and Mrs. George W. Jeffers, Dr. and Mrs. Robert T. Brumfield, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McCorkle, Mr. Raymond H. French, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wakefield, Miss Olive T. Iler, Miss Elizabeth Burger, Mr. and Mrs. Norman O. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. M. Boyd Coyner, Dr. and Mrs. Marvin W. Schlegel, Miss Anna Headlee, Miss Vera Frances Baron, Mrs. Josephine McK. Phillips, Mrs. Mary W. Watkins, Miss Winnie V. Hiner, Mrs. Mable J. McCoy, Mrs. Caroline Eastham, Mrs. Eva H. Warren, Mrs. Katherine H. Tabb, and Mrs. Johnston.

Marjorie Miller, president of Student Government, is chairman of the dance. Janie Fox is in charge of music; and Gwen Cress, Patsy Ritter, and Frankie Dodson, make up the decoration commit-

Continued on Page 3

Three Girls To Attend AKG Convention

Violet Ritchie, president of the Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma, has announced that the annual regional convention of A. K. G. will be held October 15, 16, and 17 at Columbia College, Columbia, South Carolina.

Jane Taylor, Violet Ritchie, and Jacky Eagle will represent the local circle at the convention of A.K.G. representatives from schools in North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia.

Co-Eds Vote Today For Men's Council

A student council of S. T. C. men is currently being formed on campus, and nominations for council officers have been made, according to the announcement of Dean William W. Savage.

E. Louis Hubbard, Jr. and J. Stuart McGhee have been nominated for presidency of the council. For vice-presidency Alcer R. Southall, Jr. and Jimmy Thompson have been nominated; and Willard G. Leper, Stuart Johnson, and Harold T. Griffin compete for the office of secretary-treasurer.

Nominations were made by ballot of the male students. Results of the election will be announced tomorrow.

Correction

Last week we published a notice stating that Miss Iler had prohibited the singing of color songs in assembly. We made two errors then. Miss Iler is not head of chapel seating, and she did not prohibit the singing. We apologize, Miss Iler. But, please, don't let's sing since it upsets most of the assembly programs!

GORDON SOMMERS

Barter To Bring 'Papa Is All' Here

J.C.'s To Sponsor First Production

"Papa is All", the first of two Barter Theater plays to be sponsored in Farmville this season by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be presented Monday, Oct. 18, at 8 P. M. in the State Teachers College auditorium.

The play, a comedy by Patterson Greene, is a delightful story of life among the Pennsylvania Dutch, and of a stern, God-fearing father and his staunch opposition to new-fangled contraptions and ideas. The play was one of the most successful productions of the summer season in Abingdon.

The story of the father's struggle with a family that yearns for life in a modern way makes for an entertaining evening at the theatre. Two veteran performers of the Barter Theatre are returning to play the leading roles.

In the male lead is Gordon Sommers who has appeared in practically every important play produced by the Barter Theatre in the past 2 years. Mr. Sommers plays the zealous old "Papa" and opposite him in the role of "Mama" is Elizabeth Wilson another Barter veteran who has played in almost twenty different roles at the theatre in the last few years.

For audiences, one of the most amusing features of this comedy is the authentic Pennsylvania dialect and expressions, which is an important part of their mannerisms and habits. Mastery of these expressions has made "Papa is All" a difficult drama for the cast but provides an evening rich with entertainment for the audience.

The second play of the series will be presented in the Spring. Announcement concerning the sale of tickets will be made soon, according to T. W. Brooks, president of the Junior Chamber.

Peery Will Appear As Animal Trainer

Peg Peery will be Animal Trainer for the annual AKG Circus to be held Saturday night, October 23, according to an announcement made yesterday by Jesse Pickett, general chairman of Circus.

Jesse also stated that there have been some additions to general committees of Circus. Janie Fox will have charge of advertising, and she will be assisted by Dot Daniel. Anne East will assist Margie Miller who is in charge of Circus Queen and Court; Jacky Eagle has been added to Martha Gillum's Parade committee.

A. K. G. Tapping Recognizes Four For Leadership

Circle Taps Eagle, East, Fox, Daniel

Four S. T. C. students were tapped by Alpha Kappa Gamma, honorary leadership fraternity, in assembly last Thursday morning, October 7.

Those who were tapped are Dorothy Daniel, senior from Danville; Anne East, senior from South Boston; Janie Fox, senior from Alexandria; and Jacky Eagle junior from Winchester.

Dorothy has been a member of the Baptist Student Union and the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship since her freshman year, having served as president of B. S. U. last year and as a member of the executive council of that organization for the past three years. She is now president of the Young Women's Association of the B. S. U. For Inter-Varsity Dot headed the publicity committee last year, and this year she is treasurer. A member of Kappa Delta Pi, honor society, Dorothy also belongs to the Association of Childhood Education to Alpha Phi Sigma, honor society, and to the Future Teachers of America.

Anne East is editor of this year's S. T. C. annual, the Virginian, having served as managing editor last year. During her freshman year Anne was a member of Student Government Council and she was on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet her sophomore and junior years. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Kappa Delta Pi, Beorc Eh Thorn, (honorary English society), and Pi Kappa Sigma sorority.

Janie Fox who is vice-president of Student Government was secretary of that organization last year, and was a representative to the Student Government Council her sophomore year. She is entering her third year as a member of the Madrigal Singers and her fourth as a College Choir member. Janie is also a member of Orchesis, dance society, and Alpha Sigma Tau, sorority.

Jacky Eagle is president of the Junior class and managing editor of the Rotunda. A member of the Colonnade, college magazine staff, she also belongs to Beorc Eh Thorn, Alpha Phi Sigma, and Pi Kappa Sigma sorority. During her

Continued on page 4

Langbein Named Editor-In-Chief Of Colonnade

Andrews Becomes Managing Editor

Anne Langbein, a junior from Arlington, was chosen last Friday by the Publications Committee as Editor-in-Chief of the Colonnade. Anne replaces Mary Rattray in this position. She has been a member of the magazine staff since her freshman year, and last year she was chosen as Managing Editor for the Colonnade.

Replacing Anne in the position of Managing Editor is Barbara Andrews, a junior from Newport News. Barbara also has been an active member of the Colonnade staff since her first year, and she served last spring as Poetry Editor. Barbara's job as Poetry Editor will be taken by Betty Spindler.

Plans for the first issue of the magazine are being laid and the material gathered. The annual short story contest is now under way and Anne urges that all students interested submit their manuscripts as soon as possible.

Contributions to the Colonnade may be handed to the various department editors or to Anne or Barbara. However there is a box located under the main bulletin

Continued on Page 3

STC Radio Program Begins Broadcasts Over WFLO Thursday

The S. T. C. radio program opened its series of broadcasts over Station W.F.L.O. last Thursday afternoon with thirty minutes of music by the Madrigals and a duet by Mr. Wakefield and Jean Watts. This program will be heard throughout the year each Thursday from 4:30 to 5:00 p. m. over WFLO.

A committee composed of Miss Wheeler, chairman, Mrs. Davis, Dr. Ruffin, Miss Clark, and Anne Galloway is in charge of arranging and producing the programs each week. Anne, the student member of the committee, is urging all students who are interested in announcing or who have certain talent to see her or Miss Wheeler about taking part on the broadcasts.

There will not be a program this week.

First Lyceum Features Henrietta Schumann

ALLEN B. STANGER
Y.W.C.A. Speaker

Concert Will Begin At 8:00 P. M. Friday

On October 15 the first Lyceum program of the year will be presented in the S. T. C. auditorium. Henrietta Schumann, one of the most outstanding women pianists in the world, will present a concert of classical music and popular transcriptions beginning at 8:00 p. m.

Her program will consist of a Pastorale and Cappriee by Scarlotti; Moonlight Sonata by Beethoven; a group of Chopin compositions including Ballade in G Minor, Nocturne in F Sharp Major, Mazurka in A Minor, and Polonaise in A Flat Major; also Clair de lune and Jardins dans la pluie by Debussy. She will also play Rachmaninoff's Prelude in C Sharp Minor and Polichenelle, for her last group of selections she will play several transcriptions of popular songs including Always, It Ain't Necessarily So, Yesterdays and Smoke Get's in Your Eyes.

Miss Schumann was born in Russia where she received her early education. She attended the Russian gymnasium and had private tutors; her musical training was conducted by her father, Professor Ilya M. Schumann. She took her degree in music from the Eastman school of music in Rochester, N. Y.

She made her European debut at the age of 8 in Russia and her debut in America in 1928 as soloist with the Rochester Philharmonic, Goossens conducting. Since her debut she has appeared in recitals and concerts all over Europe, Canada, and the United States. Radio has also featured Miss Schumann for she has been appearing over the C.B.S. and N.B.C. networks since 1931, notably as featured soloist on weekly Radio City Music Hall programs. In the course of her radio engagements, she has played over 50 concertos, including the entire Rachmaninoff cycle, as well as the Shostakovitch C. Minor, the Profofiev C Major, Liszt's Totentanz, and other rarely performed compositions.

Owen Announces Y. W. C. A. Speaker

Stanger Will Hold Open Discussions

Ann Owen chairman of the Public Affairs committee of the Y. W. C. A. announced today that Mr. Allen B. Stanger from Lynchburg College will come to the campus this week as fall speaker for the Y. Mr. Stanger will speak at the assembly on Thursday, Oct. 14, and he will conduct a discussion at 4 P. M. in the Y lounge, Thursday afternoon. Ann told the Rotunda that every student in college is cordially invited to attend the meeting and the Y. W. C. A. hopes a large number of students will be there.

Mr. Stanger is at present director of Religious Activities at Lynchburg College. He has been active in work with young peoples groups during his entire ministry both in the local church and in conferences and camps. He was educated at Johnson Bible College and at Yale Divinity School from which he received his Bachelor of Divinity Degree in 1936. Mr. Stanger has served as Pastor of the West End Christian Church in Danville and he was Area Director of Christian Education for Disciples of Christ in Cheaspeake Area from 1942 to 1947.

Andre Will Begin Annual Pictures Mon.

A photographer from Andre' Studios will arrive on Monday to begin taking student pictures for the Virginian, Anne East said today. The table in the hall will be open on Wednesday and Thursday for appointments to have pictures made. Actual photographing will begin Monday, October 18 at 1 P. M.

Seniors will wear a black drape while all other students will wear white sweaters and round collars.

Anne also stated that subscriptions will only be sold until November 15 and that all students are urged to buy theirs early to avoid a last minute rush for subscriptions.

Notice

Martha Gillum, House Council president has announced that two new dormitory rules are now in effect.

1. Study hour will be observed by all students on Sundays from 7-8 p. m.

2. Students in Main Building may leave lights on until 12 p. m. every night. Bedcheck will still be at eleven; and quiet will be enforced.

STC'S New French Girl, Yvette Ancey, Answers Queries of Curious Rotunda Reporter on Duty

By JANICE SLAVIN

The newest addition to our campus is Yvette Ancey. She is to spend one year with us as both a student and a teacher.

Yvette very graciously consented to give us a little peep into her life and into France. If all the French gals are as gay as Yvette, we suggest that we import about one hundred more.

She was born in the small town of Vandves near Paris and spent most of her life in Paris. School for Yvette during her early days was very similar to our grammer schools and high schools as far as subject matter is concerned. However, everyone is more interested in the difference between the University she attended for three years and S. T. C. Frankly, there is no comparison. In the first place the modern colleges do not board the students; they live in town. The students may go to lectures and take exams at their own discretion. If they do not want to attend any lectures at all during the year, it is perfectly all right.

We heartily approve of the French plan as we make a mad dash for an 8:05 class. (How early can things get?)

Yvette reports that they do not have the close, friendly professor-student relationships as we have here. The professors are very nice but seldom know any student as an individual. They are always willing to help anyone who goes to them with a problem, however.

Yvette's hobbies are music and drawing. Incidently, she plays the violin. She likes to travel, too, and has been to Switzerland and England. Yvette had a dull voyage to the U. S. though. It took ten days. Twenty-three other people were crammed into the same room with her.

In interviewing Yvette, we could not resist the temptation to ask her how Paris and the "New Look" were coming along: "The styles are very similar to the ones in the U. S.," she stated, "only somewhat shorter." The people of France have not accepted the "New Look" as much so as we have thus far. They have fewer clothes, too, because of high prices.

Another custom that is quite strange to us is the fact that the French girls never go around with boys much unless they are engaged.

It was quite humorous to hear Yvette say that she has more trouble with our food; she never knows what it is. The funny part about the whole thing is that we don't either!

Yvette's plans for the future consist of returning to France next year and taking an Agregation, a competitive exam which has to be taken in order to be able to teach. Yvette's goal: English teacher or a job in the U.N.O.

She misses home a great deal and can't get used to the restrictions placed on the girls here at college. Let's all cooperate and make S.T.C. a second home for her. Oui? Oui?

Are You Missing Something?

Are you missing something? Are you going to let a very important event go by without taking heed of it because so many other things are happening at the same time?

You know now that the first Lyceum is to be held in the S. T. C. auditorium Friday night, but we're willing to bet that two thirds of you don't know any more than that. Now is the time to "get in the know" and inform yourself of just what is being done and for whom.

Last year the Administration of the college decided that we should have fewer Lyceum programs and better known artists; therefore, they went to the trouble of going to the top of the artistic ladder to bring us Mac Morgan, Albert Spalding, and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. They were anxious for the programs to go over well, and they did, so the same scheme is being followed this year. Only a few and only the best is the policy.

Under this plan we are to have a pianist of international note to perform for us Friday night. Miss Henrietta Schumann is well-known to those who know and love good music, but her program shows that she will be popular with those who know nothing about music and even those who "don't go in for that classical stuff." The program, printed on the first page, shows that she has chosen popular classics; let the musicians complain about the "old war horses" if they like. From the layman's point of view she's playing what we like.

Let's all support this first Lyceum. First because we'll enjoy it, secondly because it's a broadening factor in our educative experience at college to attend serious concerts; and thirdly because by our attendance we can show the Administrative that we appreciate their efforts in our behalf to secure the finest entertainment for us.

24 plus 587 equals Co-Education

Since 1946 we've been calling S. T. C. a co-ed school, but up until recently little has been seen or heard of the co-eds. Indeed S. T. C. has been scarcely aware of her male contingent, except in the classroom.

And so it's welcome news indeed that the 24 male students of the College are forming their own student council. Perhaps now the co-eds can step out of the role of visitors at S. T. C. and become a real part of the student body.

It has long been regretted by S. T. C. students and faculty alike that male students have had so little share in college life here; but little could be done to ameliorate the situation when there was no organized group of men to contact. Likewise, the men couldn't do much about standing up for their rights while they were as yet an unorganized set of individuals. The new male student council will bind the co-eds together into a unified body, enabling them to work effectively with other College organizations, and vice versa.

Each year the presence of men at S. T. C. becomes more obvious, with their enrollment gradually increasing, and their eating in the dining hall with us. On the horizon lies a men's dorm (promised by the State Board if enrollment justifies it), a men's athletic program, and all the trimings of a bona fide co-educational college—in short, an S. T. C. in which the men will take their rightful places beside the women in all school activities.

It's up to us, the women, to do everything we can to see that S. T. C. co-eds are given the equal share of college life to which they're entitled. We of the Rotunda staff herald the formation of the male student council as the beginning of a bigger and better co-educational S. T. C.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Lou Sheior, Elsie Love Bentley

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin,
Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Betty Ferguson

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Ann Lynch

Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Patsy Graveley

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager

Business Assistants

Virginia Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hyiton,
Anne Verser, Connie Heather

Gladys Monk ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Carol Stoops, Edna Earle Waters, Ruth Radogna
Anne Simpson

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1948

jots & tittles

Out of the melee, the mad rush, the chaos of too many things at once comes one sweet consoling thought—'tis Wednesday. Now Wednesday to you may be just another day of classes between Tuesday and Thursday but to the staff it is that day with a few hours of rest between "putting the baby to bed" and starting on next week's issue. (In case you wonder, "putting the baby to bed" is press lingo for sending the paper to press.)

We were amused last week, when the exchanges came in, to find that the country has come to town sho' nuff. It seems that our neighbors, the Tigers, are only ferocious Bengals on the outside, for inwardly they crave that feminine touch. How do we know? Well, they ran our Toni Kens on their editorial page; henceforth, the well dressed man on the H.-S. campus will be wearing "good cloth coats trimmed with touches of fur . . . a man-tailored coat whose versatile lining can be zipped out and worn as a housecoat"—Take heed little H.-S. squirrels or you may find your fur warming some Beau Brummel's ears this winter!

By - the - bye - congratulations to you Freshman. You showed grand spirit yesterday as rats and we're proud of you for being such good sports!

Student Government Dance

Gallop Pole

"What is your frank opinion of "Chatter Box" (which is taking the place of Bedcheck"?)

Violet Ritchie: "It's still gossip, everybody likes that."

Betty Hodges Tipton: "I like it, I think it's cute."

Mary Jane Hite: "I think it's fine, it's still gossip."

Phyllis Austin: "It's pretty good but not as good as bed-check."

Elaine Owens: "Very chatty, that's all."

Laura Jean Comerford: "I just like the latest, I don't care what form it appears in."

D. D. Sledd: "I like it, it gives the people a new book."

Martha Gillium: "I like it because it is something new."

Betty Tilson: "That ain't no bad column."

Ruth Radogna: "I think Tilson has cracked up."

Anne Galloway: "I think it is right snap."

Connie Loving: "I think it stinks."

Edna Earl Waters: "I'm in the bathtub but I like bed-check better."

Mary Towles Waldorp: "I don't read it, so it must not be interesting enough to attract my attention."

Pat Page: "It's just chatter, that's all."

Gwen Cress: "Variety is the spice of life."

Harriet Steele: "I ain't very original, but it's right cute."

Jeannie Lee Cross: "It doesn't give you much of what is going on."

Dot Woods: "Not as good as bed check."

Nancy Davis: "Bed-check lets you in on more dope."

Ruth Ellen Mears: "I miss bed-check."

Tootsie Hamilton: "I haven't gotten used to it."

Nancy Roberson: "Too much rambling on."

Helen Owins: "It could be improved."

Elizabeth Nuttall: "The old-timers like bedcheck best."

Gris Boxley: "It's a cuter idea, a nicer idea, it's - - - - I like it."

Frances Farley: It's just as clever as it can be."

Sara Rawles: "I like the style of bed-check better, but why not name it chatter-box?"

Anne Ford: "I like it, but wish it had more gossip."

"Peaches" McAllister: Adds spice to the paper."

Ruth Tillet: "I don't care for the conversational angle."

Allene Patterson: "Something different."

Polly Caldwell: "Quite chattey."

Textbooks Not Source of All Education Gotten at College

Education is a must, and college is the place to get it. (It says here on the first line). Yep, college is a place to get book larnin'. Books books, and more books! They're driving everyone sane! Oh, don't get the wrong idea. It's not what they say that gets us 'cause we never open 'em. It's just the fact that if we walk across the floor, we stumble over them; if we want to go to bed, they are in the way; if we want to go to class, (Did I say, if?), we have to drag them along Why? Who knows? tradition no doubt. They are everywhere—like gremlins or schmoos. In other words, we all have "Bookosis". An eminent professor, Dr. I'm A. Nutt, has just made the announcement that the only cure for this dread disease is to end it all with a twenty two, a leap from Brooklyn Bridge, setting fire to all books and institutions of higher (?) learning, or some other equally drastic measure. Just be sure to make a thorough job of it, 'cause if you accidently live after failing in one of the already mentioned attempts to end it all, life may not be too gay. "After all life is nothing but a bed of cactus", she said as she leaped from the roof of a New York skyscraper.

The education gotten from books apparently by the process of osmosis is not the only type of education one gets from college, however. Leaving home and coming to live around hundreds of new people is quite an experience. During our public school days, we were more or less "tied to our mother's apron strings". She helped make our decisions on all difficult problems and saw that we were properly trained in what to do when we were up against unexpected situations. She hoped we were properly trained, that is!

Continued on page 4

"Y" Lines

This past week end the Y. W. C. A. held its annual Fall Retreat at Longwood. At this retreat, the "Y" planned its program for the coming year. The scripture for the year is from the 51-52 Psalm. "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me." Our topic for 1948-49 is "You and Your God;" November: "You and Your College Life;" December: "You and Your Family Relationships;" January: "You and the Opposite Sex;" February: "You and Your Personality", March: "You and Your Church"; April: "You and the World Situation"; May: "You and Your Future." Each month these topics will be broken down into smaller topics, and one will be discussed at a study group each week for a half hour in the "Y" Lounge. The time for these meetings have not been scheduled but watch the bulletin board and posters for the time.

Among the interesting speakers will be local ministers, student workers, faculty members, and outstanding men and women of the community.

In the past years, students haven't shown much interest toward these Y. W. C. A. study groups. Perhaps it is because that these meetings were not publicized enough or that the students did not realize those other than the "Y" cabinet could attend. The "Y" plans this program to help you and this year the topic is centered around "You" and your interests. Attend these half hour study groups regularly each week. You will surely profit by them, and you are free to ask any questions that you might care to ask.

Helen Arington
Secretary, Y. W. C. A.

"Hi ya', chick—what's new?"

"What's new, what's new, she asks. I've just discovered that I'll probably end up an ol' maid, that's all, and she asks "What's new what a pal!" Babs chanted mournfully.

"Hey, holt it; what brought all this on? Did you just get the Budonic plague or something?"

"It's not a question of what I've got! It's what I ain't got, if you'll pardon the illiterate expression. No diamond, no fraternity pin, no high school ring—not even a Hi-Y pin!"

"Is that so drastic? We can't all be so lucky." Chris tries to console her.

"No, I guess not, but the luck should be a little more evenly distributed. Look at that lucky Gris Boxley— 'course I'll admit she's got what it takes with beauty and brains too, but first the Sigma Chi ring. Then this week end that beautiful pin straight from "Steve Canyon" and then a "you-know-what" kind of ring shortly. I just had a brain storm. Do you guess Irv's father owns a jewelry store?"

"After Margaret Ann decided that it wasn't a trap' as life so often is', she and Gillie took off for Danville. Gillie's brother was the lucky man of the hour Saturday night, and M. A. may have decided that life is not a double trap after all—maybe just a single one!

"With this thought, I leave you—and don't fall in one—trap, that is!"

A wise and good man is composed and happy; a fool is always worried and full of distress.—Confucius.

Error is the discipline through which we advance.—William Ellery Channing.

Colonnade

Continued from Page 1

board for the convenience of those who have articles, stories, poems or pictures to submit for publication.

Pet's Feature Flavor of the Month

Chocolate Marshmallow Sundae

Refreshing as a Crisp Autumn Day

Pet Chocolate Ice Cream, with snowy cascades of Marshmallow Whip . . . that's Pet Chocolate Marshmallow Sundae -- so smooth, so delicious . . . and as refreshing as a crisp autumn day! Every satisfying spoonful of Pet Ice Cream tells its own story of downright goodness!

For Special Occasions

For regal hospitality, whenever you entertain . . . serve Princess Pet, the new de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality. It's the richest, creamiest, most delicious Ice Cream you've ever tasted . . . made for those who want the very finest!

All Pet Ice Creams

Both Pet and Princess Pet are made only of daily fresh whole milk, daily fresh sweet cream and delicate natural flavorings. That's why we say, compare any Pet Ice Cream with any other Ice Cream. You, too, will agree . . . as to flavor, body, texture and quality . . . PET Ice Creams top them all!

So, for real Ice Cream enjoyment . . . whether you buy Princess Pet -- the new, de luxe, richer, creamier Ice Cream -- or popular Pet Ice Cream . . . you can't buy finer Ice Cream at any price! Take home a pint or two of each today!

PET ICE CREAM

"a health food"

Taste The Fresh Cream in Pet Ice Cream

THE BULLETIN BOARD

YWCA open Association Meeting, 4 p. m. to 5 p. m. Thursday, October 14th. Speaker—Dr. Allen B. Stanger, Lynchburg, Va. Every one is cordially invited.

* * *

Annual pictures will be taken beginning Monday, October 18. Be sure to sign up and COME at your appointed time.

* * *

Student Government Dance tickets will be sold Wednesday at the table in the hall. The prices are as follows: Stag $1.40—Drag $2.40

* * *

Attend the Lyceum Friday, October 15th. It will start at 8:00 instead of 8:30.

* * *

Commercial Club will meet at 7:00 p. m. in the "Y" Lounge Thursday night.

* * *

Freshmen and transfers will sign honor codes this week. Look for announcement of the time on the bulletin board.

* * *

Big Rat Court will be held tonight at 7 p. m. in the large auditorium. All freshmen are to attend.

* * *

Circus Practices this week:
Wednesday, October 13.
Freshmen—Gym.
Sophomores—Big Auditorium.
Juniors—Little Auditorium.
Seniors—Senior Rec.
Thursday, October 14.
Freshmen—Big Auditorium.
Sophomores—Gym.
Juniors—Senior Rec.
Seniors—Little Auditorium.

Mickey Rooney receives a salary of $5000 a week for 40 weeks of the year.

Aren't BABIES sweet?
There are lots of cute ones on NORCROSS greeting cards

America's Best-loved Greeting Cards

Patterson Drug Store

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Make—
COLLEGE SHOP
Your Headquarters
Excellent Food
Excellent Service

Fresh Roasted Peanuts Everyday
NEWBERRY'S

MARTIN THE JEWELER
Select your silver at Martins

Southside Drugs
Special This Week
Only—to College Girls
From 7 a. m. to 10 a. m. Only
Toast—Coffee—20c

BOWEN Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Flowers For All Occasions
BURG

GRAYS DRUG STORE
Select your Eaton's Stationery from Gray's

Pool Opens Saturday P. M. For Recreational Swimming

If you swim and want to do more of it, or if you want to learn, here's your opportunity. On Monday and Friday from 4:30 to 5:30 is recreational swim- - there's no better time to perfect that breast stroke or that dive.

This year we have an added attraction - - the pool will be open Saturday nights from 8:00 to 9:00. This is for you who have asked for something to do on Saturday nights, so if you want to have the pool open at this time be sure to come down.

The Swimming meet will be here before you know it - - another chance for more points toward that color - - cup so make it a regular habit to use these recreational swimming periods. (Incidentally, it won't make you feel bad when you go home next summer and hear those compliments from friends about your perfect stroke, either) Remember the old saying, "Practice Makes Perfect!"

Commercial Club Will Give Party

The Commercial Club will hold a "coke and nab" party Thursday, October 14, at 7 o'clock in the "Y" lounge for all the new commercial girls.

A program will be presented by the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. Pat Walker is chairman of the program to be presented by the sophomore class; Janice Slavin and Helen Holbrook, co-chairmen for the junior class; Grace Malory, chairman for the senior class with Ruth Walker acting as Master of Ceremonies for the entire program.

The officers of this organization are: Billie Mullins, president; Ruth Walker, vice president; Trudy Walker, secretary; Arnette Snead, treasurer; Janice Slavin, reporter.

WSSF Secretary To Meet Y Cabinet

Harold Friedly, traveling secretary for World Student Service Fund, will be a week end guest at the Methodist Student Center.

Mr. Friedly, a senior of the University of Kentucky spent the summer traveling in Europe. At present he is touring colleges in the Eastern United States, telling of the great need for overseas relief. While here this week end he will meet with the "Y" Cabinet and Sunday evening will be the guest speaker at the Farmville Methodist Church at 8 p. m.

Students are cordially invited to come by the Center to meet Mr. Friedly and also to hear him tell of his experiences in Europe at the Church service Sunday night.

Mrs. Cover Becomes Member of Faculty

Mrs. Kathleen G. Cover, regional supervisor of guidance, began her duties last week at S. T. C. as a member of the college faculty. Available to assist high schools in this area, she will help to inaugurate and improve their program of guidance. Her work will be under the supervision of both the college and the State Department of Education.

As guidance director, Mrs. Cover will counsel students who are seeking specific assistance in deciding on a vocation. Appointments may be made with her by coming to Dean Savage's office.

A graduate from Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Mrs. Cover will soon complete her graduate study in guidance at William and Mary.

Mrs. Cover came to Farmville from Covington high school where she acted as teacher and counselor. Before that, she was engaged as teacher and coach of the girl's basketball team in Martinsville.

Mrs. Cover is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, the National Education Association, the Virginia Education Association, and the Virginia Guidance Association.

First Dance

Continued from Page 1

tee. Jackie Bobbitt, Laura Jean Comerford, Lizzie Bragg, and Nancy Watts are responsible for tickets; and Martha Gillum, Louise Taylor, and "B" Hylton are taking care of publicity. Jesse Pickett Nancy Watts, "B" Hylton, Martha Gillum and Louise Taylor make up the floor committee.

The total expenditures of the government this year are to be 42 billion of which defense will take one-third or 14 billion.

The new law will allow 19,700 women in the U. S. armed service. This includes 6000 for the WAC, 4000 for the WAF and 2200 for the marines. No provision was made for the SPARS. Applicants must be 20 to 31 years old, high school graduates, and citizens of the United States.

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Wilson Firestone
Stan Kenton
Al Goodman's "Desert Song"
Bing Crosby, "Star Dust"

For A Bite To Eat That Can't Be Beat
VISIT
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

ZTA To Mark Golden Jubilee Here Oct. 15

Founders, Officers To Be Present For Celebration

Special golden anniversary observances on Oct. 15 at Farmville State Teachers College will commemorate a half-century of progress and service of Zeta Tau Alpha. The occasion will focus the eyes of the Zeta world on the college halls, where 50 years ago the sorority was founded by nine daughters of Virginia with high humanitarian aims and awareness of their American heritage.

Seven of the founders will return to Farmville for this final phase of Zeta Tau Alpha's' Golden Jubilee year. They are Miss Alice Bland Coleman, of Sassafras, Va.; Mrs. Arthur Van Name of West Point, Va.; Mrs. William S. Hundley and Mrs. S. B. Batte, of Norfolk; Mrs. A. M. Orgain, of Dinwiddie; Miss Frances Yancey Smith of Charlotte Court House; and Miss Helen M. Crafford, of Lee Hall, Va.

Miss Alice Grey Welsh, formerly of Richmond, who now lives in Honolulu, will not be present. Mrs. William F. Horner, first president of ZTA, died in 1920.

While national officers and visiting Zetas coming from surrounding chapters and various paris of Virginia will begin arriving a day or two earlier, the opening function will be a luncheon at 1 o'clock at Longwood, a family gathering for local and out of town members of the sorority.

At 4 o'clock the dedication of Zeta Tau Alpha's bronze plaque will take place in the rotunda of Farmville State Teachers College in commemoration of its founding, and further honoring the founders.

Presiding at the dedication will be the sorority's national historian, Mrs. Ross Pressley Strout, of Champaign, Ill., author of the Zeta Tau Alpha Histories and editor of "Themis", the official magazine. The specially designed plaque will be unveiled by Miss Helen Harrison, national president of Los Angeles, who will give a short dedicatory speech. Miss Alice Bland Coleman will respond for the founders. The plaque will be accepted by the college by President Dabney S. Lancaster.

Invitations have been issued for a Golden Anniversary reception, honoring the Founders, which will be held at 9 o'clock in the Student Lounge of the College. A three tiered birthday cake will be cut during the evening by the National President, Miss Harrison. Receiving with the National officers and Founders of ZTA will be President Dabney S. Lancaster and Mrs. Lancaster, Miss Ruth Gleaves, dean of women; Mrs. James Luckin Burg and Mrs. John C. Garnett.

At the conclusion of that convention the Sorority presented a check for $500 to the Jarman Memorial Organ Fund of the College when the National Historian stopped here to make preliminary arrangements for the events to be held Oct. 15.

Attention Everyone

Freshmen and Upper Classmen

Let your parents, friends and schools at home know what is happening here at S. T. C. through The Rotunda.
Drop the attached coupon in the mail today or give it to the Business Manager.
Only $1.50 for 30 issues of The Rotunda from Sept. 29, 1948 to June 6, 1949.

The Rotunda
Box 168, S. T. C.
Please send a years subscription of The Rotunda to the following. I enclose $1.50 in check, money order or cash.

Name _____
Address _____
City & State _____

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Introducing...

Miss Vera Frances Baron

Who . . . . .
is the new assistant in the S. T. C. biology department.

Who . . . . .
isn't really "new" at all to Farmville, since she received her B.S. in Education from S. T. C. in '42.

Who . . . . . has taught at the Martinsville High School in her native Martinsville, Virginia since she graduated here.

Who . . . . .
specializes in marine zoology, having done that type research at the Virginia Fisherics Laboratory in Yorktown and at the United States Fisheries Station at Beaufort, North Carolina.

Who . . . . . has done graduate study in biology at William and Mary and at U. Va.

Who . . . . .
loves to search in out of the way places for old science books to add to her collection.

Who . . . . .
also likes to sketch and paint, particularly landscapes and flowers.

Who . . . . .
is thrilled to be back at her alma mater, although she says it's a strange experience to be "on the other side of the fence", vowing that she still feels like a student.

Switzerland is the most electrified nation in the world.

Toni kens

When I opened one sleepy eye Tuesday morning, I shook my head in disbelief. I had heard nothing of the impending danger of an invasion from Mars, but what else could explain that strange looking creature in my room? Then I remembered! This was Rat Day!

Have you noticed—surely you must have—what the well dressed rat is wearing this season? A stunning shade of kelly green adorns their ears, and verdant noses rise from faces unrelieved by makeup. Around their foreheads, in true Greecian fashion, you find headbands—so very becoming!

A new stylist is now making his presence known on campus, but prefers to remain incognito. A slight alteration in the hobble skirt is his contribution to milady's new fall wardrobe. Overnight the skirts have become the rage of the freshman class. The skirts are billowed at the hips, adorned by fashionable clips—safety pins, to you—at the waist, and narrow at the hemline, with a split up one side. Worn beneath these "new lookers" are ankle length pantalets, which complete the fetching costume.

Maria Jackson has chosen a hunter green-and-light blue print on white as her overskirt, with navy pantalets, while Rita Pollard and Jackie Jardine prefer the brown overskirt. Page Joyner wears blue, a charming compliment to her pleasing personality. June Foreman chose a brown-and-white hounds tooth checked skirt over the popular navy blue pantalets.

Although the style is utterly bewitching, I don't predict a very long life. You know how styles are continually changing, and this designer is practically unknown in a very stiff field of competition.

* * *

One style I readily welcome to the campus, and for which I predict a rosy future, is the short sleeved sweater. Donna Staples has one in shocking pink; Claudia Anderson, one in light blue; Violet Ritchie and Carolyn Calhoun both wear white angoras, excellent back grounds for these vivid brunettes.

The sweaters aid in producing the Empire silhouette that is rapidly replacing the old "New Look", pen to be - and be as "voguish" as a Power's model at the same time.

There are many varied reactions to the new short hair, but in general, they seem to be very favorable (our fathers married our mothers during the short hair rage, didn't they?) The usual comeback of the majority of the boys when their Susie says "I think I'll cut my hair" is: "If you do, I'll get a crew cut!" This, at first, seemed to be quite an influential threat and the locks remained long and flowing. Eventually, through, the urge for something "different" (especially characteristic of women, they say) overcome the objections of the males (regardless of their drastic intentions) and the scissors went to work. Haven't noticed many crew cuts around, have you?

On the whole, these short hair cuts seem to be quite popular and after the readjustment period from long to short hair, girls seem to like the female "crew cuts" after a while, and some have been known to remark that the girls looked more sophisticated. Well, who doesn't want to look the part of a woman of the world? Meanwhile, these girls look pretty pert when they walk out of S. T. C. with their man of the moment. You can tell by the gleam in the escort's eyes - "can't cha tell?"

Anyway, there's always the consolation that these short hair cuts will "grow" on you! Say, who has my scissors?

Headstrong Femmes Clip Locks In Spite of Male Protest

By BARBARA MEDLEY

Click, click, whack, whack! Then silence-until the groans, moans, or either "oohs" and "ahs" issue forth from the frail voices of the weaker sex. (But usually, during a crisis such as this, those voices don't seem quite so frail-especially after the victim of the scissors, spirs her once long, wavy, locks in a heap on the floor.)

What a shock a shorn head is even after knowing all the while that the scissors weren't adding any hair with all that clicking and snapping. Yes, the girls at S. T. C. - in fact almost everywhere in the United States, are conforming to the new hair styles as well as to the latest styles in clothing. "Longer dresses, and Shorter hair"! is the cry of the '48 college girl who wants to dazzle her fellow at Virginia, W&L, Tech, Annapolis, or wherever he may hap-

Textbooks

Continued from Page 2

After we arrived at college, we were more or less on our own. We couldn't run to mama every five minutes and ask her what to do when problems arose. We had to make our own decisions. Sometimes they turned out to be the wrong ones. This was quite painful, but it was good training. A few hard "bumps" in life usually prove to be more helpful than harmful in the end. We are quick to agree, however, that too many will make a person bitter. Hitler got more than his share and decided to take his spite out on the whole world—did a pretty good job too!

At college we learn to get along with people or else. When roommate wants to study, we do not (or should not) turn on the radio no matter how badly we want to hear Bob Hope. We definitely learn consideration for others among many, many other things.

The upperclassman are already pretty well up on these things. The freshman have just begun, but the schmoos are watching them, and they can't lose.

AKG

Continued from Page One

freshman year she served on Student Standards Committee and was class secretary her sophomore year.

Annin & Co., of New York who have manufactured flags for more than a hundred years produce each year over 25,000,000 flags. The company makes flags for every country in the world.

Aiming To Please
Do It With Ease
Phone 181 Night 4
COLLINS

S. T. C. girl needed to handle cleaning for Kleanwell Cleaners.
—For Fine Service—
KLEANWELL CLEANERS

WFLO
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
870 on your dial

Give the man in your life a gift from
VERSER'S
We strive to please

We have all of the school supplies you need.
SOUTHSIDE

Prom Committees Vote for Coke

Coca-Cola
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
"Coke"
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
5¢

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

"Between takes of my new picture, THE LUCK OF THE IRISH, I enjoyed many CHESTERFIELDS. They're MILDER... It's MY cigarette."

Tyrone Power

STARRING IN
THE LUCK OF THE IRISH
A 20TH CENTURY-FOX PRODUCTION

Kay Irene Johnson ABC GIRL of Ohio State says—
"I smoke Chesterfields because they have a fine taste all their own and stay really MILD from one end to the other."

MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELDS than any other Cigarette... BY LATEST NATIONAL SURVEY

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE ... They Satisfy

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Attend
A.K.G.'s Circus

The Rotunda

Congratulations
New Council

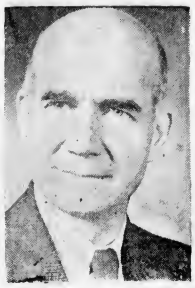
VOLUME XXVIII | Farmville, Virginia, Wednesday, October 20, 1948 | No. 3

Men's Council Marks New Epoch In College

Alpha Kappa Gamma Big Top Will Go Up Saturday, At S. T. C.

Parade Will Herald Arrival Of Circus At 3:30 Downtown

Holiday Escapades Announced As Theme For Court, Stunts



A. K. G. will raise the big top over the annual S. T. C. circus Saturday night, October 23, at 8 p. m. in the gym.

The arrival of Circus will be heralded by a parade through the streets of Farmville Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. Leading the line behind the escort of state police will be freshmen representatives carrying the U. S. flag and the Circus banner, followed by Circus clowns and animals, mounted marshals, class floats, and official green 'n' white and red 'n' white color cars.

At 2:45 p. m. the parade will form in back of the College dining hall, and at starting time it will proceed down Pine St. by the library. From there it will move through High, Randolph, Third, and Main streets, and then back up the hill to the S. T. C. rotunda.

Theme of the big top presentation Saturday night will be "Holiday Escapades". To usher in the program clowns and acrobats will occupy the rings, followed by a trained animal act, featuring Peg Peery, sophomore, as animal trainer. Next will appear the ringmaster who acts as master of ceremonies, introducing the Queen of Circus and her court. The identities of the ringmaster and Circus royalty, elected from the classes

Continued on page 4

FRANCIS PICKENS MILLER

Col. Miller Speaks Here Next Tuesday

A.A.U.W. To Sponsor Meeting At 8 p. m.

Francis Pickens Miller, of Albemarle County, an announced candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in the 1949 primary, will speak at a public meeting under the auspices of the Farmville chapter of the American Association of University Women Tuesday evening, Oct. 26, at 8 P. M. in the auditorium of the State Teachers College.

The first of three announced candidates to speak here under the same sponsorship, Mr. Miller will talk on the current problems facing municipal, county and the

Continued on page 4

Dean Makes Known Authentic Dance Rules For Girls

Unauthorized Item Causes S.T.C. Furor

In order to correct and clarify the regulations concerning S. T. C. girls' attendance at Hampden-Sydney dances, circulated through an out of date article in Hampden-Sydney Tiger, Miss Ruth Gleaves announces today her authoritative dance rules. Those rules which appeared last week were those laid down by a former Dean of Women and are no longer applicable.

Miss Gleaves told the Rotunda today that "Our girls are expected to:

1. "Check out of the dormitory when they leave as they would to go anywhere off the campus. This is so we will know where they are if someone should call for them or they are not here for bedcheck."

2. "Drive directly to and from Hampden-Sydney to attend the dance".

3. "Remain at a dance throughout the entire evening.".

4. 'Check in upon returning to the dormitory."

She also said that students will be advised when invitations to intermission parties at the fraternity houses have been issued through Mr. Bittinger. "It goes without saying", she said, "that no girls will be allowed in the fraternity houses except during intermission as this is against the rules of the fraternities them-

Continued on page 4

New Male Council

PICTURED ABOVE Is the newly elected men's council. From left to right are Stuart Johnson, secretary-treasurer, Stuart McGee, president; and Alger Southall, Jr., vice-president.

STC, H-S Players Name Play, Cast

Group Will Present Barrie's 'Crichton'

Betty House, president of the Dramatic Club has announced that the title of the fall play to be presented by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs November 19, is, "The Admirable Crichton", a satirical comedy in 4 acts, by Sir James Barrie. At the same time Betty released the names of members of the cast.

Those S. T. C. students who are playing the female roles are Betty Ferguson as "Lady Mary", Shirley Elmquist, as "Catherine", Frances Franklin, as "Agatha", Frances Ferguson as "Lady Brocklehurst", and Ann Rosson as "Tweeney", Taking parts of servants are Mary B. Smith, "Mrs. Perkins", Anna Famulette, housekeeper; Geraldine Korbach, Fisher"; and Ann Maitland, "Mademoiselle Jeanne."

From Hampden - Sydney come Jathan Slone in the role of "Crichton", Danny Bray as "Ernest", Bob Matthews as "Lord Brocklehurst", Arthur Stuart as "Lord Loam", Joe Resse as "Treherne", and Bill Sites as a "Naval Officer". Male servants are Dick Anderson, "Tompsett"; Jake Williams, stable boy;Dan Wexler, 'Monsieur Fleury"; Carter Coghill, "Rolleston"; and Charles Talley, "John', the footman.

"The Admirable Crichton", was revolutionary when it first appeared in 1902, for it did not follow the lines of the common problem plays of the day.

The first and fourth acts of the play are laid in London, Lord Loam's Castle, and the second and third are on an island in the Pacific. Barrie once said to a group of London critics, "There is one thing I am really good at, and that is slipping in an island. In"The Admirable Crichton" Barrie makes use of this device to transfer his characters where all the values of their lives may be reversed.

About the play, Miss Wheeler, Dramatic Club advisor, said, "The stage sets, especially the island scenes, offer an interesting problem for staging department. The costume and property managers are beginning work on the island scenes, which will tax their ingenuity. From every standpoint the play promises to hold the audience's attention."

YMCA Reveals Theme For Year

Cabinet Discusses Plans At Longwood

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet at it's fall retreat, held at Longwood drew up a program to be followed in the weekly study groups conducted by the Y committee heads.

The theme for this year is Y O U, and is designed to help the students with personal problems. The scripture chosen to carry out the theme is from the 51st. Psalm: 'Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me." The general topics and their weekly sub-topics were presented to the cabinet by Laura Jean Comerford. For October the main topic is "You and Your God" which will be discussed in three weekly sessions: "What is God?", 'Do You Place God First?", and "What is your responsibility to God?" In November they will take up "You and your college life" divided into 'College Friends. Do They Make or Break You?" "Habits Formed in College—Good or Bad?", and "Respect for Your Alma Mater. Do You Have It?"

The December program concerns "You and Your Family Relationships, which includes "Hon-

Continued on page 4

Co-Eds Organize Own Government: Make STC History

McGee, Southall Johnson To Head New Male Council

On Wednesday, October 13 the men students of S. T. C. elected officers for the first men's council ever to be set up on the campus. James Stuart McGee was elected president of the organization, Alger Rixey Southall, Jr., was chosen vice-president, and Joseph Stuart Johnson will serve as secretary treasurer. The newly elected council will serve as an honor court for all men students and it is designed to be a link between the students and the faculty as well as a co-ordinator of the men's activities.

Stuart McGee is from Farmville. He graduated from the local high school in 1943 and served 22 months in China and India as an army sergeant during 1944-1946. He entered S. T. C. in January of 1947, and expects to graduate in 1950. Stuart is taking his B.S. in Secondary Education and is majoring in chemistry.

A. R. Southall, Jr., is from Pamplin and was graduated from Pamplin High School in 1941. During the war he served from 1943 to 1946 in the Navy, seeing action in the Pacific. He entered S. T. C. in 1946 to take his pre-medical work.

Stuart Johnson, from Yorktown, graduated in 1947 from Perrun Junior College. Stuart served 38 months in the Navy from 1942 to 1946 and saw service in the Atlantic, Mediterranean and Pacific Areas. He entered S. T. C. this fall and is a member of the class of 1951.

Notice

Students will be excused from classes at 2:30 P. M. tomorrow afternoon to attend the Farmville Sequicentennial exercises at Longwood. Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster announces.

Tiger Alchemist Contrives New Formula; Seluretadcts; Analysis Reveals Contents

By R. ANDERSON

The midevil world and the S. P. C. A. were shocked last week with the announcement of the effects of a new moralizing drug. The injection of dope given Hampden-Sydney students by Dr. D. R. G. Foolumnobody and associates of Senseless College (abbreviated CT S.) took rapid action and produced simultaneous and consistant results, it was disclosed in a report today.

The dope, a drug technically known as Seluretadcts, was administered through the eye by print, and quickly surged through the veins of the red blooded young men. The reaction was quick and the same with every victim; eyes became blood shot, faces were flushed, voices became gruff as in anger, and fists were clinched. There followed a complete remoralization of the whole campus.

The students realized their uncleanliness and took stock of their immoral ways. "Their eyes were opened and they were glad." Then came what could be described as a secondary reaction. They banded together to form a cooperate union called the Srekcus. This organization drew up two sets of rules which they hope will help raise them from the depths of moral and physical decay and make them more worthy and better fitted to associate normally with the students of Senseless College.

Though this drug has been acclaimed a success, the content of the rules of the Srekcus which follows, conceding it is quite technical, is included to show the layiety the far reaching importance of the discovery.

Rules Governing Srekcusians Girls At Srekcusian dances Are:

1. Must leave Senseless College in time to arrive to down sterile cap, gown, and gloves at the time the dance begins and immediately (while the Senseless College date is making one of her many reports to her chaperone) spray himself with DDT, gargle six times with strong disinfectant, and put on sterile mask. No Srekcusian, unless taken ill by the nostalgic atmosphere, is allowed to leave the dance or get sick. Regardlessly, (while the Senseless College dates makes another trip to her chaperone—say, what goes on there . . . can it be love . . . ?) he will obtain fresh sterile clothing before leaving.

2. No Srekcusian will be allowed to wallow in the mud, step in gutters or open sewers, or go to fraternity houses, except at intermission (when a change of sterile clothing is in order anyway) of a dance that has been properly termed non-contagious by the great diagnostician Dr. I. Say-It-So.

3. Srekcusians are not permitted to leave the dance to walk. All walking must be done inside. Contamination by night air is very dangerous (and besides the Senseless College date may have a cold.)

Rules Governing Srekcusians At Senseless College Dances Are:

1. Regulation clothing is in order. Srekcusians will not arrive at dances unless they are out of their heads. If they do they will report immediately to their physician and have their heads extracted.

2. No Srekcusian will visit a sorority room at any time lest they contaminate their dates and the room. Rooms are too small for Srekcusians to breath in. Any infraction of this rule will result in the Srekcusian having his wooden nickles taken away and the date will be white walled with all the other pin-ups.

3. Certified pedegrees and affadavits of citizenship of the family for 2000 years in this country must be obtained before the Srekcusian can go no where after the dance.

4. Srekcusians are not permitted to walk, must less leave dances on the CTS campus.

(Key to the technical words and pronunciation of this scientific epic. No reader should be without one . . .)

1. Midevil . . . should read medical but it doesn't.

2. S. P. C. A. . . . Society for the Prevention of cruelty to Animals.

3. CTS. . . . Abbreviation for cents: senseless.

4. Seluretadcts . . . STC Date Rules spelled backwards.
(pr. See-lure-t'-dicks)

5. Srekcus . . . Suckers spelled backwards. (pr. See-reck-Cuss)

Schumann Piano Concert Disappoints Music Lovers

By PUCKETT ASHER

Henrietta Schumann, concert pianist of international fame, was the first artist to be presented in the lyceum series of S. T. C. this year.

Miss Schumann drew a slightly larger-than-average audience from the college girls on Friday night, due possibly to the fact that her complete program was announced prior to the performance. To the layman her program was pleasing and quite acceptable, but to any serious lover of music the choice of selections was disappointing. The technical ability of the artist seemed to surpass her actual performance. The majority of her interpretations were musical and poetic, but some of her rhythms seemed slightly erratic.

Miss Schumann divided her program into three sections; the first including a Pastoral and Cappriccio by Scarlatti, and Beethoven's Sonata, Opus 27, No. 2 (the "Moonlight"); the second made up of four Chopin numbers; and the third a modern group, including two Debussy works, "Clair de Lune" and "Jardins sous la pluie", two of the most famous piano works of Rachmaninoff, and four of her own transcriptions of modern American 'popular" songs.

Giving several glimpses of her superior musicianship at various times during her program, Miss Schumann left the genuine musicians in her audience with a feeling that she had counted them by her choice of numbers.

Our Behavior's Showing!

Comes a time in each of our lives when we have to face facts without flinching. The fact that we propose facing this week is that of our abdominable conduct in assembly.

One hour a week we are required to come to the auditorium for a program which benefits us in countless ways—one hour, which would otherwise be spent in class. Yet this hour must be relegated to reading letters, magazines, and put off lessons; knitting; letting down hems; chatting; or slouching down in the seat, looking bored beyond endurance.

Here at S. T. C. we are considered adult enough to regulate our own conduct, and seldom are we reprimanded by anyone except housemothers whose rebuffs are often fewer than we deserve. Most of us, after escaping the ever watchful family surveillance, revel in being considered women, capable of judging right from wrong by ourselves. What a shame it is that our childish actions show that we're not yet ready for that consideration.

One of the prime attributes of the adult well-bred woman is unselfish consideration for the feelings of others. But what are we proving when we sit in assembly and pay close attention to everything BUT the speaker or one who holds the floor? We're proving that inside we are still the selfish, egoistic little wretches we were the day we started to school. Moreover, we're proving that we can't even imagine how it feels to face a throng of 800 and try to win their interest and good will, an appalling enough task, without being defeated at the start by 800 minds which are 800 miles away. It's a sad opinion of S. T. C. that assembly speakers and performers must carry away with them after struggling through a losing bout with an uncooperative audience.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Lou Shelor, Elsie Love Bentley

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin,
Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Betty Ferguson

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Ann Lynch

Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Patsy Graveley

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager

Business Assistants
Virginia Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton,
Anne Verser, Connie Heather

Gladys Monk ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Carol Stoops, Edna Earle Waters, Ruth Radogna
Anne Simpson

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1948

It's high time that we realize that we are hurting ourselves, our school, and others by misbehaving in assembly. Let's act adult if we are to be considered as such.

Hands Off, Please!

The vandals are at it again. Why some people can't with-hold their impulses to see what a statue is made of and just how much abuse it can take is beyond our explanation. It seems that the new statue of Joan of Arc in the rotunda is again the target for abuse and this time in a more tangible way. There are now two newly made gashes on her hands; two white plaster-revealing spots on her bronzed exterior, where someone satisfied an idle curiosity.

Only last spring the new statue was obtained to replace the one which, in the years it stood in the center of the rotunda, was marred beyond repair with initials dug into her sides, chipped places and lipstick. When the new one was placed here we voiced the hope of the college authorities and the organization which undertook the renovation of the old one that the new one would be treated with the proper respect and taken care of. We thought that a new "Joan" would not be abused by careless or curious students.

Please, fellow students, make it your own personal responsibility to see that the statue is not further defaced! There is a vandal on the campus—don't let it be you.

Take It Back, Tiger

We see by the Tiger that a mud slinging session is on—aimed at us with the obvious intent of ridiculing our administration and us students for a set of rules obtained before they were ready for publication release. Last week when the Tiger appeared it carried a set of old rules no longer in force with the statement that they were newly released by the Dean's Office. If this was an effort to "scoop" the Rotunda on a story that should, by all rights, have appeared first at S. T. C. then it was a flop! The proper rules appear for the first time tonight on page one of this issue.

Last week we turned the other cheek to their caustic headline s l a m m i n g Miss Gleaves undeservedly, and to the ill-advised question of the week. We didn't want to start a quarrel because of the state-wide circulation of both papers, but the straw has broken the camel's back. We've turned our cheek, now we're taking off our coat to let them have it!

We think the Tiger owes Miss Gleaves and the students of S. T. C. an apology for their un-warranted satire, bordering on slander, aimed at our rules. If our Dean had formulated such rules it would not have been the place of the Hampden-Sydney men to pass public judgment on them, neither would they have been justified in poking fun at us because we'd have to abide by them.

For such a mud-throwing to go on without our being given a chance to know what was going on was taking an unsportsmanlike advantage of an unfortunate situation. Such throwing-off on our college regulations, be they good or bad, has got to stop for we have our whole reputation to consider. We're not going to be vindicative and tell Hampden-Sydney what we think of them. But just for our own immediate satisfaction—here's mud in your eye old Tiger.

jots & tittles

After throwin' a few brickbats at you in the editorials above, we think we had better give some credit where it's due down here. Just to keep on the good side of you, you understand.

Seriously though, Student Government deserves loud praises for the dance last week-end. "Conditions beyond our control" demands that "ye olde editors" be elsewhere, so we missed the gala affair, but we heard from many sources that "a good time was had by all."

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,

From a sophomore's view point, I would like to express my opinion on the subject of Rat Day. I have nothing against ratting, in fact I'm much in favor of it. I do think a more appropriate time could be set aside other than a week day.

Too much time has to be taken away from our studies, not to mention the loss of sleep which makes the class rath r boring to th teacher as well as the students.

My suggestion is that the sophomores of '49 et aside one week end as a closed one for freshmen and sophomores. Ratting could be either Friday or Saturday. In this way everyone would have more time to spend on the occasion as well as to recuperate.

A Sophomore

Correction

Last week we published a notice concerning two new dormitory rules now in efect. The rules should have read as follows:

1. Study hour will be observed by all students on Sundays from - p. m.

2. Students in Main Building may leave lights on until 12 p. m. on Saturday night. Bedcheck will still be at eleven; and quiet will be enforced.

"Hi, chick", Ann shouted.

"Shhhhh, I hear we've been accused of being too long-winded, so we've got to boil things down a bit to suit the general public. So let's exchange straight dope, dope. (Must have been a mis-print).

"Well, since this is the first chance since Rat Court, I'd like to congratulate Maria and Barbara and all the other freshmen who were such good rats".

"And that "Sing" they put on Saturday night, "Big Cat Court", was one of the cleverest I've seen. They should get a big hand on that!

"Have you heard? Helen Connely has a frat pin, straight from M. C. V.

"And have you asked Galloway, Magrant Wail, and Nock about their W. & L. week end? They came back beat, and I don't mean in the fight that followed the game! Well, not the one immediately following anyway!"

"And Connie Heather and Jean Hogge threw a big one in Gloucester this week end. They must have really had a time, from all reports."

"And a combination of Richmond and 'Red' really had Carolyn Calhoun starry eyed after the week end."

"Of course, a few people did stay here this week end. "Ratch" went on a little picnic for two Saturday afternoon. That Bill is no square!"

"The dance was strictly in there, too. Jean Ridenour thought it was good enough to miss a ride home for---but then of course, Chuck may have influenced her."

"Well, I've got a combination of the glad and the sad that I've saved for last. Millie Anne has a beautiful sparkler on third finger, left hand. Of course everybody's happy about that but sad because she's leaving us this week for Remie. And Curly came back from her sister's wedding this week end, and the idea must have been contagious, 'cause that light's in her eye now. She's leaving us too, so we've got a double loss, but Remie and Jim are mighty lucky boys. And for two such wonderful gals everything's bound to happen for the very best. We'll miss 'em but wish them all the happiness in the world.

Hail Circus Queen

The Sophisticated Rat

Come out, come out where ever you are- Freshmen, this is a column for and about you. You make the news and it will appear here, along with items of particular interest and reports on special freshmen of the week. Is everything clear? Say it is? Then grab the nearest seat, kick off your loafers, get comfortable and let's go!

The award for "Freshman of the Week" goes to Maria Jackson, the rat who made a hit with the mighty sophomores by rendering an original song done up in a style uniquely her own. Maria, circus chairman for the freshman class, was awarded the honor of being best rat last Wednesday when Big Rat Court ended the annual ratting. And don't forget Barbara Hawkins, the cute little freshman who was chosen second best rat.

Did you go to the sing last Saturday night? Mary Helen Cook's hall had charge of the program and they really did it in fine style. The most unique portion of the show was the poem "The Night Before Rat Day" written by Joyce Lee Clingenpeel, Fran Franklin, Mary Helen Cook, and Marian Beckner. Girls who appeared in the skit were Sarah Cregar, Barbara Brown, Jerry Corbach, Midge Wood, Cathy Bunch, Ann Harding, Marian Beckner, Mary Helen Cook, Sarah Crocker, and Shirley Livesey. Good work, freshman.

If you just can't seem to find time to sit down and answer that letter to Suzy, why don't you jot down a note here and there between classes about different things that pop up. At the end of the day, you'll have a spicy morsel of musings to mail to her before the last mail goes out. Makes interesting reading, too. Try it one of these first days.

The dance is ended, but the melody lingers on. That's the way many a freshman damsel felt as she returned to her room after her first S. T. C. dance Saturday night. Three cheers for the Student Government dance and may many more equally as wonderful follow.

There it is, fellow freshmen, number one in the series of columns on YOU. What do you think? Would you like number two and three to follow number one? Just voice your opinions loudly enough for all to hear.

Bye now and see you around.

J. P.

Gallop Pole

What do you think is the greatest improvement at S.T.C.?

Lynda Black: Snack Bar without a doubt.

Sally Land: Living in Junior Building.

Winnie Beard: Our new dean.

Ray Phillips: A "head" to call my own.

Jane Hunt Ghiselin: Snack Bar.

Louise Redd: Junior Building and all its "conveniences".

Marian Breeden: The little room that is just three steps from my room.

Frankie Dodson: "Connie and Lucy" calling again.

"Jan" Slavin: Next to the dean comes the Camp Pickett dances.

Anne Langbein: That I have no time to study for classes.

Katie Cobb: I don't know of any.

Betty House: I think everythings improved, but I'm looking forward to the new auditorium.

Sue Walker: I think the Snack Bar, but I'm looking forward to the painting of the Rotunda.

Jackie Wright: The Building.

Helen Arrington: Our new dean.

Lelia Mae Ferratt: With our new dean and snack bar, we're going places.

Dolores Duncan: I agree with Lelia Mae.

Lois Stevens: That I'm nearer graduation!

Carrie Ann O'Loughlin: The new dean, Rotunda, rec, Camp Pickett dances, and the dining hall.

Peggy Hughes: Carrie Ann's just about takes care of everything.

Ruth Walker: Mr. Snead's law class has taught me to never commit myself in writing--'nuff said!!

Dot Doutt: The soft touch of the dining hall bell.

May Elder: The new mail system--a letter everday, ask Polly.

Anonymous: Clementine's five minute check-ups on the 'antiques" in Junior Parlor.

Mickey Garnett: Wait 'till Ed arrives at Cincinnati this week end.

The S. T. C. radio program, regularly heard every Thursday over station W F L O will be postponed this week due to the Farmville sesquecentennial celebration which will be held at the scheduled time.

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Tennis Singles' tournament will start this week, watch the A. A. bulletin board for notices. If you don't play come out and cheer our fellow classmen on.

* * *

Annual pictures will be taken all this week. Please be sure you keep your appointment and arrive on time.

* * *

Ping Pong is being played in the Rec, and the Senior Rec. Why not get your friend and play during your spare time.

Mr. H. C. Bradshaw, principal of Emporia High School, will speak in assembly Thursday morning. His speech will center around the early days in Farmville.

The date of Mr. Bradshaw's address to the S. T. C. student body will coincide with the celebration of Farmville's Sesquicentennial. Mr. Bradshaw is a native of Farmville.

* * *

There will be no recreational swimming Saturday night, October 23, because of Circus.

* * *

There will be a Union Vesper Service at the Baptist Church at 7 P. M. Sunday, October, 24.

* * *

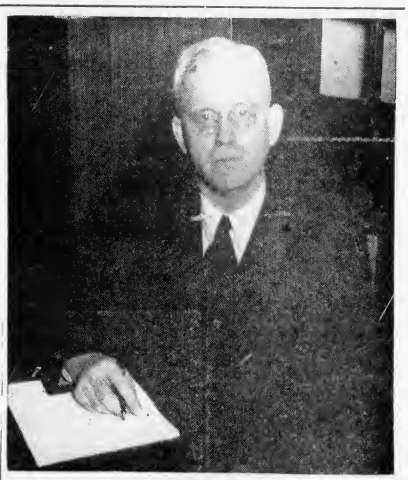
Athletic Association Reports

At the meeting of the Athletic Association Council Monday night, try-outs were held for cheer-leaders for the 1948-49 session. The girls selected were Molly Hudson, Marian Beckner, and Jerry Corbach.

Each year the A. A. Council appoints a Social Committee to help entertain the different schools that come here to play during the various seasons. The girls appointed were Mary Miller, Nancy Gillie, and Mary Lou Woodward, Norma Roady is the Chairman of this committee.

S. T. C. will have its first Hockey game on November 12, at 2 o'clock with Roanoke College. Even though you didn't make the Varsity Squad, you can come out and cheer for S. T. C. and keep up the spirit of our college.

Each fall S. T. C. sponsors a "Sports Day" for the local high schools and they participate in the various sports. This year the Athletic Association is planning a demonstration of tennis, hockey, and archery.



Four Teams Plan Hockey Tourney To Be Held Here

The District Hockey Tournament of the Field Hockey Association of Virginia will be held at S. T. C. on Saturday October 30. The schools that will be represented are William and Mary, Norfolk Division of William and Mary, Mary Washington, and Farmville.

From these four team,s one or two teams will be chosen to represent this district at the tournament held at Williamsburg. The team will not be made up of girls from just one school, but will be a unit of all the schools taking part.

This is the first time the Farmville Athletic Association has been chosen to be host. The A. A. will be wanting your help so that this will be the best one yet.

There will be more information about this district tournament next week.

DR. J. P. WYNNE

Mark Twain Society Honors Dr. J. P. Wynne of STC

Dr. J. P. Wynne, director of teacher education and head of the Department of Education and Philosophy at Farmville State Teachers College has recently been elected an honorary member of the International Mark Twain Society, an organization devoted to the stimulation of interest in literature throughout the world.

The award has been made by the Society's board of directors in recognition of his "contribution to literature" in his latest book, "Philosophies of Education," published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., in October 1947.

Among the 56 individuals who have been elected to honorary membership in the past are such names as Robert Frost, Mary Roberts Rinehart, Archibald MacLeish, Eugene O'Neill, Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone, H. G. Wells, James F. Byrnes, Fannie Hurst and Upton Sinclair.

The Society recognizes literary achievement in its broader sense to include such phases as historical and philosophical literature, essays, novel, etc. It seeks to promote interest through recognization of outstanding contributions, and the latest of Dr. Wynne's books was so considered.

Advisers Assigned To All New Students

Advisers have been assigned to all freshmen acording to a statement released by Dean William W. Savage. Likewise, those transfer students with less than junior standing have been notified of their advisers. In all cases the advisers are instructors in whose classes the students are enrolled.

Sophomores will have the same advisers they had last year if these persons are still members of the faculty. In cases where the faculty members are away from the campus this year, new advisers have been assigned.

Junior and seniors should call upon the heads and staff members of the departments in which they are majoring for advisory service.

The CROWNING FEATURE of Every OCCASION

Princess Pet ICE CREAM

The next time you're having Ice Cream for your family or guests -- give them a royal treat! Serve them the new, de luxe Ice Cream packed in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality. Princess Pet Ice Cream... the richest, creamiest, most delicious Ice Cream you've ever tasted! Made only of daily fresh whole milk, daily fresh sweet cream and delicate natural flavorings -- Princess Pet Ice Cream is for those who want the very finest!

Whether you like Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry, Buttered Pecan, or the flavor of the month -- Chocolate Marshmallow Sundae -- ask for Princess Pet in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality!

TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

Make—

COLLEGE SHOP

Your Headquarters

Excellent Food
Excellent Service

Southside Drugs

Special

To College Girls Only — One Week Only Until Next Wednesday

One Egg — Bacon — Toast — Coffee

20c

Served from 7:00 to 10:30 A. M.

A Mary Muffet ORIGINAL

29.98

'ersatile dinner suit of black taffeta... bolero jacket and flared skirt spiced with strategic cuffs and bows...the boned, strapless bodice dramatically striped. Ours alone, of course.

BALDWIN'S

BOWEN Inc. Farmville Jewelers

Flowers For All Occasions

BURG

Wilson Firestone

Latest Hits In . . .
Popular and classical music
Metal Leather Record Cases

GRAYS DRUG STORE

Select your Eaton's Stationery from Gray's

Aren't BABIES sweet?

There are lots of cute ones on NORCROSS greeting cards

America's Best-loved Greeting Cards

Patterson Drug Store

Delicious Fresh Candies At

J. J. Newberry Co.

Reach For Justrite Bread Sold By

C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Beautiful Sheer Nylon
99c to 1.95

New Fall Shades
Vandyke Brown, Grotto Green, Florentine Grey, Melody and many other shades.
By Larkwood and Mojud

Dorothy May

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to

ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Wyatt A. LeGrand

Teacher of Violin

Studio Hours 2 to 5 P. M.
Week Days

104 Main St. Phone
Farmville 569-M

For A Bite To Eat That Can't Be Beat

VISIT

THE SNACK BAR

"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Twenty Receive Cotillion Bids

Twenty upperclassmen received bids to the Cotillion Club Monday night, Evelyn Patterson revealed. These new members will be in charge of decorating for the annual fall Cotillion dance to be held in the gymnasium. Those who received bids were Dallia Agostini, June Banks, Marion Breeden, Kitty Carmichael, Helen Connally, Jackie Eagle, and Lelia Mae Ferratt.

Also receiving bids were Patsye Gravely, Jean Hobbs, Ruth Hathaway, Patsy Kimbrough, and Denise Love. Also Muriel McBride, Pee Perry, Edna Rodriguez, Lou Alyce Shelor, Betsy Wilson, Jackie Wright, Dolores Waterfield, Molly Hudson, and Mary Smith.

These girls will remain "goats" until next spring when they will be initiated with the new students who are given bids at that time.

New Choir At S.T.C. Will Lead Assembly

The first meeting of the newly organized chapel choir, under the direction of Mr. Wakefield, was held last week, in the student lounge. This choir will provide special music for chapel, and will lead the student body in singing. As there are no prerequisites for becoming a member of the choir, every student is urged to participate. Meetings are held every Friday afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30.

President Receives Science Hall Bids; Contract To Be Let

Bids for the building contract for the new S. T. C. science hall were received last week, according to a statement by Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, College president. Two of the bids were within the amount appropriated by the Virginia State Legislature.

Dr. Lancaster stated that in all probability the contract will be let within the next week, pending a report to be made by the local building committee to the State Board of Education. Members of this committee are Dr. Lancaster, Mr. Samuel Graham, College Business Manager, and Mr. T. A. McConkie, professor of chemistry and physics.

Big Top

Continued from Page 1

by secret ballot, are kept secret until their appearance that night.

Following presentation of the queen and court, classes will vie with each other with stunts for the coveted first and second place honors. A committee of faculty members will judge Circus stunts, and the winners will be announced at the conclusion of the performers.

After announcement of class stunt victors, Circus guests will mill through the midway of booths and food concessions which are sponsored by various College organizations. At one part of the gym there will be dancing.

Circus tickets are currently selling for 25c at the table in the hall. No tickets will be sold at the doors Saturday night.

Langbein Chooses Meredith To Fill Story Editorship

This week Mary Leigh Meredith assumed the duties of short story editor of the Colonade, according to the announcement of Anne Langbein, editor-in-chief of the College magazine. Mary Leigh replaces Jacky Eagle who has recently resigned from that position.

At the same time Anne stated that the Colonade is running a new regular feature, "Life At S. T. C.", which will be composed of humorous or interesting anecdotes taken from rounds college life. Anne asked [illegible] knows of such an anecdote please write it up and place it in the Colonade box or bring it to her at 26 Cunningham Hall. If suitable, these anecdotes will be published in the Colonade, and full recognition will be given the author.

Students are reminded that November 6 is the deadline for the short story contest. Short stories should be submitted as soon as possible before that date so that they may receive the fullest consideration, and the Colonade staff will not be unduly rushed before publication.

Dance Rules

Continued from Page 1

selves". Walking on the campus, except to and from intermission, is not permissable either since both Hampden-Sydney and S. T. C.'s administrations feel that there is no need for it.

Orchesis To Open Longwood Program

Orchesis, S. T. C. dance group, will open the Longwood exercises of the Farmville Sesquicentennial Celebration tomorrow with an Indian ceremonial dance, according to the announcement of Jane Taylor, president of Orchesis.

The phase of the civic celebration which will occur at Longwood tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 5 P. M. will be a pageant depicting the history of Farmville, Va. Orchesis' dance, to be accompanied by drums, will be the prelude of the afternoon program.

Miss Lola Wheeler, S. T. C. professor of speech will participate in the program as narrator for the occasion.

Students will be excused from classes in time to attend the Longwood exercises.

American motor vehicles require about 20,000 tons of steel every year for license plates.

YWCA Theme

Continued From Page 1

or Thy Father and Mother", "Your Part in the Home", and "You as a Future Parent". In January "You and the Opposite Sex" will be discussed, with "Who Do You Date" and "Finding a Christian Partner" as the topics. For February the discussion groups will take up "You and Your Personality" in talks about "Desirable Personality Traits", "Developing Your Personality", and "Using Your Personality in a Christian Way".

The March topic is "You and Your Church", and it goes into a study of the beliefs of the various churches and their doctrines. The Baptist, Catholic, Episcopal, Methodist and the Presbyterian beliefs will be discussed that month. The council has chosen for April a group of discussions on "You and the World Situation" which concerns "World War II?", "Racial Discrimination?", "Communism for America?" and "What Can You Do About This Situation?"

Col. Miller Speaks

Continued From Page 1

State governments.

Mr. Miller represented Fairfax County in the House of Delegates from 1938 to 1941, and was also a member of the Virginia Advisory Legislative Council. He was one of the earliest advocates in the Assembly of a soil conservation program for the State. In his political activities he has been associated with the liberal element of the State Democratic organization.

Aiming To Please
Do It With Ease
Phone 181 Night 4
COLLINS

MARTIN THE JEWELER
Select your silver at Martins

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

WFLO
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
870 on your dial

Corduroy Jackets and Sweaters Just Arrived
VERSER'S
We strive to please

S. T. C. girl needed to handle cleaning for Kleanwell Cleaners.
—For Fine Service—
KLEANWELL CLEANERS

Adds Refreshment To Every Occasion

The Pause That Refreshes

Coca-Cola
"Coke"
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
5¢

Ask for it either way ... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Bottling Company
© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

"I smoked CHESTERFIELDS between scenes while making my new picture, JOHNNY BELINDA, they're MILDER... It's MY cigarette."
Jane Wyman
STARRING IN JOHNNY BELINDA
A WARNER BROS. PICTURE

Joyce Hodgins ABC GIRL of Penn State says—
"I smoke Chesterfields because they are the right cigarette for me. They're MILDER and their taste and my taste agree."
MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELDS than any other Cigarette... BY LATEST NATIONAL SURVEY

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD
MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE... They Satisfy

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Vote
If You Can

The Rotunda

Happy Birthday!

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 27, 1948 | No. 8

Dr. Ruffin Heads Delegation From STC to VEA Convention

The 42nd annual convention of the Virginia Educational Association is being held in Richmond this week from October 26 to October 30. Theme for the meeting will be "Education--A Bulwark for Democracy".

Dr. M. Beverly Ruffin, of the S. T. C. library, is chairman of the S. T. C. delegation. Other members of the delegation who were chosen by the faculty are Miss Caroline Eason, Mr. Merle Landrum, and Dr. Edgar M. Johnson.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster addressed the Superintendents of the State at a luncheon at the Hotel John Marshall today, October 27. The subject of his address was the Question of Teacher Supply and Teacher Education.

Miss Helen Draper will preside over the Business Meeting of the Teachers of French in the Hotel Richmond on Saturday, October 30.

Mrs. Emily K. Landrum will present a demonstration of Dance Techniques in the Elementary and Secondary Schools before the meeting of the Health and Physical Education Section on Friday, October 29, at the Hotel Richmond. Miss Olive T. Iler will take part in a Panel Discussion of Play Days and Girls' Athletic Association Activities before this same section later in the day.

DR. LANCASTER
Speaks to V. E. A.

18 Girls Receive KDP Invitations

Eighteen girls recently received invitations to become members of Kappa Delta Pi, honor society in education.

Receivers of bids were Puckett Asher, June Banks, Betty Jane Brockway, Jacqueline Burkholder, Page Burnette, Mrs. Ann Scruggs Crizer, Margaret Farmer, Allie Jane Felton, Barbara Grizzard, Elizabeth Harris, Betty House, Judy Hughes, Helen Kaknis, Nancy Kibler, Polly Nasser, Helen Cliven Traynham, Ruth Vernon Walker, and Juanita Weeks.

Membership in Kappa Delta Pi is open to juniors and seniors who rank in scholarship, in the upper quartile of the College. Also these students must have shown interest in the field of education, and they must posses qualities of leadership.

New faculty counselor for the local chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, Beta Epsilon, is Dr. Ethel Sutherland, associate professor of mathematics.

Jarman FTA Chapter Extends Membership To 9 Upperclassmen

At the last meeting of the Future Teachers of America, held October 26 in Dr. Wynne's classroom, invitations were extended to the following juniors and seniors who have met the requirements of this organization, Ruth Walker, Polly Nasser, Nancy Kibler, Rose Smith, Dalila Agostini, June Banks, Marjorie Agee, Mary Sue Ebeling, and Ruth Whitten.

In order to be eligible for membership in F. T. A. a student must be a junior or a senior, must have a general average of 2.0 or above, must have exhibited unusual interest in the field of education and must possess certain personal characteristics upheld by this organization.

Continued on Page 4

Clown's Eye View of Circus Gives Parade, Stunt Review

Cleverly disguised, but hardly beyond recognition, your reporter attended the S. T. C. circus as a clown in order to acquire an interpretation of the four stunts, to learn the inside stories concerning the circus celebrities, and to see the clown's viewpoint of the parade. (Namely the front end) The "Potunda's" slogan is: "WE do anything—even the apewalk—in order to get our readers the latest happenings accurately."

After the clowns and animals had received detailed instructions for getting the faculty members with cap pistols and waterguns, the circus parade was off to a flying start. It was a wonderful day, cool and windy. The sun shone through the clouds lighting up Georgie Porgie's, Virginia Westbrook's, Charlie Hop's and various other "characters" faces. Behind the flag bearers came two prancing steeds, who threatened momentarily to dash off with their expert horsewomen. Most of the pirates, Indian maidens, cotton pickers, "Summer-time gals," and jungle queens rode in brightly decorated cars and wagons.

The nicest part about being a clown was having a ringside seat (so what, if it was "inside" the ring.) for the bigtop show Saturday night. First of the thrills that always go with circus was the appearance of Norma Roady, junior from Newport News, as Circus Ringmaster. "Roady" in turn introduced those other Circus luminaries whose identities always keep the student body is such a curious state of mind before Circus. The crowd of spectators cheered happily when Violet Ritchie, senior from Alberta, swept on the scene as Queen of Circus. And no less wildly received were the members of her court, Ann Nock, junior from Harborton; Betsy Gravely, sophomore from Martinsville, and Mary Helen Cook, freshman from Richmond. Now that the guessing game was over, we could rack back happily and enjoy watching the classes strut through their competitive stunts.

Journeying to the tropics, to India, Paris, and down to the deep South with the Freshmen was loads of fun. Never will the way "that guy" flys an airplane, the things you'll find under bamboo trees, the way Indians do the rumba, and the French night clubs be forgotten.

The sophomore skit was also quite a hit, especially that part where Little Boy Blue came tearing out of a page of "Mother Goose" to blow his bugle. The cows happy over the fact that the horn wouldn't blow, sang a ditty entitled "No More Moos on Sunday." For a copy of this "popular" song, see Betsy Carper.

Continued on Page 3

National Magazine Sponsors College Writers' Contest

'Tomorrow' Aids Young US Talent

A short story contest for college writers will be conducted this semester for the third year by the literary magazine, TOMORROW. Purpose of the contest is to encourage new creative writing talent and to give young writers the opportunity of seeing their work in print.

The best short story will win $500 as first prize, the next best a second prize of $250. Prize-winning stories will be published in the May and June issues of TOMORROW. All entries will be considered for publication at the magazine's regular rate of $125, thus providing additional opportunity for the college writer. Judges of the contest will be the editors of TOMORROW Magazine and the editors of Creative Age Press, book publishers.

Rules for the contest are simple. It is open to all officially enrolled undergraduates in the United States. There is no limit to the number of manuscripts a single contestant may submit. Manuscripts should not exceed 5000 words, and the phrase "College Contest" and the writer's name, college, and mailing address must appear on both manuscript and envelope. All entries must be accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope. Closing date for the contest is December 31, 1948, and entries must be postmarked prior to that date for consideration.

Copies of TOMORROW have been sent to the college library in order that prospective contestants may familiarize themselves with the magazine before competing.

Mr. McCorkle States 'Virginian' Budget

Mr. McCorkle, advisor to The Virginian, has released a summary of the expenses of the year book for 1947-48.

Summary of The Virginian Account 1948
June 7, 1948

Income

Subscriptions Acct.	$3,642.50
Campus Fee	590.00
Organizations	1026.00
Photographs	814.75
Misc.	17.50
Total 1948	$6090.75
Cash Balance Sept. 1	172.79
Total Income	$6263.54

Expense Account

Printing	$3506.50
Engraving	1462.66
Photographs	835.00
Office Expense	45.53
Donations - entertainments, etc.	69.60
Total Expense	$5919.19
Balance in Bank June 7	344.54
	$6263.54

Published 750 books. Total cost per book $7.89

Signed
T. A. McCorkle
Faculty Advisor

Commercial Club Plans Dance In Rec

The Commercial Club will hold an informal dance Saturday, November 6, from 8 to 12 P. M. in the "Rec."

This dance is open to all members of the student body. The admission is ten cents per person—stag or drag.

Harriet Butterworth, Janice Slavin, and Helen Holbrook make up the dance committee for the Commercial Club.

Student Teachers Begin Fall Work

69 Girls Now Teach Practice Classes

Dr. J. P. Wynn, director of teacher education and head of the Department of Education and Philosophy at Farmville State Teachers College, has announced the names of the student teachers for the fall semester 1948-49.

Teaching in the high school are Phylis Austin, history; Love Bentley, English and history; Dot Braswell, elementary algebra and math; Helen Dortch, history; Elizabeth Drewer, history and physical education; Ann East, English; Ann Galloway, biology and general science; Mary Garrett, English; Hazel Lewis, history and physical education; Doris Lloyd, history and Spanish; Mary Miles, history and physical education; Helen Owens, biology and science; Betty Pairet, advanced algebra and arithmetic; Evelyn Patterson, civics and English; Lee Robertson, social studies; Violet Ritchie, science; Gwen Smith, elementary algebra and geometry; Virginia Saunders, typing; Mary Wilson, chemistry and science; Jacqueline Bobbitt, typing; Mary Parham, Mary Parham, bookeeping; Nancy Rushing, bookeeping; Barbara Saunders, tuping; Gertrude English Walker, typing; Ruthellen Mears, shorthand; Mary Waldrop, typing; Betty Jefferson, shorthand.

Kindergarten teachers are Anne Ford, Jean Watts, and Jinnie Sue Webb.

Elementary teachers in the first grade are Dorothy Daniel, Elizabeth Nutall, Ethel Southall, and Jean Thompson; second grade, Jean Craig, Ann Owen, Paulett Piper, and Phyllis Bagley; third grade, Frieda Dansberger Baker, Betty Jordon, and Mildred Williams; fifth grade, Rosemary Caldwell, Adelaide Coble, and Shirley Irving; sixth grade, Melbale H. Booth, Lee Robertson, Jane Taylor, and Anne Tucker; seventh grade, Lois Calahan.

Students teaching art in the elementary school are Alice Jordon, Muriel McBride, and Eula Ayers. Those teaching music are Alice Jordon, Betty Jordon, Anne Joyner, June Adams, Nancy Kibler, Jane Taylor ,and Lee Robertson.

Home economics is being taught by Marian Peake Slate, Betty Jane Brockway, Marjoire Miller, Gwen Cress, Frances Farley, Laura Jean Comerford, Dorris Lanier, and Esther Goffigon, Harriet Steel.

There are two student teach-

Continued on page 4

Carlton Will Play At Fall Cotillion

SENATOR JOHN S. BATTLE

Senator Battle, candidate for the Virginia gubernatorial nomination, will speak in the large auditorium at 8 P. M. under the auspices of the Farmville chapter of A. A. U. W.

Director Appeals For Choir Members

Mr. Ralph J. Wakefield, Instructor in Music, and director of the Voluntary Chapel Choir announces that more students are needed to sing in the chapel choir.

The choir now has eight members. They are Jean Hogge, Puckett Asher, Lynda Black, Dot Doutt, Barbara Andrews, Lily Lankford, Betty Lewis Shanks, and Rives Edwards.

The Voluntary Chapel Choir which was formed for the purpose of providing music for the regular Tuesday chapel, made its initial appearance, at yesterday's chapel service at the Episcopal church The choir is planning to offer an anthem at chapel next Tuesday, November 2.

Each Friday at 4:30 P. M. the chapel choir meets at the Episcopal church for rehearsal. Students who would like to sing in the choir are asked to attend the next practice, Friday, October 29. Anyone is eligible to join.

Goats To Decorate In Yellow, Green

Fall Cotillion Club dance will be held Saturday night, October 30 from 8:30 to 12 p. m. in the college gymnasium.

The gym will be decorated by the goats, under the direction of Martha Hatcher, chairman of the committee, in yellow and green.

Other committees for the dance are Betty Jefferson, music and floor; Lee Robertson, tickets, and Ruthellen Mears is in charge of invitations and flowers.

Evelyn Patterson, president of Cotillion, said today that Russ Carlton and his orchestra with two vocalists have been engaged to play for the dance.

Dr. and Mrs. Lancaster, Miss Ruth Gleaves, Mr. and Mrs. Coyner, and Evelyn Patterson, Ruthellen Mears, Betty Jefferson and Anne Ford will form the receiving line.

The Club has also asked as honorary chaperones for the affair Dr. and Mrs. Brumfield, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Graham, Dr. and Mrs. Moss, Dr. and Mrs. Jeffers, Mr. and Mrs. McCorkle, Mr. French and Mr. and Mrs. Wakefield.

Also Miss Iler, Miss Eason, Miss Burger, Mrs. McCoy, Miss Hamner, Mrs. Eastham, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Tabb, Mr. and Mrs. Myers, Dr. and Mrs. Schlegel, Mr. and Mrs. Landrum and Miss Moran.

I. V. C. F. Sends Four To N. C. Conference

Four girls, representing the S. T. C. Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship, attended the southeast regional conference of I. V. C. F. and the Foreign Missions Fellowship. Anne Lucy, Dee Hoover, Annie Swann and Nadine Lewers were the only representatives of a womans college present at the conference held October 22-24 at the Ben Lippen Conference Grounds, 5 miles outside Asheville, N. C. Other colleges which were represented were V. P. I., U. Va., U. of Tennessee, Asbury College, Columbia Bible College, Bryan University, U. of South Carolinia, W. & L. University and Tacoma Falls Bible Institute.

The speakers at the conference, of which the theme was "His To

Continued on page 4

Miss Gleaves Gives Interview to 'Rotunda' Tells of School Days, Here Future Plans

JANICE SLAVIN

A new school year, a new dean! We think that we are indeed fortunate in having Miss Ruth Gleaves as Dean of Women at S. T. C. this year. Miss Gleaves is from Wythe County, Virginia. She is a Farmville alumna and obtained her B. S. here; her M. A. was received from Columbia. She has done graduate work at Columbia, University of Chicago, and the University of Tennessee.

While Miss Gleaves was a student at S. T. C., she was president of the student council, and a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma. During her college years, her chief interest was in athletics.

Upon graduation Miss Gleaves began her teaching career. She taught in the public schools of Wythe Co., Richmond, Franklin, Jacksonville, Florida, and was Head of Clothing Dept. at Radford College before coming to S. T. C. as a Home Economics Teacher Trainer six years ago.

Besides teaching Miss Gleaves has held two other positions. She was secretary of the Richmond Y. W. C. A. at one time. She was also the first hostess and manager of Longwood. It was during this time that the delicious Longwood buns and mints had their origin.

MISS RUTH GLEAVES

Miss Gleaves is a member of several Home Economics Societies, Student Personnel Organization at Columbia; Stuart Chapter of D. A. R. Wythe, Co; U. D. C., and the Farmville Woman's Club.

Since she loves to be on the go, Miss Gleaves has traveled extensively throughout the U. S., Cuba, and Bermuda.

Her future plans are to improve in general the "dorm" life of the students socially and otherwise. Farmville has the reputation of being one of the friendliest colleges in Virginia, if not the most friendly. She wants this reputation withheld--a friendly smile and "hello" for everyone. The needs and suggestions of the students will be used in bringing about these improvements. Although she wants to keep the life of the students abreast with other outstanding schools, Miss Gleaves plans to have us hold to our traditions and possibly restore a few former ones.

She tells us that there is never a

Continued on page 4

We Have A Date In '48'

November 2nd is election day. What are you going to do on that day? College students are playing a big part in this election for the first time. There are two and a half million students in the colleges of the United States and over one and a half million of them have reached the voting age. What a tremendous amount of influence we would have in the shaping of the destiny of our country, if all of us who can would take advantage of the voting privileges.

Sadly enough, there is too much indifference among students toward assuming the responsibilities of a voting citizen. Can this be because each person feels that he or she is only one among so many and that his opinion will never be noticed? Dr. Lancaster, in his talk to the seniors urging our interest in national and international affairs, read a little poem well worth heeding. It says—

I AM ONLY ONE

I am only one;
But I am one.
I cannot do everything,
But I can do something.
And what I can do, I ought to do:
What I ought to do,
By the grace of God,
I will do.

We are not the future citizens of the U. S. we are the present citizens! Even if we cannot vote on November 2nd, most of us will at least reach 21 during the term of the coming administration whatever it is. We can have an influence by being interested even before we can express our influence by voting.

There is another even more closely related opportunity for us to express our good citizenship right here on the campus. The candidates for Governor of Virginia in the 1949 elections are speaking here under the auspices of the A.A.U.W. and they have invited us to hear these men. Colonel Miller spoke last night and Senator Battle will speak next Tuesday night. We should avail ourselves of the opportunity offered us to know these candidates.

Let's really begin to sit up and take notice. Just because S. T. C. cannot figure in politics is no reason for its students to ignore all political issues. The thinking of the nation goes on in our very heads: don't let our country down by putting aside any efforts on its behalf.

Frosh Are Fortunate

It's easy to see that S. T. C. is truly a living and breathing institution, by the continuous stream of changes and improvements being made here every day. The latest step forward in S. T. C.'s march of progress is Miss Gleaves' installation of a course in freshman problems.

Women freshmen may congratulate themselves on their good fortune. Many of the problems of adjusting to college life that would heretofore have been disposed of in the mill of experience can now be countered before they even arise by this new class. Remembering our own hazy freshman days and how we never felt completely at home at this college until well into our sophomore year, we can well appreciate what such a course in freshman problems can mean to the new student.

Already we believe we can hear a few freshmen voices griping about the one hour a week the new class will steal from their precious free time. But we also believe that the frosh will soon see that these few hours wisely spent will mean the saving of many hours of regret later on. Freshmen are indeed lucky to be coached on good study and spending habits, on grooming and etiquette, on so many things that upperclassmen either learned the hard way or haven't learned yet.

We of the Rotunda staff applaud the institution of the course in freshman problems, and we are confident that it will produce happier, better adjusted college citizens and women.

THE ROTUNDA
Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Lou Shelor, Elsie Love Bentley

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin,
Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Betty Ferguson

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Ann Lynch

Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Patsy Graveley

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager

Business Assistants

Virginia Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton,
Anne Verser, Connie Heather

Gladys Monk ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Carol Stoops, Edna Earle Waters, Ruth Radogna
Anne Simpson

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1948

jots & tittles

"The shouting and the tumult dies"—circus is over. Our heartiest congratulations go to the juniors and the sophomores who brought down the honors. While we're handing out the laudits we might as well be generous and tell everyone who took part that they showed "the spirit and pep" that makes any S. T. C. production go over big. But the biggest bouquet goes to those tireless chairmen who gave of their best to make this circus a splendid entertainment.

Now that circus is over we can settle down and get some studying done—maybe!

We sat in on the men student's first meeting yesterday and felt oddly out of place, but we got the low-down on what they're going to do. First let's congratulate them on their booth for circus which was very popular and netted them $8.85. They talked about ways and means of raising funds and we're eagerly awaiting their final decision 'cause they may give a dance—we hope! Dr. Moss gave a talk on the Honor Code and then they had an open discussion of what the signing of the Code would mean to them. One of the most important things to come out of the meeting was the appointing of a committee to draw up a constitution for the government of the male student body.

Good luck men, we're back of you 100 per cent and wish you smooth sailing in getting your organization well founded on the campus this year!

All Aboard for Pickett Dance

Gallop Pole

What is your favorite expression?

Jean Sanford: By Jingo!

Molly Robertson: Oh g o s h, what food we have in the dining room!

Alma Bedinger: Duz does everything, but make biscuits.

Peggy Thiery: Let's go down to the Snack Bar.

June Divers: Gosh, I don't know!

Jean Moody: You can say that again!

Sylvia Damsky: Oh your father's mustache!

Nancy Flint: Frankie!

Mary Chase Sykes: Shucks!

Ida Buppert: Oh, the cat's foot!

Jane Allen: Oh for goodness sakes!

Claudia Anderson: Drop dead; go get lost!

Elizabeth Winfree: I'll give you a clue.

Joan Driver: John Porter. (Just precious.)

Rommie Mahook: Ugh.

Jane Lyon: I don't have one.

Shirley Clarke: No kidding, you can't print that.

Patsy Gravely: I can't do that.

Emma Mae Pittard: I guess so!

Mrs. Caroline Eastham: All right boys, It's ten o'clock.

Lou Ann Mears: Chalk it up to experience and let the good times roll.

Ann Robertson: Sniggle-fritz, by cracky!

The Sophisticated Rat

After a whirl-wind week end of circus, visitors and fun, the freshmen are once again ready to settle back to work----well, ready to start thinking about how far behind they are in their lessons. No matter how much boning and late nights it will take to heal those aching grades, it was well worth it to have had such a glorius time.

Who's the Freshman of the Week? Well, of course, it's Mary Helen Cook, the girl with the winning personality that everyone loves. Cookie, as everybody calls her, was chosen as Freshman representative to the circus court.

Fasten your safety belts, for away we go on anothe.' trip around the world. This time, however, we'll just take a peek to see who the girls were in the Freshman Stunt.

The vivacious and sprightly guide for the journey was Liz Lesslie. Backing her up was the supporting cast of Dolores Hoback, Lucille Humphries, Lucy Thornhill, Nancy Hounshell, Connie Rice, and Jean Boylston. Inez Hughes was chairman of this group.

The Zulu act, under the head of Liz Lesslie, included Sally Breckman, Joy Humphries, Nell Dalton, Nancy Walthal, Dorothy Gregory, Katherine Bunch, and Marion Beckner, the especially charming monkey.

Lois Andrews made a grand Maharaja of Magador. Peggy Covington was the slick chick who stole the maharaja's heart as well as his fortunes while Lois Andrews, Ann Rosson, Marty Miller, Barbara Brown, Marjorie Taylor, Dot Fraher, Katherine McCrady, Jerry Korback, and Joyce Luce supplied the music and dancing. Dolores Hoback directed this act.

Ann Harding directed the Paris scene in which Tommy Thomas used her vocal chords to such pleasant advantage. Other girls in the stunt were Shirley Livesay, Anne Motley, Midge Woods, Pat Tuggle, Edith Goff, Mary Quinn, Phyllis George, Virginia Slusher, Mary Frances Spurlock, Maxine Waits, Betty Jean Campbell, and Nell Gillie.

In the Georgia scene, Jean Ridenour, the old black mammy, directed what turned out to be a realistic portrayal of the old south. Members of this cast were Jane Lee Kellogg, Shirley Goulder, Betty Foster, Nancy Walker, Chasie Sykes, Anne Maitland, Aubrey Pettit, Jan Peebles, Barbara Hawkins, Betty Scott Borkey, Mary Bram, Jean Elliot, Gerry Newman, Boody Poarch, Jerry Killmon, Nancy West, Margaret Thomas, Branchy Pristoe, Hedy Rae Bonds, Martha Wilson, Mary Crawford, Jackie Woodward, Katherine Alexander, and Anne Mosely.

Behind the scenes were the girls who worked day after day on props, costumes, and music. Not forgotten were these figures without whom the show could never have gone on. They were Betty Scott Borkey, head of properties; Marion Beckner, head of costumes; Tommy Thomas, Barbara Brown, and Paige Bunn, pianists.

A toast to Maria Jackson for her tireless effort and hard work in putting the Freshman stunt over with all it's glittering and sparkling splendor. Your words to the tune of Chatanogga Choo Choo that were used in the finale, Maria, were right in there.

Even though S. T. C. had so much to offer this past week end, it seems that the University of Virginia had a little more for some of the freshman; namely Jane Darden, Sara Crocker, and Edith

Continued on Page 4

The Chatterbox

"Well gals, circus is over, and was it wonderful! Everything clicked perfectly, and congrats to the Juniors and Sophs for running off with the prizes. Roady was a perfect ringmaster and the court was the prettiest ever."

"And wasn't it wonderful seeing all the old girls back--- Gee-Gee, Betsy, George Ann, Tucker, Eleanor, Pete, Nellwyn O'Brien, and the rest!"

"Annette and Robbie were plenty happy with Tom and Bill here. And Robbie finally got 'that" pin. I'm glad to see Bill's memory is improving-he remembered to bring it this time! And Rosemary Hamlett is pinned to an architectural student at U. Va. as of Monday night. It seems to be the thing to do!"

"And did you hear about Janie Fox? Seems she got a little mixed up dating a boy Sunday afternoon with him that night.

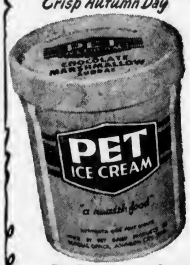
"This is something new--Listen: The Chatterbox-meaning me-makes its predictions for K. O.' d (Knocked-out to you) week-ends coming up! Peggy White at W. & M. (Look out); "Shang" and "Ratch" with the G. W. boys in unfamiliar territory-meaning S. T. C. (Those orchids were pretty): Betty Grey Whitten driving down for Chapel Hill Home-comings ('I predict a hat pin from Ned'); and Tootsie taking off Thursday to see Bob (taking cuts-must be love.) There it is--we'll let you know next week what the scores were-and we don't mean for the football games!"

"I guess we have to leave now, but get this important bit of info before you go. Some bright chile thinks the "Chatterbox" does not hear quite all the "news" around the campus, and we must admit that so much is happening that maybe we aren't in on it all, so we thought of a solution. And here it is: In the near future a "Chatterbox Box" will be placed conspicuously in the school and you can drop in "hot info" and we'll print it (if it's fit to print.) So keep your eyes open for the box and your ears open for the news, and keep us posted! More about it next week, so bye for now!"

'Problems' Class Will Begin Monday

Beginning next Monday, November 1, there will be offered to all freshman, a class in freshman problems to be taught by Miss Ruth Gleaves and Miss Caroline Eason.

This class, the purpose of which is to help the new student to adjust to college life will meet each Monday Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoon; and each freshman will be required to attend one one hour session a week for one semester. Freshmen may see the notice posted on the bulletin board to find out the hour, room, and section of their classes. There will not be over thirty girls in any one section of the course.



Some of the topics to be covered by the course in freshman problems are "Learning to Live With Others and Adjustment to College Life", "Wise Expenditure of Time and Funds", "Learning In College" "Personality Development", "Leisure Time and Hobbies", "Developing a Wholesome Philosphy of Life", "Achieving Democratic Citizenship" "Achieving Mental and Physical Health", and "Family and Home Life." Conditions conducive to good study, use of the library, and notetaking will be taken up under the topic, "Learning In College"; and under the head of "Personality Development" will be included training personal grooming, poise, charm, social usage and consersational ability.

Farmville Host to District Hockey Tourney

Pet's Feature Flavor of the Month

Chocolate Marshmallow Sundae

Refreshing as a Crisp Autumn Day

Pet Chocolate Ice Cream with snowy cascades of Marshmallow Whip... that's Pet Chocolate Marshmallow Sundae--so smooth, so delicious ...and as refreshing as a crisp autumn day! Every satisfying spoonful of Pet Ice Cream tells its own story of downright goodness!

For Special Occasions

For regal hospitality, whenever you entertain... serve Princess Pet, the new de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality. It's the richest, creamiest, most delicious Ice Cream you've ever tasted... made for those who want the very finest!

All Pet Ice Creams

Both Pet and Princess Pet are made only of daily fresh whole milk, daily fresh sweet cream and delicate natural flavorings. That's why we say, compare any Pet Ice Cream with any other Ice Cream. You, too, will agree...as to flavor, body, texture and quality... PET Ice Creams top them all!

So, for real Ice Cream enjoyment... whether you buy Princess Pet -- the new, de luxe, richer, creamier Ice Cream -- or popular Pet Ice Cream... you can't buy finer Ice Cream at any price! Take home a pint or two of each today!

PET ICE CREAM

"a health food"

Taste the Fresh Cream in Pet Ice Cream

Beorc Eh Thorn, local honorary English society held its first meeting of this session today in the Honors Room at 5 P. M.

At this meeting the 1948-49 program which will center about French literature was discussed. Yvette Ancey, student assistant from Vandves, France gave a talk on modern French literature.

New Fall Skirts

3.95 to 9.95

Large Selection Of Beautiful Plaids. All Sizes

LEGGETTS

THE BULLETIN BOARD

The question of letting the contract for the science hall will be settled finally at the meeting of the State Board of Education on Friday, October 29, according to Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster.

• • •

The newly organized chapel choir is scheduled to practice Friday, October 29, between 4:30 and 5:30 in the Episcopal Church.

• • •

Last week the Episcopal Canterbury Club of Farmville, church young people's group, officially organized with the election of officers for the current college year.

John Alfriend, Hampden-Sydney student from Charles Town, W. Va. was elected president of the club. A council of six, three from Hampden-Sydney College, and three from S. T. C. were also elected. Members of the council are Barbara Andrews, Emily Hastings, Maria Jackson, Joel Elcans, Russell Goode, and Heath Light.

• • •

The Camp Pickett dances start Saturday, October 30, sign up on the bulletin board by Friday noon if you want to go. Busses will leave at 7:00 P. M. Everyone must meet in the rec at 6:45 dressed in Sunday attire.

• • •

Wednesday, Oct. 27.

Signing of the honor code by new students will continue through tonight and tomorrow night. Announcement of the time will be made in the dining hall at supper.

• • •

Thursday, Oct. 28.

Group pictures for the annual, which were started Wednesday, October 27 will continue to be taken through Friday. Students will be excused from classes to have pictures taken, provided they return to class as soon as the picture has been made.

• • •

Saturday, Oct. 30.

District tournament of the Virginia Field Hockey Association will be held on the S. T. C. athletic field, beginning at 2 P. M.

• • •

Cotillion Dance will begin at 8 P. M. in the S. T. C. gym.

• • •

"Pixies" will attend a dance at Camp Pickett; busses leave from in front of the Rotunda at 7 P. M. Frankie Dodson, chairman of the group, urges that anyone who wishes to attend the dance sign up at the bulletin board immediately, since 70 girls is the maximum number who may go.

• • •

There will be no recreational swimming Saturday night because of Cotillion.

Make—

COLLEGE SHOP

Your Headquarters

Excellent Food
Excellent Service

Sophisticated Rat

Continued From Page 2

Saunders who spent a wonderful homecoming week end at Virginia. Lucky people!

What about those freshman parties that were thrown in celebration of the circus? They were really gay.

Hey, what's that? Time to run of to class again? Oh well, it can't last forever. Bye now and see you next week.

Circus

Continued from page 1

The songs (many of which sported new lyrics) of the Juniors, "Where Did Robinson Crusoe Go With Friday On Saturday Night" and "We Ain't Got Nobody" were one of the most clever things in circus. Everything about "Treasure Island", from the lazy bones and the heads with no bodies to the pirates and native girls and from the little pearl to the four-carat diamonds, was wonderful to watch.

The faculty judges, Miss Virginia Wall, Mr. M. Boyd Coyner, and Dr. C. G. G. Moss, must have had a hard time handing out the prizes, for the seniors, like the other classes, had a world of talent displayed in in their stunt, "Deep in a Dream of You." Out of genuine mist where the dreamer lay, stepped various dreamy and nightmarish dancers and singers. Galloway attributes her successful rendition of "I'm a Little Panda Bear" to the fact that she caught the hiccups. How she manages to keep a cronic state of them presents quite a mystery.

When at last the grand finale was ended and Ringmaster "Roady" had stopped humming and hawing, prolonging the suspense, by advertising at length each of the concession booths, the crowd learned that the judges had deemed the junior stunt, "Treasure Island," worthy of first place, with the sophomores' "Mother Goose Goes Wild" running a close second. And so in the midst of congratulations, tears of joy, and tears of disappointment your clown-reporter stole quietly away from the milling Circus throng to write for you this clown's-eye-view account, adding congratulations to Alpha Kappa Gamma for presenting the student body and guests with such fine entertainment and at the same time ennabling A. K. G. to earn its expenses for the year and to maintain its student scholarship fund.

Coach, Manager Name STC Varsity

Names of the girls who will play on the S. T. C. Varsity Hockey Squad were announced yesterday by Miss Olive T. Iler, Associate Professor of Physical Education and hockey coach, and Lee Robertson, varsity hockey manager. The 1948 Varsity Squad will play their first game of the season Saturday afternoon, October 30 in the hockey tournament of this district of the Virginia Field Hockey Association, which will be held on the College athletic field beginning at 2 P. M.

Those who make up the Varsity Hockey Squad are Frances Allen, Marian Beckner, Laura Buchanan Betsy Carper, Anna Famulalte, Nancy Gillie, Betsy Gravely, Carolyn Grimes, Martha Hylton, Jackie Jardine, Rebecca Kelsey, Liz Lesslie, and Ellen Moyar.

Also Betsy Phillips, Jo Ann Phipps, Jessie Pickett, Cab Overbey, Gloria Reid, Jean Ridenour, Patsy Ritter, Lee Robertson, Betty Romeo, Mary Watson, Joyce Webb, Elizabeth Winfree, Margaret Winfree, and Mary Young.

At the hockey tournament of this district of the Virginia Field Hockey Association to be held here this Saturday the S. T. C. Athletic Association will be host college to the three other teams of this district. These teams come from Lynchburg College, Mary Washington College, and the Norfolk Division of the College of William and Mary and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The first game of the tournament will be played at 2 P. M. between Lynchburg College and the Norfolk Division. Following at 2:30 P. M., S. T. C. will meet Mary Washington; and the next game is scheduled at 3:00 P. M. be- S. T. C. at 3:00 P. M. Mary Washington will play Norfolk Division. There will be no admission charge to spectators of the tournament.

After the tournament a selection committee, headed by Miss Elizabeth Burger of the S. T. C. faculty, and composed of coaches from each of the four schools of the district, will select at least 11 hockey players to represent this district at the Virginia State Hockey Tournament to be held at the College of William and Mary on November 5-6. Members of the selection committee are Miss Marjorie Arnold of Mary Washington, Miss Mabel Dudley of Lynchburg College, Miss Jane McMurran of Norfolk Division, and Miss Olive T. Iler of S. T. C.

The S. T. C. Athletic Association will give a tea in the Student Lounge in honor of the visiting teams Saturday after the tournament. At this time the names of the girls selected to play in the state tournament willl be announced. The players will then elect a captain of the district team and decide on their costume color. At the state tournament in Williamsburg, in which the district team will participate, a Virginia team and a Virginia reserve team will be picked to play in the National east Tournament of the National Field Hockey Association in Baltimore, Maryland.

Film—Entire Roll
Printed and Developed
30c
Southside Drugs

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Flowers For All Occasions
BURG

Wilson
Firestone

Schubert Symphony no g in C
Artura Toscanini & the N.B.C. Symphony Orchestra
Boston Symphony Orchestra

Do YOU like Kittens?
Look for NORCROSS Kittens on the cutest cards in town

America's Best-loved Greeting Cards

Patterson Drug Store

Wyatt A. LeGrand
Teacher of Violin
Studio Hours 2 to 5 P. M.
Week Days
104 Main St. Phone
Farmville 569-M

It Always Pays to Buy at

The House of Quality

DAVIDSON'S

Farmville's Largest Dept. Store

GRAYS DRUG STORE
Select your Eaton's
Stationery from Gray's

Cold Weather Ahead
Shop At
J. J. Newberry Co.
For Wanted Needs

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Toni kens

By TONI ALLEN

"What shall I wear to improve the looks of this dress? It's so ordinary!" you lament. Are you one of those girls who find themselves crying that? Well, why not try one of the new shades of colored hose? Regardless of what color you select, you can generally find a harmonizing shade. Bronze Twilight is attractive with neutral tones---taupes, smoky grey or grey-blues. Or perhaps you would prefer Cat's Eye Green to wear with darker greens, amber, tortoise, or rich browns. Joyce Webb has chosen a pair of these to complete a green ensemble.

June Adams likes the navy blue hose to complement the accessories she wears with a grey suit.

One of the most stunning of the new hose colors is Black Sable. This comes in the sheerest of sheer hose, and is beautiful with garnet red, purples, blacks, and Druid Grey. They are really sleek, aren't they, Westbrook? I also noticed Molly Hudson in a pair of Black Sables at the concert here the other night. The color was very chic with her golden toast dress and copper tresses. Smart girl!

I know you will want to buy a pair when you see how smart they look on other girls. See you at the hosiery counter!

I.V.C.F.

Continued from Page 1

The Uttermost," included Miss Anne Childs the regional staff worker, who visited the S. T. C. campus last week end; Dr. Norton Sterrett, secretary of Missions for I. V. C. F. and F. M. F.; and Dr. Robertson, a missionary to India.

'Miss Buckingham' Gives Views of Civic Celebration

Sun, if you ever shine, please shine today! Sure enough my wish came true, for the day was as perfect as any October 21 could be expected to be. The radio was full of news about Civic Day, but of course I was too excited to listen. Clases over, I rushed to my room to dress. Third Annex was like a bee-hive. Roommate and friends helped me put the final touches to my dress and crown; then off I flew to join the big parade as "Miss Buckingham".

During the long wait on Second Avenue, I watched numbers of floats, machinery, fire trucks, and people pass by. Most outstanding of them all were the blue and white colors waving from Mr. Graham's car which Marjorie Miller and the girls had decorated. I also noticed those "good-looking" girls such as Jean Watts, Gris Boxley, Hank Harden and June Banks riding the beautiful float of Leggett's. I must say that some of the floats were the most peculiar looking things I have ever seen—those odd shapes moving by unseen methods.

Finally we started to move. The sun was bright but the icy wind beat about me on all sides. People were everywhere; on the streets looking out of the windows of houses and cars, standing on the tops of cars and trucks. The procession was a long and slow one to Longwood. When our destination was reached, the floats lined up for judging. Pictures were taken and questions were asked the five contestants.

The big moment finally came. Down the hill the queens marched to the judges and speakers platform. The Army and Marine bands played several selections. The Mayor of Farmville gave each queen an introduction. A splendid spirit was shown by the S. T. C. girls in their applause. After a few remarks, the judges gave their decision. It was "Miss Prince Edward" who was then crowned "Miss Sesquicentennial."

That evening, we were guests of the town of Farmville at the Hotel Wyanoke for dinner; Turkey, no less! After dinner, our dates arrived to escort us to the Town Armory for the Coronation Ball. Each queen was given presents after which the figure was danced by the couples.

That night, weak and weary, I crawled into bed to thaw out. The one-hundred and fifieth anniversary of Farmville was a wonderful celebration. I hope everyone enjoyed it as much as I did. My only regret was that STC didn't have a float. Since the parade increases each year, perhaps we can be represented in full colors next year.

Student Teachers

Continued from page 1

ers working in the college. They are Maude Savage teaching shorthand and Wilma Allen teaching advanced shorthand.

23 Fall Rushees Pledge Sororities

Fall rushing was held by the eight sororities on campus last week, and each sorority honored its new pledges with supper parties held in the chapter rooms last Wednesday evening.

Girls pledged to Pi Kappa Sigma were Sue Brewbaker and Pee Peery; to Alpha Sigma Alpha, Louise Taylor and Jackie Moody; to Sigma Sigma Sigma, Laura Lee Stickley and Margaret Ann Shelton; to Theta Sigma Upsilon, Anne Simpson, Anne Foreman, Virginia Spencer, Georgia Bailey, Babe Burnette, Polly Nasser, and Evelyn Farrier; and to Mu Omega, Frances Ferguson.

Also to Gamma Theta, Denise Love and Helen Smith; to Alpha Sigma Tau, Nancy Robertson and Ann Mundy; and to Phi Zeta Sigma, Joanne Sterling, Jean Webb, Betty Romeo, Esther Goffigon and Dot Caldwell.

FTA Chapter

Continued from page 1

zation.

The J. L. Jarman Chapter of the Future Teachers of America is an organization for the promotion of interest in the field of teaching. The purpose of F. T. A. is to extend the professional interest among prospective teachers, to extend the understanding of the activities of the National Education Association, to study the traditions and practices of the teaching profession, and to develop in the members assets which are recognized as desirable in the professional teacher.

Dr. Wynne is sponsor of F. T. A., and the officers for the 1948-49 session are Mary Parham, president; Ann Owins, vice-president; Jacqueline Bobbitt, secretary; Mary Young, treasurer; and Rives Edwards, librarian. The regular meetings of F. T. A. will be held every fourth Tuesday at 7:00 P. M. in Dr. Wynne's classroom.

Miss Gleaves

Continued from Page One

dull moment in being a dean. In fact she has been so busy that she has little time to realize that she is the dean.

Miss Gleaves added, "The cooperation of the students, administration, and faculty has been splendid, and I welcome the opportunity to get to know all the students."

Incidently, Miss Gleaves wants to be called just that, Miss Gleaves.

Corduroy Jackets and Sweaters Just Arrived

VERSER'S

We strive to please

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

MARTIN THE JEWELER

Select your silver at Martins

Aiming To Please
Do It With Ease
Phone 181 Night 4

COLLINS

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

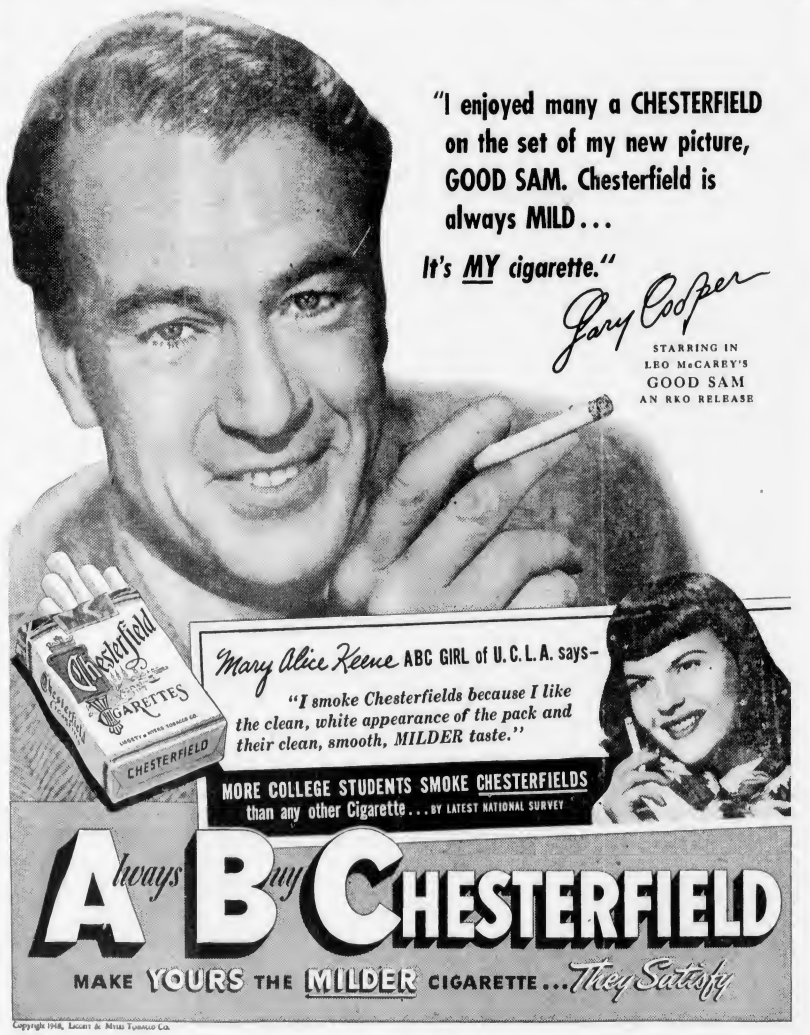
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

WFLO

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

870 on your dial

Pause That Refreshes Is Part of the Party



Coca-Cola
"Coke"

5¢

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Bottling Company

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Attend
Juke Box Dance

The Rotunda

Congratulations
Frosh Officers

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 3, 1948 | No. 5

Seven Districts To Meet Here Sat. For Drama Clinic

Round Table Panel To Discuss Problems

A drama clinic, aimed at providing a full day of technical assistance and production advice to directors, coaches, and sponsors of school and community drama groups, will be held at Farmville State Teachers College Saturday, Nov. 6.

Sponsored jointly by the Virginia Drama Association, the Virginia High School League and the Bureau of School and Community Drama, the clinic is expected to draw representatives from more than fifty schools and community drama groups in this section.

On of six such clinic is to be held that date at locations convenient to very school in the State, the program here is open to everyone interested in dramatics.

Miss Leola Wheeler, director of dramatic at Farmville State Teachers College, will have general supervision of the clinic. The full days program follows:

10-10:30 registration.

10:30-11:30- "Problems of staging with inadequate facilities", talk and demonstration given by Miss Clara Black, of Blackstone College.

11:30 - 12:30- "Setting up the play." - Talk by Mrs. T. B. Gresham, of the "Patchwork Players", Roanoke, and the Salem Community Players.

12:30-Luncheon in the college dining room.

1:30 P. M. Round table discussion and demonstration, led by Miss Wheeler and Jesse Ogden, of the University of Virginia Drama department.

Va. High Schools To Test Aptitudes

The high schools of Virginia, in cooperation with the State Department of Education, are planning to administer to all seniors a scholastic aptitude test, Dean Savage said today.

With this plan high school seniors who apply for admission to State Teachers College are no longer required to take the aptitude test mentioned in the admission requirements if they take the test administered in their school.

'Admirable Crichton's' Cast Amateur But Experienced

By BETTY HOUSE

The talented Hampden-Sydney and S. T. C. thespians who are working on "The Admirable Crichton", though amateurs, are far from being novices. Let's give them the once over and find out just what background they've had in previous "play-acting.

Jathan Stone, a freshman from Roanoke, Va. has had exceptional dramatic background, playing the lead in many of the eight high school plays in which he participated. He was given recognition for his talent through a dramatic scholarship to Northwestern University in Illinois. He has also distinguished himself in the portrayal of Rochester in Bronte's Jane Eyre. "Jake" has ample opportunity to display his dramatic talent in the role of the "Admirable Crichton."

Betty Ferguson, a junior from Prospect, has the female lead in The Admirable Crichton, that of "Lady Mary".She enacted a character role in Farmville High School's Junior Miss, and had the female lead in The Jinx from Alabama which won first place in the Southside Dramatic Tournament at S. T. C. several years ago. During her freshman year at S. T. C., she was given the lead in "The Man Who Came To Dinner", a popular comedy presented by S. T. C. and H. S. C. Dramatic Organization. This performance should prove equally as fascinating for she has proven many times her merit.

Bob Mathews, a freshman from H. S., comes from Washington D. C. where at Central High he received recognition for meritorous work in the field of announcing and as master of ceremonies in the fall fiesta show. Bob proves his mettle as "Brocky" in The Admirable Crichton and believe me, he "tells mother everything."

Ann Rosson, a freshman from Louisa, steals the hearts of all as 'Tweeny", a little cockney maid. She was a member of the National Thespians in High School where he played the part of a kitten in Cinderella of Loreland, Lydia in 'Pride and Prejudice", Kat in 'Are You Mr. Butterworth", a very important maids part in "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court", and Sally in "They Shook The Family Tree".

Arthur Stuart, a sophomore at H.-S., hails from Newport News, Va., where in the Newport News High School he played in "Tomorrow The World", "What a Life", "But Not Goodly" and "Junior Miss". He was author of and had he lead in their Senior class play, Love Me, Love My Dog" being also president of the Thespians group at his high school and tipped the scales when he walked off with two Dramatic Letters. During the summer he apprenticed with the Valley Players in Holyoke,

Continued on Page 4

S. T. C. Students To attend Dance

This Friday, November 5, a group of S. T. C. freshmen and sophomores will attend an informal Y. W. C. A. dance at the University of Virginia. Those going to the dance are to meet in the Dean's Parlor at 6:35 p. m. Busses will leave at 6:45 p. m. to carry them to the dance which is from 9 p. m. until 12 p. m. in the Madison Hall auditorium.

The U. Va. Y. W. C. A. has issued a blanket invitation to S. T. C. freshman and sophomores for the dance which is being given in honor of the new students at the University. Miss Gleaves stated that girls attending this dance must have permission from home.

Dean On Tour Of High Schools

This week, Dean Savage is making a tour of various Virginia high schools for the purpose of talking to prospective STC students.

The schedule of his talks this week is as follows: Monday, Suffolk high school in Suffolk; Woodrow Wilson in Portsmouth; Tuesday, Maury high school in Norfolk; Granby high school in Norfolk. Wednesday, Norview high school in Norfolk county; Cradock high school in Norfolk county. Thursday, Newport News high school in Newport News, Hampton high school in Hampton.

With these talks, Dean Savage hopes to encourage more and more of the Virginia high school seniors to consider enrolling in STC.

Dr. Ruffin Reports On VEA Convention

Representing the Farmville State Teachers College branch of the Virginia Education Association in Richmond were Dr. Ruffin, Dr. Johnson, Mr. Landrum, and Miss Enson.

Members of the faculty who participated in the program were Miss Draper, Mrs. Landrum, and Miss Iler. Other members of the faculty attending were Mr. Myers, Dr. Swerlferger, Dr. Jeffers, Miss Moran, Mrs. Phillips, Miss Sutherlin, Dr. Sutherland, Miss Bedford, Mrs. Lemen, Miss Patterson, Miss Baron, Miss Fussler, and Mrs. Gregg.

Dr. Lancaster, at a luncheon meeting of the Department of Superintendents, spoke on the guidance program for college entrance. He also presented recommendations of the teachers selection committee at the third general session.

Mr. Robert Williams, Executive Secretary of the Virginia Education Association, brought out in his remarks at the first general session that Americans are spending only three billion dollars on the education of their children in contrast to the four billion dollars

Continued on Page 3

State Ed. Board Approves Contract For Science Hall

Final Plans Await Governor's Assent

The State Board of Education on the recommendation of the State Teachers Building Committee has recommended to the governor the awarding of the Science Hall at Farmville State Teachers College to the Mottley Construction Company of Farmville. The contract will be signed by Dr. Lancaster as soon as he receives authorization from the Governor.

The contract calls for an overall cost of $442,000 which includes the main hall and the green house to be connected to the south end of the hall. The long-awaited building will be a handsome addition to the college plant some six to eight months hence. The three-story building will be of brick exterior and constructed in the Colonial style, according to college officials. Its architecture will be in keeping with the other more recent additions to the cluster of school buildings.

With approximate dimensions of 70 by 170-feet, the spacious building will house the biology laboratories, class rooms, and offices on the first floor. The second floor is to be devoted to physics and general science while the chemistry department will take over the third floor.

The building will stand behind the junior-senior building and will face High street.

The local building committee consists of Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, chairman, and Mr. Thomas A. McCorkle, and Mr. Samuel L. Graham.

CommercialClubHop To Be Staged In Rec Saturday, Nov. 6

A juke box dance sponsored by the Commercial Club will be held Saturday, November 6, from 8 to 12 P. M. in the "Rec."

It is an informal (skirts, sweaters, saddles, etc.) girl-break dance open to all members of the student body. The admission is tencents per person—stag or drag.

The dance committee consists of Harriet Butterworth, Janice Slavin, and Helen Holbrook. Mrs. Wynne and Mr. Landrum will act as chaperones.

Beore Eh Thorn Bids 11 To Membership

Last night, November 2, 11 S. T. C. students who have "shown outstanding ability in the field of literature and creative writing, received invitations to join Beorc Eh Thorn, local honorary English society.

Those who received bids are Love Bentley, Melbaie Booth, Adelaide Coble, Dorothy Anne Freeman, and Betty Pell Jordon.

Also Elsie McAllister, Elaine Owen, Ada Robbet, Beverly Smethie, Regina Smith, and Anne Tucker.

These girls will be initiated into Beorc Eh Thorn at the November 18 meeting. The purpose of Beore Eh Thorn is to further interest in literature and creative writing on this campus. Each year the organization brings to S. T. C. at least one literary lecturer.

Assembly

Thursday, November 4, the seniors of '49 will march into the assembly in cap and gown for the first time. The program for this special occasion will feature a talk, "Can the Twain Meet?" by Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel, Associate Professor of History. Mr. Ralph Wakefield, Instructor of Music, will be special soloist.

Freshman Class Elects Jardine, Tyree, Miller, Jackson As Officers

Will Name Classman, Government Later

Jackie Jardine of Farmville, Va. was elected president of the class of 1952 at freshman elections begun at the regular class meeting last night. The freshmen chose Maria Jackson of Lexington, vice-president; Phyllis Tyree of Hampton, secretary; and Marty Miller of Front Royal, treasurer.

Jackie, only recently a resident of Farmville, came originally from County Surrey, England, but has lived for a number of years in Baltimore. A graduate of the class of '43 from Eastern high school in Baltimore, Jackie played hockey on her high school varsity team, she sang in the choral club, was twice in the cast of the class play, served as class treasurer her freshman year, and was a member of the Y. W. C. A. Girl Reserves.

For two years during the war Jackie served in the British Womens Royal Naval Service. Also during the interim between high school and college she attended the Bard-Avon Secretarial School in Baltimore, worked as a library assistant in the Enoch Pratt Free Library of Baltimore, studied art in the night school of the Maryland Institute, and was head of the shipping department of a Baltimore export-import company.

Coincidentally, Maria Jackson, freshman vice-president, is also a graduate of Eastern high school in Baltimore. While in high school Maria had roles in two class plays and was a member of the Dramatic Club. She sang in the all-girl Junior Choir of the Peabody Concervatory of Music and was on the Maryland Youth Council for World Relief, an organization of the Episcopal church of Maryland.

Freshman secretary, Phyllis Tyree graduated from Hampton high school last year. Phyllis was president of the Hampton chapter of National Thespians, a member of the Garrick Dramatics Club, and secretary of the Student Cooperative Association, a member of the

Continued on page 4

Parry Emcees Show In STC Snack Bar

New WSVS Program Stars Collegiates

Ed Parry emcees the latest S. T. C. radio show now being produced weekly over station W.S.V.S. This new program consists of talent from S.T.C. and Hampden-Sydney as well as an hour program of recorded music for dancing prior to the half-hour broadcast.

On the air from 3:00 to 3:30 p. m. each Tuesday and Thursday, the program is designed to bring the talent, such as that used for the various productions and "sings", before the public.

The first program was produced yesterday in the Rec and presented talent from S. T. C. "Rabbit" expressed a desire that everyone

Continued on page 4

Government Class To Dramatize Bill

Over this week's regular S. T. C. radio program, to be heard tomorrow on WFLO at 4:30 P. M. members of Dr. C. G. Moss's Government X331 class will briefly dramatize the passage of a legislative bill through the Judiciary committee of the House of Representatives.

Frances Ferguson will introduce the proposed bill, a constitutional amendment that the national electoral college be abolished, with the president of the United States being elected solely by popular vote. Arguments of committee members and experts will be presented by Helen Hardin, Katie Bondurant, Ruth Eggleston, Jacky Eagle, and Joe Morgan. Dr. Moss will act as committee chairman.

Student announcer for the program will be Betty Ferguson.

Ghostly Figures In Curlers, 'Goo' Gather On Sidewalk At Midnight

"It was the night before Friday,
And through S. T. C.,
Not a creature was stirring—
At least, not me.
The lights were out (or hidden with care)
In fear that a House Council member was there.
But in the still of the night,
We heard the alarm—
Out of bed we all leaped
With no time to yawn—
The rest of the story I'm sure you all know,
For this is the way our fire drills go."

Yes, at the stroke of midnight the alarm sounded through the peaceful halls of S. T. C., and within the moment the halls were no longer peaceful. The quick-awakeners were out of the building like a flash. Straggering behind were those sleepy ones who just couldn't get their eyes open. It is better to be late than not it all, but this is no time to rely on a proverb!

Pandemonium was the order of the day as the girls filed out of S. T. C.'s doors. Girls (or reasonable facsimiles thereof —it's hard to tell with all the scarfs and other disguises) were dashing back and forth in their rooms gathering all the equipment needed in the crisis —a book (to show presence of mind—if you have a mind on short notice and at such an hour of the night, a towel, and a coat to keep you warm while standing out in no-man's land waiting to get back into cosy beds (well, they were cosy when we left.) The crisp night air was so refreshing that it didn't take long for us to wake up and be grateful to those who made our "midnight outing" possible. (Huh? Who said anything about waking up?)

Of course, the freshmen who had not been fortunate enough to experience one of our fire drills were quite excited wondering what would happen next and if there really were a fire. Just wait 'till they write home about this! They might not write about the fire at S. T. C. but no doubt they could relate the odd feeling of standing out on the street with pajamas, curlers and cold cream decorating the scene while curious 'night riders" drive by and stare. (Only one question—What will the ones who slept through it write about?)

Continued on Page 4

Visitor to STC Language Tables Leaves Confused

By Janice Slavin

Have you ever been a guest at one of the language tables in the dining hall; namely the Spanish and French tables? It's a little confusing especially if you have never had a foreign language. You may ask for bread and have a pepper shaker thrown at you. One never knows, do' one?

We know of a character who skipped madly into the dining hall (late as usual) only to find her table closed. The poor unsuspecting character, who wasn't very bright anyway, plopped down at the Spanish table. A very unintelligent (to her) conversation was in progress. The character looked around in awe. "What it is? What it is?" she kept asking herself.

Finally, one of the demon-looked at the character and replied, 'La de da, la de da, etc."

The character sat spell bound wondering still if this conversation was possibly being addressed to her. When the demon noticed the blank expression on the character's face, she thought that she had a dumbbell on her hands and repeated the same sentence very slowly, " La de da, la de da, etc."

The character still spellbound and mouth wide open, managed to blurt out, "I don't dig ya, Jackson!"

Another very rude demon screamed in English, "Ah, pass the potato salad!"

The character very meekly passed the potato salad and sat like a frightened rabbit wondering if the ensuing conversation concerned her ever present stupidity. She ate very little because she hadn't the nerve to ask for anything in English. The only thought in her head was to get away from there and fast! She nibbled a few bites of potato salad and looked goo-goo eyed around at everybody to see if anyone was watching her. They were! "The escape must come soon," she thought. The character looked around to see if she could find a vacancy at another table. She did.

A mad dash was made away from the Spanish table without even saying, "Adios!"

"Whew, never again!" wailed the character.

This same character found herself a guest at the French table one day Incidently, the only word in French that she understood was "oui." Of course, one could

Continued on Page 4

Let's Have More 'Dorm' Parties

What's lacking in our S. T. C. dorm life? Food? "Mother"? The conveniences of home? Yes, our dorms are found lacking to some degree in each of these respects, but surely no more than one would expect in a college.

However, there's one thing we're missing in our dorms here that we can feasably do something about. The missing quantity to which we refer is social life among the girls as a group. Too often we, especially upperclassmen, get so caught up the whirlpool of studies and extracurricular work, that we scarcely have time to know who our classmates are, much less strike up an acquaintance with them. What few minutes we can devote to just "visiting" are spent with an intimate clique of friends, and here, as we see it, one of the main purposes of college life is defeated. One of the most broadening elements to be found at any college is widening the circle of acquaintances, finding out how others live, and think, and feel.

Last Friday night, the juniors, feeling this need of group recreation, held a Halloween party in the senior rec. Neither food, decorations, nor entertainment was elaborate; yet nearly every member of the class was there enjoying herself, an effect that class meetings fail to produce. It can be safely said that the group's morale was considerably boosted, and what group is better than its morale, or "spirit" as it is called here.

Naturally not all class treasuries would warrant throwing many parties, but we've heard it straight from many of the girls themselves, that they would be only too glad to chip in for an occasional simple party. So we say, here's to more dorm parties and a happier group of students.

The Y Offers An Opportunity

Very soon now the Y.W.C.A. will be holding its annual Freshman installation, whereby each new girl is made a member of the S. T. C. organization of the national "Y". This installation should not only be for the new girls but for all students. It should serve as a reminder to each student that she is a member of the organization and as such should take an active interest in the affairs of the "Y", for any organization with the purpose of serving its members deserves the utmost in cooperation from them.

The purpose of the Y.W.C.A. reads in part: "We unite in the desire to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God." The aim of the "Y" in college is the development of a Christian character in its members, the promotion of the spirit of friendliness among all the students of the college, and the training of leaders for future service.

The Y.W.C.A. offers an opportunity to each and every one of us to "fill the measure of life to the brim". Numerous committees of the Association are engaged in useful work on the Campus at all times. Every talent can be used in some branch of the "Y", and it is hoped that every new student will choose a committee on which to serve, and that every old student will renew her pledge to give her best efforts to the work of the "Y". Don't be a dud—give active support to one of our most important organizations.

A Y.M.C.A. has not been organized yet for our men, but until one is set up on the campus the Y.W.C.A. issues a cordial welcome to the men to take part in all its activities. The study groups will benefit by your participation, men, and we sincerely hope you will participate in the "Y.W." program until you can set up your own organization.

THE ROTUNDA
Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Lou Shelor, Elsie Love Bentley

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin,
Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Betty Ferguson

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Ann Lynch

Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Patsy Graveley

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager

Business Assistants
Virginia Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton,
Anne Verser, Connie Heather

Gladys Monk ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Carol Stoops, Edna Earle Waters, Ruth Radogna
Anne Simpson

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1948

jots & tittles

There are a lot of little odds 'n' ends for us to chew the rag with you about this week, so while we wait for the election results, let's gab.

Good news! Mrs. Watkins is coming back to her office next week after her illness. It will be grand to see back.

Shame on you, freshmen who took part in the feather shower on the rotunda Sunday night. Childish tricks are bad enough for college students to play, but expensive, destructive ones are worse. Next time you feel inclined to "have some fun" why don't you just go short-sheet somebody. Pillows cost money; throw 'em, but don't blow 'em!

Congratulations of the first quality are in order to the new officers of the freshman class. We think the freshmen did a grand job of selecting leaders who will make the class one of the finest.

By the way, how would you like to see "Puddin' 'n Sauce" back again? A lot of people have asked why it no longer appears in this space. We're just egotistical enough to think maybe the inquiries mean you'd like to have it the Rotunda again. The writer is an extremely lazy person who writes only under pressure, but if enough people express a desire to have the column maybe the editor can persuade her to dust off her typewriter and get too slaving again. If you want "Puddin' 'n Sauce" back tell Betty some time this week and she'll try to get the old chef to stir up a batch for next Wednesday.

"Y" Lines

What are Union Vesper Services? No doubt this question has been in the minds of many of our students, particularly the new ones, and therefore I would like to add a few points of clarification.

About four times during the school year, the "Y" sponsors a service in which all denominations combine their talents and ideas for a joint meeting. The churches are arranged alphabetically and services are held in the different churches as such. The service usually takes the place of the regular church meeting or the church meeting on the Sunday night designated. However, sometimes it is held from seven until eight. All students are urged to attend these meetings and to take part on the program.

The time and plan of the next service will be posted at a later date.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,

Several of us wanted to write just a short note in appreciation of the delicious birthday banquet which we had last week. We think that it was a lovely thing for Miss G'eaves to plan and for the dining room staff to carry out. Here's hoping that we will soon be able to have one every month. In the meantime this was grand and and we say, "Thanks a million."

Some Juniors

CHATTER BOX

"What a week end!!!"

"I've never heard of so many parties!"

"There were quite a few belles of the ball at Cotillion, several sporting orchids. "Dingle" did them one better with two beautiful white ones—straight from Hawaii at that!"

"Guess! And then the "Pixies" were on the ball too. Cab and Jane Callahan were really impressed with "youse guys". And Julia and Westbrook were right there."

"And have you talked to the gals that went to Roanoke? Holbrook and Betty House thought that was a gay party."

"And of course there were the wheels who drove up to the Princeton-Virginia game, Marge and Gris."

And did you see Gris' diamond? It's a beaut and congratulations are definitely in order.

And then last but not least, "Shang" and Compt, Katie and Carpester, Ratch and Jake, Galloway and Sam (what was that boy's last name?) and Suzie and Lemon foresaw the prospects of a party at Prospect, and instead of planning, partied. And what a party."

Of course as usual, someone got pinned—Never a week end passes. This time the lucky gal was Vonnie Burch!

"NOTICE. Don't ignore! Important! In other words, catch this: From now on we want all the glad news and it's up to you, because the Chatterbox is YOU. If you scoop the poop, let us know before eight o'clock Sunday night. Drop news for the Chatterbox in the Colonade box 'round near the bulletin board. No secrets now . . . What do ya say?"

Sophisticated Rat

Hang on to your hats, kids! You'll be needing them around for the next month or two so whether you're gay, grouchy, or indifferent, better sport the snappy blue and white caps from the first blush of morning 'til the close of day—you know, the Sophomores don't want you to catch pneumonia. As to just how long those sharp little numbers will have to be worn, it is up to you. If you back up the Freshman hockey team to the fullest and if you win the big game from the Sophomores on color day, then off come the fezzes before Thanksgiving. Of course, there are if's in that statement, but who is one to quibble?

Those special classes for Freshmen that started Monday are really going to be invaluable to

Continued on Page 3

Let's Go To The Juke Box Dance

Gallop Pole

"Why do you think the morbid philosophy, "Life is a trap" is so prevalent at S. T. C. nowadays?"

Pat Tuggle: Because of the long shorthand assignments.

Jean Oliver: People have to have some expression to use. That just fits the environment up here, no doubt. I can't agree, or can I? Marian Avedikian: 'Cause "I ain't got nobody."

Louise Temple: Because you can't do that.

Annette Jones: 'Cause everything I do catches up with me.

Ann Nock: 'Cause I can't escape; I've tried!

Nellie Hart: Because I'm majoring in French.

Bonnie Gerrells: Because of the starchy food that is quite fattening.

Harold T. Griffin: Because of the continuous, never-ending cycle of classes and homework.

Jean Hobbs: I think it explains itself. Ask Janice Slavin.

Ann Foreman: 'Cause I have to do what I don't want to do when I want to. Confusing, ain't it? Shore' 'nuf is a trap!

Mary Davis: For lack of a better expression.

"Deanie" Famulatte: It may be a trap, but it hasn't caught anything for me yet!

Hattie Swihart: If it's a trap I'd like to be caught in it in New York. Whoop!

Gene Garst: Because you have to do "this" when you want to do "that"!

Jo Johnson: Because of the 'miss" interpretation of "class."

Lucy Ann Edmonds: Sure it is. Nobody ever comes out of it alive. Do they?

Peggy White: Cause it is. There's no way out.

Nancy Lee Maddox: I can't think of anything more appropriate. It is the biggest trap I've ever seen--right now, that is.

Suzie Bowie: 'Cuz it is. Is that clear?

Betty Sekeres: Frustration!

Cecil Yeatts: It isn't as bad as we think.

Ann Nichols: Although I'm trying, I ain't got what I want yet.

Gladys Savedge: Where's a dictionary?

Louise Turner: 'Cause doggone, you get trapped when you come to this joint.

Jane Gray: S. T. C. makes your life a trap.

Louise Redd: 'Cause you can't get out of it.

Jane Hunt Ghiselin: I like being caught in it.

Learning Languages Means Rebirth Into New Cultures

By DALILA AGOSTINI

Learning a foreign language is like going into a new world to conquer new realms - those cultural and intellectural realms which sometimes seem to us unconquerable and impossible to attain. Learning a language means to be born again in that culture that one is trying to absorb through its spoken and written form.

In my first stages of English learning I went through a rebirth process. The first words I learned to say were those that would have been taught to an infant in an English speaking country. Drills of all kinds were an essential part of that early learning process, and there came a time when words would come more or less in a natural way. The language learning process reaches its climax when the person with a fairly acceptable fluency, can make himself understood, and at the same time understand what he is told.

I reached that stage when I was ready to enter college. Being especially attracted by some phases of the North American culture, the idea of coming to the United States became one of my dreams. The dream became reality, and I found myself living that language that I had been trying to learn for a long time. The experiences were varied in all aspects - - getting adjusted to new people and places was one of them. Following directions in the wrong way was another, and trying to make people understand the psychology of your race was another.

Things like going to a show, and not being able to catch important remarks were discouraging. Being misunderstood was three times more discouraging, and I sall always remember the incident that induced me to make a pledge of checking my grammar, vocabulary, and tenses before going to any place where I had to be especially understood. I needed to cash a check, and near by, I went in and asked an employee if he would kindly cash my check. I do not remember what I said or how I said it, but I must have said it in a rather peculiar manner, because the man turned around, and pointing to one of the janitors said, "Young lady, go and see the president. He is the one over there."

Continued from Page 2

Learning Languages

Continued on Page 3

Another of my troubles was getting straight the difference between "How is she?" and "What is she like?", since in Spanish "What is she like?" would be expressed in the literal translation of "How is she?". Constantly the girls would ask me, "Do you know Miss so and so?", and I would reply, "No, how is she?".

After being for two years in the United States I have had the chance to improve on those mistakes and many others. I still have not attained that degree of perfection I have strived for, and I sometimes wonder if I ever will. But the hope that I will attain keeps me with the desire of experiencing more and more in a foreign language.

Sophisticated Rat

Continued from Page 2

everyone of you. There are few persons better qualified to teach the groups than Miss Gleaves and Miss Eason.

What about all of those people who left old STC this past week end to attend dances at VPI and VMI? The gals who went to VPI are Midge Woods, Connie Rice, Cathy Bunch, and Donna Staples while VMI opened their doors to Frances Turner, Nancy Hounshell, Lucyle Humphries, Lucy Willis Thornhill, and Chassee Sykes. Why not ask them how they do it?

One more step in becoming a real Freshman was taken last week when the Honor Code was signed. This ceremony and signature meant far more than merely a good look at the student government. Don't ever forget it because the Honor System, along with other things makes STC what it is.

By APPOINTMENT to Your Royal Table in YOUR FREE AMERICAN HOME

Princess Pet

ICE CREAM

Made to a Queen's Taste!

For luncheons, dinners, parties ...wherever you entertain.. Princess Pet is always a symbol of regal hospitality. Why, with Princess Pet Ice Cream, for dessert, the simplest meal or friendly gathering becomes a gala occasion! Yes, Princess Pet is made to a Queen's taste!

This new, de luxe Ice Cream is made only of daily fresh whole milk, daily fresh sweet cream and delicate natural flavorings. It's for those who want the very finest!

So, next time, for a royal treat ...whether you prefer Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry, Buttered Pecan, or the flavor of the month -- Black Walnut -- ask for the new, de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality. Ask for Princess Pet -- the finest Ice Cream you can buy!

TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

Make—

COLLEGE SHOP

Your Headquarters

Excellent Food
Excellent Service

Film—Entire Roll

Printed and Developed

30c

Southside Drugs

THE BULLETIN BOARD

All Dramatic Club members please pay your Dramatic Club Dues to Ruth Eggleston before the November 12, dead-line.

* * * *

Unless some of S. T. C.s Lady Robin Hoods get busy there will not be an Archery Tournament. Come one and all and try your luck so your class will earn points for the Color Cup.

* * * *

Varsity Hockey practices will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoon at 4:45. All Varsity Squad members be sure to attend your practices.

Dinner in the Dining Hall will be served at 5:45 P. M. Thursday and Friday evenings November 4, and 5, instead of the usual hour, 6 P. M. This is being done Thursday to enable the Dining Hall staff to serve the Ruritan banquet to be held here at 7:30 P. M.; dinner will be early Friday so that the girls attending the U. Va. dance may leave by 6.45.

* * * *

How about helping this reporter with the Bulletin Board cause it will soon cease to exi-t if it doesn't get any notices from the Organizations of the College. This is your Bulletin Board, so turn those notices in pronto.

Athletic Association Notes

Have you signed up for the archery tournament? You do not have to have eight practices to be eligible to enter. Points will be given toward that hard sought color cup; therefore, don't let your class down just because you didn't sign up.

This tournament will be held November 19, just before color rush. Keep this date in mind and come on out and do your best.

Two S. T. C. students, Frances Allen and "B" Hylton have been selected to attend the swimming meet at the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg to be held tomorrow, November 4. Frances will represent the H2O Club and "B" will be the Athletic Association representative.

The purpose of this meet is to teach the girls the correct procedure of officiating at swimming meets.

Language Tables

Continued from page 1

carry on a very intellegent conversation with this one word—yes, yes. The character throught she would try anyway. One of the girls asked the character several questions in English. The character would always reply, "oui."

The girl then asked, "Can't you ever say, no?"

The character still replied "oui!" This, of course, was a correct statement if you get what is meant. Who said life's a trap? You CAN win! !

VEA Report

Continued from page 1

for tobacco and eight billion dollars on liquors. He also brought out that the average teacher's salary in Virginia at this time is $1,994.

The official delegates from S. T. C. made their reports at the faculty meeting today.

Mary Muffet LIMITEDS

Few-of-a-kind Originals

Advertised in Mademoiselle

Left to Right:
Crepe $17.95
Tissue Faille $25.00
Tissue Faille $22.95

Trim young sophisticates, these... all sparkling with newness and neatness for holiday fun. They'll take you places and bring you back ... always at your very smartest, calmly assured that you'll be in the MOST attentive company. Mary Muffets are exclusively ours, of course.

Baldwin's

BOWEN

Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Flowers For All Occasions

BURG

Wilson . Firestone

Schubert Symphony no g in C

Artura Toscanini & the N.B.C. Symphony Orchestra

Boston Symphony Orchestra

GRAYS DRUG STORE

Select your Eaton's Stationery from Gray's

Committee Chooses 5 From STC To Play On District Team

Last Saturday afternoon the S. T. C. Athletic Association played host to three other Hockey Teams, these teams were: Lynchburg College, Lynchburg; Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg; Norfolk Division of William and Mary and V. P. I., Norfolk. The purpose of this Hockey Tournament was to select players from these teams to represent this District in the State Hockey Tournament which is being held at William and Mary College in Williamsburg, on November 5th and 6th.

The first game began at 2:00 with Norfolk Divion playing Lynchburg College. After playing 15 minutes halves, there was a ten minute rest interval then the next two teams played, which were Farmville and Lynchburg College. At the end of this half these two teams rested then Farmville played Mary Washington College. Following the Farmville-Mary Washington game, Norfolk Division played Mary Washington. Farmville then played Norfolk Division for a half, then following this game Mary Washington played Norfolk Division. Thus each team had played three halves.

Immediately after the last game the teams were served tea in the Y Lounge where the selection Committee, headed by Miss Elizabeth Burger, of the S. T. C. faculty and composed of the coaches of each of the four schools represented announced the names of the players selected to represent this District in the State Hockey Tournament. The members of this committee are Miss Margery Arnold, of Mary Washington College, Miss Mabel Dudley of Lynchburg College, Miss Jane McMurran of Norfolk Division, and Miss Fannie G. Grenshaw, the official who umpired the games. Farmville placed five players on the team to represent this District in the State Hockey Tournament. They are Frances Allen, Anna Famulatte, Jo Ann Phipps, Betty Romeo, and Mary Young. These girls will go to Williamsburg on Friday and play in the State Tournament.

Other Farmville players who played in the Saturday Tournament were Frances Allen, Captain of the Varsity Team; Anna Famulatte, Betsy Gravely, Martha Hylton, Rebecca Kelsey, Liz Leslie, Ellen Moyar, Betsy Phillips, Jo Ann Phipps, Jessie Pickett, Gloria Reid, Jean Ridenour, Patsy Ritter, Lee Robertson, Betty Romeo, Mary Watson, Joyce Webb, and Mary Young.

Charge Account Arranged To All Organizations

J. J. Newberry Co.
For Wanted Needs

Visit us for good food and good music

THE SNACK BAR

"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Reach For Justrite Bread Sold By

C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to

ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Toni kens

By Toni Allen

I have "found" something which may help you girls who insist on making your early morning appearence in curlers.

My "find" of the season is the new ribbon curler, which comes in gay colors to match or contrast your housecoat or playsuit.

Now could you ask for anything better than a curler you can wear to breakfast or an early morning class? Or all day, for that matter, before an important date or date with your O. A. O.?

Instead of having to go to bed with a wet head and the cheerful prospect of a cold in the morning, you just dampen the little cotton pad in the ribbon. In the process of evaporation, your hair is dampened just enough for a soft, feminine curl.

Don't crowd the counter, girls, there will be plenty for everyone!

Ghostly Figures

Continued from page 1

The second alarm to be heard is much sweeter music to our ears than the first, for it means all is safe and sound, and we can drift back to dreamland until the morning sun beckons us to rise and shine. Unless there happens to be more than one fire drill a night—it has been known to happen!)

One night's excitement was over, but never fear—there will be other nights and other fire drills (and it may even be colder, if that's possible, outside then)—the saying goes "you ain't seen nothing yet!"

Pi Kappa Sigmas To Meet Here Sat.

[illegible] Norfolk, Virginia, delegates [illegible] District III of [illegible] will meet [illegible] the Alpha Epsilon [illegible]ness. Registration [illegible]dson and [illegible]e and [illegible]s in this [illegible] Rothellen [illegible] happ[illegible] Saturday morning [illegible] to the delegates [illegible] dinner room.

[illegible] president of District [illegible] unable to attend the meeting, Mrs. Terrell, president of Delta [illegible] H, will preside in her stead.

Sorority Averages Announced At Tea

At the Pan-Hellenic tea held last week Miss Ruth Gleaves, Dean of Women, announced Theta Sigma Upsilon sorority as the winner of the scholarship plaque presented annually by the local Pan-Hellenic Council to the sorority having the highest scholarship average among its members for the preceding year.

This is the second consecutive year that Theta Sigma Upsilon, whose most recent record is 1.86, has held the plaque. Gamma Theta follows Theta Sigma Upsilon, in scholarship rating with an average of 1.75, and Alpha Sigma Tau runs third with 1.68.

The other sorority averages are Pi Kappa Sigma, 1.67; Alpha Sigma Alpha, 1.67; Phi Zeta Sigma, 1.63; Mu Omega, 1.48; and Sigma Sigma Sigma, 1.43.

In the scholarship grading system used here, "A" is equivalent to 3 points, "B" equals 2 points, and "C", 1 point.

Frosh Election

Continued from page 1

vertising staff of the school annual, The Crabber, and the Social Guidance Committee.

Marty Miller, treasurer for the frosh, is a '48 graduate of Warren County high school in Front Royal. Social editor of the school newspaper, Wa-Co-Highlights, Marty also belonged to the Latin Club, Glee Club, Chemistry Club, and Pep Club. She played clarinet and was a majorette in the high school band. Additional high school activities in which Marty participated were the Bowling League, Cotillion Club, and library work.

At a meeting to be called in the near future the freshman class will elect their faculty class man, two student government representatives and two representatives to the Student Standards Committee, according to the statement of Jackie Jardine.

Snack Bar Show

Continued from page 1

come down and join in the program to make it worthwhile and "go over in a big way." He said, "The program went over swell! Everybody co-operated in putting on in spite of the lack of publicity beforehand. We'll be looking for a big crowd next time. Watch the Bulletin board for a sheet to sign up for a place on the program—we want talent and people to take part on the quizzes. The Hampden-Sydney students are included in this, so pass the word around to them about joining in the fun."

Peggy White, June Banks, Page Burnette, Jean Watts, and Molly Hudson lent their talents to the first program in the new W.S.V.S. series.

Dramatic Club

Continued from Page One

Mass.

We all know of his successful portrayals of Eric in "Death Takes A Holiday" and Sir Anthony in Sheridan's "The Rivals. Arthur is president of H.-S. Jongleurs and has also done work on the radio through the experiences attained at the WGH workshop in Newport News.

Arthur shows his talent again in his portrayal of Lord Loam, the eccentric head of the Loam House in London.

Shirley Elmquist, a freshman from Hampton, is more or less novice in the acting line although very active in dramatic work in High School. Shirley plays the part of Catherine, a sister who is, well, really just too tired to tell us about it.

Frances Franklin a freshman from Norfolk, is the other sister, Agatha, and is equally as tired. Frances has shown unusual talent as Little Red Riding Hood in the "Maury Merry Minstrel", a witch in "Macbeth" and has also played childrens parts in various other performances.

Dan E. Bray from Richmond participated in many and varied high school performances at Thomas Jefferson High. He also took part in the entertainment given at McGuire Hospital and has done some radio broadcasting of late.

We remember him as the doctor in "The Man Who Came To Dinner" as Gremio in "Taming The Shrew" and as the romantic old baron in "Death Takes A Holiday". Anyone who has followed Danny in his many escapades throughout numerous productions will know that he can always be counted on for a laugh even though shipwrecked on a Pacific Island.

Joe Ressel, a freshman from St. Louis Missouri, attended Kirtwood High where he played Larry in "Goodnight Ladies", Charlie in "Charlie's Aunt" and participated in the show, "Senior Farewell". Joe officiates as the minister and is always around "Just in case" for in "The Admirable Crichton", anything can happen and does.

Frances Ferguson, a junior from Prospect and sister of Betty Ferguson, has always wanted to take the part of Betty's Mother. Now she has the chance for as Lady Brocklehurst she is Betty's mother in law to be and all I need say is look out Lady Mary. Mother is at it again. Frances has been prominent in dramatics in High School and played the female lead in "Jane Eyre". When she previously attended Farmville, she was the supporting cast of "A Kiss For Cinderella" and "The Male Animal". Frances, better known as "Shang" won a scholarship and apprenticed at the Priscilla Beach Theater. In "The Admirable Crichton" she certainly keeps well informed.

Bill Sites, a veteran from Martinsburg, Va., plays the part of the naval officer. He had the male lead in "Sweet Sixteen" a High School play, and in several plays at Mercerberg Academy in Pennsylvania and played the part of "Yank" in "The Hasty Heart" while in the army.

Geraldine Karback, a freshman from Norfolk, plays the part of a highly indignant maid named Fisher, but we know that even Fisher gets around, eh, "Brocky".

It's Knitting Time!

Knit Those Christmas Gifts Now and Save Money. We Have a Complete Line of Redheart Wool and Knitting Books

The Hub

Farmville, Va.

Corduroy Jackets and Sweaters Just Arrived

VERSER'S

We strive to please

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

By Cathy Shoes for Solid Comfort Black Suede Just

5.95

Dorothy May

SURPLUS

Portable Miscroscopes

We offer a limited quantity of surplus portable microscopes for sale. These are all new, in original cartons and are offered at a fraction of original cost.

Specifications: Overall height 8 inches, turret with three different powers. Will accept auxiliary eye-piece for higher powers desired. Fully adjustable on tiltback base. Optical system: pitch-polished lenses.

These portable microscopes are offered subject to prior sale on the following terms: Price $9.00, includes shipping and packing charges. Check or money order should be sent with your order or $2.50 deposit, the microscope to be sent C.O.D. for balance. Any check received after quantity has been sold will be returned promptly.

Gibson Page Co., Inc.

Dealers in War Surplus

BOX 1130, ROCHESTER, 2, N. Y.

MARTIN THE JEWELER

Select your silver at Martins

Aiming To Please

Do It With Ease

Phone 181 Night 4

COLLINS

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods

DuPont Paints

General Electric

Radios and Appliances

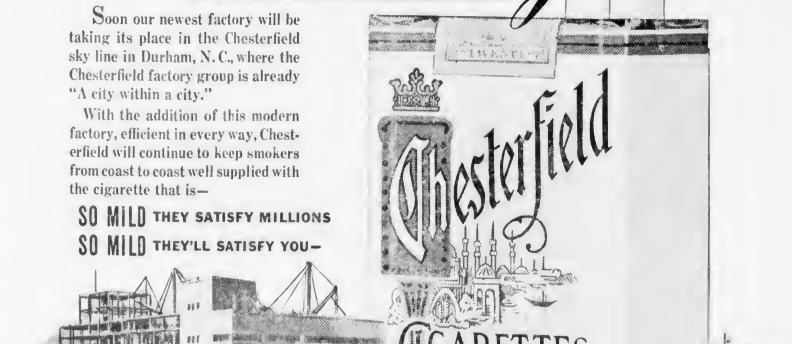
WFLO

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

870 on your dial

CHESTERFIELD IS BUILDING ANOTHER FACTORY

BECAUSE ALL OVER AMERICA MORE MILLIONS OF SMOKERS ARE ASKING FOR



The Milder Cigarette

Soon our newest factory will be taking its place in the Chesterfield sky line in Durham, N. C., where the Chesterfield factory group is already "A city within a city."

With the addition of this modern factory, efficient in every way, Chesterfield will continue to keep smokers from coast to coast well supplied with the cigarette that is—

SO MILD THEY SATISFY MILLIONS

SO MILD THEY'LL SATISFY YOU—

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE ... They Satisfy

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations Colonnade Winners

The Rotunda

Congratulations Who's Who

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 10, 1948 | No. 7

"Recess in the Rec"

June Banks and Page Burnett play for the WSVS "Recess Show."

Dr. Lancaster opens the first broadcast from the Rec.

Parry Announces Plans For Show

"Recess in the Rec," WSVS radio show heard from the S. T. C. main 'rec" every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 3 p. m., will be given as usual tomorrow, but it will not be broadcast over the air. This has been necessitated by a shift in the WSVS schedule, due to the Saturday broadcast of the Hampden-Sydney Homecoming football game.

However, emcee Eddie Parry states that the show will go on with the regular prizes being given to participants and the recorded music following the show. All S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney students are invited to come down to the rec' and take part in the show every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 3 p. m., Parry said.

June Banks and Page Burnette, who are in charge of entertainment , request that anyone who would like to appear on "Recess in the Rec" please contact them. June can be found at room 21, Cunningham, and Page at the Town Girls Room on second floor Rotunda; or a notice may be left them on the main bulletin board.

WSSF Appoints Owen Chairman

Ann Owen has accepted the chairmanship of the World Student Service Fund Campaign Committee on this campus, it was announced Nov. 1 by the WSSF Advisory Committee.

The Campaign Committee, which plans to hold the annual WSSF drive from Nov. 29 to Dec. 4, hopes to raise $700 for student relief in war-devastated nations. Ann Owen said. Campaign plans include canvassing of students, faculty and adminstration, and organizations for funds.

"We appeal to all students who are concerned with the needs of their fellow-students oversease to support us in this drive," Ann declared. She stressed the need for volunteer workers to do office work, and serve as canvassers during the campaign. Applicants for campaign jobs were requested to see any member of the campaign Committee.

Other members of the WSSF Campaign Committee appointed by the chairman are Lelia Mae Ferrell, Anne Vcrscr, Betsy Gravely, Barbara Grizzard, Dot Wood and Ruth Tillett.

STC-H-S Thespians To Present Excerpts Over WFLO Nov. 11

The S. T. C. Dramatic Club together with the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs will present excerpts from their forthcoming play, "The Amirable Crichton" over WFLO on Thursday afternoon at 4:30.

Members from the cast to appear in the skit are; Arthur Stuart as Lord Loam, Dan E. Bray as Ernest, Betty Ferguson, as Lady Mary, Jothan Stone as Crichton, Frances Ferguson as as Lady Mary, Jathan Stone as Lady Brocklehurst, and Bob Matthews as Lord Brocklehurst. Betty House will act as narrator and announcer.

In observance of Education Week, which begins November seventh, the library has arranged a display of pamphlets and other material dealing with Unesco, the United Nations Education Science and Culture Organization .

Jackson, Davis, Callahan Win Story Contest

Judges Praise Other Entries

First prize winner of the annual Colonnade Short Story Contest is Maria Jackson, freshman from Lexington. Her story "Me'n the Elephant" was awarded first prize by a committee of judges selected from the students and faculty members.

Other prize winners announced by Mary Leigh Meredith, short story editor, are second prize "Joe" by Charlotte Hall Davis, freshman from Farmville, and third prize, "Tho Obsession" by Lois Callahan, senior from Danville.

Other stories receiving considerable attention and praise from the judges were "John's Letter" by Joan Pritchett, freshman from Bluefield, West Virginia, and "Those Who Sleep Slumber Deep" by Jackie Jardine, freshman from Farmville.

The three prize winning stories will be featured in the first three issues of the Colonnade during this session. "Me'n the Elephant" will appear in the first issue of the Colonnade.

According to the judges "the quality of writing appearing in the contest was extremely high, showing much thought and ability on the part of the writers." The Colonnade staff wishes to thank all contestants and to point out that many of the runners-up will be used in later issues of the Colonnade.

Nov. 15 Deadline For 'Virginian'

Eight o'clock P. M. November 15 is the deadline for all subscriptions to The Virginian. The table in the hall is open before and after lunch every day for subscriptions and members of the annual staff are canvassing each hall.

Prices for the annual range from $6.00 to $7.25. A plain covered Virginian sells for $6.00; plain with the student's name stamped on it $6.75; a padded covered annual costs $6.50, and a padded annual stamped sells for $7.25.

Any questions concerning subscriptions can be answered by Helen Kaknis who is in charge of them, or by Edna Earle Waters, business manager and Anne East, editor-in-chief.

No Persuasion Needed For 'Pixies' This Week

By JEAN SMITH

I picked up my books and began dragging out of the class-room, when I suddenly realized class was over and woke up. Then I wished I had stayed asleep because I began thinking about the coming week end. There was that terrible letter from the "latest" saying he couldn't come down this week end —had to study for a couple of tests! How silly—I'm sure I wouldn't let a thing like that come between us. I wandered aimlessly up to my room thinking life was a "you know what," and began complaining to my roommate. Here I was stuck up here all week end without a single thing to do.

"Why not go see a pixie?" she happily suggested. I gave her a scorching look and retorted that this was no time to be funny, and I'd outgrown fairies ages ago.

"Don't be dense," was the reply handed to me. "The Pixies are the committee that round up the gals to go to dances at Camp Pickett. What better way can you think of to spend a Saturday night than with literally hundreds of men?" I agreed outloud that it sounded like a very patriotic thing, while inside I took one good think and decided that patriotic or not it was a beautiful idea. After I talked to one of the pixies I was sold, (as if the idea of hundreds of men needs selling.)

Say, how about you? Planning to sit around chasing the blues on the one night of the week? Well grab your glad rags chile, and come along. We're all out for Camp Pickett.

'Who's Who' Of '48-'49 Will List Nine Seniors Chosen By College

Vocational Week Set Nov. 8 to 13

Discussion Groups Meet At 5 P. M.

During the week of November 8 through 13, the Baptist Union is sponsoring Vocational Emphasis Week, the purpose of which is to help students choose and follow a vocation through which they may demonstrate Christian ideals and conduct.

Two programs have been planned to carry out this purpose. The first gives the students and faculty of the college the opportunity to hear representatives of various vocations discuss the abilities, training, and opportunities of that particular vocation each afternoon at five o'clock at the Baptist Student Center. The topic and speakers are: Monday, "Being a Christian in The Business World" by Mrs. Edgar Smith; Tuesday, "The Christian Nurse" by Mrs. J. T. Bruce; Wednesday, "Full-Time Christian Service" by Mrs. John Hamilton, of Covington, Va.; Thursday, "The Christian Home," Mrs. E. A Smith; Friday, "The Christian Teacher", Mr. Armstrong Smith.

The second program consists of a morning devotional at 9:30 to 9:45 over station W. F. L. O. which is of interest to the general public. College students are participating in this and the topics and speakers are Monday, "Christ and Your Vocation" by Annie Swann; Tuesday, "The Christian Field of Occupation" by Chris Flint; Wednesday, "Starting Where we Are" by Dot Wood; Thursday, "Using What we Have" by Melbale Booth; Friday, "The Mighty Workman" by Judy Hughes; Saturday, "Service, The Christian Workman's Motive" by Dot Daniel.

Commercial Club To Meet Nov. 11

The Commercial Club will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday, November 11, at 7:00 in the "Y" Lounge. The seniors are in charge of the program with Ruth Staples as chairman.

The officer of this organization are Billie Mullins, president; Ruth Walker, vice president; Gertrude Walker English, secretary; Arnette Snead, treasurer; Janice Slavin, reporter.

Faculty-Administration Name Student Leaders For Recognition

Nine seniors have been named by a faculty-administration committee to represent S. T. C. in the fifteenth edition of "Who's Who Among Students In American Colleges and Universities" for this school year. Those girls who have been chosen are Laura Jean Comerford of Meadowview; Anne East of South Boston; Jane Fox from Alexandria; Martha Gillum, Charlottesville; Marjorie Miller, Christiansburg. Also Jesse Lee Pickett from Round Hill; Violet Ritchie from Alberta; Betty Spindler of Hampden-Sydney; and Jane Taylor of Pungoteague.

Laura Jean Comerford is a Home Economics major. During her years here, she has become a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Kappa Delta Pi, Alpha Kappa Gamma, and she was president of the Wesley Foundation and secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in her junior year. This year Laura Jean is the president of the Y. W. C. A.

Anne East is an English major, who belongs to Alpha Phi Sigma, Kappa Delta Pi, and Beorc Eh Thorn of which she was vice-president last year. She was managing editor of 'The Virginian' last year and she is now Editor-in-chief.

Jane Fox is a business major. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Madrigals, the College Choir, and she was vice-president of the Commercial Club and secretary of Student Government. This year Jane is vice-president of the Student Government Association.

Martha Gillum is majoring in physical education. Martha belongs to Alpha Phi Sigma, Alpha Kappa Gamma and last year was Secretary of the House Council. She is, at present, president of the House Council.

Marjorie Miller, who is majoring in Home Economics, belongs to Alpha Kappa Gamma, and was treasurer of the sophomore class in 1946-47; she was also on the May Court in 1947. Marjorie is president of the Student Government Association this year.

Jesse Lee Pickett, is a physical education major. She was captain of the junior basketball team last year, and serves this year as president of the Athletic Association. Jesse Lee is also a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Violet Ritchie is majoring in biology. She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Pi Gamma Mu, and Alpha Kappa Gamma. Violet has been president of the class her junior and senior years. She was secretary of the Freshman Commission in 1945-46 and Freshman

Continued on page 4

Dr. Lucas Speaks In STC Assembly

This Thursday the Assembly speaker will be the president of Sweet Briar College, Dr. Martha B. Lucas. Dr. Lucas will speak to the student body on UNESCO, a subject in which she has been very much interested.

Dr. Lucas was born in Louisville, Ky., in 1912. She attended Atherton High School for girls, and took active part in the student government of the school. Upon graduation she enrolled in Goucher College in Baltimore. At Gocher Miss Lucas was awarded the Phi Beta Kappa Key, and in 1932, she received her B. A. in the field of English Literature. At George Washington University she studied philosophy, and in 1935 obtained her M. A. from this institution. For several years following she travelled in Europe "on her own—in search of understanding." During the time from 1935 until 1938, Miss Lucas travelled and lived in almost every country of Europe. In 1937 she received her doctorate from the University of London, and in 1946, Gocher College and the University of Alabama conferred upon Miss Lucas the LLD.

Before becoming the president of Sweet Briar College, Dr. Lucas served as Dean of students at Westhampton College, and as associate Dean at Radcliffe College.

Mr. Graham Reveals Future Improvements

The S. T. C. library is to acquire a set of fluorescent lights, one for each table, according to Mr. Samuel L. Graham, College Business Manager. These lights will be installed as soon as they can be bought, said Mr. Graham.

The installation of table lights in the library is onc of about sixteen current projects to improve the College plant above normal maintenance. The Virginia General Assembly made these projects possible by appropriating a fund last January to be distributed by the Governor among State owned institutions for improvement of buildings and equipment. This fund was just released by the Governor last week.

Among the 16 Farmville projects are better lighting for the gym, new interior decoration in the rotunda, lights for the rotunda mural, and weather stripping for Gym Hall dormitory. These projects will be carried out as soon as contracts can be secured.

Farmville Alumnae Will Hold Meeting Of Council Here

The Alumnae Council of the Farmville Alumnae Association is holding its yearly meeting here this week end, Friday and Saturday, November 12 and 13.

The purpose of this council meeting is to exchange ideas and to make plans for this year's alumnae work. The Alumnae Council is composed of officers of the national association of Farmville Alumnae, chapter presidents, and class representatives.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, College president, will speak to the council Friday night at 7:30 p. m. in the Student Lounge, and Mrs. Ann Smith Greene of Chevy Chase Md. will lead the ensuing round table discussions. Mrs. Greene presides in the stead of Mrs. Maria

Continued on Page 3

What Would You Do?

If you were editor-in-chief of the Rotunda what would you do about the third page—beside wrack your brain and worry yourself ill? We've already tried both and haven't come up with an answer yet. The third page, as you know, is supposed to be devoted to sports, but in its present state it's about as popular as the first row of seats or the third verse of a song. Every now and then it has sports news on it, but even then the articles are so short you're through reading a few lines after the headlines.

Now we have a sport staff composed of three girls who do their best, but they aren't Houdinis or Horace Greeleys, so give them some help, won't you? We know that there are a multitude of games going on around here, but just try to find out where and when and who's playing and see what happens. Ask somebody well, see so-an-so and she'll tell you; so-and-so doesn't know, so she sends you back to the so-and-so that you saw in the first place. Confusing, isn't it? No wonder we give up on Tuesday night and print what we do have in place of the sports write-ups.

We want to have stories on all the games, who plays in them, what happened, who lost, won or tied, so that those who don't go can get at least a fair idea of what our S. T. C. teams are doing. We've got team spirit and pep, we want to back our teams up, and to let the whole state of Virginia know what they're doing. If we don't go to the games it's because we're up to our ears getting copy for the next issue, not because we aren't vitally interested. All three of our writers are usually participants in the games, so why don't you spec-tators take a pencil and pad to a game and jot down some of the things that happen? We don't ask for literary works worthy of the New York Times—all we want is some facts!

Co-operation is a key word around here, but for some reason we aren't getting any. Nobody on the staff of the Rotunda minds putting in long hours—missing classes, meals, dates, and sleep—to put the paper out every week but it makes us mad as fire to be criticized for not printing news we have no way of knowing about.

Give us a break, won't you? Make suggestions; write something—even if it isn't good, we can edit it; but just don't let us have to tear our hair over the third page every week.

THE ROTUNDA
Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533. Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Lou Shelor, Elsie Love Bentley

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin,
Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Betty Ferguson

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Ann Lynch

Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Patsy Graveley

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager

Business Assistants
Virginia Howard, Jean Hogge, Martha Hylton,
Anne Verser, Connie Heather

Gladys Monk ..... Chief Editorial Assistant
Carol Stoops, Edna Earle Waters, Ruth Radogna
Anne Simpson

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1948

How About Some Cooperation

Every organization or club likes to get into print as often as possible, for keeping in the limelight insures public attention. We all know that it's essential to the health and general well-being of the organization for the public to know when, where, and what it's doing.

Apparently, though, many of the organizations around here haven't realized that yet. At least they haven't troubled themselves to see that notices of their meetings and activities go into the paper. A club has everything to gain by electing a reporter and seeing that she has something to do. At present the Rotunda has a news staff of about five girls, each of whom brings in on the average three stories a week. This staff isn't nearly adequate to cover every one of the countless activities of the countless organizations in school, especially since these girls are merely students like the rest of us, with more to do than scour the school for news. So you see, the Rotunda needs your help and your cooperation. Not only does to hurt your individual organization when we miss your news, but for a story to slip by unnoticed crushes the heart of the newspaperwoman.

Here's what we of the Rotunda staff would like you club reporters or officers to do. First, give to any of the Rotunda editors (you'll find their names on the masthead below) all the facts about your meeting or activity about a week and a half before it is to happen. Then, after the meeting or whatever is over, tell us what happened. If you can't write the story yourself, then just give us the facts, and we'll be only too happy to write them up. Friday of each week, with a few necessary exceptions, is the deadline for material to appear in the following Wednesday's Rotunda. Please, all organizations, do your best to cooperate with us by getting your news in.

jots & tittles

Two scoops in one week, it's too good to be true! The editor would be standing on her head if she hadn't been doing so since last Friday trying to keep the Who's Who a secret, Margie Miller will have to get a new cross-examination system, she's found one nut too hard to crack. The Colonnade winners story was hard to keep too, but since the final decision wasn't made until Tuesday morning those in "the know" didn't have to suffer too long.

We're kinda glad now we didn't sponsor a mock balloting for the national election. All the exchange papers are coming out with "Is our face red," etc. We could even rack back now that it's all over and pretend we'd been Democrats all along and say "Tee hee, we fooled ya!"; but we probably couldn't get by with it and there's no percentage in it anyhow.

Don't forget the Pickett dance this week end, if you're not planning to take that seven-mile jaunt out to Hampden-Sydney's Homecoming — Here's wishing them a victorious day down in old "Death Valley."

"Y" Lines

Last night, immediately after supper, the freshmen and all other new students at S. T. C. this year, became official members of the Young Women's Christian Association.

The large YWCA triangle served as a background on the edge of the stage and 16 candles placed on the steps led up to the cross. In the vestibule of the auditorium was the white cross holding four candles.

Quiet music was played as the freshmen and new students entered quietly wearing white and holding an unlit candle. Following the choral call to worship given by madrigals, Ann Verser, vice-president of the "Y", read the scripture after which Laura Jean Comerford, president of the "Y", gave a brief message on what the YWCA can mean to you as a new student. New members were then installed and repeated the pledge.

The president then lighted the "Y" cabinet's candles, and they in turn passed their light on to the students. When all the candles burned brightly, the group led by the president and vice-president marched in two's from the auditorium, and down the Colonnade and into the Rotunda and stood around the two balconies. The program closed with the "Y" motto after Madrigals had sung "Now the Day Is Over."

Today the freshmen, new and old students, have been signing up for "Y" committees on which the would like to work. Monday night, the YWCA gave a coke and nab party for the new students.

Sophisticated Rat

Grab your specs and here we go again!

President Truman hasn't a thing on Jackie Jardine, people. Jackie, the new Freshman president, was elected to head the class of '52 the very same night that the Democrats again made history. Other officers of the class backing her up are Maria Jackson, vice president; Phyllis Tyree, secretary; and Marty Miller, treasurer.

Why doesn't someone please teach a class in knitting? The poor souls who have only finished the ribbing in their argyle socks will never complete the foot-wear for their fellows in time for Christmas!

Be good, all of you shady characters, because Dolores Hoback and Pat Tuggle, the new Freshman student council representatives, are on the prowl from now til the '49 seniors receive those old sheepskins. Congratulations, Pat and Dolores, the class is right behind you.

Looks like Nancy Walker just can't talk about her beaux without someone's popping up with, "Why, he used to date a girl friend of mine!"

Margaret Thomas and Jean Ridenour are going to be in there pitching this year. They were chosen as members of the Student Standards Committee. Of course, there's little need to say that they'll work to the limit, because everyone knows they will.

Just thought you bridge fiends might be interested in this little item of info. Girls, there is a card table on second floor main. Not saying just which room but, if you have a gallant heart and a peculiar fancy for playing cards at a table instead of on the floor or under the beds, you'll find it, so life is a trap, eh? Well, what's the use of worrying about life? You'll never get out of it alive.

Ouch! That last one was too much! 'Bye now and see you around.

Joan Prichett

Chatter Box

We didn't get many helpful hints from you gals this week! Won't you let us in on the latest? Pretty soon there will be a "chatter-box" prominently displayed. Then won't you drop us the exclusive hints on the happenings in school and the forecast for the future? How's about it?

Information like this, for instance, in case our ears were not wide open enough:

Margaret Wall was pretty excited about a phone call from Ken-

Continued on Page 4

'Life Gets Tee-jus, Don't It?'

Gallop Pole

What do you think of the idea of having juke box dances?

Joyce Etheridge: I think it is wonderful. It gives the girls something to do on Saturday night.

Pat Paddison: I think it's wonderful as long as you have a date.

Jean Turner: Date, what's that?

Helen Traynham: I don't know, as I haven't tried them out yet.

Ann Younger: They are fine when you can't do any better!

Phyllis Bagley: Fine idea! And should have been started a long time ago.

"Doug" Paulson: Love it!

'Clem" Allen: It's a wonderful idea, but I'm never here over the week end.

Polly Richardson: Suits me!

Bobby J. Robertson: I heard it was really fun Saturday night. I think it's a wonderful idea.

Lucy Ann Edmunds: Good idea.

Thelma Peake: Wonderful idea.

Rives Edward: I think they are a grand idea. It helps us all to know each other better and have fun together.

Phyllis Tyree: I think we should have more of them.

Mary Quinn: Oh! they aren't bad.

Anne Wood: Lots of fun especially when you're almost broke!

Kathryn Terry: They are wonderful and I would love another one when Tech can come.

Jeanne Gilman: Seems like a good idea when it really gets under way.

George Elliott: Swell idea! Will try to go to one next time.

Martha Gillum: I think we should have them every Saturday night 'cause they help the week ends at STC.

Jenny Sue Webb: I think they are just darling and so pepie!

Nock: Mrs. McCoy and I thoroughly enjoyed chaperoning the girls. I am in favor of more male chaperones!

Ginnie Walsh: I think they should have more of them. From what I've heard the one Saturday night was a huge sucess.

Marion Higgs: Terrific.

Anonymous: I saw things down there I've never seen before!

"Bobbie" Pollard: I don't see any sense in charging when you can go down there any other night and dance anyway.

Edith Kennon: At least you don't have to have a man.

Peggy Hughes: Gee whiz! I had such a good time. Let's have more of 'em!

Carrie Ann O'Loughlin: I feel the same as Peg does—Let's have more.

In Fourteen (count'em) Days S.T.C.'ers Homeward Bound

CLAUDIA ANDERSON

Just think! only fourteen more days before we can enjoy those long snoozes in the morning, the turkey and all the Thanksgiving eats, late hours, and the absence of that dreadful bane of existence —books! Won't it be wonderful! Anyone who says "life is a trap" should be confined to an institution of better learning.

There is a lot to be done before that date (you can take the meaning the way you like) rolls around, plus the entertainments — The play sponsored by the Dramatics Club—"The Admirable Crichton", the hockey games with emphasis on the color rush one, and of course, you can always go to the movies. Since everyone had such a good time at the dance Saturday night, maybe some other organization will sponsor another in the near future—say the men.

If you Freshmen are tired of wearing those rat caps maybe you can create more spirit among your class to help make the game one of greater excitement as well as rivalry.

The time will fly by like a breeze. With your tickets to buy, bags to pack, completion of assignments, and the many other things to do, home will be the dreamers dream come true over night.

Handmade silver pins of skiing figures and ski poles are the newest of the winter resort novelty jewelry which now decorate milady's jacket or gloves.

Enjoy Pet Black Walnut Ice Cream often all through this month ... as a delightful symbol of good living and the abundance of the autumn harvest. The mellow, subtle flavor of genuine black walnuts, blended with the delicate, sweet cream flavor of smooth, creamy Pet Ice Cream is as thrilling as the light of the harvest moon!

ON FESTIVE DAYS

On festive days...and, whenever you entertain ... make it a royal occasion! Serve Princess Pet Ice Cream ..the new, de luxe Ice Cream packed in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality! Royalty never tasted a more exotic delicacy...Princess Pet is so rich, so creamy, so delectable. It's simply out of this world!

EACH PET ICE CREAM

Each Pet Ice Cream...Pet and Princess Pet...is made only of daily fresh whole milk, daily fresh sweet cream and delicate natural flavorings. So, we ask you to compare any Pet Ice Cream with any other Ice Cream. We've sure you'll agree that...as to flavor, body, texture and quality...Pet Ice Creams top them all!

Yes, whether you buy richer, creamier, de luxe Princess Pet, or popular Pet Ice Cream, you can't buy finer...more delicious Ice Cream ...at any price! Take home a pint or two of each, today!

PET ICE CREAM
"a health food"
Taste the Fresh Cream in Pet Ice Cream

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Buy your ticket for "The Admirable Crichton" at the table in the hall after lunch or from the girls selling them on the halls. Tickets go on reserve at Pattersons Drug Store, Wednesday November 17 at 8:30 A. M. Freshmen may go down town any time during the day to reserve their seats. Buy your ticket early so that you may get a good seat.

* * * *

Dramatic club dues must be paid by November 12th. Please pay after lunch at the table in the hall.

* * * *

The S. T. C. Dramatic club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs are presenting a preview of "The Admirable Crichton" on the S. T. C. hour Thursday November 11th at 4:30 P. M. over WFLO. This will give you a peek into the laughs that are in store for you on Friday night November 19th, when you attend "The Admirable Crichton."

* * * *

Deadline for annual subscriptions is November 15th. Don't wait till the last day. Get yours at the table in the hall.

* * * *

Color Game Schedule

Monday—November 15
3:30: Sophomores vs. Seniors
Freshman vs. Juniors
Wednesday, November 17
3:30: Sophomores vs. Juniors
Freshman vs. Seniors
Saturday, November 20
2:15: Freshman vs. Sophomores
Juniors vs. Seniors

Wyatt A. LeGrand
Teacher of Violin
Studio Hours 2 to 5 P. M.
Week Days
104 Main St. Phone
Farmville 569-M

Alumnae

Continued from page 1

Bristow Starke, president of the national association of Farmville Alumnae, who is ill. Following the discussions there will be an executive board meeting.

Saturday morning the group will meet again for informal discussion and business. Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, Alumnae secretary, will lead a discussion on chapter activities, and Miss Mary Clay Hiner will lead a discussion on class organization.

After lunch at 12:30 p. m. in the Snack Bar Saturday, the 1948 Alumnae Council meeting will disband.

SURPLUS
Portable Miscroscopes

We offer a limited quantity of surplus portable microscopes for sale. These are all new, in original cartons and are offered at a fraction of original cost.

Specifications: Overall height 8 inches, turret with three different powers. Will accept auxiliary eye-piece for higher powers desired. Fully adjustable on tiltback base. Optical system: pitch-polished lenses.

These portable miscroscopes are offered subject to prior sale on the following terms: Price $9.00, includes shipping and packing charges. Check or money order should be sent with your order or $2.50 deposit, the microscope to be sent C.O.D. for balance. Any check received after quantity has been sold will be returned promptly.

Gibson Page Co., Inc.
Dealers in War Surplus
BOX 1130, ROCHESTER, 2, N. Y.

JUST RECEIVED
A NEW SHIPMENT OF Crepe Sole Oxfords

BROWN and GREEN
$7.95

Shoe Dept.—First Floor
DAVIDSON'S
The House of Quality

East Team Names Allen As Captain

VFHA Renames Burger President

Last Friday, November 5, five Farmville girls left for Williamsburg to join the Eastern District Hockey team. Those girls were: Betty Romeo, senior from Ardsley, New York; Frances Allen, junior from Richmond; Anna Famulatte, sophomore from New York; Jo Ann Phipps, junior; and Mary Young, senior from Rice.

This team selected as Captain "Clem" Allen. This team tied their first game against an Allied A Western Division on Friday afternoon and came through successfully against the favored Madison College team on Saturday. The Eastern District Team had the best win record of the Tournament.

Mary Washington College of the Allied A Eastern placed four players on the Virginia Reserve Team as Substitutes. Sweetbriar College placed four on the first team and Richmond club placed five. Miss Elizabeth Burger, member of the STC faculty, was chosen as Goalie for the Virginian Hockey Team. The Virginian First and Virginia Reserve teams will play in the Southeast Tournament in Baltimore on November 20th and 21st.

Miss Elizabeth Burger was re-elected president of the Virginia Field Hockey Association.

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Make—
COLLEGE SHOP
Your Headquarters
Excellent Food
Excellent Service

Patterson

Library Presents 2 New Displays

This week the library is featuring a display of early American Milk Glass. This collection of ten various pieces, privately owned by Miss Lillian Seaburg, dates back presumably to the early 19th century. Among the more distinctive pieces are a small china model know as Lincoln's Log Cabin, and a piece called the American Hen, which is actually an eagle hovering over three eggs lettered Puerto Rica, Cuba and The Philippines. The entire collection is of white china, with the exception of a small blue and white figure of a kitten which is approximated to be the most valuable of the smaller pieces. There are also two larger dishes, mounted by a lion and a fox repectively.

Mrs. George Jeffers, new member of the library staff has been working with Miss Lillian Seaburg on redeeming the browsing room of the college library from its present passage way status to a recreational reading center.

The Ceramics classes of the S. T. C. art department are offering pottery to fill in the empty shelves. Mrs Lemen has offered a temporary loan of her own paintings, and ash trays are being provided for smokers.

It has been suggested that the browsing room be opened at night. Still further suggestions are that the movie news, college papers, and the current newspaper be placed in the browsing room.

The library staff has asked students to contribute further suggestions for improving the browsing room.

The World Student Service Fund Center in New Delhi, India, for aid to refugee students has been recognized as a training ground for social service work by the East Punjab University. All East Punjab social service students assigned to work at the center may receive their degrees for satisfactory work done there.

Wilson
Firestone
Schubert Symphony No. 8 in C
Artura Toscanini & the N.B.C. Symphony Orchestra
Boston Symphony Orchestra

GRAYS DRUG STORE
Select your Eaton's
Stationery from Gray's

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

SPECIAL TO STC STUDENTS ONLY
Pancakes, Aunt Jemima's maple syrup, butter and coffee 20c
One Week only
SOUTHSIDE'S

STC Sophomores Race To Victory Over Blackstone

Blackstone Trails By Fateful Point

The Sophomore team Captain is Anna Famulatte. Anna was one of the five girls chosen to represent the Eastern District in the State Hockey Tournament. The Blackstone Team Captain was Leary.

The first goal was made by Nancy Gillie, center forward. Several times the Blackstone team rushed towards the Farmville goal but the half ended without their scoring. At the beginning of the second half Pansey Parham came in from the wing position and made a splendid goal, this made the score read 2-0. During the last few minutes of the game Heffner playing right inner went in to score the only Blackstone goal. When the final whistle blew the score was 2-1 with Farmville's Sophomores victorious.

Frances Allen, Junior from Richmond was elected Captain of the Varsity Hockey Team. "Clem" as she is better known was Captain of the Sophomore Hockey team last year. Her team was victorious in their Hockey games. She was chosen to go to Williamsburg as a member of the Eastern District team. There she was elected Captain of that team.

3 Dancers Receive Bids To Orchesis

Three girls received bids last week to Orchesis, local dance group. Receiving bids were Helen Hardin, Mary Lou Woodward, and nna Famulatte.

These students will be required to serve apprenticeships through two Orchesis productions before they may be initiated as members of the group.

Flowers For All Occasions
BURG

Charge Account Arranged To All Organizations
J. J. Newberry Co.
For Wanted Needs

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

'Neckers' Prepare For Flaming Year

The Northern Neck Club, composed of girls from the peninsula of Virginia that lies between the Blue Potomac and the Muddy Rappahannock, has been newly organized for the year '48-49. Plans for various social events have been made for these girls, who sometimes are referred to as "Seafood mammas" because of their innate love for oysters and crabs.

The officers for this year are Esther Marsh, president; Louise Taylor, vice president; Margaret Forrester, secretary-treasurer; and Max Acree, reporter. Mr. "Charlie Hop" French, who also proves to be a delighted fancier of the more delicate foods—crabs, is sponsor for the group.

Four new members were taken into the club this year. They are Anne Motley, Mary Helen Cook, Ann Lamb, and Peggy Wilson.

Toni kens

By Toni Allen

With an excited squeal, seventy-five S. T. C. girls were off Friday night for a rendezvous at Virginia. The girls looked like a page of Vogue or Harpers suddenly come to life, with their satins, rhinestones, and pearls.

Ada Roble looked like a true ambassador of good will in a midnight blue crepe dress with a silver lame bertha. Her rhinestone necklace and ornate bracelet were positively stunning on this vivacious Puerto Rican beauty. Don't think her beauty went unnoticed at the University either . . . . the boys really went for that sunny smile and her snappy black eyes.

Did you ever see a dream walking? Well, I did! Charlotte Hall Davis looked like the sort of girl you encounter on a very pleasant journey through Dreamland. She wore a red faille suit with red shoes, adorned only by a hammered silver pin and Mexican ear rings. Apparently the boys agreed with me, for she was really rushed!

Lee Cosby, looking very sophisticated in black crepe with a gold bead applique, received the big rush of the season. She confessed to me that she had thirty-seven cuts on the last dance, which is not a bad record at all! Not at all!

Our foreign students entertained us with several selections in French and Spanish. One we particulary enjoyed was the "Chattanooga Choo-Choo Train," which Ada Robles led, with one line in Spanish and the next in English. When you are trying to sing every other line of a song, you are inclined to back-track a little, and it becomes very amusing. It did for us, anyway.

After the dance at Madison Hall, the girls reluctantly left, bidding farewell to new friends and a good time. Excited whispers from the sleepy girls proclaimed the dance an outstanding success, with all of them looking forward to a possible trip next year.

Classes Participate In Spanish Meeting

On Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, the Spanish Club held its second meeting of this year in the library. A program was presented in which Spanish students of every class participated.

Five members of first year class presented respective autobiographical skits, after which the second year students presented a playlet entitled "No Puedo Comer la Sopa" and a poem "Cultivo una Rosa Blanca."

Generally the meetings are conducted in Spanish, the purpose of the club being to create a closer relation between the Spanish speaking students on the campus. The students of the third year class offered a mexian song, "La Primavera," and "Meciendo," a spanish poem, was recited by Hattie Swihart. Jean Cake and Dalila Agostini held a brief dialogue about the circus, and as a special number the group of Puerta Rican students sang an Inca song "Nieve Viento y Sol. Then the entire assembly joined in the singing of two spanish songs, "Las Chiapanecas," and "Las Mananitas."

Chatter Box

Continued from Page 2

neth Sunday night! I prophesy a big week end at W & L coming up!

Ask Tootie, Katie and Gris, about the big week end at Louisa. Those cabin parties really seem to be the rage.

It must have been nice to have to decide whether or not to go to dances because of too many dates, like "Deb" will have to do this week end!

Verser really hit the jackpot last week end with a good looking blind date and a Cadillac to boot!

We are glad to hear that Hank's man will be here next week end for the big time, because "he looks so pretty in a tux." (says she).

It did our hearts good to see little Robbie and Arnette and Pat taking off last week end for a big, big time.

There's been some chatter lately about "Medusa". Who is the snaky creature? Sounds like an escape from a Latin textbook, but I don't think that that's supposed to be the general idea.

Who's Who

Continued from page 1

Counsellor of the Y. W. C. A. in 1947-48. This year Violet was chosen by the senior class to represent the class as queen of the circus.

Betty Spindler is an English major. She belongs to Alpha Phi Sigma, Beorc Eh Thorn, and the French Circle of which she was president in her sophomore year. Betty has served as Business Manager and Managing Editor of "The Rotunda" prior to becoming Editor-in-chief this year. She is also secretary-treasurer of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association.

Jane Taylor, an elementary education major, is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma. She was treasurer of the Y. W. C. A. for the 1947-48 session. This year Jane holds the office of president of Orchesis and also the presidency of the Pan-Hellenic Association.

Annually a compilation of the outstanding students in America is published. Only juniors and seniors taking advanced work are eligible. The primary purpose of this publication is to bring the outstanding students in America before the business world and before others who annually recruit students.

Exotic costume jewelry is promised us by noted Hollywood designers, similar to that worn by Rita Hayworth in "The Loves of Carmen." It will soon be on the market, and makes excellent Christmas presents.

Aiming To Please
Do It With Ease
Phone 181 Night 4
COLLINS

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

MARTIN THE JEWELER
Select your silver at Martins

WFLO
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
870 on your dial

It's Knitting Time!
Knit Those Christmas Gifts Now and Save Money. We Have a Complete Line of Redheart Wool and Knitting Books
The Hub
Farmville, Va.

Corduroy Jackets and Sweaters Just Arrived
VERSER'S
We strive to please

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results
KLEANWELL CLEANERS

Thirst for Refreshment Relishes Ice-Cold Coke

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Bottling Company
©1948, The Coca-Cola Company

"CHESTERFIELD is building another big, new factory for us smokers who like the MILDER cigarette... It's MY cigarette."
Arthur Godfrey
RADIO'S FAVORITE SON
STAR OF CHESTERFIELD'S
ARTHUR GODFREY TIME

"I wish I could take you in my Navion plane over the big, new factory Chesterfield is building at Durham, N. C. It's a honey. It will help supply the ever-increasing demand for the MILDER cigarette."

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD
MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE ... They Satisfy

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations Commission

The Rotunda

See 'Admirable Crichton'

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, NOVEMBER 17, 1948 | No. 8

Freshmen Elect Commission Student Standards Members

Elect Classman, Gov't Delegates

Yesterday from one to five in the afternoon Freshmen cast their votes for the Freshman Commission. The following girls were elected to the Commission: Jane Lee Kellogg, Jackie Woodward, Catherine Bunch, Midge Woods, Barbara Hawkins, Jean Ridenour, and Mary Helen Cook. Also Anne Harding, Shirley Livesley, Sara Crocker, Marian Becker, and Mary Brame. The president of the Freshman class, Jackie Jardine, is automatically a member of the Commission.

Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel was elected as Freshman Classman at a meeting held last week.

Mary Thomas, from Upper Darby, Pa., and Jean Ridenour, from Richmond, were elected to Student Government were Pat Tuggle and Dolores Hoback, both from Wytheville.

represent the class on Student Standards. Elected to serve as Freshman representatives to the

Co-eds Stage Hop Saturday In Rec

A juke box dance, sponsored by the Male Student Council Association, will be held in the "Rec" Saturday, November 20, from 8 to 12 P. M. This was announced yesterday at the Student Council meeting by Jimmy Thompson, chairman of the Recreation Committee.

It is to be an informal girl-break, boy-break dance open to all members of the student body and their guests. Admission will be 10c per person. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Mr. Raymond French and Dean Savage will chaperone the group

Students, Visitors Able To See Murals By New Illumination

The plan for lighting the murals in the top of the Rotunda has become a reality. The lights were installed and put into operation on Monday of this week.

Lighting in the S. T. C. gym is soon to be improved by the substitution of fluorescent lights for the present ones, according to Mr. Samuel L. Graham, College Business Manager. In addition, the gym ceiling is to be repaired and painted, and venetian blinds will be hung on the west side of the gym.

The order for the materials necessary has been placed, and these improvements will be effected as soon as the materials are available, Mr. Graham said. He also stated that probably within the next thirty days the Tea Room ceiling will be fitted with acoustical tile, identical to that recently added to the main dining hall ceiling.

College Anthology Publishes 'A Truth'

Barbara Andrews, junior from Newport News, has been notified that her poem, "A Truth", has been accepted for publication in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

This Anthology is a compilation of the finest poetry written by the college men and women of America, representing every state in the country. Selections were made by a Board of Judges from thousands of poems submitted.

S. T. C. Publishes Guidance Booklet

Includes Preface By Dr. Lancaster

"Will College Prepare You for a Career?" is the title of a new illustrated booklet being currently prepared for publication by the College for distribution to high school seniors and prospective students.

The purpose of the booklet which is scheduled to appear in December is to point out the advantages of a college education. In it is a brief explanation of each major field of study offered at S. T. C., its opportunities and training, and this is illustrated with photographs taken in classes and laboratories here. The booklet includes a preface by Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president.

Dean William W. Savage stated that as far as he knows, this is the first time any Virginia college has brought out a publication of this type. "Will College Prepare You for a Career?" will be made available to the general public, and Dean Savage stated that it should be particularly useful to guidance workers in high schools.

Annual Xmas Concert Scheduled Dec. 12-13

The annual Joint Christmas concert of the State Teachers College choir and the Hampden-Sydney glee club assisted by the Madrigal Singers of S. T. C., and directed by Mr. Ralph Wakefield, music instructor here, will be given in the S. T. C. auditorium Sunday, December 12 at 8 P. M.

This concert will be repeated at Hampden-Sydney December 13, at 8 P. M.

Each group will perform separately. There will be one joint number and also group singing of familiar carols.

There is no admission charge for this concert but tickets will be issued to avoid overcrowding.

Students Sign Up On "Y" Committees For School Year

214 Girls Serve On 5 Committees

Last week all students—freshmen and upper classmen—had the opportunity to sign up for the committee of their choice to work with the Y. W. C. A. during the school year 1948-49. A total of 243 students signed up.

The Prayers committee under Carolyn Calhoun takes care of nightly prayers in the auditorium, arranging for both subjects and leaders. The students who signed up on this committee are Joyce Adams, Allie Grey Altizer, Shirley Atkinson, Hilda Bauserman, Mildred Blessing, Peggy Lee Bryant, Jean Cunningham, Frankie Dodson, Dorothy Doutt, Hilda Edwards, and Lillian Faulconer.

Also Frances Franklin, Norma Gladding, Joyce Hamlet, Nancy Henderson, Dolores Hoback, Mary E. Johnson, Anne Langbein, Joyce Luce, Anne Lucy, Virginia McIver, Ann Nock and Elizabeth Orr.

Also Jessie Overby, Ray Phillips, Bobbie Pollard, Frances Ramsey, Lee Robertson, Helen Smith, Mary Sykes, Louise Taylor, James Thompson, Maxine Watts, Jean Webb, Sara Wilkinson, Margaret Wilson, Anne Wood, and Ann Younger.

Under the direction of Lelia Mae Ferratt the Library committee maintains a library for students in the "Y" Lounge. Signing up on this committee were Alma Bedinger, Mary Ann Bedinger, Sara Creser, Frances Everett, Nancy Flint, Cordelia Parker, Annie Swann, Dorothy Parker, and Edith Saunders.

The Church Cooperative committee sponsors in connection with the local churches, the Union Vespers Services. Chairman of this committee is Ruth Tillett. Students who signed up on this committee are Max Acree, Dot Braswell, Dot Daniel, Dot Dunford, June Foreman, Emily Hastings, Page Joyner, and Betsy Phillips.

Also Ada Robles, Grace Thompson, Eleanor Weddle, Juanita Weeks, Martha Wilson, and Elsie McAllister.

The Sing committee under Agnes Dingledine is in charge of the Saturday night sings. Signing up

(Continued on page 3)

Drama Groups Will Present Fall Play, 'Crichton', Friday At 8:15

Rehearsal In Progress

Pictured Above Are Jathan Stone, Ann Rosson, Arthur Stuart, Shirley Elmquist, Frances Franklin, Dan E. Bray, Arthur Ressel, and Betty Ferguson-as they rehearse for their forthcoming production of "The Admirable Crichton".

Jongleurs, STC Join Talents

"The Admirable Crichton," a satirical comedy by Sir James Barrie will be presented by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden Sydney Jongleurs this Friday night, November 19, at 8:15 p. m. in the S. T. C. auditorium.

Tickets, which have been on sale since Monday, may be obtained at the table in the hall, or from Ruth Eggleston in Cunningham Hall. Reserved tickets went on sale at Pattersons today.

In "The Admirable Crichton" Barrie takes an influential, well-to-do English family who have always had everything they wanted, and strands them on a desert island. Once away from the glitter of society, the characters' true personalities come to the surface.

The cast of characters in order of their appearance are Crichton, Jathan Stone; The Honorable Ernest Woolley, Dan E. Bray; Lady Agatha, Frances Franklin; Lady Catherine, Shirley Elmquist; Lady Mary, Betty Ferguson; Mr. Treherne, Arthur Ressel; Earl of Loam, Arthur Stuart; Lord Brocklehurst, Hobert Mathews; Mrs. Perkins, Anna Famuiatte; Monsieur Fleury, Dan Wexler; Mr. Rolleston, Bill Passano; Mr. Tompsett, Dick Anderson; Miss Fisher, Jerline Korbach; Miss Simmons, Ann Maitland; Mademoiselle Jeanne, Mary Brownley Smith; John, Charles Talley; Tweeney, Anne Rosson, Stable boy, Jake Williams; Naval officer, William Sites; Lady Brocklehurst, Frances Ferguson.

Jane Gray heads the lighting committee for "The Admirable Crichton"; June Banks is in charge of properties for the play, and Nancy Lee Maddox is chairman of the make-up group. Jean Cake is production manager for the play. Miss Leola Wheeler, S. T. C. professor of speech, directs "The Admirable Crichton."

Seniors Schedule Dance Jefferson Heads Committees

The Senior Class will hold its annual dance on Saturday night, December 11, in the gym. Betty Jefferson, who was elected general chairman of the affair, has appointed her committee chairmen and members.

Mary Towles Waldrop, Chairman of music, is assisted by Betty Pell Jordan; Decorations are in charge of Gwen Cress, chairman, Martha Hatchett, Phyliss Bagley and Frances Deberry; Figure, Grace Mallory, chairman, and Jane Taylor.

Floor committee is headed by Jackie Watson, assisted by Adelaide Coble, Betty Tilson, Tootsie Hamilton, Gwen Smith and Ruth Radogna. Clean up is in charge of Lee Robertson, chairman, Elaine Owens, Jackie Bobbitt, and Ruth Tillet. Publicity will be handled by Mary Cooper Whiteside, chairman, Eula Ayres, Muriel McBride, Pat Page, Ann Orgain and Helen Owen. Program chairman is Nancy Jessee.

The refreshment committee which will serve refreshments at intermission in the Y. W. C. A. Lounge is composed of Frances Farley, chairman, Ann Barksdale, Harriet Steele and Edna Earl Waters. Members of the ticket committee are Betty Romeo, chairman, and Dot Daniel. Betty stated that tickets will go on sale immediately after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Alumnae Express Hope Of Raising Total Organ Fund

The meeting of the Farmville Alumnae Council held here last week end drew several graduates of the last century among the some thirty-five in attendance.

Mrs. Louise Twelvetrees Hamlett from Powhatan, Virginia, represented the oldest class at the meeting. She graduated in February, 1892. Representing the class of '93 was Miss Alma Bland of Chackleford. From the class of '94 came twin presidents, Mrs. Alma Harris Netherland and Mrs. Mrs. Pauline Harris Richardson, both of Dinwiddie. The most recent graduate at the meeting was Mrs. Betty Scroggins Nichols of

Continued on Page 3

Color Song Contest Highlights Assembly

The annual class song contest will be held in the regular Thursday assembly tomorrow. Songs will be judged by an impartial committee of townspeople.

Mr. Ralph E. Kent, a representative of the Near East Foundation will be the guest speaker at assembly this Thursday. Mrs. Robert B. Williams, Southern Regional Secretary of the Near East Foundation, who is responsible for bringing Mr. Kent to the campus will accompany him.

The short story committee of the Colonade will take this opportunity to award prizes to the winners of the fall short story contest.

The choir will also present a short program.

7 STC Delegates Will Go To VPI

Seven delegates representing the three college publications will attend the fall convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association to be held at VPI Friday and Saturday November 19 and 20.

Ann Langbein and Barbara Andrews will represent the Colonade; Joyce Webb, the Virginian, and Jackie Eagle, Mary Leigh Meredith and Anne Orgain will go from the Rotunda. They will be accompanied by Betty Spindler, secretary-treasurer of the VIPA.

The program for the convention consists of critiques of the publications by leaders in the various journalistic fields, panel discussions, addresses from leading journalists in the state of Virginia, and entertainment in the form of dances and banquets.

The Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association was reorganized at Hampden-Sydney College in 1947. Although the organization is over twenty years old, it became inactive during the war, and was reorganized by press representatives to the meeting of the Student Congress of Virginia College and Universities. Officers in the organization at the present time are William L. Dudley Jr., VPI, president; Betsy Elliott, Lynchburg College, vice-president; and Betty Spindler, STC, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Schlegel's Biography Shows Variety; Teaching One of Numerous Occupations

JANICE SLAVIN

One of the newest additions to our campus is Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel, sociate professor of history.

Dr. Schlegel was born at Thompsontown, Pennsylvania, the "Switzerland of America". Explaining its location to curious people presents quite a problem.

He has the distinction of having graduated from high school twice, and college three times. He obtained his education from Thompsontown grade schools; Thompsontown High Schools; Mifflintown (Pa.) High School, Susquehanna University, B. A., and Columbia University M. A. Ph. D.

Dr. Schlegel has done numerous other things besides teaching. At one time he was a newspaper correspondent. He stated that his total reward from this job was $2.50. After the expenses were deducted he came out with about $1.90. He writes for the love of it. He used to write a sports column for a paper and at another time had a daily column in a paper concerning the watching of ants, housecleaning, and etc. From the time he was 18 until he was 30, he managed a dozen baseball teams. At one time he had an entire baseball league.

DR. MARVIN W. SCHLEGEL

Dr. Schlegel was also a clerk in a grocery store. He remarks that it is amazing how many things you have to know to hold a job. Getting molasses to run out of a jar in cold weather was one of his greatest problems.

He taught high school five years in his backyard (garage). From 1939 to 1942 he was with the Archives Division of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, supervising Pennsylvania's war history program.

In the summer of 1946, Dr. Schlegel and his wife saw Virginia for the first time on a brief vacation. Mrs. Schlegel was very much overcome by the beauty of Charlottesville and Williamsburg and expressed the desire to live in both places. Within one year she had lived in both places. Dr. Schlegel was in Charlottesville working on Virginia's war history program while his wife was in Williamsburg obtaining her M. A.

In 1947 he taught at the St. Helena Extension of William and Mary in Norfolk. When asked how he became interested in history, he stated that he did not major in it in college. He was interested in everything and did not wish to specialize in one field. However, one summer session in

Continued on Page 4

We Dare You To Read This!

Several weeks ago when we printed an editorial pointing out the error of our ways in chapel we hoped that each student would take an active interest in improving the general attitude toward assembly. It seems that our attempted admonition went unheeded, because behavior gets embarrassingly worse every Thursday. A few students who recognize the seriousness of the situation have told us of their desire to help improve the general attitude, but unfortunately these "civic-minded" individuals are in such a minority that they can accomplish little alone. The Rotunda therefore proposes a campaign. A crusade, perhaps, whose goal is 100 per cent attention as well as 100 per cent attendance.

Some students and a few faculty members have suggested that call downs be given to those persistent disturbers of the peace and impolite people who consistently insult the speaker with unconcealed signs of boredom and restlessness. We heartily disapprove of the suggestion, but if bad manners come to worse, we'll feel forced to second the suggestion to the point of urging it done. It seems utterly absurd to say that college students can be controlled by punishment only. Are we not supposed to be reasonable, rational, mature students who do the right thing through a sense of duty rather than fear of consequences? They admitted us to STC on asumption that we were old enough to govern our actions in an adult matter.

If each student would pledge himself or herself to take care that his personal conduct in assembly was above reproach then so much confusion and embarrassment could be avoided. Please, fellow students, leave your books, chewing gum, mail, knitting and newspapers outside tomorrow so we can start right away to improve our conduct. Remember, if you keep quiet, your neighbors will do likewise—then we'll present an orderly, attentive audience to the speakers, most of whom are making a personal sacrifice of time and effort to speak to us. Make it your own responsibility to try!

Debt To The Dramatic Club

A vote of appreciation to the S. T. C. Dramatic Club from the entire College is long overdue. Everyone knows what a go-getting, enterprising group the Dramatic Club members and their adviser, Miss Wheeler are. But is it generally known where all this enterprise is directed? It's time we woke up to the fact that the Dramatic Club serves us, S. T. C., in greater measure than most of us realize. These people aren't working to achieve some narrow personal end; in fact, about the only personal benefit Dramatic Club members receive from their efforts is the valuable experience gained.

It seems to us that a few down-to-earth facts concerning services rendered are now in order. Are we aware that all of the currently used curtains and drapes in both the large and small auditoriums have been given the college by the Dramatic Club? And these are real gifts, much more expensive than laymen would think. Recently the Club spent the far from negligible sum of $105 for the mere dyeing of the auditorium drapes. To date the Dramatic Club has spent some $3000 on lighting alone for the auditorium. Another little known service of this worthy organization is the financial support of lyceums when it is needed and suuport of various other undertakings here. Each individual committee of the Club in numerous and unsung ways works for the benefit of the student body. As if this weren't enough, the entire group gives generously of their time and talent to help secondary schools in this area in their dramatic productions.

All this and much more than we have space to describe is done without glory and too often without thanks. Many of the Dramatic Club projects are expensive materially, not to mention the good old fashioned sweat involved. Twice a year this group presents a play, the proceeds of which help them to serve us. Most of us attend these plays for no other reason than for their superb entertainment (any upperclassman wil vouch for the sincerity of our adjective, "superb"); but this year let's all support the fall play with something else besides entertainment in mind. Let's keep in mind our debt to the Dramatic Club, and show that we do appreciate the service rendered and want them to continue.

What Can We Do?

What are we as students doing to help preserve and establish peace throughout the world? Last Thursday Dr. Martha Lucas of Sweet Briar College challenged us in her stirring message on the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization. UNESCO's preamble sets forth its aims and purposes in trying to educate the mind of man so that he will be better able to cope with the problems facing him today.

The problem of what we are to do here at STC parallel UNESCO's aim is difficult indeed. We are not endowed with a great deal of wealth to use in sending our students to all parts of the world to learn about our fellow man. And yet, a knowledge of all the cultures of man is essential if we are to maintain peace in a world where it is only a matter of a few hours to get from one part to the other.

We must, therefore, educate the students here at home about the other nations. Much opposition will be encountered, especially on such courses as Communism, but nothing worth while is ever achieved without effort and criticism, both bad and good. Instead of teaching a course in Civil War history, which could very well be included in an American history course, a class could be added in the various forms of government prevailing throughout the world today. In this way, we might better understand the attitudes and problems of other people.

Of course, the most up-to-date source of information is right at our finger-tips—the newspaper. If we would take better advantage of what we have and try to understand other cultures, peace would not seem such a hopeless end.

—Polly Nasser

THE ROTUNDA
Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 3, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Lou Shelor, Elsie Love Bentley

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin,
Griswold Boxley, Melbaie Boothe, Betty Ferguson

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1948

"Y" Lines

Another relief campaign is opening on this campus--the annual World Student Service Fund Drive.

"Another relief campaign?" Not quite. This one is different. This one is ours.

There are over eight hundred thousand students--college students like ourselves--in need today in the world. "Need" means just that- need of food, of books, of clothes, of medicine. There is one relief organization in this country which concentrates in helping those students--and only one. That is the World Student Service Fund. There is only one group which participates in the W. S. S. F. Campaign: the students, faculty, and administration members of American colleges and universities.

This is a unique appeal. There are other appeals for needs just as severe--but there are other audiences to meet those needs. This appeal is our responsibility alone. If we fail, it fails.

What would that failure mean? It would mean less doctors, lawyers, engineers for countries which will not have enough trained workers for years. It would mean prejudice and ignorance in high places--because there wouldn't be enough educated men and women to go around.

Aside from all humanitarian aspects, the world can't afford to lose a single university class. We don't think America can afford to lose a class anywhere in the world. We can afford it today, yes--because we won't have to pay the price until tomorrow. But tomorrow's price may be much higher than we want to pay.

This is an era when all bonds between men in different nations are disappearing. It is vital that we preserve trained and educated men and women in every nation abroad who can work with us and understand us in the future. The World Student Service Fund offers the means for that preservation. The effectiveness of its work has been endorsed by

Continued on Page 3

Congratulations to Betty Sue Clement—that diamond is beautiful.

And have you noticed? Jim finally came through with Katie's Sigma Chi Pin. Congrats Katie, glad he made it!

You say you don't have a diamond—not even a pin? well, look no further for a solution to your problem. Just move in that suite on third floor annex with Galloway and Cookie and you've got it made. Flist Millie and now li'l Jinny Walsh is leaving us to take the fatal step, but Frank's a mighty lucky boy. Of course the question always arises why do they leave? Is it true love or "Barbara"?

You know a lot of peculiar things were happening this week end, Barbara Hawkins was so excited about going to U. Va. she forgot to pack her suitcase; Lizzie was so excited over being at W. & M. that she was even jitterbugging for the first time; Shank and Peggy were in such a hurry to get to Roanoke, they flew up; Pat and Deeb had car trouble—or rather something unusual kept them from hurry back; Jessie, Gillie, Margie and Betty had such a big week end at Virginia they came staggering home—and not under the influence of alcohol.

But the story of the week sprang from Stoops letter to the Spencer Foundation (and not for buildings) Company recommending Tucker Winn as a prospective customer. Tucker was able to save face only by a mix-up in the address when the representative came around for measurements. But will she be able to save her..... listen in next week at this same time for further details.

See Admirable Crichton

Gallop Pole

What do you think of "The Sophisticated Rat"?

Jackie Watson: Oh, that's not the question I want to answer.

Jean Watts: I think it's adorable. It adds an original new touch .

"Spot" Meyers: I swannee, I don't know!

Mary Moore Karr: It's cute, but it needs more news in it.

Milly Wilson: It gives the freshmen some much deserved publicity.

Penny Gilmer: Gosh! I don't even know what it is!

Flor Balowe: I think it's pretty snazzy!

Ginger Boyltson: I think it's very good. It gives the freshmen a chance to air their views.

Sue Strong: I think it it's nice. It keeps up with the freshman news right well.

Mary Sue Ebeling: I like it very much. It's clever, and shows the talent of its author.

Frances Davenport: To tell you the truth, I hadn't thought about it!

Pat Donally: I don't think they are very sophisticated, but I like the column.

Margaret Turner: I definitely like it.

Jane Allen: Who in the world is it?

Catherine Toxey: It's certainly different from anything I've read.

Winnie Murdock: I think it makes the freshmen feel that they are now a part of the school.

Richard McCraw: What the dickens is that?

The Sophisticated Rat

Grab that old lemon, go to the hockey games this week and yell with all you've got for the best team! What team? Why the FRESHMAN team, of course! With the Freshman team and five smoos who could possibly beat us? We've really got the pep, people, 'cause who yells the loudest? The FRESHMAN, naturally! Just a word of warning---Sophomores, beware.

It's with a proud heart that every Freshman girl received Dr. Schegel's warm consent to be sponsor of the class of '52. Everyone is sure that with such a splendid guide for the four years at STC, the class will soar to the top.

Just watch the moula roll in now that the Freshman commission has been chosen. They'll get to work and rake in the old cash for the class. Whenever you get that urge for refreshment, just make a mad scramble for the nearest commission room.

Thank you, Junior class, for the wonderful marshmallow roast you gave your little sisters on Monday night. Say, Freshmen, did you ever see a better sister class?

Don't forget to show your class spirit by buying and wearing your red hockey stick.

It looks like many a Freshman lassie is all for making "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" her permanent themesong. Just ask Connie Rice, Anne Moseley, Barbara Hawkins, Sarah Crocker, Anne Harding, Joyce Luce, Mary Crawford, Audrey Pettit, Anne Maitland, Marty Miller, Sue Highfield, or Elizabeth Urner. They'll all tell you that they had a wonderful time this past week end at the Virginia homecoming dances.

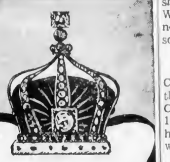
Better dash off to the hockey game now. See you color day, when off will come the treasured rat caps.

Letter To the Editor

Dear Editor,

You and many others have called the attention of the student body to the disrespectful and discourteous behavior in Thursday chapel. I should like to add a word.

On last Thursday there could be observed in the audience knitting, reading, letter writing and sleeping; not to mention the unnecessary shuffling and coughing that made it difficult to even hear the speaker much less follow her address.



Dr. Lucas brought us a message that is vital to us all. Certainly we should be concerned with something that affects the future of the human race. However, instead of giving her talk the thoughtful attention it deserved, the audience showed disrespectful boredom.

I hope not, but I am afraid that Dr. Lucas carried away with her a very poor opinion of STC.

Concerned Student

U. S. Britain making pact on nuts and bolts standards.

Navy places $32,000,000 order for Curtiss-Wright engines.

The CROWNING FEATURE of Every OCCASION

Princess Pet ICE CREAM

The next time you're having Ice Cream for your family or guests -- give them a royal treat! Serve them the new, de luxe Ice Cream packed in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality. Princess Pet Ice Cream... the richest, creamiest, most delicious Ice Cream you've ever tasted! Made only of daily fresh whole milk, daily fresh sweet cream and delicate natural flavorings -- Princess Pet Ice Cream is for those who want the very finest!

Whether you like Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry, Buttered Pecan, or the flavor of the month -- Chocolate Marshmallow Sundae -- ask for Princess Pet in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality!

TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

THE BULLETIN BOARD

The Choir will meet each Monday and Thursday night in the small auditorium at 6:40. Mr. Wakefield requests that there be no absences or tardies unless absolutly necessary.

• • •

A group singing of familiar Christmas Carols will be held in the Rotunda each day prior to Christmas holidays from 12:05 to 12:30, beginning Monday 13th. We hope the stairways and balconies will be filled.

• • •

BEORC EH THORN will meet Thursday night in the Honors Room for initiation.

World Student Service Fund Drive is to begin immediately after Thanksgiving Holidays. Since this is done by students for students in Europe, lets make the College go over top of the goal.

• • •

Next week's Rotunda will come out on Tuesday November 23 instead of Wednesday, since Thanksgiving vacation begins at 11 A. M. Wednesday, Novembe: 24.

• • •

"The Admirable Crichton" will be presented by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs this Friday night November 19, at 8:15 P. M. in the S. T. C. auditorium.

Alumnae

Continued from page 1

the class of '48.

Mrs. Ruth Coyner, Alumnae Secretary, stated that the council has high hopes of acheiving the goal of the Jarman Organ Fund within the coming year. The fund total now stands at $12,213.40, of which $7412.09 was raised this year, with an additional $1000 pledged to come in before the end of the year.

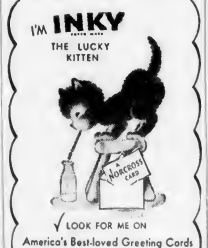
"The Alumnae are quite pleased with the success of the "Snack Bar," said Mrs. Coyner. She added that council representatives received much benefit from the meeting to carry back with them to their chapters and classes.

Dr. Schlegel

Continued from Page One

college, Dr. Schlegel had to have a major and chose history as it required less specialization than any of the other fields.

He first was at S. T. C. in 1947 at which time he ate in our dining hall. "When I saw all the pretty girls", Dr. Schlegel declared, "I told myself that this is one place my wife will never let me teach." However, Mrs. Schlegel was impressed by the friendliness of the people and had no objections to Dr. Schlegel's teaching here. Thus, this year we welcomed Dr. Schlegel to the S. T. C. faculty, and the frosh welcomed him to the class of '52 by electing him faculty classman.



"I never thought I would like another school as well as I did St. Helena," Dr. Schlegel declared, "but now I believe S. T. C. has it beat."

BOWEN Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Make—
COLLEGE SHOP
Your Headquarters
Excellent Food
Excellent Service

Flowers For All Occasions
BURG

Wilson Firestone
Metal Record Racks
$5.95
Racks $3.5
Record Hassock $24.95

Patterson

GRAYS DRUG STORE
Select your Eaton's
Stationery from Gray's

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

SPECIAL TO STC STUDENTS ONLY
Pancakes, Aunt Jemima's maple syrup, butter and coffee 20c
One Week only
SOUTHSIDE'S

Sports Corner

By LYNCH and LEE

The Monogram Club started selling hockey sticks for red and white and green and white Tuesday, and they will be on sale the remainder of the week.

• • •

Don't forget color rush Friday at 4, and the big class hockey games Saturday, November 20, at 2:15. Again the Monogramers will be selling-this time it will be hot dogs and cokes in the field house for all those who need some refreshments after all the excitement.

• • •

November 15 ended the opportunity for signing up for the archery tournament, which is to be played off Friday, November 19 promptly at 2 P. M.

• • •

Congratulations to the class hockey team captains! They are: seniors, Betty Romeo, from Ordsley, N. Y.; juniors, Patsy Ritter from Winchester, Virginia; sophomores, Anna Famulatte from N. Y.; freshmen, Jean Ridenour from Richmond.

• • •

The tennis matches are expected to be finished by Monday of next week if weather permits. Those left in the tournament are Nancy Gillie, Patsy Ritter, Ann Langbein and Jessie Pickett.

Carmichael, Pickett Head Water 'Pageant' 'Neptune' To Be There

Kitty Carmichael and Jessie Lee Pickett have been appointed the co-directors of the water pageant to be spoonsored by the H20 Club on December 16 and 17. Pat Page has been appointed head of costuming, Molly Hudson is head of the formations; Patsy Ritter is in charge of props; Phyllis Bagley is in charge of advertising and Mary Miller is head of music.

The theme of the pageant is King Neptune's Court. In it are mermaids, frogs, sharks, exhibition diving etc.

Admission to the pageant will be 10 cents.

'Y' Lines

Continued from Page 2

U. N. E. S. C. O., the Association of American Colleges, and the American Association of Junior Colleges. The records of where the money goes and what it accomplishes are available in the local W. S. S. F. headquarters for anyone who wants to see them.

Everything we give to the W. S. S. F. should be regarded as insurance, not charity. The drive starts November 29--December 3 and the goal is $700.

We urge all of you to ask all the questions you want, and to read the W. S. S. F. literature carefully.

If you do this, we won't have to urge you to contribute. You'll want to help the campaign.

Ann Owen
Chairman, Public Affairs Committee, Y. W. C. A.

Charge Account Arranged To All Organizations
J. J. Newberry Co.
For Wanted Needs

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Reach For Justrite Bread Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Juniors, Seniors Win Hockey Games As Color Rush Begins

"HAMLET"

Barter's Production Of 'Hamlet' Slated For Lyceum Dec. 2

The celebrated Barter Theatre of Virginia will present a distinguished cast, headed by Robert Breen and Jacqueline Logan, in Shakespeare's "Hamlet" in the S. T. C. auditorium on December 2, it has been announced by Dr. Lancaster. This Barter production is the 2nd of the Lyceum programs for the year.

Barter's production of "Hamlet", which will be presented on the stage of the college auditorium, with an 8 o'clock curtain, is the 200th in the 16-year history of the Theatre which was founded in Abingdon, Virginia, in 1933. Becoming a year-around theatre in 1946, Barter is in its third year as the Theatre of the Commonwealth of Virginia, during which it has played to almost half a million people in 22 states.

Cast of the play also includes Barter players Mell Turner, Ernest Borgnine, Robert Paschall, Mitzi Hyman, Ed Davis, Andy Bernard, Kieran Paschall, Josephine Parker and Jo Patterson.

Hockey Team Triumphs Again

The S. T. C. varsity hockey team defeated the Roanoke College hockey team with a score of 3-1 at the game played here Friday November 12, at 4 p. m. Miss Olive Iler and Miss Frances Ramser were officials.

In the first half of the game S. T. C. scored two goals, the first being made by Lee Robertson in the first part of the half. Frances Allen, S. T. C. varsity captian, scored the second point just before the half ended.

At the beginning of the second half the Roanoke players retaliated with a goal of their own, made by Dottie Pierce, co-captain of her team. Several times during the early part of the half the Roanoke forward line stormed the S. T. C. goal, but each time the S. T. C. backfield prevented their scoring. Once again the Farmville forward line moved down deep into Roanoke territory. After being stopped several times, Frances Allen found an opening and scooped the ball into the goal cage for the third S. T. C. goal. Despite the shortness of time the Roanoke team carried the ball down into S. T. C. territory, and after many short and long corners, the final whistle blew.

After the game the S. T. C team entertained the Roanoke team with a supper in the main rec.

Team line-ups were:

S. T. C.	Roanoke
Lee Robertson, RW	Oliver, RW
Liz Leslie, RI	Rindge, RI
Frances Allen, CF	Pierce, CF

Monday afternoon, November 15, marked the opening of our traditional color rush games. The juniors and seniors played their sister classes, freshmen and sophomores respectively.

The first game of the afternoon was the sophomore vs. senior game. About the middle of the first half the seniors carried the ball deep into the sophomores' back field; however, scoring was not an easy task, for the sophomores were determined to keep the ball out of the goal. A sneaked scoop from Lee Robertson to Mary Evelyn Miles put the ball into the goal for the first score. After the ball went from one goal line to the other, the seniors once again took possession of the ball and went on down the field to make their second goal. This was made by Mary Young. The first half ended with the seniors leading 2-0. During the second half of the game, neither team was able to score leaving the seniors victorious over the sophomores by the score of 2-0.

Following the sophomore and senior game, the freshmen and juniors began their game. During the first half the juniors scored two goals, made by Ray Phillips and Clem Allen. Toward the end of the first half it looked as if the freshmen would score but the whistle blew ending the half.

Soon after the second half began, the juniors took the ball and moved down the field for their third goal. This goal was made by Ray Phillips.

Just before the close of the second half, Clem Allen gained possession of the ball and made the fourth goal. When the game ended the juniors were in the lead 4-0.

'Y' Committees

Continued from page 1

on the committee were, Dennise Calvo, Sarah Dickinson, Anna Famulatte, Ruth Gills, Martha Hatchett, Barbara Hawkins, Molly Hudson, and Ann Kemp.

Also Romine Mahood, Betty McRee, Ann Neblett, Virgilia Pifer, Jenny Powell, Jean Ridenour, Jacqueline Roberts, Charlline Saunders, and Margaret Shelton.

Also Virginia Spencer, Irls Sutphin, Louise Temple, Marjorie Woods, Nell Dalton, Dorothy Gregory, Virginia Westbrook, Nancy Haunshell, Lucyle Humphries, and Lucy Thornhill.

Under the direction of Ann Owen the Public Affairs committee takes care of all campaigns sponsored by the "Y" on campus. This committee consists of: Jeanne Farmer, Betty Flemming, Betty Shank, and Anne Simpson.

TACT

Touring the Ozarks on their honeymoon, the young couple stopped for the night at a clapboard hotel and asked for a double room. Without comment or explanation, the proprietress led them to a large room containing two double beds.

Next morning at breakfast their hostess asked amiably, "Newlyweds, ain't you?"

They blushingly confessed they were.

"I thought so. That's why I didn't put anybody else with you in that double room."

Anna Famulatte, LI	Laughlin, LI
Mary Young, LW	Moser, LW
B. Hylton, RH	Piccot,RH
Betty Romeo, CH	Shupe,CH
Jessie Pickett, LH	Guss, LH
Patsy Ritter, RF	Parkhurst, RF
Ellen Moyar, LF	Fennie,LF
Rebecca Kelsey, G.	Miller,G

S. T. C. subs were Grimes, Ridenour, Jardine, Webb, Watson, Gravely, and Phipps. Lindner substituted for Roanoke.

Wyatt A. LeGrand
Teacher of Violin
Studio Hours 2 to 5 P. M.
Week Days
104 Main St. Phone
Farmville 569-M

Tweeds & Lotions

By George Elliott

Editors note: This week Toni declined to ken so she could get the male point of view. We waited with expectancy to see what our male populace was thinking of our daily duds but we were in for a surprise. We found that the men ken too; i. e. they're wise to the well dressed man on the campus. Read on, you'll see what we mean.

All S. T. C. girls follow "Toni Kens," by Toni Allen, for the ideas on the new look and what's new in the fashion world for the ladies. Well, men, we do have some new angles in that field.

Have you noticed that the new suits are putting an accent on broadening the shoulders? Our coats have broad, pointed lapels in the double breasted models with the one button drape.

Men's shirts have wide-spread collars which add breadth where breadth is due. French cuffs with large, bold cuff links, and the new masculine tie clasps by Swank are strictly according to Esquire.

Ties come in blazer stripes, bright knit colors, and monograms.

To be tip-top in the fashion world, they should be tied in that fashionable Windsor knot.

Our next bet is to get that O. A. O. to knit us a pair of those popular and colorful argyles. They look good with the new buckled loafers.

Corduroy jackets are ablaze in colors this year, in a variety of checks, plaids, greens and reds. They go well with odd slacks, skirts or dress flannels.

Sport coats are knocking around, and the cardigans, pullovers and turtlenecks are popular. They come in a variety of colors, so maybe we should have one to support our class colors. How about it?

French Circle Meets For Month's Program

In a meeting of the French Circle, held at 4:00 Tuesday afternoon in the audio-visual room of the library, Miss Yvette Ancey prepared and presented a very entertaining program. The meeting was opened by a song entitled "Le Temps A Fait Battre Tambour." Following this the beginning French class presented a monologue "Je Me Presente" given by Lou Shaver, and a short skit "Au Restaurant" by members of the class. The beginning class also sand "Il a Tout Dit" a french folk song. A poem, "Salson Preferee" was then read by Jacqueline Eagle a member of the advanced class. The advanced class then pantomined a song entitled "Au Clair de la Lune". Three members of the Modern French literature class, Betty Spindler, Helen Hardin, and Dalila Agostini, gave respective exposes on Andre Maurois. The entire group sang French Christmas songs following this, and the meeting closed with the customary singing of "La Marsielles".

Methodist Plan For Conference

Other Churches Have Busy Week

By MILDRED CARTER

On the week end of November 6-7, a Chartered bus took H-S and S. T. C. representatives to the Statewide Methodist Student Conference at Natural Bridge. Now Methodist students are again preparing for another statewide conference which will be held December 4-5 at Farmville, Va. Their theme will be "Making the Most of Life in Today's World".

Dr.-Marvin W. Schlegel spoke Sunday night November 14 at the Canterbury Club's fellowship hour, on the topic, "How Christinity Has Affected History".

Vocational Emphasis Week was sponsored November 8 through 13 by the Baptist Union. Morning devotionals were given each morning at 9:30 over WFLO. Discussion groups were at 5 each afternoon in the Baptist Student Center. Baptist students are also planning their Thanksgiving Sunrise Service for Sunday, November 21.

Father McCarthy (or as the girls say "Father Mac") has been coming up on each alternate week and making talks to the Newman Club on different phases of their religion. Mass continues to be held in the small auditorium each Sunday morning at 11 except on fourth Sundays when it is held at 9.

Westminister Fellowship sent several representatives to Roslyn this past week end, Nov. 13-14, to the interdenominational and interracial meeting there.

An interdenominational meeting was held at the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond this week end Nov. 12-13 which was spon.ored by the Va. Council of Churches. Its theme was "The Christian Alternative to World Chaos"; and such world renowned personalities as Eddy Asirvatham, from India and professor of Christian International Relations at Boston University, Walter H. Judd, U. S. Congressman from Minnesota, and Reginold Sorenson, member of British Parliament, were speakers there. Some of our Methodist students and representatives of the "Y" attended the meeting.

STC Hour Presents 3 Foreign Students

Ann Galloway, head of the radio committee, has announced that Miss Eason, assistant to the S. T. C. dean of women, will interview three of the foreign students enrolled here at 4:30 Thursday over W. F. L. O. "S. T. C. Hour." These students will compare the differences in college life here and in their native countries.

Ada Robles, a senior will tell of the school life in Puerto Rico. Yvette Ancey, a graduate student who aids in the French department and teaches Latin, will represent France. Jacqueline Jardine, president of the Freshman class, will tell of life in England. Katherine Bondurant will serve as student announcer.

Home Ec Club Plans Activities For Year

At the regular meeting of the Home Ec. Club held last week in the Y Lounge with Gwen Cress, president, presiding, plans for club activities this year were made.

In December the Home Ec Club will sponsor a Proctor and Gamble demonstration on baking. In January the group will visit the furniture store. February's plans include a Valentine party, and in March the club will hear a lecture on the world situation. In April, flower arrangement will be studied and the year's work will end with a picnic in May.

After the business of the meeting was discussed refreshments were served.

It's Knitting Time!

Knit Those Christmas Gifts Now and Save Money. We Have a Complete Line of Redheart Wool and Knitting Books

The Hub

Farmville, Va.

Aiming To Please
Do It With Ease

Phone 181 Night 4

COLLINS

MARTIN THE JEWELER

Select your silver at Martins

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Corduroy Jackets and Sweaters Just Arrived

VERSER'S

We strive to please

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

WFLO

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

870 on your dial

Continuous Quality Is Quality You Trust

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Bottling Company

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

See 'Hamlet'

The Rotunda

Contribute To WSSF

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 1, 1948 | No. 9

Commission Names Livesay, Ridenour Two Top Officers

Crocker, Kellogg Take Other Posts

Freshman Commission at its first regular meeting Monday night, November 29, elected Shirley Livesay president of the group.

Jean Ridenour was elected vice-president; Sara Crocker, secretary; and Jane Lee Kellogg, treasurer.

Betsy Gravey, president of the outgoing Freshman Commission, extended an invitation to the new group to spend next week end at Longwood as guests of the 1947-48 Commission.

Freshman Commission is a group of twelve girls elected from the freshman class to serve as a linking body between the Y. W. C. A. and the freshman class.

STC-H-SC To Give Christmas Concert

Choir, Glee Club Plan Joint Program

The annual joint Christmas concert of the State Teachers College Choir and the Hampden Sydney Glee Club assisted by the Madrigal Singers of S. T. C. will be given in the S. T. C. auditorium Sunday, December 12 at 8 P. M.

The College Choir will sing A Ceremony Of Carols by Benjamin Britten directed by Mr. Ralph Wakefield.

Benjamin Britten was born in England in 1913. His most recent opera is "Peter Grimes." He has gained fame as a composer for films, stage and radio plays

The Hampden Sydney Glee Club will sing Lo! How A Rose, Adoramus Te, Break Forth, O Beautious Heavenly Light, Angels O'er The Fields, Christmas Hymn, and Halleujah Chorus.

The selections will be directed by Mr. and W. A. Cline, director of the Glee Club.

The S. T. C. Madrigal Singers will offer. The Sheperds' Christmas Song by M. J. Lewoss, Sleep, Sleep Beauty Bright by J. Meredith Tatton; and the group's own arrangement of Silent Night.

These groups will join in singing O Holy Night (Cantique pour Noel) by Adolphe Adam, arranged by William Dessler.

The program will close after a group singing of familiar carols led by the choirs.

Accompanists will be Puckett Asher of S. T C. and Carter Coghill from Hampden-Sydney.

STC Students Invited To Hear Mr. Tarplee

The Rev. C. C. Tarplee, of Zion Church, Charles Town, West, Virginia, will speak at the Johns Memorial Church Sunday morning, December 5, at eleven o'clock. The sermon will be broadcast over WFLO.

The Rev. Mr. Tarplee was an amateur boxer and wrestler in col-

Continued on Page 5

Notice

The regular Tuesday Chapel will be held in the little auditorium hereafter, instead of in the Episcopal Church, it has been announced by Helen Connelly, Chapel Chairman. The Rev. John Myers will be the guest speaker on Tuesday, December 7. Students are reminded that chapel starts promptly at 10:15.

Barter Will Present 'Hamlet' Here December 6 as Lyceum

One of the most important events of the year awaits S. T. C. when, on Monday, Dec. 6 the famous Barter Theatre of Virginia presents its entirely new production of Shakespeare's immortal "Hamlet" in the auditorium of the college.

Directing the play and appearing in the title role is a young man who has himself become one of the most important people in the world of the theatre—Mr. Robert Breen, the executive secretary of The American National Theatre and Academy in New York.

Other members of the cast include the cream of the Barter Theatre's acting company, which last year toured twenty-two states and has played to almost half a million people in two seasons on the road. With these will be Jaccqueline Lorgan stage and screen star who came out of retirement to accept the role of Hamlet's mother Gertrude in the greatest of Shakespeare's tragedies. Miss Logan was an early motion star who played opposite John and Lionel Barrymore, Clive Brook, Walter Pidgeon, Lon Chaney, Richard Dix and many other famous leading men. She played Mary Magdalen in Cecil B. DeMillie's epic film on the life of Christ. "The King of Kings," one of the great movies of all time. Another performer in the Barter production of "Hamlet" is the noted characted actor Leo Chalzel, who last season had the role of Hugo Kalmar in Eugene O'Neill's much-discussed Broadway play, "The Iceman Cometh." In "Hamlet" he has the role of Polonius who, you remember, tells his son Laertes: "This above all, to thine own self be true . . . . . "

You will be interested in seeing how this particular scene is handled in the play, by the way, because "Hamlet" has been approached as if it were a "new play," never before produced. This is not to say that the full beauty and depth of Shakespeare's masterpiece has been tampered with—it has not. But the entire production, direction, action, costuming lighting, has undergone skillful interpretation for modern audiences.

For example, the opening curtain rises not on a gloomy watch on the ramparts for the ghost of Hamlet's murdered father—but on a gay and riotous party in which the new king, Claudius, and Hamlet's mother participate. The idea is, of course, to show immediately the decadence of the Danish court under the murder-

(Continued on page 4)

Fisher To Speak For WSSF Drive

Lecturer To Come From Sweet Briar

Dr. Edgar J. Fisher, visiting professor in the division of social studies at Sweet Briar College, will speak in Assembly Thursday concerning the World Student Ser-

Editor's Note: Dr. Fisher is the second speaker to come to us from Sweet Briar. Please, fellow students, let's not have him go back to college to confirm the opinion Dr. Lucas must have—that S. T. C. students are rude, inattentive and an abominable audience. The Rotunda is calling upon each of you to rise to the occasion and make our Thursday assembly exemplary to anyone in attentive conduct. The reputation of the student body depends on us to do our best in assembly tomorrow. Don't let S. T. C. down!

vice Fund. He has been a member of the Executive Committee of the W. S. S. F. for a number of years.

Dr. Fisher is a graduate of the University of Rochester and received his master's degree at the same institution. From Columbia University he received his Ph. D. in history and political science. He has written a number of articles on history, social, and religious development of the Near East.

From 1913 to 1933 Dr. Fisher lived in the Near East where he was a professor of history and political science at Roberts College in Istanbul. He was dean of the college for thirteen years. Not only did he teach but traveled in Asia Minor and Northern Egypt, Europe and the Balkens where he studied and observed the economic situations.

He was chairman of the Department of State Advisory Committee on the Adjustments of Foreign Students and secretary of the International Education Assembly. Dr. Fisher served, also, as a member of the Carnegie Endowment Commission to Study the Organization of Peace, the International Committee of the Y. W. C. A. and numerous professional societies.

On May 10, 1948 he was appointed to his present position at Sweet Briar College.

English Poetess Will Lecture Here

Artist To Speak On December 10

Mrs. Phyllis Taunton Wood, British poet and artist, will lecture before the S. T. C. student body Friday night, December 10, at 8:15 P. M. in the large auditorium. She will give a reading from living English poets, including her own work.

The wife of Sydney H. Wood, leading English educator, Mrs. Wood has gained recognition as an artist as well as poetess. After studying art in the years preceding the last war, she gave her first exhibition including oils, water colors, and wood engravings in 1945 in Salisbury. Combining her talents, Mrs. Wood has published some of her poems handpainted and illustrated with wood engravings, among them, "Prayer of an Artist", "Four Gates", "A Christmas Candle", "Pilgrims Exlixir", and "Dark Valley". Other of her poetic publications include "The Heavenly Vision," an anthology, "So Farewell Captain Waskow"; and "A History of the Book".

Mrs. Wood will arrive at S. T C. Thursday, December 9, and she will probably speak to some of the English and Art classes. The college was able to engage Mrs. Wood through the Institute of International Education. Her visit here is in charge of Beore Eh Thorn, local honorary literary society.

Library Features Oils by Mrs. Lemen

An exhibit of Janice Speer Lemen's oil paintings will be in the Browsing Room of the college library, November 22 through December 19.

Mrs. Lemen has studied in many art schools and is now Assistant Professor of Fine Arts, State Teachers College, Farmville. She graduated from the Southeast Missouri State College with the B. S. in Education Degree in 1936. Also, she received the M. A. Degree in 1944 from George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tennessee. Her works have been exhibited in the competitive

Continued on Page 4

Methodist Students Hold Conference Here December 4-5

Eleven Colleges To Send Delegates

The Methodist Students at STC and H-S are to be host to a Student Conference the next week end, December 4-5.

That week end students from colleges all over the State of Virginia will be represented. Some of the colleges sending students are Mary Washington, Madison, W. and M., VPI, University of Virginia, Randolph Macon, Emory and Henry, University of Richmond and others.

A varied program is being planned around the theme MAKING THE MOST OF LIFE IN TODAY'S WORLD. Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, the Rev. John Myers and others will be guest speakers. Two movies, ONE WORLD OR

Continued on Page 3

Christmas Fiesta To Be Held Dec. 3

Jackson, Ancey Head Committees For Joint Party

The annual Christmas Fiesta given by the French Circle and Spanish club will be held on Friday night, December 3 from 8 o'clock until 10 o'clock in the Rec. Tickets for this party are being sold by the French club for 25c. All students are cordially invited to attend this gala and festive event.

The program for the party is being written and directed by Miss Yvette Ancey, Maria Jackson, Ada Robles, and Dalila Agostini. It will consist of French and Spanish Christmas carols and skits portraying a typical French and Spanish Christmas celebrations.

Owen, WSSF Chairman Urges Student Support Of Campaign on Campus

Committee Asks Funds of Students

Contributions to the World Student Service Fund Campaign here, which opens on Nov. 29-Dec. 4, will directly benefit university students and teachers in war devastated nations all over the world, Ann Owen, WSSF Campaign Committee Chairman said.

"The World Student Service Fund, only national organization pledged to give aid to university people in all parts of the world regardless of race, color, or creed, is working today in Europe, China, and Southeast Asia."

The WSSF is the American representative of World-Student Relief. All the "relatively prosperous" nations of the world have similar national committees to raise funds for student relief, said Ann.

"England and the Scandinavian countries, poor as they are, relative to us, raise more money per student for relief than the United States," the Chairman said. "Even China, which needs help in every category so badly, raises a given sum each year for aid to European students, as a token of student solidarity around the world."

Students abroad have inaugurated and are carrying on ingenious and comprehensive self-help programs, Ann stated. Mimeograph cooperatives in universities throughout Europe and Asia are reproducing the textbooks destroyed in the war; student laundries, shoe repair shops, restaurants, banks, have been created by the students themselves.

"They look to us for the things they cannot possibly produce themselves." "They need things like X-ray machines, so that they may find out what percentage of their number are tubercular; microscopes; mimeograph machines for the cooperative publishing units—the equipment they simply cannot get anywhere but here."

The Committee Chairman pointed out that the World Student Service Fund appealed only to college and university groups in this country, and that it constituted the only American source of help to university groups abroad.

"For that reason, I want to urge everyone at S. T. C. to give as much as he can to the WSSF when the drive starts," Ann Owen said. "When we give to the WSSF, we are helping our own colleagues —and we are the only group in this country to help them."

A. A. U. W. Speaker

SENATOR BATTLE

AAUW Talk Series Ends This Friday

Edwards Will Give Concluding Speech

Senator John S. Battle spoke in the College auditorium last night at 8:30 p. m. He was the second of the three candidates for the office of governor of Virginia, to visit Farmville, sponsored by the local chapter of the American Association of University Women. Col. Battle spoke on the educational situation in Virginia today and th problems incident to it.

Mr. Horace Edwards, ex-mayor of Richmond, will speak in the third of the series of non-political talks by the gubernatorial candidates in the college auditorium at 8:00 P. M., Friday December 3rd.

Felines, All Species, Call Rec Juke Box Dances 'Hep'

By JANICE SLAVIN

After the hep cats, wild cats, bear cats, stag cats, and alley cats got on the ball and had a gay ole time at the big howl, growl, and prowl Commercial Club dance given in the "Rec" a few weeks ago, the Male Student Council Association of S. T. C. headed by Stuart McGhee decided to try their luck.

This gala occasion caused quite a disturbance among the girls. They had to have dates. After all they are one of the essentials of a dance.

"Shall we lasso one?" asked the first girl.

"Can't", replied the second.

"Why?", asked the first.

"No lasso-yak, yak!!" the second calmy added.

Oh, brother! The corn was REALLY green that day! Anyway, when the night of the dance finally arrived, the dates began to arrive, too (late as usual). We take it from this that the girls found a lasso pretty quick. Every branch of the service was represented with the exception of the U. S. Navy which was probably out painting Norfolk and Suffolk "red".

At eight o'clock the guys and gals were having a grand time dancing to the music of every big orchestra in the country. Juke boxes are really wonderful, aren't they? Later things got into full swing with a snappy Paul Jones. As usual a number of people became confused in the ordeal. One character just stopped right in the middle of the affair and turned to another fellow and asked, "Hey, what the heck's going on?" The other fellow stopped to explain. This, of course fouled up everything, but after a few seconds, things again wen along smoothly.

By this time, the "Rec" was packed--people everywhere! They occupied all the chairs, the railing, the steps, the floor, and even the piano. There was a large number of stag boys as well as girls. After sizing up the situation, an announcement was made that the dance would be both girl and boy break. Everyone was in there pitching!

Since November turned the tables on the guys and gals, the hot weather was not too conducive to dancing. This made the Snack Bar a second Paradise. When one wanted a nice cold drink and a sandwich, they were six feet from it. Everything was comfortable and convenience—no tuxedos to choke the boys and no evening gowns for the girl to trip over. The idea of sox and saddles went over big. Anyone standing around could hear the enthusiastic remarks by the dancers.

The boys want to thank Miss Eason, Miss Baron, and Mrs Phillips for acting as chaperons.

Congratulations to the sponsors

Continued on Page 3

WFLO Will Present STC Variety Show

STC's weekly WFLO radio program will feature this week a variety show, according to Anne Galloway, student chairman.

The program will consist of piano selections, songs, and dancing, but as yet the selection of participants has not been completed.

On the last program Miss Eason, assistant to the S. T. C. dean of women, interviewed three foreign students enrolled here. These students Ada Robles of Puerto Rico, Jacqueline Jardine representing England, and Yvette Ancey of France discussed and compared the differences in college life here and in their native countries Katherine Bondurant served as student announcer.

Now's Your Chance

The dream of world peace is a goal common to us all. For innumerable reasons be they petty, personal, or nobly humanitarian, we all fervently hope and pray for a lasting global harmony.

But when it comes down to our individual contributions to the accomplishment of this great dream many of us are overcome with a feeling of frustration. What can I, one small nobody, unseen and unheard in the vast sea of the world's personalities, do to further the peace effort? We ask ourselves this question, and then apathetically accept defeat, not even making the effort to search for ways to make our influence felt. NOW is the time to open our eyes to the opportunity offered us by the World Student Service Fund to help shape the world into a place where we'll enjoy living.

The citizenry of the world we want to live in must necessarily be an educated and broadminded citizenry. Dr. Martha Lucas of Sweet Briar in her recent talk to us in assembly pointed out the tremendous role that education must play in the promotion of international understanding. From the smattering of higher education we've begun to receive in college, we can easily see that the promulgation of education and good will among men will be the determining factors in the achievement of peace. Then let's seize this opportunity to further the realization of our dream by giving the dollar asked of us by the World Student Service Fund.

Dining Room

We can be quiet as soon as the bell is rung in the dining hall as we have occasionally proved. Unfortunately, however, this is exceptional rather than the rule. It seems only right that college students would respond properly and immediately to the signal for quiet so that we might ask the blessing. Is there any reason rather than thoughtlessness and carelessness for the din that goes on after the door is closed and the bell rung?

Last year the rule regarding our remaining standing during the blessing was changed to allow us to be seated as soon as we entered the dining hall. This system worked fairly well, but was not re-adopted this year because it was felt that the students should show a properly reverent attitude in standing for grace. You make the noise; you must have a reason. Won't you therefore make suggestion as to how the terrible confusion can be stopped. Let the Rotunda, Miss Gleaves, and Jackie Watson know what you think, and what YOU plan to do about eliminating meal-time confusion.

V. I. P. A.

Last week representatives of 41 publications from 22 Virginia colleges met at V. P .I. for the fall convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association. This convention brought together the students who have a finger on the pulse of the state's college life; it was a meeting of alert people who make it their business to know what is going on. S. T .C. sent seven dele gates to the convention, and these girls have come back with ideas which will make our publications even better if they can put them into practice.

We were reminded over and over again that our positions on our publications were not so important as an honor but that they were all-important as a responsibility to our fellow students. We furnish a vital source of information and we are also the chroniclers of the college. We, of the Rotunda staff, want to bring out a paper every week that completely and accurately reports the activities going on here, and to this end, we have pledged our best efforts. Several weeks ago we appealed to the student body for cooperation in letting us know about club and class activities and sports. We now wish to thank you for heeding our plea, and hope you will continue to give us your support. The same old complaint still holds for lack of sports news, however. Please, if you have any suggestions let us know. Thanks a million!

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

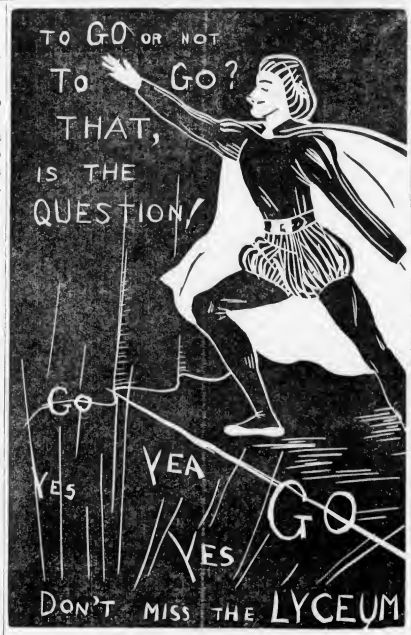
Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Lou Shelor, Elsie Love Bentley

. . . . . .

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Jean Otis Loving, Janice Slavin,
Griswold Boxley, Melbale Boothe, Betty Ferguson

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1948



PUDDIN' N' SAUCE

Variety is the spice of life they sez, so after several months of loafing and masquerading under a pseudonym here's the old chef back to stir you up a mess o' pottage every week. A word to those who are not familiar with the old column; this is intended to be a tipsy pudding made of all the little odds and ends that collect on the Rotunda's desk during the week and flavored with the spicy doings from the campus and the dorms.

Thanksgiving holidays have left us a bit "beat", but we're getting back in the old grind well—dozing through 8:05's, getting our mid-morning snack at the jam-packed Snack Bar, and staying up all night rehashing each precious moment spent with HIM. Ah, what a life—trap or no trap!

"To be or not to be"—that is the eternal question. Perhaps you've often wondered "to be WHAT", for goodness sake? Well, we hear that Hamlet himself is coming to S. T. C. to answer the question for us. "This above all" don't miss the Barter production of "Hamlet". Start planning now to be here for the play.

Ho, hum, life gits teejous, don't it? Seein' as how we're properly introduced and have had our say, there's not a bit of use in hanging 'round any longer. So long, till next week.

Let's See Hamlet

The Sophisticated Rat

Is everybody happy? (After the Thanksgiving vacation, that is.) If the answer is in the affirmative, then settle back against the nearest pole and join us for a few seconds to see what the Freshmen are reading these days.

So it looks as though the old weather man is agin us all here at STC. Anyway, as far as the Freshman and Sophomores are concerned, the too drippy skies that seem to have taken over have really upset the fateful hockey game. The question is no longer: "Will the game be tomorrow?" but instead "Will the game be this fall?"

Don't you be the one to miss out on the Student Conference that is to be held at the Methodist church this week end. You can be promised the chance of meeting "scads" of new people from colleges all over the state of Virginia.

If it is more news about more people that you want in the Sophisticated Rat, then why not make some choice morsels of musings known by dropping the written items of interest into a box that is soon to make it's appearance? This box will be labeled the "Sophisticated Rat." An announcement will be made in the very near future as to the where-abouts of this box. Don't forget, if you know something interesting about a Freshman girl, then write it down on a piece of note paper, slip it into the "Rat Box", and see what happens.

There might be some danger of your growing to that comfortable leaning post, so for safety's sake this one had best sign off for now. Be good and see you next week, same paper, same page, same column, new nonsense.

Gallop Pole

Question: "What do you think causes the atrocious behavior in assembly?"

Betty Lewis Shank: Lack of interesting programs.

Jean Hobbs: Too many people with the attitudes that they aren't going to enjoy it and they don't try.

Sally Land: Lack of interest.

Jean Hogge: I don't know, but something should be done about it.

Lynda Black: I don't think it is so atrocious! I sit up front and can't see.

Denise Love: I don't know, but I don't imagine it's very flattering to the speaker.

Beverly Smethie: Yeh, behavior!

Lois Stevens: Atrocious programs.

Rives Edwards: Inability to hear in the back.

"Jan" Slavin: Three morning classes followed by a speech makes anybody restless. Let's have more singers.

Marilyn Wheeler: Can't always hear the speaker.

Winnie Beard: Some of the programs are too long.

Norma Roady: Not enough student participation.

Lizzie Bragg: If we had speakers that talked on things we were interested in, it would help.

Frankie Dodson: I really know not.

Nancy Lee Maddox: Chapels are often too long, and we should have more student programs.

Pat Davis: It's not the thought of the speeches, it is the speakers that aren't interesting.

Ruth Walker: The previous three hours of lecture and no food since 7:15.

Catherine Johnston: My neighbors, of course!

Harriet Bowling: The noise behind me!

Alumnae News

Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner and Miss Mary Clay Hiner visited the Alumnae secretary at Randolph-Macon Womans College last week.

The Norfolk Alumnae chapter is planning a tea for the Norfolk students at S. T. C. during the Christmas Holidays. Miss Catherine Riddle is president of this chapter.

Dr. Lancaster spoke lost week at a dinner meeting of the Lynchburg chapter of the S. T. C. Alumnae Association. He said in part, "The greatest need in Virginia and in the nation today is for well-prepared teachers." He spoke of the decline of recruits and urged Alumnae to interest more quality students for the teaching profession.

Dean Gleaves spoke briefly on some of her plans for the physical and cultural development of the students.

Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, Alumnae secretary, reminded the Lynchburg chapter of their fortieth birthday next year. She also outlined the main objectives of the National Alumnae Association of S. T. C.

Letter To Editor

Ed. note: Recently Mr. J. M. Grainger, S. T. C. English professor, received the following letter from Peter Trainer, who was a student at S. T. C. last year, and who is now studying veterinary medicine in Edinburgh, Scotland. The Rotunda received Mr. Grainger's permission to publish this letter because we feel that it is of particular interest to the S. T. C. student body.

The Royal (Dick) Veterinary Col.,
Edinburgh 9, Scotland
Nov. 7th

Dear Mr. Grainger,

I've been here over a month and it surely doesn't seem like it! This is indeed a lovely city and I'm living in a lovely part of it. The college is a fine place and my opinion now that I've been here a while is that it is the premier veterinary school in the world. I do know that the professors are masters in their fields, and excellent teachers. I am one of four foreign students in my year, the others being from Kenya, Trinidad, and Barbadoes. Prospective students are very keen to enter this University and when I thanked the principal for giving me a place this year, he said I was indeed fortunate because he had had to pick 50 boys from 300 applicants.

We're kept very busy and, as you know, the instruction and preparation is very, very thorough. It is a rigorous course of study for the whole four years. The exams are especially searching, and though the individual questions are harder than they appear to be. I think the hard part is the large amount of work covered. One passes or fails on the one exam a year, and you may have an indication of the severity of the marking when I tell you the pass mark is 45%.

Social life is very full (too full). Monday night I had a dinner invitation and ate fully as good a meal as you would there. The house and appointments could not be approached in Virginia, I'm sure. Tues. night I went to hear a talk by Lord Warell, and Thurs. night to a dance at Princess Margaret Rose Hospital at Fairmilehead.

The vet. coll. holds a dance

(Continued on page 3)

Well, gals, ready to settle down to some steady studying now that those wonderful days of Thanksgiving are over? We were all thankful for something, but particularly, as one work-weary co-ed put it, for freedom from classes for a couple days.

There were so many representatives of S. T. C. at various football games, frat parties, etc. that it would be impossible to give all the details, cause it was party, party, party for everybody! But here are a few highlights! Congrats to Annette--another of our li'l gals engaged! Her ring is beautiful and Tom is shorely lucky.

Jane Taylor was "riding high" on The Shore--that man with the new Ford convertible wasn't hard to take!

Gris was the belle of the Sigma Chi House Saturday night while Mary Jane Stansbury was the Belle of the brawl in Hampton.

Lizzie was walking around with the proverbial star in the eye after a week end with Buddy, and Harriet had a smile for everybody even on Monday morning. Could be Jack was cause of this phenomena.

Jackie Watson and Patsy Kimbrough did things up right in New York and Philadelphia respectively. Big time!!!

But Roady was on the party to end them all - - -

That's all for now- - -

Letter to Editor

Continued from Page 2

every Sat. night, as does the University at the Union. Wednesday afternoon and Saturday are devoted to sports. The vet. coll. has 6 first teams, and I went running last week. I lasted for two miles, which was not bad at the pace set, as I've not done anything more strenuous than walk for 5 weeks. These chaps are really good, running 5 or 10 miles, the former in under 30 minutes cross-country, which is uphill a good bit. The other teams are rugby, soccer, fencing, swimming and tennis. One of my digs mates went to the north of Scotland with the Mountaineering Club this week end which I understand is great fun.

Living conditions here in Scotland are very good, as far as students in diggings are concerned. I get breakfast and night meal and 9:30 snack here, and lunch in the college; and so far have gained 8 pounds. Rationing is, however, very trying still, especially in the south of England and the Midlands, where only the basic ration is obtainable, I believe.

The news from Germany and Eastern Europe is not good and certainly not flat, but you may be surprised to know that these English and Scots, who are near the scene, are nowhere near as alarmed as the average American. They are very stable. What does concern thinking people is this Labor Government and we can only hope that they lose the 1950 elections. I shall certainly vote against them. As you will appreciate, this present life is very strange to me, and full of contrasts to carry-on on a laborless farm.

I hope you don't mind this too newsy letter; and let me assure you that this country England is not on the skids yet. With love to Mrs. Grainger,

Yrs. very sincerely,
P. E. Trainer

Present illiteracy rate is lowest on record census reports.

Eisenhower says free economy is free country foundation.

Corduroy Jackets and Sweaters Just Arrived

VERSER'S

We strive to please

It's Knitting Time!

Knit Those Christmas Gifts Now and Save Money. We Have a Complete Line of Redheart Wool and Knitting Books

The Hub
Farmville, Va.

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

YOU NAME IT!

This week we are introducing a new sports column, but we lack a name for it, and we need your help. If you have any suggestions, please give them to Betty Spindler or Winnie Beard. The person submitting the best title will be given a movie ticket or a banana split.

Please hand in your suggestions by Monday night, December 6. Hope you like the new column.

Basketball and Volleyball season is here again and everyone interested should be getting her practices started. You have to have eight practices to be eligible to play for your class. Practice time will be posted on the Athletic bulletin board, so watch the bulletin board for this information.

The class squads will be chosen January 15 and you must have your eight practices by that time to be eligible to play. You have plenty of time to get your practices in, so don't wait until the last minute. Your class needs your help—don't let them down.

The Varsity basketball squad will be selected the week of December 13. That means there will be tryouts Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of that week. Don't forget these days if you are interested in playing basketball and want to play on the varsity squad.

The annual swimming meet will be held February 21 and 28. Don't forget to get your practices so that you will be eligible to help support your class and class color. Points will be given toward the color cup and you do want your color to win!

It seems as if the weather man doesn't want us to have our hockey games and color rush. These have been postponed again but will be played as soon as the weather permits.

The tennis and archery tournaments also have been postponed and they will be played as soon as the weather permits.

Have you noticed the table of free literature in the reserve book room of the library? There you can find books and pamphlets, and you can have as many as you like.

A number of new ones are received each day, so go in and take some— they are free.

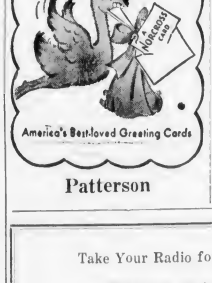
Mr. Tarplee

Continued from page 1

lege days, and a Naval chaplain during the recent war. "He comes to us from one of the most outstanding dioceses of W. Va., and will surely bring an inspiring message to us," said John Alfriend, who president of the Episcopal Canterbury Club and also a member of the Rev. Mr. Tarplee's parish. All students are invited to hear his address to the Canterbury Club in the home of Rev. and Mrs. O. Worth May, Sunday evening at eight o'clock.

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Make—



COLLEGE SHOP

Your Headquarters

Excellent Food
Excellent Service

Flowers For All Occasions

BURG

Patterson

Wilson
Firestone

Metal Record Racks

$5.95

Racks $3.50
Record Hassock $24.95

GRAYS DRUG STORE

Select your Eaton's Stationery from Gray's

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to

ENNIS RADIO SHOP

SPECIAL TO STC STUDENTS ONLY

Pancakes, Aunt Jemima's maple syrup, butter and coffee 20c

One Week only

SOUTHSIDE'S

'Dance Day' Symposium

Orchesis Plans 'Dance Day' For Neighboring High Schools

Orchesis, local dance society, will entertain students from three neighboring high schools with a "Dance Day" symposium next Tuesday, December 7.

The first presentation of this type in the State, the S. T. C. Dance Day is part of a project in dance sponsored by the State Association of Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Safety, and carried out through Dr. Harold K. Jack, Supervisor, and Mrs. E. K. Landrum, state dance chairman and assistant professor of Physical Education at S. T. C. This project, which will cover a period of at least two years, is intended, according to Mrs. Landrum, to introduce dance into more of the high schools, and it is to be accomplished by colleges opening their dance facilities to the high schools.

Cumberland high school, Worsham high school, and Farmville high school will each send about 20 girls to the symposium Tuesday, the girls being selected on a basis of interest in the arts and their athletic ability. At 9:30 A. M. the delegates will register, and from 9:40 until 11:20 they will be instructed in dance techniques. Following the lesson in techniques, members of Orchesis assisted by some students from the College dance fundamentals class will give a demonstration of the development of these techniques into dance form, leading into composition. After lunch in the Snack Bar, the students will attend a session in square dance the last feature on the symposium program. Dance Day activities will take place in the S. T. C. gym.

Sue Walker is chairman of the Orchesis committee in charge of Dance Day. Members of her committee are Robbie Cromar, Kitty Carmichael, and Jane Taylor.

Juke Box Dances

Continued from Page 1

of these two dances for providing the student body with grand evenings of entertainment. Let's stay hep kids, and have more juke box dances!!

Charge Account Arranged To All Organizations

J. J. Newberry Co.
For Wanted Needs

Methodist Conference

Continued from Page 1

NONE and GO FORTH are to be on the agenda. On Saturday evening recreation will be led in the gym by Miss Iler and a delegation of med students from Richmond will entertain the group with a musical presentation. The conference will open on Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock with a concert by the Cavalier Glee Club.

"You are cordially invited to attend in part or all of this conference," said Miss Ruth Ann Bailey, Methodist Student Secretary.

Visit us for good food and good music

THE SNACK BAR

"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Aiming To Please
Do It With Ease

Phone 181 Night 4

COLLINS

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Wyatt A. LeGrand

Teacher of Violin

Studio Hours 2 to 5 P. M.
Week Days

104 Main St. Phone
Farmville 569-M

Gift Suggestions For Women

By TONI ALLEN

There are only a few more shopping days until Christmas, so you last minute shoppers had better get busy. Here are a few suggestions that will be fairly easy on one's pocketbook. Sterling after-dinner coffee spoons, with floral handles make a forget-me-not gift. . . an assortment of candles is a unusual and inexpensive present for the couple who enjoys dinner by candlelight. . . kitchen gadgets are always appropriate for a bride . . . steak planks will make a hit with the outdoor chef. . Mother will appreciate a fine linen handkerchief, a bottle of light perfume or colonge, or her favorite cosmetics. . . Biblical stories are now being recorded for the younger set, and an album can be purchased for $2.95 from a New York concern. . . dolls, which come in a variety of sizes and prices, always appeal to little girls. . . a tray and toaster set, a miniature stove or washer would be a timely gift for Little Miss Housekeeper. . sports equipment always make a hit with boys. . . Autographed books, if you are so fortunate as to be able to get them autographed, have a strong appeal to a literary person. . . Jewelry, expensive or otherwise, makes an attractive gift. . . If you still feel that you can't quite make up your mind about what to give to that last person on your Christmas gift list, either consult a magazine, in which you will find a wealth of information or see me. Perhaps I can help you out!

Oils by Mrs. Lemen

Continued from page 1

Virginia and North Carolina Annual Art Exhibit in Norfolk, Virginia, 1947-48, and the Invitational Exhibit of Contemporary Painters in Delano, California, in which one of her paintings won Honorable Mention.

In the fall of 1947, Mrs. Lemen had an all watercolor exhibit in Farmville, Virginia, and in the spring of 1948 she sent fourteen paintings to her undergraduate college which were exhibited through the Alumni Association.

Gift Suggestions For Men

By GEORGE ELLIOTT

Now that Thanksgiving holidays are over most of us have begun to think of how few more shopping days until Christmas there are. In fact, Christmas can already be sensed in the air. We have been hearing the merry strain of "Jingle Bells" ringing around campus not to mention Bing's "White Christmas".

As Christmas draws near, you begin to worry about those problem men on our lists, while you wonder what gifts will be appropriate and useful. Here are some helpful hints from a man, on what men like and find useful. (Your Pop and brother are included in this as well as that O. A. O.)

There will be many dances and parties during the holiday season, so why not give him matching studs and cuff links?? For formal wear, pearl or gold ones are appropriate. Tie clasps, key chains, identification bracelets, or other types of cuff links, which come in a variety of styles and colors, always make a hit.

Every man likes to have a light handy when he gets out that favorite pipe or cigarette, so cigarette or pipe lighters are nice, with maybe a case thrown in to match. To make it a little more personal, and remembered forever have your initial put on with his.

Men dislike having a five o'clock shadow as much as the girls dislike his having it. To make sure your man doesn't have one, give him an electric razor, or a set of shaving essentials. This includes cream or soap, lotion, and talcum. Tip—find out his favorite brand!

These are only a few hints, but fur-lined gloves; a scarf and glove set, silk scarves, either plain or monogrammed; shirts, ties, and socks makes nice gifts. As shirts, ties, and socks are usually received though, why don't you surprise him with something different? That will make his Christmas a merry one.

Democrats fix radio budget for campaign at $750,000-$960,000.

Barter Players In 'Hamlet'

Jacqueline Logan as Gertrude and Robert Breen as Prince Hamlet in a scene from the Barter Theatre of Virginia's production of "Hamlet." This new production of Shakespeare's great drama will be presented in the college auditorium on December 6 at 8:30 as a Lyceum program.

Barter Theatre

Continued from Page One

ous new king and therefore to point up more clearly and at once the fury of Hamlet and the bitterness with which he plots the revenge of his father's recent death.

Strikingly new also, are the costumes, designed and executed by the noted decorator and designer Jed Mace of Dallas. Abandoning the sombre tones of the traditional "Hamlet", Mr. Mace has indulged in carefully blended tones that give color to every minute of the play and to every character from the blues of Hamlet's wardrobe to the nun's dress in which Ophelia enacts her famous scene of madness.

With production and lighting under the direction of Nat Karson, of Radio City Musical Hall composed by Arthur Kreutz and recorded for the performance, the Barter Theatre's "Hamlet" promised to be one of the most brilliant theatrical successes of many a season anywhere.

Booked for a tour of twelve states, "Hamlet" is brought to S. T. C. under the sponsorship of the college as a Lyceum.

MARTIN THE JEWELER

Select your silver at Martins

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

WFLO

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

870 on your dial

Impromptu Parties So Easy with Coke

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Works, Inc.

© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

"CHESTERFIELD is the cigarette I smoke in my new picture, AN INNOCENT AFFAIR. I always enjoy their MILDER, BETTER TASTE... It's MY cigarette."

Fred Mac Murray

STARRING IN AN INNOCENT AFFAIR
A UNITED ARTISTS RELEASE

Joan Gundersen ABC GIRL of Syracuse University says—

"I smoke Chesterfields because they're MILDER and better every way. They're tops with my college friends."

MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELDS than any other Cigarette... BY LATEST NATIONAL SURVEY

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Hear
Mrs. Wood

The Rotunda

Congratulations
Miss Burger

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 8, 1948 | No. 10

STC, H-SC Will Present Christmas Concert Dec. 12

The State Teachers College Choir and the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club,, assisted by the Madrigal Singers of S. T. C. will give their annual joint Christmas concert this Sunday December 12 at 8:30 p. m. in the S. T. C. auditorium. The program will be presented again at Hampden - Sydney Tuesday December 14 at 8 P. M.

The College Choir will sing A Ceremony of Carols by Benjamin Britten directed by Mr. Ralph J. Wakefield.

A Ceremony of Carols includes 10 Old English and Middle English Christmas songs. They have recently been arranged by Benjamin Britten, the well known composer of the opera, Peter Grimes. He also wrote the modern version of The Beggars Opera and he has gained fame as a composer for films, stage and radio. Some of the foremost choral groups, including college groups as well as semi-professional organizations, have presented A Ceremony of Carols.

The Hampden-Sydney Glee Club will sing Lo! How a Rose; Adoramus Te; Break Forth, O Beautious Heavenly Light; Angels O'er the Fields; Christmas Hymn; and Hallelujah Chorus directed by Mr. W. A. Cline.

The S. T. C. Madrigal Singers, led by Jean Hogge, will offer The Shepherd's Christmas Song by M. J. Lewass; Sleep, Sleep, Beauty Bright by J. Meredith Tatton; and the group's own arrangement of Silent Night.

The program will close after group singing of familiar carols led by the choirs.

Accompanists will be Puekett Asher of S. T. C. and Carter Coghill from Hampden-Sydney.

Lyceum

MRS. PHYLLIS WOOD

Mrs. Wood, Poet Will Lecture Here

Speaker To Arrive At STC Thursday

Mrs. Phyllss Taunton Wood, recognized English lyric poet and artist, will lecture on living English poets Friday night, December 10, at 8:15 p. m. in the large auditorium, for the second lyceum program to be presented by the College this week.

The wife of Sydney H. Wood, noted English educator who is also lecturing in the United States this fall, Mrs. Wood has published many of her poetical works, some of them illustrated with her own wood engravings. She is a personal friend of the poet, Walter de la Mare, and has written and lectured on his work. She studied in college with a daughter of Thomas Masaryk and was their guest in London and in Czechoslovakia.

Mrs. Wood studied art in the years preceding the last war, giving her first exhibition of oils, water colors, and wood engravings in 1945 in Salisbury. This show was regarded as "having exceptional merit."

During the first World War the poetess worked with the Y. M. C. A. Education Department in France, and in the second War as an ambulance driver in London. Mrs. Wood has been a prime mover and worker in German Education Reconstruction, a society for assisting educationists among the refugees to re-educate Germany in a democratic way of life. She has visited Germany twice since the war.

Notable among Mrs. Wood's poetic publications are "Prayer of an Artist," "Four Gates," "A Christmas Candle," "Pilgrims Elixir," "Dark Valley," "So Farewell Captain Waskow," "A History of the Book," and The Heavenly Vision, an anthology.

Mrs. Wood will arrive at S. T. C. Thursday, December 9, and she will probably speak to some of the English and art classes. The College was able to engage Mrs. Wood through the Institute of International Education. Her visit here is in charge of Beer Eh Thorn, local honorary literary society.

Dramatic Club Plans For Christmas Party

The Dramatic Club will have their annual Christmas party on Friday, December 10, at 10 p. m., in the Student Lounge.

Mary B. Smith and Jane Hunt Ghiselin are co-chairmen for the entertainment.

The entertainment will include group singing of familiar Christmas carols, and "Santa Claus will be in straight from the North pole, bringing gifts for all," said Betty House, president of the Dramatic Club.

'Record Recitals' Will Be Given Here

Beginning next Sunday, December 12, the "Browsing Room" in the basement of the library will begin to function as a music room as record recitals are going to be given every Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, Through the co-operation of Miss Emily Clark, Miss Jessie Patterson, Mr. Ralph Wakefield, and Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, all permission has been granted, and also through their help response from the students has been enthusiastic.

The recitals which are also opened to the faculty and all interested town people are not intended to be music appreciation courses but they are to be given simply to introduce more good music to the students. Familiar music will also be played.

The programs will vary in content and requests from those present will be granted inasmuch as the records available will allow. Works of Beethoven, Brahms, Chopin, Debussy, Dvorak, Franck, Greig, Grofe, Liszt, Mendelssohn, Moussorgsky, Rachmaninoff, Ravel, and Tschalkowsky, along with those of Ibert, Khachaturyan, Prokofieff, Stravinsky, and Szostakovicz and many others will be heard.

Continued on page 4

'O Holy Night' To Be Presented December 13

YWCA Sponsors Annual Pageant

The annual Christmas pageant, "O Holy Night" will be presented Monday night, December 13, immediately after supper, in the auditorium under the direction of the Y. W. C. A. Prayer committee. Carolyn Calhoun chairman of the Prayers committee, in charge of the pageant.

Participating in the pageant are Betty House as the reader Anne Joyner and Jackie Watson as angels, Andrea Adams, Joyce Adams, and Chasie Sykes as the visemen, and Jean Watts as soloist. Also Dolly Anne Freeman as the Madonna. Virginia Westbrook, Jean Gilman, Romine Mahood, and Elizabeth Winfree as the sheperds. and Billie Mullins as Joseph. Madrigals will also take part in the pageant.

This traditional Christmas pageant retelling the story of the birth of Christ is given yearly by the Prayers committee during the week before Christmas holidays begin.

Editor Announces New Staff Members After Fall Trials

Thirty students have completed their trial period for work on the Rotunda and have been accepted as staff members, Betty Spindler said yesterday. These girls are working on both the editorial and business staffs.

Jean Smith, Stuart Johnson and Joan Pritchett are the new members of the news staff. Mary Crowgey and Claudia Anderson and Dailla Agostini are working on the feature staff, with Betty Ferguson serving as editor for the Chatterbox. The social staff now lists Mildred Carter and Anne Verser. Mary Cooper Whiteside will work with Helen Arington on the art staff, and Peg Peery is working with them as staff photographer.

Anne Simpson, new typing manager, is working with Nora Pollard, Mary Minta Crowder, Molly Hudson, Marjorie Boswick, Virginia Westbrook, Connie Heather and Jean Hogge. There are also five additions to the proofreading staff, Emily Hastings, Rose Smith, Mary Helen Cook, JoAnn Yow and Barbara Brown are serving on the staff under Gladys Monk. Jean Craig, circulation manager, now has four girls helping to fold, distribute, and mail the publication each week. They are Lou Ann Mears, Shirley Irwin, Denise Calvo, and Grace Thompson, and there are also four new advertising assistants Lucy Vaughan, Claudia Anderson, Jane Grey, and Katie Bondurant.

Mr. Saunier To Talk On Government

Mr. Paul Saunier Jr., president of the United World Federalist, will speak in assembly Thursday, December 9, at 11 o'clock. He is also a Virginia journalist.

The United World Federalist is an organization for world government with limited powers adequate to prevent wars. Mr. Saunier is coming in the interest of world government.

Notice

Beginning Monday, December 13 though Friday, December 17, there will be a group singing of familiar Christmas carols in the Rotunda each day from 12:05 to 12:30, sponsored by the College choir.

"We hope to see the steps and balconies packed," said Mr. R. J. Wakefield, director of the choir.

Russ Carlton To Furnish Music For Annual Senior Class Dance Saturday Night, December 11

VIRGINIA YONCE

VIOLET RITCHIE

Commercial Club Will Give Party

Juniors In Charge Of Entertainment

The Commercial Club will give a Christmas party, Thursday, December 9, in the "Y" Lounge at 7:00.

Connie Marston is heading the program to be presented by the junior class members of the club. Rose Smith will read a poem; Janice Slavin will tell a Christmas story; and a group of girls will sing Christmas Carols.

The entertainment committee is composed of Lynda Black, Shirley Atkinson, Peggy Hughes, and Allie Grey Aitizer.

All members attending the party must bring a ten-cent gift for the Christmas exchange.

Miss Burger Heads U. S. Hockey Team

Only Virginian On National Team

Miss Elizabeth Burger, assistant professor in science at S. T. C. was seleeted recently at the National Hockey Tournament in Chicago, Ill. to play on the United States Hockey Team, and she was elected captain of the team by her teammates. This year she was the only Virginian to make the national team.

The selection of the players for the United States Hockey Team is made on the basis of play at the National Tournament, held this year November 29-28 in Chicago. The Tournament is composed of 20 of the top ranking

(Continued on page 3)

Gubernatorial Candidate Gives Interview On Pertinent Issues

By STUART JOHNSON

Interview Horace H. Edwards, candidate for governor of Virginia? This was an assignment which I had not considered getting when I joined the Rotunda staff; however it was one from which I could not withdraw. Also here was my chance to meet a distinguished citizen and to talk with him. He was scheduled to speak at the school on December 3, which gave me just two days to prepare the questions which he could readily answer. And I wanted to know something about him before I came face to face with him so as to be able to talk to him. Rushing to the library, I found little material which could help me in the bookstacks, so I went below to the newspaper racks. Knowing he had been the mayor of Richmond, our State capital, I commenced searching through the Times Dispatch. I didn't have to search far, though, for in each paper I picked up there was an article on the exploits of Horace Edwards. Born in Isle of Wight County, he attended a little four room school at the courthouse, graduating from there in 1919. He later related to me that the year he graduated they set a new record for the number of graduates—seven. He then entered the University of Richmond, graduating from the law school there in 1926. Since that time he has lived in Newport News and Richmond, serving as mayor of the latter for a two-year span. He has also taken an interest in national events, serving as State Chairman in the last election.

As I entered Dr. Lancaster's office a few minutes before time for the address on the evening of December 3, I was a little bit shaky, but the welcoming smile on Mr. Edward's face put me at ease and I knew I would get along with this man. And I did have. Dr. Lancaster there to help me. After we were introduced, I faced him with the question concerning most of the students here at the college.

"What do you think in relation to the pay of school teachers," I asked- I have already stated my policy on that he replied, "I think the minimum salary for a qualified (with a degree) school teacher should be $2400 per year, with a maximum salary of $3400 per year," he replied. He then related to me that when he came into office as mayor of Richmond, two years ago, the average salary of the school teacher in that city was $1320 per year, and since then it has been increased through the passing of his budget by the city council, to a maxi-

Continued on page 4

Yonce, Ritchie To Lead Figure

Miss Virginia Yonce, honorary classman of the Senior Class, will return to STC to lead the Senior Class figure with Violet Ritchie, president of the class, at the Senior Dance being given on Saturday night, December 11 from 8 to 12 in the STC gymnasium. Russ Carlton's orchestra from Danville, Virginia will furnish the rhythm for the dance which has as its theme "Star Dust."

The receiving line will consist of Dr. and Mrs. Dabney Lancaster; Dean and Mrs. William Savage; Miss Ruth Gleaves; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Brumfield; Mr. Raymond French; Violet Ritchie; Betty Jefferson, vice-president of the Senior Class and general chairman of the dance; Anne Robinson, secretary; Ann Snead, treasurer; and Virginia Yonce.

Chaperons for the dance will be Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Schlegel, Miss Elizabeth Burger, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Moss, Mrs. Caroline Eastham, Miss Eva Warren, Miss Vera Baron, Miss Olive Iler, Miss Virginia Wall, Miss Caroline Eason, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wakefield, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Graham, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McCorkle, and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Landrum.

Seniors serving on committees are Gwen Cress, chairman; Martha Hatcher; Frances DeBerry, and Phyllis Bagley for decoration; Mary Towles Waldrop, chairman, and Betty Jordon for music; Grace Mallory, chairman, and Jane Taylor for figure; Betty Romeo, chairman, and Dot Daniel for tickets; Mary Cooper Whiteside, chairman, Muriel McBride, Pat Page, Eula Arycs, Ann Orgain, and Helen Owens for publicity; Nancy Jessee for program; Lee Robertson, chairman, Elaine Owens, Jackie Bobbitt, and Ruth Tillet for cleanup; and Jackie Watson, chairman, Adelaide Cobie, Betty Tilson, "Tootsie" Hamilton, Gwen Smith, and Ruth Radogna for floor committee.

Members of the sister class, the sophomores, will serve on the door committee, and the Freshman Commission will sell cokes and cookies during the intermission. The figure will begin at 10 o'clock.

There are still some tickets available for the dance and any student wishing to purchase one may see Betty Romeo. The price of the tickets, including tax, is $2.40 date, $1.80 stag.

Students are reminded that only the seniors are to wear white.

Student Body Elects Senior Personalities

Election of Senior Personalities was held yesterday, December 7, in the main hall. These elections, sponsored by The Virginian are held annually, and the results will not be made public until the annual comes out in the Spring. The thirteen girls who were listed on the ballots are Laura Jean Comerford, Gwen Cress, Dot Daniels, Anne East, Jane Fox, Jesse Pickett, Violet Ritchie, Lee Robertson, Marjorie Miller, Betty Jefferson, Martha Gillum, Betty Spindler, and Jane Taylor.

Brickbats . . .

. . . to you for being so—so—so—, well, you-know-what in the Dining Hall. We are doin gour best to get some mealtime peace and harmony, but the inmates of Bedlam itself wouldn't be harder to work with. Whether it be thoughtlessness or just plain unadulterated general cussedness on the students' part has yet to be discovered, but whatver the cause, sound reason is not behind it. It is a well known fact that meals eaten in the midst of discord and an uproar are not properly digested.

SHUT UP! when the bell is rung for the blessing and keep quiet during the meal. On bended knee we beg you, and if you don't heed our plea then we hope you get a call down. So there!

* * * *

. . . to you for not being more careful with cigarettes. Don't forget the smoking rules when you are in the halls, the auditoriums, or the gym.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wedneseday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Jean Smith, Joan Prichett, Jean Otis Loving

* * * * * * * * * * * *

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Janice Slavin, Mary Crowgey, Dalia Agostini
Betty Ferguson ..... Chaterbox Editor

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Anne Lynch

Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Patsiy Grandy, Mildred Carter, Anne Verser

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor
Mary Cooper Whiteside

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Anne Simpson ..... Typing Manager

Business and Editorial Assistants
Nora Polaird, Mary Crowder, Molly Hudson, Marjorie Boswick, Virginia Westbrook, Connie Heather, Jean Hogge.

* * * * * * * * * * * * *

Gladys Bonk ..... Chief Editoral Assistant
Edna Earle Waters, Ruth Radogna, Emily Hastings, Mary Helen Cook, Barbara Brown and Rose Smith.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1948

Orchids . . .

. . . to you for the way you conducted yourself in helping to keep assembly quiet last Thursday. There was almost a one hundred per cent improvement shown in the past weeks. See what can be done when each person does his or her share to "keep the peace." The watchbird watching YOU was well pleased. Let's keep him smiling this week and every week from now on. How about it?

* * * *

. . . to the Dramatic Club for the curtains on the stage in the large auditorium. The whole appearance of the stage is much improved by the fresh new blue of the hangings which you had dyed for us. The Rotunda wishes to speak for the students in expressing thanks for the effort and expense the Dramatic Club went to to "perk up" the looks of the auditorium.

* * * *

. . . to you students for the enthusiastic attendance at the Lyceum Monday night. You proved to the college that giving us cultural opportunities in the form of Lyceum programs is well worth while. But wait, don't sit back on your complacency at compliment number 1—there's another test. Friday night there's another college sponsored program. Mrs. Phyllis T. Wood is going to speak to us on English poetry. We hear by the grapevine that she's very good and not a bit stuffy, so we're expecting to see all your bright and shining faces fill the auditorium to hear her readings.

PUDDIN' 'n' SAUCE

"The play's the thing" and we're still under the spell of it. Would there be a worthy critic in the house from whom we could have obtained a good review for this issue. Since there doesn't seem to be such a person on our campus you'll just have to take the Rotunda's word for it—the Barter production of "Hamlet" was superb! The State of Virginia is indeed fortunate to have such a company to bring the theater arts to all the people.

The title of "Most Studious" this week must go to Harriet Steele .We hear she was studying so diligently in the library Monday night that she didn't hear everyone else leave, and consequently, was locked in. How does it feel, Harriet, to be all alone with so much knowledge and not a soul to interrupt you by whispering or popping gum?

Are you planning to drive home for the Christmas holidays? If you are, this is just a bit of advice to keep in mind — Drive carefully, we want you back after Christmas. The Rotunda is joining hundreds of other college papers in urging safe driving over the holidays, because a large percentage of the traffic accidents are caused by student drivers. We don't want to lose a single S. T. C. student, so don't forget to remember—Be careful!

As Senior Dance week end comes closer —and Jackie Watson checks off "the three most important dates" one by one—we're getting more and more excited. In fact, we're so excited we don't know what to write about next. Will you excuse us please if we stop right now? Thank you!

Senior Dance

Gallop Pole

Question: In your opinion, what is the economic importance of the "shmoo"?

Jean Cake: Something new for the dining room to try out?

Claudia Anderson: Makes life interesting (?)

Kitty Carmichael: I have no idea.

Helen Connelly: I think they would be wonderful Xmas gifts.

Jackie Jardine: It's "shmooth."

Lynda Black: They make good income tax dependents.

Helen Casey: They "do make it nice."

Hilda Edwards: It's morale boosting!

Nancy Cook: If you belonged to the "Shmoo" Club, then you'd know, too.

Helen Holbrook: It builds up a gal's morale!

Millie Carter: Guess one inspiration at STC.

Nancy Hounshell: Seems to be good for almost anything!

Kathryn Rhodes: They're better than Santa Claus!

Elizabeth Urner: Might help you to pass (I hope).

Edith Saunders: Where did you get that question?

Jean Watkins: Seems to be a big help to the people in Dogpatch.

Mary Lee Noell: They should take them to lower Slobbovia!

Nancy Watts: To be the mascot of green and white .

Mary Minla Crowder: I wish they'd bring me something good.

Jeanne Gilman: Bet they set the traps in life!

The Sophisticated Rat

Whether through hail and brimstone or quatantine and spray guns, the Sophisticated Rat goes through to make its harrased appearance on second page Rotunda. Three cheers! It made it again.

From every Freshman goes and hale and hearty congratulations to the Sophomores for winning the conveted hockey game last Wednesday. There could never be a class that the Freshman would rather be in friendly competition with.

While speaking of the hockey game, Freshman, there is only ten more days to wear the Rat caps. Show your class spirit by not failing to don them every morning. Will you do it? Sure you will!

If there is a doubt as to whether the minds of the Freshman girls are functioning properly, remember that the tension and excitement is due to the forth coming senior dance. Ask Lucyle Humphries and Dolores Hoback if it isn't people like Jackie Woodward who make the old world happy.

Liz Lesslie managed to get her tickets for senior dance. Since Liz is in the same financial shape that the whole class is in these days, her date should feel honored that this one Yankee belle (doesn't fit, does it?) managed to scrape up filthy moola to plunk down for tickets. What the freshman class needs is some benevolent philanthropist.

Thre is little use in trying to pull Nancy Walker down from out of the clouds this week. Dave is coming Friday and until then, the only way to engage her in conversation is to use mental telepathy.

Perhaps Maria Jackson won't make Vogue or Harper's Bazaar with her newest creation in college attir, but at any rate she really came out in an original outfit the other night. Just ask Mrs. Hamner what a row the garb created on second floor Main. It might be that Maria could be persuaded to make a special showing of the "latest fashion" at the next class meeting. Why not ask her about it?

It looks like Jean Ridenour and Phyllis Tyree are forever more against wiggling neon fish signs and going around in circles. Was it luck or purpose that they made it by 10 o'clock? Anyway, more fun!

Bye, now, and better be good 'cause Santa Claus is coming to town!

"Y" Lines

The World Student Service Fund lacks only $38.73 from making its goal. All the pledges have not been turned in, and the committee is hoping that the goal will be met when all contributions are in. If the goal is not met the drive will be re-opened for one day in an effort to reach the set goal of $700.

The World Student Service Fund committee wishes to express its' appreciation for the cooperation and generous giving of the students, faculty, and organizations.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor:

Since the Senior Dance is nigh at hand I should like to suggest that the rest of the Student Body lend a helping hand to the Seniors, with their decorations and especially the "clean-up". You would be surprised how quickly the work gets done with everyone helping. The Seniors need all the help they can get because they can get because they are hoping to have the best dance ever. This dance is not just for them but for the rest of the students as well. So lets get behind them and make this the best Senior Dance of them all.

A Senior

Alumnae News

Mrs. Thomas J. Starke, formerly Maria Bristow, of "Rustum," River Road, Richmond, Virginia, was a visitor to the College on Thursday, December 2. She is the national president of the Farmville Alumnae Association.

* * * *

The Newport News Alumnae Chapter is planning a subscription bridge party in February.

* * * *

Miss Helen Costan, president of the Lynchburg Alumnae chapter, is in the University hopsital for a minor operation.

When you ask what's cooking at STC, don't forget that every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 3.00 the joint is really jumping! I mean at "Recess in the Rec," of course. If you're talented you can really cash in on those wonderful prizes. So come down and join in the fun. Everybody welcome! Sponsored by WSVS for us gals.

* * * * *

STC was well-presented at the H-SC basketball game Saturday night. Nock was particularly happy. Could have been 'cause Pat was with her. And Bob H. likes to make all the little girls happy—doesn't like to leave the roommate out!

* * * *

There doesn't seem to be any strain getting gals to go to Camp Pickett—and you may meet some old friends, hey Suzie? And W. and L. was jumping too. Galloway, Harriet, Peggy, Marjorie M. and particularly Jane Taylor love it! How's "Unk" and the lady friend, Jane?

* * * *

The Presbyterian supper at Hampden-Sydney went over big. From all reports everyone had a fine time.

* * * *

Everybody is looking forward to Senior Dance this week end—especially Sue Walker since Jack is coming up! And the Admirable Crichton is making an appearance — with Jean Smith this time for another big performance.

* * * *

We ought to really have some big news after this week end—specially since this one has been

Continued on Page 5

Corduroy Jackets and Sweaters Just Arrived

VERSER'S

We strive to please

It's Knitting Time!

Knit Those Christmas Gifts Now and Save Money. We Have a Complete Line of Redheart Wool and Knitting Books

The Hub
Farmville, Va.

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

Miss Burger

Continued from Page 1

amateur teams from 6 sections of the country.

In order to play in the nationals Miss Burger participated in the state and regional tournaments, the Virginia State Hockey Tournament held in Williamsburg November 6-7, and the Southeast Tournament held in Baltimore, Md. during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Miss Burger plays the position of goalie on the Richmond Club team. When she was chosen this fall by the selection committee to be on the Virginia Hockey team, she was elected captain of that team. Later at Baltimore she was chosen to and elected captain of the Southeast Team.

In 1935 Miss Burger represented the United States Field Hockey Association in a tour of the Southern States, and in 1939 she joined the United States Hockey Team in a tour to the British Guiana, and Trinidad. This team held the best record in international play of any team sent out that year from the U. S. Last year Miss Burger made the United States Reserve Team.

The United States Hockey Team will make its next overseas tour in 1950 to the International Field Hockey Conference, which is being held at Johannesburg, South Africa.

At the conclusion of the recent National Tournament in Chicago The United States Team played the United States Reserve Team in an exhibition game, which the former won with a score of 1-0.

Chatter Box

Continued from Page 2

so slow. Everybody's saving up! So listen in for the latest developments.

SPORTIN' AROUND

Thee Rotunda is proud to announce that Sara Wilkinson is the winner of the "You Name It" contest. A banana split for "Sportin' Around" to you, Sara.

Basketball and volleyball practices are being held now. You can come to any practice that is posted on the athletic bulletin board. Be sure and get your eight practices in before the 15th of January as that is the deadline.

There will be no more Saturday night recreational swimming. Don't forget there will be recreational swimming at 4:30 on Mondays and Fridays.

Don't forget the swimming meet February 21 and 28. Get your practices in before that time so you will be eligible to swim for your class. Points will be given toward the color cup.

The archery tournament has been postponed until spring.

The tennis tournament will be held before Christmas, that is if the weather is permissible. Nancy Gillie, Patsy Ritter, Anne Langbein, and Helen Agnew will play in the semi-finals.

Class games will be played in March. Points will be given toward the color cup, so get your eight practices in before January 15.

Varsity tryouts will be held Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of the week of December 15. Some of the games scheduled are with Roanoke College—there; William and Mary; Madison—there; Panzer Phys. Ed. of East Orange, New Jersey—here; and Bridgewater.

Watch the A. A. bulletin board for scheduled practices of basketball and volleyball.

Basketball practices are being held on Tuesday and Thursday at 2:45, 3:45, and 4:45 and on Wednesday at 4:45.

Volleyball practices are on Tuesday and Thursday at 1:45 and on Monday and Wednesday at 3:45.

The H20 Club has been working very hard on the water pageant which is to be December 15 and 16. The theme of the pageant is King Neptune's Court. Admission to the pageant will be 10 cents. If you want to see mermaids, frogs, sharks, exhibition diving, etc., don't miss this!

Red 'n' Whites Win 4 In Color Rush

The annual color rush, held Wednesday, December 1, on the A. A. Field ended with a win of four victories for red and white, one for the green and white and one tie.

Winning runners for red and white were Alice Lloyd who ran against Pansie Parham to place the red and white on Student; Jean Ridenour against Nancy Cooke for Whitehouse; Mary L. Woodward against Mary Young for Senior building; Patsy Ritter against Betty Romeo for Junior building.

The win for green and white was made by Jessie Lee Pickett, running against Molly Hudson for Library Hall. Betsy Carper and Anne Langbein tied for the rotunda.

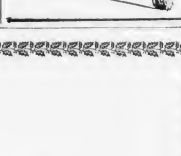
'Crichton' Receives Enthusiastic Praise

On the night of November 19, the Jongleurs of Hampden-Sydney and the S. T. C. Dramatic Club presented, under the capable direction of Miss Leola Wheeler, a four-act satire by Sir James Matthew Barrie entitled "The Admirable Crichton". Still another of a series of performances testifying to the admirable skill of Miss Wheeler's fine direction, this production was a wonderful success. Any words of praise would be insufficient to bestow upon Miss Wheeler the honor that she truly reserves for her tireless and effective efforts. The appreciation of the cast was expressed just before curtain time with the presentation of an orchid.

As for the cast, most of whom were freshmen, the entire group did very well in the performance of a play that had no real outstanding character. This performance illustrated what a cast can do as a team. It is that kind of play. Various criticisms over heard from those who saw the play bear this point out. The opinion of all seemed to agree that the play. Various criticisms overheard in that the whole cast did an acceptable job, including those who had only walk-on roles.

Wilson
Firestone

Metal Record Racks



$5.95

Racks $3.50
Record Hassock $24.95

Aiming To Please
Do It With Ease
Phone 181 Night 4

COLLINS

SINCE SEPTEMBER 20, 1948
10,408 COLLEGE STUDENTS
HAVE CHANGED TO CHESTERFIELD
THERE'S A REASON
They're Milder

Patterson

Make—

COLLEGE SHOP

Your Headquarters

Excellent Food
Excellent Service

FAMOUS BRAND GIFTS!

FOR HIM

Ronson Lighters
Cheney Ties
Hickok Belts and initial Buckles
Manhattan Shirts
Pajamas & Handkerchiefs
Gladstone Cases
ROBES
Hundred of other Usefull Gifts!

FOR HER

Evening in Paris Sets!
Slips — Gowns Pajamas
Bed Room Slippers
ROBES
SCARFS — HOSE
Lovely Angora Sweaters
Luggage —Compacts Pocket Books

All Gifts Boxed and Xmas Wrapped

Do your Xmas Shopping at

THE HUB DEPT. STORE

FARMVILLE, VA.

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to

ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Buy Quality Gifts this Xmas from Farmville's

The House of Quality

DAVIDSON'S

NEWBERRY'S

Flowers For All Occasions

BURG

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Visit us for good food and good music

THE SNACK BAR

"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Horace Edwards

Continued from Page 1

mum of $2100 and a maximum of $2400. "What do you think of the sales tax issue," I asked? "It is a last resort measure," he replied, "but we have come to the last resort."

Knowing that he had served as State Chairman for the Democratic Party, I saved one important question to the last. What do you think of the election, I asked? He replied, "I was very pleased that Truman was re-elected, and exceedingly pleased that the two-party system survived."

The interview seemed to be over, but with still a few minutes left before time for his speech, I sat and listened to him and Dr. Lancaster discuss the situation in Virginia. Mr. Edwards advocated raising the level of public health and education in Virginia. He also expressed the desire that more voices be raised in local government, by saying—

"Democracy as we have known it in this country cannot survive unless local government revitalizes itself in such manner as to effectively cope with local problems and needs. The centralization of government at high levels which we deplore, will not stop unless the talents and brains of the businessman of our communities are put behind local government."

"We thought entirely too much on how much we can get from the government and too little on how much we can give to the government."

'Record Recitals

Continued from page 1

It is hoped that many students, faculty members and town people will turn out for these recitals. Programs are to be announced at each recital.

Toni kens

By Toni Allen

When a pretty girl thinks of Christmas, she thinks of gay holiday parties and new dance frocks. She thinks of mistletoe and sleighbells and a tinseled tree, of caroling and packages . . . . and herself in a gay new dress.

With the Senior Dance coming up Saturday night as a sort of pre-holiday festivity, all of the girls have become "dance frock conscious." The girls, after living in skirts, sweaters and tailored styles for so long, welcome this opportunity to dress in the most feminine manner possible.

MARTIN THE JEWELER

Select your silver at Martins

GRAYS DRUG STORE

Select your Christmas gifts from us

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

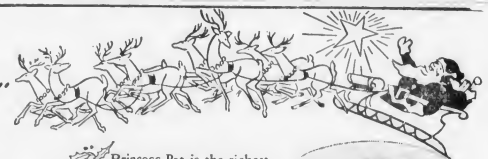
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

SOUTHSIDE'S

We have the right XMAS GIFT for him or her

WFLO

THE TALK OF THE TOWN



870 on your dial

THIS CHRISTMAS GIVE HER PRACTICAL GIFTS

Let us help you make your selections
WE GIFT WRAP FREE

DOROTHY MAY STORE

From Santa's Castle of Goodies...

Princess Pet ICE CREAM

To Make Your Holiday Parties As Festive As A Palace Ball!

Princess Pet is the richest, creamiest, most delectable Ice Cream you've ever tasted! It's made only of daily fresh whole milk and daily fresh sweet cream!

Buy Princess Pet Ice Cream at your dealer's, today! It's a real Holiday treat!

Four popular standard flavors—Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry, Buttered Pecan—and the Flavor of the Month...Royal Fruit Supreme...full of delicious Holiday Fruits!

Now 40¢ A PINT

TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

"IT'S GREAT ENTERTAINMENT"

Chesterfield SUPPER CLUB

Perry Como, Chesterfield's radio, recording, and motion picture star, teams up with lovely Jo Stafford and their new partner, pretty Peggy Lee, to make the Chesterfield Supper Club radio's outstanding nighttime show!

ALL NBC STATIONS

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD

MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE

MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELDS than any other Cigarette! . . . BY LATEST NATIONAL SURVEY

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Where There's Coke There's Hospitality

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
Lynchburg Coca-Cola Bottling Works, Inc.
© 1948, The Coca-Cola Company

MERRY CHRISTMAS

The Rotunda

HAPPY NEW YEAR

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 15, 1948 | No. 11

Large Auditorium Will Get Runner During Vacation

Business Manager Announces Project

The purchase of a corrugated rubber runner for the middle aisle of the large auditorium has been authorized by Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president, Mr. Samuel L. Graham, business manager, announced.

The new runner will probably be laid by the time the student body returns from the Christmas holidays, Mr. Graham said.

The installation of this runner was reccommended by the Student Standards Committee as a safety precaution against slipping.

Primary Graders To Sing Thursday

The first through the fourth grades of the Farmville Elementary training school will sing a group of seasonal songs in assembly Thursday.

These songs have been prepared during the pupils' regular music classes. S. T. C. student teachers assisting in the music instruction of these grades are Alice Jordon, June Adams, Betty Jordan, and Ann Joyner.

One grade of the group will do rhythm work and a singing game. The audience will be asked to join in on verses of familiar songs.

Students To Hear Christmas Story

Miss Caroline Eason, assistant dean of women, will tell the traditional story of "The Other Wise Man" tonight at prayers directly after dinner.

Immediately after prayers members of the Freshman and Sophomore Commissions will distribute running cedar to the student body for the traditional "Hanging of the Green" in the rotunda. The singing of Christmas carols will be led by the Freshman Commission during the "Hanging of the Green."

Men Granddaughters Cause Consternation Over Club's Name

Two male "granddaughters" are included this year among the members of the Granddaughters Club. Organized in 1926, the club includes all students whose mothers attended the college. It has not yet been decided what to do about its name, now that Farmville's new co-educational policy has added the masculine touch to its membership. The two unfeminine granddaughters are James S. McGhee, of Farmville, president of the male student council, and Alger R. Southall, Jr., of Pamplin, vice-president of the male council.

Even without counting the men the S. T. C. Granddaughters Club has the largest membership on record. There are 133 daughters of former S. T. C. students enrolled at the college this year, including 38 new students. The club is proud of this indication of the

Continued on Page 3

To Our S. T. C. Students:

Christmas greetings to one and all!

Mrs. Lancaster and I shall be thinking of you on Christmas Day and throughout the holiday season. May all the joys of Christmas be yours.

Remember that we are have a good long holiday and please do not drive too rapidly on the way home. We want to see you here all safe and sound on January 3rd, when a warm welcome will await you.

Again a Merry Christmas to all!

Dabney S. Lancaster

It is indeed a pleasure to wish the faculty, administration and student body a very happy holiday season, and may the New Year bring you health and prosperity.

Ruth Gleaves

As the holiday season approaches, Mrs. Savage and I wish to take this means of extending to each of you, and to your families, our sincere wishes for a happy Christmas. May the true spirit and meaning of the day permeate your lives and homes. May the coming of a new year bring you continued peace and happiness.

William W. Savage

WSVS Schedules Special Program

Station To Stage Party From 2 'til 5

Station WSVS will sponsor its special Christmas program in the STC Rec. on Thursday, December 16. The ball will start rolling at 2 o'clock when records for dancing will be played until 3 o'clock.

The usual "Recess in the Rec" will go out over the air from 3 until 3:30 with students of STC participating in the gala Christmas entertainment. Special prizes will be awarded to the participants.

At 3:30 o'clock, the program will go off of the air. Refreshments and free cigarettes will be given to the students who are attending the party. "Recess in The Rec" will again go on the air from 4 until 4:30.

Some of the talent that will be presented are the trio composed of Cabell Overbey, Louise Redd, and Barbara Sours singing the favorite "White Christmas." Earl Savage, Stuart McGhee, and Earl Agee, the male trio, will lend more to the Christmas spirit while Betty House prepares to give a recitation of "The Night Before Christmas." Included on the program are many favorite Christmas songs and carols done up in the special style of STC and HSC students.

After the sign off at 4:30, there will again be dancing and records played until 5 o'clock. Every student is invited to attend the festivities sponsored by Station WSVS during the entire afternoon.

Professor To Attend Biology Conventions

Dr. G. W. Jeffers is planning to attend a meeting of the National Association of Biology Teachers to be held in Washington, D. C., December 27-30. While in Washington he will also be present at the meetings of the American Science Teachers Association.

Shall STC Take a New Name? If So, What Is Your Choice?

In 1839 this institution which we call our alma mater was known as the Farmville Female Seminary. In 1860 this was changed to Farmville Female College, in 1914. Thirty years after it had become a state school the name was again changed, this time to State Normal School for Women, Farmville. In 1924 the name we now bear, State Teachers College at Farmville, was adopted. Now, again, a change of name is being debated. Only the Virginia State Board of Education can officially change the name, but any action which they take will be guided by the wishes of the faculty, students, and alumnae.

Dr. Lancaster has already expressed his desire to consult the students in this move. This will be done as soon as it is possible, but meanwhile you can be thinking about it and discussing it among yourselves.

A number of names have already been suggested to Dr. Lancaster. In listing these, the Rotunda wishes to emphasize the fact that these are merely suggestions. The fact that there are more arguments for some than for others removes none of them from the suggestion class.

Among the names suggested are Commonwealth College, Dominion College, Old Dominion College, Jarman College, Ruffner College, Prince Edward College, Farmville College, and Patrick Henry College. Also Central Virginia College, Virginia Southern College, Jefferson College, Venable College, Jefferson - Henry College, Longwood College, and Weyanoke College.

The Rotunda joins Dr. Lancaster in urging you to consider this matter carefully and to make your ideas and suggestions known. It is your college, you can and should have a part in choosing a new name for it or in keeping the name it now has.

Sophs Elect Burch, Wilson Co-Chairmen Of Class Production

Betsy Wilson, from Hopewell, and Vonnie Burch, from Hampton, have been elected by the Sophomore class to serve as co-chairmen for the Sophomore Production to be presented January 14.

In charge of the Publicity committee is Jackie Moody. The dancing committee is headed by Jeanne Farmer. Agnes Dingledine is in charge of costumes and props are under the direction of Dolores Waterfield. Virginia Spencer heads the music committee.

Tickets for the production will be sold by members of the Sophomore class after the Christmas holidays. They will also be sold at the table in the hall during the week of January 9-14.

WSSF Drive Exceeds Goal Set By College Chairman Announces

Ann Owen, chairman of the W. S. S. F. drive, has announced that the goal set for this campus has been surpassed. The results of the drive which ended last week totaled $761.05—$61.05 over the amount requested.

Of this amount the student body contributed $325.77. The total contribution of the organizations on campus amounted to $268.28, and the faculty donated $67.00.

The money collected on the campus will go to the national organization to be used in the relief and rehabilitation work conducted among students in Europe and Asia. Only students will be aided by the fund because the W S. S. F. is organized primarily to solicit aid from their fellow students who have not suffered the destruction of the recent war.

'King Neptune' To Reign Thurs.

Water Pageant Slated For 2 Shows

"King Neptune" will be the theme for the annual Christmas water pageant sponsored by the H2O Club on Thursday, December 16. There will be two showings, one from five until six P. M. and one from seven until eight P. M. Tickets can be bought for 10c at the door.

Jesse Pickett and Kitty Carmichael are acting as co-chairman of the event. Heading the various other committees are Patti Page for costumes, Patsy Ritter for props, Mary Miller for music, and Molly Hudson for formations.

Girls featured in the pageant are Helen Agnew, Majorie Bosswick, Betsy Gravely, Nancy Walker, Liz Lesslie, Jean Ridenour, Pat Paddison, Martha Hylton, Mary Miller, Patti Page, Kitty Carmichael, Ray Phillips, Anne Langbein, Jesse Pickett, Molly Hudson, Martha Gillum, Frances Robertson, Frances Allen, Peggy White, and Marian Beckner.

Students who are planning to attend the water pageant are advised to attend it between the hours of five and six. Seats will be reserved for the faculty members during the hours of seven and eight.

BET Will Present Christmas In France

"Christmas in France" will be the theme of the Beore eh Thorn Christmas party to be held tomorrow at 5 p. m. in the honor room. This is in keeping with the literary society's study of French literature this year.

Ada Robles who is in charge of the program stated that members of the French Circle had been invited to the party, and they will sing French carols. Yvette Ancey French student, will tell the group of the French celebration of Christmas. There will also be carol singing by the group, accompanied on the piano by June Banks, Betty Lewis Shank is in charge of refreshments.

STC Groups Give Total of $182.90 To Xmas Funds

'Y' To Spend Money For Local Welfare

The "White Christmas" fund, which is composed of checks donated by the various College organizations to be used for Farmville welfare, amounted to $182.90 this year, according to a statement by Barbara Grizzard, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. prayers committee which sponsors White Christmas annually.

Part of the White Christmas money has already been spent, Barbara said. She added that the aggregate is divided three ways; part of it provides clothes for needy students in the Farmville elementary school, part is given for use in the Farmville welfare department, and with the remainder the "Y" fills Christmas baskets which they give to retired members of the College staff.

White Christmas has been a part of S. T. C. tradition since the College was founded. On behalf of all those benefitting by White Christmas, Barbara said, "I'd like to thank all of the College organizations for their generous contributions.

WFLO To Preview Operetta Songs

The STC Hour over WFLO at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow will be presented by the children of the sixth and seventh grade chorous from the Farmville elementary school. It will feature songs from the operetta Hansel and Gretel. This operetta will be produced at 1:30 p. m., Tuesday December 21 in the Farmville high school auditorium.

Local Talent Sought On Amateur Program Carried by WRNL

Preliminary auditions are now being conducted by Station WRNL to select talent for the broadcast of ABC's The Original Amateur Hour, January 5. On that date, the American Broadcasting Network will salute the City of Richmond and performers from that city will be given a chance at fame and fortune.

There is no limit. All types of musical and novelty acts are eligble, but they must be non-professional. The finals will be judged by WRNL's Amateur Hour staff, December 23. Winners of the local contest go to New York where they will appear on the January 5 broadcast.

Those seeking auditions are asked to send information on type of talent, experience, age, address, and telephone number (if any) to WRNL. Applicants accepted will be called for auditions by the station.

The Original Amateur Hour, heard every Wednesday night from 8 to 9 o'clock over ABC and WRNL, is a 15-year-old favorite with radio listeners. The program's MC is Ted Mack.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

"Peace On Earth"

"Peace on earth!" . . . three very lovely words; but what do they mean? Now, during the Christmas season we hear, sing, and repeat, "Peace on earth" again and again, but it's seldom that we even give a thought to what a great promise these words convey.

Peace on earth could mean many unbelievably wonderful things to us. Foremost in our minds right now is the possibility that we wouldn't all be annihilated in another world war—that our fathers, sons, brothers, and husbands wouldn't have to fight and be killed. Indeed, "Peace on earth" is the greatest promise ever given to men. But this like many other promises, is one whose fulfillment will have to be brought about by us, ourselves. It's been centuries now since the angels sang the glad tidings, and as yet there's been no almighty power to present us with the long awaited peace on a golden platter.

Now, when things seem to have reached a crisis, when a few atom bombs could shatter the eons of work that it has taken our civilization to reach its present cultural level, it looks as though each thinking human would utterly devote himself to bringing peace on earth. But no; each of us is running around in his own wretched, narrow little circle, completely engrossed with the relatively trivial task of getting a living, education, or otherwise making a livelihood for himself.

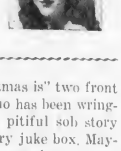
What a tragedy it is that we college students share the apathetic attitude of so many of our elders toward this most important crisis of humanity. When Mr. Paul Saunier, Jr., spoke to us here last week on behalf of the United World Federalists, he was able to pierce this apathy momentarily. He even succeeded where many others have failed, in making us think for a little while about the solution to the problem of peace. But before scarcely an hour had passed after his speech, most of us had forgotten the existence of a world crisis; we were again completely engrossed in our petty everyday problems.

Would that a Mr. Saunier could speak to us every week! Would that we would become so aware of the precariousness of our very existence that we would think about, discuss, and search for ways to further world harmony. After hearing Mr. Saunier, how many of us even troubled ourselves to investigate the United World Federalists as feasible solution to the great problem? It's through just such an organization as this that we are enabled to become an effective force in preventing war, and the very least we can do is to investigate the merits and disadvantages of such a group.

What a fine thing it would be if each one would celebrate this Christmas by taking an interest in whether mankind will continue to live and progress or be erased from the earth. Let's all join the campaign, and we can be instrumental in bringing "Peace on Earth."

"Merry Christmas!"

Home! This is the word of the week, the one foremost in everybody's mind. What more pertinent topic can we find then for an editorial subject?



Every year it is our pleasure to dash off the last of the articles, cover up the typewriters and send the issue to press wishing each of you a happy holiday season. This year, however, we wish to add just one more modifier to the word holiday—safe. We have had it brought to our attention, as the vacation approaches, that there are an appalling number of accidents involving college students traveling home and back. We don't want it to happen here! Few of us have forgotten our bereavement last year when we lost one of our outstanding students in an automobile accident, and several other students on the campus now can testify as to the consequences of a "crack-up."

We want no part of such pain and disaster; therefore, it is up to each of us to do something in the way of accident prevention. Whether or not we are drivers we can do our bit by being careful and cautioning others. Pedestrians too, come in for a large percentage of traffic accidents, so don't think your'e too old to need the "stop, look, listen" routine in crossing the streets.

We don't want to quote statistics to you, but if you bear in mind the two following facts, we think you'll be more apt to take care that you are not one of these people. One traffic fatality occurs every 16 minutes, and one person is injured in a motor vehicle accident every 27 seconds. These astounding facts bring it pretty close home that it could happen to one of us. Let's lessen the chances as much as we can by being particularly careful this Christmas holiday.

The staff of the Rotunda wishes to each one of you, students, faculty, and administration a very Merry Christmas and a joyous and prosperous New Year.

PUDDIN' 'n' SAUCE

"All I want for Christmas is" two front teeth for that poor kid who has been wringing our hearts with that pitiful sob story over the radio and on every juke box. Maybe when Santa Claus comes down Santa Claus Lane he'll bring a nice fat wad of bubble gum to stick in the gap until Mother Nature has time to do something about the situation.

Party, party, party is all we've been hearing about this week. Even now you're probably neglecting your Christmas banquet (foolish thought to even suppose that anyone would neglect a banquet just to read the Rotunda!) while you peruse our pages.

Have lots of fun over the holidays, and don't forget to bring us back a piece of fruit cake. Just in case you haven't read the editorials above we're going to repeat the word of caution down here. Be careful when you drive! Don't bash your biddy brains in, 'cause you'd need them come January when exams roll 'round once more. (How did such a gruesome thought crop up in here?)

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year everybody!

THE ROTUNDA
Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

WEDESDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1949

'Twas The Night Before Vacation

Parties, Tests Fill Days As 'Liberation' Approaches

December 18 is, without a doubt, "Liberation Day" for the poor ole beat up S. T. C. students.

In the meantime, we find our typical STC'er running around in all directions at one time. All week long there have been Christmas parties—sometimes two in one night. How involved can things get? All week long, there have been tests in every subject—sometimes two or three a day. To be sociable or to study? that is the question.

Our typical STC'er has to be typical and tries to accomplish both feats.

All weekend she played and slept, occasionally giving a fleeting thought to the work she had to do this week. That was in the future, however, Monday morning arrived (as Monday morning's will do) in all its fury. Two parties had to be attended that night and two tests had to be studied for the next day. Our typical STC'er went to a party at 7:00 and a party at 10:00. When she finally reached her room again, she picked up a book to study. Charge ! ! About ten girls came into the room. Bedlam reigned until after twelve. When everyone had gone our STC'er again resumed her studies. Within five minutes she had fallen asleep, but oh brother, the day after the night before!

"Why oh why didn't I study for this test?" wailed our typical STC'er as she slaved over her 8:05 test. The 9:05 test was no better. Later in the day, she consoled herself, by remembering that she still had three weeks to pull her "F's" up in.

Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday will pass in much the same manner. Friday night is the night to pack. Ah, what to take home is the number one problem. Things are thrown everywhere. Saturday, though, our STC'er will charge to the train with a bag in each hand not to mention the one under each eye.

Oh well, it's all in one's lifetime. Merry Xmas everybody ! !

Gallop Pole

Question: "What do you want Santa Claus to bring you for Christmas?"

Love Bentley: A bright red dress to paint the town red in.

Patsy Kimbrough: A big fat beau and a new setting for my Zeta Tech pen 'cause it's the "tackiest".

Carol Stoops: I need a filing case.

Helen Connelly: A mink coat and a Buick convertible.

Dot Caldwell: I'd better not say 'cause a certain person might read this.

Connie Hamilton: A doll baby.

Joyce Adams: I want an automobile and a white Christmas.

Frances Fulcher: "Flash."

Lou Bergman: I'd like thirty inches of snow in New York City.

Margie Forrester: I want minks like Lou's.

Polly Jones: More stuffed animals.

Mary Neal Garrett: Freedom from all thoughts of practice teaching. The rest will take care of itself.

Betty Shank: Some brains so I can pass organic.

Jean Ridenour: A big blond schmoo with a London accent.

Kitty Beale: I want my two front teeth and John Smith.

Katie Bondurant: I want a diamond.

Louise Redd: I'd like ole Santa to keep Warner Brothers and M. G. M. away from my door so I can be alone with "Mitch."

Pat Davis: A Buffalo Bill!

Anne Galloway: All I want for Christmas is "the two front teeth" of some of my students. Also a white Christmas in Georgia.

Charlie Hop: A great big twenty pound rockfish.

Dr. C. G. G. Moss: A big teddy bear!

Nellie Hart: I want Dr. Moss.

Marian Avedikian: I'd like to see Santa come down the chimney with a "certain" letter.

Betty Johnson: I want a private telephone for my room.

Denise Love: I'd like to have a certain little blond boy.

Laura Lee Stickley: I want a Carolina moon.

Dot Haynie: That man from Tech.

Mildred Blessing: Good food and anything else he desires to send.

Ray Phillips: A gay holiday full of wine, MEN, and song!

Mary Frances Hundley: Just my Bill!

Lee Elmquist: Do I have to tell his name?

(Continued on page 3)

The Chatterbox

Well, we told you we'd have some exciting news after Senior Dance - Anyway, it's exciting to Laura Jean and Edna Earle! Diamonds, no less. Congratulations, gals.

Of course Anne Verser had the cutest date of all for the figure. And it was wonderful seeing all the old gals back! Gee-Gee, Betsy, George Ann, Kitty, Peggy M. and Duffy and the rest. Seemed like the "good ole' days".

Hampden - Sydney furnished their quota per usual.

Gris had a big week-end at U. Va. this week-end. Eighty-five white roses to the "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi", and a couple to Tootie and Katie and especially to Edna and Ada who were the belles of the banquet.

Snead and Nat left early for the country - Nothing like that country air!

They finally got Dolly Anne to her surprise party Saturday night! Almost by brute force. But she finally made it and it was a big success from all reports.

Looked good seeing Holbrook and Doug together Sunday night!

Did you catch a glimpse of Radogna and "Bird," before he went scooting back to the hills? Reports say they were a gay pair.

It seems that Cecil (Yeatts, that is) ran into a slight bit of difficulty concerning the dance and his date. Oh, well, we like stags.

Christmas comes but once a year, but from the numerous times the days get counted one would say many a big time was being planned.

And as a parting thought - Don't forget the big WSVS party in the "rec" tomorrow at 3:00. And I know this will go over big: Your Chesterfield representative will be here with 20 cartons of those "milder cooler smoking" cigarettes just for you! So be there with all the other hep-cats and join in the fun!

Sophisticated Rat

Between the click click of knitting needles and the chat chat of excited girls talking about Christmas vacation, the entire Freshman class'es in a bevy of frustration. Just think! For two whole weeks, no classes, no books, and above all, no tests! By the way, the Sophisticated Rat will really enjoy a welcome rest from the race.

Say you've been Christmas shopping this past week on that limited budget so typical of college Freshmen? If it's an appropriate and inexpensive gift for that friend down the hall, why not decide on a box of stationery? Any girl will welcome scraps for scribbling. The Freshman has really learned that she has to write a letter to get a letter.

"It never rains but it pours". That applies strictly to STC this last week when it comes to things to do. The senior dance last Saturday, the choir concert Sunday, the Christmas pageant Monday, the Christmas banquet tonight, and an onslaught of club and hall parties. Wonder if the Freshmen will ever be the same after all the excitement?

The Freshman commission did a wonderful job of selling doughnuts and cokes at the Senior dance. The girls who helped so willingly were Jackie Jardine, Shirley Livesay, Mary Helen Cook, Midge Woods, Mary Brame, Catherine Bunch, and Ann Harding.

Let's give a cheer for the sumptuous Christmas banquet Mrs. Hammond and the kitchen staff prepared for everyone tonight. A meal like this is something straight from old St. Nick himself.

Well, fellow Freshmen, don't

(Continued on page 3)

Gallop Pole

Continued From Page 2

Hilda Edwards: I'd like him to bring me a paper doll that I can call my own.

Betty Campbell: I want Santa to bring me a fur coat and a convertible. (Dreaming)

Anne Terry: An ice blue evening dress.

Carrie Ann O'Loughlin: A bathing suit so I can go in swimming on Christmas day.

Men Granddaughters

Continued from Page 1

loyalty of the college alumnae and is looking forward to the enrollment of the first student whose father graduated from S. T. C.

Sophisticated Rat

Continued from Page 2

forget to hang up that stocking Christmas Eve. You can never tell what Santa will drop in. (He might even leave you a Schmoo.) This is one Sophisticated Rat saying, "Bye now, Merry Christmas, and Happy New Year!"

When you think of flowers think of ours.

Phone 181 Night 4

COLLINS

It's Knitting Time!

Knit Those Christmas Gifts Now and Save Money. We Have a Complete Line of Redheart Wool and Knitting Books

The Hub

Farmville, Va.

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

THE HUB

FARMVILLE, VA.

WISHES YOU AND YOUR FAMILY A VERY

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

LEGGETT'S

GIFTS FOR HIM AND HER

Also gifts for the home

Gifts Wrapped free

Santa Says...

. . . Add these to your list to give that man of your heart the merriest Christmas he's ever had!

- Genuine PIGSKIN GLOVES 4.98 and up
  Fur-Lined GLOVES $5.98
- All Wool SWEATERS Slip-Overs, Cardigans and Cashmeres New colors, all sizes
- Botany 100% Wool SCARF and GLOVE Sets $4.50
- Buxton BILLFOLDS $4.00 and up
  Ronson CIGARETTE LIGHTERS $6.00 and up

Baldwin's

Monogram Issues Bids To 8 Girls

On Thursday, December 9, the Monogram Club issued bids to eight girls.

These girls were Frances Allen, Kathryn Buck, Anna Famulotte, Mary Evelyn Miles, Norma Roady, Lee Robertson, Betty Romeo, and Sue Walker.

The main purpose of the Monogram Club is to stimulate interest in sports and to recognize athletic ability, scholarship, and sportsmanship. Only those girls who are thought to be furthering the purpose are considered for membership in this organization.

Other members of the Monogram Club are Patsy Ritter, Martha Hylton, Winifred Beard, Ray Phillips, Jessie Pickett, Joanne Sterling, and Betty Tilson.

Varsity Try-Out Time Announced For 3:45

The last varsity basketball try-out will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 p. m. in the gym. So far two varsity basketball games have been scheduled—one with Roanoke College, there on February 18, and another with Panzer College, New Jersey, here on March 5. A date has not been selected for the other games as yet.

Students are reminded that to play in class basketball games they must have in their eight practices by January 15.

Wilson Firestone

Metal Record Racks

$5.95

Racks $3.50
Record Hassock $24.95

Wishing you a merry Christmas and Happy New Year

VERSER'S

We strive to please

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year

ROSES

For that ALLURING CHARM give her TIGRESS or WOODHUE PERFUME

PATTERSON'S DRUG STORE

Student Traveler Describes Impressions of European Trip

By Dalila Agostini

Excursions were organized this past summer, and hordes of American students invaded Europe. The following interview, obtained from a student who went abroad last summer, attempts to express his motives, experiences, and general impressions of the trip which could be similar to those of many others who also went to Europe.

1-What motive led you to go to Europe?

Europe had always been to me a mysterious land, the place of origin of many things: great people, old customs, and new ideas. The incentive that propelled me to go to Europe was my love for adventure, and the desire to find the undiscovered riches of people with different emotional reactions and different ways of life. I also wanted to know more about the French language, believing that in order to better understand a language, I had to understand the mentality which had produced it.

2-What can you tell me about the life on the boats?

In the first place, life on the boats was very interesting because of the many interesting people I met: students, professors, painters, and musicians. French students on the boat were most intellectual, and the Americans could be divided into two groups: those who only wanted to see Europe, and those who wanted to understand a culture through direct contact with it.

3-What was the first glimpse of Europe you had?

It was the French coast, the cliffs of France which forming a girdle of rock, gave the impression of being the walls that surround a huge fortress, behind which only the unknown awaited.

4-What European countries did you visit?

I visited France, where I stayed for a longer time, and I also visited England.

5-What were your impressions of England?

I think of England as the country who is fighting its economical destruction, and that little by little is being abandoned by its colonies. In spite of this, she still has kept the unalloyed charm of "Old England" to give her tourists, and one can feel that energetic impulse springing from the hearts of the English people.

6-Tell us something about your experiences in the French university.

I attended the University of Paris where I took a brief course in literature and history of the civilization. Since my course was a very special and a brief one, I could hardly make comparisons between American university life and the French one. The atmosphere in La Sorbonne was very friendly, and studies were hard. As a whole, the French professors and students were very aimiable. Classes started at nine o'clock in the morning, and at twelve we had an intermission till two. Classes were over at six o'clock.

7-What do you have to say about your experience in France?

A few days after my arrival, I witnessed the celebration of the Fall of the Bastille, a display of beauty which typified a French public festival. When going to southern France, I went through the experience of traveling twelve hours and a half on my suitcase.

The summer resorts in the south were very picturesque the tone of the sky and the sea was beautiful adding to this beauty the rocks and the palm trees. The sight of the Mediterranean was most inspiring.

8-What were your impressions of the trip as a whole?

I received with much pleasure the delightful offerings the French culture gave me. There were so many people with such a melodious rhythm in their integrity of being, not only of living! I found

Continued on page 4

Make—

COLLEGE SHOP

Your Headquarters

Excellent Food
Excellent Service

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to

ENNIS RADIO SHOP

DAVIDSON'S

The House of Quality

WISH YOU A

Merry Christmas

Happy New Year

AND HOPE YOU HAVE A BIG TIME DURING THE HOLIDAYS

Professors' Son Tells of Austria

By Janice Slavin

A short time ago, Wilson L. Grainger, son of Mr. James M. Grainger—professor of English at State Teachers College, returned to the U. S. after being stationed in Austria for a year and a half as a special agent in the Counter Intelligence Corps. One of the features of his job was to send secrets to different places. At one time he was also a cryptographer, a job which has to do with codes.

Mr. Grainger had many interesting experiences while overseas. He was near the scene of the famous Lexenfeld Incident which took place at Camp Lexenfeld, a displaced persons camp.

He was also well acquainted with the Rumanian Airplane incident in which several persons on the plane were trying to escape to free themselves from the Iron Curtain.

Mr. Grainger stated that the Austrian economy is improving rapidly. He gave several examples of this. In July of 1947, the American dollar was worth ninety shillings on the black market. The legal rate of exchange was ten shillings to one dollar. In 1948 this had dropped. The black market had decreased to forty-seven shillings to one dollar.

In 1947 a carton of cigarettes at the legal rate of exchange was forty dollars or an equivalent of four hundred shillings. The price had dropped in 1948 from four hundred shillings to seventy-five. Thus, one can see that the economic conditions in Austria are improving.

The Marshall Plan was beginning to take effect just about the time that he left Europe. It is proving worthwhile, Mr. Grainger said.

Austria is greatly over-populated, and the land is too mountainous to be suitable for farming. Because of these existing conditions, food is extremely hard to get. Most people supplement their rations by buying on the Black Market.

Mr. Grainger remarked, "In my opinion, there have been too many people in Europe for too long. The people tend to live in the past rather than for the future. This seems to be their chief source of trouble—political and otherwise."

The schools in Austria were interrupted during the war. Many people are now attending night school to catch up. The students in Austria don't seem to study in as many different fields as the students in the U. S. do. Music he pointed out, is a popular field there. Vienna supplies the world with many of its greatest musicians. Mr. Grainger said that the

Continued on page 4

Flowers For All Occasions

BURG

BOWEN Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Visit us for good food and good music

THE SNACK BAR

"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Reach For Justrite Bread Sold By

C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Big Plans for Tonight Reveal Christmas Around Corner

Everyone knows Christmas is just around the corner, but here at STC one would think it had already arrived.

It all began when we sang Christmas carols in Chapel last Thursday---We got that good ole feeling again.

Something else has happened too! It is really needless to speak of the "new look" which the Rotunda is wearing for Christmas. Those enchanting stained glass windows give the Rotunda a most graceful appearance. Our grateful thanks are to Mrs. Lemen's art classes which designed and painted these windows. We notice, too, that the Christmas tree occupies the center of the Rotunda this year. Carols are sung every day at 12:15 under the guidance of Mr. Wakefield around the tree.

Of course, while you are reading this, you are patiently(?) waiting to eat the delicious Xmas dinner which will be: Half grapefruit, Turkey and Dressing, Cranberry Sauce, Lima Beans, Broccoli with Lemon, Celery and Olives, Rolls, Coffee, Plum Pudding and Hard Sauce, Assorted Christmas candy. The decorations were done by Mrs. Lemen's classes in cooperation with the dining hall staff. They also made some of the special favors. Other favors were made by the Student Council members.

On the host list tonight consists of some of the Faculty and Administration. Entertainment is to be furnished by the Madrigals; everyone is to join in the singing of the Carols.

The traditional hanging of the green is to be immediately after dinner.

We have had excellent Christmas entertainment (the Christmas Concert, etc.), and there will be other things to attend also---

Don't forget them, or all the other things, but remember to find time to recall the first and real meaning of Christmas.

Impressions

Continued from Page 3

in France, the vital principles, the sense and the understanding which I thought had disappeared. My trip to Europe was like a dream of which I have awaken only to dream about it again.

'Twas The Night Before Christmas

Library Arranges Week's Exhibit On Conservation

A collection of material on soil conservation and a display of shells are now on exhibit in the exhibition room of the College library.

The soil conservation exhibit was prepared by Jesse Pickett as a project in the audio-visual department. Cecil Grey Yeatts prepared the shell display from his own collection of shells, many of which came from overseas.

Recently added to the shelves of the S. T. C. library is the book, Ruler of the Reading: The Life of Franklin B. Gowen, 1836-1889, by Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel of the S. T .C. faculty.

Tells of Austria

Continued from Page 3

Austrians would like to see us get out of their country, but on the other hand, they "figure" that if we do get out, the Russians will take over, which would be worse. However Austria, unlike Germany, has a federal government which would be harder to overthrow than the weak German government.

MARTIN THE JEWELER

Select your silver at Martins

GRAYS DRUG STORE

Select your Christmas gifts from us

WFLO

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

870 on your dial

THIS CHRISTMAS GIVE HER PRACTICAL GIFTS

Let us help you make your selections
WE GIFT WRAP FREE

DOROTHY MAY STORE

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

SOUTHSIDE'S

We have the right

XMAS GIFT

for him or her

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Meet You
"On the Boardwalk"

The Rotunda

Start
Studying for Exams!

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1949 | No. 12

Boardwalk of Atlantic City Setting for Soph Production

Curtain To Rise Friday at 8 P. M.

"On the Boardwalk of Atlantic City," will be presented Friday night January 14, at 8 o'clock in the S. T. C. auditorium as the sophomore production.

According to Betsy Wilson and Vonnie Burch, co-chairmen of production, no one ever had such a glorious holiday in four acts. "Atlantic City and all its glories, the freaks, the food, the ocean, will be on hand to give you a show the likes of which you have never seen", they add.

Jeanne Farmer is chairman of the dance committee while Dolores Waterfield will manage scenery and properties group. Agnes Dingledine will supervise costumes. Jackie Moody is in charge of publicity and tickets and Virginia Spencer heads the music committee.

Nancy Cooke, chairman of the food committee, has announced that refreshments will be sold at intermission.

Tickets are being sold daily at the table in the hall. The admission price is 25 cents.

WSVS To Present H-S, STC Faculty

Station WSVS will present a special program with the faculty members from STC and Hampden-Sydney as participants, on Thursday, January 13, from 3 o'clock until 3:30.

Those appearing on the program are Mrs. Josephine Phillips who will play "Orientale" by Cui and "Danube Waves" by Ivanovici on the violin; Mr. Ralph Wakefield who will sing "Blue Are Her Eyes" by Wintter Watts and "The Desert Song" by Sigmund Romberg; Mrs. C. F. McRae who will play Chopin's "Preludes" in C Major and B Flat Major; Mr. William Parker who will present a piano solo, "Ritual Fire Dance", by Da Falla; and Mr. D. A. Cline who will sing "In Questa Tomba" by Beethoven and "Ichg olle Nicht" by Shumann. Mr. Wakefield and Mrs. Phillips, in a number with voice and violin obligato, will present "The Fiddle and I" by Arthur Goodeve. Miss Emily Clark will provide the accompaniment for various numbers on the program.

"This special WSVS presentation promises to be something that no student will want to miss. The program will be held in the large auditorium and everyone is invited," said Page Burnette, student in charge of the program.

ROTUNDA STAFF NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the entire Rotunda staff tonight at 6:45 in the Publications Office. Attendance at this meeting is compulsory and no excuses will be accepted. Please be prompt.

Betty Spindler

Notice

The regular meeting of the Commercial Club will be held tomorrow, January 13, at 7:00 o'clock in the "Y" Lounge. All new members will be initiated into the club at this time. Ruth Staples is heading the membership committee.

Officers of this organization are: Billie Mullins, president; Ruth Walker, vice president; Gertrude Walker English, secretary; Amette Snead, treasurer; Janice Slavin, reporter.

'49 Summer Session To Begin June 20

80 Varied Courses Will Be Offered

The 1949 summer session at State Teachers College will begin June 20 and end August 13, according to an announcement made today by president Dabney S. Lancaster. Approximately 80 courses in the fields of art, biology, business education, chemistry, education, English, general science, geography, history, home economics, library science, mathematics, music, philosophy, physical education, psychology, and sociology will be offered.

Dr. DABNEY S. LANCASTER

In addition to the various courses, seven workshops and institutes have been planned for the session. From June 20 to July 16, the nationally known Virginia Workshop for Teachers of Spanish will be held under the direction of Salvatore C. Magnifico. During the period from June 27 to July 15 an eighth - Grade Workshop for teachers, principals, and supervisors concerned with the new eighth grade in twelve-year high schools will be conducted by members of the College faculty and the Division of Secondary Education of the State Dpartmnt of Education. From July 11 to July 23, a Guidance Workshop under the direction of Dean William W. Savage and Mrs. Kathleen G. Cover will be held for persons in the public schools who have responsibilities in guidance programs. The annual Workshop for Teachers, conducted by the College's Department of Education will operate from June 20 to July 7, July 7 to July 26, and July 26 to August 13.

A Physical and Health Education Workshop, designed to train teachers in analyzing their programs of physical and health education and in planning their content, will run from June 20 to July 2. This will be directed by Miss Olive T. Iler and a member of the physical and health education staff of the State Department of Education. From July 5 to July 30, a Workshop in Remedial Reading will be conducted by Mrs. Sybil Vincent Henry. This is designed primarily for elementary teachers who wish to diagnose and correct the reading defects of their pupils.

A Student Acvtivities Institute, directed by Miss M. Frieda Koontz, S. C. A. executive secretary of Richmond, will be held on the campus from July 11 to July 23. This has been planned for Student Cooperative Association and other advisors to student activities in the elementary and high schools.

Both men and women will be

Continued on page 4

Junior Class Sets Date Of Dance For Febrary 19

Hardin Announces Theme For Affair

The annual junior dance, to be held in the College gym Saturday, February 19, will be a "Ribbon Ball" this year, according to the announcement of Helen Hardin, general chairman of the dance. Johnny Satterfield's orchestra from the University of North Carolina has been signed to play Helen said.

Dance committee chairmen are Frankie Dodson in charge of music; Lizzie Bragg, head of the floor committee; Ann Nock, handling tickets; Ruth Hathaway, publicity chairman; Joyce Webb, in charge of clean up, Jean Turner and Pat Paddison supervising decorations.

The dance, originally scheduled for February 12, was postponed a week because of Hampden-Sydney Mid-winters which are being held on that date.

Dance, Music Class Begins In Spring

A new course on dance of today to be called Choreographic Music will be sponsored jointly by the Departments of Physical Education and Music next semester. No previous practical work in dance is required.

Audio-visual aids will augment wherever possible the material content of the course which will be in three main divisions. The first division will center around the pre-classic forms of both music and dance. This is the period in both music's and dance's history when music was written especially for dance. Our musical forms of today are remnants or development of the pre-classic. Modern dancers use certain of these forms while others are considered classic among ballet dancers.

Ballets of both today and those of other years will make up the second division of the course. Leading ballet dancers of today and the ever-changing number of present day ballet companies will be stressed.

Modern music as it has been influenced by the trends in modern dance once ballet will make up the third division. This part of the course may be the most satisfying to students because all of the arts are in juxtaposition to another today.

The course will be open to all students as a course in appreciation, or to those students who want to satisfy part of the state requirements in music in their respective field. Mrs. Emily R. Landrum will teach the course which will be called P. E. X 325 or Choreographic Music and will be given at 1:45 on Tuesday and Thursday. Two credits will be allowed.

Resolutions--Are They Made To Be Kept or To Be Broken?

By Janice Slavin

New Year's Resolutions? What are they? Surely, you haven't forgotten that long list of reforms you had decided to make upon your return to college. Or have you?

One of the resolutions that appears most frequently on the list is getting to 8:05 classes on time. One poor girl around here has been making that resolution year after year. On January 3 she managed to drag (and we do mean drag) to class by 8:20. Oh well, such is life! Those people can never win anyway.

Then the study resolution always comes up. This one is hardly abused at all--oh yh! The first week at college was spent by most in taking in movies and having "jam sessions" every night until the wee hours of the morning. Well, one had to talk over every little detail of every event that took place over the Christmas holidays, didn't one? This is certainly a lot easier than trying to figure out Einstein's theory of relativity. For all we know Einstein may be cracking up, and there may be no such thing as relativity. Scratching one's head in thought is very strenuous. Some people fool us though and are

(Continued on page 3)

Student Body Elects Cress, Taylor May Day Production Co-Chairmen; Mrs. Landrum States Theme of '49

Gwen Cress and Jane Taylor who will serve as co-chairmen for May Day.

Jane Taylor, a senior from Pungoteague, and Gwen Cress, senior from Lynchburg, were elected as general co-chairman.

Serving under them as Business manager is Nancy Rushing; as Dance chairman, Jesse Lee Pickett; and as Staging chairman, Helen Hardin. Frances Farley and Jennie Lee Cross will serve as co-chairmen of costuming, while June Banks is to be music chairman and Dot Daniels will be chairman in charge of transportation.

"Those were the days of dreams and legends; continents were new" is the proposed theme for the May Day 1949. "Life in England of the seventeenth century and in early Virginia when "to overcome is to live' will be portrayed historically as far as artistic license allows," said Mrs. Landrum, who directs the annual presentation. The purpose of this years May Day theme is to show the roots and the beginnings of the Virginia ideal.

Library Displays Local Paintings

The art committee of the Women's Club of Farmville, under the leadership of Mrs. Janice Lemen, chairman, and member of the S. T. C. art faculty, is sponsoring an exhibit of paintings by local artists. These paintings are on display in the browsing room of the library. They may be shown for the public's benefit during the entire month of January.

Lucy Jane Morton from Farmville, one of S. T. C.'s art students, has her picture, Still Life, on exhibition. She is also the subject of a portrait by Mary Frances Cheatham of Appomattox. Other local people who have their works displayed are J. W. Ward, Farmville; Mrs. A. C. Allen, Farmville.

Also Miss Betty Knight, Farmville; Asa Dupuy Watkins, Hampden - Sydney; Mary Crawley, Hampden-Sydney; Mrs. James P. Lancaster, Farmville; Mary C. Brickert, Farmville; Mary Brickert Rhodes, Farmville.

Also Anne Newman Marshall, Farmville; Mrs. Grace Cobb Wood, Farmville; Mrs. James Nunnally, Farmville; Mary Kent Withers, Farmville; and Sally and Walter Marshall, Farmville.

Tickets for Sophomore Production are now on sale from members of the class. The price of a ticket is 25c. The curtain will rise for the performance promptly at 8:00 p. m. Friday night, Betsy Wilson and Yvonne Burch, co-chairmen of the production said.

State Committee Approves Change

A change of name for State Teachers college was unanimously approved by the State Board of Education at a meeting held Monday, January 10 in Richmond. The Board at that time considered a list of suggested names and resolved itself into a committee of the whole to discuss the suggestions and to make a final decision in March.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of S. T. C., told reporters from the Rotunda that the whole list suggested by the alumnae, faculty, and students of the college was considered by the Board and that they were most favorably inclined toward the following names: Ruffner, Jefferson, Jackson, Pocahontas, Martha Jefferson, and Longwood College. The Board is holding its final decision until March, he said, in order that the alumnae of the college can discuss the proposed names and make a reccommendation at Founders Day.

Richmond Alumnae Show Color Slides

A showing of color slides of S. T. C. to the seniors of Thomas Jefferson and John Marshall High Schools this afternoon, was sponsored by the Richmond Alumnae chapter followed by a social hour. Jean Ridenour and Louise Cadillino, freshmen from S. T. C. who were graduated from these high schools last year spoke to the seniors about life at S. T. C. They were accompanied by Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean William Savage, and Mrs. M. B. Coyner, executive secretary of the College Alumnae Association.

Junior and senior students at Collegiate School for girls and St. Catherine's were also invited to the showing of the slides.

Assembly

A moving picture of New England will be featured at assembly this Thursday. This picture is similar to the two previous movies about other parts of the United States presented earlier in the year.

The Sophomore class will also present a preview of their coming production, "On the Broadwalk of Atlantic City."

Rushing to Serve As Business Mgr.

Chairmen for the annual production of May Day were elected at a meeting of the student body held last Monday night. Jane Taylor, a senior from Pungoteague, and Gwen Cress, senior from Lynchburg, were elected as general co-chairman.

Serving under them as Business manager is Nancy Rushing; as Dance chairman, Jesse Lee Pickett; and as Staging chairman, Helen Hardin. Frances Farley and Jennie Lee Cross will serve as co-chairmen of costuming, while June Banks is to be music chairman and Dot Daniels will be chairman in charge of transportation.

"Those were the days of dreams and legends; continents were new" is the proposed theme for the May Day 1949. "Life in England of the seventeenth century and in early Virginia when "to overcome is to live' will be portrayed historically as far as artistic license allows," said Mrs. Landrum, who directs the annual presentation. The purpose of this years May Day theme is to show the roots and the beginnings of the Virginia ideal.

Men To Have Dorms In, Coming Summer, '49-'50 Sessions

Dormitory facilities will be available on the campus for men during the 1949 summer session, according to an announcement made by president Lancaster this week. Last summer such facilities were provided for the first time and the arrangement proved satisfactory, Dr. Lancaster said.

The same arrangement is planned for the regular 1949-50 session if as many as twenty-five or thirty male students desire board and room on the campus. The charge for board, room, and laundry for men will be $350.00 per year. This is the same amount to be charged women students.

All male students desiring board, room, and laundry on the campus have been requested to notify Dean Savage as soon as possible. "We shall definitely offer such facilities in the coming summer session," he said, "but the decision as to providing them for male students during the 1949-50 session will be entirely dependent upon whether or not there are enough requests from the students."

Students To Arrange New Semester Classes

Dean William W. Savage has announced that there will be advance registration for next semester's classes. Although registration plans have not yet been completed, he stated that registering will probably be done the week end before exams which begin Tuesday January 25.

Concerning exams, Dean Savage emphasized that no student will be allowed to take an exam at any other time than when it is scheduled, nor can anyone take an exam with any other section of a class than his own. The only exception to this ruling, he said, will be in the instance where a student is scheduled to take more than two exams in one day.

The Time Is Now

Beauty and brains don't go together! Who, says they don't? We aim to prove that a large amount of intelligence can be stored in a pretty head when May Day comes around.

Now one might think that we're being a little previous in talking about May Day when it isn't even the middle of January yet, but we have reason. No doubt you have sensed with apprehension the end of the semester and examinations, but have you thought how much next semester's activities depend on this semester's grades? With spring comes May Court elections, new officers for all classes and organizations and new staffs for the publications. Will your scholastic average qualify you to take part in the pageant or to be elected to an office?

It isn't the eleventh hour yet; we still have a little time in which to buckle down and pull up those lagging estimates. "Virtue is its own reward," but participation in the extra-curricular activities is a special added-attraction that makes the working seem more profitable and a goal to strive toward. January 25 is near at hand, but by settling down to hard work on January 12, examinations will be far less likely to loom like nightmares over the unprepared student. Let's all pitch in now, and good luck!

March Of Dimes

Once more the plea of the little children, victims of "the great crippler", reaches out to us as the March of Dimes campaign re-opens. Starting January 14 we will be solicited for our dimes to go for the Mile of Dimes.

The terrible and costly epidemic of last summer is still quite fresh in our minds, and we know that another such outbreak of infantile paralysis could strike next summer. In fact, it has been predicted that '49 is the year of the cycle in Virginia. When the call comes, let us all give generously and ungrudgingly to the drive, remembering that what we do for others now, may be the extent which someone else will have to do for us.

Resolved - Just For Today

By now most of us have made and broken our year's supply of resolutions. For many of us this is a regular occurrence which causes, some psychologists say, an annual letdown of spirits during the month of January. Others among us long ago decided that resolutions were futile, since we broke them so fast that we were getting an inferiority complex about our lack of will power.

Truly it looks from here as if we moderns are lagging far behind our elders in our powers of self discipline. Without a doubt all of us have found innumerable situations in which this would be a very useful attribute. Now if we are going to be happy, useful, and successful adults, it's about time we took our disobedient little selves in hand, because it's a pretty bad situation when we're too weak to even make ourselves do what we know is best for us.

Admittedly the yearly resolution plan is inadequate for such weaklings as most of us. So let's give the Alcoholics Anonymous day-to-day plan a try. Even though we're not alcoholics, it seems reasonable that the plan that they use successfully would be applicable to our own individual situations. Starting today, let's make one or two really good, character building resolutions, renew them each day, and see if we can't mold ourselves into sterner stuff by next January.

THE ROTUNDA
Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Jean Smith, Joan Prichett, Jean Otis Loving

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Janice Slavin, Mary Crowgey, Dalia Agostini
Betty Ferguson ..... Chaterbox Editor

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1949

PUDDIN' 'n' SAUCE

Got any old S. T. C. stationery lying around? If so you'd better start using it up ere the March winds begin to blow 'cause when that month come roaring in we will no longer be S. T. C. students. No implication that we'll all be kicked out after our first semester grades, of course. We were merely referring to the fact that the State Board of Education is going to confer a new appellation on us in March.

Looking over the proposed list and musing over possible variations we can use to break the monotony we've come up with some very "cute" nicknames that might be derived from some of them. F'instance, if they name us Ruffner we could be known as the "Ruff-house kids", or perchance if we became Pocahontas College we could shorten it to Pokey College. If Commonwealth College strikes the Boards' fancy it wouldn't take a twinkling before someone took up the bright idea of calling us "Commoners," and no doubt our frenzied papas would call us home immediately if we suddenly became C. O. D. (College of the Old Dominion.) Why, oh why doesn't someone come up with a suggestion that's a bell ringer something that makes everyone else feel like "that's it"?

We've been trying to get the "dope" on having Tommy Dorsey here for a concert but none of our information is official yet. It sounds wonderful, and we have no doubt about getting a full house. When someone who knows just what's what comes across with a story we'll rush it to press for you. In the meantime be sure to put your John-Henry on the list posted to let the sponsors know that you expect to blow your allowance on their shindig.

Guess that's all the breeze we have to shoot this week, therefore, so long, and study hard. Guess why?

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor:

We are writing this letter to a college organization which has one admirable objective in mind —improvement. However, one small condition has existed for some time and we would like to bring the subject up for the consideration of those concerned.

Several members of the faculty often hold their classes beyond the scheduled time for dismissal. We have also experienced a few classes which are started before the scheduled time. And in one or two instances, the persons who begin early also hold the class over.

We honestly attempt to get to class on time. Respect for the instructors demands that courtesy. In the same light, is it too much to ask that our instructors respect the limitation on time, and dismiss in accordance with the schedule as approved by the administration?

This practice is unfair to the students as well as to the professor of following classes. A late entrance, disturbing some twenty or thirty students, is embarassing!

We insist that the faculty and administration take our letter not as a complaint, but as reminder that our time is also limited. We respectfully submit a suggestion to a faculty whom we especially admire for their well-known sense of fair play.

Busy People

Well, h'yar we are--at school for a week and ready to go--back home for another two weeks, that is. No?

It seems that some gals aren't satisfied with Santa Claus and Christmas trees and the ole traditional doo-dads--they have to get married! But seriously, best wishes to Dolly Anne, Toni, Mary Ellen, Iris, and Alice. Jackie Roberts, Jackie Woodward, Mary Frances Hundley, Margaret Hutchins, and Polly Richardson didn't take the fatal step, but they did the next best thing by collecting beautiful diamonds as did Hilda Bauserman, Panzie Parham, Nancy McCracken, Rebecca Seward, Peggy Smith, and Jane Mountjoy. Lucky?

We have another "sweetheart" among the growing number--Louise Turner was chosen as sweetheart of the Lambda Chi chapter at Hampden-Sydney. Wheel?

Flash! Hot off the wires: Peggy White caught the bridal bouquet at a wedding this weekend! Significant?

Continued on page 3

Alumnae News

Miss Mary Burns Haynes, a member of the State Teachers College faculty for thirty years, died at her home in Shelbyville, Tenn. on December 22. Miss Haynes had retired in 1947 from the position of supervisor of the first grade in the elementary school which she had held for many years. During these thirty years of supervision between three and four hundred students did their practice teaching under her wise guidance. Her work with them was so intelligent and so thorough that her students were in demand not only in Virginia but in other states as well.

She made lasting friendships among her student teachers and they often wrote her telling her of the help she had been to them. She also was most successful with the children under her care with her genuine love and understanding of them. Many teachers throughout the State will feel the loss of a real friend when they hear of her passing.

Get Your Ticket Today!

Gallop Pole

"What do you think of the idea of changing the name of the College?"

Dean William W. Savage: I favor a change. There are over two hundred colleges which have our present name. Furthermore, our name is misleading to many person insofar as our course of ferings are concerned.

Joanne Sterling: I knew I'd never graduate from S. T. C.

Mary Nichols: A necessity, it seems. We have been S. F. N. S., S. N. S., S. T. C.; now we must beware of becoming C. O. D., o. F. I. S. H., or Pixie.

Nancy Jessee: I think that the name Peggy Perry suggested would be most suitable.

Betty Tilson: I wish they'd thought of this four years ago.

Margaret Winfree: I think it's a good idea. Any name would be better than Farmville.

Muriel McBride: I just hope that when I graduate people will know where I've been to school.

Shirley Clark: Anything for a change. I think its a good idea.

Betty House: It's a fine suggestion. Everyone wants to know if I'm taking up home and farming here. I'm not you know.

Jackie Watson: Fine Idea!

Anne Galloway: Change it quick! Before I get my sheepskin.

Anonymous: Good idea! We ought to follow Dr. Lancaster's advice and name the college Norfolk and Western College 'cause if the tuition gets any worse there'll be one less person around here.

Elaine Owens: There is plenty of room for improvement.

Helen Egerton: Good idea. Just do it quick! Anything but Virginia Dare!

Betsy Carper: I think it should be changed to Pixie College of Camp Pickett.

Anne Nock: If the name keeps on giving us headache, why not go as College X until our daughters get here? They will really be the ones to use the new name.

Calvin Hatcher: I am in complete agreement with the idea that the name should be changed, but let's give it one that would lend dignity to the school, using the name of our state in it if possible.

Frances Cregar: Swell idea. It will attract more people.

Anne Robinson: I want to graduate from N. & W. College so I can get a pass to Michigan.

Molly Hudson: I think it's a wonderful idea. Anything but "The Commonwealth" though!

Sally Droste: Any name would be better than S. T. C. I once heard someone say "Farmville." What's that an agriculture school?" I do approve of the idea.

Judy Huges: I think it's a good idea. We need something new and different to give us a moral uplift.

Jean Webb. I think it's a wonderful idea. I've been hoping for a change.

Anonymous: Let's make it Virginia Dare Institute of Higher Learning so we can use that commercial "Say it again Virginia Dare" for our Alma Mater.

Jean Farmer: No matter what we name this place, one hundred years from now it'll still be Farmville.

Deanie Famulatte: Better try to change the name of the town first.

Anonymous: Yes, let's change the name of the town. Do you think Molly Pitcherville would be all right?

The Sophisticated Rat

So you say you had a wonderful time during the holiday, that it wasn't long enough, and that you wish Christmas would come six times a year? You say all these things now, and here you are back at STC feeling as though the holiday was just a dream. But isn't it really grand to be back with the old crew again?

After being at home and staying in your own room again, did you and your roommate find the "habitual abode" somewhat drab upon your return? If you did, why not get to work in some spare moment and give those dusty curtains a good sudsing? Clean curtains will add so much to the cheerfulness of the room.

Another item that would lend an unlimited amount of gaiety to your room is a cover for that naked looking steamer trunk that looms in the corner of the room. Why not buy some inexpensive cotton and make a frivilous ruffle for it. Only takes about four yards. The trunk would really take on a snazzy new life, all bedecked in gay ruffles at the foot of your bed. It would be useful, too.

Exams are less than two weeks away, you say. Well, why mention the unpleasant elements of life? Just think, they'll be history in less time than it took you to say Happy New Year!

Switching from the unpleasant to the oh so splendid realm of thought, it looks as though the

(Continued on page 3)

Orchesis Recital To Be Different

Orchesis will feature "the unusual, the ridiculous and the sublime" in its recital which will be given in early February, according to Mrs. Landrum.

"American Sampler," a study in contrasts of the early colonists will be a large group work in two parts, the Virginian as a believer in formalism and the New Englander as one who is sanctimoniously austere.

"Mountain Ballads" to music by Paul Bowls and words by Tennessee Williams will make use of the singing voice for its two solos and group selections.

"I Sing---", a Negro suite will be the most ambitious work, which will show the Negro's love for song whether he is jubilant or sad. Each section of which there are three, Heben,' Work, and Blues, will show through movement the swing from the deepest of emotional feeling to the most lighthearted.

"Sketches", "Songs of the Season without Reason", and "Spring Arithmetic" make up the ridiculous and sublime portion of the recital.

Tryout periods began immediately following the return after the holidays. All parts will be assigned by end of this week according to Mrs. Emily K. Landrum.

In this country one-half of all the children born are born to mothers under 28 years old.

A New York woman has put on the market a prepared pie crust. It resembles a phonograph record. The purchaser puts it in the pan, dumps in the filling and puts it in the oven and has a pie in a few minutes.

Resolutions

Continued from Page 1

actually just seeing if they can pass the finger nail test (dandruff to the uninformed). We fear that there will come a day when the loafers will repent having wasted all of these hours playing. Could it be January 25? Ugh! What a morbid thought.

Another resolution concerns keeping the room nice and neat since we have been receiving notes saying that they lacked "General Neatness". We have been looking for this general at Camp Pickett but thus far have been unable to locate him. Anyone knowing his whereabouts, please send the information to Cunningham Hall quick. It is imperative that the students locate him. We have located General Mixture and General Principles but no General Neatness.

One girl made a New Year's Resolution she thought would be quite simple to keep--be kind to all dumb animals during 1949. She forgot her roommate and suitemates, however, and is finding it rather difficult to keep after all.

We suggest that the only good resolution to make next year is not to make New Year's Resolutions--right?

Juke Box Dance

The Home Economics Club is sponsoring a juke box dance this Saturday night, January 15, in the rec. The time of the dance will be announced later in the week. Admission will be 10c at the door.

The officers of the Home Ec Club, headed by Gwen Cress, president, will be in charge of the dance. Girls may bring dates or come stag, Gwen said.

SPORTIN' AROUND

We hate to harp (we're waiting till we get a golden one) but have you gotten in all your practices for class volleyball and basketball? Saturday is the deadline. Don't be a do-nothin', you may get a secretary spread from sitting down on your class spirit. How about it, now? Eight practices are all that are required, even people lazy as the Rotunda staff is can get in that much exercise. Honest injun, the fate of the color cup really depends on the enthusiasm you show, both on the court and on the sidelines.

There will be a general practice for volleyball every Tuesday night from 7 to 7:30, it sez here. Stow that away in your grey matter because, as we've said before we must repeat, you must have e-i-g-h-t (8) practices.

It's a mighty good thing that the old bird who invented the calendar and only allowed 24 hours to the day is dead and gone. We know beaucoup people who would gleefully put him out of our misery, specially those who aren't far along wih the thirteen third periods required for the sports classes.

Hey you. No, don't look at the girl next to you, we mean you. Let's get in the swim. In Other words of one syllable, the swimming meet is scheduled on February 21, and 28. The big splash counts toward the color cup too, so grab your water wings kids and dive in.

A word to the wise, namely the freshmen, we're counting on you in these color games. You haven't dissappointed the upperclassmen a single time so we know we can expect you to do yourselves up proud. See you on the court for those practices.

Three-fourths of the men and women in this country are married by the time they reach the age of 30.

In Iceland at age 30 only one-third of the men and a little over one-half the women are married.

Chatterbox

Continued from Page 2

Lizzie's first words after returning from Buddy's home: "I ain't pinned or engaged!!" Sad?

It's strange but every time we pick up the phone in Junior building, it seems that Walter Bridges is on the other end. Just???

As a parting thought, better study up for exams. 'Nuff said!!!

Y Lines

In a few weeks you will see posters and other forms of publication telling you about Religious Emphasis Week, which will be a major event on our campus February 8th, 9th, and 10th-three days to take inventory and see just how we can better our everyday living.

Our guest speaker this year is unusually good, having had previous experience with College students at West Point in discussion groups and bull sessions, nevertheless it is essential that we all work together with the ultimate aim of making Religious Emphasis Week a success. We are depending upon the interest and cooperation of each student here at S. T. C.

Miss Iler, Coach, Ritter, Manager, Announce STC Basketball Team; Three Varsity Games Scheduled

Allen Reiterates Swim Requirements For All Juniors

All students are reminded by Frances Allen, swimming instructor, that by their junior year they must have either passed the swimming test or have taken the course in beginner's swimming. Frances requests that all juniors who haven't met one of these requirements please see her immediately.

Beginning March 21 of next semester Mr. W. C. Earof the Eastern Area of the Red Cross will come to this campus to give the Red Cross Swimming Instructo.'s course, Frances also stated. Those interested in taking this course may sign up for it on the A. A. Bulletin Board. To be eligible to take the Instructor's course, a student must be 19 years of age and have successfully completed the Red Cross Life Saving course.

Adelaide Coble, feature editor of the Rotunda, is now in Winchester Memorial Hospital recuperating from a spinal injury. Adelaide was hurt during the Christmas holidays when she was involved in an automobile accident.

Bridgewater Game To Open Season

Names of the girls who made the S. T. C. varsity basketball team as a result of the try-outs held directly before the Christmas holiday, have been announced by Miss Olive Iler, basketball coach, and Patsy Ritter, varsity basketball manager.

Those selected were Frances Allen, Betty Barker, Winifred Beard, Marian Buckner, Sue Brewbaker, Ida Buppert, Betsy Carper, Mary Anna Famulatte.

Also Nancy Gillie, Peggy Harris, Rebecca Kelsey, Anne Langbein, Elizabeth Leslie, Shirley Livesay, Alice Lloyd, Ann Lynch, Romine Mahood, Ellen Mayar, and Jo Ann Missmer.

Also, Jesse Pickett, Jo Ann Phipps, Erma Pearcl, Audrey Ramsey, Jean Ridenour, Patsy Ritter, Norma Roady, Lee Robertson, Betty Romeo, and Shirley Stevens.

Also Margaret Thomas, Nancy Walker, Jean Webb, Eleanor Weddle, Peggy Wilson, Elizabeth Winfree, Marga et Winfree, and Mary Young.

This list is subject to change after first semester.

The first of the three varsity games scheduled so far is to be played at Bridgewater College, February 4. On February 18 the S. T. C. team will go to Salem where they will meet Roanoke College. S. T. C. will play Panzer College of New Jersey here on March 5.

Sophisticated Rat

Continued from Page 2

KA's at Hampden-Sydney really did themselves proud when they gave that out-of-this-world dance last Saturday night. Three cheers for more equally as good!

And what about the dances at VPI and W and L that are just around the corner? No doubt many STC girls will attend in full glory. Since this is the case, why not take a bit of advice. At least two weeks before the dances, try getting plenty of sleep, drinking plenty of water, and above all, start shunning those sweets that seem to be so prevalent in your diet. You'll want to look and feel your best during that special week end. By following those simple, common-sense rules, you'll find yourself as chipper and happy as a kitten with a ball of yarn. Better try it. You won't be sorry when you see that pleased as punch expression on his face.

So it's that time again; time to say so long until next week. Just one more word for the wise: study hard for those first exams.

When you think of flowers think of ours.

Phone 181 Night 4

COLLINS

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to

ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Wilson Firestone

Metal Record Racks

$5.95

Racks $3.50
Record Hassock $24.95

They're New at

THE HUB

BUTTONS AND BOWS, the newest baby doll wedgies $4.98

100 per cent All Wool GABARDINE SUITS

$50 VALUES REDUCED TO $24.95

You'll save during the JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE at the

The Hub Dept. Store

FARMVILLE, VA.

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS

VERSER'S

We strive to please

Make—

COLLEGE SHOP

Your Headquarters

Excellent Food
Excellent Service

MARTIN THE JEWELER

Select your silver at Martins

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

Reach For Justrite Bread Sold By

C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Flowers For All Occasions

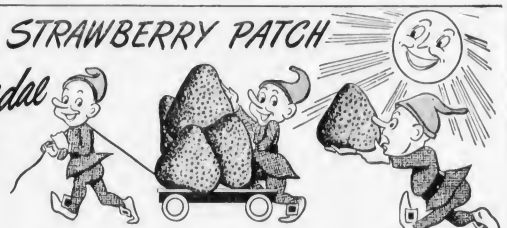
BURG

BOWEN

Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Visit us for good food and good music

THE SNACK BAR



"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

From a Sunny STRAWBERRY PATCH

Strawberry Sundae

PET'S FEATURE FLAVOR OF THE MONTH

You'll dream of sunny, June days . . . when you taste the ribbons of sweet, sun-ripened strawberries, blended with the fresh, sweet cream flavor of Pet Strawberry Sundae! And remember, it's made only of daily fresh whole milk and daily fresh sweet cream! So, this month . . . turn January into June . . . ask for Pet Strawberry Sundae -- the grandest you've ever tasted!

*

To entertain with regal splendor . . . serve Princess Pet -- the de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality! It's the richest, creamiest . . . most delectable Ice Cream you've ever tasted!

PET ICE CREAM

"a health food"

Taste the Fresh Cream in Pet Ice Cream

PATTERSON'S

Painters, Carpenters Imperil STC's Peace-Loving Students

By Mary Leigh Meredith

Life not only gets teejus, but it is also very nerve-wracking at times. I refer, of course, to the delightful entertainment provided for us by the painters, carpenters, etc. If you are violently torn from a deep slumber bright and early some morning by a hair-raising scrape, a shattering screech, don't be alarmed. It is only some of our [illegible] friends planing window [illegible]. While we admit it is nice to have weather-stripping on our windows, must they be so [illegible] about it?

There is nice, too, on the walls, [illegible] not in one's hair, But that [illegible] by its favorite resting [illegible] painfully if one is unsuppo[illegible] enough to walk under [illegible].

Other little things have been known to fall suddenly upon [illegible] too. Just ask the girl who [illegible] not brained with a planer. She'll tell you all about it. Shavings aren't so dange ous but one can hardly say that they are attractive.

Oh, well, we'll be glad when our dear old alma mater is all through with her beautifing treatment and then we won't mind all these trivial little inconveniences we are now experiencing.

Indians trade 3 players for Vernon and Wynn of Senators.

Census shows big rise in British aluminum exports to U. S.

U. S. moves to end world cartel in rubber.

Toni ken:

Old Dan Cupid was working [illegible] time and a half overtime during the holidays, if the number of rings seen around school is any indication Dolly Anne Fre[illegible] and Jim Sydnor, Alice Burgess and Cole E. Rock, Jr., and Tom Allen and Sgt. William D. Hailes, Jr., were among those who were married around Christmas.

Pamie Parham and Tommie Pruett, Jackie Roberts and Johnnie Clement, Glenna Wright and Quentin Bennett, Margaret Hutchens and Turner Weaver, Jessee Overby and Horace Edwards, Darleen Cheatham and John Bussey, Jane Mountjoy and Pfc. Harvey Lee Hudgins, Nancy McCracken and Colin P. Hintze, Jackie Woodward and Billy Flanagan are among those who decided during Christmas to make their engagement official. The very best to all of you.

In 1946 the peak of divorces was reached in this country with 613,000.

Ike Williams, light weight ruler is voted Neil boxing trophy.

Current Art Exhibit To Be Topic of WFLO Program Thursday

On the STC Hour to be broadcast over WFLO on Thursday, January 13 at 4:45, there will be a special feature connected with the current art exhibit being held in the browsing room of the STC library.

Betty Ferguson will interview Lucy Jane Morton, an art major at STC. Also to be interviewed on the program is Mary Kent Withers, a Farmville high school student who has a picture in the exhibit.

Le Cercle Francais To Meet January 19

The French Circle will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, January 18, at 4 p. m. in the audio-visual room of the library, according to the announcement of Dalila Angostini, president.

French Circle members will respond to the roll call with French proverbs, and the group will be led in singing by Yvette Ancey, French student and teacher.

Several students will present a song pantomime, "Quand J'Etais Chez Mon Pere (When I Was Home With Father.)

Meeting Features 'Puerto Rico'

"Puerto Rico" was the theme of the regular Spanish Club meeting held yesterday afternoon in the audio-visual room of the library.

The program began with the group singing Las Mananitas, a birthday song, and La Primavera. (Springtime.) Ann McMullan gave a talk on the culture of Puerto Rico.

Three Puerto Rican students Ada Robles, Olga Rodriguez, and Dalila Agostini sang the island's national anthem, La Borinquena. A reading of the poem, "Puerto Rico," by Jose Gautier Benitez was given by Doris Lloyd; and Helen Hardin gave a monologue on "What I Do Every Day."

The last feature on the program was a quiz on Puerto Rico conducted by Jean Cake.

Summer Session

Continued from Page 1

admitted to the summer session. Continuing a plan inaugurated last summer, the College will have dormitory facilities available for both sexes. A limited number of rooms for married couples will be available also.

Christmas In Famed New York City Resplendent In Yaletide Spirit

By Dalila Agostini

The spirit prevailing in New York City this Christmas was very appropriate to the season. There were days of turmoil and rush in the streets, especially in the big stores. The stores had beautifull artistic displays to offer the public, each centered around a Christmas motive. The stores in Fifth Avenue made one think of fairyland, since the harmony of colors and lights was so gorgeous and effective.

This Christmas we had two snowfalls which made Christmas a very white one. It was rather dangerous riding afte wards, but two days after the first snowfall, the city was cleared of slippery ice.

Broadway had a variety of sensational plays to offer during the season, two of which were "The Silver Whistle" and "The Red Gloves". The former has been made sensational by the acting of my countryman, Jose Ferrer. The latter, a masterpiece of the Frenchman Jean Paul Sartre, has given Charles Boyer a step of advance in his artistic career.

Along the movie line, I can mention Henry V and Joan of Arc as the outstanding films of the season. Most of the foreign films being shown were excellent, being worthy of mention the French one "Monsieur Vincent". The story of the saint is so ably portrayed, that the spectator can not help being interested throughout.

The museums offered various expositions, and there were several exhibitions around town.

A visit to Times Square New Year's Eve was another of the attractions of the season, if being crushed in a crowd can be called an attraction.

Russia acts to end army liason with U. S. Korea.

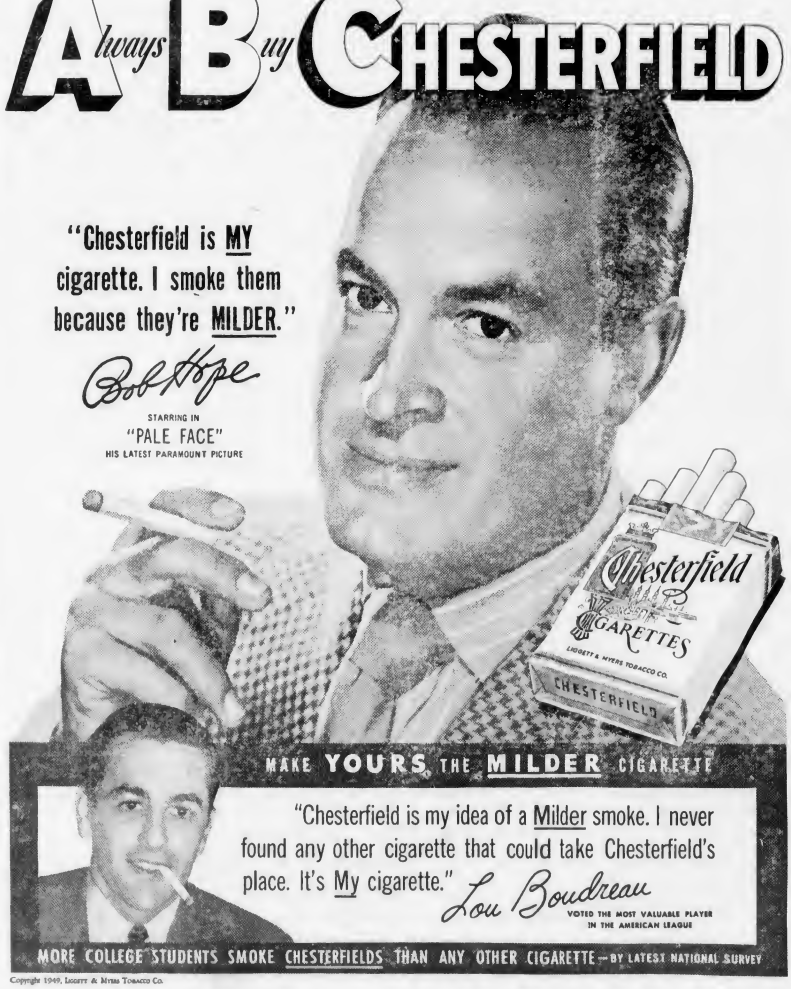
WFLO
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
870 on your dial

JUST RECEIVED
Shipment of new
SLIPOVER SWEATERS
Rabbit hair and wool
Pastel shades
$3.98 and $4.98
DOROTHY MAY STORE

GRAYS DRUG STORE
Select your Christmas gifts from us

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Feel Shopworn?
Shop Refreshed



Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
LYNCHBURG COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, INC.

© 1949 The Coca-Cola Company

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Start Studying Now

The Rotunda

Support March of Dimes

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 19, 1949 | NO. 13

Verser Announces 'Y' Religious Week Subject, Speaker

Dr. Paul Buckles Will Be Speaker

"You and Your Future" will be the topic stressed during Religious Emphasis Week which will begin on this Campus February 7, and will continue until February 10, announced Ann Verser, vice president of Y. W. C. A., who is in charge of Religious Emphasis Week.

Dr. Paul K. Buckles, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Newport News, Virginia, will be the guest speaker during this week. He will hold chapel in the Episcopal Church Tuesday, February 8, and will address the entire student body at assembly Thursday February 10. Throughout the week Dr. Buckles will hold informal bull sessions with the students and will address various classes, showing the connection between religion and the work the class is doing. A question box will be placed in the hall in which students will be able to place questions they would like to discuss with Dr. Buckles.

The social committee under the direction of Laura Lee Stickl / and Dolores Duncan will officially welcome Dr. Buckle with a reception Monday night, February 7.

Ann Verser, who is the general chairman for Religous Emphasis Week, has announced that the following committees will assist her during the week. Dot Wood will head the Publicity Committee; Laura Jean Comerford, Arrangements Committee; Ann Owen and Barbara Grizzard, Classroom Appointments Committee; Caroline Calhoun, and Agnes Dinledine, Hospitality Committee; Betsy Gravely and Lelia May Ferratt, Bull Sessions; Finance, Jackie Wright; and Music, Betty Jordan. Dr. George W. Jeffers, biology professor, will act as faculty advisor for Religious Emphasis Week.

Notice

There will be no Rotunda published next week because of exams.

The next issue will appear Wednesday, February 2 at dinnertime.

Boxley Supervises Play by Apprentices

The Apprentice Group of the Dramatic Club presented Babette Hughes' play, "If the Shoe Pinches" at the regular meeting of the Club yesterday evening in the large auditorium.

The cast of characters of the play, which was a one-act comedy, was Veronica, played by Shirley Elmquist, Princess Olga, by Ruth Lacey, Laura by Jerry Korback, and Dr. Dodge, a woman physician, by Illene Russell.

The play was directed by Griswold Boxley, head of the acting department of the Dramatic Club. Props were handled by Jean Smith, and sound effects were headed by Judy Hughes.

The presentation of this play is part of the requirements for the apprentices of the acting group. Apprentices of other groups also assisted with staging, lighting, makeup, costumes and properties. In this manner they gain experience which is essential to their becoming members of the Dramatic Club.

Two similar plays were previously presented by the apprentices last fall, and there is another play scheduled to be put on at the regular February meeting of the Club.

Dean Savage Announces Adoption of Plan For 3-Hour Examinations This Semester

Classes Resume Tuesday, Feb. 1

Examinations for the fall semester this year are being given for a three hour period for the first time since the S. T. C. College calendar changed last year from a quarter to a semester basis Dean William W. Savage has announced.

Two examinations a day will be given beginning next Tuesday, January 25 through Friday, January 28, but on Saturday, January 29 only one examination will be given. The examination schedule is printed in this issue of the Rotunda.

There will be a college holiday beginning Saturday afternoon January 29, and lasting until Tuesday morning, February 1, when classes will resume at 8:05 a. m. However, those students who will not have completed registering for next semester's classes by Friday of this week will be required to complete their registration on Monday, January 31.

Advance registration is expected to be completed by this Friday. Dean William W. Savage has posted registration instructions on the bulletin board outside Miss Ruth Gleaves' office. Students are reminded that schedules must be approved by class professors, by the head of the department in which the student is majoring, and finally by Dean Savage. Professors may be seen in their offices each day, when they do not have classes, until 4:30 p. m., and Dean Savage will be in his office until 5:00 p. m. each day.

Correct copies of the schedule of courses for the second semester are posted on Dean Savage's office door and on the bulletin board across from the Registrar's office.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

January 25, 26, 27, 28, and 29

Day and hour of examination	Class Hour
Tuesday 8:05	Classes meeting 10:15 MWF
1:45	Classes meeting 11:15 MWF
Wednesday 3:05	Classes meeting 8:05 TTS
1:45	Classes meeting 9:05 TTS
Thursday 8:05	Classes meeting 10:15 TTS
1:45	Classes meeting 1:45 MWF
Friday 8:05	Classes meeting 8:05 MWF
1:45	Classes meeting 1:45 or 2:45 MWF
Saturday 8:05	Classes meeting 9:05 MWF

Miss Holt To Speak To STC Student Body At Thurs. Assembly

Miss Lucy Mason Holt will speak to the student body at the Thursday assembly on January 20. Miss Holt who is principal of the Ocean View School in Norfolk Virginia, will discuss elementary education. She has taken for the title of her talk "At the End of the Row" which, she points out, refers to corn, not a fight.

Miss Holt has been known as a prominent member in the field of elementary education in Virginia for many years and is well qualified to speak on this subject, said Dr. George W. Jeffers, head of the chapel committee.

Dr. Ruffin to Attend Committee Meeting

Dr. M. Beverley Ruffin, STC librarian, will attend the winter meeting of the American Library Association to be held in Chicago, Illinois on January 20, 21, and 22.

Dr. Ruffin plans to attend a national committee meeting where the topic for discussion will be the making of a film to teach college freshmen how to use their college libraries. Since a program of this type has been in practice here at S. T. C. for two years Dr. Ruffin feels she will be qualified to help in the preparation of this film.

Notice

There will be a very important meeting of all Rotunda staff writers tonight in the Publication's Office right after Prayers.

No 11 P. M. Curfew During Exam Week

Gillum Requests Phone Volunteers

Beginning January, 24, Monday night before examinations, the 11 p. m. curfew in the main building dorms will go off for the duration of exams, Martha Gillum, House Council president announced today.

Martha stressed that if there is any unnecessary noise or other infraction of the dormitory rules during this time or anytime during the day, those responsible will receive one call-down. She also reminded the student body that one call down received during examinations will place a student on campus for one week.

All students, including freshmen, may go down town at any hour until six p. m. Tuesday, January 25, through Saturday, January 29.

The House Council is making an effortto keep telephone ringing at night in the dormitores at a minimum during examination week, Martha has requested their hall presidents to answer the phone on nights when they will not have to study for examinations the next day.

Rev. Myers to Give Marriage Talks Here

The Wesley Foundation group, youth organization of the Methodist Church, will present Rev. J. W. Meyers, local Methodist pastor, in a series of talks on "Love, Courtship, and Marriage" to be given in the junior parlor of Cunningham hall beginning Thursday, February 3, from 7 until 8 p. m. All S. T. C. students are invited to come and hear these talks, said Laura Lee Fritts, publicity chairman of the Wesley Foundation.

The second talk will take place on February 17 at 7 p. m., also in junior parlor. On February 24 the series will be concluded at the same time and place.

'Recess' Seeks Talent

Students who want to participate on future "Recess in the Rec" programs, heard weekly at 3 p. m. on Tuesday and Thursday, are requested to fill out the registration blanks that they received in their post office boxes this morning. The blanks should be returned to Page Burnette, student chairman in charge of the program, or deposited in her box in the Town Girl's room as soon as possible.

Page stated that Station WSVS wishes to thank the faculty members of STC and HSC who participated in the faculty broadcast on Thursday, January 13. Because of exams, the regularly scheduled "Recess in the Rec" will not be presented again until February 1.

Annual 'Y' Sings Will Begin Feb. 5

Frosh to Present First of Series

The competitive class sings which are sponsored annually by the Y. W. C. A. begin this year on February 5 and will continue weekly on Saturday night throughout the month. This announcement was made by Agnes Dingledine, chairman of the "Y" Sing Committee.

The freshmen will present the first of the series right after dinner Saturday evening, February 5 in the large auditorium, to be followed the next Saturday, February 12, by the junior sing. The sophomore sing will be given on February 19, and the senior presentation is scheduled tentatively for February 28.

The local Y. W. C. A. will award a prize of five dollars to the class whose sing is judged best in originality and performance. The board of judges, whose names will not be revealed until after the contest will consist of three impartial faculty members and a student representative from each class.

Classes will not be allowed to rchearse their sings until after lunch on the Saturday when they are to be given.

First Evening Classes In History of School Will Begin January 31

Cotillion Issues Bids To 91 Girls

Club to Initiate 'Goats' In Spring

Ninety-one girls received bids last night to the College Cotillion Club, president, Evelyn Patterson, announced.

Those who received bids are Ann C. Moseley, Jean Wilson, Conway Rice, Midge Woods, Jackie Jardine, Charlotte Jones, Shirley Livesay, and Barbara Hawkins.

Also Mary Brame, Cathy Buncb Joyce Clinzenpeel, Peggy Covington, Shirley Fahrback, Nancy Henderson, Mary Lee Noell, Jean Smith, Jane Lee Kellogg, Nancy Lee Cosby, Sue Walker, and Patty Lee Walker.

Also Claudia Bradshaw, Jean C. Watkins, Audrey Pettit, Betty Foster, Janet Peebles, Ann Maitland, Margaret Turner, Nancy Walthall, Frances Thomas, Nancy Karr, Mary Helen Cook, Nancy J. Walker, Kathie McCready, and Marty Miller.

Also Jackie Woodward, Barbara Brown, Shirley Simmons, Marjorie Traylor, Dot Fraher, Maria Jackson, Sarah Cregar, Shirley Goulder, and Inez Hughes and Ann Motley.

Also Beverly Smethie, Charlotte Davis, Mary Sue Ebeling, Betty Lou Grace, Donna Stables, Ada Robles, Louise Cardelino, Nancy Hounshell, Betty Scott Borkey, Lucy Thornhill, Lucille Humphries and Betty Richetts.

Also Margaret Henderson, Nancy West, Jerry Killmon, Hetty H Barnes, May Henry Sadler, Sally Droste, Kitty Alexander, Mary Crawford, Susie Bowle, Marian Higgs, Sally Brickman, and Jerry Korback.

Also Betsy Phillips, Frances Franklin, Pat Tuggle, Dolores Hoback, Joan Prichett, Ann Neblet, Lucy Ann Edmonds, Jane Calahan, Irma Poarch, Margaret Hutchins, Phyllis Tyree, and Jerry Newman.

Also Mary Leigh Meredith, Jo

(Continued on page 3)

Various Courses Will Be Offered

Classes in typewriting, elementary accounting (bookkeeping), English grammar and composition, shorthand, business law, interior decoration, and public speaking will be offered in the evening at State Teachers College, beginning January 31. They will end during the week of May 23.

In making this announcement, President D. S. Lancaster pointed out that this new evening division is the first in the history of the college.

"We are opening it," he said, "on the basis of the interest in night classes that was indicated by the survey completed recently by the Farmville Rotary Club. Its success and its continuation will, of course, be dependent upon the interest shown by the people of this area of Virginia. We shall offer any class in which at least 15 persons enroll. We hope that it will become a permanent part of our college making available to the people of this area an educational opportunity they have not had before."

The classes will be open to three groups of people: first, those who are graduates of accredited high schools and who wish to obtain college credits for the courses in which they enroll; secondly, mature persons who wish to obtain high school credit for the work; and thirdly, those who wish no official credits. President Lancaster pointed out that this procedure conforms with practices in accredited colleges offering evening classes.

Courses Outlined

The course in typewriting will be for beginners. It will meet two nights each week, from 7:15 to 9:15 p. m. on Mondays and Fridays. It will be conducted by Norman O. Myers, associate professor of business education at State Teachers College.

The course in shorthand will likewise be for beginners and will

Continued on page 4

Mr. French Heads March of Dimes Drive; Dr. Schlegel Stresses Need of Finances

"Financial aid often makes it possible for polio victims to resume normal activities. Without it many would be able to continue life only as complete invalids," Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel, of the S. T. C. history faculty remarked yesterday during an interview in connection with the March of Dimes campaign on our campus. This campaign began on Friday, January 14, and will continue throughout January.

Mr. Raymond H. French, assistant professor of chemistry and physics, who is in charge of the campaign stated that contributions would be solicited at the table in the hall and also in the dorms. He pointed out that there was a great need for funds this year, as the epidemic last summer, the second worst in the history of the U. S., drained almost all resources. He also reminded students that in one year there were three cases of polio on this campus—no one is immune to this scourge of mankind. Money contributed to this worthy cause not only provides expensive treatments for victims but also aids the researchers who hope to find some way of preventing polio.

MR. RAYMOND H. FRENCH

Dr. Schlegel, who contracted the disease at the age of one, remarked that the present methods of treatment seem to have done a great deal toward preventing the crippling results of polio. He spoke in favor of the Sister Kenny treatments but pointed out the expense of adequate care and treatment. "I was lucky enough to have a father who could afford extensive treatments for me but many who are afflicted are not so lucky," he remarked.

Comparing the treatments he received with the modern methods Dr. Schlegel expressed the belief that treatments today not only have a much better percentage of recovery but are also easier on the patient. He mentioned various machines used on him to straighten and strengthen distorted and weakened muscles, lights used for "baking" diseased limbs and the old system of strapping muscles to counteract muscular spasms.

Last year S. T. C. contributions to the March of Dimes amounted to about one hundred dollars. Part of this fund is sent to the National Headquarters and the rest remains in the county for local use. "Because of the great need of funds this year, we hope S. T. C. students will surpass last years total," concluded Mr. French.

How's Your Honor?

"I, , having a clear understanding of the basis and spirit of the Honor Code . . . " You signed your name to those words and now as examinations approach you are being asked to prove your honor.

The honor system is one of the oldest and highest traditions of State Teachers College. You accepted this system as your own when you entered S .T .C. Now in the eleventh hour of the semester can you uphold this system? Does a good or a better grade in a classroom subject mean more to you than your honor, which should be one of your most cherished possessions?

Your term paper is due tomorrow—the girl next door who knows the subject backwards and forward gave you a few ideas—you don't have time to mull over these, add to them and put them down in your own words so you write them down as she said them—verbatim. Who's to know, you say. The answer is obvious—you, and if you also know the meaning of the Honor Code you will know you have violated it.

Classrooms are crowded. Can you help it if, as you pause to think, the written words of the "A" student in front of you stare you boldly in the face? Perhaps not, but you can refrain from transferring these words to your own paper if yours happens to bear different words. Or do you have that much honor, or to put it in milder words, that much will-power?

Until you prove yourself otherwise the faculty, the administration and the students of S. T. C. assume you to be a person of absolute honor. Honor is the one essential that enables a person to respect himself and to deserve the respect of others. It is far too easy to lose this respect but almost impossible to regain it. Remembering this, it will be almost impossible for you to be anything but honorable as you face the coming week.

Respectfully We Suggest

This week we'd like to take up a cry raised last week by a letter to the editor referring to the upsetting practice of a few of our faculty of either assembling their classes earlier than the appointed time or dismissing them late, or both.

We admire our faculty and would hate to have it said that we were disrepectful. We are only trying tactfully to underscore the above mentioned letter writer's complaint that when instructors begin a class ahead of schedule or detain it beyond the time limit, they work a great inconvenience on both their colleagues and their students. We students are entitled to sufficient time to walk to class at a normal pace, to answer mail call during the 10 o'clock morning break, and to have at least a couple of minutes between classes to shift our minds over to the different channel of thought required for the next class.

We realize that tardiness is doubtless more prevalent among students than with the faculty. But the fact remains that the teachers are empowered to penalize us when we inconvenience them; whereas when they inconvenience us, we can do nothing.

Another thing we want to point out is that although we seldom show it, we do appreciate our instructors' zealousness, sometimes overzealousness, as indicated by the above, for the cause of our education. All we ask is that they remember that we too are individuals who have appointments to keep and responsibilities to meet.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Haunlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Jean Smith, Joan Prichett, Jean Otis Loving

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Janice Siavin, Mary Crowgey, Dalia Agostini
Betty Ferguson ..... Chaterbox Editor

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Anne Lynch

Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Patsy Gravely, Mildred Carter, Anne Verser

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor
Mary Cooper Whiteside

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Anne Simpson ..... Typing Manager

In charge of this issue: Jacqueline Eagle

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 19, 1949

PUDDIN' 'n SAUCE

Everybody's doing it. Doing what? Why studying for exams, of course. Everybody 'cept me, that is and I'm beating bitty bumps on my head trying to think of something to amuse you for six inches of type. Oddly enough my sense of humor is about equal with my sense period—I haven't any.

Sophomore Production was a howl. The Freshmen will really have to strut their stuff if they want to rival it. Those freaks would put any sideshow in the running with Barnum and Bailey. Congratulations, kids, on a splendid show. You really worked together on it in fine old S. T. C. tradition.

Snooping around where we probably had no business (copy-catting friend Chatterbox) we came across some po'try concerning the change of the name. We think you'll get a good giggle out of it so—Quote:

Pocahontas, Pokey, Poke
That's our name
That ain't no joke.

Norfolk and Western
Choo choo choo
Name us that and we'll
Boo hoo hoo

Change the name of any place,
Change the name of human race,
Change exams to afternoon tea,
But don't change the name of STC.

Ed. Note: The above is one man's opinion—not necessary the editor's.

So long, kiddies, and don't let the big bad exam wolf catch you unprepared. Fox him by studying. Good luck.

Sophisticated Rat

And how are every one of you sophisticated Freshmen on this January 19? Probably you are fine with the exception of the "small" but pressing matter of exams.

The Freshman class is full of congratulations to the Sophomores for putting over their production with such a stupendous bang. There will have to be a lot of brain racking to put on a production equal to theirs, but how could the Green and White's triumph over a group of Red and White's?

A little bird told me that Kim Coleman had a birthday last week. She almost got by the day without a soul's knowing about it, but that little bird was right in there pitching. Happy Birthday, Kim. The cake was luscious.

So you've practically had a fatal case of apoplexy from worrying about registering for classes before you take off for that short vacation? If you have, you're in the same rocking canoe with the rest of the sea-worthy Freshmen. That special weekend of rest will be nothing short of heaven.

Martha Alice Wilson was chosen as chairman of the Freshman sing scheduled to be held Saturday night, February 5. "B B",

Continued on page 3

Chatterbox

This week started off with a bang—everyone getting a little worried about exams and by the end of the week, we'll probably be able to report a few casualties.

"Ratch" finally decided to grace the school with her presence after an extended holiday. And by the way, she still has all her essential teeth!

Congrat's to the sophs on a wonderful production! Betsy and Vonnie shorely did get it worked up fine, especially in he amount of time they had. And the "circus" scene really went over big—particularly with the co-eds and dates!

Audrey and Itchy, and Jan and Gat made it to the basketball game Saturday night—as did hail of S. T. C. including Peggy with Meade,, Ruth Ellen, (watching Wyllis play basketball, that is) Margaret and Walt, and various and sundry others.

Meade and Walt were really haunting the campus this week end. Seems they took off for Lynchburg Sunday with Betsy and Anne.

By the way, the word is going around Hampden - Sydney that Walt Bridges is building a huge tower behind Cushing—"Is the moon in sight?" they ask. But who knows?

Lizzie and B. S. took off for home this week end and returned with no casualties to mention.

Seems Charlotte and Shep (that girl does get around) had a hot time Saturday nite—Uh-hum ! ! !

What's this about Anne Ford bringing visitors (Meade and Doug Chapman to be exact) up to 3rd floor annex in the elevator? That was a dirty trick to play on Margaret. The further details are unprintable, but ask Margaret Wall is her "face" red!

Kitty Carmichael was looking up wrecking companies Sunday night. Seems Ray was driving again—no casualties except maybe the car!

As of yesterday, your Chesterfield representative is donating a carton of those wonderfully mild cigarettes to the "Recess in the Rec" prize bag every week. I know this will be incentive for a lot of gals to get on the program!

Since there don't seem to be anymore hot tips, let's leave alone this idle gossip and hit the books for the little surprise coming up. Goody-goody ? !

The Merry-Go-Round Broke Down

Gallop Pole

Question—"What did you like best about Sophomore Production?"

Kitty Carmichael: Nancy Camper on that tricycle.

Nancy Meeteer: Westbrook as a hot-dog.

Frances Davenport: I liked Edna and Isaac the Hulu-Hulu Girls.

Ida Buppert: I agree with Frances.

Lizzy West: I liked Westbrook best.

Jerry Killman: I don't know what I liked best. It was all so good.

Mr. "Charlie Hop": I liked that mermaid. It was all wonderful.

Romine Mahood: Peery pulling the curtain.

Charlette Flaugher: Nancy Camper's little act, "candy's dandy, etc."

Chic Ritchie: Mahood in the beauty contest.

Hetty Barnes: I liked the Circus Scene, especially the Master of Ceremonies, Betsy Wilson, and the fat lady, Betsy Gravely.

Helen Hardin: Gosh, it was all so grand I just don't know which to name; Westbrook was mighty clever; and who didn't love Edna and Isaac?

Norma Roady: I liked Edna Rodriquez and Margaret Ann, the fisherman.

Frances Minter: Chic and Margaret Ann, were the cutest things I saw.

Nancy Short: All those men!

Jan Peebles: They couldn't have done without Betsy's side remarks.

Lee Wood: I liked Andy Adams.

Helen Kaknis: Romine and her cute little bows and her classy bathing suit (?)

Ann Moody: I liked Betsy Gravely as the fat lady.

Anonymous: That part where Gravely's pillow started slipping.

Jean Oliver: Andy and Jinny's fight. It portrayed S. T. C. life so well.

Betty Foster: I liked Westbrook, the freaks, and the candy dancers.

Chasee Sykes: Westbrook was wonderful!

Jane Seward: I liked the beauty contest, especially Janie Lyon.

Audrey Pettit: On the whole of it - very good.

Marion Avediklan: Those corny jokes!

Jean Anderson: Dolores Waterfield singing "All of Me".

Sophomores Give Audience 'Day at the Beach' Feeling

With a hot-dog here and a two-headed woman there the Sophomore Production went over with a Bang, and I do mean bang! "On the boardwalk at Atlantic City life is peaches and cream"—that's what they sang and that's what they meant!

As the waves broke upon the beach and a thirsty singer complained of "Water, water everywhere and not a drop to drink" the audience was instilled with that "day-at-the-beach" feeling. The fisherman's boy shouted to his sister at play and a sailor small sang of his love before the day committed sucide — oops — I mean before the day died.

In true black-face style, "King Neptune" called his court (fish, oysters, shrimp and an octopus) to session as the curtains were drawn for act number two. The audience rolled in the aisles as the end-men (or would you call them end-shrimps?) discussed the Atomic bomb, but a dying mermaid turned their laughter to tears.

Candy—cotton candy, was ever a beach complete without it? And such cotton candy—ummmmmm—such luscious looking cones! Not only that—but could they tap! (They could!) And if you don't like candy there's never to be found a beach without at least one hot-dog, a singing one, at that!

Of course, Atlantic City just wouldn't be Atlantic City without a beauty contest! But such a way to pick a winner! "And how we love to see her fight!" If you didn't see it there's no possible way to describe it and if you did see it—'nuff said.

"Dolores—the half woman—no arms—and no legs"—" Lena, the two-headed woman"— the alligator-boy, the thin woman, these were only a few of the freaks the sophs dreamed (must have been nightmares!) up to amuse or confuse their delighted audience.

Oh, "we could live forever on the boardwalk of Atlantic City"—you said it sophs, and we know just what you mean—"Life is gay in every way."

Coming Examinations Find STC'ers Mentally Upset

By Janice Slavin

'Tis the week before exams and all through the dorms, everyone is tearing their hair out—all three strands ! !

What to start work on first is the question. How could we have possibly put off so many things until the last minutes? It "ain't" easy, we'll clue you.

Our typical S. T. C-er wanted to start this week off right. Her intentions were good. After supper she picked up her books and proceeded to get to work. The door opened! Murder flashed in the eyes of the study victim! The demon smiled and said sweetly, "I haven't got anything to do, so I thought I'd come in and talk to you. I hope you aren't studying."

"Oh no," our typical STCer smiled and gritted her teeth simultaneously, "I'm just looking at the pictures in these dear (?) books. We may have a quiz on them sometime."

The demon talked and talked on various and sundry subjects finally leaving, after about two hours. Happily, our typical STCer again opened her books and again the door was opened. Three more demons thrust their heads in the door. "We're come to play bridge with you. Aren't you thrilled?" one of the demons volunteered.

"Thrilled isn't the word for it," replied our typical STCer with a glow of congeniality on her face —yeh congeniality.

"But I can't play bridge tonight. I've got a test tomorrow," the typical STCer protested.

"That's beside the point," they replied, "invading the room. Don't you appreciate our company?"

"Frankly, no", the answer came back. "What can I do to make you hate me at this instant to get some peace?"

"Just be yourself," a demon glared dealing a deck of cards furiously.

Our typical STCer found herself involved in a bridge game that lasted until about eleven o'clock. What a life! The demons decided to go to their rooms. Ah at last—peace and quiet. Yeh, peace and quiet. The nice and ever present practical jokers are on the loose. No matter where you turn, they have you trapped. In another hour or so, our S. T. C-er fell to sleep exhausted. She has vowed that she will put a note on her door which reads: "If you have nothing to do, don't do it here."

She can dream, however, of the big week end coming up after exams are over and the future will again assume a brighter outlook. In the meantime she will have to be content with her plans and keep her hopes high.

Cotillion Bids

Continued from Page 1

Ann Yow, Joy Humphries, Betty Jo Orr, Polly Caldwell, Jane Darden, Ann Moody, Jean Ridenour, Marian Beckner, Ann Harding, and Sarah Crocker.

The new Cotillion Club members will not be initiated until spring when they, together with members bid last fall, will undergo "goating". Part of their initiation will be to decorate for the spring Cotillion Club dance to be given probably in April.

Cotillion Club is a local organization composed of 250 students whose purpose is to promote good dancing on the campus and to this end they sponsor annually two dances, one in the fall and one in the Spring.

SPORTIN' AROUND

Want to be a heroine? You never can tell but your chance might come this summer if you have your Red Cross life-saving badge. Your chance to get it is next semester, so be sure and plan your schedule accordingly. This class will go into advanced swimming so that you will get your credit in swimming. The course will be taught from 3:00 to 4:30 on Tuesdays and Thursdays, as announced by Frances Allen.

We interrupt this program for an important announcement: It's still not too late to get in your eight practices! If you set your mind to it and get them in before class games start, you can still prove your loyalty to your class and classmates. Volleyball practices are Tuesday and Thursday at 1:45, Monday and Wednesday at 3:45, and also Tuesday nights right after supper. (Did you know exercise aided in digestion? Kill two birds with one stone!) Basketball practices are Tuesday and Thursday at 2:45 and 3:45 p. m. and varsity practices Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday at 4:45. (Just in case you haven't seen the poster on the bulletin board!)

In this corner we'd like to belatedly congratulate the tennis singles semi-finalists—Helen Agnew, Anne Langbein, Nancy Gillie, and Patsy Ritter. We know when the buds of spring finally burst through, they'll all be in there playing for all they're worth to snap up those color cup points. Anne Langbein and Patsy Ritter represent red and white, and Helen Agnew and Nancy Gillie, green and white.

The Varsity basketball squad has been working hard at basketball practices for their initial game which is Friday, February 4 at Bridgewater College.

Sophisticated Rat

Continued from Page 2

as everyone knows her, will do a wonderful job. Good luck!

Take it from there, Bye now and hope to see you week after next.

ASA Gives for Organ

A check for $400 to be used in the Jarman Organ Fund was presented to Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster at the regular meeting of the local chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha, national social sorority, last week.

The money was donated to the fund by the National Council of Alpha Sigma Alpha which was founded on this campus.

Class In Phys. Ed. Visits Hospitals

Last Thursday, January 13, eighteen of the students in the Corrective Physical Education class journeyed to Richmond, accompanied by Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, who teaches the class. There they visited the Medical College of Virginia, McGuire Hospital, and the Crippled Children's Home.

The group visited the physiotherapeutic division of these hospitals and observed methods of electro, physical, occupational, educational, and corrective therapy in actual operation.

During their visit to Richmond, members of the Correctives class were able to see practical demonstrations of the theories they have been studying this semester.

Glee Club Cancels T. Dorsey Concert

The proposed Tommy Dorsey Orchestra concert originally scheduled for February 8, has been cancelled, according to the announcement of Mr. D. A. Cline, director of the Hampden-Sydney College Glee Club, which was to have sponsored the concert.

Mr. Cline stated that the Glee Club had to cancel the concert because no auditorium large enough to seat the required size audience was available. He added that had one of the local auditoriums been used, the price of tickets would have been prohibitive.

Make—

COLLEGE SHOP

Your Headquarters

Excellent Food
Excellent Service

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS

VERSER'S

We strive to please

When you think of flowers think of ours.

Phone 181 Night 4

COLLINS

Wilson Firestone

Metal Record Racks

$5.95

Racks $3.50
Record Hassock $24.95

MARTIN THE JEWELER

Select your silver at Martins

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

Reach For Justrite Bread Sold By

C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to

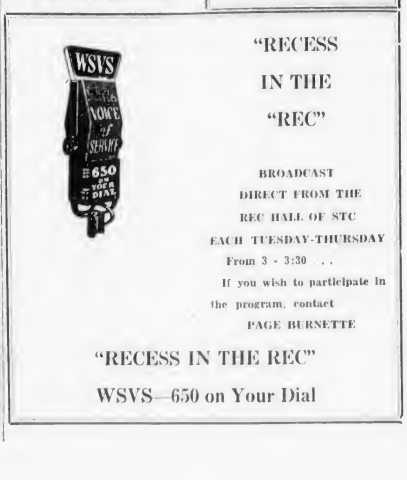
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Flowers For All Occasions

BURG

BOWEN Inc. Farmville Jewelers

Visit us for good food and good music



THE SNACK BAR

"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Toni ken:

Guest Editor, Patsy Gravely

Have you noticed the new look for Spring Suits have a classic tailored look, with a modified jacket length. Trim little jackets, often belted in back, are worn with slim dresses or suits.

Narrow skirts are occasionally slit a few inches in the back and accented at the hipline. Pockets are designed on both formal and informal dresses. Waistlines are well defined, shoulders are rounded, and the bodice is probably softly draped. Skirt lengths are from 13 to 14 inches from the floor, and either very full or narrow with sashes frequently worn about the waist.

Some of the new shades will be "Moonlit Blue" and "Dior Rust," which is similar to the color of a ripe chestnut. A cool red will be very popular, also, shades such as delicate pastels, beige, and pearl white, which will be worn mostly for evening wear.

A few of the favorite fabrics will be silk taffetas, twills, gabardines, shantungs, and linen. The clothes for this spring are youthful in style, and well designed.

Rotunda Try Outs Begin This Week

Tryouts for '49 Rotunda staff positions begin with this issue, Betty Spindler, announced today. The trial staff this week is made up of Jackie Eagle as editor-in-chief, Mary Leigh Meredith as managing editor, Jean Smith as news editor, Ann Lynch as sports editor, Janice Slavin as feature editor and Milly Carter as social editor.

In subsequent issues, Mary Leigh Meredith, Jean Smith, Mildred Garnett, Joan Prichett and Janice Slavin will serve as editor-in-chief for an issue. The results of these trials will be submitted to the Publications Board in March for consideration in choosing the new Rotunda staff.

Citation, injured slightly, will not race again until spring.

Methodist Youth Organize Groups For Discussion

Baptist Students Plan for Revival

By Millie Carter

Organization of the local Methodist Wesley Foundation has recently undergone a change, according to a recent announcement of Nancy Kibler, president. Several Fellowship cell groups have been organized for the purpose of discussion groups. A cell group meets each evening at the Methodist Student Center. Last week, Dr. James Elliott Walmsley, former head of the History Department at S. T. C., was discussion leader. His topic was "Understanding the Christian Faith."

BSU'ers of the Baptist Church are making their plans for a Youth Revival to be held the last week of February. The revival will be conducted by a Youth Revival team from the University of Richmond.

The Council of Westminster Fellowship was held last Sunday at 6 p. m. The regular meeting will be held January 23 at 7 p. m. Everyone will be interested in the supper meeting held at Hampden-Sydney at 6 o'clock p. m., on February 6.

The Canterbury Club will have no special program this Sunday, because of examinations. However, an open house will be held at the rectory from 3 'til 10. Everyone is cordially invited.

A Union Vesper Service was held at the Episcopal Church Sunday night, January 16. A candlelight pageant entitled "The Feast of Lights" was presented by the boys of the Episcopal Church. Refreshments were served afterwards at the rectory.

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, and the Foreign Mission Fellowship held a joint conference during Christmas vacation at the Univeristy of Illinois. S. T. C. was represented by Melbale Booth, who told us that there were eleven representatives from Virginia at this conference.

The Student Council of Fellowship on this campus has heard from Miss Anne Childs, S. T. C. staffworker, for the southwestern area. She will probably visit this campus about the first of February. There will also be a state conference of S. C. F. in the latter part of February.

Evening Classes

Continued from Page 1

meet on Monday and Friday, from 7:15 to 9:15 p. m. It will be taught by Mrs. Alice C. Wynne, associate professor of business education at the college.

The course in elementary accounting (bookkeeping) will meet on Friday night of each week from 7:15 p. m. to 9:50 p. m. It will be taught by M. L. Landrum head of the department of business education at the college.

A course in business law will be held on Friday nights from 7:15 to 9:50 p. m. The instructor has not been announced but Dr. Lancaster has stated that the college expects to have a person of outstanding qualifications for it. His name will be announced next week.

Interior Decoration

The class interior decoration will cover the structural and decorative design of the home and its furnishings. It will meet each Friday from 7:15 p. m. to 9:50 p. m. The instructor will be Miss Margaret Sprunt Hall, assistant professor of home economics at State Teachers College.

Like most of the classes, that in public speaking will also meet on Friday nights from 7:15 p. m. to 9:50 p. m. Persons enrolled in it will have an opportunity to secure practice and training in giving extemporaneous and prepared speeches. It will be taught by Dr. Robert C. Beale, professor of English of Hampden-Sydney.

The course in English, meeting each Friday night from 7:15 to 9:50 p. m., will cover grammar and composition. It will be equivalent to the first semester of college English in the day classes. The instructor will be Mrs. Mildred D. Davis, assistant professor of English at State Teachers College.

Registration

A tuition fee of $20 will be charged for each course. The course in typewriting will require an additional laboratory fee of $3 but other courses will not have laboratory fees.

All classes will be held on the campus in the west wing. All persons planning to register for them must do so on Friday night, January 28. Registration will be held at 7:30 p. m. Individuals should be able to complete this within one hour.

Registration will be under the direction of Dean W. W. Savage. He has announced that all persons coming to the college to register should enter the main entrance of the west wing.

Present students at S. T. C. may enroll in the evening classes, provided they will not be carrying more than 18 credits, including day class credits, Dean Savage said.

9 Majors To Stay In Home Ec' House

A new group of nine senior home economics majors will begin their nine weeks stay in the Home Management House at the beginning of the next semester.

These girls, including Laura Jean Comerford, Gwenn Cress, Marjorie Miller, Betty Jane Brockway, Harriet Steele, Frances Farley, Doris Lanier, Marlon Peake Slate, and Esther Goffigan, will take on all the duties of keeping a home. They will take turns at serving as waitress, hostess, cook, and housekeeper.

The home management house, which is located across from the main building on Buffalo Street, is under the direction of Miss Margaret Sprunt Hall, and provides a system of practical application of the theories of Home Economics which these girls have learned in the last three years.

Those students who stayed at the Home Management House during the fall semester will return to the dormitories this month.

GRAYS DRUG STORE

CARA NOME and WHITMAN'S CANDIES

Truly a Drug Store

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Cold Weather Ahead
Shop at
For Wanted Needs
J. J. Newberry Co.

WFLO
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
870 on your dial

When a Fellow Welcomes Hospitality

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
LYNCHBURG COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, INC.

THIS GREAT NEW MODERN CIGARETTE FACTORY to meet the increasing demand for the Milder cigarette from smokers all over America

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, FEB. 2, 1949 | No. 14

Kappa Delta, Zeta T. Alpha Return Alpha Chapters Here

Locals, GT, MO Pledge Nationals

Two national sororities founded here have returned to the campus of State Teachers College, Farmville. Gamma Theta sorority has become the Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta and Mu Omega sorority the Alpha Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha.

Kappa Delta sorority was founded on October 23, 1897, and Zeta Tau Alpha on October 15, 1898. Exercises re-establishing the two sororities were held in the College auditorium on Thursday, January 20, Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of the College, presided. Miss Elizabeth W. Lanier, national president of Kappa Delta and Miss Wanda Garver, field secretary of Zeta Tau Alpha, were present at the exercises.

In the year 1912 a separation took place between sororities in colleges of liberal arts and sororities in the teachers colleges. Four national sororities were founded at State Teachers College. They were KD, Sigma Sigma Sigma, ZTA, and Alpha Sigma Alpha.

When the separation became effective in 1912, Tri Sigma and ASA elected to remain in the teachers colleges; ZTA and KD became affiliated with the National Panhellenic Conference, the liberal arts group.

In 1947, the national groups reunited and agreed that chapters whose charters had been with drawn could be reestablished.

Program Body, Activities Group, Takes Lyceum Poll

The Program Committee, a subcommittee of the Committee on Scheduling Student Activities, has requested a poll of student opinion concerning the types of Lyceum program they prefer. The results of this poll will help the committee in choosing the programs to be presented here in the future.

Among the Lyceums of last year and this year have been Mac Morgan, vocal soloist, Albert Spalding, concert violinist, "The Rivals", a Dramatic Club production, Henrietta Schumann, concert pianist, and the Barter Theater's production of "Hamlet". Students are requested to fill in the questionnaire below, clip it out, and drop it in a box which will be provided outside Dean Savage's office Thursday.

Number the Following Types of Program Presentations In the Order of Your Preference 1, 2, 3, 4, etc.)

(—) Lecturer (—) Play
(—) Pianist
(—) Vocalist —solo
(—) Dancer—solo
(—) Dance Group
(—) Dramatic Reader
(—) Instrumental Group
(—) Violinist

List any not mentioned. Mention specific names or groups you prefer .....

.....

.....

Recess In the Rec Will Return Feb. 3

WSVS's "Recess in the Rec" will return to the air February 3 at the regular time of 3 o'clock after a temporary absence from the air due to exams. Students are urged to apply for participation on future programs. If accompaniment and music are unavailable, the program committee will gladly furnish any student with them.

Mrs. Coyner Edits Alumnae Bulletin

Letter Included From President

The February, 1949 Alumnae News is being sent out to over seven thousand S. T. C. alumnae, according to Mrs. Ruth Harding Coyner, executive secretary and treasurer of the Alumnae Association and Editor of the Alumnae News.

MRS. T. J. STARKE

With each copy of the News is being enclosed a letter from Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of S. T. C., in regard to a change of name for S. T. C. Dr. Lancaster explains briefly the reasons that a change of name is desired and asks for recommendations and suggestions.

Included in this issue is the 1949 Founder's Day tentative program and attention is called to the "four" and "nine" classes which will hold special reunions.

Other topics covered by this issue are the college on the air, the Alumnae fund, the six summer workshops planned for 1949, Alumnae chapter activities, faculty and administration news, Alumnae news, S. T. C.'s fifty-year sororities, and an alumnae tribute to Dr. Joseph Leonard Jarman.

Also included is a brief summary of outstanding events on the campus during the college year of 1947-48, pictures of the 1948-49 Granddaughters' Club, and a message from the Alumnae national president, Maria Bristow Starke.

Wesley Foundation Sponsors Lectures

A series of talks on love, courtship, and marriage which will be given by Reverend John Wynn Myers during the month of February, is being sponsored by the Wesley Foundation.

The first talk will be given the evening of February 2, beginning at 7:00 P. M. in the junior parlor. The second and third of the series will be presented the 16 and 23 respectively. Posters giving times and places have been placed throughout the college.

Notice

Nominations for May Court will be held Thursday, February 3. The table in the hall will be open until 5 p. m. for students to make their nominations. The election will be held after dinner Friday in the large auditorium. Eighteen girls will be chosen for the court. Mrs. Landrum said.

College Library Distributes Free Reading Material

Pamphlets Prove Useful To Teachers

The free distribution of pamphlets has become an established policy in the college library. During the summer session of 1948, a large bulk of such material was spread over four reading room tables. Summer School students were quick to take advantage of the chance to acquire informational and pictorial items which varied in character from a brochure on how to clean one's teeth to colored folders on the beauties of the Swiss Alps, said Dr. M. Beverly Ruffin, College librarian.

During the fall semester the number of pieces given away exceeded thirty-four hundred. These pamphlets have been used by the students in student teaching, for independent self-instruction, and for casual entertainment. Some future teachers are collecting items from this source for later use in the classroom. Professors in the college also have made use of this pamphlet service, at times sending for a specified number of a pamphlet on some subject under study.

The sources for obtaining these materials are many. All the members of the library staff watch periodical literature for notices of free items. Requests are sent out for titles in quantities ranging from ten to fifty. The responses have been gratifying.

Mrs. Fred Jenkins (Martha Holman, class of '46,) who is in charge of this material, reports that a new and continuing supply of free items will be placed on a table in the Reserve Book Room sometime in the first week of the new semester.

Evening Classes To Meet Friday

The first evening classes in the history of State Teachers College began last Monday evening, January 331, when the shorthand and typewriting classes met. Dean William W. Savage stated that the business law and interior decoration classes have suffiecient enrollment to start Friday night, February 4.

Advance enrollment indicates, Dean Savage said, that the class in elementary accounting will operate, but it is doubtful whether or not there will be classes in public speaking and English. It will not be known definitely if these courses will be offered until Friday evening, February 4, when they are scheduled to meet for the first time.

Continued on page 4

Juniors Will Hold Tea Before Dance Saturday, Feb. 4

The juniors will begin their Ribbon Ball week end, Saturday February 19, with a tea for juniors and their dates to be held in the Student Lounge the afternoon of the dance, according to the announcement of Helen Hardin, general chairman of the junior dance.

The price of tickets to the Ribbon Ball has been set at $1.8 stag, and $2.40 drag, says Ann Nock, ticket chairman. Tickets will go on sale to juniors Thursday, February 10, and they will be available to the rest of the student body beginning Monday, February 14.

Johnny Satterfield and his orchestra from the University of North Carolina will furnish the music for the Ribbon Ball.

STC Will Issue Vocational Guide For High Schools

Bulletins To Go To Va. Students

The new State Teachers College bulletin, "Will College Prepare you for a Career?" has arrived from the printers and is being mailed to Virginia high school and to prospective students.

This booklet which serves as a vocational guidance aid to high school students was written by Dean William W. Savage and prefaced by Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster. It is amply illustrated with photographs of classrooms and college scenes taken this fall by Berman Scott, a freshman here.

In the new bulletin is a brief explanation of each major field of study offered at S. T. C., its opportunities, and training, in addition to a short bibliography following each topic directing the reader to supplement information about the various vocational fields taken up in "Will College Prepare You for a Career?"

Dean Savage stated that as far as he knows, this is the first time any Virginia college has brought out a publication of this type. He added that the booklet should be particularly useful to guidance workers in high schools.

Anyone may secure a copy of "Will College Prepare You for a Career?" by addressing Dean of the College, State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, S. T. C. students who would like a copy may get one from Dean Savage's office.

Art Exhibit Adds Negro's Painting

A new primitive painting by "Uncle Charlie" Carter of Prince Edward County has been added to the exhibition of works by local artists now on display in the browsing room of the College library. This display will remain in the library until the end of this month.

Two other exhibits, prepared by Mrs. George W. Jeffers of the library personnel, can be seen throughout this month. One of these exhibits features the New England states and the other is of the winter birds of this section.

Dr. Ruffin stated that the Vocational Pamphlet File in the reference room of the library now contains 1,325 pieces on 183 different occupations. In the file are pamphlets in the fields of banking, beauty culture, biology, boots and shoe industry, brick and tile industries, and business administration. Others are on gifts shops, interior decoration, education and instruction, nursing, clothes designs, and agriculture.

Vocational opportunities for handicapped persons and for minority groups are included in the file. Also, there is general advice on vocational choice and preparation, on self-testing, and on occupational statistics.

Supplementing the Vocational Pamphlet File is the older Pamphlet File of the Reference Department. Material related to vocations may be found there under such entries as Education.

The 1,269 college catalogs also form a storehouse of information on formal training for professional, technical, and clerical types of work.

Dr. Ruffin added that the vocational material now on hand forms the basis for a more extended service which the S. T. C. library hopes to offer in the future to the college and high school students in the Farmville area, and to public school teachers and others who are engaged in any type of work which requires the counseling of young people.

Dr. Buckles Will Lead Religious Service Week

Y. W. C. A. Sponsors 'Y' Entertains At Reception

DR. PAUL BUCKLES
Religious Emphasis Speaker

Dr. Paul K. Buckles, who will be guest speaker on this campus during Religous Emphasis Week, will be welcomed by the faculty Monday, February 7th, with a reception in the Student Lounge.

Dr. Buckles attended King College in Bristol, Tennessee, where he received his B. A. Degree. He attended Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, and received his Doctor of Divinity Degree from Hampden-Sydney College.

In 1918, Dr. Buckles served as a private in the army. From 1942 to 1946 he was a member of the Chaplain Corps and served as a Lieutenant Colonel. He was last stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Dr. Buckles held the pastorate of the Virginia Beach and Lynnhaven Churches, and in 1940 he came to the First Presbyterian Church of Newport News, Virginia where he is now pastor.

Last year Dr. Buckles was guest speaker at King College during Religious Emphasis Week.

From the 7th to the 12th of Feburary, Dr. Buckles will be holding bull sessions, lectures and discussion groups on the campus. He will hold chapel in the Episcopal Church Tuesday, February 8th, and will address the student body at Thursday Assembly. His topic "You and Your Future" certainly holds appeal to every college girl. A question box will be placed in the hall, and all questions will be welcomed and discussed by Dr. Buckles during the week.

Noted Professor To Talk Thursday

Dr. Frank Apperly will be the guest speaker on the assembly program, Thursday, February 3. Dr. Apperly, a native of Australia, has taken for his topic "Australia Parallels Americans History." Dr. Apperly is now a professor of Pathology at the Medical College of Virginia, he served in the first World War and has traveled extensively. According to Dr. G. W. Jeffers, head of the Assembly Committee, Dr. Apperly is an extremely interesting, informative speaker.

Mr. Edwin Cralle, who has been a guest vocalist on the assembly program several times before, has promised to sing but his choice of selection is not available at this time.

Dr. Simkins at Work On Book on South

Dr. Francis B. Simkins, author of "The South, Old and New," on leave of absence from Farmville State Teachers College, is now at work on an informal history of the South. A nonacademic work Dr. Simkins describes his current effort as "a record of what he has seen and heard in the last 40 years, not a mere compilation."

At present Dr. Simkins is visiting professor of Southern history in the graduate school of Louisiana State University.

Other books by Dr. Simkins, who received the Dunning Award of the American Historical Association in 1933, include "The Tillman Movement in South Carolina," "South Carolina During Reconstruction," "The Women of the Confederacy," and "Pitchfork Ben Tillman: South Carolinian."

A former University Fellow at Columbia University and former fellow of the Social Science Research Council, Dr. Simkins was born in South Carolina in 1897 and is proud of the fact that he has taught in Virginia for 19 years — one year at Randolph-Macon Woman's College, the rest at Farmville.

Frenchwoman Visits Schools Here Today

Visiting State Teachers College and the Farmville Elementary Training School today is Madam Brule directoress of the Ecole Normale Superieure (Superior Normal School) in Tours, France. She arrived in Farmville yesterday afternoon.

This morning Mme Brule visit

Continued on page 4

Committee Studies Ways of Improving Communication Aids

A Committee on Communications was appointed by President Lancaster after the last faculty meeting in December to study ways of improving the program by which the College seeks to have students become proficient in using means of communication. Communication includes the many ways in whic hthe langauge is used for getting information or thought, for thinking, for expressing ideas. The problem is not merely a matter of learning English and is not solely the responsibility of the English classes. It concerns the mastery o fthe principal tool of learning and should be studied in its entirely and not piecemeal. We believe that improvement will come only by the cooperative effort of the whole Faculty. Hence the Committee is asking each member of the Faculty to help in the study of this problem.

First of all a consensus of Faculty opinion in regard to the place and importance of the various means of communication in the general education of college student sis needed. A list has been made of such activities as are usually carired on in college to give students practice in the communication skills which they will need if they are ever to become effective citizens in a free society. Al members of the Faculty have marked this list according to the value they believe should be placed on each of the activities named. The results of this consensus has not been tabulated.

The Committee is also working on a corection of the English rules to be used in preparation of written work in courses other than English. A similar set of rules may be made for oral work. The appointed Committee on

Continued on page 3

What's In A Name?

"A rose by any other name . . . ", to reword an old quotation, would still be a rose. However, the State Teachers College at Farmville, as it is officially known, is now faced with the problem of a proper name.

We take for granted that all, or at least the majority of us, agree that a change of name is desirable. As it has been pointed out, those who are unacquainted with S. T. C. (and this includes prospective students) do not realize that teaching is only one of many curricula offered at S. T. C. While this college places, and will continue to place, emphasis on teacher training, the name as it now stands is misleading and apt to repel rather than attract students who have not decided to teach. Furthermore, we can have little individuality as long as we have a name which is the same as that of more than two hundred other colleges in the United States.

Dr. Lancaster has already informed us that a change of name can only be made by the State Board of Education, but that he feels sure that any decision which they make will be influenced by the students, alumna, and members of the faculty and administration.

Each of you has seen or heard the list of suggested names. You may know your choice and the reasons for that choice On the other hand, you may not yet have made up your mind.

An appropriate name must fill more than a few requirements. It must be easily pronounced; it should not preclude either sex; it should have stood the test of time; and most emphatically it should not be a duplication of any existing college name.

One suggestion which has received a great deal of attention is Jefferson College. However, some of us feel that such a choice would be trespassing on property which is not ours. It is true that Jefferson was a great Virginian, prominent in the field of education, and that thus far no college has adopted his name. It is true also that regardless of what we say, the University of Virginia is "his" college. He founded it, designed it, and even placed his home so that he could "watch over" it.

As we read over the lists of suggestions we find ourselves drawn time and again to the name "Longwood". It definitely fulfills the requirements set forth above—is easily pronounced, precludes neither sex, has stood the test of time, is not a duplication. Longwood as the estate we know and love, is an essential part of S. T. C. In spite of the popular belief that S. T. C. is built upon part of the old Judith Randolph estate, it is highly probable that at least part of our campus was once a part of Longwood property. We could make a far worse choice of a name for our college and it is hard to see a better choice.

You think it over and let your choice or suggestions be known either to Dr. Lancaster or to the Rotunda. You can and should play an important part in this decision. Don't fail those who are depending on you. Think and then act—now!

What A Sorority Means

With the return of two Alpha chapters of national sororities to this campus, we are reminded of the ideals and purposes for which such organizations stand. We therefore wish to congratulate the members of Kappa Delta and Zeta Tau Alpha on their "return" to S. T. C. Your aims in the establishment and maintenance of these two societies are commendable and we wish you every success in your individual and group undertakings.

At this time it is well for members of all sororities to renew their pledges of honor, effort, loyalty and enterprise, and for all students as members of a greater organization, the student body of S. T. C., to remember the standards and ideals of the College to which we have pledged our support.

In speaking of the ideals which sororities usually support, we should keep in mind that while they have such aims they are not a prerequisite to success or social stand at STC, many of our leaders both socially and scholastically are not members of sororities, and it has never hindered them in their progress. Whether or not a girl belongs to a sorority has never been a basis for choosing class or club officers or members of honor societies. The emphasis is always placed on personal effort and qualifications.

The time is approaching when some will be required to make a choice; we urge you to choose wisely and after careful consideration. There will be others to whom the choice is not offered or not possible. To you we repeat: "A sorority is not a must." It is an extra-curricular activity—often of merit but never of necessity.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1949

An Open Letter To Students

Dear Students,

By now all of you must surely know that Religious Emphasis Week is coming to our campus Feb. 8, 9, 10. For you students who are new this year we want you to know, and at the same time remind the other students, that Religious Emphasis Week is sponsored by the YWCA and is a period set aside each year in the college program to stress the spiritual side of each one's life.

The speaker which the "Y" brings to the campus for Religious Emphasis Week is Dr. Paul K. Buckles, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Newport News, Virginia. We feel that each of you will find Dr. Buckles most capable and charming, and we hope you will get to know him. There were so many different speakers from which to choose, but we chose Dr. Buckles because we felt that he had something to give to you.

The topic for our Religious Emphasis Week is—"You and Your Future". Surely every one of you should be concerned with that question.

Dr. Buckles wil speak in assembly on Thursday morning at prayers each night, and he will also hold discussion groups and seminars at convenient times.

This special emphasis program is not just for us alone—it is for you, all of you, and we hope that you will all participate and help make this the most meaningful Religious Emphasis Week of all at S. T .C.

Sincerely,
The Y. W .C. A. Cabinet

Religious Emphasis Week

Gallop Pole

Question: What do you consider the most effective way to study?"

NOTE: In order that this information be helpful to the reader in deciding upon his next semester's study habits, we have excluded from this poll all those having an IQ of above 90.

Ruth Radogna: Since you didn't print my answer last week, I refuse to offer a suggestion this week (Note: All right, Radogna if that's the way you feel about it. You could have made the teachers think you study, though.)

Gwen Smith: I have discovered that the best time for studying here at S. T .C. is when everybody is asleep. I put a book under my pillow every night. I learn just as much while I'm asleep as I do when I'm awake.

Connie Loving: Kill off all your friends! That's the only way to study.

Nancy Jesse: I always study nights down in the BiologyLab. No one comes down here to disturb you except a few skeletons and ghosts. Thank goodness, they can't talk to you!

Jeanne Gilman: With roommate making coffee every hour.

Anne Mundy: I put in all my free time in the stacks. Studying, that is.

Jean Turner: I generally just put on my glasses and stare out the window. The only trouble is with my glasses on I can't see a thing.

Jackie Bobbitt: I find that the best place to study is the Dining Hall at mealtime. I'd just as soon get educated as get fat.

Nancy Lee Maddox: The library suits me fine. It's so nice and quiet. (Note: Obviously this girl has never been to the library.)

Carol Stoops: I find the Geography Room very conducive to study.

Jane Williams: The atmosphere of the College Shop, especially in the back booth, with some of Mary Margaret's produce.

Katherine Buck: I'm satisfied studying if I can think about sailing.

Betsy Gravely: I really don't know. I wish I knew!

"Cookie" Cook: I wish you'd tell me.

Betty McRae: Study? What in the world is that?

Mary Jane Stansbury: It all depends on which exam it is.

Margaret Winfree: With a dash of bridge here and there.

Nellie Hart: I put on ear muffs and blinders and do my studying under the bed by candlelight. (Note: Although this girl has a mental age of only 8 1-2 years, she has been able to maintain an outstanding record here at S. T. C. She is doubtless, a genius.)

Patsy Kimbrough: In my own private little library.

Jean Wilson: I just close my eyes and hope!

Jackie Jardine: I offer up a silent prayer.

Virginia Westbrook: Whenever you get the urge to study, lie down and sleep it off.

Vonnie Burch: I find studying quite boring.

Nancy Brooke: Let's just throw our books out the window 'n play.

Sally Brickman: Lock yourself in a corner.

Shirley Goulder: By getting locked in your room and crawling out of the transom about one A. M.

Ruth Hathaway: Putting in practical application of physical ed. and psychology with Dick.

Polly Simpson: Put your feet on top of the desk and have the radio going loud.

Gay Power: Don't!

Anne Wood: I learn while I'm asleep by playing "educational records."

Martha Hatchett: Play a few hands of bridge first .

Betsy Wilson: Study? I don't. I'm a genius.

Hopes of Being Snowbound Die As Girls Return To STC

By JANICE SLAVIN

Speaking of gay week ends—who didn't throw a "big-un"! There's nothing like celebratin the end of exams and coming bac to school more beat up than whe you left--absolutely nothing! It was worth it though, and most of us managed to get back in one piece although we'll never know how.

The weather was a prominent feature in our week end. Many girls went home Friday in the glorious sunshine (temperatur about eighty). Of course, the figured it would be warm the res of the week ,too, and failed to take ample clothing. Result - pneumonia and etc. The crowning blow came when it snowed Sunday night. Except for the fact tha

Continued on page 4

Sophisticated Rat

By Joan Prichett

Back again, fellow freshmen, to start the new semester off right with another Sophisticated Rat. After a grand weekend of fun and excitement, you can all look ahead with a clear, rested mind. A fresh start and no more exams. What could be better?

You think the first semester flew by fast? Well, with all of the wonderful highlights on second semester's calendar, you can bet that before you can tell what you did over the week end, the days will slip by and there just won't be any more of the "Freshman Days at STC." It's hard to swallow, but true. Does anyone care to argue? Of course not, so here's to making this semester even better than last.

Even the shmoos of Dr. Jeffers biology class will be acclaiming the Freshman sing that will be this Saturday night. (By the way, did anyone ever classify that curious little creature, the shmoo?)

It looks as though the Freshman class will have to say goodbye to several of its members. Sue Strong is leaving us to go to the Medical College in Richmond. Richmond will see a lot of Chasie Sykes now that she is going to RPI. And 'bye, too to Alice Lloyd. We'll miss you all.

The whole class was so sorry to hear that Kim Coleman won't be back. We all hope she will throw over that old sick bug and try to come back to STC. Why not drop Kim a letter now that exams are over? Just send it to Lovingston, Virginia. She would surely love to hear from everyone and know what is happening here and there.

So the copy has hit its limit again. That means so long and see you next week.

Alumnae News

MISS BERNICE L. COPLEY

Miss Bernice L. Copley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Wrenn of Kenbridge, Virginia, recently arrived in Japan from Korea to work for 8th Army Special Services. She has been assigned to one of the Service Clubs with the 7th Division in northern Japan.

As an Army Hostess, Miss Copley will be responsible for planning and executing a well rounded recreation program for occupational personnel in that Area.

Prior to going overseas, Miss Copley taught high school English and History for a year each in Hampton Roads and Courtland, Virginia. From 1942 until 1945 she was a Department of the Army employee with the Quartermaster of Camp Pickett, Virginia.

Upon joining the American Red Cross in July 1945, Miss Copley was sent to Italy where she served for nearly two years. In her assignment she worked for a time with a show unit which toured all the troops across Italy. She later became Program Director for the Red Cross Club at Garizia, near the Italo-Yugoslav border, which served for the 88th Division Hqs.

In January, 1948, Miss Copley went to Korea to work with the Special Services Branch of the Army. In addition to her job as Director of the Service Club at Munsan, near the 38th parallel, she spent several days each week visiting the outlying units by clubmobile.

Miss Copley graduated from Kenbridge, Virginia High School and received her B. S. degree from Virginia State Teachers College at Farmville in 1940. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority.

Communication Aids

Continued from page 1

Communication is, as a whole, striving for a closer coordination of all activities involving the use of English.

The Committee on Communication is composed of Mr. James M. Grainger, Chairman. Miss Emily Barksdale, Miss Mary P. Nichols, Dr. Marvin Schlegel, Dr. Floyd F. Swertfeger, and Mrs. J. P. Wynne.

Orchesis Bids New Apprentices

Orchesis, the honorary Modern Dance society, recently issued bid to ten students who have shown outstanding interest in dance. These girls will serve as apprentices until they have participate in two Orchesis performances.

Those who were bid to the organization are Yvonne Burch, Denise Calvo, Patricia Earle, Edith Duma, and Betty McCree. Also Lucille Pollard, Jean Ridenour, Edna Rodriquez, and Mary Jane Stansbury.

Varsity Elects Ritter Head Of College Basketball Team

Patsy Ritter was elected captain of the varsity basketball team by her teammates Thursday afternoon; February1. Patsy will captain the team in their first encounter Fridal night at Bridgewater College.

Varsity team members who will make the trip to Bridgewater were named by Patsy today. They are Clem Allen, Winnie Beard, Norm Roady, Anna Famulatte, and Jo Ann Phipps. Also making the trip are Mary Young, Rebecca Kelsey, Anne Langbein, Elizabeth Winifree, Margaret Winifree, Jesse Lee Pickett, and Jean Webb.

The Bridgewater game is the first of a season in which the varsity will play against Lynchburg College, Roanoke College, and Panzer College. Games against Madison and William and Mary were not scheduled again this year.

STC Hour Presents Recital Over WFLO

The regular S. T. C. program over station WFLO Thursday afternoon will be presented this week by the music and voice students studying under Miss Clark and Mr. Wakefield. The program will go on the air at 4:30, and Betty House is to serve as a student announcer.

Steals Bus

New York.—A young negro man stole a big Eighth avenue bus from a transit garage and ran it over its regular route, collecting fares. Business was fine until the "volunteer" driver sideswiped a taxicab, kept right on going until he crashed into another taxicab. Surveying the growing commotion, the driver climbed from his seat and strolled off into a subway station and that was the last seen of him.

SPORTIN' AROUND

What's your favorite indoor sport now-a-days? No, we don't mean that, that comes under Chatterbox news, we're talking about basketball, of course! The first varsity game of the season is against Bridgewater up there next Friday. We hear that their court is small and that a major emphasis is placed on basketball as a sport there but we're confident that our team is going to show them how to open a grand season! Last year Bridgewater stood in the way of a perfect winning streak with their 22-17 victory over our "blue 'n whites". Now it's our turn to show them "just how good can one get".

In case you're interested in keeping tabs on the games S. T. C. has scheduled for the basketball season, here's the latest word to clip on your bulletin board.

February 4th ..... Bridgewater College—there
February 11th ..... Lynchburg College—here 7:30 P. M.
February 18th ..... Roanoke College—there
February 25th & 26th ..... High School Tournament—here
March 5th ..... Panzer College—here, 6:45 P. M.

Congratulations go to Patsy Ritter on being elected Captain of the varsity team! A good team plus a good captains equals success, so we're looking forward to a winning streak again this year. Best of luck.

For awhile it looked as if "snowball" was going to rival the indoor type of ball-playing but "old man weather" changed his mind. (Wonder why they don't call it "old woman weather"?) Now we have slush instead of sledding. Oh, well, put your boots on and let's go wading!

Town Students Reorganize Club

The town girls, better known as day students, reorganized the Town Girls' Club which has not been active for the past several years, at a meeting last month. Virginia Price, senior, was elected president of the group; other officers are Rebecca Kelsey, junior, as vice-president, Florene Gilliam, sophomore, as treasurer, and Barbara Lawhorne, freshman, as secretary. Lucy Jane Morton will serve as reporter for the club and Miss Caroline Eason is the faculty advisor.

Meetings of the club will be held twice monthly, and dues of seventy-five cents a month will be collected for the improvement of the town girls' room, entertainments and college contributions.

The Club was organized for the purpose of promoting active participation in college activities among the town girls. Arrangements are being made to have the dining hall announcements posted in the town girls' room.

Freshmen To Give First Sing Saturday

The Freshman class will have charge of the Sing on Saturday February 5 at seven o'clock. The program, under the direction of Martha Alice Wilson, will have only one rehearsal Saturday afternoon. All Freshman participating in the program are advised to be sure that their costumes are ready since everyone is responsible for her own.

This is the first in a series of competitive class sings sponsored by the "Y" during the month of February.

Continued on page 4

Health, Physical Ed. Instructors To Meet At STC February 10

On February 10, 11 and 12, a conference for health and physical education instructors and related personnel in the colleges of Virginia will be held at S. T. C. The conference is to be sponsored by the State Department of education and the State Department of Health. Dr. Harold Jack, Supervisor of Health Physical Education, and Mr. F. O. Wygal, Director of the Division of Related Instructional Services, will be in charge of the 3-day meeting.

All meetings will be held in Student Building beginning with an assembly of delegates at 10:30 a. m. Friday morning in the Student Lounge.

This is the second annual meeting for health and physical education personnel in the colleges of Virginia. "This meeting is being called because of the expressed interest by those who attended the first meeting", said the bulletin sent out by the State Board of Education to the presidents of colleges in Virginia.

Four committees will be formed for the purpose of studying the various phases of the problem. They are as follows: 1. Service courses in health and physical education. 2. The teachers' course in health education (West Law) 3. Teacher Training, and 4. College Health Services.

Board and room expenses are being taken care of from funds made available to the State Department of Education by the Virginia Tuberculosis Association. Mrs. Marshall Watkins of Farmville, who made this information available to the Rotunda, stated that between 75 and 100 delegates from other colleges are expected to attend the conference here.

GOP Senators map strategy for regaining control in 1950.

Make—

COLLEGE SHOP

Your Headquarters

Excellent Food
Excellent Service

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS

VERSER'S

We strive to please

When you think of flowers think of ours.

Phone 181 Night 4

COLLINS

Wilson Firestone

Metal Record Racks

$5.95

Racks $3.50
Record Hassock $24.95

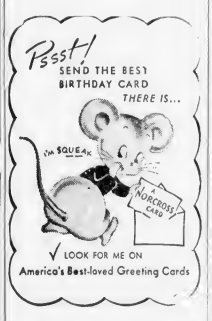
Take Your Radio for Quality Service to

ENNIS RADIO SHOP

SPRING IS ON ITS WAY

And if you want to be ready, come in and buy one of our new pert "BETTY BARCLAY" or "DORIS DODSON" Cottons or Silk Frocks.

THE HUB DEPTMENT STORE
Farmville, Virginia



"RECESS IN THE "REC"

BROADCAST
DIRECT FROM THE
REC HALL OF STC
EACH TUESDAY-THURSDAY
From 3 - 3:30 . . . .
If you wish to partielpate in the program, contact
PAGE BURNETTE

"RECESS IN THE REC"

WSVS—650 on Your Dial

PATTERSON'S

MARTIN THE JEWELER

Select your silver at Martins

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

COTTON DRESSES

ARE ARRIVING DAILY !
—And Smart Cottons, too. Priced as low as $6.95 and up
Select your cottons at

DOROTHY MAY STORE
Exclusive But Not Expensive

Flowers For All Occasions

BURG

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Visit us for good food and good music

THE SNACK BAR

"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Kodaks and Films
Candies and Valentines

SPECIAL TO STC STUDENTS ONLY

Pancakes, Aunt Jemima's Maple Syrup
Butter and Coffee

SOUTHSIDE

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

HUmmmmm... So Good!
Cherry-Pineapple
...Pet's Feature Flavor of the Month

Yes, Pet Cherry-Pineapple Ice Cream is such a rare flavor treat...it's so good...everybody'll ask for double portions! And, you know, Pet Ice Cream is made only of daily fresh whole milk and daily fresh sweet cream! That's why it's so creamy and rich. So, buy Pet Cherry-Pineapple Ice Cream often this month and enjoy its delicious flavor and healthful, refreshing goodness!

PET ICE CREAM
"a health food"

At all your parties this month...serve Princess Pet -- the de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality! It's so extra creamy, extra rich, it makes every occasion a royal feast!

Taste the Fresh Cream in Pet Ice Cream

Nannie Pickett Recalls Years At S.T.C. For News Reporter

By Mary Crowgey

NANNIE PICKETT

Nannie Pickett, a familiar figure at S. T. C. holds one of the longest tenures of continous service of anyone now on the College payroll. She made her first appearance at S. T. C. in the year of 1901.

From Israel, a little town two mile- outside of Farmville, she came hoping that she might help with the many chores done at the college. There were eleven other little children at home who must be clothed and educated. Miss Mary Wiatte Cox, then S. T. C.'s Dean of Women, looked at the little girl. "Mercy, she's so young! I don't know whether or not we can use her."

"Hire her and try her," Mr. Ben Cox, College Business Manager and treasurer, suggested kindly; and from that day on, Nannie Pickett served as a vital member on the S. T. C. staff.

Miss Cox had no occassion to regret her choice. In later years when she became sick, Nannie took care of her. "I really couldn't have done without you," the Dean said.

Today it is Nannie's job to dust the Dean's parlor and to serve at all the parties given both here, and at Longwood, where she has given valuable service since it was first opened. "I wish I'd kept account of all the parties you've attended," Dr. Jarman once remarked to Nannie, for she helped at every one of his college birthday celebrations.

Today we can hardly believe that Nannie came to S. T. C. with the late Dr. Jarman. When one looks to be about thirty with shiny black hair and nice features, there isn't any sense in telling people the exact age. Instead, she enjoys telling stories about the days when S. T. C. was "just a little college." "We've been mighty fortunate in getting nice people up here all these years," Nannie said.

It's rather hard to picture the college as it was in 1901. The two hundred girls were boarded and educated in only one building. The gymnasium was over the present-day Post office, the rooms underneath serving as the maids' dormitory. The library was on second floor library hall, the first floor being the children's training school and the third floor serving as the infirmary.

"How well I remember working at that infirmary," Nannie said. "One Sunday mornin' when I was sitting in church, the policeman, ole' Ben Tucker, came after me. Some strange malady had broken out at the college and they needed me to fumigate the place. It sure was embarrassing though, getting dragged out of church by a policeman."

"And speaking of ole' Ben Tucker, the Hampden-Sydney boys used to tease him to death about the bloodhounds he kept around the college." (Can't you just hear the boys razzing ole' Ben as he chases them back to Hampden-Sydney?)

"In those early days," Nannie continued "we used lamp light, and it was my job to keep the lamps clean and shining. One day I wasn't paying any particular notice to what I was doing, and happened to walk through Miss Mary Cox's room, carrying a lamp. 'Nannie', she told me, 'I thought I'd keep you from being a foolish virgin, but there you are carrying a lamp with no chimney'."

The great fire of S. T. C. is well remembered by Nannie. Something went wrong with the new electric lights, setting the entire dining hall ablaze. The girls calmly filed out of the building, none of them being hurt. "Reckon that fire was a good thing after all," she said. 'We were in sore need of new buildings and we got them. The girls got a ten day vacation, so I reckon they were satisfied, too.'

Nannie Pickett and others like her have made a great contribution to the field of education. Without their able assistance throughout the years, the thousands of teachers turned out at S. T. C. couldn't have gotten along. If the world is ever freed of ignorance, it will be not only because of great teachers, but also because of those who gave the teachers that extra shove from behind.

Slush Can't Slow Capable Builders

Just the other day a pair of young Rotunda reporters undertook to report on the progress of the new S. T. C. science building which is now under construction in back of junior building.

Scrambling over gravel piles and boards and sinking ankle deep in the mire of red clay we finally located the superintendant, Mr. J. K. Ryan, who obliged us with an interview. First question out of the box naturally concerned the date of the building's completion. He delighted us, as he will you, we wager, with the statement that if materials keep rolling in, and if everything goes according to schedule, (as it seldom does), we'll be attending classes there next fall.

About the obstacles encountered in the building project Mr. Ryan summed it all up in one vehemently word. "Mud"! And indeed that's quite an obvious fact to even the most casual onlooker. However these these enterprising builders have compensated for the inclement weather by staying on the job both day and night, sometimes until midnight, and now having poured all the concrete for the first floor they are busy on the second story of the three that the finished building will have.

Language Students Learn From Records

Two summers ago, when the first Spanish workshop at S. T. C. was held, one of the methods used in the acquisition of a smooth pronunciation was the use of sound scribers. A second workshop took place, and again the sound scribers were used because of the effective results obtained in the first one.

Our language teachers who had been the wonderful results obtained already, thought of how much the possession of such precious tools would do for our language department. When the possibility of having a set of soundscribers for our language department was announced, I knew that we were making a valuable addition to the department. At the beginning of ihis year, we had a set of sound scribers, much of our satisfaction.

As I said before, the sound scriber is a means of getting a smooth pronunciation when learning a foreign language. A record, always made by a native speaker of the language, serves as a model. The student listens to the model and iries to get as near in pronunciation to the model record as she possibly can. Then she makes a record of her own which she compares with the model. She learns to detect her own errors and at the same time she realizes what her main defect in speaking is.

Since an essential stem in learning a foreign language is imitation, the student has an opportunity to imitate until she masters that hard and very important step of pronunciation.

Our first month in working with the sound scribers have been experimental ones. We want to make more and better use of them until we equip our students with the essentials of the language which they will teach later on.

Night School

Continued from page 1

The only two classes which will meet twice weekly are those in shorthand and typewriting, meeting every Monday and Friday evening. The remainder will meet every Friday. Typewriting instructor will be Mr. Norman O. Myers, associate professor of business education at S. T. C., and shorthand instructor will be Mrs. Alice C. Wynne, also associate professor of business education here. Business law instructor will be Mr. William P. Hay, Jr., a local attorney; and Miss Margaret Spruntt Hall, S. T. C. assistant professor of home economics, will teach the interior decoration class.

English and public speaking, if these classes materialize, will be taught respectively by Mrs. Mildred D. Davis, assisant professor of English at S. T. C., and Dr. Robert C. Beale, professor of English at Hampden-Sydney College.

Registration for the evening classes will be held through Friday evening, February 4, when they will have regular class meeting. High school graduates may obtain college credit for evening school classes, and others may study for either high school or no credit with the consent of the Dean.

Evening classes will be held in the west wing on the campus beginning at 7:15 p. m. each night that they are scheduled. Tuition is $20 with a laboratory fee of $3 for the class in typewriting. Present students at S. T. C. may enroll in the evening classes provided they will not be carrying more than 18 credits. Those wishing to register for evening classes may see Dean Savage at his office or telephone at 591.

Frenchwoman Visits

Continued from Page 1

ed the French classes here wher she described teacher training in France and compared the French teachers college's with those in the United States.

This afternoon the Rotunda secured an interview with Mme. Brule which will appear in next week's Rotunda.

Sing

The Junior Sing which is to be presented on February 12, will be under the direction of Peggy Whi e and Carol Stoops it has been announced by Jackie Eagle, Junior class president.

Anne Kemp has been elected to head the Sophomore Sing which will be presented on February 19.

The senior class has not yet selected a head for their Sing which will be the last presented in this competition.

Being Snowbound

Continued from Page 2

boots, mittens, and etc. were still at STC, we all wanted it o snow without ceasing. To be snowbound was the one thing we had been waiting for all year. At last the opportunity had arrived--yeh opportunity! The next morning to our sorrow, we discovered that it had stopped snowing. The temperature was highe:; the beautiful crystal snow flakes were turning into slushy mud. Our trip back to college Monday wasinevitable. Most of us had a gay time in the snow while it lasted, however. Wow! What snow battles! We know of one boy who was hit in the face with a snowball while two more snowballs hit him back of the head at the same time. He was hardly alive at all after that!!

No one had much time to wonder whether or not they passed their exams. Parties! Parties! Now there is the case of the po' little girl who went home Thursday only to be surprised Saturday by the arrival of her two suitmates and roommate. They merely wanted to spend the week end with her (considerate souls) and crash the party that night. A good time was had by all, however, including the po' little girl's four brothers. Everyone got "invites" back for the cabin party at the end of the month.

Well, like all good things, the week end has to end, and we're back at the old grind again. But keep your chins up, girls, it's only 2½ months 'til Easter vacation-ha!

GRAYS DRUG STORE
CARA NOME and WHITMAN'S CANDIES
Truly a Drug Store

Cold Weather Ahead
Shop at
J. J. Newberry Co.
For Wanted Needs

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

WFLO
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
870 on your dial

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Support Religious Emphasis Week

The Rotunda

Congratulations May Court

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 9, 1949 | No. 15

MEARS, WALL TO REIGN AT MAY DAY CELEBRATION

S T C, H-S C To Present 'Lady Windermere's Fan'

Play to Be Feature For Founders Day

"Lady Windermere's Fan" by Oscar Wilde will be the spring play to be presented by the Dramatic Club of S. T. C. and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs, announced Betty House, president of the S. T. C. Dramatic Club.

This play, which will be presented in the S. T. C. auditorium, will be given two nights, Friday, and Saturday, March 11 and 12 as a part of the Founder's Day celebrations.

The entire action of this sophisticated comedy takes place within twenty-four hours, beginning Tuesday evening and ending Wednesday afternoon, and centers about a beautiful fan which is a birthday gift from Lord Windermere to Lady Windermere. The scene is set in London in the home of Lord Windermere's and Lord Darlington Rooms.

The play was first presented in St. James Theatre in London, on February 22, 1892. Several seasons ago Cornelia Otis Skinner was cast as Lady Windermere in the Broadway producuon of this comedy.

The cast of the play has not yet been completed and will be announced later, Miss Wheeler, director of the play, has stated.

Dance Tickets Go On Sale Feb. 10

The sale of tickets to the junior Ribbon Ball, to be held Saturday night, February 19, will begin tomorrow, with juniors receiving first and seniors second priorities, according to the announcement of Ann Nock, ticket chairman of the dance.

Ann stated that juniors may arrange for their tickets by coming to junior parlor right after lunch or after evening praye s tomorrow. Seniors may purchase their tickets at the table in the main building hall after prayers the following evening, Friday, February 11; and tickets will be sold to the student body at large Monday, Feb uary 13, after lunch and after prayers, at the table in the hall of the main building.

The date tickets to the Ribbon Ball will be priced at $2.40, and stag tickets at $1.80. Ann urges all students not to postpone buying their Ribbon Ball tickets, since the number available is limited.

Johnny Satterfield and his orchestra from the University of North Carolina have been engaged by the juniors to play for the Ribbon Ball. Helen Hardin is gene al chairman of the event.

New Students Enroll

Seven new students have enrolled for the spring semeste: at State Teachers College. The upperclassmen are Lucy W. Jones, a junior, from Rustburg, Virginia; Jeanne Baltes, a junior, from Newpo t News, Virginia; and Mary Elizabeth Taylor, a senior, from Emporia, Virginia.

The four freshmen are Barbara Lee Hillstead, from Emporia, Virginia; Vera Bryant from Boykins, Virginia; Antoinette Kelley from Roanoke, Virginia; and Barbara Jean Wallace, from Petersburg, Virginia.

Dr. Buckles Leads Emphasis Week

Students to Hear Address Tomorrow

Religious Emphasis Week opened on this campus Monday with a reception for Dr. Paul K. Buckles, guest speaker, in the student lounge. Tuesday morning Dr. Buckles gave his introductory talk at chapel which was held in the large auditorium instead of the Episcopal Church as previously announced. Mr. Edwin Cralle, sang an anthem preceding Dr. Buckles talk.

Tuesday afternoon Dr. Buckles was present at an evaluation meeting of the Y Cabinet. He is holding bull sessions each night from seven until eight. Cokes and nabs will be served Wednesday night.

Tonight Dr. Buckles will lead special prayers right after supper in the large auditorium. When his topic will be How To Be An Attractive Personality. His main address will be presented tomorrow, Thursday, to the entire student body at assembly. Dr. L. S. Buckles, head of the music department of Virginia will also be present at assembly, and Mr. Cralle of Farmville will sing several selections.

Throughout the week Dr. Buckles' topics will include: You and Yourself, You and Your School, You and Others, and his main topic, You and Our Future.

The question box in which all students are requested to place any questions they would like to discuss with Dr. Buckles, is now in the hall under the "Y" bulletin board.

A discussion group was held in the 'Y' Lounge this afternoon. Dr. Buckles spoke to Miss Nichols' English class this morning and Dr. Schegel's Economics class at 1:45 this afternoon.

This morning, Dr. Buckles spoke over WFLO at 9:30 on the 'Glory of God."

MARGARET WALL

RUTHELLEN MEARS

WFLO Broadcasts Thespian Program

The Dramatic Club will present the play, "If the Shoe Pinches", by Babette Hughes, over the S. T. C. Hour on WFLO, Thursday afternoon at 4:30.

This play was presented at the last meeting of the Dramatic Club in January by the apprentice group of the acting department, and was under the direction of Griz Boxley.

The play, which has been revised for radio, is a one act comedy involving a sophisticated widow who has gone on a shoe-buying spree. The cast includes the widow played by Shirley Elmquist; her sister, a young business woman, played by Jerry Korback; and a Russian Princess played by Ruth Lacy.

Griz Boxley will act as student announcer for the program.

Student Teachers Begin New Term

Dr. J. P. Wynne, director of teacher education and head of the Department of Education and Philosphy at Farmville State Teachers College, has announced the names of the student teachers for the 1949 spring semester.

Teaching in the high schools are Phyllis Austin, civics; Betty Barker, physical education; Ann Barksdale, physical education; Lou Bergman, English; Helen Dortch, English; Joan Driver, general science and biology; Carolyn Grimes, physical education; Martha Hatcher, Spanish and science; Annette Jones, English; Nadine Lewers, world history and library; Alfreda Lewis, history and English; Connie Loving, English and U. S. history; Jessie Pickett, physical education and science; Ruth Radogna, history and English.

Also Violet Ritchie, biology; Betty Romeo, physical education; Anne Simpson, geometry and math; Anne Snead, elementary algebra and math; Ruth Tillett, U. S. History and English; Betty Tilson, physical education; Anne Verser, general science and U. S. history; Edna Waters, English and history; Dorothy Winton, arithmetic and advanced algebra; Mary Young, English and elementary algebra; Grace Mallory, typing; Ruth Stables, bookkeeping; Willard Leeper, bookkeeping; Billie Mullins, typing; Mary Ellen Temple, typing; Mary Davis, shorthand; Nancy Robertson, typing; Mary Rose Smith, shorthand.

Jane Calahan is teaching general science in the sixth grade of the elementary school. Gladys Monk is teaching shorthand in the college.

Home economics is being taught by Mary Ellen Allen, Virginia Watson Price, Doris Godsey, Jean Kollmeyer, Nell Foster, and Eva Cobb.

Students teaching art are Ann Orgain, Frances DeBerry, and Mary Cooper Whiteside.

Music is being taught by Nancy Kibler and Ann Woodard Joyner.

Martha Gillum and Betty Tilson are to have their practice teaching at Rice school.

Radio Committee Plan WSVS Change

This week the Radio Committee, of which Miss Wheeler is in charge, and the management of WSVS will confer on revising or disbanding Recess in the Rec. Students are asked to consider what they would like to see done to this program. Suggestions have been submitted for a dramatic series, a strictly musical program and the same recreational program that is now being presented. In a future issue of the Rotunda a poll will be taken in which students will be given a chance to offer constructive criticism along this line.

This week Recess in the Rec presented Jean Watts, Virginia Westbrook, Charlotte Jones and Virginia Spencer offering vocal selections on the Tuesday program. Betty House gave a reading and Jean Webb gave a selection on the accordian.

Slavin Becomes New Advertising Manager

Janice Slavin, former member of the feature staff, will replace Mickie Garnett as advertising manager of the Rotunda, it has been announced by Betty Spindler, editor-in-chief. Janice is a junior from Suffolk and has worked on the staff in the capacity of reporter for three years.

Betty also announced that tryouts for staff positions on the Rotunda are still being held. Mary Leigh Meredith is in charge of this. Issue with Jean Smith as managing editor, Joan Pritchett as news editor, Ann Lynch as sports editor, Mary Jo Smith as feature editor, and Pat Smith as fashion editor.

In subsequent issues Jean Smith, Joan Prichett, and Janice Slavin will serve as editor-in-chief for an issue. The results of these trials will be submitted to the Publications Boards in March for consideration in choosing the new Rotunda staff.

Life At 'Ecole Normale' Parallels Life At STC

One lucky day last week when Mme. Helene Brule, principal of a teachers college in Tours, France, paid the Farmville schools a surprise visit, your reporter seized the opportunity to quiz this magnetically charming French educator concerning the S. T. C.er's overseas counterpart in the French teachers college.

As our foreign guest delineated it, college life in a French teachers college such as Mme. Brule's own "Ecole Normale" is in many respects quite similar to our own situation here at Farmville---each day chock full of classes and absorbing extra - curricular diversions. Although Mme. Brule's students only number about 100, many of their classes and activities parallel our own. Like us, they too undergo education classes and practice teaching; they go in for various sports, particularly basketball; and they too become wrapped up in dramatics, music, and dancing etc. However, judging from Mme. Brule's reply to our queries about dating customs in her French teachers colleges, it seems that our French comrades' social life is somewhat more restricted than ours.

Of course study in France is much more rigorous and competitive than in the U. S., as anyone who has ever talked with a French student knows. Although Mme. Brule's girls attend the "Ecole Normale" four years, if they wish to teach any grade above junior high, they are required to study further and take further exams.

Before we had asked nearly our fill of questions of the engaging Mme. Brule, she was whisked away from us, but she left with us the impression of an ideal educator whom we could well hope to emulate. We wish her bon voyage on her whirlwind tour of our country, and hope that she can carry back with her as pleasing a picture of the American teacher aspirant as she painted for us of the French teacher-to-be.

Court Represents All Four Classes

'Virginia Ideal' To Be '49 Theme

Ruth Ellen Mears, senior from Cape Charles, will reign as Queen in the May Day celebration this spring. Margaret Wall, senior from Norfolk, will be Maid of Honor. These girls were elected by the student body Friday night, February 4, to reign over the annual May Day pageant.

Seniors who were chosen to serve on the Court are Betty Atkinson, Jane Fox, Marjorie Miller, Evelyn Patterson, Violet Ritchie, Maude Savage, and Mary Towles Waldrop.

Representing the junior class will be June Banks, Marjorie Boswick, Betty Ferguson, Helen Hardin, Martha Hylton, Lou Alyce Shelor, and Barbara Sours.

The sophomore class will be represented by Charlotte King Jones, and Issac Velasquez. The freshman representatives are Jean Ridenour and Frances Turner.

This year the theme for the celebration is the Virginia Ideal from the standpoint of its beginning. The Court will represent the Ideal toward which the founders of Virginia strove when they settled the colony.

Gwen Cress, senior from Lynchburg, and Jane Taylor, senior from Pungoteague, are co-chairmen of the May Day production. Nancy Rushing is business manager. They were elected at a student body meeting in January.

Juniors Present Sing Sat. Night

"The junior sing this Saturday night will take the form of an old fashioned 'mellow-drama' revealed Junior sing chairmen, Carol Stoops and Peggy White, concerning the second in the series of class competitive sings sponsored annually by the Y. W. C. A. This second sing in this year's series will be presented by the juniors Saturday evening, February 12, in the large auditorium right after the evening meal.

The Sophomore class is slated to present its sing the following Saturday evening, February 19, and the seniors are scheduled tentatively to give theirs on Saturday, February 26. The sing last Saturday night, which featured a comic illustrated lecture on love, was presented by the freshman class.

Junior chairmen, Peggy and Carol, remind the student body, "When you come to sing Saturday night, don't forget to bring your rotten tomatoes."

(The Rotunda staff cautions the students that the foregoing statement is not to be taken seriously.)

NOTICE

Dean William Savage has announced that no further changes can be made in class schedules after noon, Saturday, February 12. This means that no courses may be added and no shifts from one section of a class to another will be permitted after that time.

Dean Savage also wishes to remind all students that no one can drop a class after mid-semester estimates are turned in to the Registrar's office without automatically receiving a grade of F on the course.

Quiet, Please!

For only two out of the twenty-four hours in a day you are asked to be quiet, to consider the rights of others. Humorously, these two hours are called "Study-hour." With the noise and confusion that reigns in the halls between eight and ten it is small wonder that little or no studying is done at that time.

Most professors have stated that they consider between one and two hours of preparation necessary for the average student to make a passing grade in each of their courses. This means one or two hours for each class hour. You may be above average and not need to spend so much time in studying, but, as a college student, you are old enough to show consideration for others not so fortunate.

If you must play your radio during study hour you have a perfect right to do so, provided you keep the volume low enough that your neighbors are not disturbed. Calling someone to the telephone can be accomplished in other ways than merely standing by the phone and yelling as loudly as you can. It wouldn't take but a moment longer to find the girl's room and tell her she is wanted on the phone, but many a silent prayer will be offered in your name for that small consideration.

It was proved during examination that there could be quiet in the halls. If study-hour were observed a little more strictly during the rest of the semester, not quite so much midnight oil would need to be burned during those last hectic days.

You are only asked to cooperate and to remember that others have rights. You are only one; they are many; give them a chance to use the study-hour for studying even if you don't chose to utilize it in that way.

Rotunda Seeks Cooperation

Do you ever stop to realize what the Rotunda does for you? Not only does it act as a medium to keep you informed of the many student activities on campus, but it also gives your organization, as well as you, acknowledgment and publicity which you otherwise would not have.

Your Rotunda reporter is willing and anxious to do this for you. Are you always willing to cooperate? The feeling that various organizations are doing the staff a favor by giving a news story seems to be prevalent on this campus and should certainly be dispelled when these organizations realize what an aid their campus newspaper can be if it is given the proper support.

At least three nights a week are given to Rotunda work by the staff. Two of these nights are spent in begging, threatening and cajoling you into giving us the news needed to make the Rotunda as informative as you expect it to be. That is too much time to waste when you could so easily prevent it by being a little more cooperative.

Of course, we understand that you are just as busy working on other things as we are working on the paper. At the same time, you undoubtedly realize just as well as we do how much cooperation means. So the next time a Rotunda reporter comes around hounding you for some news, offer a helping hand.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Jean Smith, Joan Prichett, Jean Otis Loving

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Janice Slavin, Mary Crowgey, Dalia Agostini
Betty Ferguson ..... Chaterbox Editor

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Anne Lynch

Toni Allen ..... Social Editor
Patsy Gravely, Mildred Carter, Anne Verser

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor
Mary Cooper Whiteside

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Anne Simpson ..... Typing Manager

In charge of this issue—MARY LEIGH MEREDITH

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1949

Your Future

This week while we are recognizing Religious Emphasis Week, we are fortunate to have Dr. Paul K. Buckles as our guest speaker. His theme, "You and Your Future", holds special appeal for college students, for it is here in college that we are laying the foundations for the future.

Throughout the week Dr. Buckles will be holding bull sessions and discussions for your benefit, and to help you in that all important job of planning the future. He will be on this campus speaking in classes, assembly and discussion groups through Thursday afternoon, trying to give us what Dr. Lancaster so aptly phrased as a "new charge for our battery" that will carry us through this year and the future with new zeal.

We feel sure we speak for the entire student body when we extend sincere thanks to Dr. Buckles.

PUDDIN' 'n' SAUCE

Lovely, lovely, lovely, that just about sums it up for this week seeing as how our front page is spread with May Day election results. Congratulations to the queen, maid of honor, and the court, with so many pretty girls on it we're expecting a beautiful pageant. Speaking of beauty however, we simply can't seem to understand why one gorgeous specimen was so utterly overlooked. We're referring to our favorite candidate, Stuart McGhee, who was nominated and really should have been seriously considered. After all masculine pulchritude has added a lot of attraction to S. T. C. since the arrival of the co-eds.

How is your problem solving coming along these days? With Dr. Buckles here to hold Religious Emphasis Week we know that a lot can be accomplished in untangling those perplexing personal problems if we turn our serious attention to them and accept his aid.

Sophisticated Rat

Where there's work, there's always a freshman. With all of the activity going on in the freshman class, every member is practically up to her ears in one project or another.

After the successful sing that the freshmen presented last Saturday night under the leadership of Martha Alice Wilson, the attention of every class-spirited lass is turned in the direction of the Freshman production that is being headed so capably by Fran Franklin. Someone told me that if there's a single freshman who doesn't sign up for a committee Fran is going to each one separately and plead for assistance. Save all of that trouble by signing up now 'cause she'll get you in the end.

Last week we said goodbye to some of our class members and this week we're saying a great big hello to the four newcomers who have joined us. They are Barbara Jean Wallace, Vera Bryant, Antoinette Kelley, and Barbara Lee Hillstead. Don't forget to make a friendly visit to them all this week. Remember how it was when you came to the "great unknown" last fall?

In case you've been wondering what all of the chit-chat that has been going on all week is, let me clue you. It's all of the details about the mid-winter dances at Tech that so many of our lassies attended last week end. If you want to get in on any of these "informative" sessions, just trot around to see Dolores Hoback, Margaret Hutchens, Sue Nelson, Jean Ridenour, Pat Tuggle, Midge Woods, or Cathy Bunch. They all went and, reports have it, they had one grand time.

With your permission, I'll sign off here and run around to the bulletin board and sign up for a production commitee like all good freshmen are doing these days. 'Bye now!

The Chatterbox

The Gestapo has been rumored to be everywhere and it is. Here are a few of the reports that were gleaned from the inhabitants of this college of higher learning this past week.

Mary Jane has for the 12th time given Billy's pin back, She's been fortunate so far in receiving it again, but watch it, Mary Jane, 13 is an unlucky number.

It seems as if there is more than one boa contrictor around S. T. C. these days. Margaret Wall said she had a lovely time with Bud (Ford) Francis this week end.

Molly Hudson reports that breakfast in Richmond at 5:00 a. m. on Sunday morning is wonderful especially with W. T. across the table.

Martha Hatchett says that she hopes those "Ayds" she's been taking make her as thin as her multiasimo sticks.

Charlotte Jones has taken a sudden interest in sailing lately. She and Shep Cumeon are planning a long cruise this summer. Bill Rixey has signed up as 3rd mate—on this triangle.

Violet had a new man from Virginia Saturday night. She certainly did look interested in him.

Jenny Sue, Ruth Ellen and Pete, made it known that Washington was in fine shape this week end.

Peggy and Nock say that there is nothing they would rather do at a dance than play bridge and they certainly were wrapped up in a game at the dance last Saturday.

Carol Stoops has bought a book on bird calls. All interested in learning the songs of our Feathered friends are asked to report to table 60.

Continued on page 4

Big Scoop!

Gallop Pole

Question: "What Practical Changes in Student Government Rules Would You Like to See Made?"

Kitty Beale: Date until 11 on week nights and 12 on week ends.

Nell Foster: Date town boys and Hampden-Sydney boys.

Frances Elliott: Leave lights on until 12.

Frances Turner: More than five movie cuts for frosh.

Chick Ritchie: Change campus rules so Romine can go down town with me.

Rosemary Hamlet: More freedom on Sundays.

Louise Taylor: Not to give calldowns when in bed studying.

Elizabeth Nuttall: Date through supper.

Nancy Walthall: Sign out after 8 and be back at 10.

Pat Paddison: Be able to date on week nights without going to movie—especially if it's an out-of-town date.

Betsy Gravely: Freshmen should be allowed to go downtown every day.

Maria Jackson: Give us Freshmen Saturday afternoon downtown.

Cab Overby: Watchman at the Junior building to stop those boys from honking their horns and flashing spotlights.

Joan Prichett: I agree with "M. L." Why not let people keep their light on all night Saturday night in the Main Building, if they so desire?

Mary Miller: There is a too big lapse between the Sophomore and Freshman privileges.

Martha Glum: They all suit me fine.

Betty Tilson: None of them bother me!

Gris Boxley: Eat downtown on Sunday nights.

Dot Wood: All rules be written and given to each student. (Handbook doesn't have them all.)

Shirley Clark: Allow Sophomores to have more than nine movie cuts without dates.

Liz Lesslie: Allow Freshmen to eat downtown at noon.

Shirley Fahrback: Be allowed to go out to get something to eat after dances.

Marty Miller: I'll let you know later!

Patty Walker: Change them all.

Mary Crowder: Be allowed to date on Friday night.

Emily Hastings: Figure out some way to give people and their fiances some privacy.

Mary Leigh Meredith: I think we should have later light privileges - - until 12 p. m., for the Freshman and later for the Sophomores.

Barbara Brown: I think they ought to sell stag tickets to boys for the dances. I don't like dances where there are all girls.

Julia Tuck: Just have a quieter study hour.

Reporter Gives Night School Unofficial Seal of Approval

By Mary Crowgie

All you characters who like to sleep all day and stay up all night, here's good news for you. Night school has opened at S. T .C.

Before you plan your attack on the Dean, however, you'll probably want to know if it's going to be "worthwhile." You are wondering, no doubt, whether or not they give homework, to what extent the night air improves the teachers' dispositions, how many boys attend, and whether or not there are male instructors.

We are trying to answer these questions; but believe us, it isn't easy. Right now, as we are writing this out by the Typing Room window, all those cute boys keep turning around to see who it is taking inventory of them. And then there's Dean Savage. Every time we try to peer through a transom, he walks by.

Yes, a reporter's life isn't easy. Don't let anyone tell you it is. But lets' get on with the tale . . . (Its' so dark we can't see what we're writing, but then we never know whats' going to come anyway.)

Speaking of those boys. There are eight of them at this minute in the accounting class, and not a single girl! The ratio of men to women in Typing Class is also astounding. They are all interesting too. There isn't a one over eighty.

Mr. Myers has just told a couple of jokes. Doubtless, you have already heard them, so we won't bother to relate them. From all the laughter, we might add that the night air does wonders for everybody including teachers.

We just asked Mr. Myers if he gives outside work. He said no, he doesn't allow the students to carry the typewriters home with them. Guess that answers the question concerning homework.

Continued on page 3

Orchesis To Give Recital Feb. 23

The singing voice will be featured in two of the numbers of the recital program to be presented by Orchesis, local modern dance society, Wednesday evening, February 23.

Mr. Ralph J. Wakefield, music instructor here, will set the mood for the Mountain Ballads section of the recital when he sings the folk song, 'Old Smoky". He will also sing the ballads, "Cabin Door" and "Heavenly Grass", composed by Paul Bowles with the lyrics by Tennessee Williams.

Another part of the program, the Negro suite, "I Sing—", will be

Continued on page 4

SPORTIN' AROUND

Congratulations go to the basketball team and Miss Iler for their first game of the season. They traveled to Bridgewater Friday and came back with a victory of 35-15.

Congratulations also go to Patsy Ritter for her election to captain of the team. We know she'll do a fine job!

We're trying to get another game scheduled for March 4 with Notre Dame College in Maryland, but as yet this is just tentative.

It's nearly time for class games so you'd better be checking on those general practices. They are posted on the bulletin board in the gym; and remember, if you have basketball or volleyball as a class, you automatically have your eight practices. If you want to make up your practices in volleyball you can do so Tuesday nights from 7 to 7:45.

If you can swim, start practicing up on your strokes. The swimming meet is February 21 and 28, which brings the color cup to our minds again. It's still anybody's cup—so get busy!

The Monogram Club wants to announce that February 14 will be set aside as Red and White Day and that they will sell little red hearts as they did the hockey sticks. March 17 will be the day for Green and White and they will sell little shamrocks to them. Keep these dates in mind and don't forget to buy your heart or shamrock.

Till next week then, see you "sportin' around"!

It costs the college $85 annually to remove chewing gum from the dining hall tables.

Basketball Team Wins First Game With 35-15 Score

Varsity Team Plays Second Game Here

Friday night, February 4, the S. T. C. Varsity basketball team journeyed to Bridgewater College for their first game of the season. The S. T. C. six were victorious with a score of 35 - 15, avenging last year's defeat by the Bridgewater team.

The girls making the trip with Miss Olive T. Iler, the coach, were Frances Allen, Winifred Beard, Anna Pamulatte, Rebecca Kelsey, Ann Langbein, Ann Lynch, Jessie Pickett, Patsy Ritter, Norma Roady, Jean Webb, Elizabeth Winfree, Margaret Winfree, and Mary Young.

This Friday, February 11 the team will play Lynchburg College here. On February 18th they will go to Roanoke College for their third game. The fourth game for this season is with Panzer College of East Orange, New Jersey.

The Athletic Association announces that there will be no charge for the home games, but that there will be collections for the March of Dimes drive.

Don't forget the basketball game with Lynchburg on the 11th. See you at 7:30 in the gym.

Phys. Ed. Conference Begins Session At STC February 10

The Physical Education Conference to be held at State Teachers College February 10, 11, and 12 will have its opening session in the little auditorium at 10:30 Thursday, February 10. The schedule for the three days follows.

On Thursday, February 10, Mr. F. O. Wyal, Director of Related Instruction Services will preside. Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster will welcome members of the conference, and Dr. Harold K. Jack, State Supervisor of Health, Phys. Ed., Safety and Recreation, will make plans for the conference.

From 1:30 to 3:00, Miss Given McWhorter, Health Education Director, will preside. Progress during the last year will be discussed by Mr. G. L. Quirk, Assistant State Supervisor of Health, Phys. Ed., Safety and Recreation. Dr. J. C. Neale, Jr., Director of Local Health Services, will speak on the Health Service Project, and suggstions for committee study and assignment of committees will be made by Dr. Jack. Committee work will be carried out from 3:15 to 5:30. The committees will adjourn for supper at 6:00.

Committee Meetings will continue after supper until 9:00 p. m., at which time there will be a social hour for members of the conference.

Friday morning will be taken up with committee meetings and progress reports will be presented after lunch. At 3:15, Dr. Moore will be in charge of a meeting of the college health service physicians and the committee on college health service. Committee meetings will again be held after supper, and at 7:30 members of the conference will attend the basketball game in the S. T. C. gym.

Saturday morning will again be filled with committee meetings, and at 11:30 an evaluation of the work of the conference will be presented.

There will be representatives from Madison College, Mary Washington College, Fairfax Hall Junior College, R. P. I., College

Continued on page 4

Classes Elect Team Captain

On Tuesday, February 8, the classes met to elect captains for the volleyball and basketball class games to be held soon. The girls elected for the Freshman class were Nancy Walker, captain of the volleyball team and Jean Rideonour, captain for basketball.

The Sophomores elected Ann Lynch as captain of the basketball team, and they haven't yet elected a captain for volleyball.

The girls elected from the Junior class were Ray Phillips, captain for volleyball and Norma Roady for basketball.

Jo Ann Sterling was elected the volleyball captain for the senior class and Lee Robertson the basketball captain.

Night School

Continued from Page 2

And last of all, that question concerning male instructors. We hate to be the ones to break the news to you, but they're all married.

On the whole, we find conditions at night school quite satisfactory. As a final word of warning . . . Do not tell the Dean why you have decided to attend Night School!

"Recess In the Rec"
TUESDAY-THURSDAY
3::00-3:30
WSVS—650 On Your Dial

For Valentine's Day
Send Flowers
BURG
Florist

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

PATTERSON'S

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Wilson
Firestone
Metal Record Racks
$5.95
Racks $3.50
Record Hassock $24.95

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results
KLEANWELL CLEANERS

Love Somebody?
Say So . . . With Valentine Gifts
from
MARTIN THE JEWELER

ASSORTED VALENTINES
FOR MOTHER, SISTER, DAD, AND ALL THE FAMILY
J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS
VERSER'S
We strive to please

WFLO
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
870 on your dial

For that Special Valentine flowers from
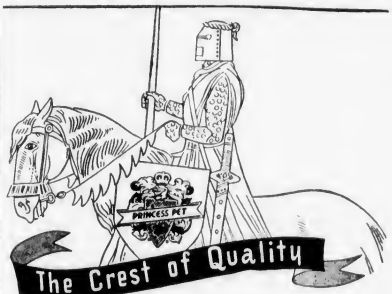
COLLINS
Phone 181 Night 4



FLOWER GIRL

You'll look and feel like a real spring-beauty in this flower of a dress by Vicky Vaughn Jr. The smooth little bodice is a garden of appliqued posies and misty ruffles of white, white eyelet! The skirt might be a petal, it's that winsome and pretty with a full, ruffly, eyelet-banded flounce that will catch hearts as well as eyes! Of smooth cotton in nosegay colors of grey, aqua, blue, pink, lilac or maize. Sizes 9 to 15.

$5.95

LEGGETT'S
Farmville, Va.

The Crest of Quality

Princess Pet
ICE CREAM
The Richer, Creamier Ice Cream for Your Special Occasions!

Every occasion is an instant success . . . when Princess Pet is served! It's smooth as satin, richer, creamier by far . . . than any other Ice Cream you've ever tasted!

Just ask your dealer for the new, de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality. Ask for delicious Princess Pet . . . the Ice Cream for those with royal taste. Buy a pint or two, today!

★ ★ ★

Four popular standard flavors—Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry, Buttered Pecan — and the Flavor of the Month...Cherry-Pineapple... exciting as a Valentine!

NOW...40¢ a PINT at Your Dealer's
TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

PATSY KENS

By Patsy Smith

Although the ground-hog saw his shadow and six more weeks of winter is expected, S. T. C. girls will be out front with spring fashions when ole Jack Frost goes in hidin' again.

Pastel shades will be fashionable this spring for suits, dresses and toppers. The new combination of Navy blue and green will also hold its own in the field of colors this spring. The white "shortie" coat is still a favorite and looks well with either light or dark colors. Slipper blue is also expected to top spring colors.

Suede accessories are dominating the store windows. Suedes in pastel colors, and also in dark colors will lead in the Easter Parade this year.

Perhaps the "opposite sex" will not be as critical of women's hats as they have formerly been now that there are becoming smaller with just an occasional spray of the wearers favorite flowers.

It's time to think about your spring outfit girls, and the more conservative this year the better.

Orchesis

Continued from Page 3

highlighted by a group of music students singing the darkie spirituals, "Many Thousan' Gone," "Down In De Lonesome Valley," and "Careless Love". This choral group will be composed of Puckett Asher, Jean Hogge, Peggy Dee Hoover, Betty Jordan, Ann Joyner, Nancy Kibler, and Dorothy Lester.

The last part of the program, a style show in dance, 'Spring Arithmetic," will show the new fashions of the season from Baldwin's Department Store in Farmville.

Accordine to Mrs. Landrum, Orchesis adviser, members of the group will model hats, shoes, and other attire as they are worn from "sunlight to limelight," with some special S. T. C. adaptations.

On February 10 Dr. Lancaster will speak to the student body at Blackstone College, in their weekly assembly held at 6:45 p. m.

Teachers To Have Tea This Friday

Members of the Prince Edward and Cumberland County Teachers Association will meet together for an afternoon tea to take place in the Browsing Room of the College Library on Friday, February 11, 1949, from four to six in the afternoon. The college faculty will meet with them. Guests of honor will include the members of the local School Board. Also invited are Mrs. T. J. Mellwaine, Mrs. William Savage, and Mrs. Dabney Lancaster.

The various service departments within the Library Building will hold "open-house" for the assembled guests. Library tours will be planned, giving visiting teachers a chance to observe such teaching aids as Picture, Vocational and Pamphlet Files, the Film Library and other audio-visual equipment including special exhibits for teachers.

Among the special exhibits of interest to teachers will be a Farmville Elementary School art exhibit. The exhibit by local artists, sponsored by the Woman's Club, will still be on display in the Browsing Room itself. Beginning at 4:30 p. m., two showing (twenty minutes each) of the film, "America, The Beautiful" will be presented in the Audio-Visual auditorium, located on the same floor as the Browsing Room.

Visitors are requested to arrive by way of the front entrance of the Library building.

Commercial Club Plans Meeting

The regular meeting of the Commercial Club will be held on February 10, at 7:00 p. m. in the "Y" Lounge.

The program will consist of a skit presented by the sophomore class members. All old and new members are urged to be present by the club president, Billie Mullins.

113 Begin Work In Night School

Total enrollment in the State Teachers College evening classes is 113 students, according to the announcement of Dean William W. Savage. This figure includes two students who are regularly enrolled here, Dean Savage said.

These, the first evening classes in the history of State Teachers College, convened for the first time last Friday, February 4. Final enrollment for individual classes was: interior decorating, 17; beginning shorthand, 14; business law 21; elementary accounting, 14; typewriting, 27; and public speaking, 10. The class in English grammar did not materialize.

Concerning the continuation of the evening classes next fall, Dean Savage said, "Enrollment in the evening classes seems to indicate that we have gotten off to a pretty good start. If people derive the benefit from the classes we're expecting them to derive, there will be a continuing demand for them."

Physical Education

Continued from Page 3

of William and Mary, Roanoke College, Radford College, Mary Baldwin College, Blackstone College, Bridgewater College, Hollins College, University of Va., University of Richmond, Ferrum Junior College, V. P. I., Norfolk County Public Schools, the Health Department, and the State Department attending the conference.

Library File Offers Varied Pamphlets On 183 Occupations

Dr. M. Beverly Ruffin, college librarian, announces that the Vocational Pamphlet File in the reference room of the library now contains 1,325 pieces on 183 different occupations. In the file are pamphlets in the fields of banking, beauty culture, biology, boots and shoe industry, brick and tile industries, and business administration. Others are on gifts shops, interior decoration, education and instruction, nursing, clothes designing and agriculture.

Supplementing the Vocational Pamphlet File is the older Pamphlet File of the Reference Department. Material related to vocations may be found there under such entries as Education.

Dr. Ruffin added that the vocational material now on hand forms the basis for a more extended service which the S. T. C. library hopes to offer in the future to the college and high school students in the Farmville area, and to public school teachers and others who are engaged in any type of work which requires the counseling of young people.

NOTICE

All faculty members are reminded to turn in their baby pictures or a reasonable facsimile thereof, to Miss Anna Lee Headee as soon as possible. These pictures will be used in connection with an assembly program to be presented in the near future.

Franklin Will Head Freshman Production

Fran Franklin will act as production chairman for the Freshman production which will be presented March 25 at 8 o'clock in the State Teachers College auditorium.

Serving as chairmen for the various committees are Dolores Hoback, property; Jackie Jardine, scenery; Shirley Livesay, food; Pat Tuggle, ushers; and Joan Prichett, posters. Fran urges all Freshmen to sign up for committees. The lists are posted on the bulletin board.

The theme for the production will be announced at a later date.

Chatterbox

Continued from Page 2

Young Joe Wilson is expanding his field at S. T. C. It seems. Carper is the latest conquest of our noted surveyor.

Meade really did look tired Saturday night. Was it the Ping Pong game or did Betsy have anything to do with his condition?

STC Contributes $172 To March of Dimes

Mr. Raymond French, who headed the March of Dimes drive on our campus has announced that a total of $172.00 was collected for this fund. The students and faculty of S. T. C. contributed $125.00 of this amount and $47.00 was collected in the training school.

In the training school the drive was organized and conducted by the members of the seventh grade. "They really did a fine job and deserve to be congratulated," said Mr. French.

The quota for Prince Edward County was set at $2000 at the beginning of the drive. To date over $2900 has been collected and some sections of the county are yet to be heard from.

GRAYS DRUG STORE

CARA NOME and WHITMAN'S CANDIES

Truly a Drug Store

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Going Somewhere?
Travel Refreshed

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
LYNCHBURG COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, INC.

© 1949, The Coca-Cola Company

Hear Chesterfield's Perry Como

RADIO . . . RECORDS . . . MOVIES

. . . ON THE CHESTERFIELD SUPPER CLUB

Radio's outstanding nighttime show. Starring Perry and his partners Jo Stafford and Peggy Lee. Featuring the Fontane Sisters, the Starlighters, and the orchestras of Mitchell Ayres, Dave Barbour and Paul Weston. Tune in—all NBC stations, five nights a week, coast to coast.

It's Great Entertainment!

See Perry in MGM's latest technicolor musical, "WORDS AND MUSIC," at your local theatre

Buy RCA VICTOR "SUPPER CLUB FAVORITES" at your local Record Dealer

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

. . . THE BEST CIGARETTE FOR YOU TO SMOKE — Perry Como

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations To Dean's List

The Rotunda

Attend Junior Dance

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1949 | NO. 16

College Announces 84 Make First Semester Dean's List

List Recognizes High Scholarship

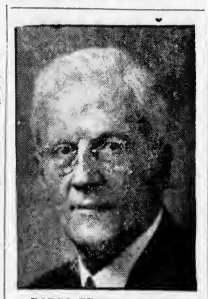
The Dean's list for the first semester of the current college year contains eighty-four names as recently announced by Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster.

Through the Deans' list, the College recognizes students for superior scholarship. A student obtaining a 2.25 or B+ average is eligible for the Dean's list. Sixty-three names were listed for the last semester of the 1947-48 session.

The students who are on the Dean's list for this semester are Helen Agnew, Burkeville; Dalila Agostini, Mayaguez, Puerto Rico; Wilma Allen, Prospect; Puckett Asher, Newport News; Frieda Baker, Columbia; Flora Ballowe, Farmville; Lynda Carolyn Black, Westover; Jacqueline Bobbitt, South Hill.

Also Catherine Bondurant, Farmville; Betty Scott Borkey, Bowling Green; Rosemary Caldwell, Richmond; Lois Callahan, Danville; Laura Jean Comerford, Meadowview; Doris Conner, Gloucester Point; Jean Craig, Norfolk; Mary Minta Crowder, Blackstone; Sylvia Damsky, Hampton.

Also Edith Duma, Portsmouth; Jacqueline Eagle, Winchester; Mary Sue Ebeling, Lexington; Lucy Ann Edmonds, McKenney; Joyce Etheridge, Back Bay; Frances Burton Everett, Bon Air; Elizabeth Ferguson, Prospect; Irig Ferguson, Farmvile; Lauralee Fritts, Ninevah.



Also Nancy Garbee, Lynchburg; Penick Gentry, Crewe; Martha Gillum, Charlottesville; Betty Lou Haiman, Tazewell; Peggy Ann Harris, Emporia; Emily Hastings, Richmond; Martha Hatcher, Richmond; Margaret Dee Hoover, Portsmouth; Elizabeth House, Norfolk.

Also Louis Edward Hubbard, Farmville; Julia Hughes, Charlottesville; Shirley Irving, Charlottesville; Maria Jackson, Lexington; Jacqueline Jardine, Farmville; Edith Kennon, Green Spring Depot; Nancy Kibler, Arlington; Ruth Lacy, Farmville; Anne Langbein, Arlington.

Also Willard Leeper, Farmville; Alice Lloyd, Arlington; Nancy McAden, Brodnax; Elsie McAllister, Saltville; Katherine McCready, Stuart; Stuart McGhee, Farmville; Cornelia Marston, Shackelfords; Nancy Meeter, Charlottesville; Mary Leigh Meredith, Front Royal.

Also Marjorie Miller, Christiansburg; Elizabeth Nuttall, Richmond; Edward Orange,

Continued on Page 4

RABBI FRED I. RYPINS

Students To Hear Rabbi Fred Rypins

By special arrangement with the Jewish Chautauqua Society, the guest speaker on tomorrow's assembly program will be Rabbi Fred I. Rypins of Greensboro, North Carolina.

Rabbi Rypins has chosen as the topic for his address "Jewish Contributions to America."

The Jewish Cautauqua Society which is sponsoring Rabbi Rypins' appearance here was founded in the year 1893 to forward a system of Jewish religious education. Emphasis is laid on lectures in Jewish topics delivered at American Universities "as a means of bringing authentic information to the non-Jew, and throught his information, good will and better understanding."

Rabbi Frederick I. Rypins was ordained by the Hebrew Union College in 1921. He served in pulpits in Wilmington, North Carolina and Roanoke, Virginia before being called to his present post as Rabbi of Temple Emanuel in Greensboro, North Carolina, in 1931. Rabbi Rypins taught the Old Testament class at the Episcopal Conference at S. T .C. during July, 1948.

Dr. Lancaster To Go To St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. Lancaster will attend the meeting of the American Association of Colleges for Teachers Education meeting in St. Louis February 21 to February 28. This association is the accrediting agency for all teacher's colleges and colleges of education throughout the United States. The meeting being held this month is the annual meeting of the association.

Starving STCers Loudly Acclaim Welcomed Boxes Of Eats From Home

By Janice Slavin

Boxes from home are welcomed things at S. T. C. Everyone dashes madly around to the mailbox at 9:00 a. m. (simply starving) to see if she has a package slip. Oh joy! You got one. Immediately, you seem to have more friends than you have ever had before in your life. "Is it food?," they all chorus. Well, they'll soon see. You wait in line for hours, and finally, you get the package; you dash madly up to your room followed by numerous friends; you eagerly tear the box open—a sweater that you had left home appears in view. Not a sign of any food is to be found. You hear loud groans and the march ot little (?) feet out of the room—true friendship.

However, the above situation does not always occur. You sometimes stand in line and actually end up with a package of food, although we know of one girl that has been expecting a package of the stuff from her aunt since 1946. It has never arrived.

A package really helps in many ways though. The arrival of fruits or fruit juices in time for our daily vitamins insures health; we become a little more courteous and write thank you notes; we become better morally because we do not (shall we say swipe?) so much food out of the dining hall or from our friends.

After taking a poll, we found fruits headed the list of things that the students most like to receive in the line of food.

Let's hope this paper has a wide enough circulation to reach all of our friends and relatives. They may get on the ball someday and send a package. Who knows?

Headline Brevities

YWCA Party Tonight

The freshman and transfer Y. W. C. A. Little Sisters will take their Big Sisters to a coke and nab party in the "Rec" tonight at 10 o'clock.

The Sing Committee of the "Y" headed by Agnes Dingledine, and, the Freshman Commission, headed by Shirley Livesay, will furnish the entertainment for the party. Several of the frosh will give a "Lighthouse" skit. Tommie Thomas will sing "It's Magic" with a comic version of the same song by Midge Wood.

Maria Jackson will sing "The Lilac Tree." Barbara Brown will play the piano, and Fran Franklin and Mary Helen Cook "have a surprise in store" for the party guests.

'Recess In Rec' Cut

The usually scheduled "Recess in the Rec" program presented over station WSVS on Tuesdays and Thursdays will no longer be heard on Thursdays. There will be only one weekly presentation in the future on Tuesday afternoons from 3 until 3:30 p. m. according to Page Burnette, student chairman of the program.

Students are asked to voice their opinions as to what type of programs they prefer. Any suggestion can be written out and turned over to the the college radio committee, to Page Burnette or to station WSVS.

Sophs Present Sing

"A Look Ahead," the theme of the sophomore sing to be presented Saturday, February 19, after dinner, was announced today by Ann Kemp, chairman of the sing. "There will be some past, some present, but mostly future," said Ann. This sophomore sing will be the third in the series of competitive sings for this year.

The last sing, to be given by the senior class, is scheduled for February 26. Last week the sing, which was presented by the juniors, was a form of old-fashioned melodrama appropriately set in the Palace Theater on "Toity-Told and Broad."

Hudson Broadcasts

Molly Hudson, junior from Lynchburg, made her first appearance in "Saturday Swing With Molly" over WSVS on Saturday, February 12. This program is to be broadcast from 4:30 until 4:45 every Saturday afternoon and features jazz, swing and bebop records.

Molly asked that all who wish to give opinions, suggestions or criticisms see her, as all such are more than welcome.

Worker Visits ICF

Miss Ann Childs, staff worker for the Intervarsity Christian Fellowship in the southeastern United States, visited this campus last week from Tuesday, February 8, to Friday, February 11.

Miss Childs met with a group of the I. C. F. and discussed plans for a conference to be held in Virginia, February 25.

Johnny Satterfield To Play For Junior Class Ribbon Ball Saturday Night, February 19

Painters, Decorators Give Rotunda Rejuvenated Look

By MARY LEIGH MEREDITH

Won't be long now 'till we'll have in our possession one of the snazziest rotunda's ever, and I am not referring to the newspaper 'cause we already think that is pretty snazzy. He who tooteth not his own horn—same horn goeth untooted!

Two faculty committees, one on interior improvement and the other on external improvement, have already gone into action and are showing us just what wonders they can accomplish.

The shrubbery which darkened and almost seemed to overpower the entrance to the rotunda has been removed. New shrubbery of a type and size more befitting will be planted as soon as it is feasible.

It is easy to see, now that the painters are more than halfway through the rotunda, how much more light and "livable" it will be. The plans now call for grey-green walls with an off-white for the woodwork. New draperies and a general rearrangement of the old, and some new, furniture will add to the colorfulness of our "reception hall." All of this they hope to have completed by the time the alumnae start arriving for Founders Day.

Not only is the rotunda to be rejuvenated but also the home office, the Dean's parlor and Miss Gleaves' office. These are expected to be done over by early spring. The entire color scheme is not available at this time but plans for the Dean's parlor include a motif of gold, rose and turquoise.

Working hand in hand with the faculty committee on internal improvement is a decorator from Richmond so we may be assured that the "professional touch" will not be lacking.

These committees are doing a wonderful job of giving us a school to be proud of so let's show them that we are proud by refraining from marking up or otherwise mutilating that into which they have put so much time and effort.

Orchesis Recital To Offer Variety

Orchesis, the modern dance club on campus, will offer a variety of compositions in the recital which they will give next Wednesday evening, February 23 at 7 p. m. Themes and moods of the numbers on the program range from earthly gavottes and the romantic minuet to mountain ballads and negro spirituals.

Dance of Greeting, a trio to Bach's Gavotte, will open the evening's program.

American Sampler, a two part suite, the second number, will be a study in formalism in the Virginian and austerity in the New Englander. The latter makes use of the speaking voice, which according to Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, Orchesis Adviser, commands one to speak, not dance. The Virginian is stylization in authentic dance form of the minuet. However, neither number sticks closely to costuming of the period.

Americana Suite, to appear next on the Recital program, is a project of the modern dance class. Quartets, trios and a duet will make up the March, Schottische, and Waltz parts, all stylized from old ballroom forms.

The Hall Farewell number,

(Continued on page 3)

Joan of Arc Statue Will Be Refinished

The statue of Joan of Arc which ordinarily occupies the center of the S. T. C. rotunda has been sent to the Caproni Galleries in Boston, Mass., to be refinished in ivory. The statue is supposed to be returned to its place by March 12 in time for Founder's Day celebration to be held on that date.

The white plaster replica of the Capu "listening" statue was originally given to the College by the Class of 1914. Last year it was replaced by the bronze model of the same statue

Colonnade Editor Previews Issue

The next issue of the Colonnade will be published by or during the first week in March, it was announced today by Anne Langbein, editor-in-chief.

The second prize winning story in the short story contest, "Joe" by Charlotte Hall Davis, will appear in this issue. "Those Who Sleep Slumber Deep" by Jackie Jardine, an honorable - mention in the short story contest, is also included in this issue.

An article about S. T. C. as it used to be, featuring pictures made approximately forty years ago, is among the features this time. According to Anne it should prove to be both interesting and amusing.

In discussing the theme for this Colonade, Ann reminded us of Mr. Saunier who spoke on the World Federation in the as-

Continued on Page 4

Juniors To Give Tea Dance at 4 p m

Hardin Announces Receiving Line

Johnny Satterfield and his orchestra from the University of North Carolina, called "the finest in the South" by Metronome" music review, will bring their 'Moods In Music" to the junior Ribbon Ball this Saturday night. Dancing will be in the College gym from 8 until 12 p. m., with intermission at 10:30 p. m.

Helen Hardin, general chairman of the dance, has announced that decorations in the gym will be carried out in red and white. She stated, too, that although the Ribbon Ball will be the customary girl-break dance, couples are urged to double break. Ann Nock ticket chairman of the dance, states that remaining tickets will continue to be sold after meals at the table in the main building hall at $1.80, stag; and $2.40, drag.

Preceding the Ribbon Ball on Saturday afternoon at 4 p. m., members of the junior class will entertain their dates with a tea dance in the student lounge and gym. Mrs. Caroline Eastham, Miss Evelyn R. Hamner, and Mrs. Mary Johnston, all of the College home department, have been invited to attend the tea dance. Kitty Carmichael and Laura Lee Stickley are in charge of the affair.

In the receiving line Saturday night will be President and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster; Dean Ruth Gleaves; Dean and Mrs. W. W. Savage; Miss Elizabeth Burger, junior classman; Dr. Marvin Schlegel, freshman classman, and Mrs. Schlegel; Helen Hardin, dance chairman; and the junior class officers, Jacqueline Eagle, Norma Roady, Dennise Love, and Page Burnette.

Members of the faculty and administration who have been asked to act as chaperons are Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Brumfield, Mrs. Kathleen Cover, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Coyner, Miss Caroline Eason, Mrs. Caroline Eastham, Mr. Raymond French, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Grainger, Miss Olive

Continued on page 4

Campus May Become Gay Wonderland With Mountains Of Sweet Posies

This can't be STC. Many of our old familiar mock oranges, hemlock, arbor vitae, and juniper shrubs are things of the past. Are you aware of just what is happening because of the changes in the Alma Mater? Why, the entire campus is going to be overhauled. We are going to have mountains of posies come spring, but girls, don't worry. Perhaps the boys' money will hold out until then.

The entire campus has been examined by Dr. R. T. Brumfield's committee for improvement of the grounds, members of the Garden Club and the Botany class. Those shrubs which are diseased and overgrown have already been removed. According to a member of the grounds committee, we are going to have a specialist come in the very near future to landscape for the project. No doubt you will be wondering why we will wait until fall to plant the new shrubs. Due to dry summers, it will be futile to start the work before then. New grass will be planted soon in order to give it a firm start.

Junior and Senior campus will not undergo many changes other than the planting of new gress and similar alteration. The diseased boxwoods in front of the library will be replanted. The new Science building will start from scratch, of course.

The Rotunda seems to be the main problem. After proper eliminations, the shrubs remaining will be trimmed and reset. As to the exact changes and additions that are to be made over the whole campus, no really definite information has been disclosed. One thing is certain—the campus will really be one of which to be proud.

Sound Off!

What's your pet peeve? Whether it's food, faculty or the state of the nation, you have a chance to air it out by writing a letter to the editor of the Rotunda. So few students and faculty members take advantage of this method of doing something about their favorite complaints that we wonder if they realize the opportunity available to them.

All of us, at one time or another, see things around the school, among the students or even in matters outside of school that have room for improvement. But why complain bitterly about it to your roommate behind closed doors, when with just a little effort you could let your views be known to the whole College. And who knows—something may be done to improve the situation.

On the other hand, when praise is due, as it so often is, why not take this means of offering your compliments publicly? The improvements made on the campus in the last few months certainly deserve appreciation from all of us, and a letter such as the one printed on this page today shows all of us a way we can exhibit this appreciation.

Of course, you may be lost without your pet "gripe" to keep you company, but through your constructive criticism you may also be aiding the entire College, and you will have the thanks of the student body to take its place.

Orchids And Dandelions

Orchids to all those members of the College administration who are responsible for improving the appearance of the school. So says this week's letter to the editor; and we heartily agree. The redecoration of the rotunda is especially nice. The walls and columns are being painted; a new mantel for the fireplace is being set up; and there'll be new tables, lamps, comfortable chairs, and bright draperies. In fact, it will be a friendly, homey sort of room in which to meet our guests. It's a dream come true. Now let's see that dream perpetuated.

Referring again to this week's letter to editor, we are forced to agree with the author concerning destruction of things done for us and our school. Too many of us are thoughtless and careless in our actions. The rotunda doesn't need to begin looking old and worn within a short time after its completion. Just a bit of thoughtfulness on the part of each of us can keep it looking good.

S. T. C. has built up, through the years, a reputation for the unfailingly good school spirit and sportsmanship of its students. Why not build up a reputation for the looks of our College too? We have a rotunda of which we can be proud. Let's keep it that way.

In Defense

Too much extracurricular activity at S. T. C.? So you've been told. But don't believe it. Such activity is one of the most positive evidences that S .T. C. is an alive, growing, broadening and thriving institution. It's generally accepted that our College is, of practical necessity, a community within itself. And what community doesn't have countless organizations, groups, and clubs to serve the diverse interests of its citizens?

We contend that every College organization or other activity outside of class serves a definite need of students. When this is not the case, the organization dies a natural death.

Let's look at our extracurricular activities. We have on campus religious organizations; scholarship fraternities; social groups; vocational clubs; student publications; various music, dance, dramatic, and cultural societies; study groups; athletic organizations; governmental organizations; and recreational outlets. Who can point to one of these and say that it is unnecessary?

Perhaps these types don't all exist at other institutions; but are the graduates of other similar colleges as well rounded individuals, on the whole, as S. T. C. graduates? From our observations, it is the S. T. C. graduates who distinguishes himself because of his vitality and service to the community. And why shouldn't he? He learned at S. T. C. how to best blend book knowledge with everyday community living through associating with his fellows in extracurricular activities. What's more, these same activities better prepared him for his vocation than would have intensive study alone.

The principal objection to our present number of extracurricular activities seems to be that they divert the student from study. It's true that etxracurricular activity taken to extremes will show up in a student's grades. But it is also true that anything taken to excess is detrimental. In the outside community, the wise citizen doesn't let his job suffer because he spends too much time on his avocations. Neither does the wise student here let his grades slip because he becomes too engrossed in other interests. Those students who are not so wise soon are weeded out or set back on the right track by means of the Student Standard Committee's point system which prevents a student from carrying more activities than his grades will allow.

However, critics of extracurricular activity at S. T. C., seem to think that by eliminating some of this activity the general degree of scholarship here will be raised. We say that this will not be the case. Students, instead of applying themselves to more diligent study, will set about supplying the needs which originally demanded the eliminated activity.

We grant that some mistakes often made by students might be avoided by more intensive training of the freshman to select only those extracurricular activities which will serve him best. But abolishing extracurricular activity will accomplish nothing except student dissatisfaction and unrest—least of all, higher grades.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Jean Smith, Joan Prichett, Jean Otis Loving

In charge of this issue—JEAN SMITH

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1949

The Rotunda's Facelifting

Gallop Pole

Question: What types of student radio programs would you like most to have on "Recess in the Rec"?

Harold Griffin: I like popular and semi-classical music but boogie woogie is just so much noise.

Max Acree: I like a variety show with lots of things.

Miss Helen Draper: Music, quiz programs at a different hour.

Shirley Atkinson: I like some music with some other things combined.

Denise Love: More masculine voices, but don't ask me where you'll find them.

Jan (Alias "P. C.") Slavin: A program similar to "It Pays to be Ignorant" ought to be easy for us!

Marian Breeden: Numerous things!

Dean Savage I have no argument with an informal program, but if it is to do the college justice it must have a little more dignity.

Anne Langbein: Quiz direct to the college students with prizes given for correct answers.

Margaret Wilson: Since this is cat class, "Dem bones, dem bones".

Helen Owins: the theme song of the cat class "The Kitty Kat Song".

Barbara Andrews: a few songs dedicated to the remains of "Ding Bat the Singing Cat".

Billie Jane Baber: I like the quiz programs where they give away prizes like a cruise around the world or a husband!

James Stewart McGee: I'd like to hear some good comedy.

Joanne Sterling: I think Anne Langbein has a fine suggestion-that could really be good!

Katie Bondurant: Something that won't disgrace the school!

Andy Adams: A program by which more people can participate-Not everyone can sing or play a piano.

Peggy Covington: I prefer a strictly musical program-popular music that is.

Ann Harding: Anything that swings.

Jan Peebles: Yesterday and Today's popular music.

Jenny Powell: Symphonies, naturally! But I can see them playing only 30 measures of Shubert's Unfinished now. Nope, it wouldn't work!

Edith Duvall: More faculty participation.

Robbie Cromar: I like singing programs so that we who are musically inclined can shine! (Yeah, us.)

Jackie Watson: I like that kind too, so I can hear Robbie. But remember "Dinah", Pug.

Sophisticated Rat

Joan Prichett

Hold your Toni curls in place, girls, and here we go again!

It seems as though before the excitement of one week end dies away, another even more promising springs up. No sooner than the Hampden-Sydney Mid-Winters are over, talk and attentions turn to the Junior Dance that takes place this coming week end. If the Juniors put it on, it's bound to be good. Rumors have it that several of our classmates are making big plans for the Fancy Dress Ball at W. and L. this week end, too.

Dan Cupid really made a lot of work for the Post Office here at STC this Valentines Day. Have you ever seen so many valentines and boxes of goodies before? Here's a motion for making Valentines Day come 10 times a year. Is there a second?

Won't someone please deal Mary Moore Karr a beautiful bridge hand. She has such weak bids that I fear she might give up forever. Don't give up, Mary Moore. Maybe your luck will change and you won't have so many heart murmurs from now on.

Perhaps this is a little late, but anything for a laugh. The Saturday that Freshman sing took place, Peggy Harris who had the part of the old maid in the program was dressing up for dress rehearsal that afternoon. She was draped in a black dress, baggy hose, hideous hairdo, and best of all, layer upon layer of rouge, powder, and lipstick. While she was standing in the middle of her room, admiring her comical outfit, someone knocked on the door. It was Miss Gleaves and some guests whom she was showing around the dorm! Miss Gleaves took one horrified look at Freshman Harris and said some hurried apologies to the guest and left. Well, to say the least, Peggy didn't have a chance to explain that she was in costume and not merely dressed to have a date in the Rec. Peggy is still hoping that the guests didn't get a bad opinion of the college just because of her. The moral to this epic is: Don't ever be surprised at what you see at

Continued on Page 3

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

On behalf of a number of the students, I would like to say a few things in regard to the book room, which we would like to see changed. When students buy books and then their schedule is changed for some reason, why should they be forced to keep those books? College is expensive enough as it is.

At the end of each term, we have a lot of books which we do not desire to keep. Why should we sell these books back to the book room for $.25 when we pay $1.25. We realize we are not forced to sell them, but what else can we do with them? If the books were in poor condition the matter would be quite different. We are also aware that a profit has to be made, but why such a large one?

If this could be looked into, we would appreciate it very much. Really, we have a lot of books on hand we would like to get rid of.

Some Students

Dear Editor:

First of all, I wish to thank Dr. Lancaster and his fellow workers for improving the appearance of the school. During the past two years, I have noticed so many changes made to make the students and faculty proud of our school. We really appreciate your work.

I wish to devote my second paragraph to those who, thoughtlessly or not, are tearing down all the things just built up for us. The other day, I noticed a student, quite nonchalantly running her pencil across the wall of a freshly painted hall as she walked along. Although such actions seem little, they will ruin the appearance of an entire hall. This action is not only destructive, but also very childish. Many of us did things like that when we were small, but we are college students now! Surely we should act our age, and definitely we want outsiders to think we act our age.

This is only one small incident out of many seen every day. PLEASE, let's make others respect S. T. C. and her students!

Helpful Sophomore

Chatterbox

Everybody recovered from the week-end by now? Well, the Juniors are hoping that some of the gals that went to the H-SC midwinters will be able to walk again in time for the Ribbon Dance—which brings forth the inevitable pun about who's stringing who along—but on to old business.

Of course at the dance, there was very little light on the subject, which should give us more info for this column—if we could have seen it, which we couldn't—but here goes—

Our little May Court representative from Puerto Rico goe by far the biggest rush at the dance. Many a male was dashing about looking for Isaac.

Of course Charlotte Jones wasn't complaining about the lack of stags—Just being with Lassie was enough.

Music must mean something to Mush for when the orchestra played "Let's Take the Long Way Home" he was glad to oblige Nock by following thru. Charlotte, Suze and Jan left the dance in a car, and returned from Richmond on the bus—Hope you had your mad money, girls.

Jean Farmer felt rather wheelish getting a dozen red roses Feb. 14—as did Ratch who pulled in two boxes of candy.

Dont' forget to see B. Ferguson about the full particulars for the Chesterfield Song Contest—that cigarette is something to sing about so put it to music and win a prize!

Have you heard that song that

Continued on Page 4

Orchesis

Continued fron. rage 1

says Mrs. Landrum, is a study of life on the college campus from the time the green freshman enters her first year, where she is exposed to most everything but the curriculum, until the time she is a senior and has acquired a dignity, a grace of carriage and manner which will be exemplified by orchesis through a stylization of the pre-classic form, the Allemande.

The Mountain Ballads section is in three parts: "Cabin Door", a nostalgic study where a lonely mountain girl longs to get away from the unhappy hills. "Far Away", shows the same girl, now a sophisticate of the city, pining for the "heavenly grass" of the hills; and "Saturday Night", a group number in jive idiom to the square dance form.

"The Eager Aunt" and her followers, who compose the first part of the section Sketches, make a comic scene. "The Jaded Uncle" is a study of inebriety of a man who, in Mrs. Landrum's words, "still takes everything straight". "The Intellectual Neighbor" concerns a harassed bookworm, probably a graduate of S. T. C. who has to read between minding the baby and tending to the various and sundry duties of a housewife

I Sing, the largest group work is a negro suite showing the extremes of emotion in the negro's idea of "He'ben," "Work," and "Blues." Spirituals will be sung throughout this composition.

Songs of the Seasons without Reason is, according to Mrs. Landrum, a take-off on dance as only a dancer can do. Fall, Winter, Spring, and Summer will be done "as no weather man ever meant a season to be danced," she says.

The last number Spring Arithmetic, is a real honest to goodness style show with hats and shoes on parade, fashions from sunlight to limelight will be shown in forms of the current season and as S. T. C. adaptations.

Sophisticated Rat

Continued From Page 2

STC—especially when the Freshmen are planning something spectacular!

Speaking of sings, didn't our sister class come through with flying colors last Saturday night when they put on their sing? They were really wonderful!

It seems that Lee Cosby has been spending so much time in closets lately that she is beginning to feel like a coat hanger. That was one close call Saturday night, eh Lee?

There is a request to be made If any of you happen to be passing Lucyle Humphries' room please tip toe by the abode. Lucyle, alias Sleepy, might be catching forty winks or so of shut eye. Poor thing, she does work so hard.

Phys. Ed. Group Make Plans For Standards of Field

Dr. Jack Cites Teacher Shortage

The Physical Education Conference was held here this week ended with many recommendations and suggestions for plans to raise the standards in the fields of Physical Education for students and teachers.

"From this gathering of college instructors and departmental heads all over the state many astounding facts were disclosed," said Mrs. Emily K. Landurm, assistant professor of psysical education here. According to Dr. Harold Jack, supervisor of health, Recreational and safety council in Virginia, "There will be nearly 300 jobs to be filled in the state and only 45 to 50 people graduating to fill these vacancies." Dr. Jack went on to make this suggestion. "We need to strengthen the major in Physical Education with a minor in related sciences—that is the solution to the Virginia problem of teacher shortage." Dr. Jack who worked in Minnesota for eleven years and used this method to raise the standards

Continued on page 4

SPORTIN' AROUND

The lights are seen burning late at night in the gym—Orchesis is putting in some hard work for the recital to be given February 23, so you'd better be there. It will be worth your going!

By now you know that those people that were here last weekend were attending the Physical Education Conference. Orchids to all those in the department for their splendid job.

"We will keep ole S. T. C. on top"—that's just what the basketball team is doing with a win over Lynchburg College for their second game of the season. Read all about it on this same page!

Approximately fourteen from each class (red 'n white and green 'n white) have signed up for the swimming meet. That's all fine, but we can still use more. Won't you sign up right away?

The telegraphic meet is going to be combined with the regular swimming meet. This is a national test to see how the records of speed for different strokes compare throughout the nation. Incidentally, the swimming meet will be held February 28, from 5:00 to 6:00 p. m.

Are you still working towards those eight practices in basketball and volleyball? See that you do!

Mr. Myers Visits KDP

Kappa Delta Pi, honorary society for juniors and seniors, held its regular meeting Thursday, February 10.

Following the business meeting, the Rev. John Wynn Myers, Pastor of Farmville Methodist church spoke to the group about character building in relation to teaching. His talk, which was directed toward elementary majors, stressed the idea of bringing religion indirectly into the grammar schools.

NOTICE

All faculty members are reminded to turn in their baby pictures or a reasonable facsimile thereof, to Miss Anna Headlee as soon as possible. These pictures wil be used in connection with an assembly program to be presented in the near future.

Dean William W. Savage talked with prospective students for S. T. C. last Monday, February 14, at Handley High School in Winchester.

STC 'Cagers' Win Victory Over Lynchburg Six

Varsity Scores Second Triumph

Farmville's Varsity basketball team took its second victory 49-39 over Lynchburg College, Friday night, February 11.

The teams were well matched, making the game a very exciting one with Lynchburg College in the lead (11-10) at the end of the first quarter. When the whistle blew for half, Farmville was in the lead only one point (24-23).

After the half Farmville, playing on its home court, began to show what it could do! Our guards began to really hold their forwards down and the forwards didn't do badly in putting in those goals. During the last half Farmville scored 25 points and Lynchburg scored 16, the final score being 49-39.

Miss Iler was the coach for the Farmville team and Miss Dudley, Farmville alumna, known to us as Beanie, was the coach for Lynchburg.

The Farmville team won their victory with Patsy Ritter, Frances Allen, Winifred Beard, and Anna Famulette as forwards: and Ann Langbein, Rebecca Kelsey, Mary Young and Betty Romeo as guards.

Congratulations to all of you and good luck on your game Friday night, February 18, at Roanoke College!

The economics professor asked the little coed what she thought of the Taft-Hartley Bill.

Her answer—"I think it definitely should be paid."-"The Daily Reveille".

Seven hundred fifty thousand potential frogs are destroyed by the S. T .C. biology department every ten years.

FOR THE BIG
JUNIOR DANCE WEEK-END
Bring Your Dates to the
COLLEGE SHOP
Excellent Food and Excellent Service

DO YOU NEED A
NEW EASTER OUTFIT?
Let us help you choose a stylish new "Mary Lane" suit, pert "Doris Duncan" frock and "Dry Manhattan" topper. An outfit such as this shows that you know the best!
THE HUB DEPARMENT STORE
YOUR 1949 SHOPPING CENTER

WFLO
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
870 on your dial

PATTERSON'S

For the Junior Ribbon Dance
Flowers From
COLLINS
Phone 181 Night 4

Select Your Silver
from our 51
Patterns
from
MARTIN THE JEWELER

New and Assorted
CANDIES
J. J. NEWBERRY
AND CO.

"Recess In the Rec"
TUESDAY-
3::00-3:30
WSVS—650 On Your Dial

GRAYS DRUG STORE
CARA NOME
and
WHITMAN'S CANDIES
Truly a Drug Store

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

"Visit us for good
food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas
and Shakes In Town"

Have Your Clothes
Cleaned At
Kleanwell
For Excellent
Results
KLEANWELL
CLEANERS

Reach For Jinstrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Wilson
Firestone
Long Records
And
Long Record
Players

ORDER YOUR FLOWERS
For Junior Dance from
BURG
Florist

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS
VERSER'S
We strive to please

HUmmmmm... So Good!
Cherry-Pineapple
...Pet's Feature Flavor of the Month

Yes, Pet Cherry-Pineapple Ice Cream is such a rare flavor treat...it's so good...everybody'll ask for double portions! And, you know, Pet Ice Cream is made only of daily fresh whole milk and daily fresh sweet cream! That's why it's so creamy and rich. So, buy Pet Cherry-Pineapple Ice Cream often this month and enjoy its delicious flavor and healthful, refreshing goodness!

At all your parties this month...serve Princess Pet—the de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality! It's so extra creamy, extra rich, it makes every occasion a royal feast!

PET ICE CREAM "a health food"
Taste the Fresh Cream in Pet Ice Cream

Patsy Kens

By Patsy Smith

With mid-winters at our friendly neighboring institutions and the Junior Dance here, the main topic of conversation on the fashion front naturally turns to formals. Many lovely dresses were displayed last week-end by the S. T. C. beauties who attended the Hampden-Sydney dances.

If you are one of those lucky girls with lots of invites to many formal affairs, but not so lucky when it comes to finding a dress to wear to each of the occasions, you can very often alter the entire appearance of a dress by the accessories you wear with it. For instance, you may wear rhinestones with your dress for one dance, and for another you may wear a black velvet ribbon around your neck, a hoop in the skirt and perhaps some gay colored ribbon streamers from the waist.

Another solution to your problem may consist of combining two older dresses to make one. Perhaps the bodice of one and the billowing skirt of another combined will fill your order to the letter. This may be done with only a little time and a few quick stitches with your needle.

Most of the formal wear for the femmes this season is of the more daring nature—either strapless or off the shoulder. Grandmothers' hoop comes in handy also, as the styles continue to roll backward to those days of the gay '90's. If you are in doubt while planning your dress for the next "big deal" in your life, consult your grandmother, aunt or perhaps Mother will be only too happy to give you a few pointers.

Dean's List

Continued from page 1

Farmville; Beatrice Pairet, Farmville; Mary Elizabeth Parham Wyliesburg; Jesse Pickett, Round Hill; Emma Pittard, Buffalo Junction; Kathryn Rhodes, Windsor; Ada Robles, Jayuya, Puerto Rico.

Also Barbara Saunders, Crewe; Rebecca Anne Seward, Surry; Anne Simpson, Ansted, West Virginia; Mary Jo Smith, Portsmouth; Mary Rose Smith, Boykins; Jane Anne Snead, Columbia; Virginia Spencer, Scottsville; Jane Taylor, Punoteague; Margaret Thomas, Atlee; Lois Stevens, Salem.

Also Jean Thomasson, South Hill; Patricia Tuggle, Wytheville; Ruth Walker, Farmville; Sue Walker, Pearisburg; Edna Earle Waters, Portsmouth; Jacquelynn Watson, Hampton; Juanita Weeks, Victoria; Mary Cooper Whiteside, Oxford, Alabama; Martha Alice Wilson, Farmville; Dorothy Winton, Bedford; Billie Marie Wood, Portsmouth; Mary Young, Chester.

Rotunda Tryouts Continue in March

Rotunda tryouts, which have been held for the past two weeks, are continuing this week. Jean Smith is in charge of this issue of the paper with Mary Jo Smith as Managing Editor, Jean Otis Loving as News Editor, Joan Pritchett as Feature editor, Ann Lynch as Sport Editor, and Millie Carter as Social Editor.

These tryouts will continue into March. Papers will be put out by Joan Prichett and Janiee Slavin.

The results of these tryouts will be made known in March when the Publications Board will choose a new staff for the Rotunda.

Ribbon Ball

Continued from page 1

T. Iler, Dr. and Mrs. George Jeffers, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Landrum, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. McCorkle, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Norman O. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Christy Snead, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wakefield.

Johnny Satterfield's dance music will be a three-to-one ratio of slow and fast numbers, according to Frankie Dodson, music chairman of the dance. Ruth Justice is vocalist with the fifteen piece orchestra, and their musical arangements, which emphasize "danceability," are from the pens of pianist-conductor Satterfield and Frank Justice. The U. N. C. orchestra last year set the tempo for Senior Dance and Spring Cotillion at S. T. C. Some of their recent engagements have been at the Governor's Inaugural Ball in Raleigh, N. C.; Duke University; Sweet Briar College; Wake Forest; Mary Washington College; Westwood Supper Club and Tantilla Gardens in Richmond; and the Ansley Hotel in Atlanta, Ga.

Helen Hardin's junior dance committee is composed of Ann Kelly, decorations; Lizzie Bragg, floor; Ruth Hathaway, publicity; Frankie Dodson, music; Joyce Webb, clean up; Ann Nock, tickets; and Laura Jean Stickley and Kitty Carmichael, tea dance. Members of the junior sister class, the freshmen, will serve on the door committee.

Colonnade

Continued from page 1

sembly program several months World Federation, not only to set it before the students, but also because such an active interest in it has been shown here at S. T. C.

Contributions for the feature, "Life at S. T. C.," which appeared in the fall Colonnade and is being continued, are being sought among the students. Ann asked anyone who has material for such a feature to see her as soon as possible.

Anyone interested in working with the Colonnade, especially in the capacity of typist, is urged to see Anne also.

Alumnae News

The Appomattox chapter of the S. T. C. alumnae met Tuesday evening, February 15, to reorganize their chapter. Attending the meeting from S. T. C. were Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, executive secretary and treasurer of the Farmville Alumnae, Mr. Coyner, Dean William W. Savage and Miss Ruth Gleaves, Dean of Women.

Miss Winnie Hiner and Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner will attend a dinner meeting of the Staunton Alumnae Chapter on Wednesday, February 16. Mrs. Helen Cover Lineweaver is president of this chapter.

Miss Grace Moran, president of the Farmville Alumnae Chapter and her officers are planning a subscription bridge party in the recreation hall of the main building on February 22.

The Fairfax Chapter is also planning a subscription bridge party for the Jarman Organ fund on February 24, in the home of Mrs. Sarah Mapp Messick.

Chatterbox

Continued from Page 2

three names withheld by request) boys wrote just for Betsy Wilson? We hear its really a lu-lu, but Betsy refuses to divulge the words. What is this?

Speaking of songs, Jr. Sing was surely a prize winner—Those gals really were on the ball.

David finally got here to see Hank—and if you could look high enough you could have seen a little smile in the corners of their mouths as they met.

Maude and Peg had an interesting experience coming back from Richmond on the bus—Unprintable, but interesting.

Conference

Continued from Page 3

there went on to say that Minnesota paralleled Virginia in many ways.

In the committee work the following outstanding recommendations were made: first, that credit should be given in physical education as in all other academic subjects on a qualitative point basis and to count toward graduation; second, that rythmics should be taught to college men. All the colleges present presented their college programs for discussion in the committees. It was found by these committees that the women's program is superior to the men's (even though programs from VMI, VPI and U. of Richmond were submitted.)

Miss Mary Barlow, professor of physical and health education here, and co-chairman of the teacher training committee, and Miss St. Clair, co-chairman of the required course in health and physical education committee, are to work with Dr. Jaek to form a college committee from the group who attended the conferences and this committee will work on the Physical education program of the state—with reference to a health education course for all college students, an orientation course in physical education for secondary school teachers, and work on requirements for a major in physical education.

VA Aids Students

It has been announced that the Veterans Administration will pay the tuition for ex-service men wishing to attend the night classes at State Teachers College.

Those veterans interested in these classes are advised to see Mr. Ralph Ramy at the Veterans Administration offices in the Herald building.

Overheard at a homecoming dance: "All right! So the orchestra isn't so good. You could at least walk around with me so I can see who's here!"

Auditorium Plans Progress Rapidly

Dr. Lancaster recently stated that plans and specifications for the new S. T. C. auditorium should be completed by late spring, and that he is hopeful of starting construction on the building by the first of June, if a contract bid within the State appropriation can be secured by that time.

Plans for the auditorium are being drawn up by the firm of Stone and Thompson of Roanoke, who have been architects for the College through the years. The new auditorium will be located on High street.

VISIT THE DOROTHY MAY'S
DEPARTMENT OF 'BETTER VALUES'
See the new toppers for just $7.95 & $10.95.
Another group of smart spring toppers $16.95 - $22.50
Exclusive but not expensive
THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Thousands of College girls are making their own clothes this year.
See our lovely Piece Goods in Linen, Woolens, Silks, Prints, Rayon, etc.
You can make your Dresses, Coats and Suits, so reasonable.
DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD
"In my home, guests always insist on Chesterfields because they're so MILD"
Joan Fontaine
CO-STARRING WITH JAMES STEWART IN "YOU GOTTA STAY HAPPY"
A WILLIAM DOZIER PRESENTATION
A RAMPART PRODUCTION
A UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL RELEASE
MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE
MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELDS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE
BY LATEST NATIONAL SURVEY
The TOP MEN of AMERICA'S SPORTS smoke CHESTERFIELD
LARRY JANSEN says... "It's Chesterfields for me, they're really MILDER and have that clean, fresh, satisfying taste... It's MY cigarette"
Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations
New AKG Members!

The Rotunda

Attend
Orchesis Recital

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1949 | No. 46

Orchesis Recital To Be Presented Tonight At 7 p. m.

Taylor Announces Numbers, Dancers For Performance

The annual Orchesis dance recital to be presented tonight at 7 p. m., in the large auditorium will be divided into nine sections featuring "the unusual, the ridiculous and the sublime," according to Jane Taylor, president of the modern dance club.

"Dance of Greeting", a stylization of the Gavotte as a group composition, will open the recital program. This number includes Robbie Cromar, Hilda Edwards, Anne Langbein, and Jesse Pickett.

"American Sampler" will portray in dance the contrast between the early colonial formalism of the Virginian and the austerity of the New Englander. Depicting the Virginian will be Marjorie Boswick, Denise Calvo, Edith Duma, Jeanne Farmer, Jane Fox, Molly Hudson, Jesse Pickett, and Edna Rodriguez. Portraying the New Englander will be Catherine Bondurant, Yvonne Burch, Denise Calvo, Robbie Cromar, Anna Famulatte, Carolyn Grimes, Marian Higgs, Ray Phillips, Violet Ritchie, and Sue Walker.

A recent project of the Modern Dance class, an approach to dance composition through old social, or ballroom dance forms emerges in the recital tonight as "American Suite", divided into March, Schottische, and Waltz patterns. Those interpreting the March will be Marian Beckner, Edith Duma, Betty McRee, and Jean Ridenour; Sarah Droste and Virginia Spencer will dance the Schottische; and the Waltz will be done by Yvonne Burch, Jean Ridenour, and Edna Rodriquez.

"Hail! Farewell—!" will depict the college freshman as she looks to others, and the senior as she looks toward the unknown future. In Hail, Sue Walker will take the part of "the bewildered one"; Ray Phillips, "the boisterous one"; Kitty Carmichael, "the studious one"; and Catherine Bondurant and Jeanne Farmer, the "cheer leaders." Interpreting Farewell will be Hilda Edwards, Anna Famulatte, Jane Fox, Carolyn Grimes, Jesse Pickett, Violet Ritchie, and Jane Taylor.

Continued on Page 3

Institute Dates Set For March 17-19

A French Institute will be held on this campus March 17,18, and 19, announces Mr. James M. Grainger, head of the College Committee on Education for International Understanding which has in recent years initiated similar Institutes on Russia and Latin America. The French Institute, will be sponsored jointly by le Cercle Francais and Beorc eh Thorn, local English society, and it has as its purpose the promotion of a better understanding of the French contribution to modern culture.

The principal speakers for the institute will be Dr. H. Carrington Lancaster, professor of modern languages at Johns Hopkins University and brother of President Dabney S. Lancaster; Dr. Alain Plenel of France, who is now visiting professor of geography at the University of Virginia; and Dr. Edgar J. Fisher, lanuage professor at Sweet Briar College and former secretary of the International Education Foundation in New York.

Modern language teachers and students from all colleges and high schools in the State have been invited to attend the French Institute.

Rabbi Rypins Interviewed On Anti-Semetism Problem

"The world is a more beautiful place because the rainbow is composed of many different colors rather than being just one bright strip of white light," said Rabbi Fred I. Rypins, in an interview Thursday after his address in assembly. Thus Rabbi Rypins furthered his contention that life is better because of, not in spite of, differences.

In discussing anti-semetism Rabbi Rypins pointed out that this was not a Jewish problem and not a Christian problem, but that it is a human problem. He said that as a matter of opinion, not statiscally, there is much less anti-semetism prevailing today than there was during the war years. "Foreign pressure groups known as 'lunatic friends' used anti-semetism to feather their own nests during the war. Much less attention is being paid these radicals now and consequently, they have almost ceased to exist", observed Rabbi Rypins.

Rabbi Rypins stated that young people, both Jewish and non-Jewish, working together in such organizations as the Red Cross and community chests do much to dispel the age-old prejudices. A lot of judgment is based on ignorance, he continued, thus we should be very careful to make sure our judgment is individual in nature and not judgment of a mass. He pointed out that as a result of the smaller communities, in which all the people of a community are brought into closer contact with one another, there is much less anti-semetism in the South than in the North.

Rabbi Rypins further emphasized the point that if young people refuse to accept blindly the prejudices of their elders they will be in a much better position to promote better conditions between various religous groups.

As the interview drew to a close, Rabbi Rypins summed up the discussion with the statement that as America approaches its goal of a complete democracy, anti-semetism will fall by the wayside. He concluded that the "democratic process" in the individual is dependent upon the home, the school, the state, and the church.

Students To Hear Address on U. W. F.

Hope to Establish Group on Campus

A group of students at S. T. C who are interested in forming a United World Federalists of Virginia organization on this campus will be addressed by Mr. Preston Blake, Jr., of Richmond, executive director, on March 8.

On March 2, a petition will be presented to the faculty for approval of this organization. It is felt that there will be no opposition to this movement as there is a definite need here for world minded citizenship development.

"At present," said Betty Lewis Shanks, one of the students interested in forming the U. W. F., "there are at least seventeen students who have shown decided interest in getting such an organization." Dr. C. G. G. Moss, professor of history, has agreed to act as advisor to the U. W. F. if it is brought to this campus.

Members of this group have offered several suggestions for carrying out the work of this society, such as radio debates, and "town meetings," which would be held in the auditorium.

Betty pointed out that interest on the part of the student body is essential in forming an organization such as this, and each student is asked to investigate this subject which is a vital issue in the world today.

6 STC Students Average 'A' Grades

Only two students enrolled in courses giving a minimum of twelve semester hours of credit received all "A" grades for the first semester of this session, it was announced by Miss Virginia Bugg, Registrar. These are Laura Jean Comerford, senior from Meadowview, and Beatrice Pairet, senior from Farmville.

Students enrolled in courses giving credits less than a total of twelve semester hours of credit, who received all "A" grades are Yvette Ancey, Mrs. Virginia Leeper, Mrs. Thelma Mottley and Ann Norman.

Girls To Attend Dance At Pickett

Maximium of 75 'Pixies' Invited

S. T. C. girls will attend a dance at Camp Pickett this Saturday night, February 26. All girls who wish to go are requested by Miss Leola Wheeler and the "Pixies" dance committee to please sign up on the main bulletin board by Friday noon.

A maximum of 75 girls may attend. Those attending will leave for Camp Pickett from the Dean's Parlor immediately after supper Saturday night.

Frankie Dodson, head of the "Pixies" dance committee, stated, "S. T. C. girls will not be able to attend the Pickett dances anymore unless enough girls sign up to attend the dance this Saturday night."

Students to Present Quiz Program Thurs. On WFLO 'STC Hour'

The S. T. C. Hour to be heard tomorow afternoon over station WFLO at 4:15 to 4:45, will feature a transcription of the quiz program to be presented in Thursday morning assembly.

The quiz program will have Betty Ferguson as student announcer and Mr. "Chuck" Maillet, WFLO manager, as master of ceremonies. The presentation is being sponsored by the college radio committee, composed of Miss Leola Wheeler, professor of speech; Dr. M. Beverly Ruffin, college librarian; Miss Emily Clark, assistant professor of music, Mrs. Mildred D. Davis, assistant professor of English; and Ann Galloway, student representative of the committee.

The battle of wits will have S. T. C. girls challenging the college co-eds. Seven girls and seven boys have been briefed for the parts, but only five of each group will be used. The remaining two of each group will be called upon as alternates if necessary.

The girls chosen are Mary Cooper Whiteside, Emily Hastings, Edith Duma, Gris Boxley, Nancy Kibler, Rena Hayes, and Helen Agnew. The boys selected are Stuart McGhee, Louis Hubbard, John Cook, A. R. Southall, Buddy Gentry, Stuart Johnson, and Ned Orange

Miss Elizabeth Burger, assistant professor of science, and Dr. C. G. G. Moss, professor of history and social science, will act as judges for the quiz.

AKG Recognizes 7 Upperclassmen In Thurs. Tapping

Leadership Society Bids 3 Seniors, 4 Junior Members

Seven girls' were tapped by Alpha Kappa Gamma, honorary leadership fraternity for women, in an assembly recognition program last Thursday morning. Those recognized were Dalila Agostini, Betty Spindler, and Jean Thomasson, all seniors; and Dolores Duncan, Ray Phillips, Norma Roady, and Jackie Wright, juniors.

Dalila Agostini of Mayaguez Puerto Rico, is president of Le Cercle Francais, vice-president of Beorc Eh Thorn, local honorary English society and a member of the Colonnade and Rotunda staffs. Betty Spindler, who comes from Hampden-Sydney, is editor-in-chief of the Rotunda, secretary of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, Colonnade poetry Editor, and past president of Le Cercle Francais. Jean Thomasson of South Hill is president of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education, and she is a member of the Association for Childhood Education; Future Teachers of America; Pi Gamma Mu, national honorary social science fraternity; Alpha Phi Sigma, national honor society; the College Choir; and the Philosophy Club.

Dolores Duncan from Norfolk is chairman of the Y. W. C. A. Membership Committee, hostess of the Baptist Student Union center, secretary of the Baptist Training Union, a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, and the Association for Childhood Education. Secretary of the Athletic Association Council, Ray Phillips, of Williamsburg, a member of the Monogram Club; Orchesis, dance society; and captain of the junior class volleyball team. Norma Roady from Newport News is vice-president of the junior class, a member of the A. A. Council, and a member of the Monogram Club; she plays on the varsity basketball team and is captain of the junior class basketball team. Jackie Wright of Morrison is treasurer of the Y. W. C. A., president of the Baptist Training Union, a member of the Dramatic Club and of le Cercle Francais, and she is hall president.

STC Library Shows Material Pertaining To French Institute

During the next four weeks all the exhibit material of the college library will be related to the French Institute which is to take place at S. T. C. March 17, 18, 19.

In the map room in the lower part of the library many types of maps of France will be on display. Another display will feature the metric system and other developments of French culture pertaining to mathematics. Printed material relating to French politics a subject which will be discussed in the college assembly by Dr. Carrington Lancaster of John Hopkins University, will also be exhibited. On display will also be found printed material in the field of literature and other phases of French culture. Other exhibits pertaining to the field of French art will be on display to the students and the public.

All exhibits, both printed material and paintings, which will appear during the coming weeks, are to show the development of the French culture.

House Announces Cast Of 'Lady Windermere'

Play Will Be Part Of Founders Day

"Lady Windermere's Fan," which is to be presented by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs as part of the Founder's Day celebration March 11 and 12, is progressing rapidly under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler. The cast for this sophisticated comedy has been announced today by Betty House, president of the Dramatic Club.

Members of the S. T. C. Dramatic Club represented in the play will be Griswold Boxeiy playing the role of Lady Windermere; Betty House as the Duchess of Berwick, Robbie Cromar as Lady Agatha Carlisle, Jackie Roberts as Lady Plymdale, Mary B. Smith as Lady Stutfield, Audrey Petit as Mrs. Cowper-Cowper, Ann Nock as Mrs. Erlynne, and Mary Crawford as Rosalie.

From the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs, Arthur Stuart will play Lord Windermere; Dan E. Bray, Lord Darlington; Jathan Stone, Lord Augustus Lorton; Bob Mathews, Mr. Cecil Graham; Joe Ressel, Mr. Dumby; Bill Pissano, Mr. Hopper; Mason Cole, Parker; Bill Sites, Sir James Roiston; and Mac Duncan, Mr. Arthur Bowzer.

Griswold Boxely, a senior from Louisa, was a member of the National Collegiate Association, an honor society for dramatics while in high school. She appeared in several plays in high school, and while at S. T. C. she has been in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and "Death Takes a Holiday." In the presentation of "The Taming of the Shrew," Gris played the part of the shrew, Katharina. As head of the acting group Gris has had experience in coaching and directing several plays.

Arthur Stewart, a sophomore at Hampden-Sydney, from Newport News, will play the bewildered husand Lord Windermere. Arthur has been very active in dramatic work since his high school days. He wrote his senior play, 'Love

Continued on Page 4

'49 Founders Day Plans Announced

'4', '9' Classes Plan Reunions

Miss Virginia Bedford, associate professor of art, has been appointed as faculty chairman of the 1949 Founder's Day to be held on March 11 and 12. She will act in conjunction with Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, the alumnae chairman.

"This Founder's Day will mark the advent of something new in class reunions," said Mrs. Coyner executive secretary and treasurer of the Farmville alumnae. "In the past all special class reunions have occurred only once in a decade; beginning this March 1949 there will be a class homecoming every five years. This means that all 'four' and 'nine' classes will hold special reunions this year."

The classes of 1924 and 1899 will hold reunions celebrating respectively their twenty-fifth and fiftieth anniversaries.

Among the oldest of the classes which hope to be represented at the Founder's Day celebrations is the class of 1889 celebrating their sixtieth anniversary.

The tenative program of the 1949 Founder's Day festivities was included in the February issue of the "Alumnae News." Since then the program has remained unchanged. Registration and informal class reunions will be held on Friday, March 11. On Saturday, March 12, the alumnae will have their Alumnae luncheon at Longwood followed by a business meeting. Dr. and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster will hold open house for the alumnae and a special banquet will be prepared for them in the S. T. C. dining hall. That evening they will be guests at the S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney presentation of "Lady Windermere's Fan" to be given in the S. T. C. auditorium under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler.

Prospective Teachers Have Promising Career Ahead

By MARY CROWGEY

Everytody interested in teaching other people's children, lend me your ears. (The first thing I know people will be telling me I write like Shakespeare.) Prospective school teachers, this concerns YOU.

Yes sir, we've come out with another brainstormer article, this time answering questions concerning the nature of school teaching. Dr. J. P. Wynne, head of the S. T. C. Education Department and some of this semester's student teachers were our oracles of information.

Our first question, "Are modern children as awful as we were?" was answered by student teacher's and Dr. Wynne in the affirmative.

"It all depends on Method", said Dr. Wynne. "As a matter of fact if you use Method, the right kind of Method spelled correctly with a capital "M" you will have no trouble with discipline."

Well, future schoolmarms, that eliminates one worry. Read up on Method, or try listening in education class. We have six of Dr. Wynne's books which we shall be only too glad to lend you.

The next question, "Can teachers get a sufficient amount of food for the maintenance of good health," can be answered "Yes" We must caution you not to accept money. Insist that your salary be paid in food. Then, too, try eating most of your meals in the homes of different pupils.

The replies we got to the question, "Why do people teach school"?, were quite enlightening. Even though you may teach 'till you reach eighty, it's fun to the end. In the year 2009 A D. we'll give you the final word upon this matter.

Concerning the retirement of teachers, we've got good news. We read in the "Saturday Evening Post" about a Virginian who sold the apples his pupils brought him and the paper on which they wrote themes. Such ingenuity does not go unrewarded. He was able to retire after only forty-four years of service!

Just what compensation does a teacher receive? We shall try to state these compensations briefly, as that is the only way they can be stated anyway. 1. Pupil's undying love. (This, of course, does not include times when report cards or homework are dealt out. Nor does it include geography class, arithmetic class, or any other time when work is assigned.) 2. Mothers' gratitude. 3. Fathers' gratitude, too. 4. Reward in Heaven. If we ever get to Heaven, we ought to be able to collect about seven or eight gold mines. Those ole grammar school teachers, high school teachers, and college instructors we had will probably own the place.

Advice On Sororities

The topic of the week is undoubtedly sorority rushing, so with the subject uppermost in everyone's mind we wish to discuss some of the questions which are confronting many people. Is it really necessary to belong to a sorority? Is it possible to ever get another bid if one is refused the first time they are issued? Can any other sororities be organized on this campus? Should rushing be held after the first semester, or should we adopt the system used at Madison of rushing after two semesters have been completed?

In answer to the first question we repeat the statement made in an editorial several weeks ago: "A sorority is not a must. It is an extra-curricular activity—often of merit but never of necessity." To you, who were not offered the opportunity of belonging to one of the organizations we again say that belonging to a sorority has never been, and will never be a prerequisite to social standing, popularity, or success, at S. T. C.

Now for the answer to the second question. It is indeed possible, and very often probable to get another bid to a sorority if one received during this period is refused. In talking to Miss Gleaves about this editorial she stressed the fact that a girl in choosing a sorority should feel congenial with the members of the group and with others who will join at this time. If you have received a bid to a sorority in which you do not feel that you can be content, then her advice is to refuse that bid. It is a gamble of course, but in the majority of cases it is worthwhile. A sorority is a lifetime obligation, so each person is urged, even by the members of the rushing sorority, to choose wisely. No sorority wants a girl to pledge the group if she does not feel at home there. The sorority chooses the girls to be bid, but it is the girl who chooses the sorority.

Can any other sororities be founded or organized on this campus? Indeed they can; in fact the College is anxious to have from 2 to 4 more sororities here. Under the provisions of the new national Pan-Hellenic association, any social sorority (as distinguished from the "educational" sororities to which those on campus formerly belonged) can now be established in teachers' colleges. It would be a good thing for a group of congenial friends to investigate the possibilities of bringing another sorority to S. T. C. Since the social groups now on the campus are limited by the administration as to the number of members, the only way to offer sorority membership to a larger part of the student body is to have more sororities.

Our final question is of interest chiefly to those who are already members of a sorority. Should we wait till the sophomore year to issue bids? We think that it would be a good idea, because it gives the sorority plenty of time to know whom it wants to invite to membership, and it also gives the new students a chance to form the friendships which are important to them later on. If the Pan-Hellenic association will put this question to the sororities, we feel that a step in improving the system of rushing will be taken.

Do You Appreciate Modern Dance?

Seeing dance and doing it are two different experiences. When one has had some dance or movement experience, or the eye has become accustomed to modern dance in comparison to ballet, the whole becomes more satisfying. But to see something new for the first time one should approach it as a new puzzler, a toy, or a watch. Take it apart and see what makes it dance.

On first reviewing any composition ask yourself these questions:

1) What do I want to see again?

2) Why do I want to see it?

3) What is beautiful (my own personal conception of beauty)?

4) What is interesting? (It attracts me for some reason.)

5) What repells me, but would I like to see it again?

After a composition has met one or more of these prerequisites to an understanding of dance as an art form, one asks, "What does the dance say?" Meaning in modern dance is projected through movement, its manipulation, and its subsequent development into a form or structure, akin to musical form, and to design in space, or choreography.

The musical form most often used is the three part, ABA form, in which a theme is stated in the A part; it is repeated at least once in the beginning; it is manipulated or developed to lead into the B, or second part, which is part of the whole, yet it stands alone as A did. The theme returns in the second A either in exact repetition as in the beginning, or inverted as will be noted in some compositions.

This musical form superimposed over the design in space, over the floor, on the floor, in the air, etc., is called choreography. Some dances make an overall use of space, some are linear, others circular in design. Body movements may further magnify the use of space. To see dance at its best one should be able to look down upon it, not up at it.

The speaking and singing voice, and the beat of feet on the floor are used as accompaniments in this year's Orchesis Recital, as well as the piano. Perhaps, one of these will be disturbing, or perhaps, pleasing. Remember that whatever is strange, new, unfamiliar, must be seen more than once. The better understanding comes through dancing oneself. The next best will come through asking, "What do I want to see again?"—Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, Assistant Professor of Physical Education.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Chiselin,
Jean Smith, Joan Prichett, Jean Otis Loving

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor
Mary Cooper Whiteside

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Anne Simpson ..... Typing Manager

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Janice Slavin, Mary Crowgey, Dalia Agostini
Betty Ferguson ..... Chaterbox Editor

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Anne Lynch

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1949

Alumnae News

The Fairfax Alumnae Chapter and the Peninsula Chapter are having subscription bridge parties this week for the benefit of the Jarman Organ Fund.

Monday afternoon, February 21, Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean Ruth Gleaves, Miss Virginia Wall and Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner went to Danville to attend an alumnae dinner at the Danville Hotel. Miss Agnes Stokes was the presiding officer in the absence of Mrs. Frances Sale Lyle.

Mrs. Coyner, executive secretary of the Farmville Alumnae, reports that more alumnae are expected to return to the 1949 Founder's Day program on March 11 and 12 than have been present at any previous reunion.

Chatterbox

There's almost more news around S. T. C. this week than there are girls—which is practically an impossibility. What with the Junior's wonderful extravaganza, the Ribbon Ball, the boxing matches at Virginia, the game out at Hampden-Sydney, and the numerous trips that were taken to Lynchburg, this reporter is flooded with facts and fiction.

Speaking of the Ribbon Ball —never have there been so many handsome men circulating around Farmville. Nancy Watts and Westbrook had two of those Eastern Shore Romeos down. They took 'em for Richmond Sunday to see T .D. at the Mosque. Those dollar-fifty seats do make one a little hard of hearing but Westbrook serenaded the boys with her own specialty, Minnie the Moocher."

Carol Stoops, president of the S. P. B. B., did alright as a cradle robber. He gave her a beautiful corsage—she says from now on she's reverting to the high school gang.

Anne Langbein really did herself proud with that beautiful green orchid—very pretty!

The boxing matches at Virginia were well represented by our Farmville girls. Harriet Ratchford learned more about airplanes than she ever knew before—her date really had her up in the air.

Phyllis Bagley, Margaret Wall, Myrt Hatcher, BeBe Love and Nock sat on the edge of their seats and hoped their dates wouldn't get any ideas from the entertainment they were watchin.

Jean Farmer and Martha Hatchett hit Lynchburg with a bang several times. They raced back and forth at least three times over the week end. Martha fell in love again. Although she couldn't remember that Mac asked her to a very important function—Her head was in a whirl the whole time.

Betsy and Buddy also took a short and hurried trip to Lynchburg. Did they accomplish everything they had planned—or did they?

Charlotte Jones and Bill Rixey enjoyed seeing the sights of Richmond Sunday. "Third Mate Rixey" has signed up for a long cruise this time.

Iris Sutphin had a beaucoup big time at the Tacky dance in Ashland, but she was terribly worried about how she was going to Richmond Sat. nite. What happened to your date, Iris?

Pete, Dick and party took off for the Beach Saturday—Nothing like rushing the season slightly!

Notice

Due to unexpected developments in the STC calendar, the Sophomore and Senior class sings, sponsored annually by the YWCA, have been moved up one week later than previously scheduled. The Sophomores will present their sing on February 26, and the Seniors on March 5.

Modern Dance Recital Tonight!

Sophisticated Rat

Turn off the vic, people, stop shagging, and lend an ear for a few minutes. How do you like the "Charleston" step that is starting to take hold at STC? If you haven't learned it yet, grab a big bowl of Wheaties and run around and have someone teach it to you. You'll love it—if your constitution can take the speed of the roaring twenties.

So the corsages for the Junior dance have wilted but not the memory of the wonderful time. I told you that when the Juniors put it on, it has to be good. Mosely, that black strapless job was really something out of this world.

Now that Harvey has left the hospital on the hill, Pat Tuggle will probably be spending some more of her afternoons around school. Glad to nave you back with us, Pat.

Jackie Woodward and Marty Miller are still floating around on a cloud after a wonderful week end at W & L. Wonder how long the daze will last? Only one comment here: It must have been a whopper of a time!

It looks as though Betsy Phillips had her hands full last Sunday with three dates. Whats' the secret, gal?

Did you catch a glimpse of Frances Thomas sporting around this past week end with her date from Tech? He was a little bit of all right, don't you think?

The best one I've heard this week: Get off the stove, grandma, you're too old to ride the range! Take it from there, Freshman' and see youaround.

Gallop Pole

Are you in favor of forming a United World Federalists Group on campus?

Janie Fox: The idea of a United World Federation has its possibilities if properly conducted and I think such a group here would be in the right direction as we are future leaders of the country.

Edna Rodriguez: I think it would be right for the benefit of all countries.

Alice B. Rock: If it brings peace, I'm definitely in favor of it.

Jane Gray: I think that such an organization should be an addition on our college campus as it is up to each of us as citizens to try to bring about world peace.

Charlotte Stephens: Yes, I believe it would be a fine organization for S. T. C. to have.

Evelyn Farrier: It sounds interesting and has possibilities if enough students will participate in it.

Dr. Schlegel: I think it would be a good idea to stimulate thinking about the world among our students.

Barbara Bradshaw: Starting with the college girls the idea could be spread to a lot of different communities. I think it's a good idea.

Billie Jane Barber: I definitely think we should have an organization like this in a teachers' college.

Isaac Velasquez: I don't think a world government will be fair to some countries since some of the laws imposed will not favor them. It will be all right if all of them are well planned. But—would that be all right with some countries? Will they accept it? How long will it take?

Dr. C. G. G. Moss: I think it can be very stimulating to student interest in world affairs.

Helen Kaknis: Yes, I think it would be a good thing for the world to try to live under one government.

Sue Highfield: I think that we need an organization of this type here at S. T. C.

Love Bentley: Such an organization couldn't be started too soon on this campus or in any community.

Dr Lancaster: I think it would be an excellent thing.

Frances Anne Ramsey: It is what the world needs to lead to lasting peace.

Anne Verser: It would be a grand project and would certainly give the college more recognition in the state and in the nation.

Elizabeth Harris: Yes, I think the sooner it is organized the better.

Ann Nock: Without a doubt, I think we should endorse it wholeheartedly, but we will need the cooperation of every student.

Hank Hardin: Most definitely. I think it is an excellent idea and about the only way to peace.

Elizabeth Urner: I think that if the student body is willing to cooperate, the United World Federation would be a fine idea at S. T. C.

Annette Jones: Yes I do. It seems to be the only way of ever obtaining peace and understanding between countries.

AA Schedules 13 Events For Swin Meet February 28

The swimming meet to be held February 28, will be divided into two parts, the intramural events and the telegraphic events. However, the telegraphic events will also count for class points.

Included in the telegraphic events will be a fifty yard free style, fifty yard back crawl, fifty yard breast stroke, one hundred yard free style, one hundred yard back crawl, one hundred yard medley (individual,) and seventy-five yard medley relay. Among the school events scheduled are twenty-five yard crawl, twenty-five yard back stroke, twenty-five yard breast stroke, fifty yard crawl, one hundred yard free style relay, and seventy-five yard medley.

Green 'n' whites and red 'n' whites are urged to sign up on the A. A. bulletin board to participate in one or more of these events.

Entrees have been requested to sign up for the events so that there will be an equal representation of green n' whites for each event.

Let's all be sure to be on hand Monday to cheer our colors on to victory.

Orchesis

Continued from page 1

The fifth part of the recital program, "Mountain Ballads", will feature Mr. Ralph W. Wakefield, assistant professor in music, who will sing the ballads accompanying the dancers. The Cabin Door section of "Mountain Ballads" will feature Anna Famulatte as "the girl in the hills"; Jesse Pickett is cast as "the girl in the city" in Far Away; in the "running set", square dance adaptation of the Saturday Night section, will appear Hilda Edwards, Anna Famulatte, Carolyn Grimes, and Molly Hudson. "Bystanders" will be Patricia Earle, Betty McRee, Jean Ridenour, and Mary Jane Stansbury.

In "Sketches" Orchesis members will caricature the Eager Aunt, a typical clubwoman, and her Followers; the Jaded Uncle, and the Intellectual Neighbor. Hilda Edwards will dance the part of Eager Aunt, with Yvonne Burch, Edith Duma, Patricia Earle, Lucille Pollard, and Jean Ridenour in her train. The part of the Jaded Uncle will be taken by Jane Taylor, and Edith Duma will be the Intellectual Neighbor.

"I Sing—" in which the dancers will interpret the Negro's emotions will be vocally accompanied by members of Mr. Wakefield's Conducting class with the assistance of Janie Fox and Joan Missimer. The three emotional extremes, Heben, Blues, and Work will be portrayed through spirituals. Lucille Pollard will have a solo to "Many Thousan' Gone"; and "Down in the Valley" will include Kitty Carmichael, Hilda Edwards, Anna Famulatte, Jean Farmer, Marian Higgs, Ray Phillips, and Mary Lou Woodward. Molly Hudson will have the solo, "Sit Down Sister"; and Anna Famulatte, Betty McRee, and Lucille Pollard will appear in "Careless Love." Dancers who will depict "Hammerin' " will be Marian Beckner, Love Bentley, Sarah Droste, Anna Hall, Betty McRee, Joan Missimer, Indie Shackleford, Virginia Spencer, and Mary Jane Stansbury. "Pickin' Cotton" will include Catherine Bondurant, Kitty Carmichael, Edith Duma, Patricia Earle, Hilda Edwards, Helen Hardin, Molly Hudson, Betty McRee, Jesse Pickett, Edna Rodriguez, Mary Jane Stansbury, Jane Taylor, and Mary Lou Woodward.

The section on the program entitled 'Songs of the Season without Reason" is made up of pointed, satirical studies on the old natural dance. Carolyn Grimes and Sue Walker will dance the Fall number; Marjorie Boswick will appear as Winter; Betty McRee, and Edna Rodriguez will do Spring; and Summer will be characterized by Catherine Bondurant, Jean Farmer, Helen Hardin, Marian Higgs, Ray Phillips, Violet Ritchie, Mary Jane Stansbury, and Mary Lou Woodward.

Responding to last year's requests for a style show on their dance program, Orchesis is concluding the recital with "Spring Arithmetic", a showing of fashions from Baldwin's store in Farmville, with some S. T. C. adaptations of the current dress modes. Fashion narrator will be Yvonne Burch, and the models showing Baldwin's clothes and hats will be Catherine Bondurant, Griswold Boxley, Charlotte Flaugher, Betty Ferguson, Patsy Kimbrough, Patti Page, and Audrey Pettit. Other Orchesis members and apprentices will show the S. T. C. fashion adaptations.

The recital tonight is under the direction of Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, adviser to Orchesis. Jane Taylor is assuming general chairmanship of the program.

Costumes are under Muriel McBride, assisted by Marjorie Boswick, Jean Cake, and Betty Lewis Shanks. Staging is being handled by Edith Duma, Ruth Eggleston, Jeanne Farmer, and Jane Grey. Mr. R. W. Wakefield is directing vocal accompaniment; and June Banks, regular Orchesis accompanist, is being assisted by Page Burnette with music. Choreography is by all members of Orchesis and Mrs. Landrum.

Population rise to 148,000,000 is reported by Census Bureau.

Farmville Varsity Basketball Team Blazes To Easy Victory In Roanoke Game

Pictured above is the STC Varsity basketball squad which is undefeated so far in this season.

STC Still Remains Unbeaten So Far

The Farmville Varsity basketball team took a strong lead in their game with Roanoke College Friday afternoon, February 18. At half time the score was 21-0 in favor of Farmville and the final score was 47-9. The game with Roanoke was the third game for the Farmville team and so far they have won every game.

The girls making the trip to Roanoke College with Miss Iler, the coach, were Frances Allen, Winnie Beard, Anna Famulatte, Rebecca Kelsey, Anna Langbein, Patsy Ritter, Norma Roady, Betty Romeo, and Mary Young.

S. T. C. will be hostess this week end to the High Schools participating in the State district basketball tournament. The games will be played Friday and Saturday nights.

Farmville's Varsity team will not play this week end but there will be a game here the following Saturday with Panzer College from East Orange, New Jersey. This game should be a very interesting one, so plan now to come and help your team show your school spirit.

Baptist Students To Have Revival Here Feb. 25

The Baptist Student Union of the local Baptist Church will sponsor a Youth Revival February 25 to February 27 inclusive. Services will be held in the Baptist Church each evening at 8 p. m. and on Sunday morning at 11 a. m.

The meeting will be conducted by a Youth Revival team, composed of about twenty-six members from the University of Richmond. Some of the members of this team are Mary Lee Ranking, who was born in China; Brooke Temple, soloist from Markham; Cecil Carder from Culpeper who is interested in mission teaching and David White, a pre-medical student.

Other members of the teams are Dick Hensley who is a letter man on the U. of Richmond football team; Temple Bennett, a preministerial student; Max Hutton, who will be the song leader for the Youth Revival; and Walter Bradley of Stanford, a political science major, who is the leader of the team. Also Mary Burnett, Ann Plunkett, Mary Copeland, and others.

The speakers for the Revival will be David White and Mary Burnett Friday night, Temple Bennett and Ann Plunkett Saturday night, Mary Copeland and Cecil Carder Sunday morning and Mary Ranking and Dick Henley Sunday night.

Following the service each evening will be a Fellowship hour to be held in the basement of the church. The visiting team will also be in charge of the Fellowship hour.

The choir for the Revival will be composed of girls from S. T. C.

Big steel output expected in U. S. during 1949.

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from MARTIN THE JEWELER

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
BURG
Florist

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

New and Assorted CANDIES
J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell For Excellent Results
KLEANWELL CLEANERS

The Crest of Quality

Princess Pet ICE CREAM

The Richer, Creamier Ice Cream for Your Special Occasions!

Every occasion is an instant success . . . when Princess Pet is served! It's smooth as satin, richer, creamier by far . . . than any other Ice Cream you've ever tasted!

Just ask your dealer for the new, de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality. Ask for delicious Princess Pet . . . the Ice Cream for those with royal taste. Buy a pint or two, today!

★ ★ ★

Four popular standard flavors—Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry, Buttered Pecan — and the Flavor of the Month...Cherry-Pineapple... exciting as a Valentine!

NOW...40¢ a PINT at Your Dealer's

TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

Joan Miller

Joan Miller's time-for-travel suit-dress for Spring into Summer wear . . . in wonderful wrinkle-resisting rayon and cotton cord that tubs to perfection. In Brown, Green, Grey or Amethyst. Junior sizes 9-15

$14.98

Baldwin's

JOAN MILLER No. 7547

"Recess In the Rec"
TUESDAY
3::00-3:30
WSVS—650 On Your Dial

GRAYS DRUG STORE
CARA NOME and WHITMAN'S CANDIES
Truly a Drug Store

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

When you think of flowers
Think of ours
COLLINS
Phone 181 Night 4

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Wilson's Home and Auto Supply
Long Records And Long Record Players

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS
VERSER'S
We strive to please

Galloway States Goat Day Rules

Cotillion Club Goat Day will be held Tuesday, March 1, from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m., Anne Galloway, head of Goating anounced today. At this time 110 new Cotillion members or "goats" will be initiated by the Club.

Goat Court will be held Tuesday night from 10 to 11 p. m. in the large auditorium. Cotillion members have compiled the following rules which will be imposed on all goats on the day of initiation.

1. All goats must dress to portray either a faculty member, a campus personality or a character from the funny papers. Regardless of costume, wear one green and one yellow stocking—no socks!.

2. Goats must make up a poem of eight lines about the person portrayed.

3. Goats must wear a sign painted with yelow and green stating their name and home address and including a picture of a goat on front. On the back of the sign must be stated the name of the character the goat is portraying.

4. Goats must carry cigarettes, matches, peanuts and gum for Cotillion members.

5. All books must be carried in a hatbox carried on top of the head.

6. Upon encountering a Cotillion member, goats must quickly place the hatbox on the floor and curtsy cordially at your courtly countenance. All goats are corrupt, contaminated and corroded. They should continually be criticized for their character is commensurably conductive to idiotic convulsions, with this greeting: "Oh Contillion member, "I curtsy".

7. Goats must meet in the gym ta 6:45 a. m.

8. Goats must meet in front of the library at 12:00 noon.

9. Goats must meet in front of the colonnade immediately after lunch.

10. Goats must meet on the A A. field from 5 to 5:30 p. m.

11. All goats must attend Goat Court in the large auditorium at 10 p. m. wearing green and yellow.

12. Goats must call all Cotillion members "Miss" and must know all members by their last names.

14. Goats must attend all meals in the dining hall, including breakfast.

15. Goats must sing all conversation to the tune of "Sweet Georgia Brown."

Cotillion goats are all new members which have been taken into the club during the year. Bids are issued twice during the school year, in the fall and in the winter. The membership of the club is limited to 250.

The new members will be required to decorate for the spring formal dance which will be held in the gym April 23. They are also required to purchase a stag ticket for the dance but may attend with a date.

Dramatic Club

Continued from Page 1

Mc. Love My Dog," in which he also took the lead. He acted as president of the Thespians while in high school, and was awarded two dramatic letters. During the summer, Arthur apprenticed with the Vally Players in Holyoke, Massachusetts, he has also done some radio work at WGH in Newport News. In the past two years he has appeared in several plays presented at S. T. C. including "Death Takes a Holiday", "The Rivals" and "The Admirable Crichton." At present, Arthur is acting as president of the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs.

Ann Nock, who will appear as Mrs. Erlynne, is a junior from Harbarton. While at S. T. C., she has appeared in the "Taming of the Shrew" and "The Rivals." As head of the acting department last year Ann, in her work with the apprentices, gained experience in directing and presenting several plays.

Dan E. Bray, who is from Richmond, has been cast in several plays presented at S. T. C., including "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Taming of the Shrew," "Death Takes a Holiday" and "The Admirable Crichton."

Betty House, who is from Upper Darby, Pa., started her dramatic career at the early age of seven when she appeared as Cobweb, a fairy, in "Midsummer Night's Dream". As a member of the junior high school Thespians, she appeared in "Tom Sawyer," "The Emperor's New Clothes" and in Barrie's "Twelve Pound Look," in which she portrayed the part of Mrs. Sims. She also appeared as Martha in "Arsenic and Old Lace." At S. T. C. Betty has played the part of a servant to Gremio in "The Taming of the Shrew," and Mrs. Malaprop in "The Rivals." She has also acted an announcer and participant in several S. T. C. Radio Programs. Last year, Betty acted as vice-president of the Dramatic Club, and this year she is serving as president of this organization.

Jathan Stone, a freshman from Roanoke, will play the part of Lord Augustus Lorton, the talkative suitor for the hand of Mrs. Erlynne. In high school, Jake appeared in as many as eight productions, taking the lead in several of these. This summer, he attended North Western University in Illinois on a dramatic scholarship. Last fall he was cast as Crichton in "The Admirable Crichton."

Jackie Roberts, a freshman from Halifax, played the lead in her high school senior play, "The Circus Girl." Jackie has also done some radio work at WHLF in South Boston.

Bill Pissano, who is from Baltimore, Maryland, was a member of the Dramatic Club in high school, and worked backstage on several plays. Bill appeared in "The Admirable Crichton" last fall as well as working with the staging department.

Mary B. Smith, a sophomore from Franklin, appeared in the senior play at Franklin High "Spring Fever." She was also cast in several other plays while in high school. At present, Mary B. is serving as social chairman of the Dramatic Club.

Mac Duncan, a member of the Jongleurs, took part in a production presented at Virginia Beach last spring entitled "Honeymoon for Nine". While at Grandy High School in Norfolk he was endman in a minstrel presented by his class.

Audrey Pettit, who will play the part of Mrs. Cowper-Cowper, is a freshman from Richmond. At Thomas Jefferson High School, she took a course in dramatics. Audrey also worked on the staging crew for several high school plays.

Bill Sites played the lead in "Sweet Sixteen" while at Mercersberg Academy in Pennsylvania. During the time he was in the army, Bill portrayed the part of Yank in an all army presenation of "The Hasty Heart."

Shirley Elmquist, a freshman from Hampton, was active in dramatic work all through her high school days. She appeared last fall in the presentation of "The Admirable Crichton."

Joe Sessel, a member of the Jongleurs from Kirkwood, Missouri, was cast as Larry in his high school presentation of "Good Night Ladies", and as Charlie in "Charlie's Aunt." Last fall, he was a member of the cast of "The Admirable Crichton."

Bob Mathews, who also took part in "The Admirable Crichton" last fall, is a freshman at Hampden-Sydney. Bob has also done some radio announcing.

ZTA Reception Honors Founders

Zeta Tau Alpha will hold a reception in honor of the founders of the newly restablished Alpha chapter on Saturday, February 26, from 8 to 10 p. m. in the student lounge.

The presidents and vice-presidents of all S. T. C. and Hampden - Sydney organizations have been issued invitiations to the reception along with all faculty members of both institutions.

Miss Helen M. Harrison, national president from California, will be here for the reception. Miss Wanda Garver, field secretary, and Miss Jean Dunn, fraternity counselor, will also atend.

All the national officers of Zeta Tau Alpha and as many of the founders of the Alpha chapter as find it possible will be present for the reception.

Business Students Affiliate with UBEA

All student teachers in the Business Education Department at S. T. C. have affiliated with the United Business Education Association which is the Business Education division of the National Educational Association.

The student teachers will receive monthly issues of the United Business Education Forum Magazine. The magazine will not only help the student teachers in their work but is also of great value to the regular teachers in the field.

S. T. C. is one of the few colleges in the nation in which all the student teachers of business are members of U. B. E. A Fiber made from peanuts is among new products of South.

WFLO
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
870 on your dial

OUR HAMBURGERS
Are made of fresh ground steak. Come in and try one.
COLLEGE SHOPPE

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Hospitality That All America Understands

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
LYNCHBURG COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, INC.

© 1949, The Coca-Cola Company

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

The TOP MEN of AMERICA'S SPORTS smoke CHESTERFIELD

JACK KRAMER says..."Because they're MILDER Chesterfields taste better all the way. It's MY cigarette."

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The Rotunda

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 1949 | NO. 18

Zeta Tau Alpha Installs New Alpha Chapter Here

Mu Omega Group Initiated Feb. 28

JEAN CAKE
President of ZTA

February 25 and 26 marked the installation of the reestablished Alpha Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha International Women's Fraternity. Zeta Tau Alpha was founded at Virginia State Normal School on October 15, 1898. In 1906 Zeta withdrew its charter and after 42 years of growth and development on liberal arts campuses, the fraternity has come home to the place of its founding. Mu Omega Local Sorority was the group absorbed by this fraternity.

The celebration of this event began Friday with initiation services for members of the college chapter and returning alumnae. Installation initiates taken in at this time were Miss Virgilia Bugg, Mrs. Annie Page Jones Cox, Mrs. Lottie Pitts Jones, Mrs. Mary Lancaster Wall, and Miss Leola Wheeler, adviser to Mu Omega since its founding in 1925.

Friday night, there was an all-Zeta banquet at Longwood. Guests of honor included Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster and Miss Ruth Gleaves, as well as all college and alumnae initiates and pledges, installation initiates and national officers. Zetas from several Virginia colleges and near-by towns were also here for the week end, including Miss Hope Vandever, Dean of Women at Madison College. Mrs. J. L. Bugg, of Farmville, past national secretary, was chairman of reservations. Among the many gifts presented at this time to the new Alpha Chapter by the national council, the province, and individuals was the complete redecoration of the fraternity's room.

Saturday afternoon, services to officially install the chapter were held in the small auditorium. The chapter officers also installed at this time were Jean Cake, President; Helen Holbrook, Vice-President; Margaret Beasley, Secretary; Arnette Snead, Treasurer; Charlotte Willis, Historian; and Harriet Butterworth, Guard.

A formal reception Saturday evening in the Student Lounge climaxed the week end festivities. Invitations were sent to the faculty and administration of State Teacher College, and Hampden-Sydney, student representatives of both colleges, all alumnae members of Mu Omega, the original Alpha Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha, and many others.

National officers of Zeta Tau Alpha on hand for the occasion were: Miss Helen Harrison, national president from Los Angeles; Mrs. Horace Seepe, Coral Gables, Fla., second vice-president; Mrs. W. C. Roberts, New York City; Miss Wanda Garver, Pittsburgh, Pa. Also Miss Jean Dunn, chapter counselor from Leaksville, N. C.; Mrs. J. C. Alexander, Alpha province president; and Miss Frances Yancey Smith of Charlotte Court House and Mrs. S. B. Batte of Norfolk, founders.

Air Show Features 'Name' Songs Tues.

"On the "Recess in the Rec" program heard over WSVS February 22, songs with girls' named as titles were featured. Appearing on the program were: Andy Adams who sang "Linda," Virginia Spencer who sang "Georgia," Tommy Thomas who sang "And Mimi" and "Peg O' My Heart." Ann Burnette singing "Cherokee," Joyce Smith who sang "If You Knew Susie", and Charlotte Jones singing "Laura".

This special feature of station WSVS is now being heard each week on Tuesday from 3 until 3:30.

Education Clubs Will Meet Tuesday

Students Invited To Open Session

The Jarman Chapter of the Future Teachers of America Association is planning a joint meeting of the F. T. A., the Association for Childhood Education, and the Philosophy Club to be held Tuesday, March 8. At this meeting the supervisors and students will discuss problems encountered in the training school.

Dot Daniel is serving as head of the program committee, and Polly Nasser as chairman of the social committee.

The main topic of discussion under which many other questions of importance will be classed, is "What are some of the ways by which supervisors may extend the prospective responsibility of student teachers?"

The Education Department, the supervisors from both the high school and training school, and Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster have been invited to lead and participate in the debate. All S. T. C. students are invited and urged to attend and take part in the open discussion.

WFLO to Feature Preview of Play

Excerpts proviewing the Dramatic Club's spring play, "Lady Windermere's Fan," a sophisticated comedy by Oscar Wilde, will be featured on this week's S. T. C. Hour to be heard tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. over radio station WFLO.

S. T. C. studnts who will participate in the preview are Griswold Boxley, Betty House, Robbie Cromar, and Ann Nock. Arthur Stuart and Dan E. Bray of the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs will be participants in the excerpts also.

The role of Lady Windermore will be played by Griswold Boxley. Betty House will portray the Duchess of Berwick; Robbie Cromar, Lady Agatha Carlisle; Ann Nock, Mrs. Erlynne; Arthur Suart, Lord Windermere; and Dan E. Bray, Lord Darlington.

The Dramatic Club will first present "Lady Windermere's Fan" Friday, March 11, and again Saturday, March 12 in connection with the Founder's Day celebration.

President, Dean Will Attend AVG Meet in Roanoke

Session Begins Friday, March 5

President Dabney S. Lancaster and Dean William W. Savage will represent S. T. C. at the annual meeting of the Association of Virginia Colleges which will open a two-day session this Friday at the Hotel Roanoke in Roanoke. In connection with the discussions of educational problems Dean Savage will give a paper on "The State-Wide Scholastic Aptitude Testing Program".

The opening session of the 35th annual meeting of the A. V. C. Friday afternoon will feature an address by President Colgate W. Darden, Jr., of the University of Virginia who will discuss "The Future of Higher Education in Virginia." Sharing the platform with him will be Herbert W. K. Fitzroy, administrator of the Richmond Area University Center, and Dean Sharvey G. Umbeck, of the College of William and Mary. Dean Umbeck, who recently was elected president of Knox College, at Galeburg, Ill., will speak on "The Place of Research in the Small College".

Dr. W. T. Sanger, president of the Medical College of Virginia and president of the Association will preside over the formal dinner Friday night. The speaker will be ex-Governor Millard F. Caldwell, of Florida, president of the Regional Council for Education, who will discuss "Regional Education in the South". The proposed regional plan is a movement for pooling southern college resources for improved graduate education.

The remainder of the meeting will be occupied with discussions of various college educational problems and Association business which includes the election of new officers.

The institutions sending representatives to this meeting are Averett College, Blackstone Col-

Continued on Page 4

Announcement

There will no longer be a nightly bell at 10:30 p. m., announced Martha Gillum, House Council president, yesterday. Instead, the bell will be rung each night at 10:50 as a warning for the 11 o'clock bedcheck.

This ruling was made last week at the regular monthly House Council meeting. Martha stated that the Council felt that the 10:30 bell was unnecessary and that a bell at 10:50 would be of more value to students, enabling them to be in their rooms and quiet by bedcheck.

School Officials Will Come Here For Interviews

Mr. W. H. Dierhoi, assistant supervisor of the Richmond schools, will be on campus during the latter part of this week to interview senior elementary majors interested in teaching in that district. The time and place of these interviews will be posted outside the oficce of Mrs. Mary W. Watkins, Executive Secretary.

Sometime during the week of March 7, Mr. J. J. Brewbaker, assistant supervisors of the Norfolk City schools, will also be here to interview senior elementary majors. The exact date time of his visit will be posted at a later date.

Mr. R. N. Hurt and Mr. H. L. Cushing from the Appalachian Electeric Power Company of Roancke were on campus March 1 to interview senior home economics majors. They are interested in the possibility of training home economists to work for their company.

Mrs. Watkins requests that all students interested in camp positions for the summer please see her as soon as possible.

Slavin Discusses Roommate Problems, 'Sure-fire' Cures

By Janice Slavin

Roommates and suitemates are always a matter of great concern to a student just entering college.

There are various and sundry types of these characters. Upon entering your freshman year, you doubtlessly dashed into the room not too happy to be here and chose the best bed and closet before your roommate (unfortunate cuss) arrived. After that you and your family probably went down to see the main dragg of the town. Upon returning you walked into the room and stumbled over a suitcase right in the doorway. "It must have arrived, you mutter, I wonder where the monstrosity is." Finally, it tears into the room and you discover that you either do or don't click together. It's so sad in some cases that the Dean gives you permission to move before there is bloodshed. You may recognize some of the following types of roommates or suitemates.

First is the mad fiend type. This jerk always gets up at seven o'clock and turns on the radio full blast, calls you continually when you are trying to grab the last fifteen minutes of sleep you'll get that morning. Even if you are up when the radio goes on, who has nerves that aren't shattered that early in the morning by the thoughts of an 8:05? Best cure for this type of roommate: rat exterminator.

Then there is the eager beaver type. This unmentionable is always out wanting to do something when you want to do nothing. She doesn't care what she does but she simply must burn up that excess energy. She is the type that always yells at the end of a class period "Professor Ima Putt, you forgot to make an assignment for tomorrow." Best cure for this pest: murder the bum.

The Weeping Lena type is quite annoying too. This little character cries anywhere, anytime, anyplace, and over anything. She can't do anything; she doesn't know anything; look at her or speak to her and you must swim out of the room the tears flow so fast. Cure for this menance: rompers and a teething ring.

When we mention the borrowing type, we mean the type that borrows without asking or borrows and never returns the item unless you challenge her with a twenty-two. The gayest thing in the world is to plan to wear a certain sweater, look for it for two hours, when roommate walks in and grins, "I borrowed your sweater--hope you don't mind." The only way to keep from losing your religion is to grin and bear it. The cure for these numerous menaces: never own anything!

There are dozens of other types, too, but we must reserve some of the space in the Rotunda for news. If your roommate doesn't respond to any of the already mentioned cures, write Mr. Anthony, Betty Bly, etc.: maybe they can help you.

Miller, Page, Stickley Plan Student Program For Founder's Day

High School Band To Play Thursday

Assembly to Have Musical Program

The Farmville High School band under the direction of Mr. Elmer Gish, will present a program of band selections in assembly this Thursday. Mrs. J. N. Phillips, professor of Mathematics, will also offer several violin selections.

Mr. Gish began forming a band when he came to Farmville High School two years ago. S. T. C. witnesed the results of his labors last year when the band presented a similiar program. The enthusiam displayed by the audience after their last year's performance indicates that the band will be given a warm welcome this year.

Dr. L. S. Bucker, head of the music department of the University of Virginia, is also scheduled to be present at this week's assembly.

VEA Will Conduct Meeting Saturday

"Problems of the Virginia Education Association" and "Current Educational Trends in Virginia" will be the topics for discussion this Saturday morning when local Association members will hold their regional meeting in the small auditorium. The meeting will last from 10 a. m. until 1 p. m.

Mr. William A. Early, president of the V. E. A., and Mr. Robert F. Williams, secretary of the meeting. All local education associations in this area have been requested to send as many representatives as possible to the meeting this week.

Educator to Speak To Church Group

In answer to student requests, Rev. Joseph W. Nicholson Ph. D. will return to Farmville Sunday night, March 6, to speak to the Canterbury Club on some phase of the Prayer Book. Dr. Nicholson, professor of Pastoral Theology in Petersburg, is a noted Negro educator. He holds a B.S. from Howard University, B.D from Garrett Bible Institute and a Ph.D. from Northwestern.

All student sare invited to hear Dr. Nicholson at 8:00 P. M. in the Rectory.

The Canterbury Club, the youth organization of the Episcopal Church, will sponsor a juke box dance Saturday night, March 5, at 8 p. m. This dance will be similar to ones held previously by other college organizations.

Students from S. T. C. and Hampden - Sydney are cordially invited. Admission will be ten cents per person whether stag or with a date.

Rotunda Installs New Coke Machine

A coke machine for the benefit of the night classes has been installed under the stairs in the Business Department. S. T. C. students are requested not to use this machine since it is only stocked to supply the night classes.

The coke machine is the responsibility of the Rotunda staff.

Alumnae To Elect New Executives

Secretary Requests Changes of Address

Marjorie Miner, senior from Christianburg, has been appointed general chairman in charge of student activities for Founder's Day. Patti Page, senior from Hilton Village, is in charge of the student program to be presented before the alumnae on Saturday, March 12, at 10:30 a. m. in the large auditorium.

Laura Lee Stickley, junior from Lynchburg, has been appointed chairman in charge of the collection of gifts from the various college organizations to be presented at this time.

Miss Anna Headley will serve as faculty advisor to all student committees for Founder's Day.

The Granddaughters Club will serve as hostess for the alumnae.

The senior class, in caps and gowns, will march in for the student - alumnae program. The college choir, under the direction of Mr. Ralph W. Wakefield, will also take part in this program.

Approximately 250 Farmville alumnae are expected to attend the 1949 Founder's Day celebration it has been announced by Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, executive secretary and treasurer of the Alumnae Association.

According to Mrs. Coyner, much interest has been shown in the election of a new national president. A national president is elected every two years. Candidates are nominated by a nominating committee elected the previous year. Candidates for the office of national president are Miss Helen Costan, '27 and '39, of Lynchburg and Mrs. Carrie Rennie Eason, '11, of Richmond.

"Both have been outstanding leaders in their respective cities and have taken an active part in the work of the Alumnae Association," stated Mrs. Coyner. "Furthermore, both have served on the Alumnae executive board."

The new president will replace Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke of Richmond who is retiring after two years in office.

Miss Frances Horton, '34 of Roanoke, and Miss Conway Howard '17 and '38 of Roanoke, have been nominated for the office of the office of alumnae director. "These alumnae are outstanding teachers in the Roanoke city schools," added Mrs. Coyner.

Three of the following will be elected to serve on next year's nominating committee: Mrs. Katherine Hatch Whitfield, Mrs. Elizabeth Shipplett Jones, Miss Carrie Sutherlin, Miss Kate Trent, Mrs. Frances Walmsley Gee, and Miss Katherin Watkins.

The Jarman silver cup will be awarded to the reunion class having the largest percentage of attendance of the Founder's Day festivities. President Dabney S. Lancaster will present the cup.

Mrs. Coyner requests that all students who know of alumnae whose names or addresses have changed recently check with the alumnae office so that the files may be kept correct and up to date.

Give The UWF A Chance

Tomorrow President Lancaster and the Student Standards Committee will be petitioned by a group of alert students who wish to be allowed to form a student branch of the United World Federalists of Virginia, Inc., here.

It is to be earnestly hoped that Student Standards will grant this petition, for this is the first time in year that students themselves have given any noticeable evidence that they want to lift themselves from their narrow, self-satisfied rut and transform themselves from college citizens into world citizens. Certainly no harm could come from the formation of such an organization, since the U. W. F. is simply a movement to bring about peace through peaceable means. There is in this movement no taint of communism, socialism, or any other philosophy which might be thought dangerous to plant in the minds of potential educators. Nor is the U. W. F. an organization which excludes anyone from its ranks.

On the contrary, there is much to speak in favor of the formation of such a group at S. T .C. Here is an opportunity for students to correct the backadaisical attitude toward politics which is so typical and so deplorable in U. S. students. Though the U. F. W. may be "idealistic and impractical" as it has been called by some critics of the movement, still, what possible harm could come from student investigation of the possibilities for molding the world together into one peaceful whole? An argument, perhaps far-fetched, in favor of the granting of the petition in question is that through the work of a student branch of the U. W. F., students may develop latent forensic abilities, a field too long neglected here.

We herald this action for the U. W. F. as a kind of "awakening" among students here. It may "fizzle out" of its own accord, who knows? But let's hope that the movement won't be stifled before it's hard a chance to prove itself.

Do The Job Right

Four years ago, the alumnae, faculty, and students started a drive for the purpose of raising enough money to secure a pipe organ in memoriam to the former President Dr. J. L. Jarman. This intended organ will be very appropriate because of the fact that Dr. Jarman was an intense lover of fine music.

To date, about $14,500 has been raised, but the amount needed is $25,000. It is the duty and privilege of every organization and person at S. T. C. to get behind this drive and contribute funds to the fullest extent. As it is now, S. T. C. is one of the last state colleges to obtain an organ. Plans have been made for obtaining the best musical instrument of this kind available, as nothing but the finest would serve the purpose. Installation of the organ will make the teaching of organ lessons possible, thus adding still another important course at S. T. C.

The college is grateful and proud of Dr. Lancaster, the president, for securing enough money for the new auditorium which will be built this summer. It will take the combined efforts of everyone here to see that by the time of completion of the building, the organ will be bought and ready to install. Dedication ceremonies for the memoriam will take place as soon as the auditorium is completed.

Don't let It be said that S. T. C. slacked up in this time of urgent need. Contribute now and do the job right!

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin,
Jean Smith, Joan Prichett, Jean Otis Loving

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor
Mary Cooper Whiteside

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Anne Simpson ..... Typing Manager

* * * * * * * * * * * * *

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Janice Slavin, Mary Crowgey, Dalia Agostini
Betty Ferguson ..... Chaterbox Editor

Winifred Beard ..... Sports Editor
Lee Robertson, Anne Lynch

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 1949

DEAR STUDENTS,

The Red Cross Drive began on our campus yesterday, March 1, and our goal for S. T. C. has been set at $200. Rev. R. E. Withers is in charge of the drive for the town of Farmville, and he has asked the YWCA to be in charge of the drive at the College. We were glad to accept this responsibility for collecting for the drive, but the real responsibility rests on you because it is what you give that makes us reach our goal.

We, as the YWCA cabinet, have made many appeals to you this year, and you have always cooperated with us. Again we ask your support.

We do not feel that it is necessary to write at length about how much the Red Cross does for humanity everywhere. One recent example of the Red Cross's service was that rendered to the people of those western states that were isolated by the deep and continued snows and blizzards.

You never know where and when you might be desperately in need of aid. The Red Cross, in a time of emergency, can help you as it is helping millions of people everywhere daily. You don't hear a great deal about what the Red Cross does because they do not publicize their cases.

Each YWCA cabinet member or officer has been assigned one certain hall to cover each night. If you give one dollar or more you will receive a membership card, a lapel button, and a sticker. If you give any contribution at all, you will receive a lapel button and a sticker.

The Red Cross needs your contribution no matter how small it may be. Again we ask your help and leave with you these words spoken by Christ himself:

"Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethereh, ye have done it unto me."—Matthew 25:40.

Sincerely
THE YWCA CABINET

TO THE STUDENT BODY:

From March 1884 to March 1949 marks sixty-five years of progress to the students of State Teachers College. In fact, if we stop and notice there has been much visible improvement and reconstruction in our midst with even more to come. With the outward improvement there has always been an inward Farmville spirit and devotion which have led to progressive years in the past as well as to those in the future. These have united to give us the spirit of advancement for which we are so proud.

Already, appreciation has been shown by donation for the Jarman Organ Fund in the past and plans have been made for the new auditorium. The quota for the Fund has not yet been fulfilled. Are we, the students, behind this idea for the new organ for the auditorium? Are we fully appreciative of all we have gained from Farmville? If so, let's back this drive this year and try to reach our quota as soon as possible so that when our new auditorium is completed the organ will be in its place.

We appeal to the student body and the organizations in hopes that we can take this drive in these two weeks before Founders Day a real success in honor of our beloved Dr. Jarman. We will contact you within the near future for your donation. Let's all do our part in showing our appreciation by making this year another big step toward our goal—the Jarman Memorial Organ.

STUDENT COMMITTEE
JARMAN ORGAN FUND

Gallop Pole

Are you in favor of bringing more social sororities on campus?

Betty McRee: Yes, the more sororities there are, the more democratic they are.

Charlotte Willis: Lawd, yes. I guess we might as well cause a little more confusion.

Anne Ford: I think there are sororities enough on campus now.

Jane Taylor: If more come to campus, maybe we will be able to have houses.

Betty Jordon: I think it would be a good idea.

Annie Maitland: Yes, for non-"c" average girls. Nancy Walker agrees!

Ruth Walker: I don't really know -- haven't thought much about it.

Joyce Adams: Yes, I think it is an excelent idea. More girls would be able to enjoy the company of their classmates.

Polly Nasser: Why can't we have more in our present sororities and have houses?

Joyce Hamlet: Yes, if they are national ones.

Freida Baker: I don't think it is a good idea. There are enough as it is.

Jennie Cross: Yes, I think it would be a good idea. More girls could be in sororities.

Ann Terry: Yes, I think it is a fine idea.

Thelma Peake: Yes, the more, the more advantages.

Katie Cobb: Not knowing, I'd be afraid to say.

Anonymous: Yes, if we have more, there'll be more of them.

Margaret Hutchens: Yes, with not so much mum.

Carol Stoops: "I'll never tell!"

Sue Hundley: "Hunting for my nest."

Susie Bowie: I think so. It will make it more democratic.

Shirley Fahrback: If they do, I don't know where they'll put them!

Jo Ann Yow: I wouldn't know.

Peggy White: I think it would be a very good idea to have more widely known sororities on campus to help make our name more outstanding.

College Professor Describes Difficult Role Prof Plays

Ed. Note: We've always been of the opinion that a college professor leads a gay ole life. He does have to get up in the morning, but what a day lies in wait of him. Violent personalities, in the forms of students, surround him all day long; then when he finally has to break away, he is privilged to hear the teachers' latest escapades at the faculty meetings. If a test is coming up he writes to the author of his text books, or reaches in his desk drawer for something he has written some years before. He knows that the students will be only too glad to grade their own papers. At the end of the day he reads himself to sleep with themes written "just for him." If his eyes get tired, there are always the stairsteps.

Harold Larrabee, however, believes that a teacher's moments are but momentary. In a recent American Association of University Professors Bulletin he writes:

If he's brand new at teaching, he lacks experience. If he's been teaching all his life, he's in a rut.

If he dresses decently, he's trying to be a fashion plate. If he thinks about something besides clothes, he's a bum.

If he seldom admits a mistake, he's arrogent. If he admits a mistake he ought to go back to bricklaying.

If he plants an occasional joke in his lectures, he's a comedian. If he never condescends to an academic nifty, he's duty dull.

If he goes to chapel with regularity, he's a hypocrite. If he shies at sermons he's a heathen.

If he writes books, he's neglecting his teaching. If he never publishes, he never had a thought worth printing.

If he hands out plenty of high grades, he has no standards. If he hands out plenty of low grades, he's a butcher.

If he uses notes, he's uno iginal. If he gets along without notes, he's an ad-libber.

If he sticks to his speciality, he's got a one-track mind. If he tours the encyclopedia, he's a show-off.

If he can't identify Fritizie Zivic and Jack Kramer, he isn't human. If he listens to sports broadcasts, he's illiterate.

If he gets paid for outside work he's greedy. If he does outside work for nothing, he's a sucker.

If he stands up while teaching, he's oratorical. If he sits down while teaching, his feet hurt.

If he's young, he needs more seasoning. If he's old, he's seen better days.

If he gives a lot of quizzes, he's a slave-driver. If he seldom gives a test, he's too lazy to read papers.

If he gets his name in the newspapers, he's publicity mad. If he never appears in the public prints, he's so much deadwood.

If he takes an active part in faculty business, he's a politician. If he never serves on a committee, he's a work-dodger.

If he's on good terms with the president he's a sycophant. If he doesn't wear out the stairway from the 'Ad' building, he's disloyal.

Chatterbox

The report was that the main building was quiet as a tomb Saturday night. No wonder—all the freshmen were rocking Junior-Senior building. What parties, what parties, what parties. Well, lots of food anyhow.

It seems they threw a small party at U. Va. this week end. Mid-Winters I think they called them. Nock and Peggy went up to check on the situation as did half of STC. Suzi rode up and back with Clint but I think that is about the only time they were together—but ask Doc and Flaugher for the long and short of it (or should we say big and little of it!) That was intentional and I'm sorry.

Margaret unexpectedly greeted Turtle without the make-up and the hair in pin - curls, but he took her anyway. Well, I guess its just the natural beauty.

Much of the U. Va. party settled down over in Troy, tho'. The details on that are tres gaie, but too numerous (that's one excuse) to print.

The trio (Cab, B. S. and Louise, that is) took off for Chatham this week end just to get away from it all—or home to it all, maybe.

Lynda Black, Jan Slavin, Denise, and Smethie seemed to have enjoyed the cabin party but the question is what did they do with all those extra boys—especially the two W. and M. characters that arrived a little late?

Everyone thoroughly enjoyed goating—except the goats of course. But they did look cute and congratulations on being such wonderful sports. That ol' STC spirit is always there—and this was tangible proof.

Sophisticated Rat

No matter what the weather man says, March really came in like a lion here at STC. You wonder upon what element I base that weather report? It wouldn't be hard to guess if you remember the storm of Goat Day that struck the school in full fury yesterday. Now that it's over, the poor, tired, feeble new members will be happy to know that the future weather predictions will be fair and milder.

It looks as though a number of our classmates "went down to Virginia to see what they could see" at mid-winters this past weekend. They were Frances Turner, Joyce Luce, Indie Shakleford, Nancy Walker, Lucyle Humphries, and Jane Darden. From what I've heard they really had a big one.

Anyone wandering through the Freshman halls last Saturday night could easily have mistaken the place for a ghost dorm. Everyone was either partying in Junior Senior building or away for the week end. What ever the case, the dorm was certainly vacated.

Three cheers for our Freshmen who participated in the Swimming Meet Monday night. We all take off our hats to Jean Ridenour, Nancy Walker, Liz Leslie, and Marian Beckner. You all did a grand job toward winning the color cup.

Bye for now, and don't let anyone get your "goat." See you around.

Notice

The Sophomore and Senior sing was postponed for another week. The Sophomore sing is now scheduled to be Saturday, March 5 while the Seniors will have their sing March 12.

SPORTIN' AROUND

Basketball and volleyball games are going to start soon. A tentative schedule has been made out so those eight practices had better be in. Remember if you have either of them as a class you automatically have your eight practices in.

* * *

The high school tournament was held in our gym this past weekend. Friday night, Randolph-Henry beat Crewe and Farmville walked off with honors over Blackstone. Saturday told the tale with Farmville playing Randolph-Henry: Randolph-Henry won the championship.

* * *

A telegraphic meet has been postponed until a later date. As previously stated, it was planned to be combined with the swimming meet.

* * *

Farmville plays Panzer College this week-end. Don't forget to be there. Show the team your gratitude for the fine job they've done.

STC Is Hostess To Panzer Girls

Visiting Team From New Jersey

The varsity Basketball team of STC and the Athletic Association will be hostess to the basketball team from Panzer Physical Education College of East Orange, New Jersey on Friday and Saturday, March 4 and 5. On Saturday night, March 5 at 7:30, the undefeated STC team will meet Panzer College for their last scheduled game of the season.

This game will be the third time STC has played Panzer. They came to Virginia in '47. The STC team went to New York last year.

The game should prove to be a very interesting one. Don't forget to go to the gym Saturday night at 7:30 and help support the team.

Miss Ellis: What does HNO3 stand for? T. C. Hill: Wait a minute I've got it right on the tip of my tongue. Miss Ellis: Well you'd better get rid of it quick. That's Nitric acid.

Red and Whites Take Annual Swimming Meet Monday, Feb. 28; Puts Color Cup Score at 10-5

The Red and Whites defeated the Green and Whites in the annual swimming meet Monday afternoon, February 28, by a score of 29 to 22. This meet puts the score for the color cup at 10 to 5, Red and White leading. The total points made by each class were Freshmen, 14; Sophomores, 6; Juniors, 15; and Seniors, 16.

The first of the six events was the 25 yard crawl, won by Betty Romeo for Green and White. Patsy Ritter and Pat Paddison came in second and third respectively to win over Jane Fox and Nancy Gillie.

The 25 yard back crawl, the second event, was won by Jessie Pickett for Green and White with second place going to Jean Ridnour and third to Nancy Walker. Others competing in this event were Claudia Anderson, Pat Paddison, and Marion Beckner.

Ray Phillips, swimming for Red and White, took first place in the 25 yard breast-stroke with the place of runner-up going to Chic Ritchie.

The 100 yard free style relay was won by the Red and White team which was made up of by Patsy Ritter, Jean Ridenour, Nancy Walker and Liz Leslie. The Green and White team consisted of Chic Ritchie, Betsy Gravely, Nancy Robertson and Jean Cunningham.

The 50 yard free style was won by Red and White swimmer Jean Ridenour. Second place was taken by Jessie Pickett, and Mary Lou Woodward came in third. Other swimmers participating in this event were Jane Fox, Jean Cunningham and Mary Miller.

The 75 yard medley relay, the last event of the meet, was taken by the Red and White team consisting of Nancy Walker, Ray Phillips and Patsy Ritter. Swimming for the Green and Whites were Jessie Pickett, Jean Cunningham and Betty Romeo.

Starter and announcer for the meet was Frances Allen with Ann Lynch as clerk of the course. Finish judges were Hilda Edwards Winnie Beard, and Joanne Sterling. Other officials of the meet were Lee Robertson, official scorer; Martha Gillum, inspector of turns and lanes, Betty Tilson and Ann Langbein, taggers; Norma Roady and Cab Overby, timekeepers; and Martha Hylton, referee.

White Collar Jobs To Be Restricted

Record-breaking college enrollments since the end of the war will, in the next few years, result in increased competition for professional and administrative jobs, a Bureau of Labor Statistics report, prepared for Veterans Administration revealed.

Because of the unprecedented number of college graduates entering the labor market, the report said, employment requirements for many jobs "are likely

The report suggests that veterans enter courses of education or training "as closely related as possible to their interests and capacities."

Those who plan to go into office occuations, the report continued should "consider specific training in this field, as many employers prefer workers with well-rounded business school or college business administration training to those with college degrees in liberal arts."

A veteran seeking advisement and guidance from VA "should be made aware of the competition which he is likely to meet in will be well-advised to consider many fields", the report said. "He more of the less-crowded though perhaps less-glamorous fields, and to take courses which will enable him to qualify for more than one type of job."

Phys. Ed. Department Offers Gymnastics Class for Majors

by Lee Robertson

Physical education majors now have a new class, gymnastics. Now, I know you must be wondering what that is. I am sure if I quoted the Webster definition that both you and I would be confused. Gymnastics is supposed to help you build "bodies beautiful." However, at the beginning, the major's groans and sighs often caused the outsider to wonder if it was worth it all.

Gymnastics is the class in which the student learns to march quarter wheel, right face, and form line on the left by evading. The latter still causes many of the students trouble, for they don't seem to know their right from their left.

After the class marches around the gym, one is liable to find the majors walking on tip-toe or taking exercises. You should see them jumping with their feet apart and hands on their shoulders or hands in front, motor cordination just doesn't seem to fit in this class; but who knows what may come out in the end. When all the hard work is over they find time to play games or tag. Also they learn how to do exercises that entail the use of their feet as well as their hands.

Who would have thought that college students would still be playing stoop tag and chinese tag! But such is occurring every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at nine in the morning.

Holiday

Holidays cost American employers an estimated $1,500,000,000 a year in wages for work that is not done, according to the National Industrial Conference Board. A survey by the Board indicated that two cents of every payroll dollar went for unworked holidays.

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from MARTIN THE JEWELER

GRAYS DRUG STORE
Whitman's Candy
and
New, Fancy Stationery

"Recess In the Rec"
TUESDAY-
3::00-3:30
WSVS—650 On Your Dial

KLEANWELL CLEANERS
For Excellent Results
Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

Girls it is Smart to Sew

And Too, You Can Make Your DRESS SO REASONABLE

We are showing a beautiful assortment of SPRING PIECE GOODS

So be smart and save by making Your own Dress or Suit This Spring!

Davidson's Inc.
The House of Quality

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

SPRING GLOVES
You've been asking for them. Now the DOROTHY MAY has them—Smart Spring Gloves at $1.49
See the smart new Spring Fashions on display at
DOROTHY MAY STORE

When you think of flowers
Think of ours
COLLINS
Phone 181 Night 4

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
BURG
Florist

Popular Phonograph Records
—AT—
J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Wilson's Home and Auto Supply
Long Records
And
Long Record Players

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS
VERSER'S
We strive to please

Your Old-Time Favorite ...with a Touch of Tomorrow! Caramel Bisque
Pet's Feature Flavor of The Month

It's rich, creamy Pet Ice Cream...caramel flavored...but, with that "touch of tomorrow" — toasty, flavorsome cocoanut in just the right blend! Yes, Pet Caramel Bisque is your old-time favorite... made even more delicious!

Take home a pint or two, today, and enjoy the flavor treat of the month!

And, when you entertain ...highlight the occasion with a royal treat...Princess Pet...the richer, creamier, de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality! That's Princess Pet — the Ice Cream for those who want the finest!

PET ICE CREAM
"a health food"

Taste the Fresh Cream in Pet Ice Cream

Sixty-four Pledge Campus Sororities

Sixty-four students were pledged to the eight social sororities on campus, as a result of the rushing period last week, according to the announcement of Jane Taylor, president of the College Pan-Hellenic Council.

The nine girls who accepted bids to Alpha Sigma Alpha are Mary Bramr, Catherine Bunch, Nancy G. Hounshell, Jackie Jardine, Shirley C. Livesay, Mary R. Miller, Elizabeth R. Phillips, Norma L. Roady, and Martha Alice Wilson.

The five who pledged Alpha Sigma Tau are Sally Brickman, Margaret Lee Hutchens, Margaret Miller, Geraidine Newman and Emma Mae Pittard.

Pledging Kappa Delta were thirteen students. They are Catherine L. Alexander, Helen Connelly, Mary Crawford, Charlotte Hall Davis, Mary Frances Gilmer, Barbara Hankins, Dolores Hoback, Maria Jackson, Ruth Lacy, Lucy Jane Morton, Erma Poarch, Nancy Walthall and Billie Wood.

Phi Zeta Sigma claimed five pledges; Laura Buckanan, Patricia D. Donally, Phyllis George, Peggy Harris, and Virginia Dare Woody.

The nine who accepted bids to Pi Kappa Sigma are Barbara Brown, Mary Helen Cook, Sally Droste, Lucyle Humphries, Jerline Korback, Katharine McCready, Anne Motley, May Henry Sadler, and Frances Turner.

The six accepting bids to Sigma Sigma Sigma were Marian Beckner, Joyce Clingempeel, Conway Rice, Jean Ridenour, Mary Jane Stansbury, and Jean Carter Watkins.

The eleven pledges claimed by Theta Sigma Upsilon are Mary M. Acree, Ann Burnette, Lucy Edmunds, Margaret Farmer, June Foreman, Ada Branch Fristoe, Joy Humphreys, Ellen Moyer, Zella Scruggs, Beverley Smethie, aud Maxine M. Watts.

The six Zeta Tau Alpha pledges are Sara Creger, Shirley Fahrback, Nancy Garbee, Jeanne Gilman, Charlotte Jones, and Lucy Thornhill.

Cotillion Names Eight Top Goats

Eight girls were cited by the Cotillion Club for undergoing "goating" the club initiation held all day yesterday, with the best spirit. They were recognized last night at "Goat Court", the final phase of Cotillion initiation, held at 10 P. M. in the small auditorium.

The names of the eight "best goats" as announced by Ann Galloway, "goating" chairman, are Muriel McBride, Jackie Jardine, Jean Ridenour, Polly Caldwell, Patsy Kimbrough, Betty Foster, Ann Harding, and Joyce Clingempeel.

As part of the initiation each "goat" was required to portray some character from the student body, faculty, funny papers, or fiction. Muriel McBride impersonated Joan Of Arc; Jackie Jardine, Patsy Ritter; Jean Ridenour, Lucille Sweeny; Polly Caldwel, also Lucille Sweeny; Patsy Kimbrough, Carol Stoops; Betty Foster, Mandrake the Magician; Ann Harding, one of the "Toni Twins"; and Joyce Clingenpeel, "Mickey"

The LSSMR (Landing Ship Medium Rocket) has gunfire potential to five destroyers.

The Navy's Arctic breathing device conserves a great amount of body heat and moisture lost through normal breathing.

U. W. F. For A Better World

During the war, Navy personnel consumed one pound of meat per day, twice as much as they were accustomed to as civilians.

Yours for Glamour Legs... our CAMEO stockings

You're right on the target for leg-allure in eve-luring Cameo stockings. They're so sheer, so sleek, so smooth-fitting. We have them in all the smart new shades.

$1.50

Leggett's DEPT STORE

Designers From U. S., Paris Agree On Skirt Lengths

At long last American and Parisian fashion designers have decided on a definite skirt length for spring clothes that will soon make their appearance with the first budding leaves. The skirt length has been officially set at 13 inches from the floor for street wear. This figure is one inch shorter than last fall's accepted length.

After much debate, the designers have stated that the uneven hemlines, dipping in the back, will return this season to add a formal touch in evening and dinner dresses. The front length of the skirts will retain the 13 inches from the floor.

Designers from both countries have made big news by producing dresses with the pictures franie neckline. This new neckline consists of a low, wide line, framed by an unstanding collar.

The coats that have been unanimously acclaimed this season will be straight, 32 inch shorties This length is somewhat shorter than the popular and long-lived three-quarter length.

Every chic young lady's outfit will be topped by a small, close-fitting hat. This practicle headgear will suit the much-in-style short hair cuts.

Featured this spring will be many variations of two-toned suits. Jackets will be loose as well as fitted. The skirt will be slim lined and slight.

Cost-Of-Living

Another drop in living costs—the third is as many months—has been reported for December. The decline however, was not as much as that reported for October and November. The index reached an all-time peak of 174.5 in August and September (1935-39 equals 100.)

A new anti-submarine destroyer will be named in honor of Vice Admiral John Sidney McCain, World War II hero.

In 25 years the Naval Air Reserve has grown from one base with one seaplane to 27 air stations and 34 satellite units.

Continued from page 1

lege, Bluefield College, Bridgewater College, William and Mary College, Emory and Henry, Fairfax Hall, Farmville S. T. C., Ferrum Junior College, Hampden-Sydney, Hollins, Lynchburg College, Madison College, Marion College, Mary Baldwin, Mary Washington, Medical College of Virginia, Radford College, Randolph - Macon Woman's College, Roanoke College, Shenandoah College, Southern Seminary, Stratford College, Sullins College, Sweet Briar, University of Richmond, University of Virginia, Virginia Intermont College, Virginia Military Institute, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and Washington and Lee University.

In their first month of operation in the Berlin Air lift, the two Navy squadrons flew 5,249 hours, carrying 14,101 tons of cargo.

WFLO
THE TALK OF THE TOWN
870 on your dial

OUR HAMBURGERS
Are made of fresh ground steak. Come in and try one.
COLLEGE SHOPPE

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

SALE! SALE! SALE!
YES, IT'S
THE HUB
IN FARMVILLE'S
FINAL CLEARANCE SALE
Everything from Clothes to Supersuds on Sale at Prices you will not believe until you shop at the
THE HUB DURING THEIR FINAL CLEARANCE SALE

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

The TOP MEN of AMERICA'S SPORTS smoke CHESTERFIELD
BEN HOGAN says..."Mine's Chesterfield. I took to them right from the tee-off..."
MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE
MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELDS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE—BY LATEST NATIONAL SURVEY
Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Let's Count Our Blessings

The Rotunda

Thanks, Farmville Citizens

VOLUME XXVIII — FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 9, 1949 — NO. 19

$300,000 FIRE RAZES WHITE HOUSE

House Announces 'Lady Windermere' To Be Cancelled

Loss To Club Exceeds $9000

"Lady Windermere's Fan" by Oscar Wilde, which was to be presented by the S. T. C. Dramatic Club and the Hampden - Sydney Jongluers, will not be given March 11 and 12, Betty House, president of the Dramatic Club has announced.

Damage Totals $9,000

An estimate in excess of $9,000 was put upon the damage to the Dramatic Club by Miss Leola Wheeler, director of the Club. In addition to the equipment which was in the building in preparation for the coming play, a large amount of standard equipment and stored articles were lost.

The entire lighting system, which has been estimated as having a value of $3,500 was destroyed. The traveler curtain and the track which was contributed to the auditorium by the Dramatic Club was estimated at $500, and the cyclorama, which had been recently dyed, at a value of $455.

The properties room and the make-up room were located on the second floor of White House, and contained respective supplies for the Dramatic Club amounting to $150.

80 Costumes Lost

Last week, several costumes were taken from the workshop located beneath the dining hall to a room on White House, to be altered for the play. These together with a sewing machine belonging to the club and a great many other costumes which were being stored in the same room totaled a loss of about $4,500. It has been estimated that 80 costumes, some of which had been given to the Dramatic Club by the Federal Theatre Project, were lost nearly depleting the costuming department that at one time was rated the second largest in the state of Virginia. Included in the losses were an evening dress, tails, and evening skirt and two evening cloaks that had been loaned to the costuming department.

Continued on Page 3

Plans for Institute Remain Unchanged

Plans for the French Institute, which was scheduled to take place on this campus March 17, 18, and 19, will continue as planned, Miss Draper, associate professor of Modern Language, announced last night.

Meetings which were to be held in the large auditorium will now be held in the small auditorium and the Methodist Church.

Dr. Lancaster has stated that provisions will be made for housing out of town participants Friday and Saturday night. Although accomodations will not be available in the dormitories which are overcrowded at present, rooms will be found in town.

Committee work on the Institute has been resumed, and the entire program will be carried out according to the previous schedule.

The French Institute, which is being jointly sponsored by Le Cercle Francais and Beore Eh Thorn has as its purpose the study and demonstration of the French contribution to modern culture. It is one of a series of similar institutes sponsored by the College Committee on Education for the Promotion of International Understanding.

—Photo by Burman W. Scott, Courtesy The Richmond Times-Dispatch

The roof of White House collapsing as flames consumed the building in the fire early last Sunday morning.

Alumnae Postpone Program To June 4

The annual Founders Day celebration originally scheduled for the week end of March 11 and 12 has been postponed according to an announcement made by Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, executive secretary and treasurer of the Alumnae Association, and Miss Virginia Bedford, faculty chairman of Founder's Day.

Plans are now being made to hold the Founder's Day program, very much as previously planned, on the week end of June 3 and 4.

The Alumnae chapters are being notified of the change in plans by personal letters from Mrs. Coyner.

Mrs. Coyner also announced that she had received word from almost all of the Alumnae chapters that they are sending clothing and funds to aid the students who formerly lived on White House.

Staff Try-outs End With Current Issue

Rotunda tryouts, which have been held for the past several weeks, will end with this week's issue. Janice Slavin is serving as Editor-in-Chief of this issue; Claudia Anderson as Feature Editor; and Lee Robertson as Sports Editor. Other members of the staff retain their regular positions this week.

The results of these tryouts will be submitted to the Publications Board within the next few weeks for consideration in choosing the new Rotunda Staff. The Board is composed of the senior editors of college publications, business managers, and the faculty advisors of each publication. The chairman of the Board of Publications is traditionally an impartial representative elected from the student body.

Citizens of Farmville Rally To Aid Stricken Students

By BETTY SPINDLER

The people of Farmville, in a magnificently generous way have risen to the aid of the students of the college in the time of their pressing need. In a town meeting held Monday night at the court house representatives of the civic organizations and other prominent citizens pledged their support to the stricken college in a very tangible way.

Dr. Lancaster spoke to an assembly of nearly 300 people who jammed the courtroom ready to extend any help possible to the college students who substained losses in the fire. He first expressed his appreciation to the people of Farmville for their interest in the school and the fine spirit of co-operation which has always prevailed between the two. The Fire Department also was commended for its splendid action. Dr. Lancaster then gave, as nearly as possible, the correct account of the origin and discovery of the fire.

Mayor Fitzpatrick then called on the Rev. Mr. Benjamin F. Bruner to make his suggestions of ways to help those students who were living on the halls which were destroyed. He said that the citizens of Farmville might help by trying to serve as temporary parents to the girls, to cooperate with the college in their reconstruction program and to join together in a tangible expression of sympathy. The representatives of the civic organizations suggested that a minimum of 100 dollars per student be raised, which will amount to $5,000. The suggestion was immediately and unanimously approved by the townspeople present.

A committee consisting of Mayor W. C. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. F. R. Crawford, and Mr. M. R. Lodge, who were appointed at a preliminary meeting held Sunday night to plan for the town meeting, began to receive the pledges of the various organizations and of the individuals present. Several firms pledged the amount required to take care of a student, and

Continued on page 4

MESSAGE TO STUDENTS

To Our Students:

We are grateful to Almighty God that there was no loss of life in the auditorium fire.

I am proud of our girls, one and all. Those who lost all of their material possessions have demonstrated a wonderful spirit and a fine determination to carry on in spite of great difficulties.

I am equally proud of the spirit of helpfulness and generosity which has prompted all others to share with those who lost.

This is what makes a great institution and renews our confidence in humanity. This spirit will build a greater College—one that will serve increasingly the needs of Virginia.

DABNEY S. LANCASTER, President

Benefit Dance To Be Held Sat.

Commercial Club Sponsors Jamboree

The Commercial Club will sponsor an informal Juke-Box Jamboree Saturday night, March 12 in the "Rec."

There will be dancing from 8 to 12 P. M. The dance will be girl-break, boy-break, everybody break.

Admission to the dance is twenty-five cents. All proceeds will be used for a school supplies fund for White House students. One college activity has already generously donated five dollars to be used in operating the juke box for the entire evening.

Billie Mullins, president of the Commerical, remarked "I want to thank the many supporters of this worthy cause."

Assembly To Be Held In Methodist Church

Assembly will be held at the regular time in the auditorium of the Methodist church across the street from the Rotunda, president Dabney S. Lancaster announced yesterday.

Reverend Mr. Phillip A. Roberts will lead the devotions. Members of the Farmville town committee in charge of raising funds to aid student victims of the fire will remark on the work they are doing. Some of the students affected will make statements on the subject.

Notice

The French Circle will meet in the audio-visual room of the library at 7 P. M. tonight to practice for the assembly program to be given next week.

Firemen Save Adjoining Dorm

Girls Evacuate Without Panic

46 students and 1 college staff member are without their clothes, books and other possessions today as a result of the total loss of White House in the fire which razed the building Sunday morning.

The loss of the building itself is estimated at $300,000 which does not include the personal belongings of the students who were housed in the dormitory or the property of the Dramatic Club which was in the auditorium in preparation for the spring play.

Town Meeting Called

Dr. Lancaster in a talk to the citizens of Farmville, who met at mass meeting Monday night to discuss means of aiding the students, outlined precautions taken, the discovery of the fire, and the action of the fire department and the students after the alarm was turned in.

In his talk he revealed that at 2:30 Saturday night, girls on the third floor of the building reported the smell of rubber burning, where upon Mr. Graham checked on the report, localized the odor in the four back rooms and had the school electrician check the wiring in those rooms and in the attic. No evidence of fire or of hot wires was found, but as a precaution the lights on the 3rd floor were turned off at the switch box and the night watchman was instructed to check the hall at regular intervals during the night. All students who were remaining on the hall for the week end were sent to other dormitories due to the lights being turned off.

The time clock reveals that the night watchman checked White House at 45 minute intervals until a little after 5 a. m. and nothing amiss was noted. Shortly after 6 a. m. Mrs. Willie Redd, a negro maid, who lives a short distance from the College was coming to work. She saw smoke coming from the seams of the roof and called her husband. He notified the fire department, who sounded the alarm, and then went to summon Mr. Graham.

Allen Sounds Alarm

Frances Allen, the school fire chief, heard the town alarm and went to the main building where

Continued on page 4

Pan-Hellenic Dance Scheduled March 25

The annual Pan-Hellenic Dance will get underway this year on Saturday, March 25, in the College gym, according to an announcement by Jane Taylor, president of the local Pan-Hellenic Council.

Pat Davis, who is general chairman of the affair, has announced that Herb Stone and his orchestra from Richmond, Virginia, will play for the dance.

Subordinate committee chairmen, as named by Pat, are Betty Ferguson, in charge of music, Betty House and Helen Arrington, co-chairmen for decorations, Frankie Dodson and Jean Hobbs, co-heads of the ticket committee; Edna Earle Waters and Jacky Eagle, publicity managers, Ann Nock, in charge of invitations, Jackie Bobbitt, floor committee head, and Jean Sanford and Patsy Ruth, handling clean-up duties.

In addition to members and pledges of all sororities on campus, ten students will be invited by each sorority to attend Pan-Hellenic Dance.

Commendations On Cooperation

The firemen, national guardsmen, residents of Farmville and the surrounding counties, Red Cross and other volunteer workers, members of the College administration and faculty, and students all did a remarkable job of combatting the tragic fire that burned the auditorium to the ground last Sunday. Nor have all these good people stopped with the extinguishing of the fire. Through their great cooperative effort to put the 46 girls who lost all their possessions, back on their feet, not one of these unfortunate students was forced to drop out of College. Indeed virtually every resident of this area has given a magnificent demonstration of unselfish service and unparalleled cooperation.

The first commendations of this column go to the student body, not only for the above-noted qualities but for the display of an unbelievable calm and presence of mind in the face of danger. Few of the students involved in the fire had ever before been caught in similar situations. Yet the absence of hysteria or any sign of panic was almost unbelievable. In the orderliness of their exit from the burning building and in the way they rallied to help each other through the crisis, S. T. C. students have done credit to themselves.

The cooperation demonstrated Sunday between firefighters, faculty members, administrative officials, local residents, and students was something to be marvelled at. The complete lack of consideration for self and the spontaneous teamwork displayed in putting out the fire, in rescuing and returning belongings and furnishings in the buildings, and in administering to the needs of all involved demonstrated in each individual a hitherto undreamed of strength of character and ability to meet any emergency.

The helping hand extended by the citizens of Farmville and surrounding communities cannot be forgotten. In addition to the countless ways that they have demonstrated their loyalty and humane interest in S. T. C., they joined together to offer the necessary material aid to recover from the disaster of the fire. Citizens present at the mass meeting held in the town courthouse Monday night for the purpose of raising a sum to help the student victims declared that they had never seen before anything like the spirit displayed there. As one student aptly put it: "The townspeople have 'the Farmville spirit', too."

Recovery from the fire and the return to normal have been effected with amazing speed. Many have had to sacrifice much; but they have demonstrated themselves more than able to meet the situation calmly and effectively. This fire has shown us all what really fine stuff humans are made of ,and its ultimate result might well be, as the picture on this page suggests, a greater institution and community.

Human Vultures

The recent fire on our campus demonstrated once again the damaging nature of rumors spread without any question as to their truth. Parents and friends of student were, in some instances, made frantics by exaggerated reports of the size of the fire. A few exicted students, brought before a microphone during the blaze, made statements that temporarily brought unjust criticism of the College. Since the fire, there have been those who carelessly repeated any rumor that they heard, seemingly unconscious of the fact that they were giving momentum to the spread of falsehoods and the damage that they always create.

Fortunately, most newspaper accounts and radio bulletins refrained from including rumors in the information they presented. The Rotunda commends them for their rather high degree of accuracy and for the service which they performed in informing the public of the situation. They did much to allay unjustified fears.

There is always human misery in a disaster. None but a human vulture would knowingly increase it by spreading false rumors. Therefore, let each of us at the College condemn this act of idle gossip and him who commits it. Let us resolve once more to learn the truth before we speak. Let us determine to repeat no falsehood, remembering that any untruth hurts not only the College but everyone connected with it in any way.

The Rotunda again pledges itself, as far as it is humanly possible, to print only the truth in its news columns and editorials and to combat false rumors to the limit of its resources.

THE ROTUNDA
Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

In Charge of This Issue: Janice Slavin

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 9, 1949

PUDDIN' 'n' SAUCE

Heroes' laurels go to many of our students, faculty, staff members and the firefighters this week. We wish we could name each with personal appreciation, but space and fear of omitting someone make it difficult to attempt. We would like to say "thank you" to Mrs. Hammond, however, and to tell Charlie we were mighty glad to see him after his temporary disappearance caused us anxiety. We're also wondering who "saw" Dr. Jeff buried under the rubble when all the while he was at home and unaware of the fire. Will the person who conjured up that apparition please read the above editorial?

The alumnae have certainly shown in these last three days that one doesn't put off the S. T. C. spirit with one's cap and gown, for they have gone all out in offering help and in sending clothing. Of course, we're all sorry not to have them coming back for Founders Day this week end but we can look forward to their annual visit at Graduation, which was the customary homecoming in former years.

So far every student has borne up beautifully under the strain of misfortune, and the conduct during and immediately following the fire was all that could be desired. We have always pulled together in everyday affairs and in time of disaster we have proven to ourselves and to others that we can work together with the same level-headed cooperation that has always been our standard.

President Addresses Letter to Parents Concerning Losses

Editors Note: The following is a copy of a letter sent the first of the week by President Lancaster to the parents of all students living in White House dormitary.

You, of course, know most of the details about the fire that occurred at Farmville yesterday.

Your daughter has lost practically all of her belongings, and the citizens of Farmville and members of the college staff have already guaranteed a fund which will help replace these losses.

In order to arrive at a wise decision in each case, I am writing to call your attention to a clause that appears in all insurance contracts covering furniture and personal effects. For example, if you carry $3,000 insurance on your furniture, household goods, and clothing, ten per cent of the amount of the policy will be allowed on the belonging of a member of your family who is away from home at college. If you will let me know what this per cent would amount to in your daughter's case, our committee here at the college will be able to determine your daughter's immediate needs. I shall appreciate it if you will let me hear from you by return mail.

We are doing our best to make the girls comfortable, and there will be as little interruption as possible to our regular work.

With kindest regards, I am
Sincerely yours,
Dabney S. Lancaster, President

Open Letter

Dear Administration, Faculty, and Students:

We wish to express our deepest thanks and appreciation for all that you have done for us.

Not one of us could ever begin to tell you how much your unselfish generosity and kind help have meant to us. All of you have made it possible for us to get back to normality, and without your help, we just don't know what we would have done.

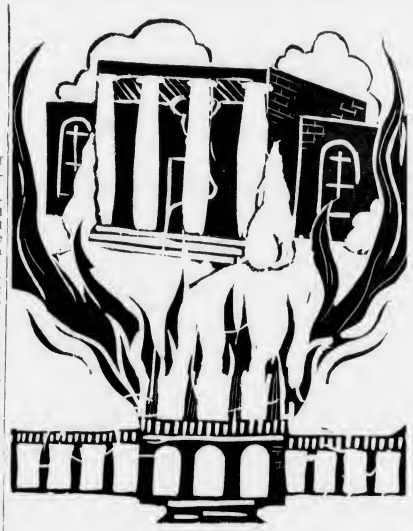
Words can never truly express all the gratitude we feel in our hearts; therefore, we hope that this letter will convey some small part of our heartfelt appreciation. We know beyond any doubt what is meant by "Farmville Spirit".

Gratefully yours,
The Girls of White House

SOPHISTICATED RAT

Editor's Note: Copy for this column was written and set-up before the "big Blaze." Since the reporter is still out of town it is being run as an example of "prefire" writing.

First thing this week, your Rat reporter wants to thank Mary Hall Cook for laughing so good naturedly at the pun that ended this column last week. Cookie seems to be the only one around here with a really good sense of humor.



It seems as though Billie Wood has a good grip on a certain young man named Bob. She asked him up one week end and then forgot to be around when he came. Can you imagine an STC freshman doing such a thing? The most amazing development in the case was that Bob, instead of being mad about her forgetting him, wrote Billie an extremely nice letter the moment he returned to his home!

Someone who has the time, should write a booklet on "How to Smoke Cigarettes." This little item would no doubt prove to be very helpful to certain adventurous freshmen. That was dangerous, Anne, to singe your eyebrow practically all the way off!

The other night at class meeting, the freshmen were told that if they begin noticing ants with the return of warm weather, they are to report it to Jean Ridenour or Margaret Thomas. Wonder if they will perform some miracle in ridding the dorm of these bothersome little creatures? Perhaps their plan of attack is to dig under the school and track down the Queen ant.

Several people requested that Nancy Walthall refrain from eating the Sophomore Commision's hot dogs until after meetings. We

Continued on Page 3

Out Of The Ashes

Gallop Pole

"What was the first thing you thought of to take out with you when you were escaping from the fire Sunday morning?"

Betty Jane Spencer: Tom's corduroy jacket.

Vonnie Burch: The only thing I wanted from my possessions was Bub's pin.

Sally Droste: My glasses and Math book, grade 7.

Rosemary Hamlett: My roommate.

Helen Connelley: My photograph album.

Mary Leigh Meredith: A pack of cigarettes and my glasses.

Claudia Anderson: I thought of little Jean.

Jean Cunningham: The necklace John gave me for Christmas and my fur coat.

Jean Wilson: My baby picture of Mac.

Iris Sutphin: Nothin'.

Katherine Terry: My stuffed animal and a dictionary.

Sara Dickerson: After trying to think of something to take I ended up taking nothing.

Evelyn Farrier: I started to take my "monkeys" but decided to leave them to watch the room.

Ann Lynch: Only my coat and scarf.

Mary Crowder: Nothing but me and my coat.

Lois Browder: Nothing but myself.

Inez Hughes: Shoes!

Virginia Slusher: My coat and me.

Virginia Spencer: My towel and a chemistry book.

Peg Peery: Patti Page's fur coat.

"Cookie" Cook: A book, a towel, and my pipe.

Sue Brewbaker: Nothing.

Bobbie Brown: A first aid book.

Jo Ann Yow: Nothing.

Students Aroused From Sleep By Early Morning Alarm

By BILLIE MARIE WOOD

Was that the fire alarm? It couldn't be, it's too late in the morning, and oh, this bed feels so good. The alarm became more insistent. Finally we dragged ourselves out of bed, put on our shoes grabbed a towel and a book and started down the steps.

A glance out of the window awoke us with a start! Smoke was pouring from White House. What we imagined to be a practice was a real fire. Some of the girls rushed back to save their beloved fur coats and then out to safety. Girls were swarming everywhere; girls with pajamas showing below their coats, curlers in their hair and no makeup. Everyone was excited, but there was no unnecessary confusion.

We made our way over to the Junior Building and standing outside, watched the flames from White House leap skyward. Suddenly the roof collapsed and everyone rushed to the front to view the damage. There we were told that those living in the Main Building could go in and save a few things we didn't know what to rescue first. Why some of us even came rushing out with a tooth bursh and tooth paste! Soon the lawn was covered with bundles of all sorts. Now all of our efforts were directed toward helping to clear the Rotunda. Chairs and sofas were brought out by the girls. "Hank" Hardin picked up the grandfather clock in the Rotunda and carried it to the door. It took about three men to move it from there.

As soon as the danger was over, everything was carried back inside, with considerably more difficulty than when it was carried out. All of us have at least a few stray gray hairs, as souvenirs of the occasion and we are all still a little on edge; and oh yes, Miss Bugg saved her smock.

Langbein Announces Poetry Contest Date

The Colonnade's annual poetry contest will open on March 11, it has been announced by Betty Spindler, poetry editor of the Colonnade.

The contest will run for three weeks, from March 10 to April 1. No poem received after 6:00 p. m. on April 1 will be eligible for competition in the contest.

The contest is open to any and all students of State Teachers College. Poems entered may be of any type or length. They will be judged by a committee of faculty members and students.

The prize-winning poems will be published in the final issue of the Colonnade which will come out sometime in May.

All entries should be placed in the Colonnade box in the hall or be given to Betty Spindler or Anne Langbein.

The second issue of the Colonnade has already gone to press and should reach the student body sometime between March 10 and 14 according to an announcement made by Anne Langbien, editor-in-chief of the Colonnade.

Aerial View Of Burning Auditorium Building

Photo by S. H. Brooks, Courtesy The Richmond Times-Dispatch

Bird's-eye view of White House taken at the height of the blaze shows the blanket of smoke which covered the business section of town during the early Sunday morning fire.

Undefeated Farmville Six Race To 38-36 Victory Over Panzer In Last Varsity Game

SPORTIN' AROUND

Well, they've done it again—the team, that is. Another victory Saturday over Panzer. This one was almost too close for comfort, but it ended with a win for us, 38-36, making Farmville undefeated for the season.

The class games have started, you know, but the big ones (meaning the classes of opposite colors) are still to come, so be there!

The Ping-Pong Tournament is scheduled for this week, too, but as yet there hasn't been too much interest shown. Won't you sign up—there's a blank sheet of paper on the bulletin board.

Swimmers, don't get out of practice just because the swimming meet is over. Remember, the telegraphic meet is still to come. Maybe we can win national fame!

Half Score Shows Foe Leading 21-19

Saturday night, March 5, the undefeated varsity basketball team marched to victory in their final game of the season. The "Blue and Whites" defeated the Panzer College team from East Orange, New Jersey, on the S. T. C. court by a score of 38-36.

At the half the score stood 21-19 in favor of Panzer. During the second half the two teams matched each other goal for goal. Both teams showed well planned defensive as well as offensive playing.

Playing for the Farmville team were Frances Allen, Winifred Beard, Rebecca Kelsey, Ann Langbien, Patsy Ritter (captain,) Betty Romeo and Mary Young.

The Panzer College team arrived in Farmville Friday night and were guests in the S. T. C. dorms both Friday and Saturday nights. Both teams were guests of the Athletic Association council at a picnic given at Longwood Saturday afternoon.

Commercial Club

The Commercial Club will hold election of new officers at the regular meeting Thursday, March 10, at 7:00 P. M. in the "Y" Lounge.

Billie Mullins, president of the organization, urged that all old and new members be present.

Landrum Gives Date Of Court Fittings

The May Court will be fitted for their costumes for the May Day pageant tomorrow at 3:00 p. m. by Miss Cora Lee Shephe d from Thalhimer's in Richmond, according to a statement by Mrs. Landrum, director of the S. T. C. May Day.

The fittings will take place in one of the rooms of Student Building. Members of the court are requested to listen for an announcement to be made in the dining hall concerning the exact room in which they are to meet.

Mrs. Landrum has stated that an important announcement in connection with May Day will be made to the student body in Assembly or in a student body meeting in the near future.

Sophisticated Rat

Continued from Page 2

still love you, Nancy.

Its a real relief to the freshmen to know that production has been postponed until April 1. More time for practice and more time for studying for midterm tests.

Time again to say so long and be good 'til next time.

'Lady Windermere'

Continued from Page 1

Compensation will be made for these as soon as possible..

Stage Sets Destroyed

The staging crews of Dramatic Club and the Jongleurs had set the stage Saturday night for the practice to be held Monday and lost approximately $350 in sets. Seven stage flats, two mantels, and two arches were included in the loss.

The estimates for theee losses were based on their original cost and would probably be a great deal larger if approximated according to present day prices.

Indefinite plans are being considered to produce the play at a later date, but no conclusion can be reached concerning this for

Class Games Begin Monday, March 7

Freshmen, Seniors Lose To Sisters

Last night the juniors defeated the freshmen in the first interclass volleyball game of the season. The final score of each game was 23-6 and 22-11.

The line-up for the juniors consisted of Hilda Edwards, Norma Roady, Jo Phipps, Ellen Moyer Sue Walker, Patsy Ritter, Katie Cobb, Mary Miller, Connie Marston, Lucy Thrift, Mary Watson, Winne Beard, and Ray Phillips, captain.

Playing for the freshmen were Marion Beckner, team captain Jean Ridenour, Eleanor Weddle, Nell Dalton, Liz Lessile, Nancy Houndshell, Sara Bowling, Shirley, Livesay, Gloria Reid and Margaret Thomas.

Yesterday afternoon the senior and sophomore classes opened the class games in basketball. The sophomore team defeated the seniors by a score of 2-18.

The line-up for the Sophomore team at the beginning of the fame was Anne Lynch, captain, Sue Brewbaker, and Anna Farmulette as forwards. Guards were Margaret Winfree, Elizabeth Winfree and Betsy Gravely. Substituting for the Sophomores were Mary Crowder, Nancy Gillie, Romine Mahood, Patti Walker and Betsy Carper as forwards and Jean Webb, Helen Edgerton, Joyce Hamlet, and Chic Ritchie as guards

Starting for the Senior team were Lee Robertson, captain, Patti Page and Jeanne Sterling as forwards and Jesse Pickett, Betty Romeo and Tootsie Hamilton as guards. Violet Ritchie, a forward, was the only Senior substitution.

Patsy Ritter and Sue Walker were the referees with Norma Roady and Mary Miller as scorers. Timekeepers wer Hilda Edwards and Katherine Buck.

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from MARTIN THE JEWELER

FOR FINE SERVICE VISIT Southside Drug Store

It's . . . Patterson's Drug Store For NORCROSS Greeting Cards

WFLO The Talk of The Town 870 On Your Dial

GRAYS DRUG STORE Whitman's Candy and New, Fancy Stationery

"Recess In the Rec" TUESDAY- 3::00-3:30 WSVS—650 On Your Dial

KLEANWELL CLEANERS For Excellent Results Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

When you think of flowers Think of ours COLLINS Phone 181 Night 4

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS BURG Florist

ROSE'S 5c—10c—25c STORE

Reach For Justrite Bread Sold By C. F. MORING 209 South Main St.

Wilson's Home and Auto Supply Long Records And Long Record Players

BOWEN Inc. Farmville Jewelers

For Spring It's THE HUB Farmville, Va.

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Popular Phonograph Records —AT— J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

Visit us for good food and good music THE SNACK BAR "The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS VERSER'S We strive to please

Made to a Queen's Taste

Princess Pet ICE CREAM

Richer, Creamier...More Delectable

At a family dinner or a party -- with Princess Pet for dessert... honest-to-goodness Southern Hospitality is always in your home! Yes, Princess Pet is the finest, richest, most delicious Ice Cream ever to grace any table...anywhere!

So, buy Princess Pet at your dealer's, today...in the colorful Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality! Princess Pet -- the de luxe Ice Cream with every flavor made to a Queen's taste!

Four popular standard flavors -- Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry, Buttered Pecan -- and the Flavor of the Month...Caramel Bisque... a new, royal flavor treat!

NOW 40¢ a PINT AT YOUR DEALER'S

TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

$300,000 Fire

Continued from page 1

she turned on the college alarm, she then checked on the girls who left in an orderly fashion according to fire drill procedure. Many of the girls did not know at the time there actually was a fire on the campus.

At the time of the fire there were only two girls and Mrs. Hammond sleeping on the second floor of White House. Mrs. Hammond sacrificed all her personal belongings in order to check all rooms on the second floor and to rouse one of the girls who was asleep there. All buildings were evacuated quickly and without incident; and there was no panic or undue excitement among the students when they learned of the fire.

Main, Annex Saved

Due to the prompt and efficient action of the Farmville fire department and the aid of fire fighters from the surrounding area, Main and Annex were saved. These buildings were closely joined with White House and are damaged by fire and water, but they were saved from the fire. Girls who have been evacuated can return to their rooms, with a few exceptions, during this week.

The people of Farmville, the College alumnae, and the students themselves are extending aid in form of clothes, books, and supplies to the students whose rooms were destroyed. This aid is being administered through a committee headed by Miss Margaret Hall, and composed of Mrs. J. H. Whitlock, Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster, Marjorie Miller, and Gwen Cress.

The forty-six girls who were living on White House are listed as Betty Bailey, Flora Ballowe, Janice Blake, Sara Bowling, Barbara Bradshaw, Claudia Bradshaw, and Vera Bryant.

Also Page Bunn, Betty Jane Campbell, Peggy Covington, Jane Darden, Christine Davis, Dorothy Dunford, Jean Eliot, and Betty Foster.

Also Nell Gilley, Norma Gladding, Edith Goff, Barbara Hawkins, Eloise Hodges, Margaret Hutchins, and Jackie Jardine.

Also Antoinette Kelley, Anne Lamb, Elizabeth Lesslie, Joyce Luce, Anne Maitland, Sue Nelson, and Elizabeth J. Orr.

Also Janet Peebles, Betsy Phillips, Gay Power, Joan Prichett, Frances Ramsey, Shirley Roberts, and Indie Shackleford.

Also Polly Anne Simpson, Mary Frances Spurlock, Charlotte Stephens, Mary Frances Stringfellow, Frances Thomas, Frances Turner, Nancy Walker, Maxine Watts, Jean Claire Wilson, and Peggy Wilson.

Citizens Aid

Continued from page 1

a group of merchants have agreed to replace the lost articles at a 30% discount, or at cost. The local Red Cross is supplying blankets to each of the 46 students.

Everything possible to aid the The money which is being raised by the town is to be administered by a committee consisting of Miss Margaret Hall, Mrs. J. H. Whitfield and Mrs. D. S. Lancaster and the two college students, Marjorie Miller and Gwen Cress. This committee will serve as purchasing agent for the students and will aid the girls in shopping as well as ordering the common articles such as school supplies, toilet articles and bedding. Many of the most necessary things have been ordered and some of the supplies have already been distributed.

The latest report the Rotunda was able to secure before going to press shows that $6,109 had been raised by press time.

students in recovering their property and replacing it when destroyed is being done by the people of Farmville, who have shown in innumerable ways that the "Farmville Spirit" is not limited to the S. T. C. campus but exists throughout the community which has taken us to their hearts.

UBEA Drive Begins

The United Business Education Association which is the business education department of the National Education Association will continue its membership drive for the next two weeks in an effort to reach the desired quota of members for the year, according to Mr. M. L. Landrum, professor of business education.

Reporter Unearths Old Female Education Query

By Mary Crowgey

We decided old hatchets had been buried long enough, so this week we thought we would unearth a few by asking the question, "Should women be educated? Abigail Adams, get back into your grave. You are disturbing our train of thought!

Now back to the original issue. "Should women be educated, or is woman's place in the home?" The first person whose arm we broke was a Chemistry prof. "Women should definitely remain uneducated," he said. "The only way they know how to use the important compound, hydrogen-peroxide, is in bleaching their hair."

We just had to have Anonymous opinion, too. (That's merely her pen name.) "When a woman gets educated," she said, "She thinks she's got to educate everybody else. To this end she'll even sacrifice marriage!"

Don't worry, Anonymous. Some of our S. T. C. co-eds are going to solve this problem for you and for others like you. Let's have more male grammar school teachers ! !

Norma Roady had definite ideas about education, too. "A woman can't expect to stay in love and try to get educated at the same time," said Roady. "I've had to give up Clark and Tyrone, and now it looks like I'll have to give up Roy and Trigger, too."

Louise Redd was the next person privileged to answer our question. "I don't know whether book learning is good for a woman or not," she said. "Since I have gotten intellectual, I find myself caring slightly less for "Mitch."

"Louise," we advised, "Don't give Robert Mitchum up now. David O. Selznick said that he had come out of his trouble a finer man."

Finally we got around to that "intellectual" group, the Bird Club. (A coke machine has been installed outside the Geography Room especially for Bird Club members.) Robbie and Carol say "they'll never tell," but Kimbrough and Galloway tell everybody. However it never goes any further, because everybody else can't tell.

In case you are wondering, every person interviewed in this poll has an I. Q. of above forty-five In fact, the very fact that any human being would write an article like this proves our point "Women should definitely be uneducated." Now let's hear no more about it.

Sorority Celebrates

Members of Phi Zeta Sigma sorority celebrated the anniversary of the founding of the sorority with a banquet in the Tea Room Saturday evening, March 5.

Miss Grace Mix, retired member of the College faculty, was guest speaker at the banquet. Other guests for the occasion were Dean Ruth Gleaves, Mrs. Pond of Roanoke, and Miss Winnie Hiner, adviser to the sorority.

Mrs. Lemen Exhibits Poetry Contest Date

A water color titled Timber Island, painted by Mrs. Janice Lemen, assistant professor of art at S. T. C. is being exhibited in the Seventh Annual Irene Leach Exhibition at the Norfolk Museum of Arts and Sciences during the month from February 15 to March 15. This exhibition is competitive for Virginia and North Carolina artists.

New England Church, an oil painting also done by Mrs. Lemen, has been accepted for display in the Twelfth Biannual Competitive Exhibition of Virginia Artists at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts in Richmond. This exhibition will open March 25 and continue through April 25.

Miss Virginia Bedford, associate professor of art at S. T. C., has entered three pieces of silver jewelry in the crafts division of the Richmond show. Of the jewelry there is one pendant set with sardonyx stones, a ring with a lapis stone, and a jade lapel pin.

OUR HAMBURGERS
Are made of fresh ground steak. Come in and try one.
COLLEGE SHOPPE

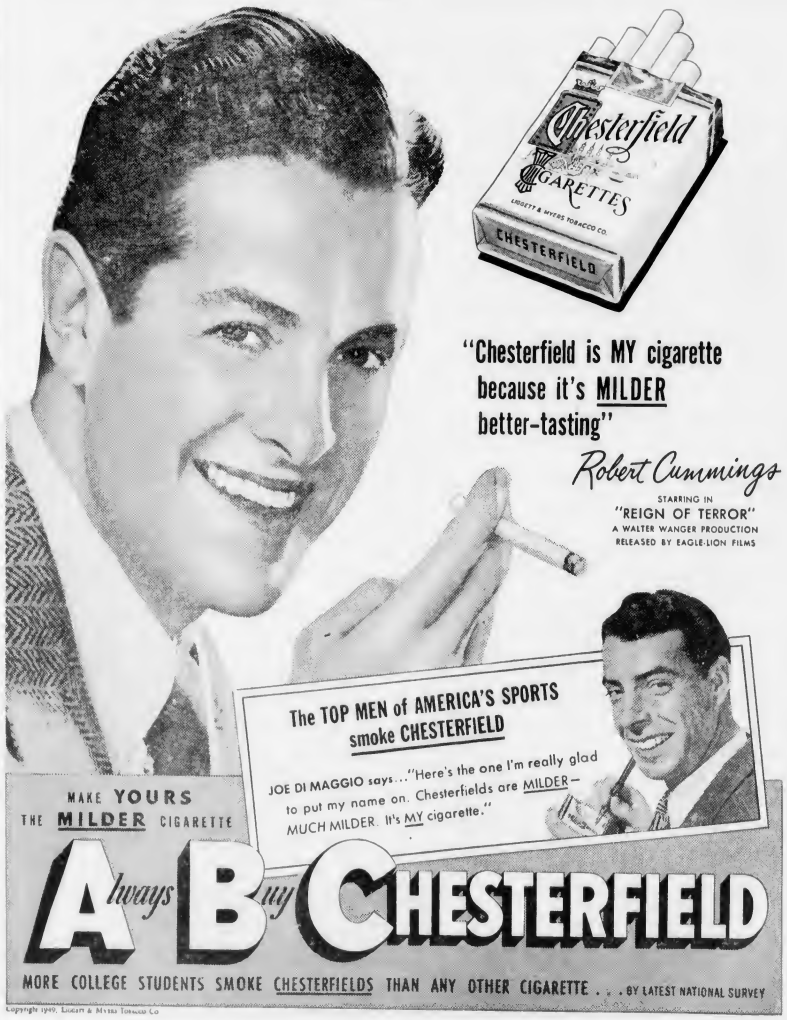
Granddaughters Initiate Members

The Granddaughters Club initiated new students into the Club last week in a candlelight service held in the Y. W. C. A. lounge. The members were honored by a party immediately following the initation service.

The Granddaughters, who are the daughters and granddaughters of College alumnae serve as hostesses for the Alumnae Association and for the annual Founder's Day celebration, and they perform various tasks in conjunction with the Alumnae Office. Another service of the Club is the maintenance of a collection of period costumes which are donated or loaned by S. T. C. alumnae and which are used in various college undertakings.

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

The Pause That Refreshes
And It's Only Five Cents



Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
LYNCHBURG COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, INC.

© 1949, The Coca-Cola Company

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Library
Farmville, Va.

Welcub'
Sweed' Spri'gtib'e

The Rotunda

Welcome
French Institute

VOLUME XXVIII FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 16, 1949 NO. 20

Va. High Schools to Present Six One-Act Plays March 19

The District One-Act Play Festival of the Virginia High School League will take place at Farmville High School, Saturday, March 19, at 7:00. This festival, under the direction of Miss Leola Wheeler, S. T. C. professor of speech, was scheduled to take place in the College Auditorium, but because of the fire was moved to the high school.

Six one-act plays of 30 minutes or less are scheduled from the six participating high schools. The first will be "Make Room For Rodney" by Marion Holbrook, presented by Amelia High School. Crewe High School follows with "Swept Clean Off Her Feet" by Ray W. Frampton.

Following in order are: Farmville High presenting "The Bishop's Candlesticks" by Norman McKinnel; Blackstone High with "Heritage of Wimpole Street" by Robert Knipe; Victoria High with "Who Gets the Car Tonight" by Chris Sargei, and last on the program is Marshall District High School's presentation of "Who's Afraid?" by Marion Crites.

Miss Amanda Gray of the Drama Department of Newport News High School, Newport News, Va., will serve as critic judge. No prize or cup will be awarded, but a complete rating of each performance will be given by Miss Gray which will include the names of outstanding participants.

The purpose of the Virginia High School League is to develop an active interest in dramatics among high school boys and girls and to develop higher standards in choice of plays and in the techniques of acting and play production.

The College Dramatic Club committee which is helping with the presentation of the annual Play Festival is headed by Betty Ferguson and includes Frances Ferguson, Carrie Anne O'Laughlin, Virginia Spencer, Jean Cunningham, and Marion Avedikian.

Comerford Announces STC Surpasses Goal In Red Cross Drive

S. T. C. surpassed its goal of $200 set for the Red Cross Drive, which began here March 1, Laura Jean Comerford, president of the Y. W. C. A., said today.

The drive was scheduled to end Saturday, March 5, but was continued to Wednesday, March 9, to secure additional funds which came in at the beginning of the week.

Y. W. C. A. cabinet members canvassed the dormitory halls last week and reported today that $246.53 had been collected from the student body and faculty.

The Rev. R. E. Withers, Episcopal circuit minister in Prince Edward County, who headed the drive for the whole county, has announced that the college was second in the county-wide drive.

Mr. R. H. French, who was in charge of the contributions from the faculty announced that the faculty's donation amounted to $157.10.

Thurs. Night Lecture Replaces Tues. Chapel

Dr. Lancaster met with the ministers of Farmville Monday night, March 14, to discuss methods of improving attendance to chapel which up until this time has been held at 11:15 Tuesday morning.

The decision which came from this meeting is that Tuesday chapel will be eliminated. Beginning Thursday, March 24, a 30-minute period after dinner will be set aside for lectures to be given by local ministers to take

Continued on page 4

9 STC Students To Attend Forum

Local Dance Group Will Participate

Nine S. T. C. dance and music students will attend the annual Arts Forum at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, March 17, 19.

Orchesis, the local modern dance club, will participate in the student Choreography program, Friday, with dancers from Appalachian State Teachers College, Converse College, Florida State University, Greensboro College, Limestone College, Madison College Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Westhampton College, the College of William and Mary, Woman's College of Duke University and the Greensboro group.

The dance numbers which Orchesis will offer at the Forum have been selected from the recent recital which the group presented here. "Mountain Ballads" has been revised to include another solo and an extension to one part, "Saturday Night." "Ole' Smokey" will be danced by Yvonne Burch of Hampton, Anna Famulette of Long Island, New York, will dance "Cabin Door"; and "Far Away" will be danced by Jesse Lee Pickett of Round Hill.

"Saturday Night" will be danced by Hilda Edwards of Newport News, Anna Famulette of Long Island, New York, Betty McRee of Richmond, and Jean Ridenour of Richmond.

Louis Horst, composer of music for the dance, and teacher of dance composition, musical director for Martha Graham, author of Pre-Classic Dance Forms, and founder and editor of the Dance Observer Magazine, will review and evaluate the student choreography program.

Students other than the dancers who are attending are Andrea Adams of Charlottesville, who will sing the vocal accompaniment for Mountain Ballads and June Banks of Sandtson, who is official accompanist for Orchesis.

Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, assistant professor of physical educa-

Continued on page 4

Committee Reports On Assistance Work

A recent report from the committee on Assistance to Students who roomed in White House dormitory which was destroyed by fire states that each of the 46 White House girls has been assigned to an adviser who in turn is personally investigating the needs of these girls.

Each girl has been given a blanket, bed linen, towels, personal toilet articles, stationery, and school supplies. School books are being replaced through the college book room.

Credit cards to be used in local stores have been given to these girls to supply their immediate needs. After further investigation, the fund raised by friends of the college will be distributed to those individuals whose needs are the greatest.

Speaking of the committee's activities, Miss Margaret Spruit Hall, chairman, states, "All of this has been made available through the generosity of the citizens of Farmville and the surrounding communities, and friends of the college."

The Committee on Assistance is composed of Miss Hall (Chairman), Mrs. J. H. Whitfield, Mrs. D. S. Lancasters, Marjorie Miller, and Gwendolyn Cress.

Gov. Tuck Gives Go Ahead on Plans For New Building

Also Announces Release of Funds For Auditorium

Governor William Tuck of Virginia has authorized the College to go ahead with plans for a building to replace the one lost in the fire, according to a statement by President Dabney S. Lancaster.

Mr. Frank Stone, president of Stone and Thompson, architects, of Roanoke, visited S. T. C. yesterday to confer with Dr. Lancaster and other members of the administration concerning a preliminary study of plans for the replacement building.

At the meeting held Friday, March 11, Governor Tuck also revealed that he would release the funds for the new auditorium building. The plans for this structure are progressing rapidly, and actual work may begin in June.

State Teachers College has access to a conditional appropriation for building construction under such circumstances as the College has experienced, if the use of that appropriation does not create a deficit in the state funds. Dr. Lancaster stated that he does not know the exact value of this appropriation, but it will be a substantial amount. Combined with the insurance, it should be sufficient to carry out plans for the new building.

Dr. Lancaster also said that authorization for the construction of a protected catwalk between the Annex and Main building has been given.

Repair work on the buildings which were partially damaged by the fire is well underway. Window panes that were broken have been replaced, walls are being plastered and all electrical wiring has been thoroughly checked.

New Salary Schedule Increases Pay-Scale Of College Teachers

Governor Tuck, Saturday, announced the signing of a uniform salary schedule which promises "modest increases" for faculty members at eight State institutions of higher learning. The new plan is to be placed in effect September 1.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of the Farmville State Teachers College, said the new plan will put salaries in colleges of this type on an equal footing with the best throughout the South and even with "most throughout the country" except for the larger institutions.

Those schools affected are the College of William and Mary, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Radford College of Virginia Polytech-Institute, Virginia State College, Farmville State Teachers College, Madison College and Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia.

The University of Virginia has a separate salary schedule and will not be affected.

Professors salaries will range from $5,200 to $6,200; associate professors from $4,200 to $5,000; assistant professors from $3,420 to $3,960; instructors from $2,880 to $3,240; assistant instructors from $2,500 to $2,650. College deans may received $50 per month extra for ten months.

The present scale in effect at Farmville and Madison provides: for professors, $4,131 to $4,608; associate professors, $3,636 to $4,131; assistant professors $2,880 to $3,484.80; instructors $2,124 to $2,728.

To place the new pay-scale into effect, however, the college must

Continued on Page 3

Dr. H. C. Lancaster Will Open French Institute On Campus In Assembly Address Tomorrow

Students To Come Here For Meet

21 Expected From Va. Schools

Twenty-one high school and college students are expected to attend the French Institute which begins on the S. T. C. campus tomorrow.

Students expected from John Marshall high school in Richmond include Nancy Adkins, Betty Caroll, Jane Porter, and Shirley Purdy.

Representatives from Thomas Jefferson high school in Richmond will be Peggy Dietrich, June Christian, Sara McElroy, Betty Stephenson, and Bryant Freeman.

Norfolk's Granby high group will include Barner, Barbara Peacock, Mary Baldwin, Jackie Whithurst, Herman Bell, Jr., Philip White, and Tom Billington.

From Jefferson senior high school in Roanoke will come Margaret Kidd and Barbara White; and Roanoke College will send Alice Byrne Laughlin, Peggy A. Kimble, and Norman Weinstein.

Other guests for the "French dinner" Friday night, in addition to the Institute speakers and S. T. C. faculty will be Dr. and Mrs. Francis Ghigo of Hampden-Sydney, Mr. Dulaney Ward of St. Christopher's school for boys in Richmond, Professor F. E. Snow, head of the Roanoke College modern language department, and Miss Barbara Quickel of Roanoke College.

Also Miss Vicenza A. Mattiace of Roanoke College, Miss Cherry Nottingham of Granby high school, Miss Sara Lee Hutchings of Granby high school, and Miss Dorothy Pen of Mary Baldwin College, and Mme. A. Brot of Westhampton College.

DR. H. C. LANCASTER

Speakers Include 'Eminent Scholars'

In commenting on the speakers for the French Institute which opens on this campus tomorrow Mr. James M. Grainger, head of the college committee on Education for International Understanding said; "This is a distinguished group of speakers, all of whom are eminent scholars and outstanding in their respective fields."

Mr. Grainger quoted Dr. H. C Lancaster, principal speaker for the Institute as saying that his "chief title to fame in Virginia" is the fact that he is the brother of S. T. C.'s president. In addition to this "distinction" Dr. Lancaster holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Virginia, a doctorate of philosophy from Johns Hopkins University, an honorary master's degree from Amherst College and honorary doctorates from the University of Paris and from the University of Algiers.

The author of twenty volumes,

Continued on page 4

Sponsors To Give Tea Thursday p. m.

French 'Dinner' To Honor Guests

The S. T. C. Institute on French Culture will officially open tomorrow with the 11:15 assembly exercises when Dr. H. Carrington Lancaster, professor of French literature at Johns Hopkins University, will address the student body and guests on "French Politics, Why and Whither."

The assembly program, in addition to Dr. Lancaster's address, will feature songs in French by the French Circle, French students' club. Radio Station WFLO will broadcast a recording of this program later in the day on the S. T. C. Hour at 4:30 P. M.

Thursday afternoon from 4:30 until 5:30 Beorc Eh Thorn, local literary society, and the French Circle, co-sponsors of the institute with the College Committee on Education for the Promotion of International Understanding headed by Mr. James M. Grainger, professor of English, will give a tea in honor of Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Lancaster. College faculty members and administration have been invited to the tea.

Mrs. Janice L. Lemen, of the college art faculty, will give a lecture, open to all students, on French painting Friday morning at 11:15 in the library browsing room where reproductions of French paintings are on display. Most of the high school and college visitors to the Institute are expected to arrive here on Friday when they will register from 2 until 6 P. M. in the Student Lounge. Friday evening will be highlighted by a "French dinner" in the college dining hall with visiting students and teachers as guests. At 8 P. M. Friday evening M. Alain Pierel, visiting

Continued on page 4

Language Dept. Utilizes Audio-Visual To Acquire Pronunciation, Comprehension

By Jacky Eagle

For nearly thirty years now S. T. C. modern language students have enjoyed exceptionally good audio-visual facilities to aid them in acquiring a thorough knowledge and use of languages both from the cultural and speaking standpoints. As far back as the early twenties Miss Estelle Smithey, the late head of the College language department, recognized the value of phonograph records in teaching the student more effective pronunciation and comprehension of languages.

Since then the language department in conjunction with the local division of the Bureau of Teaching Aids has multiplied its audio-visual facilities many times. Students have the benefits of hearing themselves speak a foreign language when they make their own recordings on the Sound Mirror tape recorder, the Wilcox-Gay Recordio, (wax recorder), or on the Sound Scriber, the department's most recent acquisition which is proving to be the most convenient type of recorder for classroom use.

In addition, Miss Helen Draper, professor of French, and Miss Emily Barksdale, associate professor of Spanish, offer a recording service to the high schools of the state. Together with the S. T. C. foreign student-assistants they make records at the request of high schools or offer the use of S. T. C. recording facilities to high school teachers and students. And the foreign students here are always glad to oblige high schools with a visit to speak to students on their native languages and cultures.

The language department also makes good use of the Bureau's sound film projectors, lantern slide projectors, and various other types of projectors to show movies, slides, and other material depicting the life and language of the country studied. Through foreign cultural embassies the language department is able to secure many useful films, slides, and literature. On display now in the laboratory room of the modern language department are several albums of French recordings given and loaned to the College by the French Cultural Embassy in New York, and the illuminated reproductions of French paintings in the library browsing room have been loaned by the embassy especially for the Institute on French Culture.

During the recent war, accelerated army language courses definitely proved that audio-visual aids greatly speed the effective learning of a language. But this didn't need to be proven here, because ever since Miss Smithey divined their value years ago, the College record library has been growing steadily. At present the French and Spanish record libraries include two sets of Linguaphone records, phonetic records, recordings made by the French and Spanish students, musical records, and many others. One set of French study records which accompanies a text book currently used features the voice of Mlle. Annette Vincent-Viry, French student-assistant here from Lyon in 1946-47. The record library also includes similar Spanish records which accompany the text book.

When French students compete for the annual prizes offered for the best pronunciation and the most improvement in pronunciation, the close race for top honors demonstrates the value of the audio-visual aids in acquiring the proper articulations. Periodic radio programs, assembly programs, and other undertakings sponsored by the modern language clubs are all currently demonstrating that audio-visual aids in language education have come into their own here and are being put to good use at S. T. C

Crime In Our Midst

This week the Rotunda received a letter from the college library calling our attention to "a type of vandalism which is taking place in our midst." The clipping of newspapers and magazines has become a serious offense which thoughtlessness has fostered, and which only consideration can stop. It cannot be that we are willfully destroying college property; it must be that we just have not stopped to think before tearing pictures from newspapers or jokes and pictures from the magazines.

Dr. Ruffin has called our attention to the fact that there is a $300.00 fine or 60 days in jail or both connected with the mutilation of college property, and this applies to the papers and periodicals in the library as well. She has no desire to act as a policeman to keep students from destroying or tearing up the materials, but it is her job to protect the property of the library whatever it may be. It is for this reason that she is appealing to us to pledge ourselves to see that this vandalism is stopped, without her having to conduct an investigation or impose restrictions on the use of materials in order to safeguard them.

In many colleges the stacks are closed to students and an application to use the books and other publications must be presented to have them brought out. We are indeed fortunate at S. T. C. to have access to the stacks and to the files of folders, pamphlets, pictures, etc. We should not abuse this privilege or thoughtlessly do anything which might necessitate the closing of the stacks or the imposition of restrictions on the use of materials.

Let us do something about this business of destroying college property in the form of pictures and clippings. What we can do is to refrain from tearing out anything from any publication, regardless of its age or whether it has been clipped before. It is time to realize that any mutilation of library newspapers, magazines and books is a serious offense. Let us do our best to stop it now.

'Pour L' Entente-Cordiale Mondiale'

S. T. C. students and faculty will be afforded a real privilege this week with the opening of the Institute on French Culture on this campus tomorrow, and we hope that all will recognize it as such.

By attending the open lecture and discussion sessions that the French Institute will offer, students, professors, and guests can obtain a cultural experience the like of which is not often to be found at S. T. C. The roster of distinguished Institute speakers, headed by Dr. H. Carrington Lancaster, an eminent scholar and authority in the field of French literature, (and who has the added distinction of being the brother of our own college president) promises to offer great insight into the contributions of the French to our culture, leading to a better understanding of the French people themselves. Each of the speakers is something of a cosmopolite, an authority in his field, and certainly in a position to know the meaning of the term, "international understanding," which is one of the prime goals of the Institute.

It's generally agreed that once the peoples of the world achieve international understanding that peace will reign. Therefore each of us owes it to himself and to his neighbor to do everything in his power to achieve this elusive understanding. The Institute on French Culture is a made-to-order means of learning to understand better one of the peoples of the world, the cultural debt we owe them, and our responsibility to stand back of them, in both a moral and material sense, in their battle for survival from present political difficulties.

The College Committee on Education for International Understanding, Beorc Eh Thorn, and the French Circle are to be commended for the service they are rendering the college by sponsoring the Institute on French Culture. They are offering us an opportunity; now let's take advantage of it.

A Step Forward

Last Thursday night marked something new and definitely good in Student Body meetings. For the first time students felt entirely free to express their opinions; a privilege which we have always had but have not hitherto exercised. The meeting brought out a lot of rather pointless argument, but the final outcome was without doubt a step forward. Student Government for a time had to go on the defensive in order to clarify its recent actions in three cases. After reading the findings of fthe court, which many students think should be the general practice, and a discussion of the rule which was violated, several suggestions came out which Student Government would do well to follow.

It became evident that the rules as stated in the handbook need to be clearer so that there can be as little doubt as possible concerning their interpretation by the students themselves. This will prove a difficult job for the editor of the handbook, but one that will save a lot of confusion and misunderstanding. They should be made more specific and care should be taken that a rule is not stated in one place and contradicted in another as has been the case in some previous instances.

Another worthwhile suggestions concerns major elections. In the past, under the existing system, the newer students have not had a chance to become acquainted with the candidates before the final voting was held. We, of the Rotunda staff, wish to present the proposal that a week, or at least three days be given between the day on which the nominations are presented and the day on which the voting is held. In this system those students who do not feel that they know the candidates well enough to cast an intelligent vote will have the opportunity to talk to the nominees and to become otherwise acquainted with them. The system presented at the meeting of having campaigns is not practical on this campus because we do not have "parties" or any basis for separate platforms.

The Student Government Association has declared itself open for suggestions on improvements which the students feel should be made, and they have expressed their appreciation for the criticisms offered Thursday night, which they think will help them.

THE ROTUNDA
Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

In Charge of This Issue: Janice Slavin

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 16, 1949

SOPHISTICATED RAT

After over a week of bustling around finding suitable wearing apparel, finding a vacant bed, and borrowing text books, the freshmen girls who lived in White House are once again back (or nearly) to normal. The last few days will long be remembered by everyone at STC as ones with untold displaced persons and 46 refugees wandering around the halls in a completely dazed condition. Even so, the tons of wate from the firemen's hose could never in a hundred years dampen the spirit of the girls here at our school.

Topmost in everyone's mind these days is the gratitude we all feel for the way in which the citizens of Farmville got together and helped us in this time of need. It will take us all a long time to begin repaying them for their unstinted generosity.

For all of you eager beavers here is a contest. Your dozing reporter will offer a valuable prize for the current STC contest. All you have to do is to state the exact number of ants that perished in the fire. The prize to anyone who finds out will be my job. You take mine and for the rest of my four years, I'll count the number of blogs of chewing gum that are deposited under the dining hall tables each day.

Letter To Editor

To the Editor of the Rotunda:

I should like to call the attention of the students at S. T. C. to a type of vandalism which is taking place in their midst. I refer to the clipping or mutilation of library newspapers, magazines and books.

In our current newpapers, photographs are torn out of the society page, cartoons from the editorial page; cartoons are also torn from current magazines, as well as coupons advertizing cosmetics or other items of interest to young ladies. Coupons advertizing free material are likewise clipped.

Whole pages have been cut out of bound magazines. The Instructor, an illustrated magazine in the field of elementary education, has been mutilated beyond repair. Fourteen bound volumes and all unbound issues of this periodical have had to be withdrawn from the library because of their mutilated condition. The magazine Grade Teacher has suffered a somewhat similar fate. Students will be greatly handicapped in their work by the lost of these valuable sets of magazines. The finanacial loss to the college is hard to estimate, but it easily runs into hundreds of dollars.

Who is to blame for this state of affairs? I should be glad to have some discussion as to where the responsibility lies. One thing I do know, and here it is. The state of Virginia does not like for its property to be mistreated. It has written into its law that anyone found guilty of wilfully mutulating library materials is subject to a fine of $300.00 or sixty days in jail, or both. Is it my business to apply this law in our college library? What do you think?

Beverley Ruffin
College Librarian

Chatterbox

Things have finally become calmer since the big blaze and although the smoldering of White House has died, there seems to be quite a bit of smoldering in the hearts of some of our girls.

Mrs. Tabb was seen in the Junior Parlor deeply engrossed in conversation with a handsomc Irishman. From the looks of things he must have kissed the Blarney Stone, i.e., his conversational ability was great.

Rumors always did get around fast but one that's traveled considerably in the last few days has been about Mary Towles' wedding. Is it true M. T. or are you trying to make us jealous? Dingle, what in the world was "Bo" Wall doing in the snack-bar Saturday night. It couldn't have been a cure for hiccups—or could it?

Betsy and Meade watched two interesting games of ping-pong both Saturday and Sunday afternoon. One of the players was a

Continued on Page 3

Vive La France!

'Man With Eyebrows' Proves To Be Renowned Geneticist

By Mary Leigh Meredith

While strolling gally through the rotunda the other day (yesterday, to be exact) your roving reporter (that's me) suddenly spotted a familiar looking face. Stopping short I ran quickly through the file cabinet which I keep in my memory—as usual this particular character was at the end of the list. (I always file alphabetically.)

Since, for the past two years, I have always thought of or referred to this man as "the character with the eyebrows from U. Va.," I was anxious to find out if he had a name so I rushed up and got introduced by our own Dr. Jeff.

"This is Dr. Orland E. White of the University of Virginia," said Dr. Jeff. And then in a very audible stage whisper he added, "The leading geneticist in Virginia and, in my opinion, one of the leading geneticists in the United States."

"I heard that!" Dr. White chimed in, "and I'll have you know that you are gazing upon a very prominent scientist. Much as it embarrasses me to admit, I've been so informed so often I can no longer deny it."

All kidding aside, Dr. White is exactly what Dr. Jeffers said, one of the leading genticists in the country. As professor of agricultural biology at the University of Virginia, he is in charge of the Blandy Experimental Farm of

Continued on Page 4

Gallop Pole

"What improvement would you like to see made in the ROTUNDA?"

Louise Turner: Why not have some college "personalities" written up? We'd like to know more about our favorite people.

Charlotte Sears Jones: I'd like to see movie reviews so I'd know what was on at the movies.

Sylvia Damesky: I'd like to see more human interest articles and also a few more jokes.

Millie Carter: Sylvia's idea is good. After all, variety is the spice of life!

Mary Moore Karr: We need more articles that would really give us a good laugh.

Jackie Watson: I like it the way it is, original, huh?

Phyllis Bagley: A few charcole paintings.

Nancy Walthall: I'd like to see a wider variety of articles in general.

Lee Cosby: It's O. K. as it is but some movie reviews written in a humorous fashion would be nice.

Peg Peery: A new photographer!

Nancy Roberson: I agree with "P" Peery. (note-Peggy Peery is the photographer.)

Anne Galloway: I'de like to see Charlatte Jone's name in there once. Also more about the Bird Club.

Marilyn Wheeler: I liked that article about choosing a roommate. I think more "helpful" articles like that would be an improvement.

Janie Richards: Personally, I think the staff has done a remarkable job. It is indeed a credit to the college.

Sarah Dickerson: I think "senior personalities" in the paper a year back was good.

Jessie Overby: Let's have some jokes!

Pat Walker: Give Peg more pictures to develop.

Helen Smith: There should be some news about other schools, especially male institutions.

"Hop" Critzer: Featurcs should be more colorful and entertaining.

"Ginny" McIvor: More Tech news!

Nancy Ware McAden: We need more hints on how to catch (and hold) a man.

Maria and "Hoey": Pritchett for editor! (We always did want posters in the paper.)

Anonymous: I'm scared to say anything. Miss Peck reads this.

Jackie Bobbit: It's O. K. as it is by me. Who am I to offer suggestions? Every member of the staff has been tops.

"Jenny" Sue Webb: Like to hear more gossip 'bout my little friends. (It makes them feel important.)

Ann Nebbett: Why not have a little Hampden-Sydney information-names, phone numbers, etc.?!

Mary Crawford: My name should be in it more often. Ha ha!

Sue Highfield: More articles like the one describing the role of a college professor.

"Lem" Urner: The gossip column should cover a wider variety of students and activities around S. T. C.

Lou Anne Mears: It has pleased me for three and one half years so I guess it will be all right for my last half year here.

Recess To Present Musical Program

A musical revue put on by S. T. C. students who have appeared on "Recess in the Rec" is being sponsored by station WSVS for Craddock Terry Corporation's annual convention being held in Farmville at the high school Friday, March 18.

S. T. C. students featured on the program will be Charlotte Jones, Molly Hudson, Jean Webb, Virginia Westbrook, Maria Jackson, Norma Roady, Frankie Dodson, Tommy Thomas, Ann Burnette Page Burnette, Betty House, Cab Overbey, Barbara Sours, and Louise Redd.

Also featured on the show will be the Royalight Gospel Singers of Farmville. Billy Shans from Hampden-Sydney will also appear on the program. The master of ceremonies for the review will be Mr. William DuVal.

Page Burnette, Eddie Parry, and Lee Vann have been in charge of writing and casting the show.

Only the management and employees of Craddock Terry are invited to attend this performance.

Chatterbox

Continued from Page 2

very good friend but who was Betsy cheering for?

The Juke-Box Dance Saturday night was "real fine" and orchids should go to the Commercial Club for sponsoring it. Beaucoup money was raised for school supplies for our nestless members. Practically everyone was there. Representatives from Virginia, Wake Forest U. of R., W. & M., VPI and of course Hampdy-Dampty added zest to the affair.

Margaret Wall thought she had everything tied up with a freshman from Wake Forest but when he found she was an illustrious senior he left for parts unknown.

ATTENTION—President Stoops has a new order of Lifebuoy to get rid of B. O. That's Bird Odor to all members of the S. P. B. B. And on this salient note your chatterbox editor leaves you birds until next week with a caution to follow President Stoops' advice.

Plans For Production Of 'Lady Windermere' Definitely Canceled

Tentative plans for the presentation of "Lady Windermere's Fan" later in the year have been definitely cancelled, Betty House, president of the Dramatic Club announced today.

Betty explained that the loss of the entire set of costumes prepared for the play, together with the loss of the properties and make-up by the Dramatics Club makes it impractical to plan a presentation of the play in the near future.

The actors of the Dramatic Club had been working approximately five weeks on the play previous to the fire, and had considered giving a performance at a later date in the Farmville High School auditorium. These plans have been finally rejected, however, and a performance will not be given.

Plans to install the Dramatic Club apprentices as permanent Club members are already underway. Departmental final exams will be given March 23, and the new members will be initiated some time in April.

SPORTIN' AROUND

Calling all Green and Whites! Calling all Green and Whites! Buy your Green Shamrocks on Saint Patrick's Day. This year the Monogram Club is setting aside a day for the Red and Whites and one for the Green and Whites. Valentines Day, February the 14th was the Big Day for the Red and Whites and now our time has come at last!

Let's really go out for this one hundred percent, 'eause we have really got the spirit. So don't forget to buy your Shamrock and wear your Colors on March the 17th. They will be sold at the table in the hall all day Thursday.

Class games are being held in the gym every afternoon and evening so please come down and cheer for your team. Not only that, but you are really missing the top games of the year—games which are helping decide the fate of the color cup!

What's the matter with the ping pong fans? Why don't they sign up for the tournament? Come on, Boys and Girls, let's have some players for the tournament.

Once more, All Green and Whites—DON'T FORGET TO BUY YOUR SHAMROCKS ON THURSDAY.

New Library Exhibits Center Around French Life, Culture

In observance of the French Institute, which is to be held here Friday and Saturday of this week, a complete group of library exhibits has been centered around French culture.

Biology students under the direction of Dr. Jeffers have prepared and set up a science display which is also correlated with a mathematics display in the Periodical Room. This display features particularly the work of Louis Pasteur. Several books discussing the work of Pasteur are on the table, and a portrait of this French scientist is on a stand next to the display table.

Across from the science and mathematics display in this same room, an exhibit has been prepared featuring French history, government, and geography. A chart on the bulletin board above the table depicts the departments and functioning of the French Republic. This chart also shows the population of the mother country and the provinces. A history of Jeanne D'Arc is included in the exhibit, along with histories of the provinces, maps of France and her foreign possessions. French sociologies, and a large volume of "Nouvelle Histoire de France" by Albert Malet.

At the back of the Periodical Room two displays have been arranged in glass cases showing French art and costumes. The former features several reproductions. The latter display shows the various costumes of the old French provinces.

An exhibit of French literature has been arranged in the Newspaper Room. This ineludes children's literature, a book of fables, several books dealing with higher

The browsing room is featuring the different schools of French Art. Several prints are displayed around the walls, and a special exhibit electrically equipped boxes, which also show the schools of art, will be lit Thursday. This display will be kept on throughout the institute. Mrs. Janice Lemon, assistant professor of art, will lecture on French Art some time during the institute.

An audio-visual exhibit, demonstrating the techniques used in aiding the student of the French language, has been prepared in the laboratory room of the modern language department, which is also the map and geography room. This display includes recorders, sound scribers, records and maps, educational subjects, and several volumes depicting the various stages of French literature.

A table has been set aside in the Newspaper Room for samples of French magazines and newspapers. Also in this room, two unique displays have been put under glass on the writing tables. One of these, entitled Scenes from Paris and other Cities, contains postcards showing famous buildings of Paris and views of the more prominent chateaux. In old France, each province had a distinctive costume. There are represented by sketches in the second display entitled, Costumes of Old France.

Class Games Still Highlight Sports

This week finds the classes still battling on the basketball court. On the ninth, the juniors beat the freshmen 27-24. Those playing for the freshmen were Weddle, Poarch, N. Walker, Livesay, Thomas Harris as forwards; and Ridenour, Becknor, Mann, Leslie and Buppett, guards. For the juniors Moyer, Woodward, Edwards, S. Walker and Roady held down the positions as forwards while Miller, Watson, Philips, Buck and Barker were the mainstays as guards.

On the tenth, the juniors played the sophomores which ended with a score of 30-24 in favor of the sophs. Those playing for the juniors were Phipps, Edwards, Woodward and Roady as forwards, and Buck, Miller, Barker and Phillips as guards. For the sophomores Brewbaker, Famulette, Carper, Crowder and Lyneh played forward and E. M. Winfree, Famulette and Webb played the guard positions.

On the 14th, the freshmen carried Red 'n' White through with a win over the seniors of 28-17. Those playing for the freshman at forward position were Beckner, Wilson, Buppett, Leslie and Ridenour.

For the seniors Page, Sterling and Robertson occupied the forward position while Pickett, Romeo and Rawles held down their positions as guards. The game was a close one with a score of 8-7 in favor of freshmen at the first half, but they pulled out with a lead of 11 points at the end.

On the 15th, the juniors defeated the seniors by a score of 32-13. Those playing for the juniors at forward position were Roady, Moyer, Woodward and Edwards. At guard were Barker, Miller, Buck and Watson.

The seniors had as their forwards, Robertson, Sterling and Page. Their guards were Romeo, Pickett, Hamilton and Rawles.

Salary Schedule

Continued from page 1

have sufficient funds on hand to keep from creating a defieit in the budget. Otherwise, the college must wait until 1950 when the General Assembly adopts its budget for the biennium beginning July 1, 1950.

ROBERT O. EARL

Red Cross Provides Water Safety Course

A safety instructor course, to be conducted by Robert O. Earl, field representative for first aid and water safety, will be sponsored by the Prince Edward County Chapter, American Red Cross, at Farmville State Teachers College the week of March 21.

Successful completion of the course, in addition to providing more skilled water safety instructors, enables many of the students to secure summer positions as instructors, and life guards.

Earl has previously served as a member of the faculty of the Camp Letts, Md., National Aquatic School; the Culver, Ind., Military Academy Aquatic School, director of the Neg o Aquatic School held at the West Virginia State College at Institute, West Virginia in 1943; and Director of the Aquatic School at Camp Minnehaha, at Minnehaha, Springs, West Virginia.

He went overseas in 1943 as a Red Cross Field Director and served in the Marianas and Hawaiian Islands.

A native of Ohio, Earl was educated in the Sebring and East Liverpool public schools. Prior to joining the national saff, he was in the grocery business in East Liverpool for eight years. He was city handball champion in East Liverpool for two years and in 1941 was a member of the tri-state championship YMCA volleyball team. He served as a member of the board and secretary of the East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Comerce and as a member of the board of directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. He also is a merit badge counselor for the Boy Scouts.

Assistance Fund Exceeds $8,400

Mr. Maurice R. Large, treasurer of the Farmville citizen's committee in charge of the fund raised to assist students who suffered losses in the auditorium fire, today announced the fund total to date as $8,489.50.

Contributors to this fund include town citizens, S. T. C. Alumnae, and friends of the College. The fund is being administered by the Committee on Assistance. See story on page one.

When you think of flowers
Think of ours
COLLINS
Phone 181 Night 4

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from
MARTIN THE JEWELER

KLEANWELL CLEANERS
For Excellent Results
Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

WFLO
The Talk of The Town
870 On Your Dial

GRAYS DRUG STORE
Whitman's Candy
and
New, Fancy Stationery

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS
BURG
Florist

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Popular Phonograph Records
—AT—
J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

WSVS
"Recess In the Rec"
TUESDAY
3::00-3:30
WSVS—650 On Your Dial

Purchase two Classical or Semi-classical Albums and get one-half cash price off on one album
Wilson's Home and Auto Supply

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS
VERSER'S
We strive to please

Your Old-Time Favorite ...with a Touch of Tomorrow! Caramel Bisque
Pet's Feature Flavor of The Month
It's rich, creamy Pet Ice Cream...caramel flavored...but, with that "touch of tomorrow"... toasty, flavorsome cocoanut in just the right blend! Yes, Pet Caramel Bisque is your old-time favorite... made even more delicious!
Take home a pint or two, today, and enjoy the flavor treat of the month!
And, when you entertain ...highlight the occasion with a royal treat...Princess Pet...the richer, creamier, de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest-of Quality! That's Princess Pet -- the Ice Cream for those who want the finest!
PET ICE CREAM
"a health food"
Taste the Fresh Cream in Pet Ice Cream

5 UTS Students Will Speak Here

A team of five boys from the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond will be in Farmville this week-end. These boys will teach the college Sunday school class at the Presbyterian Church at 9:45 A. M. They will assist with the 11:00 morning service.

On Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be a discussion group in the Y lounge at S. T. C. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church with the Westminster Fellowship following at 7 o'clock.

The five boys from Richmond will conduct the entire church service at the Presbyterian Church at 8 P. M.

The Seminary boys have varied backgrounds. Bill Ramsey from Lynaville, Tenn., is a senior in Seminary and a graduate from Southwestern College. Another senior is Dick Powell from Beebe, Ark., who has a bachelor's degree from the University of Arkansas, and a master's in business from Howard.

Ernest Flaniken, who is from Tenn., graduated from Southwestern. Jack Fisler, a second-year student who is from Ivanhoe, N. C., received a degree in agriculture from N. C. State. John Barksdale is also a second-year student and graduated from the University of Virginia. All five boys were in the service during the war.

Thursday Lecture

Continued from Page One

the place of prayers each Thursday night. These lectures will be held in the small auditorium.

The lectures will be given in a series of five talks. The Rev. B. J. Bruner of the Baptist Church will conduct the first of this series of related talks and the Rev. J. W. Myers of the Methodist Church will give the last group of talks.

Thursday night was selected for these talks because of the relatively few meetings scheduled for that night.

As soon as warm weather permits, prayers will be held in the Episcopal Church, and Thursday night chapel will also be held there.

French Institute

Continued from Page 1

professor at the Virginia Geographical Institute of the University of Virginia will speak in the small auditorium on "Problems in French Education." All S. T. C. students are invited to hear M Plenel.

The last feature of the French Institute will be a round-table discussion Saturday morning on "The Modern Language Contribution to International Understanding" to be led by Dr. Edgar J. Fisher, visiting professor in the division of social studies at Sweet Briar College. This discussion which will be held from 9:30 until 11 A. M. in the small auditorium will also be open to the student body. During the same period Saturday morning Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel of the college department of history and social science will give a report on the Thomas Resolution in the U. S. Senate favoring foreign language teaching in the United States. Members of the French Circle will sing French songs at each of these major meetings.

After the official close of the Institute Saturday morning the Virginia chapters of the American Association of Spanish Teachers will hold business sessions after which they will be entertained at a joint luncheon at Longwood. Dr. H. C. Lancaster will speak to the group on "Voltaire, the Tragic Dramatist"; and there will be an address in Spanish.

The Institute on French Culture, jointly sponsored by the French Circle, Beorc Eh Thorn (honorary literary society), and the Committee on Education for International Understanding has as its purpose the promotion of a better understanding and appreciation of French life, literature, and language, and of France's contribution to modern civilization. The Institute this year is one of a series of annual institutes on different countries held here for several years in the interest of international understanding. Recent institutes initiated by the College Committee on Education for International Understanding have been on Latin America and on Russia.

Members of Beorc Eh Thorn and the French Circle who are in charge of the various Institute sub-committees are Yvette Ancey and Eula Ayres, menus and posters; Helen Hardin, tea; Betty Lewis Shank, decorations; Maria Jackson, music; Nellie Hart, John Cook, Dailla Acostini, and Edna Earle Waters, reception; Jackie Wright, typist, and Jacky Eagle, publicity.

Speakers Include

Continued from page 1

Dr. Lancaster rates as his chief work a nine-volume History of French Dramatic Literature in the Seventeenth Century. He is also editor - in - chief of Modern Language Notes Magazine.

In 1939 Dr. Lancaster was president of the Modern Language Association of America; in 1947 he headed the British Humanities Research Association of University Professors. Dr. Lancaster is also a member of the American Philosophical Society, of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences of Phi Beta Kappa, and of Delta Tau Delta.

Dr. Edgar J. Fisher who will lead the Saturday morning round-table was a recent visitor to the S. T. C. campus this fall when he spoke in assembly on behalf of the World Student Service Fund drive. Dr. Fisher, who is the former secretary of the Institute for International Education, holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Rochester, and a Ph. D. in history and political science from Columbia University. He was formerly a member of the faculty and thirteen years dean of Roberts College in Istanbul.

Dr. Fisher has served as chairman of the Department of State Advisory Committee on the Adjustments of Foreign Students, as a member of the Carnegie Endowment Commission to Study the Organization of Peace, and he is a member of numerous professional societies.

M. Alain Plenel who will speak Friday night is a native Frenchman, and he has been in the United States only a comparatively short time. According to the French cultural ambassador, M. Plenel holds the degree of "Agrege de l'Universite."

'Man With Eyebrows'

Continued from Page 2

the University.

This 700-acre farm, given to U. Va. 25 years ago as a white elephant, is situated in the Valley of Virginia, about 12 miles from Winchester. In the past 20 years this farm has acquired or developed around 6,000 different kinds of plants.

Dr. White has traveled over most of the world and immediately after a trip to Bolivia he was accused in a New York paper of being regarded as a god by the natives of Bolivia. Dr. White says the story was made up out of whole cloth but it at least makes an interesting topic of conversation. Needless to say, Dr. White has a fine sense of humor.

During his visit here, Dr. White spoke to Dr. Brumfield's botany class on mutation. Incidentally, Dr. Brumfield is one of his former pupils with whom he has kept close contact.

With Dr. White was his charming wife who was so busy admiring our newly decorated rotunda that I got no chance to talk to her. I was dying to ask her opinion of her husband as a famous scientist, but unfortunately the occasion never arose.

To Attend Forum

Continued from page 1

tion, who has studied with Louis Horst for three years, will accompany the group.

The Arts Forum tends to interrelate the arts with particular emphasis on painting, music, dance and writing. Henry Cowell, composer of music, author of two books on contemporary music, and director of music at the New School for Social Research, will lead the music section.

James Johnson Sweney, art critic and teacher, formerly director of the department of painting and sculpture of the Museum of Modern Arts, and author, will lead the painting groups.

The writing forum will be lead by four outstanding representatives from the literary field. They are Walter Pritchard Eaton, drama critic and teacher, author and holder of the chair of playwriting of Yale University; Jean Stafford, novelist and short story writer; Peter Taylor, story writer and teacher of writing at Indiana University; and Richard Wilbur, poet and critic, who teaches at Harvard.

The entire S. T. C. group plans to attend the writing forum by Stafford Taylor and Wilbur, the four original one-act plays to be given by Wellsley College, University of North Carolina Woman's College, and Randolph - Macon Woman's College students, the recital of student compositions in music from Salem College, Louisiana State University, Converse College, and Greensboro Woman's College, beside the all-day Friday session devoted to dance, under Louis Horst.

Correction

The Pan-Hellenic Dance will be held on Saturday, March 26, not March 25, as the Rotunda erroneously reported last week.

OUR HAMBURGERS

Are made of fresh ground steak. Come in and try one.

COLLEGE SHOPPE

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Two Things That Go Together–Coke and 5¢

Coca-Cola "Coke"

Ask for it either way ...both trade-marks mean the same thing.

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
LYNCHBURG COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, INC

© 1949, The Coca-Cola Company

"Mildness counts with me, and Chesterfields are MILDER–MUCH MILDER."

Jane Wyman

STARRING IN "KISS IN THE DARK"
A WARNER BROS. PRODUCTION

The TOP MEN of AMERICA'S SPORTS smoke CHESTERFIELD

LOU BOUDREAU says..."Chesterfield is my idea of a MILDER smoke. I never found any other cigarette that could take Chesterfield's place. It's MY cigarette."

MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELDS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE . . . BY LATEST NATIONAL SURVEY

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Vote Intelligently

The Rotunda

Congratulations, Publications Heads

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25, 1949 | NO. 21

Officer Elections Will Be Conducted Friday, March 25

Minor Elections Set For Next Week

Ruth Tillett, senior from Hamilton, as head of the nomination committee, has announced that the election of major officers will be held Friday, March 25. The table in the hall will be open for voting all day.

Officers to be elected at this time are president of Student Government, president of Y. W. C. A. president of the Athletic Association, and president of the House Council.

The names of the two candidates for each office receiving the largest number of nominee votes will be printed on the ballots Ruth stated that students may write in the names of other candidates on the official ballots. Nominations were held at the table in the hall today.

The two official candidates for each office will be introduced to the student body at assembly tomorrow.

Ruth also announced that the election of minor officers in the same organizations will be held next week.

Essay Contest Dates, Subjects Announced; $1,00 Prize Offered

Announcement of an essay contest sponsored by the English-Speaking Union, offering a $1,000 trip to England as first prize, has been received by the College English department.

In addition to the $1,000 dollar first prize offered by the national organization, the Virginia Branch of ESC will award local cash prizes of $50 and $25, respectively, to the authors of the two best Virginia essays. The winner of the trip to England this summer will be provided with full hospitality at Dartmouth House, the London headquarters of the British English-Speaking Union.

Contestants have a choice of two subjects for the essay:

Continued on Page 8

Commercial Club Gives Fire Dept. $50

The Commercial Club presented $50 to the Farmville Volunteer Fire Dept. last week. This check was the first donation made to the State Firemen's Convention Fund.

The proceeds, $128, from the recent Juke Box Jamboree presented by the club has been given to the girls who lived on White House to purchase school supplies. Billie Mullins, president of the organization, commented, "The club wishes to express its appreciation to those who supported this worthy cause."

Billie Mullins, president of the Commercial Club presents $50 to the Farmville Volunteer Fire Department.

DR. KIRBY PAGE

Dr. Page To Give Talk March 24

Students, Citizens Meet Thurs. Night

Dr. Kirby Page, author and lecturer of international repute, will address a community-wide meeting of students and townspeople in the Methodist church Thursday night, March 24, at 7:45 p. m. His address here is part of a series of services to be observed by the Methodist congregation as a week of dedication.

Dr. Page, an ordained minister of the Christian Church, is an outstanding authority in the field of international affairs and has given his attention for many years to the problems of Russian-American relations.

His subject Thursday will be "What Does God Want Us To Do About Russia?" His appearance here is under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee (Quakers), and an offering will be taken for the work of the committee.

The complete schedule of services, all to be held in the Methodist Church, at 7:45 p. m. will have the following speakers:

Tuesday, March 22, the Rev. Horace E. Cromer, D. D., a former pastor, now serving McKendree Church in Washington, D. C.; Wednesday, the Rev. John B. Winn, D. D., also a former pastor; Thursday, Dr. Page, and Friday the Rev. Edgar A. Potts, D. D., another former pastor, now serving the Centenary Church of Lynchburg.

For the Friday service, the Youth Choir of Centenary Church, which will accompany their pastor here, will sing during the service.

Special student functions will be held as part of the week of religious emphasis. Dr. Page will speak at State Teachers College chapel Thursday morning at 11:15 and at a banquet for college students that night.

Friday night Rev. Potts will be the guest speaker at a banquet for the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Continued on Page 3

Professor Sarkar To Speak Tuesday

UWF To Sponsor Federalist's Talk

Professor Benoy Sarkar, head of department of economics and commerce at Calcutta University, India, will speak to the STC student body next Tuesday night at 8 p. m. in the small auditorium. Professor Sarkar's lecture, a unit of the College lyceum program, is under the auspices of the recently formed STC chapter of the United World Federalists.

According to President Dabney S. Lancaster, the topic of Professor Sarkar's lecture will be either "India and America" or "Mahatma Ghandi, the Patriot of a Poor People."

The Institute of International Education which is sponsoring Professor Sarkar's lecture tour in the United States rates him as "the leading educator in India" and "very attractive."

Professor Sarkar has traveled extensively in Asia, Europe and the United States, and has written books in the fields of history, sociology, and economics. These books are written in the Italian, French, German, English and Bengali languages.

Herb Stone's Band Will Set Pan-Hellenic Dance Tempo Sat.

Herb Stone's orchestra from Richmond will set the tempo for the Pan-Hellenic Dance which will get underway this Saturday night at 8:30 in the College gym. Dancing will be until 12 p. m. with intermission at 10:30.

Pat Davis, general chairman of the dance has announced that decorations will be carried out in the "Greek" theme. Sororities will give joint intermission parties in the Student Lounge and in the "Y" Lounge. Guests will also be received in the individual chapter rooms.

No-break dances have been reserved for sororities. The songs requested are "Deep Purple" for Sigma Sigma Sigma; "My Wonderful One" for Kappa Delta; "From This Day Forward" for Alpha Sigma Alpha; "In the Blue of Evening" for Zeta Tau Alpha; "Here I'll Stay" for Pi Kappa Sigma; "Sweetheart Song" for Alpha Sigma Tau; "All the Things You Are" for Theta Sigma Upsilon; and "Embraceable You" for Phi Zeta Sigma.

Heading the receiving line will be Jane Taylor, president of the Pan-Hellenic Council. Next in order will be President and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. William W. Savage, Dean Ruth Gleaves, Betty Ferguson, vice-president of the Council; Pat Davis, secretary; Jackie Bobbitt, treasurer; and committe chairmen, Jean Sanford, Edna Earle Waters, Ann Nock, and Frankie Dodson.

Advisers of the various sororities have been invited to chaperon the dance. They are Miss Olive Iler, Miss Lucile Jennings, Miss Florence Stubbs, Miss Virginia Wall, Miss Kate Trent, Miss Leola Wheeler, Miss Virginia Bedford, and Miss Winnie Hiner. Other members of the faculty and administration who have been invited to chaperon are Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Brumfield, Mr. R. H. French, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Landrum, Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Pickett, and Mr. Christy Snead.

Trombonist, composer, and arranger, Herb Stone, and his orchestra fill frequent engagements at Cotillion and Country Clubs throughout Virginia. Herb, who also specializes in an original style of "scat singing" writes most of his own musical arrangements, "styled to please all types of dancers and all large groups."

Eagle, Langbein, Webb Named To Three Editors' Positions On S T C Student Publications

JACKY EAGLE

ANNE LANGBEIN

JOYCE WEBB

Slavin, Nassar, Kaknis To Assume Duties Of Staff Business Managers

3 Students Made Managing Editors

Jacqueline Eagle, Ann Langbein, and Joyce Webb have been appointed editors - in - chief of the Rotunda, The Colonnade, and The Virginian respectively, by the Publications Board according to an announcement made by Ruth Tillet, chairman.

Janice Slavin, Polly Nasser, and Helen Kaknis have been chosen to serve the publications as business managers. Also chosen by the board as managing editors are Mary Leigh Meredith, Edith Duma, and Helen Agnew.

Jacqueline Eagle, who succeeds Betty Spindler as editor-in-chief of the Rotunda, is a junior from Winchester. She served as managing editor this year, and her sophomore year as feature editor. She has been a member of the Rotunda and the Colonnade staffs since her freshman year.

Anne Langbein will serve again as editor-in-chief of the Colonnade. She was promoted to that post last fall from managing editor of the Colonnade. Anne is a junior from Arlington.

Joyce Webb will succeed Anne East as editor-in-chief of the Virginian; she is a junior from Norfolk. Joyce is managing editor for the 1949 year-book and has been on the staff of the publication since her freshman year.

Janice Slavin, a junior from Suffolk, who succeeds Ann Orgain as business manager and on the feature staff. Polly Nasser, who replaces Betty Jefferson as business manager of the Colonnade, has been an active member of the staff for two years. She is a junior from Richmond. Helen Kaknis, junior from Winchester, will assume the duties of business manager of the Virginian held now by Edna Earle Waters. Helen served this year on the staff as assistant business manager.

Mary Leigh Meredith, sophomore from Front Royal, was promoted from news editor of the Rotunda to the managing editorship previously held by Jacky Eagle, Edith Duma, sophomore from Portsmouth, was selected from the Colonnade staff to serve as managing editor to succeed Barbara Andrews. Helen Agnew, a sophomore from Burkeville, succeeds Joyce Webb as managing editor of the Virginian.

The appointments were made by the publications board which is

Continued on Page 3

Harvard Glee Club To Sing At STC

The Harvard University Glee Club will give a concert here Wednesday evening, April 6, in the Methodist Church, Miss Jessie A. Patterson, associate professor of music, announced recently.

The College Choir, under the direction of Mr. Ralph W. Wakefield, will join the Harvard group in several numbers of the program which is being presented by the College as a regular lyceum.

The Harvard Glee Club, composed of 50 voices, is conducted by Professor G. W. Woodworth. Currently the group is touring various Virginia colleges.

Miss Patterson describes the Harvard University Glee Club as "one of the finest men's choral groups in the country."

Dr. George Jeffers To Teach At Miami

Dr. George W. Jeffers, professor of biology, will teach in th summer school of Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. The Miami summer session will last from June 11 to August 28.

Frosh Production Set For April 22

The Freshman production will be presented in the STC Rec on April 22 at 7 o'clock, according to a recent announcement made by Fran Franklin, freshman production head.

Because of the traditional practice of keeping the theme of the class productions secret, the name and theme that the freshmen have chosen for their production will not be revealed until later.

The freshman production was first scheduled for March 26 but was postponed until April 1 because that date conflicted with mid-semester tests. Another postponement was made because of the fire. The present date of April 22 now stands as definite.

Notice

IMPORTANT: All organizations that want to sign up for the cabin at Longwood, meet with Miss Iler at 1:20 Thursday in the rotunda.

Orchesis Receives Favorable Comment at Carolina Forum

By JEAN SMITH

When Orchesis, the local dance group, participated in the Student Choreography Program of the Arts Forum held last week at Greensboro, North Carolina, the group as a whole was given favorable comment by Louis Horst, eminent critic and teacher of dance composition from New York, L. B. Hurley of Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, and Eleanor Striuppa of Randolph Macon College, Lynchburg.

Anna Pamulatte of Long Island, New York, was given recognition for her solo, "Cabin Door." "This recognition of one member of Orchesis will act as an incentive to gain recognition for the whole group," Mrs. Landrum, director of the dance group, said today. In the past and at present, Orchesis has necessarily been held down to small group or solo performances because of the limited amount of space provided in the old auditorium. However, in the future, Orchesis plans to work with larger groups since the new auditorium will provide sufficient stage space, Mrs. Landrum added.

An outstanding feature that Forum observers noted in the Farmville group was their naturalness and seeming enjoyment in the dance. It was also observed that while several other groups tended to be dominated by particular styles and schools of the dance, each member of the group from here seemed to express herself through her own style of movement.

The group attended the four one-act plays presented by Wellsley College, Woman's College of the University of North Carolina and Randolph Macon College, Thursday night.

Friday was spent in attending master dance classes by Mr Horst, and participations in the Student Choreography Program. All dances were evaluated by Mr. Horst from the standards set up on a professional basis.

Hail

With the announcement of a new Editor, Managing Editor and Business Manager, the old staff of the Rotunda steps down to relinquish its position to the new staff. We do so, not with regret, but with a sense of pleasure in putting the paper into eager, capable hands, knowing that their contribution toward the progress of the Rotunda will place it among the foremost ranks of like publications. We call them the "new staff" but they are new only to their present positions; there are hours of experience and "know-how" behind them as they step into their places.

As they look forward to a year of gathering and spreading the news they are fully aware of their responsibilities to the student body and they realize that upon their shoulders rests the task of faithfully and accurately keeping the record of S. T. C.'s history. The college newspaper is a mirror, but a mirror is no good if it distorts the image. Only by presenting the true picture can the paper fulfill its purpose of reflecting student and college activities, moulding student opinion, and keeping a good journal of events for future reference.

We of the old staff look back for a moment over our year of work. We cannot say, "We are satisfied; our job is over and well done." There are things which we accomplished of which we are proud; but we are too keenly aware of the goals we didn't reach, or the projects in which we failed, to be satisfied. We therefore pin our hopes on "the new staff" to surpass our efforts, to take up where we left off and go on to better things.

Of all the things we are leaving behind with which to work and on which to build, the greatest thing is the wonderful spirit of the student body which you will serve. The students and faculty of S. T. C. are the finest and most appreciative group of people any publication could wish to work with. We have loved every day of work on the Rotunda which we attribute to the cooperation of the college. May you new editors have as fine a staff to work with you as you were when you worked under us.

From the retiring staff to the incoming staff—Congratulations, Best Wishes, and Good Luck!

Farewell

As we bid farewell to our old co-workers of the Rotunda staff, we, "the new staff," who are really members of the old staff with new responsibilities upon our shoulders, are straining at the traces, eager to take up the challenging task which they have performed so well this past year.

We here pledge ourselves to do our utmost to conform to the high standards which they have set, to serve college, students, faculty, administration, and alumnae to the best of our abilities, and to always keep in mind the first prerequisite of good journalism, truth and accuracy.

We of "the new staff" are aware that our new responsibilities will not sit easily on our shoulders at first, and that our job is no easy one. But if we were not dedicated to our task, we should have resigned long ago. We're also aware that "you can't please all of the people all of the time"; but still we're going to wage a constant battle to disprove this old maxim.

As the organ of student thought and feeling, the Rotunda recognizes its sacred duty to the student body, and invites any criticism or suggestions when it does not please those whom it serves. Particularly now when we are somewhat "green" in our jobs will any suggestions be particularly welcome.

To the members of the retiring staff, we, your successors, want to assure you that you have earned your rest from a job well done, and that we will strive to hold high the torch you have handed us.

THE ROTUNDA
Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association
Columbia Scholastic Press Association.
Rating: All Columbian
Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

STAFF

Betty Venable Spindler ..... Editor-in-Chief
Jacqueline Eagle ..... Managing Editor
Anne Collier Orgain ..... Business Manager

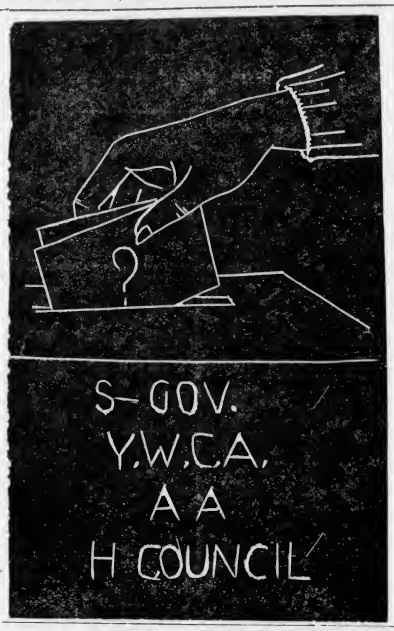
Mary Leigh Meredith ..... News Editor
Joyce Hamlet, Jane Hunt Ghiselin, Jean Smith, Joan Prichett, Jean Otis Loving

Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor
Mary Cooper Whiteside

Mildred Garnett ..... Advertising Manager
Jean Craig ..... Circulation Manager
Anne Simpson ..... Typing Manager

Adelaide Coble ..... Feature Editor
Janice Slavin, Mary Crowgey, Dalia Agostini
Betty Ferguson ..... Chaterbox Editor

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1949



PUDDIN' 'n' SAUCE

If the puddin' is salty this week, blame the chef. It's probably a stray tear or two too much shed at the nostalgic thought that this is the last batch of banter after two years of dishing it out. Doubtless there are those who will heave a sigh of relief not to be confronted with the eyesore that accompanies the title any longer, but this column wasn't written for them anyhow!

It has been fun, really it has, exchanging this bit of chatter with you across the editor's desk or down in the Snack Bar (i.e., "Paradise"—created for the sole purpose of providing the Rotunda staff with a source for all news, all gossip, and its exigency, coffee.) All good (?) things must come to an end, and frankly the "author" of this column was at the end of her rope, and thereby hangs a tale. "Did you ever hear about the big fat lady who—." Hold on, this is supposed to wind up our little ball of yarn, not spin a new one.

Our specialty in the past has usually been tipsy puddin' or corn puddin', but there's one recipe on file we've been holding out. With our best wishes to the new staff, we submit our prize concoction. To one bit of pertinent information, add all the additional facts that can be found; sift well to eliminate all hearsay and gossip; season well with interest, and weigh the matter carefully. Run through the Linotype and press well. Serve, hot off the press, one good Rotunda for the enjoyment of all.

Gallop Pole

QUESTION: How Do You Think Elections Should Be Conducted Here?

Emily Hastings: I think that the candidates could be introduced in assembly and that an article telling of the girls' school activities could be published in the Rotunda. This way persons who did not know the girls could see who they are and know what activities they had participated in.

Carrie Ann O'Loughlin: Take a day out and let the student body get better acquainted with the girls nominated.

Margaret Wilson: I definitely think there should be campaigns. Then the nominees would be known throughout the campus.

Mary Louise Woodward: Free from all prejudice!

Harriette Wade: I think at least a three day period for consideration of candidates should be given before voting takes place.

Muriel McBride: Considering all above suggestions, they can be made workable and achieve what the students want. If maybe we could have parties and campaigns, maybe it would educate this school population for their duties as future citizens of America-The right and privilege to vote, a sacred thing.

Beverley Smethie: I think it would be a good idea to have all nominations for major offices come directly from the floor.

Shirley Simmons: I think that campaigning would reveal the candidates' ability to hold office.

Dee Hoover: Stimulate interest in voting for reasons other than popularity.

Nell Foster: I think having campaigns is the best idea yet.

Connie Loving: I think campaigns are fine, too, but I definitely think the girl should win on her ability to fill the office, not on her popularity.

Jean Cake: I don't think political campaigns would be advisable on this campus. The student body isn't large enough and there's very little to base a campaign on but the girl's popularity. The way we've been holding elections seems to me to be the most workable. If several days are allowed between nominations and election, perhaps the candidates could be introduced in assembly.

Mary Jane Hite: I think there should be more campaigning and the nominees should be presented to us in an assembly program.

Jo Ann Yow: More campaigning! Hope they have better luck than Dewey, though!

Mary Lou Alphin: I think there should definitely be more campaigning.

Hattie Swihart: They ought to have campaigns and have a good fight for the office. That way you'd know the person and she'd be elected for more than personality.

Polly Jones: I think candidates should make speeches so that students who are not acquainted with them can be able to select officers with poise and determination.

Rotunda Uncovers Material Concerning Used Book Store

A letter to the editor published in the Rotunda a few weeks ago showed many of the students of S. T. C. were dissatisfied with the prices they received when reselling a used book to the book store.

The Rotunda has undertaken to investigate the matter and to uncover all available material to show the students just how their used-book store operates.

First of all, the book store is operated entirely for the benefit of those attending S. T. C. Old books may be taken to any book store or publishing house to be sold, although it may be well to remember that most public concerns pay only about 10% of the original cost. Mrs. Cox says that she would be glad to give students the names of companies who buy second hand books so that they can write and check prices themselves. Mrs. Cox, manager of the college book store, pays 50% for the returned texts if they are well-kept books, and for others she pays according to their condition. Although many books are kept looking nice, there are many more that are in a disreputable condition after use. To be fair to all, therefore, Mrs. Cox must pay for returned books according to their state.

Secondly, it must be remembered that the operators of the book store take a chance when they pay as much as they do for used books because there is a probability that those books will not be used again by the school, in which case they are returned to the publishers who pay only a very small percentage of the cost.

Finally, Mrs. Cox told us that the twenty-five cent books referred to in the previously mentioned letter were books either in disreputable condition or those not on the teacher's list for use the next year. Consequently, most of them are still on her shelves.

Not only is the enterprise of buying used books done for the benefit of the students, but even

(Continued on page 3)

SOPHISTICATED RAT

There's that wonderful feeling of Spring in the air, girls! How many of you have Spring Fever so early in the game?

The Freshman class was well-represented at the Sigma Chi party at Hampden-Sydney last Saturday night. These girls went over to help keep relations between the two colleges on balmy terms. Jerry Korbach, Jean Wilson, Katherine McCready, Marty Miller, Jean Ridenour, Audrey Petit, Dolores Hoback, Pat Tugge, Phyllis Tyree, and Barbara Hillstead.

Here's a slightly delayed wish for a happy birthday even though the big day was Sunday, Happy Birthday, Phyllis Tyree. How do you like that purple article? Pretty snazzy, eh?

In case you wondered why Lucyle has been walking around with a cast on her arm from the tip of the fingers to elbow, I'll let you in on a clue. It's her thumb! Donna Staples had the same misfortune. Is there a jinx or what?

So we hear that Nancy Walker has the softest shoulder that a certain Culpeper lad has ever wept upon. What did you do to get him on a tangent like that, Nancy?

Fran Franklin seems to be running a regular barbershop over on Library third floor hall. There are two walking specimens that about her glory, Mary Moore and Lee just couldn't let the mane get any longer. It looks good, gals!

The freshmen have been determined all along to put their annual production on. The big show will be presented in the Rec on April 22 at 7 o'clock. Let's all get together and put it on the top. We did it with the Sing and we can do it again!

Well, freshman, take over here. This one is going to dash up to the room and pack! Why? 'Cause I'm going home! Bye now.

Chatterbox

The big Sigma Chi banquet and dance at Hampden-Sydney definitely was the center of interest at STC as well as H-SC this week end. Of course Lizzie was the wheel at the banquet with President Bob Richards and was adequately flanked by Ruth and Dick. Lucy Jane Morton and Sandy Moore, B. S. and Johnny, Marty Miller and Dave Weeks, and of course Hank and David, who finally got together Saturday. They were "just" missing each other all Saturday afternoon and just as each was prepared to give up in dispair, they finally got together.

Rivaling this big occasion was Betty Tilson's big moment when she got that beautiful sparkler from Tiny. Congratulations are certainly in order!

Issac and Joe have become the campus "steady" of late — they certainly do make a cute couple. The "good neighbor" policy in action.

Pan-Hels at Randolph-Macon must have been fun judging from that "Monday morning look" that "B," Violet, Jackie B., Winnie, Nancy K., and Charlotte J. Jones and others had. "B." thought it was well worth taking cuts for.

What was that we saw flying past on that contraption Saturday afternoon—was it a bicycle? Was it Peggy and Doug? No, no, it must have been some high schoolers. We know they have too much dignity for that!

Speaking of dignity—Betsy Wilson insists that one cannot maintain one's dignity nor the curl in one's hair after being sprayed in a sailboat. But did she have fun!

Kappa Delta Pi Bids 5 STC Students

Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education, issued bids to five S. T. C. students last week.

Those receiving invitations to join Beta Epsilon Chapter are Dalila Agostini, Cornelia Marston, Denise Love, Eula Ayers, and Marjorie Agee.

To be eligible for membership in Kappa Delta Pi, a student must have a full junior collegiate standing, rank in the upper quartile of the student body scholastically, and exhibit outstanding interest in the field of education.

SPORTIN' AROUND

All those who wish to sign up for the Ping Pong Tournament to be held soon may do so. The sign-up sheet has been placed down near the Ping Pong tables.

Congratulations to the Red and Whites and the Green and Whites for tying the basketball points towards the color cup.

Come out to the volleyball class games. These are the last class games of this year. How about filling up the gym with people and plenty of class spirit?

Red and Whites still have their five-point lead on the color cup, despite that tying of the basketball games.

Dr. Page

Continued from page 1

ship at 6 p. m. The Centenary Youth Choir will take part in the banquet, also.

Dr. Page's appearance here will give townspeople an opportunity to hear a speaker who has known some of the world's great personalities. He and his wife once stayed three days with the late Mahatma Gandhi, were guests of Pandit Nehru, now prime minister of the new Dominion of India. They have been entertained in China by Chiang Kai-shek. He has interviewed Sun Yat-sen, the late General Von Hindenburg, the late Lloyd George, George Bernard Shaw and H. G. Wells.

Three Editors

Continued from Page 1

composed of the retiring editors, Anne East, and Betty Spindler; the business managers, Anne Organ, Betty Jefferson, and Edna Earle Waters; and the advisers, Mr. T. A. McCorkle, Dean W. W. Savage, Mr. James M. Grainger, and Ruth Tillet, chairman of nominations and elections.

Dr. Page To Talk On WFLO Thurs.

Dr. Kirby Page, social evangelist and author, will be guest speaker on the STC Hour to be broadcast over WFLO at 4:30 p. m. on Thursday.

Laura Jean Comerford and Calvin Hatcher, students at STC, will interview Dr. Page with questions that will be of interest to the student body.

Dr. Page, who is considered an outstanding authority in the field of international affairs, has given special attention for many years to the problems of Russian-American relations. He is the author of Now Is the Time to Prevent a Third World War and many other well-known literary works.

Book Store

Continued from Page 2

the new books are sold to us at list price of the publishers. This does not include postage and insurance on the books. If we are dissatisfied with and feel we can do without it, the used-books store would be closed willingly.

Grizzard Announces Nearly $100 Netted In 'Y' Rummage Sale

Barbara Grizzard, head of the service committee of the Y. W. C. A., announced today that a total of nearly $100 was netted in the rummage sale held last Friday and Saturday.

The clothes which were offered for sale at this time were ones sent to the "Y" to be distributed among the White House girls but which the girls were unable to use.

The money received from this sale will be used for the benefit of the White House girls. The clothes which were not sold were sent to the overseas relief.

The sale was under the direction of the service committee of the "Y" and the "Y" cabinet.

Essay Contest

Continued from page 1

"Methods for Dispelling Misunderstandings Between the United States and Great Britain" and "Peacetime Responsibilities of the English-Speaking Peoples". Essays submitted may be 1,000 words or less in length.

Deadline date for the contest is April 1, and contestants must be American citizens not over 28 years of age on April 1 of this year. All essays should be forwarded to the executive secretary of the Virginia Branch of the ESU, Mrs. Robert N. Greathead, 1111 West Avenue, Richmond. A committee of judges appointed by the Virginia Branch will select the ten best Virginia essays which will then be forwarded to the national chairman and head of the final judging committee, Professor Allen Nevins of Columbia University, professor of history, author of a number of books, and an active member of the English-Speaking Union.

Color Cup Points Tied After Soph-Frosh Clash

Longwood Cabin will be open this spring for organizations to spend the night. See notice on page 1.

The last class basketball game was held Wednesday, the 16th. The game was a close one, ending with a score of 30-28 in favor of the sophomores. This tied the points in basketball towards the color cup.

Those playing for the freshmen as forwards were Thomas Misner and Weddie with Ridenour, Beckner and Leslie as guards. Holding down the forward positions for the sophomores were Brewbaker, Carper and Lynch, while E. Winfree, M. Winfree, Famulette and Webb, were the guards.

Juniors and seniors won the vollyball games to keep the volley-

Continued on page 4

Quarts of Coffee Downed Daily by Snack Bar-Flies

By Mary Crowgey

Where is it that twelve dozen doughnuts have been known to disappear in only forty-four minutes? Why, at the S. T. C. Snack Bar, of course!

Checking upon the amount of food sold, it was found that every day approximately one hundred forty-four cups of coffee are consumed and in a week's time, twelve gallons of orange juice, and that in spite of Farmville's chilly climate these days, twelve dozen Brown Bear ice cream cones and another twelve dozen ice cream sandwiches are eaten in one week!

The Snack Bar, with its collegiate atmosphere, is, without a doubt, the most frequented place on campus and the most popular. Starting at ten o'clock, when everybody starts trooping down there for that mid-morning cup of coffee, through the rest of the day, the place is crowded with students, listening to the Juke Box, completing last minutes assignments, reading "fan" mail, catching up on all the lastest news, at the same time eating all kinds of concoctions.

As late as ten-thirty every night the bar is packed with frosh and sophs who have donned their raincoats to hurry over for some more of that wonderful food to keep them alive till ten o'clock the next morning when the Bar opens again. What would S. T. C. do without this "icebox"?

The success of the juke box dances can in part be contributed to the Snack Bar. The popularity of the radio show that takes place in the Rec is, too, partly attributable to its proximity to this source of food.

Credit for the Snack Bar goes to President Lancaster, who felt the need for such a spot on campus, and to the Alumnae Association, whose "baby" it really is. Although the bar has not yet paid for itself, it is proving to be a very successful undertaking, according to Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, alumnae secretary.

The Snack Bar is only one of the good works of the S. T. C. Alumnae Association which through its fifty chapters, keeps S. T. C. graduates informed about college activities. This organization, contributed thousands of dollars toward the construction of Student Building, and one of the current alumnae projects is the

Continued on page 4

Visit Us For YOUR EASTER NEEDS
Compliments of the
THE HUB
Farmville, Va.

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from
MARTIN THE JEWELER

KLEANWELL CLEANERS
For Excellent Results
Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

Flowers Bring Romance To Any Dance
COLLINS
Phone 181 Night 4

PETALS FOR PAN-HEL from
BURG
Florist

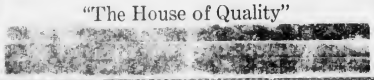
BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Popular Phonograph Records
—AT—
J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

Reach For Justrite Bread Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Have a Hamburger Special from the
COFFEE SHOPPE



GRAYS DRUG STORE
Whitman's Candy
and
New, Fancy Stationery

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Cotton Dresses for the Spring Months

See the lovely styles and colors at Davidson's this Spring. Just the styles for the College Miss.

DAVIDSON'S
"The House of Quality"

"Recess In the Rec"
TUESDAY-
3::00-3:30
WSVS—650 On Your Dial

WFLO
The Talk of The Town
870 On Your Dial

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS
VERSER'S
We strive to please

Red 'n Whites Win Honors As Annual Sing Contest Ends

Last Saturday night the freshmen class walked away with first prize and the juniors, with second prize at the annual Sing Contest, which has been sponsored over the past several weeks by the Y. W. C. A. All the productions were the best "sings" we remember seeing. The student and faculty judges must have had a pretty tough decision to make.

In keeping with Valentine's Day last month, the freshmen had the well-known lecturer Dr. Maribell Frances Latissue Brown flown from Paris to speak on love. Dr. Brown, professor at the University Evol (Love spelled backward), had "majored, minored, and mastered in the manner, method, and making of love."

Advising the students to take notes, Dr. Brown proceeded to demonstrate the various stages of "l'amour." Starting with "innocent Cradle love," when little boys and girls beat each other over the head with bottles, she went through the stage of "pure, but, not so innocent puppy love," when the little gang gathers at Miss Push-em-over's studio, through the age spent at the corner drugstore ("lime crush, lemon crush, love crush,") on through the last and final stage—college love.

The sophomores called their show "Why and Why Not." It was explained that this sing production was a replica of what had happened the night before at a class meeting.

Sitting around on the stage the sophomores pondered over the question, "What to have for sing." First, someone suggested that they take S. T. C. back to the days when the Indians were here. Three Indians tried singing the old Indian song, "One-Little-Two-Little-Three-Little-Indians." Finding this to be pretty awful, the class decided to show the future S. T. C. Slaves in irons appeared. It was decided that this would never do either.

After trying a trip to the moon, where everything including music was "backward," the Sophomores, as a last result decided to hear Betsy Wilson and her Symphony Orchestra play an arrangement of the "Warsaw Concerto" and the "Twelth Street Rag." Finally Westbrook offered the best-liked suggestion of them all, to give up trying to give a Sing and to go to U. Va. for the week end.

The juniors' production was a replica of an old melodramatic flicker shown some years ago at the Palace Theater of New York. All the old "charm" of these movies, including the jerky movements of the actors, was recaptured.

There was the familiar park scene where the hero and heroine met; the thrilling scene in which the villian tied the heroine to the railroad tracks, where she was rescued "barely in time" by her hero; the proposal: getting the family's permission; the jealous lover scene; and the usual ending, a tragic one in which everybody, except the park attendant, dropped dead.

Between acts the chorus girls, magacians, Vigero, the Barber Shop Quartet, and the bird callers performed. As a final treat, Al Jolson, with outstretched arms, walked down among the audience, singing the well-loved song of the South, "Swanee."

The first scene of "Passing Parade," the Seniors' production, was a take-off on Graduation Day. The Seniors in their caps and gowns were lined up to receive their diplomas. After the class poetry had been read and Dr. Finklefish had made a short speech, the Dean, eager to be rid of her charges, proceeded to hand out sheepskins. Finally there remained only one diploma and three girls. Two of the girls were told to share the diploma. The other girls was instructed to visit Miss Bugg.

While reminising over their college days, the seniors reproduced highlights from some of their previous productions. Chi walked again; Ada Robles did her swimming act; the Barber Shop Quartet sang "Sweet Adoline"; and Galloway did some numbers from her "Sugar Baby" repertoire. Then the seniors all joined in the singing of their next fall's theme song, "Hunting" for My Nest". After a song which the seniors dedicated to the judges, the last of the best series of Sings given yet was ended.

STC Dramatic Club Schedules Exams

Department Tests Set For Wednesday

Departmental examinations will be given to the Dramatic Club apprentices Wednesday, March 23. Upon completion of these exams the apprentices who passed the required standards will be voted upon by the Executive Board of the club on March 25, and by old members March 31.

The standards which the club sets up for the new member throughout their apprenticeship consists of regular attendance at departmental meetings and monthly club meetings, dependable service during the year and especially during the production of the spring and fall plays, and a general knowledge of their respective departments which is shown in the department exam.

Initiation of the new members of the Dramatic Club will be held April 17.

Color Cup

Continued from Page 3

ball points tied. The juniors defeated the sophomores by the score of 17-3 and 11-10 while the seniors beat the freshman by the score of 16-11 in the first game and the final game of the afternoon found the seniors in front by the score of 22-6.

Blackstone Wins In Play Contest

Blackstone High School won first place with the presentation of "The Heritage of Wimpole Street," in the annual District Play Contest held this year at Farmville High School, Saturday, March 19.

In place of the cup usually given to the best play presented, the six plays were given recognition by a division into three groups: Distinguished, meritorious and creditable.

Blackstone High School was rated as distinguished. Their play was the only one to be placed in this group. Farmville High School's play, "The Bishop's Candlesticks," was given first place in the meritorious group, and Victoria High School's play, "Who Gets the Cat Tonight," was rated as second in this group. In the third group, Amelia High School was given first place for its play, "Make Room for Rodney"; Crewe High School was given second place for its performance of "Swept Clean Off Her Feet," and Marshall District High School took third place with the play, "Who's Afraid?"

Mention was made of the outstanding actors of each group.

Miss Amanda Gray, a member of the Dramatic Department at Newport News High School, Newport News, served as critic judge.

Snack Bar

Continued from Page 3

Jarman Organ Fund which will provide an organ for the new auditorium when it is built.

When the profits from the Snack Bar start rolling in, you may be sure that the go-getting S. T. C. alumnae will put them to good use for a bigger and better Alma Mater!

HERB STONE who will play for Pan-Hel dance. See story page 1.

French ask revision in German occupation zones.

Cuban Communistics are happy over anti - U. S. gains in island.

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

Invites You to See the
New Collection of Luxite Undies
By Hole Proff (No Ironing)

DOROTHY MAY STORE

Whoever You Are, Whatever You Do

Drive Refreshed
Play Refreshed
Shop Refreshed
Lunch Refreshed
Travel Refreshed
Work Refreshed

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA COLA COMPANY BY
YNCHBURG COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, INC

© 1949, The Coca-Cola Company

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

"There is nothing like a MILD, cool smoke – that's why I smoke Chesterfields."

Fred MacMurray
STARRING IN
"FAMILY HONEYMOON"
A UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL PRODUCTION

The TOP MEN of AMERICA'S SPORTS smoke CHESTERFIELD

SID GORDON says . . .
"Sure they make a hit with me—they're better-tasting and MILDER, MUCH-MILDER . . . it's MY cigarette."

MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE . . . They Satisfy

MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELDS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE
BY LATEST NATIONAL SURVEY

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations, Major Officers

The Rotunda

Hail Longwood College

VOLUME XXVIII — FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30, 1949 — NO. 22

State Board Names College Longwood

Wright, Duncan, Phillips, Bragg Take Major Offices

To Start Work Soon

Elizabeth Bragg, Jacqueline Wright, Ray Phillips and Dolores Duncan were elected last week to the positions of president of Student Government, president of the House Council, president of the Athletic Association and president of Y. W. C. A. respectively.

Elizabeth Bragg, a junior from Norfolk, has served as treasurer of Student Government this year. For the past three years "Lizzie" has acted as class representative to student standards. She is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, and also a member of the Cotillion Club.

Jackie Wright, a junior from Morrison, served as chairman of the Membership committee of the Y. W. C. A. her sophomore year and as treasurer of this organization during this year. She acted as Social Chairman of the Baptist Training Union last year and is president this year. Jackie is a member of the Commercial Club, the French Circle, the Baptist Student Union and the Dramatic Club. She is also a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, leadership society. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority and has served as treasurer of the sorority this year. Jackie is also a member of the Cotillion Club.

Ray Phillips, a junior from Williamsburg, has served as captain of the junior class volley ball team. She is a member of the Monogram Club and Orchesis, the local modern dance club. She is also a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, and of the Cotillion Club.

Dolores Duncan, a junior from Norfolk, served as Chairman of the Library Committee of the Y. W. C. A. her sophomore year and as Chairman of the Membership Committee her junior year. She was a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, honorary scholastic society, her freshman and sophomore years. Dolores is also a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, the Baptist Student Union, the Baptist Training Union, the Association of Children Education. She is a membership of Alpha Sigma Tau sorority and of the Cotillion Club.

Nominations for minor offices will be held Wednesday, March 30, from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. at the table in the hall of Main

Continued on Page 4

ELIZABETH BRAGG
Student Govt. Pres.

DOLORES DUNCAN
Y. W. C. A. Pres.

JACQUELINE WRIGHT
House Council Pres.

RAY PHILLIPS
A. A. Pres.

Paintings By Local Artists Hang Here

Two paintings by local artists have been hung recently in the newly decorated rotunda.

The Virginia Hills, a water color, based on subjects around Charlottesville, was painted by Charles Smith who resides there. Mr. Smith is, according to Mrs. Janice Lemen, the assistant professor of art at the college, "by far, the best artist that Virginia has produced."

The other painting, Spring Afternoon, was done by Mrs. Lemen who was a student of Mr. Smith. Spring Afternoon portrays the monument to the Confederate soldiers which is located on High street across from the college.

These two paintings, The Virginia Hills and Spring Afternoon, have been hung on the left and right sides of the rotunda stairs, respectively.

NOTICE

To S. T. C. Students:

At the college assembly on Thursday, March 24, in the Methodist Church at least two hundred students were absent.

In other words, two hundred S. T. C. girls took advantage of the auditorium fire and remained away from assembly because they thought they would not be checked and could get away with it. Is this a demonstration of our Farmville Spirit? I do not think that this could happen at our college. This is not playing the game!

I hope that it was due to thoughtlessness and that this reminder will be all that is necessary.

It has distressed me that this could have happened. Dr. Page made a splendid talk that all should have heard. I feel sure that I can count on my girls hereafter.

Dabney S. Lancaster

President States Replacement Plan

The new building to replace the fire-razed auditorium will contain a recreation hall, office, parlors, and dormitory, President Dabney S. Lancaster recently announced. He added that preliminary sketches for the semi-fireproof building have been started by the architects.

New offices for the registrar with a fireproof vault for the registrar's records will be housed on the main floor of the new building, which will connect Annex building with the east wing of Main building. There will be at least two parlors, and the dormitory, which will feature a kitchenette on each floor, will accommodate approximately 40 students. Two other offices planned

Continued on page 4

Changes of College Name Mark Strides Of Progress During Last 100 Years

The changing of the name of our college throughout the years has seemed always to mark progress. New names have been given the college in keeping with changing times and new conditions found in the school. From the "1 female school" listed in an 1835 Virginia gazeteer, to Farmville Female Seminary, Farmville State Teachers College, State Female Normal School, State Normal School for Women, and State Teachers College, we have become Longwood College.

In 1884 when the town of Farmville offered its seminary to the state, there were no other institutions in Virginia whose purpose was teacher-training. William T. Ruffner, the first state superintendent of public instruction, became President of this first normal school, then consisting of 107 students and a faculty of seven. Courses which supplemented grammar school were offered.

Progress was slow but steady at the State Female Normal School during the terms of its next Presidents, John Atkinson Cunningham and Robert Frazer. When Dr. Joseph Leonard Jarman came in 1902, a middle west wing, new dining hall, science building, and new brick training school had been added to the original building donated by the town. The course of instruction had been modified to include three years of high school work and one year of professional training. The number of faculty members had been increased to thirteen and the number of students in the professional course, to 58.

Evolution of a Name

1835—"1 female school"
1839—Farmville Female Seminary.
1860—Farmville Female College.
1884—State Female Normal School.
1914—State Normal School for Women.
1924—State Teachers College.
1949—Longwood College.

Dr. Jarman served a great many more years than the other three presidents combined. During his time many achievements were made and the college's name changed twice to meet the new conditions. The East and West Wings, Middle East Wing, the Infirmary, Laundry, Power Plant, Annex, Longwood, a new power plant, Junior, Senior, and Student Buildings were added to the campus. From just one year of professional training, grew four-year courses in Kindergarten work, Home Economics, and commercial education. In 1920 the first B.S. degrees were conferred and in 1935, the first B.A. degrees. The enrollment increased to 800 girls.

Today our college continues to move forward under a new name. Since Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster has been President, higher academic standards have been achieved. Students entering Longwood College must have the scholastic aptitude and other personal qualifications necessary for the success in their studies. Courses and methods of instruction are being examined in order that the quality of work done by students will be of a high standard.

Accompanying the program of renewed emphasis on better scholarship, a program of building and physical improvement is being carried out. A new science building, costing approximately $450,000, is now under construction. Included in the plans for the near future are a new auditorium and music building to seat 1,300 persons and a probable dormitory to replace that which was destroyed by fire.

The great strides forward made by Longwood College would not have been possible had it not been for the fine cooperation of the community of Farmville through the years. They have demonstrated their pride and affection for the college in many ways. Recently when forty-six students lost all their possessions as a result of fire, the residents gave more than $8000 for these girls. In addition, they contributed clothing. The town's merchants allowed a thirty-per-cent discount on merchandise purchased by victims of the fire. With backing like this, the College should reach even greater heights in supplying the state with teachers.

Decision Marks Fourth Name Change Since Institution's Founding In '84

Fox To Represent College In Court For Blossom Fete

Festival Date Set In April

Janie Fox, senior from Alexandria, has been selected to represent this college as princess for the Queen's Court of the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival to be held at Winchester on April 28 and 29.

A prominent member of the student body, Janie is vice-president of Student Government Council, a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma (women's leadership society), and a member of Alpha Sigma Tau social sorority. In addition, Janie is listed in the 1949 "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges", and she is a senior member of the 1949 May Court.

JANIE FOX

The College Apple Blossom princess is chosen each year by the faculty and administration. The Queen's Court of the annual fete in Winchester is composed of representatives from schools, colleges, and universities in Virginia, and surrounding states. Marian Hahn, now Mrs. Hunter Sledd, represented the college last year.

Movie of Hugo Story Will Be Shown Here

"Cosette," a film in French with English captions, will be shown by the French Circle Friday, April 1, in the audio-visual auditorium of the library. The film, which is the second episode of "Les Miserables" will be shown from 4 to 6 p. m. and again from 6:45 to 8:45 p. m. and is open to the entire student body. Tickets are priced at 35c for both performances and may be obtained from members of the club or at the table in the hall.

The 80-minute feature is a newly issued print of the second episode in Victor Hugo's classic "Les Miserables." "Jean Val Jean," the first episode, was shown here last spring under the auspices of the French Circle. "The Film Daily" review of the film states: "This is one of the outstanding films from French studios. American audiences, appreciating top-flight screen fare, will revel in the production, which is fully comprehensible because of the flash-in titles in English."

New Name Valid Beginning Next Term

Beginning with the 1949 summer session, this college will be known as Longwood College, according to the decision of the State Board of Education at its regular monthly meeting last Friday. This action of the Board marks the fourth time within the past 65 years that the name has been changed.

President Dabney S. Lancaster first proposed that the name be changed during the January meeting of the Board. That body agreed to take action on his request in its March meeting and designated its entire membership as a committee to decide upon a new appellation. In making its decision, it was guided by the suggestions and opinions of the students, faculty members, alumnae, and friends of the College. The actual change was made under authority granted to the Board by the General Assembly in 1938 when it passed an act permitting the colleges at Harrisonburg and Fredericksburg to change their names. This act stated that the Board could change the name of the college at Farmville at a later date in the event that the change was requested.

Although "Longwood College" was the favorite choice of what President Lancaster terms a "tremendous majority" of the students, alumnae, and faculty members, there was not complete agreement among the Board members as to the new name. Their final decision was influenced by the fact that the Longwood estate is an integral part of the campus and that it is one of the better-known Southside homes of historic importance. It is the site of the birthplace of General Joseph E. Johnston of the Confederate army, being originally a colo-

Continued on page 4

AAC Group To Meet Fri.

The Virginia representatives of the American Alumni Council will meet for a luncheon at Longwood on Friday, April 1.

The American Alumni Council is composed of alumni workers from all of the colleges in the United States and Canada. They are holding their annual meeting in Williamsburg next July. The Virginia college representatives are meeting here to plan entertainment for the Williamsburg meeting as they will be hosts for the first time in ten years.

The following colleges will be represented at this first meeting of the Virginia division to be held at S. T. C.:

Mrs. Gertrude H. Sloan will represent Randolph Macon College; Mr. Gilly Sullivan, University of Va., Miss Ellen S. Hawkins, Stratford College; Mrs. Ruth Coyner, State Teacher's College; Miss Shirley Heun, Hollins College; Mr. Harry K. Young, Washington and Lee University; Miss Mary Stokes and Mrs. Anne Ribble, Randolph Macon Women's College.

Also Mrs. Leslie Booker, Westhampton College; Mrs. Miriam Seller, Medical College of Virginia; Mrs. Dorothy Bridges, Mary Baldwin College; Miss Harriet V. Shaw, Sweet Briar College; Mr. Charles P. McCurdy, William and Mary College; Mr. George Walker, Hampden-Sydney College.

Dr. Dabney Lancaster will welcome the guests at this meeting.

Long Live Longwood.....

The puzzle of choosing an appropriate new name for the College has been solved by the State Board of Education in an eminently satisfactory manner.

Longwood College, the happy decision of the Board, will, as the Rotunda advocated in its February 2 issue, fulfill the many requirements of a college name and the demands made by our own special case. This name has the added virtue of pleasing the greatest number of people immediately connected with the College, since it received the overwhelming majority of votes when students, alumnae, and faculty were polled on the question.

That the name, "State Teachers College" had become inadequate for the purposes of this institution was generally accepted. As was pointed out in the previous Rotunda editorial, such a name was too often misleading to prospective students and to the general public not intimately acquainted with the College. This name did not imply that curricula other than teaching were offered here, and consequently many prospective students have in the past rejected application to this college on the grounds that they did not wish to prepare for a career in education. In view of the fact that a large number of college students do not choose a vocation until after they have embarked on their higher studies, it is better to have a name that will attract students with various tentative interests. While the institution will continue to place emphasis on the preparation of teachers, it is likewise well prepared to offer a sound education to others.

Longwood College certainly conforms admirably with the prerequisites for a college name as enumerated by President Lancaster and the Rotunda. The new name is easily pronounced; it precludes neither sex; it has stood the test of time; and it does not duplicate any existing college name as did "State Teachers College," the designation of more than two hundred other colleges in the United States.

The new College name derives distinction from Longwood estate, the well-loved part of this campus, which is one of the most beautiful and famed estates in Southside Virginia. It is the site of the birthplace of General Joseph E. Johnston and the birthplace of Colonel Charles Venable, both prominent names in the history of the Commonwealth. It embraced in its original entirety as a colonial grant from the British crown, considerably more territory than at present, making it highly probable, as the Rotunda formerly emphasized, that at least part of this campus was once a part of Longwood property.

Longwood is a familiar name, linked with pleasant memories for present students, alumnae, and faculty. The estate has been for many years a favorite campus recreation spot, the site of May Day celebrations, house parties, teas, and sports. Longwood College, the name which will doubtless be the most enduring of the appellations so far given the College, is indeed one of which everyone connected with this institution can be proud. Although it has shed the designation of "State Teachers College," our institution will continue to serve the Commonwealth with the unflagging "Farmville spirit."

THE ROTUNDA
Established November 26, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 533, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1921 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934.

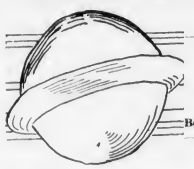
STAFF

Jacqueline Eagle — Editor-in-Chief
Mary Leigh Meredith — Managing Editor
Janice Slavin — Business Manager
Jean Smith — Desk Editor
Mary Jo Smith — News Editor

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30, 1949

We Congratulate....

Congratulations go from the Rotunda to the newly elected student officers. It feels that they are quite capable of fulfilling the duties demanded by the high offices they have been elected to fill.



Congratulations are also in order for the student body for the wise choice they made in their selection of officers.

The four officers, president of the Student Government Association, president of House Council, president of the Athletic Association Council, and president of the Y.W.C.A., elected last Thursday hold the highest student positions in the College. They will serve on the Student Council whose purpose is to preserve student honor, to unite the students of the College for more efficient service, and to train the students in personal responsibility and loyalty.

Each member of the student body is a member of the Student Government Association. The association is governed by the Student Council. In electing these officers to serve on this council, we have shown our trust in their ability and our willingness to be governed by them.

The responsibility of the student body, however, does not stop with the election of the officers. These officers are depending on our support and cooperation throughout their term of office. Without our assistance it will be impossible for them to efficiently fulfill the duties of their offices.

Only we can give them the proper cooperation. It is our duty and ours alone. Each and every member of the student body is charged with this responsibility and our student government, like the proverbial chain, can be no stronger than its weakest link.

OUR WORLD

By Betty Lewis Shank

It's a tired old world that's wondering these days just what is coming next. The question seems to be, "Can Democracy live peacably in the same world with Communism?" And the answer seems to be, "Yes—if neither tries to force itself on the other."

But is Russia preparing itself to force its type of government on the United States? That is the sixty-four dollar question. If we knew what was going on behind the Iron Curtain, we might be able to answer that one. It's certain that something is going on.

Russia has made several big changes in her political and military set-up in the last few weeks. First, Molotov gave up his place as Foreign Minister to Vishinsky. Next, Vasilevsky succeeded Bulganin as Minister of the Armed Forces. Is this of any particular concern to our relations with Russia?

There were two meetings going on in New York the first of the week—one was called the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace. The opposition meeting was known as the Americans for Intellectual Freedom. The keynote speech of the "Culturals" was one which attacked American foreign policy, warned against war hysteria, and urged better understanding between Soviet-United States relations. The "Intellectuals" accused the "Culturals" of being "Communist-dominated." Who was right?

There are two sides to everything. Let's hope the two sides can become reconciled before Mr. Winchell's prediction Sunday night of "This is it!" comes true.

Letter To Editor

Comments on the part of the S.T.C. students and faculty in response to my letter concerning the clipping of library materials show very plainly that such action is wholeheartedly condemned. In this instance, however, there is need to translate public feeling into some sort of action. May I make certain suggestions. In the first place, I should like to ask any student or faculty member to give to the librarian on duty any mutilated library material which comes to his or her notice. If this is done, currently important items can be immediately replaced.

In the second place, I should like to ask that each student consider himself or herself responsible for controlling such infringements of good conduct to the same extent as when fellow students break other rules of conduct. Unless you act in the face of known misconduct, your student self-government will fail to produce the high type of morale which is to be expected from a student body of such exceptionally high moral character.

In the third place, I shall ask the faculty to use discretion in giving assignments which call for illustrative material which is difficult to secure. When you do need pictures, ask a librarian what she can do for you. We have on hand a supply of free materials, including duplicate magazines, which are expressly collected for your use.

Remember, our interests are your interests. We are simply the custodians of your college library. Lets all pull together.

Beverley Ruffin
College Librarian

Chatterbox

Your Chatterbox has been nosing around into everybody's business again this week, and we are giving you all the details right now at the risk (always present) of sticking our neck out. But a little danger always makes our days more exciting, even if shorter.

Lizzie and Carolyn C. had the "Beta from Davidson" situation well in hand this weekend. It seems that Monday morning after all the dates had been cleared out, there they were--a long way from home and not at all homesick.

At Bear Creek Lake Sunday the water was cold, but the beaches weren't. Frankie and Harvey, Lizzie and Jimmy, B.S. and Sonny, and Laura Lee and Allen had a little picnic. Ray and "Mr." Etheridge chaperoned.

Not only is Anne pinned to Dick, but now officially Dick is pinned to Anne! Congratulations to the new Sweetheart of Alpha Sigma Tau.

Tommy Thomas had the vote for the gal of the week, but the struggle of keeping the two men apart was great--especially when they both were carying around a little surprise for her. You can change "Diamond Jim" to "Diamond Tom" here at College.

Speaking of surprises, Nancy Lee had a little surprise visitor from W&L Tuesday. We wheels!

Annie Floyd had guests from R.I. this weekend. Such excitement!

But for real excitement and the most hilarious incident of the weekend, get the details from Marty and Peggy about their trip to William & Mary Mid-Winters. We'd give two week's salary from the Rotunda to have been there. It's something you shouldn't have missed.

Late News Flash--Robbie Cromar is top bird on the totem pole for this week, and setting a precedent by becoming the first silent top bird! History is being made!

With this we quit while we're able!

Alumnae News

The Peninsula Alumnae Chapter held a luncheon meeting at the Chamberlain Hotel at Old Point, last Saturday.

Miss Margie Lee Culley presided over this meeting, and Mrs. Unice Leyland was chairman of the luncheon and introduced the following Farmville guests: Dr. Dabney Lancaster, Dean Ruth Gleaves, Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, Alumnae secretary and Marjorie Miller, president of the Student Government.

About fifteen high school girls from Hampton, Newport News, Hilton Village, and Warwick were also guests at this meeting.

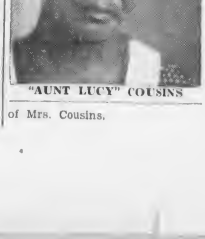
Yay Longwood College!

Farmville, 'Of Course'

Editor's note: Reprinted below is an editorial which appeared Tuesday, March 22 in the Richmond News-Leaders, edited by Dr. Douglas Southall Freeman.

A roaring, half-distracted world has forgotten already the fire that destroyed the auditorium and dormitory building at State Teachers' College, Farmville. Perhaps even in Virginia, if that fine Southside town is mentioned, memory of the events of March 6 has so nearly washed out that the average man will ask, "They had a big fire there, didn't they?" Townspeople will not forget so readily, though the walls will be raised again and all the black marks of the licking flames will be effaced. Still less will students and their parents fail to remember these occurrences, because the average family does not face fire and the loss of possessions in flames more often than once in a lifetime. There is an added reason why those who suffered most in pocket and in nerves will keep that date on the tablet of observance. Never did they witness—and they never again may see—such sympathetic generosity as the people of Farmville displayed. Within little more than 12 hours, the Chamber of Comerce raised a relief fund of $4,000 and soon doubled that. Merchants of the town gave the girls a most generous discount of 30 per cent in the replacement of their belongings. The Red Cross immediately furnished, gratis, blankets and sheets to take the place of those burned up or ruined by smoke and water. A grateful parent writes us: "Dr. Lancaster, the president of the college, is partly responsible for the close feeling there between the town and the college, and he is to be congratulated on the fine way he has handled a terrible situation. With so much unhappiness and strife in our world today, it makes me feel that we will come out all right with such acts as these showing that most people are fundamentally unselfish and good."

That is true as it is well said. Dabney Lancaster is a man of so much tested character and demonstrated courage that we need do no more than mention his name to evoke expressions of gratitude to him on scores uncounted. It is of Farmville itself that we more particularly would speak—of Farmville that combines simple modesty with as much civic goodness as often are found anywhere. The spirit the Prince Edward town displayed this month may have been new to most of us, but our Confederate fathers would not have expressed surprise. Their comment would have been the simplest and most profound compliment to the town. "Of Course", they would have said, but their eyes would have grown bright with the memory of that dreadful April day of 84 years ago, when a half-starved army staggered into the little town with a swarm of blue-coated locusts behind it and on its flanks. Although it was plain then to anyone willing to look at realities that the Southern Troy had fallen and that the cause of the Confederacy was in ruins, the people of Farmville opened their doors and their hearts and gave their all in sustenance and sympathy. Like sire, like son; the blood of Spartan mothers courses still in generous daughters. Whenever the story of that grim fire and of that overwhelming bounty



(Continued on page 3)

'Aunt Lucy' Cousins Dies; Served College Many Years

Mrs. Lucy Cousins, Negro, a former of the college staff, died March 23, 1949.

Mrs. Cousins, better known to the State Teacher's College faculty and alumnae as "Aunt Lucy", was born during the period of slavery and came to S. T. C. to work while still a young girl. During her service in the college, she did night duty in the Rotunda. "Aunt Lucy" Cousins continued working at S.T.C. until June, 1939 when she was injured in a fall. No one knows the exact age of Mrs. Cousins, but she is thought to be ninety-odd years.

"Miss Mary" White, a member of the college staff, who works on Post Office Hall, is a daughter of Mrs. Cousins.

"AUNT LUCY" COUSINS

Eagle Announces New Appointments On Rotunda Staff

Jacky Eagle appointed the new Rotunda staff in a meeting last Wednesday night folowing the announcement of the election of the new editor and managers of the paper.

A new position of Desk Editor has been created this year, to act as intermediary between the Managing Editor, who is now Mary Leigh Meredith, and the various news and feature staffs. This position will be filled by Jean Smith of Pearisburg.

Mary Jo Smith, of Norfolk, has been appointed News Editor for the coming year. Joan Pritchett, of Bluefield, W. Va., will serve as assistant News Editor, also a new position created to help the news staff. This staff includes Jo Hamlett, Jean Otis Loving, and Pat Smith.

Mary Crowgey, of Roanoke, will take over as Feature Editor. Her staff will include Claudia Anderson, Barbara Medley and columnists Betty Ferguson, Betty Lewis Shank and Joan Pritchett.

Ann Lynch, of Tazewell, will occupy the position of Sports Editor, and Winnie Beard will act as sports writer.

In the Business department which is now headed by Janice Slavin, Beverly Smethy from Arlington, will act as Advertising Manager, Grace Thompson from Kenbridge, will serve as Circulation Manager. Staff members in the business department include Millie Carter, Peggy Harris, Edith Kenyon, Lucy Vaughan and Virginia Dare Wood.

Rotunda typists are Nora Elizabeth Pollard, Marjorie Boswick, Mary Crowder, Molly Hudson, Jean Hogg, Connie Heather, Harriet Bowling and Virginia Westbrook.

The Rotunda is beginning now to have try outs for those girls who would like to work with the Rotunda next year. Everyone interested in this work is urged to attend the staff meeting tonight after supper. Vacancies have been left by the graduating members in both the business and editorial department.

Peg Peery will retain her position as photographer, and Helen Arrington will remain as Art Editor.

Mrs. Pickett Begins Duties As Secretary To Dean of Women

Recently Mrs. Charles Pickett joined the staff of the college as secretary to the Dean of Women.

Mrs. Pickett, formerly Miss Elizabeth Vassar, is a graduate of S. T. C. While a student here, she was an active member of many organizations. She served as editor-in-chief of the Virginian, and was a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma (national honor society for leadership), Alpha Phi Sigma (honor society for students of high scholastic rating), Kappa Delta Pi (national honorary education society), and Beorc Eh Thorn (local English honor society). She was a member of the Rotunda staff.

Before returning to the college as one of the staff, Mrs. Pickett taught English at Lawrenceville High School and English, Latin and social studies at Burkeville High School.

Mrs. Pickett is replacing Miss Caroline Eason, former assistant to the Dean of Women, who recently resigned to be married.

Crippled B-36 superbomber flies 9,600 miles to set record.

SPORTIN' AROUND

Now that basketball and volleyball are over and "spring has sprung" we turn our attention to the spring sports—tennis, archery, and softball. The tennis fall singles are still to be played off. Nancy Gilley (green and white) will play Patsy Ritter (red and white) and Helen Agnew (another green and white) will play Anne Langbein (for red and white). The spring doubles will also be played off.

Tennis and archery both go toward making points for the color cup, but it is not definite yet as to whether softball will count or not. Look for further notices.

As you know the green 'n' whites now lead with five points on the color cup, so the spring sports are pretty important. Be ready to go all out for our colors when it is announced definitely when they'll be played. In the meantime—"practice makes perfect."

The ping pong tournament will start this week. There will be three sets of games—the girls, the boys, and a mixed set. They will be played in the form of a "round-Robin." Everyone must play everyone else and the best two out of three wins. So far, 10 girls have signed up, nine boys, and three couples of mixed players.

River Legend To Trace James' History In Pageant

River Legend, the May Day Festival theme will trace the James as a river untouched, and yet touched by time, a calm peaceful coursing of many water and many events well-known to the nation as well as native Virginians. A river is a living, pulsating heart beat of life for both man and natural surrounding him.

As one looks at a river geographically is has a beginning, upstream as it winds its way to the sea. A river's course more often remains unchanged yet its life becomes legend to those who will look down into its depths. Peoples come and go but a river always moves along either affected or not by the changes of custom and time of man. Some things remain immemorial to both the river and its peoples. It is this which River Legend attempts to explain in dance form. At times it will reveal muddy, murky, bloody pools. At other times, and most often it reveals and outward calmness, a serenity typical of its peoples.

The beginning on upstream will show the river at its source where the Cowpasture and the Jackson unite to form the James History reveals a significant event in its "Grasslands" in "Pastures" along stream when the Irish-Scotch dare to settle in the sacred or hallowed ground of the Indians. Neither wars nor massaeres can be depicted in dance form. They are better told yet the river can depict the change wrought by its peoples. As the river seethes within its torments it gains momentum to leap and fall over the rocks, both large and small in its downward coursing. It levels itself mid stream and one sees a barge typical of the ones drawn by horses alongside the banks of yesteryears. The river waterways were the chief means of transportation for life and living as it was wrested from the clay brown earth. Workers in corn and tobacco fields watch the sight go by.

The river calmly moves on sweeping a wider path for the increasing expanse which finally comes to a rest lapping at the grasses' edge of a broad green lawn with a view of life in an ancestral home as it was and will be in the hearts of men, who pay homage to womanhood. There is gaiety and laughter ringing from among the trees. Feet dance to stately yet lively measures undimned by time as the river quietly beats an eehoing refrain.

Green 'n Whites Lead On Color Cup Score In Volleyball Games

31 Apprentices Get Dramatic Club Bids

Thirty-one girls received invitations to become members of the Dramatic Club tonight at supper. These girls are Ann Terry, Katherine Terry, Betty Johnson, Clara Cullip, Josephine Johnson, Shirley Elmquist, Shirley Fahrbach, Frances Franklin, Mary Moore Karr, Jerline Korbach, Ruth Lacy, Mary Quinn and Anne Rosson.

Those also receiving invitations were Mary Crowgey, Lucy Ann Edmonds, Betty Sakeris, Carol Stoops, Billie Jane Barber, Betty Scott Barkey, Mary Crawford, Nancy Garbee, Lucy Jane Morton, Emma Mae Pittard, Billie Wood, Winnie Murdock and Mary Lee Noel.

Also, Lillian Faulkner, Carrie Ann O'Laughlin, Marion Overdehion, Kitty Alexander, Robbie Cromar and Audrey Pettit.

These girls have fulfilled all the requirements of their respective departments and have been considered and accepted by the Executive Board and the old members of the Dramatics Club.

Apprenticeship in the Dramatic Club consists of active participation in one of the six departments of the club, dependable assistance during the presentation of the fall play and the preparation of the spring play, and faithful attendance of all club meetings.

The apprentices will have their informal initiation March 29, in which they will present a stunt for the old members. Carol Stoops is in charge of this stunt and all of the apprentices will participate. The following night they will be formally initiated by an impressive ceremony in the small auditorium.

The College statue of Joan of Arc, a reproduction of Capu's "Listening" statue, owes her new ivory dress to alumnae members of Chi, local secret society, who are responsible for the recent refinishing of the statue.

Deadlock Breaks As Sophs Triumph

The last of the volleyball games were played off last week, March 23, bringing the green 'n whites to a lead of 5 points on the color cup.

The first game between the Juniors and Seniors ended with a win for the Juniors of 12-7. Those playing for the juniors were Edwards, Thrift, Cobb, Moyer, Ritter, Miller, Beard and Phillips. For the Seniors were Robertson, Page, Tilson, Wenton, Sterling, Romeo, Young and Miles. The second game was won by the Seniors 26-8.

The sophomores won over the freshmen twice. They took the first game with a score of 12-10, and the second with a score of 24-3. Those playing on the Freshmen team were Reed, Thomas, Ridenour, Weddle, Leslie, Stringfellow, Walker and Gilly. Playing for the Sophs were Pamulatte, Parham, Pollard, Velasquez, Blocton, Carper, Williams, and Taylor.

Assembly To Feature Movie About Virginia

The new Esso film on Virginia will be shown in assembly Thursday. It is tentatively planned to hold the assembly in the main recreation hall due to the necessity of setting up a screen.

According to Dr. George W. Jeffers, faculty head of the chapel committee, this film is the one which has been promised us since last spring. It has just been completed and is similar in nature to the ones previously shown at S. T. C. on Pennsylvania and North Carolina.

Farmville 'Of Course'

Continued from Page 2

is related, we Virginians who are mindful of our inreritance will echo our fathers: It was in Farmville: of course all was done that devotion could do!

Compliments of the

THE HUB

Farmville, Va.

Your Friendly Home-Owned Dept. Store

Girls, if you are interested in representing a high class cosmetic company—no door-to-door canvassing and no delivery—$50 or more weekly, call 145-W for interview.

Mrs. C. H. Dowdy

GRAYS DRUG STORE

Whitman's Candy

FOR ALL IMPORTANT OCCASIONS

Popular Phonograph Records

—AT—

J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

Surprise Her Today With a Lovely Bouquet From

BURG

Florist

"A Posey Is the Thing to Usher In the Spring."

From

COLLINS

Phone 181 Night 4

It's SPRING...

it's FLATTERNITS...

it's YOU!

Flatternit's enchanting new shades are touched with the magic of Paris in the Spring. They're sheer wisps of du Pont nylon yarn . . . heavenly to wear with your new Spring outfits! What's more, you'll find curve-compliments in their miracle fit. See them today!

FLATTERNITE HOSIERY by HUFFMAN

$1.35 and $1.65

Baldwin

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from

MARTIN THE JEWELER

Have a Hamburger Special from the COLLEGE SHOPPE

Visit us for good food and good music

THE SNACK BAR

"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

KLEANWELL CLEANERS

For Excellent Results

Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

BOWEN Inc.

Farmville Jewelers

WFLO

The Talk of The Town

870 On Your Dial

Reach For Justrite Bread Sold By

C. F. MORING

209 South Main St.

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS

VERSER'S

We strive to please

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to

ENNIS RADIO SHOP

"Recess In the Rec"

TUESDAY

3::00-3:30

WSVS—650 On Your Dial

Fire Wardens Draw Up New Set of Rules For Students

At a meeting of fire wardens held Monday night, a new set of fire regulations was drawn up. Some new fire wardens and assistants were also appointed.

During the course of the meeting, Frances Allen, fire chief, said, "Our future depends upon actions. After the past experience, it is only through justice to ourselves and to our school that we adhere to the rules and regulations of the fire council. We hope you will realize your responsibility and conform to all rules, whether you are a student, day student, faculty member, or member of the college staff."

The following list of rules and penalties were set up and approved by the council.

Night Drills

1. Everyone must leave the building when the siren sounds five times.
2. Turn on the ceiling light.
3. Put on a coat and heavy shoes.
4. Close the windows.
5. Take a book, towel, and scarf when leaving the room.
6. March in single file, leaving door open, and go out of the building at the designated place.
7. If a student is not on her own hall when the siren sounds, she should use the exit designated by the arrow at that particular place.
8. There is to be no noise during the drill.
9. There is to be absolutely no smoking.

Penalties for Breaking Rules

One call down

1. Leaving windows open.
2. Not turning on light.
3. Not leaving door open.
4. Any noise.

One Week Campus

1. For hiding or staying in your room.
2. Smoking.
3. Playing with fire extinguishers.

Day Drills

1. If teacher does not dismiss class, the students have the right to leave class.
2. The main recreation hall must be cleared.
3. Girls in the dorms go out of the building.
4. All boys, teachers, and staff are requested to leave the building.
5. You are to leave by the nearest exit.
6. There is absolutely no smoking.

Penalties for Breaking Rules

1. One week campus for staying in the building, and smoking.
2. One call down for unnecessary noise.

The following is a list of wardens, their assigned positions, and the exits to be used by the students.

Student, Annex, Gym

Third Floor Student — Bobbie Pollard, Student Lounge. Second Floor Student—Dee Hoover, Student Lounge. First Floor Annex—Betty Foster, Front of Annex. Second Floor Annex—Jenny Powell, Front of Annex. Third Floor Annex — Betsy Gravely, Front of Annex. First Floor Gym—Mildred Carter, Biology Department door. Second Floor Gym—Lillie Langfort, Biology Department. door.

Main

Second and Third Floor East Wing—Ida Burpett, Dr. Schlegal's office. Third floor Main— Phyllis Tyree, Rotunda. Second Floor Main—Panzie Parham, Rotunda. Third Floor West Wing — Pat Smith, First Floor Exit by Room 26. Second Floor West Wing—Bonnie Gerrats, First Floor Exit by Room 26. Second Floor Tacky Alley—Peggy Harris, First Floor Exit by Room 26. Third Floor Tacky Alley—Louise Cardelino, First Floor Exit by Room 26. Library Hall— Joan. Phipps, Library Hall.

Junior Building

First Floor — Harriet Bowling and Mary Crowgey, Main Door Second Floor—Barbara Sours and Joyce Webb, Main Door. Third Floor—Mary Lou Woodward and Polly Jones. Main Door.

Senior Building

Senior Lounge—Lee Robinson, Senior Entrance. Junior Lounge—Lou Bergman, Junior Entrance.

At press time, the senior building wardens and student exits were not available. These will be announced at a later date.

A monthly meeting of the fire wardens and assistants will be held under the direction of Frances Allen. Regular Attendance is requested. One absence will disqualify any warden or assistant for her position.

Frances Allen requests that students and faculty offer suggestions which they believe to be beneficial, and that they report any possible fire hazards.

Frances also said, "We hope that you will cooperate with the council to the best of your ability, and I can assure you that the council will do everything they can toward furthering fire safety".

College Journalists Bid to VIPA Meet

Invitations have been received by the Rotunda, the Colonnade, and the Virginian to attend the spring convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association to be held April 22-24 at Randolph-Macon College, Ashland.

Representatives from the three publications plan to attend the meeting at which new officers for the Association will be elected and executive secretary approved. Besides the business meeting the host school will provide panel discussions on publication problems, critiques by professional journalists, and the awarding of prizes to the outstanding publications entered for judging.

Both the Rotunda and the Colonnade will be entered for criticism and competition against other Virginia college publications.

Supervisors Arrive To Interview Seniors For Teaching Jobs

Miss Sue Ayres, director of Instruction in the Prince William county schools will be at the college, Friday April 1, for the purpose of interviewing seniors who wish teaching positions in that county next year.

On Monday, April 4, Mr. S. T. Godby and Mr. William Savage, both of the Suffolk city schools, will be here to interview seniors who wished to teach in that county.

Seniors may make appointments with these people by seeing Mrs. Mary C. Watkins, executive secretary.

Mr. L. T. Hall, supervisor of the Isle of Wight county schools was here on Tuesday, March 29, to interview seniors who wished to teach in that county.

Mr. Richmond, principal of the Martinsville high school has been here today to interview those seniors interested in teaching in Martinsville.

Longwood

Continued from Page 1

nial grant to the Johnston family from the British crown. Later the property passed into the hands of the Venable family. The present home was the birthplace of Colonel Charles Venable, a member of General Robert E. Lee's staff and for twenty years chairman of the University of Virginia faculty, a position equivalent to the present-day presidency of the University.

Commenting on the change, President Lancaster said: "I believe that under the new name the college will go forward to new heights, new attainments, and will serve the State in an ever increasing fashion."

Replacement Plan

Continued from Page 1

for the new building are those of the College physician and one College hostess. The recreation hall will be located in the basement and may be used as an auxiliary gym.

President Lancaster stated that he hopes that construction on both this building and the new auditorium will be underway by early summer of this year.

A temporary protected "catwalk" connecting Annex and Main buildings will be completed by the end of this week, weather permitting, Mr. Samuel L. Graham, College business manager stated.

Catalog For Summer Arrives From Press; Announces Workshop

The catalog for the summer session arrived from the publishers last week.

The curricula to be offered to those attending summer school will be the same as that given the regular session.

In addition to the courses which are to be offered, the college has planned several workshops and an institute. They are the Eighth-Grade Workshop, Guidance Workshop, Physical and Health Education Workshop, Workshop for Teachers, Workshop in Remedial Reading, and Student Activities Institute.

The Virginia Workshop for Teachers of Spanish has been postponed because, since the auditorium burned, there are not adequate facilities to accomodate the isolated type of community required by the Spanish Workshop.

UBEA Enlists 8 STC Students

During the recent membership drive for the United Business Education Association which is the Business Education Department of the National Education Association, the following business students became members: Jeanne Baltes, Mary Davis, Willard G. Leeper, Grace Mallory, Gladys Monk, Nancy Robertson, Mary Rose Smith, and Ruth Staples.

The professors who are members are: Mr. Norman O. Myers, Miss Ottie Craddock, Christy Sneed, Mrs. J. P. Wynne, Mr. M. L. Landrum, state membership chairman of UBEA and Mrs. Mary Witcher, supervisor of the Business Education student teachers at the Farmville High School.

Choir to Sing

The college choir will give a program of selections by modern composers on the regular S. T. C. program over WFLO Thursday at 4:30.

The selections which the choir will offer are "Salutation" by Samuel Richards Gaines, "Babylon" by J. W. Clokey, "Daybreak" arranged by Hugo Frey, "A Spring Carol" by Benjamin Britten, and "I Hear a Forest Praying" by Peter De Rose.

Students Warned About Excuses

Dean William W. Savage has announced that in the future no excuse will be accepted late by the Registrar's Office because of the student's statement that the instructor was absent from class and could not sign it. Every instructor absent from a class for any reason will designate some other member of his department to sign excuses for him. He will note the name of this person on his office door.

Students are expected to have absence slips signed and returned to the Registrar's Office within two days after an absence, excluding Sunday. They are required to see the instructors who must sign these slips within this two-day period, regardless of whether or not they have classes under the instructors during this time.

All students are urged to be familiar with the regulations regarding absences. They are listed on pages 33-38 of the STUDENT HANDBOOK.

College VWF Elects Temporary Officers

At a meeting of the recently formed S.T.C. Chapter of the United World Federalists of Va., last Thursday night, temporary officers were elected. They are: Helen Hardin, president; Polly Nassar, Vice president; Nellie Hart, secretary; Becky Mann, treasurer; and Betty Lewis Shank, publicity chairman.

Yesterday another meeting was held in order to discuss the purposes of the United World Federalists. Dr. Moss, faculty advisor to the group, was present, and the discussion was led by student members of the group.

Profesor Sarkar from Calcutta, who spoke last night in the small auditorium, was sponsored by this organization. Membership is open to all who are interested, said Helen Hardin, president.

CANTERBURY CLUB

A group of students from the local Canterbury Club will attend a conference for Episcopal students being held in Roslyn, Virginia the week end of April 2 and 3.

The subject which will be discussed by those who attend is "The Christian's Place on the College Campus."

Because of this conference, there will be no Canterbury Club meeting this week end.

Kaknis Will Accept '49 Annual Payments

Final payments on the Virginian, College annual, will be accepted at any time, Helen Kaknis, assistant business manager of the 1949 Virginian, stated today.

Payments may be given to any of the annual staff, and next week there will be a staff member stationed during the day at the table in the main building hall to collect final annual payments. Students are reminded that the total price of annuals bought on the installment plan is $6.50.

Major Offices

Continued from Page 1

Building. Offices to be considered at this time are vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the Student Government, House Council, Athletic Association and Y. W. C. A. Dining room hostess and the freshman counselor will also be nominated. The nominees for these offices will be introduced in chapel Thursday morning and elections will be held from 1:00 to 5:00 Thursday afternoon. Ballot boxes will be located on second floor annex, second floor main, third floor main and junior parlor.

Senators plan to study farm-consumer price spread.

150 Support BSU 'Bunny, Egg Week'

"Bunny and Egg Week" is being sponsored by the Baptist Student Union March 28 through April 1.

During this week, students will place, in the room of the girl whose name they have drawn, a small gift, the cost of which does not amount to more than ten cents. The names will be kept a secret during the week, but will be revealed at the B. S. U. party Friday night in the Student Center.

One hundred and fifty girls are taking part in "Bunny and Egg Week."

British remove seven jurors at Communist trial.

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Select Your Easter Outfit At The

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

New Suits, Dresses, Toppers and Coats Arriving Daily.
Exclusive but not expensive. Phone 300.

DOROTHY MAY STORE

Beauty on a budget....

Buskens* only $2.95

Watch your pennies but don't skimp on style. Buy BUSKENS . . . and prove that high fashion can be had for little money!

Fashion Headquarters for Seventeen, Charm, Glamour and Mademoiselle

DAVIDSON'S

"The House of Quality"

Whoever You Are, Whatever You Do

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA COLA COMPANY BY
YNCHBURG COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, INC.

© 1949, The Coca-Cola Company

Congratulations, New Officers

The Rotunda

Harvard Sings Tonight

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1949 | NO. 23

Hylton, Wood, Allen, Kaknis Elected to Fill Minor Offices

Other Officers Also Elected Last Week

Martha "B" Hylton, junior from Danville; Dot Wood, junior from Roanoke; Frances "Clem" Allen, junior from Richmond, and Helen Kaknis, junior from Winchester, were elected to the positions of vice-president of the Student Government, Y. W. C. A., Athletic Association and House Council respectively in the elections of minor officers held last week.

Other offices which were filled at this time were secretary and treasurer of Student Government, which will be filled by Helen Agnew, sophomore from Burkeville and Judy Hughes, junior from Charlottesville, respectively.

Virginia Spencer, sophomore from Scottsville, was also elected secretary of the Y. W. C. A., and Ann Kemp, sophomore from Richmond, was elected treasurer of this organization. Frances Turner, freshman from Cheriton, was named Freshman Counselor.

Ann Lynch, sophomore from Tazewell, was elected to serve as secretary of the Athletic Association, and Mary Crowder, a sophomore from Blackstone, was chosen as treasurer of the association.

The position of secretary of the House Council will be filled by Jackie Moody, sophomore from Toano, and Mary Helen Cook freshman from Richmond, was elected treasurer of the House Council.

This year a new system has been adopted in the dining hall. A hostess and two assistants will be in charge of the dining hall now, rather than just one hostess as has previously been the practice. Robbie Cromar, junior from Richmond, was elected to serve as hostess for the dining hall. Helen "Hank" Hardin, junior from Richmond, and Louise Redd, a junior from Chatham, will assist her.

Alpha Chapter Of Kappa Delta To Be Installed

Officers, Alumnae Guests On Campus

Installation of the reactivated Alpha Chapter of Kappa Delta Sorority will take place April 8 and 9 at Longwood College. Miss Elizabeth Winston Lanier, of Petersburg, national president, Mrs. Herbert E. Mueller, of Evanston, Illinois, national chapterian, and Miss Minnie Page Prescott, of Springfield, Missouri, Manager of Central Office, are installing officers.

MISS ELIZABETH W. LANIER, national president, Kappa Delta Sorority.

Mrs. Julia Fuqua Ober, of Norfolk, national editor of Kappa Delta, will be the principal speaker at the initiation banquet at Longwood at 6:30 p. m. on Saturday, April 9. Other members of the sorority's national council who will attend the week end ceremonies are Mrs. R. W. Campbell, Shreveport, La., national vice-president, and Mrs. Mildred Cromwell, of Omaha, Neb., national secretary.

Mrs. James Southall Wilson, of Charlottesville, one of the four founders of Kappa Delta, will be present to see her own chapter reactivated. Mrs. Wilson is wife of the dean of graduate studies at the University of Virginia, daughter of Lyan Gardiner Tyler, president of the College of William and Mary, and granddaughter of John Tyler, tenth president of the United States.

Mrs. Arthur March White, of Norfolk, the other living founder is unable to attend.

Founded in 1897

Kappa Delta sorority was founded at Farmville on October 23, 1897. In 1928, Kappa Delta placed a classic bench and sundial on the campus, dedicated to the four founders - Mary Sommerville Sparks, Julia Gardner

Continued on Page 4

Thursday Assembly To Feature Spanish Club Celebration

The Club Espanol will present a Pan American Day program in assembly Thursday, April 7.

The program will be presented in the main recreation hall. Seats will be reserved for the seniors who will march in caps and gowns. The student body is asked to assemble as quickly and quietly as possible.

Martha Hatcher, president of the Club Espanol, will open the program with a talk on the meaning of Pan Americanism.

Mrs. Josephine Phillips will present a violin solo, "Estrellita" followed by a Mexican hat dance by Peggy and Doris Lloyd.

Mr. Ralph Wakefield will sing "Princesita" after which Johnny Irvine from Hampden-Sydney will give a piano solo of "La Maiaguena."

The members of the Club Espanol will close the program with group singing under the direction of Dalila Agostini. Selections they will sing include "Las Mananitas," "La Tarara," "La Cucaracha," "La Nueva Adelita," and "La Vibora." Also "Arroz con Leche," "Panamero," "Ya Viene la Primavera," "Cielto Lindo," "La Paloma" and "La Perla."

Flags of the 21 nations who are members of the Pan American Union have been reproduced by Helen Kaknis, Ruth Hathaway and Dolores Waterfield. These will be used to decorate the impromptu stage.

The entire program is under the direction of Dalila Agostini.

Pan American Day is April 14 but since there will be no assem-

Continued on page 4

Roady, Gravely, Jardine To Head Classes Next Year

Other Officers Also Selected

Norma Roady, Betsy Gravely, and Jackie Jardine were elected as presidents of their respective classes at the class elections last night.

Norma Roady from Newport News will serve as president of the class of 1950. Student government representatives frfom this class are Nancy Lee Maddox and Frankie Dodson. Jo Ann Phipps will fill the newly created office of House president.

Denise Love was elected vice-president of the class, Beverly Smethie secretary and Page Burnett treasure.

Betsy Gravely from Martinsburg was reelected as president of the present sophomore class. Louise Taylor and Romine Mahood will represent the class of 1951 on Student Goernment Council. Bobby Pollard was elected House president.

Other officers elected by the sophomores were vice-president Betsy Wilson; secretary, Ruth Gilis; and treasurer, Patty Walker. Charlotte Williams and Betty McCree will represent this class on Student Standards.

Jackie Jardine of Farmville was re-elected as president of the class of 1952. Ann Motley and Martha Alice Wilson will represent the present freshman class on the Student Government Council. Maria Jackson will fill the position of House president.

Shirley Livesay, Bootie Voarch, and Margaret Thomas will serve as vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the class. Marian Beckner and Jean Kiden-

Continued on page 4

Seniors Secure Future Positions

Several senior students have signed contracts for teaching or other positions to be entered after their graduation this June.

Those who have signed teaching contracts are Rives Edwards who will teach in Danville; Mary Neale Garrett, in Henrico County; Grace B. Mallory, in Lawrence; and Mildred W. Keith, in Henrica County.

Also Peggy Anne Smith, in Gloucester County, Frances DeBerry, in Norfolk; Jean Craig, in Norfolk; Margaret Wilson, in Pacific Mills, Brookneal, and Betty Pel Jordan, in Portsmouth.

Betty Pairet and Gwendolyn Rose Smith will take positions as statisticians at Langley Field.

Notices of the contracts signed by other senior girls will be printed in succeeding issues of the Rotunda.

Spanish Club to Give Program On WFLO

On Thursday, April 7 at 4:30 P. M., a group of Spanish club members will appear on the Longwood College radio program heard weekly over station WFLO. The Spanish program is being presented in conection with the celebration of Pan American day.

A varied selection of Spanish songs will be featured on the program. Students who will participate in the singing are Dot Dodd, June Banks, Ann Nock, Anna Famulatte, Helen Kaknis, Betty Baker, Allie Jane Felton, and Ann McMullin.

Also appearing with the group will be Maria Jackson, Helen Agnew, Dolores Waterfield, Dona Staples, Olga Rodriquez, and Dalila Agostini.

In assembly Thursday morning the Spanish club will also present a similar program to the student body.

Walker Chosen Head Of Commercial Club

In a recent meeting, the Commercial Club elected new officers for the coming year.

Ruth Walker will succeed Billie Mullins as president of the organization; Connie Marston succeeds Ruth Walker as vice-president; Max Acree succeeds Gertrude Walker English as secretary; Pat Walker succeeds Arnette Snead as treasurer; Janice Slavin was re-elected as reporter; and Mr. Norman O. Myers will Succeed Mrs. J. P. Wynne as adviser of the club.

Longwood College Presents Harvard Glee Club Tonight In Final Lyceum of Session

Dramatic Club Holds Elections

Ferguson, House, Smith Head Group

Betty Ferguson, junior from Prospect, was elected to serve as president of the Dramatic Club in the elections held Tuesday night following a production presented by the apprentices of the club as part of their initiation.

Betty House, former president of the club, was elected to serve as vice-president in charge of production, and Mary B. Smith was elected vice-president in charge of programs.

Nancy Lee Maddox will fill the position of secretary and Robbie Cromar was named as treasurer and business manager. Jean Smith was elected assistant business manager and publicity agent.

The departmental heads were also elected at this time. Frances "Shang" Ferguson was elected to serve as head of the Acting Department, and Jane Grey will serve as head of the Lighting Department.

Josephine Johnson was named head of the Properties Department, Carrie Ann O'Loughlin will serve as head of the Make-up Department, and Jean Cunningham was elected head of the Staging Department. Lucy Jane Wharton was elected head of the Costumes Department, and Betty Scott Borkey will serve as assistant in charge of renting costumes.

Ruth Lacy was elected to be in charge of posters, and Helen Hardin was named head of the play contest. Ann Nock and June Banks will make up the Social Committee.

Langbein Names Colonnade Staff

Anne Langbein, editor-in-chief of the Colonnade, has appointed the staff for the 1949-50 Colonnades.

Maria Jackson will replace Mary Leigh Meredith as short story editor. The position of essay editor, formerly held by Polly Nasser, will be taken over by Jackie Jardine. Barbara Andrews will serve as poetry editor, replacing Betty Spindler.

Janice Slavin will fill the position of movie review editor again. Lila Easley will serve as circulation manager, which position was formerly held by Maude Savage. Katie Cobb who formerly served as co-humor editor with Love Bently will be humor editor.

Helen Arrington will replace Eula Ayres as art editor. Peg Peery will serve as staff photographer, which position was filled by Lee Robertson.

The annual Colonnade poetry contest closing date has been postponed. The closing date, formerly set for April 1, will be April 15 at 6:00 P. M. No poems entered after this date will be considered for competition.

Dean Will Assign Rooms April 11

Students to Give Preferences Mon.

Rooming blanks will be distributed to the students in the dining hall Monday night, April 11, Dean Ruth Gleaves recently announced.

Girls are asked to give first, second, and third choices for a room, and assignments will be made as nearly in keeping with requests as possible. It is important that students remember to give the name of their future roommates and suitemates. These rooming blanks should be given to the table hostess who will turn them in to the Dean of Women.

The $10 deposit required to hold a room should be paid to Miss Hiner in the Treasurer's office, and the receipt brought to Dean Ruth Gleave's office any time between the hours of 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. during the week beginning April 11. At this time definite room assignments will be given.

Major officers, House Presidents, and Hall Presidents will be given room preference. No other offices formerly holding priorities will be recognized.

Sophomores will be housed in Annex, Student and New Addition buildings. Post Office Hall rooms will be assigned to those who could not be accommodated in the above mentioned buildings. Main Building will be used entirely for freshman rooms.

A student who signs up for a room, pays the required deposit, and then finds she cannot return to school, must notify the college by June 30 in order to get a refund. No refunds will be made after that date.

AKG Sponsors Dance In Rec' Saturday For Petty Cash Fund

The main rec' will be the scene of a juke box dance Saturday night to be sponsored by the Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma, leadership fraternity, Dot Daniel, chairman of the dance announced that tickets which can be bought at the door at 8 p. m. will be ten cents each.

According to Dot, the local circle of A. K. G. is sponsoring this dance as part of a current project to raise a petty cash fund for the College to be placed at the disposal of Miss Ruth Gleaves, Dean of Women.

The projected emergency fund would be used for the purchase of such items as lamps, vases, ash trays, note paper, a daily paper to be placed in the rotunda, and other small equipment for the College. At present, Dot says, these items can be acquired only by a rather complicated procedure involving "red tape."

The A. K. G. juke box danc Saturday night will be open to the student body.

Those who have been invited to chaperone the dance are Miss Anna Headlee, Miss Elizabeth Burger, and Miss Florence Stubbs, associate members of the A K G. also Mrs. Mabel McCoy, Miss Evelyn Hamner and Mrs. Mary Johnson of the home department.

Group To Present Easter Selections

College Choir Will Join in 3 Numbers

The College will present the Harvard Glee in a concert in the auditorium of the Methodist Church tonight at 8:30. This will be the last Lyceum program of this session.

The group of 50 men, directed by Professor G. W. Woodworth, will be joined on the last three numbers by the College Choir.

Frist selection on the program will be "My Spirit, Be Joyful" by Bach from Cantata 146, for the third Sunday after Easter, composed in 1740. This will be followed by "Crucifixus" by Lotti, and "Ave Verum Corpus" by Byrd from Gradualia, Book I, composed in 1605.

The Glee Club will also present "Psalm 121" by Milhaud written for the Harvard Glee Club in 1921, Two Songs from Apolonian Harmony composed in 1790, "Corydon; A Pastoral" by Dr. Arne, and "Bacchinal" by Cocchi.

Following intermission the group will sing "Tarantella" by Randall and Thompson, and "O Isis and Osiris," from the Magic Flute by Mozart. This will be followed by two folk songs which will include 'Gentle Johnny," arranged by Bingham, and "The Old Maid's Song" arranged by Brockway.

The group will also present the opening scene from "Othello" by Verdi.

The last three selections will consist of choruses arranged for mixed voices. The Harvard Glee Club will be joined in these by the College Choir. "And the Glory of the Lord" by Handel, "Alleluia" by Thompson, and "Hallelujah" by Handel.

Dean Gleaves Names Campus Committee

A campus committee recently organized to cooperate with the Exterior Committee of the college has been appointed by Dean Ruth Gleaves.

Mr. S. L. Graham, college business manager, will serve as chairman with representatives from the classes working with him. From the junior class, Winifred Beard, Helen Hardin, and Calvin Hatcher have been appointed. Helen Agnew, Sallie Droste, and Virginia Westbrook will represent the sophomore class. The freshmen who will serve on the committee are Jacqueline Jardine, Frances Franklin, and Nell Gilley.

Two students from the class entering next year will be chosen next fall.

The Campus Committee, whose first meeting was held Tuesday, April 5, plans to protect the college campus from destruction through carelessness. The Exterior Committee, with which the former group will work, is responsible for the landscaping and upkeep of the college grounds.

The Campus Committee will meet next week to elect officers. The students who have been appointed to serve on this committee will hold their positions for one year, but may be appointed at the beginning of a new session.

Eyeing The Estate

As the College dons its new name, all eyes are focused more sharply on the estate from which the College derives its new appellation, Longwood Estate, one of the most important social and recreation centers of the College. Can the Estate in its present condition hold its own under the closer scrutiny it will receive from now on? Careful inspection of the house and grounds of the Estate suggests a negative answer to this question, revealing that the Estate is perhaps not as well kept as it might be.

Most glaring of the shortcomings of the Estate is the crying need for repainting. That this has been neglected for several years is clearly indicated by the too obvious spots of chipping and peeling on the front porch of the house. Some improvements, perhaps not feasible at the present time, that would give to the house a more gracious aspect are new wall paper, draperies, and replacement of some of the furniture which has been removed.

The picnic area of the Estate is thought by some to be too densely wooded; and certainly the paths should be better cleared. Grates would be useful additions to the fireplaces, one of which is in a very bad state of repair. Some students have suggested that a fountain be placed in the picnic area, since the only alternative to going to the main house for water is to get it from the nearby spring where the water, besides being unsafe for drinking, is not easily accessible.

Particularly noticeable in the picnic area but also evident in all the Estate grounds is an unsightly litter of paper, cans, bottles, broken glass, and other debris. This could easily be remedied by more care on the part of students and visitors, and by the advantageous placing of a few cans for trash disposal.

The critical eye of the visitor to the Estate is likely to be attracted to the damaged boxwoods in front of the house. Removal and (or) replacement of these shrubs would enhance one of the most prominent parts of the Estate. The need for a gardener can be seen in the absence of cultivated flowers. Further inspection of the Estate grounds reveals that the sun dial lacks an indicator.

It should be pointed out that although it may not be possible to take action at once on some of the defects listed here, something can and should be done now about the trash which is strewn about the Estate. Students and friends must be able to point to the Estate whose namesake Longwood College is and take pride in its appearance. The College is fortunate to own what is acknowledged to be one of the oldest and most beautiful homes in Southside Virginia, a home distinguished by a long line of prominent former residents. Care must be taken to preserve the appearance and upkeep of the Estate, or its fine traditions will be lost, and the very name of the College will lose much of its meaning.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 28, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of State Teachers College Farmville, Virginia.

Office Student Building Phone 343, Box 168
Printers The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Assn. Associated Collegiate Press
Rating (ACP) 1st Class-Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 16, 1939 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Jacqueline Eagle — Editor-in-Chief
Mary Leigh Meredith — Managing Editor
Janice Slavin — Business Manager
Jean Smith — Desk Editor
Joan Prichett — Assistant News Editor

Reporters

Pat Smith, Joyce Hamlet, Jean Otis Loving
Mary Crowgey — Feature Editor

Feature Writers

Claudia Anderson, Janice Slavin, Betty Ferguson, Joan Prichett, Betty Lewis Shank
Ann Lynch — Sports Editor
Winnifred Beard — Sports Writer
Helen Arrington — Art Editor
Peggy Perry — Photographer
Beverly Smethie — Advertising Manager
Grace Thompson — Circulation Manager

Business Assistants

Millie Cutter, Peggy Harris, Edith Kennon, Lucy Vaughan, Virginia Dare Wood

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1949

It Can Happen!

One month ago today, our auditorium building was destroyed by fire. Fortunately no one was injured and no life was lost.

On April 23, the Cotillion Club will hold its spring dance. The gymnasium will be decked in its gayest finery, which in addition to being gay, happens also to be highly inflammable. At least 250 Cotillion Club members, their dates, and their friends will be there. What would happen if a fire were then to break out in the gymnasium?

The crepe paper and freshly waxed floors would make it a rapid fire. Evening dresses would slow down the speed of exit. There would probably be panic, injury, and perhaps death.

Such a thought, made more realistic in our minds by the recent holocaust, causes us to consider very seriously the need for definite safety measures in the gymnasium.

It is probable that we need more accessible exits from the gymnasium. The Rotunda recommends that a study of this be made by the college authorities. At the present time, there is a door leading from the gymnasium floor to the shower room and another leading to the outside door between the gymnasium and the swimming pool. On the balcony there is a door leading into the dormitory and another leading outside under the colonnade. To reach these latter two doors persons must climb one flight of steps from the gymnasium floor to the balcony. Thus, it is probable that another door, leading outside the building, should be installed somewhere in the gymnasium, perhaps on the North Street side.

Other action that should be taken, beginning with the dance on April 23, is the following:

1. All doors leading from the gymnasium floor or balcony should be unlocked or so arranged that even if they are locked from the outside they are unlocked on the inside.

2. The class or organization sponsoring a dance should be held responsible for enforcing the no-smoking regulations on the floor and on the balcony. Women students should be responsible for forbidding their dates to smoke in either place. Call downs should be given in all cases of failure to comply with these regulations.

3. Lighted exit signs should be placed over every exit.

4. A campus policeman or a town fireman should be asked to be present at all times to enforce fire regulations.

5. Decorations should be made as nearly fireproof as possible.

The Rotunda cannot urge too strongly that immediate attention be given to these recommendations by both the college officials and the students.

OUR WORLD

By Betty Lewis Shank

"It's against the U. N. charter!" cried Russia. But Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, the United Kingdom, and the United States stuffed cotton in their ears, took out their fountain pens and calmly signed the Atlantic Pact Monday in Washington.

Russia also maintains that the Pact is in disagreement with her non-aggression treaties with France and Britain. We who signed the Pact want to know why Russia should have such a strong distaste for the alliance unless she has aggression somewhere in the back of her mind.

SOPHISTICATED RAT

Long live Longwood! Just think, freshmen, we are the first class to be able to go all four years to Longwood. I guess that makes us plutocrats!

How uncooperative can the sun get? This past week-end, the sunworshipers were all ready and waiting to get up on the roof and get that wonderful suntan. But, alas, friend sun failed to make his grand entrance. He merely frowned all week end and forced the unhappy and disappointed people to play bridge or even study the whole time!

Have you heard any wild exclamations and hearty congratulations these past few days? To let you in on a little info, it's all about a freshman who went away from S. T. C. a free woman and came back an engaged one. Kitty Alexander, the lucky lady, is one beaut!

It seems as though Richmond was the meeting spot for a number of our classmates last weekend. Joyce Lucs, Audrey Pettit, Jane Lee Kellogg, Shirley Goulder, Kacky McCready and Foster were the people who seem to have had the convention. It must have been fun.

So Dolores Hoback and Phyllis Tyree had a big one this weekend when they went to Annapolis to the big dance. Hoey says that sailing trip Sunday was just the thing!

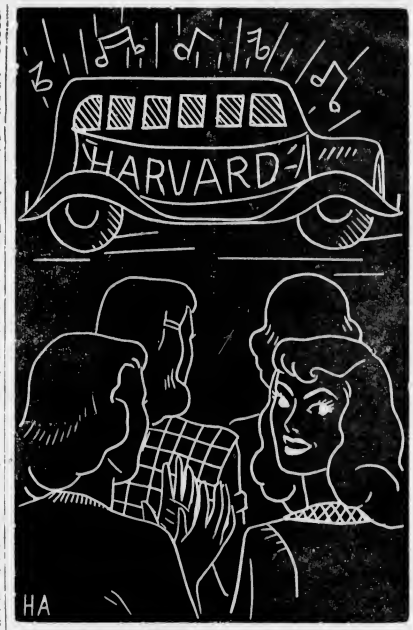
Watch it, Nancy Walker. You never know what's going to happen when Lucyle Humphries is along. When is the next trip to Virginia?

Maria Jackson came back Sunday with a bouquet of violets. Did she cast a spell on a certain "old friend"? One can never tell about Jackson.

Well, must be off! The bums of 2nd Main are calling a meeting to discuss future plans and this one must attend. Be good (?) and 'bye now.

After some preliminary snooping around, we all found out who our "Bunnies" were! And thanks to the B. S. U. we all had a wonderful time getting little surprises every day. Of course, though, Romine and Gilley always have to do everything the hard way, but they had fun, too!

Speaking of bunnies, Gris is hopping around like one getting ready for the big event in June. She won't be able to set her feet on the ground 'til the wedding bells ring.



And then speaking of rings "Luck Liz" Nuttall has a mate for the sparkler she's been wearing and is now a Mrs. As we always say, there's no time like the present and she seems to be right happy about it all!

Lizzie and Hank finally got their ride Friday afternoon after waiting only three hours! But from their reports of the week-end, it was worth it—especially Liz who thinks there's nothing like those cherry trees in Washington!

Shang Ferguson really hit the big time this week-end—The Deep Run Hunt Club races, no less. Just one of the "horsy-set," no doubt!

Of course, though, the biggest thing that's hit Farmville since changing the name of the school is the Pyramid Club. Naturally there are many skeptics (i. e., people who don't have a dollar) but it seems to be moving full-blast through the college. Remember, don't break the chain!

Just counting the days 'til Easter vacation (seven of 'em). A little break here will do a lot of good!

Hear Harvard Tonight!

Campus Cogitations

"What is your opinion on the last issue of The Colonnade?"

Maxine Watts: I think it was very well organized.

Jo Ann Yow: I enjoyed it. I wish it would come out more often.

Jane Calahan: I think it represents a lot of work on the part of the editors.

Betty Baker: I liked it because as a whole it was very interesting and the articles were well written.

Helen Hardin: The theme is very timely, and it deserves our utmost interest.

Anne McMullan: I think that the last issue of THE COLONNADE had an excellent selection of articles; there was more of a variety than usual.

Ada Robles: The theme was excellent, and more attention and thought should be given to it.

Patti Page: I think it was fine except that I think some cartoons could be used, and the reading matter could be more satirical.

Irma Allison: I thought it was wonderful, especially "A Truth." I sent a copy of it to Georgia.

Louann Mears: The issue was great. I really enjoyed the article "It's the Way that Makes the Difference" by "C. C." Callahan.

Frances Deberry: I think there is room for improvement — more variety, especially in the type of stories.

Miss Emily Barksdale: Just as the Christmas Concerts are representative of the work of the Choral Club, the plays of the Dramatic Club, the fashion shows of the Home Economics Club, the language clubs of the Modern Language Department, I think the "Colonnade" should be the organ of the English Department, publishing the best work of the various classes.

Jan Peebles: I enjoyed reading the last issue of the "Colonnade" very much.

Nancy McCraken: I especially enjoyed "A Truth" by Barbara Andrews.

Betsy Wilson: The jokes were much better this time.

Martha Hatchett: I'm still laughing. Mucho good!

Anne Nock: Haven't had time to read it yet. I have to read the New York Times for Mr. Wakefield.

Page Joyner: I thought it was interesting.

Jane Mountjoy: "A Truth" by Barbara Andrews was just wonderful. I like the jokes, too.

Dot Gregory: Should like to say "Congratulations, Anne, and to your fine staff! 'Twas very interesting."

Paintings Hanging Here May Start Virginian Collection

By MARY JO SMITH

The paintings, Virginia Hills and Spring Afternoon, which are now hanging in the rotunda are here on approval for possible purchase for gifts to the college.

A number of the faculty and students at Longwood are interested in starting a collection of original paintings for the college, particularly those done by Virginia artists. Some individuals feel that either or both of the paintings now hanging would be a good start for such a collection.

Virginia Hills, a painting done by Charles W. Smith of Charlottesville, is a water color representing the scenery around his home.

Mr. Smith, through his artistry is represented in more than twenty-five permanent collections in museums of art throughout the country. Four of the Virignia collections in which Mr. Smith's paintings have been hung are Hollins College Collection, Valentine Museum, in Richmond, College of William and Mary, Fredericksburg, and the Virginia Museum of Fine Art.

Mr. Smith is also an illustrator of books and a contributor of woodcuts to magazines.

Spring Afternoon, which is a water color portraying the statue of the Confederate soldier across the srteet from the college was done by Mrs. Janice Lemen, assistant professor of art here.

A water color painting of Mrs. Lemen's was recently displayed in the Seventh Annual Irene Leach Exhibition at the Norfolk Museum of Arts and Sciences. New England Church, an oil painting also done by Mrs. Lemen, is now being exhibited in the Twelfth Biannual Competitive Exhibition of Virginia Artists at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts in Richmond.

Ten Students Win Cigarette Contest

In a recent contest sponsored by the Chesterfield Cigarette Company in the March issue of the Colonnade, 10 Longwood College students won a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes each.

The winners were Sara Cregar, Betsy Carper, Frances Cregar, Jimmy Thompson, Patsy Kimbrough, Jane Williams, Norma Roady, Marjorie Boswick, Judy Hughes, and Cab Overby.

GRAYS DRUG STORE

"Candy Is Handy"
For All Occasions

Try Our
Whitman's Candy

Art Class Shows 8 Student Works

Eight paintings have been put on display in the Snack Bar just above the booths. These pictures were painted by art students of the College, four of whom were in the first semester oil painting class, and three who are in the class of the current semester.

"Still Life with Magnolia Leaves" was done by Alice Jordan; "Winter Landscape" and "Still Life" by Pattie Page; "Rotunda in the Snow" by Elizabeth Buck; "Episcopal Church" by Shirley Elmquist; "Senior Building Steps" by Peggy Smith; "S. T. C. Abstracted" by Ann Orgain, and "Entrance to Senior Building" by Rives Edwards.

The paintings have been put on exhibit for the interest and benefit of S. T. C. students. Campus artists are urged to contribute examples of their work.

SPORTIN' AROUND

There's a lull right now in sports since we are right between basketball-volleyball and tennis. However it won't be for long because the tennis courts are ready and the girls playing for the colors (Agnew, Ritter, Langbein, and Gilley) are already brushing up on their strokes.

The National Intercollegiate Telegraphic Meet was held last week. This meet is to show the comparative scores for time taken to swim different strokes. As yet we haven't heard the outcome but soon we hope to know our standing in the nation. Those swimming in the meet were Anna Famulatte, Love Bentley, Pat Page, Jean Ridenour, Jessee Pickett, Nancy Walker, and Liz Leslie.

Already we see girls going around with "beet faces" from sunning on the roof. Get a good foundation now, but don't forget when you go home this summer that your summer sports (swimming, golf, and tennis) will keep that suntan intact!

COLOR CUP SCORES

Red 'n White		Green 'n White
?	Tennis	?
?	Archery	?
5	Hockey	5
0	Volleyball	10
5	Basketball	5
5	Swimming	0
?	Softball	?
15	Total	20

NOTE: Tennis, archery, and softball haven't yet been played.

Dr. Lancaster to Go To Conference Sat.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster will attend a statewide conference on secondary education at Sweet Briar College Saturday, April 9.

At the morning session, Dr. Lancaster will lead a round-table discussion on high school education.

Prominent speakers attending the conference will be Dean George B. Zehmer of the University of Virginia, Mr. Z. T. Kyle, assistant supervisor of Secondary Education in the Virginia State Department of Education, and Dr. Martha Lucas, President of Sweet Briar College.

Other guests attending the conference will be representatives of the high schools and colleges in the state of Virginia.

2 Seniors Attend Tea in Roanoke

Jane Taylor and Dot Daniel, seniors, attended a tea and panel discussion held by Eta and Theta chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary education society, in Roanoke, Saturday, April 2. Miss Kate Smith Trent, supervisor in the Farmville elementary school, accompanied them.

Dot and Jane participated in discussions of "Why I Chose Teaching as a Profession", and "The Joys and Difficulties of Student Teaching". Dr. Irving R. Silverman, professor of foreign languages at Radford College, served as moderator of the discussions in which education students from Radford College, Mary Washington College, and Madison College participated.

Theta Sig's Celebrate

Members of the Theta Sigma Upsilon sorority celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the sorority with a banquet in the Tea Room Saturday evening, April 2.

Guests at the banquet were Dean Ruth Gleaves, Dean and Mrs. Savage, Mrs. Mabel McCoy and Miss Lucile Jennings, adviser to the sorority.

Theta Sig alumnae who returned for the Founder's Day celebration were Hilda Abernathy, June Cregar, Addie Dodd, Lucy Bowling Potts, Jeanne Tolley and June Tolley.

India Anxious For Americanization, Prof. Sarkar Says

Offers U. S. Great Chance To Build World Democracy

A free and "now stable" India is waiting and anxious to become a part of the "Americanization of mankind" that is turning out to be "the prominent characteristic of world-history during the second half of the Twentieth century" Dr. Benoy Sarkar said in his address here Wednesday night.

Speaking on "India and America" before an audience of students and townspeople, the University of Calcutta professor, who is making his third American visit, said that "a great field for American enterprise exists in India today."

American statesmanship needs to understand the importance and opportunity of providing advisors and equipment for India's farms, factories, universities, professional and technological institutes, social work departemnts, etc., to make her capable of greater and more efficient cooperation with the people of the U. S. A. in the world-economic and the world-political system of the UNO pattern, he said.

Vast Changes

The Indian economist and educator said that today India is undergoing a fundamental change, based on the Western concept, in agriculture, industry, sanitation, transportation and education, and that vast masses of her 400,000,000 people are undergoing a steady march toward the democratic way of life.

American cooperation, he believes, during the period of change will do much to insure India's becoming a cultural and spiritual ally of the world's creative thinkers and workers in the reconstruction of the vast continent on the basis of freedom, democracy and prosperity.

Speaking of India's relations with England, Dr. Sarkar said it is a mistake to assume, as many people do, that India is bitter and resentful.

Friends of England

"Today," he said, "there is no question of enmity. They are strong allies, with friendly relations." He added that the British people by formally renouncing its political hold on India has opened up a new, better epoch of international relations, and that In-

Continued on page 4

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

THEY'RE BRAND NEW!
THEY'RE OUR CLEVER
"FANCY PANTS"
Created by ROSALIND

A. Dainty Briefs with delicate lace trim. In cool pastel shades of blue, tearose, maize, and white. Sizes 5, 6, and 7. — A. 1.00

B. "Step-In" with lovely self-eyelet trim. In maize, white, tearose and blue. In sizes 5, 6, 7, and 8. — B. 1.35

C. Net Applique Embroidered Panty with val lace edging. In white, tearose and blue. Sizes 5, 6, and 7. — C. 1.59

Baldwin's

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from
MARTIN THE JEWELER

BOWEN Inc.
Farmville Jewelers

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

KLEANWELL CLEANERS
For Excellent Results
Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

Have a Hamburger Special from the
COLLEGE SHOPPE

Be the Hit in the Easter Parade
BUY YOUR NEW SPRING OUTFIT AT
THE HUB
Farmville, Va.
"Farmville's Busiest and Best Department Store!"

Popular Phonograph Records
—AT—
J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Surprise Her Today With a Lovely Bouquet From
BURG
Florist

"A Posey Is the Thing to Usher In the Spring."
From
COLLINS
Phone 181 Night 4

WFLO
The Talk of The Town
870 On Your Dial

GIFTS FOR THE MAN OF YOUR DREAMS
VERSER'S
We strive to please

WSVS
"Recess In the Rec"
TUESDAY-
3::00-3:30
WSVS—650 On Your Dial

From the Land of the ICE CREAM Star!
Buttered Pecan

A Pet Ice Cream flavor you'll long remember -- once you've tasted the wonderful combination of plump pecan halves...crisp roasted and buttered ...and the rich, sweet cream flavor of Pet Ice Cream!

And remember...Pet Ice Cream is made only of daily fresh whole milk and daily fresh sweet cream! Buy a pint or two of Pet Buttered Pecan, today!

Taste the Fresh Cream in Pet Ice Cream

WHO'S —IN THE— Senior Spotlight?

This college really made a lucky gain when ???? came here from Georgetown Visitation Junior College last year as a junior. In the two years that she has been at L. C., everyone has learned to "love" the overready smile and friendly way on which she has her own priority.

An English major, this talented senior has visions of a career in journalism some day. Right now she says she wants to teach with her roommate in any place that has electric lights, running water and some good parties thrown in every now and then.

This senior personality is a member of Beore Eh Thorn, Cotillion Club, Choir, Alpha Sigma Tau, and the Colonnade staff. In her junior year, she was the managaing editor of The Rotunda.

During the week end following Easter vacation, the senior in this column's spotlight will journey to North Carolina State where she will lead the figure in PiKA ball, and it's a sure bet that she is really the right gal to represent L. C. at an affair like that.

Anywhere a gay time is being had, one L. C. senior by the name of ???? is bound to be in the middle of it all. Always ready with a wry touch of humor, she can be found every day at 10:15 in the Snack Bar boring over her last-minute homework while she discusses the "latest" that her business students at Farmville High School broke forth with.

With a sparkling personality to match her red hair, ???? is a member of a large number of clubs and organizations here. She is treasurer of the Pan-Hellenic Council, a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Cotillion Club, Future Teachers of America, Commercial Club, Student Government Council, and Alpha Sigma Tau.

Our subject, a business major, has great hopes of obtaining a teaching job in Hawaii. Of course, this plan is very indefinite, but with the determination this lassie has, anything can happen!

Ed. note: Starting in this issue is a series of sketches of seniors rated as "personalities" by the Rotunda staff in the election which regularly precedes this annual feature. This year it is left to the readers to recognize the seniors from their descriptions. Names of the two in this week's spotlight will be given next week.

Thursday Assembly

Continued from page 1

biy that day because of Easter holidays the Club Espanol has chosen tomorrow, April 7, for their Pan American celebration.

Class Heads

Continued from page 1

our wil serve on Student Standards.

Dr. Marvin Schlegel was re-elected to serve as classman for the class of 1952.

India Anxious

Continued from Page 3

dia has recognized this as reason for becoming a colleague of England in world-politics.

This new epoch, he believes, will be marked by economic and cultural cooperation between "advanced and under-developed peoples" without the political domination of one by the other.

Speaking specifically to the State Teachers College portion of his audience, Prof. Sarkar pointed out that in modern India women are accorded a high place in all phases of life.

"Twenty-five per cent of the students in all schools are women," he said. "They have entered all walks of life, including political administration", and even one is an ambassador.

Communism

Asked what the status of Communism in India, Dr. Sarkar said that the situation "is uncertain". England and America held Russia up as a friend and exponent of democracy during the war, and the fact is still remembered in his country, he said.

He implied, however, that it had not made much headway. Of India's 3,000,000 industrial workers, only 75,000 to 100,000 are unionized, and the Communists have not yet been able to penetrate political life to any extent, he said.

Dr. Sakar, whose American tour is sponsored by the Institute of International Education, voiced a dire prophecy, if the cooperation sought does not materialize.

"Without effective cooperation between India and the United States," he said, "world peace cannot become a reality."

The visiting professor, who has traveled extensively in Europe, Asia, Africa and America, speaks and writes fluently in a half-dozen languages. His English vocabulary is correct and precise, but an accent made it somewhat difficult to follow him.

Alpha Chapter

Continued from page 1

Tyler, Sara Turner, and Lenore Ashmore. On March 6, 1948, the Sorority presented five hundred dollars to the Jarman Memorial Organ Fund.

Gamma Theta is the local sorority being installed as Kappa Delta's reactivated Alpha Chapter. Twenty-six active members will be initiated, and more than fifty alumnae of Gamma Theta are becoming members of Kappa Delta at the same initiation.

Faculty initiates are Miss Florence Stubbs, advisor to Gamma Theta, Miss Grace E. Mix, patron of Gamma Theta and retired member of the faculty, and Mrs. M. Boyd Coyner, Alumnae Secretary.

Gamma Theta, founded March 22, 1911, has a total membership of four hundred, with 378 living alumnae. College members and alumnae have donated a total of $2,500 to the Gamma Theta Memorial Loan Fund and $250 to the Jarman Memorial Organ Fund. Miss Jacquelynn Watson, of Hampton, is president of the installation group.

Local Committees

Mrs. W. M. Holladay, first national president of Kappa Delta and an initiate of Alpha Chapter, assisted by Mrs. Andrew Packer of Hampden-Sydney, gave the ribbon pledging service in January. Mrs. Packer is chairman and toastmistress for the installation banquet, and Mrs. Holladay has charge of invitations.

Mrs. T. G. Hardy, chairman of the committee for the fourth reception, is assisted by Mrs. A. M. DuMuth and Mrs. Edmund Hubard, together with Miss Catherine Alexander and Miss Mary Crawford, both of Richmond, members of the installation group.

Mrs. F. R. Crawford, chairman, has as her decorations committee the following college members: Miss Irma Poarch, of Emporia; Miss Helen Smith, of Lynchburg; Miss Denise Love, of Dundas, and Miss Helen Casey, of Charlottesville.

The first degree service will be held at 3 p. m., Friday April 8, the second degree Saturday morning at 8:30 a. m., and initiation beginning at 1 p. m. on Saturday afternoon.

Reception

A formal reception for faculty members, representatives of other campus groups, initiates, and visitors will be held in the Student Lounge from 8 to 10 p. m. Friday.

On Sunday, April 10, national officers, initiates, and visitors will attend church in a body following breakfast at the Longwood estate at 8:30 a. m.

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE
Come in and try 'em
then you'll buy 'em
Our straw bags—natural and natural with colored trim — styles in shoulder straps or handles.
$2.98-$4.98 plus tax
DOROTHY MAY STORE

Shopping Can Be Fun And Refreshing, Too

5¢

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY
YNCHBURG COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, INC.
© 1947 The Coca-Cola Company

"I like Chesterfield's MILDER, better taste. It's MY cigarette."
Joan Crawford
STARRING IN "FLAMINGO ROAD"
A MICHAEL CURTIZ PRODUCTION
RELEASED BY WARNER BROS.

The TOP MEN of AMERICA'S SPORTS smoke CHESTERFIELD
JACK KRAMER says... "MILDER—MUCH MILDER... and really satisfying. That's Chesterfield and that's MY cigarette."
MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE
Always Buy CHESTERFIELD
MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELDS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE . . . BY LATEST NATIONAL SURVEY
Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Miss Terry

See
Frosh Show

The Rotunda

Happy
Easter Holiday

VOLUME XXVIII FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1949 NO. 24

VMI Commanders To Play At Cotillion Dance April 23

New Club Members To Decorate Gym

The Spring Cotillion Dance will be held in the Longwood College gymnasium at 8:00 p. m. Saturday, April 23.

The V. M. I. Commanders of Lexington will provide the music for the dance, Evelyn Patterson, president of the Club announced today.

The gymnasium will be decorated by the spring goats in the Club's colors, yellow and green. Helen Hardin and Robbie Cromar are in charge of the decorating committe. Assisting on this committee are Betty Ann Barker, Nancy Bruce and Ann Nock.

Betty Jefferson is serving as chairman of the music committee.

The figure will be composed of the old members of the Cotillion Club, including the fall goats. This figure will be led by Ruth Ellen Mears.

The receiving line will consist of Dr. and Mrs. Dabney Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. M. Boyd Coyner; Miss Ruth Gleaves; Evelyn Patterson, president of the Club; Ruth Ellen Mears, figure leader; Ann Ford, secretary-treasurer; and Betty Jefferson, business manager.

Chaperones for the dance will include Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wakefield, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Brumfield, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. G. Moss, Mr. Raymond French, Mrs. Caroline Eastham, Miss Olive Iler, Mrs. J. M. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Christy Snead, Mrs. Katherine Tabb, Mrs. Louise Dugger, Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Schlegel, and members of the college administration.

DSE Sorority Installs Chapter

Phi Zeta Sigma, local sorority at Longwood College, was pledged to become a chapter in the national social sorority, Delta Sigma Epsilon, Wednesday evening in the Chapter room in the Student building.

Mrs. Alton Riddleberger of Louisa, Kentucky, former National Editor of The Shield, national publication of Delta Sigma Epsilon, was in charge of installation exercises.

The formal ceremonies at which Phi Zeta Sigma will become the Alpha Psi Chapter of Delta Sigma Epsilon will be held at Longwood College in May, 1949.

Five Represent LC At MWC Convention

Five members of the local Student Government Association attended a convention of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Governments at Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, April 7-10. Dr. C. G. G. Moss, professor of history and advisor to the Student Council, accompanied the group.

Marjorie Miller, retiring president of the Longwood Student Government Association, led a discussion group on the topic "The Individual's Responsibility in an Honor System."

Elizabeth Bragg, Martha "B" Hilton, Helen Agnew, and Judy Hughes, incoming officers of the Student Government Association also attended the convention.

The convention which is held annually consists of discussions and critiques on the various branches of the student government and how they may be improved and made more efficient.

Wright Will Head AKG Next Year

President of the local Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma, national women's leadership fraternity, for the coming College session will be Jackie Wright. Election of new officers was held at the regular meeting of A. K. G. last week after new members had been initiated.

Elected at the same time were Dolores Duncan, vice-president; Norma Roady, secretary; and Jacky Eagle, treasurer.

Violet Ritchie, retiring president of Joan Circle, announced that it was decided at a regional executive meeting of Alpha Kappa Gamma held last week end in Charlotte, N. C., that the annual regional convention of A. K. G. will be held at this college next fall. The convention which will be held in October will have as its theme "A. K. G., Past, Present, and Future." Local delegates to the recent executive meeting were Miss Elizabeth Burger, regional executive secretary; Miss Anna Headlee, alumna member, Violet Ritchie; Norma Roady; and Jacky Eagle.

NOTICE

Classes will be dismissed tomorrow at eleven a. m., for the Easter holidays. Following the holidays classes will resume at 8:05 a. m., Tuesday, April 19.

There will be no Rotunda published on Wednesday, April 20, because of the holidays.

LC Sororities Name Chapter Officers For Coming Session

In elections held in the past several weeks six campus sororities have chosen new officers.

Louise Redd has been elected president of Pi Kappa Sigma. Betsy Gravely will serve as vice-president, and Shirley Simmons and Puckett Asher will serve as recording secretary and corresponding secretary respectively. Also elected were Pat Davis, treasurer; Peg Peery, assistant treasurer; Jacky Eagle, publicity manager; Ann Lynch, Pan Hellenic representative; and Katherine McCradle, alternate.

Ann Nock was chosen president of Sigma Sigma Sigma. Nancy Lee Maddox was named vice-president, and Charlotte Williams will serve as secretary. Betty McCree was elected treasurer; Charlotte Jones, corresponding secretary; Laura Lee Stickley, Pan Hellenic representative; and Harriet Ratchford, alternate.

Martha "B" Hylton was chosen to head Alpha Sigma Alpha. Ann Kemp was elected vice-president of the sorority, and Marion Breeden was named second vice-president and Pan Hellenic representative. June Ritchie will serve as treasurer, Nancy Hounshell as registrar, and Jacky Jardine as editor.

June Banks has been named as president of Alpha Sigma Tau. Jane Williams will serve as vice president, and Helen Arlington and Hope Duke will serve as recording secretary and corresponding secretary respectively. Also elected were Betty Jane Spenser, treasurer; Pat Paddison, Pan Hellenic representative; Ann Mundy, alternate; and Emma Mae Pittard, Chaplain.

Betty House will serve as the new president of Zeta Tau Alpha. Margaret Beasley has been named vice-president, and Mary B. Smith was elected secretary. Harriet Butterworth will serve as treasurer.

Continued on page 4

Publication Staff Members To Go To Press Meet

Spindler to Retire From VIPA Office

Thirteen members of the college publication staffs will attend the spring convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association to be held at Randolph-Macon College, Ashland.

Betty Spindler, who recently completed a year as editor-in-chief of the Rotunda, will retire from her position as secretary-treasurer of the V. I. P. A. at this convention. Betty was elected at the spring convention held at the University of Richmond last year and was re-elected at the fall convention held at V. P. I.

Jacky Eagle, editor-in-chief; Janice Slavin, business manager; Mary Leigh Meredith, managing editor; Jean Smith, desk editor; and Anne Orgain, former business manager, will represent the Rotunda at the convention.

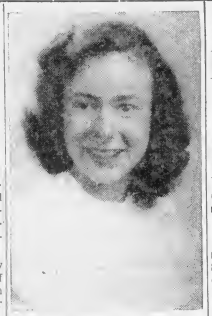
Representing the Virginian will be Anne East, editor-in-chief; Joyce Webb, editor-in-chief elect; and Helen Kaknis, business manager elect.

The Colonnade will be represented by Anne Langbien, editor-in-chief; Polly Nasser, business manager; Edith Duma, managing editor; and Barbara Andrews, poetry editor.

Twenty-two colleges and universities throughout the state are expected to attend the convention. Awards for the best newspapers and magazines will be made. Mr. Frank Fuller, district chief of the Associated Press, will be the main speaker and will make the awards for the outstanding publications. Both the Rotunda and the Colonnade have been entered for criticism and competition against other Virginia college publications.

During the weekend there will be business sessions, critiques, and panel discussions in all phases of collegiate journalism. The convention will open with a banquet on Friday night and will close with a banquet and an informal dance on Saturday night.

The V. I. P. A. meets twice a year to discuss problems in all the fields of collegiate journalism such as newspapers, annuals, and magazines. Its purposes are to foster and advance intercollegiate publication relationships, to provide critical reviewing service for member publications, and to sponsor meeting where member publications' representatives may contact personally members of the Association.



L. C. Dean Will Attend Conference April 18

Miss Ruth Gleaves will attend the Dean's Conference of the National Association of Deans of Women to be held in Chicago, Illinois at the Stevens Hotel, April 18-21.

The theme of the conference will be "Achieving Common Goal in Guidance." Dr. Joan Pisa, Bishop of Wellesley College, President of the Council of Guidance for Personnel Association, will serve as chairman of the meeting.

Outstanding speakers in the field of Student Personnel Work will be Dr. Ethel Lloyd Jones, Dr. Ruth Strang, and Dr. Daniel A. Prescott of the University of Maryland, director of the Institute of Child Study.

The conference will be divided into four sections. They are Teacher's College, University, Junior College, and College. Miss Gleaves will attend the Teacher's College Section.

Betty House, president of Alpha Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. ZET's Alpha was recently reactivated from the former Mu Omega, local sorority.

Mu Omegas Hold Farewell Reunion

Mu Omega Sorority, which was installed as the reactivated Alpha Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha International Women's Fraternity on February 25, will hold its final reunion and houseparty for the members of Mu Omega at Longwood Estate on April 22-24.

Preparations for this event were begun a year ago and the celebration will mark the 24th anniversary of the sorority. Begun as a social club in 1911, Mu Omega was recognized as a sorority by the College Panhellenic Association in 1925. Since that time Mu Omega has grown to a membership of almost 300 members. The houseparty and festivities to climax the activities of Mu Omega will be held in honor of the retiring advisor, Miss Leola Wheeler who has been faculty advisor to the group since its founding.

Friday evening, the Mu Omegas will be guests in the college dining hall. Afterwards they will be welcomed at an open house in their newly redecorated chapter room in the Student Building. The redecoration was a gift of the National Council of Zeta Tau Alpha. At this time a number of Mu Omega alumnae will be taken into Zeta Tau Alpha. Miss Wanda Garver, National Field Secretary and one other national officer will be present to assist in the initiations. The national fraternity initiated 35 women at the re-installation of its Alpha Chapter in February.

Also returning to Farmville for the Mu Omega houseparty are: Miss Dorothy Menfee, Mrs. Alexander Krebs, Mrs. R. L. Dabney, III, Mrs. Walter S. Butler, Mrs. Emory Perdue, Mrs. Alfred Noel, Mrs. Donald Nofsinger, Mrs. N. E. Johnson, Roanoke; the Misses Marilyn Bell, Hilda Bennett, Mar-

Continued on page 4

May Day Dance Set For Saturday, May 7

The annual May Day dance to be held on Saturday, May 7 will be sponsored this year by Genesis—local honorary dance club, according to an announcement by Jane Taylor, president of Genesis. Hilda Edwards will be general chairman of the dance.

Hilda has announced her subcommittee chairmen as Betty Lewis Shank, in charge of music; Sue Walker and Kitty Carmichael, decorations; Mary Jane Stansbury, clean-up; Jane Fox, floor committee chairman; Betty McCree, tickets; Pat Earle, invitations; and Robbie Cromar, publicity.

Orchesis members will assist these chairmen on the various committees. Hilda stated that participants in May Day will be given preference for May Day dance tickets. Tickets will go on sale at a date to be announced later.

Freshmen To Present Production On April 22, At 7 p.m. In College Rec

Beasley To Head Standards Group

Margaret Beasley was elected general chairman of Student Standards Committee for the coming year at a meeting held last week by the old committee members.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Louise Redd, secretary; Jane Lyons, chairman of the Year's Calendar of Student Activities; and Margaret Thomas, chairman of the point system committee.

The junior class recently elected as their representatives on Student Standards committee, Hilda Edwards and Helen Hardin.

The Student Standards Committee is in charge of regulating organizations on campus and enforces a point system, regulating the number of extra-curricular activities a student may carry.

The Committee endeavors to solve problems arising between students, faculty, and administration.

Mrs. Landrum Has Article In Journal

Mrs. Emily Kauzlarich Landrum, assistant professor of physical education, has completed a second magazine article on modern dance, "Bringing Modern Dance to Secondary Schools." This article will be pulished in the June issue of the Journal of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, which is the division of the National Education Association acting as the clearing house professionally for all areas of health, physical education and recreation.

"Bringing Modern Dance to Secondary Schools" is part of a Virginia project on dance forms. The objective of this project, according to Mrs. Landrum, is the discovery of a method of getting dance across to teachers and students who are usually more sport-minded than dance minded. It is believed that this can be successfully achieved through an understanding of the fundamental skills underlying both sports and dance. This viewpoint Mrs. Landrum says, is substantiated through research, study, and practical application of anatomical, kinesiological and physiological principles guiding movement of the body.

A previous article, "Who Should Teach Dance?", also written by Mrs. Landrum, appeared in the December issue of the Dance Observer, the official national publication on dance professionally in the college field. "Who Should Teach Dance?" is a protest against dance as a mere art form in favor of dance for the average individual.

Westminster Elects Wilson as President

At a meeting of the Westminster Fellowship held last Sunday, Martha Alice Wilson was elected to serve as president of the organization for the coming year.

Other officers elected were Charles Talley, vice-president; Mary Crawford, secretary and Frances Thomas, treasurer.

Franklin Gives Theme, 'Coal Black'

"Coal Black and the Seven Mugs", a jazzed up version of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarves", will be the theme of the annual freshman class production to be given Friday, April 22, in the College Rec at 7 p. m.

Production tickets are on sale now at the table in the hall of Main Building. The price for the tickets is $.30, tax included.

The first act will take place in the Queen's castle; the second and third acts both will take place in the "Wild and Wooly" West, according to Fran Franklin, production chairman.

The leading production characters are Jean Wilson as Coal Black; Jo Orr, Queen; Liz Lesslie, Rushin' Prince; Maria Jackson, Hunter; and Betty Foster, Ann Harding, Cathy Blanch, Sarah Crocker, Ann Motley, Audrey Pettit, and Sally Brickman as the Seven Mugs.

Fran Franklin, chairman, has had eight committee heads serving under her. They are Jackie Jardine, staging; Dolores Hoback, property; Shirley Livesay, concession; Pat Tuggle, decoration and ushering; Phyllis Tyree, tickets; Jean Ridenour, costumes; Maria Jackson, make-up; and Joan Prichett, publicity.

The script was written by Fran Franklin, Jackie Jardine, and Maria Jackson. Betty Lou Harman will serve as musical accompanist for the production.

Scheduled for two earlier dates, the freshman production was postponed because of mid-semester tests and then by the fire. The freshmen now, instead of using the auditorium, will present the show in the Rec where there will be an array of decorations portraying Fairyland.

Sweet Briar College To Hold Institute For UWF April 23

Student representatives from Virginia colleges and preparatory schools have been invited to Sweet Briar College on Saturday, April 23, to attend an Institute on Strengthening the United Nations. The event is sponsored by the Sweet Briar Chapter, United World Federalists, of which Miss Diana Dent, Greenwich, Conn., is president.

Murray Frank, vice-chairman of the Student Division of the United World Federalists, Inc., student director of New York State, and newly elected member of the national executive council of the United World Federalists, will be one of the speakers. Among participants in panel discussions which have been announced, on "The Significance of the North Atlantic Pact" will be Gene Geisler, Student Director, Federal Union, Inc.; Preston Blake, Jr., executive director United World Federalists of Virginia, and Dr. Gerhard Masur, professor of history at Sweet Briar. Another Student Activities and Education for World Peace," will be led by Miss Natalie Rogers, National Field Director, United World Federalists, and Dr. Edgar J. Fisher, visiting professor in the Division of Social Studies at Sweet Briar.

An opportunity will be given students interested in establishing chapters of United World Federalists on their own campuses to become acquainted with the aims and procedures, and a meeting of all members and prospective members will be held to plan for the next year and to elect officers.

More Time For Meals!

Last year the Rotunda waged with some degree of success a campaign for improvement of food in the College dining hall. Since then, the food, although still no gastronomic delight, has been more inviting and nourishing. Yet students still find their digestive systems disturbed because of the way they are forced to hurriedly gulp down food in order to satisfy their hunger in the time allotted for meals.

The administration and critics of students' mealtime behavior seem to be striving toward the attainment of a gracious, homelike atmosphere in the College dining hall. If this is the end in view, then why aren't students allowed time to eat meals in a civilized way, with time for normal conversation, instead of having to rapidly shove in the mouthfuls before the waitresses snatch the very plates from under them?

Seldom does a meal in the College dining hall occupy over twenty minutes. It doesn't take a great stretch of the imagination to see that this practice can easily damage both the digestive and nervous systems. Nor are all of these twenty minutes spent in eating alone. Because waitresses eat at the same time as the rest of the student body, students must interrupt their meals to go to the kitchen for second helpings of food, often to receive a refusal at the kitchen door. The argument that second helpings should not be necessary can be countered by the fact that the dishes placed at each table in the College dining hall will not adequately serve the ten people at each table.

How can this situation be ameliorated considering the limited resources of this institution? There have been offered some feasible suggestions which deserve a try. First, why couldn't the bell be rung ten minutes before the hour for lunch and dinner? At present the bell is rung at 12:30 and at 6:00 p. m., with ten minutes allowed before the meal begins for students to reach the dining hall and seat themselves. If the bell were rung at 12:20 and 5:50 p. m., and the doors closed on the hour, ten minutes would be added to mealtime, and no time would be stolen from classes or other more important activities.

The second suggestion is that waitresses eat either before or after the rest of the student body, so that they will have a decent time to eat their meals and to function as waitresses. Under the present procedure, they scarcely have time after serving the beverages to eat a few bites before the trucks are wheeled from the kitchen, and they must begin clearing tables.

Of course, there will always be some students who will complain about having to stay in the dining hall too long. It could be arranged so that these quick eaters could leave the dining hall when they are ready, yet those who require a more reasonable length of time to eat be allowed to finish their meals.

The Rotunda realizes that the running of the dining hall must be expedited because of servants' hours and numerous other considerations. However, it seems that with some experimentation and investigation of the problem that it could be solved to everyone's greater satisfaction. Too long have outdated procedures been followed in the College dining hall. Students who pay for their meals, albeit at a comparatively small price, deserve to be allowed reasonable time in which to eat those meals.

'Don't Tread On Me'

The faculty committee on exterior improvement has already done a commendable job in giving us a campus of which we can be proud. But the committee can not accomplish miracles without the cooperation of the student body. One of the most detrimental things to the beauty of the campus is the presence of paths across the lawns.

Cutting across the lawn may save a few minutes or a few steps but it certainly does nothing to improve the looks of the campus. The minutes spent in sticking to the walks would certainly be well spent toward beautifying the campus which we call our own.

The removal of the overgrown shrubbery which was situated at the end of each and every walk was something that should have been accomplished long ago. The remaining smaller shrubs add the beauty of simplicity. The Rotunda would like to commend the committee on this step and on the others which have resulted in a more attractive campus.

It has been suggested, and the Rotunda would like to second this suggestion, that the main walks to the rotunda be bordered by low hedges of boxwood. Besides improving the looks of this walk these hedges would discourage students who habitually cut campus across the front lawn.

With the students backing up the committee on exterior improvement our campus can been be one of the best looking, for its size, in the state. If we all cooperate we can point with pride to "our campus."

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 25, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year (except during holidays and examination periods), by the students of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office: Student Building Phone 343, Box 168
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Assn., Associated Collegiate Press
Rating: (All Pi) 1st Class, Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1929 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1934

STAFF

Jacqueline Lupo — Editor-in-Chief
Mary Leigh Meredith — Managing Editor
Janice Slavin — Business Manager
Jean Smith — Desk Editor
Joan Pechett — Assistant News Editor

Reporters

Pat Smith, Jean Hamlet, Jean Otis Loving, Mary Cowgey

Feature Writers

Feature Editor

Claudia Anderson, Janice Slavin, Betty Ferguson, Joan Pechett, Betty Lewis Shank, Ann Irish

Sports Editor
Winnifred Bond — Sports Writer
Helen Arrington — Art Editor
Peggy Perry — Photographer
Beverly Smethie — Advertising Manager
Grace Thompson — Circulation Manager

Business Assistants

Mollie Carter, Peggy Harris, Edith Kennon, Lucy Vaughan, Virginia Dare Wood

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1949

OUR WORLD

By Betty Lewis Shank

The Atlantic Pact supposedly will safeguard us from Communism on the European front. But let us take a look at the Eastern situation.

Said Mr. Winston Churchill while we were negotiating over the Pact, "Are we winning the 'cold war'? This cannot be decided by looking at Europe alone. We must look at Asia. The worst disaster since our victory has been the collapse of China under Communist attack and intrigue."

Two days after this speech two pleas for help for China were entered by ex-Governor Harold Stassen of Minnesota and William F. Knowland, senator from California. Their suggestions were that we send aid to those parts of China that have not been defeated by the Communists.

Can we afford to watch silently while Russia swallows China? It would hardly seem so in this small world of ours.

China's fate today is largely a part of our own making. It was decided at the Yalta Conference in 1945 that Russia would have certain parts of China at the close of the war as a "bonus" for her (Russia's) having entered the war against Japan.

Therefore, we owe our help to China. It also isn't a bad idea from the standpoint of our own Democracy.

ALUMNAE NEWS

The Executive Board of the National Alumnae Association will meet here at 10:30 a. m. on Saturday, May 7, according to a recent statement by Mrs. H. Coyner, Alumnae secretary.

The Board is composed of Dr Dabney S. Lancaster, president of Longwood College; Mrs. Maria Brisow Starke, national president of the association; Mrs. Anne Smith Greene, first vice-president; Mrs. Frances Sale Lyle, Second vice-president; Mrs. Louise Ford Waller, ex-president; Misses Rachel Royall and Lillian Wahab directors; Mrs. Ruth Harding Coyner, executive secretary and treasurer; and Misses Mary Clay Hiner and Carrie B. Taliaferro, custodians of the files.

CHATTER BOX

Your Chatterboxer is kinda in a dither this week, 'cause we're leaving tomorrow — Oh Happy Day! That will be the day that everyone thought would never never come and finally it's here. But let's get on to a little "news!"

Holiday Lake was the rallying grounds for practically all of Longwood this week end. That soft ball game was really going strong —and even without benefit of a saddle, "Pete" decided to go horseback riding. Betty Mac was along too so you know things were really popping!

Charlotte T. and Margaret Anne were kind of exchanging dates Monday—the same date, that is! The boy likes variety!

Mary Neal and Mary Frances took off in that good looking car to Gloucester with Peggy Smith. From the reports it was a gay trip and they didn't miss anything.

Myrt's not planning to miss anything either on that trip to N. Y. during the Easter vacation. Wheel?

And speaking of long livers' If we live long enough, 11:00 tomorrow will come—so Happy Vacation!

Why Stop Here?

Over one thousand red cigarette ribbons were collected by Longwood College and Hampden-Sydney students for a little girl from Welsh, West Virginia, who is blind, reports Cabell Overby, chairman of the project at the College.

The Camel Cigarette Company will present her with a seeing eye dog, now that the goal of ten thousand ribbons has been attained. The drive was conducted in several colleges. Cab stated that the local contribution greatly aided the young child in obtaining the necessary quota.

Additional cigarette ribbons are currently accumulating in the College Snack Bar. These could be put to admirable use as were the others if some student would take it upon himself to investigate the Camel Company's offer. If the name of a person who could be helped in a similar way could be found, Longwood students could render a real service by the mere collection of cigarette ribbons. Why let such a rare opportunity pass by, when it requires so little effort?

President To Attend Inauguration Service

President Dabney S. Lancaster will attend the inauguration ceremonies of Dr. Walter S. Newman as tenth president of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, which will be held Monday, April 18 at Blacksburg.

Dr. Newman, former assistant State superintendent of public instruction, is a graduate of Hampden-Sydney, class of 1917. In 1919, he received a master of science degree in agriculture from VPI, and was awarded a doctor of philosophy degree at Penn State in 1931. Actually, Dr. Newman has held the post into which he will be formally inaugurated April 18 for seventeen months.

The inaugural address will be delivered by Dr. Jam R. Killian, Jr., president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

More than two hundred colleges and universities of Virginia and other states will be represented at the inauguration ceremonies.

Easter 'Vanity Fair'

Campus Cogitations

What Do You Want the Easter Bunny to Bring You?

Betty Romeo: An Esso filling station.

Jackie Yates: A trip downtown with a movie to boot.

Ann Owen: An egg with stuffing."

Helen Casey: "What could be better than Tommy."

Jo Ann Sterling: A contract to sign will be fine.

Polly Ann Simpson: Just Bobby!

Mrs. Eastman: My wish that everybody have a nice vacation.

Polly Richardson: A month's vacation instead of five days.

Marilyn Wheeler: A good sun tan.

Nellie Hart: Long curls for Jackie to cut.

Chris Davis: Another birthday party.

Patsy Kimbrough: A new "bird call book".

Elizabeth "Nuthall" Stewart: I've already got what I wanted.

Bobbie Jean Robertson: A letter every day.

Gay Power: Some good grades.

Jean Turner: Since I'm up the creek, somebody had better bring me a canoe.

Ann Mundy: "I want that moon".

Shirley Simmons: "Rest, relaxation, and ——".

Margie Forester: Carl to get well.

Jane Williams: A few new relations.

Betty Sekeres: Sea-food and "see-Phil".

Mary Jane Stansbury: An orchid and Billy!.

Hope Duke: A surprise!

Lucy Vaughan: Three credits in American History.

Lilacs, Cottons And Birds Herald Coming of Spring

By JEAN TURNER

Could any of you think of a better time to have Spring? The weather man seems to have done so well on that score that none of us can complain. Of course we could send in a complaint about the rain; but the reason we're getting so much of that is because the school authorities are agin' our spending the entire season on the roof.

It's a fact, spring has arrived, with all it's warmth, wind, and wonder. Every day the trees look greener and the flowers brighter. Now is the time to dive into the moth balls and pull out last year's cotton dresses, tennis racket, and boy friends. They'll all need a good dusting off, and in some cases alteration wouldn't hurt. Take the boy friends for instance, you might be sadly in need of a new one and just not noticed. Nature is with you, gals. Spring is the perfect time of year to bait your traps for a new man. Most of the time he never knows what hit him.

Along about now is a good time to sit up and take notice of what's going on. Have you seen the lilacs blooming, the new Easter bonnets, and, oh yes, the birds, (I must say they're plentiful this year)?

So much for the birds and other multitudinous aspects of spring. There might be a few among you who had the misfortune to discover your old boy friend won't last another season. If this is your case we shall endeavor to bring you up to date on the latest methods of trap baiting for '49.

An Easter bonnet with a veil is widely known as excellent bait. Not only because it enhances the beauty, but it also, in a number of cases, hides the face to a large degree.

Some of you will prefer the method marked x-9 in our Artful Mansnatching Manual. This is one that really takes you back to nature. Now, don't get me wrong gals. I was only going to suggest that you take the guy walking among the lilacs, (any sweet smelling flower will do). He should, if things go according to schedule, be simply carried away. This is your chance to be sure he takes you with him.

Of course, if all other methods fail, there's always the old fashioned (but good) bear trap. Happy Hunting, gals.

Foreign Students Entertain

On Friday night, April 8, four members of the Spanish club of Longwood College went to Appomattox, Virginia to participate in the entertainment for a dance held by the Appomattox high school Spanish class in commeration of Pan American Day.

The four girls who took part in the program were Issac Velazquez, Dailia Agostini, Olga Rodriquez, and Edna Rodriquez.

LC May Day Practices, Preparations Well Underway Report Cress, Taylor

Practice and preparations for the annual May Day celebration, to be held May 7, are well underway, according to a statement by Gwen Cress and Jane Taylor, co-chairman of the pageant.

All costume designs have been completed, and materials have been given out for the two largest dance groups, which consist of square dancers and "field workers" from the freshman classes. The chairmen add that although material for the "River" costumes has been held up by strike in New York, that the theme in dance form is "progressing nicely."

Additional committees have been announced by the pageant co-chairmen. Jackie Wright will assist Nancy Rushing, who is business manager. Jesse Lee Pickett who is general dance chairman has on her committee Hilda Edwards, assisting with the "River;" Sue Walker, in charge of the "Settlers"; Ray Phillips, in charge of the "Indians"; Jo Ann Sterling, figure caller for the square dance sets; and junior and senior majors in physical education who are assisting with choreography for all sections of the pageant.

Costume co-chairmen, Frances Farley and Jennie Lee Cross, are being assisted by Nancy Short, Nancy Garbee, Nell Foster, Laura Lee Stickley, and Ann Foreman. June Banks, music chairman, will be assisted by Page Burnette, Puckett Asher, and Lueyle Humphries. Helen Hardin, chairman of staging; and Dot Daniel, transportation chairman, have not yet appointed their committees.

Notice

Helen Kaknis, assistant business manager of the 1949 Virginia, is still receiving final payments on the annual. Payments may be made after lunch every day at the table in the hall.

Helen reminds students that if a deposit of one dollar was made in the fall, $5.50 is due.

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Pre-Easter VALUE
Reigning Beauty
NYLONS
First quality . . . lovely Spring Shades . . . reinforced toe and heel . . . full welt, fine seams.
51 Gauge 15 Denier
a $1.50 value NOW $1.00
exclusive at Belk & Leggett stores

SPORTIN' AROUND

By ANN LYNCH

Well, still again there's not much news in the field of sports, but there's still plenty of practicing, etc., going on, nevertheless. The fall singles in tennis will be played off right after Easter, and also you will be able to sign up for the spring doubles. (A few games during Easter will help you stay in practice.)

To get this straight about the golf course at the Estate, the golf course is leased to the Longwood Golf Club, but the girls here at school have the very same priviliges as they have always had. The Club has charge of the upkeep, etc., and maintain the revenue, but we still have the same rules concerning us, so don't let it worry you.

There's been a lot of joking about badminton as a sport, but seriously it's a good game to learn. It's a sport that ean always be enjoyed, and we feel sure that if you would give it a try you would realize now how much fun it really is.

Langbein Announces Book Review Editor

The new book-review editor of the Colonnade for the coming session will be Charlotte Hall Davis, freshman from Farmville, it was announced today by Anne Langbien, editor-in-chief.

Charlote was second prize winner in the annual short-story contest held by the Colonnade in the fall. Her prize winning story "Joe" was published in the last issue of the Colonnade.

The position of book-review editor was formerly held by Dalila Agostini.

Procedure For Room Assignment Changed

Dean Ruth Gleaves has announced that the procedure for room assignments will be changed.

For various reasons rooms will not be assigned until the last week in April. Blanks to be filled out by the students for rooms will be distributed in the dining room, following the Easter holiday. Juniors will go to the office of the Dean of Women April 25 to get their room numbers. Sophomores may go to the office April 26, and freshman, the 27 and 28.

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from
MARTIN THE JEWELER

BOWEN Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

KLEANWELL CLEANERS
For Excellent Results
Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

Surprise Him At Easter
WITH A GIFT FROM
VERSER'S
We Strive to Please

JUST A FEW MORE DAYS TO BUY YOUR EASTER OUTFITS —REMEMBER, IF YOU WANT TO BE A HIT IN THE EASTER PARADE BE SURE TO SHOP AT
THE HUB
Farmville, Va.
"FARMVILLE'S BUSIEST AND BEST DEPT. STORE!"

From the Land of the ICE CREAM Star!
Princess Pet ICE CREAM
The de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality! Richer, creamier ...and with flavor that's out of this world! The April Flavor of the Month is Princess Pet Buttered Pecan...truly a regal flavor! Buy a pint or two at your favorite Ice Cream dealer's, today!
NOW...40¢ a PINT
TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

21 Are Chosen To Serve On AA Council For '49-'50

19 Girls Complete Instructors Course In Swimming Class

After a strenuous week of swimming classes, both day and night, last month 19 girls were rewarded with their instructors' certificates in swimming, and 20 girls received their Life Saving badges.

Those who earned their instructors' were Frances Allen, Claudia Anderson, Phyllis Bagley, Harriet Bowling, Catherine Carmichael, Frances Cregar, Jean Cunningham and Marion Beckner.

Also receiving their instructors' were Lila Easley, Anna Famulatte, Ann Kemp, Nancy McCracken, Jacqueline Moody, Elizabeth Leslie, Ray Phillips, Jean Ridenour, Betty Romeo, Nancy Walker and Mary Lou Woodward.

The girls receiving Life Saving badges were Claudia Anderson, Marian Beekner, Harriet Bowling, Lila Easley, Jean Elliot, Anna Famulatte, Naney Gillie, Carolyn Grimes and Jane Ghiselin.

Also Antoinette Kelly, Ann Kemp, Elizabeth Leslie, Jean Cunningham, Nancy McCracken, Jacqueline Moody, Jo Ann Missimer, Jean Ridenour, Betty Romeo, Mary Elizabeth Watson and Nancy Walker.

LC Fashion Show

On Monday night, after dinner, girls from the Home Economics department of Longwood college presented a fashion show in the college dining hall. The clothing that the girls modeled was made in the home ec' lab during class periods.

"Make her gay This Easter Day" With a corsage from
BURG
Florist

MEET and EAT
AT THE COLLEGE
SHOPPE

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

"Recess In the Rec"
TUESDAY-
3::00-3:30
WSVS—650 On Your Dial

Varsity, Class Team Managers Selected

On Wednesday, April 6, 21 girls were chosen to serve on the Athletic Association Council for the coming year of '49-50, according to a recent announcement.

The hockey managers are Liz Leslie, for the varsity team, and Panzie Parham, for the class teams. The swimming manager is "B" Hylton with Jean Ridenour acting as her assistant. Managing softball will be Sue Walker; golf, Anna Famulatte; and archery, Nancy Gillie.

Serving again as varsity basketball manager is Patsy Ritter with Shirley Livesay as her assistant. The class basketball manager is Marion Beckner. Nancy Walker will act as the volleyball manager.

In charge of recreational activities will be Sue Brewbaker and Jean Webb. In the publicity department will be Winnie Beard acting as reporter to the paper, and Jo Orr will be in charge of posters, bulletin board, etc.

On the social committe will be Mary Miller, chairman, and Mary Lou Woodward, Norma Roady, Claudia Anderson, Jean Cunningham and Betsy Gravely, working with her.

AAUW Speaker Will Give Talk April 22

Mr. Nick Prilliman who is fifth candidate for governor of Virginia will speak here April 22 at 8:00 p. m. in the small auditorium. His talk will be under the auspices of the Farmville Chapter of the American Association of University of Women.

Mr. Prillman's will be the last of A. A. U. W. sponsored talks at the college.

Other speakers who have been at Longwood under the auspices of the same association are Colonel Francin P. Miller, Mr. Horace Edwards, Senator John S. Battle and Mr. Rennie Arnold, Sr.

Common sense is good to have
But never let it master you
For then it might deprive you of
The foolish things you're after.

"A corsage for Easter Will certainly please her." from
COLLINS
Phone 181 Night 4

Gay Cards & Candy Easter Gifts
MAKE LOVELY GIFTS from
GRAYS DRUG STORE

WFLO
The Talk of The Town
870 On Your Dial

All the Trimmings FOR YOUR Easter Basket FROM
J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

WHO'S —IN THE— Senior Spotlight?

"Those Wedding Bells Are Breaking Up That Old Gang of Mine" will have to be the theme song of the senior class this year after graduation. One gay, chittering senior with blond hair and blue eyes plans to take the plunge in June with a certain man by the name of Irv.

The person on whom the spotlight is shining this week is a biology major. She diligently works as biology lab assistant finding anything for the freshmen from an amoeba to a bacterium. She will tell anyone that its a real problem fighting with her problem pupils on the numerous field trips.

A member of a number of organizations, this senior is very active in the Dramatic club where she serves as head of the acting group. She is also a member of Alpha Sigma Tau, Orchesis, Cotillion, and H20.

Other than the University of Virginia, she has an unfaltering love for bridge and Culbertson. At the present time, the subject has the honor of being the Sweetheart of the Psi Chapter of Sigma Chi at U. of Va.

Put the thinking caps on and guess who it is.

It seems as though one senior just can't feature leaving Longwood after four years, so she has solved the problem by taking a job in the training school next year. This tall and "dignified" brown haired lassie will teach the first grade, thus putting to good use her degree in elementary ed.

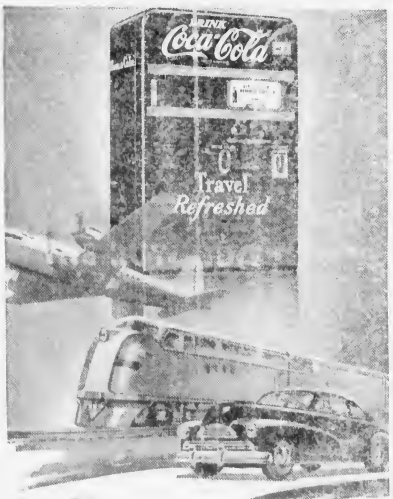
Everyone has a special interest and this young lady is no exception to the rule. Her interests lie in preachers, children and cooking. At that rate, how long will teaching remain in her future plans?

The sixty-four dollar question of who she is will not be hard to answer when you learn that she is one of the upholders of a wide range of organizations at Longwood. She is the president of the YWA in the Baptist Student Union, treasurer of Kappa Delta Pi, treasurer of Inter Varsity Christian Fellowship and a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, A. C. E., P. T. A., and the Philosophy club. She is now serving as transportation chairman of May Day.

All right Quiz Kids, who is she?

Seniors in last week's Spotlight were Love Bentley and Jackie Bobbitt.

Some persons are still talking about a worried freshman girl who came to the dean's office at registration to inquire if the instructor for her physical education class was Mr. or Mrs. Staff.



Chemistry Professor: "What is the formula for water?"

Student: "HIJKLMNO."

Professor: "What?"

Student: "You said, 'H2O'."

And a Refreshing Pause Helps You Get There, Too

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY LYNCHBURG COCA COLA BOTTLING WORKS

© 1949, The Coca-Cola Company

Mu Omega

Continued from page 1

garet Wright, Rosalie Jones, and Nancy Lee Shackleford, and Mrs. Emmette Barham, Richmond; Miss Ruth Hunt, Rocky Mount; Mrs. William T. Hughes, Jr., Danville; Mrs. Fred M. Wilder, Jr., Portsmouth; Miss Laura Smith, Virginia Beach; Mrs. John Winslow, Suffolk; Miss Alfreda Peterson, Hampton; Mrs. Ray Cunningham, Miss Jean Cardoza, Hilton Village; Mrs. F. H. Barksdale, Lexington; Miss Brookie Benton, Staunton; Mrs. James C. Lear, Arlington; Mrs. Huyett G. Light, Clearbrook; Mrs. Raoul Garrabrandt, Mrs. Frederick M. Ritter, Winchester; Mrs. William Brondyke, Wilmington, Delaware; Mrs. James C. Davis, Miss Grace Loyd, Baltimore, Maryland; Mrs. Kenneth Cabell Clay Franklin Greensboro, North Carolina; Mrs. William W. Nickels, Raleigh, North Carolina, Mrs. Herbert G. Robinson, Manhasset, Long Island, New York; Mrs. Louis M. White, Norfolk; and Mrs. Bryon E. Haner, Christianburg. Mrs. J. M. Watkins, Mrs. J. H. Whitfield, Mrs. Howard Cooke, and Mrs. James Fretwell, Farmville, have been active in planning for the affair. All are alumnae of this college.

Saturday, the Mu Omegas will go to Longwood for a houseparty beginning with an outdoor picnic at 12:30. They will have as their guests this time, the Farmville Zetas, Mrs. Frank Baldwin, Miss Martha K. Blanton, Mrs. E. R. Booker, Mrs. Luckin Bugg, Mrs. Henry Button, Mrs. William C. Duvall, Mrs. J. C. Garnett, Mrs. Edgar M. Johnson, Mrs. E. R. Elliott, Miss Virgilia Bugg, and Mrs. Barrye Wall; also various patrons and friends of the sorority. Miss Jane Lyon, Logan, West Virginia, is in charge of the picnic. Following the picnic, the annual Mu Omega Alumnae Meeting will be held for the purpose of closing the Mu Omega books and making plans for the future as Zetas. Mrs. J. M. Watkins of Farmville, State Alumnae president, will preside.

A formal banquet at Longwood Estate will be the highlight of the week end. At this time there will be a ceremony commemorating each year of Mu Omega's past. Mrs. J. M. Watkins, Farmville, will be the principle speaker. Guests will include the 30 members of the ZTA college chapter, all returning Mu Omega alumnae, honor guests, Dr. and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean Ruth Gleaves, Miss Leola Wheeler, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. G. Moss, and Miss Wanda Garver, Zeta Tau Alpha, National Field Secretary. Present at this time will be six of the 15 living founders: Mrs. Raoul Garrabrandt, Mrs. Edwin E. Cassidy, Mrs. D. O. Wallace, Mrs. Bruce Boxley, Mrs. J. H. Whitfield, and Mrs. James Fretwell. Also honored at this time will be the past presidents of the Mu Omega college chapter. Of the 24 presidents, the following are expected to be present: Mrs. Raoul Garrabrandt, Mrs. Frederick M. Ritter, Mrs. Alfred Noel, Miss Dorothy Menefee, Mrs. John Winslow, Mrs. Ray Cunningham, Miss Lillian Wahab, Mrs. Louise M. White, Miss Grace Loyd, Mrs. Byron E. Haner, Mrs. Walter R. Nelson, Miss Alfreda Peterson, Jeane Cake, Hilton Village, is the retiring president, and Betty House, Lansdowne, Pennsylvania, is the president elect of Alpha Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha. Betty is also toast mistress and chairman of the banquet committee.

The Mu Omega Alumnae are organized into six alumnae chapters: Norfolk chapter, Miss Lillian Wahab, president; Roanoke chapter, Miss Dorothy Menefee, president; Richmond chapter, Miss Lulie Jones, president; Valley chapter, Mrs. Raoul Garrabrandt, president; Lynchburg chapter, Miss Rena Robertson, president; Out-of-state chapter, Mrs. Edwin E. Cassidy, president.

The Faye Bird Johnson Memorial Loan Fund of Mu Omega has been supported by the sorority since its establishment in 1932. This was the first student loan fund established by a sorority on the campus. One of the members of Mu Omega founded the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association.

LC Sororities

Continued from page 1

and Betty Ferguson as Pan Hellenic representative.

Winifred Beard has been elected president of Theta Sigma Upsilon. Harriet Bowling has been named vice-president, and Virginia Spencer will serve as recording secretary. Lucy Vaughan will serve as corresponding secretary. Polly Nassar as treasurer. Ann Langbein as editor, Jean Sanford as Pan Hellenic representative, Jean Hogge as historian, and Maxine Watts as alternate.

Ann Nichols was elected to head Delta Sigma Epsilon. Other girls chosen as officers are Laura Buchanan, vice-president; Barbara Grizzard, recording secretary;; Jean Webb, corresponding secretary; Dorothy Caldwell, alumnae secretary; Peggy Harris, treasurer; Virginia Dare Woody, chaplain; Ann D. Joyner, editor; Jane Smith, historian; Ruth Hathaway, Pan-Hel representative; and Esther Slagle, sergeant.

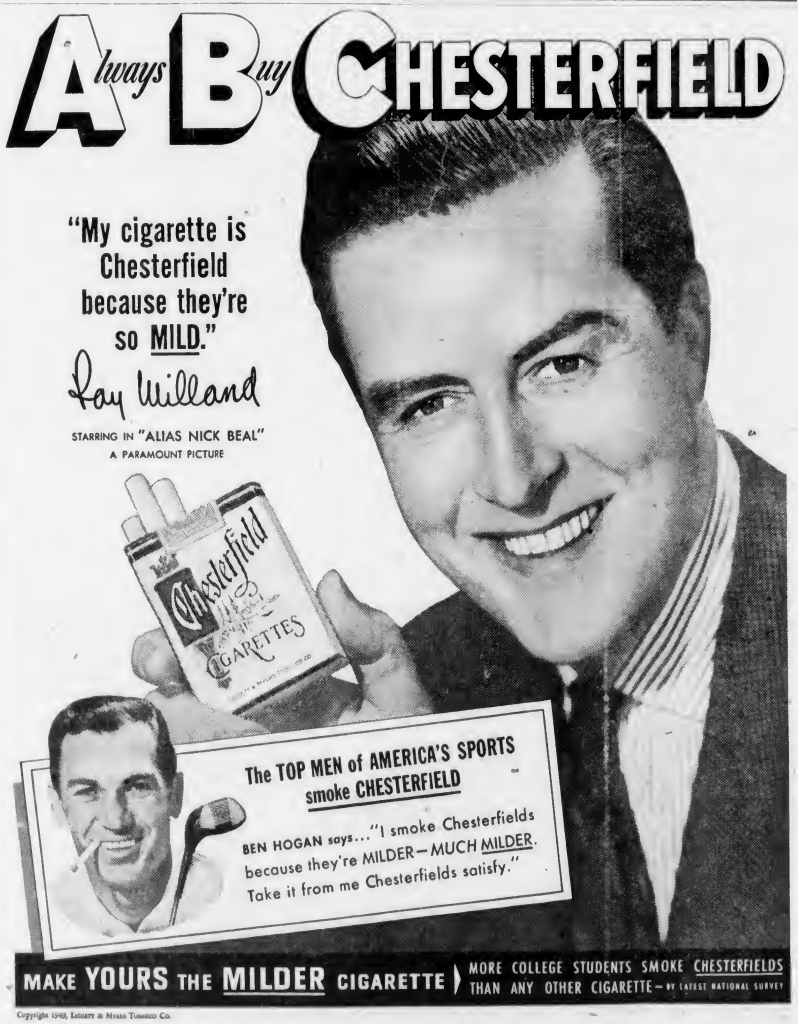
Kappa Delta will elect officers after the Easter vacation.

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE



Come in and try 'em
then you'll buy 'em

Our straw bags—natural and natural with colored trim — styles in shoulder straps or handles.

$2.98-$1.98 plus tax

DOROTHY MAY STORE

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations
Future Teachers

The Rotunda

Congratulations
New Officers

VOLUME XXVIII | FARMVILLE, VA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1949 | NO. 25

Registration To Be Held This Spring

Dean Savage Gives Plan of Procedure For Next Session

DEAN WILLIAM W. SAVAGE

Within the next few weeks all students planning to return for the 1949-50 session will register for classes for the fall semester, according to an announcement made this week by Dean Wlliam W. Savage. The Committee on Schedules headed by Professor T. A. McCorkle is now making the fall schedule. As soon as it is completed, it will be distributed to the student body and registration will begin.

The registration will be conducted in the same manner as was that for the current semester. Students will have a period of approximately one week in which to make their schedules and have them approved.

Spring registration for the fall semester is a new procedure in this college but has been used in many institutions for some time. Dean Savage has pointed out that it will eliminate much of the confusion generally associated with fall registration and will enable the department heads to balance sections of classes more effectively. He has urged that all students planning to return next fall begin now to determine the courses in which they should enroll. By making their plans in advance, he said, they will be able to complete their registration quickly and without difficulty.

Freshmen should be making their choices of curricula and majors. They are requested to discuss these choices with their advisers and the heads of departments in which they expect to major.

1950 Virginian Staff Announced by Webb

Fourteen girls will make up the 1950 Virginian staff, Joyce Webb, editor elect of next year's annual announced today. These fourteen do not include Helen Agnew who will serve as managing editor and Helen Kaknis who will serve as business manager.

Among the names listed on the new staff are Georgia Bailey, Betty Scott Borkey, Nancy Camper, Mary Crawford, Edith Duvall, Francis Franklin and Peggy Harris.

Also listed were Charlotte King Jones, Shirley Livesay, Romine Mahood Katherine McCready, Charlotte Newell, Virginia Spencer and Hattie Swihart.

The first meeting of the new staff will be held in Dr. Schlegel's classroom following dinner tonight.

5 LC Campus Organizations Elect New Officers For Coming Session

Boerc Eh Thorn

Boerc Eh Thorn, local English honor society, elected June Banks as head of the organization at a recent meeting.

Other officers elected were Betty Lewis Shanks, vice-president; Dot Dodd, secretary; Page Burnette, corresponding secretary; and Beverley Smethie, treasurer.

These girls will be installed at the May meeting of Boerc Eh Thorn.

Four new members were initiated to the organization at the same meeting. They are Betty House, junior from Norfolk; Lois Callahan, senior from Danville; Sara Rawles, senior from Holland; and Helen Agnew, sophomore from Burkeville.

Spanish Club

Helen Kaknis, junior from Winchester, was elected president of the Spanish Club for the coming year at the last regular meeting.

Other officers elected at the same meeting were Anna Famulette, vice-president; Helen Agnew, secretary; Ruth Lacy, treasurer; Lucy Jane Morton, reporter; and June Banks, Sarah Cregar, and Betty Lewis Shanks, pianists.

Martha Hatcher, senior from Richmond, is the retiring president of the Club.

Kapa Delta Pi

Judy Hughes, junior from Charlottesville, was recently elected president of Kappa Delta Pi, national education fraternity.

During the coming year the office of vice-president will be filled by June Banks from Sandston; secretary by Ruth Walker from Farmville; treasurer by Cornelia Marston from Shacklefords; and historian by Barbara Andrews from Newport News.

Kappa Delta Pi is, at present, planning to honor freshmen and sophomores of outstanding scholastic rank at a tea in May.

Choir

Winnie Beard was elected president of the Longwood College Choir at a meeting held this week to select officers for the coming year.

Puckett Asher was named to serve as vice-president, and Virginia Spencer will be the new secretary of the organization. Jean Carter Watkins was elected to the post of treasurer.

Future Teachers

Connie Marston, junior from Schacklefords, was elected president of Future Teachers of America, a national organization of prospective teachers, at their meeting last night.

Other officers elected at the same meeting were vice-president, Ellen Moyer; secretary, Jean Hogge; treasurer, Annie Swann; and librarian, Juanita Weeks.

Ann Owen, senior from Green Bay, is the retiring president of the Longwood chapter of F. T. A.

Kappa Delta

Frances Dodson was recently elected to the presidency of the local chapter of Kappa Delta, national social sorority.

Other girls who were chosen to fill offices were Helen Connelly, vice-president; Jean Hobbs, secretary; Denise Love, treasurer; Hilda Edwards, Pan-Hellenic delegate; Minta Hopkins Critzer, assistant treasurer; Maria Jackson, editor; and Helen Smith, Rush chairman.

French Circle

Helen Hardin, junior from Richmond, was elected president of the French Circle for the 1949-50 session at a regular meeting last week.

Elected at the same time were Jean Anderson, vice-president; Maria Jackson, secretary; Dolores Hoback, treasurer; Nellie Hart, reporter; and Edith Duma, pianist.

New System of Selecting Hall Presidents Announced

A new system of selecting hall presidents was announced by Jacqueline Wright, president of the house council, at a meeting of the student body held Monday night, April 25.

Previously "Jackie" explained, hall presidents were appointed by the council but for the coming year they will be elected by the members of the hall they will serve. These elections will take place at the beginning of the fall semester.

The entire new student government association was installed at this meeting also.

Following a devotional given by the Reverend Mr. Myers, Marjorie Miller, retiring president of the association, thanked the faculty, Dr. C. G. Moss, advisor of student government, and the student body for their cooperation during the past year. She then installed Elizabeth Bragg as the new president.

Following her installation, "Lizzie" formally installed Martha "B" Hylton as vice-president, Helen Agnew as secretary, and Judy Hughes as treasurer of student government.

Jacqueline Wright, president of the House Council; Ray Phillips, president of the Athletic Association; and Dolores Duncan, president of the Y. W. C. A., were installed as ex-officio members of the association.

The representatives from each class were then installed. Nancy Lee Maddox and Frances Dodson became official representatives for next year's senior class. Louise Taylor and Romine Mahood were

(Continued on page 3)

Orchesis Will Have Russ Carlton to Play For May Day Dance

Russ Carlton and his orchestra will play for the annual Orchesis sponsored May Day Dance to be held in the College gym May 7, Betty Lewis Shank, chairman of the music committee announces.

This is the same orchestra which set the tempo for the local Fall Cotillion this year, and has been engeged for many dances here in the past. One of Russ Carlton's most recent engagements was at Madison College.

Hilda Edwards, general chairman for May Day Dance requests that students watch for an announcement in the dining hall concerning the sale and price of tickets.

Commercial Club To Sponsor Dance

The Commercial Club will sponsor a juke box dance in the College 'rec Saturday night, April 30, from 8:30 P. M. to 12:00 P. M.

The dance will be an informal one (girl-break, boy-break) with an admission of ten-cents per person. Ruth Walker will be in charge of the dance.

Chaperones for the dance will be Mrs. J. P. Wynne, Mr. Christy Snead, Mr. Norman O. Myers, and Mr. M. L. Landrum.

B. Ed. Department Plans Conference Thursday, May 5

Business Teachers To Be Represented

A shorthand transcription conference will be held here Thursday, May 5, for teachers of public schools and for representatives of private business schools. The conference is a part of the in-service teacher improvement program and is sponsored by the State Commercial Education Service, headed by Mr. A. L. Walker, State Supervisor.

The conference will be led by Mrs. Madeline S. Strony, educational director for the Gregg Publishing Company. Mrs. Strony has won many medals and awards for speed transcription in shorthand. She has written widely and conducted many educational programs and conferences throughout the United States.

The purpose of the conference, according to Mr. M. L. Landrum, head of the College business education department at Longwood College, is to discuss the new methods developed in the teaching of shorthand and secretarial courses. In addition, the individual problems of the business teachers will be considered by Mrs. Strony.

All public school teachers, private business organizations are invited to attend free of charge. Members of private business schools and business organizations may attend lunch in the dining room at the college by purchasing a luncheon ticket during registration immediately preceding the conference, May 5.

32 Accept Bids To FTA Tuesday

Thirty two members of the junclass accepted bids to the local chapter of the Future Teachers of America. These girls were initiated at a meeting last night in the honors room.

Dr. John P. Wynne, F.T.A. sponsor and director of teacher education, spoke to the group explaining the meaning and purpose of the organization.

New members are reccommended by the heads of the departments and chosen from this list by the executive committee of the F. T. A. depends largely upon the students' professional qualities rather than on their academic standing.

Accepting bids were Jackie Wright, Dolores Duncan, Ann Nichols, Frances Allen, Helen Arrington, Jane Gray, Ellen Moyer, and Laura Buchanan.

Also Sue Walker, Shirley Simmons, Juanita Weeks, Lynda Black, Betty House, Nancy Short, Katie Cobb, and Patsy Ritter.

Also Pat Davis, Annie Swann, Ann Lucy, Margaret Farmer, Betty Lewis Shank, Page Burnette, Jane Williams ,and Ann Foreman.

Also Connie Marston, Jean Hogge, Betty Sekeres, Mary Crowgey, Mary Jane Hite, Kitty Beale, Dot Caldwell, and Dot Dodd.

VPI Glee Club To Sing at FHS

The music department of Farmville high school will sponsor a concert by the VPI Men's Glee Club in the high school auditorium on Friday night, April 29 at 8 o'clock. Mr. C. J. Hesch will direct the 36 men who will appear in the concert.

The price of admission is $.50, tax included.

Columbia Press Group Rates Rotunda 'First' In Annual Competition

U. of R. Paper Judged Best At VIPA Meet

W & L Student To Head Group

ASHLAND, April 23 — University of Richmond's newspaper The Richmond Collegian and William and Mary magazine The Royalist were judged the best among Virginia college and University publications at the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association Spring convention held at Randolph-Macon College today.

The Richmond Collegian placed first in a field of 13 Virginia college newspapers submitted to a board of professional newspapermen for the VIPA top newspaper award. William and Mary's The Royalist led the field of eight Virginia college magazines.

Matthews A. Griffith, of The Richmond Time-Dispateh, headed the newspaper judges while Henry W. Cottrell, Jr., of Richmond, was chairman of the magazine board.

The College of William and Mary's The Flat Hat placed second in the newpaper competition and Washington and Lee University's The Ring-Tum Phi and the Virginia Teeh of VPI tied for third place.

VPI's Virginia Tech Engineer won second plaee award in the magazine competition and The Messenger of University of Richmond was named third-place winner.

Certificates of merit were presented by Frank H. Fuller Virginia Associated Press bureau chief, at the final banquet held in Randolph-Macon College's dining hall this evening.

The college editors representing 16 Virginia colleges and universities spent the day in panel discussions and heard critques of their publications. The discussion groups were led by Griffith, Cottrell and G. Edmond Massie, III.

John French, of Washington and Lee, was elected president of the VIPA for the coming year, he succeeds W. L. Dudley, of VPI. The

Continued on page 4

Freshmen Take Test On Virginia History; College 8th In Series

All freshman students were given a test on the history of Virginia Tuesday, April 26.

This test, issued by the Division of Statuatory Research and compiled by a Commission created by the Virginia General Assembly, is a method being used in an effort to learn how the history of Virginia is being taught in the secondary schools. Longwood is the eighth of a series of colleges whose freshmen are being tested.

The Commission is composed of seven men appointed from the State at large by Governor William Tuck. The job of the Commission to make a study of the textbooks and other materials used in the History and Government curricula of Virginia's secondary schools. In addition to learning how the history of Virginia is being taught, the General Assembly is interested in knowing how this teaching is being correlated with history and acquaint students with the history and traditions of government in Virginia, and the relationship of local, State and Federal Government

ACP Gives 'Second' Rate

The Rotunda recently received a rating of "First Class' in the twenty fifth anual contest of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association with "All-Columbian Award" for creative literary work.

The Associated Collegiate Press scorebook which was received this week, rated first semester issues of the Rotunda "Second Class-Good" with a total score of 675.

Columbian Score 892

The Columbian First Place rating is awarded publications for their outstanding qualities. The Rotunda placed in this group with a score of 892 out of a possible 1,000 points.

In this contest each paper is compared with the others in its own particular classification and is rated according to its relative standing with such. The rating points have been established after a study of what constitutes the average newspaper.

Commenting on the Rotunda the judges said "The Rotunda is a well-organized college newspaper that interests any reader who opens the pages for the first time. There is evident improvement on the inside pages which indicates interest and organization on the staff and advisor's part. A good newspaper tells its 'area story'— the Rotunda does just that."

This is the second year that the Rotunda has been submitted to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Last year a "First Class" rating with a score of 875 was received.

All issues published during the first semester of this year were submitted in the competition. These were published under the direction of Betty Spindler, retired editor-in-chief.

Competes With 52

The Rotunda was awarded the "Second Class-Good" rating by the Associated Collegiate Press in competition with fifty two other publications. The three hundred and sixty four entered in the competition were divided into fourteen classifications according to the enrollment of the school and the frequency of publication of the paper.

The papers judged in this contest were published in the fall semester under the staff headed by Betty Spindler, recently retired editor-in-chief of the Rotunda.

Assembly To Feature Pictures of Faculty

Baby pictures of the faculty and administration will be shown in the regular Thursday assembly at 11:15 tomorrow, according to an announcement by Dr. George W. Jeffers faculty chairman of the chapel committee.

Twenty nine pictures of as many members of the faculty and administration will be thrown on a screen in the main recreation hall. Miss Anna Headlee, audio-visual instructor, will show the pictures, and comments and identification will be made by Dr. Jeffers.

Miss Headlee stated that although some of the pictures are not as clear as could be hoped she is sure that the program will prove an interesting one for all. She added that she wishes to thank all those who turned in pictures for use in the program although some of the pictures will not be used because of bad lighting facilities in the rec'

Seniors will march into the assembly and seats will be reserved for them.

Some Ounces of Prevention .....

The College officials have taken little time in remedying the fire hazards in the gymnasium during dances. Already definite safety measures have been taken and danger from fire hazards has grown more distant.

Permanent lighted exit signs have been installed over the doors leading to the swimming pool entrance, to the locker rooms, to Annex, and to the balcony exit. These were installed on a separate line and will be lighted day and night. They have been, and will continue to be, checked so that they meet all Underwriters' requirements. Commendation is due the administration officials for such prompt action.

At the recent dance, all exits from the gymnasium were left unlocked. Members of the Cotillion Club sponsoring the dance watched these doors, since arrangements have not yet been made whereby these doors may be unlocked on the inside and locked on the outside. (Until such arrangements can be made this method of leaving the doors unlocked but watched can and should be followed at all College functions in the gymnasium.) The no-smoking regulation was emphasized and apparently followed by all. The Cotillion Club is to be complimented on their stern enforcement of this rule.

The measures which were taken to prevent fire and to make exits more easily accessible are ones that should be followed constantly and consitsently In doing so, we may be helping to prevent a tragedy.

Are You Satisfied With Meal Time? .....

Last week this column registered a complaint that insufficient time for meals is allowed in the College dining hall. We are happy to see in the Letters to the Editor this week a pro and con discussion of this criticism and the solution suggested in last week's editorial.

Subsequent investigation of this problem and consultation with the College Dining Hall Committee reveals that the complaint is not a new one. One of the suggtions offered in last week's editorial, i. e., that waitresses and students eat separately in order that waitresses can devote all their time to serving and students to eating reportedly was presented by the dining hall staff to both students and waitresses last year and proved unacceptable to both parties. However, we do not believe that the opinion of a majority of students on this subject has yet been expressed. Next week the Rotunda will interview students under "Campus Cogitations' on this matter; but this expression will hardly be sufficient, as is a poll of the entire student body impractical as well. However, the Rotunda urges that students indicate their feeling about the proposed solution through Letters to the Editor which will gladly be published if signed, name withheld on request, or by voicing their opinions verbally to Miss Elizabeth Burger, faculty chairman of the Dining Hall Committee. This committee is continually at work to improve dining hall conditions.

It's true that the problem of haste in the dining hall is basically dependent on the service problem. The objections to the plan of students and waitresses eating separately voice in the Letter to the Editor by "An interested waitress" are sound and legitimate. But the Rotunda still feels that some arrangement could be worked out at least for lunch and dinner whereby both students and waitresses would have more time to eat.

The Dining Hall Committee has in the past effected many improvements in the College dining hall, quite evident both in atmosphere and menu. It is willing to take further action in the problem of hurried meals IF a majority of students indicates that they are dissatisfied with the present situation. Again the Rotunda invites and urges students to expess their opinions and suggestions as to the length of time allowed for meals. As the organ of student thought in this college, the Rotunda wishes to speak at all times for the majority of the student body if there is but some indication what that thought is.

Are you satisfied with the situation as it now is? If so, the Rotunda will let the issue rest. Express your opinion.

Is This Dishonesty Or Thoughtlessness .....

Since the destruction of the College auditorium nearly two months ago, a large group of students have been consistently making themselves conspicuous by their absence from the weekly assembly program. Is this a demonstration of wanton dishonesty, or is it, as President Lancaster hopefully phrased it in his letter published last month in the Rotunda, mere thoughtlessness?

We're inclined to believe that the majority of students who "cut" assembly actually are thoughtless enough not to have considered how essentially wrong this practice is. And sadly, the offenders are wronging themselves most of all when they refuse to take advantage of this weekly opportunity for diversion and broadening the outlook. Before the auditorium burned students were penalized for being absent from assembly; now that there is no convenient means of checking attendance, many are cheaply cashing in on the disaster to by-step the rules. Again quoting President Lancaster, this definitely is "not playing the game."

An assembly of the entire student body at least once weekly is a definite necessity in any school or college. Without it there can be no preservation of a unified "esprit de corps", that intangible quality called on the athletic field, "school spirit". Do students who "cut" assembly realize that they are willfully stifling the spirit which in the past has made the student body of this college outstanding?

Some students are entitled by their scholastic standing to legitimately be absent from assembly as they would a class. It is not to them that this is addressed, although we can't see why they would want to miss the entertaining and beneficial programs which far outnumber those which aren't quite so interesting. This is addressed to that group of students who evidently don't realize what an unfair act they are committing when they stay away from assembly on the grounds that their absence will probably not be checked. Now is the time for all guilty parties to reflect on the consequences.

Can we so easily let down our president, the Assembly Committee, and that contingent of the student body which does recognize the value of the weekly assembly?

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 25, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office Student Building Phone 553, Box 108
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Ass'n., Associated Collegiate Press Rating (ACP) 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1979 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1914

STAFF

Jacqueline Eagle ..... Editor-in-Chief
Mary Leigh Meredith ..... Managing Editor
Janice Slavin ..... Business Manager
Jean Smith ..... Desk Editor
Mary Jo Smith ..... News Editor
Joan Prichett ..... Assistant News Editor

Reporters

Pat Smith, Joyce Hamlet, Jean Otis Loving
Mary Cowgey ..... Feature Editor

Feature Writers

Claudia Anderson, Janice Slavin, Betty Ferguson, Joan Prichett, Betty Lewis Shank
Ann Lynch ..... Sports Editor
Winifred Beard ..... Sports Writer
Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor
Peggy Perry ..... Photographer
Beverly Soethie ..... Advertising Manager
Grace Thompson ..... Circulation Manager

Business Assistants

Millie Carter, Peggy Harris, Edith Kennon, Lucy Vaughan, Virginia Dare Wood

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1949

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor,

I want to heartily endorse your editorial in the last Rotunda about the meal time rush. It is a wonder that the college doesn't turn out ulcerated graduates if rushing and bolting food can cause ulcers. I can see some reason for breakfast being a fairly quick meal, so that the dining room girls can get their work finished before classes but why can't lunch and dinner be more leisurely?

Many is the Sunday that the cart is wheeled out for the chicken before said chicken is hardly carved. Guests in the dining hall have commented on the rushed atmosphere. If the dining room hostesses and staff could work out a better system I'm sure that we would all benefit.

Another fact that I would like to comment on is the work of the dining room girls when guests are here. There is nothing in their contracts that says that they have to wait on guests, but they do wait on them and don't receive any extra pay for a lot of extra work. Oftentimes after serving guests they do not have time to eat before classes. No provision is made for the girls working guests tables to eat before meals.

I think that they should be paid extra for this guest work and that adequate time should be allowed them to eat their meals.

Sincerely,
An interested Sophomore

Dear Editor,

Anyone stopping to consider the suggestion that waitresses eat before or after meals, would realize how impractical it is. First the whole system of classes would have to be changed. Even with the present arrangement we are often late to our 8:05 class so where would we find time to eat after breakfast? If we were to eat before breakfast, we would have to sacrifice much needed sleeping time. The other meals would present similar problems. Then, who would serve the waitresses? This would involve added expense to someone (the students?). Also, at the present we spend approximately three hours a day in the dining hall. Although some of this time is spent in eating, very little, if any, of it is free from the responsibility of our job. This makes our hourly wage about 20c an hour. Are those who offered the suggestion also suggesting that we are MORE hours a day for our same wages? This would make our hourly rate less than 20c. Many of us who are trying to help ourselves through college by this work find it difficult to stretch the thin amount over the fees which have been twice raised.

I am certainly willing to do my part to improve conditions in the dinning hall and will carry out any suggestions within reason. I am sure the other waitresses feel this way too. We would appreciate a consideration of our side of the question. Thank you.

Sincerely
An interested Waitress

Library Statistics Record Attendance

It seems that quite a few of the Longwood students do use the college library, for during the month of March, 6,064 people entered the portals, according to Dr. Ruffin, college librarian, who conducted a survey along this line with the help of librarian assistants. This number does not include those going to language classes.

In spite of the decrease in the student body this year, the records show that only 3,284 students used the library during the month of March last year.

This attendance record is based on a count taken on the half hour through the day and evening. The heaviest attendance is during the evening, Dr. Ruffin stated, but there has been a decided increase in the morning attendance. The library is open during the lunch hour this year for the convenience of the students, and quite a few students have taken advantage of this opportunity by working straight through their lunch hour.

Continued on Page 3

About This Time Of Year

Campus Cogitations

"Are you in favor of having fewer dances and making these bigger and better week ends?"

Nancye Gillie: It's a good idea.

Joan Prichett: Goodness! Have all the parties we can!

Chic Ritchie: "Suits me."

Pat Davis: I think there would be better crowds.

Sarah Dickerson: Definitely!

Betsy Gravely: Of course!

Barbara Hankins: Sounds good to me.

Peggy Harris: I don't see that we have too many as it is.

Virginia Dare Woody: Have fewer, so people will appreciate them enough to attend.

Romine Mahood: Can't see that there's much more on which to plan a bigger weekend.

Jean Ridenour: I'm in favor of fewer and bigger dances, of course. And space them so they will be more than two weeks apart.

Betty Scott Borkey: I second Jane's motion.

Claudia Anderson: It will be trouble anyway you go about it.

Nancy Walker: Righto!

Jessie Pickett: The number of dances may not be the problem, but I wish we could schedule them so they didn't conflict with the big weekends at other schools!

Martha Gilliam: If we have fewer dances, I feel certain the weekends will be bigger and better and the girls will support the dances more.

Ruth Ellen Meres: I think fewer dances will be much better, and I think they should be scheduled on a weekend when there are no dances at any of the other schools.

Jean Hogge: I certainly am in favor of it because it would be easier on one's pocketbook.

Margie Miller: What has happened to the wonderful big dances we have had in the past? They were a huge success! Let's try having fewer and get some spirit behind those few!!!

Sophisticated Rat

First things come first, so this week let a toast be made to the girls who did such a wonderful job with their work on Freshman production! Everyone who had part in the production should be prouder than a white duck on a rainy day. Who would argue that the class of '52 isn't right there on top of everything?

Did someone say they failed to get any sleep Monday night. She who did was a lucky gal. The whoops and whahoos got an early start at 11 P. M. and lasted until the last person was winding the clock at about 2. Freshman do have the excitement every so often!

Since the college changed its name, many amusing anecdotes and sayings have arisen from that source. One morsel of dry wit that well deserves mentioning was heard at a frat party at W and L. "The name was 'Longwood' before the fire; now it's 'Charredspllnter'".

Memories of the Spring Cotillion Dance that took place this past weekend will long be fastened in the memories of all who attended. The VMI commanders were at their best. Had I an orchid, I would present it to Mary Moore Karr for her teeming and exuberant efforts in making flowers and butterflys for the gym. Many other "Goats" are not to be forgotten for their diligent work in getting the "trimmings" ready for the big night.

Big Easters at Virginia were really all right we hear. Vaugne Monroe was a featured atttraction, but a gal by the name of Marty still thinks that Barney held first place. Jean Ridenour, Marjorie Traher, and Barbara Hawkins are still singing praises.

Not to be outdone, several bums from second Main journeyed to W and L to take in all of the fun of Spring Dances. All that needs be said is "A gay time was had by all."

Tech opened its doors to Nancy Hounshell, Margaret Hutchins, Peggy Covington, and Cathy Bunch who attended Spring dances there at the fortre in Blacksburg.

Anne Mosely is still wondering "Wha' hoppen" to her sus-prise that she had been promised--Jackie Woodward is evidently the worse for packing clothes for the weekend--Midge Woods can really be proud of Pete these days--Marla Jackson seems to be taking a greater interest in bridge since the W and L weekend--Lucyle Humprles must be trying to keep Western Union in business--Anne Maitland is on a diet because Jeep called her "Butterball" last Saturday night.

There you are, freshman, take it from there. 'Bye now and see you next week.

SPORTIN' AROUND

By ANN LYNCH

It's time to start getting in those softball practices. Come out on the A. A. field any day at 4:45 and make up a third period while making up a team!

The fall tennis singles will be played off by the end of this week, so look for further reports.

The results from the National Telegraphic meet have come in. Read about it on this page.

Installation of the coming Athletic Association officers will be held tonight in the Methodist Church.

The ping pong tournament is still going strong. This does not give points to color eup, but we'll let you know the outeome when they've finished playing.

New System

Continued from page 1

installed for the eoming junior class. Martha Wilson and Ann Motley were installed for next year's sophomore class.

Elizabeth Harris was also installed as representative for the town girls.

Following the installation, Dr. Lancaster gave a short talk on the effeetiveness of the student government assoeiation at Longwood College, and his hope of a still more effeetive one in the coming year.

UBEA Exceeds Quota

Aceording to a speelal news release to Mr. M. L. Landrum, state membership chairman of the United Business Edueation Assoeiation, from National Headquarters of U.B.E.A. which is the Business Edueation divislon of the National Education Assoeiation, Virginia was the third state in the Southern district to exeeed its membership quota. Louisiana was first, and North Carolina was second.

Mr. Landrum in eommenting on the suecess of the membership eampaign praised highly the magnifieent work of the district, county, and city membership chairmen who were actively supported by the business education teachers of the state.

"Now," said the professor, "watch the board while I run through it again!"

May Day Court, Sets To Rehearse Tomorrow Night

Schedule For Week Of May 2 Complete

The first mass May Day rehearsal will be held in the gym tomorrow night from 7:00-8:30.

Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, advisor for the pageant, has announced that there will be no rehearsal Saturday if rehearsals during the week are good and the weather is favorable for practicing at the estate.

A sehedule for next week's rehearsals has been given by Mrs. Landrum as follows:

Monday, May 2:
3—5:30 P. M. River, settlers, both men and women Indians at Longwood.

7—8:30 P. M. Mass rehearsal in gym.

Tuesday, May 3:
4—5:30 P. M. Workers-cornfield, pickers and bargemen, and court at Longwood.

7—8:30 P. M. Mass rehearsal in gym.

Wednesday, May 4:
3—5:30 P. M. River at Longwood.

4—5:30 P. M. Court, set I, setII at Longwood.

7—8:30 P. M. Dress rehearsal in gym.

Thursday, May 5
3:30—5:30 P. M. Mass rehearsal at Longwood.
Friday, May 6

2—5:30 P. M. Dress rehearsal at Longwood.

All participants in May Day will be excused from their physical education classes to attend rehearsals, and from their afternoon classes Friday, May 6.

Some transportation to the estate will be provided Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Rides will not be available for everyone. There will definitely be transportation for everyone Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Students can meet the college truek at the back porch of the main building on these days.

Monogram, H20 Select Officers

MONOGRAM CLUB

Patsy Ritter was reelected to the presidency of the Monogram Club at a meeting held Monday night, Mareh 25.

Sue Walker was elected to the only other elub office, that of secretary-treasurer.

H2O CLUB

At a meeting last Thursday night, H20 Club members elected Patsy Ritter to serve as president for the coming year.

Marjorie Boswiek was chosen secretary-tvasurer of the aquatie group at the same meeting. There are no other offieers in the H2O Club.

College Church Groups Announce Plans For Coming Weekend Meetings

This week end the local Wesley Foundation Counells, consisting of old and new members, are meeting at the College Estate for a retreat. This meeting is a planning eonferenee for next year.

The speaker of the evening will be the Rev. J. S. Burleigh, Mr. R. H. Freneh, the Rev. J. W. Myers, Dr. Starke Jett, Mrs. B. T. Taylor, Mrs. R. A. Wilmouth, and Dr. J. Elliot Walmsley will be present to advise the group as they make plans for next year.

Those attending the eonferenee are Ann Kelly, Earl Agee, Nadine Lewers, Dot Dunford, Ruth Walker, Stuart McGhee, Billie Mullins and Sue Walker.

Others attending the retreat are June Foreman, Evelyn Farrier, Laura Lee Fritts, Edith Kennon, Edna Roderiquez, Polly Nassar, Ann Foreman and Milly Wilson.

Also Nancy Kibler, Winnie Murdoek, Andy Adams, Jane Allen, Catherine Terry, Mary Jo Jennings, and Gladys Monk.

Canterbury Club

At the recent annual Canterbury Club Conference at Roslyn, John Alfriend of Hampden-Sydney was elected ehairman of the committee of Diocese Student Organization for this Dioeese.

Delegates from Longwood College were Emily Hastings, Barbara Andrews and Lillie Lankford.

There will be a meeting of the Canterbury Club Sunday, May 6, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Marvin W. Sehiegel at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Schlegel will meet all students who wish to attend in the Rotunda at 7:20 and will provide transportation for them.

B. S. U. Retreat

Eleven delegates from Longwood College attended the Baptist Student Union spring retreat at Covington, Virginia, April 22-24.

The representatives from Longwood were Jackie Wright, Dot Doutt, Tillie Tillet, Dorothy Daniels, Marilyn Wheeler, Max Aeree, Peggy Dee Hoover, Annie Swann, Dorothy Braswell and Melbaie Booth.

Phillips, Lynch, Crowder Go To Athletic Conference

Longwood Places 8th In Telegraphic Meet Held Here Recently

Longwood College placed eighth in the final results of the long and short courses of the Southern Region annual National Telegraphie Swim Meet.

Jean Ridneour plaeed third in the region in the 50 yard free style with a timing of 33.5 seeonds. This gave Longwood three points. In the 100 yard breast stroke, Ridneour plaeed fourth with a timing of 1:39.5 seconds, giving Longwood two points.

This made a total of five points, giving the eollege its rating as eighth in the Southern Region.

VACFW Holds 2nd Annual Meet

Ray Phillips, president of the Athletic Association; Anne Lynch, secretary of the organization; and Mary Crowder, treasurer, represented Longwood College at the second meeting of the Virginia Athletic Federation of College Women, which was held at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, last week end, April 22 and 23.

The main purpose of the meeting was to revise the working plan, drawn up at the first meeting of the V. A. F. C. W. at R. P. I., Richmond, last year, and set up a final constitution for the federation to work with.

Members of the convention decided that there would be a convention held each year excepting those when there was a national convention, at which time the state meeting would be called off.

The fiscal year was set up to be from May 1st to May 1st.

On Friday, registration was held and Friday night, the members of the convention were entertained at a banquet held at the lodge in Williamsburg. Following the banquet a business meeting was held in Jefferson Hall on the eampus at Williamsburg.

Saturday consisted of business meetings and committee meetings at which the constitution was revised, and the committees made out their plans for the following year.

Hollins college was named the host for next yea r where the V. A. F. C. W. convention will be held.

U. S. Civil Service Wants Librarians

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has been accepting applications for several months for its Librarian examination; however, sufficient eligibles to fill existing vacaneies in this field have not yet been obtained. The Commission therefore wishes to bring the examination to the attention of qualified persons who have not yet applied.

Library Statistics

Continued From Page 2

Among the serviees rendered by the library is the distribution of free material. In Mareh, 5,466 pieees of free material were given out. This material is espeeially valuable to student teachers. Dr. Ruffin urges Longwood students to watch the referenee room for new supplies of distributive material.

15 LC Seniors Sign Teaching Contracts For Coming Year

Several senior students have announced their plans for teaching or other work after their graduation in June.

Those who have signed teaching contracts are Barbara Saunders who will teach in Amelia; Eula Ayres, in Norfolk; Marcella Mardel, in Norfolk; Violet Ritchie, in Norfolk; and Rosemary Caldwell, in Richmond.

Others who have aceepted teaching positions are Mary Elizabeth Young, in Glen Allen county school, Henrico county; Mary Sue Ebeling, in Richmond; Ruth Whitterf, in Richmond; Melbale Booth, in Smithfield; and Jean Thomasson, in South Hill.

Jane Taylor will teach in Portsmouth; Love Bentley, in Culpepper; Edna Earle Waters, in Glen Allen county school, Henrico county, Elaine Owens, in Varina, Henrico county; and Jacqueline Bobbit, in Culpepper.

Betty Romeo will do graduate work at Columbia University in New York City.

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Buy Gifts
FOR HIM
from
VERSER'S

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from
MARTIN THE JEWELER

KLEANWELL CLEANERS
For Excellent Results
Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

MEET and EAT
AT THE COLLEGE
SHOPPE

We have the latest
RECORDS
WILSON
HOME AND
AUTO SUPPLY

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia
Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Made to a Queen's Taste
Princess Pet
ICE CREAM
Richer, Creamier...More Delectable
At a family dinner or a party -- with Princess Pet for dessert... honest-to-goodness Southern Hospitality is always in your home! Yes, Princess Pet is the finest, richest, most delicious Ice Cream ever to grace any table...anywhere!
So, buy Princess Pet at your dealer's, today...in the colorful Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality! Princess Pet -- the de luxe Ice Cream with every flavor made to a Queen's taste!
Four popular standard flavors -- Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry, Buttered Pecan -- and the Flavor of the Month...Caramel Bisque... a new, royal flavor treat!
NOW 40¢ a PINT
AT YOUR DEALER'S
TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

WSVS
"Recess In the Rec"
TUESDAY
3::00-3:30
WSVS—650 On Your Dial

Buy your school SUPPLIES from
J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

WFLO
The Talk of The Town
870 On Your Dial

WHO'S —IN THE— Senior Spotlight?

The name of this senior won't be hard to detect. She wears a path between Mr. Mac's office and her room, always slaving desperately over pictures, pages, and print for the annual. The topic of print has done a marvelous job in editing the first Longwood yearbook.

Always ready with a dry bit of humor, this senior can be found at almost any time of the day musing over a thought provoking bridge game. Rumor has it that she's pretty snazzy with a no trump hand.

An English major, she is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Pi Kappa Sigma, Kappa Delta Pi, Beore Eh Thorn, and the Cotillion club.

Next year, you will find her an English teacher. Right now, she isn't sure of just where she will teach.

Alright brainchild, who is she?

Whoever wrote the saying "beauty is only skin deep" would have thought twice before applying it to our queen of modern dance. This lush young lady with dark curly hair and brown eyes has won the heart of every student at Longwood as well as every one of her classmates.

Well known for her poise and gracious manner, this senior devotes much of her time to many organizations in the college. She is vice president of Student Government, president of Alpha Sigma Tau, a member of the Choir, Madrigal Singers, Orchesis, Cotillion club, and Alpha Kappa Gamma. She is listed in Who's Who Among American College Students.

A member of May Court, she will also represent Longwood as Princess to the Apple Blossom Festival to be held at Winchester

Aside from the snack bar and Mac, her main interests lie in Alpha Sigma Tau, dancing, and her roommate.

For the future, she plans to do Social Welfare work.

* * *

Seniors in last week's Spotlight were Griswold Boxley and Dot Daniel.

Voice on phone: Virginia McClary is sick today and can't come to class. She requested me to notify you.

Professor: All right. Who is this speaking?

Voice: This is my roommate.

Testing the theory that a certain history prof. doesn't bother to read reports, but grades them by weighing them on a scale, a sophomore inserted this in the middle of his report: "If you read this far, I'll buy you a Coke."

He got the report back marked: "C—I did, is 4:30 this afternoon

Roof Garden Parties Spring Up As LC'ers Take To Roof

By Sylvia Damsky

Have you joined the LCRGS? If you haven't yet, you probably will before June. Don t wait for an invitation. Just come up to the roof for our next meeting. You see, LCRGS stands for Longwood College Roof Garden Society, one of the most active (or inactive) organizations on campus.

The members of this sun-worshipping club can be easily distinguished from non-members. Their emblem is a deep purple face which the members wear in a set and often pained position. (It hurts to smile!)

This is one organization to which the attendance is wonderful. The club has no definite times for meetings, but you can be sure of always finding someone present every sunny day. The girls love to attend these meetings. Of course, no group should ever be completely idle. The members of this club play bridge, or, for those who are not bridge fiends, there are always a few hot poker games going on. The studious girl will be allowed to read her history parallel in peace. Why, I even noticed some energetic souls dictating their shorthand lessons up there. But the favorite pastime is just lying down and hoping you won't get up with too many blisters.

Before you may join the club, it is necessary that you have (1) a blanket and (2) a bottle of suntan lotion. The latter is not absolutely required, but it comes in very handy occasionally. The society, it must be admitted, is not very formal in matters of dress. Wear any old thing to meetings—the briefer, the better. Last, you must solemnly promise never to slap a fellow member on the back. (Violation of this rule will give you one black eye.)

There you have the story of the LC Roof Garden Society. How about coming up to see us tomorrow?

VIPA Meet

Continued from page 1

delegates named Dan Roberts, of Randolph-Macon College, vice-president, and Miss Patt Stringham, of William and Mary, secretary-treasurer.

It was announced to the convention that Bob McNeil, VPI public relations director, will serve as the executive secretary of the college press group.

In the closing session the college editors accepted Mary Washington College's of Fredericksburg, invitation for the site of the Fall convention.

Then members of the staffs of the Rotunda, the Colonnade and the Virginian attended the convention.

The Colonnade and the Rotunda were entered in the competition. Both received favorable criticism from the judges.

Secretary Announces Dates of Interviews By Superintendents

Mrs. Mary Watkins, Executive Secretary of the College, has announced that several superintendents will come to Longwood College during the months of April and May to interview senior students for teaching positions.

They are Mr. R. L. Lacy, superintendent of Halifax County schools who will be here April 26; Mrs. H. L. Webb, superintendent of Greenville schools, April 27; and Mr. Charles W. Willis, superintendent of Harford county schools, Bel Air, Maryland, May 4.

Mrs. Enice Spivey of the State Welfare Department will be here April 27 to interview students interested in social welfare work.

Mr. Paul Hounshell, superintendent of Culpeper county schools, visited the college Tuesday, April 19; and on Friday, April 22, Mr. J. F. Hollifield, superintendent of Henry county schools, accompanied by Mr. G. W. Burton, Director of Instruction in Henry county were here for similar interviews.

Madrigal Group Will Sing on College Hour

The Madrigal singers will sing on the S. T. C. hour over radio station WFLO tomorrow afternoon at 4:30.

The selections that will offer are "An Offering" by Watson; "Life Thine Eyes" by Mendelssohn; "Sleep, Sleep Beauty Bright" by Tatton; "Madame, Jeanette" by Murray; and "O Little Star", a Swedish folk song arranged by Davis.

Jean Watts will sing a solo, "Let My Song Fill Your Heart", by Earnest Charles.

FREE! At Gray's Drug Store

The CARA NOME CONSULTANT is here to help you choose the correct color in cosmetics—you are not oblicated to buy!

GRAYS DRUG STORE

THE DOROTHY MAY STORE

Come in and try 'em then you'll buy 'em

Our straw bags—natural and natural with colored trim — styles in shoulder straps or handles.

$2.98-$1.98 plus tax

DOROTHY MAY STORE

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

MAKE YOURS THE MILDER CIGARETTE

MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELDS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE
BY LATEST NATIONAL SURVEY

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Serving Coca-Cola Serves Hospitality

5¢

Ask for it either way . . . both trade marks mean the same thing.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY LYNCHBURG COCA COLA BOTTLING WORKS

© 1949, The Coca Cola Company

Library

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

Attend
May Day Dance

The Rotunda

See
May Day Pageant

VOLUME XXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., Wednesday, May 4, 1949 | NO. 26

'River Legend' to Open May Day Festivities Sat.

Carlton's Orchestra To Set Dance Tempo For May Day Ball Sat.

Walker Announces Decoration Theme

Russ Carlton and his orchestra from Danville will provide the music for the May Day dance to be held in the Longwood gymnasium Saturday night, from 8:00 p.m. to 12:00 p.m.

The decorations for the dance will carry out the "River Legend" theme of the May Day pageant to be presented Saturday afternoon. Sue Walker, chairman of the decorations committee, has announced. Plantation scenes, iif along the James River, and sets of square dancers will set the stage for the dance.

Receiving Line

The receiving line for the dance will include President and Mrs. Dabney Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. W. W. Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Merle L. Landrum, Dean Ruth Gleaves, Jane Taylor, president of Orchesis; Marjorie Boswick, costume chairman of Orchesis; Ann Langbein, treasurer of Orchesis, and Hilda Edwards, general chairman of the May Day dance.

The chaperones for the affair will consist of Miss Elizabeth Burger, Miss Bettie S. Hammond, Miss Mary B. Barlow, Mrs. Caroline Eastham, Dr. and Mrs. Schlegel, Miss Olive Iler, Mr. Raymond H. French, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wakefield, Miss Jessie Patterson, Mrs. Mildred D. Davis, Mrs. Josephine Phillips, Miss Vera Baron, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Graham, Miss Ethel Sutherlin, Dr. and Mrs. George W. Jeffers, Dr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pickett, and Miss Katherine Tupper.

Ruthellen Mears, Queen of May Day; Margaret Wall, her Maid of Honor, and the May Court will form the figure for the dance.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets went on sale today at the table in the hall for the student body, according to Betty McCree, chairman of the ticket committee. Date tickets are priced

Continued on page 4

Mrs. Strony Will Lead Conference

SHORTHAND conference supervisor. Mrs. Madeline S. Strony.

Mrs. Madeline S. Strony, educational director for the Gregg Publishing Company, will lead the shorthand transcription conference to be held here tomorrow at 10 A. M. in classrooms 41 and 42.

Mrs. Strony has won many medals and awards for speed in transcription shorthand. She has written widely and conducted many educational programs and conferences throughout the U. S. Longwood business professors stress that everyone interested in shorthand should not miss the opportunity of hearing Mrs. Strony. All students and faculty members are invited to attend.

The conference is a part of the in-service teacher improvement program and is sponsored by the State Commercial Education Service, headed by Mr. A. L. Walker, State Supervisor.

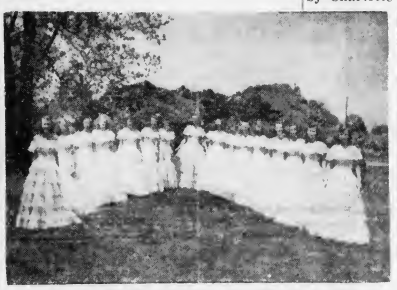
All public school teachers, private business organizations are invited to attend free of charge.

Course Schedules For Coming Session Ready For Release

New Regulations To Go Into Effect

Definite plans for the registration of students for first-semester classes of the 1949-50 session have been completed and were announced this week by Dean William W. Savage. Course schedules will be released early next week and students will fill out their schedules and have them approved during the period from Monday, May 16, through Friday, May 20. Announcement will be made in the dining hall of the date of the release of course schedules.

At its meeting last Monday, the Course of Study Committee passed a new regulation affecting all freshmen. Beginning with the 1949-50 session, all sophomores must have the approval of the respective heads of departments before they may major in a subject or field. This system will mean that a student must discuss his plans with the head of the department in which he is interested before selecting his major. If the department head approves him as a student majoring in the field, he will be placed on probation for the major in that department. If, at the end of his sophomore year, his record indicates he is doing satisfactory work, he will be given final approval by the head.



In order to obtain approval of his major subject or field, a student must obtain an approval form from the Registrar's office and submit it to the proper department head. These forms will be available tomorrow morning. All freshmen who plan to return next year should obtain copies and arrange interviews with the department heads at once in order that their majors may be approved before registration begins on May 16.

Department heads have requested that all freshmen planning to return next year meet with them at 11:15 a. m. on next Tuesday, May 10. Each freshman should attend the meeting of the depart-

Continued on page 4

Ruthellen Mears (left) and Margaret Wall (right), May Queen and Maid of Honor, respectively.

Members of the May Queen's court, from left to right, are: Violet Ritchie, Marjorie Boswick, Evelyn Patterson, Lou Alyce Shelor, Jean Ridenour, Charlotte Jones, Mary Towles Waldrop, Helen Hardin, June Banks, Marjorie Miller, Maude Savage, Betty Ferguson, Martha Hylton, Barbara Sours, Frances Turner, and Betty Atkinson. Court members not shown above are Jane Fox and Isaac Velasquez.

Mears Will Reign at Pageant In College Amphitheater

The annual May Day festivities on this campus will open Saturday with the presentation of the pageant, "River Legend" in the natural amphitheatre of the College Estate at 4 p. m. Ruthellen Mears, senior from Cape Charles, will reign over the celebration as May Queen, with Margaret Wall, senior from Norfolk, as Maid of Honor.

Attending the Queen and Maid of Honor as members of the May Court will be seniors Betty Atkinson, Jane Fox, Marjorie Miller, Evelyn Patterson, Violet Ritchie, Maude Savage, and Mary Towles Waldrop.

Court representatives from the junior class will be June Banks, Marjorie Boswick, Betty Ferguson, Helen Hardin, Martha Hylton, Lou Alyce Shelor, and Barbara Sours.

The sophomore class will be represented by Charlotte King Jones and Isaac Velasquez. Freshman court members will be Jean Ridenour and Frances Turner.

250 To Participate in Fete

Two hundred-fifty students will take part in the "River Legend" pageant which is under the direction of Mrs. Emily K. Landrum, assistant professor of physical education, aided by a general student committee, which has handled costuming, staging, and transportation. The "River" theme will be carried out in modern dance with some emphasis on stylized American square dance forms, choreography being done by members of Orchesis, student dance club.

"River Legend" is the story of the James River "from Iron Gate to the sea", its course and its influence on the people of the Commonwealth. The dance pageant which is divided into three episodes has as its musical setting Smetana's "The Moldau" suite.

3 Episodes to Depict History

The first episode concerns the river in its beginning, or upstream, as it starts high in the mountains through the two branches which join to form the James at Iron Gate, Va. Life as it began in the Old Dominion will be shown by settlers who locate in a valley sacred to the Indians. This group dance is in the modern idiom as is the Indian dance which follows. The war dance following the settlers' coming is symbolic of the influence of hostile Indians on Virginia's history.

The river at another stage of Virginia life is depicted in the second episode of the pageant. The James moves into broader lowlands where life along its banks is shown by workers in the cornfields and tobacco fields. These work dances emphasize the jazz and negroid quality of movement, as barge workers, symbolic of an era when the river was the chief means of transportation, pass by in a slow-moving horse drawn boat.

The third episode of "River

Continued on page 4

Inquiring Reporter Greeted With Scenes Of Wild Confusion at May Day Rehearsals

By Janice Slavin

For weeks and weeks now, we have heard nothing but talk about May Day Rehearsals. Our curiosity was getting the best of us. We decided to take a jaunt down to the gym and get the actual lowdown on what was happening down there.

Upon entering the gym, we learned between shrieks, laughter, and chatter that the theme of May Day is "River Legend."

After stepping over several bodies 'studying', stretched in front of doorways and other vital passages, we finally made our way through the great throng to a place of safety from which to observe.

After great difficulty and straining of vocal chords, Mrs. Landrum finally got the noise to subside. In words of the average college student, "the show was finally put on the road."

The River entered, (part of it, that is). Then the rest of the River entered. This represents the Cowpasture and the Jackson Rivers uniting to form the James River. The girls had a little difficulty with this scene at times, such as one cracked knee, sprained back, etc., However, the casualities were calmly carried out, and the show went on. Also in this scene, the girls got a little confused as to which way they were headed-some going one way and some another.

After the river scene, the settlers entered led by Norma Roady who made a brave attempt to look serious-something like Columbus or De Soto.

No sooner had we adjusted ourselves to the calm, cool, collected settlers, than we heard a startling yell and witnessed the savage approach of Indians. Their chants became wilder and wilder, and they finally vanished from the scene. (It was now safe to come out of your hiding place.)

The River entered again with Hilda Edwards stealing the show. The workers in the corn field followed. This is a jivy little piece of work. Keeping the feet and hoes going together was difficult for the girls. If they aren't careful about their spacing, the they may come out of the scene Saturday with a missing eye or ear chopped off by a hoe.

The cotton pickers add color and activity. They are quite an entertaining crew also.

One of the most riotous scenes in May Day is the Barge Scene with Ann Nock as the stern captain. Ann Galloway was ordered by Nock to scale a pole (which totters precariously every time) to see if land is in sight. Galloway was too "shook up" to ever say what she found in the crow's nest. Cap'n Nock had a lazy crew and literally had to kick them around at times. A good source of information on this point would be that lazy tar, Anne Ford.

Then the Queen and court appeared. Their dancing and spacing caused a great deal of confusion, too, as did the dancing group demonstrating the Quadrille and the Running Set. The girls thoroughly enjoyed it though. Nancy Walthall was right in there, especially when it came to kicking!

The finale arrived. This brings

Continued on page 4

Heads, Vice-Heads To Begin Classes In Parliamentary Law

The Parliamentary Law course required of all heads and vice-heads of all organizations will begin next Monday, May 9, according to an announcement made Monday by Margaret Beasley, president elect of Student Standards.

Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel, assistant professor of history, will conduct the classes which will meet at 5:00 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday of the weeks May 9 through May 20.

All organizations which have not yet elected their officers are reminded that the deadline for elections is Monday, May 9. Margaret also requested that each organization turn in to her by Monday, the names of its heads and vice-heads so that a roll may be made out for the class.

Robert's Rules of Order will be the textbook used for this course.

Orchesis Issues Bids

On Friday, April 29, five girls were invited to become apprentices to Orchesis, modern dance group of Longwood college.

The girls who received bids were Joan Missimer, June Banks, Patsy Ritter, Norma Roady, and Marian Beckner.

Four Organizations Elect New Officers For Coming Session

Richmond Club

The Richmond Club, recently formed on this campus, last week elected Polly Nasser president of the group for the coming session.

Elected to the vice-presidency of the Club was Virginia Westbrook; Charlotte Williams will assume secetary-treasurership, and Joyce Adams will be corresponding secretary and Rotunda reporter.

Among the purposes of this new club are to make Virginians more "Longwood College—conscious," to recruit Richmond students to this college, to promote closer relationship between Richmond girls on campus and the Richmond Alumnae chapter, and to create a feeling of fellowship and well-being among girls on the college campus.

The Richmond Club is at present engaged in plans for spring tea to honor prospective Longwood students from Richmond.

ACE

Lelia Mae Ferratt, junior from Norfolk, was elected to the presidency of the local branch of the Association for Childhood Education, a professional organization for elementary teachers, at a recent meeting.

Other officers elected to serve for the coming year were Lucy Edmonds, vice-president; Connie Heather, secretary; and Irma Lee Allison, treasurer.

Continued on Page 4

Dr. Leavell to Speak At Thurs. Assembly

Dr Ullin W. Leavell from the University of Virginia will be guest speaker on the regular assembly program tomorrow at 11:15 a. m., Dr. George W. Jeffers, faculty chairman of the chapel committee, announced today.

Dr Leavell holds the position of professor of education and director of the McGuffey Reading Clinic at the University.

The assembly program will be held in the Methodist Church. The senior class will march in. Seats will be reserved for them.

Commendation For Chi . . .

Members of Chi commended numerous students last week in their annual "burning" ceremony. Now the Rotunda wishes to commend Chi for the sensible way in which the ceremony was conducted.

The Rotunda suggests to Chi that in the future their public ceremonies be conducted in a like manner at a definite time of the year. We recommend, too, that steps be taken to keep their secret meetings more private in order to prevent the "after-bedcheck furore" in the dormitories caused by often repeated rumors that "Chi will burn tonight," or "Chi is supposed to walk tonight."

As the situation now stands, much of the good that Chi purportedly and doubtless does accomplish in its work in conjunction with the Student Government Association is defeated by the upset of dormitory calm caused by periodic rumors of their functions. If members of Chi will continue to conduct their ceremonies in this saner fashion, much unfavorable criticism will be deflected, and they will be better able to publicly justify the existence of their secret organization.

May Day Evokes 'The Spirit' . . .

This is the time of year when a large group of students are due recognition and a vote of thanks for fine display of what is now "the Longwood spirit" evident in their enthusiastic participation in the annual May Day festival. By the devotion and energies they and Mrs. Emily K. Landrum have expended on the perfection of a pageant that promises to be a wonderful spectacle, they have demonstrated their interest in perpetuating one of the finest elements of our college tradition.

Also commendable is the fact that mass May Day rehearsals have this year been kept to a minimum so that students' academic studies need not suffer because of time spent on May Day rehearsals.

Another example of the old cooperative spirit so typical of this campus has been evidenced by the junior and senior classes who voted to pay for the May Day costumes of the girls who lived in the White House dormitory which was lately destroyed by fire.

Such an undertaking as the annual May Day festival invariably brings to light the best of "the Longwood spirit.'

Innocent Until Proven Guilty . . .

For many years one of the cornerstones of American democracy has been the belief that a person is innocent until proved guilty. Should not we, the future citizens and leaders of tomorrow's America, above all adhere to this principle?

It is the duty of the governing body of the Student Government Association, the Student Council, to conduct, in secret, investigations of possible infractions of the honor system when these are reported to them. As has been publicly announced, the accused is given every opportunity of proving her innocence. If the verdict is "not guilty," the minutes of the trial are destroyed, but if the verdict is "guilty" the decision is announced to the student body.

This system has been set up with the approval and sanction of the student body. Must the accused also face a trial before a misinformed student body whose only guides are half-truths and distorted rumors? Before this "jury" the accused is given no chance to defend herself and prove her innocence. Not only is her reputation damaged but through her that of the College itself.

The Rotunda urges you to remember that an accused person is innocent until proven guilty. Give others the chance you yourself would wish to have. The Rotunda renews its pleas for a rumorless college and reminds you that the best way to combat rumors is with the facts. Until the facts in any case are known, won't you refrain from passing judgment? The task of determining guilt or innocence has been assigned to the Student Council. Their job is not an easy one, you can make it easier by remembering that rumors never started can never wreak their havoc upon the reputation of individuals and of Longwood College.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 25, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office Student Building Phone 533, Box 108
Printers The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member Virginia Intercollegiate Press Ass'n., Associated Collegiate Press
Rating (A.P.) 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1919 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1914

STAFF

Jacqueline Eagle — Editor in Chief
Mary Leigh Meredith — Managing Editor
Janice Slavin — Business Manager
Jean Smith — Desk Editor
Mary Jo Smith — News Editor
Joan Prichett — Assistant News Editor

Reporters
Pat Smith, Joyce Hamlet, Jean Otis Loving, Mary Crowgey

Feature Writers — Feature Editor
Claudia Anderson, Janice Slavin, Betty Ferguson, Joan Prichett, Betty Lewis Shank, Ann Lynch

Winifred Beard — Sports Editor
Helen Arrington — Sports Writer
Peggy Petty — Art Editor
Beverly Snethie — Photographer
Grace Thompson — Advertising Manager
Circulation Manager

Business Assistants
Millie Cater, Peggy Harris, Edith Kennon, Lucy Vaughan, Virginia Dare Wood

WEDNESDAY, MAY 4, 1949

OUR WORLD
By Nellie Hart

Good government should be representation of the people, by the people, and for the people. This practice has been violated by Russia in her vindictive attack upon China. She has completely disregarded the thoughts and desires of the nations of the world and of the Chinese people themselves, and catered to the whims and fantasies of a few monied individuals who so earnestly backed her selfish, communistic, imperialistic policy. There can be no peace in human minds and souls until this policy has been totally destroyed.

China has never had a chance in civilization; she has never been able to enjoy free government and the luxuries of prosperity. Her history is one of chaos and degradation. Such a nation should indeed be able to voice her likes and dislikes and then survive.

There was almost no resistance in the Communist invasion of China. Five Chinese armies, consisting of about 20,000 men each, have been completely destroyed. The most important objective of planned military strategy has been accomplished: that of cutting off the Shanghai-Canton railroad, the last notable means of escape for the Nationalist warriors.

Not only has Russia succeeded in the invasion of China, but also she has fired upon neutral ships in the Yangtze River. Russia has not been punished for her deeds. Instead, we, the "neutral" nations, are sitting on velvet cushions smoking long cigars, happily watching the gallant Chinese grin and bear it among the horrors of mud and blood and Communism.

SOPHISTICATED RAT

The month of May is upon us, girls, and May means the finish of our first year at Longwood. Before any of us can say the watch-words of WPA, it will be time to start studying (?) for exams and packing to make the dreadful trip away from here.

The Westminster Fellowship organization had a meeting at the University of Virginia this past weekend. Several of the freshman went and as I heard some of them say, they all had a most enjoyable time.

Longwood and Hampden-Sydney got together this week end for a bang-up time. The various fraternity boys had picnics Friday and Saturday afternoons, and the Pan Hel Association had a formal dance in the HSC gym that night. Many a freshman damsel took in the festivities.

Some of them who went to the dance were Jerry Korback, Jane Darden, Jackie Jardine, Betsy Phillips, Jan Peebles, Jo Ann Yow, Jean Ridenour, Joce Lee Clingenpele, Connie Rice, Sarah Cregar, Shirley Fahrback, Barbara Brown, Dolores Hoback, Pat Tuggles, and Phyllis Tyree

Lucy Thornhill, Betty Ricketts, and Jean Wallace were amoung the girls who journeyed to VMI to take in the dances. To hear them talk about it, you would gather that they had a grand time.

No doubt, you have heard of the new organization that was formed last Thursday night. The name of the group is WPA and it has as its purpose the job of getting rid of work, worry and drudgery of college students. The WPA is still small but it has plans for the future growth as well as activity. You would do well to keep up with the daily WPA watchwords.

Again you have it, fellow freshmen. 'Bye now and keep happy while you piddle!

ALUMNAE NEWS

The Accomac and North Hampton Alumnae Chapters will have a joint luncheon on May 14, at the La Fonda Tea Room. Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke, national president of the Alumnae Association, will be the guest speaker. She will be accompanied by Mrs. Myrtle Dunton Curtis, a native of the Eastern Shore and a former president of the Richmond chapter.

On the same day, Miss Leola Wheeler will read a play for the Norfolk chapter which will meet at Essex House, Virginia Beach. Mrs. Sally Woodward Pate is the new president of this chapter who will succeed Miss Catherine Riddle.

Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, alumnae secretary, will meet with a group of alumnae in Raleigh, North Carolina, on May 14, for the purpose of organizing a new chapter in that city. Alumnae will attend from nearby towns and cities in North Carolina.

CHATTER BOX

After a week's absence your ol' Chatterbox-nosey little devil that I am-has returned bringing you all the hot info about people you would never suspect-and answering that one question on everybody's lips-"Wot hoppen??"

Starting Friday afternoon things began popping-there was "the" picnic at Bear Creek. Jan and Gat, Betty and Bill, Peggy and A. D., Iris and Bill were there to see that everything was complete-and that baseball game really was!

And then Friday night-the wonder of wonders-the fires burned brightly and congratulations to those girls who, tho their activities are secret, really get on the inside of things-and get them going in the right direction.

Saturday, dates were coming in from all directions - Annette's Tom, Bob Maitland was up to see Nancy, Ray flew in from U. of Va., to see Kitty, Lucy Ann and Raymond finally got together on their plans for the week end-the list is too long to keep on and on!

Two dances Saturday night-H-S C Pan-Hels and the Juke Box dance-take your choice! But don't be too eager - ask Cathy

Continued on page 4

'Queen Of The May'

Campus Cogitations

Are you satisfied with the amount of time allotted for meals here?

Sue Walker: Shoot yea! I just don't have enough to eat.

Helen Agnew: Yes, I'm satisfied with the time!

Tillie Tillett: Usually we have plenty of time especially for supper.

Ann Tucker: We have more time now than we do food.

Cab Overby: The only trouble is that I eat so fast that by two o'clock my stomach is touching my back-bone. But no matter "wha hoppen" we'll leave hungry.

Dorothy Braswell: The nights we have French fried potatoes and sirloin steak, I can never finish eating on time.

Shirley Fahrback: Everyone seems to have plenty of time to eat and still plenty of time left for dessert at lunch.

Anonymous: Sure, time is the only thing we get enough of!!

Ann Owen: I'd like to have more food alloted. I didn't get a pork chop last night.

Grace Mallory: I'm not in there enough to tell.

Kitty Alexander: Time alloted is O. K. but we do wish they wouldn't take the food away before we finish with it.

Ann East: If we had more to eat we'd need more time.

Maude Savage: Yes, for the amount of food they give us.

Audrey Pettit: No, you aren't in before you have to leave except when we have guests.

Mary Ellen Temple: My goodness, yes!

Marjorie Agee: For the quantity of food we have, the time allotment is more than sufficient.

Connie Hamilton: I think we have plenty of time. Ask Georgia Bailey for the recipe!

Muriel McBride: No-it's too rushed! Especially breakfast — I never have time for a second cup of coffee before - whish - pots of coffee disappear Alfreda Lewis: Time? what's that? Life's a mad rush, especially this time of year.

Co-ed Tells of Dash for Class As He Outwits Father Time

By Harold T. Griffin

It is 7 o'clock in the morning; my head is in a whirl. I have great difficulty moving. I seem paralyzed as though some unknown force is pinning me down. I struggle; I squirm; I turn. I reach the floor and sit down again on the side of the bed. In a semi-comatose condition I reel toward the bathroom. I gargle with listerine, and look with alarm at what I see in the mirror above the wash basin. Two, red, puffed half-open ovals glare back at me. I rush about making my toilet, upset a bottle of after-shave lotion, drop a fresh razor blade in the wash basin drain, squirt a generous portion of shaving cream on my tooth brush, and then I swear and spit, and gargle. I drop my shaving brush on the floor, pick it up, make a couple of passes across my chin, use my razor too vigorously, nick my chin, swear again, throw some more water into my face, grab a towel, and start to the bedroom.

I have both socks on and one shoe. I start to take the slack out of the string, too much pressure; the string breaks; I tie it together; the knot hurts my instep; don't have time to loosen the string—have tied it in a knot. I put on my trousers; the belt is missing—where did I put it? Searching for the belt, I become entangled in a mass of surplus coat hangers; down comes my best suit; finally locate belt on floor of closet; miss back belt loop; no time to remove belt; dash in to the living room to get my cigarettes; locate them, but no matches. I run to the kitchen to drink a cup of coffee which has been poured ten minutes before. The coffee is lukewarm; all gone in three gulps; not much time left—three minutes until eight.

I dash to the dining room, the dining room table is a wilderness of papers; opened books, closed books, books on top of paper, books under paper, loose leaf fillers, paper clips, pencils, mucilage, dictionary, carbon paper, Pepsi-cola bottle, glass, coffee cup, and cigarette butts. I'm bewildered—the bell in the library is ringing—I have only five minutes. Finally locate my belongings and rush wildly out of the front door never stopping until I enter the rotunda out of breath.

The hall is deserted—I'm late! I rush to the class room, the teacher is sitting quietly behind his desk; the students are quiet and in their places. I tiptoe in and sit down. Silence permeates the air—one second, two seconds, three seconds, four seconds, the bell rings, I am forced to smile. I made it with five seconds to spare.

Library

2 Fox Files

Class Teams Will Compete For Points In Tournament

Archery

The archery tournament is to be played Thursday, May 12, beginning at 4:00 p. m.

All students interested are requested to sign up on the bulletin board if they still wish to participate or if they would like to add their names to the list. Girls may come to the athletic field on May 12 any time between 4:00 and 5:30 p. m., but Betty Tilson, manager of archery, urges them to come as early as possible.

Points toward the color cup will be given the winning team of archers.

Tennis

As soon as the list is gotten for those who want to take part in the tennis doubles, the tournament will be played off.

A bulletin has been put on the Athletic Association bulletin board in the hall, and all girls are asked by Hilda Edwards, manager of tennis, to sign up by this week end.

Any girl who wants to play may sign up with a partner (from her own class.)

The tennis singles will terminate next week when Helen Agnew and Ann Langbein play off the final game Monday afternoon.

Both the winners of the doubles and of the singles will gain points toward the color cup for their team.

9 Faculty Members To Attend Science Meeting in Richmond

Dean William W. Savage will present a paper on the report on the State-wide testing program for high school seniors before the Education Section of the Virginia Academy of Science which meets at the John Marshall Hotel, Richmond, May 5, 6, and 7.

Among the members of the faculty from Longwood planning to attend the Academy meeting are Dr. George W. Jeffers, Miss Vera Baron, Dr. Robert T. Brumfield, Mr. Raymond H. French, Mr. Thomas A. McCorkle, Mr. M. Boyd Coyner, Dr. Floyd F. Swertferger, and Mrs. Josephine McK. Phillips.

This is the twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Academy of Science. Membership is composed of teachers of all sciences, those engaged in scientific pursuits and laymen of broad interest in science.

Library Shows Art

Featured at the college library this week is an exhibit by the ceramics class.

The original pieces on display have been made by a group of art students which includes Patti Page, Barbara Andrews, Joan Driver, Lillian Falconer, Jackie Jardine, Jeanne Gilman, Nellie Hart, Frances Franklin, Jane Smith, and Hattie Swihart.

Also of note in the library is the spring flower exhibit sponsored by Miss Vera Baron, biology instructor. Exhibited are both living and pictured specimens.

Buy Gifts
FOR HIM
from
VERSER'S

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

SPORTIN' AROUND

By ANN LYNCH

It seems like we have a hard time having pretty days so that al lthe tournaments can be played off, but you can help us by signing up right away. There is to be a paper put on the bulletin board for anyone interested to sign up for tennis doubles. Get yourself a partner to play with (one of your own class) and sign up. Do this before the weekend.

The archery tournament is in the same boat. There's a bulletin in the hall with the names of all those who have signed up. Put a check by your name if you still wish to participate, or add your name if you would like to take part We hope to have the archery tournament Thursday, May 12, at 4:00.

Softball practice is still going strong, but as yet only one junior, three sophomores, four freshmen and no seniors have gottne in three practices as of April 26. After May Day is over, we'll try to have softball Monday through Thursday, but it's up to the student body to back it.

May Day practice is coming along fine. Monday was the first practice at Longwood. Everyone keep their fingers crossed for a pretty day Saturday.

'Dose Bums' Show Great Promise According To Student Brooklynite

By Sylvia Damsky

Well, my friends, it looks like Dem Bums from Brooklyn are in for a great year. Flatbush is in a frenzy. Brownsville is going batty. And everybody (Giant fans excluded) love's it.

To the rest of the United States, baseball is the national sport, but to Brooklynites, it is food, drink, and peace of mind. Did you know that 98.75% (source of this information is unavilable at this time) of the citizens of Brooklyn had nervous breakdowns when Pete Reiser bumped into the fence around Ebbets Field last year. For days Bum fans were hysterical. The main topic of conversation was "Will Reiser be able to finish the season?" He did. And did the Dodgers finish on top of the National League? Let's change the subject, shall we?

But this year it will be different. This year the Dodgers aren't going to make their customary trip to the cellar of the League. This year the Beloved Bums are going to finish right at tne top—or maybe second, third, fourth, fifth, or sixth place from the top.

It is a pity, though, how the Dodgers have degenerated. Why I remember the good old days when a baseball game wasn't any good unless a couple of umps got smacked with pop bottles or Stanky spiked somebody. Today everything is different. Durocher's Bums have become Rickey's gentlemen. Things have gotten so bad that they apologize to their opponents when they tag them out. "Sorry, old boy. Rules of the sport, you know." We can't even say "Dem Bums" any more. They've gotten so high-class that they refuse to called anything but "Dose Bums" now. They have become gentlemen and ain't it a shame?

All of this reminds me of that old song, "I'm Gonna Hang My Hat On A Tree That Grows In Brooklyn". Have you heard it? It goes something like this? "That's where the doctors get new clients, each time the Dodgers play the Giants. I'm gonna hang my hat on a tree that grows in Brooklyn now."

And this year, I'm going to predict that the Dodgers are not only going to win the National League pennant, but they'll take the World Series, too (I've been predicting this same thing for nigh on to eighteen years. It's bound to come true some time.)

Religious Groups Plan Meetings During Week

Students Praised At Chi 'Burning'

Amid a throng of curious students, Chi held their annual "Burning" ceremony last Friday night at 10:30.

The eight senior members of the organization formed a circle around the blazing bonfire which had been built in the lot behind the library, and as they threw colorful chemicals into the fire they commended several of the Longwood students for their conduct during the past year.

Members of Chi who were made known at this ceremony were Violet Ritchie, Marjorie Miller, Margaret Wall, Frances Deberry, Betty Jefferson, Annette Jones, Adelaide Coble and Pete Patterson. Nancy Dickinson, an alumna member of the senior class, also took part in the proceedings. The identity of the underclassmen members of the organization is still unknown to the student body.

Among those commended by Chi for acquiring and upholding the Farmville spirit were Ruth Tillet, Nancy Robertson, Anne Orgain, "Tootsie" Hamilton, Patti Page, Patsy Ritter, Ann Nock, Clem Allen, Helen Kaknis, Hank Hardin, Betsy Wilson, Betty McCree, Jackie Jardine, Margaret Thomas, Nancy Walker and Marion Beckner.

Pupils to Sing On Air Thursday Afternoon

The third grades of the elementary training schools will be featured on the WFLO college program at 4:30, Thursday, May 5. The program will be made up of spring songs, sung by the pupils.

The supervisors are Miss Lucy Adame and Mrs. Hugh Garnett. Student teachers in the music department are Esther Marsh and Elsie McAllister. Nancy Kibler will act as accompanist.

IVCF to Study Bible

The IVCF is planning a week of Bible study, May 9-13, led by Miss Jane Hollingsworth, from Augusta, Georgia, who is Woman's Secretary of IVCF. Miss Hollingsworth has worked with chapters in New York City for the past few years. She has recently returnded from Europe, where she observed particularly the British IVCF work.

"Jane is one of the most outstanding Christian leaders of young people on the eastern seaboard. She has a lot to offer our campus", Nadine Lewers, past president of the local IVCF says of Miss Hollingsworth.

Miss Ann C. Childs, from Knoxville, Tennessee, who is IVCF staff worker for the southestern region, will also be on campus that week. The student body is invited to participate in these meetings. Tentative plans have been made to hold these meetings in the Student Lounge.

Methodists to Meet

The Spring State-wide Virginia Methodist Student Conference will be held at Natural Bridge, Virginia the week end of May 14 and 15, as recently announced by Andrea Adams, local conference chairman.

"Andy" urges that all Methodist students who wish to attend the conference sign up on the bulletin board in the hall or see her so that accomandations may be made.

tion is to have charge of the Saturday evening worship and will later attend the night illumination at Natural Bridge.

George Harper, Executive Secretary of the National Conference of Methodist Youth, and Harold Hipps, president of the student body of Duke Divinity School will be two of the main speakers at the conference.

At the annual meeting of the Methodist students, officers for the coming year will be elected. An explanation of summer projects and jobs by different students will be another feature of the conference.

Wakefield Will Speak

The Canterbury Club of the Episcopal Church will meet Sunday night at 7:30 at Dr. Dabney Lancaster's home. Mr. Ralph Wakefield will give a short talk on church music at this meeting.

The club has recently acquired a room in the old Episcopal rectory, which will be used for club activities. Plans will be discussed at the meeting for redecorating this room.

This will be the last formal meeting to be held by the Canterbury Club this year.

BOWEN
Inc.
Farmville
Jewelers

"Send a bouquet on MOTHER'S DAY"
BURG
Florist

Buy your school SUPPLIES
from
J. J. NEWBERRY
AND CO.

"Order Flowers for Dancing Hours"
COLLINS
Phone 181 Night 4

MEET
and
EAT
AT THE
COLLEGE
SHOPPE

We have the latest
RECORDS
WILSON
HOME AND
AUTO SUPPLY

"Recess In the Rec"
TUESDAY-
3::00-3:30
WSVS—650 On Your Dial

WFLO
The Talk of
The Town
870 On Your
Dial

KLEANWELL
CLEANERS
For Excellent
Results
Have Your Clothes
Cleaned At
Kleanwell

Visit us for good
food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas
and Shakes In Town"

COTTON DRESSES GALORE
We invite you to come in and see our smart collection of Cotton Dresses. These dresses you will see in all fashion magazines. All sizes. Priced at $5.95 up.
DOROTHY MAY STORE

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

From the Land of the ICE CREAM Star!
Princess Pet
ICE CREAM

So rich, so delicious...Princess Pet surpasses all others, gracing every occasion with royal splendor.

Just compare Princess Pet with any other Ice Cream...then you'll always ask for Princess Pet -- the de luxe Ice Cream in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality. And, for a special May-time treat... buy Princess Pet Strawberries 'N Cream -- the most delicious, the richest fresh strawberry Ice Cream you've ever tasted!

TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

WHO'S —IN THE— Senior Spotlight?

The microphone in the dining hall will miss this one senior next year because it has grown so accustomed to her making announcements day after day Everyone, not only the microphone, will miss her because of her excellent work as president of Student Government and her pleasant way.

A home economics major, she is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma and Pi Kappa Sigma. Also she is a member of the Student Standards committee and the Cotillion club. The Home Economics Club finds she is a valuable as well as an active member. She is also a member of Chi.

North Carolina seems to occupy many of her thoughts. Considering that, subtract that sum of time taken from what she has all together and you'll find that bridge playing takes the best part of the rest.

Don't be a dunce. You surely know who it is.

If you see a senior running around the campus, doing jobs for various organizations, it will be a certain young lady with blond hair who has done such a fine and capable job as vice president of the senior class.

This business major is a whiz in the publication world. She is the business manager of the Colonnade. As general chairman of the Senior Dance, she did an excellent job. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha and Orchesis and business manager of the Cotillion club. One night just past revealed her membership in Chi.

Her special interests lie in the same realm as so many other Longwood college seniors. In bridge, she's a brain, in dance, she's a nymph, and in talking, she's an absolute phonograph.

It shouldn't be too hard to guess who she is, so let's hear the answer.

Seniors in last week's spotlight were Anne East and Jane Fox.

Elect New Officers

Continued from page 1

Northern Neck Club

Margaret Forrester was elected president of the Northern Neck Club for the coming year at a recent meeting of the organization.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Max Acree, vice-president; Anne Motley, secretary-treasurer; and Irma Allison, reporter.

A picnic was planned by the members to be held the third week end in June at Westmoreland State Park.

Home Ec. Club

At a recent meeting of the Home Ec. Club, Nancy Short was selected to serve as president of the organization for next year.

Evelyn Farrier was chosen to act as vice-president. Doris Conner will take over the post of secretary, and Jane Seward will be the new treasurer.

Mary Moor Karr will fill the position of reporter for the club for the '49-'50 session, and Margaret Forrester will serve as social chairman.

Chatterbox

Continued From Page 2

Bunch (the gal with the bandaged hand) if it pays.

Margaret was looking down on some of her dance "partners" at H-8-but in a friendly sort of a way! Growing them short this year, aren't they, W. W.?

Suze and Jane Hunt were Richmond bound and have decided now that there is nothing like those Merry-Go-Rounds - Charlotte and Doc reached the same destination-but a little later.

Lynda, James V., "P. C." Slavin and Edwin seem to find Richmond an interesting place nowadays, too. They have practically worn the roads thin between here and there!

Sunday afternoon-another picnic! A little damp (the weather) but nice scenery. And Nock had a startling revelation! Congratulations, Nock, its been a long time.

And just enough room for one big event that's gonna hoppen!

Peggy White's taking off Thursday for the land of every girl's dream-that coveted spot on the Hudson-West Point! This is just the ultimate, so we'll leave ya now—Bye.

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from MARTIN THE JEWELER

Lovely Gifts for Mother from GRAYS DRUG STORE

Picture Yourself in a Lovely Gantner Iridescent BATHING SUIT $5.95 to $13.95

Doris Dodson Lovely COTTON DRESSES White Waffle Piques and Powder Puff Muslins $6.95 up

THE HUB Farmville, Va.

"FARMVILLE'S BUSIEST AND BEST DEPT. STORE!"

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods DuPont Paints General Electric Radios and Appliances

KDPi To Give Honorary Tea

Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary education fraternity for juniors and seniors, will hold a tea at 4:30 p. m. May 11, in the Student Lounge in honor of all freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, with high scholastic rank of 2.25 quality points or better.

In the receiving line will be President and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. William W. Savage, Dean Ruth Gleaves, and Dr. Ethel Sutherlin.

Also receiving will be Jean Thomasson, retiring president of K. D. Pi.; Judy Hughes, president elect; June Banks, vice-president; Ruth Walker, secretary; Cornelia Marston, treasurer; and historian, Barbara Andrews.

Heading the various committees are Mary Evelyn Miles, freshman committee; Barbara Grizzard, serving; Judy Hughes, invitations; Margaret Farmer, decoration; and June Banks, music.

On May 12, Kappa Delta Pi will have installation and initiation of the new officers.

May Day Pageant

Continued from page 1

Legend" will have as its setting the green expanse fronting an ancestral colonial home and will introduce the May Queen and court. Members of May Court, gowned in pastel, colonial-fashioned dresses will present a stylization of the minuet to the accompaniment of Grasz' "Minuet". The mood thus set, the remainder of the pageant will feature squares, rounds, and running sets with the finale suggesting the figures of the Virginia Reel.

Cress, Taylor Head Committee

Gwen Cress and Jane Taylor are serving as general co-chairmen of the May Day Exercises, with Nancy Rushing acting business manager, assisted by Jackie Wright. Additional committee heads are Jennie Lee Cross and Frances Farley, in charge of costumes; Jesse Lee Pickett, dance chairman; Helen Hardin, in charge of staging; June Banks, music chairman; and Dorothy Daniel, in charge of transportation.

Assisting with costuming are Dorothy Brisentine, Evelyn Farrier, Corinne Hamilton, Dorothy Haynie, Jane Lyon, Mary Robertson, Jeanette Seward, Laura Lee Stickley, and Faye White.

Music assistants are Page Burnette, Lucyle Humphries, and Virginia Spencer. Jean Smith and Jean Cunningham are members of the staging committee. Helen Kaknis and Ruth Tillett are assisting with transportation.

It has been announced that preference of seats in the amphitheatre will be given Saturday to guests of participants.

May Day Ball

Continued from page 1

at $2.40 and stag tickets at $1.80.

Several committees have been recently formed in addition to those previously announced. Among these are the invitations committee, with Pat Earl and Yvonne Burch as chairmen, and publicity, with Mary Lou Woodward and Robbie Cromar. The floor committee has been revised and now includes Janie Fox, Jesse Lee Pickett, Ann Langbein, Jane Taylor and Hilda Edwards.

Editor Announces Successful Tryouts

Jacky Eagle, newly elected editor-in-chief of the Rotunda, recently announced the names of students who have become members of the staff after having successfully completed tryouts.

New members are Minta Critzer, Nellie Hart, and Nancy Camper on the news staff; Sylvia Damsky, Jean Turner, Milly Wilson, and Louise Turner on the feature staff; Gene Garst, Juanita Weeks, Catherine Johnston and Marilyn Wheeler on the circulation staff.

Other students who were added to the staff are Sue Walker, sports writer; Jane Smith, art staff, and Julia Tuck and Marjorie Agee on the advertising staff.

Millie Carter has been named to the newly created office of promotion manager of the paper. New Rotunda typists are Rena Mae Hayes and Jenny Powell.

Jacky added that all students are invited to try out at any time to work on the staff of the Rotunda. Tryouts may be arranged by coming to the regular weekly staff meeting on Wednesday night in the publications office directly after dinner.

Dr. Randolph to Give AAUW Talk May 13

Dr. Bessie Carter Randolph, president of Hollins College, and formerly a professor here, will be guest speaker of the local branch of the American Association of University Women at an open meeting to be held in the College student lounge Friday, May 13, at 4 p. m. Her topic will be the North Atlantic Security Pact and will include an explanation of the pact itself and Dr. Randolph's own views of its significance in current international relations.

Arrangements for Dr. Randolph's appearance here have been made by Miss Mary Peck, and Mrs. M. H. Bittinger, co-chairmen of the International Relations Committee of the local A.A.U.W. Miss Peck stated that students interested in attending this meeting may make application for seats through faculty members, particularly those connected with the department of social science.

you can live all summer in the open

Style 1164

For bare toes and slender feet — here's the cutest wear for play, rambling, picnic or beach. Designed in red, white and green leather, with smart, tricky straps, and priced for YOUR budget.

Only $2.98

Leggett's Style Store

Inquiring Reporter

Continued from page 1

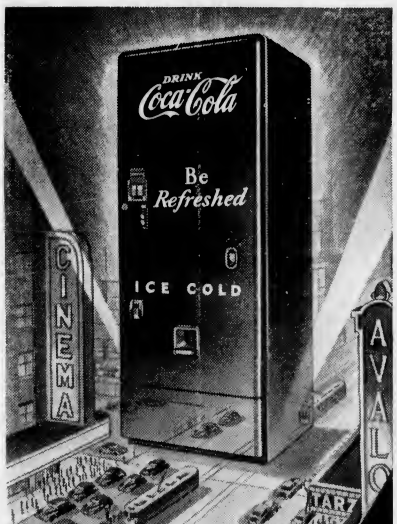
more confusion than anything ever before witnessed. No one had any idea what was going on. The May Court was a howl. They strolled by with an even pace and dignified air until they were a couple of feet past Mrs. Landrum. Then they ran half way around the gym being tripped by a prankster in many instances falling flat on their faces to the floor. One wonders after seeing May Day in the raw, how anything could come out of it; but with Mrs. Landrum's leadership, we may all be assured that May Day will be a glorious success again this year.

Course Schedules

Continued from page 1

ment in which he plans to major either for a teaching or liberal arts degree.

Meeting places are listed below according to the various fields: biology, Dr. George W. Jeffers' office; elementary education, education office; are, Room 52; home economics, Room 49; foreign language, foreign language office; physical education, Room 3; music, Room 0; mathematics, Room 28; English, Room 29; history, Dr. C. G. G. Moss' office; chemistry, Mr. T. A. McCorkle's office; business education, Mr. Merle L. Landrum's office; and library science, Dr. M. Beverley Ruffin's office.



Remember Your Mother on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 8th, With a Useful Gift From

DAVIDSON'S

"The House of Quality"

Farmville's Largest and Best Department Store

Refreshment And Movies Go Hand-In-Hand

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY LYNCHBURG COCA COLA BOTTLING WORKS

© 1949, The Coca-Cola Company

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

2 for files

Congratulations
Colonnade Poets

The Rotunda

Attend
Recital Friday

VOLUME XXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., Wednesday, May 11, 1949 | No. 27

Cromar, Doss, DouttWin Colonnade Verse Contest

Students Winning Honorable Mention Also Made Known

The poetry editor of the Colonnade, Barbara Andrews, has announced the winners of the recent poetry contest which took place from March first through April fifteenth.

Robbie Cromar, a junior, won first place with her poem, "A Road". Phyllis Doss, a sophomore wrote two poems, "Rain" and "One Wish", which tied for second place. Dot Doutt, a junior, received third prize for her entry, "Evening's Plea".

Honorable mention was given to Flora Ballowe for her poem "Hound's Tribute", Peggy Lloyd for "How High Does the Eagle Fly?", and Ann Langbein for "To You".

The poems, in preparation for judging, were first copied and numbered, leaving the author's name a secret. The numbered poems were then judged impartially by judges representing the student body and five different academic departments of the College.

The three prize winning poems will appear in the last issue of the Colonnade and it is to appear on May 27. The poems that won honorable mention, if not used in the May issue, will be used at a later date.

Also to be featured in the forthcoming Colonnade is a short story by Lois Callahan, "Obsession", which won third place in the short story contest that was held in the fall. Special pictures that were taken of the May Day program will be featured.

9 College Groups Elect New Officers For Coming Session

Cotillion Club

Robbie Cromar was elected to serve as president of the Cotillion Club for next year at a recent meeting of the club.

Ann Nock was selected as vice-president of the group, and Peggy White was named secretary-treasurer. Hank Hardin will be the new figure leader for the club, and Katie Bondurant was elected to serve as business manager.

Orchesis

Orchesis, local dance club elected Hilda Edwards, junior, as head of the organization for the coming year.

Sue Walker was chosen as treasurer, and Kitty Carmichael as costume chairman Katie Bondurant will fill the office of assistant costume chairman.

Pi Gamma Mu

Denise Love, junior from Dundas, was recently elected to the presidency of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society.

Other officers chosen to serve for the coming year were Barbara Grizzard, vice-president; Barbara Andrews, secretary; and Helen Kaknis, treasurer.

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet

Dolores Duncan, newly elected president of Y. W. C. A., recently announced the committee chairman who will serve for the coming year on the 'Y' cabinet.

The new committee chairmen are Lelia Ferrati, membership; Laura Lee Stickley, service; Jackie Wright, church co-operative; Barbara Grizzard, public affairs; Margaret Thomas, prayers; Patty Walker, library; Betty Campbell, music; June Foreman, sing; Bonnie Gerreils, publicity, and Evelyn Farrier, social.

Continued on page 4

DSE Will Initiate Alpha Psi Chapter On Friday, May 13

National Officers Will Attend Affair

Installation of the former group of Phi Zeta Sigma into the Alpha Psi chapter of Delta Sigma Epsilon will take place May 13 and 14 at Longwood College.

Mrs. Edward A. Beidler, of Columbus, Ohio, national secretary, and Mrs. Alton A. Riddleberger, of Louisa, Kentucky, former editor of the Shield, national publication of the organization, will be the installing officers. They will be assisted by active members of Lambda chapter, Marshall College, Huntington, West Virginia, and Omega chapter, Concord College, Athens, West Virginia.

CONSTANCE LOVING, President of Phi Zeta Sigma.

Delta Sigma Epsilon, which became a member of the National Panhellenic Conference in November, 1947, after 30 years of membership in the Association of Educational Sororities, was founded at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. Since then it has shown a steady increase in membership and has at present chapters in leading colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Delta Sigma Epsilon took as its major project, after Pearl Harbor, the adoption of the Therapy Wing of O'Rielly General Hospital at Springfield, Missouri. The fraternity was also responsible for other outstanding work during the war years. The United States Marine Hospital at Carville, Louisana, and its patients have been the chief social service project of the fraternity since 1946.

National officers of Delta Sigma Epsilon are, Miss Elizabeth D. Daniel, Warrensburg, Missouri, Miss Hilda Stein, Carbondale, Illinois, first vice-president; Mrs. C. F. Fisher, West Pittsoon, Pa., second vice-president; Mrs. Edward A. Beidler, Columbus, Ohio, secretary; Mrs. Jonathan Varty, Garden City, N. Y., treasurer; Mrs. Wilbur Stout, Hattiesburg, Miss., editor; and Mrs. Robert S. Hill, Rapid City, S. D., N. P. C. representative.

Continued on Page 3

Dance to Be Given By Rotunda Staff

A "Round and square dance" will be held in the main recreation hall on Saturday night from 8 until 12 p. m., sponsored by the Rotunda.

Janice Slavin, business manager of the Rotunda and general chairman of the dance, stated that music for the square dances will be provided by a phonograph.

Chairmen of the committees working on the dance are Jane Smith, in charge of posters; and Millie Carter and Grace Thompson, in charge of music.

Admission for the dance will be ten cents per person to be paid at the door.

Alumnae Secretary Announces Plans For Founder's Day

Program to Be Held At College June 4

Plans for Founder's Day, which will be held at Longwood College On Saturday, June 4, have been announced by Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, executive secretary and treasurer of the Alumnae Association.

At 9:30 a. m. on Saturday, the guests will meet in the Student Building Lounge for coffee, with the Farmville Chapter of the Association serving as hostess.

A report of the Jarman Organ Fund will be presented at the business meeting which will begin at 11:00 a. m. in the small auditorium. Luncheon will be served in the College dining hall at 1:00 p. m. At 4:00 the Alumnae will attend the Senior Class Day exercises.

After a picnic supper at Longwood Estate at 5:30, the "Four" and "Nine" classes will hold their reunions. Especially invited to homecoming are the classes of 1889, 1894, 1899, 1909, 1914, 1929, 1934, 1939, and 1944.

Dr. and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster will entertain the Alumnae at a reception at the President's home at 8:30 p. m. Saturday night.

Mrs. Coyner has requested that each chapter have a representative here on June 4, to make a report. If this is absolutely impossible they have been asked to send a written report or a word of greeting from their chapter which will be read by the Alumnae Secretary during the meeting.

Alumnae have also been asked to notify Mrs. Coyner if they wish to obtain a room in the dormitories at Longwood College, and if they can attend the luncheon and picnic on Saturday. All alumnae who did not pay one dollar for the luncheon last March, will be asked to pay this as a registration fee when they arrive.

Acknowledging the impossibility of notifying each alumnae separately about the postponed homecoming, Mrs. Coyner has requested that each chapter insert an announcement in their local newspapers concerning the Founder's Day giving descriptions of the program and urging each member to attend.

Assembly to Feature Faculty Vs. Students

A quiz program of the faculty versus the students will be presented in the regular Thursday assembly at 11:15 tomorrow in the rec.

The faculty members participating in the quiz will be Mrs. Mildred Davis, Mrs. Josephine Phillips, Dr. C. G. G. Moss, and Dr. Robert Brumfield.

The student participants are Jacky Eagle, Nancy Meeteer, P. E. Price, and A. R. Southall.

Dr. Marvin Schlegel, who is in charge of the program, and Emily Hastings, a student, will serve as judges for the quiz program. Chuck Maillet, manager of WFLO, will be the master of ceremonies.

This program will be presented again by transcription Thursday afternoon on the College hour over WFLO at 4:15 p. m.

New Rules Announced

There have been some recent changes in House Council and Student Government rulings.

According to an announcement made by Jackie Wright, president of House Council, one call down will be given to students who are on the roof after 7:00 p. m.

Elizabeth Bragg, newly elected head of Government, has also announced that juniors and seniors may sit on the lawn in front of Cunningham Hall until 10:00 p. m. Friday and Saturday evenings.

College Music Department Will Present Joint Recital

Dr. Schlegel Has Bulletin Published

Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel, associate professor of history and social sciences here, is the author of a bulletin published this month by the American Association for State and Local History. Entitled Writing Local History Articles, the twenty-seven page publication covers such topics as the qualifications of writers, their sources of information, and suggestions of various types which will serve as guides to local writers.

Writing Local History Articles is Dr. Schlegel's second bulletin for the American Association for State and Local History, his first being entitled Writing Your Community's War History. Formerly assistant state historian of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission, Dr. Schlegel has more recently worked with the Virginia World War II History Commission and the War History Library.

Among Dr. Schlegel's other writings are Ruler of the Reading, The Life of Franklin B. Gowen, Pursuits of War, written for the Albemarle County Historical Society, and various articles for Pennsylvania History, The War Records Collector and other history periodicals.

Bulletins of the American Association for State and Local History are distributed by Association secretary, Earle W. Newton, State House, Montpelier, Vt. They are $.25 to Association members and $.35 to non-members.

Graduation Exercises To Be Held in College Dining Hall June 6

Commencement exercises, which will take place June 6, will be held this year in the dining hall. Violet Ritchie, president of the senior class, announced today. The baccalaureate exercises, which will be held Sunday, June 5, will take place in the Methodist Church.

Dr. John A. Redhead, Jr., and Dr. John Newton Thomas will be guest speakers during the commencement exercises at Longwood College this year, Dr. Lancaster has announced.

Dr. Redhead, who is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Greensboro, N. C., will speak at the baccalaureate service. Dr. Redhead started his ministerial career in Farmville. In the past several years, he has been guest speaker at commencement exercises at several colleges in Virginia and North Carolina.

Dr. Thomas, professor of systematic theology at the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, will deliver the main address at the graduation exercises. Dr. Thomas served last year as official delegate of Southern Presbyterian Churches to the first assembly of the World Council of Church during the summer in Amsterdam.

This year, the graduating class will revive an old custom whereby senior little sisters will hood their big sisters as Dr. Lancaster confers their degrees.

This will be the last class to be graduated from State Teachers College at Farmville, since the new name, Longwood College, will officially go into effect at the beginning of the summer term, June 21.

DR. BESSIE C. RANDOLPH

Hollins President To Speak Friday

"The North Atlantic Security Pact" will be the topic of an address by Dr. Bessie Carter Randolph, president of Hollins College, Friday at 4 p. m. at an open meeting of the local branch of the American Association of University Women in the College student lounge.

Dr. Randolph, a political science specialist, was associate professor of history here from 1916 until 1920. A member of Phi Beta Kappa, she holds a bachelor's degree from Hollins, and a master's and doctorate from Radcliffe College. She also held a Carnegie Fellowship in International Law.

Before assuming presidency of Hollins College in 1933, from which she recently announced her retirement effective in June, 1950, Dr. Randolph taught in southern high schools, at Hollins, at this college, at Randolph-Macon Woman's College, and was professor of political science at Florida State College for Women.

In her special field of International Law, Dr. Randolph has won distinction and has held positions rarely held by women. She has served on the executive councils of the American Society of International Law, and the American Political Science Association.

Long an active member of the A. A. U. W., Dr. Randolph now serves as chairman of the Legis-

Continued on page 4

Dean Savage Lists Registration Rules

All students planning to return for the 1949-50 session must register for fall classes during the period from Monday, May 16 through Friday, May 20, according to Dean W. H. Savage's announcement last week. Summarized below are the steps to be taken by each student in registering.

1. Obtain a set of four schedule cards from the office of the Registrar.

2. Fill out completely each card, showing the classes in which you are enrolling.

3. See the instructor in each class and have him approve your admission to the course by initialing your copy of the schedule card.

4. See the head of the department in which you are majoring and have him complete by initialing your copy of the schedule card.

Bring the complete set of cards to the office of the Dean of the College for final approval. Do not detach the cards.

More complete registration procedures will be posted on the various bulletin boards.

Students To Give Performance Fri.

Selections of Voice, Piano to Alternate

By JEAN OTIS LOVING

The College music department will present a group of voice and piano pupils in a joint recital on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the small auditorium.

The program will open with "May Night" by Palmgren and "Esprit du Soir" by Denee played by Margaret Farmer. Jean Oliver will play three Shubert waltzes. "Playera" by Granados will be played by Jean Hogge.

Also on the program will be Dorothy Lester playing Roger's "Intermezzo" and Rena Mae Hayes playing Mokrej's "A Yellow Violet". Lucyle Humphries and Jane Richards will end this section of the program by playing "Liebesfreud" by Kreisler.

The second group will begin with Jane Richards singing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" from "The Messiah" by Handel. Anne Keely will sing Wilson's "Carmena".

Also in the vocal group will be Anne Joyner singing "Silent Noon" by Vaughan Williams and Jean Watts singing "Caro Nome Che il Mio Cor" from Rigoletto by Verdi.

The third group will be another group of piano students with Peggy Dee Hoover playing "Prelude in C Minor" by Chopin and "The Harmonica Player" by Guion. Nancy Kibler will play Mozart's "Fantasy in D Minor" and "Aet Wein" by Gadowsky. Betty Jordon will play "Consolation" by Lizst and "Jig" by Lully.

Also in the piano group will be Puckett Asher playing "Prelude and Fugue in C Minor" by Bach and "Nocturne in E Minor" and "Waltz in E Minor" by Chopin. She will join Peggy Dee Hoover in a two-piano arrangement of "Juba Dance" by Dett.

Betty Jordon will conclude the program by playing William's "Concerto in F", Allegro Mozalte, Andante Cantabile and Polka Lento, a two part arrangement in which she will be accompanied by Miss Emily Clark.

This is the first joint piano and vocal recital the college has presented. Two new, small Baldwin pianos will be used because the larger concert pianos were in the large auditorium at the time of the fire. The new pianos will be used for instruction now and as practice pianos when the music department moves into the new auditorium building.

Piano students to be eligible to play in this recital must be on the college level in piano work which is above the fifth grade.

Pi Gamma Mu Bids 9 College Students

Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society, recently issued bids to nine students of the college, Anne Langbein, Barbara Grizzard, Barbara Andrews, Marjorie Aree, Lois Stevens, Helen Kaknis, Juanita Weeks, Nancy Kibler and Betty Spindler.

Among the requirements for entrance to Pi Gamma Mu are a high standard of general scholarship and demonstration of outstanding interest in the social sciences.

Spring Registration.....

Next Monday Longwood College will embark on the experiment of spring registration for next semeter's classes. This procedure which has proved its worth at many other colleges holds a number of potential advantages for students and faculty here as well. But the success of the plan depends largely on students' cooperation and their demonstration of a willingness to see it succeed.

If early registration runs smoothly, perhaps the administration would see fit to allow upperclassmen to return to college in the fall on Thursday, September 22, instead of Wednesday, September 21, as previously planned. In any case upperclassmen will have an extra day in the fall to become settled and reoriented before classes begin on Friday of the same week. Junior and senior orientation leaders will have added to their course an extra day which under the old system would have been lost while they registered.

Naturall we can't expect the new registration plan to eliminate waiting in line, but because the process will be more diffused than before the queues will be neither so long nor so tedious. Also speaking in favor of spring registration, is the fact that with classes and curricula still fresh in their minds, students are likely to make wiser choices in the classes for which they sign up than they would be able to do in the fall after three months' absence from college. All in all, the projected plan appears to be a much more painless process than the former all-day procedure.

In view of the above, the Rotunda urges each student to utilize the rest of this week to consider carefully the courses required by his curriculum for next year, planning his schedule, and pulling out the kinks so that registering can be conducted next week with a minmum of strain on everyone. Freshmen are particularly urged to expedite the approval of their majors; otherwise registering for them will be doubly arduous.

Should Seniors Suffer?.....

A loss of at least thirty dollars in merchandise has been sustained by the "Senior Snackspot" during the year. Because of this, it has been forced to close.

For the convenience of the students, the food and change were not locked up during the day. Likewise, small charge accounts were possible. Unfortunately, some students took advantage of this system by taking merchandise and neither paying for nor charging it. Undoubtedly they intended to pay later but have not done so. The seniors have asked that these persons pay now. Boxes have been placed in Cunningham Hall for the convenience of the delinquents, but very little, if any, of the thirty dollars has been collected thus far.

The 'Snackspot" was opened and run for the convenience of the students in Cunningham Hall. That the senior class should have to suffer a loss because of their thought-lessness is something to which every senior will, and every student should, object.

If you took food from the "Snackspot" without paying for it, be honest with the seniors, with the College, and with yourself by putting the money for it in the boxes so prominently displayed. The seniors and the College are depending upon each and every member of the student body for any delinquency on her part in this matter.

No Smoking.....

Recently there appeared in this column an editorial emphasizing the fire hazards present at College dances in the gym and recommending that steps be taken to minimize these hazards. Orchesis, the club in charge of last week's dance, acquitted itself commendably in taking the suggested preventive measures.

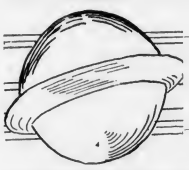
Nevertheless there were a few violations of the "No Smoking" rule, and there was needless embarrassment when the violators had to be apprehended. Although the number of violators of the rule was negligible, the situation should never have occurred. And in most cases, the smokers were not the guilty parties. Guilty parties were a few women students who neglected to remind their guests of the rule. These students apparently forgot that they were responsible for their guests' abiding by regulations.

The reasoning behind the "No Smoking" regulation should not be too difficult for students to understand, particularly with the memory of the auditorium fire still so vivid in all minds. No precaution should be omitted to prevent another such disaster. It is to be hoped that in the future every student will personally shoulder the responsibility for enforcing the fire regulations.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 28, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia.



Office Student Building Phone 335, Box 108
Printers: The Farmville Herald

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., college publishers representative, 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

Member: Virginia Intercollegiate Press Ass'n., Associated Collegiate Press.
Rating (ACP) 1st Class—Excellent

Entered as second class matter March 1, 1939 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1944

WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1949

OUR WORLD

By Nellie Hart

World peace is the greatest universal objective. Today, it is being presented to the peoples of the world in the symbolic form of the North Atlantic Security Pact.

The purpose of this treaty is to safeguard each member nation's "freedom, common heritage, and civilization" by collective defense against any armed attack. In the event of such an occurrence, each member pledges to come to the assistance of the defensive nation, and to use any notable method as it seems necessary to prevent warfare, including the use of armed forces.

The signing of the Atlantic Pact does not commit the United States automatically to go to war to protect any nation, for our constitution states that Congress alone has the right to declare war in spite of any entangling alliances with foreign nations. It would only be necessary for us to do what in our honest, democratic judgment is necessary to restore and maintain peace in the North Atlantic area, which includes the territory of the member nations in Europe and North America, and also France's departments in North Africa.

There has been some argument as to whether or not this pact bypasses the United Nations. It definitely does not, for it recognizes the primary purpose of the Security Council to maintain peace and security throughout the world. With such integrity as this, how can this treaty be aggressive? Yet Russia, voicing the opinions of her imperialistic, communistic rulers, says that it is, which the western powers flatly deny.

Peace is one of the most cherished possessions of a civilization, and it is an institution not to be molested and ridiculed with immature and childish whims and desires. We should understand the significance of such a treaty and deal with it, not only as a foremost promise to future generations, but also as a proof to ourselves that we are not sitting idly watching the world go by.

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor:

In the past week we have learned that it has been necessary to close the Senior Snack Spot because there is $30.00 worth of food that has not been paid for. This could well be due to the negligence or better dishonesty of those who have taken food and not paid for it.

The idea behind the maintainance of the Snack Spot was to make money-not to go into debt It was an accomodation-not something to be taken advantage of.

Those who have taken the food have been given every opportunity to repay without any questions being asked. They have failed to do so.

I wonder if those girls have ever thought that taking that food is not only detrimental to their own character, but to their class and above all their school. It seems ironical that our class always comes out the little end of the horn especially when we are trying to help by furnishing such an accomodation to the students in Cunningham.

We hope those who have neglected to pay will do so by putting their money in the boxes in the halls, so that the entire senior class will not be required to chip in to pay the deficit.

A DISGUSTED SENIOR

SOPHISTICATED RAT

"The Rain Came" would have been a perfect theme for the 1949 May Day here at Longwood last Saturday. Even though the sky provided too much moisture, the cast of May Day as well as the audience, provided the spirit and enthusiam that carried on with the planned program. Who will ever forget the beautifully dressed court going bravely through the minuet-barefoot!

The May Day dance, one of the biggest affairs of the year, furnished a beautiful climax to the festivities of the day. Never let it be said that the freshman class was not well represented. Everytime anyone whirled around on the floor, she saw the beaming faces of fellow freshmen.

Frances Turner and Jean Ridenour made the most beautiful court representatives a class could possibly have. One Tech man by the name of Charlie will confirm my statement, eh Jean?

Have you heard that Maria's favorite spring flower is none other than the "Sweet William"? Ann Maitland, after the week end with Jeep, can be reached by getting in touch with Cloud number two in the event that you need her-Phyllis Tyree can often be found reading up on "Fields", but not agricultural—Mary Jo Smith, by the gleam in her eye, must have had a most eventful week end with the incomparable Skippy

'Bye now and be good. You know, you would do well to start thinking of those exams!

ALUMNAE NEWS

The annual get-together of the Longwood College Alumnae of Richmond will be held Saturday, May 21, at 12:30 p. m. at "Rustom", the home of Mrs. Thomas Starke, national president of the Alumnae Association. Letters, containing plans for the picnic lunch, have been mailed o 586 alumnae.

Mrs. Leonard Shepherd and Mrs. Ray Carter are in charge of securing reservations for th guests. Transportation will be provided for those who need it.

A slate of new officers will be presented by the nominating committee to be voted upon by the alumnae at this time.

* * *

Dr. and Mrs. Dabney Jarman will entertain the Washington Chapter of the Longwood College Alumnae at a garden party Sunday, May 22 at their home in Georgetown, Maryland.

President and Mrs. Dabney Lancaster and Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner will attend the meeting from Longwood College.

A Musical Treat In Store

Campus Cogitations

Do you think this college is overorganized?

Ann Lawrence: I think there should be organizations that have a definite purpose, but it seems that the college has far too many.

Peggy Covington: I think there are enough organizations if they would work together. Say, have one big dance with a good orchestra.

Jackie Moody: No, since each organization stands for a certain activity, and each has its particular aims.

Frankie Dodson: I don't think there are too many, but I think there could be more activities within the organizations to promote more interest and a closer relationship between all of them.

Mary Neal Garrett: I think there should be fewer organizations and a larger membership in those that we have.

Doris Old: There are not enough members in the ones we have.

Ann Kelly: There are no more here than there are at other colleges.

Adelaide Coble: I very definitely think that it is overorganized.

Lucy Jane Morton: I think that different types of organizations are needed for different types of people. It's up to the individual to choose the one she or he wants.

Elaine Owens: That's an understatement.

Ruth Lacy: No, I think a lot of organizations improve school spirit, and add a great deal to the fun of school life.

Millie Carter: No, we do not have as many organizations as some colleges. There's one more we need—a band!

Ann Nock: Not exactly, but I do think that with our three new clubs, the Bird Club, the W. P. A., and the Local 209, we have enough.

Carol (Bird) Stoops: Not particularly, but I'd never tell anyway.

Connie Loving: The school may be, but I'm sure not!

Jane Gray: Organizations should lead to a happier, more satisfied student body.

Pat Paddison: I wish they would organize a dating system-more room!

Jean Watts: Definitely!

Eloise Hodges: I really don't know.

Margaret Hutchins: Indeed I do!

Valerie MacPherson: Not so much the College as the people in it.

Mary Lee Noell: Definitely yes! I never know to which meeting to go. They all seem to be at the same time.

Editor Anticipates Protest But 'Chatterbox' Must Go

By Betty Ferguson, Society Editor

Before the howl of protest begins about the idea of cutting out the "Chatterbox," let me explain just a few facts. As social editor of the Rotunda one of my jobs is to edit or write up student's "extracurricular activities" in the looser meaning of the term. You all know that involves rather trite information which most people know anyway. It is limited in scope by the stray information which is haphazardly compiled. It is bad journalism. The Rotunda is critically judged by national journalistic standards, and is constantly graded down by the presence of a "gossip column", so called.

I have a feeling that you who read the paper don't really think much about its organization or the work behind it and the standards it must uphold. However, if one issue should fail to come out, you would miss the thing you have heretofore taken for granted. But the members of the staff who put out this paper for you want their "baby" to be the best possible. You want your school to have high standards-the highest. The Rotunda is one of the many, many things whose all-round excellence keeps these standards high.

I know that many of you enjoy reading the "gossip column" and feel that the paper is for you and not for the critical agencies. But before you pass judgment, consider both sides and a proposition that we offer. The staff has had a brain storm and come up with an obvious, but good solution. See what you think:

Have a social column comparable to that of a city newspaper. Wouldn't that be the same principal on a little higher more adult plane? You'd still know all the "hot info" (a favorite term of the dear, departed). A box will be placed near the bulletin boards some time this week. Monday at one o'clock it will be opened and I hope I shall find that you have given this plan your support. Just jot down any "social news"-your week end trip, your roommate's Saturday date or any coming event that deserves notice. You've read the social columns in other papers-it doesn't have to be explained in minute detail.

Let's have your cooperation to make your paper the best-and the most interesting. So won't you prove by doing?

Church Youth Groups Have Picnics Entertainment During Closing Week

Wesley Foundation

The Wesley Foundation will sponsor a film to be shown Friday May 13, at 5:00 p. m. in the large Audio Visual room of the library. The purpose of showing this film is to raise money for a Rest Home for European Students with Tuberculosis. This rest home is in Alpenblick, Switzerland.

The local Wesley Foundation has taken on the partial support of this institution as their foreign mission project. The film which will be shown is free of charge to everyone. An offering will b taken, and the money collected will be sent to the rest home in Alpenblick.

Canterbury Club

The Canterbury Club is planning to start work on their new club room this week. The club room which is located in the rectory of the Episcopal church will be painted and redecorated.

Westminister Fellowship

The annual picnic of the Westminister Fellowship, Presbyterian club, was held Monday night, May 9 at the Longwood Estate.

Newman Club

The Newman Club held their annual picnic last week end in Crewe, Virignia. Food was served after a brief service.

Students Present Skits In Spanish

The Spanish Club held its last meeting yesterday afternoon at 4:00 p. m.

The program of this special meeting included a brief skit, "A Telephone Conversation", enacted by Martha Alice Wilson, and Sara Cregar of the beginning class.

The second year students preented a Spanish version of "Little Red Riding Hood," Lucy Jane Morton and Ruth Lacy acting the parts.

June Banks, a third year student, recited "Nervo Gratia Plena' by the Spanish poet Amado, and Olga Rodriquez sang Babalie, a Cuban song.

A skit "The Double Theft" was enacted by seniors, Jean Cake as the aunt, Peggy Lloyd as the girl; and Virginia Hanks as Pedro, the sweetheart.

As a conclusion to the program all members sang several Spanish songs.

Dr. Wynne Leads FTA Teaching Discussion

At the open meeting of the J. L. Jarman Chapter of Future Teachers of America held last night, a discussion of student teaching was led by Dr. J. P. Wynne.

Mr. T. J. McIlwaine, superintendent of schools in Prince Edward county, was present at the meeting. Also present were members of the Association for Childhood Education and representatives of the training school, high school, and college faculties.

Dr. Wynne, in discussing the student teaching program, spoke of it as it now is, and asked for

Continued on page 4

SPORTIN' AROUND

By ANN LYNCH

Are you going out for softball? Well, get to it! The tournament is to be played Thursday week, and this is important on the color cup! Need I remind you?

Another important event to take place are the fall tennis matches which will be played off by the end of this week if we have sun!

It looks as though Ned Orange and Ann Kemp might win the ping pong tournament right now, but there's plenty of time to go.

It also looks like the A. A. Council will be having a jolly time this week what with the banquet Tuesday night and the cabin party Saturday!

Till next week don't forget softball practice, archery, and any other worthwhile sport. (Incidentally, they're all worthwhile.)

'That Day' Is Here Again! How Superstitious Are You?

SYLVIA DAMSKY

Well it has happened again. Next Friday is May 13. Are you superstitious? Maybe you always say, "I'm not superstitious, but--!" Or maybe you're like a few rare people who come right out and say, "You're doggone right I'm superstitious. Why, did you know that twenty five years ago on Friday the 13, my grandfather's mule kicked him, and when my granddad woke up, he had been kicked clear to California." (Of course, grandpa had been in California when he was kicked, but it's so much more interesting to leave that out of the story).

Do you think it's going to rain next Friday? The girls in the Commercial Club are sure it will, because that's the day they're having their picnic. If someone forgets to bring the potato chips and hot dogs, I'll bet it will be blamed on Friday, the 13.

Here's an idea for protection against the jinx. All tests on Friday the 13 should be banned. (Or maybe we ought to say "All tests should be banned, period.") Perhaps all classes should be suspended on Friday. All we'll have to report to is mail call. That certainly sounds safe enough. But wait a minute! If we were fortunate enough to receive a letter, suppose it were a "Dear Jane". Goodness, you can't wha! And if we had to stay in our room all day, we would probably wind up fighting our roommates. I guess we might just as well have classes. To go ahead and face whatever happens seems to be the best idea after all.

But that's enough of the bad luck views of Friday, the 13. Did you know some people consider it a lucky day? On one Friday the 13, I found two cents. By the way, that was also the day I lost a half dollar. And now a final thought to keep in mind on Friday-Mom met Dad on Friday, the 13. Maybe we'll be lucky too. Here's to lucky 13! (Although the horse which started in post position 13 didn't win the Kentucky Derby.)

VEA Officers Meet At Blackstone College

Miss Lucy Adams and Dr. Beverly Ruffin, college librarian represented Longwood College at a meeting of the officers of District D of Virginia Educatlon Association Saturday morning May 7, at Blackstone college in Blackstone, Virginia.

Names of Contract Signers Released By Mrs. Watkins

Names of additional seniors who have signed teaching contracts for next year have been released by Mrs. Mary W. Watkins, director of the College placement bureau.

Anne Owen has signed a teaching contract for Clifton Forge; Esther Marsh for Carrieville; Betty Atkinson, Anne Snead, Jacqueline Watson, Nancy Rushing, and Nadine Lewers for Suffolk.

Teaching in Lynchburg next year will be Ann H. Ford, and Jean Watts; in Norfolk Dorothy Winton and Ann Catherine Robinson, Frances Farley and Joann Sterling will teach in Oceana, Maryland, and Mary Davis, Sarah Lee Rawles, and Mary Frances Hundley in Franklin.

Louise Bergman will teach in Appomattox, Billie Mullins in Wise County, Rives Edwards in Henry County, Nancy Jessee in Henrico County, and Ruth Anne Tillett in Berryville.

Jennie Lee Cross will teach in Middleburg, Annette Jones in Nansemond County, Laura Jean Comerford in Chester, Martha Hatcher in Newport News, and Esther Goffigan in Emporia.

Jean Cake has accepted a job as secretary to Dr. Buckles in Norfolk for next year.

AA Council Gives Spring Sports Data

Softball

The girls going out for softball voted Monday to have two intramural teams, one green team and one red team instead of having four class teams as previously planned.

The total number of girls for the reds with between two and four softball practices is twenty-five, and the total for the greens is fourteen. Girls must have eight practices by the time for the tournament May 19.

The names of the girls and the numbers of practices they have will be posted on the A. A. bulletin board.

Ping Pong

The most recent data on the ping pong tournament shows that it can still be anyone's tournament. Ned Orange heads the list now with only one defeat, and Watson and McGhee are close behind.

Anne Kemp seems to be heading the list for the girls with a defeat over Gravely, Velasquez, and Gillie. Gravely comes in second, having defeated Cregar and Gillie.

DSE Will Initiate

Continued from page 1

Phi Zeta Sigma, the group being installed, was founded in Octobei 1937, at State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia.

The charter members were Lillian Anderson, Covington; Margaret Black, Shores; Jacquelin Beale, Scottsville; Frances E. Collie, South Boston; Margaret Crenshaw, South Boston; Betty Sue Cummings, Big Stone Gap; Elizabeth Tindall, Richmond; and Margaret Via, South Boston.

The first president was Frances E. Collie whose mother Mrs. John H. Collie, Sr., inspired the girls to form the organization.

In the spring of 1939, with the permission of Dr. J. L. Jarman president of the college, the club became a sorority and has functioned as such since then.

Those to be initiated are Miss Winnie Hiner, sponsor, Farmville; Constance Loving, president, Lynchburg; Mary Davis, vice-president, Mobjack; Ruth Radogna, secretary, Purdy; Ann Nichols, corresponding secretary, Norfolk; Laura Buchanan, Saltville; Dorothy Caldwell, Franklin, Laura Jean Comerford, Meadowview; Patricia Donnally, Lou Moor; Phyllis George, West Point; Barbara Grizzard, Drewryville.

Also to be initiated are Esther Goffigan, Cape Charles; Peggy Harris, Emporia; Ruth Hathaway, Churchland; Mary Frances Hundley, Bassett; Anne D. Joyner, Suffolk; Patsy Kimbrough, Richmond; Jean Kollmeyer, Richmond; Betty Romeo, Ardsley, N. Y.; Esther Slagle, Virgilinia; Jane Smith, Hampton; Joanne Sterling, Melfa; Jean Webb, Saltville; Virginia Dare Woody, Baskerville; and Jacquelyn Yates, Chuckatuck.

The new officers for the year 1949-50 will be Miss Winnie Hiner, sponsor; Ann Nichols, president; and Laura Buchanan, vice-president.

The ceremonies will be culminated with a formal banquet at Longwood Estate. The principal speakers will be Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of Longwood College; Miss Ruth Gleaves, Dean of Women and Pan-hellenic Advisor of Longwood College; and Mrs. Edward A. Beldler, the Installing Grand Council Officer.

The pictures now being featured in the Snack Bar are paintings done by members of the art class in watercolor painting.

"Flowers are cheery
When days are dreary."
BURG
Florist

We have the latest RECORDS WILSON HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY

MEET and EAT AT THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

Buy Gifts FOR HIM from VERSER'S

Buy Lovely Gifts Here For Your Favorite Person GRAYS DRUG STORE

KLEANWELL CLEANERS
For Excellent Results
Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

Visit us for good food and good music
THE SNACK BAR
"The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to
ENNIS RADIO SHOP

BOWEN Inc. Farmville Jewelers

Buy your school SUPPLIES from J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

WSVS VOICE of SOUTHSIDE 650 ON YOUR DIAL
"Recess In the Rec"
TUESDAY-
3::00-3:30
WSVS—650 On Your Dial

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

"Flowers make ways
For happy days."
COLLINS
Phone 181 Night 4

WFLO
The Talk of The Town
870 On Your Dial

From the Land of the ICE CREAM Star!
Strawberries 'n Cream
PET ICE CREAM
"a health food"
Rich with the wonderful flavor of ripe, sugar-sweet strawberries and daily-fresh sweet cream!
"Made only of daily fresh whole milk and daily fresh sweet cream, Pet is the creamiest, most delicious -- the best Ice Cream I've ever tasted!" That's what everyone says after they compare Pet Ice Cream with any other...and so will you! Take home a pint or two, today!
Taste the Fresh Cream in Pet Ice Cream

WHO'S —IN THE— Senior Spotlight?

The senior who has been tearing out her hair piece by piece, trying to get rid of those invitations in her room, is the topic of this riddle of the day. Who is she? Where is she? I'll never tell, but note the clues that follow!

She is a member of Alpha Phi Sigma, Theta Sigma Upsilon, Future Teachers of America, Association of Childhood Education, and the YWCA cabinet.

This small and quiet, brown-haired miss is an elementary major. She plans to teach for two or three years but after that, the wedding bells will ring and the state school system will find itself minus another teacher.

Surely you know the answer!

There is one senior at Longwood who has enough pep to put the fiz in a Bromo-Seltzer to shame! This blond nanyway, what there is left of it since she last cut it) haired bombshell is all ready with a whimsical retort to almost any and every comment. In short the term "wit" could well be used in connection with her character.

She is a member of the H2O Club, and president of the "Cahoots Club". Active in sports, she has shown her skill in playing on the class volley ball and basketball teams. She can always be seen at any rousing affair, leading cheers for the Senior class.

As for plans, this art major has plans of marrying Sam in the fall of '50. Know who she is?

Featured in last week's spotlight were Marjorie Miller and Betty Jefferson.

Elect New Officers

Continued from page 1

Journalism Club

At a recent meeting by students interested in forming a journalistic society on this campus, pro tempore officers were elected for next year.

Jacky Eagle, editor-in-chief of the Rotunda, was elected to head this group, and Barbara Andrews, poetry editor of the Colonnade, college magazine, was named vice-president. Mary Leigh Meredith, managing editor of the Rotunda, will serve as secretary for the society, and Joyce Webb, editor-in-chief elect of the annual, the Virginian, was selected to be treasurer.

Pan-Hel Council

Betty Ferguson, representative of Zeta Tau Alpha, will serve as president of the Pan-Hellenic Council for the coming year.

She has announced the other officers as Ann Lynch, Pi Kappa Sigma, vice-president; Pat Paddison, Alpha Sigma Tau, secretary; Jean Sanford, Theta Sigma Upsilon, treasurer; and Ruth Hathaway, Delta Sigma Epsilon, program chairman.

Also on the Council are Laura Lee Stickley, Sigma Sigma Sigma, publicity; Hilda Edwards, Kappa Delta, keeper of the records; and Ann Kemp, Alpha Sigma Alpha, rush chairman.

Town Girls Club

Rebecca Kelsey was recently elected president of the Town Girls Club.

Others are Joan Missimer, vice president; Margaret Ann Jones, treasurer, and Charlotte Hall Davis, reporter.

Newman Club

Anna Famulatte, junior, was recently elected to the presidency and vice-presidency of the Newman Club.

At the same time, Carrie Ann O'Laughlin was chosen to serve as secretary-treasurer for the coming year.

IVCF

Annie Swann, junior from Roanoke, was chosen to serve as president of the local branch of the Inter-varsity Christian Fellowship, at a recent business meeting of the Longwoood chapter.

Ann Lucy, junior from Dolphin, will serve as vice-president; Peggy Dee Hoover, sophomore from Portsmouth, as secretary-treasurer; and Lucy Edmunds, junior from McKenny, as representative. Dorothy Daniel, a senior from Danville, was chosen as faculty advisor for the chapter.

Hollins President

Continued from page 1

lative Committee of the national Association and will preside over the Legislative Department of the National A. A. U. W. Convention to be held in Seattle next month.

Dr. Randolph's address will be open to the public. Students may make application for seats through professors of the College, particularly those of the social science department.

Arrangements for Dr. Randolph's appearance here have been made by the local A. A. U. W. International Relations Committee, Miss Mary Peck and Mrs. M. H. Bittinger chairmen.

"I believe you missed my class yesterday".

"Why no, I didn't, not in the least".

Outings Planned By Organizations

Publications

The three publication staffs of the Rotunda, Colonnade, and Virginian will have a picnic Thursday, May 12 from 5:30 until 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. James M. Grainger, head of the English department and advisor to the Colonnade.

Faculty advisors of the various publications have been invited to attend the picnic. Old and new members of all the staffs are expected to attend. A special invitation has been extended to Mr. Harry Lancaster, a printer at the Farmville Herald office, and his family.

Claudia Anderson is serving as chairman of the food committee and Ann Langbein is acting as chairman of the transportation committee. Ann Lynch is acting as entertainment chairman.

Commercial Club

The Commercial Club will hold its annual picnic Friday, May 13, at Longwood at 4:30.

Janice Slavin and Connie Marston are co-chairmen of the picnic and head of the food committees. Ned Orange is heading the transportation committee.

A A Council

The annual A. A. cabin party will be held Saturday, May 14. Members of the old and new councils and the Monogram Club will attend.

Dr. Wynne

Continued from Page 3

suggestions from the body at large for improvement. It was decided at the meeting that Dr. Wynne and officers of the association will meet soon to discuss plans for the coming year.

College-Bred is a four-year loaf made with father's dough.

A College Cheer is a check from home.

Beautiful LUXITE underwear that requires NO ironing—ideal for gifts that will always be cherished.

DOROTHY MAY STORE

Library Exhibit Features Photographic Art By Scott

By Minta Critzer

In the browsing room of the library this week is a fascinating exhibit of the the photographic art of Berman Scott, a first year student here at Longwood College. The exhibit includes one portrait done in oils and several pictorials. Outstanding in the exhibit is an abstract design composed of concrete steps and the shadow they cast in the bright Texas sunlight where the picture was taken.

Berman has studied photographic art for two years at the New York Institute of Photography and at the Southwestern Photographic Arts School in Dallas, Texas. He has given exhibits in both of these schools.

He now has a contract with Associated Press whereby he gets news pictures and does pictorial features on the Southside Virginia region. The pictures in the Richmond Times Dispatch and the Rotunda of the Longwood College fire were his. Also the photographs in the Longwood College bulletin, Will College Prepare You For A Career? were his work.

During World War II Berman served in the Navy in the Atlantic theater until the invasion of France where he was injured. Only since leaving the Navy in 1945 has his interest in photography heightened to the point where he wishes to make his career in that field. He plans in the future to continue his study of photography specializing in colored photography.

The Honor System is an educational plan in which the teacher has the honor and the students have the system.

Judge: Rastus, do you realize that by leaving your wife you are a deserter?

Rastus: Judge, if you know'd that woman like I does you wouldn't call me a deserter. I'se a refugee.

"Arizona Wildcat"

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from MARTIN THE JEWELER

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Evening Dresses

White waffle pique dresses. Over 200 lovely graduation dresses to select from.

$5.95 to $16.95

Crepe Slips
Lacy and tailored white filament.
$1.98

THE HUB
Your Friendly Department Store

Ballerina Shoes
Blacks & whites.
$2.98

TOPS WITH THE TOP STARS IN HOLLYWOOD AND WITH COLLEGES TOO—

MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELD THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE . . . by latest national survey

"For me there's only one cigarette that's really Milder and that's CHESTERFIELD"

Alexis Smith

STARRING IN "ONE LAST FLING" A WARNER BROS. PRODUCTION

The TOP MEN of AMERICA'S SPORTS smoke CHESTERFIELD

"Chesterfield is my idea of a Mild, satisfying smoke. When you light up a Chesterfield you know they're Milder, much Milder."

Sheldon Jones

PITCHER FOR THE NEW YORK GIANTS

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

The Best Cigarette for YOU to Smoke

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Library
Longwood College
Farmville, Virginia

Pay
Library Fines

The Rotunda

Books
Due May 26

VOLUME XXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., May 18, 1949 | No. 28

Student Standards Committee Passes New Activity Rules Effective In 1950

Regulations Affect Holding of Offices In College Groups

Four new regulations controlling the amount of extra-curricular activity in which a student may engage were passed by the Student Standards Committee at a recent meeting.

The new regulations, which will eliminate the need for a point system, will go into effect in the spring of 1950.

The regulations are as follows:

1. A student may be head of only one organization and may hold office in a maximum of three.

2. No student may be a member of more than eight organizations. (Not included in these eight are the four automatic memberships, Young Women's Christian Association, Student Government, Athletic Association, and class, and also membership in the Spanish Club and French Circle.)

3. Organizations which have scheduled meetings only twice each year are exempt from regulation number 2.

4. Officers of all organizations must have a "C" average for the preceding semester.

Award Given To Rotunda

The Rotunda recently was named winner of an Honorable Mention award in a safe driving contest participated in by publications and students of more than 200 colleges in December.

Cash award winners among dailies were the University of Southern California Trojan, Los Angeles, first; Penn State Collegian, State College, Pa., and the Louisiana State University Reveille Baton Rouge, La., who tied for second place and shared equally second and third prizes.

For the non-dailies, winners were the Rutgers University Targum, New Brunswick, N. J., first; Ohio Weselyn University Collegian, Salem, Ore., third.

Announcement of the winners was made by James S. Kemper, chairman of Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company, Chicago, which sponsored the contest in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

Library Notice

May 26 has been set as the deadline for returning books and paying library fines, Dr. M. Beverly Ruffin, college librarian, announced today. She stated that diplomas and class credits will not be given until students meet their financial obligations to the library.

Students will be allowed to use library books after the deadline this term or during the summer if they present a justifiable reason to the librarian.

YWCA Will Present Union Vespers Sun.

The Y. W. C. A. Union Vesper Service will be presented in the Presbyterian Church Sunday, May 22, at 7:00 p. m.

The program will be presented by the Westminister Fellowship, the Presbyterian youth group.

Jackie Wright, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. Church Co-operative Committee, urges all students to attend the services.

Students Crowd Science Hall As '49 Yearbook Arrives

The traditionally unheralded arrival of the truck from the publishers yesterday announced to an unsuspecting student body the appearance of the 1949 Virginian, Longwood yearbook. This is the earliest date that it has come out in several years.

News of the Virginian's arrival traveled swiftly, and after lunch an eager crowd of students gathered outside the chemistry lab' to witness the dedication of the copper-brown covered, gold lettered book to Mr. Samuel L. Graham, College business manager.

Perusal of the book by the first in the long queue of restless annual recipients revealed the yearbook theme to be "A Look through the Doorways", portraying campus life across the various portals of familiar Longwood buildings. Students quickly turned to one section containing the top-secret annual feature, "Senior Personalities". Members of the student body found that they had elected as the six senior standouts, Laura Jean Comerford, Anne East, Martha Gillum, Marjorie Miller, Jessie Lee Pickett, and Violet Ritchie.

The Virginian was divided this year into four books, College, Classes, Activities, and Features. Sharing masthead honors were Anne East, editor-in-chief; Joyce Webb, managing editor; and Edna Earle Waters, business manager. Helen Kaknis served as assistant business manager; Lee Robertson, photographic editor, took most of the snapshots; and art editor, Dot Wood, was responsible for the original doorway drawings marking the pages.

It has been announced that students who have not yet completed paying for their annuals may receive their copies of the Virginian by bringing the final payment to the chemistry lab' as soon as possible.

ANNE EAST, Editor-in-chief, of the 1949 Virginian.

Dean Savage Attends US Labor Division Conference In D. C.

Dean William W. Savage, with four other Virginia guidance workers, last Thursday conferred with the Occupational Outlook Division of the U. S. Department of Labor in Washington, D. C. This group was asked by the Division to evaluate and criticize the 1949 Occupational Outlook Handbook, yearly publication of the Division for use by employment services and school guidance counselors.

At this meeting Dean Savage described to the Division the student personnel program in force here and how occupational information is utilized at the College particularly in freshman classes. Also in attendance at this meeting were Mr. John A. Mapp, directing counselor of the State Consultation Service; Miss Anne Bedinger, counselor of the S. C. S.; Mr. A. W. Clopton, manager of the S. C. S.; and Mr. Frank Shull, assistant manager of the Richmond office of the Virginia State Employment Service.

Dr. Jeffers To Talk On 'Longwood Hour'

Guest speaker on the Thursday afternoon "Longwood Hour" heard over radio station WFLO at 4:30 will be Dr. George W. Jeffers, Professor of Biology.

The topic of Dr. Jeffers' talk will be "Science and the South". He believes that "The South is only going to advance as long as they have science".

Schedule Changes Listed For Fall

The following corrections in the schedule recently released for the 1949-50 term have been made by Mr. T. A. McCorkle:

Art 121 will be taught by Mrs Janice Lemen, Art 122 will be taught by Miss Bedford. Art 211 will be taught at 10:05-11:05 Monday, Wednesday, Friday, first and second semesters. Art 221-222 will be taught at 8:05 Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday.

Philosophy 451 at 8:05 Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, taught by Miss Carter is to be omitted.

Physical Education 231-232 will be taught at 2:05 Monday, Wednesday, Friday. Physical Education 322 will be offered at 3:05 Monday, Wednesday, Friday.

Chemistry 221-224 is scheduled at 10:05 Wednesday, Friday.

History 221-222 will be taught at 9:05 Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, Saturday instead of 10:05 Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

English 405-405, not included on the schedule, will be offered at 10:05 Monday, Wednesday, and Friday by Miss Foster.

Six Members Taken Into Kappa Delta Pi

Six new members were initiated into Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education fraternity, at a meeting held last week. New officers were installed at this meeting also.

Those students who were initiated were Marjorie Agee, Connie Marston, Eula Ayers, Dennis Love, Dalila Agostini and Stuart McGhee.

Kappa Delta Pi is a national honor society to give recognition of scholarship, character and service, and to encourage maintenance of higher professional and scholastic standards. Only those juniors and seniors whose grades are within the upper quartile of their class are eligible for membership.

Miss Wheeler Reads

Miss Leola Wheeler, professor of speech, will give a reading in Assembly this Thursday.

Assembly will be held in the Methodist Church, and the seniors will march in.

President Advises Students To Apply For Scholarships

500 Scholarships Will Be Available To Upperclassmen

President Dabney S. Lancaster has announced that all students interested in applying for state scholarships for the coming session should do so immediately. Applications can be made in the president's office.

There will again be about 500 of these scholarships in the amount of three hundred dollars per academic year available to qualified upper classmen. However, President Lancaster added, there will be more applicants this year than ever before.

Students in any field may apply for these scholarships, with the exception of those in curriculum six, or those majoring in history, social science, or English. Each student to whom one is awarded will receive three hundred dollars for each year that it is granted. By teaching, the student cancels the award at the rate of one hundred and fifty dollars plus interest, per year. Any amount not canceled by teaching must be repaid, with interest, within two years after the teaching experience, unless the State Board of Education agrees to extend the period of repayment because of extenuating circumstances.

President Lancaster must recommend all candidates to the State Board of Education which, in turn will make recommendations to the Governor. All application must have the approval of the Governor before scholarships may be awarded.

Scholarships probably will be awarded this year more on the basis of scholastic standing rather than on the order in which applications are received as has been the case heretofore, President Lancaster said. The Governor will award the scholarships sometime during this summer.

Official Notice

Dean's List class cuts do not entitle students to cut assembly except when they are leaving the college, President Dabney S. Lancaster recently announced.

At this time President Lancaster also stated that assembly next session, to be held each Thursday at 1:05 p. m., will also be compulsory. Attendance at the chapel period on Tuesdays at the same hour will be optional.

Jarman Organ Fund Report To Be Given

At the alumnae meeting to be held here on Founder's Day, reports will be heard from each chapter of the National Association of Alumnae on their year's work. This is the fourth year that the alumnae have been working on the Jarman Organ Fund. A complete report of this fund and plans for completing the fund will be given at this time. All members of the faculty and the student body are invited to attend this meeting in the Student Building auditorium at 11:00 a. m., Saturday, June 4.

The Jarman Organ Fund, which was started to raise funds for an organ to be installed in the new auditorium as a memorial to Dr. J. L. Jarman, the late president of Longwood College, has reached at present a total of about $16,000, Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, alumnae secretary, announced today.

The alumnae association has expressed the hope that the goal of $25,000 will be reached in December, 1949.

Art Exhibit Features College Student Work In Current Display

Paintings, Crafts Included In Works

Many types of art work, representing the best student work to come from the Longwood art classes, have been placed on exhibit in the art department on second floor Library Hall for the week of May 16-23.

Both flat work and crafts are being displayed at this time. Among the media represented in flat work are tempera, watercolor, chalk, crayon, cut paper and oil. Examples of craft work on exhibit are jewelry, ceramic figures and bowls, decorative boxes, books, and textile designs in block prints and stencils.

According to Mrs. Janice S. Lemen, assistant professor of art, the pictures in the exhibit this year are arranged in a new way. The east hall is devoted to oil paintings. All students of oil painting are represented by at least one painting in this section. Local rural landscapes, campus buildings, and still lifes are the subject matter portrayed in these paintings.

Four groups of work are displayed in the main hall. Freshman art structure, both flat work and crafts, occupies one section of this hall. Opposite them is representative work of the water color students. The water colors on display are mostly landscapes or local subject matter.

The third group on display in the main hall represents the work of the figure drawing classes. These compositions are done in various media. Opposite this group is the work of the design students, abstractions, semi-abstractions, and lettering.

On display in Mrs. Lemen's class room is the work of the elementary art education classes. Both flat work and crafts, representing what these students plan to teach in the elementary grades, are on exhibit.

In speaking of the contributors to the exhibit, Mrs. Lemen said, "The majority of the work displayed has been done by art majors and the rest by other students taking art courses this year".

Art majors who have work on exhibit are members of all four classes. Freshman art majors whose work is on display are Susan Webb, Burman Scott, Mary Moore Karr, Nell Giley, Lucy Jane Morton, and Jackie Jardine. Jean Gilman and Hatty Swihart are sophomore ones, was rather over-played in the last act.

Continued on page 4

Mr. McCorkle Lists '49 Regulations For Graduation

Announces Schedule For Commencement

Regulations for seniors and their little sisters during commencement have been issued by Mr. T. A. McCorkle.

Mr. McCorkle has asked that student participants in commencement follow these regulations carefully and report promptly to all appointments, which are listed below.

Thursday, June 2—1:45-4:00 p. m. Seniors will come to the physics lab in the Science Hall for their hoods.

Friday, June 3—2:00 p. m. Seniors and their little sisters will report to the dining hall for rehearsal. Instructions will be given upon arrival. There will be no rehearsal Saturday.

Saturday, June 4—10:15 p. m. Seniors and their little sisters will report to the Student Building for the lantern parade. 3:40 p. m. Seniors and their little sisters will report to the Sudent Building for class day exercises. Seniors are asked to wear caps and gowns but not hoods

Sunday, June 5—7:45 p. m. Seniors report to the Student Building in caps and gowns.

Monday, June 6—10:10 p. m. Seniors are to be in line with hoods. Little sisters will also line up there. It is imperative that the seniors be prompt, for the little sisters will leave at 10:22.

Granddaughters Club To Present Dance Featuring Cake-walk

Ann Nock, president of the Granddaughters Club, has announced that the organization will give a dance in the recreation hall Saturday night, May 21, 8:30 p. m. to 12:00 p. m. A "cake-walk" will occur during the dance.

Admission will be ten cents per person at the door.

Phyllis Bagley is head of publicity for the dance, and Jean Oliver and Betty Jean Robertson are in charge of tickets.

Anderson In Roll of Medea Holds Audience Spellbound

By Minta Hopkins Criter

A spellbound audience of University of Virginia students students of neighboring colleges, and residents of Charlottesville witnessed Judith Anderson's breath-taking rendition of Robinson Jeffers' adaption of the well known Greek legend Medea Monday night.

My reaction to Medea was one of great admiration for Miss Anderson, one of the first ladies of the stage. Miss Anderson, though she might be lacking in beauty, possesses a voice of eloquence in tone and range. She renders magnificently everything from the lowest moan to the shrillest scream. Marvelous body movement was exhibited in her portrayal of Medea, a great part being characterized by the free movement of her arms.

The part of Jason, portrayed by Henry Bradon, though a thankless

Miss Anderson started her acting career in the United States in 1918. She has starred in many Broadway plays and in several movie roles. Noteable was her characterization of Mrs. Danvers in Rebecca. Miss Anderson is considered the worlds greatest living actess. Mr. Jeffers' Medea is a special dedication to Miss Anderson.

The University of Virginia was able to secure Medea through Miss Anderson's husband who is a Broadway producer and an alumnus of the university.

The Longwood College library is now showing an exhibit of the play Medea. This exhibit consist of previews by several Broadway critics, LIFE's preview, and the program of Monday night's performance in Charlottesville.

'Mail Call,' Pro And Con .....

No mean amount of criticism and objection has been precipitated in the past week by the elimination of the twenty-minute "mail call" 'period from the morning schedule for the 1949-50 session. In the camps of both students and administration can be heard many valid arguments in favor of the retention of the daily "break" and, contrariwise, in favor of its elimination.

The addition of a class period on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday mornings has necessitated the shift of the chapel and assembly periods from 11:15 a. m. on Tuesday, Thursday to 1:05 p. m. on the same days. Thus the number of morning class periods on alternate days has been increased from seven to eight. The Committee on Schedules hopes that the addition of this period will relieve the congestion in schedules so prevalent when only seven class periods were available in the morning. In making this change, it has been necessary to eliminate the twenty minute "mail call" period in the morning because lunch will be served at 12:15 p. m. instead of 12:30 p. m.

With another period available for morning classes, and with better distribution of classes over the week, the Committee has endeavored to provide a schedule in which fewer students will have the need of a "break." Recognizing the fact that three or four consecutive lectures work a hardship on any student, the Committee has consciously tried to arrange the schedule with fewer consecutive classes, permitting students to derive more benefit from classes and, at the same time, permitting the free periods they desire for "mail call" or "coffee hour."

However, the fact remains that despite the Committee's efforts, many students still find themselves saddled with a full morning schedule on at least three days of the week. We believe that the number of these students is large enough to justify reinstatement of the twenty-minute free period, if lunch and the afternoon class periods could be scheduled to accommodate it. Certainly the short interim between classes has been a great boon to students and faculty alike for many reasons. This period of brief relaxation, sometimes utilized for practical duties, has been a great morale builder and has augured on all sides for a morning of more successful work.

Perhaps if a twenty-minute "break" does not seem reasonable to the Committee, some compromise could be arranged. At any rate the matter deserves careful reconsideration.—

A Wise Move.....

The Student Standards Committee has recently passed new regulations concerning the extra-curricular activities of the Longwood students which should prove beneficial to students and organizations alike. They are reported elsewhere in this issue of the Rotunda.

Limiting the number of organizations to which a student may belong will not only help the student but also the organizations of which he is a member. The student who belongs to a large number of organizations can not only derive no benefit himself from his various memberships but he is able to contribute nothing worthwhile to any of them.

In limiting the number of offices any one student may hold the committee hopes to spread, not concentrate, the responsibility. Each officer will thereby be able to do a better job for the organization of which he is an officer and will not be torn between two jobs. More students will be able to prove their leadership ability; responsibility will fall on many who, although they are capable, might have otherwise been overlooked.

For many years there has been an unwritten law of the College concerning the necessary "C" average of all officers. The committee has at this time put it in writing. The value of this rule is obvious. To select a student who does not have his "C" average as an officer of a group is fair to neither the student nor the organization.

These regulations will not go into effect until the spring elections of 1950. This provision has been made so that organizations will not be required to reelect officers next year should there be a violation of the new regulations. Until they go into effect, the point system formerly used will still be used.

The Student Standards Committee is to be commended for this move. Its value will be reflected in the better organizations and the better students which will be its by-products.

THE ROTUNDA

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

STAFF

Jacqueline Eagle ..... Editor in Chief
Mary Leigh Meredith ..... Managing Editor
Janice Slavin ..... Business Manager
Jean Smith ..... Desk Editor
Mary Jo Smith ..... News Editor
Joan Pinckett ..... Copy Editor
Nancy Cooper ..... Morgue Editor
Mary Crowgey ..... Feature Editor
Betty Ferguson ..... Society Editor
Ann Lynch ..... Sports Editor
Helen Arrington ..... Art Editor
Jane Smith ..... Assistant Art Editor
Peggy Perry ..... Photographer
Beverly Smethie ..... Advertising Manager
Grace Thompson ..... Circulation Manager
Millie Cutter ..... Promotion Manager

Reporters

Jean Otis Loving, Hop Critzer, Nancy Campes, Sylvia Dansky, Jean Turner, Molly Wilson, Louise Turner, Sue Walker, Winnie Beard, Claudia Anderson, Betsy Wilson, Nellie Hart

Business Assistants

Gene Garst, Juanita Weeks, Catherine Johnston, Marilyn Wheeler, Peggy Harris, Edith Kennon, Lucy Vaughan, Virginia Dare Wood, Julia Tuck, Marjorie Ager, Rena Mae Hayes, Jinny Powell, Mary Crowder, Nora Pollard, Jean Hogge, Connie Heather, Marge Buswick

WEDNESDAY, MAY 18, 1949

OUR WORLD

By Nellie Hart

It is not beyond the realm of possibility for the nations of the world to establish among themselves a certain degree of international faith, trust and patience. It is inevitable that civilization cannot continue to enjoy prosperity while hate and fear dominate the world.

Five years ago, we were fighting the Germans with all the force which we possessed, and with all the fury and intense dislike that we were capable of securing. When the Berlin blockade was ended by Russia over western Germany, we discovered that over 125,000 laborers had been thrown out of work because no coal could be secured for Berlin's industries. The people had been living mainly on the airlift's dehydrated potatoes, powdered eggs and milk, dried vegetables and occasional cans of meat. Sometimes they were without food. They could only enjoy four hours of electricity daily; they had lighted their homes with candles or gone to bed at sunset.

Despite the fact that starvation was inevitable, the German people remained calm. They are to be greatly admired for their national pride, for in the long, hard winter of Russian occupation, they refused all help from Russia, and if if were not for their bold determination to help themselves, Berlin would have been lost.

The new German constitution, based upon a democracy, is to be approved this week by the "Big Three" powers. After ratification by the eleven west German states, the German people will hold elections to choose a parliament. On July 15, the Federal Republic of Germany is to be christened. It's bill of rights states that equal rights will be maintained for all, and also provides for a free press and free assembly. It further states that any political party may be declared unconstitutional if it attempts to disrupt or abolish the new democratic order.

Thus is born a new nation.

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor,

My subject is one that has been approached many times and from many different angles. It seems to be the time when we must be reminded once again of the Honor Code. Have you ever stopped to reread the pledge which you signed upon entering the college? It goes, in part, "...having a clear understanding of the basis, and spirit of this Honor Code created and accepted by the Student Body of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, pledge myself to govern my college life according to its standards and to acept my responsibility for helping others to do so, and with sensitive regard for my college to live by the Honor Code at all times and to see that others do likewise."

Surely none of us are too busy to stop and ponder over these words for a few minutes. Don't confine yourself to merely reading it; analyze it and try to get its full meaning. Remember that they are not simply a group of words, as such. We cannot achieve nor maintain the true Farmville spirit unless we grasp the true meaning of the Honor Code.

Are you governing your life according to the standards that have been set up for us? Those who have gone before us have helped to set up the standards, but it is the duty of each individual here to adhere to them.

Because the name of our college has recently been changed is no reason why we should change our ideals. On the contrary, we must work harder to uphold them.

Perhaps a serious consideration of this will help to curb the stealing which has been spreading. Perhaps it will also help us to think carefully about the seriousness of the approaching exams.

Sincerely,
HELEN KAKNIS, '50

Pedro's Pocket

By Jean Turner

Editor's Note: Herewith we introduce "Pedro's Pocket" in response to a demand for the injection of "humor" in the pages of the Rotunda. We hasten to add that the opinions expressed in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of the Rotunda.

This column is brought to you through the courtesy of a recent exchange made between the Rotunda and Pedro. Pedro is from Mexico, and since the comments made hereon are straight from him, the reader will please assume a Mexican accent. A variety of things are found in Pedro's pocket —in fact you never can tell what you will find here. However, the contents have been duly raked over the coals and if anything worth reading is left, it is purely coincidental.(Editor's Note: That was a low blow!)

We've heard a lot of rumors about forthcoming rules. Some of them sound a little mid-victorian in origin; however, I trust they're only rumors. Girls are funny things — regardless of what the popular opinion of college education for women might be, the fact remains that 75%, or more, of girls in colleges are still considerably interested in extra-curricular weekends.

Shall we talk about the weather? Things are getting pretty hot—the weather not excluded. I'm afraid since we're complaining of everything else, that we've passed up one good bet. If it rains much more we're going to be washed away before exams— Oh joy! Aside from the complaint due the weather department in regard to the abominable spacing of rainy days, there is also a kick coming to the school, inasmuch as there aren't enough rowboats available for the students to get to classes on time. This is a small matter but one that would bear looking into.

Since complaints come a lot easier than most other information, and seem to be the topic of this column, let's take up another one. There don't seem to be enough second floors in the dormitories around this place. Perhaps to do away with this problem all new buildings should have dorms on the second floor. Then too, they could build dorms with girders

Continued on page 4

'Annual' Surprise

Campus Cogitations

Do you think we should have a real square dance here?

Milly Wilson: Yeah! If we could have more men at 'em.

Shirley Dorch: Yep! I think they could be lots of fun.

Joy Humphries: Yea boys! I think it would be great!

Jane Simpson: You are so right!

Nell Dalton: Why not? If everyone likes the idea, it should be O. K.

Sally Brickman: Sure. There's nothing like a big square—dance that is.

Dennise Calvo: Yes, indeedy !I think it is a wonderful idea. Just love them! It is a shame I missed the one we had last Saturday.

Janie Fox: Shore do. They're more fun than a barrel of monkeys. Learned to walk that way.

Ann Terry: Yes, the more the merrier.

Mary Crawford: Perfectly lush idea!

Lila Easley: Refer to Miss Kay.

Lee Robertson: Sure. They're loads of fun. Besides as one of the ex-officios of this paper I can't let ye old reporter down.

Evelyn Farrier: Yes law! Just like we have out in Southwest Virginia.

Suzie Bowie: T'would be loads of fun. Let's have Joanne call them!

Betty Spindler: I certainly do! A real square dance with hay seed 'n cider plus a caller would be more fun than this old place has seen in a long time.

Liz Leslie: If we can get a caller.

Thelma Peake: Yes, it's a grand idea!

Joanne Sterling: Why Sure, I'm a Westerner from way back!

Nancy Flint: All right with me.

Jo Ann Yow: Definitely not! !

Shirley Roberts: Yes, everyone seemed to enjoy it so much.

Barbara Bradshaw: It would be fun if everyone would cooperate.

Kakie McCready: Suits me!

Lucyle Humphries: Definitely.

Sue Highfield: To heck with blisters—Yes!

Y Lines

By Dolores Duncan

The new "Y" cabinet had its first meeting in the cabinet room last Wednesday night. New advisors were chosen, and Miss Hamner was elected chairman of the advisory board. The Membership committee sent out news letters to the alumnae of the past graduating class. Next Thursday was set as the date for the set-up conference at which the old and new cabinet members will be present.

The Membership Committee is preparing to sign up girls for Big Sisters. Don't forget to sign your name and address on the poster on the bulletin board in the hall this week!

ALUMNAE NEWS

The Roanoke alumnae chapter, under the leadership of Miss Leona Moomaw, is having a dinner meeting on Tuesday evening, May 31. A group of Farmville alumnae will attend.

Mrs. Thomas J. Starke, national president of the Longwood College Alumnae Association, will entertain the Richmond chapter with a picnic lunch at her home, "Ruston", on River Road, Richmond on Saturday, May 21. The president, Mrs. Lottie W. McAnally, will be unable to attend because of an appendicitis operation. Mrs. Myrtle D. Curtis will act in her place.

Sophisticated Rat

Freshman, grab for that cool and refreshing glass of iced tea, sit down and wait for everyone to wander into the dining hall, and let's catch up on what's going on in the class of '52. (Note: You might have to wait for that tea if the waitress hasn't managed to arrive with the ice!)

From a very reliable source, I heard that Billy Woods is thinking seriously of taking up the art of flying airplanes. Why? Because she wants to have something to talk about with that aeronautically minded young man that she dated the other week end!

It's still a mystery to me why Audrey Pettit didn't tell her date for the May Day Dance that the affair was formal. The only solution to the mystery is that she wanted to see the bright lights of Richmond.

The two gals from Wythevilie really had themselves a couple of big week ends. Pat Tuggle enjoyed the sights of Gloucester with Harvey and Dolores Hoback had a bang-up time from being with none other than (a fanfare here would seem appropriate) Dennis!

No doubt you heard that Chuck, the irrepressible from U. Va., enjoyed a most delightful week end at Farmville with a cutie by the name of Kim Coleman.

Again VPI was the scene of a big week end for a few of the fortunates. Midge Woods, Frances Davenport, and Jean Ridenour will all chime in to say that Ring Dances were the best ever!

COLOR CUP POINTS

Green and White		Red and White
5	Hockey	5
5	Tennis	—
5	Basketball	5
10	Volleyball	—
—	Swimming	10
5	Archery	—
10	Varsity Hockey	—
—	Varsity Basketball	10
?	Softball	?
40	Total	30

SPORTIN' AROUND

By ANN LYNCH

I don't guess any girl has ever come to school here without wondering before she leaves just what makes up the "Farmville Spirit." Well, if you go back to the old Rotundas and annuals you'll find that the Farmville spirit has been living a long time, from the beginning of school in fact.

Sports have boosted the spirit throughout our college years. Let's see how it was in the early 1900's. From the Rotunda files dated October 1921, we see—"In the fall of 1919 the Athletic Association decided to present a loving cup to the class scoring the highest in athletic events during the year. These events consisted of hiking, tennis, basketball and field day activities. The greatest display of class spirit is manifested in striving for this cup, which is given from year to year to the class winning the most points." (My, what that cup means to us today!) "Any student who hikes ten miles a week for ten weeks will receive a class numeral . . . Ten miles counts 1 point toward a school monogram." (Hiking means walking at the rate of one mile in twenty minutes!)

From the December files, 1922, we find that "the old normal has never seen such spirit as raged through the school in preparation for the first junior and senior basketball game. The pep started Tuesday night at 10:30 a. m. with the decorating of the Rotunda in Red and White." Then the competition began, each class vying with the other in trying to get their colors higher . . . After many efforts from both classes the Green and White, the senior colors, waved from the top of the flag pole. A year earlier, in December, '21—"For hours before the game the tooting of horns and waving of flags made it evident that the supporters of the Red and White and those of Green and White were backing their teams to the utmost."

On March 10, 1923, we find as the main headline "Farmville Spirit Will Never Die." Under the subhead, "The Spirit of the Game," we're asked this question: "What is the most important thing next to actual playing, that determines the outcome of a contest? Good sportsmanship! During the game itself it is easiest to show enthusiasm and pep, especially when your team is winning. The spirit after the game is often the test of a a real sportsman. Let each girl ask herself 'What do I think of our spirit before the game? What did I do to cooperate and help in working up the proper enthusiasm and a strong spirit of loyalty? The 'team boosters'—the whole school is grateful to their loyal support and cooperative spirit. Keep up this spirit, Farmville."

Keep up this spirit, Longwood!

Green 'n White Leads In Annual Color Cup Race As Result of Tournaments

AA Announces New Blazer Award Plan

The Athletic Association has announced a change in awarding blazers, Jessie Pickett, president of A. A. said today.

Next year's athletic blazers will be awarded to seniors, having the required points, at the beginning of the semester. Twenty points are required for seniors receiving blue blazers and thirty points for those receiving white blazers.

This change has been made to enable seniors to wear their blazers while still at college.

President Lancaster Speaks to Local PTA

President Dabney S. Lancaster spoke at a meeting of the Farmville public school Parent-Teachers Association last week. His topics were, "Primary Interest in Things We Want for Our Children", and "Study of Virginia Economy in Education".

New officers of the P. T. A. were elected for the coming year at the same meeting. Dr. J. G. Graziani was chosen to head the organization. Other officers elected were the Reverend Mr. John W. Myers, vice president, Mrs. Alfred Price, secretary, and Mrs. Margaret Bruce, treasurer.

Mr. Norman O. Myers and Dr. George W. Jeffers of the College faculty, are the retiring president and vice president, respectively, of the organization.

Gillie, Agnew Win Laurels In Singles

Friday, May 13, proved to be the proverbial bad luck day for the Red n' Whites as Nancye Gillie, playing for Green n' White fought her way to victory over Patsy Ritter in the tennis singles.

This triumph will add five points to the Green n' White score toward the color cup. A summary of the color cup scores appears elsewhere on this page.

Gillie battled her way to win in the first two sets of the match, eliminating the usually necessary third set.

Another five points was added to the color cup for Green and White today, as Helen Agnew fought for two out of three sets from Ann Langbein. This, the final game in the tennis singles series, was probably the most exciting game this year.

Langbein took the first set 6-3, with Agnew retaliating in the second set by a win of 6-4. Agnew came through again in the third set winning 6-4, and consequently winning the match for Green and White.

Both girls gave the spectators a good show and played hard in the closest contest of the season.

Tennis doubles will be played off within the next two weeks, Hilda Edwards, tennis manager has announced.

'Green' Archers Score

Green n' White took another victory this week when they racked up five more points toward the color cup by winning the archery tournament Thursday, May 12.

Jessie Pickett topped the contest and Ruth Hathaway placed second. Patti Page came in third with Francis Allen following her in fourth place.

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from MARTIN THE JEWELER

"Flowers are cheery When days are dreary." BURG Florist

BOWEN Inc. Farmville Jewelers

We have the latest RECORDS WILSON HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY

Buy your school SUPPLIES from J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

Buy Gifts FOR HIM from VERSER'S

MEET and EAT AT THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

WSVS 650 "Recess In the Rec" TUESDAY- 3::00-3:30 WSVS—650 On Your Dial

Buy Lovely Gifts Here For Your Favorite Person GRAYS DRUG STORE

Visit us for good food and good music THE SNACK BAR "The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Reach For Jnstrite Bread Sold By C. F. MORING 209 South Main St.

"Flowers make ways For happy days." COLLINS Phone 181 Night 4

KLEANWELL CLEANERS For Excellent Results Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

WFLO The Talk of The Town 870 On Your Dial

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Sea Nymph swim suits by jordan

Smartest Shore Lines of the season . . . yours in this femininely flattering one-piece swim suit of Lastex Laton Faille by Sea Nymph with its shirred panel front and shirred bra with the cute cuff. In exciting jewel tones of Blueziron, Scarab Green and Topaz. Sizes 32 to 38. $8.98.

Baldwin's Farmville, Va.

Made to a Queen's Taste Princess Pet ICE CREAM Richer, Creamier...More Delectable

At a family dinner or a party -- with Princess Pet for dessert...honest-to-goodness Southern Hospitality is always in your home! Yes, Princess Pet is the finest, richest, most delicious Ice Cream ever to grace any table...anywhere!

So, buy Princess Pet at your dealer's, today...in the colorful Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality! Princess Pet -- the de luxe Ice Cream with every flavor made to a Queen's taste!

Four popular standard flavors -- Vanilla, Chocolate, Strawberry, Buttered Pecan -- and the Flavor of the Month...Caramel Bisque... a new, royal flavor treat!

NOW 40¢ a PINT AT YOUR DEALER'S

PRINCESS PET ICE CREAM

TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

WHO'S —IN THE— Senior Spotlight?

Whenever a game of sport is being played at Longwood, it's a sure bet that one senior will be right in the middle, piling up the score for her team. She has done exceptional work as well in modern dance classes and recitals.

As president of the Athletic Association, she has shown outstanding athletic ability as well as leadership of her class. In the honorary society, Alpha Kappa Gamma, she held the position of secretary. She served on the Student Government council during her senior year. Also, she is a member of the H 20 Club, Monogram Club, Orchesis, Alpha Sigma Alpha and Cotillion Club.

This physical education major has great hopes of obtaining a teaching position for next year. One clue that might give away her identity is that in her "younger" days, she used to be known for her incessant giggling—but not now. How could a senior laugh and giggle with her last exams looming ahead?

If anyone at Longwood has printers ink in her blood, it is none other than the graduating senior who for the past year has so capably edited the Rotunda. Please try to overlook the fact that she is minus some hair because now that her duties as editor have ceased, she will be able to stop tearing her locks over lost stories editorials, and late copy.

This publication wizard was also poetry editor of the Colonnade. She is a member of the French Club of which she was president her sophomore year. For the year '48-'49, she was secretary-treasurer of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association. A member of Alpha Kappa Gamma and the Cotillion club, she is also the 1949 Class Historian.

Next year, she plans to return to Longwood to teach Audio Visual classes. Right now, she hints that she is going slightly insane from the papers of the class she is teaching this year.

Last week's Spotlight was focused on Ann Owens and Patti Page

Social Notes

Club Honors Advisor

The Longwood Dramatic Club held a tea in honor of Miss Leola Wheeler, who has acted as advisor and director for the organization, in the Student Lounge today. A silver service was presented to Miss Wheeler by the club in appreciation of her service in the past years.

The faculty was invited to be guests of the tea, and the Hampden-Sydney Jongeleurs were also guests of the club.

Ann Nock and June Banks, social chairmen, with the assistance of several members of the club made arrangements for the tea.

Juniors Fete Seniors

The juniors gave an indoor picnic for the senior class yesterday in the gymnasium.

Food was served picnic style, and entertainment was provided by the juniors. As a part of the program students imitated some of the girls of the graduating class.

Norma Roady, president of the junior class, was general chairman of the party committee. Laura Lee Stickley and Frances Dodson headed the food and entertainment committees respectively.

BET To Picnic

Beorc Eh Thorn, local English honor society, will hold their annual picnic at Mr. Granger's home Thursday, May 19.

The program which will be given at the picnic will be made up of original writings by members of the organization

French Circle Holds Final Meeting Tues.

The French Circle held their last meeting of he year Tuesday, May 17, in the audio-visual room of the library.

The beginners French class presented a short dramatization in French of The Three Bears. Participants in the skit were Harriet Ratchford, Betty Ferguson, John Cook, and Jean Smith.

Reports from newspaper articles were given by Eula Ayres, Betty Barker, and Eloise Hodges, who represented the intermediate class.

Dallah Agostini and Jacqueline Eagle dramatized a scene from Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme by Moliere. A film about Quebec was shown also.

Before the adjournment of the meeting, Miss Yvette Ancey, program chairman, led the group in singing "Chant Des Aideux", the French adaption of "Auld Lang Syne."

Art Exhibit

Continued from page 1

omore art majors contributing to the exhibit.

Among the junior art majors who have paintings or articles on display are Jean Turner, Pat Paddison, Elizabeth Buck, Helen Arrington, Ruth Hathaway, Charlotte Newell, Ann Kelly, and Barbara Andrews. Senior art majors contributing to the exhibit are Patti Page, Alice Jordon, Muriel McBride, Mary Cooper Whiteside, Ann Orgain, Frances Deberry, and Eula Ayres.

Pedro's Pocket

Continued from Page 2

and steps up to rooms on a second story level. This would do away with house mothers on the first floor.

BSU Holds Picnic

The Baptist Student Union is planning a picnic to be held Saturday, May 21 at Bear Creek lake.

Students interested in attending the picnic may inquire at the Baptist Student Center for information.

A review of Fay Ingalls' novel, "The Valley Road", by President Dabney S. Lancaster appeared in the Richmond Times Dispatch on Sunday, May 15.

The so-called Elephant Mound in Wisconsin is actually believed to be an effigy of a bear.

GRADUATION NEEDS

White Ballerinas $2.98

Evening Dresses
Whites, Pastel Colors
$12.95 & $16.95

Silver and Gold Evening Sandals $3.98

White Waffle Pique Dresses
By Doris Dodson
$7.95 to $14.95

THE HUB DEPT. STORE
Farmville's Best Place to Shop

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

SEE THE SMART BEACH WEAR AT THE
DOROTHY MAY STORE
Shorts $1.98 up
Shirts $1.00 up
SWIM SUITS GALORE
Smart one, two and three piece suits

Resting Is More Restful When You Add Coca-Cola

Coca-Cola
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
"Coke"
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.

5¢

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY LYNCHBURG COCA COLA BOTTLING WORKS

© 1949 The Coca-Cola Company

TOPS WITH THE TOP STARS IN HOLLYWOOD AND WITH COLLEGES TOO—

MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELD THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE . . . by latest national survey

"When you smoke CHESTERFIELD you get a Milder, cooler smoke. That's why it's My Cigarette."
John Lund
STARRING IN
"BRIDE OF VENGEANCE"
A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

The TOP MEN of AMERICA'S SPORTS smoke CHESTERFIELD

"Chesterfields are tops with me because they have a clean, satisfying taste. And they're Milder, much Milder. It's My cigarette."
Ralph Branca
PITCHER FOR THE BROOKLYN DODGERS

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD
The Best Cigarette for YOU to Smoke

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Congratulations
New AKG Members

The Rotunda

Welcome
College Alumnae

VOLUME XXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., May 25, 1949 | No. 29

Ritchie To Deliver Farewell Address In Senior Assembly; Roady Will Respond to '49

Pickett Will Award Blazers, Color Cup For Sports Activity

Senior assembly will be held in the Methodist Church tomorrow at the regular assembly period. The Reverend J. W. Myers of the Methodist Church will lead the devotions.

Violet Ritchie, president of the 1949 senior class, will deliver a farewell speech and Norma Roady, president of the 1950 senior class, will give a response.

Jessie Lee Pickett, president of the Athletic Association, will present the annual Athletic Association awards. Both the blazers and the awarding of the color cup will be made at this time.

Norma Roady will anounce the name of the senior whom the juniors have elected to be their honorary classman. Traditionally the honorary classman returns in the fall to lead the figure for the senior dance with the president of that class.

The seniors will stand and sing their farewell songs to the College and the underclassmen. They will then march out to the music of "Green and White" and form an arch with their caps. The junior class, dressed in white, and lead by their class officers, will then march out under the arch to the music of the Alma Mater. The juniors will, at this first marching to the Alma Mater, take the first step toward becoming full fledged seniors.

This will be the last assembly program of the year.

VIOLET RITCHIE, president of the senior class.

Burger Appointed Activities Head

Miss Elizabeth Burger, assistant professor in science, was recently appointed chairman of the committee for scheduling student activities according to an announcement by President Dabney S. Lancaster.

Miss Burger will replace Miss Leola Wheeler, formerly head of this committee, who is retiring this year.

Miss Burger has asked any member of the faculty who has not as yet arranged for the scheduling of extra or special events for next year to see her as soon as possible.

The committee which recently met with the old and new heads of student government, and the members of the old calendar committee are now working on the calendar for the '49-'50 session.

Jane Lyon, sophomore Student Standard representative, has been appointed by the Students Standards committee to work with the scheduling committee in the scheduling of regular meetings of the various college organizations for next year.

Seniors Will Begin Final Celebrations

Commencement celebration will begin Saturday morning, June 4, when the seniors, joined by their little sisters will form the daisy chain in front lawn of Main building.

Senior Class day exercises will be held in the auditorium of the Student building at 4:00 Saturday. Following class day, the seniors will go to Longwood as guests of the alumnae for a dinner where they will be officially recognized as the new alumnae of Longwood College.

Seniors and little sisters will join in the traditional lantern parade Saturday night. Seniors have requested that their little sisters make preparations as soon as possible for the parade, since time will not be available to work on it during exam week.

Sunday evening June 5, the seniors will march from the student building in caps and gowns to the Methodist Church for the baccalaureate service. Dr. John A. Redhead, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Greensboro, will speak at this service.

Graduation exercises will be held in the dining hall 11:00 Monday, June 6. Dr. John Newton Thomas, professor of Systematic Theology, at the Union Theology Seminary in Richmond, will be the guest speaker.

Heuse Council Notice

Special rules effective beginning next Saturday night have been announced by Jackie Wright, president of House Council.

Dorms should be kept quiet at all times, according to Jackie, and one call down will be given to anyone violating this rule. One call down will place a girl on campus for a week, effective immediately.

Freshman students may go down town any hour until 6 p. m. during the week of exams.

Last Colonnade Issue To Be Released Soon

The third and last issue of the Colonnade for the present session will be distributed to the student body during the next several days, Anne Langbein, editor-in-chief, announced today.

The cover of this, the last State Teachers College issue, is done in the school colors, blue and white, with the school seal on the front.

The main feature of this issue is "Graduation Thoughts", an article by Jackie Jardine. In speaking of this feature Anne described it as one of the best ever published in the Colonnade and urged every student to read it.

In addition to the prize winning poems, announced in a previous issue of the Rotunda, and the third prize winner in the short story contest, other fiction to appear in this issue will include "Over the Limit", a short story by Ruth Radogna.

A view of Frank B. Gilbreth, Jr.'s novel, Cheaper by the Dozen, by Ned Orange, and a review by Sara Cregar of Sinclair Lewis's The God Seeker will appear in the book review section.

A condensation of Betty Tipton's Honor Course work on the Electra legend and its influence on literature has also been included.

The center pages of the magazine are devoted to sketches by Joan Prichett and verses by Bev-

Continued on page 3

Leadership Group Taps Five Juniors In Assembly Thurs.

AKG Chooses Girls For Able Service Rendered College

Five junior students were tapped by Alpha Kappa Gamma, honorary leadership fraternity, in assembly last Thursday, May 19.

Those who were tapped are June Banks from Sandston, Elizabeth Bragg, from Norfolk, Martha "B" Hylton from Danville, Helen Kaknis from Winchester, and Patsy Ritter from Winchester.

June Banks has been a member of Boerc Eh Thorn for two years and will serve as president of that organization next year. She is president of Alpha Sigma Tau sorority and vice-president of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary educational society. Other organizations in which June is an active member are the Dramatic Club, Cotillion Club, Spanish Club, Future Teachers of America, and Orchesis.

Elizabeth Bragg will serve as president of Student Government next year; she was treasurer of the same organization during her junior year. A member of Student Standards for three years, she is serving as treasurer this year. Elizabeth is also a member of the Cotillion Club and Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

"B" Hylton is vice president of Student Government and president of Alpha Sigma Alpha, sorority. As sportswoman, she is a member of the Athletic Association Council, H-2 O Club, and Monogram Club for which she served as secretary-treasurer last year. "B" is also a member of the Cotillion Club.

A member of the Spanish Club for three year Helen Kaknis will assume the office of presidency next year. She is vice-president of House Council and after serving two years as assistant business manager of the Virginian, Helen will act as business manager next year She is also a member of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary educational society; Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society; and the French Circle.

Patsy Ritter, a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha Sorority, also belongs to the Cotillion Club and the Future Teachers of America. As an active participant in sports,

Continued on page 4

NOTICE

The last issue of the Rotunda will be published June 6. If you are planning to leave school before then and wish your copy mailed to you, put a self addressed stamped envelope into the Rotunda box in the hall. Your copy will then be mailed to you.

Longwood College Alumnae To Reunite Founders Day Held Here Saturday, June 4

Seniors Will Have Formal Banquet Tomorrow Night

'Character' Gifts To Be Exchanged

The formal senior banquet to which the student body is being invited will be held tomorrow evening at 6 p. m. in the dining hall. The custom of holding the annual senior banquet with the entire student body was formerly a tradition here and is being renewed this year.

The program for the banquet will consist of the exchange of senior "character" gifts. Gifts and accompanying verses have been prepared by Phyliss Bagley, senior class giftorian.

Among those who have been invited to attend the banquet are the four class advisors; Mr. Raymond French, senior classman; Miss Elizabeth Burger, junior classman; sophomore classman, Dr. Robert T. Brumfield and Mrs. Brumfield; and freshman classman, Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel and Mrs. Schlegel.

Others who have been issued invitations to the banquet are President and Mrs. Dabney S. Lancaster, Dean and Mrs. William W. Savage, Dean Ruth Gleaves, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Wakefield, Mrs. Katherine W. Tabb, Mrs. Louise Y. Dugger, and Miss Margaret Sprunt Hall.

The menu for the dinner includes baked ham, creamed asparagus, new potatoes, rolls, strawberry ice cream, cake, and iced tea.

Since the seniors will be seated at the front of the dining hall, under-classmen will not take their regular seats.

Changes Announced In Longwood Faculty For Summer Session

Three changes in the Longwood summer session faculty as it is listed in the summer catalog have been recently announced by President Dabney S. Lancaster.

Miss Mary Agnes Milliner, a 1947 graduate of this college, will be instructor in biology. Miss Milliner was employed this year as laboratory instructor in the department of zoology of the University of North Carolina, and last year was Instructor of science at Black-

Continued on Page 4

College President Announces Names Of Retired Faculty

3 Introduced At Assembly

Retirement of three members of the College faculty was announced by President Dabney S. Lancaster in assembly last week. Retiring professors are Miss Mary B. Barlow, Miss Mary E. Peck, and Miss Leola Wheeler.

Miss Barlow came here in 1919 after a wide teaching experience in several high schools and colleges. She received her B. S. and A. M. degrees in physical education from the Teachers College of Columbia University, and she has done graduate work at New York University, Springfield College, Wisconsin University, and Junkers School of Gymnastics in Denmark. Since she has been here Miss Barlow has taught many types of sports and has served as head of our physical and health education department.

Miss Peck, an alumnae of this institution, has been here since 1911. As a member of the faculty, she spent much of her time supervising the teaching of history in the Farmville High School. More recently she has devoted her attention to the teaching of history courses here in the College. Miss Peck has studied at Columbia University, at the University of Chicago, at Duke University ,and at the University of Virginia where she took her M. S. degree.

Professor of Speech and faculty adviser for the Dramatic Club, Miss Wheeler has been a member of the college faculty since 1911. After studying drama at Emerson College in Boston, she received her M. A. degree from the Teachers College of Columbia University. Besides teaching speech, much of Miss Wheeler's time has been spent in organizing and building up the Longwood Dramatic Club.

In his announcement of their retirement, President Lancaster spoke of the devotion of these faculty members to their work and to the college, citing the debt of gratitude the college owes them.

Catalogs To Appear Before Graduation

The college catalog for the '49-50 winter session is expected to be released before the end of this session, the catalog committee recently announced. These catalogs will be made available to all members of the student body.

The college calendar, as it will appear in the catalog, is printed below.

1949
First Semester

Sept. 19—Monday, Dormitories and dining room open for new students.

Sept. 20—Tuesday, Orientation. (Registration of freshmen).

Sept. 21—Wednesday, Upperclassmen return to college.)

Sept. 22—Thursday, Registration of upper classmen.

Sept. 23—Friday, Classes begin.

Nov. 23—Wednesday, 11:00 a. m., Thanksgiving holiday begins.

Nov. 28—Monday, 8:05 a. m., Classes are resumed.

Dec. 20—Tuesday, after classes Christmas holiday begins

1950

Jan. 4—Wednesday, 8:05 a. m.

Continued on page 4

National Officers Will Be Selected

'1', '9' Classes To Be Recognized

MRS. MARIA BRISTOW STARK, retiring alumnae president.

The Founders Day celebration will begin Saturday morning, June 4, with a breakfast for the returning alumnae in the Student Lounge. The Farmville Chapter of Alumnae will serve as hostesses.

Following the breakfast, the alumnae will hold a business meeting in the small auditorium, at which time election of national officers will take place. Candidates for the office of national president are Miss Helen Costan, '27 and '39, of Lynchburg, and Mrs. Carrie Rennie Eason, '11, of Richmond. A national president is elected every two years. Candidates are nominated by a nominating committee elected the previous year. The new president will replace Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke, of Richmond, who is retiring after two years in office.

Miss Frances Horton, '34, of Roanoke, and Miss Conway Howard, '17 and '38, of Roanoke, have been nominated for the office of alumnae director.

The alumnae will be guests in the college dining hall for luncheon at 1:00. At 4:00, they will attend the senior class day exercises in the small auditorium.

A picnic supper will be held at the Estate Saturday evening. Members of the senior class will be guests of the alumnae at this supper, and will be honored as the newest group of alumnae from Longwood College.

The alumnae will be guests at a reception to be held at the home of President and Mrs. Dabney Lancaster following supper.

Alumnae from the '4' and '9' classes have been especially invited to attend Founders Day this year for their reunion. A great many of the alumnae from these classes have made plans for returning on that day, Mrs. Ruth H. Coyner, executive secretary has announced.

The Jarman silver cup will be awarded to the reunion class having the largest percentage of attendance of the Founders Day festivities. President Dabney S. Lancaster will present the cup.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

May 30, 31, June 1, 2, and 3

Day and Hour of Examination		Class Hour
Monday	8:05	Classes meeting 10:15 MWF
	1:45	Classes meeting 11:15 MWF
Tuesday	8:05	Classes meeting 8:05 TTS
	1:45	Classes meeting 9:05 TTS
Wednesday	8:05	Classes meeting 10:15 TTS
	1:45	Classes meeting 1:45 MWF
Thursday	8:05	Classes meeting 8:05 MWF
	1:45	Classes meeting 1:45 TTS or 2:45 MWF
Friday	8:05	Classes meeting 9:05 MWF

Classes having laboratory take examination by lecture schedule.

Classes meeting 5 times a week take examination with the series meeting 3 times a week: Illustration, Class meets M T W T F at 8:05—Examination comes at 8:05 M W F.

For A Day Of Grace.....

On May 28 the students of Longwood College will attend the last of their classes for the 1948-49 winter session. On May 30 examinations for this semester will begin. The one day of grace which occurs between the two happens to be a Sunday. At the end of the first semester, students were required to go from classes one day to examinations the next.

"Cramming" for examinations is not advisable, but regardless of this fact, it does occur in the majority of cases. Furthermore, many instructors choose to give tests during the last few class meetings of the semester. Others require term papers, reports, or the completion of parallel reading. Thus, the student is faced with classes, examination reviews, tests, and many other time-consuming projects such as commencement rehearsals. When the examinations are finally faced, the average student is mentally and physically "beat," to use a common phrase.

The Rotunda believes that the installation of a period of several days free from classes immediately preceding examinations would be a boon to students and faculty alike. Students would thus be given a chance to review for examinations, complete term papers, prepare reports, or complete parallel reading without the usual interruption of classes. Professors would have time to average grades for their students, prepare examinations, or meet with students who need extra assistance.

The majority of students could and would use such a period to its best advantage. They would face examinations fortified by better preparation and in a better physical condition. Very few would take advantage of such a situation.

Among the disadvantages of this system would be the necessity of adding, for each class-free day, an extra day to the college year. The Rotunda believes that the majority of students would prefer a few days extra added to the year if it would permit them to face examinations in a more favorable condition, mentally and physically, than the system now in existence permits.

The Rotunda would like to recommend the consideration of such a move to the administration and faculty. There are few in the faculty who do not realize that the student who attends his class while worrying about an uncompleted term paper or test for another class gains little or nothing from the class. A few class-free days would benefit not only the examinations following them but also the class meetings preceding them.

Not To Be Lightly Considered .....

When a large part of the women's student body signed up this week to act as "Big Sisters" to freshmen next term, did they realize the moral obligation to which they were committing themselves? Have they yet stopped to reflect on the role they will play as "Big Sisters" next year? How will the performance of the duties which they have accepted be instrumental in starting the freshman off on a happy college career? How will the failure to perform these duties retard the social adjustment of the freshman?

The chances are that many of the names which appear on the Y. W. C. A. roster of "Big Sisters" are merely symbols of good intentions which won't be backed up with the necessary action. Past experience has shown this to be the case too often. Typically one of the first demands of the neophyte upon entering the rotunda is for contact with her "Big Sister." The newcomer thus indicates her dependence upon her "Big Sister" for initiation into the mysteries, ways, and wonders of Longwood College. When the "Big Sister" fails to make quick contact with the one she has agreed to take under her wing, she forces the freshman to brave the new faces and places alone—no easy feat even for more worldly women than college freshmen.

One of the first duties of the "Big Sister" to her "Little Sister" is to correspond with her in the summer. These letters mean much to the prospective Longwood freshman in that they give her a sort of "inside track" on college life before it actually begins. This means that she'll feel a little less "green" when she arrives here in the fall.

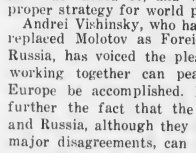
In September, the "Big Sister" should lose no time making herself acquainted with her protege, introducing her to other upperclassmen, and squiring her to the various parties and "get-togethers" planned during the first days of the session. From there on through the college year the "Big Sister" takes it upon herself to do everything in her power to aid the freshman in the achievement of a sense of security while she makes the difficult adjustment to the "bigger pond." This is an important responsibility of service that should not be considered lightly by upperclassmen.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 25, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office Student Building Phone 533, Box 108
Printers: The Farmville Herald



Entered as second class matter March 1, 1929 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1884

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York N. Y.

STAFF

Jacqueline Eagle ... Editor-in-Chief
Mary Leigh Meredith ... Managing Editor
Janice Slavin ... Business Manager

WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1949

OUR WORLD

By Nellie Hart

The Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference convened yesterday dedicated to the process of harmonizing their nations' views on what should be, and what must, the proper strategy for world peace.

Andrei Vishinsky, who has only recently replaced Molotov as Foreign Minister of Russia, has voiced the plea that only by working together can peace in western Europe be accomplished. He emphasized further the fact that the United States and Russia, although they have had many major disagreements, can do this if they try hard enough and not enter the Conference with prejudiced views and opinions. Surely if Vishinsky is a man of his word, this Parisian conference should be a turning point for the nations of the world and for democracy.

Running parallel to the plea for peace, is the desire for the unification of Germany. The Russians have had elected a People's Congress in their territorial zone in Germany, which will vote as Russia wants them to vote. The West also desires German unity, but only on democratic principles and not at any price. Ernest Bevin, Foreign Minister of England, has criticized Russia accusing her of talking peace while engrossed in the policy of promoting discontent and disillusionment among the people.

We, the future rulers of the universe, must constantly realize the significance of individuality. Why not let the German people themselves decide what they would like to do? They have endured their punishment without complaint and now need a chance for survival. If delayed punishment of Germany continues, the results will be similar to the after effects of the Reconstruction period after the War Between the States. Even today, after almost ninety years, old antagonisms are ever present in our minds. We have never forgotten. Will the Germans ever forget?

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor,

Every spring, especially the week after May Day, many students have to pay a high price for their visits to the College Estate by suffering with poison ivy. This year there were more cases of poison ivy than usual because of the rain on May Day. Although some of these cases have been mild, many have caused severe suffering.

Can't something be done about this poison ivy at the Estate? I understand that a little of it was dug up, but this appears to have been an ineffective method of getting rid of the plant. A spray can be obtained that is easy to use, effective and comparatively inexpensive. The use of such a spray—or some other effective method—would alleviate much suffering and would allow students who are sensitive to poison ivy to enjoy hiking around the Estate.

Having spent two weeks in the infirmary last year suffering from poison ivy, I well know the misery that can accompany this.

On behalf of all the students who have suffered (or are suffering) let's make the College Estate safe!

A VICTIM

Open Letter To The Student Body

I should like to express publicly my thanks for the silver service which the Longwood Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs gave me, commemerating our work together since 1911.

In these years the Dramatic Club has grown from a group of ten or fifteen girls, who produced an "all girl" play each year, to a co-operative Longwood-Hampden-Sydney organization that produces two full length plays each year, in addition to many separate activities.

This growth would not have been possible without struggle. One perennial problem has been the borrowing of properties. Many plays call for a handsome silver service. Now that I have one, that problem will no longer vex the property man.

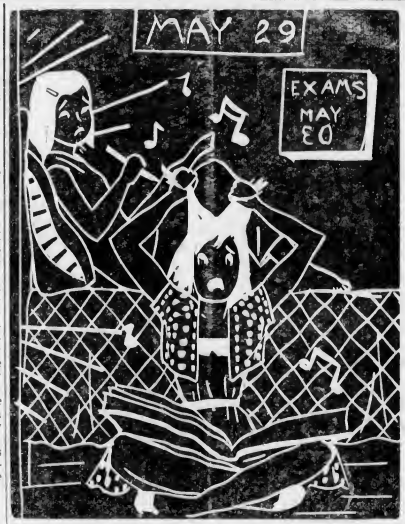
I know that I express the wishes of the Dramatic Club and the Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs when I say that I hope all organizations in college will feel free to borrow the silver service which I shall make available while I'm gone. When I come back, we will share it.

I hope that you will all support the Dramatic club next year, in whatever activity they are able to carry on without an auditorium. This organization has given much to the College in service as well as thousands of dollars in money and equipment.

Sincerely your friend,
LEOLA WHEELER

Pedro's Pocket

By Jean Turner



Everybody was rushing like mad Thursday and Friday trying to get signed up for the right classes. So many people were trying to get into the Monday, Wednesday and Friday classes that you'd think there was something lacking in the quality of the classes taught on the other three days. Now girls, if you don't have Saturday classes aren't you afraid you'll be tempted to leave this institution on Friday? Heavens, think how much better off you'll be by studying!

A nice cheerful thought just occurred to me—in less than a week we'll all be beating our brains out over exams. Nice of me to remind you, wasn't it? How do you like the proposed new exam plan? It is now illegal for us to omit over four out of five of our exams, and in each exam we do take we've been asked not to omit more than ten answers. Why, they're apt to really clamp down on us if we don't put them in their places around here.

There are two predominant reasons for the noticeable decrease of sunbathers on the roof of junior and senior building. It seems that the new science building has shot up at a tremendous rate of speed since the beginning of April. However, most girls who have been here three or four years have been well initiated to construction work and wet paint signs accompanying their tans.

The other reason for the absence of these worshippers of ole' Sol, unimportant in itself is therefore,

Continued on page 3

Sunday Night Forecast

Campus Cogitations

What Do You Think of "Pedro's Pocket"?

Ethel Southall: "I'll never tell!"

Irma Allison: If she won't, I will! It was really cute. A rather clever way to express your opinions of L. C. conditions, I would say!

Audrey Pettit: It was different, anyway!

Betsy Wilson: It was fine but only because Turner is a good friend of mine.

Ruth Tillett: Not having read it, I wouldn't know.

Peaches McAllister: Pedro ought to have something besides complaints in his pocket.

Sylvia Hollingsworth: I enjoyed it but I still would like to see that Personal column.

Frances Everett: Pedro's really "tops". He's got that humorous touch.

Cordelia Foster: I like Pedro's Pocket. He's got what it takes to make you laugh.

Betty Baker: Pedro is cute. We need some laughs around here these days.

"Peg" Perry: You know me—I love humor. Mighty fine.

Norma Saunders: I think this column adds a great deal to our pages. That's what we need—humor!

Gene Garst: Pedro's Pocket is full of stuff to make us laugh. We need it. It sounds like something the author would write.

Inez Hughes: It sounds terrific!

Barbara Hilstead: Me, too!

Jean Craig: Quite the stuff!

Katie Cobb: It was pretty good since Miss Turner was the author.

Marilyn Wheeler: It is a very significant article which has dynamic appeal to my perverted humor.

Lois Stephens: I think it's far superior to the chatter box.

Trudy English: Clever indeed! Pedro has some good suggestions.

Tootsie Hamilton: O. K. with me.

Jackie Watson: I liked it very much.

Jose' Sterling: Anything "Turner" does is fine!

Mary Watson: I like nothing better than a little corn.

Lee Stickley: Anything "A La Turner" is bound to be terrific.

Sallie Land: Terrific.

College Girls Become Eager Job Seekers as May Comes

By Betsy Wilson

Glancing at my calendar the other day, I was very much surprised to find that the end of May and the end of school were drawing nigh. Having been buried in term papers, tests and other gruesome products of my professor's imaginations, I hadn't realized that precious moments were slipping through my fingers. It was time for all good women to start summer job hunting.

I hurried down to the bulletin board outside Dr. Lancaster's office and read the notices. Most of the jobs were open to teachers, but there was one in particular for waitresses in a resort. The requirements for this job were as follows: "Waitresses must be between 5,2" and 5'7", weigh not more than 125 lbs., be able to wear a size 12 uniform and be at least 20 years old." I assumed that the other qualifications read somewhat like a call for Conover models. "Waitresses must be blue-eyed blondes, have medium length fingernails and a Roman nose." The former requirements eliminated me immediately, and I fit none of the latter except the one about the Roman nose. My nose was Roman, but I didn't spell it quite that way. "Well," I thought, "perhaps there are some 'help wanted' notices in the paper."

Back in my room once more, I salvaged one sheet of the news from the scavengers who needed it to line drawers, work cross-word puzzles, and clip out articles of general interest for the bulletin board. Settling back on the bed, I ran my eyes down the columns. "Wanted: Companion for elderly lady with poor eyesight living alone. Must be able to read aloud. Write Box 133, etc." I wondered if the companion was to have poor eyesight. If so, this was the job for me. Then I noticed the "reading aloud" requirement. The only time I had read aloud had been in Miss Foster's English class. "An Ode to a Grecian Urn" didn't sound at all like Keats when quoted by me.

The next ad that caught my eye was: "Wanted: Farm hand to work by day, month, or part time. Must care for stock." It sounded like the perfect job. I had once visited on a farm for 2 weeks. I know how to feed chickens and milk cows. The "care of stock" was a puzzle though. I had no idea what "stock" was unless it had something to do with Wall Street and bears and bulls. Did they raise bears on farms?

Try, try, again—What was next? "Front work for Dry Cleaning Plant. Excellent opportunity for advancement". This was really a lulu. They must want either Humphrey Bogart or Veronica Lake to do a cover-up job for a gambling syndicate. I had never worked as a "front" for anyone, but if necessary I suppose I could have.

Maybe there was an even better job. "Young ladies. Several

Continued on page 4

SPORTIN' AROUND

By ANN LYNCH

All year we've talked about intramural sports and now they have come to an end for '48-'49.

The softball game ended with a tie of 7-7 for the Green and whites and the Red and Whites. Congratulations go to Nancye Gillie, Sue Brewbaker, Helen Agnew and Louise Taylor for carrying the Green and Whites through in the tennis doubies.

We hope this year of seasonal sports will help those who have taken part to enjoy their summers to the utmost. Maybe you can beat that best beau in a game of tennis now, or spend a hot day on the golf course with a friend. (Need we mention the joy of a dip in the lake on a blistering day!)

It looks like the sun bathers have dwindled since the days have gotten a little "too hot for comfort." Oh well, I guess they're just waiting 'til their feet feel the sand of the beach and then they'll get a good dose no doubt!

Only two more weeks to sport around at L. C.—'til next time then . . .

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from MARTIN THE JEWELER

"Flowers are cheery When days are dreary." BURG Florist

BOWEN Inc. Farmville Jewelers

We have the latest RECORDS WILSON HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY

Buy your school SUPPLIES from J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

Buy Gifts FOR HIM from VERSER'S

MEET and EAT AT THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

WSVS Voice of Service 650 on your dial

"Recess In the Rec" TUESDAY- 3:00-3:30 WSVS—650 On Your Dial

Buy Lovely Gifts Here For Your Favorite Person GRAYS DRUG STORE

Evening Division Will End Friday

The first session of the Longwood College evening division will end with this Friday's classes. According to Dean William W. Savage the evening division will be resumed in the fall.

Several of the 104 students enrolled in the evening division this semester have received college credits for courses completed. High school credits were also offered for evening courses. Classes in typewriting, elementary accounting, English grammar and composition, shorthand, business law, interior decoration, and public speaking were offered this semester.

A survey is currently being taken among interested people in this area to determine what courses shall be offered in the fall session of the evening division, Dean Savage said.

Old Rotunda Issues May Be Obtained

Do you lack any issues of the Rotunda for your scrapbook? If so, you may obtain them by seeing Janice Slavin, Jacky Eagle or any other member of the newspaper staff Wednesday, Thursday or Friday evening after dinner in the Rotunda office.

Back issues may be obtained in quantities of less than ten for five cents each, and in quantities of ten or more for three cents each.

Girls who lost their issues of the Rotunda in the fire, may obtain copies free of charge.

Class Teams Show Spirit In 7-7 Draw

Suspense Fills Battle of Colors

The Green 'n White and Red 'n White softball teams met Thursday afternoon in a "battle of the colors." Suspense and excitement held the crowd throughout the entire game, as they fought to a 7-7 tie.

In the first inning, Green started off with a lead of 3 to 1, only to drop back in the second with no runs while Red rallied with 3 runs. The third inning brought a home run for the Greens. This made in the same inning put them added to another run which was in the lead 5 to 4.

The fourth inning was uneventful, neither side scoring, but in the fifth, Red scored 3 runs to the 2 brought in by the Greens, tying up the game 7-7.

Playing in the recent game were:

Green & White—Betsy Carper, Nancy Gillie, Betty Romeo, Lee Robertson, Andy Adams, Mary Young, Romine Mahood, Panzie Parham, Ann Lynch.

Red & White—Peggy Wilson, Christine Davis, Jean Ridenour, Marian Beckner, Mary Jo Jennings, Lucy Thrift, "Clem" Allen, Sue Walker, Ida Buppert, Edith Kenonn, Mary Frances Spurlock, Peggy Harris, Irma Poarch, Ray Phillips, Katherine Buck, "Liz" Leslie.

Visit us for good food and good music THE SNACK BAR "The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

Reach For Justrite Bread Sold By C. F. MORING 209 South Main St.

"Flowers make ways For happy days." COLLINS Phone 181 Night 4

KLEANWELL CLEANERS For Excellent Results Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

WFLO The Talk of The Town 870 On Your Dial

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to ENNIS RADIO SHOP

Blazers Will Be Given In Assembly Thursday

Annual Senior Sing To Be Held Saturday

The traditional senior sing will be held in the small auditorium Saturday night.

At this time the seniors will bestow upon the undergraduates their most cherished possessions acquired while at Longwood College.

This will be the last of the festivities of the seniors before commencement begins. No parties or other entertainments have been scheduled during the week of examinations.

Granddaughters Elect Westbrook President

Virignia Westbrook, sophomore from Richmond, was elected president of the Granddaughters Club for the '49-'50 session at a recent meeting.

Other officers elected at the same meeting were Claudia Anderson, vice-president; Georgia Bailey, secretary; Nancy Walker, treasurer; and Page Burnette, reporter. Martha Alice Wilson will serve as town girl representative next year and Jean Wilson and Jo Orr are co-chairmen of the social committee.

Pedro's Pocket

Continued from Page 2

the real cause. Several, and I use the term loosely, of the teachers around here have asked for, and really expect, the girls to write term papers. I don't know about the rest of you, but as for myself, I would certainly hate to dissapoint any of them at this stage in the game.

Well, it's about time you left all those tearful goodbye parties for the seniors and start looking for your books so you can at least impress people by seeming to study for those nasty things called exams. (Speaking of tears, that's a sob story in itself.)

A. A. Recognizes Senior Athletes

Jesse Lee Pickett, Lee Robertson, Betty Romeo, Joanne Sterling and Mary Young will be awarded blazers for outstanding participation in school sports from the class of '49. The awards will be made in tomorrow's assembly.

Pickett will receive the only white blazer awarded. This is the highest award given in the athletic field, and is given to those girls holding a high number of points for participation in a variety of sports.

Blue blazers will be awarded to Robertson, Romeo, Sterling and Young for outstanding participation in several sports.

As previously announced, next year the blue blazers will be awarded at the beginning of the school year to those seniors who have a minimum of 20 points. The white blazers will go to those who have a minimum of 30 points.

The award of the color cup to the classes having acquired the majority of points toward the cup by the Athletic Association will highlight the assembly.

During this session Red and White has been in possession of the cup, and during the '47-48 session Green and White Ribbons held the honored position on the cup. At present the score toward the color cup stands Green and White 50, Red and White 35.

Colonnade

Continued from page 1

erly Smethie based on memories of the last two weeks of college life.

This is the first issue of the Colonnade to be put out by the new staff.

The Longwood College Library will be open unofficially between the winter and summer terms for the use of the faculty and town people. The hours will be from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. except for the noon hour, the librarian said.

It Is Time To Play

See our Sport Goods Department, Second Floor, For

SHORTS, T-SHIRTS, BATHING SUITS Etc.

You will be pleased with styles and quality this year.

DAVIDSON'S

"The House of Quality"

Farmville's Largest and Best Department Store

From the Land of the ICE CREAM Star!

Strawberries 'n Cream

PET ICE CREAM "a health food"

Rich with the wonderful flavor of ripe, sugar-sweet strawberries and daily-fresh sweet cream!

"Made only of daily fresh whole milk and daily fresh sweet cream, Pet is the creamiest, most delicious – the best Ice Cream I've ever tasted!" That's what everyone says after they compare Pet Ice Cream with any other...and so will you! Take home a pint or two, today!

Taste the Fresh Cream in Pet Ice Cream

WHO'S —IN THE— Senior Spotlight?

This "guess who" to tax your brain is a senior who has been outstanding in scholarship and education during her years at Longwood. She has been active in class work and has proved her dependability in every one of her undertakings.

For the past year, she has been president of Kappa Delta Pi. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Pi Gamma Mu, Association of Childhood Education, Future Teachers of America, the Longwood choir and the Philosophy club.

Her plans for the summer are big enough. She will be married, no less! This fall she will teach at home in South Hill and put her degree in elementary education to practical use.

Surely now, you know by now who this senior is who finds music one of her chief interests.

Longwood will not be the same next year without a certain small, reserved senior who has graced the halls of the college for the past four years. She will always be remembered for her part in the senior stunt of Circus when she sang "Just My Bill".

One clue that will reveal her identity is the fact that she has been dining room hostess for the past year. She has been a member of Kappa Delta Pi and the treasurer of Pi Gamma Mu. Also, she was president of Kappa Delta sorority and a member of the Cotillion club.

An elementary major, this senior plans to teach in Suffolk. Wonder how long she will remain in the capacity of a teacher?

This little lady's interests lie in the realms of singing and sewing. Circus and other programs are just proof of her ability in singing. The pretty dresses that she blooms out in are proof enough of her sewing genius.

There is a certain red haired senior at Longwood who was seen several weeks ago, running madly about, getting ballot blanks together in the daytime and then at night, counting votes until the wee small hours of the morning. Why? Because she acted as head of the nominations and elections of major and minor offices. What a task to have and how well she did it!

She has been very active in church activities. She was chairman of the church cooperatives of the "Y" and the president of the Baptist Student Union. Also, she was secretary of the Future Teachers of America.

A history major, she plans to teach at Berryville high school next fall. It's a sure bet that her pupils will like her as much as her fellow students at Longwood have.

Last week's Spotlight cast its glow on Betty Spindler and Jesse Pickett.

Catalogs

Continued from page 1

Classes begin.

Jan. 23—Monday. Examinations begin.

Jan. 27 Friday, Examinations end.

Second Semester

Jan. 28—Saturday. Registration of new students.

Jan. 30—Monday. 8:05 a. m.. Classes begin.

Mar. 11—Saturday. Founders Day.

Apr 6—Thursday, 11:00 a. m.. Easter holiday begins.

Apr 11 Tuesday, 8:05 a. m.. Classes are resumed.

May 29 Monday. Examinations begin.

June 2—Friday. Examinations end.

June 3 Saturday. Class Day Exercises.

June 4 Sunday. Baccalaureate sermon.

June 5—Monday. Graduation exercises. Semester ends.

LC Choir Featured On WFLO Program

The Longwood Choir will be featured on the WFLO program at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon. The program on Thursday will be the concluding one for the year.

The choir, under the direction of Mr. Ralph Wakefield, will sing a number of selections. Songs that they will sing are "Ave Verum" by Des Pres, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach, "We'll to the Woods and Gather May" by Grifes, and "Chorie Song" by Taylor.

Also featured in the program will be "Let My Song Fill Your Heart" by Charles and "There Are Such Things" in an arrangement by Fred Waring.

Y Lines

By Dolores Duncan

The "Y" set-up conference was held last Thursday night in the cabinet room. The advisers, old and new cabinets, and the ministers of Farmville met to make plans for next year.

The "Y" cabinet elected Lelia Mae Ferratt, Jackie Wright, Virginia Spencer and Dolores Duncan to represent the Y. W. C. A. of Longwood College at the annual Blue Ridge conference. Delegates from the Y. M. C. A.'s, Y. W. C. A.'s and other christian organizations from ten states will be present at this conference, which is to be held June 10 through June 15.

The "Y" cabinet is making plans to write the incoming freshmen and choose little sisters for the big sisters during the summer.

Dean Gleaves Lists Sorority Averages

Sorority averages for the fall semester, which determine the sororities' scholarship standing, were announced recently by Miss Ruth Gleaves, Pan Hellenic sponsor.

Theta Sigma Upsilon places first with an average of 1.77, Alpha Sigma Alpha, second with 1.69, and Zeta Tau Alpha, third with an average of 1.61. The other sororities follow in given order: Pi Kappa Sigma, 1.60, Alpha Sigma Tau, 1.59, Delta Sigma Epsilon, 1.59, Kappa Delta, 1.51, and Sigma Sigma Sigma, 1.46.

Theta Sigma Upsilon at present holds the scholarship plaque presented annually by the local Pan-Hellenic Council. This is the second year the "Theta Sigs" have held the plaque which will be awarded permanently to the sorority winning it three years in succession.

Library Notice

Dr. Beverly Ruffin, college librarian, has again issued a reminder to students that May 26 has been set as the deadline for returning books and paying library fines. She stated that diplomas will not be given until students meet their financial obligations to the library.

Library books may be used by students after the deadline this term or during the summer if they present a justifiable reason to the librarian.

Job Seekers

Continued From Page 2

young ladies for interesting work in photo-finishing laboratory". Could this be a job in a dark room? Having never been able to get a good picture with my brownie camera, I was disqualified.

Down the row of ads I went soon arriving at the end. Nothing at all for me. Goodness, what a dilemma! "Well," I sighed, there's always tomorrow's paper. If nothing comes up I may be forced to work as Secretary-Nurse for my father again".

Last summer he fired me after only a week. I entertained too much and never kept my shoes on. Father thought the patients might be repulsed at a barefoot nurse.

If I can't get a job with even this last possibility, then I won't object too strongly to a long, quiet summer vacation of sleeping late. Lounging around the beach sans anything but a bathing suit appealed to me more than anything else I could think of.

So girls, hurry and find your summer job. Whether it is be as secretary, camp counselor, play ground instructor, or Virginia Beach decoration, you had better get on the ball before it rolls away.

Faculty Changes

Continued from page 1

stone College.

Replacing Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel this summer in the department of history will be Mr. M. H. Bittinger, professor of history and economics, at Hampden-Sydney College.

During the second half of the summer session Miss Harriet M. Baker will assume Mrs. Emily K. Landrum's place in the department of physical education. Miss Baker has been supervising student of elementary physical education in the Portsmouth elementary schools for ten years and was formerly a member of the faculty of Florida State College for Women.

One hundred-seventy student applications for the Longwood summer session have been received so far. This figure, President Lancaster says, compares substantially with the summer session enrollment of the same date last year. Total summer enrollment last year was three hundred-seventy.

AKG Taps

Continued from page 1

she is president of the Monogram Club, president of the H 20 Club, basketball manager for the Athletic Association Council, and a member of Orchesis.

you can live all summer in the open

Style 1163

For bare toes and slender feet — here's the cutest wear for play, rambling, picnic or beach. Designed in green leather, with smart, tricky straps, and priced for YOUR budget.

Only $2.98

Leggett's DEBY STORE

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

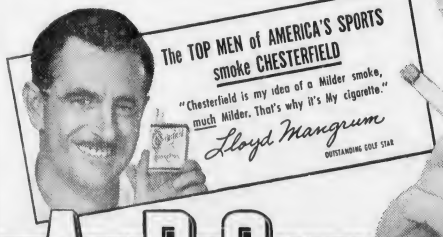
Smart Straw Bags

You'll adore these bags—to be worn with everything this summer.

Just 2.98 & tax

DOROTHY MAY STORE

TOPS WITH THE TOP STARS IN HOLLYWOOD AND WITH COLLEGES TOO—



MORE COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE CHESTERFIELD THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE... by latest national survey

"If you want a Milder Cigarette it's CHESTERFIELD That's why it's My Cigarette"

Anne Baxter

STARRING IN "YOU'RE MY EVERYTHING" A 20TH CENTURY-FOX TECHNICOLOR PRODUCTION

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

The Best Cigarette for YOU to Smoke

Copyright 1949, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Happy
Summer Vacation

The Rotunda

Congratulations,
Longwood Graduates

VOLUME XXVIII | Longwood College, Farmville, Va., Monday, June 6, 1949 | No. 30

President Lancaster Confers 131 Degrees To Class of '49 At Commencement Exercises

President Annoounces Changes In LC Faculty

College Engages 4 New Professors

President Dabney S. Lancaster announced the changes in the faculty and administrative staff for 1949-50 today at the commencement exercises.

Four new members have been added to the teaching staff for next year. Dr. John W. Molnar will head the Music Department next year, Miss Fern E. Staggs will assume the position of professor of home economics, Mr. Thomas A. Malloy, Jr. will enter the department of social studies, and Miss Betty Spindler will be assistant instructor in audio-visual education.

Miss Olive T. Iler will replace Miss Mary B. Barlow as head of the department of physical and health education.

Mrs. Emily K. Landrum has been promoted from assistant to associate professor of physical education.

Dr. Ethel Sutherland has also been promoted from assistant to associate professor in the department of mathematics.

Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel has been promoted from assistant to associate professor in the department of history and social sciences.

Dr. Molnar, who will begin his work at Longwood College next term is a graduate of the University of Cinninati and the Cincinnati Conservatory. He received his Bachelors and Masters degree from that institution in music and science. He received his doctorate in education. At present he is the director of the University of Cincinnati glee club head of the department of music in the Hughes High School in Cincinnati, and in charge of teacher training program in the music department at the University of Cincinnati. Previously, Dr. Molnar was on the faculty of the Conservatory of Music where he taught string instrument classes, instrumental methods and conducted the summer symphony orchestra. He has also had extensive experience in church choir work.

Mss Staggs is a native of Missouri and a graduate of Baker University at Baldwin, Kansas. She received her master's in home

Continued on page 4

Juniors Select Page Honorary Classman

Norma Roady, president of the rising Senior class, announced that Patti Page, senior from Hilton Village, was chosen as honorary senior classman for the class of 1950. The announcement was made in Senior Chapel.

Patti is a member of the H20 Club, the Spanish Club, the Canterbury Club and the Cotillion Club. She was Circus Stunt chairman for her class in 1947, and Fire Chief her junior year. An art major, Patti was nevertheless active in class sports. She also served as a cheerleader for the class of '49.

Traditionally, the honorary senior classman returns in the fall to lead the figure for the senior dance.

Patti was selected as honorary senior classman for the class of '50 by that class by secret ballot.

Seniors Present Plaque To College As Parting Gift

Spindler Gives History At Class Day Program

The class of '49 presented the College with a bronze plaque to be placed on the outside of the rotunda, at Class Day exercises held Saturday afternoon in the small auditorium.

Following a short welcome given by Violet Ritchie, president of the out-going senior class, the seniors sang their class song. Betty Spindler, class historian, read the history of the class of '49.

Violet then presented the symbol of office to Norma Roady, president of the incoming senior class.

As part of the program, Mr. Ralph J. Wakefield sang "Keep on Hopin". The singing of this song at Class Day exercises is a tradition inaugurated by the late president of Longwood College, Dr. J. L. Jarman.

Phyliss Bagley, class giftorian, presented the class gifts, and the gift to the College was presented at this time also.

Following the gift presentation, Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke, president of the Alumnae Association inducted the seniors into the organization.

Immediately after Class Day, the seniors and their little sisters formed the traditional daisy chain on the College lawn.

Saturday night, the seniors formed the lantern parade with their little sisters.

Dr. Schlegel to Write Norfolk War History

Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel, assistant professor of history, has been appointed by the Norfolk War History Commission to write the history of Norfolk during World War II. He expects to complete this task during the summers of 1949 and 1950. Headquarters for the work will be established in the University of Virginia Library at Charlottesville.

Doctor Schlegel has already had a great deal of experience in writing the history of World War II. As assistant state historian for the Pennsylvania Historical Commission from 1942 to 1947, he was in charge of collecting records of Pennsylvania's participation in the war and shared in the authorship of three war history bulletins issued by the commission. He also prepared a pamphlet, Writing Your Community's War History, published by the American Association for State and Local History as a guide to local war historians.

Since coming to Virginia, he has been associated with Virginia's war history program during the summer months. He was one of the contributors to Pursuits of War, the history of Charlottesville and Albemarle County during World War II, and has written a forthcoming book, Virginia On Guard, which deals with civilian defense and the State Guard.

Alumnae Elect Miss Helen Costan President Of Ass'n At Sat. Meeting

President Lancaster Awards Silver Cup To Class of 1899

Miss Helen Costan of Lynchburg, was elected national president of the Longwood Alumnae Association at the Founders Day business meeting.

Miss Costan is a member of the class of '39. She has been a prominent worker in the public schools of Lynchburg. During the past year, Miss Costan served as president of the Lynchburg Alumnae chapter, and as first vice-president of the national Alumnae Association, thus giving valuable service as a member of the executive board. She served on the committe that established the Snack Bar in the Longwood recreation hall, and has rendered valuable service to the association for a number of years.

Miss Francis Horton of Roanoke was elected national director of the association at this meeting. Miss Horton, who has taught in the Roanoke city schools for several years, is a member of the class of '34. She has been a leader in alumnae chapter work in Roanoke.

The nominating committee, which will draw up the nominations of officers to be elected next year, was chosen at this time. It

Continued on page 3

Longwood Seniors Sign Contracts

According to Mrs. Mary Watkins, executive secretary, a number of seniors have recently signed teaching contracts for next year.

Among these are Ann Floyd Verser, who will teach in Leesburg; Betty Ann Barker, who will teach at Varina High School, Henrico County; and Nell Foster, who will teach in Courtland.

Shirley Irving and Alene Patterson will teach in Bedford.

Harriet Steel has signed a contract at Creeds High School in Princess Ann County, Ann Barksdale in South Norfolk, and Lois Callahan in Danville.

Also Virginia Sledd, Portsmouth; Jane Snead, Suffolk; Joanne Sterling, Oceana; Anne Tucker, Altavista; Margaret Wall, Arlington County; Jennie Sue Webb, Arlington County; Margaret Wilson, Pacific Mills; Brookneal, and Nancy Jesse, Dumbarton, Henrico County.

Ann Joyner will teach in Norfolk County; Doris Mae Turner, Pittsylvania County; Nadine Lewers, Suffolk; Alfreda Lewis, Craddock High School, Norfolk; Doris Lloyd, Chesterfield; Constance Loving, Princess Anne County Esther Marsh, Carrsville, Isle of Wright; and Louanne Mears, Bayside, Princess Anne County.

Also Mary Evelyn Miles, Denton, Maryland; Marjorie Miler, Arlington; Evelyn Patterson, Arlington County; Anne Catherine Roberson, Norfolk; Nancy Rushing, Suffolk; Betty Atkinson, Suffolk; Louise Bergman, Appomattox; Dorothy Braswell, Brosville, Pittsylvania County; Mrs. Phyllis Au-

Continued on page 4

DR. JOHN A. REDHEAD

DR. JOHN N. THOMAS

Dr. 's Redhead, Thomas Give Commencement Addresses

Dr. John A. Redhead, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Greensboro, N. C., gave the baccalaureate address last evening in the Methodist Church.

Dr. John Newton Thomas delivered the main address at the commencement exercises held in the Longwood College dining hall this morning.

Dr. Thomas is professor of Systematic Theology at the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond.

A graduate of Washington and Lee University, with a Master of Arts from the University of Edinburgh, Dr. Thomas is also an honor graduate of Union Seminary. He rounded out his education with two years at Edinburgh and in Germany.

Two years of teaching at Hollins College further prepared him for his chosen work. He discharged with distinction the obligations of three pastorates in Rapidan, the Second Presbyterian Church of Charleston, S. C., and the Grace Covenant Presbyterian Church of Richmond.

This combination of academic and pastoral experience has made Dr. Thomas an outstanding personality in his field.

A Mississippian by birth, Dr. Redhead is a graduate of Southwestern University in Memphis, Tenn., and of Union Theological Seminary in Richmond.

He began his ministry in Farmville, Va., and then after a pastorate in Tampa, Fla., at the Second Presbyterian Church, he was

Continued on Page 4

College Professor To Receive Degree

Mr. Merle L. Landrum, professor of business education at Longwood College, will receive his doctorate from the School of Education, Indiana University at commencement exercises to be held there June 12.

The title of his thesis is "Business Education in Virginia." It is a comprehensive study of business education for the public high school, the private business schools and of teacher training in the field of business education. Studies of this type have been made for New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Minnesota, but this is the first study of this type on the doctoral level that has been made for any of the southern states.

The purpose of the study is to discover the most pressing needs for the improvement of business education in the state. Improvement of the business education program will be brought about through the business teacher and training institutions, the Office of Commercial Education Service, the State Department of Education, and by the business teachers themselves.

From time to time additional studies will be made in regard to various items in regard to business education for the purpose of determining the degree of improvement.

Mr. Landrum, who is listed in Who's Who in American Education and Leaders in American Education, received his B. S. degree in education from the Office Training School, Columbus, Ohio, in 1929. In 1936, he received his M. A. from New York University, and has studied since then at the University of Cincinnati, State College of Pennsylvania, and Indiana University.

Continuing his work in the field of education, Mr Landrum has

Continued on page 3

Pittard Receives Last APS Key

Emma Mae Pittard, sophomore from Buffalo Junction, was presented with the last Alpha Phi Sigma scholarship key at a recent assembly. The presentation was made by President Dabney S. Lancaster, who also announced at this time, the disbandment of the Delta Chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma on our campus.

Alpha Phi Sigma is a national honorary scholastic society limited to teacher's colleges maintaining Class A or Class B in the American Association of Teacher's Colleges. The Delta Chapter was issued a charter and became an active organization on this campus in 1939. Alpha Phi Sigma has as its purpose the recognition of superior scholarship in the first two years of college.

The Alpha Phi Sigma scholarship key is awarded each spring by the National Council to the member of Alpha Phi Sigma in each college who holds the highest general average for her first two years of college work.

Announces '49 Honor Graduates

Dr. Thomas Speaks To Graduating Class

One hundred and twenty-nine students received their baccalaureate degrees during the sixty-five commencement exercises held at Long wood College today.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, president of the College, conferred the degrees.

During the exercises Dr. Lancaster announced the names of those graduates who had completed their college study with high honors. Those receiving this recognition were: Wilma D. Allen, Prospect; Laura Jean Comerford, Meadowview; Beatrice Marie Pairet, Farmville; Mary Elizabeth Parham, Wylliesburg; Jean Thomasson, South Hill, and Mary Elizabeth Young, Chester.

In addition to the students graduated with high honor, the names of 22 students who were graduated with honors were likewise announced. These were Dalila Agostini, Mayaguez, Puerto Rico; Eula K. Ayres, Farmville; Jacqueline Bobbitt, South Hill; Betty Jane Brockway, Roanoke; Jacqueline K. Burkholder, Thaxton; Jean Frances Cake, Hilton Village, and Dorothy Daniel, Danville.

Also graduated with honor were Elizabeth S. Drewer, Saxis; Anne M. East, South Boston; Rives Fuller Edwards, Danville; Mrs. Gertrude Walker English, Chatham; Mrs. Iris Coleman Ferguson, Farmville; Martha A. Hatcher, Richmond; Elsie Marie McAllister, Saltville; Mary Evelyn Miles, Saxis; Sara Lee Rawles, Holland; Jane Anne Snead, Columbia; Elizabeth V. Spindler, Hampden-Sydney; Harriet H. Steel, Portsmouth; Elizabeth B Tipton, Keysville; Jacquelynn Penny Watson, Hampton, and Dorothy E. Winton, Bedford.

Other graduates who received degrees during the exercises were: Mrs. Mary Moore Allen, Keene; Betty Field Atkinson, McKenney; Phyllis Bagley, Cleveland Heights, Ohio; Mrs. Freida D. Baker, Columbia; Anne W. Barksdale, South Norfolk; Elsie Love Bentley, Hampton; V. Louise Bergman, Gladstone; Melbale Booth, Danville; Anna Griswold Boxley, Louisa; Dorothy Braswell, Danville; Mrs. Phyllis Austin Burch, Fincastle; Rosemary Caldwell, Covington, and Lois K. Callahan, Danville.

Also receiving degrees were: Eva C. Cobb, Richmond; Adelaide M. Coble, Winchester; Mrs. Doris Lanier Cocke, Hurt; Jean Louise Craig, Norfolk; Gwendolyn Cress, Lynchburg; Mary Catherine Davis, Mobjack; Frances H. DeBerry, Blackstone; Helen Lee

Continued on page 4

Hylton Will Appoint Orientation Leaders

Martha "B" Hylton, vice president of the Student Government Association, recently announced that orientation leaders will be appointed during the summer.

Orientation leaders will be chosen from the rising senior class and the assistants from the rising junior class. These girls will return to the College on Sunday, September 18, and will lead classes to orient the incoming freshman class.

Martha will notify these girls of their appointment in August.

Congratulation, 'Forty-niners' . . . . .

Today Longwood College bids a reluctant farewell to a group of graduates of whom all are justifiably proud. The holders of the freshly bestowed bachelor's degrees may well take pride in their own achievement on this day when all the world is applauding their entrance into its domain. The Rotunda is happy to join enthusiastically in the applause.

Members of the Class of '49 have during their three or four years' stay here achieved more than a mere diploma. In addition to broadening their own horizons through college education, associations, and friendships ,they have made innumerable contributions to the College itself. While these "forty-niners" remained here, they were the College; and Longwood has profited by their presence because they have left here part of the best of themselves. It is not easy to send such a fine-spirited group as the Class of '49 away to seek new fortunes.

If it is true that a college is judged by its alumnae, Longwood College can be assured that its reputation will be enhanced by them. The Rotunda wishes bon voyage to the new Longwood alumnae with the hope that they will pass the examinations of the school of harder experience as successfully as they have those here.

'The Best Years' . . . . .

Four years ago we, the seniors, came to S. T. C. as freshmen. During that time we have spent many happy days working and playing together. Those of you who are freshmen have three of those years left, and believe us, they'll be the best years of your lives.

Now that it is time for us to leave, we feel sadness for the friends we'll leave behind, but we, also, feel gladness for the friends we made and the part we played at Farmville.

Our thanks go wholeheartedly to all of you—the student body, the faculty, and administration. We envy you because you have the chance of returning in September and really living the days that each of you will be reliving in our own memories.

—VIOLET RITCHIE, President of the Class of '49

Color On The Cup . . . . .

To the classes of '49 and '51 go heartiest congratulations for their recent acquistion of the Color Cup. Their "Green 'n White" ribbons now deck the cup which was presented to Violet Ritchie and Betsy Gravely in Senior Chapel.

The Color Cup is only one of the many traditions of fair play and good sportsmanship which S. T. C. "has bequeathed" to Longwood College. To students, alumnae, faculty, administration, and friends of the College, the Color Cup and the winning of it are a part of that familiar by-word "Farmville Spirit."

Fair play and good sportsmanship have always been a part of "S. T. C." life. In athletic events, in class work, in dormitory life, in everything in which the S. T. C. students participated, that same fair play and good sportsmanship were an integral part. As Longwood College, the traditions of "S. T. C." are ours to carry on. The colors which hang from the Longwood Cup should and do mean the same as the colors which hung from the "S. T. C." Cup.

When the colors are green and white, as they are now, they mean not only "congratulations, "Green 'n White," but also "congratulations Red 'n White." The winning of the Cup is important; but it is not as important as the fair play and good sportsmanship shown by both sides in the competition for the Cup.

A Vote of Thanks

In this, the last issue of the Rotunda for the present session, the staff wishes to give a wholehearted vote of thanks to Dean William W. Savage, adviser to the Rotunda.

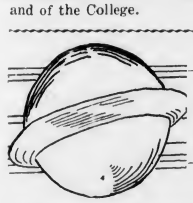
Dean Savage has given generously of his precious time and advice which has proved indispensable to a group of would-be journalists. To them the guidance which he has always so willingly provided has meant avoidance of many missteps. They congratulate themselves on their good fortune in having his help in their effort to publish a newspaper worthy of the student body and of the College.

THE ROTUNDA

Established November 25, 1920

Published each Wednesday evening of the college year, except during holidays and examination periods, by the students of Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia.

Office Student Building Phone 333, Box 108
Printers: The Farmville Herald



Entered as second class matter March 1, 1929 in the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under act of March 8, 1914

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Inc., 420 Madison Ave., New York, N. Y.

STAFF

Jacqueline Eagle . . . . . Editor-in-Chief
Mary Leigh Meredith . . . . . Managing Editor
Janice Slavin . . . . . Business Manager

MONDAY, JUNE 6, 1949

OUR WORLD

By Nellie Hart

Our world is a hard world to tackle. Many nations have tried, but when the supreme crisis arrived, have failed to realize their expectations and were forced to admit defeat. How can we prevent ourselves from following their age-old footprints and sinking into the same chaotic conditions? IIistorians have been able to read between the lines of the rises and falls of civilizations. We know where and why other civilizations have failed; therefore, we should be able to profit by their trials and errors.

If peace is to be obtained in our world, peace must be desired by its citizens. They must constantly be aware that a friendly smile, a helping hand, can succeed when harsh words and deeds fail. Why not let this process be applied at the very beginning instead of as a last resort as is the deplorable custom? It seems that each nation is looking out only for herself, paying little heed to the underdog.

We need more than the United Nations in order to attain world peace. It starts in the home. While children we learned to get along with our family and our neighbors. A friendly atmosphere prevailed wherever we were. We did not expect too much of one person, for we knew that each individual had his limitations. It's true, we had our fights and fusses, but they all ended with a great big "hug around the neck." Why not apply these principles in the world today? People are basically the same, and nations are only people; they have the same likes and dislikes, the same desires and dreams.

The Romans mastered their assignment and did what they set out to do. Their never-to-be-forgotten Pax Romana lasted for five hundred years. Surely today we can equal and even excell this great achievement.

SOPHISTICATED RAT

You can come out from behind those books now that the last bell for that 8:05 class has rung, and pay heed to the last Sophisticated Rat that will grace the pages of the Rotunda for the year '48-'49. It's been a wonderful road our freshman class has traveled since that day in September when we dropped our bags and boxes in the bare dorm room and skeptically greeted the girl assigned to be the "roommate".

What a changed group we are now! No longer the green crop of freshmen looking for classrooms for the first time, but a group well up on the ways of college women, finishing that "first year" and looking fondly ahead to an even better "second year".

We seem to recall that by the time we became adjusted to school life, terrible Rat Day rolled around and soon afterwards, Maria headed the class in our circus stunt. Jackie, Maria, Phyllis and Marty did an outstanding job of heading the class as officers while B. B. Wilson directed the cast of Freshman Sing and Fran Franklin headed the freshmen in the long awaited Production. We were all as proud as peacocks on that rainy May Day when our representatives to the court, Jean and Frances, did so well for their class.

None of us will ever forget our sister class, the Juniors, who have befriended us throughout the year. Dr. Schlegel, our advisor, whom every one of us love and admire for his guidance and interest, will never be forgotten for his service. Just think! He will be with us all four years!

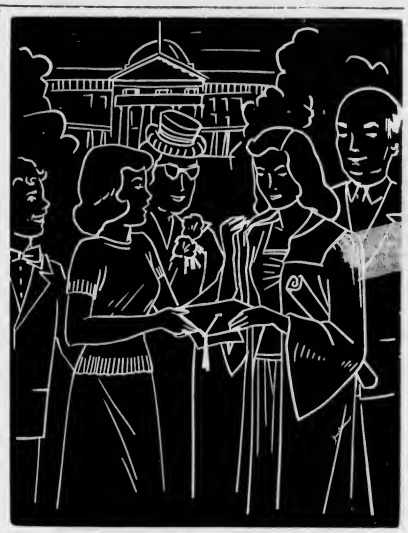
Those parties we threw took the sting out of studying and the holidays furnished relaxation(?) from the wild and hurrying life of a freshman. Our class will long remember the "new organizations" we formed for every occasion; not to mention the hundreds of bridge hands we've played.

Now, we've come to the road sign that reads "The End" and we find that even the bookworms are crawling out from between the pages of Mr. Webster's history in order to find peaceful resting grounds for the summer.

It's been fun and not one can deny; so 'bye now, and see you next fall as none other but a Supreme Sophomore.

Pedro's Pocket

By Jean Turner



Other people may think they've seen peculiar goings on, but Pedro is convinced that he's seen it all. It seems that last Thursday night as he was walking by the college, he was suddenly seized by hallucinations. There's a possibility that what he saw parading single file from Junior Building to Main may have been human, but Pedro has his serious doubts. Shocking! I think that's the word I have heard someone use in reference to the little shindig. The only shock was the one participants got when they stepped out into the cold night air.

Some of the guests at this elite "Coketail" party was quite original in their costume. I saw Miss Senior-as-of-Thursday there dressed in pale green paper curtains of elusion, draped over a delicate shade of shredded blue denim dungarees. Around her waist was looped five yards of fine quality hemp rope, with an exquisite peacock feather duster caught up in a tricky little hangman's noose, cascading over her left hip. On her head she wore a large brimmed picture frame held in place by several yards of sheeting and a ten-penny nail. She carried a 1926 automobile engine in her right hand. To maintain a semblance of balance, she wore hip boots on her dainty feet. She was truly a spectacle—of beauty?

Does anyone happen to know who the "little sister" to our one male graduate is? Pedro has been asking multitudinous questions on the subject. He's seriously considering applying for entrance if there happens to be a demand for a "little brother".

Not having been with us long, Pedro would hardly be expected to show much sorrow over the departure of old friends. Being an accommodating little fellow though, he manfully squeezed out

Continued on page 4

The Latest In Chapeaux

Campus Cogitations

What phase of your college education has meant the most to you?

Mary Neale Garrett: No 8 o'clock classes and that B. A. that's on the way.

Betty Jefferson: All my "little" friends!!

Tootsie Hamilton: Dear old Sociology classes and Cahoots. (Not sure I'm leaving yet.)

Rives Edwards: That B. S. coming to me next Monday and yea for student teaching.

Connie Loving: Everything, now that I think back.

Love Bentley: Jackie, Janie, and Jean I adore and those week end trips—how I wish for more!

Martha Gillum: Doing my practice teaching in Phys. Ed. at Rice.

Laura Jean Comerford: Y. W. C. A. work, student teaching, extra-curricular activities and my sweet roommate, Ann Owen.

Ann Owen: Getting to know all these gals; Just love 'em.

Dee Dee Sledd: Getting a B. S. degree, I hope, and the week end on Eastern Shore!

Nancy Roberson: "Charlie Hop", my heavy schedule my Senior year (ha, ha), 3rd. floor Annex this year, and Green 'n White taking the color cup in '47 and '49.

Adelaide Coble: All my little friends plus extra-curricular activities.

Betty Romeo: No exams in June and the B. S. I hope I will get Monday.

Betty Tilson: Ditto Gillie! ! Also keeping track of Chee Chee, caddying for Mr. Graham, "Charlie Hop". In fact, every phase has meant the most.

Mary Ellen Temple: No 8 o'clocks and no T. T. S. classes my Senior year.

Joanne Sterling: The gym, all my wonderful friends and last but not least, having "Charlie Hop" as our class man! ! (Breakfast with Mrs. Tabb too!)

Esther Goffigon: One of the veterans my sophomore year, Rome's convertible, and no Saturday classes this year. (Plus that soap wrapper I hope to get Monday) P. S.: Also chasing Chee-Chee.

Chub Barksdale: "Charlie Hop" —"Professor Hop", that is!—and my 'lil friends.

Jean Watts: School teaching.

During Joyful Last Weekend '49ers Become Alumnae

Our seniors of '49 are officially alumnae now. This last week end has really been one filled with joy, excitement, and many tears.

The big week end started for the little sisters at 8:00 Saturday morning when we joyfully (yeah, joyfully) jumped (we wuz pushed) on to the college truck and headed for Longwood. Soon (too soon) we arrived at the beautiful estate. We scrambled (they threw us) off the truck and out on to the dew-covered (it was soaking wet) ground.

Shouting merry little encouragements (censored) to one another, we started picking daisies. After forever, we were still picking daisies. How many of the things do you need for a chain? A few years after an eternity, we had enough of the precious little (smelly, hay-feverish) flowers.

We sorrowfully left Longwood and came back to Longwood College. Then came the fun of tying the daisies to the rope to make a chain. "Let's hurry and finish. We've still got to make our laterns."

Which brings us to a delightful scene in the Senior basement. (It was a mad scramble!) We took our little shoe boxes and cut S. T. C. on one side and '49 on the other. (I also cut two fingers.) Then we took black paint and messed up our clean shoe boxes with it. Now we could rest. All we had to do was to get cleaned up and dressed and then meet everybody's folks. (Our first real pleasure of the day!)

Before we knew it, it was almost 4:00: Quick like a flash, we dashed (we were surprised we could still walk to the auditorium in the Student Building. After the wonderful (they really were) class day exercises, we formed a line on the Colonnade, picked up our beloved (ha!) daisy chain, and walked to the Rotunda. We formed a beautiful 49 (thanks to Charlie who marked it out for us).

We little sisters took life easy (packed like mad) while our seniors went out to Longwood to be officially recognized as alumnae of Longwood College. That night our brand-new alumnae and their li'l sisters joined in the lantern parade. (Hooray!—the paint was dry.) Lanterns are fascinating things (in Chinese parades), but we almost burned Main Building down.

After the parade we were off duty until Sunday evening when the seniors, in caps and gowns, marched from the Student Building to the Methodist Church for the baccalaureate service. We were put into a more consciencious mood by Dr. Redhead. This mood was intensified Monday morning (who slept Sunday night?) when, at 11:00 a. m., graduation exercises were held in the dining hall. Oh, but we were proud of our big sisters as they received their nice new sheepskins. (They struggled for 'em four year.) Seriously, though, you're a swell bunch, forty-niners, and we really hate to see you leave Longwood.

College Professor

Continued from page 1

been a member of the faculty of Racine High School, Racine, Ohio, Huntington High School, Chillicothe, Ohio, and Tenafly High School, New Jersey. In 1935, he became supervisor of business subjects at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

Mr. Landrum organized the business department at Longwood College in 1939. In 1944, he returned to head the department of business education at Longwood after two years of teaching in the U. S. Naval Training School, Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana. In the summer of 1948, he taught graduate courses in business education at V. P. I.

He is a member of state and national Business Education Organizations, Delta Pi Epsilon, national honorary business education fraternity, and Phi Delta Kappa, national education fraternity. During the last two years, he served as Virginia State Director of the Southern Business Education Assoeiation, and State Director and Chairman of Membership Committee of the United Business Education Association.

Mr. Landrum is a contributor to the Business Education Quarterly, Virginia Journal of Education and several other education publications.

SPORTIN' AROUND

By ANN LYNCH

As another college year draws to an end, and with it the contest for the Color Cup, the cup reposes on the Home Office mantel bedecked with Green and White ribbons. It was a long fight from hockey to tennis. In hockey the Reds and Greens tied, leaving the Color Cup score 5-5.

With the volleyball and basketball season, the score was again tied between the Reds and Greens in basketball, but the Greens 'n' Whites marked up a victory in volleyball which left the score 20-10 in favor of the Greens.

When the swimming meet arrived the Red 'n' Whites won a victory over the Green 'n' Whites leaving the score standing tied again, 20-20.

The Green 'n' Whites triumphed over both the archery and tennis contests, gaining ten points in tennis and five in archery, a total gain of 15 points.

The Reds received ten points for having the most Red and Whites on varsity basketball, making the score stand 35-30.

The varsity hockey pulled the Green 'n' Whites through to forge ahead 45-30.

The last intramural sport was softball—ending with a tie between the Red 'n' Whites and Green 'n' Whites, giving each five points. The final score stands 50-35 for the Greens.

We're looking forward to another year next fall and a renewed fight between the Reds and Greens that is bound to prove exciting.

Alumnae Elect

Continued from page 1

will consist of Miss Carrie Sutherlin, Miss Kitty Watkins and Mrs. Francis Walmsley Gee.

A representative of each of the "4" and "9" classes gave a response for their class at the meeting. Mrs. Pauline Harris Richardson represented the class of 1894, Miss Nelly Preston, the class of 1899, Mrs. Bessie Carter Taylor, the class of 1904, Miss Mary Dupuy, the class of June, 1909, Mrs. Minnie Blanton Button, the class of January, 1909, Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke, the class of 1914 Miss Catherine Riddle, the class of 1919, Miss Virginia Wall, the degree class of 1924; Mrs. Ruth Winer Brown, the diploma class of 1924; Miss Kathryn Bully, the degree class of 1929, Mrs. Elsie Clements Hanna, the diploma class of 1929; Mrs. Sarah Button Rex, the class of 1939; and Mrs. Rosemary Elam Pritchard, the class of 1944.

President Lancaster presented the class of 1899 with the Jarman Silver cup for the largest percentage of attendance. Each member of the class was also presented with a wedgewood plate. Miss Nelly Preston, representative of this class, entertained the class in the Snack Bar, Saturday afternoon.

At the business meeting, reports were given on the Snack Bar, and from each chapter concerning the work done during the year toward the Jarman Organ Fund.

President Dabney Lancaster spoke to the alumnae who returned for Founders Day at a luncheon in the dining hall. The alumnae were seated according to classes. Dean Ruth Gleaves also gave a short welcome at the luncheon.

Miss Virginia Wall, assistant registrar of the College, was chairman of the local committee in charge of the coffee given for the returning alumnae in the Student Lounge Saturday morning.

Over 100 alumnae from Virginia and adjacent states were present.

Female Seminary Report Adds to Longwood History

Documents which add to the interesting history of the institutions forming the link ending in Longwood College, have been uncovered in recent weeks.

Among the latest is a report card issued by the Farmville Female Seminary to Miss A. M. Gillispie, covering the period Nov. 25-Dec. 22, 1859, and signed by George La Monte, principal.

Miss Gillispie was the grandmother of Mrs. T. R. N. Cocks, of Prospect, in whose home Woodlawn, the card was found two weeks ago while workmen were refinishing the inerior. In plastering, a mantle was taken down, behind it was the card, evidently fallen there years ago.

A study of the document, a single sheet of stout, white paper, decorated in an upper corner with a drawing of the school building, and showing horse - drawn carriages passing in front, provides a revealing commentary on those times. A notation carries this guarded word of advice to students:

Advice To Pupils

"The pupils are encouraged to perform their duties and observe the regulations of the school by decided, but mild and persuasive means, and by all those lofty motives that should influence conduct."

Printed beneath is this pointed message to parents, showing the forthrightness of that day's educators. It reads:

"Please see that your daughter studies at home."

The report covers attitudes and attendance as well as grades. There are squares to mark absences from church and from prayers; a place for notations on the student's manners, and these subjects, orthography, penmanship, arithmetic, History of England, parsing, aids to composition and reading.

Old Receipt

Found with the report card was a tuition receipt, issued to Mr. Robert Gillispie for his daughter, Alice. The receipt is signed by La Monte and covers the period Feb. 7—July 1, 1860 for work in Higher English. It is in the amount of $23.

The receipt, a standard form which could be used to cover all the courses has subjects and tuition costs listed in a legend across the top, by quarters and for a year. These subjects, with costs per quarter, are listed: primary department, $8; Common English, $10; Higher English, $12; Latin, Greek, French (each), $5; music on piano, $12; oil paintings, $10, and use of piano, $2.50.

Board, which is described as providing "all the comforts of a good home", cost $50, while the year's billing for board is $160.

Interestingly enough, these documents have been found in a home steeped in Longwood tradition. Mrs. Cocks has had three daughters who have graduated from the institution.

Certificate

A third document, a Certificate of Proficiency in the School of Moral and Mental Philosophy issued by Farmville College and dated June 2, 1880 has been given to Longwood by Mrs. B. T. Taylor. It was issued to Miss Ellen V. Gills, Mrs. Taylor's mother.

The certificate is signed by Paul Whitehead, listed as professor and president. At that time, Farmville College was a Methodist institution.

The history of Farmville Female Academy, or Seminary as it was also called then, has been traced as far back as 1839. College authorities believe that it goes back even further, and are now engaged in collecting all possible material on the history of the forerunners of Longwood.

Want Information

Miss Mary E. Peck, associate professor in the History department, has been appointed chairman of a research committee by the exceutive board of Alumnae Association. She would welcome any historical information or documents.

Cromar Announces New Table Hostess

"Robbie" Cromar dining room hostess for next year has announeed the table hostesses for the coming session. The list as announced follows:

Table 5, Helen Kaknis; table 6, Ruth Gills; table 7, Ann D. Joyner; table 8, Nancy Kibler; table 10, Polly Nassar; table 13, Lois Stevens; table 14, Dorothy Gregory; table 15, Joyce Adams; table 18, Jenny Powell; table 19, Emma Mae Pittard.

Also table 20, Katherine Terry; table 21, Betty Baker; table 22, Max Acree; table 23, Sylvia Damsky, table 24, Alma Bedinger; table 25, Shirley Atkinson; table 26, Claudia Anderson; table 27, Charlotte S. Jones; table 28, Helen Agnew; table 29, "Jackie" Moody; table 30, Betsy Gravely; table 31, Betty McRee.

Also table 32, Naneye Gillie; table 33, Virginia Westbrook; table 34, Harriet Butterworth; table 35, Mary B. Smith; table 36, "Pat" Earle; table 37, Jeanette Seward; table 38, Jean Samford; table 39, Georgia Bailey; table 40, Patty Walker; table 41, Frances Cregar; table 42, Mary Leigh Meredith; table 43, Minta Hopkins Critzer; table 44, Helen Hardin; table 45, Rena Hayes.

Also table 51, Jean C. Watkins; table 47, Louise Redd; table 48, Charlotte Williams; table 49, Bobbie Pollard; table 50, Jane Lyon; table 46, Jean Gilman; table 52, Betty Jane Spenser; table 53, Grace Thompson; table 54, Mildred Carter; table 55, Andrea Adams; table 56, Jeanne Cunningham; table 57, Virginia Spenser; table 58, Beverly Smithle; table 59, Jeanne Farmer; table 60, Mary Jane Stansbury.

Congratulations To Graduates

The Hub wishes success, joy and happiness to each of you.

The Hub Dept. Store

Select Your Silver from our 51 Patterns from MARTIN THE JEWELER

"Flowers are cheery When days are dreary." BURG Florist

BOWEN Inc. Farmville Jewelers

We have the latest RECORDS WILSON HOME AND AUTO SUPPLY

Buy your school SUPPLIES from J. J. NEWBERRY AND CO.

Buy Gifts FOR HIM from VERSER'S

MEET and EAT AT THE COLLEGE SHOPPE

WSVS The Voice of Service 650 On Your Dial

"Recess In the Rec" TUESDAY 3:00-3:30 WSVS—650 On Your Dial

Buy Lovely Gifts Here For Your Favorite Person GRAYS DRUG STORE

Congratulations Graduates 1949

Our sincerest good wishes go with you as you climb life's ladder to success. We have appreciated your patronage during the past years, and we hope we will have the opportunity to serve you again in the future.

Your Shopping Headquarters

Baldwin's Farmville, Virginia

Visit us for good food and good music THE SNACK BAR "The Best Sodas and Shakes In Town"

"Flowers make ways For happy days." COLLINS Phone 181 Night 4

KLEANWELL CLEANERS For Excellent Results Have Your Clothes Cleaned At Kleanwell

WFLO The Talk of The Town 870 On Your Dial

Take Your Radio for Quality Service to ENNIS RADIO SHOP

'49 Summer Session To Offer Workshop

The 1949 summer session of Longwood College which will begin June 20 will include, in addition to the various courses in college work, six workshops and institutes.

During the period from June 27 to July 15 an Eighth-Grade Workshop for teachers, principals and supervisors concerned with the new eighth grade in twelve-year high schools will be conducted by members of the College faculty and the Division of Secondary Education of the State Department of Education.

From July 11 to July 23, a Guidance Workshop under the direction of Dean William W. Savage and Mrs. Kathleen G. Cover will be held for persons in the public schools who have responsibilities in guidance programs.

The annual Workshop for Teachers, conducted by the College's Department of Education will operate from June 20 to July 7, July 7 to July 26, and July 26 to August 13.

Physical and Health Education Workshop, designed to train teachers in analyzing their programs of physical and health education and in planning their content, will run from June 20 to July 2. This will be directed by Miss Olive T. Iler and a member of the physical and health education staff of the State Department of Education.

From July 5 to July 30, a workshop in Remedial Reading will be conducted by Mrs. Sybil Vincent Henry. This is designed primarily for elementary teachers who wish to diagnose and correct the reading defects of their pupils.

A Student Activities Institute, directed by Miss M. Frieda Koontz, S. C. A. executive secretary of Richmond, will be held on the campus from July 11 to July 23. This has been planned for elementary and high school faculty members who serve as sponsors of S. C. A. and other student activities.

The nationally known Virginia Workshop for Teachers of Spanish which was to have been conducted on the campus from June 20 to July 16 has been postponed until 1950.

Additional information concerning any of the workshops and institutes is included in the catalog for the 1949 summer session or may be obtained from Dean William W. Savage.

Both men and women will be admitted to the summer session. Continuing a plan inaugurated last summer, the College will have dormitory facilities available for both sexes. A limited number of rooms for married couples will be available also.

Speakers

Continued from page 1

called to the pastorate of the Second Presbyterian Church in Charlotte, N. C., where he served for eight years. Dr. Redhead is at present pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Greensboro, N. C. He was awarded the Doctor of Divinity degree by Davidson College in 1937.

Dr. Redhead has previously been speaker at commencements of several colleges in Virginia and North Carolina.

FARMVILLE MANUFACTURING COMPANY

Farmville, Virginia

Wilson Sporting Goods
DuPont Paints
General Electric
Radios and Appliances

Degrees

Continued from page 1

Dortch, Jeffress; Joan E. Driver, Lynchburg; Ruth Eggleston, Charlotte Court House; Katy Ellis, Gasburg; Frances C. Farley, Lynchburg; Anne H. Ford, Lynchburg; Nell A. Foster, Farmville; Jane Ellen Fox, Alexandria, and Anne Galloway, Savannah, Ga.

Also Mary Neale Garrett, King William; Martha Gillum, Charlottesville; Esther Goffingon, Cape Charles; Mary Joan Hahn, Richmond; Cornelia Page Hamilton, West Point; Gladys Virginia Hanks, Richmond; Sylvia P. Hollingsworth, Norfolk; Mary Frances Hundley, Bassett; Shirley Kent Irving, Charlottesville; Elizabeth W. Jefferson, Danville; Nancy Ellen Jessee, Lynchburg; Alice Q. Jordan, Phenix; Betty Pell Jordan, Portsmouth; Mrs. Mildred W. Keith, Richmond, and Helen Jean Kollmeyer, Richmond.

Also Nadine L. Lewers, Assawoman; Alfreda M. Lewis, Cochran; Hazel Lorraine Lewis, Saxis; Doris Page Lloyd, Richmond; Constance Loving, Lynchburg; Muriel McBride, Suffolk; Virginia McCoy, Norfolk; Mr. Richmond M. McCraw, Jr., Farmville; Grace B. Malloy, Lawrenceville; Marcella Mandel, Norfolk; Esther R. Marsh, Miskimon; Louanne Mears, Modest Town; Ruthellen Mears, Cape Charles; Marjorie L. Miller, Christiansburg, and Mrs. Ringgold Prout Miller, Norfolk, were. Also Billie C. Mullins, Coeburn; Anne C. Orgain, Alberta; Ann Louise Owen, Green Bay; Elaine R. Owens, Tabernacle; Helen B. Owins, Lynnhaven; Patti Page, Hilton Village; Evelyn Mae Patterson, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Mary Alene Patteson, Ransons; Jesse Lee Pickett, Round Hill; Paulett Pifer, Winchester; Mrs. Virginia Waison Price, Farmville; Ruth J. Radogna, Purdy; Violet P. Ritchie, Gressitt; and Nancy Victoria Roberson, Roanoke.

Also Ann Elizabeth Robertson, Danville; Sarah Lee Robertson, Danville; Anne Catherine Robinson, Petersburg; Ada M. Robles, Jayuya, Puerto Rico; Betty Romeo, Ardsley, N. Y.; Nancy Lee Rushing, Onley; Barbara E. Saunders, Crewe; Haude H. Savage, Onley; Mrs. Marion Peake Slate, Farmville; Virginia N. Sledd, Richmond; Gwendolyn Rose Smith, Covington; Peggy Ann Smith, Gloucester; Mrs. Ethel Shockley Southall, Farmville; Gertrude Ruth Stables, Wilson; and Mary Joanne Sterling, Melfa.

Also Mrs. Elizabeth Nuttall Stewart, Richmond; Mrs. Dolly Freeman Sydnor, Lawrenceville; Jane B. Taylor, Pungoteague; Mary Ellen Temple, Dinwiddie; Ruth Ann Tillett, Hamilton; Betty E. Tilon, Marion; Anne E. Tucker, Brookneal; Annie Floyd Verser, Hampton; Mary Towles Waldrop, South Boston; Margaret Clay Wall, Norfolk; Edna Earle Waters, Portsmouth; Jean Watts, Lynchburg; Margaret Estelle Wilson, Keysville.

Reach For Justrite Bread
Sold By
C. F. MORING
209 South Main St.

Sign Contracts

Continued from page 1

sten Burch, Alabama; Mary Davis, Franklin; Helen Dortch, Lunenburg County; Frances Farley, Oceana; Mary Neale Garrett, Henrico County; Martha Gillum, Chariottesville; Esther Goffigon, Emporia; Mary Joan Hahn, Norfolk; and Martha Hatcher, Newport News.

Virginia Hanks will do graduate work at the University of North Carolina.

Pedro's Pocket

Continued From Page 2

two or three tears of remorse for those who have sweated it out for four years, and asked me to bid each and every senior a fond adios.

Elects Nock Head Eastern Shore Club

Ann Nock has been recently elected president of the Eastern Shore Club. At the same meeting, the club chose as their colors, pink and white, and selected "Over On the Eastern Shore" as the club's song.

As a project to be taken up in the near future, the organization plans to raise a hundred dollar scholarship fund.

Members of the club were entertained with a party in the Snack Bar given by Miss Craddock, advisor to the organization. Dean and Mrs. Savage recently held open house for the Eastern Shore girls.

The remainder of the offices will be filled at the next meeting to be held at the beginning of the coming fall session. Officers retiring after this year are Joanne Sterling, president; Jane Taylor, vice-president, and Ann Nock, secretary.

As one tramp said to another, "I didn't just drift into this way of life—I took one of those vocational guidance tests."

Faculty

Continued from page 1

economics and education from the University of Missouri. This past year Miss Staggs spent at Iowa State College working for her doctorate. Previously Miss Staggs taught vocational home economics in two Iowa high schools and taught in the same capacity in a Missouri high school. She spent five years in teacher training department of home economics in the laboratory school of the University of Missouri. Fro m1941 to 1945, she was head of the department of home economics at Lindenwood College in St. Charles, Missouri. Miss Staggs before beginning her work at Iowa State was a member of the faculty in home economics at the University of Missouri.

Mr. Malloy who will become a member of the history and social sciences faculty in the fall is at the present doing graduate work at Colgate University in Hamilton, New York. He will receive his masters from that institute this month. A native of Newton, Massachusetts, Mr. Malloy did his undergraduate work at Washington and Lee and the University of Virginia. In addition to doing graduate work at Colgate at University, he is also a part time instructor and will teach in the summer school session there. Mr. Malloy spent three years in the U. S. Navy during which time he worked with the electronics equipment division. He spent some time in the South Pacific on the U. S. Warship Tallulah.

Betty, who was graduated from Longwood College today with a B. A. degree will [illegible] Anna Headlee in the audio-visual department. She will assume a position at the beginning of the summer session. Betty has been serving as an assistant in the audio-visual department during the past semester.

Dean: "Give three collective nouns."

Student: "Flypaper, wastebasket, and vacuum cleaner."

KEEP IN THE KNOW WITH.. The Rotunda

Graduates!

Let the Rotunda help you keep up with what goes on at Longwood College.

Alumnae!

Don't miss out on the latest happenings at your alma mater. A column of alumnae news is a regular feature of the Rotunda.

Underclassmen!

Let your parents and friends at home know what is happening here at Longwood through the Rotunda.

Drop the attached coupon in the mail today or give it to the Rotunda business manager, Janice Slavin.

For $1.75 subscribers will receive 31 issues of the Rotunda from Sept. 21, 1949, to June 5, 1950.

The Rotunda,

Box 168, Longwood College,

Farmville, Virginia.

Please send a year's subscription of the Rotunda to the following. A check, money order or cash is enclosed to cover the cost of the subscription.

Name.....

Address.....

City and State.....

Smart, Colorful Cottons

For your vacation days—including perky sunbacks—

$5.95 and up

DOROTHY MAY STORE

Congratulations
Graduates

To every graduate, we wish a full share of luck, happiness — and a future bright with achievement and success.

To you students returning for future study, have a summer ful of wholesome fun and rest. In the fall, we shall look forward to seeing your smiling faces that carry the Farmville spirit wherever you go.

Leggett's Dept. Store

Farmville Dept. Store Virginia

From the Land of the ICE CREAM Star!
Princess Pet
ICE CREAM

Compare Princess Pet with any other Ice Cream. Your own taste-test will tell you there never was a richer, rarer delicacy than Princess Pet...the new, delicious, de luxe Ice Cream packed in the Orchid Carton, stamped with the Crest of Quality!

Made only of daily fresh whole milk, daily fresh sweet cream and the most delicate natural flavorings... every flavor is beyond compare! Buy a pint or two of Princess Pet today! And during June, ask for Cherry Supreme – the Pet flavor of the month that's so refreshing!

Now 40¢ a Pint

TASTE THE FRESH CREAM IN Pet ICE CREAM

START

DETECTED ERRORS ON THIS FILM MARKED OUT IN PERMANENT INK.

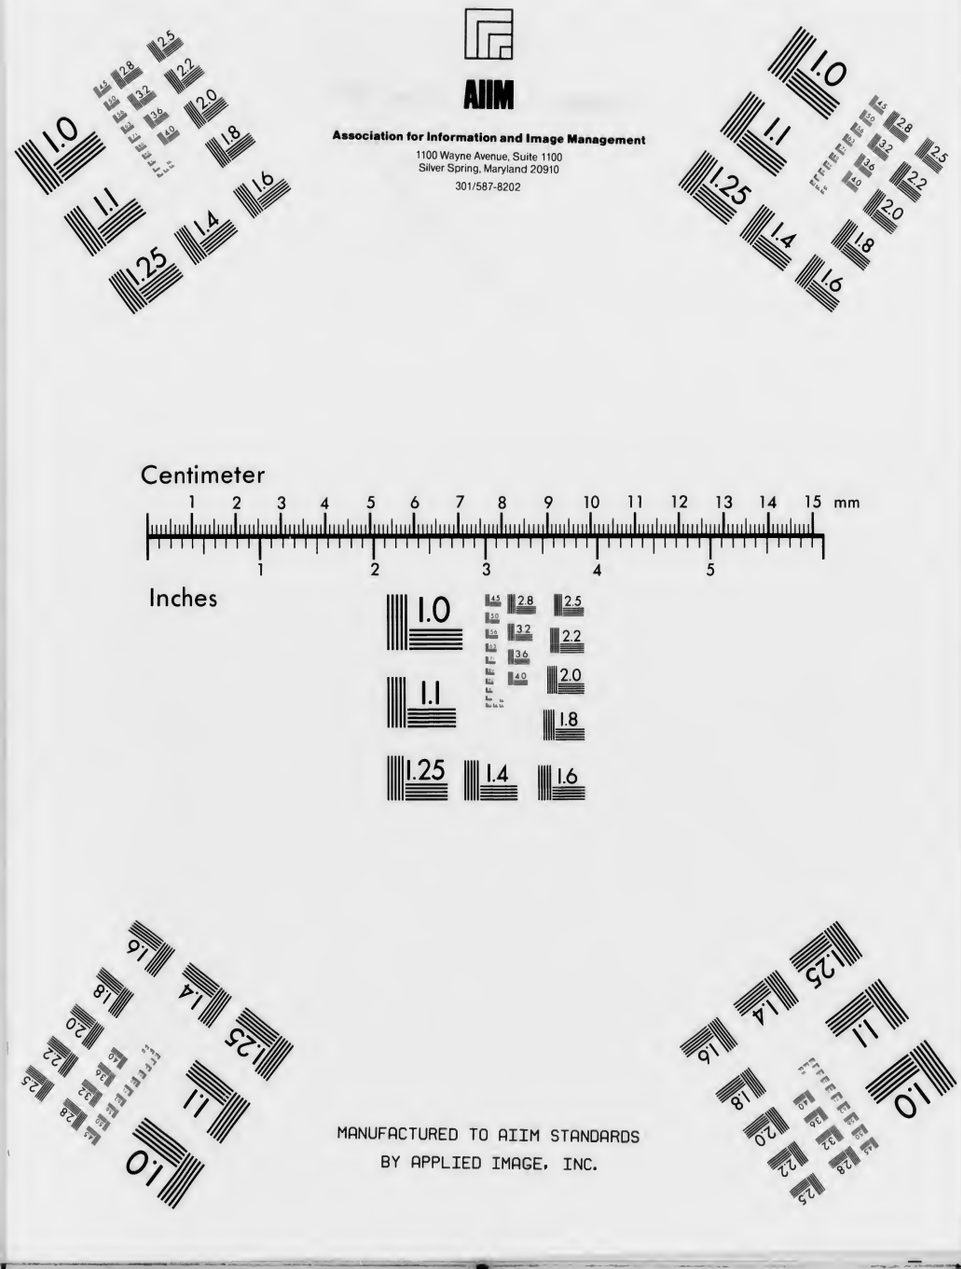
THE CORRECTIONS FOR DETECTED ERRORS APPEAR AT THE END OF THE ROLL AND ARE PRECEDED BY A RECORD ADDITION SHEET.

Microfilmed by TPS Imaging Solutions

110 Vista Centre Drive, Forest, VA. (804) 385-4600

R-139C

CERTIFICATE OF AUTHENTICITY



THIS IS TO CERTIFY that the microphotographs appearing on this Film-File (Roll Number 04 **)
starting with "The Rotunda" Vols. 21-24 1941-1945
and ending with _____ are accurate and complete reproductions of the records of (Company and Department) Longwood College Library
_____
as delivered in the regular course of business for photographing.

Date Produced: 10 / 19 / 95 (Month) (Day) (Year)
Camera Operator: Daryl Crouch
TPS Job No#. RP19546
Camera: Type MRG No#. 2
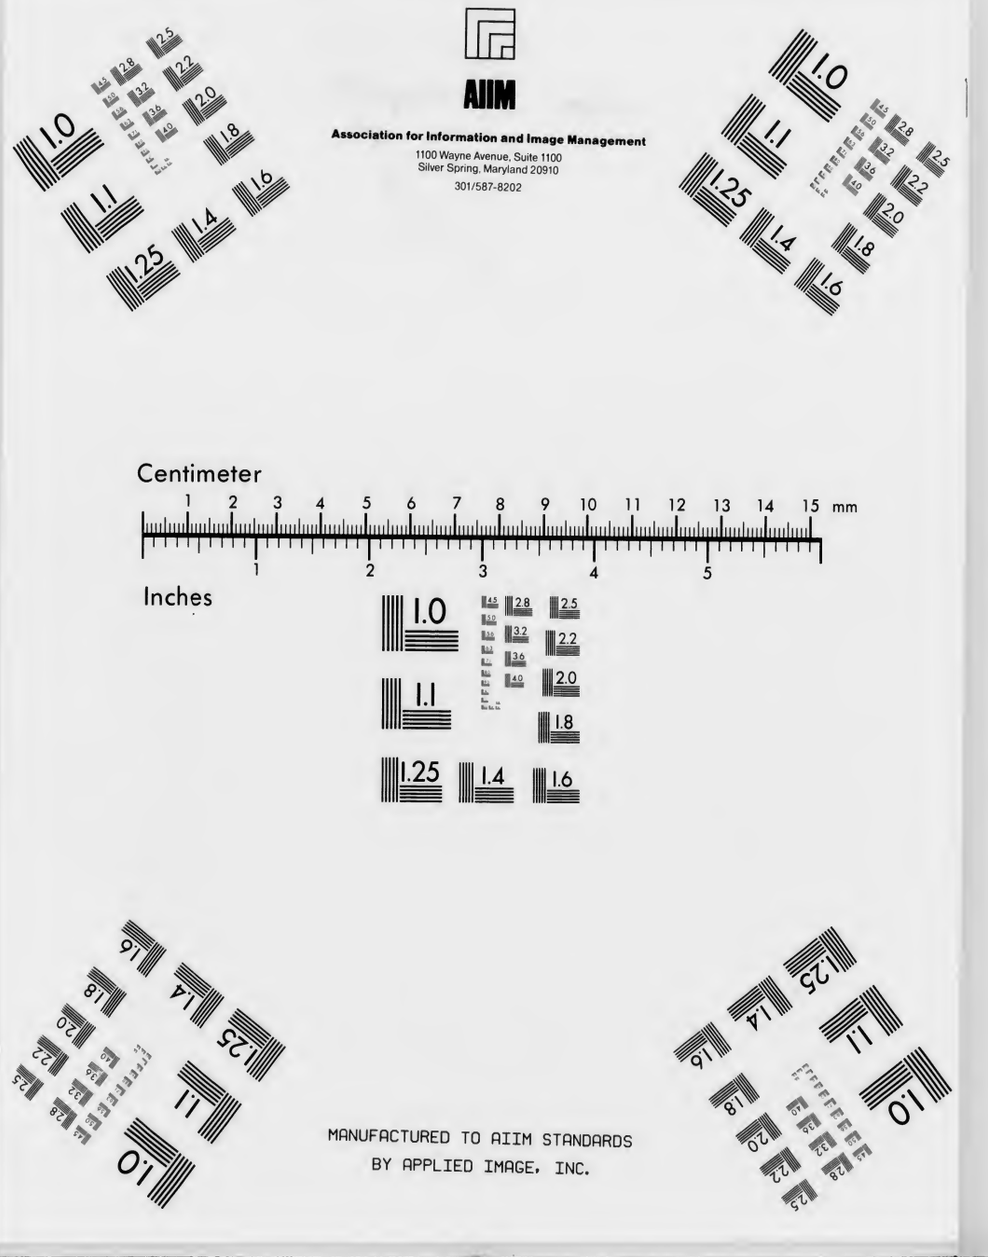
Film Unit No#. MRG-2
Original Box, Tube, Container Number(s) ____
_____

Microfilmed by TPS Imaging Solutions
110 Vista Centre Drive, Forest, VA. 24551 (804) 385-4600
1259 Williamson Road, SE, Roanoke, VA 24013 (703) 342-3659

R-126B D.C.



B² A B¹ B¹ A B²

AIIM
Association for Information and Image Management
1100 Wayne Avenue, Suite 1100
Silver Spring, Maryland 20910
301/587-8202
Centimeter
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 mm
Inches
1 2 3 4 5
MANUFACTURED TO AIIM STANDARDS
BY APPLIED IMAGE, INC.

B² A B¹ B¹ A B²

B2
A
B1
B1
A
B2

B2
A
B1
B1
A
B2

AIIM
Association for Information and Image Management
1100 Wayne Avenue, Suite 1100
Silver Spring, Maryland 20910
301/587-8202
Centimeter
Inches
MANUFACTURED TO AIIM STANDARDS
BY APPLIED IMAGE, INC.

B2 A B1 B1 A B2

CERTIFICATE OF AUTHENTICITY

THIS IS TO CERTIFY that the microphotographs appearing on this Film-File (Roll Number 04 **)
starting with "The Rotunda" Vols. 21-24 1941-1945
and ending with The Rotunda Vols. 25-28 Sept. 1945-June 1949
are accurate and complete reproductions of the records of (Company and Department) Longwood College Library

as delivered in the regular course of business for photographing.

Date Produced: 10 / 19 / 95 (Month) (Day) (Year)
Camera Operator: Daryl Crouch
TPS Job No#. RP19546
Camera: Type MRG No#. 2
Film Unit No#. MRG-2
Original Box, Tube, Container Number(s) ____

Microfilmed by TPS Imaging Solutions
110 Vista Centre Drive, Forest, VA. 24551 (804) 385-4600
1259 Willlamson Road, SE, Roanoke, VA 24013 (703) 342-3659

R-126B D.C.

B² A B¹ B¹ A B²

END

Microfilmed by TPS Imaging Solutions

110 Vista Centre Drive, Forest, VA. (804) 385-4600

R-1408

